HOOVER STILL ON INSPECTION OF FLOOD AREA

President-Elect To Conclude Visit To Everglades Flood District Today.

Clewiston, Fla., Feb. 16.—(AP)—President-elect Hoover today expected to conclude his inspection of what Floridians call "the last outpost of America"—the everglades section which with the aid of the federal government they hope to convert into a great sugar bowl with an annual hundred million dollar crop.

Refreshed by a night's rest after his strenuous day yesterday in motoring 210 miles from his Belle Isle home to this city, the next chief executive planned to spend the morning driving through the section from here to Canal Point which was hardest hit by the hurricane and flood last September.

Mr. Hoover unquestionably was impressed by what he saw on the first day of his journey and Governor Doyle E. Carlton and members of his cabinet who are accompanying him are hopeful that he will be even more impressed today by what he will see at Canal Point and going about rebuilding after the catastrophe they suffered six months ago.

Before going into the last phase of his journey, the President-elect viewed actual picture showing what happened in the 1928 hurricane around the southeastern shores of Lake Okechobee and listening to an outline by Major General Jadwin of the plan of flood relief which the army engineers have recommended to Congress.

This plan contemplates three phases—the building of a levee on the south side of the lake 21 feet high; or 15 feet above the mean level of the lake; drainage canals from the lake into the Caloosahatchee River which empties into the Gulf of Mexico, and the improvement of the Saint Lucie Canal into the Atlantic near Palm Beach.

There are some lesser features such as protection to the north from the flood waters of the Mississippi River with a levee. The main levee would be built of solid rock taken out of the ground on the spot and would be of sufficient estimated strength to hold against any pressure of water that might come from the lake. General Jadwin called attention to the fact that the state already had expended $18,000,000 on canals for reclamation, irrigation and navigation and suggested that this be taken into consideration.

He added that this was the recommendation of the engineers to Congress. Rep. Frank R. Reid of Illinois, chairman of the House flood control committee, who made an airplane flight over the everglades with General Jadwin yesterday, said part of the cost of completing the work Florida has begun would have to be borne by the state or local communities which would benefit. He estimated the cost of the south shore levee alone at $7,500,000 and the cost of the whole project at more than $10,000,000.

Rep. Reid suggested that the name everglades be changed, proposing that it be made the Hoover-Skipper drainage district in honor of the President-elect and the Republican national committeeman for Florida.

With Rockefeller
New York—Mrs. Ruth L. Pratt, who will be a member of the next Congress, is a stockholder in Standard Oil of Indiana through inheritances from her husband, whose father was an associate of John D. Rockefeller, Sr. "My sympathies are with Mr. Rockefeller," she remarked in refusing to say definitely whether Rockefeller, Jr. would have her proxy in his fight against Colonel Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the company. She is an honorary member of the Bible Class of Rockefeller, Jr., and met her husband through him.

Taxpayers' League Wants To Expand

Asheville, N. C., Feb. 16.—(AP)—The Citizens and Taxpayers' League of Buncombe County, Inc., the organization which succeeded in supplanting the Democratic officeholders in this county last year with Republicans for the first time in 30 years, will seek to expand its sphere of influence by encouraging the establishment of similar organizations throughout the state. It was revealed last night at the first all-member meeting of the group.

The organization also announced its intention to wage a vigorous fight on the absentee ballot law, which Senator Guy Weather has sought to repeal in the General Assembly.

The league has 1,156 members and is non-political.

NEW BLIZZARD IS SWEEPING OVER EUROPE

Shortage of Coal, Gas And Electricity Causes Increased Suffering.

London, Feb. 16.—(AP)—A new blizzard, bringing ice and snow, was swooping down upon Central Europe from Siberian Steppes and the East.

Shortage of coal, gas, electricity and water developed as the blizzard from which the continent has suffered continued with little lessening. Hope arising from slight rises in temperatures in Germany was counteracted with forecasts of the new cold weather.

For England warmer weather was predicted but present conditions caused extreme discomfort and suffering. Freezing of water mains has made it necessary for thousands of Britons to obtain their drinking water from temporary stand pipes in the streets.

Freezing of a gas main and the danger of artificial thawing left downtown Berlin without gas for fuel and lighting yesterday. Ice disabled the power station at Breslau, where it was 29 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, and that city was without electricity.

All schools at Berlin have been closed, and water and food shortages have developed. These have given rise to considerable price-raising and speculation which authorities are combating.

Zagreb, Yugoslavia, reported 30 villages near there buried under an enormous snowfall. Transportation facilities were disrupted and authorities were unable to send food which was seriously needed.

At one village five Gypsies were found dead after they had, it was said, knocked in vain at peasants' homes, asking for shelter.

There was danger of a typhoid fever being bottled up in the ice in Belgium and intense cold persisted in France.

CALLS TUCKER FOR CRITICISM INCARNES CASE

President Of Baptist Mission Board Wants Raleigh Minister To Present Charges

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Dr. Luther Rice Christie, president of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, has addressed a letter to Dr. J. Powell Tucker, Raleigh, N. C., chairman of the executive committee of the general board of the church, denying mishandling of the prosecution of Clinton S. Carnes for his embezzlement of mission board funds and demanding that critics of the board come to Atlanta and make specific charges.

Dr. Christie's letter was in reply to a resolution signed by Dr. Tucker, condemning the Home Mission Board's consent agreement for a five-year prison sentence for the defaulting former treasurer of the board, and demanding the resignation of five members of the mission board.

Dr. Christie's letter was written coincidental with the compilation and preparation for mailing of a complete report of the board's action in the Carnes case, to Baptist state secretaries and to Baptist officials generally throughout the south.

In his letter to Dr. Tucker, the mission board president denied board members had been guilty of any malfeasance, as charged. In the resolution, he demanded to know the names of the five members of the board who were asked in the resolution to resign.

"We have no information on hand," Dr. Christie's letter read, "which could lead one to the conclusion that any of our members have been guilty of misconduct. If it is shown that any member of the board has been guilty of any unworthiness, we will demand his instant resignation, without pressure brought on us from other organizations."

Dr. Christie assured the North Carolina church officials that his expenses to Atlanta would be paid if he would come here and "lay all the facts of the case" before the mission board.

The resolution, charged by Dr. Tucker, was said to have charged that "all members of the Home Mission Board who participated in the handling of the Carnes case, having forfeited to such an extent the confidence of the denomination at large, should be required to sever their connection with the board."

SEVEN MASSACRED IN CHICAGO GANGLAND FEUD

Seven members of the "Bugs" Moran gang of Chicago, trapped in a garage by rival gangsters, who represented themselves as policemen, were shot to death. None of the slain men was armed. Upper picture, the victims. Lower right, crowd outside garage, and lower left, Herman N. Dundesen, coroner, who began investigation.

IDENTIFY THREE PERSONS IN CHICAGO GANG MURDER; BEGIN WARFARE ON CRIME

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Three "Purple" gangsters of Detroit today were three identified through photographs as members of the gun gang hunted for Thursday's septuple slaying.

They were the spies, police said, the "spotters," the advance men for murder. They were planted in advance to observe the men marked for death, note their hours of gathering, so that the actual killers would know exactly when and how to strike.

Two women and a man living across from the garage where the gang massacre took place made the identification. From a score of photographs they picked three which they said were of men who had rented rooms overlooking the garage—rooms which they occupied during a period of days immediately preceding the assassinations.

Harry and Phil Keywell, brothers, and Eddie Fletcher were the three whose pictures were identified.

Following the identifications police announced that the trail of Chicago's bloodiest gang murder was growing hot and that important arrests were near. But even the prospect of early and definite police action was overshadowed by several sensational aftermaths of the crime.

For one thing, George (Bugs) Moran was found, not by authorities but by newspapermen. The seven who were slain were Moran mobsters.

For another, a fiery shaft of enmity and warning was shot by State's Attorney John A. Swanson at the law enforcement agencies of Chicago and Cook county.

The state's attorney called Police Commissioner Russell, county high police officials, sheriff's office and county police to his office and issued this flat:

"Enforce the gambling law, and the laws against vice. "Obey these orders, or you'll go to prison."

Swanson told them that their departments were to blame for the gang massacre. Those murders, he said, and the long list of unsolved ones that preceded it, were committed for just one reason, and that reason, he told them, was the easy money which enforcement agencies had permitted gangsters to collect.

"It is past time," said Swanson, who was elected last November on a drive-out-crime platform, "to put a guilty policeman into prison until he put a guilty gangster there. If you have any doubts, I'll settle them for you."

It was the strongest declaration from one enforcement agency to another that has been heard in Chicago in a long time. It was followed by swift action. The police set out to make Chicago bone dry for the first time since prohibition. Shortly after midnight a sweeping order went forth from Commissioner Russell's office. All police

Legislature Adjourns Until Monday Evening; Millner Bill Passes

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 16.—(AP)—The House did a full day's work today, notwithstanding it was Saturday, while the Senate held a brief session, limited by previous agreement, to the consideration of local measures.

By suspending its rules, the House passed the Millner sterilization bill, and the measure thus became law, as the Senate had previously passed it. Fathered by Senator Millner, Republican of Burke, the law authorized the sterilization of mental defectives in State institutions, upon the recommendation of specified officials, and also provides for the same operation upon defectives not in institutions, when requested by the proper relatives and approved by medical authorities.

The resolution of Representative Gwyn, Republican of Rockingham, to provide for the appointment of an investigating commission charged with ascertaining if there is overlapping of effort by state departments, was approved on second reading, after the adoption of an amendment which reduced it from a mandatory character to a permissive measure.

The amendment provides that the governor "may" appoint the commission, whereas, the original bill used the word "shall."

Senator Clark's resolution to memorialize Congress in behalf of a capital-to-capital system of highways was the vehicle for a bill in the House at the expense of Col. L. Kirkpatrick of Charlotte, who under the original will would be named chairman of a committee of five to present the petition to Congress. The House amended the measure to include federal aid for a celestial highway connecting various planets, with a provision that Col. Kirkpatrick make the first trip over the route. Another amendment provided that no expense should be incurred on behalf of the state of North Carolina.

Numerous minor bills were passed by the House. Both houses adjourned until 8 o'clock Monday night.

Under a suspension of the rules, the Millner bill to authorize the sterilization of mental defectives under certain conditions was given final legislative approval today. The House passed the bill without a record vote. It had already been passed by the Senate.

Representative Raynor, Republican of Johnston, sought to delay final passage by raising an objection to third reading today, but the House adopted a resolution by Representative Nash, Democrat of Richmond, for a suspension of the rules, which made the vote possible.

Introduced by Senator Millner, Republican of Burke, the measure provides for the sterilization of mental defectives in state penal and charitable institutions, upon the recommendation of specified officials. It would also apply to similar persons not in institutions, when requested by relatives.

The Gwyn resolution, proposing an investigation of the state government to determine if there is any overlapping of effort which can be eradicated, was approved on second reading, after adoption of an amendment which makes the measure permissive instead of mandatory. As introduced, the resolution provided that the governor should appoint an investigating commission, but this clause was changed to read that the governor "may" appoint. The proposal was fathered by Representative Gwyn, Republican of Rockingham.

Other state-wide measures passed by the House included a bill by Representatives Young and Leavitt, Republicans of Buncombe, to change the time for non-resident automobile owners to register with the Motor Vehicle Bureau of the State Department of Revenue from 10 to 60 days after entrance in the state. The bill as first introduced would have made the time 90 days, but Leavitt accepted an amendment today that placed the time at 60 days. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The State Commissioner of Revenue would be made ex officio attorney for non-resident automobile owners involved in automobile accidents in North Carolina under a bill of Representative Gill, Democrat of Scotland, that passed. It provided that papers in suits for damages against such non-residents may be served on the commissioner, and a copy mailed to the non-resident and that such shall be held satisfactory service. Gill said the bill was a copy of the Massachusetts law and that it had been held constitutional by the United States Supreme Court.

The House enacted into law a Senate bill providing for commitment of war veterans to proper institutions.

A bill was introduced in the Senate today by Senator T. L. Johnson, of Robeson, which would regulate the retail sale of eyeglasses and lenses in the state. The measure would prevent the sale of eyeglasses, lenses or anything designed to correct or aid the eyes except by a physician or an accredited optometrist.

The Senate was restricted today to the consideration of local bills. A bill calling for an appropriation of $50,000 for the General Assembly was introduced by Senator Johnson, who said the bill was designed to care for the increase in pay of the members of the Assembly. The present budget revenue bill does not provide for the increase voted at the last election.

The Senate will meet Monday night at 8 o'clock. House bills passed today:

To repeal sections relating to special investigator for solicitor's office; to place the county officials of Burke county on a salary; limiting the time to be devoted to the office of county engineer of Buncombe county; relating to compensation of county solicitor of Cleveland county; relating to charter of town of Raeford, providing for a change in date of elections; relative to migratory water fowls in Carteret county; for the relief of town of Syria; relative to migratory water fowls in Hyde county.

Senate bill approved were: Relative to tax collector of Robeson county; to make the tax penalties in Maxton, uniform with the state law; to permit the Piedmont Realty Company, of Gaston county, to disinter and remove the remains of W. T. Watts, a Confederate veteran; to provide for the election of city council of Fayetteville by a full vote of the people; relative to the roads of Beaufort county; to authorize commission of city of Raleigh to adjust with property owners encroachments on streets; to create a park commission for Raleigh and describe its duties; for relief of A. G. Ray, of Wake county, allowing county to refund money stolen from him while he was bonded officer; to allow city of Burlington to make estimates on taxes and special collections.

The following bills were introduced today: Beam: To place the sheriff of Rutherford county on a salary and to further define his duties. Johnson, of Robeson: To make a supplemental appropriation of $50,000 to provide payment of salaries to members of General Assembly. Johnson, of Robeson: To regulate sale of eyeglasses, spectacles, and lenses at retail. Weaver: To allow authorities of Buncombe county to spend surplus of fund for another purpose. Scott: Relative to uniform rates and measure. Broughton: To authorize county of Wake to issue refunding bonds.

SEVERAL PERISH WHEN REBELS DYNAMITE AND BURN MEXICAN TRAIN

Mexico City, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Survivors of a train attack in which as many as 25 or 30 may have perished were en route today to Mexico City from Yurucuri, Michoacan. News of the attack is carried in Mexico City newspapers today in special dispatches from Guadalajara.

The Guadalajara dispatches to Excelsior say the entire military escort of the train—usually between 30 and 50—and its engineer and fireman were killed.

Zamora dispatches to El Universal merely say "some of the passengers, some of the crew, and some soldiers perished."

The train, proceeding from Reyes to Yurucuri, from where it was to go to Mexico City, was dynamited between the stations of Morebano and Guarachita. Insurgents then attacked it, the escort fighting until its ammunition gave out. The tackers then burned the train. The Zamora dispatches said although the engineer and fireman were both killed in the explosion, members of the crew detached the locomotive from the coaches and, taking some passengers with them, ran it through the insurgents lines to Zamora, and later to Yurucuri.

The entire garrison at Zamora was sent in pursuit of the insurgents.

The raid was reputedly led by a General Comandante, that during the regime of Victoriano Huerta, was sent to the Vera Cruz area to repel a possible advance of Americans toward Mexico City. There was an advance and hence no clash with Gornostia's troops.

He afterwards led a counter-offensive against Venustiano Carranza and since has generally been identified with the so-called reactionary movement in Mexico.

CIVIL COURT IS POSTPONED

The one-week term of Pitt County Superior Court, for the trial of civil cases, scheduled to open in this city Monday morning, has been deferred until Wednesday morning. Information to this effect was received today from Judge Daniels, who stated that matters demanding his attention in Superior court would prevent his coming to Greenville in time to open court Monday morning as scheduled.

GREAT BRITAIN DESIRES NEW NAVAL TREATY

Nation Ready to Take Initiative For Second Armament Limitation Confab.

Washington, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Reports that another naval armament limitations conference was in the making, have taken shape with the announcement by Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador, that his government plans to take the initiative toward such a conference.

The United States and Japan are both believed to favor an armament parity. The Washington government has received no direct word from Great Britain. This, and the fact that the next administration will probably have to deal with the problem, has impelled the administration to proceed cautiously but word has gone out that the United States is maintaining its traditional attitude of readiness to participate in such a movement. Baron Tanaka, Japanese foreign minister, recently suggested that it might be well to advance the date of the conference set for 1931.

It is thought that the British government will propose a preliminary conference to prepare for the 1931 parity which phases of the agreement reached at the Washington conference in 1921 come up for review. The number of capital ships and their tonnage and armament were limited at the 1921 meeting. The tonnage of cruisers was also limited to 10,000 tons each and their maximum armament was limited to an eight-inch gun, but no restriction was placed on the number of cruisers to be built by each nation.

It is believed that at the next conference a determined effort will be made to limit auxiliary ships and to arrive at a different method of comparing fleet strength other than by tonnage figures and gun caliber.

It was considered significant that the United States in a statement to the press, in which it was willing to advance the date of the 1931 conference in case a majority of the powers that ratified that pact favor such action.

Sir Esme explained that his government had not indicated its attitude heretofore because the bill authorizing 15 cruisers and one aircraft carrier was pending before Congress. He declared that now that this bill had become a law that there was reason to believe "A further effort before long will be made to reach an agreement between the principal naval powers of the world for the limitation of naval armaments."

He called attention to the favorable attitude of the United States in the past toward such a conference and said that the League of Nations made it mandatory on league members to take further steps toward armament limitation, and declared there appeared a much better prospect of success than at the Geneva conference in 1927, which ended in failure.

Snowbound Miners Face Starvation

Durango, Colo., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Cut off from the world by snow-slides for two weeks, 235 miners at the Sunnyside mine and mill north of the isolated town of Silverton, near here, today had only enough food to last three or four days.

By telephone, their only means of communications with the outside, the miners sent word last night that their provisions were low. A supply of meat, butter and eggs would be exhausted in a few days, they said.

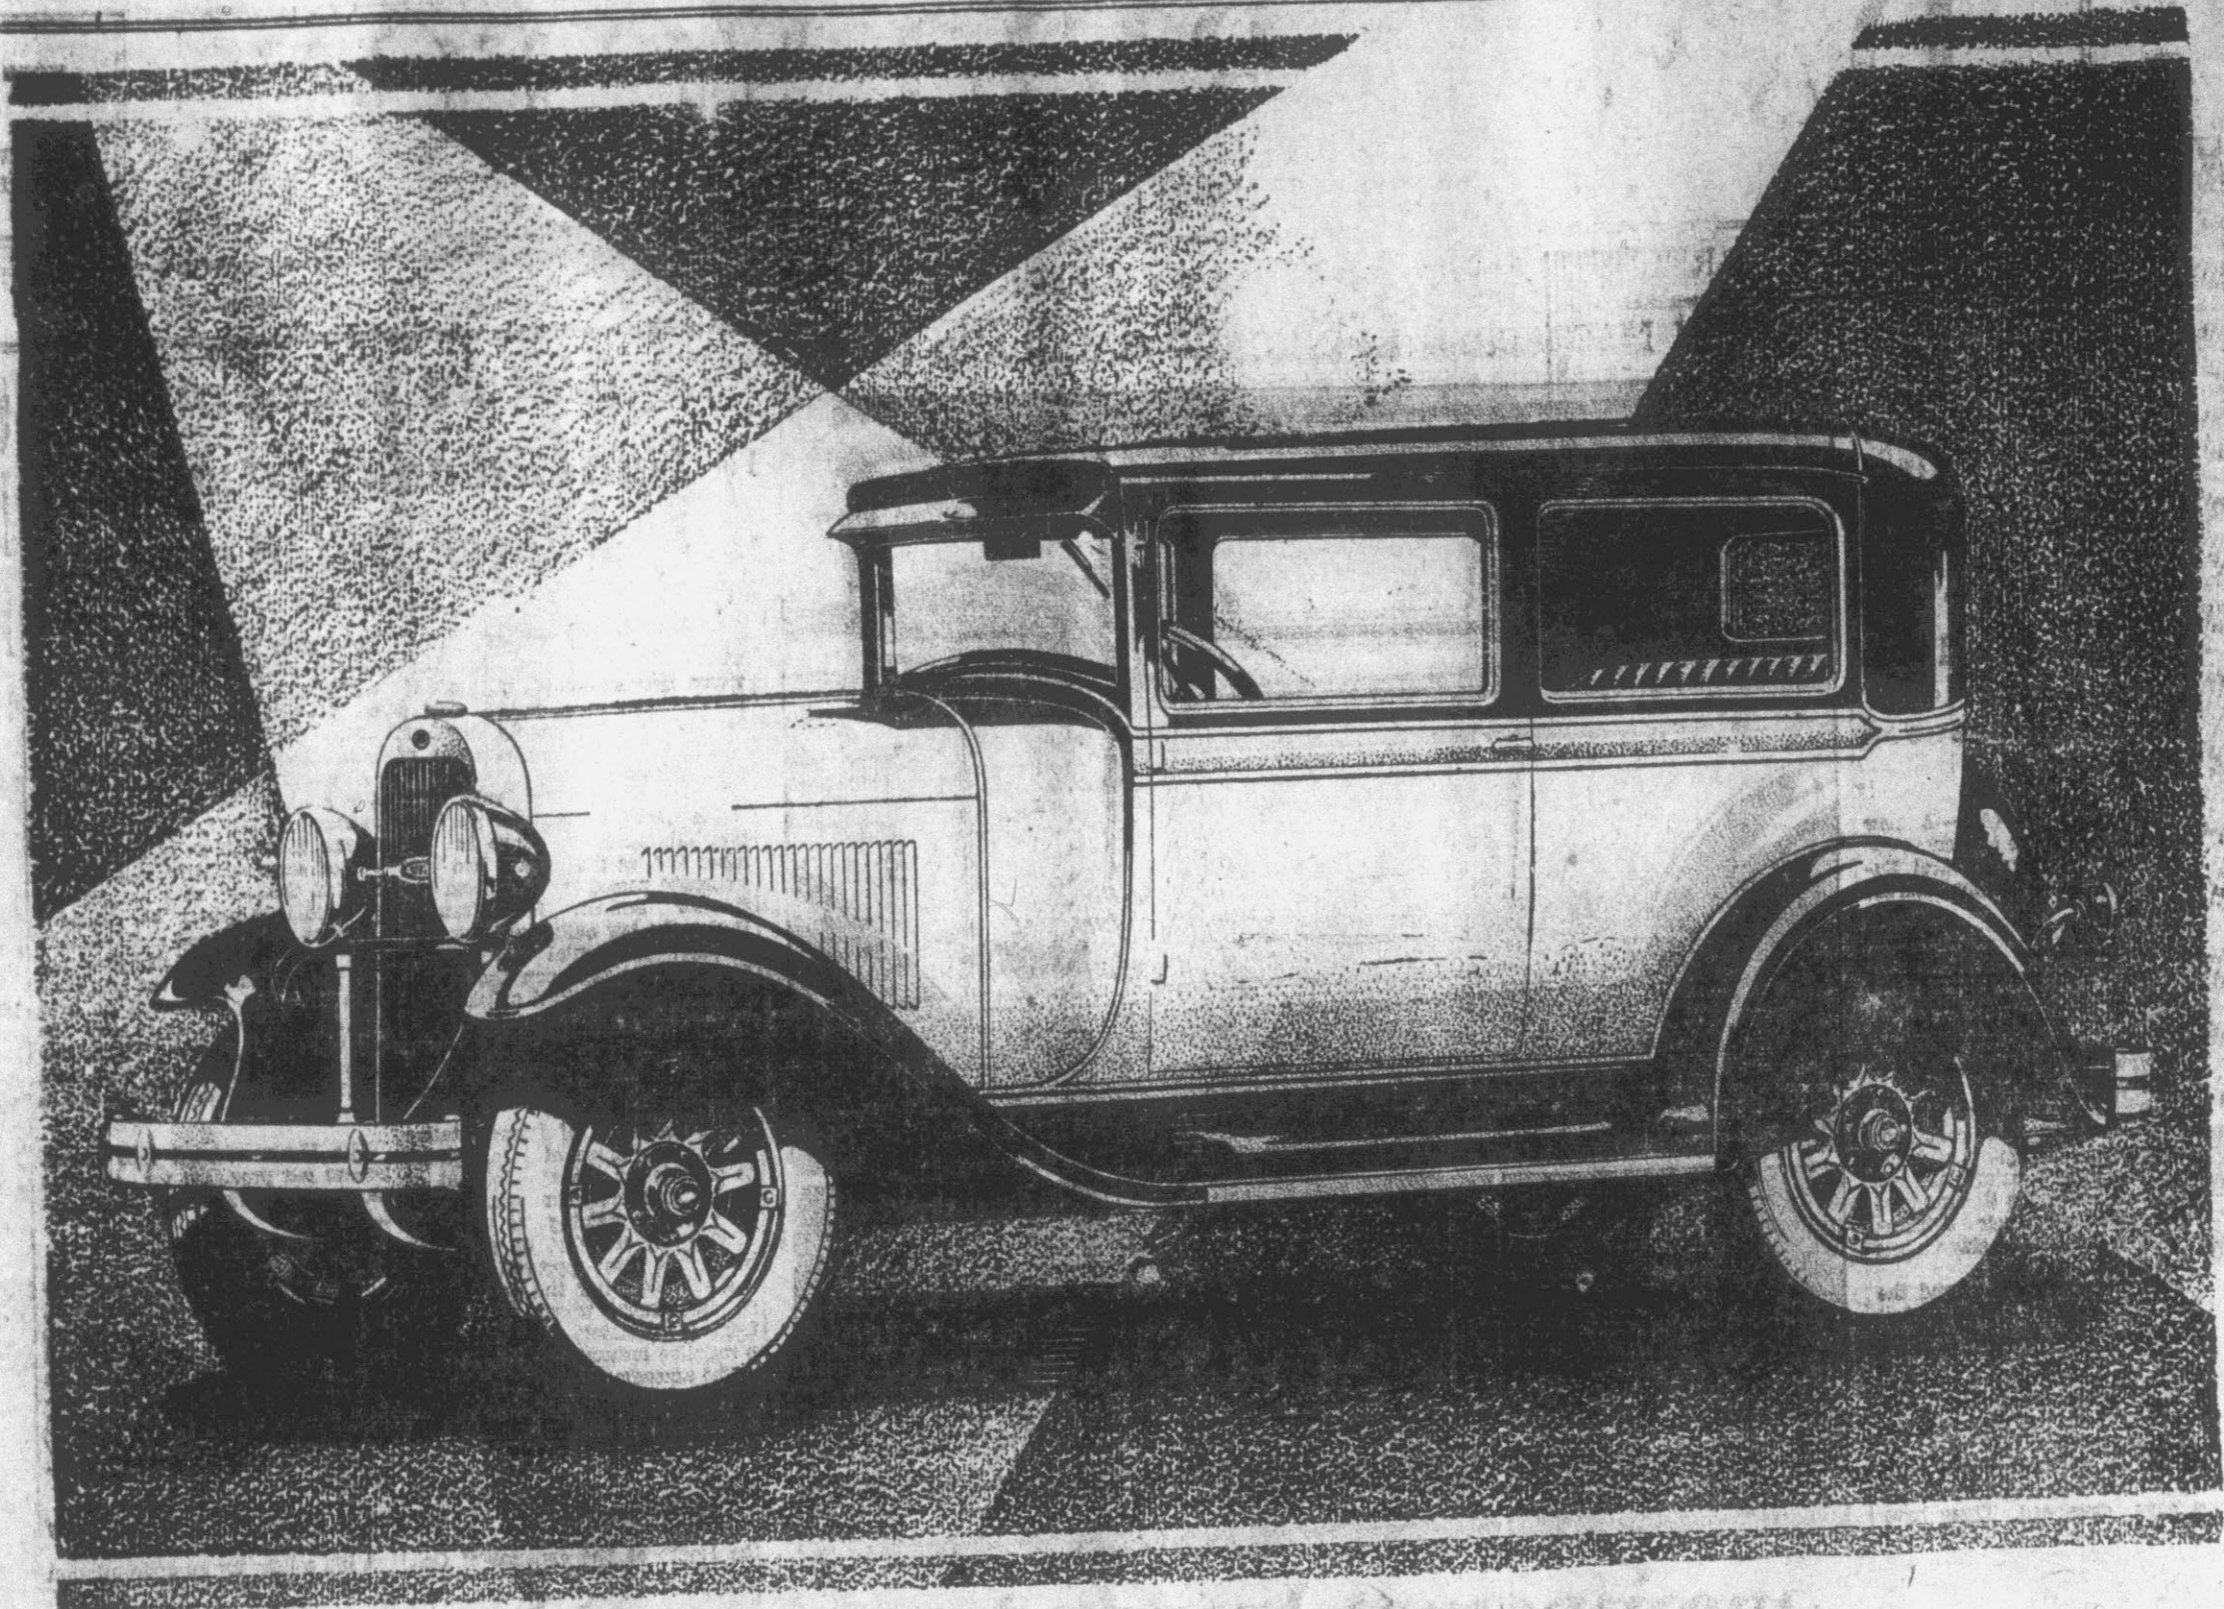

Efforts to move mail and provisions to Silverton and Eureka, another isolated town, on a mule pack train have failed. Great snow-lides between Silverton and Durango have buried the railroad tracks under snow that in some places reaches a depth of 300 feet. An army of shovelers has been at work ten days cutting through the blockade and it was estimated that it would take that much longer to get through.

OCHS DESCRIBES STONE
AS GREAT LEADER
New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times, says: "In Mr. Stone's death journalism loses a courageous leader and wise counselor and the country a true patriot."

"When more than thirty years ago he dedicated his life to the task of developing a news service owned and controlled by the newspapers, it served the cause known to possess in a limited degree intelligence of newspaper work."

He afterwards led a counter-offensive against Venustiano Carranza and since has generally been identified with the so-called reactionary movement in Mexico.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT OF PUBLIC FAVOR

With New Lower Prices

Again the spotlight of public favor has singled out Oldsmobile—at the great National Automobile Shows—

—not because of any radical changes in the 1929 Oldsmobile, but for a more vital and fundamental reason—

—because critical comparison with other cars in its field reveals an overwhelming margin of value in favor of Oldsmobile.

Desirable improvements have been added to the fine car that won enthusiastic praise from thousands of owners whom it has served so dependably. And at the same time its price has been reduced!

Already representative of the most progressive engineering, Oldsmobile's big high-compression engine now develops 62 horsepower. Piston-pins are now pressure-lubricated—an engineering feature heretofore characteristic of high-priced cars.

Already distinctive in appearance, the smartness of Oldsmobile's Fisher bodies has been enhanced by new headlamps on chromium-plated mountings—by a new cadet-type visor—and by a wide choice of new, sparkling color combinations.

And even greater luxury is revealed inside the car—by deeper, softer seat-cushions—by new, more costly upholsteries—and by the wonderful new Fisher adjustable front seat that may be instantly adjusted to suit the driver's convenience.

Greenville Girl To Take Part In National Observance Of 197th Anniversary Washington's Birthday

Miss Helen Forbes White

A signal honor has come to Miss Helen Forbes White, charming young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam T. White, of this city, in the form of an invitation to represent the North Carolina Society of the Children of the American Revolution, February 22, at the official celebration commemorating the 197th anniversary of the birth of George Washington.

The official ceremony will include exercises in the Polk Theatre in Washington, D. C., after which there will be a pilgrimage to Mount Vernon to place the North Carolina floral tribute presented by Miss White, upon the grave of George Washington.

In addition to the official celebration of Washington's birthday a pilgrimage to the tomb of Woodrow Wilson for the placing of a similar floral tribute by Miss White has been arranged. Each of these floral tributes will be in the form of a large cross of white lilies upon a background of long leaf pine and various evergreens for which North Carolina is noted.

The annual official celebration of Washington's birthday is given under the auspices of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia and the honor of presenting the floral tribute goes to only one state at each celebration. In view of the fact that it is only once in many years that North Carolina has opportunity to take part in the celebration in this role, friends of Miss White here consider it a great honor that she has been chosen on this occasion. Representatives of the army, navy, marine corps and Boy and Girl Scouts will also take part in the exercises.

Mrs. S. T. White will accompany her daughter to Washington and while there they will be the guests of Dr. and Mrs. D. M. Sherbrook at their home on Sixteenth street.

Miss White, who is president of the recently organized Major Aaron Tyson Society, C. A. R., in this city is a direct descendant of the society's namesake. She is likewise a descendant of Major Benjamin May, of Pitt county, to whose memory a marker was erected near Farmville a few months ago. A charming Valentine party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Adams on Thursday, from 7 to 10 p. m., when the members of the College Faculty Club entertained their husbands and a few guests.

The program for the meeting was in the hands of Mrs. Herbert Re-barker and it proved to be a most interesting one to all concerned, as it took the form of an elaborate buffet supper. The house was tastefully decorated in red and white, the same color scheme prevailing as much as possible in the menu served. Partners were chosen by drawing hearts, and during the evening each guest was presented with an old-fashioned nose-gay. The hostesses were assisted in serving by Miss Alma McCrimbs, and the invited guests, were the husbands of the members, and Mr. J. B. Flanagan, and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keech.

After supper, tables were arranged for games, and the company made merry until time to say "good-night." This truly was a "red-letter day" in the history of the club.

SLICK AS A RIBBON

It is said the MacLean bill now before the Legislature will give relief to taxation on land and at the same time will give an eight months term in the public schools. If the bill will do that, all right. It ought to pass slick as a ribbon.—Charity and Children.

Commenting on this assertion by Charity and Children that the bill should pass, the News and Observer says:

"Of course it ought to pass, as to the principle incorporated, though it might be improved as to machinery. But—there is a great movement of organized opposition. Strange, isn't it?"

"The Budget Commission recommends an increase of the fund to equalize school terms to $5,000,000. Another five or six million dollars is necessary to give the eight months school and to give a reduction of six or seven million dollars of tax reduction on land which would reduce taxation in nearly all the one hundred counties in North Carolina.

"Where is the necessary tax or seven million dollars to come from? With a one-cent increase on high income taxes and additional expert officers to collect the income tax fully, half the sum can be raised from the income tax. The Tax Commission reports that the power companies are paying much less tax than the railroads and other public service corporations. By putting all public service corporations on an equality a considerable sum can be raised. The same is true of a proper tax on inheritances and on big investments in insurance policies and certain luxuries which do not touch necessities and which cannot be correctly termed 'nuisance taxes.' That term has been much overworked by parties wishing to make any luxury tax odious.

"The question, plain and direct, that will come up before the Legislature is one of two alternatives:

1. Continue the heavy tax on homes, farms and factories, which now pay the bulk of the taxes in the State and in some counties bear unjustifiable burdens, or

2. Relieve land of taxes by raising six or seven million dollars in ways which will be no serious burden to anybody, imposing it where it is easiest to pay. And at the same time give the same eight months school to the 25 per cent of the children to whom it is now denied.

"Which shall it be—eight months school for all and reduced tax on visible property or continued exemption of the fair share of taxation for those not now bearing their proportionate part of the expenses of government and schools? "Which? It must be one or the other."

ABOUT TOWN

"That fellow Lindbergh causes newspaper men more trouble than any other person in the country," emphatically declared a local scribe today, endeavoring to straighten out press dispatches regarding the colonel's location.

"Lindbergh of late starts out without giving anyone the slightest idea of where he plans to go. He is hounded from place to place by the newspapers. Sometimes he is reported missing, and all the world holds its breath while clicking wires carry the story to the remotest ends of the earth.

"Eventually the lone eagle is spotted in some secluded part of the country. People rest easier. Even the newspapermen get a minute's peaceful slumber. All's well with the flying world.

"Soon the man that blazed the way over the Atlantic will be getting married. Maybe his wife will have some influence in keeping him out of the clouds so often. That is entirely problematical for it is said she is air-minded, too. She is also a poetess. Maybe the latter will predominate to such extent that she will be able to keep the firm of 'we' out of the air at least long enough to give the rest of the world a breathing spell."

"We send Eilhu Root over to Europe to sound out sentiment for abolishing war and at the same time plans for building fifteen more cruisers and an airplane carrier," commented a citizen today, looking over some of the highlights of the day's news.

"What's the idea? Why build more cruisers and then try to abolish war? Preparation for war is nothing more than telling other countries we are ready, come on and fight."

"The theory of the Kellogg plan to abolish war contains some mighty fine sentiment. It is as lofty as an anthem sung by a thousand singers. But is it applicable? Consider the action of Congress. Answer your own question."

"Tax reduction," declared a well-known citizen today, "holds the thought of the majority of people today. It will continue to predominate public thought until some means of relieving oppressive taxation is found.

"The Legislature has a couple of measures before it providing for relief. But the law-makers evidently are not interested in reducing taxes. They have too many other things demanding attention. For instance there are a thousand other acts to confound the average citizen and which only barristers of more than average intelligence are capable of understanding.

"But tax reduction is in the offing. Public sentiment has been aroused. And you can't down the public when it once becomes upset over anything. The Legislature might as well work out some means of relief. If this one does not—other such sessions are to come and strange faces will fill the seats occupied by complacent-looking gentlemen at this time."

"Some fraternal organization is endeavoring to put the Bible and the American flag in every school of the country," we were informed today.

"It is a good idea. Education can not possibly be of service to human kind without a love for the Bible and the flag under which we live. It is a pity the teaching of the Bible has been omitted in some schools. The whole structure of our government is founded on the teachings of the lowly Nazarene, who, nearly two thousand years ago stood on the shores of Galilee and preached divine doctrine of 'Peace on each good will to all men.'"

"We may master every science known to human kind but the soul is not satisfied. There is a starless night ahead that only the teaching of the Bible can brighten."

"This organization with the Bible and flag in every school idea should continue its good work. It has a future—a future filled with a genuine service to the children of coming generations."

SHERIFFS FURNISH FINAL THRILL AT WRESTLING MATCH Las Vegas, Nev., Feb. 15.—(AP)—Four deputy sheriffs furnished a thrilling end to a wild and woolly wrestling match here last night when they leaped into the ring and arrested S. F. Vanerman, Sainas, Cal. heavyweight, after he had been thrown twice by "Bull" Montana, Hollywood movie-grappler.

Vanerman, dazed from being thrown to the canvas on his head by Montana, attempted to fight off the officers while the crowd of cowboys, real estate promoters and miners, roared approval. Suddenly he remembered he had been under technical arrest all afternoon and was to go to jail immediately after the match on a warrant from his home town charging grand theft. He quit fighting, apologized and accompanied the officers, who had postponed his formal arrest to prevent disappointment of those who had purchased tickets for the bout.

Four Teams Stand Out In Conference

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Four of the basketball teams conceded more than an outside chance in the southern conference basketball tournament here at the close of the current season, strengthened hopes of their backers last night by victories over conference opponents.

Alabama's Crimson quinet scored the most overwhelming victory, defeating Florida 58 to 28, while Clemson had a trifle stiffer task in turning back South Carolina, 17 to 12. Both Florida and South Carolina now have dropped ten games apiece during the season.

The University of Mississippi had little trouble winning from the Mississippi Aggies, 37 to 21, while Tulane barely edged out ahead of Louisiana State by a score of 40 to 37.

Both Tulane and Alabama have won eight contests while Mississippi still ranked below the .500 mark, with five wins and six defeats. Clemson had six victories to offset her three conference losses of the season.

Tonight was the big night of the week with six games scheduled as follows:

- Florida vs. Alabama at Tuscaloosa.
- Virginia vs. V. M. I. at Lexington.
- Georgia Tech vs. Auburn at Auburn.
- Louisiana State vs. Tulane at New Orleans.
- Washington and Lee vs. Virginia Poly at Roanoke.
- Duke vs. North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Two Teams Ready For Game Tonight

Chapel Hill, Feb. 16.—(AP)—With the state title largely hanging on the outcome of tonight's basketball game here, the University of North Carolina and Duke were primed for the struggle.

If the university wins, it will have a clear title to the championship claims, even though it loses to Davidson in its only other "Big Five" contest.

If Duke wins, however, both teams will be tied for top place and since both play Davidson again, the season's rating will depend on the outcome of games with the Wildcat.

Duke conquered the Tar Heels when they played previously in Durham and Coach Ashmore is expected to put on every ounce of team strength he had to halt the Duke team this time.

Dopesters believe if Carolina can halt Croson, the Duke center, the Tar Heels will win; otherwise, it will be a repetition of the first clash between the teams this year.

SICK HEADACHE

Sheriff Suffered From Constipation and Felt Very Bad Until Relieved by Black-Draught.

Armore, Okla.—Mr. W. N. McClure, for several years a resident of this city (111 Third Ave. N. W.), formerly was a political leader in the county, Arkansas, where he served as sheriff and county judge. "I used to suffer with sick headaches," says Mr. McClure. "These pills would come on me and I would feel very bad. I would get nervous and upset. My trouble was constipation, and after I found it out, I began using Black-Draught. This quickly removed the cause, and I got all right. I began using Black-Draught in my home, shortly after the Civil War, when I lived in Pike County, Arkansas. I came out of the war with many other soldiers, with bad constipation. I suffered a lot from sick headaches and dizziness. I would get fatigued, and for a while I would feel very bad. I found this medicine brought quick relief from constipation, and removed the cause of my headaches and dizziness, so we have always had to keep it in the house. After I take a course of Black-Draught, I feel fine. My system is rid of poison, and my appetite picks up." Sold everywhere. Try it. No. 202.

BLACK-DRAUGHT

Commission To Name Referee For Miami Fight

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 16.—(AP)—The Massachusetts Boxing Commission, today was considering a list of several referees from which the members will choose the third man in the ring for the Sharky-Stribling heavyweight boxing match here February 27.

The selection, however, must receive the final approval of Tr Stribling and Johnny Buckley, managers for the principals in the Miami Beach battle. This plan was suggested by Stribling at yesterday's conference on a referee, and promoter Jack Dempsey and Buckley agreed. The selection must be made by Feb. 20. Otherwise, Dempsey said, he will do the picking himself.

It was also decided at yesterday's meeting that the fighters should do a little more training for the forthcoming bout, and both the Boston sailor and the Georgia boxer will spend strenuous sessions daily in their training rings in addition to the road work each has engaged in since their arrival.

Dempsey had a busy day yesterday checking ticket sales and ordering all soft drinks be sold in paper containers at the fight to eliminate the possibility of bottle tossing. He also assured the Miami Kiwanis club that if the fight is a success, and they want another, he will oblige next winter.

Dempsey then tramped off with the everglades for a shooting expedition on the last day of the open season.

Screen Star Fights Narcotic Addiction

Los Angeles, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The Examiner today said that members of the family of Alma Reubens, screen star, had made it known that she is fighting to reclaim herself from narcotic addiction.

Miss Reubens entered a sanitarium recently after having figured in two cases involving complaints to the police. She fled from a physician and his assistant when they came to take her to the sanitarium but was caught after a chase through the noon-day crowds of Hollywood boulevards.

Thomas Pleases In Appearance At The College

John Charles Thomas, in his singing last night at East Carolina Teachers' College, proved that all the advance reports of his marvelous voice could not be exaggerated. The beautiful tone, his marvelous voice control, his artistic singing, and the wide range of his powers, from powerful dramatic singing to a beautiful melody and lyric singing, gave his listeners an evening of rare enjoyment, opening of new worlds of music. The audience was wrapt in attention, seeming to drink in the melody and tone, with the deepest, finest appreciation.

His program was made up of three parts, two of which were in other languages, but the audience did not seem to mind that. It made little difference, for he sang his meanings into the songs so well that words seemed non-essential. He gave a bit of the story or some interpretation so that it was easy to follow him. His program covered a wide range of kinds of songs, and brought out the wide range of the powers of his voice. "Salome," from the opera, "Meroidade," showed his great dramatic power and gave glimpses of what the artist must be in grand opera with all the richness of stage setting and costuming. As he sang "Nocturne" with its softness and sweetness, the very spirit of the night seemed to hover over the audience. The whimsical numbers, such as "Nicolette" or "Mother Hubbard," brought out a sense of humor and lightness. The joke of the encore "Rain," was not lost on the audience. Every number seemed to reach out and find some in the audience who found that number his favorite. Those who were prevented from going out last night because of the bad weather or because they did not realize what a great artist Thomas was, join with those who were fortunate enough to be in the audience in hoping he will come again.

The pianist, Lester [Name], was far more than an accompanist. In his group of piano numbers he proved himself a great artist, and again the audience showed great appreciation. As an encore he gave the "Gavotte" by Gluck-Brahms. The two artists spent the day here yesterday, leaving for Rocky Mount immediately after the concert, so as to reach Baltimore this morning. He returned to New York city for two concerts and from there goes to Chicago for the second engagement of this season.

His wife is at Palm Beach, where she is having a great time fishing. She has caught nineteen sail-fish, one of them eight feet long, thus becoming a rival of Hoover.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 6 points to a decline of 1 point. Most months were higher in sympathy relatively firm Liverpool cables.

The advance to 20.06 for May and 19.45 for the new October contract met considerable week-end realizing however. The action of the stock market seemed to bring in some Wall street liquidation. Prices eased off under these offerings. May sold down to 19.99 before the end of the first half hour, or back to about yesterday's closing quotations.

Private cables reported covering, trade calling and scarcity of contracts in Liverpool but complained of a poor turnover in cotton cloths and yarns and said order lists were running down.

Cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance was estimated at 159,900 bales against 120,000 last year.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 16.—(AP)—With Argentina actively pressing wheat for sale in Europe, and with downturns in the stock market having a general bearish effect, wheat went decidedly lower today. At the inside, prices for wheat were off more than 2 1/2c a bushel, compared with yesterday's top level. Announcement that exporters had bought 500,000 bushels of Durum wheat at Duluth called to act as a counter balance demand otherwise for wheat from North America being slack.

Wheat closed unsettled 7-8 to 1-4 net lower; corn 1 to 1 5-8 down; oats 3-8 to 1 1-8 off and provisions unchanged to setback of 1/8c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The determined efforts of Federal Reserve authorities to effect a reduction in brokers' borrowings inspired further liquidation in today's stock market. Radio (old stock) broke 16 points and scores of other issues fell 2 to 8 points below yesterday's final quotations. Trading was unusually heavy volume for a half-holiday session, the day's sales amounting to more than 2,500,000 shares.

The retention of the 5 per cent discount rate by the New York Federal Reserve Bank on Thursday was more than offset by the flurry in call money to 10 per cent yesterday, and the marked tightening of other monetary rates indicating that brokers were co-operating in making the Federal Reserve policy effective.

Judged by the demand for stocks in the "loan crowd" yesterday, much of the recent selling has been for short account. Bear trading was reported to be particularly heavy from traders wintering at Palm Beach and other southern resorts. Selling pressure was particularly effective against the so-called pool specialties. Falkland News

Miss Annie Mayo a student at Mitchell College, is spending a few days in our little village with her parents.

Dollar Day in Greenville attracted quite a number of Falkland people.

Wednesday, Feb. 13th brought Falkland quite a variety of weather conditions. At 8 a. m. the sun was shining, at 11 a. m. the snow began to fall, later on the snow turned into rain and from that to hail and sleet, and at 3 p. m. the snow began to fall again and continued to fall until 7 p. m.

Mr. Bull Garris was a Falkland visitor Tuesday.

Roy Newton, alias "Shol" alias "Him", motored to Coy Point Thursday to get his week-end market supplies.

Falkland has one of the most up-to-date poultry farms in Eastern North Carolina. It is the Red Feather Poultry Farm and is owned and operated by Jenniss Morrill, Jr.

Butch Gorham has succeeded Haywood Williams as champion cooker of barbecue in Falkland. The Young Men's Discuss-It Club will have its regular meeting at the Billy Boy Filling Station on Monday night, Feb. 18th.

In 1890 Falkland could boast of three barrooms, but it's quite a different story today, there's not a "speak-easy" in the entire village. Bootleggers thrive only where they are patronized.

Mr. C. A. Marslander has been confined to his home during the past week on account of sickness.

Miss Charlotte Beddingfield was slightly injured Wednesday afternoon while snowballing with some of her friends.
