

ONE ARREST IN CHICAGO'S GANG MURDER

"Nosey Joe" Lewis Held at Detroit; To Question "Purple" Gangster.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—(AP)—"Nosey Joe" Lewis, with prison records in Illinois and Leavenworth, has been arrested in Detroit in connection with the Chicago's game massacre.

A "murder map" was found in his pocket. It diagrammed territory along the Lake Michigan shore contiguous to the North Clark Street garage in which the seven gangsters were executed just a week ago.

The arrest was made last night after "Nosey Joe" or George A. Lewis as he identified himself, was overheard to say he had "bumped off" a party in Chicago, a murder charge was placed against him at the request of Chicago authorities. Detroit police, however, would not discuss the arrest nor say for what murder Lewis was held.

An assistant state's attorney and a Chicago Police Lieutenant left immediately for Detroit. Besides Lewis, they planned to question Philip Keywell, "Purple" gangster, who was picked up yesterday by the Michigan police. A photograph of Keywell has been partly identified as being one of the "spotters" who spied upon the garage for several days preceding the mass murder.

A new witness had come forward today to give the first account of what went on in the garage during the morning hours immediately preceding the slaying. He was a telephone repair man whose identity was kept secret to prevent any attempt on his life.

This man had made several visits to the garage at 2122 North Clark street at the request of the subscribers there who believed the line had been tapped. He was at the garage between 8:30 and 10 o'clock the morning of St. Valentine's day, leaving about half an hour before the machine guns and pistols of the slayers opened fire upon the George (Bugs) Moran gangsters.

"I never saw all seven of the dead men in the garage at one time," the witness said, "but I remember seeing all of them at one time or another on my five visits there. The morning of the shooting only two men were there—Adam Roser and the mechanic. (Both were later slain.)"

"Heyer insisted that the telephone line had been tapped, and on previous visits I had failed to convince him otherwise. This particular morning I went there determined to give the line a thorough test, and did not find that the line had been tapped."

"The only thing out of the way I heard that morning was a remark by Heyer to the mechanic. 'Well, kid, did that load get to Indianapolis all right?' he said, and the mechanic answered, 'I think it did.'"

"I never saw any bugger there or any signs of run running." Deputy police commissioner John Stagg, back from an interrupted vacation, assumed charge of the police inquiry last night and offered a new suggestion.

"Doesn't it strike you funny that all the big men in the Moran outfit escaped?" he asked newspapermen. "Israel Edelman didn't get killed did he? and he's a bigger man in the mob than any of those who were shot down. And Icewagon Connors or Willie Marks or Frank Foster didn't get killed, or for that matter Bugs Moran himself."

"I suppose that some of Moran's lesser men had been double-crossing him, dealing with a rival booze peddling outfit—Paul Borzette for example, and would Moran find it out. What would Moran do? Think it over."

Stagg voiced an indignant denial of any theories connecting police officers with the slaying. He believes that if any of the slayers wore police uniforms, they did so far disguise.

OIL COMPANY WILL LOCATE PLANT HERE

Gulf Refining Co., To Make Greenville Dis- tributing Center For Several Counties.

The Gulf Refining Company, of Pittsburgh, Pa., today announced that Greenville had been made a distributing center for several counties of Eastern North Carolina.

Coincident with the announcement it was stated that a plant to cost between $50,000 and $60,000 would be erected on a site back of the Forest Lumber Company, on the western outskirts of the city.

The plant would be used for the construction work on the main road which is to be completed as early as possible.

The concern reported a phenomenal growth of business in this territory the last several months and this resulted in the decision to make Greenville one of the many distributing centers scattered over the country.

A one week term of Pitt county Superior court for the trial of civil cases convened in this city yesterday morning with Judge E. A. Daniels, of Goldsboro, presiding. The following divorces were granted: Willie McLendon vs. Emma McLendon. Lillian Fye vs. Howard Fye. Frank Johnson vs. Minnie Johnson. John Chapman vs. Lydia Chapman. Albee Coats vs. Hattie Coats. Hattie Forman vs. Warren Forman. E. J. Wooten vs. Lela Wooten.

Keyes Sentenced To Jail; Appeals

Los Angeles, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Los Angeles county today fell back upon his second line of defense, an appeal to a higher court in his fight to escape a sentence of one to fourteen years in San Quentin penitentiary.

Keyes and Ed Rosenberg, one of his co-defendants in the recent bribery conspiracy trial here, were sentenced yesterday by superior Judge Edward T. Butler after a motion for a new trial had been denied.

Ben Getzoff, Los Angeles tailor through whose hands some $140,000 was alleged to have passed to Keyes from defendants in cases prosecuted by the former district attorney, was not sentenced.

Keyes and Rosenberg were denied bail and returned to jail after they had given notice of appeal. The former district attorney showed no emotion as sentence was pronounced. He declared he had "just begun the fight" in his effort to keep out of the "big house" on the shores of San Francisco bay.

B. R. LACY DIES AFTER SEVERE HEART ATTACK

State Treasurer Passed Away at Home in Raleigh This Morn- ing at 10:30.

Raleigh, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Benjamin R. Lacy, state treasurer, died at his home here this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Mr. Lacy, who had filled the office of treasurer since 1900, had been ill for about a week. He had a severe heart attack last night, superinduced, it is thought, by asthma, from which he had been a sufferer for years.

Had he lived until June 19, Mr. Lacy would have been 75 years old. He was a native of Raleigh, the son of a preacher and the grandson of two preachers. Until he entered politics, he was a railroad man, retaining his membership in the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers throughout his life.

Mr. Lacy's first political office was that of alderman of the City of Raleigh. In 1894 he was elected state commissioner of Labor and Printing, which post he held until his election as state treasurer six years later.

Holding the office of treasurer during North Carolina's period of rapid expansion, Mr. Lacy handled millions of dollars for the state. He was required to sign his name to bonds and other official papers so much that he practiced writing his signature with either hand, and became ambidextrous.

For the last several years, Mr. Lacy had suffered severely from an asthmatic affliction, and in 1925 he had an attack while in New York on state financial business, which almost cost him his life. But for the greater part of his time he was able to conduct his office personally.

He is survived by his widow, who was Miss Mary Burwell, and several children.

The names of Mr. and Mrs. Lacy's children follow: Mrs. R. E. McAden, of Raleigh; Mrs. Charles G. Rose, of Fayetteville; B. R. Lacy, Jr., of Richmond; Mrs. J. J. Lane, Raleigh; Thomas A. Lacy and The Misses Francis and Nan Lacy.

STEWART ASKS FOR SUPPORT

Standard Oil Chair- man Appeals to the Stockholders for His Re-election.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana who on March 7 will decide whether Col. Robert W. Stewart is to continue as chairman of the board, have been mailed a new appeal for re-election by Col. Stewart.

The letter charges spokesmen of John D. Rockefeller, Jr. with a "campaign of misrepresentation" in their effort to remove Col. Stewart from control. It expressed the hope that the contest between the young Rockefeller and himself be kept on a high plane. "It was of understanding that such, too, was the hope and intention of Mr. Rockefeller," the letter continued.

"Then Mr. Rockefeller sailed for Egypt," Col. Stewart wrote in the letters which went into the mails last night. "Mr. Aldrich (Winthrop W. Aldrich, brother in law and attorney for Mr. Rockefeller) and Mr. Ivy Lee apparently did not understand the matter as he did."

"After saying he would embark on no 'unseemly scramble for proxies,' it surely must be without his knowledge or consent that others in his name have embarked upon a campaign of misrepresentation; that they, in a very wild scramble for proxies, indeed, have brought the whole force of the Rockefeller millions to bear to intimidate and force wherever possible individuals and financial institutions and all of the companies which the Rockefeller interest dominate in order to defeat the 'sent management' of this company."

His opponents, Col. Stewart said, have initiated a "rule or ruin" policy, bent on securing control of the company, "regardless of the consequences." The chairman denied that he was asking a personal vindication of the stockholders. "That has already been given to me by two courts and two juries." What he wanted he said was that they vote "for the good of the company and your own good."

McLean School Bill Introduced In House; Both Houses Adjourn

Raleigh, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Two Major measures, although in position for action, were passed over by the Senate today, while a raft of local and minor public bills were considered. The House, also, worked mainly on matters of minor interest for the first two hours of its session, and then took up one of the measures regarded as an outstanding problem of the session—the McLean eight months school bill. The author, Representative J. D. MacLean, of Beaufort, explained the bill in detail.

for the memory of State Treasurer Ben K. Lacy, who died this morning. Various members paid tribute to him in the course of the session. A plea for the longer term school was made on the floor when the House reached his bill to make an eight months school term the minimum in North Carolina.

He quoted from the constitution that section which instructs the General Assembly to provide equal public school facilities for all children of the state. "The subject is outgrowth of condition that has become cumulative over a period of 20 years," Representative MacLean said. He read from the Democratic platform adopted at its convention of last June which said, "the Democratic party is the party of education and progress in North Carolina." He said that likewise the Republican party has declared in firm support of schools and public education.

Governor's inaugural address statement that education is necessary for development of rural life in North Carolina was also quoted by Representative MacLean.

"This bill undertakes to declare that in fact as well as in theory the time has come for North Carolina to set up the eight months term as its standard," the Beaufort Representative declared. He explained the provisions of the measure, which would require an equalization fund of ten million dollars from the state to aid the counties in maintaining the larger term, MacLean held the floor for more than an hour.

Says Dry Law Not Properly Enforced

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Speaking at Yale University last night, James M. Doran, prohibition commissioner, placed much of the blame for unsatisfactory conditions as regards prohibition in some communities to "the abject failure of local authorities to assume its proper obligation and enforce the criminal law."

The commissioner also declared that the term "poison alcohol" as applied to industrial alcohol was unwarranted and that recently occurring in New York City from wood alcohol were caused by industrial alcohol in the form in which it was denatured under government supervision.

He said that the movement on the part of some local authorities to evade their responsibilities took form soon as the prohibition act became law and that in some cities corrupt political machines, through the police department, "made an unholy alliance with the underworld and contributed in no small degree to the building of illicit liquor rings."

The capital of the Old confederacy wore a silver shawl with a five inch fold as the mercury registered a few degrees below the freezing mark. Resnoke saw the mercury plunge from sixty degrees yesterday to freezing this morning with six inches of snow. Lynchburg reported a minimum temperature of 21.6 degrees and nearly four inches of snow and sleet. The mercury dropped to 28 in Danville as snow and sleet measured two inches. Norfolk turned in a report of only rain and a temperature of 34.

SENATE FACED BY FILIBUSTER TANGLE TODAY

House, However, Free Of Worries And Has Clean Slate in View For Tomorrow.

Washington, Feb. 21.—(AP)—With the end of the session only a little more than a week away, the Senate today seemed on the point of getting tangled in a filibuster snarl but the House was apparently free from major legislative worries and promised to end its work with a clean slate.

On the Senate program was the Edge resolution for a survey for the proposed canal across Nicaragua but chairman Hale of the naval affairs committee had given notice that he would attempt to have the House take up the naval appropriation bill. He attempted to get this measure before the Senate yesterday but Senator Blaine of Wisconsin, objected and he might try filibustering tactics to prevent consideration of the bill. In that event the bill will attempt to have a rule provided limiting debate.

Even with the naval bill out of the way there is trouble ahead of the Senate. Senator Glass of Virginia has said that he would oppose the second deficiency bill because of the exclusion of a $24,000,000 item for prohibition enforcement that was in the first deficiency bill, now apparently defeated.

The House had before it today the Load bill to place on ship hulls a mark to indicate when their capacity load was reached and also bills requiring unanimous consent. In this there was seemingly work but no fireworks.

House committees, including the ways and means tariff hearings, Indian affairs, military affairs, which had arranged to consider an army promotion bill and appropriations which faced the second deficiency bill, the last of the appropriation measures to come before the House the others being in conference or disposed of. No Senate committee had meetings scheduled.

TWO NATIONS END BOUNDARY CONTROVERSY

Peru and Chile Agree To Settlement To Tacna And Arica Dispute.

Santiago, Chile, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Boundary dispute born in war and thriving through 45 years of international strife, has been settled by peaceful means.

Official announcement here today says that an agreement has been reached between the governments of Peru and Chile, the two countries involved, by which the province of Tacna goes to Peru and that of Arica to Chile.

The boundary between the two provinces is slightly north of the rail leading from Port of Arica to La Paza Bolivian this railroad of the utmost importance to Bolivia, since it is her sole outlet to the Pacific, remains in Chilean territory until it crosses the Bolivian frontier.

The railroad from Tacna to Arica will be in Peruvian control, while a spur which is to be constructed at Arica connecting the two lines will be under Chilean control.

The agreement is the result of diplomatic negotiations undertaken just four months ago, after resumption of diplomatic relations between them at the invitation of the United States secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg last July.

The Tacna-Arica dispute had its birth in 1879 when Chile occupied the two provinces in the course of a war with Peru and Bolivia. The treaty of Ancón ended the conflict in 1884 and provided they should remain in Chilean control for ten years when a plebiscite would be undertaken to determine their future state.

Peru maintaining the Chilean government attempted unfair nationalization of the two provinces and the plebiscite was not to be held for more than 25 years. Was often threatened, the nature of the conflict being such that it might solved nearly all of South America.

In January 1922 the United States government, seeing the dangerous aspects of the situation, offered its good offices. President Coolidge became Arbitrator in July, 1922, and 3 years later handed down a decision which upheld the necessity of a plebiscite, fixed the northern boundary of Tacna, and provided for a boundary commission to decide the southern Tacna boundary, or that which borders on Arica.

SOUTH TO GET RELIEF FROM WINTER BLAST

One Death Reported at Memphis as Result of Roads Covered by Sleet.

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 21.—(AP)—After shivering in the grip of a cold wave that brought ice, sleet and snow to many southern states last night and early today and caused one death at Memphis, Tenn., Dixie looked forward to rising temperatures and relief from the cold tonight or early tomorrow.

The death of C. E. Lyons, whose body was found beneath his wrecked automobile near Memphis yesterday, was attributed to a sleet covered road which caused his automobile to skid over an embankment.

Tennessee, Kentucky and other states experienced unseasonable cold last night and early today, with snow reported in some parts of Tennessee. Rain was reported in Georgia and some parts of North and South Carolina.

C. F. Ven Hermit of the Atlanta weather bureau warned shippers against 15 to 20 degree temperature in the Tennessee region, 25 to 30 degrees in Northern Alabama and 30 degrees in the western Carolinas.

Von Herman added that the worst of the cold would be over by Thursday night or Friday, with Florida and other Gulf states escaping the wintry blast.

Charlotte, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Ice, snow almost in their entirety today and sleet covered the two caps after a morning with spring temperatures yesterday.

Last night sleet or rain turning into sleet with snow in some portions of the state, left the ground, trees, buildings and wires coated with ice, snow or sleet.

In the middle of the heavy sleet storm at about 2 o'clock this morning, sleet lightning and heavy thunder claps were reported from various sections of the state.

In South Carolina, Anderson reported rain, sleet, thunder and lightning during the night. Union had thunder and wind with plenty of ice this morning. Anderson and Greenwood both reported above freezing temperatures but threatening skies. Greenville had two and a quarter inches of rain yesterday and sub-freezing weather today coated everything with ice. Spartanburg, likewise, had ice in quantity with a heavy rain yesterday and last night. Slight damage was reported from all sections, wires down being the greatest contributor.

Charlotte, in North Carolina, woke to find icicles two and three inches long hanging from trees and wires and a covering of sleet on the ground and sidewalks. Electric wires were down in many parts of the city.

Salisbury reported a white covering of almost two inches and a low mercury for the night of 20. Fayetteville, on the other hand, after feeling sleet last night had slightly above freezing weather today with a light rain falling.

Greensboro reported almost service suspended due to weather conditions. The temperatures at the Greensboro airport was 24 at 8 o'clock this morning compared with 50 at the same time yesterday. Ice and sleet stood three inches deep in many places.

$5,000 Fire At Elizabeth City

Elizabeth City, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Fire, discovered at 5 o'clock this morning, damaged the building on Pendexter street formerly occupied by the Standard Manufacturing Co. and an adjoining structure to the extent of about $5,000 before firemen finally conquered the blaze hours later.

The damaged buildings were unoccupied though machinery, paper boxes and accessories were still in the Standard building. The sprinkler system in the structure was drained some months ago when the Company discontinued business.

Water was obtained from a nearby stream, in addition to the city supply, and the blaze was confined to the two buildings, through other merchant structures adjoining.

Nevada Is Still Divorce "Mecca"

Carson City, Nev., Feb. 21.—(AP)—Nevada legislators have refused to change the state's status as a Mecca of married folk seeking liberty from matrimony.

The lower house of the legislature yesterday 30 to 2 against a proposal to raise residence requirements for divorce purposes from three to six months. Five members failed to vote. The vote was taken without debate.

The three months residence law was passed by the 1927 legislature.

NEW BASEBALL MANAGER TO REACH CITY TODAY

Lester Bangs, new manager of the Greenville baseball club of the Eastern Carolina league, will arrive in this city this afternoon for a series of conferences with President Smith regarding preparations for the coming season.

The conferences will mark the opening of activities in connection with the hiring of players and completing of organization of the local club preparatory to the beginning of training season during March. Bangs, it is understood, has already signed up a number of players with great strike records. Five former members of the local club have also been recalled for action.

President Smith said today that a meeting would be held in the city hall next Monday night to formulate plans for the coming season. Officers of club will be elected at that time and other plans dealing with success of the organization will be considered.

President Smith is optimistic concerning the prospects for the coming season. He is of the opinion that Greenville will be able to make a far better showing than last season. The players under consideration have splendid records behind them and are expected to scintillate both in the field and at the bat.

All those interested in the success of the club are urged to attend the meeting next Monday night and familiarize themselves with what has been accomplished so far.

HOODOO "13" SMILES ON LOCAL TEAM

The ancient hoodoo "13" has been a rather steady jinx to the opponents of Greenville High "13" this year. No less than seven games have been won by the locals with their opponents totalling 13 at 13 in our closest game, the 15-13 affair in Rocky Mount.

Now, on the eve of our thirteenth game, it remains to be seen whether the hoodoo will turn against us or not. Friday night, Washington comes to play us here, this will bring us face to face with our traditional foes in game number 13 of the Conference series.

Twelve in a row is a pretty good number for and high school team to run up, and it may be that Greenville is vying for a hard fall. It would be hard to have Washington slip one over tomorrow night, but at any rate, Washington will bring here their best team, much strengthened over the aggregation which they met us on their own court, and play their hardest to wipe out the memory of that 54 to 5 defeat inflicted in Beaufort last month. And our 13th game may prove the obstacle, if you are superstitious.

Dempsey and Ruth In Ring Battle At Palm Beach, Florida

Palm Beach, Fla., Feb. 21—(AP)—An attempted ring comeback by Jack Dempsey ended last night when the Old Manassa Mauler fled the ring to escape the rushing attacks of his opponent.

The bout ended in the second round when Battler Babe Ruth threw discretion and boxing rules into the discard, grasped his trusty home run bludgeon and flourished it menacingly at the former heavyweight champion.

The match was the headliner of the annual Palm Beach county show for the benefit of underprivileged children, sponsored by the local Kiwanis club.

The contestants appeared on the stage in a Palm Beach "automobile" propelled by a grinning negro boy, and while Dempsey had all the best of the first round, when Ruth found himself unable to land his blow, the former champion fled in disgrace at the appearance of Ruth's big bat.

The show was probably the most expensive ever held in America, some of the boxes sold for as much as $5,000, while ordinary seats brought $25 each.

Among the producers were Florence Ziegfeld, Arthur Hammerstein, Sam Harris, Anita Loos, John Emerson and Harry Frazer, and the cast numbered such theatrical stars as Billie Burke, W. C. Fields, Dorothy Dalton, Louise Goody, Jerome Kern, Helen Cohan and others.

ROSY OUTLOOK FOR FIGHTS IN THE SOUTH

Miami Beach, Feb. 21—(AP)—The mantle of luck that seemed to cheer Tex Rickard's shoulders in life apparently has fallen in blanket fashion at his death over the entire Madison Square Garden Corporation.

Scarcely a month ago the directors of the garden organization and even Douglas Bill Cary, the two fisted railroad builder who has taken Tex's place at the helm, argued for days the feasibility of carrying out Rickard's dream of an outdoor heavyweight contest in the South while winter gripped arenas in the north. The plan when originated seemed feasible to none but Rickard and even he had his doubts.

It is no secret now that Tex, before he died, told the directors of his organization that the battle of the Everglades, featuring Young Stribling, the saugung Georgian and Jack Sharkey, of Boston, must be considered in the light of his own personal experiment. If any profits were made on the affair, the corporation would receive them. Any loss Tex planned to foot himself.

Rickard, seeking to divorce himself slowly from the game that made him wealthy, had invested heavily in ventures here. Tex wanted to spend his latter years in the ease of the southland. Miami Beach was the choice of his future home. The dog racing track, the Deauville Casino and the rusty steel skeleton of a $1,000,000 recreation pier all are evidence of Rickard's belief in the fecundity of the south.

He planned the fight next Wednesday night as a gigantic advertising proposition not only for his investment but for the corporation as well. Tex once said he was willing to take a loss of $100,000 and consider it well spent. But when the old master of the ballyhoo died the garden directors could see little reason, with Rickard's genius gone, for carrying out what seemed so profitable a proposition.

The guarantee of $100,000 to Sharkey, the cost of erecting an arena, offered the two largest obstacles.

And now from an entirely unexpected source comes the promise that the Garden corporation unwittingly has stumbled into a new by-product or boxing, a discovery that may prove one of the most prosperous in the history of the sport, instead of a financial failure, the match itself is assured of success and with it many more in the same territory.

So great has been the advertising that has come to Miami Beach through the battle itself, the influx of newspapermen and prominent visitors, that other cities in the South are casting envious eyes at the publicity that has boomed this city even beyond the days of 1925 and 1926. Already Bill Cary has received propositions from cities in California and other parts of Florida but leading citizens of Tampa on the West Coast seemed to have outdistanced all the rest.

Cary was amazed at an unofficial offer of $500,000 from the rival resort to stage another heavyweight engagement next winter beside the waters of Tampa Bay.

Although Miami Beach paid nothing for the privilege of staging the Sharkey-Stribling match, indications are that the prosperity resulting will bring the social resort into the bidding for any return engagement that the Garden may play in the South.

Thus it may prove that Rickard, master at holding the game of boxing to his needs and desires, may have overlooked the most profitable side line on all while the Garden led into carrying out the promoter's plans through respect for the dead leader and desire to maintain prestige, has stumbled upon the fistic goose that may lay many golden eggs.

TRUTHFULNESS

And little George showed good judgment as well when he admitted chopping down that cherry tree. For his truthfulness in little things was one of the strongest reasons for the confidence placed in him.
It is one of the fundamental principles of good business—evidenced in our advertising—to inspire confidence in the quality and style-rightness of its merchandise.

THE WORLD—AND OUR MOUSE TRAP

Some one has said, "the world makes a beaten path to the door of a man who makes a better mouse trap than his neighbor." Possibly true. A friend of ours from Greenville dropped in this morning, and sadly said that he caught his wife kicking the iceman yesterday morning, and this morning he saw her kiss the milkman, and wanted to know what to do. We advised him to have patience—maybe his turn would come next. His turn might come quicker if he'd buy friend wife a Nesco oil cook stove for all year convenience. Nesco stoves are now available for use with either gasoline or kerosene. The Nesco pressure patent insures maximum heat at least fuel consumption.

Even if the weather is bad the arrival today of the new manager for our baseball club and the gathering together of players for practice for the coming season is a sure sign that spring and summer are not far away.

We are inclined to abandon the theory that man sprang from a lower animal or reptile and accept the one that suggests that he was advanced over the heads of his fellows through the power of personal pull.—Toledo Blade.

THE BOY SCOUTS

It is gratifying to note that the Boy Scout movement in this city is to get under way at an early date on an organized basis. The Boy Scout movement means much to the future of any community and members of the local Kiwanis and Rotary clubs are to be congratulated for their action in taking over and sponsoring it here. The boys of today are indeed the men of tomorrow and it is the duty of our present citizens to provide for the future by making the best of training for the future citizens.

The boy scout movement in this city will certainly fill a long felt need and will no doubt prove a paying investment. We urge every citizen to give every possible aid to the movement.

SHOULD ADOPT PRINCIPALS

Tax reduction legislation is essential if the present session of the legislature is to perform one of the most important duties before it. As we see it the MacLean bill now pending is the best tax reduction measure so far suggested by any member of the legislature.

If someone has a better measure now is the time for him to come forward with it. If there is no better substitute plan for the MacLean bill then it is up to the legislators to adopt the MacLean measure. Our present tax system is antiquated and unfair and the people now bearing more than their just share of the burdens are entitled to relief. Of course in its entirety the MacLean bill is not perfect for as we have before stated there probably never was a reform measure perfect in its original draft but the main principles of the bill are along the right lines for real tax equalization and reduction and we reiterate that in the absence of a better plan to accomplish these ends it is the duty of the legislators to enact the MacLean bill into law.

ABOUT TOWN

"The high school basketball team has had a remarkable season this year," observed a local fan today, speaking of the recent victories over some of the most formidable aggregations in this part of the state. "Everybody thought we were going to lose when we went up against the strong team from Wilson some time ago. But we didn't. We won by a splendid margin and then repeated the performance last night. The second victory was more outstanding than the first. "The record is one which every high school student is proud. It will furnish something for other teams to shoot at in the future. And if it is overcome, then we will be bound for far higher honors than the conference in this section affords.

"I have no fight with the educators of this state," Dr. James Parrott, of Kinston, told friends on a visit to this city a night or so ago. "These educators know how to teach school and I am perfectly willing for them to do so, but I believe that the financing of the schools should be in the hands of men who have studied financing just like the teachers have studied school work. "Supporters of the McLean bill believe the financing feature of the measure offers relief to tax payers in this section. The majority of educators have taken sides with the lobbyists and corporations opposed to the reduction of taxes."

"As I said before, I have no fight against those running our schools, but I do intend to fight for the principles of the McLean bill because I know they embody certain features of tax relief this section of the state is badly in need of. The fight is one, gentlemen. I am going to be on the front lines until the final volley has been fired."

Speaking of the tax war governments are conducted in some counties of the state, E. G. Flanagan, member of the House of Representatives from Pitt county, told a body of friends "that up in one county the sheriff was the treasurer and also the tax collector."

"That man," declared Mr. Flanagan, "could have fleeced his county out of half its revenue and nobody would have known the better. He had the power of collecting and then handling the funds at his own discretion."

"No wonder so many localities are crying for the tax reduction. With such a state of affairs existing, they should all be bankrupt by this time."

"It is the purpose of the wage and salary commission and other bodies of the legislature to correct such conditions as far as they are able to do so. Take the county referred to for instance. Give it the proper officers, men who understand business, and less time than imaginable every department would be on a paying basis. We must put business in government before it can be a success. And it is to this end members of the legislature are working at the present time, hoping to bring relief to some of the financially distressed communities."

ally distressed communities.

"The weather man has introduced every kind of weather imaginable the last two weeks," complained a citizen today.

"I wish he would settle down and give us something reasonable. One day it is just like Florida and the next brings temperatures in close proximity to zero."

"I don't know what the majority of people think about it. But for one, I am of the opinion that the ground hog or nothing else should induce the weather man to go back on a section where warmth and sunshine ought to remain the most of the year."

"A half dozen or more men of last season's Greenville club of the Eastern Carolina league will be seen in action here this year," we were informed yesterday by President Guy Smith.

"These men represent the cream of last year's outfit and ought to be able to put us on the win column early in the season. The several prospects being considered by the new manager are noted for their ability to handle the stick at crucial moments. This single feature alone should play an important part in the club's success."

"We were rather weak with the stick the latter part of last season. This played an important part in our inability to end the season near the top. Things will be changed materially this year, and fans may bet their last dime that the team will be a winner."

BIG VOLCANO IN ERUPTION

Mount Kilauea In Hiwii Belching Out Stream of Fire And Lava.

Hilo, Hawaii, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Kilauea, largest of volcano's slowly boiling forges was belching flame today from its crater Halemauau, "of Everlasting fire," and providing a spectacle for hundreds of visitors here during the height of Hawaii's social season.

From subterranean depths lava and fire burst forth, hurling jets of flames 250 to 300 feet into the air, the disturbance started about 4:30 p. m. Tuesday. At first two fountains spouted upward from the pit, which is 3,500 feet across and 1,350 feet deep. Within two hours the activity had increased until scores of fire streams spread in long cracks across the bottom of the lava pit and broke through crevices in the cap the display. With a bulge he spalled the people that an eruption had begun. They gathered in throngs to see the biggest show the islands afford. Last night the gouting fire illuminated Manua Loa mountain towering 43,775 feet above the sea a few miles west and south of Kilauea, making with its topic setting, a scene of grandeur.

This is the first sizeable eruption of Kilauea since 1924 when it broke out abruptly and poured forth lava and hurled out rocks, ashes and smoke. The present eruption was not unexpected as there had been earthquakes within the pit recently. Professor Thomas A. Jag, volcanologist who has made the volcano a special study, says present conduct is "according to Hoyle." He expects it to continue some days but feels no hesitancy. So far it has not thrown lava.

Kilauea is an elevation 4,000 feet above the sea. Aside from its significance scientifically, it has considerable legendary and sentimental interest, especially among the natives. Pele, goddess of Halemauau, supposed to reside within the crater, and maidens, defeated by her, are supposed to have cast themselves into its roaring abyss.

Tennessee Lady Tells About The Long Use of Theford's Black-Draught In Her Family.

Rutledge, Tenn.—"For thirty years or longer we have been using Black-Draught in our home as a family medicine, and have found it to be very handy," says Mrs. John McJinnis, of near here.

"Since I have been married and had children of my own, I have found it to be a fine medicine to give them for colds and indigestion. I have three little girls, and when I see one of them fretful and 'drowsy' in the morning, I begin treating her with a course of Black-Draught. It is not long until she is lively and well again. I make a tea of it and give it to the children, as they take the best that way.

"I take Black-Draught for constipation and indigestion. If I wake up with a bad taste in my mouth and feel sluggish and dull, I know it is time for a dose of Black-Draught.

"I try to keep a box of Black-Draught always in the house and am seldom without it. My health is generally good, but I think it is good thing to keep a mild, dependable remedy on hand for spells of constipation.

In use nearly a hundred years. Twenty-five doses 25c. NC-295

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Feb. 21.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 3 points to an advance of 2 points with some selling of near months on rather easier showing of Liverpool. Later deliveries were sustained by reports of unfavorable weather for preliminary farm work in the south. Offerings were light and the market steadied after selling off to 10.01 for May but trading continued quiet and prices fluctuated within a range of 4 or 5 points during the first half hour. Private cables reported continued trading calling in the Liverpool market and said the demand for cotton goods from the home trade was rather better.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Feb. 21.—(AP)—Despite late rallies because of evening up of accounts so as the minimize risks over the holiday tomorrow, wheat prices here averaged lower today. Another cold wave was expected to spread throughout domestic wheat territory but thawing weather prevailed in Europe, and Liverpool quotations were depressed by sales against arrivals of wheat from Argentina. Export demand today for North American wheat appeared slack.
