QUEST'N MARK STOPS OVER AT MIDLAND, TEX.

Return Flight To Washington Broken So Pilot May Attend Mother's Funeral.

Tucson, Ariz., Jan. 21.—(AP)—The return flight to Washington of the monoplane Question Mark, princess of the skies, will be stayed at Midland, Texas, this afternoon in order that the chief pilot, Captain Ira Eaker, can attend the funeral of his mother who died just before her son set out to write in the sky an epilogue to the endurance plane's recent unexcelled flight.

Mrs. Y. Eaker, whose serious illness last week held up the return flight of the army plane, while her son hurried home to her bedside at Eden, Texas, died there yesterday morning of pneumonia, as her time before the Question Mark left San Diego.

The Question Mark, and an accompanying refueling plane which served it in the recent 150-hour sustained flight in the vicinity of Los Angeles, reached here in the afternoon after five hours of easy flight, and will continue to Midland, Tex., today. The refueling ship was scheduled to transfer 150 gallons of gasoline to the monoplane between here and El Paso.

An early take-off was planned in order that Captain Eaker can reach El Paso, Tex., in time for the funeral of his mother. It is possible the refueling ship or another plane will be provided the army pilot for the trip, otherwise he will go by automobile, returning Tuesday to resume the flight.

Three members of the crew of the Question Mark, who were aboard the ship when it left the coast. Another five with the endurance plane's nurse ship, while the fifth was left behind, detailed to other work at San Diego.

In the spacious cabin of the monoplane, where five men lived without great discomfort for six days until falling mofors finally brought the Question Mark to earth at Los Angeles early this month, were Maj. Carl Spatz, commanding officer, Captain Eaker and Staff Sergeant Roy W. Hoop, of the original crew, and H. J. Anderson, assistant to F. Truce Davison, assistant secretary of war, and official observer of the flight for the War Department.

Lieut. Elwood Quesada of the record-breaking crew, and Captain Ross G. Hoyt, flew with the supply ship. Lieut. Harry A. Halverson of the original crew, one refueling ship and other members of the two refueling ships crews were left at San Diego.

Captain Eaker received the news of his mother's death before the plane left, and was bowed by grief when he arrived here. An informal reception for the army fliers was canceled. When Captain Eaker started the epical test flight both his parents were ill in a San Angelo hospital. They were cheered when news came that the captain had landed safely, and he immediately flew to see them. Mrs. Eaker appeared to be much better when her son returned to San Diego last Thursday.

N. Y. Journalists Buy Augusta Paper

Augusta, Ga., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Harold Hall and William Lavarre, New York newspapermen, today were at the helm of the Augusta Chronicle, with Thomas J. Hamilton continuing as managing editor.

Announcement of the sale of the South's oldest newspaper was made by Mr. Hamilton last night with the accompanying statement that Hall and Lavarre had acquired his majority stock holdings in the publication.

Widely experienced in journalistic enterprise, the new owners of the Chronicle first became interested in the publication during a visit to Augusta last fall.

Mr. Lavarre became associated with the New York Times some years ago after leading several expeditions into the South American jungles in exploration trips. On one of these he discovered the Alluvial diamond fields in British Guiana and associated with William H. Moore of Prides Crossings, Mass., he organized the Mazaruni syndicate to operate the fields. His interests in the enterprise were purchased by British mining companies in 1928.

BETHEL COP IS MURDERED BY PRISONER

Officer Eugene Jones Killed While Help- ing Man To Arrange Bond.

Officers of four counties today were seeking Hubert Pulley, wanted in connection with the murder of Police Officer Eugene Jones of Bethel, whose lifeless body was found on the Bethel-Williamston road Saturday night.

Pulley was arrested in Bethel last Saturday for stealing automobile parts. He was tried in Recorder's court and bound over to a higher court under bond of $100. Being a stranger in the Bethel community, it was stated that Pulley was unable to raise bond.

He is said to have told Officer Jones that he had relatives in the upper part of the county who would furnish bond for him if he could get in touch with them. Desiring to befriend a man in a tight place, the officer agreed to accompany Pulley.

Nothing was heard from the two until Sunday morning when the policeman's lifeless body, punctured by five bullets, was found on the highway from Bethel to Williamston.

Officers of Pitt, Martin, Halifax and Edgecombe counties were immediately notified of the killing, but so far nothing has been heard of Pulley.

Sheriff Sam Whitehurst stated this morning that no information which might lead to the arrest of the murderer had yet been received at his office. He was confident, however, that some clue would fall into the hands of the officers in various communities assisting in the search.

Bethel has been stricken by the tragedy. Officer Jones was popular among a wide circle of friends and had been diligent in performance of his duty. He was about 40 years of age and the father of ten children. He had been connected with the Bethel police department, four years.

Funeral services were conducted from his late home this afternoon, interment being made in the Bethel cemetery.

Both victims were suffocated, although one body was partly burned when found. They were identified through names on the register as John J. Jones, 45, Williston, N. D., and Albin Scott, 26, Frederick, Wis.

Criminal Court Opens In City

A one week term of Pitt county Superior court, for the trial of criminal cases, convened in this city today, with Judge F. A. Daniels, of Goldsboro, presiding, and Solicitor D. M. Clark, prosecuting.

Both Judge Daniels and Solicitor Clark suffered an attack of the flu last week and were unable to open civil court here. They were reported sufficiently improved today to justify resumption of work.

The criminal docket contains numbers of cases of more or less interest to this community. The grand jury had several bills to pass upon, consisting mainly of charges of larceny.

Bramwell Booth. Commissioner Higgins is acting head of the organization pending selection of a new leader.

Three Thousand Arrests In Chicago Police Drive

Chicago, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Three thousand persons were arrested between Saturday nightfall and today's dawn in one of the most sudden, wide-spread and successful police drives in the history of Chicago.

Raids were conducted against every known habitat of the gangster, gunman and robber, where doors were locked, doors were smashed open, the theatre district swarmed with plain clothes men, seeking the "dress suit" crooks, and police patrols were booked for hours ahead—so swift were the arrests.

The drive was Police Chief William Russell's answer to a week of crime marked by 102 robberies in which four persons were shot dead and several others seriously wounded.

Two-thirds of the city's force of 6,000 policemen were kept on duty over Sunday to insure success of the drive.

Squad leaders got their orders from Deputy Commissioner John Stage in these words:

"Every joint in this town is to be visited. Never mind injunctions. If you're barred, grab an ave and chop your way in. Grab every crook with a record that you see. Don't bother erizing booze. Leave the working man and the respectable people alone. Raid the night clubs, the theatres, the hotels, the beer flats. I want every crook in Chicago in a cell by Monday morning."

Besides the raids, police had random squads at work everywhere, making arrests at street corners—anywhere they might come upon persons with police record or who were unable to give satisfactory accounts of themselves.

With every police district in the city participating, arrests were made by the hundreds every hour. In many cases officers and their prisoners waited for hours on the street before the arrival of a patrol to transport them to the police station.

Several names often found in the police records were listed among the persons arrested, although so far as was known no "wanted" man of especial note was taken. The full result of the drive remained to be seen at the special "show-up" today when those arrested were to be paraded before the victims of recent holdups and robberies for possible identification.

URGE GROWERS TO DISPOSE OF LEAF RAPIDLY

Greenville Tobacco Market To Close For The Season The Last Of January.

There was approximately 155,000 pounds of tobacco on the Greenville market today, according to information given out this morning by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales. The price situation was reported favorable with all grades showing considerable strength.

After passing the goal of seventy million pounds last Friday, the market was making good headway toward an extra million pounds today. With eight more sales days to go before the market closes for the season, tobaccoists felt confident sales would go beyond the seventy-one million mark.

The supervisor of sales said farmers should market the remainder of their crop as hurriedly as possible in order that all offerings might be disposed of by the closing date. He urged the growers to give more than passing attention to the condition of their tobacco. This, it was said, should play an important part in the price situation.

The closing of the market this season will see local tobaccoists in possession of two records—the selling of more tobacco than any other season in the history of the market, and the disposition of sixty million pounds of leaf in a period of sixty sales days. The latter is considered a world's record for four sets of buyers and is a matter of much gratification to those who played such an important part in making it possible.

Danville Suffers Big Loss By Fire

Danville, Va., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Danville received its heaviest fire loss within the last ten years early today when a full block in the tobacco section was damaged by a blaze of undetermined origin. The property was insured, owners said.

The fire occurred directly opposite the central fire station which was showered with brick from falling walls.

HOOVER LEFT FOR FLORIDA THIS MORNING

President-Elect To Spend Sometime At Belle Isle Estate Of J. C. Penny.

Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—President-elect Hoover left today for Florida, where he will remain until his return here for the March 4 inauguration. Mr. Hoover is going to Belle Isle, near Miami, where he will reside at the J. C. Penny estate. His special train is scheduled to reach Miami tomorrow afternoon.

Although he has completed since his return from South America a busy two weeks of study of the questions facing his administration, Mr. Hoover has another task preparatory to his induction into office—the writing of his inaugural address. While he is understood to have drafted most of its major points, this speech's preparation probably will occupy much of his time during the Florida visit.

For their stay in the southern state, Mr. and Mrs. Hoover will be guests at the J. C. Penny estate at Belle Isle. Traveling from Washington on a special train, they will be welcomed upon their arrival at Miami tomorrow afternoon by Governor Doyle and other state officials who also will accompany them to the Penny state.

The president-elect's party included Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee, who will accompany him to Florida. Miss Janet Large of Los Angeles, a niece, and Lawrence Richey, his personal assistant, and Mrs. Richey, James Francis Burke of Pittsburgh, general counsel of the national committee in the campaign, also was invited to make the journey but will stop off at Palm Beach to spend a few weeks there. A corps of newspaper correspondents and photographers also were members of the party.

Chief among the topics of discussion during his two weeks conferences in Washington has been his cabinet, but Mr. Hoover under present plans, is not expected to formally announce any members of his official family until his return to the capital late next month when another round of meetings with party leaders will be held.

Committees on both sides worked ahead the House appropriations group reporting out a $41,265,000 contribution by the federal government toward District of Columbia municipal expenses. Its ways and means committee heard arguments for raising the sugar tariff, and a House veterans sub-committee continued taking testimony on the proposed $10,000,000 veterans hospital bill. Opposition to the measure for regulation of the bituminous coal industry was voiced again before the Senate committee charged with its consideration.

San Bernardino, Cal., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Eight persons, including an aviator, escaped serious injury here yesterday in the hair-raising collision in a blinding snowstorm of an airplane and an automobile on the National Old Trains Highway.

Although the front of his automobile was smashed in by the landing gear of the ship, Frank Tice, of Baldwin Park, Cal., and his family of six were only bruised by the jolt. The aviator, Robert Crooks, an instructor at a local aviation school here, crawled, also unhurt, from his plane which nosed over into the ditch.

Blinded by a snowstorm so severe he believed it impossible to reach his home field, Crooks came down over the highway seeking a place to land. He was landing when suddenly the automobile appeared through the driving snow.

Crooks landed the plane hard in trying for the bounce the novice often inadvertently achieves in his first landings, but the skip was insufficient to clear the car. After the propeller ripped away the radiator, a wing tilted and the plane swung around clearing the car.

At Mason, Texas, Lester Nix was killed and Bryon Hazeltine, 19, injured, when their automobile crashed into a culvert while the driver, Fritz Surber, was attempting to adjust the headlights.

Wallace Wisniewski, 36, was killed near Brenham when his automobile skidded on wet pavement.

Union Springs, Ala., Jan. 21.—(AP)—A posse with bloodhounds early today was seeking four negroes wanted for the slaying of J. F. Barbaree, a special deputy law enforcement officer, and the wounding of J. J. Brabham, city marshal, in Union Springs, last night.

The negroes, all of whom were employed on a road construction gang opened fire on the officers when the latter arrested them and attempted to take them to jail on charges of violating the prohibition law.

Rockview Prinson, Bellefonte Pa., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Paul Jaworski, bandit chief and confessed killer of seven men, today paid with his life in the electric chair for the murder of I. L. Gump, payroll guard.

Naworski was strapped in the chair at 7 a. m., and was pronounced dead at 7:08.

Calvin D. James, Bucks county murderer, followed Jaworski to the chair. The first current was sent coursing through his body at 7:10 and he was officially dead at 7:14. James was convicted of having murdered W. H. Dunstan, Dolystown bootlegger.

REBEL FORCES PUT TO FLIGHT IN GUATEMALA

Government Forces Take Drastic Action To Put Down Revolution.

Guatemala City, Jan. 21.—(AP)—An artillery bombardment today paved the way for an advance by government troops into the part of Mazatanango still held by rebels. The city was partially in the hands of loyal troops and rebels were also driven from the city of Salama.

Airplanes using bombs and machine guns were believed to have demoralized the insurgents so that the government infantry was able to take over part of Mazatanango, including the railway station. Many insurgents were seen to fall in the strafing to which government airplanes subjected them.

Rebels in the northern part of Salama handed over their arms after their leaders had fled before an advance by loyal troops.

The cities of Quezaltenango and Totonicapan were negotiating today for the surrender of the rebel leader, Marciano Casado, who released the forces under his command.

The government was announced to be dominating the situation with the republic rapidly returning to normal.

Minister Recinos, of Guatemala, said in Washington that with Mazatanango recaptured it was believed that the revolution would be suppressed in the next few days.

Advices from Tecuicapa, Honduras, said that unconfirmed reports there were that five Guatemala departments in the western section were in revolt with General Fernando Morales leading the insurgents. This Senor Recinos denied.

The Mexican government assigned additional troops to guard the Guatemalan border to prevent the passage of arms and ammunition for the revolutionists.

Smith May Visit Hoover At Miami

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Cryptic remarks by Alfred E. Smith on his departure for a vacation were interpreted by his friends today as indicating that he would call on Herbert Hoover in Miami.

Mr. Smith did not answer a direct question whether he would on Mr. Hoover but a friend who saw him off yesterday said there was a probability such a meeting would take place.

Mr. Smith was reminded of Mr. Hoover's trip to Miami by a reporter and congratulated the victor: a reporter inquired.

"Yes, I will be in Miami, too," said the ex-Governor, with a broad smile.

"But will you call on Hoover?" the questioner persisted.

"That will be news when I do, if I do," was Mr. Smith's verbal sidestep.

His plans call for a stay in the south until March 1. The Smith party will first go to Savannah, thence to Sarasota, Fla., to visit Carl Espy and John Ringling. They will visit the Ringling Brothers' circus in winter quarters and then go to Miami. John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, joined the party at Wilmington, Del.

Mr. Smith said he did not plan to see any southern political leaders during his stay.

FIVE NAVY MEN DROWN AS GIG HITS BIG BARGE

Investigation Started In Connection With Tragedy In Panama Canal.

Panama, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Five American navy men were drowned yesterday when an officers' gig of the U. S. S. Whitney collided with a barge in the Panama Canal Channel. Separate investigations were being conducted today by canal officials and by Rear Admiral Frank H. Clark in command of the American destroyer squadrons.

The men drowned were: Captain Ralph Griswold, commanding officer of the ninth destroyer scouting squadron, and Chief Pay Clerk Arthur S. Wrenn, both of Washington; Coxswain Fred W. Sweeney, of West Orange, N. J.; seaman Herbert D. McDobb, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Fireman Earl B. Tibbets, of Haverhill, Mass.

Four other occupants of the gig saved themselves. They were: Capt. William J. Giles, commander of the destroyer tender Whitney, and Seaman Walter C. Rowell, Albert W. Gatewood and James P. Powers.

The gig left the officers' landing pier shortly after 4 a. m. with Captains Griswold and Giles, who were returning to the Whitney after having spent the evening in Panama. The crew of the gig was a relief crew supplanting the regular crew who had been sent to their ship some time earlier for oversteering their leaves ashore.

As the gig swung out from the pier the canal tug Mariner, with a tow, was coming along the center of the canal about three hundred yards from the shore. Three barges were displaced by the tug, but the Coxswain of the gig apparently thought that the barges were behind the tug, whereas they were on each side.

Survivors said that no one aboard the gig had noticed the barges until the gig was about thirty feet from one of them. Then a man cried to the coxswain, "Look out! There's a lighter alongside!"

Previously Captain Giles had ordered the gig's speed out to half because the main bearing was buried out. When the coxswain heard the cry of warning he swung the rudder over, but the gig struck on the starboard bow. Everybody was thrown overboard.

Captain Giles, who is a strong swimmer, grabbed Wrenn and dragged him to the tug, but efforts to revive him failed. The captain also saw a body floating and call to the men of the motor whaleboat of the U. S. S. Falcon, which had come up to give assistance. They picked up the body of Captain Griswold. The bodies of Wrenn and Captain Griswold were taken to the Gorges hospital to await word from their relatives.

Rowell said that after he was thrown overboard he grabbed onto the gig and another man came up alongside. He told the man to take hold of his foot and pull himself up. This the man did and seized the handrail of the engine room. The handrail came loose and the man disappeared in the water. Rowell was later taken aboard the tug. Gatewood and Powers were thrown under the barge but managed to make their way to the motorboat from the Falcon.

Members of the tugboat crew said that the big gig was on the wrong side of the canal channel and that the tug was proceeding with all proper lights and on its regular schedule.

check with the location of the scene of the fire and when the trucks reached the box of the alarm naturally, there were moments of confusion while those in charge were endeavoring to locate the fire. Before this could be done the streets around the alarm box were so crowded with automobiles and pedestrians that the truck drivers found considerable difficulty in getting through the jam. Fortunately the fire amounted to nothing and the delay of the trucks did not prove costly but more fortunate is the fact that by some miracle no one in all that mob was hurt.

This practice of rushing to fire is a reckless and dangerous one, is against the law, and the law should be rigidly enforced. If you feel that you must attend the fires, have common sense enough to obey the law by waiting until the trucks and firemen get to the scene before you start and then when you do get there, stay out of their way so that they can carry on their work of fire-fighting unimpeded.

ABOUT TOWN

The Greenville High School basketball team is showing real form these days. The team covered itself with glory by splitting fifty-fifty with the strong Hugh Morson High School in games at Raleigh and on the local court. They were the two outstanding contestants of the season and cause other engagements to look rather tame.
The season, all in all, has been one of the most successful in years, and may yet bring greater honors before it comes to a close.

QUIT RUSHING TO FIRES

The practice of persons rushing to the scene of a fire here just as soon as the alarm sounds apparently is growing worse than better, despite repeated warnings against the practice and laws that prohibit it. Our city laws require that the driver of every vehicle must pull over to the curb and wait five minutes after completion of the alarm before moving from the spot in order that fire-fighting apparatus and firemen might not be hindered by traffic in getting to the scene of the blaze, but when the alarm sounds in Greenville the conditions are just reversed. The minute the first toot of the fire whistle is heard many people seem to think that it is their duty to be the first to the fire, so they crank up their motors and rush toward the spot where the alarm originated, never giving a thought to the fact that by so doing they are endangering their own lives and those of others. Last Saturday night there was an alarm and, as usual, the trucks were out of the station and on their way by the time the whistle began its second round of blasts, but at that so many automobiles reached the scene of the alarm by the time the trucks did. Through some mistake the alarm turned in did not

Macon To Give Stripling Big Send-Off Soon
Macon, Ga., Jan. 21.—(AP)—W. L. "Young" Stripling will enter training for his fight with Jack Sharkey with the well wishes of his fellow townsmen still ringing loud in his ears.
Stripling, who on February 1 will begin serious work in preparation for the most important fight of his career to date, will be tendered the most rousing ovation this city knows to give a "favorite son," according to an announcement made last night.
Monday, January 28, has been set aside as "Stripling Night" in Macon, the announcement said. The honor guest will play an important role in the festivities, being scheduled to appear as a participant in a basketball game when the Peeler All-Stars play Mercer University, and to referee a prize fight.
Plans for having a large Macon delegation on hand when Stripling enters the ring with Sharkey are progressing rapidly, it was said. Brown Nicholson, chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce committee handling this matter, said that "about half the population of Macon will be on 'hand at Miami' for the fight."
Reservations for approximately two cars on the "Stripling Special" have already been made, Nicholson said, and other reservations are being made daily.
Macon's band will also journey to Miami for the fight if a movement now on foot materializes, it was said.

Bo McMillan To Remain in Texas
Fort Worth, Tex., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Bo McMillan's home town university, Texas Christian U., will be without his services as head football coach this year only because the All-American Center College star refused to quit a job until he had made good at it.
Acceptance of the post also would have brought McMillan back to his young son, who is being reared by a sister here, but he refused the proffered post because he did not feel that he has made good at the Kansas State Agricultural College.
McMillan came to the Kansas Aggies last fall to fill the place left vacant by Charles W. Bachman, who had phenomenal success with

INDIANS IN DECLARES MAN IS NOT OBJECT TRIM FOR BIG BALL SEASON OF EVOLUTION

By KENNETH E. SANDERS. Associated Press Staff Writer. Cleveland, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians will enter the 1929 campaign non-committal on their prospects but hoping for the best from one of the most thoroughly overhauled line-ups in the American League.
"We hope we have a better club than last year," was the only comment forthcoming from Billy Evans, general manager of the tribe, and he admitted that the Redskins could fare much better this season and still not be much of an improvement over last year's seventh place outfit.
Outside of the moundsmen, only the veteran, Charley Jamieson, in left field, Carl Lind at second base and Luke Sewell behind the bat, will be found in their customary positions as the tribe now stacks up on paper. Gone are George Burns, George Uhle, Homer Summa and Lesser Light of the tribe of other years.
The seemingly eternal hunt for a successor to Tris Speaker has resulted in the purchase of Dick Porter from Baltimore and Earl Averill from San Francisco, both slugging outfielders who cost $45,000 each. With the sale of Summa to Philadelphia and the release of Gerkin, Langford and others, the slate is paved for Porter and Averill to patrol the outfield with Jamieson.
Ollie Tucker, of New Orleans; Charley Dorman, from Tyler, Texas, and John Gill, from Decatur may help.

Lind will be back at second, but another wing revamped infield will find Sewell shifted from short to third, —ohmy Hodapp moved from third to first, and Tavener, obtained with Picher, Kenneth Holloway from Detroit for George Uhle, is slated for short. Rookies will include First Baseman Glenn Bolton, from Terre Haute; Shortstop John Burnett, a team mate of Bolton's, and Ray Gardner, of New Orleans, who was the Southern Association's leading shortstop last year.
The catching department will remain the same—Luke Sewell, Myatt and Autry.
Hudding, Miller, Miljus, Grant Shaute and Underhill are holdover hurlers available to Manager Riger Peckinpach. He looks for further assistance from among such players as Holloway, Jimmy Zinn, who, in five of the last six years has won twenty or more games a season for Kansas City in the American Association; James Moore, of Little Rock, who led the Southern Association in pitching last year, and Wesley Ferrell, who pitched twenty victories last year, Terre Haute, all the new comers are right handers.
The Indians, alone among all big league teams, will remain in training camp until they start north for the opening, believing that a heavy practice schedule takes more from the team than it adds to the treasury, the tribe's mentors will hold them in New Orleans until the first game. There they will meet all comers, but will do no travelling.

Jamesville Cagers In City Tomorrow

The Jamesville basketball team will play the local High School quintet tomorrow evening on our court. This game has been scheduled to take the place of the game with Rocky Mount on account of the postponement of the latter by Rocky Mount. All lovers of good basketball will be delighted to hear of this change, for Rocky Mount will come here later in the season, and the Jamesville team is the only one that has beaten Greenville this season, and has not been beaten by us.
Jamesville nosed out Greenville in the finals of the Peanut Exposition tournament at Williamston the first of the year, by a precarious lead of 11-7, when the game ended. The tussle was close throughout, and Greenville seemed to have the old trouble of falling to locate the basket. Greenville stood as runners-up in that tournament and Jamesville as champions. The local boys will welcome the opportunity to even things up with the husky invaders, and tomorrow night will see a game of real action throughout.

Demand Probe Of Dairymen's Strike At Chicago, Ill.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Health authorities today demanded a grand jury investigation of the dairymen's strike that menaces Chicago's milk supply.
There were several reports of violence by armed men; of the dumping of thousands of pounds of milk; and of the mixing of kerosene with milk. Dr. Arnold Kegeel, Chicago health commissioner, has asked the state's attorney's office to institute grand jury action; leaders of the striking milk farmers said they would welcome it.
Chicago's milk supply yesterday was 400,000 quarts under normal, yet distributors said they had been unable to supply all demands. A shortage as great, or greater, was predicted for today.
Dr. Kegeel asked Mayor Thompson for a $15,000 emergency appropriation to be used in employing chemists. Additional chemists are needed, the commissioner said, to keep a 24 hour staff available for the testing of milk and for the protection of the city's health.
Almost the entire supply of one large dealer was found polluted by kerosene. The pollution was blamed by distributors upon the strikers who are demanding $2.85 a hundredweight instead of the $2.50 distributors are paying.
A department of justice agent was expected today to begin an investigation, United States Senator S. P. Glenn told officials of the Pure Milk Association in response to their plea

Story Of Finding Mummy f Solomon's Wife Pure Fiction

Jerusalem, Jan. 21.—(AP)—A story published by the Cairo newspaper Al Mokattam and the London Daily Mail telling of the finding here of the mummy of King Solomon's favorite wife and of a scroll giving details of her tragic death turned out today to be pure fiction.
The story appeared as a piece of fiction in a Palestine weekly some weeks ago and described the sensation which arose when the Jerusalem government received a report that a golden coffin containing the mummy had been found at Mount Ophel where the ruins of the old city of David have in fact been discovered.
Arab journalists apparently took the fiction story seriously and Al Mokattam published it yesterday although it was then some weeks old.

that he ask that department to intervene in the dispute. Dr. Isaac Rawlings, director of the state department of health, also volunteered services of his department.

Michigan College Head To Resign

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 21.—(AP)—It was learned authoritatively today that Dr. Clarence Cook Little, one of the youngest heads of a major American university, will resign as president of the University of Michigan tonight. The resignation is understood to have been prepared for presentation at the regular monthly meeting of the board of regents.
Members of the board, speaking unofficially, said they had not been informed of the resignation, but that it probably would be accepted if offered at tonight's meeting.
Reports that Dr. Little would resign have been current for several days. Disagreement between the president and regents over administration policies, and friction with alumni organizations have been advanced as probable reasons for the predicted action.
The resignation would take effect September 1, but it was understood Dr. Little would request a leave of absence beginning June 1. He said yesterday he had been offered no other position, but it is known he has under consideration a plan to continue his research work in cancer under the Rockefeller Foundation.
Dr. Little aroused strong antagonism and equally vigorous support soon after he came here from the University of Maine in September, 1925, by public advocacy of a "same form" of birth control, a ban on student use of motor cars, denunciation of the so-called black list of the D. A. R., and attempts, in several instances successful, to inaugurate new educational methods.
His administration has been termed "paternalistic" because of his close supervision over student affairs.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE OF SALES MANAGERS
District Sales Manager S. C. Burgess, who has jurisdiction over the local sales agency of the National Biscuit Company, is attending the annual conference of district sales managers at the general offices in New York City.

At this conference the results of the past year will be reviewed and many matters pertaining to the 1929 sales program will be discussed. National Biscuit Company sales in 1928 were the largest in its history and the executives are confident that business in 1929 will be even better.

During the past year, it was found necessary to enlarge many of the bakeries and to add new equipment to take care of the increased demand for "Unedea Bakers'" products.

Folders For College Attractions.
A folder announcing the four attractions and giving interesting information about the all-star series of entertainments has been issued by the entertainment committee of East Carolina Teachers College. The suggestion is made that those who purchase season tickets keep these for reference, as the date of the attractions, the place, the hour, and interesting information about each one, with instructions about tickets can be found on the leaflet.

The date of the March attraction.

Godfrey Ludley, the Australian violinist, is March 22. If this is added at once it will make the calendar complete. The date could not be settled before the folders were printed, as it had to be fitted into the schedule of the southern tour of the artist. It is now definitely settled. It is noticeable that there is not a single Saturday evening date, and only one Wednesday evening date. Whenever possible, the committee avoids these two evenings, the first because of the business people of Greenville and the other because of prayer meetings. The hour is placed at 8:30 for all entertainments so that it will be out of the way of club dinners and the earlier activities, and it gives time for the people from the other towns to get here conveniently after the supper hour.

The sale of seats for the first attraction, the Denishawn Dancers, will begin Wednesday. The members of the Woman's Club are making a canvass of the town for the sale of season tickets before the seats go on sale so that the purchasers of the season tickets can get their seat reservations early. They may choose their seats in any part of the house, whatever the price may be for this single attraction.

The Salvation Army is standing at the door of every Greenville home and business house tomorrow and asking for support. A goodly number of citizens of Greenville who ought to be friends of the Salvation Army are asked to meet at the Parkerson dining room at 6:30, Monday, January 21st, and hear a report of the past year's work and assist in planning for the future. Some of these friends will prove faithful and will be present. Others will have to stay away. The need is great and no man who is interested in the work of the Army is doing in Greenville can afford to stay away. The absence of any person whose presence has been requested will make the task harder for those who answer the call of duty.

If Greenville were a perfect city in which to live and make a home there would be no need for the Salvation Army here. If there were no hungry mouths to be fed during the year, if there were none naked to be clothed, if there were no children in need of necessities of life and if there were no physical suffering nor financial want in Greenville there would still be a need for the Salvation Army. Just so long as there are hungry souls and sinful hearts in the nooks and corners of this city just so long as there is a need for the Salvation Army. Until the day comes when the morals of every citizen of the community are above reproach there will be an urgent need for the Salvation Army in Greenville and failure to support it would be nothing less than a calamity.

PLANS ALL SET FOR SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

During the past twelve months the Salvation Army has accomplished more for the spiritual and moral life of the community than any other institution spending a like sum of money in operating expenses. And the most significant thing about it all is that the soldiers in this army have penetrated those places where church workers never go and have reached those people who otherwise would remain untouched so far as influences for good are concerned. At any and all hours of the day or night, in rain and sleet and snow and slush, come loyal soldiers of the Salvation Army is always on duty for the sake of others. Forgetful of self, these workers are almost tireless in their efforts to bring physical comfort and spiritual rebirth to those who have felt the hand of misfortune laid so heavily upon them that they are ready to give up the fight.

At the close of a successful year, the Salvation Army through its officers and directors, comes again to the people of Greenville asking merely for sufficient funds to continue their work for uplift in this city. What they are asking in the way of support has always proved to be the greatest investment any people could possibly make. The tragedy is that too often we withhold the pittance that is asked in the name of love and charity only to squander larger sums on unnecessary and unprofitable things in life.

The men and women in Greenville should respond to the call that goes out tomorrow. Sufficient funds for the work of the Salvation Army should be forthcoming with little effort. The hands of those who go into the byways and bypaths of the nation, doing a work of love and charity in our stead should not be allowed to grow tired and weary for lack of support.

Greenville is fortunate in having as their officers, Envoys and Mrs. Crawford who have endeared themselves to the people of Greenville.

If you have property to sell, consult with us. It will pay you well. H. A. White & Sons, Realtors, General Insurance, 403 Evans St., phone 49. Est. 1895.

EPPS SMILING BROADLY OVER GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

The principal of the city schools for negroes is smiling broadly, for the reason that he usually beats 'em to it in advertising Greenville. While Gov. Gardner was delivering his inaugural address a telegram was sent to him from a negro school congratulating him on his address. The school was singing "Ho! Carolina." The governor sends a reply with beautiful sentiments of appreciation. Epps is anxious for negro farmers and working men to get inspiration from the new governor's inaugural and make an intensive effort to make the next four years of Pitt county the most successful in history.

ALL RIGHT IF IT LOWERS TAX

The levying of additional gasoline taxes by the state to take care of the county roads is all right provided the same will lessen the present tax burden in the various counties and still give the same efficiency in the way of keeping up the county roads but if this is not to be the result then no additional tax should be levied.

QUIT RUSHING TO FIRES

The practice of persons rushing to the scene of a fire here just as soon as the alarm sounds apparently is growing worse than better, despite repeated warnings against the practice and laws that prohibit it.

check with the location of the scene of the fire and when the trucks reached the box of the alarm naturally, there were moments of confusion while those in charge were endeavoring to locate the fire.

This practice of rushing to fire is a reckless and dangerous one, is against the law, and the law should be rigidly enforced.

ABOUT TOWN

The Greenville High School basketball team is showing real form these days, remarked a fan today, speaking of the severe trouncing given the strong team from Elizabeth City last Friday night.

Tobacco smoke is one of the best disinfectants known to present-day science, remarked a well known man today.

That was real Florida weather Greenville enjoyed Saturday, remarked a citizen today comparing the change in temperature with that of today.

The sale of poultry alone brought Pitt county $10,000 extra last year. The total amount derived from the sale of hogs has not been stated, but it will about equal poultry sales.

The Board of Trustees of city schools did right in commending teachers of Evans schools for their courage in the recent fire which destroyed the building, said a local man today.

It pays to raise poultry and hogs, asserted a prominent Pitt county farmer today, discussing the movement of the first round of poultry out of Pitt county this

INDIANS IN TRIM FOR BIG BALL SEASON

By KENNETH E. SANDERS, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Cleveland, Jan. 21.—(AP)—The Cleveland Indians will enter the 1929 campaign non-committal on their prospects but hoping for the best from one of the most thoroughly overhauled line-ups in the American League.

"We hope we have a better club than last year," was the only comment forthcoming from Billy Evans, general manager of the tribe, and he admitted that the Redskins could far much better this season and still not be much of an improvement over last year's seventh place outfit.

Outside of the moundsmen, only the veteran, Charley Jameson, in left field, Carl Lind at second base and Luke Sewell behind the bat, will be found in their customary positions as the tribe now stacks up on paper.

The seemingly eternal hunt for a successor to Tris Speaker has resulted in the purchase of Dick Porter from Baltimore and Earl Averill from San Francisco, both slugging outfielders who cost $45,000 each.

Lind will be back at second, but another wise revamped infield will find Sewell shifted from short to third, and Tavener, obtained with Pitcher Kenneth Holloway from Detroit for George Uhle, is slated for short. Rookies will include First Baseman Glenn Bolton, from Terre Haute; Shortstop John Burnett, a team mate of Bolton's, and Ray Gardner, of New Orleans, who was the Southern Association's leading shortstop last year.

Jamesville Cagers In City Tomorrow

The Jamesville basketball team will play the local High School quintet tomorrow evening on our court. This game has been scheduled to take the place of the game with Rocky Mount on account of the postponement of the latter by Rocky Mount. All lovers of good basketball will be delighted to hear of this change, for Rocky Mount will come here later in the season, and the Jamesville team is the only one that has beaten Greenville this season, and has not been beaten by us.

Jamesville nosed out Greenville in the finals of the Peanut Exposition tournament at Williamston the first of the year, by a precarious lead of 11-7, when the game ended. The tussle was close throughout, and Greenville seemed to have the old trouble of falling to locate the basket. Greenville stood as runners-up in that tournament and Jamesville as champions. The local boys will welcome the opportunity to even things up with the husky invaders, and tomorrow night will see a game of real action throughout.

Macon To Give Stribling Big Send-Off Soon

Macon, Ga., Jan. 21.—(AP)—W. L. "Young" Stribling will enter training for his fight with Jack Sharkey with the well wishes of his fellow townsmen still ringing loud in his ears.

Bo McMillan To Remain In Texas

Fort Worth, Tex., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Bo McMillan's home town university, Texas Christian U., will be without his services as head football coach this year only because the All-American Center College star refused to quit a job until he had made good at it.

DECLARES MAN IS NOT OBJECT OF EVOLUTION

Washington, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Grave doubt is cast on current theories of evolution by Dr. Austin H. Clark, biologist of the United States National Museum, who has a theory of his own to replace them.

As he explains it, Darwin was wrong, and so was Lamarck. So are their followers on almost all vital points, he declares, and in the long quarrel between the so-called modernists and so-called modernists on the origin of mankind in particular and animal life in general he gives comfort to the fundamentalists.

"So far as concerns the major groups of animals," he said, "the creationists seem to have the better of the argument. There is not the slightest evidence that any of the major groups arose from any other. Each is a special animal-complex, related more or less closely to all the rest, and appearing, therefore, as a special and distinct creation."

Dr. Clark's theory collides squarely with the generally accepted one that animal life developed from lower to higher forms over a long period of time. In brief, Dr. Clark holds that all life is obeying a constant urge to produce certain forms and that when these happen to be born into a favorable environment they survive as new types of animals and plants.

If he is right, the time spent in studying fossils and long buried bones and the painfully worked out hypothesis of the change in certain animal forms has been wasted. Dr. Clark's views shoot skeletal evidence, including that purporting to show the descent of man from an ape-like creature, off the scientific landscape, granted, of course, that they are correct.

Darwin, while held to be wrong in the main, is not entirely discarded. Within plant and animal groups Dr. Clark allows for the working of the Darwinian theory brought about by natural and artificial selection. While he admits that different breeds of dogs and cats may be caused by the artificial selection of the cat and dog fancier, he would allow for no gradation between dogs and cats.

Using the giraffe as an illustration of evolution theories, Lamarckians hold in substance that the giraffe grew his neck because his ancestors were forced to stretch to get food and that through exercise the necks grew longer. In some undetermined way this lengthening of the neck became hereditary and the process was repeated until the giraffe was a fixed type.

Darwin's theory, with some modifications, was that often giraffe's ancestors some had longer necks than others. They had to feed on trees, as did the hypothetical ancestors in the Lamarckian theory, and the ones born with long necks had a much better chance for survival. This tended to eliminate short necks and preserve long ones.

Demand Probe Of Dairyman's Strike At Chicago, Ill.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Health authorities today demanded a grand jury investigation of the dairyman's strike that menaces Chicago's milk supply.

There were several reports of violence by armed men; of the dumping of thousands of pounds of milk; and of the mixing of kerosene with milk. Dr. Arnold Kegel, Chicago health commissioner, has asked the state's attorney's office to institute grand jury action; leaders of the striking milk farmers said they would welcome it.

Michigan College Head To Resign

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 21.—(AP)—It was learned authoritatively today that Dr. Clarence Cook Little, one of the youngest heads of a major American university, will resign as president of the University of Michigan tonight.

The resignation, which was prepared for presentation at the regular monthly meeting of the board of regents, was announced by members of the board, speaking unofficially, said they had not been informed of the resignation, but that it probably would be accepted if offered at tonight's meeting.

Reports that Dr. Little would resign have been current for several days. Disagreement between the president and regents over administration policies, and friction with alumni organizations have been advanced as probable reasons for the predicted action.

The resignation would take effect September 1, but it was understood Dr. Little would request a leave of absence beginning June 1. He said yesterday he had been offered no other position, but it is known he has under consideration a plan to continue his research work in cancer under the Rockefeller Foundation.

Dr. Little aroused strong antagonism and equally vigorous support soon after he came here from the University of Maine in September, 1925, by public advocacy of a "sane form" of birth control, a ban on student use of motor cars, denunciation of the so-called black list of the D. A. R., and attempts, in several instances successful, to inaugurate new educational methods.

His administration has been termed "paternalistic" because of his close supervision over student affairs.

Godfrey Ludley, the Australian violinist, is March 22. If this is added at once it will make the calendar complete. The date could not be settled before the folders were printed, as it had to be fitted into the schedule of the southern tour of the artist. It is now definitely settled. It is noticeable that there is not a single Saturday evening date, and only one Wednesday evening date. Whenever possible, the committee avoids these two evenings, the first because of the business people of Greenville and the other because of prayer meetings. The hour is placed at 8:30 for all entertainments so that it will be out of the way of club dinners and the earlier activities, and it gives time for the people from the other towns to get here conveniently after the supper hour.

The sale of seats for the first attraction, the Denishawn Dancers, will begin Wednesday. The members of the Woman's Club are making a canvass of the town for the sale of "season tickets" before the seats go on sale so that the purchasers of the season tickets can get their seat reservations early. They may choose their seats in any part of the house, whatever the price may be for this single attraction.

Eleven Licenses To Marry Issued Over Week-End. Dan Cupid swooped down over Pitt county Saturday and Sunday and sent eleven couples to the office of the Register of Deeds to obtain licenses to marry. Five of the applicants were white and the remainder colored. They were: Robert Stokes to Miss Novella Hardy, both of the Winterville community.

Arden Stokes to Miss Verne Roberson, both of the Ayden section. Clifton Briley to Miss Ruth Harris, both of Greenville township. Lanwood O'Neal of Greenville, to Miss Viola Brown, Greene county. W. H. Peaden of Belvoir township, to Miss Ruth Gardner of Pine-tops.

Colored. Arthur Best to Gertrude Knight of Bethel. Bennie Howard to Janie Heath, both of Swift Creek. Alex Brown to Blanche Adams, Ayden township. Lennie Williams to Retha Pearson, Bethel and Greenville, respectively. Harvey Gardner to Nina Lee Miller, Greenville township.

At this conference the results of the past year will be reviewed and many matters pertaining to the 1929 sales program will be discussed. National Biscuit Company sales in 1928 were the largest in its history and the executives are confident that business in 1929 will be even better.

During the past year, it was found necessary to enlarge many of the bakeries and to add new equipment to take care of the increased demand for "Uneceda Bakers'" products.

Folders For College Attractions. A folder announcing the four attractions and giving interesting information about the all-star series of entertainments has been issued by the entertainment committee of East Carolina Teachers College. The suggestion is made that those who purchase season tickets keep these for reference, as the date of the attractions, the place, the hour, and interesting information about each one, with instructions about tickets can be found on the leaflet. The date of the March attraction.

At the close of a successful year, the Salvation Army through its officers and directors, comes again to the people of Greenville asking merely for sufficient funds to continue their work for uplift in this city. What they are asking in this way of support has always proved to be the greatest investment any people could possibly make. The tragedy is that too often we withhold the pittance that is asked in the name of love and charity only to squander larger sums on unnecessary and unprofitable things in life.

The men and women in Greenville should respond to the call that goes out tomorrow. Sufficient funds for the work of the Salvation Army should be forthcoming with little effort. The habits of those who go into the byways and bypaths of the nation, doing a work of love and charity in our stead should not be allowed to grow tired and weary for lack of support.

Greenville is fortunate in having as their officers, Envoy and Mrs. Cranford who have endeared themselves to the people of Greenville.

PLANS ALL SET FOR SALVATION ARMY DRIVE

Report Of Past Year's Work To Be Presented At Meeting Here Tonight.

The Salvation Army is standing at the door of every Greenville home and business house tomorrow and asking for support. A goodly number of citizens of Greenville who ought to be friends of the Salvation Army are asked to meet at the Parkerson dining room at 6:30, Monday, January 21st, and hear a report of the past year's work and assist in planning for the future. Some of these friends will prove faithful and will be present. Others will have to stay away. The need is great and no man who is interested in the work of the Army is doing in Greenville can afford to stay away. The absence of any person whose presence has been requested will make the task harder for those who answer the call of duty.

If Greenville were a perfect city in which to live and make a home there would be no need for the Salvation Army here. If there were no hungry mouths to be fed during the year, if there were none naked to be clothed, if there were no children in need of necessities of life and if there were no physical suffering nor financial want in Greenville there would still be a need for the Salvation Army. Just so long as there are hungry souls and sinful hearts in the nooks and corners of this city just so long as there is a need for the Salvation Army. Until the day comes when the morals of every citizen of the community are above reproach there will be an urgent need for the Salvation Army in Greenville and failure to support it would be nothing less than a calamity. During the past twelve months the Salvation Army has accomplished more for the spiritual and moral life of the community than any other institution spending like sum of money in operating expenses. And the most significant thing about it all is that the soldiers in this army have penetrated those places where church workers never go and have reached those people who otherwise would remain untouched so far as influences for good are concerned. At any and all hours of the day or night, in rain and sleet and snow and slush, some loyal soldier of the Salvation Army is always on duty for the sake of others. Forgetful of self, these workers are almost tireless in their efforts to bring physical comfort and spiritual rebirth to those who have felt the hand of misfortune laid so heavily upon them that they are ready to give up the fight.

At the close of a successful year, the Salvation Army through its officers and directors, comes again to the people of Greenville asking merely for sufficient funds to continue their work for uplift in this city. What they are asking in this way of support has always proved to be the greatest investment any people could possibly make. EPPE SMILING BROADLY OVER GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE. The principal of the city schools for negroes is smiling broadly for the reason that he usually beats them to it in advertising Greenville. While Gov. Gardner was delivering his inaugural address a telegram was sent to him from a negro school congratulating him on his address. The school was singing "Ho! Carolina." The governor sends a reply with beautiful sentiments of appreciation. Epps is anxious to get inspiration from the new governor's inaugural and make an intensive effort to make the next four years of Pitt county the most successful in history.

At the close of a successful year, the Salvation Army through its officers and directors, comes again to the people of Greenville asking merely for sufficient funds to continue their work for uplift in this city. What they are asking in this way of support has always proved to be the greatest investment any people could possibly make. The tragedy is that too often we withhold the pittance that is asked in the name of love and charity only to squander larger sums on unnecessary and unprofitable things in life.

The men and women in Greenville should respond to the call that goes out tomorrow. Sufficient funds for the work of the Salvation Army should be forthcoming with little effort. The habits of those who go into the byways and bypaths of the nation, doing a work of love and charity in our stead should not be allowed to grow tired and weary for lack of support.

Greenville is fortunate in having as their officers, Envoy and Mrs. Cranford who have endeared themselves to the people of Greenville.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Prices in the cotton market opened at a decline of 7 to 9 points, prompted by relatively easy Liverpool cables. Liquidation on local selling promoted by relatively easy Liverpool cables, eased off to 20.09 and July to 20.74 during the first few minutes of trading, but this decline seemed to bring in some trade buying as well as covering and prices steadied up later on rumors of bullish private trading figures. March advanced to 20.18 and July to 20.82, with the market steady, although prices still showed net declines of 4 to 6 points at the end of the first half hour.

Private cables reported London and Manchester liquidation in a fair demand for cloth and yarns.

GRAIN MARKET

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN, Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Forecasts of a cold wave over the greater part of domestic wheat territory had a decided bullish effect on wheat values today. The outlook for the new wheat crop in this country was being given more attention, and changes that low temperatures would catch many wheat fields unprotected, led to talk of probable damage. A decrease of 3,519,000 bushels today in the United States wheat visible supply total was also a bullish factor, and so, too, was an estimate that wheat production in Spain is curtailed, making important needs $20,000,000 to 40,000,000 bushels.

Wheat closed firm, 1c to 1 3/8@ 1 1/2c net higher; corn 1-2 to 1c up, oats 1-4 to 3-8c advanced, and provisions, varying from a shade decline to a rise of 7c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Jan. 21.—(AP)—A drop of 5 points in U. S. Steel unsettled speculative sentiment on the stock market today, and price trends turned sharply irregular. Coppers, merchandising shares and some of the rails, however, made substantial progress.

The drop in steel was regarded as a natural result of the sharp rise of more than 20 points in late sessions of last week, but it upset the plans of those who were looking for another major bull movement under its leadership.

There was little in the day's news to affect the market, but the uncertainties surrounding the credit situation, overlooked during the vigorous bidding up of selective issues late last week, again was viewed with misgivings. It was pointed out that brokers' loans, only about $10,000,000 below their record figure of early last week, are now undoubtedly at a new high for all time.

Continuance of a 6 per cent rate for call money encouraged a generally steady market around midday, but announcements that one dealer had further increased his rates for bankers' acceptances marred the credit outlook. Time money held firm.

Anacosta led the coppers with an advance of more than 5 points to a new high at 127 1/4. Kennecott mounted about 3 points, and Calumet and Hecla rose 4 points to 58 only to fall back to 53.

A 17-cent price for domestic copper is expected this week, and numerous rumors of important mergers went the rounds.

DuPont was a high flier, spurring ahead 20 points to 530, which is now 220 points above the low of last year. Motor Products went ahead nearly 10 points.

Rails were stimulated by a report from Washington that the Senate may act on the railway consolidation bill unless too much time is taken on the cruiser bill. Chicago Great Western preferred mounted 4 points to 53, the highest price in many years. Erie approached its previous high with a gain of more than 2 points, and New Haven touched 88 3/4, the highest price since 1915. Atlantic Coast Line, Canadian Pacific, and Chesapeake and Ohio moved up 2 points and more.

Seer-Roebuck, Montgomery-Ward Real Silk Hosiery, Commercial Investment Trust, A. M. Byers and National Bellas Hess, went ahead 4 to 5 points. Skelly Oil improved on reports that the Fisher interests also interested in Sinclair, would be given representation on the board. Studebaker touched 91, the highest in 5 years.

NO TRACE OF YOUTHS LOST IN BRUNSWICK

Search For Young Hunters Continued By Boat And Air At Wilmington.

Wilmington, N. C., Jan. 21.—(AP)—Further search by air and boat today failed to reveal any trace of four local youths who have been missing in the Brunswick river swamps since they set out on a hunting party Friday.

R. P. Schueler, who stopped over in his airplane en route from Miami to Boston, returned from a flight of several hours over the swamp at noon today and reported no signs of Jesse, Elliott and Randolph Huggins and Fred Engler, the missing boys.

Searching parties on the river likewise reported their efforts had been unsuccessful. They have begun dragging the Brunswick and Cape Fear rivers in an effort to locate the bodies in the belief that the four may have been drowned, they reported.

Marshal Foch Able To Sit Up

Paris, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Marshal Ferdinand Foch was so much better today that his doctors permitted him to get out of bed and sit in an arm chair for a few minutes. He was also allowed to read some messages which have arrived from various parts of the world during the last week.

The ban on visitors to the sick-room, however, was not lifted by the doctors, despite the marshal's requests to see General Weygand. The doctors said their patient's strength was increasing daily and his appetite was apparently growing with each successive meal. His spirit has never once been depressed during his entire illness.

The fact that the marshal was allowed to leave his bed for a few minutes seemed to indicate that he was on the road to recovery, especially since each successive bulletin for seven days has recorded progress. Concern over his condition, however, will continue to persist until the doctors are able to say with confidence that the patient has reached the stage of recuperation.

Oklahoma Senate To Hear Charges Against Governor

Oklahoma City, Jan. 21.—(AP)—Five impeachment charges brought against Governor Henry S. Johnston by the Oklahoma House of Representatives, and a recommendation for his suspension, today awaited action of a Senate committee with the possibility the Senate might not immediately accept the impeachment charges.

The committee which has not completed its work, transmitted ten charges to the officers of Representatives Friday.
