PRINCE RANIER LOSES FIANCEE AT THE ALTAR

Princess Illa Creates Sensation By Declaring She Is In Love With Another.

Regensburg, Bavaria, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Princess Illa, of the Bohemian branch of the Thurn and Taxis family, who left Prince Raphael Ranier at the altar yesterday, changed her mind about the wedding because she had fallen in love with her fiancée's youngest brother, Prince Philippe Ernst.

Princess Illa, who is just past 20, is creating the new surprise today by confessing that her heart belonged to Prince Philippe Ernst who will be 21 next May. It is now generally expected that the two will be married later. The families of the princess all declare that they credit her with the sincerest motives springing from a deep religious conviction that it would be wrong for her to marry Prince Raphael when she really loved Prince Philippe.

Regensburg, Bavaria, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Two branches of an ancient European royal house were agreed today that love, rather than matters of policy should be the controlling factor in matrimony.

Princess Illa, of the Bohemian branch of the House of Thurn and Taxis, left Prince Raphael Ranier, of the Bavarian branch of the same house waiting at the altar yesterday, with the tearful explanation that her heart was engaged to another.

But far from a tendency to cooperate her to go through with the ceremony which had reached the stage where the participants were merely awaiting the reading of the vows, the heads of the two branches of the family gave their sanction to the action of the princess. There was regret that the family name should have become involved in sensational publicity but there seemed to be some relief that the pretty princess, who is 24, should have discovered her feeling while there was yet time.

Today the princess was on her way back to her Czechoslovakian estates, while others wondered who the other man in the affair might be. Numerous guests had gathered at Regensburg to witness the ceremony and the Bishop of Regensburg was ready to read the service when Princess Illa went to Prince Ernst, the eighth reigning prince and her intended father-in-law, and told him she loved another. She said she found it incompatible with the dictates of her conscience to promise to love, honor and obey Prince Raphael Ranier, until death might part them.

Prince Albert called the elders of the house, including Prince Erich, Princess Illa's father, into a conference, the upshot of which was revocation of the engagement.

The Thurn and Taxis clan is one of the oldest princely families in Germany. It once had the first German mail distribution contracts, and was paid a huge indemnity in money and estates in Wurtemberg, Bavaria, Bohemia, and Croatia in 1876 when the Reich took the matter.

Prince Ernst, present chief of the house, was born in 1857, and married the Austrian Grand Duchess Margaret; the jilted prince, who is 23 years old, is their sixth son. An uncle of the jilted prince in 1911 married Lida Eleanore Fitzgerald at Uniontown, Pa.

The head of the Bohemian branch of the house, of which Princess Illa is a member, is her grandfather, Prince Alexander, who, born in 1851, married Princess Marie Hochlohe-Waldenburg-Schillingstuerst.

HIGH COUNCIL PREPARES TO HEAR GENERAL

Boot and Council Take Definite Steps To Settle Controversy.

London, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Both General Bramwell Booth and the high council of the Salvation Army today took definite moves in their controversy over the leadership of the army.

The high council held a brief meeting this morning at which it decided that it would hear a representative of the General on the question of his adjudication by that body as being unfit to continue in his high office. His action was taken to conform with the recent decision of the chancery court that a mistake had been made by the council in adjudicating him without hearing his chosen representatives.

The General will be officially informed in due course of the council's decision to give him, or his delegate, a hearing. After this decision had been reached the council adjourned to meet again at a date which will be selected shortly. The next meeting it is probable that the adjudicating proceedings will be taken up again this time with the General's representative present.

Victor in the first court skirmish the general already has made his first act of authority since Justice Eve's decision in chancery court reinstated him for the present as the army's leader. By his action of the General, a special supplement was issued with the war cry today containing a reprint of the London Times report on the court proceedings.

A letter written and dated at Southwold on Jan. 14 in which a conciliatory move on the part of the General is revealed.

Report Attempt To Assassinate Spanish Priest

London, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Attempted assassination late last night of the Papal Nuncio as he walked in the gardens of the royal palace at Madrid gave a new aspect today to Spain's political upheaval.

Previous dispatches from Madrid had indicated all but complete suppression of the Tuesday revolt at Ciudad Real, and had told of arrest and impending trial of those held responsible.

It was difficult from this distance and from the scantiness of detail due to a rigid censorship—to fix the assassination attempt in its proper place in the Spanish political mosaic, but in the carefully worded telephone advices of the incident there was the inference that the shots at the ecclesiastic probably were intended for someone else entirely.

Four shots were fired at the "diplomatic representative," believed here to mean the Papal Nuncio, Monsignor Frederico Tedesini. All of the shots went wild, and in the ensuing confusion the assailant escaped.

Attends Suicide.

New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Leaving a note saying he was "tired of being useless," Clark F. Huhn, 28 years old, shot himself above the heart in the ante-room of a night club early today. He is expected to die.

He is a son of George A. Huhn, a broker, and graduated from Yale last June.

PRESIDENT TO DEDICATE BOK TOWER TODAY

Ceremonies To Be Held at Mountain Lake, Florida, Late This Afternoon.

Enroute With President Coolidge to Mountain Lake, Fla., Feb. 1.—(AP)—President Coolidge today journeyed toward Florida to dedicate the Byrd sanctuary and Singing Tower established at Mountain Lake by Edward W. Bok, immigrant, editor and philanthropist.

The ceremonies at which Mr. Coolidge is to deliver an address, will take place late today, a short time after the arrival of the presidential special at Mountain Lake. Under plans arranged in advance and submitted to Washington before the chief executive's departure, he will be met at the station by a reception committee and escorted at once to the sanctuary. The exercises will begin a little after his arrival.

After the dedication, Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge are to inspect the Singing Tower, a structure erected at the summit of Iron Mountain, said to be the highest point in the state of Florida, which contains a carillon of 61 bells, especially cast and imported from Belgium.

From the sanctuary, the President is to go to Mr. Bok's winter home, a short distance away, for tea, a period of rest and an informal family dinner after which he will board the presidential special and begin the journey back to Washington. In all, he is to be at Mountain Lake a little more than six hours.

An important part of the ceremonies will be a concert on the new chimes by Anton Bress, a Belgian carillonneur who Mr. Bok has engaged as his bellmaster. The carillon with its 61 bells has a range of 41 tones, the thirteen upper notes being in duplicate to avoid, it is explained, the "airy sounds" of small bells. The topmost and smallest bell weighs 16 pounds while the largest has a weight of 11 tons. In its entirety the carillon is said to be the "largest in the country."

Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge began their twenty-four hour journey late yesterday. Snow was falling as they left Washington and the hills and fields of Virginia were blanketed thinly, to remind the chief executive that he was on his way to a land where such an occurrence is an event to be remembered for years. The snow continued until his train was well south of Richmond, and slowly vanished.

SIX DIE IN TRAIN WRECK

Passenger Train Crashes Head-on Into Freight Near Henderson, Ky.

Henderson, Ky., Feb. 1.—(AP)—Six trainmen were reported killed today on the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis Railroad crashed head-on into a freight train on a sharp curve about eight miles east of here. The six men were buried in the burning wreckage, and only three bodies have been recovered. One was identified as that of the baggage-master of the passenger train.

It was difficult from this distance and from the scantiness of detail due to a rigid censorship—to fix the assassination attempt in its proper place in the Spanish political mosaic, but in the carefully worded telephone advices of the incident there was the inference that the shots at the ecclesiastic probably were intended for someone else entirely.

Four shots were fired at the "diplomatic representative," believed here to mean the Papal Nuncio, Monsignor Frederico Tedesini. All of the shots went wild, and in the ensuing confusion the assailant escaped.

Foch Improves After Relapse

Paris, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Physicians attending Marshal Ferdinand Foch this morning announced that his condition, after a slight relapse yesterday, was "quite satisfactory."

It was said that if the marshal really had a slight congestion of the lungs yesterday, he certainly had none today.

Both he and Mr. Daveniere seemed annoyed that their yesterday's bulletin, indicating a slight relapse in the marshal's condition, had been taken so seriously by the public. They emphasized that ordering him back to bed has been merely precautionary.

Man and Woman Die on Gallows

Franklin, La., Feb. 1.—(AP)—A white woman, Mrs. Ada Bonner Lehouef, and a white man, Dr. Thomas E. Dreher, went to their deaths calmly on the gallows of the Franklin jail today for the murder of James Lehouef, the woman's husband.

Both died with prayers on their lips, forgiving all but protesting their innocence to the last.

Both executions were affected quickly and smoothly, both of the condemned being broken on the first rebound of the rope. Both had their last wishes granted not to be strangled to death by the rope.

The woman led the way to the gallows, accompanied by Father J. J. Rousseau, of the local Church of Assumption. The man followed with his spiritual adviser, Rev. J. M. McCormack, Methodist minister, beside him.

Mrs. Lehouef walked on the trap at 12:03 and was hanged at 12:16. "O, mother, my God," she cried. "Isn't this a terrible thing, Oh, God, don't let me suffer. Oh, God, who can do that?"

"This is murder itself. I hope Jesus can love my soul. The rope is so tight around my neck." She struggled before the drop. She then began praying behind Father J. J. Rousseau, Catholic priest. She then began talking in the voice of a young girl.

"Out here; out there," she cried as a surprised child as the sheriff begged her to come on out.

The hangman sat on a bench beside the trap waiting. Blindfolded the woman walked out on the trap dressed in a plain pink slip dress, assisted by Sheriff Martel. She cried:

"My mother, my mother, my God, isn't this a terrible thing. Don't let me stay there too long. Oh, isn't this a terrible thing. This is murder itself. The rope is so tight around my neck. Yes, it is Mr. Martel. Oh, my God, my God." She struggled. The black cloth was placed over her head. Her hands were tied.

Dr. Rousseau administered the extreme prayer as she hanged on the rope.

Half of the slip slipped to one side showing her blindfolded face. A small rope fastened her hands and feet and she held the black beads with the cross in her locked hands behind her back. She died instantly without sound and with only a tremor after the trap opened.

The trap was opened at 12:05, the time of the sheriff's watch. The doctors applied the stethoscope at 12:10. Father Rousseau left at 12:10. At 12:15 they began taking down the body. Four men took her body to a cell.

The trap was fastened back, the rope readjusted and the sheriff started for Dr. Dreher in a back cell.

Dr. Dreher walked from his cell, shook hands with the sheriff and jailer. He walked strangely up the ten winding stairs. As he walked on the trap, he said:

"Poor Miss Ada has gone." Looking at Meigs O. Frost, New Orleans newspaper man, he said:

"Mr. Frost, you know we didn't do it."

As the rope was adjusted, he said: "Oh, God, have mercy. Just don't let me choke to death."

He went through the trap, and died instantly.

The trap was sprung on Dr. Dreher at 12:25 p. m.

The murder was committed on the night of July 1, 1927, exactly 19 months ago. Lehouef, superintendent of the Morgan City branch of the Louisiana Public Utilities Company, was shot while riding on Lake Palatka, near his Morgan City home. His body was found five days later in the lake by frog hunters.

Mrs. Lehouef, Dr. Dreher and James Beadle, Morgan City trapper, were arrested and tried for the murder. All three were found guilty in August, 1927. The jury recommended mercy for Beadle, which automatically gave him life imprisonment. The state contended at the trial that the woman and physician killed Lehouef so he could not interfere with their love affair.

After the slaying the body was tossed into the lake in the belief that it would never be found. But the Mississippi flood had not been reckoned with and as the waters receded the body was found.

STATE BANKS FELL BEHIND DURING 1928

Resources Of Banks at Close of Dec. Business Showed $11,229,713.71 Decrease

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 1.—(AP)—The State Banking Department announced today that resources of North Carolina state banks at the close of business December 31, amounted to $327,662,875.75, compared with $338,892,589.47 on December 31, 1927, a decrease of $11,229,713.71. In addition to the resources of state banks, savings banks and trust companies amounting to $327,662,875.75 it was said there should be added the resources of forty-eight industrial banks amounting to $19,090,494.40, making the aggregate resources of all state banks $346,753,370.15. National bank resources on the date of the last call, October 3, 1928, amounted to $204,172,000.00, making the total banking resources of the state $550,915,370.15.

During the calendar year, 1928, the resources of all North Carolina banks showed a decrease. In the state banking system, loans and discounts decreased $550,000.00 and cash and due from banks $12,250,000.00. Investments in United States, North Carolina and other governmental obligations increased $1,250,000.00. For the same period, deposits decreased $20,000,000.00. Surplus, undivided profit and various reserves, $1,300,000.00, and redemptions and bills payable, $7,000,000.00. However, during the period from October 3, 1928, the date of the last preceding call, to December 31, 1928, deposits increased $14,500,000.00 and borrowed money decreased $18,000,000.00. In the same period, loans and discounts were decreased $11,000,000.00.

At the close of business December 31, 1928, state banks had total deposits of $239,179,000, against which they held cash, due from banks and checks for clearing amounting $72,000,000, or a reserve of 27 per cent against their total deposit liability. In addition to this cash reserve they held bonds of the United States, state of North Carolina, and other governmental units amounting to $20,000,000. These investments represent a secondary reserve of approximately 8 per cent of deposit liability, in addition to cash reserve of 27 per cent, it was said.

MAIL FLIER IS VICTIM OF FATAL CRASH

Eugene Cecil Loses Life In Attempt To Land In Mountains Of West Virginia.

Morgantown, W. Va., Feb. 1.—(AP)—A career that embodied piloting in the World War, flying air circuits standing to air mail flying came to an abrupt end on Tar Mountain early today with the death of Eugene Cecil, 35, Cleveland-Pittsburgh mail plane pilot.

Cecil, it is thought, became lost in the fog hanging over Carnegie, Pa., and mistook the Monongahela river for the Ohio river, causing him to fly southward towards West Virginia instead of northward to his home port, Bettis Field, McKeesport, a few miles from Carnegie.

The plane was seen over Morgantown shortly before midnight. Next a crash was heard and searching parties started out. Early today the plane, mail intact, and the pilot dead in his cockpit, was found in a clearing atop a mountain peak. In his pocket was found a note: Failed to stop at Youngstown because of darkness. The plane had turned over in landing.

Cecil, who piloted a U. S. Army plane on the western front, left the Gate Air Circus December 15 and was employed by Clifford Ball, contractor for the Cleveland-Pittsburgh route.

Among the searchers who found the wrecked plane was an Associated Press staff man, and Mrs. C. P. Northrop, wife of the publisher of the Morgantown New Dominion, who went along with newspapermen and police.

FINAL REPORT OF LEAF SALES MADE PUBLIC

Greenville Market Sold 71,082,294 Lbs. Of Leaf During Season Just Closed.

Official report of sales of the Greenville tobacco market, made public this morning by E. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales, indicated that the market sold a total of 71,082,294 pounds of tobacco during the season which closed yesterday. The average price was $21.05 per hundred pounds.

The final report placed the market slightly over a million pounds off the seventy million pounds goal for the season. The goal was reached shortly after the Christmas holidays. Not even the most optimistic of tobaccoists believed they would be able to exceed the mark by a million pounds. But figures don't lie, and the report of the supervisor of sales indicated that all previous records had been shattered.

The market last season sold slightly over sixty-one million pounds. This was a million pounds above the goal for the period. The average of $23.63 per hundred pounds was slightly over two cents above that of this season. This was due, tobaccoists declared, to the enormous amount of inferior grades offered for sale this season.

Good tobacco demanded splendid prices throughout the season and many times the general market average was as high as some of the best grades last year. The bulk of better grade tobacco had been exhausted by the Christmas holidays, and from then on only scraps and inferior qualities predominated.

K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales, stated this morning that the season had been the most eventful in the market's thirty-five years of history. The realization of the seventy million pounds goal—ten million pounds more tobacco than ever sold here before, and the sale of a million pounds of tobacco daily for a period of sixty days, cause the season to stand out more conspicuously than all other years.

Mr. Cobb said preparations were already under way for enlarging the market next year. Improvements will be made to warehouses and factories greatly increasing capacity for handling the eighty million pounds set for next season. The nature of the improvements had not been determined today, but they are in the offing and will be extensive enough to care for a far greater volume of tobacco than the market was able to care for during the season just closed.

The outlook for making Greenville the largest tobacco market of the country was never brighter than at present, it was stated, and next year will see concrete evidence of plans now under consideration.

Testimony Nears End In Case Of District Attorney

Los Angeles, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The end of testimony in the trial of former District Attorney Aaa Keyes and two others for alleged bribery and conspiracy appeared in sight today after verbal battles among attorneys had somewhat delayed the case.

Keyes is alleged to have accepted money through Ben Getzoff, a co-defendant, to influence his prosecution of fraud cases against Ed Rosenthal, also a co-defendant, and charged that certain officers had treated him cruelly in attempting to get a confession while he was being returned here from Canada.

PROHIBITION BILL TO GET SENATE'S EYE

House Shunts Measure Which Goes Before Senate Committee for Consideration

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Twice the amended first deficiency bill, carrying with it $24,000,000 for prohibition enforcement, has gone before the House, and twice it has been shunted aside. Supporters of the fund have sought a direct vote on the amendment but after an extended argument yesterday, the measure today was on its way to conference with the Senate.

A proposal designed to keep the bill from conference was beaten in the House 240 to 141 and this was taken as a victory for those who believe, as Secretary Mellon believes, that the $24,000,000 would do more harm than good.

While supporters of the fund ran far behind in the voting they had an opportunity to affirm the fund and prohibition generally and in return they were given some-what during the debate, in what could be considered ineffectual charges. Party-five Democrats joined with 194 Republicans in voting down the proposal to keep the bill from conference and with them went the only Socialist in Congress, Berge of Wisconsin. Ten Republicans sided with 123 Democrats in supporting the motion and they had the aid of two Farmer-Labor members, Cairns and Kvale of Minnesota.

The motion to send the bill to conference, carried without a roll call. During the debate yesterday there were many charges and counter-charges. Secretary Mellon, as usual when there is an argument over prohibition in Congress, was accused of favoring the interests and in turn, he noted deniers.

Since most of those who want the $24,000,000 left in the deficiency bill are Democrats, Republicans said that the former were trying to re-establish themselves with their constituents for supporting Governor Smith in the presidential campaign. The Democrats had an answer to this, declaring that since the president-elect would have disposal of the $24,000,000 that Republican drys were in the position of refusing to trust Mr. Hoover. They also declared that officials of the prohibition bureau said that more funds were needed to enforce the law.

Crampton of Michigan, a Republican, a dry leader, opposing dry fund, said the amendment was designed to rehabilitate drys who had supported Gov. Smith; that it was intended to embarrass the administration; to criticize Secretary Mellon and to restore Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, "to the good graces of his constituency."

Most of the Democrats listened to this in silence but they cheered when Rep. Byrnes, Democrat, Tennessee, said there had been 600,000 before the appropriations committee of which he is a member, that there was not enough money for enforcement and that the $24,000,000 was intended to help supply the lack.

Mrs. Northcott's Part In Murder Case Uncertain

Riverside, Cal., Feb. 1.—(AP)—The part of Mrs. Sarah Louise Northcott in the slaying of Gordon Slesnick Northcott remained uncertain today after the young Canadian had made up his mind to attempt to get some of his inheritance into the record of his trial for the murder of three boys.

Mrs. Northcott, who divorced, had been known as the mother of the kidnaped boy, last fall yesterday that she was the grandmother and that he was the son of Mrs. Winifred (Owen) McS. Clark, has been known as Northcott's sister and mother of Slesnick and Jesse Clark, principal accusers of the kidnap trial.

The testimony which Northcott most desired to hear from the witness was not permitted. He sought to have Mrs. Northcott tell her reasons for pleading guilty to a charge of having participated with him in the slaying of Walter Collins. She was brought here from San Quentin prison, where she is serving a life sentence. She previously had declared she pleaded guilty on the understanding that young Northcott, which would be cleared of murder charges.

When his line of questioning was stopped by objections, Northcott himself took the stand, and, acting as witness and questioner, testified at length regarding his family life and charged that certain officers had treated him cruelly in attempting to get a confession while he was being returned here from Canada.

COTTON MILLS SHOW GROWTH DURING 1928

Cotton Spindles In 11 Southern States Increased Over Previous Year.

Charlotte, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The Southern Textile Bulletin, in its annual review of the textile industry in the south says that cotton spindles in eleven southern states increased 331,692 during 1928. Looms in operation increased 12,580.

The statistics compiled by David Clark, publisher of the bulletin, and recognized cotton textile statistician, show that at the end of 1928 the southern mills were operating 18,991,371 spindles, or slightly more than half the nation's total; 368,183 looms and 62,970 knitting machines.

Alabama led the list of states in gains in spindles with 169,604 of which 100,000 were second hand spindles which, says the report of this survey, "came from New England." For the whole south, Mr. Clark said, the increase in spindles was represented "approximately half and half" by new spindles and second-hand spindles removed from New England.

Alabama also led in the gain in looms with 4,277, showing a total of 32,762 for the state. North Carolina was second with a gain of 3,176 to a total of 97,543, and South Carolina third with 2,674, making a total of 132,685 looms, the largest number for any state in this group. The statistician explained that looms making all classes of textiles were counted, but only spindles working cotton were counted.

Available reports, says the bulletin, indicate that new mills and additions thus far announced for 1929 will be equipped with 257,748 spindles, compared with 132,948 on order at the beginning of 1928.

A feature of the growth last year was the expansion of the knitting industry. A total of 6,728 knitting machines were installed in 1928 as compared with 7,191 installed in 1927. "The south has reached the point that an ample supply of full-fashioned hosiery machine operators is available and an even more rapid increase is predicted in 1929," said Mr. Clark.

During 1928 expansion of the industry emphasized the rapidly increasing diversity of production in southern mills with a relatively large part of the expansion being represented by plants using silk, wool or rayon, either wholly or in part. Of the estimated world production of rayon totaling 323,500,250 pounds, 99,561,250 pounds were produced in the United States of which 66,500,000 were produced in the south. In 1928 southern mills used 16,000,000 pounds and at present nine of the world's largest rayon producing corporations are constructing southern plants to represent equal investments approximately $55,000,000.

Mr. Clark said that in assembling the data he had received letters from several hundred cotton mill executives containing analysis of conditions in the industry. These with few exceptions, described it as unsatisfactory.

Among those critically analyzing conditions were Walker D. Hines of New York, president of the Cotton Textile Institute, and H. R. Fitzgerald of Danville, Va., president of the American Cotton Manufacturers' Association.

Mr. Hines summing up said: "So far as there is difficulty with the industry as a whole, it is not the absence of a sound, normal and increasing demand, but it is the fact that the industry's productive capacity, overstimulated by the war is so great as to keep the industry either in or on the verge of a condition of over production with the resulting tendency to price instability, which, whenever it arises, is unsatisfactory to customers as well as to the mills.

Mr. Fitzgerald emphasized at length in his analysis two causes for "depression" in the industry, these being unsatisfactory selling arrangements for the whole industry and overproduction. The latter he asserted is the more serious.

Washington, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Oral arguments in favor of higher duties on cotton and linen handkerchiefs were presented to the House Ways and Means Committee today by representatives of more than a dozen American manufacturers. 71,082,294 POUNDS

Closing its 1928 season with yesterday's sales, the Greenville tobacco market led not only done what it set out at the first of the season to do, but passed its goal by more than a million pounds. No tobacco market anywhere has made greater gains and more friends in the past five years than the Greenville market as is evidenced by a contrast of the 1924 sales of 28,064,226 pounds, with 71,082,294 pounds for the season just closed.

When asked what has been responsible for this growth of the Greenville market the answer naturally could be that the greater demand for cigarettes has caused greater production of tobacco in this particular section, which has of course part been responsible for our growth, but even at that the record of growth has far surpassed that of other markets in the section so there must be other reasons than the increased production. Our answer as to responsibility for the growth of the Greenville Tobacco Market is the hearty spirit of co-operation that exists between tobaccoists, business houses, individuals and the growers, and an untiring effort on the part of those connected with the market to serve the interests of the grower to the greatest possible degree.

Handling nearly eighteen million pounds of tobacco or set of buyers as was the case on the Greenville market this year, is we believe, a record that has not yet been matched by any other market and is just another evidence that those connected with the market are willing to exert their best efforts at all times. Of course we need an additional set of buyers before another season if we are to adequately take care of the ever increasing number of growers who are bringing Greenville as their market but whether or not we get the additional buyers is ventured to say that the Greenville Market next year will show a growth over the present season if the tobacco market, for the spirit of moving forward has so presented the hearts and minds of all those connected with the market that surely there can be no slowing up and they will strive to summon forth that additional ounce of energy that the market
ought continue to forge ahead.

Talking together in a spirit of helpful co-operation has been, we believe, one of the greatest factors in the Tobacco Market and the example is one that other lines of business would do well to emulate.

ABOUT
TOWN

"Backed up by five straight victories, the strong basketball club of Farmville tonight to attempt announcing their sixth scalp of the season," mentioned a local fan today.
"If they do any scalping, however,
it will be accomplished after one of the hardest fought games of the season. Greenville has an unblemished record behind her and will fight for her life against the invading basketbats.

"Fans who enjoy real basketball games should not miss the game tonight. It will show to what extent the locals have developed the last several weeks and furnish more thrills than any other game of the season."

"Baseball is just around the corner," commented a lover of the national sport today.

"With the first signs of springtime, the boys will begin to get out their bats and bats and hit away for the fair grounds to begin testing for this branch of athletics.

"Baseball probably furnishes more genuine enjoyment than any other game. It produces a thrill no other game is capable of producing. Once the crack of the ball against the bat is heard, every nerve becomes tense and remains that way until the voice of the umpire has died away at the end of the season.

"Greenville is among the fortunate cities of Eastern North Carolina to have baseball this summer.
We will have something to divert our attention from the slump of business usually occurring during hot summer months. The sport will furnish enough conversation to keep the average man and woman busy for days at a time.

"Watch for the harbinger of springtime—the bluebirds—and get yourself in trim for one of the greatest seasons in years."

"The weather man," said a prominent citizen today, "is a curious case.
One day he promises either rain or snow. We fall to get either. The next day he comes out and says the storm passed over the extreme end of the state, hitting other sections
a severe blow."

"If we are bound to have snow, why not send it along now? We are in a state of mind that snow alone can satisfy. We get that way once every year—usually about the time the weather man promises the first snow fall and fails to send it.
If he has anything in store of this kind it is extremely unkind to hold back on us and send it after the trees have budded and all nature is clothed in the garment of eternal springtime.

"Come on, old weather man, give us the best you have to offer in the way of winter, and let spring have her way when she gets here."

"Eighty million pounds of tobacco—get it—eighty millions—is the goal set for the Greenville Tobacco market next season," confidently asserted a member of the industry when the market closed for the season yesterday.

"It sounds like a whole lot of tobacco—and it is. Seventy million pounds sounded like a foreign name the beginning of this season, but we made it and with some to spare.

"Naturally, it is going to take five sets of buyers to reach that eighty million mark, but we are going to do it, for all that. Growth can't be denied and when the big manufacturers learn what we did this season, it stands to reason they will be glad to further the development in the world.

"Keep that goal—eighty million pounds—in your mind all the summer and when the doors swing open next season be ready to do your part in making its realization possible."

FARMVILLE TO PLAY CAGERS HERE TONIGHT

Tonight's night in basketball—at least in Greenville. For tonight's night when Farmville invades our gym for the famous "crocial" game of the N. E. A. C. season. With their slate really a little cleaner than Greenville's, for they have not dropped a game to anyone. Farmville comes with their confidence slightly tinged with the knowledge that this will be a hard game, while the probability is that the Greenville boys, whether or not they will admit it, are slightly overconfident—a bad way to be, as all coaches and sportsmen know well.

However what will transpire is all in the future, although both teams have been hard at work practicing their whole bag of tricks, and leaving none out. One thing is certain that when the game is over tonight, both the winning and the losing teams will know that they have been in a real game.

Tomorrow night the Freshman teams play hosts to the strong Fountain high school aggregations. The girls will play first, and then the boys come together in a second game. The defeat by Roanoke Rapids earlier in the week will probably make Greenville boys play a stronger, more aggressive game, and in spite of some probable disparity in weight, the game should be fairly close. The girls, from the one chance they have had, can be counted on to give a good account of themselves, and may be able to even up the rather one-sided game between the Fountainites and last year's Freshman team. These games will be well worth seeing, especially at the low price of 25c. Following them will give one a chance to see the development of the future varsity players, and afford additional pleasure in watching the keen enthusiasm of the young rooters.

AMERICAN REPARATIONS EXPERTS TO SAIL SOON

New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Owen D. Young and J. P. Morgan, unofficial American members of the committee of experts on German reparations, will sail on the Aquitania tonight for the Paris meetings which opens Feb. 9.

Thomas W. Lamont of J. P. Morgan & Co., an alternate to the committee, also will sail on the Aquitania, but Thomas Nelson Perkins, Boston, the other alternate, postponed his departure due to illness in his family.

Prince To Attempt To Aid Sufferers Of Coal Districts

London, Feb. 1.—(AP)—The first step of the Prince of Wales in an attempt to alleviate oppressive conditions in the northern mining districts which he had just visited is expected to be a conference looking to a remedy with the prime minister, Stanley Baldwin.

This interview will take place, it is believed, as soon as the prince returns to London, although it is not now known whether he will defer his return until after his tour of inspection of the South Wales district. Conditions are said to be as bad, or worse, there as in the northern districts.

Whatever route actually is chosen it is deemed certain the British heir will make good his undertaking to attempt betterment of conditions in the mining areas, conditions which he has termed, "damnable."

It is assumed after consulting the premier he probably will issue a public appeal to increase the "pound for pound" donations, emphasizing in such an appeal the impressions he has received in his tour.

Says Sharkey And Stribling Fight Will Be Staged

Miami Beach, Fla. Feb. 1.—(AP)—Jack Dempsey insists that the Sharkey-Stribling fight will go on as scheduled.

Apparently somewhat perturbed by rumors he has heard that the fight will be called off, or moved to some other location, the promoter late yesterday issued a formal statement emphasizing that these stories "are without foundation."

Dempsey called attention to activity of two hundred workmen who are erecting an arena for the match, announced that the ticket sale already has passed several thousand dollars and he also said that Florida, as well as railroad systems in all section of the country, were behind him in a solid unit.

Dempsey spent most of yesterday superintending the opening of a Miami ticket office for the sale of seats. He also located approximately $50,000 worth of tickets reservations on the plan for the arena.

Plans were complete today for the reception tonight of Jack Sharkey, who will arrive with his wife to begin training for the February 27 encounter with the former Georgia school boy. The Boston sailor will receive a welcome similar to that given Stribling on his arrival Wednesday night.

Stribling yesterday went through his initial paces in preparation for the big battle. He skipped the rope for more than an hour and gave the sunshine ample opportunity to blister arms and shoulders.

"I want to get tanned so that any possible sunburn will not interfere with steady workout next week," he explained.

HENDERSON MAY BUY RALEIGH'S CONTRACT

Henderson, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Indications here today were that Henderson would accept the Raleigh baseball franchise offered last week by President W. G. Braham, following a mass meeting last night at which fans voted unanimously in favor of it.

Pledges of $1100 were announced at the meeting and $2000 more was promised by fans on condition that the original fund is raised to $4,000, making a total of $6,000 toward a fund with which to start the season.

Reports here are that Bunn Hearne of Wilson, manager of the Winston-Salem club last year, will be active manager of the team with Eddie Winston, former Piedmont and Sally League player, as president.

At what age is a man in his prime?

Many a young man old before his time

EVERYBODY will tell you something different. Some people are past their prime by the time they're forty. A few never know what it's like to feel in their prime. And then you talk to some hale and hearty man of 65, and he'll tell you he's been in his prime as long as he can remember.

"I'm still in my prime," he'll declare. "It's all a matter of how well you feel. And that's largely a matter of keeping your system in good working order. Living by regular schedule.

"Nujol helps things function like clockwork. Makes everything normal and regular, just as Nature intends it to be. Nujol is not a medicine. It contains absolutely no medicine or drugs. So it can't possibly upset or disagree with anybody.

"It's just a pure natural substance. It not only keeps an excess of body poisons from forming (we all have them), but aids in their removal. It's these poisons that sap your health and energy, slow you up, make you old before your time." Start the Nujol habit now—no matter whether you're only 20, or whether you're getting on in years. Buy a bottle today. You'll find Nujol at all drugstores. Perfected by the famous Nujol Laboratories, 26 Broadway, New York. Sold only in sealed packages.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Cotton barely steady today as a decline of 2 to 3 points in response to disappointing Liverpool cables and soon on active months. Selling was attributed chiefly to liquidation or reselling by some of yesterday's buyers. There was also a little selling believed to be for local and southern account.

The decline to 19.68 for spring months and 19.03 for new October contract was checked by covering and trade buying. After initial offerings had been absorbed, the market held quiet and steady. Private cables reported London and Continental buying in Liverpool but said cloth business with India and the Near East was restricted and yarns inactive.

STOCK MARKET

By STANLEY W. PHENOSIL, Associated Press Financial Editor

New York, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Operations for the advance assumed violent proportions in the rails and a number of industrials and specialties on the stock market today, regardless of the increase of $118,000,000 in federal reserve brokers loans announced last night.

Traders were inclined to ascribe a large part of the increase in loans to the underwriting of several large stock and bond offerings this week, three of which reached nearly $100,000,000. The fact that the federal reserve statement revealed no earmarkings of gold or other operations to offset the recent takings of the yellow metal in London was interpreted bullishly.

Call money again renewed at 7 per cent, and was expected to be easier next week with the return of the February 1 payment checks to the banks. The tone of time money was easier at yesterday's reduced rates. Some profit-taking came into the market around mid-day, but was readily absorbed, causing merely a slackening in the pace of trading.

The day's news included approval of the proposed two-for-one stock gains of about $5,000,000 each in the split up by Kennecott shareholders, sales of Montgomery Ward and Sears Roebuck in January, as compared to January, 1928, and the formation of a new $35,000,000 Public Utility Holding Company.

The bullish flare in the rails was intensified by various rumors regarding consolidation programs. It was reported that the Taplin interests were said to be preparing to seek permission to acquire the western Maryland and other lines, forming a fifth major system in the east, Chesapeake & Ohio, Canadian Pacific and Pere Marquette jumped about 7 points each, while Jersey Central, New York Central, Pittsburgh and West Virginia, Baltimore and Ohio, Illinois Central and New Haven mounted 3 to 3 points, several to record prices.

Allied Chemical, Western Union, Wright Aero, W. T. Grant, and National Bellas Hess shot up 9 to 12 points. DuPont (new) shot up more than 7 points after absorbing early profit-taking.

Gardner Motors lost 2 points on a statement from the president that he considered the stock too high. American power and Light lost 2 1-2 points.
