

REED CLASHES WITH BORAH ON DRY PROBLEM

Two Senators Air Prohibition Issues Before Packed Galleries.

Washington, Feb. 19. — (AP) — Those who hoped that the seventy-ninth Congress would not end without a debate between those two mighty orators, Reed of Missouri, and Borah of Idaho, have had their wish. The two gave the controversial subject of prohibition an airing yesterday before a gallery that took all the seats and standing room and an idea of the renown of the speakers should be gained from the fact that almost the full membership of the Senate heard the clash.

The anti-climax came after the speeches had ended. Senator Reed threatened Saturday to make public a list of Senators and Representatives who "voted dry and drink wet" but yesterday he assured his hearers that he was joking. All the members of the House did not know of this assurance and someone last night spread the news at the capital that the names of certain Representatives were on the list that the Missouri senator intended to give out. There were many telephone calls and a number of hurried visits to Reed's office before those concerned learned that no list was to be issued.

Reed retired to private life at the end of this session and during his 18 years in the Senate the news that he was speaking has been sufficient to start a movement toward the Senate galleries and to draw absent colleagues to the floor. Borah's reputation is no less. Reed is a Democrat and a wet. Borah is a Republican and a dry. Discussion on the Jones bill to increase penalties for liquor law violations laid the setting for the clash.

Reed argued that control of liquor should fall to the states. Borah contended that prohibition was a part of the constitution and should be observed. Around these central themes the speakers brought wit, sarcasm and logic into play. The Missouriian began by describing the prohibition laws as a "hideous crime."

"Law," he said, "has been the instrument of tyrants and the weapon of brutes since time began. By it despots have sought to justify and cloak the villainies that have stained this earth with blood and saturated it with tears and filled it with the groans of the dying."

"Law, what air, is law? I speak now in the proper laws, it is something that springs from custom and is adopted by general consent. But it must be more than that; it must be founded upon justice; it must express equity and right; it must be humane in its operations. It must be something that commends itself to the spirit to be a proper law, the soul of mankind. An improper law, an unjust law, a cruel law must be as much a crime as the act of an individual who assassinates in the dark."

He declared that the prohibition law was an unjust law and that there had followed in its train corruption and debasement.

"Let us repeal this law," he cried, "and let us then discharge the shoopers and spies, the sneaks and the criminals who have been employed with our money to haunt our doors, to break open the windows of our habitations, to murder our people upon the streets."

Borah in his reply to Reed said that there had been corruption and violations of the law.

"I know that," he declared. "I call it Senator's attention to the fact, however, that there never has been a law placed upon the statute books of any civilized nation on earth with reference to liquor that the liquor forces did not undertake to break it down, to violate it, to undermine it, to corrupt the officials. It is the history of liquor legislation from the beginning until this hour. It is not within the ingenuity of the human mind to devise a liquor law that will be satisfactory to the liquor interests."

Borah termed those who have advocated that it is every man's right to observe those laws which he said to observe as traitors and he said that under the system of state control that the dry states had to maintain an army of officers to protect themselves from liquor from wet states.

"Probably we cannot ever prevent the use of alcoholic drinks," he concluded, "but shall we continue or shall we surrender in the fight? So far as I am concerned, so long as I am written in the constitution of the United States that the sale of intoxicating liquors is injurious to the public welfare and that that embodies the policy of the people, I propose in every way that is reasonable and fair to undertake to maintain that constitution. Let us all combine in that effort."

Three Murderers Make Escape From Columbus Prison

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Three life term murderers, including Pat McDermott, slayer of Don Mellett, Canton publisher, and two other prisoners sawed their way to freedom from the state penitentiary here early today.

They dropped from the roof of the residence of Warden Preston E. Thomas and escaped under cover of a blinding snow storm that soon obliterated their tracks.

Besides McDermott, those who escaped are:

William Young, 40, Washington county, serving a life term for murder.

Mike Jacko, 21, Cuyahoga county, serving a life term for murder.

James Walton, 30, Cuyahoga county, serving a term of 12 to 25 years for robbery.

Joe Rosso, 26, Cuyahoga county, serving a term of 10 to 25 years for robbery.

ASK GERMANY IF SHE WANTS LEON TROTSKY

Question Whether Nation Will House Russian Exile Put UP To Cabinet.

Berlin, Feb. 19.—(AP)—It is understood that the German government already has granted permission to Madame Trotsky and her children to enter Germany.

There is also every reason to believe that it will decide to allow Leon Trotsky, former head of the Red army, now in exile, to reside in Germany provided he undertakes to abstain from all political activity and lead a quiet retired life.

Reed's reference was to a speech of President Loebe's in which he said, after an interruption by Communists:

"We were first to give you and others full civic rights. Perhaps some day we shall grant free asylum here in Germany to Mr. Trotsky."

Herr Loebe sent the message to the cabinet with a recommendation for favorable action. Later it was understood the cabinet would take no action until it had received a report from the German consulate at Constantinople. Such a report might establish authenticity of the message, and might be accompanied by certain official documents, necessary in such matters, which thus far have not been received here.

Granted authenticity of the message, the German government is put to a "yes" or "no" in a matter which reports say it has evaded answering directly heretofore.

Moscow dispatches yesterday related first official announcement of Trotsky's exile. The announcement did not state where the former head of the Red army had gone, merely saying that by a decision of the state political department he had been exiled from the Soviet union for his anti-Soviet activities and that in accordance with his wishes his family had gone with him.

Snowstorm Hinders Effort to Reach Isolated Section

Durango, Colo., Feb. 19.—(AP)—A raging snow storm in the Animas canyon had caused suspension today of the efforts of sections crews to cut through snow slides to the isolated mining settlements of Silverton and Eureka, whose 1,500 inhabitants are suffering from a food shortage.

A telephone message from Silverton this morning said Eureka's supply of meat, bread, butter and eggs had been exhausted for two days and that other provisions were low. Silverton had very little meat and no butter and eggs.

The workmen who were forced to seek shelter from the storm last night, had expected to clear the last of the slides from the tracts of the Denver and Rio Grand western railroad by tomorrow so a supply train could be moved into Silverton from Durango. They estimated the storm would delay them at least a day.

The section crews, working day and night since February 3, have penetrated the greatest slides at Needleton and Mile Post 488 1-2 and only a few small ones remained when the storm broke.

MENTIONED FOR CABINET POST

Sydney Anderson (left) of Minnesota, former representative, and W. E. Coffey, dean of University of Minnesota college of agriculture, have been mentioned as available for secretary of agriculture in Hoover's cabinet.

Question Detectives In Probe of Gang Massacre

Chicago, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Every detective squad member of the Chicago police force was called in for questioning in the gang massacre investigation today. Each was asked:

"Where were you last Thursday morning between 10 and 11 o'clock?"

That was the hour in which seven of George (Bugs) Moran's men were lined up in a North Clark street garage and slain.

State's Attorney John A. Swanson issued the order for questioning of the policemen.

"It isn't because Swanson believes the gang killers were led by city detectives," one of his aides explained. "It is because he is not absolutely sure that they were not."

Most witnesses have mentioned that the slayers were using a detective bureau squad car. Several said that two of the five men in the automobiles wore police uniforms.

Police Commissioner William Russell is convinced that no policemen were involved, but he is lending his assistance to the state's attorney to clear up the mystery. It is the commissioner's theory that if any of the slayers wore uniforms it was as a disguise.

Every squad car that has been sold in the last few years is being traced. In this manner, police believe, they may find that the machine used by the murderers was, as witnesses said, a police car, but one that has been disposed of by the department.

PELLEY HEADS LINDBERGH IN N. Y. RAILROAD

President of Central of Georgia Line Elected President N. Y. N. H. & H.

New York, Feb. 19.—(AP)—John J. Pelley, president of the Central of Georgia Railway, has been elected president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, it was announced today. He succeeds the late E. J. Pearson.

Mr. Pelley will assume his duties on March 1. He was elected to the post at the last meeting of the board of directors of the New Haven but formal announcement was withheld until today.

The new president was born at Anna, Illinois, in 1878 and attended the University of Illinois as a special student. He began his railway service as a station clerk for the Illinois Central Railroad in 1899.

Later he had actual railroad experience as a track apprentice and assistant foreman of the extra track gang, gradually rising until he became general foreman and supervisor of the Peoria district.

In 1905 he was transferred to the Memphis district and then went to New Orleans and Fulton, Ky. In 1917 he was appointed general superintendent to the Illinois Central, seven lines, and occupied that post for two years when he was named general superintendent of the northern lines.

Later he became vice-president of the road. In 1926 he was elected president of the Georgia, a subsidiary of the Illinois Central.

Foch's Condition Unchanged.

Paris, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Physicians of Marshal Foch this morning said his condition was unchanged. His temperature was 99.1 and his pulse 83.

HOOVER ARRIVES AT WASHINGTON

Washington, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Back from his month's vacation in Florida, President-Elect Hoover reached Washington today at 1:30 P. M.

Highway Bill Debated By The Senate Today

Raleigh, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Debate on the administration highway bill up for passage on third reading, began in the Senate today when Senator Cannaday, Democrat of Johnson, offered an amendment proposing to divert $2,000,000 from current highway revenues, instead of $1,000,000 for county aid, as approved in the House bill.

The Cannaday amendment would create a fund of $4,000,000 to be apportioned among the counties, with $500,000 to be used by the highway commission as an equalizing fund. The one cent a gallon increase in the gasoline tax, carried in the measure, is relied upon for $2,500,000 annually.

A plea for passage of the bill without amendment was made to the Senate by W. E. Smith of Stanley, chairman of the roads committee.

"It is dangerous to begin amending the bill," he declared. The bill was drawn by House and Senate roads committees after a great deal of time and thought upon it, he said.

He warned that it would be "fatal" to the state's road program to go into the funds of state highway commission further than $1,000,000.

A statement in Gov. Gardner's inaugural address, suggesting the imposition of the extra one cent tax and the allocation of the proceeds from one cent of the current four cent levy, was brought into the debate.

Senator Lawrence, Hertford Democrat, said Gov. Gardner was opposed to a county fund in excess of that provided in the House bill. This brought Senator Blount, Pitt Democrat, to the floor in advocacy of the larger aid fund, with the quotation from the executive's inaugural message.

While the Senate debated the highway proposal, and disposed of efforts to increase the county aid fund and to place expenditure of the funds entirely in the hands of county authorities, the House took up for consideration the Smith-Boren-Carr bill to require the lapse of five days between application of marriage licenses and the issue of the licenses. This measure was advocated by the State Department of Public Welfare, and a number of women's organizations.

The highway bill is the first of the so-called administration measures to run its course through the legislature. In its inaugural address, Gov. Gardner advocated an increase in the gasoline tax to five cents a gallon as a means of relieving the burden of property taxes in the counties.

The measure provides for the added tax of one cent a gallon, and also the diversion of $1,000,000 a year from the four cent tax and the revenue from license taxes. From the extra tax, an income of $2,500,000 is anticipated. This will be supplemented by $500,000 from the regular funds, making about $3,000,000 a year to be pro-rated among the 100 counties of the state on the basis of population and area, and upon the condition that each county reduce its ad valorem taxes for roads by an amount at least equal to its share of this fund.

The other $500,000 is to be used by the highway commission as an equalizing fund, without regard to county or district lines. Expenditures of the county funds will be in the hands of county authorities, but they will be required to disburse them on roads approved by the state commission. The county allotments of the $3,000,000 run from $9,510 for Clay, the lowest, to $64,520 for Wake, the largest.

The measure, making the tax on gasoline five cents a gallon, will take effect April 1. Both houses also considered other measures of less general interest.

FLOOD TERROR GRIPS EUROPE

Well Known Citizen Laid to Rest at Cherry Hill Cemetary this Afternoon.

London, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Flood terrors replaced rigors of bitter cold over a large part of Europe today. It was feared that when the toll of the inundations, real and prospective, was complete, it would equal or surpass that of cold.

The Danube and tributaries swelled over their banks and forced many from their homes. Melting snow and ice caused disastrous floods in Macedonia and Thrace. Bavarian rivers overflowed, while rising temperatures in Northern Italy foreshadowed rapid swelling of rivers there.

Temperatures were less extreme than they have been in many localities the thermometer had not risen to above zero, or freezing.

Advices from the Danube district, where ice and snow have been piled six feet thick over the surface of the river, indicated a worse situation, possibly there than elsewhere.

The Danube and its tributaries had not only to carry off the huge load of melting ice and snow but faced the hazard of ice dams which spread its waters over wide areas before they could be broken.

Widespread havoc was reported from Thrace and Maced where the Struma and other rivers overflowed sweeping away bridges and hundreds of cattle and flooding homes. A number of peasants were drowned part of the city of Cavalla, site of an American Tobacco depot, was submerged, while Heraclea was transformed into a vast lake with inhabitants being fed by merchants who plied their trade in boats. Jugoslavian and Grecian soldiers cooperated to save lives and property.

Murder Case May Go to Jury Today

Norfolk, Va., Feb. 19.—(AP)—Testimony for the defense was resumed today when the second day of the trial of Mrs. Lola Weisbrod of Norfolk, charged with killing her former husband, Detective D. A. Weisbrod, began in corporation court. Attorneys indicated the case probably would go to the jury this afternoon.

Detective Weisbrod was shot and killed while calling on his former wife at her apartment last December 6th, according to evidence already introduced. Mrs. Weisbrod has entered a plea of self defense.

ELEVEN PARISIANS ASPHYXIATED BY GAS

Paris, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Eleven homeless Parisians who sought refuge from the bitter cold in a house in the Batignolles quarter were found dead this morning from asphyxiation, resulting from a broken gas pipe.

Says Church Able To Restore Peace Among Mexicans

Mexico City, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Acting Secretary of Interior Canales told Mexican Roman Catholics in a statement published in Mexico City newspapers this morning that the church authorities had it within their power to restore peace in Mexico.

It was merely necessary, he said, to comply with the constitutional regulations on religious subjects.

The statement is an answer to that published yesterday from Mgr. Miguel de la Mora, Bishop of San Luis Potosi, and spokesman for the Mexican Episcopate, which denied participation and responsibility in recent Mexican bomb outrages.

This responsibility has been alleged by President Portes Gil.

FRENCH PRESS IS UPSET OVER PARIS CONFAB

Like of Progress Reported at Reparations Meeting Draws Criticism.

Paris, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The French Press is restless at the turn the conference of experts on reparations has taken.

The Conference, it appears to Paris newspapers has been nine successive meetings, while announcement as to what has happened behind the hermetically sealed doors relates only to routine matters and generalities. And, more vexing than all, to a somewhat one-sided exposition of German position.

"Let us get down to real business," says Le Temps generally recognized as the semi-official exponent of French viewpoint.

The preliminary explanations must be over now after a week's sitting, or they never will be," says the Journal Des Debats.

A policy of more liberal announcements as to the nature of the secret proceedings might placate much of the public feelings, which is that negotiations have progressed beyond the mere preliminary stages, and that the public is entitled to know the trend.

Meanwhile a sub-committee has been appointed to debate rules for future procedure, which is taken as an indication of some perplexity as to how to proceed with the work at hand.

There is a question as to whether to continue discussion in plenary sessions or divide it up for sub-committees. It was considered unlikely that the experts would be able to get down to real business before the middle of the week.

Body of Reporter Found In River

Laredo, Tex., Feb. 19.—(AP)—A seeming enigma, characteristic of many Mexican border disappearances and murders, today faced officers seeking an explanation of the death of Harry Williams, 24, Laredo newspaperman, following his disappearance January 19.

Williams' body bearing no evidence of the manner in which he met death, was found yesterday in the Rio Grande. Physicians said the fact that no water was in his lungs made it certain he was placed in the river when dead.

A theory which the officers were inclined to believe was that the reporter was killed by smugglers because of the knowledge he had obtained as to their operations. Stephen Acquire, American consul here, has requested authorities at Washington for authority to send officers across the border into Mexico to make investigations into the case.

Williams was last seen at 1 A. M. January 19, when he left his hotel here after he and a friend had returned from Nueva Laredo across the border. He was coatless and hatless and was known to have had only 30 cents in his pocket.

EXPERTS ON REPARATIONS STRIKE SNAG

Sub-Committee Fails To Find Work For Regular Committee; More Members Added.

Paris, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The sub-committee appointed by the reparations commission to find a method of procedure for the future work of the experts has run into a snag and consequently has been enlarged and told to try again.

When the committee which consisted of Sir Josiah Stamp of Great Britain and Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, president of the German Reichsbank, reported this morning they said that they had failed to find a mutually acceptable procedure. The full committee then appointed three more members and these five went into session this afternoon to see what they could do.

The newly-appointed members were Jean Y. Parmentier of France, Prof. Savitch of Italy and M. Guit, of Belgium.

The procedure which the sub-committee was asked to determine was to enable both the debtor and creditors in the reparations account to submit an offer and put in claims that might form the groundwork of the main committee's further deliberations.

The American members of the committee apparently are taking an effaced, impartial and independent attitude in the reparations problem since they were not included even in the second sub-committee.

The point at issue seems to be: who will speak up first?

Will the Germans, following their presentation of the economic situation in Germany, say: "We can pay only so much and only so fast?" or will Germany's creditors state the minimum sums with which they would be satisfied in liquidation of reparations?

It is admitted in reparations circles that the principle issue is between Germany and France, the latter being the principal reparations creditor.

The inference drawn from the increase in membership of the sub-committee is that France was not satisfied with the report made by Dr. Schacht and Sir Josiah Stamp. The work of the experts thus has reached a dead point which will be passed only when it has been decided whether the reparations debtor or reparations creditors, will make the first step toward compromise.

Two Men Escape From Submarine In Deepsea Test

Key West, Fla., Feb. 19.—(AP)—The crushing force of the Atlantic ocean at a depth of 120 feet has been overcome by man in the flesh. Descending to that depth yesterday two men successfully escaped from the submarine S-4 by means of the oxygen inflated "lung" which was the subject of extensive tests during the past few weeks of this cost.

Clad in bathing suits and adorned with masks which look similar to gas masks used in mine disasters, Lieut. C. B. Monsen and Chief Torpedoman Edward Kalinowski, left the S-4 on the coral of the ocean bed at 120 feet and came to the surface without outside aid.

A physician examined the pair after the test, which is expected to reduce to a minimum the danger in submarine service and pronounced them unharmed from the terrific pressure of the water. Indeed they showed little more fatigue from their experiment than they had when testing the device from shallower water.

Lieut. Commander P. H. Dunbar in charge of operations, has placed his unrestrained approval on the "lung" as a life preserver aid pronounced the test highly successful. Just what keeps the men from suffering from the pressure in the final deep tests had not been determined.

DOUBLE FUNERAL FOR ACTOR AND HIS WIFE

The new edifice will be situated on the lot to the south and adjoining the present building. The old building will be used while the new structure is under erection.

Work on the new building will get under way probably within the next sixty days and is hoped the building will be completed and ready for occupancy by November 1st.

The cost of the new building and equipment will be slightly above $50,000.

Greensboro is Host To Medical Society

Greensboro, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Physicians and surgeons from the two Carolinas and Virginia, as well as distinguished guests from other states, were in Greensboro this morning for the first session of the 31st annual Tri-State Medical Association meeting. Three hundred delegates are expected to attend the sessions.

Dr. J. L. Sprull, president of the Guilford County Medical Society, occupied the chair this morning as the annual meeting started its two and a half day period of work.

Tonight at 8 o'clock a public meeting will be held with Governor O. Max Gardner opening the program, which will be broadcast over radio station WNRC. The medical address at the public session will be "The Psychiatrist in Court" by Dr. Winfred Overholser of Boston, Mass., director of the division for the examination of prisoners of the department of mental diseases of Massachusetts.

Other speakers at the night session and the subject are:

Dr. Joseph L. Miller, Thomas, W. Va., "Has Medical History Any Value?"; Dr. Charles O'H. Laughinghouse, North Carolina State Health officer, "Preventive Surgery From a Public Health Standpoint"; and Dr. James K. Hall, Richmond, Va., president of the Tri-State body.

Tonight, also, the association will be presented a gavel made of timber taken from "Belroi," ancestral home of Dr. Walter Reed. Dr. J. Allison Hodges of Richmond, will present the gavel and Dr. Sutar McGuire of Richmond, will accept it.

At the meeting this morning Dr. E. G. Gill of Roanoke, Va., read a paper "Foreign Bodies in the Air and Food Passages," and Dr. C. N. Peeler of Charlotte, opened the discussion of this.

Belled Buzzard Visits Locality

The first belled buzzard seen in this section in a number of years was observed by a party of hunters on the opposite side of Tar river yesterday afternoon.

Attention of the hunters was attracted by the ringing of the bell around the buzzard's neck. They followed the bird for a considerable distance and saw it descend among a flock of other buzzards. The ringing of the bell frightened the flock and in an incredibly short time only the vulture and the bell remained.

Several years ago a belled buzzard made his appearance in this section, and like that yesterday, had had a bell placed around his neck by someone who caught him and then gave him his liberty with a bell for identification.

TO SHOW FIRST

FIRE APPARATUS
Paris, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Some of the ladders, broom and sponges used in the fire of Caesar Augustus, who is credited with having the first city fire department, are to be shown, if they can be found in museums, at an International Fire Fighting Exposition next summer.

PA STRIBLING NOT SATISFIED WITH REFEREE

Miami Beach, Feb. 19.—(AP)—The ballyhoo or not the ballyhoo seemed to be the question today as the names of a war over referees broke the calm and beauty of Provincetown where fighters and their sponsors rub elbows with the cream of society.

The opinion was general that Johnny Brassil, 40 year old veteran of New England rings, would referee the fracas on February 27th between Jack Sharkey, the silent sailor, and Young Stribling, clean-cut Georgian. And everyone seems certain of this despite "Pa" Stribling's outraged declaration that he didn't raise his boy to fight Boston heavyweights with a Boston referee in the same ring.

All the shooting, whether real or feigned, hinges on the interpretations of the contracts of the two fighters held directly with Madison Square Garden Corporation and indirectly with Jack Dempsey, the former champion, who is learning about fight promotion from two contenders for his old crown. Johnny Buckley, plump little manager of the scowling Bostonian, says the issue is settled by the naming of Brassil and Jack Sheehan, both Boston referees, to the disputed post by the Massachusetts State A. C. Pa Stribling says the fight has just begun.

In simple and sometimes coherent phraseology, Buckley puts forward his side of the situation this way: "If you ask a fellow one question—like is it gonna rain?—and he answers, then you're done with that question, aren't you? Well, Sharkey's contract raised a question about who should be the referee and now it's answered. So we're done with it."

"Sharkey's contract for the fight says that the referee shall be mutually agreed upon by both managers before the fight if possible. If the managers can't get together, then it was mutually agreed that the decision should be left to the Massachusetts Boxing Commission who would name two referees, and secretly recommend to Dempsey which should handle the fight."

"As a last resort the contract said that if the commission refused to name the referee then Dempsey was to do it ten days before the fight."

"Well, the commission named Brassil and Sheehan yesterday and told Dempsey which they thought was best. That settles it, as far as we are concerned. We aren't going to answer that same question twice. It's all answered."

Pa Stribling thinks differently, and though he claims the clause in his contract says the referee named by the Massachusetts commission must be "mutually agreeable," Dempsey declares that the referee clauses in both contracts are the same.

That being the case, the disputed clauses read thusly:

"It is agreed that the referee for the contest shall be mutually agreed upon by the parties of this agreement. The final selection to be made one week before the contest. In the event that the parties are unable to agree on the official it is agreed that the Massachusetts Boxing Commission shall name the referee."

"If the said commission refuses or neglects to name said official within seven days of the contest, then Jack Dempsey shall designate the referee."

With the issue so clearly defined, the general opinion is that Brassil already has been named to handle the major fistieuffs a week from Wednesday night.

Regardless of the referee controversy, the battle has been given its final ballyhoo blast toward success. There is close to $250,000 in cash receipts already in the box office, a huge pile of reservations, and interest is growing daily. The city already is packed to the saturation point with visitors. The best guess as to the ultimate "gate" ranges between $250,000 and $400,000.

Baseball Meeting Set For Next Monday Night

A meeting will be held at the City Hall Monday night, February 25th to inaugurate plans for Greenville's participation in the Eastern Carolina League, it was made known today. Officers and directors of the local club will be elected at that time.

The eastern circuit will open on April 19th, according to the schedule recently issued, and all clubs are beginning to turn their attention to organization plans.

Lester Bangs, Greenville pilot for the coming season, is scheduled to report for duty March 1st, it was stated today. It is quite probable, however, that he may arrive the early part of next week. He will immediately begin outlining his program for the coming season.

The names of a dozen or more likely youngsters have already been added to contracts of the Greenville club. The names of these players were not available today, but will be given publicity far in advance of training season.

The opening of the season will witness numbers of improvements at the ball park at the fair grounds. The outfield fence will be moved back forty feet, giving the necessary four hundred feet from the plate. The diamond itself will be gone over and put in splendid condition preparatory to the opening of training season which is set for March 25th.

Promoters of the outfit are optimistic concerning the future of the Tobacconists this season. They hope the club will get off to a flying start the first few days of the season and hold it until the final ball has been tossed.

The club last year suffered a number of setbacks, but it is hoped the jinx has hit another trail and that he will not hang around to harrass the Tobacconists at every turn of the road.

To Investigate Plane Crash at Winston-Salem

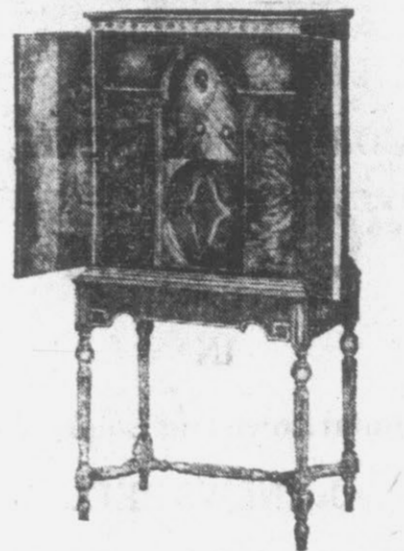

Winston-Salem, Feb. 19.—(AP)—Investigation into the plane crash here late yesterday that resulted in the death of Reed Latham, 20, will be begun immediately.

Young Latham, son of R. H. Latham, superintendent of the Winston-Salem city schools, was fatally injured and Fred O'Brien, 20, was seriously injured when Latham's plane was wrecked at the Miller municipal airport.

Immediately after the two were removed from the wreckage to a hospital, Lewis S. McGinnes, manager of the Reynolds Aviation Company in North Carolina, the company which has leased the port, transferred the broken parts of the

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 1 to 2 points in response to steady Liverpool cables. There was not much buying, apparently, and prices eased off a few points right after the call under a little southern selling and realizing. May contracts which had sold up to 20.08 at the start, declined to 20.04. Other months showed similar fluctuations. But offerings were well enough taken to give the market a steady undertone and hold prices within a point or two either way of yesterday's closing quotations at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported trade buying had absorbed local and continental liquidation in that market. The cables also said there was India although many offers were unworkable.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 15.—(AP)—With news received that more wheat was being booked at Kansas City to come to Chicago, the wheat market here underwent a late setback today and early returns in price failed to hold. Enlarged selling to realize profits on wheat price bulges were a factor, and although apprehension continued regarding crop damage, both domestic and foreign, a greater disposition became evident to await growing weather to determine the extent of the injury. Meanwhile, the world's wheat available supply total decreased 3,386,000 bushels for the week, but was still 291,417 bushels against 339,683,000 bushels a year ago.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Lowering of the call money rate from 7 to 6 percent, an advance of $2 a ton in lead prices and the publication of another series of favorable earnings reports provided the background for another advance in prices in today's stock market. Waves of selling swept through the market, at intervals, but offerings generally were well absorbed, and trading showed a tendency to turn dull on the reaction.

Judging from commission house comment, speculative opinion is still widely divided as to the future trend of prices, although many observers are agreed that a period of relative quiet is likely until just before inaugural message for the light that it will throw on the policies of the new administration.

Oil shares were one of the few backward groups in today's market. This was attributed to reports of a gasoline war on the Pacific coast, and also that several western companies were planning to enter the eastern market to find an outlet for their surplus crude production. Rail shares also took little part in the day's advance, Texas and Pacific standing out with a gain of about 3 points.

Rival of activity and strength in American and foreign power which ran up nearly 10 points to a new high record at 138, was based on a large scale, previous operations being limited largely to central and south America. Wall street statisticians figured that at current prices the company stock was selling about 60 times net earnings. Commonwealth power and American Power and Light also were in brisk demand.

Much of today's trading was believed to be professional in character with pools again active in such specialties as Safeway Stores, St. Joseph Lead, Vulcan Detinning, Matheson
