SOUTH HONORS TWO GENERALS OF CIVIL WAR

Lee And Jackson Day Celebrated By Fitting Ceremonies In Southland Today.

Richmond, Jan. 19.—(AP)—A new south, vibrant with the throbs of industry and progress turned from the whirl of twentieth century activity today to honor two immortals of its historic past—Generals Robert E. Lee, and T. J. "Stonewall" Jackson.

From the Potomac to the Rio Grande Southerners joined with Virginia in honoring the 121st birthday anniversary of Lee, her glorious son, and Jackson, whose birthday anniversary is next Monday. For many years the South has honored the memories of the two leaders jointly—a day when the stars and bars wave again.

In Richmond, capital of the old Confederacy and in Lexington, where General Lee spent the last years of his life in an effort to re-establish the South through education, the day was observed with appropriate exercises, while throughout the South the United Daughters of the Confederacy sponsored some form of observance.

Battle Abbey, the great Confederate museum at Richmond, was thrown open to the public free of charge, and thousands were permitted to view the rare mural paintings. Visitors came to gaze once more upon the serene majesty of the Confederate leader, surrounded by his staff and aides—the indomitable Jackson, the gallant Stuart, the resourceful Gordon and other heroes of the lost cause.

Eighteen Confederate veterans were to receive crosses of honor at exercises to be held at the old House of Delegates in Richmond tonight. Dr. Douglas Freeman of Richmond, was to deliver an address extolling the two great leaders, while Confederate songs and music were selected for the occasion. The stars and bars were draped across the stars and stripes as decorations.

A hall at the Commonwealth Club sponsored by the Stonewall Jackson camp of the Sons of Confederate Veterans was to be featured by a grand march led by General Joe Lane Stern, of Richmond, and a group of veterans in uniform.

"Virginia Day" was observed by the Woman's Club of Richmond, while special exercises were held in the schools.

At Lexington it was the gentility and simplicity of Lee that was revered, rather than his military brilliance. Founders Day at Washington and Lee University was observed there with an address by William M. Martin, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, and a member of the university board of trustees. Mr. Martin reminded the students of the university of General Lee's example, telling them that a college was not a place to qualify for a job, but to prepare for life.

Hundreds made pilgrimages to the little red brick chapel, designed by General Lee and in which the Southern leader's body lies buried. In the lower part of this building is General Lee's office, undisturbed since he was president of the university.

In honoring Lee and Jackson today the thousands of her sons who followed them in the Sixties. The leaders pursued courses typical of many others. Lee left a famous Virginia family and the brilliance of society to enter the war with Virginia, declining command of the United States army. After Appomattox he turned west across the Blue Ridge Mountains to take the presidency of a poor and perishing college, not trying to revive the glitter of his former environment but stressing economy, simplicity and faith in the future.

Jackson, often called the greatest scout and strategist of all time, was among the gallant host left on the field of battle. Memory of twilight hour at Chancellorsville when the great leader fell, a victim of the fire of his own men through error, came back to thousands today.

The marshal has not yet reached the first objective of his doctors which is to get him out of danger and definitely on the road to recovery. He was, however, making steady progress toward that goal.

ROCKEFELLER HOLDS LEAD OVER STEWART

New York Offices Claim Major Part Of Shares Of Standard Oil Company.

New York, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Skirmishing in the battle for control of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana was in an intensive stage today after the arrival from Chicago of Colonel Robert W. Stewart, whom John D. Rockefeller, Jr. seeks to displace as chairman of the board.

The Rockefeller offices disclosed a desire to keep the contest on a "high plane."

Stewart denied he had invaded the Rockefeller stronghold in quest of proxies to be voted at the annual meeting of the company March 18. He said his trip from Chicago was in the interest of internal affairs of the company.

From Ormond Beach, Fla., a spokesman for John D. Rockefeller, Sr., sent word that the elder Rockefeller had no comment to make on reports that he had brought his influence to bear in behalf of his son.

Stewart said he would not believe that the elder Rockefeller would take sides against him until he had positive proof of it. At the Rockefeller offices here it was said that it was "inconceivable" that Rockefeller, Sr., should not be in accord with his son.

Stewart radiated an air of optimism and said he had the full support of the board of directors and the organization of the company. He said he would indulge in no "band wagon talk" and pointed out that proxies could be revoked.

Rockefeller's desire to keep the contest on a high plane was referred to in correspondent with an unnamed stockholder made public by the Rockefeller offices.

The stockholder inquired whether Rockefeller had any information or any opinion "that Col. Stewart had originally intended keeping the bonds he had in his possession for his own personal use."

Minor Business Handled By Legislature In Brief Session During Morning

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 19.—(AP)—With a bare handful of members present in each House, the General Assembly held a perfunctory Saturday morning session today, and adjourned until 8 o'clock Monday night. No business of state-wide importance was transacted.

Senator Person's bill to provide for the medicinal dispensation of whiskey in North Carolina was reported without prejudice by the committee on propositions and grievances, while his measure to require lobbyists to register was given a favorable report.

Requests for leaves of absence for members who were not present occupied more of the Senate's time today than any other matters, as the senators prepared to leave for the week-end.

A quorum was not present at the 15-minute session, although no formal roll call was asked. No bills either of state or local nature were introduced. It was agreed at yesterday's session that no state bills were to be introduced today.

The committee on propositions and grievances, of which Senator W. M. Person, Democrat of Franklin, is chairman, made a report today. It reported Senator Person's bill to allow druggists to sell whiskey on a doctor's prescription under the provisions of the Volstead act, "without prejudice." This indicates that the committee neither opposes nor favors the bill.

It recommended the passage of another of the Franklin senator's measures, one to regulate legislative lobbyists and counsel. It would require that these lobbyists register in an assembly docket and file an account of their expenses and pay.

The bill would prevent lobbyists from appearing on the floor of either House and would forbid them from privately approaching members of the Assembly in regard to the passage of bills. It provides fines for the violation of the act.

Two measures were ratified, one to authorize the city of Hendersonville to issue $500,000 in bonds for the completion of the Fleetwood hotel and other purposes. The second one provides that members of the Assembly and the clerks may draw their pay on a daily basis instead of in a lump sum at the end of the session.

On the motion of Tapp, Democrat of Lenoir, the Senate adjourned in honor of Generals Lee and Jackson until 8 o'clock Monday night.

Eight local bills were passed by the House today at a brief session that also saw the introduction of a bill by Representative Gwyn, Republican of Rockingham, that would prohibit the issuance of bonds by counties without a vote of the people.

Only two new bills were introduced today. Besides Representative Gwyn's measure, one local bill was introduced. It would make the present law allowing Superior Court clerks to settle the estates of persons leaving no more than $300 applicable to Lincoln county. It was sponsored by the county's representative, Charles L. Baker, Republican. After today's session, adjournment was taken until 8 o'clock Monday night.

Bills that passed on third reading and were sent to the Senate were: Best: To make the present landlord and tenant law apply to Stanley county.

Porter: To authorize the aldermen of the town of Franklin to use funds received from the sale of the municipal power plant for current expenses.

Will and Butler: To determine the period of time constituting a year's tenancy in Robeson county.

Wilmington: To extend the corporate limits of the town of Fair Bluff.

WATCH HOOVER EXPERIMENT IN NEW YORK CITY

Political Washington Doubtful About Outcome Of Political Appointments.

Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Political Washington sat back today to observe the working out of the rather novel experiment President-elect Hoover is undertaking in New York state by placing direction of affairs of the Republican party there in the hands of three men.

Diametrically opposed predictions as to the outcome were made by some of those who have a flair for forecasting future events, but most political observers seemed to be agreed that this presages action along similar lines in other states where friction has developed and in some of the southern states where strengthening of the organizations of this party is especially desired by the president-elect.

Friends and associates of Mr. Hoover confidently asserted that greater harmony among individual leaders in New York would result from the naming of H. Edmond MacFall, state chairman; Charles D. Hilles, national committeeman, and former Representative William H. Hill as a sort of triumvirate in control of party machinery and especially of Federal patronage.

Others were equally as confident in their belief that the experiment would prove unsuccessful if for no other reason than that the recently elected state chairman has been given a place in the triumvirate which on the face of things appeared to be superior to that accorded the veteran national committeeman.

Mr. Hilles long has been a commanding figure in New York Republican affairs and has many wealthy and influential friends over that state. For this reason some conversant with Empire state politics predicted that he would not be put aside easily unless he himself consented to the sharing of the responsibility of the creation of the committee.

It was so long as he yielded. While neither was of humorous, the practically minded among the politicians here professed to see in the initiation of a policy by Mr. Hoover looking to the placing of state party control into the hands of friends.

The support his view they called attention that the third member of the committee, Mr. Hill, has equal voice with the other two, although he has no official place in the party organization, state or national. He was one of the original Hoover-for-President men of New York state and early in the pre-convention campaign formed an independent organization to work for the nomination of the secretary of commerce. This organization functioned throughout the presidential campaign.

Howard To Confer With Reparations Members In U. S.

New York, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Having received the acceptances of J. P. Morgan and Owen D. Young to serve as unofficial American observers to the reparations conference, Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador, was here today to confer with them.

Sir Esme, upon his arrival in New York, said he obtained the acceptances of Mr. Morgan and Mr. Young by telephone before leaving Washington and had already cabled the fact abroad. He said he also had obtained the acceptance of Thomas N. Perkins of Boston to serve as alternate.

The final step to American participation in the conference will not be accomplished until the formal invitations are received from the commission, but Sir Esme, who was asked to act for the commission, said acceptances received by him virtually concluded the matter.

Fitts Acquitted Of Murder Charge

Rocky Mount, N. C., Jan. 19.—(AP)—T. W. Fitts, former mayor of Sharpsburg, was a free man today after his acquittal yesterday of a charge of killing his brother-in-law, B. H. Farmer.

Fitts admitted shooting Farmer, but pleaded self-defense. The jury considered the case only 45 minutes before returning with their verdict. There was a demonstration in the courtroom when the verdict was read. Mrs. Fitts wept as she embraced her husband and friends of the man on trial shook hands with the jury. Fitts had been held without bond since the slaying, October 31st.

WEEK'S LEAF SALES DOUBLE LAST YEAR'S

Market Has Passed Goal Of 70,000,000 By 26,780 Pounds, Report Shows.

A complete report of activities on the Greenville tobacco market during the week just closed, together with estimate of season's sales, was made public this morning by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales of the local market.

The report placed season's sales at 70,226,780. This is exactly 26,780 pounds over the goal of 70,000,000 pounds set for the year. The report placed season's sales at 70,226,780. This is exactly 26,780 pounds over the goal of 70,000,000 pounds set for the year.

The total amount paid out by the market this season was given at $14,456,664.34, at a general average of $20.45 per hundred pounds. For the same period last season the market sold 61,074,804 pounds of tobacco at an average of $23.53 per hundred pounds.

During the week just closed sales amounted to 890,494 pounds. The total amount paid out to farmers for their offerings was estimated at $154,479.65. The general market average was $17.34 per hundred pounds.

For the corresponding period last season the market sold 417,956 at an average of $18.63. This indicates that the past week's sales doubled those for the similar period last year.

Sales yesterday were given at 262,952 pounds for $42,411.57, at a general average of $16.12.

Offerings all through the week were described as inferior. The price situation was considered unusually strong with many grades selling as high as any other time of the year.

Tobaccoists reiterated advice to growers to sell the remainder of their tobacco as hurriedly as possible so that the crop may be entirely disposed of when the market closes for the season the last of the month.

STORMS CLAIM TEN LIVES IN FIVE STATES

Many Injuries And Heavy Property Damage In Districts Of Middle West.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Spring storms, two months ahead of time, killed ten persons in five states yesterday, injured many more, caused heavy property damage and finally swirled away up the St. Lawrence river valley.

In several places the storm that moved northward from southern Missouri, across Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, was of tornado violence, especially at Cape Girardeau, Mo., where two small children were killed, at Maumie, Ill., where there were three deaths, and at Fort Branch, Ind., where one woman was killed.

Unusual rains and high winds were reported over a wide area contiguous to the part of the principal storm, going as far south as Mississippi where one man was killed. Two men drowned in the Ohio river when the storm capsized their skiff, and another was blown from a bridge at Louisville, Ky.

Victims of the storm were: Dorothy May Handley, 12, Maumie, Illinois; Benice Tucker, 12, Maumie; Mrs. Amos Newman, Maumie; Marjorie Hargraves, 4, near Cape Girardeau, Mo.; Buddie Hargraves, 3, near Cape Girardeau, Mo.; Mrs. Mary Nolan, 65, Fort Branch, Ind.; Roy Litter, 21, and Clinton Mahoney, 24, drowned in Ohio river between Milton, Ky., and Madison, Ind.; William Thrasher, 43, blown from bridge at Louisville, Ky.; Emelia Ferretti, about 65, Shelby, Miss.

A negro also was missing in the Shelby, Miss., storm, and believed to have been buried under wreckage of the three-story building, one of many in the town which was leveled. The work of the storm was carried across the street and dropped upon Ferretti's shoe, crushing it and killing the shoemaker.

First damage from the storm occurred south of Cape Girardeau, Mo., where the two Hargraves children met death. The storm struck by twisting wind and accompanied by rain, cut across Illinois, bearing northeast and causing damage at Texas City, Norris City, Harrisburg, Chris City and Anna. Buildings were blown down, and there was also much loss among livestock.

Cloudbursts were reported through the south-central Illinois section, causing heavy damage by the flooding of buildings.

Small streams throughout the area overflowed and traffic was halted in many places where the water covered portions of the highways.

The violence of the storm was intensified at Maumie, at the Illinois-Indiana line, where a school building collapsed, killing two children and Mrs. Newman and causing injuries, some serious, to 23 pupils.

Rising temperatures preceded and accompanied the storm, thermometers going as high as 64° degrees above zero at Evansville, Ind. Temperatures began falling when light came.

Related storms of less severity swept Kentucky and Tennessee.

Aged Sports Figure Dies At Washington

Washington, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Michael D. Scanlon, pioneer sports figure, whose association with baseball began in 1866, is dead here at the age of 81. In 1878, while in charge of the Washington Nationals, he bought Connie Mack, now manager of the Philadelphia Athletics and three other players from the Hartford club for $600.

The quartet made the Nationals a formidable club in the days when free ball at all flights at games were not uncommon and when promoters were timid about charging admission. Mustered out of the Union army at the close of the civil war, Scanlon met Arthur P. Gorman, later United States Senator from Maryland, and their mutual love for a game then generally played on deserted lots led to the organization of the Washington Nationals. The late Senator Gorman played right field and in addition was treasurer of the club.

*We asked them all
 Owner-Engineer-Critic-Dealer*

HOW CAN WE IMPROVE THIS OLDSMOBILE for 1929

FOR months, the engineering staff of the Olds Motor Works sought the answers to these questions:

"Can Oldsmobile be made still finer?"

"If so, how can this be accomplished?"

First they studied Oldsmobile carefully. They scrutinized every detail—analyzed every element of appearance and performance. They matched Oldsmobile against other cars in its field and compared results.

Then they said, "Let us also have the opinion of others to guide us. We must overlook nothing that will improve this Oldsmobile."

They went to Oldsmobile owners everywhere and invited their most severe criticism.

They asked women what they wanted in an automobile . . . regardless of price.

They questioned Oldsmobile dealers and salesmen.

They called in men who are recognized as experts in judging automobile values.

They sent a fleet of Oldsmobiles to the great Proving Ground of General Motors, where all cars are tested impartially.

Several months elapsed. After grueling miles on the Proving Ground . . . after critical inspection of Oldsmobile . . . after hearing the opinions of thousands . . . the report came back.

And here it is

"Oldsmobile is too good to change fundamentally. It is ahead of its time. It offers many features not to be found in cars within hundreds of dollars of its price."

"Two of the highest priced cars have improved shutter design so that the shutters run entirely to the top of the shell. But this, of course, you need not do, for few cars anywhere near Oldsmobile in price even have radiator shutters."

And these improvements have been made. Full length vertical radiator shutters are standard equipment on the 1929 Oldsmobile.

Another suggestion read: "Some of the higher priced cars now have full pressure lubrication of the piston pins, though we admit this is a rather revolutionary suggestion for a car of Oldsmobile's low price."

The 1929 Oldsmobile has pressure lubrication of the piston pins, through rifle-drilled connecting rods. Valve and carburetor design have been modified somewhat. And the big Oldsmobile high-compression engine now develops 62 horsepower.

This new radiator emblem identifies the 1929 Oldsmobile.

The 1929 Oldsmobile has the new adjustable front seat, developed within the last few months by Fisher, which may be moved forward or backward instantly, even while the driver is seated. The 1929 Oldsmobile has headlamps of the most recent design, supported on chromium-plated standards. It has a smart new cadet-visor. And it is arrayed in a wide variety of voguish new color combinations. In addition to these new style touches, the 1929 Oldsmobile offers new luxuries and refinements. Upholsteries are richer and more costly. Seat cushions are deeper and softer. Interiors are even more stylish and luxurious than before.

Further, Oldsmobile not only includes four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers as standard equipment—but shock absorbers and springs are synchronized to provide supreme riding ease.

But Oldsmobile has done more than merely add desirable improvements. Oldsmobile has reduced prices—and has reduced them substantially!

Oldsmobile invites inspection and comparison. See the 1929 Oldsmobile. Drive it. Match it against any car. Judge it by your highest standards and make your own decision.

You can come to only one conclusion:

That the 1929 Oldsmobile is a leader in appearance, performance, comfort, luxury—and above all, in value.

THANK TEACHERS FOR CONDUCT AT FIRE

The members of the Board of Trustees of the City Schools wish to express publicly their appreciation and thanks to the teachers of Evans street school, Miss Keefer, Mrs. Harris and Mr. Rose, for the splendid manner in which the children were conducted out of the building when it caught fire last Monday morning. It showed great presence of mind on the part of the teachers and how well the children were trained. It is a remarkable fact that everybody got out safely and there was no confusion, stampede or injury.

The board would also like to thank the people and the Salvation Army for so generously contributing clothes for the children, who had their coats and hats burned up, and the members of the fire department who fought so long and hard.

RUTH ST. DENIS WEARS JEWELS OF JOSEPHINE

The Denishawn Dancers, who will open the new all-star series of entertainments at East Carolina Teachers College on January 30, will give a program featuring the best things that have been done in interpretative dancing. Those who saw them in the "Follies" last year saw them as a part of an evening's entertainment. Here the whole entertainment will be theirs, and their program will range all the way from music visualizations to the most elaborate themes.

"A Denishawn program is like a trip around the world. Like Puck they put a girle around the earth" some one has said. They also delve into the past and bring to life characters from history. The Empress Josephine not only lives again in "Josephine and Hippolyte," but Miss St. Denis wears the jewels that actually belonged to Josephine. Last summer Mr. Shawn purchased these from the great-granddaughter of a lady-in-waiting at the court of Napoleon. Josephine when empress, lavished her jewels upon her courtiers, and these were bestowed upon the lady-in-waiting, Mr. Shawn gave them to his wife, Miss St. Denis, as a gift on their 14th wedding anniversary.

THE REMARKABLE NEW "FINGER-TIP CONTROL"

Greater beauty and improved design in new Whippets and Willys-Knights

The ultra-modern lines and larger bodies of the new Superior Whippet are winning the enthusiastic praise of four and eight Six buyers, while the new style Willys-Knight Six is the largest, most beautiful and most powerful Knight ever offered at an low price.

See and examine these superb cars without delay! An immediate order will aid in early delivery.

What it means to you in driving convenience and safety

Willys-Overland is the first producer of automobiles to equip all its passenger cars and commercial vehicles with the wonderful new "Finger-Tip Control."

A single button, conveniently located in the center of the steering wheel, controls all functions of starting the motor, operating the lights and sounding the horn.

This fundamental improvement does away with all troublesome foot fumbling for the starting button. You can keep your foot always on the brake when starting or re-starting on a hill—an obvious safety advantage of major importance.

"Finger-Tip Control" also avoids changing from the comfortable driving position to reach a light switch on the dash. You can at all times keep your eyes on the road, and the hand that operates the button flashes back to the rim of the wheel in any steering emergency.

THE LOBBYISTS

The Senate committee has reported favorably on the Person bill that would require lobbyists to make public the source of their pay and their purposes in seeking enactment of certain legislation. The action of the committee on this measure is as it should be and similar favorable action should be given by the two branches of the assembly. Of course, every citizen has a perfect right to urge legislators to vote for or against proposed laws but at the same time the lawmakers and the public are entitled to know what are the motives behind the movement in order that the interests of the public might best be served.

WHAT'S ONE PERSON WORTH?

Declaring that the life of one child is worth more than any financial loss, no matter how heavy, the Charlotte News in congratulating both teachers and children of the Evans Street School here for their presence of mind displayed last Monday morning when fire in the school building was discovered, says: "When the Evans Street School in Greenville burned Monday morning, over 500 pupils and teachers marched quietly out to safety. Some of them lost coats and hats; all lost books and other supplies, while the building and its equipment are gone entirely, it is reported. "It's too bad that the building was destroyed just at the opening of the term. The loss of books and clothing is serious, too; and no doubt there are some of those youngsters whose dad-dies can't buy them new wraps, and they'll have to depend on somebody's charity to keep warm the remainder of this winter. "But what are buildings and books and bonnets worth as compared with kiddies? If one of those children had perished in the fire, it would have been a terrible tragedy; as it now stands, the affair is merely a financial loss, heavy, but not too terrible. "The saving of half a thousand youngsters means more than the few seconds it took to march them out of the building. It means that away back at the first of the year somebody started a fire drill, and the school practiced it over and over again, until the lines of pupils learned to file out almost automatically. It means that those youngsters have been trained in obedience, so that there was no blind panic when they realized that this race with death. It means that teachers kept their heads, and smiled encouragingly at their little flocks when their own hearts were pounding. And do you imagine that there was one of those teachers who for one instant thought of leaving her class and running head-long to safety? Or that there was one who forgot the children while she went to rescue her new coat? "An emergency like that brings out the best and the worst in human nature; but what it exhibits is not something that leaps into existence on the instant—it is character which has been developing through a long, long time. "We congratulate Greenville on the spirit shown by its teachers and pupils in this emergency."

The latest way of transporting liquor around Goldsboro is by way of a hearse. Patrons of bootleggers often find the need of a hearse, but it is generally in the last and not in the first stages.—News & Observer.

ABOUT TOWN

"Everybody is gratified that we were able to reach the goal of seven million pounds of tobacco this year," declared a member of the Tobacco Board of Trade today. "It was the realization of one of the greatest ambitions of the market in years. Every tobaccoist exerted his best effort in making the goal possible. It goes to prove that Greenville business men never get out to accomplish anything without realizing actual achievement. "Aside from establishing a sales record from the standpoint of volume, the market also has the distinction of holding the world's record for selling a million pounds of tobacco for a period of sixty days with four sets of buyers. This may not sound like anything out of the ordinary. But ask the man familiar with the tobacco industry and he will tell you it was almost a super-human effort."

"There is one still less in Pitt county at this time as result of the raid by members of the sheriff's department last Thursday," commented a well known citizen today, speaking of the enormous scope of the illicit whiskey traffic in some communities of the state. "Pitt county officers have established something of a record since the beginning of the new year, and by the end of the month may be able to claim the distinction of capturing more still for a similar period than any other county in the state. "Whether we set a new record or not, we are gratified at the staggering blow which officials have delivered against the unlawful traffic."

Don't feed corn on day of sale. Don't tie legs—come early.
Very truly yours,
E. F. ARNOLD, County Agent.

They are to be highly commended for their vigilance. "The saving of human life was worth more than all the property lost in the recent fire which destroyed the Evans street school," declared a prominent man today, discussing criticism which developed from the failure to save clothing, books and other things belonging to the pupils and teachers. "Had it not been for the orderly manner in which the children left the building when the saving of every one of the four hundred or more students could not have been accomplished. One false move on the part of teachers would have resulted in a panic and subsequent loss of life. "While it would have been much better had books and wearing apparel been saved, the teachers were wise in organizing the fire drill as they would have done under ordinary circumstances. The children had no idea there was a fire. But had they been told to collect their belongings and hurry from the building pandemonium would have prevailed. The outcome is incalculable. "The saving of a human life was worth it all. But since we saved four hundred lives, without a single injury, we have lots to be thankful for and our gratitude should cause us to forget the loss represented by that which money can early replace."

"This weather," remarked an aged citizen today, "is reminding of springtime, and I wish it were here to stay. "But, alas, I realize the change is one of those pranks which nature plays from time to time and is subject to even a more radical reversal in a few days. "Springtime, however, is on the way and before another month or two, passes we will have weather of this kind to stay."

"We are expecting the earnings of Pitt county farmers to be greatly increased this year through the sale of poultry," said a member of the department of agriculture today. "Poultry sales netted the county over $10,000 last year. The amount no doubt will be greatly increased this year because the raising of poultry has been conducted along more extensive lines. "This extra money will help farmers fill up many holes they wouldn't be able to fill had they not engaged in the poultry raising industry. It should inspire others to begin raising chickens and in that way open a way for increasing their earnings."

"Our buyers have just returned from Northern markets," stated a prominent merchant this morning.

In a few days spring and summer goods will begin rolling into the city and we will be busy arranging them for inspection of the hundreds of customers who shop here from other communities. "Greenville offers a more extensive line of goods of every kind than ever before because of the increased number of business houses. Values compare favorably to those of the larger cities because some of the same firms operating here have stores in all section of the country. "When you begin making your spring purchases, visit Greenville and see the hundreds of splendid values which our merchants have to offer you."

Smoothness
Never Before Achieved in a Low-Priced Automobile
Of all the exceptional performance qualities resulting from the advanced design of the new Chevrolet Six, none is more impressive than its remarkably smooth operation. Although the new six-cylinder motor develops 32% more power with higher speed and faster acceleration . . . although it delivers better than twenty miles to the gallon of gasoline——its outstanding feature of performance is a degree of smoothness never before achieved in any low-priced automobile.
Whether you are flashing away from a traffic stop with the accelerator to the floor, whether you are rolling along at twenty-five miles an hour or doing well above sixty on the open road—the power is delivered easily, freely and without annoying vibration.
To achieve such remarkable performance in a car of such low price, Chevrolet spent years in development work. Over 100 different engines were designed, built and subjected to over a million miles of testing at the General Motors Proving Ground before the present motor was adopted. The new power plant has many unusual features, such as the new acceleration pump, the new gasoline pump and filter, and the new automatic lubrication of the rocker arms.
The four-wheel brakes have been newly designed to assure positive, quiet action. Steering has been made easier. And the new Fisher bodies with their new lines, new colors, adjustable driver's seats and new appointments, represent new heights of style, distinction, comfort and outstanding value.
We extend you a cordial invitation to see and drive the new Chevrolet Six. We want you to know how finely the new Chevrolet Six is built and how smoothly it performs!

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 2 points to a decline of 3 points. Active months sold a point or two below yesterday's closing quotations in the early trading.

There appeared to be some southern selling and week-end realizing but it was absorbed. Private cables said there had been continental buying and trade calling supplied by liquidation in Liverpool, but that substantial cloth sales were reported to China. Cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 177,000 bales against 126,000 last year.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Much enlarged buying of wheat futures deliveries today hoisted July wheat to a new high price record for the season. Houses with eastern connections were conspicuous in the wheat purchasing movement, and weather conditions throughout a good deal of the domestic winter wheat territory were regarded as pointing to chances of crop damage.

Wheat closed unsettled 1-4 to 5-8 net lower; corn 1-3-8 to 1-3-4 off; oats 1-8 to 1-8 down and provisions varying from 7 decline to a rise of five cents.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Operations for the advance were again carried on in vigorous fashion on the stock market today, under the leadership of U.S. Steel, which was once more boosted to a new high price for all time. Considerable week-end profit-taking cropped out however, and impeded some irregularity.

The bulls seized upon the drop in call money to 6 per cent, which rate rose over the week-end, in the face of the large increase in brokers' loans, as an excuse for a demonstration, but uneasiness over the credit situation still persisted, with time money again somewhat firmer, and the public was inclined to stay on the side lines. Trading was only moderately active, although a number of transactions of 5,000 to 10,000 shares were recorded. Total sales were only about 2,308,000 shares for the abbreviated session.

Rumors of unexpectedly good earnings for 1928, and an increased or extra dividend, have been current for sometime, and the sharp rains of the past two days have brought talk of a stock dividend.

Greene Cananea Copper, Electric Auto Lite and Crucible-Steel lost 2 to 3 points in profit-taking, while A. M. Byers, Radio, Columbia Gas, Matheson Alkali and Purity Bakeries also sagged 2 points or more.

SICK HEADACHE

Ex-Sheriff Suffered From Constipation and Felt Very Bad Until Relieved by Black-Draught.

Ardmore, Okla.—Mr. W. N. McClure, for several years a resident of this city (111 Third Ave. N. W.), formerly was a political leader in Pike County, Arkansas, where he served as sheriff and county judge. "I used to suffer with sick headaches," says Mr. McClure. "These spells would come on me and I would feel very bad. I would get bilious and upset. "My trouble was constipation, and after I found it out, I began using Black-Draught. This quickly relieved the cause, and I got all right. "I began using Black-Draught in my home, shortly after the Civil War, when I lived in Pike County, Arkansas. I came out of the war, like many other soldiers, with bad digestion. I suffered a lot from sick headache and dizziness. I would get constipated, and for a while I would feel very bad. "I found this medicine brought quick relief for constipation, and removed the cause of my headaches and dizziness, so we have always tried to keep it in the house. "After I take a course of Black-Draught, I feel fine. My system is rid of poison, and my appetite picks up." Sold everywhere. Try it. NC-203
