LINDBERGH TAKES FIRST MAIL FOR PANAMA

First Stop Made At Havana Airport This Morning Shortly After 8 O'clock.

Havana, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh hopped off for Belize, British Honduras, on the second lap of his inaugural airmail flight to Panama, just one hour and four minutes after his arrival here from Miami.

The weather was favorable and the colonel hoped to reach Belize by mid-afternoon.

The American airmail, inaugurating an airmail service between the United States and Panama by the Pan-American Airways, made the hop on scheduled time and after a short stop for refueling planned to take off on the next lap to Belize.

It was the colonel's 27th birthday but his arrival here was completely business-like, and there was no pomp and ceremony as his landing last year when he stopped in the "Spirit of St. Louis" on his tour of the Central American states.

It was in compliance with the colonel's wish that he was received at the air field just as a commercial pilot and Cuban government officials who greeted him were there purely in an expert official capacity. Noble Brandon Judah, United States ambassador, was one of those at the field to congratulate him and wish him many returns of the day.

Lindbergh's present flight constitutes another link in the continuous growing chain of airmail transportation between Latin America and the United States. The flight opens a new era for Central America in fast transportation and expedition of mails for the miles will be encompassed in four hops; Miami to Havana to Belize, to Managua, then to Cristobal, Canal Zone. It is understood that further plans call for stops at Merida, Mexico, Tegucigalpa and Heredia. But for the present the mails will be flown with only and the route followed by Lindbergh will be the one he took last year when he came to Havana. At that time he flew from Panama to Colon and thence over Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras, British Honduras and Mexico.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh hopped off in a Sikorsky Amphibian plane at 6:08 a. m. Eastern Standard time, this morning.

The first airmail from the United States to Panama. With three companions and a load of 500 pounds of mail, Lindbergh needed the giant craft out over the bay and southward toward Havana, the first stop of the long flight to Cristobal, Panama Canal zone.

Henry Lee Buskey was at the radio set and Col. John A. Hambleton vice-president of the crew. J. T. Trippe, president of the company, also was aboard. Accompanying the party to Havana.

"Well, we're off again," Lindbergh said to Hambleton, as he climbed into the plane. Today is Lindbergh's 27th birthday.

The trans-Atlantic flyer arrived at the air field at 5:15 a. m., and had breakfast at the hangar.

A crowd of more than 1,000 persons was on hand for a glimpse of the take-off, and as Lindbergh came out of the hangar, police were unable to maintain order, the crowd breaking away across the field. Lindbergh turned and held his hand and the crowd halted and moved back to the sides of the field. While officers were re-establishing order, Lindbergh waited, refusing to bring the plane out of the hangar until the field had been cleared.

At 5:30 a. m. he received his last weather report, showing a light rain from Miami south to Key West. The weather was clearing somewhat to the south of Key West.

From Havana Lindbergh will fly to Belize, British Honduras, where he and his companions will remain overnight, before hopping off for Managua, Nicaragua, on Wednesday the flight to Cristobal will be made, completing the 2,527 mile flight from Miami.

Salvation Army Fight Continues

London, Feb. 4.—Developments in the struggle within the Salvation Army over the question of leadership moved swiftly over the weekend. General Bramwell Booth made a quick automobile trip from his cottage at Southwell to his home in Hadley Wood, near London, and the high council called a special meeting for today to discuss the new situation.

The council was particularly interested in a report that the general wished to appear personally within two or three weeks' time to fight in his own behalf despite his long illness.

Australian Ballot Due To Get Attention Of Legislature Tomorrow

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 4.—(AP)—The General Assembly meeting here tonight after a week-end recess, nearing the end of its first month with its principal measures still in the hands of committee.

The Australian ballot bill, for which Governor Gardner made a personal appeal to the legislators, is scheduled to be considered by the Senate committee on election laws tomorrow, if the committee to which the Johnson-Brought measure was referred, makes its report, as indicated by Senator Carlisle W. Higgins, Democrat of Allegheny, chairman of both the full committee and the sub-committee. Senator Higgins stated that a secret ballot bill would be reported by the committee. Some members of the sub-committee are said to favor a secret ballot for the general election, but exemption of the primaries.

Out of the half-dozen or more bills providing for an increase of the gasoline tax from four cents to five cents a gallon, the road committee of the Senate and House, which have been meeting jointly, are expected to bring forth a compromise bill probably this week. The committee have already approved the one-cent a gallon increase, but argument is still to be reached on the method of disbursing this added revenue. Some members advocate its expenditure by the State Highway Commission while others prefer to see it turned over to county authorities.

SENATE AGAIN GETS BUSY ON HOOPER PLANS HOOPER PLANS INSPECTION OF CRUISER BILL FLOOD AREAS

House Is Concerned With Disposition Of Number of Calendar Bills.

Washington, Feb. 4.—(AP)—This promised to be the last Monday that the Senate would be concerned with the cruiser bill, limitation of debate going into effect today, with the vote expected soon. The House faced the routine of disposing of consent calendar bills on its agenda, and there was no measure on its horizon that seemed likely to cause any violent controversy. Provided, of course, that the $24,000,000 for prohibition enforcement in the first deficiency bill does not come before it for a direct vote during the week.

The outlook in the Senate was not so placid. Even if most of the controversy on the cruiser bill seems over, the Senate expects before the week is out, to hear the request of Montana, for judgment to be passed on his report condemning the Interior and Justice Departments for their handling of the Sinclair contract for Salt Creek royalty oil. The report was rejected by the Senate Public Lands Committee.

Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, also planned a final report on the inquiry begun by his committee three years ago into the campaign expenditures of Senator-elect Vard of Pennsylvania.

The House Ways and Means Committee has kept up with its schedule on tariff hearings and today had before it duties on raw and manufactured flax, lute and hemp. Most of the other committee meetings were routine affairs but the House Military Affairs Committee faced hearings on the Madden bill which would lease the Muscle Shoals properties to the American Cyanamid Company.

BIG PROBLEMS WILL RECEIVE HOOVERACTION

Appointments And Administration Matters Before Pres-Elect During Week.

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 4.—(AP)—President-elect Hoover is concentrating this week on some of the problems that are ahead of him, including cabinet appointments, legislative affairs and administration policies.

Engagements have been made with several of his close friends and advisers, among them Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, chairman of the Senate finance committee, who is to arrive today from Washington, and Thomas T. C. Gregory, his next door neighbor at Stanford University.

Other callers will include Glenn B. Skipper, Republican national committee man from Florida, with whom the next President is expected to discuss the Florida political situation and the prospects for the Republican party holding the ground that was gained in this state last November.

There appears to be little doubt now that Mr. Hoover will accept the invitation to attend the birthday celebration of his old friend, Thomas A. Edison, at the inventor's winter home at Fort Myers, a week from today. He probably will make the trip across the state by motor as that would be faster than by train and is the president-elect's favorite mode of travel.

Inquiries now are being made on behalf of the next president to determine whether he can get in some fishing south of Fort Myers after he leaves the Edison estate. He would like an opportunity to try for tarpon around the Shark River in the southern part of the Everglades.

This spot is isolated, with the nearest town of importance thirty miles or more away, the president-elect could have the quiet he likes when he is fishing. He would be accompanied by Mrs. Hoover and a party of friends and probably would spend most of next week on another fishing expedition of his Florida vacation.

While his plans still are indefinite so far as his own inauguration day, Mr. Hoover apparently has no intention of returning to Washington. This is clearly indicated by his hope of making a journey down the West Coast for tarpon.

Mr. Hoover still has to complete the election for his cabinet, although he is likely to take his time about that as he does not have to have the slate made up until the forenoon of his inauguration day.

He is believed to have made up his mind to hold over several members of the Coolidge cabinet, but just who they are is a matter of conjecture.

There have been suggestions that Secretaries Jardine and Dwight Davis, of the war department, and James J. Davis, of the Labor department, will be reappointed as well as Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury.

Several Drown When German Steamer Sinks

Lisbon, Portugal, Feb. 3.—(AP)—The waters of the Douro river, near Oporto, held the bodies of twenty-six members of the crew of the German cargo steamer Deister today.

The steamer was driven on the rocks during a gale, a huge hole in her side caused her to founder immediately. The crew assembled on the top deck, but enormous waves hurled twenty of them into the water before they could fit on life preservers. Six others held to the ship as it sank. Rescue boats did not find a trace of any of the men when they reached the scene.

The boat was bound from Antwerp to Lisbon.

STORMS CLAIM SEVERAL LIVES

Forty-four Deaths Reported In Many Parts Of Europe Over Week-End.

London, Feb. 4.—(AP)—At least 44 persons met death in Europe over a week-end of unprecedented storm and cold conditions, the Balkan states and Turkey being particularly heavy sufferers.

Shipping was everywhere deranged especially in the black sea where numerous minor wrecks were reported.

The most serious disaster was off the coast of Portugal where the German freighter Deister foundered yesterday after being driven on the rocks during a violent gale. The crew of 25 assembled on the top deck, but a huge wave hurled 20 of them into the sea. The remaining six went down with their vessel.

The second largest disaster was in the Russian Turkestan town of Amnata where a landslide on Saturday swept 11 persons to their deaths.

Four workmen sent to clear the tracks of the Simplon express in Thraxan, Turkey, were frozen to death and the work of digging out the train which has been blocked by snow for three days, was called off.

Three persons were frozen to death in Budapest and many others were suffering from exposure. It was the coldest day in fifty years, the temperature dropping to 20 below zero centigrade in some places in Hungary.

There were many wrecks in the Black sea. The Soviet cattle steamer Omsk, 2,500 tons, sank near the Irva Islands, while three other ships, the Turkish Hissar, the Russian Tolp and the French Phone were all ground.

Conditions in Constantinople itself were tragic. There was a serious bread shortage because flour could not be transported. The temperature was eight below zero centigrade. Two-thirds of the shops, all the schools and various courts were closed.

A number of houses collapsed beneath snow drifts and there were numerous fires.

Wolves were reported to have made their appearance in the suburbs.

DEPUTY HELD FOR MURDER OF DETECTIVE

Connecticut Officer Questioned In Connection With Death Of Benefactor.

Willimantic, Conn., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Trenor Rice, deputy sheriff and former constable of Chaplin, was under arrest today, charged with the murder of his friend and benefactor, County Detective William E. Jackson, who was found shot to death in the kitchen of his home Tuesday night.

Lieut. Edward P. Leahy of the Willimantic police, said Rice had confessed to former state trooper Rowe H. Wheeler, but Edward J. Hickey, a county detective who has headed the investigation forces, refused to confirm this.

Rice was arrested at the Jackson home last night, after 25 hours of questioning, interrupted briefly for the interrogation for the first time, of Mrs. Jackson and her daughter, Juanita, 24.

Rice was taken to his farm before he was arrested, to allow him to perform certain necessary duties. This farm was owned by Jackson and was to have become Rice's property under a court-claim deed.

Questioning of Rice was started Saturday night after his return from the Jackson funeral at which he was a pallbearer. Detective Hickey revealed after the arrest that he had asked Mrs. Jackson to invite Rice to be a pallbearer for the purpose of "speaking his death."

He also said that he had placed under surveillance since the night Jackson's body was found by Mrs. Jackson and her daughter.

Hickey said the Jackson family told him that last Thursday that Jackson, on recovering from an attack of influenza, had ordered Rice from his home and previously, although he had allowed Rice to live there, he had quarreled with and acted "harshly toward him."

Joseph T. Porhous, mail carrier questioned regarding the telephone message he received from Mrs. Jackson 15 minutes after she and her daughter had discovered the slaying, told Hickey that Mrs. Jackson had merely said, "Please run over to Mr. Rice and tell him to come right away to milk the cows."

Porhous complied and a few moments from the doorway of his own farmhouse, a short distance away from that of Rice, he saw the latter ride away in his automobile.

Rice admitted several days ago that he believed himself a suspect, but added: "Do you think I would kill Jackson? Why, he was my best friend."

CHICAGO BEER GANG MEMBER IS SHOT DOWN

Another Of Joe Saltis' Mob Falls Before Bullets Of City Police.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Bullets continue to cut down the membership of Joe Saltis' mob.

Eddie Piech got three bullets in the chest yesterday when he found police waiting for him in his apartment. Last Thursday it was "Bull" Cain Kuczyński, "traffic manager" in the beer business, of which Piech says Saltis is the head. Kuczyński was shot dead in a South Side apartment, apparently the victim of jealous rivals since the leader began Saltis' ranks since the leader began serving a jail sentence for carrying concealed weapons.

The shooting of Piech by Police Sergeant Thomas Casey occurred when Piech tried to escape. He complained of feeling ill and asked Sergeant Casey to get him a drink of water. As the officer stepped into the kitchen, Piech leaped for the window, smashing the pane with his fist. Before he could jump, Casey fired three times.

With blood oozing from his wounds Piech dropped himself the wall.

"Give me a pass," he said to Casey. "It's worth $100 to you."

"Nothing doing," the officer answered.

"Five hundred, then," said Piech. "Aw, cut it out," Casey said.

"All right, shoot me," shouted Piech, lurching toward the window as though to jump the 20 feet to the ground.

The officer fired again and Piech, wanted in connection with the Savoy ballroom, the Granda cafe and other recent robberies, fell with another bullet wound. His condition today was said to be critical.

Lieut. William Cusick identified Piech as a member of the "Saltis mob." Since Saltis went to jail, he said, the gang has become disorganized, many members of the "mob" turning from beer running to other crimes.

ROCKEFELLER AND STEWART GAIN SUPPORT

Receive One Recruit Each From Stockholders Of Standard Oil Company.

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Col. Robert W. Stewart today each had an additional recruit from the ranks of the stockholders in their battle of proxies for control of the management of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

At the same time the shadow of Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, nemesis of the Teapot Dome conspirators, fell across Stewart's path with a reminder of the Continental Trading Company bonds. It was a displeasure with Stewart's testimony before Walsh's committee concerning those bonds which caused Rockefeller to demand his removal from chairmanship of the board of the Indiana company.

Frank D. Brewer, president of the Glen Ridge, N. J. Trust Company, announced his decision to give his proxies to Rockefeller. He said he owned only a small amount of the stock. With the announcement of his decision, Brewer made public a letter from Senator Walsh in which Walsh expressed surprise that some stockholders of the company had not brought suit to compel the payment by Stewart of what the Senator said was due the company from him in interest on clipped coupons from Continental Trading Company bonds.

Louis Boreman of the Boreman Drug Company of Pittsburgh, sent a telegram to Rockefeller saying he had thrown his lot with Stewart, giving as one reason the fact that Rockefeller had left the company, making it "almost impossible" for him to communicate with you. He said he owned 5,200 shares of the company's stock and that resignation of the officers would be nothing short of a calamity.

Senator Walsh wrote in regard to Stewart's obligations in the matter of interest.

"It will be recalled that the coupons falling due in June and December, 1923, exchanged for Liberty bonds of equal amount, but that thereafter none of the coupons were cashed. Had they been cashed the amount thereof could have been invested in other securities or utilized in the business of the company, which presumably borrows and pays interest. In any event it seems impossible to escape the conclusion that Colonel Stewart is indebted to the company to the amount of interest at the legal rate in the state of Illinois on the coupons not cashed, from the time they came due until he eventually turned them over to the company. It seems equally sound that he was never invested with any authority by the company to turn into Liberty bonds the coupons he actually cashed and that he is answerable for the difference between the amount of the interest thereon at the legal rate and at the rate carried by the bonds."

Chase May Resign As President Of State University

Chapel Hill, N. C., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Dr. Harry W. Chase, president of the University of North Carolina, has under consideration an offer to become connected with a Research Institute in New York city, he announced last night, but has made no decision.

Dr. Chase made the announcement following a report that he would leave the University at the end of the present college year to become director of the Rockefeller Research Council. He denied that the Rockefeller Council was the one which had made the offer, saying he was not at liberty to discuss the name of the institute which he was considering.

Dr. Chase is president of the American Association of College Presidents and was secretary of that organization for many years. He went to the university in 1918 and in 1919 was elected president.

About three years ago he declined an offer to become president of the University of Oklahoma.

4-H CLUB MEETS AT GRIFTON SCHOOL

The 4-H club of the Grifton school met January 31. The meeting was opened by a song, "Sweet Lucia," followed by the roll call and the minutes of the last meeting.

As there was no old business, Miss Nice, the leader, explained the state short course to be given at Raleigh during the following summer. Miss Aileen Charles and Miss Eloise Case were appointed members of a ways and means committee to provide funds for sending a delegate to this school.

It was decided that the leaders of this club would report at the new high school building in Greenville Feb. 16, for a demonstration meeting and would instruct the club members on their return.

The meeting was then turned over to Miss Nice, who told us of the things that we would need and make this year in the sewing course. The meeting was closed by a song, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Safe Refrigeration

1. Never let the temperature rise above 50 degrees F. even in the warmest portion of the food compartment—42 degrees F. is the ideal temperature.

2. Do not overcrowd; keep food covered.

3. If you are an ice refrigerator, keep the ice chamber full; use the ice chamber for ice only; do not wrap the ice.

4. If you use a mechanical refrigerator, follow the manufacturer's directions for clean, care of machinery, and defrosting.

What a difference a good refrigerator makes in home-making! Think of the housekeepers of yesterday turning up and downstairs or outdoors to store food in the cellar or well or in running water. Endless trips and a great deal of fuss to carry out this inefficient method. Compare all this with our present attractive and efficient refrigerators.

Modern refrigeration is possibly the greatest of all aids to present-day living conditions. Through its use to meals may be varied to the imagination and budget of the home-maker will allow. In fact the element of convenience in good refrigeration almost outweighs other factors in the mind of the woman who is the keeper of the refrigerator.

To be able to market for several days at a time is a decided advantage in the housewife's eyes. It gives a sense of housekeeping ease to know that there are always green, crisp and fresh, at hand for the salad and sweet butter cream milk and eggs ready when needed; not to mention a sense of artistic pleasure at being able to keep on hand small amounts of parsley, watercress, pimiento cherries, etc. for garnishing foods effectively.

Yet food preservation is such an important, really vital thing that it alone constitutes sufficient reason for SAFE REFRIGERATION. The growth of micro-organisms which cause souring and spoiling of foods is retarded by cold only, without changing the composition of the food. The Department of Agriculture states that the temperature of the compartment in which food is stored must always be kept below 50 degrees F. if rapid growth of harmful micro-organisms is to be avoided.

As soon as the temperature rises a single degree above 50 degrees F. the activity of bacteria becomes noticeably increased. A well-built refrigerator will maintain this essential uniformly low temperature; but the problem of proper household refrigeration has been greatly simplified in recent years by the development and perfection of the mechanical refrigerator. A thermostat control switch which is found in all modern electrically operated refrigerators, serves automatically to keep the temperature in these refrigerators below 50 degrees F. at all times, regardless of the outside temperature.

It is possible to keep the temperature of an ice refrigerator below 50 degrees F. if the cabinet is of good quality and well constructed and sufficient ice is kept in the ice-chamber at all times. The best way to test the food preserving qualities of your refrigerator is to take its temperature occasionally. If this rises above 50 degrees F. you will know that your refrigerator is not safe for food.

If you are considering a mechanical refrigerator, it is well to inquire just which is best suited to your local needs. When you purchase any refrigerator be sure that the cabinet is well built and well insulated so that atmospheric conditions will not affect the temperature inside the box. See too, that the interior of the box is smooth, or a material which will not absorb colors, and which may be easily cleaned. Whenever possible the corners of the interior should be rounded to aid in cleaning. A good refrigerator is an investment which will outlast several of the poorer quality, and the up-keep will be about half as much. —From Pietor's Review.

World War Hero Dead

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 4.—(AP)—An inquest was planned today into the death of Herbert Frederick Wearne, of New York, 37 years old veteran of the Canadian World War forces, who was found dead in his room in a hotel early yesterday. Police said he had hanged himself, leaving no explanation of his act.

Word from New York indicated Wearne was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wearne, who now are traveling in Europe. The elder Wearne is said to be a wealthy paper manufacturer.

British Aviatix Flunks Examination

New York, Feb. 4.—(AP)—Lady Heath, British aviatix, who has flown 1,300 hours, flunked a non-judicial examination for an American transport pilot's license and wants to take the examination all over again and at once.

Her flying ability met with all the requirements and her physical condition was found perfect, but she was unable to rate 70 per cent on navigation and department of commerce regulations.

Protesting that she was a stranger in this country and that her livelihood had been taken from her on account of a technical interpretation, Lady Heath has wired to the department of commerce asking for particulars and permission to repeat the examination immediately.

Drop Kidnaping Charge Against School Teacher

Elizaville, Ga., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Mrs. M. M. Wellons, 35-year-old school teacher and Edwin Chapman, her 17-year-old pupil, were reconciled with their families today, while the kidnaping charge entered against the woman when she disappeared with the boy two weeks ago, had been dropped.

The lady's desire to get back to his mother brought him home after a 2,000 mile automobile venture to Toledo, Ohio, and back to Americus, Ga., with Mrs. Wellons.

The woman was at the home of her mother, Mrs. E. Z. Jackson, in Americus, where she is recuperating from nervous exhaustion. Her husband also is with her. A charge of kidnaping entered by the elder Chapman against the woman, has been withdrawn.

Young Chapman told officers Mrs. Wellons had $150 when they left Elizaville in Toledo, she said, the woman obtained a position and wanted to stay but that he became homesick and wanted to see his mother.

The return to Americus was made, he said, where his companion gave him what money she had left, told him to buy a railroad ticket anywhere he wanted to go, and said she "was ready to stand by me to the last in this business."

The boy went to the home of a brother in Andalusia, Ala., where his father called for him.

Gasparilla Opens At Tampa, Florida

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 4.—(AP)—Armed with sawed off shotguns and automatic pistols instead of outlasses and pistolettes affected by their predecessors several score members of Ye Mistic Krew of Gasparilla called into port today, and captured the city for pleasure and carnival instead of loot and debauchery, as did the original piratical crew, according to legend, many years ago.

Arriving at noon, the buccannier ship, bristling with cannon and flying the "Jolly Rover," passed in review before Governor Carlton and city officials. The ship's company then took places on decorated floats, part of a long pageant that paraded through crowded streets to the fair grounds where the governor again reviewed the assembly and Mayor D. B. McKay delivered up the keys to the city.

The reign of King Gasparilla and his Queen will come to an end at a private ball tomorrow night when a new king and queen, elected by secret ballot, will appear, with maids and courtiers, before the crew and a few special guests.

Dopsters Busy With Big Fight

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 4.—(AP)—The dopsters were in hard training today for the Sharkey-Stribling fight February 27. Few others, particularly the principals in the battle of Miami Beach, gave any indication of being overburdened with work.

While Young Stribling, pride of Macan, Ga., and Jack Sharkey, erstwhile Boston job, smash the turf and the golf courses at conditioning, the single-eyed groups who have watched the boxers every muscle stroke since their arrival last week, began their serious work of advance experting.

So far the weather has led other topics in early speculation. It has been loudly argued that Sharkey, fresh from the cold north, will be hampered by the balmy breezes in Flamingo Park, while the Georgian is conceded the advantage of knowing his southern weather. None has yet advanced the thought that the fight may be held on a chilly night.

Now that he has finished the signing of contracts, even down to the peanut concession, and has seen the stadium begin to grow, promoter Jack Dempsey also apparently has cast aside care, and has been engaged industriously in counting ticket receipts.

Both Sharkey and Stribling believe their recent fights have put them in shape for the bout, and intend to engage only in light work to keep them in condition. Neither has yet engaged in any serious training, training their few appearances in the ring being merely for the satisfaction of fans and news photographers.
