HOOVER ENDS HIS VACATION IN FLORIDA

President-Elect Due To Reach Washington By Special Train Sometime Tomorrow

Miami, Fla., Feb. 18.—(AP)—President-elect Hoover bid farewell today to this land of sunshine, heading for Washington on a special train which left here at 10:30 a. m.

Like the two days just past this was one of intense heat, almost like a July day in the national capital, hotter perhaps than any Mr. Hoover encountered on his Latin-American tour.

The next President and Mrs. Hoover occupied a private car alone. Several of their friends had compartments in other cars of the long train. These included Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ricard of New York, who have been house guests at Belle Isle and A. W. Shaw of Chicago, a member of the committee on economic trends of which the President-elect is chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover left the James C. Penney estate less than half an hour before train time, motoring across Biscayne Bay to the Florida East Coast Railway station where a sizeable crowd awaited them.

Since most presidents-elect have waited until the day before March 4 to enter the national capital, Mr. Hoover's decision to go back thirteen days before the end of the administration of Calvin Coolidge has furnished still another subject for speculation.

Some say he is having difficulties in determining upon the complete personnel of his cabinet; others that some of the Congressional leaders are not satisfied with his plans regarding the tariff relief-tariff revision extra session of the new Congress, and still others that he wants to confer with some of those he has chosen as members of his official family.

Mr. Hoover is in open no headquarters in Washington. Upon the arrival of his special train there at 1:30 p. m. tomorrow, he and Mrs. Hoover will go direct to their home 2300 S street and Mr. Hoover will remain there somewhat in seclusion until March 4.

He will be able to complete his inaugural address in the outlet of his study where many of his campaign addresses were prepared. He also can call in those whom he wishes to consult at the time he desires to seek their advice, which previously he could not do when fifteen hundred miles away.

In addition he has some important conferences, discussing political, legislative and diplomatic affairs. Prominent among his callers while in Florida, have been Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, chairman of the Senate finance committee; Dwight W. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico; Stuart W. Cramer, prominent cotton manufacturer and political leader of North Carolina; Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee; George Vils, Republican national committeeman for Wisconsin and a number of other party leaders.

The President-elect also made a two day's inspection of the Everglades district.

Hope To Reach Isolated Miners With Food Soon

Durango, Colo., Feb. 18.—(AP)—The army of shovelers working day and night to cut through mountainous snow slides to Silverton and Eureka, near here, where food supplies are almost exhausted, had hopes today of reaching the isolated mining settlement within a day or two.

Only one great slide and a few small ones remained to be cleared from the tracks of the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad before a train loaded with supplies for the 1,500 inhabitants of the two communities could be moved into Silverton. Eureka is only a short distance from there.

Residents of the towns sent word yesterday by telephone, their only means of communication with the outside, that the food shortage was rapidly becoming serious. Only a small supply of meat, butter and eggs was on hand, they said.

The slide at Needleton on the way to Silverton, the greatest obstacle in the way of the section crews that have been at work since February 3, has been penetrated. This slide buried the railroad tracks under nearly 100 feet of snow over a half mile stretch.

The only serious avalanche now obstructing the railroad is at mile post 488 1-2 and the workers expected to have this cleared away by late today. The workers planned to use a rotary snow plow on the small slides.

MAJOR ISSUES STILL BEFORE THE ASSEMBLY

Legislators Return To Raleigh Today To Resume Discussion Of Bills.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 18.—(AP)—With all major issues still on deck for action, the members of the General Assembly returned to the capital today for another week's wrestling with the Australian ballot, higher gasoline tax and aid for county roads, workmen's compensation and the eight-months' school term, among other measures. Both houses adjourned Saturday until 8 o'clock tonight.

Besides the major proposals listed above, there are still all-important measures were still in the committee stage. They were the two appropriation bills—one providing funds for general operations, and the other for permanent improvements at state institutions—and the revenue measure, imposing taxes to finance state activities.

The highway bill, carrying an increase of one cent a gallon in the gasoline tax and creating a $3,000,000 county highway aid fund, which was passed by the House week before last, was expected to reach the Senate floor, with a vote probable, this week. This measure was almost unanimously approved in the House. It was referred to the Senate committee on public roads, in usual routine, but as that committee had a hand in its preparation, the anticipation was that the measure would go before the Senate for action promptly.

No such outlook was in prospect for the Australian ballot bill, advocated by Governor Max Gardner, and passed by the Senate last week after nearly three weeks of discussion and debate. It will have to run the gauntlet of a committee, and then face a fight on the floor of the House.

Another Gardner measure, the workmen's compensation bill, is expected to come up for action in the Senate early this week. A sub-committee of both houses reached an agreement on a measure to be presented. The eight-months' school term, also, is in the committee stage. Its chief proponent in the House, McLean, of Beaufort, issued a statement Saturday charging that powerful interests were lobbying against the bill.

Paris, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The experts committee on reparations convened promptly at eleven o'clock this morning to begin the second week's discussion of one of the greatest economic problems growing out of the world war. The meeting was the first since last Friday.

Since adjournment then the delegates have had time to do some figuring with facts and figures presented them during the last week by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Reichsbank president, as a basis.

Unofficially, sums varying from thirty to a hundred million gold marks were mentioned today as possible extremes in the totals which the various delegations will ask to have Germany pay.

It was the opinion in certain quarters today that France and Belgium would ask 100,000,000,000 marks, about $23,720,000,000, while Germany probably would offer to pay $35,000,000,000 marks, about $8,302,000,000. The British were said to be ready to take an intermediate stand.

LINDBERGH TO MAKE TRIP TO PACIFIC COAST

American Ace To Fly From Washington To New York Late This Afternoon.

Washington, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, after a leisurely flight from Miami, Fla., was in the capital today, but he planned for his stay to be a short one. He is very busy with matters affecting the trans-Continental Air Transport Company and before the day is over he will probably be in New York where a conference of company officials is to be held soon.

After a conference, Lindbergh intends to take to the road, or rather the air, again, this time for a trip that will carry him to the Pacific coast over the proposed route to be established by the transport company.

Lindbergh has so consistently refused to answer questions about his personal affairs, including his engagement to Miss Anne Morrow, daughter of Ambassador Morrow, that there were few inquiries about his romance from the reporters who were at Bolling Field when he landed. He replied to a question about the rumor that he was to have a place as undersecretary in the Hoover cabinet by saying there was "no authority" for statements to that effect.

The colonel, however, is not reticent on aviation. He announced that the service of the Trans-Continental Air Transport Company would be divided into Eastern and Western divisions. The Eastern terminus of the Eastern Division will be Columbus, Ohio, and the Western terminus, Waynoka, Oklahoma. Clovis, New Mexico, and Los Angeles will be the respective Eastern and Western terminus of the Western Division. Between the two divisions, or from Waynoka to Clovis, passengers will be carried by the Santa Fe Railroad, and from Columbus east passengers will go by the Pennsylvania Railroad to New York. No mail or freight will be handled for the present but an extension of the aviation line from Los Angeles to San Francisco is being considered, Lindbergh said.

Lindbergh landed yesterday at Bolling Field at 3:32 p. m. and immediately the news camera men and photographers made a rush in his direction. They knew him, but most of the crowd thought that a Douglas O-2H piloted by Colonel C. E. Culvert, commandant at Langley Field, Virginia, who acted as an escort for Lindbergh from Langley Field, was the famous flyer himself. They saw their error and followed in the wake of the picture men.

Lindbergh gave the photographers a little lecture and suggested if they would refrain from making a rush for him that the crowd would be easier to handle and there would be less likelihood that someone would be hurt by coming into contact with the propeller of his plane. Lindbergh left Miami for Washington but make two overnight stops along the route. Lindbergh indicated that he would not be present at the inaugural of Herbert Hoover. Under present plans the flyer will be in the west on March 4.

River Gives Up Body Of Missing Woman

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 18.—(AP)—The Susquehanna River has given up the body of Miss Verna Klink, 31-year-old candy store manager, and the police today announced that Harry B. Bowman, perfume salesman, probably would be charged with her murder.

Bowman has been held in the county jail since his arrest on January 28, three days after Miss Klink disappeared, but the charges against him were those resulting only from his admissions that money found on him had belonged to the missing woman. He was successively accused of robbery, conspiracy to rob and larceny, as well as two charges involving Miss Ethel Miller, upon whom police claim he spent the money obtained from Miss Klink. The total bail of $15,000 was sufficient to hold him in prison while the search for Miss Klink's body continued.

That search came to an end yesterday, after 23 days of futile dragging of the river near the spot where the woman was last seen. Her body was found three miles down the stream, caught against a rock 35 feet from shore. It was found by Michael Krzyzasiak of Steelton.

Gives $120,000. Washington.—Mrs. Choumney M. The courses will be designed for government officials, members of Congress, younger attaches of the state department and others interested.

Pitt Farmers Endorse Tax Reduction Feature Of MacLean School Bill

The special school tax district is as far behind times as the little "red schoolhouse" of yesterday," declared Dr. W. W. Dawson, of Grifton, member of the Board of County Commissioners, speaking before members of the Supper Club of the Pitt County Department of Agriculture, meeting in regular monthly session at the Rotary Club Saturday night.

The address was the crowning feature of a meeting held especially for discussion of the tax question and contained many points in connection with measures now before the Legislature having tax reduction in view. The meeting was attended by prominent farmers and landowners from virtually all sections of the county despite an incessant downpour of rain which continued throughout the evening.

Other speakers of the evening were E. G. Flanagan, member of the House of Representatives from Pitt county, and Henry Staton, well-known business man of Bethel. Both discussed the tax question. Mr. Flanagan explained some of the features of the committee roads bill which was recently passed by the House and gave an insight into one or two other measures which he declared were of more than passing interest to the state.

The body endorsed the MacLean bill providing for an eight-months school term. The endorsement, however, applied to principles of the bill as they pertained to limiting of the amount of ad valorem taxes on land.

Haywood Dail was endorsed for the chairmanship of the State Highway Commission, succeeding Frank Page, who resigned some time ago. Mr. Dail thanked the body for its support and assured every effort to advance the interests of the state should be appointed to this important post.

Dr. Dawson told of the effort now on foot to secure passage of the MacLean eight-months' school bill. He discussed the bill as it pertained to tax relief and showed in an interesting way the effect it would have upon the tax situation in this county.

He said the bill provided for a 40-cent tax levy and an equalizing fund of about $10,000, and requires that all schools operate for eight months instead of six. He said this did not affect the special chartered schools where the nine-month-term is now in use.

He declared the tax reduction feature before the Legislature would play an important part in this session. It would represent a reduction of $280,000 on land in Pitt county alone. The tax rate of $1.73 would be reduced to $1.141-2.

He said the time had come when taxation of land must be reduced. It is either a case of stop taxing land or in the future face one of the worst economic situations in years. He said tax reduction must be shifted from land to something else, such as luxuries and other things as mentioned in the MacLean eight-months school bill.

Mr. Flanagan discussed the committee roads bill recently passed by the House. He was a member of the committee that put the bill over, and also the man who introduced the original bill in the house. He said the one cent extra tax on gasoline to be provided through the measure would result in a $46,000 reduction of taxes in Pitt county.

The law provides that each county must reduce its ad valorem tax in proportion to the amount of money received from the collection of the extra cent on gas. Each county in the state that complies with provisions of the bill will receive benefit.

Mr. Flanagan also mentioned a measure now before the Legislature that would provide for police patrol of the State Highways. He did not see any need of a great organization of this kind, but thought that four police to each district, as provided by the bill, would do much toward preventing so many flagrant violations of the traffic laws of the state. He expressed opinion that collection of extra license tax alone should be sufficient to pay for the maintenance of the police patrol.

He put in a few good words for the MacLean bill, declaring that it should do much toward relieving the intolerable tax situation in the eastern section of the state. He said land was taxed to death, and thought the burden should be transferred to luxuries.

Mr. Staton said he didn't understand every feature of the measure, but thought it absolutely sound as it pertained to tax reduction. He said he was squarely behind anything that would give the landowner some relief and would support it to the limit.

The round table discussion following the principal addresses showed to what extent the farmers were interested in the proposition. They fired hundreds of questions at Dr. Dawson, who answered them in a way that indicated good results should obtain from the roads and school measures.

CHARLES COBB DIES AT HOME IN THIS CITY

Well Known Citizen Passed Away At Home Here Shortly After 1 O'clock.

Charles Cobb, 71, well known citizen of Greenville, died at his home on Pitt street shortly after one o'clock today, following an illness of several months.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church by Rev. E. L. Hillman assisted by Rev. L. B. Jones of Hamlet, at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, followed by interment in Cherry Hill cemetery.

Mr. Cobb was born near Farmville April 26, 1857. He came to this city 36 years ago. He was actively engaged in business until his retirement a few years ago. During the years of his business activity, he was likewise active in civic affairs, serving the city as member of its board of aldermen, mayor pro tem, and was one of the members of the first board of trustees of the Greenville graded schools.

At the time of his death he was a director of the National Bank of Greenville, a director of the Home Building & Loan Association and a member of the board of stewards of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church and the local Masonic order.

On December 22, 1886, he was married to Miss John Anna Moore, of Edgecombe county, who died October 26, 1923. He is survived by his son, K. W. Cobb, and grandson, Charles Cobb.

Burialbearers will be: Active—W. R. Jones, O. G. Guley, F. M. Wooten, O. B. Britt, T. T. Hollingsworth, V. C. Fleming, W. W. Martin, W. Disabled Ship On Way To Port

New York, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Her broken rudder repaired, the American freighter Padusny was proceeding toward the west coast of Africa today while three ships, hurrying to aid her, resumed their courses.

Search for the Padusny in a position 300 miles south of Cape Race, N. F., was begun Saturday morning when the line President Harding and other vessels picked up an SOS saying the freighter had lost her rudder and was drifting helplessly.

Safety of the Padusny was announced in a radio message from Captain Rind of the President Harding to the offices of the United States Lines which said: "Padusny ok. Proceeding to destination."

In the absence of details it was assumed in shipping circles that the crew of 35 aboard the freighter had been able to rig a jury rudder and continue the voyage to West African ports for which it was bound from New York.

Bevs Washington Home. New York.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr. has purchased for $115,900, 237 acres of the estate in Westmoreland county, Virginia, on which George Washington was born 197 years ago next Friday. Wakefield, the family mansion, burned in 1780, will be restored as a national shrine.

YOUNG DOHENY SHOT TO DEATH BY SECRETARY

Heir Of Millions Killed By Hugh Plunkett Who Then Takes His Own Life.

Los Angeles, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The slaying of Edward L. Doheny, Jr., heir to the Doheny oil millions, by his secretary and friend, Theodore Hugh Plunkett, who committed suicide, was looked upon today by investigating officials as the deed of a man temporarily mentally deranged.

Doheny, 36 years old, was shot to death in his pretentious home here late Saturday night as his family awaited the arrival of Dr. E. G. Fishbaugh, to treat Plunkett for a threatened nervous breakdown. When confronted by the physician Plunkett retreated to the room in which Doheny's body lay and shot himself through the head. The doctor found both men dead.

Several points regarding the murder and suicide remained to be cleared up, however. Whether there had been a struggle as Doheny attempted to quiet Plunkett was uncertain. The furniture had been disarranged. An overturned bottle and several glasses were on a table.

Since Plunkett's wife obtained an uncontested divorce last October, investigators of the district attorney's office said, young Doheny's secretary had developed a nervous ailment which had become serious. Dr. Fishbaugh, the Doheny family physician for ten years, at the request of Doheny, Jr., had attended Plunkett.

Saturday afternoon, a few hours before the double tragedy, a family conference had been held over the condition of Plunkett, which had become worse as the result of his refusal to abide by the physician's instructions. The doctors attempted to induce Plunkett, who lived at "Graystone," the home of young Doheny, to go to a sanitarium for rest and treatment. They said Plunkett had refused to go.

Young Doheny was clad in night clothing and a robe when his body was found on the floor of Plunkett's room.

Dr. Fishbaugh, who was the first to see the bodies, expressed the opinion that Doheny had gone to Plunkett's room late in the evening to observe his condition and that he had found the secretary to be in a mentally serious condition.

A pillow from one of the twin beds, had been neatly placed upon a chair lounge, indicating in the officials' minds that Doheny had tried to quiet Plunkett by having him lie down. That Plunkett refused was indicated by the unruflled pillow.

Dr. Fishbaugh who had been requested by young Doheny to hold himself ready to go to "Graystone" on short notice, arrived shortly before midnight after having been called out of a theatre. Mrs. Doheny met him at the door, saying her husband was talking to Plunkett in the latter's room.

Mrs. Doheny said later she heard an unusual noise in the house but thought it was the sound of a piece of furniture being overturned. She was about 75 feet from the death room at the time and did not recognize it as a pistol shot.

Mrs. Doheny also discussed the case and her husband had visited Plunkett in his Los Angeles apartment Saturday afternoon in an effort to persuade him to go to a sanitarium and that the meeting had ended in a verbal tilt between her husband and the secretary. She said Plunkett later telephoned the Doheny home demanding to know "the meaning" of their wanting him to go to the sanitarium.

When Dr. Fishbaugh was shown to the bedroom door by Mrs. Doheny they found Plunkett standing in the hall.

"You stay out of here!" he shouted, according to Dr. Fishbaugh. The doctor said Plunkett wheeled then and entered the bedroom, an instant later a shot was heard. Dr. Fishbaugh sent Mrs. Doheny back to the living room, opened the bedroom door and found the bodies of the millionaire and his secretary. Doheny had been shot through the head, the bullet entering just above the left ear. Plunkett had a bullet hole through his forehead.

Edward L. Doheny, founder of the huge oil business collapsed when called from his home across the street. He recovered quickly, however, and assured his friends he would face the situation stoically. He is 72 years old. His wife, mother of the younger Doheny, remained at home.

The younger Doheny was the only son of the oil magnate. He was married to Miss Lucy Smith, Pasadena society girl, in 1914, two years before he was graduated from the University of Southern California. Young Doheny was indicted on a bribery charge as the result of the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills oil lease scandal several years ago but the charge was dropped. His home was completed only recently at a cost of $500,000.

FREIGHT RATE CUT ORDERED

I. C. C. Announces Reduction Of Refrigeration Charges from South To North

Washington, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A series of reductions in railroad refrigeration charges on fruits and vegetables moving from southeastern states to northeastern consuming territory was ordered today by the Interstate Commerce Commission effective April 15.

On the important traffic in citrus fruits and vegetables from Florida to New England and North Atlantic states, the commission ordered a reduction of approximately 15 per cent in the refrigeration charges. On berries from Florida to the same destinations the reductions ordered was 25 per cent and on melons and other Florida fruits a reduction of eight per cent.

On vegetables, berries and melons from Georgia to the northeast the refrigeration charges must be cut 16 per cent while from South Carolina to lake destinations on berries and melons the cut must be 14 1-2 per cent. On South Carolina vegetables a reduction of 11 1-2 per cent was prescribed while from North Carolina on berries to the northeast the reduction justified was fixed at 19 1-2 per cent. For North Carolina vegetables and melons a ten per cent reduction was prescribed while six per cent was given general fruit from North Carolina. Produce from Virginia territory west of Chesapeake Bay destined to New England and North Atlantic territory was held to be entitled to 4 1-2 per cent reductions.

As to reductions from Georgia and Carolina points to western territory the refrigeration rates on which were investigated in the same proceeding, the commission refused to act. Complaints as to the western peach refrigeration charges were dismissed.

Havana.—A new twist in Cuba's efforts to get its young men married by taxing perennial bachelors $10 each year they escape the matrimonial noose, has come to light with announcement that spinsters must file their photographs with a governmental matrimonial bureau.

TWO HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Farmville Men Seriously Hurt In Collision On Stokes Road Last Night.

Olds Moving and Robert Faulkner, of the Farmville community, were confined in the local hospital today, suffering from injuries sustained in an automobile collision on the Stokes highway last night. While their injuries were described as serious, they were reported to be getting along nicely this morning.

The car in which the two men were riding collided with another car driven by John Carrington, of Stokes. Carrington escaped uninjured. The extent of the injuries suffered by Mazingo and Faulkner could not be determined. Both cars were badly damaged by the impact.

It was understood that Carrington was returning to Stokes and Mazingo and Faulkner to Farmville when the collision occurred.

Soldier Victim Of Auto Accident

Wilson, Feb. 18.—(AP)—A soldier identified as Sergeant Domino, of the Thirtieth Field Artillery, Fort Bragg, died here yesterday as the victim of an automobile accident Saturday.

Mrs. Lula Joyner, his companion, was injured. The body was removed to Fort Bragg for burial with a squad of soldiers acting as escort.

Domino's car plunged off the Kenly highway and struck a telephone pole. Mrs. Joyner's injuries were slight.

PROBE OF GANG KILLING STILL IN PROGRESS

Chicago Officials Believe Police Had Part In Massacre, But Facts Missing.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The Purple fades from the gang massacre picture, and the Blue of police uniforms again tints the canvas.

The state's attorney's office expressed itself today as satisfied that the Purple gang of Detroit had no important part in last Thursday's episode slaying. At the same time investigators were given further testimony that two of the slayers were dressed as police officers.

There was a discouraging lack of definite progress reported, both by police and by the state's attorney. In the four days since the seven members of the George (Bugs) Moran were lined against a brick wall and slain there has been no arrest of a single suspect. It was pointed out by David Stansbury, in charge of the investigation for the state's attorney.

H. Bruce Caldwell, president of the Board of Education, volunteered new information last night which accelerated the investigation. Caldwell told of seeing an automobile which he thought at the time was a police squad car. The machine ran through a red light a few blocks north of the garage in which the murders were committed.

Caldwell fixed the time of the incident as a few minutes before the slayings took place. Two men in the car, he said, wore police uniforms, and there were three others in civilian clothes also in the machine.

One of the men had a tooth out in front, he said.

The car had a slight collision with a truck shortly after it passed him. Caldwell related, corroborating the account of a truck driver who earlier had reported that his truck was grazed by the machine.

It has been an accepted theory with investigators that the Guesenbergs, Frank and Phil, who were among those killed, would never stand up with their faces to the wall unless they had believed the men who invaded the garage were not dangerous. If the Guesenbergs and their companions had recognized the invaders as policemen, or had reason to believe them policemen, they would have been willing to turn their backs to the guns, as they did, and "start a search," detectives said.

Don McGurn, who learned about machine guns in the war, is being sought for questioning. McGurn, himself the target of gun gangs, on two occasions, is a leader in the Al Capone crowd, which polio point to as the leading rival of the Bugs Moran gang for control of Chicago's liquor and beer business.

There were divergent statements concerning the early effect of the police crusade to dry up Chicago. Many saloons were reported operating as usual over the week-end, despite extra police efforts in response to the demand of State's Attorney John A. Swanson that the lid be clamped tight and kept tight.

About 400 arrests were made in over-5000 raids, but no "big guns" of the gang register were among those taken.

Cabinet Possibility

Julius Barnes of Minnesota has been mentioned as a possible candidate for the Hoover cabinet.

early resumption of disarmament efforts was made entirely on his own initiative and was not on behalf of his government.

The Sunday Times' diplomatic correspondent says it is obvious from a comparison of the statement of Sir Esme Howard and the foreign office communique that somebody blundered, and he says it is understood communications have been sent to Sir Esme about the matter.

Editorially the paper says, "An ill fate seems to hand over the efforts of this country and the United States to reach an agreement on naval disarmament—it means that once again somebody has blundered. Premature announcements of this sort can hardly fail to prejudice a situation which in any event is extremely delicate.

The Daily News refers to the foreign office statement as a "severe snub" for Sir Esme. It adds: "Sir Austen Chamberlain's frigid reluctance to get going is not altogether regrettable as the task of solving the disarmament problem is not one for the present government but "for a new and competent Parliament."

That the government has the disarmament question under constant consideration is nowhere challenged, however, but it is recognized that in view of the necessity of consulting the dominions, as explained in the foreign office communique of Saturday, no very early development can be expected. It is pointed out moreover that the United States could not take up the question until the Hoover administration gets its stride.

Melville Stone Is Buried Today

New York, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Funeral services for Melville E. Stone, counselor and former general manager of the Associated Press, will be held this afternoon. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, at the Park Avenue Baptist church. Burial will be private. The pallbearers have been chosen largely from men who were employees of the Associated Press while Mr. Stone was general manager.

Most of them still are in the service. They are:

- J. R. Youatt, Joseph J. Jones, M. F. Moran, Arthur S. Thompson, Jackson S. Elliott, Frederick Roy Martin, Charles H. Boynton, Charles Stephenson Smith, W. J. McCambridge, Byron Price, Dr. Oscar Watson and J. A. Bates.

From every point throughout the world have come expressions of sorrow at the death of Mr. Stone and warm tributes to his personality and his journalistic genius.

Men of public affairs, including President Coolidge, President-elect Hoover and others have sent messages of condolence to the family.

News stories and editorials have been printed in the newspapers of Europe, Asia and Africa. Figures prominent in world politics and diplomatic circles have joined in deploring his death as an irreparable loss to American journalism. Colonel E. M. House said Mr. Stone was "America's greatest unofficial statesman."

"MY 30 YEARS AT SEA"

by CAPTAIN GEORGE FRIED

HIS OWN LIFE STORY BEGINS IN THIS PAPER MONDAY FEBRUARY 25TH

OUT of a storm-lashed sea in 1926, there flashed the terse, dramatic story of Captain Fried's daring rescue of the freighter "Antioe's" crew. Again only a few weeks ago, he thrilled the world by battling a roaring westerly gale to save the crew of the foundering "Florida." Yet, in all the acclaim, honor and fame millions have heaped upon him, little has been told of the gallant captain's life.

Now, in this outstanding autobiography of the year, he tells the story of his remarkable career... why he went to sea... his exciting experiences as he climbed to success... his views and observations... the inspiring story of a man who made his dreams of romance, adventure and accomplishment on the bounding seas, come true. It is told in 27 chapters, one of which will appear daily, beginning February 25.

GREAT BRITAIN MUDDLED OVER NEW PACT TALK

Conflicting Statements By Howard and Foreign War Office Create Confusion

London, Feb. 18.—(AP)—England is inclined to wonder just what the new disarmament discussion with the United States is all about.

The entire incident—synonymous predictions of early renewal of disarmament efforts, statement of Sir Esme Howard, that such was in early prospect, and Saturday's disclaimer by the foreign office—has received an expansive airing in the metropolitan press.

Reliable sources informed the Associated Press that no repudiation to Sir Esme was intended in the foreign office statement of Saturday. The foreign office, it was said, merely declared that the time had not yet arrived for an official announcement regarding the next move contemplated.

Confused reports of the ambassador's intimation of prospective disarmament action made the communique necessary. It was said, it also being intended to forestall criticism in the House of Commons.

In Washington Sir Esme has said that his last week's intimation of

REEDY BRANCH SUNDAY SCHOOL NEWS

The Sunday School at Reedy Branch is progressing very nicely at the present time. Although we have lots of sickness with the flu and lots of other diseases raging, there still remains a goodly number that seem to be interested in real Sunday School work that are loyal and true and keep our regular attendance around 80 to 100. The Sunday School always extends a hearty welcome to visitors at all times. On finishing our last year's work we found that there had been an important man for two quarters. A friend suggested that there could be written a very remarkable paper on the "Life of Paul," so the two senior classes composed of five young men and young ladies, see who might win first prize. Here are the young people's names who wrote wonderful papers and also includes the paper that won first prize: Mrs. Blanche Stafford, second prize; Mrs. Elbert Smith, second prize; also Miss Mae Ella Davenport, Roxie Worthington and Mary Elmer Wade.

Resolutions Of Respect.

WHEREAS, our heavenly Father in his infinite goodness and wisdom has seen fit to remove from our midst our esteemed friend and fellow worker, Mr. J. N. Gorman. We, the Merchants Association of Greenville, North Carolina, do hereby resolve:

1st. THAT we bow in humble submission to the will of God, who doeth all things well;

2nd. THAT we extend to the bereaved family of our friend our deep and heartfelt sympathy;

3rd. THAT a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family, a copy recorded in the Minutes of the Greenville Merchants Association, and a copy sent to the Daily Reflector.

Fire Damages Tunstall Home

The home of Mrs. J. S. Tunstall, Albemarle avenue, was badly damaged by fire this morning shortly after one o'clock. Loss to the building and furnishings was estimated at about $1,500. The origin of the fire had not been determined today. The flames started in the roof, and had enveloped practically the entire second story when the fire department arrived.

The fire department was called out by an alarm from box 74 shortly after 11 o'clock, but if there had been a fire in the neighborhood it could not be found.

CHURCH SCHOOL OF MISSIONS TONIGHT AT 7:30

The Church School of Missions at Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church will begin this evening and will continue through Friday. The classes will assemble in the basement for a brief worship period prior to class work. The young peoples' class (ages 12-30) will be taught by Dr. M. E. Massey, the text being "The New Africa." It is hoped that there will be a large group of young people to attend this school. The program has been arranged to last one hour so that many of the day school pupils may attend.

The women's class will be taught by Mrs. J. H. Rose, the text used being "The Methodist Evangel." We are expecting an unusually large group of the women of the church to attend this class.

The men's class will be taught by Rev. E. L. Hillman using as a text the "Methodist Evangel." A large body of the men of the church is expected to attend this class.

This school of missions brings a great opportunity to our people. Great inspiration will be there for us. If we fail to attend it there will be a supreme loss to our lives.

MISS BROWN ENTERTAINED AT BRIDGE SATURDAY

Miss Julia Brown was hostess at a lovely bridge party Saturday afternoon at her home on Second street, in honor of her fifteenth birthday. The decorations and table appointments carried out the Valentine idea. The home was beautifully decorated with potted plants and spring flowers.

Bridge was played at six tables. The guests of the afternoon were Misses Catherine Utley, Nell Dudley, Emma Frances Hardee, Frances Gross, Annie R. Horne, Helen Fleming, Elizabeth Madrin, Kara Lyn Corey, Bullock Nobles, Margaret Clay, Mary James Lipscomb, Elizabeth Winslow, Gladys Duval, Doris Garris, Doll White, Mable Glenn Best, Mary Effie Patrick, Agnes Gaskins, Louisa Hooker, Virginia Jones, Elizabeth Moore, Helen Burnette, Elizabeth Kasey and Blanche Slaton.

Miss Gladys Duval, making high score, was presented with a deck of cards, while Miss Mary Effie Patrick, making low score, was awarded an attractive score pad. At the conclusion of the game a lovely ice cream was served by Misses Nina Fleming and Mary Emma Gaskins.

SOUTHERN CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC GIRLS GIVE PREMIER OF BRYANT PLAY

Durham, Feb. 14.—The Southern Conservatory of Music last night turned its attention toward dramatics, and one of the best amateur plays seen here in some time, written by Gilmore Ward Bryant and the cost composed of Conservatory girls, was presented in the Conservatory auditorium before a large number of friends of the institution who had been invited to the performance. The entire play, called "Love Wins," was a Conservatory production. Even the scenery was painted by two of the music students, Miss Hilda Peedin and Miss Cusis Maitton. Miss Esther Kibler coached the girls in the play. The characters seemed admirably fitted to their roles, and the lines were executed with a finesse that spoke well for the playwright as well as the coach and the students. The chief attention of the audience was directed on Miss Florence Overton, as Tulip Marston, the slangy and up-to-date flapper; Miss Grace Cauley, as Mavis Drexler, the poor but honest factory girl who later became a student; and Miss Cusis Maitton, as Ted Morton, detecting, sweetheart and son of the company president. They had advantageous roles, and they played these roles with a perfection that almost bordered on the professional.

Especially effective was an outdoor scene between Ted Morton and Mavis Drexler, with Ted as the ardent wooer, pressing his suit on short acquaintance. The lines as well as the acting presented one of the most impressive scenes of the play, and this part would have drawn favor from any audience, regardless of how critical it might be.

The play has a bright ending. Jack Crowder, Miss Louise Woltz, the crooked factory manager, is exposed as a criminal and a passer of counterfeit money, while Mavis Drexler comes to her own as daughter of the president of the company, who is also president of the board of trustees of the college which she is attending, since the woman she had believed to be her mother had taken her as an infant following a cyclone. An obstacle is presented when it is found that Ted Morton appears to be her brother, but the newly-acquired father, removes this by declaring he is only an adopted son. The hard-billed flapper maintains her equanimity throughout. Letta Self is the father, Lottie Warren is the college dean while Ruby Barnhill is the office manager and Melrose Wilbur the robber.

If you have property to sell, consult with us. It will pay you well. H. A. White & Sons, Realtors, General Insurance, 403 Evans St., phone 49, Est. 1895.

Eureka Laundry Absorbs Cullins

Consolidation of the Eureka Laundry and Cullins' local dry cleaners, was announced this morning. The firm in the future will be operated under the name of Eureka Laundry Company, Inc., with the business management under direction of R. C. Horton.

Officers of the firm are: D. D. Overton, president; Nathan Cullins, first vice-president; Mrs. Loula C. Horton, second vice-president; R. C. Horton, secretary-treasurer.

The production of both plants will be under the management of Nathan Cullins, who has had wide experience in various cities. He operated the Sanford Steam Laundry, Inc., for a period six years, coming here from this plant to engage in the cleaning business which dry, Inc., for a period of six years.

R. C. Horton has also had considerable experience in this line of business. He came to Greenville as owner of the Greenville Damp Wash. Mr. Horton recently incorporated this firm under the name of the Eureka Laundry Co., Inc.

The company feels that by this consolidation it will be able to render a service second to none in this section. They will operate a fleet of four white trucks and occupy the present building used by the laundry. The office now occupied by the Western Union will be used by the firm as soon as it is vacated. The cleaning plant is located directly behind the building formerly occupied by Cullins. The consolidation represents an investment of more than $20,000.

The company will employ ten white men, three white girls, ten colored women, four colored men, a total of twenty-seven employees. These people are selected for the qualification to fill a special line of duty and ninety per cent of the employees have been with the two firms over two years.

Aged Doctor Takes His Life

Asbury Park, N. J., Feb. 18.—(AP) Dr. Edwin Pye Turner Osbaldeston, 99 year-old veteran of the Crimean war, who became front page news three years ago when a gray-bearded deputy sheriff arrested him on a half century old charge of horse stealing, was found a suicide today.

The old physician was found lying on the floor of his two-room shack by a patrolman. A revolver was in his hand, and bullet wounds were found through his neck and side. The shack is across the street from the railroad signal tower whose ladder he used until recently in public exhibitions of his exercising.

To the day of his death the doctor stoutly denied he ever had committed an act of wrongdoing, and held that a half brother, who bore the same name and a striking resemblance to him was the "Edwin Turner" who appeared on the records of the horse thief and jail breaker in Binghamton, N. Y., in 1880. Deputy Sheriff H. Foster Black, who came from Binghamton to serve the 50-year-old warrant, died more than a year ago at the age of 91. Dr. Osbaldeston later publicly forgave him.

Osbaldeston took up his residence here in 1910 and he became a favorite throughout the city. His friends sprang to his defense when Black appeared with his yellowed warrant and at their behest Governor Moore declined to sign extradition papers.

Screen Actress Recovers From Drug Addiction

Los Angeles, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Apparently victorious in the first stage of her fight to rid herself of the narcotic habit, Alma Rubens, screen actress, was back home here today recovering from the effects of an operation.

Miss Rubens, who underwent an operation in a Hollywood hospital a few days ago as the result of illness occasioned by a nervous breakdown and the use of narcotics, had recovered sufficiently last night to be removed to her Beverly Hills home.

Meanwhile Dr. L. Jesse Citron, Beverly Hills physician, was under citation to appear before the state board of medical examiners to explain why he had prescribed medicines containing narcotics for the actress.

SENATOR REED FIRES VOLLEY AT DRY LAW

Senate Galleries Thronged To Hear Attack On Dry Laws In Congress Today

Washington, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Senator James A. Reed, who becomes a private citizen in just two more weeks after distinguished service in the Senate since 1911, held the capitol spotlight with renewed expression of his scorn for the prohibition law.

The Senate galleries were thronged by persons expecting a forensic clash between Reed and Borah of Idaho. The two, both outstanding congressional orators, hitherto have sided together on such controversial questions as the League of Nations. But a clash over the dry law had been presaged for today—and the Idahoan at the outset listened quietly to Reed's denunciation of the dry statutes as though biding time for a chance to reply.

Contrastingly, the House worked with facility on legislative matters pressing for settlement prior to March 4. It agreed quickly to several conference reports on bills that had been changed by the Senate after passage by the House. Of these, one was on the $17,185,610 Army housing bill and another on the measure for equalization of the ranks of the Army chief of staff and the chief of naval operations for the Navy.

Failure met an attempt to have the House act on the Black resolution to ascertain whether the Federal Reserve Board, before issuing its recent statement against lending funds for speculative use, had conferred with the governor of the Bank of England. It went over under the rules.

Two Senate committees dealt with nominations. The judiciary group approved Rep. Garrett of Tennessee, retiring as Democratic leader in the House, for membership on the nominations of former Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, to that court, and of Henry H. Glassie to be a judge of the District of Columbia Supreme court. The Senate interstate com-

TECH RISES SWIFTLY IN CAGE REALM

By HORACE C. RENEGAR, Associated Press Sports Writer Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 18.—(P)—The empty-dumpy antics of southern conference basketball teams, with most critics in despair when comes to picking the championship tournament favorite, now revolves into the pastime of comparing individual records of some of the stars.

The title meet less than two weeks away, will bring at least ten teams to Atlanta with possibilities of carrying top honors and several of this year are veterans, returning with much better records than they presented a year ago.

The defending champion, the University of Mississippi, however, not in this class. Ole Miss returning four of its five first stringers of 1928 has experienced a gloom year but Carey Phillips, his twin, Ary, Selby and Laird, all have shown flashes of old form to make them yet a threat.

Georgia Tech, one of the outstanding fives of the season, has offered a meteoric rise with many of the same players who proved such a flop last winter. Captain Heeke and Goldin, just fair in 1928, have blossomed into capable and consistent performers and the former carries Tech's hopes for its first basketball title.

The Generals of Washington and Lee, running wild this season with an average of a point a minute, bring a couple of veterans back to the tournament for an attempt to tone for a miserable showing in their last appearance here. Lowry and Wood could do little to stem a Mississippi A. and M. avalanche here, but they are clicking better this season and with the new material are being counted upon strongly in many quarters.

Campbell, an agile forward, should find better going this year with a greater all-around team to help him hoist the crimson colors of Alabama.

North Carolina State, a well-balanced team a year ago, is much the same with Goodwin, center, and Warren, playing guard, still important cogs.

Kentucky, despite the loss of Jenkins, all-southern guard, has his flashy mate, McGinnis, to send back.

Overhändler, Pritchard and Windus, of South Carolina, will be back in familiar settings. If the Gamecocks enter the turkey, White, a powerman at a forward position, has bolstered the Columbians considerably.

Mississippi A. and M. will return a couple of players well known here in Harris, forward, and McElveen, center, both capable performers. Red Ricks, great little guard, however, is gone.

Auburn, runner-up last year, has only Dubose, center, on the first string again. Lester and Jones will be Clemson's only veterans of a season past.

Palmer will be the single University of Georgia veteran of 1928 coming up.

Satterfield and Hackney, the same forwards, and Cathey, a guard, will be back with the Phantoms of North Carolina. Both forwards were impressive last year.

Garahan and Garrison, a couple of Louisiana State stars, are again on the Baton Rouge team and both will bear watching, despite the mediocre record of their team this year. Garahan was one of the outstanding centers of the last meet, showing a great basket eye.

MAKE READY FOR BIG FIGHT AT MIAMI, FLA.

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 18.—(AP)—Under blazing skies in the heart of a winter playground of the rich, where society basks in royal fashion by the sea and cooling breezes rustle through palms and leaning coconut trees, two pugilists, incongruous in their surroundings, are making ready for the battle of the everglades.

There are wide stretches of creamy sands where the social elite flash the latest of seashore styles and bathe in a rippled ocean that is channeled blue and green by the changing currents. There are grand yachts moored to the piers or steaming in Biscayne Bay. There are costly homes, expensive automobiles, airs of beauty without thought or cost, and there is the raw pine structure of a fight arena, rising clamorously in the center of Flamingo Park, one of the city's show places.

That fight arena on the night of February 27 will hold most of the "best people" Tex Rickard always sought to lure to his fistie shows. Now that Tex Rickard is dead, Jack Dempsey, the man he made a millionaire, is luring them to the bar, offices with all the magnetism of the old master of the ballyhoo; they will be there that night, in all probability, because the battle of Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling for heavyweight recognition will be "the thing" for the night, superceding yachting parties, the costume balls, or even a visit to the Deauville casino Rickard built.

But for the time being at least, the Boston strong boy and his Georgia rival are getting along without the patronage of society as far as their training periods are concerned.

The small crowds who watch Sharkey in his training stunts in the sunny ring pitched beside the dog track Tex fashioned, are made up of the curious, casual traveler who may not be here for the fight, and the strange looking attendants who hover around all fight camps. Society, for the most part, is neither talking nor thinking fight.

Despite all this, the heavyweight engagement Rickard planned as an advertisement for other ventures here promise to net the Madison Square Garden Corporation a handsome return. When William F. Gary, railroad builder and vice-

WILSON HIGH TO PLAY HERE

Tomorrow night the Greenville high quintet will play the formidable Wilson high basketball team in the local gym, and all indications point to the best game of the season. This is not mere "hokum" is proved by some of the scores that Wilson has of late been ringing up in their favor. The Rocky Mount team that last week held us to a 15-13 win, and threw the most powerful sort of scare into the Greenville rooters, fell before the onslaught of Wilson to the very different tune of 33 to 6. This score on the close guarding Rocky Mounters shows the Wilson team to have one of the most powerful offenses we have yet seen launched.

Roanoke Rapids, always a strong team, and in basketball no worse than in any other sport, likewise scored but 6 points on Wilson, but held them to 22, for a better game than Rocky Mount. On the other end of the list comes the Wilson victory over Hertford, which took the season's high scoring honors away from Greenville, as Wilson ran up 80 even points against Hertford's 8. Led by the fast and accurate forward, Vick, Greenville guards will have plenty to do, and at the same time, the close guarding of Agnew, Wilson's other luminary on the court, will keep Bostic and Respass well occupied.

Greenville's team is in good shape and a fine encounter will no doubt reward all who attend tomorrow night. There will be two more conference games here, but neither promises much in the way of opposition. After the conference season, however, an effort will be made to bring several teams of outstanding calibre here to play Greenville before the State College tournament. One such game with a spirited aggregation of ball tossers from out of the state is already assured, and only the date remains to be definitely fixed.

president of the Garden, took over promotion of the match, with Jack Dempsey, he considered a loss of $100,000 a good investment in order to maintain the corporation's prestige. With the fight still ten days away, the match seems well on the way to $100,000 profit.

Both Sharkey and Stribling are so far along the road to perfect condition that both are in danger of overdoing. Stribling, boxing an average of once a week throughout the south and southwest, is down to 185 pounds, as low as he dares to go. Sharkey, with a hard won victory over K. O. Christner just under his belt, is within two pounds of being ready at 194. He planned a complete rest today and Stribling will refrain from labor both today and tomorrow.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Many refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 2 to 6 points. Active months soon showed net gains of 4 to 9 points on covering, which was believed to be combined with a little trade buying and some rebuying by recent sellers.

May sold up to 20.13 and the new October contract to 19.57. Demand was promoted by relatively steady cables and reports that sales of cotton goods in some houses last week had exceeded production.

The advance met a little southern selling and realizing, however, and prices were a point or two off from the best at the end of the first half hour. Trading was quiet at the start but became moderately active after the call.

Liverpool cables reported trade calling supplied by liquidation in a quiet market and said that business in cotton cloths and yarns was limited, with spinners and manufacturers losing ground.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Sudden freezing temperatures following a thaw over important domestic winter wheat sections brought about much higher prices today for wheat. In particular, houses with eastern and foreign connections were aggressive buyers, and there were many messages indicating widespread fear of crop damage, especially for Nebraska and Kansas. On the other hand, a decrease of 740,000 bushels in the United States wheat visible supply total today was smaller than expected.

Wheat closed unsettled: 1 to 1 1/2 @ 1 5/8c net higher; corn unchanged to 1-4c off; oats 5-8@3-4c down to 1-4c up, and provisions carrying from 27c setback to a rise of 5c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The stock market, having passed through a drastic reaction last week, rebounded sharply at the opening today, turned heavy again before midday and then rallied again in the early afternoon under the leadership of the copper shares. Trading was only moderately heavy in volume.

Call money, which ran up from 6 1/2 to 10 per cent on Friday, renewed today at 8 and then dropped to 7 1/2 under the influence of out-of-town funds attracted by the high rates. The time money market was dull but firm, with 7 3/4 per cent ruling on most maturities. The further decline in the Canadian dollar to an ew 1929 low at 99.54 cents stimulated hopes of large gold imports from Montreal.

Except for the publication of a series of favorable earnings reports there was little in the day's business news to influence the price movement.

Radio, which advanced 7 points to 342 in the early trading, later fell back to 333 and John Manville dropped from an early high of 201 to 183 1-2, both new low levels on the current decline. Case Threshing broke 15 points, Rosita Insurance and National Tea 9 each, and Jewel Tea, Peoples Gas, Wright, Matheson Alkali and Kinney sold 3 to 5 points below last week's total quotations in the mid-day selling movement.

Andes Copper, moving up 4 1/4 points to a new high record at 58 1/4, led the afternoon recovery. Anaconda Copper moved up two points, and substantial recoveries took place in most of the other leading industrial issues.

NOTICE OF SALE

By virtue of the powers of sale contained in that certain mortgage deed, from C. C. Holliday and wife to James E. Clark, Jr., and Wm. Bragaw, dated April 5th, 1918, and in that certain deed of trust from C. C. Holliday and wife to William A. Blount, dated March 14th, 1921; the same being recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Pitt County, No. Car. in Book M-12 page 555, Book C-14, page 174, respectively, and by the reason of default in the payment of the debts thereby secured; the undersigned will, on at twelve o'clock, noon, before the court house door of Pitt County, No. Car., offer for sale at public auction, for cash, the following land:

In Pactolus Township, Pitt County, North Carolina, bounded on the north by Tranters Creek; on the east by James R. Holliday land; on the south by the J. E. Clark land; on the west by Sally Norcott's land; containing sixty-six acres, more or less.

The purchaser at the above sale will, in the discretion of the owner of the debts, be required to advance as much as ten percent of his bid as evidence of good faith, immediately at the close of the sale; and said sale will be reported to the Superior Court of Pitt County for confirmation or raise, as required by law. Upon failure to make such advance payment, as above provided for, the aforesaid lands will be offered for re-sale at the same place and on the same date at the hour of one o'clock, P. M.
