GRAND JURY IN FAVOR OF LONGER TERM

Endorse Recommendation For Six Or Twelve Months' Service In This County.

Hearty endorsement of recommendations for a six or twelve months' grand jury was contained in the report of the grand jury of the criminal term of Pitt county Superior court presented to Judge P. A. Daniels yesterday afternoon.

"We endorse the recommendation for the six or twelve months' service of grand jurors," the report stated, "because we realize in so short a time under our present system, the grand jury cannot make as thorough examination of the county's affairs as should be made and we hope that those representing Pitt county in the present session of the legislature will introduce some measure providing such a change for our county."

County officers were found in splendid condition. It was discovered that the office of the registrar of deeds, however, did not have sufficient help to care for the general increase of work of this department. The salary of Registrar of Deeds J. C. Gaskins was declared too small for the amount of work and responsibility of the office, and not in keeping with other offices of the county.

Judge Daniels was commended for the splendid manner in which he has conducted the term of court as were other officers of the court.

The detailed report follows: North Carolina, Pitt County, To Honorable P. A. Daniels, Judge Presiding.

We, the grand jurors, of this county, do hereby submit the following report: We have passed on all bills that have come before us and made recommendations in all cases that we deemed it just and proper to do so.

We have visited the various offices and institutions of the county as required by law viz: County Home, Convict Camp, Jail, the offices of the Sheriff, Clerk of Court, Register of Deeds, Auditor, Board of Education, Treasurer and Welfare Officer. All of these with the exception of a few minor things, are in excellent condition, and most efficiently managed. We found the sanitary condition of the jail very satisfactory and the inmates properly provided for.

We were very much impressed with conditions we found them at the County Home, and we commend Mr. Corbett for the elegant manner in which he handles the affairs of the home. We find that the home is in need of a feed cutter to prepare feed for the stock. And we are advised that the purchase of such would mean much in the economical operation of the institution. This is the second or third time that this recommendation has been made, and we insist that this matter be given proper consideration by the County Commissioners.

Upon our visit and examination of the Convict Camp, we found everything in excellent shape.

Like the Grand Jurors of several preceding terms we find the Sheriff's office in need of a steel cabinet in which to keep tax books and other records, and insist that such receive immediate attention of the Commissioners.

We endorse the recommendation for the six or twelve months' service of Grand Jurors, because we realize in so short a period under our present system, the Grand Jurors cannot make as thorough examination of the County's affairs as should be made, and we hope that those representing Pitt County in the present session of the Legislature will introduce some measure providing such a change for our county.

Upon examination of the affairs of the Registrar of Deeds office, we find the office much in need of additional help to render the services expected of this department, and we insist that some action be taken by the Commissioners to provide such. With the installation of the new index system now being prepared, it will be impossible for the office to properly care for the registration of records with its present force. Upon inquiry into the salaries of various county officers we find that of the Registrar of Deeds too small for the amount of work and responsibility of such office, and that such salary is not in keeping with the salaries paid other officers of the County.

We commend the presiding judge for the manner in which he conducts his court, and express our appreciation for the splendid operation given us by all officers of the Court. And we especially thank Mr. Hobrook, officer of the Grand Jury for his efficient service rendered.

This the 25th day of January, 1929.
Respectfully submitted,
J. P. Rowlett, Foreman.

NEGRO GIVEN FOUR YEARS IN THE PEN

Dan Phillips, of Winterville, Submits To Manslaughter Charge Here.

Submitting to a charge of manslaughter, Dan Phillips, colored, of the Winterville district, was sentenced to four years in the penitentiary by Judge P. A. Daniels, of Goldsboro, presiding over the one-week term of criminal Superior court in this city yesterday.

Major Gray, held in connection with the case, was found not guilty. Phillips and Gray were charged with the killing of John Hammond, colored, of Winterville township, during last December. Hammond is said to have been visiting at the home of Phillips. Some discussion arose and Phillips ordered Hammond to leave the house.

When Hammond started out the door, Phillips is alleged to have stabbed him so severely that he died a short time later. Gray is said to have been in the house at the time, but no evidence was presented tending to show his connection with the affair.

The case occupied all of the session yesterday and had about reached the jury stage when lawyers for the defendant agreed to submit to a charge of manslaughter.

The term of court will probably be brought to a conclusion sometime this afternoon with announcement of sentences of several cases withheld earlier in the week. Several cases have been disposed of during the week, chief among them the murder case completed yesterday and one the day before.

Mystery Cloaks Fate Of Italian Freighter Today

New York, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Mystery today cloaked the fate of the Italian freighter Capo Vado, which sent out an SOS last night and then lapsed into silence.

The signal of distress was picked up by the Radio Marine Corporation, but all attempts to communicate with the vessel failed. The ship gave her position as latitude 31.23 north; longitude 48.46 west, which would place her about 750 miles due east of Bermuda. No details of her trouble were given.

Two other freighters which found it necessary to send out calls for help, but not SOS messages, were awaiting the arrival of tugs today.

The Norwegian steamer Fernale reported she had lost her rudder and was helpless 500 miles southeast of Bermuda.

The American freighter Diamant, owned by the American Sugar Transportation Corporation, reported she was aground on the southern coast of Cuba.

The three vessels carry about 25 men each.

Hoboken, N. J.—Joseph Riancho has been paying his wife 1,000 pennies weekly under a separation agreement. Recorder Garsten has made him post a bond to guarantee silver or bills. SIX HUNDRED ARRESTED IN CHICAGO, ILL.

Several Wanted In Connection With Robberies Taken In Police Round-up.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—(P)—The police board that swept Chicago last week-end was slicing over the same ground today, cutting a new crop of hoodlums.

Approximately half of the city's police force engaged in the second general round-up of the week. They found the field far less fertile than last Sunday and Monday when more than 3,000 persons were jailed. Up to 4 a. m. about 600 arrests had been made, the list of prisoners including some of the men taken in the clean-up earlier in the week. The campaign was continuing through the day, with the prospect of intensification tonight.

With the raids only a few hours old, Deputy Commissioner John Stege learned that several men sought for a series of robberies had been captured and identified, and that two robberies had been prevented by raiding squads arriving while the hold-ups were going on.

Morris Simmons, a taxicab driver, was just handing his night's receipts over to two men who had held him up when a police squad arrived, arresting the robbers. Another detachment of police drove into a Rogers Park filling station during a hold-up and captured the robber. Solution of 16 hold-ups was accomplished, police said, through this arrest, the prisoner, Conrad Petta, confessing.

By the case of arrests made during the previous roundup, police found several of those taken early today were armed. The program for handling those arrested was to pick out all who are known to police, fingerprint and photograph them, and prefer charges wherever possible. Those against whom no evidence is at hand will be released, and re-arrested in subsequent drives until they become so disgraced that they will leave Chicago—which is one of the primary hopes of police.

Federal prohibition agents also went into action simultaneously with police, although acting independently. They battered their way into the Minnet Club, described by an agent as "one of those quiet and discreet places" on the Gold Coast.

Besides arresting the proprietor, Louis Falkenstein, and seizing liquor, the agents obtained what they believe to be the club's membership list. Fred O. Silloy, in charge of the prohibition agents, would not make known the list, but he said it included the names of a railroad president, two downtown bankers, and several prominent professional men.

"It looks like a couple of chapters from the social register and a handful of pages from Dun and Bradstreet," he said.

Movie Actress Stabs Doctor

Hollywood, Cal., Jan. 26.—(AP)—Alma Rubens, screen actress, was receiving treatment in a sanitarium near Alhambra, Cal., today after having attempted to escape a physician and his assistant by dashing through the crowds along Hollywood boulevard and later stabbing the assistant with a paper knife.

Miss Rubens, the wife of Ricardo Cortez, motion picture star, was reported to be in a serious condition and suffering from a complete nervous breakdown.

In a report to the police yesterday, Dr. Meyer, the physician, said he and the assistant, H. Barnett, had called at Miss Rubens' home to take her to the sanitarium and that as the three of them were getting into his automobile, the actress turned and bolted down the main business thoroughfare of Hollywood. When overtaken she stabbed Barnett. He was not seriously hurt.

One Miner Killed And 14 Entombed At Kingston, W. Va.

Kingston, W. Va., Jan. 26.—(AP)—One man was known to have been killed and between 10 and 14 others entombed in an explosion today in the number 5 mine of the Kingston-Poca-honias Coal Company along Paint Creek.

Sixty miners were in the workings when the explosion occurred, but only 20 were in the affected area. In the absence of a check company officials were unable to say what happened to the other men comprising the crew of 20.

The men who escaped came out through a rear entry in the mountain.

Former Greenville Man And Two Others Found Dead Near Washington

Believed to have been victims of fumes of carbon monoxide gas, three men, one a former citizen of Greenville, were found dead in an automobile on the Dinah road, eleven miles from Washington, this morning about seven o'clock, according to information received from Washington today.

The men were Travis Steppe, formerly of Greenville; Elias Cox, of Bath, and Clarence Sheppard, of Washington.

The bodies were discovered by Eugene Cox, farmer, residing a short distance from the scene of the tragedy. He immediately notified officials at Washington, declared that the men came to their death as result of monoxide gas fumes generated by the automobile of which they were occupants.

The body of Steppe was lying over the steering wheel. The other two men were in the rear of the car, one sitting on the seat and the other sprawled on the floor. They are believed to have been overcome by sleep and parked on the side of the road to catch a nap before continuing their journey. It was not determined where they were bound for.

Steppe, a former employe of a local theatre about a year ago was the son of the late Abner Steppe, of near Greenville, who was killed by an explosion of dynamite about two years ago. He was about 23 years of age, and a native of the Farmville section. He is survived by his mother and a sister, the latter being employed at Parkerson's dining room in this city.

One Bill Introduced In The Senate Today; House Gets Eighteen New Ones

Raleigh, N. C., Jan. 26.—(AP)—A bill to allow public schools of the state to maintain kindergartens if they desire, sponsored by Guy Weaver, Republican of Buncombe, was the only state measure introduced in the Senate this morning.

For the third Saturday session, the body was without an actual quorum. Lieutenant-Governor Fountain assigned the 20 bills passed yesterday by the House to various committees, this business occupying a majority of the session's time.

Senator Weaver introduced another bill to relieve persons from serving on tales juries in the civil and criminal courts of Buncombe county if they have served within the preceding 12 months.

A measure to place Mrs. W. C. Moore and Mrs. Maggie Thompson, of Alamance county, both widows of Confederate veterans, on the pension rolls was entered by Scott, of Alamance.

Three bills were passed at third reading. They were to relieve the Presbyterian Hospital of Charlotte of assessments made by the city for paving and other improvements, which will go to the House; to require monthly publication of county expenses in Onslow, and to authorize the tax collector and his assistants, in Spaulde, Rutherford county, to collect back taxes. The last two will be ratified.

Judiciary committee number one gave favorable reports to the Boren divorce bill, which would make imprisonment of five years or over a grounds for divorce; a bill to extend the limits of Fair Bluff, Columbus county; another to make the provisions of the landlord and tenant act apply to Stanley county, and a measure to allow the board of aldermen of Franklin, Stanley county, to use the proceeds derived from the sale of the power plant to pay for municipal improvements.

The Senate will meet Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Officers Attempt To Dry Up Kansas

Kansas City, Jan. 26.—(P)—Acting under the special powers granted in Governor Clyde M. Reed's new law enforcement program, which became a law late yesterday, authorities today were busily engaged in drying up the largest city in Kansas.

Raiding by county officers and three special assistants to the attorney general, which began here late last night and continued until today, resulted in more than 50 arrests and seizure of a considerable quantity of alleged liquor.

Twenty-five of the persons arrested were charged with prohibition violation.

CRUISER BILL TO BE SETTLED IN SHORT TIME

Senate Expected To Reach Vote on Naval Construction Measure In Few Days.

Washington, Jan. 26.—(AP)—With the end of the session only a few weeks away, the Senate has disposed of a vexing trio of problems that confronted it at the outset, Boulder Dam and the Kellogg treaty, and faced the third, the cruiser construction bill, today, with the belief that a vote was a matter of only a few days at most. The House was gone along precisely enough, disposing of appropriation bills and other routine matters with only minor delays, and consequently felt privileged today to take a recess.

Congress has apparently abandoned all idea of doing any law making on farm relief and tariff revision at this session, since a special session seems certain. Having decided it was inevitable, senators and representatives are taking comfort now in the feeling that if any supply measures are caught in the last-minute jam, there is time to take care of them in the Congress to come.

Hearings on tariff revision, begun early in January, have gone steadily forward and although Saturdays were originally set as holiday by the House ways and means committee, every one of them has seen the committee at work and today was no exception. The committee plans to finish hearings sometime before March 4 and then the work of subcommittees in helping frame sections of the proposed bill will begin.

One farm bill, that of Senator McNary, of Oregon, has been introduced at this session, but it has not been brought up and apparently will not be. This measure, calling for a farm board, is said to have administration approval, but how Herbert Hoover will look at it is not known. It is almost a certainty that the McNary measure will not be the only one put forward at the special session.

Committees today were generally in recess, although on the House side hearings on the bill to prolong the life of the radio commission a year were scheduled and the Senate public lands committee had arranged to hear the Walsh report on the Sinclair royalty oil leases in the Salt Creek field.

Opposition to the cruiser construction bill has apparently centered on the time clause requiring construction of the 15 cruisers and one aircraft carrier provided to begin in three years. President Coolidge wants this time limit taken out and so does Senator Borah and those who oppose other sections of the measure, or the bill in its entirety, have rallied behind them.

CHARGE WOMAN WITH RULING GOV. JOHNSTON

Mrs. Hammond Called Before Investigating Committee At Oklahoma City.

Oklahoma City, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Peering into the activities of Oklahoma's official family, the House of Representatives investigating committee today was ready to cross swords with Mrs. O. O. Johnson, confidential secretary to Henry S. Johnston, suspended governor, and often referred to as the "Mrs. Colonel House" of Oklahoma politics.

Mrs. Hammonds, whose political aggressiveness has placed her in the forefront of governmental activities during the greater part of the Johnston administration, has been charged with anti-administration forces by anti-administration officials.

She has been quoted by one committee witness as having asserted that if it hadn't been for her "the administration would have gone on the rocks."

Called as a witness yesterday, Mrs. Hammond was informed by the committee that others were ahead of her. And she was instructed to return this morning. Her request to have her own stenographer make a transcript of her testimony was granted.

The House committee spent the greater part of the day delving into activities in the highway department, eliciting testimony of three division engineers of the highway department that they bought considerable highway machinery from Reed Scott, brother of Mrs. Hammonds.

HOOVER STILL FISHES AROUND BELLE ISLAND

May Conclude Trip About Noon If Big Fellows Don't Strike Right.

Key Largo, Fla., Jan. 26.—(AP)—President-elect Hoover, still keeping out of communication with the shore, was having his third and final day of fishing today on this to the Florida Keys south of this little village.

Whether he would fish out the day and return to Belle Isle, in Biscayne Bay, Sunday during the forenoon, probably would depend upon how well the big fellows among the many varieties found in this vicinity were striking.

If luck should prove elusive it was expected that he would board the yacht "Amittie" around noon and start back for his vacation home, arriving late in the day.

This uncertainty meant long vigils for the photographers and newspaper correspondents he left behind when he slipped quietly away from Belle Isle Thursday and drove almost unnoticed through Miami and along the more than thirty miles of highway to Key Largo.

Upon his return to his temporary pre-inaugural home, the President-elect will be ready to get back to work and is expected to find an accumulation of business awaiting his attention.

Unconfirmed reports are that he had arranged several conferences with party leaders during the coming week and he is certain to put in some time on his inaugural address. Among those with whom he was expected to confer are: Clegg B. Skipper, Republican national committeeman for Florida; Dr. Herbert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee, who accompanied him to Miami Beach and Horace A. Worthington, who in direction of Republican activities in the southern states during the campaign.

National Committeeman Skipper had arranged to take Dr. Work and Mr. Mann on a short yacht cruise, leaving Miami sometime today. They have been holding some conferences during the past few days, discussing the political situation in general and that in the south in particular.

Under the personal direction of Mr. Hoover, the Republican organization is going to give increasing attention to the south during the next few years and a reorganization of party machinery in a number of the states below the Mason and Dixon line is regarded as inevitable.

There upon is not only to consolidate the gains made last November in Virginia, North Carolina, Florida and Texas, but to prepare the way for determined campaigns in the other states, especially Alabama and Georgia.

What Hoover would like to see is a virile, fighting party in the southland, something that has not existed since reconstruction days. His friends expect him to bring into play to this end the capacity for organization which he demonstrated during the campaign, and in his work as commerce secretary, as food administrator, war relief director and mining engineer.

Troops Advance On Kabul Today

Moscow, Jan. 26.—(AP)—Kabul was menaced today by the Jalalabad tribes. Habibullah Khan was fighting desperately to retain his seat upon the throne which he ascended scarcely more than a week ago.

The Jalalabad forces were under the leadership of Allajamethan (Presumably Ali Ahmed Khan, former governor of Kabul and one time ally of former King Amanullah). Habibullah sent an advance guard to deal with this threat at his reign. The two forces fought a pitched battle near the summit of Khakijevar and the king's forces were routed, fleeing precipitately toward Kabul.

Following up this advantage, the main Jalalabad forces reached Jeddah, 30 miles from Kabul on one of the main routes. They sent out a flanking column which crossed the region of the Taros and attacked Jelibeseraj. This created a new menace to the north of the capital.

To the south of Kabul the population of the fertile Logar River valley has not submitted to the new government and in this lies a possible further threat to Habibullah.

The Soviet foreign office today denied reports that Leon Trotsky had an army under him near the Afghan border characterizing the reports as sheer nonsense.

Washington—One-third of homes surveyed by the General Federation of Women's Clubs had no bath-tubs; one-fifth had no kitchen sinks. The federation's deduction is that the home is lagging far behind the progress in every other field of American life.

ABOUT TOWN

"Friends are offering the name of Haywood Dail as successor to Frank Page, chairman of the State Highway Commission," said an admirer of the chairman of the Pitt County Highway Commission.

"Mr. Dail is probably one of the best known men in this section. Greenville is proud of him, and so is Snow Hill, his birthplace. A story about Snow Hill's pride is going the rounds in this city today. It is said a traveling man recently went to the Greene county capital. He asked what was the most outstanding thing about the town. He was told that it was the birthplace of Haywood Dail.

"I can't vouch for the authenticity of the narrative. But people who know Mr. Dail and Snow Hill also know that the town is proud of having reared such a splendid character.

"Mr. Dail knows how to talk highway construction and maintenance. He has been connected with the local commission since its organization and helped direct the spending of over a million dollars for road improvement in this county. He also has watched developments in other communities.

"Other men may be out for the same office, but it is a dead cinch that none is more capable and worthy of the job than the former Greene county man who has cast his lot with the life of Pitt county."

The Greenville tobacco market will close next Thursday after one of the most colorful seasons during its 35 years of history," declared a member of the Tobacco Board of Trade today.

The market has been doing some commendable growing the last several years, but no single season has had such market growth as that just closed. The realization of the goal of seventy-million pounds; the selling of sixty million pounds of tobacco in a period of sixty days, are really the outstanding achievements of all time.

Tobaccoists who worked overtime the first half of the season are not sorry they did so. They would probably do the same thing again were they required to. They don't mind work when they have a goal ahead of them. It's a long climb from sixty to seventy millions, but faith and perseverance work great things in every walk of human activity.

"We don't know what this year's goal is going to be. It all depends on a fixed set of buyers. If we get them, then it is more than probable the goal will be moved up at least ten million pounds. Some have suggested a hundred million. But that is too far ahead, too much of a task. That will have to be left to another season."

"Fans who turned out to see the freshmen teams of the High School in action last night were well rewarded for doing so," asserted a fan today.

These youngsters are exhibiting a class of age work that should keep the first string men stepping next season. They handle the pigskin like they were raised especially for that purpose and this ability no doubt will play an important part in the game next season.

Greenville has had splendid success in this particular field of athletics this year. It is to be hoped the goddess of the court will follow them through many years to come."

"Greenville has many strong talking points and I want to urge every citizen to talk them the best he knows how," said a well known business man today following out a policy of boosting he has adhered to for many years.

"The tobacco market alone furnishes enough talking material to keep the average citizen busy a week. Then there is the school situation, climate, business, and many other things when we set out to enumerate them.

"Wherever you go, don't forget the duty you owe your home town. Talk about it and praise it until you have people believing exactly what it is—the finest little old city in the country."

"The Tobacco Board of Trade is highly pleased with the services of K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales," said a member of the industry today.

So enthusiastic did some of the members become at the annual meeting Thursday night that one of them rose and proposed that Mr. Cobb be hired for a period of fifty years.

"Cobb has done much for development of the market during his several years of service and it is safe to say his effort will be crowned with equally great success in the future."

BROKEN WIRE CAUSES HUGHES' SPEECH TO BE LOST

New York, Jan. 26.—(AP)—A severed telephone wire that prevented broadcasting of a speech by Charles Evans Hughes was today the subject of an inquiry by radio officials who believed it cut with malicious intent.

Mr. Hughes spoke before the Bronx Bar Association and severely arraigned the dishonorable and unprofessional methods of the New York Bar. The speech was prepared well in advance and conjecture was that a copy of it might have fallen into the hands of some one inimical to the efforts being made by the association to purge the profession.

John Elwood, director of radio station WMCA, said he would demand a police investigation. He expressed certainty that the wires had been cut maliciously.

WHAT SPLIT THE SOLID SOUTH?

Mr. Hoover is reported to have been "astounded but gratified" on hearing from Stewart W. Cramer, a Republican leader in North Carolina and a reported aspirant for a Cabinet position, that the split in the solid South was not caused by the religious and prohibition questions but was due to a longing among Southerners for an Administration friendly to big business. Most commentators on the recent election have recognized the fact that the growing industrialization of the South is making that section less homogeneous politically than it once was, but so far as we are aware no one hitherto has seriously maintained that this had more than a minor influence on the recent voting. Mr. Cramer, however, says that industrialism explains everything.

Well, let us see. Did Bishop Cannon's conference in Asheville, which started the anti-Smith movement, clamor for big business rule? No; it sought a candidate who was dry and a Protestant. Was it in the industrial cities of the South that the opposition to the Democratic candidate was strongest? No; it was in the parson-driven rural communities. Did Louisiana, with the largest city in the solid South and with a sugar industry dependent on a high tariff, go Republican? No; it remained safely Democratic. Did Alabama, with its iron, steel, and coal industries, repudiate Democracy? It did not. Did South Carolina, the third largest cotton manufacturing State in the Union, cast its vote for a Republican tariff? No; it went Democratic by a twenty-to-one vote.

Why, then, did the solid South split? Mr. Cramer might obtain some real information on this point from Col. Mann, but probably he would not want it. It is good politics now for Republicans to soft-pedal intolerance and emphasize industrialism. —New York World.

AESTHETIC DANCES WITH THE DENISHAWN DANCERS

The Denishawn Dancers, in their appearance at East Carolina Teachers College on next Wednesday evening, January 30, at eight-thirty, in the campus building, will give an artistic production that will show the drama-dance with its allied arts taking its place among the great arts. The allied arts, combined with aesthetic dancing, that are essential to the drama-dance, are those of music, costume design, decoration, and the drama, or interpretation through acting.

The costumes to be worn were either purchased in the countries represented, or were copied from priceless museum pieces and executed by Pearl Wheeler, the genius who has been in charge of costumes for the Denishawns for years. No detail connected with the production is too trivial for careful attention. Ruth St. Denis and Ted Shawn, while themselves the greatest of dancers, are at the head of the famous schools of dancing conducted under their combined names and know thoroughly every phase of the art. They are the greatest exponents of the drama-dance in America today and through their direction their successors are being trained. The summer school in their Connecticut camp gives proof of the wholesome surroundings and fine atmosphere they furnish their students.

All four of the attractions for the series have great personalities that appeal to the imagination, yet all are different. LOCALS WIN FROM WILSON

Greenville High School had a very successful evening in basketball last night, winning three out of four games played, and gaining a technical victory in the fifth by a forfeit.

The boys' varsity team travelled to Wilson, and came home with the home team's scalp dangling by a 21-12 score.

Greenville started in with a rush, and swept Wilson off their feet in the first half. Bostic's usual slipperiness was very evident, for in addition to handling the ball well at all points on the court, he accounted for four tallies from all points of the floor. Respass and Burnett each scored once in the half. Wilson has put up a strong defense to hold Greenville heavy gunners to few counters, but Greenville exhibited a better one by staying off all Wilson attempts at scoring except two foul tallies. Half ended with the visitors holding a safe lead by 12 to 2.

Wilson presented a revamped quintet in the second half and played much more successfully on new principles. In fact they won the half by the narrow margin of 10-9. Three field goals, well scattered, and four fouls counted their total, while for Greenville, Bostic added another brace, and Burnett and Tucked each one.

LADY'S SUFFERING

She Writes That "A Friend Told Me To Take Cardui and I Know It Helped Me."

Greenville, Miss.—In describing how she suffered several years ago,

Mrs. Mattie Dalton, of 213 Walnut Street, this city, recently wrote: "I would cramp, and my hands and feet would draw, so I came near having convulsions. I would have to stay in bed a week, and when I would get up, I just dragged around, and did not feel like doing my work. I suffered a great deal with my back.

"A friend came to see me and saw how I suffered. She told me to try taking Cardui, which I did. I seemed to have more strength, after my first bottle. After I had taken about four bottles of Cardui, I saw a great improvement.

"I quit having such bad spells, and was stronger and better than in a long time. I gained in weight. I took a few more bottles of Cardui, and felt so well that I quit taking it.

"I certainly can recommend Cardui, for I know what it is to suffer, and I know that Cardui helped me."

Thousands of women have written to tell of the benefit Cardui has been to them, in helping them to build up their health.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Jan. 26--(AP)--The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 3 points to a decline of 6 points. There appeared to be some week-end covering and a little trade buying at the start. This demand was readily supplied by further commission house liquidation and some local selling inspired by relatively easy Liverpool cables and expectations of a falling off in spot demand after the filling of January engagements.

GRAIN MARKET

By JOHN F. BOUGHAN, Associated Press Market Editor Chicago, Jan. 26--(AP)--With corn today attaining new high price records for the season and wheat nearly equaling the cash's best prices profit-taking has become dominant. Both the leading cereals thus reacted sharply from easy advances.

Wheat closed weak; 1c to 1 1/2c net. Corn, 1c to 1 1/2c. Oats, 1 1/2c to 1 3/4c. Provisions varying from 7c decline to a rise of 2c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Jan. 26--(AP)--The stock market encountered considerable week-end progress and firming tendencies in steel prices were evident.

A six per cent call money rate over the week-end, in the face of the coming month-end requirements, was pleasing to Wall street. While somewhat tighter money is looked for next week, the banks are in a position to come to the aid of the market and are expected to prevent any sharp increase.

The bull favorites of the recent sessions felt the brunt of the week-end selling. National Cash Register which rose as high as 143 3/4 yesterday, was depressed 7 1/2 points from yesterday's close to 129 1/2. Johns Manville lost five points and General Electric more than 3. Montgomery-Ward, which has not participated in the recent advance, was an outstanding soft spot, losing four points. International Nickel yielded nearly two points.

stitutes who were in uniform carried on during the second and third quarters and left the score standing 16 to 2, when the first team came in for the final frame. As usual with an over-confident team, they did poorly and Washington had her best quarter, scoring her only basket, and holding Greenville to three goals. Final score was 20 to 4.
