MONTEREY FALLS BEFORE REVOLUTIONIONISTS

Strategic City of State Of Nuevo Leon, Mexico In Hands of the Rebels

Bloodshed Marks Advance Of Forces At Cananea, Sonora; Promulgate Orders For Reopening Of Catholic Churches.

Nogales, Ariz., March 5.—(AP)—Reports of the capture of Monterey, capital and strategic city of the State of Nuevo Leon, by rebel leaders; bloodshed at Cananea, Sonora and the promulgation of orders for the reopening of Catholic churches in the latter state appeared today as first fruits of the Mexican revolution in the border area of the Southern Republic.

Reports reaching the international line indicated revolutionary leaders were massing their forces in several places for an anticipated move southward. Advice reaching here today told more states, Coahuila and Durango, had definitely joined the revolt. In addition, rebel leaders in the North were claiming the alliance of forces in Sinaloa, Jalisco, Oaxaca, Zacatecas and Mayag.

The international line from Texas to the Pacific remained quiet but there was an air of tension along the Mexican side.

Railroad traffic between the border and points south was generally interrupted.

Another dispatch received here by General Borquez told of the routing of federal troops under General Jaime Carrillo near Mazatlan, Sinaloa. The first news of bloodshed in the northern area reached here last night. The report was unconfirmed and said that one federal soldier and two rebels had been killed in a skirmish at Cananea.

BALLOT BILL BEFORE THE HOUSE TODAY

Senate Gives Approval to The House Bill Restricting Marriages.

Raleigh, March 5.—(AP)—The Australian ballot bill first of the Gardner administration measures to be launched on its legislative course, came to its final test today as the House began consideration of the draft of the measure reported out by the committee on election laws. Although the bill as passed by the Senate was freely amended by the House in general were not considered of a radical nature.

At the same time, the House moved to set itself in order for a final adjournment as soon as possible. Speaker Graham appointed a calendar committee which will set on all bills except those referred to the finance and appropriations committees and will decide whether each bill shall go to the favorable or unfavorable calendar.

The Senate approved the House marriage ban bill. A measure already passed by the House would place all departments under the operation of the executive budget act. Only two departments will be affected, the commissioner of agriculture's office and the state highway commission, both of which have been operating independently of the budget bureau.

The marriage bill requires that five days' notice be given before a marriage license is issued. By an amendment adopted in the Senate, the register would be required to inform the parents of the contracting parties that the notice had been issued.

Practically all of the amendments proposed by the House election law committee to the Senate ballot bill were adopted by the House.

General Escobar Named Chief Of Mexican Revolt

Vera Cruz, Mex., March 5.—(AP)—General Gonzalo Escobar, general of division at Torreon, Coahuila, was named as chief of the revolution against the Mexican government in a statement by General Jesus Maria Aguirre today.

General Aguirre, who is in charge of the revolutionary activities in the state of Vera Cruz, and whose coup Sunday transferred control of the state to the revolutionaries, said in his statement that the movement was aimed primarily against perpetration of the influence of former President Calles in governmental affairs.

Nominations of such men as Provisional President Portes Gil, or Pascual Ortiz Rubio, revolutionary party candidate to succeed President Portes Gil is just a false front to cover the real machinations of General Calles, he said.

Under the leadership of President Calles and his successor, the revolt leader charged, the government has become a merchandising organization, lucrative to a few men but bringing misery to the people as a whole.

The "tyrannies" of General Calles and "many other considerations" motivated the revolt and made it necessary, General Aguirre said in conclusion.

Fifteen Lives Claimed By Poison Whiskey At Peoria; Number Blind

Peoria, Ill., March 5.—(AP)—Sickness, blindness and death from poison liquor in and near Peoria struck a new high total today. Fifteen were dead, dozens were seriously ill, and four were probably permanently blind.

The death list has grown steadily since the first three fatalities occurred Saturday night. There were seven dead yesterday morning and eight more deaths were reported during the day and night. The coroner's investigation has been held up because of the possibility of more fatalities. Coroner William Elliott said the final death list might contain 20 or more names.

Ben Tell, 60, and Lance Hitz, 55, died last night; Tell at Peoria, Ill. Hitz at his home in Vermont, Ill. Three men were under arrest. Officers said the tragic aftermath of week-end drinking had lusted genuine fear into hundreds of bootleggers, and that the sale of liquor had been virtually suspended.

Alarm was felt in other Illinois cities, principally Galesburg and Decatur, where police fear shipments from the same batch of poison alcohol may have been sent.

Maurice Mannsfield, one of the men arrested, told State's Attorney Henry Pratt that he had imported 50 gallons of alcohol from a Chicago syndicate, but he did not name his source. Walter Neibert, a bartender, and John Cox of Vermont are the others who are held.

Officers said five of the poison victims obtained their liquor at the stock yards hotels where Neibert worked, but a raid failed to reveal any contraband there.

President Hoover Begins Work As Nation's Chief; Big Issues Await Action

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—President Hoover gathered up the threads of federal governmental affairs today where they were laid down yesterday by Calvin Coolidge, thus making complete the continuity of the two Republican administrations.

While many matters of major policy soon will press upon the chief executive, his immediate concern is that of getting his own cabinet into office so that he can have a smooth functioning machine at the earliest possible time.

Two departments, the Treasury and Labor, are going ahead under the men who have conducted them for eight years—Andrew W. Mellon and James J. Davis. The President has decided against sending their names to the Senate as there is no requirement that he do so since their nominations were confirmed at the time of their original appointments.

The nominations of the other eight had been prepared for transmission to the Senate today and prompt action by that body was expected, although there have been rumblings of opposition to some of these Mr. Hoover has selected as his counselors.

All of the present officials hold over until their successors qualify and Secretary Kellogg will serve until Henry L. Stimson of New York, arrives from Manila late this month to take over the duties of the State Department.

Conferences with the new cabinet officers are to be initiated almost immediately by the President to select successors to the dozen or more against secretaries who have tendered their resignations with the purpose of returning to private business.

President Hoover is known to regard these posts as of almost equal importance with cabinet portfolios and he wants to exercise the utmost care in filling them. Until these officers are selected the machinery of his administration will be incomplete.

Although many of the ambassadors and ministers have tendered their resignations, the diplomatic corps is likely to remain in status quo until the arrival here of Mr. Stimson. Mr. Hoover has a number of changes in mind, but he wants the counsel of his Secretary of State before acting.

PRES. HOOVER MAKES EARLY START TODAY

Chief Executive Arrived At Office This Morning Ahead Of Everybody Else.

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—President Hoover made an early start on his first full day as chief executive, arriving at his office at 8:55 a. m., ahead of nearly all of the members of his staff and the White House force.

He switched on the electric lights to banish the murky gloom caused by lowering clouds outside and plunged immediately into work. His morning was free of formal engagements so that he might be uninterrupted as he examined a mass of data which had been prepared for him.

Mr. Hoover arose at his usual hour 7 a. m., and had breakfast with Mrs. Hoover and members of the family. The menu consisted of grapefruit, Bacon and Eggs, toast and coffee, which is standard with the President.

The chief executive and the first lady are occupying the Presidential suite used by President Coolidge, Harding, Wilson, Taft and Roosevelt. It consists of two large bedrooms with a dressing room and sitting room and is located in the southwest corner of the building.

The President decided to give over most of his afternoon to receiving visitors. It was announced that at 3:30 p. m. he would meet with the Republican national committee, in session here.

Date For Special Session Congress Drawing Interest

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—The date of the special session of the seventy-first Congress for consideration of the campaign legacy of farm relief and tariff revision today was the uppermost question in the minds of those at the capitol.

Although the legislative wheels were at a standstill the Senate was called into special session to receive the names of the men the new President had chosen for his official family and who, as the heads of the big governmental departments, must play an important part in the work of the Hoover administration.

This session coupled with the anticipation of an early convening of the new Congress resulted in the presence in the city of practically the whole membership of both houses.

The seventieth Congress which retired from office on the verge of the inauguration of Herbert Hoover lived today only in history and in the memory of those who had composed its membership but the work it had initiated still was being carried forward.

If made provision for the creation of two committees of its successor—the House committees on ways and means, to handle tariff and the agriculture committee, to consider farm relief. The members of these committees, although not sitting in formal session, were preparing for work on the two questions.

Steamer Mohawk Runs Aground In St. John's River

Jacksonville, Fla., March 5.—(AP)—The Clyde Line's Mohawk, inbound with 250 passengers from New York, went aground after passing into the inlet at the mouth of the St. Johns River here today. The vessel was reported to be in no danger.

Clyde Line officials, went to the scene and reported to the company's offices here that the ship probably would be floated at high tide. It was not known how the vessel went aground.

Capital Settles Down To Business Following Brilliant Inauguration

MANY ROADS BLOCKED BY HIGH WATER

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—The big inaugural show is over. And now, with the California engineer established in the White House as thirty-first President of the United States, all who participated in his ascendancy recounted it as a spectacle in keeping with the finest American traditions.

Trains scurried north, south and westward taking back home the thousands who came to pay tribute to the new leader. And the people of Washington, who poured out an extraordinary measure of enthusiasm for him, settled back to the accustomed ways in the knowledge that a new, and an entirely different man henceforth will answer to the cheers.

There still were some thoughts, however, for the little-sandy-haired man who had gone back to retirement in Northampton, Mass. The folks he lived with as President for nearly six years bade him and the gracious lady whose charm has become a by-word throughout the land, a farewell that came from the heart.

But for all the enthusiasm for the new and well-wishing for the old leader, the city of Washington had first a more dimmured duty to attend to. The inauguration had left its mark in rained-out paper and bedraggled bunting. Unsettled empty stands, which the multitude yesterday shook with cheering, led to come down to restore the capital to its usual attractiveness.

Workers were ordered in flocks to Pennsylvania avenue, lately the scene of Hoover's inaugural triumph. There were flags to be taken down, street car loading platforms to be replaced, general work-a-day order to be restored. There was a great deal of hurry to take down the bunting because it was sticky with rain, the wind running into the white.

All in all it had been an inauguration whose very handicaps made it worth remembering. There was the memory of the huge silver cigar-shaped Los Angeles dipping gracefully in the grey, misty skies, and of thousands standing for hours along the line of parade under umbrellas like a dry-limed mushroom grove. There was the picture also of the new President and his wife riding back to the White House in an uncovered automobile in spite of the rain.

Also a further picture of the new Vice-President, sprightly of step, with the dark flashing eyes of his Indian forebears, giving promise to every youth in the land of fulfillment of his birthright; the long lines of soldiers with their martial music to reverberate on a sale of the country's power and prestige.

With all of this to hold in memory, the downpour of rain, wet, sticky clothes, the mud and soaked splatter that served as shelters in the absence of umbrellas and raincoats, counting for nothing.

But for all the hurrahing, a wave of sympathy went out for the members of the state delegations for their fortitude in carrying through in spite of the rain. The soldiers were expected to be used to such outcurrences but the civilians showed up equally insistent to let no new downpour interfere with their determination to do honor to the new chief.

Rain could not subdue the smart appearing troops from Connecticut arrayed in the bright hued uniforms of revolutionary days. The glee club from Iowa gave just as good account of itself just as if the weather had been fine. A boys' band from Florida tooted mouth organs heroically. A group of full-blooded Indians, including a brave on a charger, dressed in the traditional war garb of a breach clout and an eagle-feather headdress, walked solemnly by the presidential reviewing stand where Mr. Hoover pushed Vice-President Curtis forward to receive the trial salute.

Then came governors and aides and important people in high silk hats. And a special contingent from West Branch, Iowa, birthplace of the new President, not special attention from the fellow townsman.

At last the piping rices and the rumbering drums of a corps from Kansas passed by and the big parade was over.

Nineteen State Highways In South Carolina Closed on Account of Flood Waters.

Charlotte, March 5.—(AP)—Nineteen state highways in South Carolina were closed today due to high waters, washed out bridges or damaged roadways following heavy rains of the past week.

GET NAMES OF THREE KILLERS IN GANG CASE

Slayers of Moran Gang Believed To Have Been Paid $10,000 Each For Crime.

Chicago, March 5.—(AP)—The names of three men who the State's attorney believes fingered the machine guns that slew seven gangsters February 14, were made public today.

Joe Loloro whose brother, Pasquale, met a gang death January 6, was named as one of the actual murderers.

Frederick H. Burke, alias Thomas A. Camp, Joseph F. Lewis, long hunted as a band robber; and James Ray of St. Louis were the other "choppers" as gang arbot describes machine gunners.

Burke and Ray, according to David Stansbury, who is directing the State's Attorney independent investigation, were dispatched as police officers. Besides Loloro, Burke and Ray there were two others who entered the North Clark street garage and participated in the actual massacre.

Jack McGurn, who has been arrested and booked on murder charges, was not one of the killers, as Stansbury reconstructs the crime, though he may have been active in its planning.

Loloro was given the "honor" of handling a machine gun against the George (Bugs) Moran gangsters so that he might avenge the death of his brother whose slayer were believed to have been Moran men.

Curtis Familiar With New Duties In U. S. Senate

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—Charles Curtis of Kansas, a veteran of the halls of Congress, had before him today his first task of the Vice-President—a familiar one—that of presiding over the Senate.

The Vice-President turned to his new duties as a matter of course for he is well acquainted with the role of presiding officer by virtue of his 29 years service in the Senate. And he is now new change either for he left the Senate only on Saturday.

But even though he finds his new harness an easy fit, his record speaks in itself of the work he may be expected to do.

The inaugural ceremony showed Curtis, the legislator, in sharp contrast to his predecessor, Charles G. Dawes, the soldier and jurist man. The contract will be accentuated in the days to come, insofar as the more or less routine nature of the vice-presidency offers a contrast in its officers.

Mr. Dawes declined to continue the precedent established by Harding and Coolidge, in 1920 of the Vice-President participating in cabinet meetings. At the invitation of President Hoover, Mr. Curtis will resume that practice.

Senate Confirms Cabinet Members

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—The eight new members selected by Herbert Hoover for his cabinet were confirmed today by the Senate.

Students Storm Michigan Theatre; Several Arrests

Ann Arbor, Mich., March 5.—(AP)—Four thousand students celebrated Michigan's basketball victory over Wisconsin last night by attempting to storm their way into the Michigan theatre.

Police tear bombs repelled three attacks, but it was the appearance at the theatre of Dr. Clarence Cook Little, University President, that finally dispersed the crowd. Five students were arrested and later released to the custody of Dr. Little.

The students, snake dancing through the streets in a riotous frenzy because the team had just assured Michigan a tie for the big ten championship, rushed the doors of the theatre, remanding free admittance.

The theatre manager called upon stage hands and ushers to repel the rush which followed his refusal of the student demand, and then called police who brought tear bombs. Three times the blinding, choking gas pellets routed the mob, which gradually decreased in number to about 500.

Six ornamental doors and a large window were broken and a giant electric sign was damaged when its supporting cables were cut. Bottles, eggs, stones and vegetables were thrown by the students.

Dr. Little, summoned from a formal dinner at his home, spoke briefly but energetically to the crowd and within a few minutes the attack was ended.

Edward D. Gregory of Bedford, Va., alleged that 2,300 volts from the city lighting circuit ruined his radio set. The city refused to pay damages.

Mystery Surrounds Death of Woman at Hotel in Miami, Fla.

Miami, Fla., March 5.—(AP)—Mystery today surrounded the killing in a hotel here Sunday of Mrs. Nora Wilson, 40, whose body was found on her bed with a bullet through her head.

The first theory advanced by the police, which was their strongest belief, was that the woman, a former housekeeper for Guy A. Loomis, wealthy New York winter visitor had taken her own life. However, officials investigating the case, disclosed that the fatal wound bore no powder burns and some were inclined to the belief that she died by a hand other than her own.

In the meantime, Loomis, who was being sued for $25,000 by Mrs. Wilson, for alleged back remuneration for aer services as housekeeper disappeared on his private yacht but later returned and wanted to publicize in connection with the case. It was believed he would be questioned by the investigators.

Greensboro Man Sees No Danger In Air Riding

Greensboro, March 5.—(AP)—There is less danger in flying than in driving an automobile, Ed Klingman, world war pilot and Greensboro business man, declared yesterday while addressing boys of the Greensboro high school.

"In 1927," he said in further proof of his assertion of the safety of flying, "more people were killed from being kicked by mules than by flying in airplanes."

He outlined requirements for pilots and gave the boys information on various branches of aviation.

One day Great Bend, Pa., missed its fire truck. It was found that three students from Susquehanna had taken it to their town as a prank.

Many streams in Guilford and adjacent counties were out of their banks and rising rapidly today following heavy rains yesterday and last night. No serious damage had been reported today.

"My Thirty Years at Sea"

by CAPTAIN GEORGE FRIED

Assistance to vessels in distress has been Fried's fortune on numerous occasions. Many of the devices and results of his experience stood him in stead for momentous rescues later. Here, he tells of the time when he, like Chief Officer Manning, effected a life saving after an open sea trip in a life boat.

By CAPT GEORGE FRIED
Copyright 1929, Associated Press

CHAPTER VIII
The seaman is ever ready to lend a hand to his fellow workers in distress. Race, color or creed are never taken into consideration. When a vessel first reports trouble, all ships in the vicinity communicate to determine which one is closest and which can be of the most assistance. That vessel then proceeds under full steam to the aid of the stricken ship.

During my life at sea there have been a number of occasions when I have been instrumental in giving assistance to others who encountered some unfortunate situations. I was aboard the cruiser Washington, as chief quartermaster, when we were towing torpedo boats on a test cruise from San Diego to the Hawaiian Islands and then to the Samoan Islands and back again.

While running into some heavy weather out in the Pacific, a destroyer got adrift, the line having snapped. The Washington was maneuvering as closely as possible to the helpless destroyer. We rounded her after shooting several sky rockets with a fishing line attached. The tow line was then pulled aboard and we proceeded.

A similar instance occurred when I was chief quartermaster of the Tonopah, and we went to the assistance of a disabled submarine off Hatteras. We used a long line with a barrel on the end of it. The idea of this was to have the barrel float from the submarine toward the ship that we could pick it up and get hold of the line, but after several attempts, we gave up this plan.

I then got a bit piece of pipe about four feet long and had it inserted in a rocket carrying the line. After determining the approximate and correct angle, we sent the rocket out on its way, carrying the line, the end of which was fastened to our ship. A rocket always floats to leeward. The fourth rocket landed on the destroyer and the heavy hawser was pulled aboard. Once fastened, the Tonopah started for Norfolk, with the submarine in tow.

"...Finally one of the rays spied the man..."

One night while aboard the Minneapolis, which was bound from Philadelphia to Havana in 1906 to participate in the pacification of Cuba, the lookout reported that he heard a man shouting for help. We were off the coast of Georgia. Word was sent to the bridge and the captain immediately stopped the ship. Searchlights played on the water and finally one of the rays spied the man aloft on a small raft waving his hand frantically.

A life boat was lowered and in a short time the unfortunate victim was taken aboard in an unconscious state. We later learned that he had been on the raft three days. He was suffering from exposure to salt water, hunger and thirst. He was in our ship's hospital for one month before he was physically fit once again to leave. He proved to be the sole survivor of a schooner that had been foundering in a storm.

Just after the war, when I was aboard the President Grant with Captain Rind, I had my first experience to go out in a life boat at sea. A freighter had communicated with us by radio and told us that they had a man aboard who was in a serious condition, suffering from a strained ligament, and both ships proceeded to a predetermined position.

When we got alongside the freighter I decided to take over a motor boat so as to expedite the transfer. Before leaving I wanted to be sure of having plenty of gasoline aboard. The chaplain of our vessel insisted upon accompanying us and we did not get very far before he was seasick, lying at the bottom of the boat. We were trying to make his trip as comfortable as possible when suddenly the motor stopped. Upon examining it, we found that the additional gasoline I had ordered was kerosene. We had to row back with the motor launch to the side of the President Grant. A pulling boat was lowered. Again we started from the President Grant to the freighter. The man was transferred and as soon as he was placed in the ship's hospital, the doctor performed an operation which saved his life.

This, as I said, was my first experience in going out in a life boat and proved to be my last, as the next time I figured in a rescue was when I was captain of the President Roosevelt and we answered a call from the British freighter Antioch and rescued 24 of her crew in a heavy storm in mid-Atlantic during January, 1926.

MANY pioneer tobacco farmers recall when the growing of tobacco first began in Eastern North Carolina. It was just about the same time that Mr. Royster began the manufacture of fertilizers at Tarboro. This new crop was the chief subject of interest among the farmers, and naturally Mr. Royster immediately began to study its needs with respect to fertilizers.

Since that time North Carolina has steadily gone to the front as the greatest tobacco growing state in the Union, and her bright tobacco crop brings the highest average in price. ROYSTER'S TOBACCO FERTILIZERS have kept step with its progress and today more of them are sold in the bright tobacco belt than any other brand. All that money, experience, and skill could do has been put into the making of them.

Can you afford to take a chance with your all important money crop? Don't you think that it is the part of good sound business judgment to give it the most dependable plant food obtainable?

H. C. Deal Addresses U. D. C.

A most delightful meeting was held Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Judson Blount and Mrs. J. B. Spillman were joint hostesses to the Daughters of the Confederacy. After the business hour, Mr. R. C. Deal, member of the college faculty, gave a most interesting and instructive talk on the "Causes of the War between the States." He brought to us memory of the valor of the men who wore the gray, lifted to heights unmeasured and treasured beyond compare these sacred memories waiting to be fittingly memorialized and transmitted to future generations the story of the glory of the sons of the South. "The South is a land that has known sorrow; it is a land that has broken the ashen crust and moistened it with tears; a land scarred and riven by the plough shares of war and bilged with the graves of her dead; but it is a land of legend, a land of song, a land of hallowed and heroic memories." Like the echo of a bugle call to action from the bivouac of the dead comes the call to all Daughters of the South to keep enthusiastic in honoring the men led by Lee and Stonewall. Long ago they died, some sleep now beneath the columned whiteness of cold marble; some in silent serried ranks maintain the comradeship of war, and some lie lost and lonely in nameless graves on fields of battle hallowed by the blood of heroes. We must perpetuate their memory for all time "Lest we forget, lest we forget."

At the close of his talk, the glee club from the college sang "Swanee River," "Old Black Joe," and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

The hostesses, assisted by Misses Jean and Myra Stanell Blount, served refreshments.

Spencer Man Dies While Reporting Theft Of Watch

Salisbury, March 5.—(AP)—Frank Monroe Trexler of East Spencer, died suddenly in the office of County Prosecutor R. C. Jennings here early last night while there to report the supposed theft of his watch.

A short time before going to the prosecutor's office, Mr. Trexler's automobile had been stuck in the mud near East Spencer and some negro men helped push the machine out. When he discovered his watch gone he went to Mr. Jennings' office to report the matter and while sitting in a chair in the office he fell over and was dead when a doctor arrived. A coroner's inquest was held and a verdict that death was due to heart trouble was returned.

NAME HEADS OF BOY SCOUT ORGANIZATION

Scoutmasters and Assistants Announced At Meeting of Rotary Club Last Night.

The Boy Scout movement in Greenville has begun to take definite shape.

At a meeting of the general committee with the church committee of the various churches last night at the Rotary club, announcement of the scout masters and assistants was made. Scout masters from the churches to take the special training course beginning Tuesday night at East Carolina Teachers College are as follows: Methodist Church, Joe Taft, Norman Winslow, Jack Poley, C. W. Porter and H. L. Rivers; Presbyterian, Arthur B. Corey; Immanuel Baptist, Dr. E. P. Spence; Episcopal, Dr. R. L. Carr; Memorial Baptist, Will Whedbee, William Tyson, Frank Patrick, J. G. Bennett and George Coppedge; Christian, Lee Moore, Robert Moye and Ben Dixon.

B. B. Sugg, chairman of the troop organization committee, urged the different committees to be present at the college Tuesday evening at 7:30 to meet Mr. Stuckey and give their support to the course.

Also he brought out the idea that in organizing troops of Boy Scouts the minimum number is eight, the ideal number for a troop is sixteen.

The Pitt county district of the Wilson Area Council of Boy Scouts of America has a bright outlook and within thirty days or so there will be several active troops with leaders who are being specially trained in the work.

The Ohio State Journal suggests that you "So live that you don't care whether the Grand Jury is in session or not."

The life of the Federal Radio Commission has been extended for another year and what will happen in that time no one knows. So far as radio listeners in this particular section are concerned, one or two more mess-ups like that caused by the changes effected last November and it will be an accident when you can tune in and really get good reception.

The Boy Scout movement in this city backed by the churches and civic organizations is now getting under way and no doubt will prove a blessing to this community. Since the failure of the movement here a few years ago, through no fault of the movement itself but through individual mismanagement, there has been a sad vacancy in the life of the growing boys of our community and when such is the case too often the energies of the boys are directed along lines that are detrimental to themselves and the community as well. This revival of the Boy Scout movement in this city will certainly fill a great need and it should have the hearty support of every citizen.

THE SAME SPOON

If the legislature had the grit to enact legislation that would provide for equal taxation on all forms of property in this state there would be little or no need of the biennial row over the sales tax. The fact that less than half the property is paying all the tax burdens is what has brought about the present almost confiscatory rates on visible property. Equal taxation against all kinds of property and industries would not only lower the present tax rates but would provide sufficient revenue to take care of all needs of our state. We do not believe that the proverbial "little man" should go free of all kinds of taxes for he, too, enjoys the convenience and privileges made possible by taxes, nor do we believe that just because a business or a man, for that matter, has reached the wealthy class that he should be made to bear more than his just part of the burden, but we do believe that every owner of property whether it be land or stocks and bonds or other kind of property, should be made to pay his just part of the tax burdens.

Under our present tax system there is no justice. In many cases certain properties are escaping with little or no tax while others are paying more than their share and the same is true in the case of certain industries and utilities. Until these gross inequalities are removed we cannot hope for a just system of taxation.

All should be fed out of the same spoon.

ABOUT TOWN

"President Hoover dedicated himself to law enforcement and world-wide peace in taking over the reigns of government yesterday," mentioned a citizen today, referring to the inaugural address of the new chief executive.

"The declaration will be greeted with interest in all parts of the country." Lack of law enforcement has been outstanding in many of our best communities. If the new leader is able to effect enforcement of the law, he will have rendered one of the greatest services imaginable.

"The stressing of world-wide peace is also important. The continuance of peace with the principal nations of the world is of vast consideration. To do this it will be necessary to avoid entangling alliances, and avoiding these things is a job great minds must handle.

"The president has taken a great burden upon his shoulders. The two things he keynoted in his speech of acceptance will require more than one would imagine. But such things become the duty of a man when he accepts the high office of the presidency. For Mr. Hoover they are inescapable. The country will watch his administration with interest. And the best wishes of the nation go with him."

"Turn out to see Greenville highs in their last cage appearance this season," a member of the club urged today.

"Roanoke Rapids, considered one of the formidable clubs of the Conference, will be here for revenge. After this game, the locals will go to Raleigh for the championship series.

The record of the high school organizations this year has commended the attention of every lover of the game. They have played splendid ball under all circumstances and won fourteen consecutive games for the conference championship. This is a record which every high school student is proud of and the championship series will be watched with more than passing interest."

"Parents ought to interest their boys in Boy Scout activities," a prominent business man said today.

"This movement tends to produce a sturdier class of young men. They learn to work for themselves in a way that brings out the best in them. The character formed through association with Scout activities will have a telling effect upon their lives in the future.

"The moulding of the young life today is one of the greatest problems confronting our nation. If we fall down on the job we are to blame and not the children. Live up to the responsibility resting upon your shoulders by encouraging the things best for your child.

"If you are not familiar with the things the Boy Scouts stand for, inform yourself at once, now their code, learn to speak it and then teach your child to live it."

"Rain held up the drive of our membership campaign committee yesterday," said a member of the Merchants Association today.

"But we have the best of the week before us and hope to be able to sign up enough members to bring the total membership to 150. If you are not a member of this organization, Mr. Business man, consider joining at once."

"The Merchants Association does not confine itself to the business interest of the city alone. It has the entire community at heart. It is endeavoring to make the city the greatest shopping center of Eastern Carolina as well as a great industrial realm.

"Help make this possible by lending your support to the men behind the movement. You have certain responsibilities as a citizen. The greatest of them lies in promoting all things affecting public growth."

"If you have anything to advertise, try the columns of the Reflector," advised the advertising manager of this paper today.

"Legitimate advertising seldom ever fails to get results in this paper. Let the people know you have something they want and the paper hardly gets off the press before you begin to get results.

STRATEGIC CITY OF STATE OF NUEVO LOEN, MEXICO, IN HANDS OF REBEL SOLDIERS

Escobar and claimed the movement had much less justification and pretext for existence than any other revolution of recent times in Mexico.

He ended his statement with an expression of confidence the administration would be upheld. The censorship remained clamped tight on outgoing news dispatches which were subjected to considerable delay before being released, and then usually in considerably abbreviated form.

Mexico City is quiet. The heavy troop movements through the city's streets drew crowds of onlookers, but there have been no disturbances.

The official resume of military activity yesterday issued early today said that aeroplanes had flown over Vera Cruz and dropped pamphlets appealing to officers and men of the rebel army of General Jesus Maria Aguirre to return to their old allegiance.

Ambassador Morrow, upon his return from Cuernavaca, hurried to the office of acting Foreign Minister Genaro Estrada, who it is presumed made an appointment for him with President Portes Gil. Shortly afterwards he drove to Chapultepec Castle and conferred with the President and with General Calles.

Upon leaving the castle he made it plain he could exercise his office only with the Mexican government recognized by the United States and with which he is accredited.

President Portes Gil last night issued a second signed statement on the revolution in which he acknowledged participation of General

Escobar and claimed the movement had much less justification and pretext for existence than any other revolution of recent times in Mexico.

C. M. T. C. Offers Opportunity To American Youth

Dr. W. E. Putrell, Greenville, Dr. G. G. Dixon, Ayden, Dr. W. I. Woolen, Greenville all of Pitt county, are performing constructive and patriotic service to the Nation in freely giving their services in making physical examination of local boys seeking admission to the C. "Their voluntary action is gratefully acknowledged by all interested in the C. M. T. C. campaign, and is especially appreciated by their parents and friends."

Pointing out facts derived from the last complete survey of the physical fitness of American youth, made during the World War, which showed nearly half of the Nation's manhood suffering from bodily defects, Mr. Corey says:

"I must urge the advantages of enrolling for C. M. T. Camps, if for no other reason than to discover actual conditions of health."

An Open Letter To The Public

I expect to enter no newspaper controversy but in answer to the open letter in Monday's Reflector to Judge Darden from Mayor Lanier I feel that I should say this to the voters and taxpayers of our city.

There has been no political meeting, secretly or otherwise, at my drug store as the Mayor suggests. I have not suggested any such meeting at any time.

Since being on the Board of Aldermen I have done what I could to see that the taxpayers' money was not squandered but spent for the good of the town, and its citizens.

I am not trying to build a political machine to perpetuate myself in office for I have no political ambition other than to serve my town and people as best I can during my term as alderman.

I am not a member of an aldermanic clique supporting Judge Darden but anyone can readily determine the clique supporting the present Mayor which was so clanish on the day of our last primary in an effort to prevent another from possible invasion.

It is the privilege of every voter to cast his vote for any candidate he wishes and I expect to vote for Judge Darden because I believe that he will make an efficient Mayor.

J. Key Brown

Reply To Letter Of Mr. Lanier

Mayor J. C. Lanier,
City.

Dear Mr. Lanier:

Replying to your open letter appearing in the Daily Reflector of March 4th, I beg to say;

I do not believe you would intentionally misrepresent matters pertaining to our Mayoralty campaign and therefore I am bound to conclude that you have been grossly misinformed about the meeting you refer to in Mr. Brown's store. I announced my candidacy on February 6th. I have not held any political meeting or participated in any such meeting in Mr. Brown's store or any other place with Messrs. Brown or W. H. Bradsher or any other alderman either prior to my announcement or since then. Both Messrs. Brown and Bradsher will corroborate this statement. Nor has Mr. Brown or anyone else suggested such a meeting.

I assure you, Mr. Lanier, that you have, in my opinion, both in your recent statement of March 4th, and in your July 3rd, '28 announcement created certain issues between yourself and some of the aldermen. I am not a party to such matters, did not create them and have nothing to do with them. It is quite evident that you wish to make our campaign one of factional politics since you have denounced certain officials of your administration. I claim the privilege of making known my position without you stating it. I assure you again, regardless of your position, that I am a candidate for the entire town and not a factional candidate, and would, if elected, expect and I believe receive the support of all the aldermen in the business and administrative affairs of the town and would in like accord render my services.

As to the second term applying in political offices allow me to say that such, by custom, applies to office when duly elected by the people and not when politically appointed. You have had no opposition since your appointment. In the matter of Judgeship to which you refer, I was elected County Judge by the people of Pitt County in a Democratic Primary with the people of Pitt County voting on the several candidates.

The reference in your letter to the actions of certain of your aldermen is a matter peculiarly between you and them.

In conclusion please permit me to suggest that no possible benefit can result from a newspaper controversy between you and me. If there should be factional strife in Greenville your purpose and mine should be to allay it—not encourage it; bring about union—not discord. So—"let there be no strife between thee and me." Your Greenville is my Greenville; my Greenville is yours.

Sincerely yours,

W. A. DARDEN

STRONG CAGE TEAM TO PLAY HERE TONIGHT

Roanoke Rapids will send a formidable quintet against the Greenville High School five tonight in the local school gym, when they appear here for what will in all probability be the last game that Greenville fans can see. It will be remembered that Roanoke Rapids was runner-up in the Northeastern Athletic Conference during the season just closing, and had a record which entitles them to all respect and much consideration on the court.

"I hate to see this season come to an end," is a frequent comment heard of the basketball year in town. "The boys have done so stabilized school spirit and finances stanzalized school spirit and finances have improved considerably."

With the State College Tournament at the end of the week, basketball togs will be laid away for the summer. The team is expected to do well in the tournament altho they have drawn as hard a schedule as could be expected. Beginning with the strong Lexington team, their next opponents would be High Point or Durham and then two more even harder games would await them to complete the final round.

But most of us cannot see these games, no matter how good they turn out to be. For the large crowd of us, tonight closes the year, and win or lose, it will be a good with worthy opposition. If Roanoke Rapids wins, it will put over a fight, and if Greenville wins, it will be only at the end of the toughest kind of a game.

Tonight, at 7:30. Notice the hour, it is earlier than usual to allow the visitors to get home in better season.

BABE RUTH GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 5.—(AP)—Babe Ruth will let his golf game alone for a while and get down to the serious business of preparing himself for the baseball campaign to come.

He came out for his first workout with the New York Yankees yesterday and immediately gave the spectators a thrill by poling out several long drives to the shores of Crescent Lake.

Another important figure on the Yankee roster, Herb Pennock, also did his first work of the season.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

New York—George Courtney, Okla., knocked out Nando Tassi, Italy (4). Sylvio Mireault, Montreal, outpointed Joey Abrams, New York. (6). Walter Peters, Germany, and Ted Mezes, New York, drew (6).

Philadelphia—Matt Adgie, Phila., outpointed Con O'Kelly, Ireland. (10).

Buffalo—Jimmy Slattery, Buffalo, outpointed Les Carey, Michigan (6). Maxey Rosenbloom, New York, outpointed Garfield Johnson, Pittsburgh (6).

Newcastle, Pa.—Willie Davis, Charleroi, Pennsylvania, outpointed Frisco Grande, Buffalo. (10).

Springfield, O.—Tate Langford, Dayton, outpointed Billy Anderson, Louisville, Ky. (10).

Charlotte, N. C.—"Battling" Finch, Savannah, Ga., outpointed K. O. Billy Dugan, Adairsville, Ga. (10). Dave Eddleman, Charlotte, outpointed "Trooper" Clayton, sheville, N. C., (6).

JOHNSON TO GO WITH THE TIGERS

Phoenix, Ariz., March 5.—(AP)—Manager Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers, gained some satisfaction from a wire received from Roy Johnson, outfielder purchased from the Philadelphia Athletics that he will report tomorrow, but this was offset by the fact that Chick Galloway, infielder, who was hit by a pitched ball last season, may be out for the rest of the season.

MCMILLAN TO SOLVE MCCARTHY'S WORRIES

Avalon, Calif., March 5.—(AP)—Norman McMillan, an infielder who filled in at second, third and short stop for the Cubs last season, may solve manager Joe McCarthy's batting lineup worries.

McMillan has met favor in the eye of Manager McCarthy and if he or Clarence Blair, a rookie infield candidate, supplant Clyde Beck at third base they will be number two in the batting order.

Sore Arms at Tampa.

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—Sore arms were the expected order of the day at the Tampa, Fla., training camp of the Washington Nationals today, the pitchers alone being excepted. Catchers Boal and Kenna, infielders Yoter, Hayes, Cronin, Stewart and Gooch and outfielders Barnes, Harris and Simmons started unlimbering for the first time yesterday and dire result are feared for a day or two.

Nearly 15,000 persons visited the Confederate museum at Richmond, Va., last year.

GRIMES MAY GET SHOWING WITH BRAVES

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 5.—(AP)—Manager Dan Howley, of the St. Louis Browns, believes that what has been done in baseball can be done again. Last season he tossed two untired youngsters into the very heart of his infield and they made good, one brilliantly. Now he is seriously considering repeating the experiment with still another lad who has never heard the rear of big league runs at close range. If he decides to gamble again with willing but inexperienced talent one of the young stars of 1928 will have to retire to the bench for a time.

Eddie Grimes is the boy who may be given the acid test on his first trial. He is a third baseman and batted 334 for Tulsa in the Western League last year. If he gets the assignment for the Browns, Frank O'Burke, one of baseball's energetic performers, will move over to second base, temporarily forcing Otis Brannon to the bench. Grimes has shown that he can field. If he can hit he is in.

The infield will be compelled by Lu Blue at first base and Ralph Kress at shortstop. The Browns, who finished third in the last campaign, to the surprise of the baseball world, are confident that they can do better, even in the face of the strong American league opposition they face.

At this time last year the Browns had only two outfielders for Harry Manush, who was later to fall only one point shy of the league batting leadership was injured. Now Manush, Schulte and McNeely are all ready with Frank McGowan, who finished in sensational style with the club, threatening to make a regular place for himself. Morris Badger, former University of Southern California star, up from Tulsa, probably will get his major league experience at first hand. Another Tulsa recruit, Leonard Dondero, has a chance to qualify as an infield substitute.

Wally Schang, still a great catcher in spite of the approach of the baseball goblin "fat and forty" and Clyde Manion, who hit a home run as a pinch hitter although his batting average was insignificant, will tutor young Dick Ferrell as the freshman member of the catching staff.

The outstanding pitching recruit is Warren "Rip" Collins, a 32 year old veteran with numerous major league service stripes. The big Texan, who had a great year in the International league last season, seems certain to succeed in his comeback effort.

Manager Howley expects two of his youngsters who did little active pitching last year to be ready to take their turns in 1929. Dick Coffman and Ed Strelceki worked less than a dozen games between them in 1928 but every indication points to more activity to come.

Alvin Crowder and Sam Gray, who won 41 games between them in the Browns' wild dash to third place, may not do so well in the new season but manager Howley hopes he will not have to look to his two aces for averages of 308 and 328 respectively.

Walter Stewart, a promising left hander, for two years with the Browns, was sick a part of the last season and has never reached the heights his boosters claim await him. The only other left hander in the Browns' camp is Oscar Estrada of Havana, who pitched for Shreveport.

The Browns cannot be classed as a great team but few aggregations can out-hustle them and they might be right in the claim that a team that will not be beaten can't be beaten. In manager Howley and his two coaches, Bill Killefer and Jimmy Austin, the club has a trio of great coaxes to extra effort.

Maranville Going Good.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 5.—(AP)—That 37 year old veteran, Walter "Rabbit" Maranville, demonstrated in his first workout here that he is the youngest old timer in baseball. He raced around the short field picking up ground balls and catching flies with hands folded on his chest until President Emil Fuchs told him to call it a day. Then he went in for a shower and came back for more. He was the last off the field.

The Russian revolution separated Eugene Brasol of Daytona Beach, Fla., and his son Basil, for eleven years.

A youngster advertised in a southern newspaper: "Wanted—more snow."

STATE TO TIE UP WITH DUKE AT ATLANTA

Atlanta, Ga., March 5.—(AP)—The State of North Carolina has produced five Southern Conference basketball champions during the eight years history of the championship tournament and that is counting the title meet which comes to an end tonight. Duke and North Carolina State, Old North State neighbors, will decide then, however, which part of the state will boast the new cage kings.

The Blue Devils of Durham ran Georgia's Bull Dogs down last night in the semi-final round to come away with a 43 to 37 victory, while the Wolfpack of Raleigh nosed out the University of Mississippi, defending champions, 34 to 32.

Both teams flashed brilliant offenses and a telling defense in the crucial moments. A great little guard starred for each and a goal shooting center aided materially on both sides in turning in triumphs.

The speedy demons of Duke starred Weyber at guard and the towheaded Cresson at the point position while Warren was in the big guarding role for State and Goodwin at center.

While the tournament interest doubtless centered down to a more regional spot it also held Atlanta's basketball fans enthralled as both teams have won the admiration of the large crowds flocking to the auditorium for the games.

Duke, the conference's newest member, regardless of the outcome tonight, has made an auspicious debut in basketball circles. The fighting qualities of the Blue Devils mixed with their skill in running the court and filling the basket, have been consistent.

The Wolfpack can match their color, however, as Goodwin has been a popular figure in all of State's games here.

Cardinals Run Short.

Avon Park, March 5.—(AP)—What was to have been the first workout of the regular St. Louis Cardinal team turned out to be somewhat of a dud here yesterday when only three players, Jim Bottomley, Andy High and Carey Selph, joined the batterymen in the morning and afternoon sessions.

WEATHER BUREAU ISSUES NEW STORM WARNING

Washington, March 5.—(AP)—The weather bureau today issued the following storm warning:

"Advisory 10 a. m., northwest storm warnings hoisted 10 a. m., fire fighters at Millport, Ala., for mouth of Delaware breakwater to Jacksonville, Fla., and northeast only after a 20-year silence. A warnings ordered Delaware breakwater to Eastport, Maine. Storm of marked intensity over Southern Appalachian region moving north-eastward, will be attended by strong shifting winds and probably gales."

COTTON MARKET N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, March 5.—(AP)—Cotton opened firm today at an advance of 14 to 17 points. May sold up to 20.85 and the new October contracts to 20.00 on covering, trade and commission house buying promoted by relatively steady cables reports of rains in the south, and a private report estimating world consumption of American lint cotton for the first half of this season at 7,616,000 bales.

The advance met southern selling and realizing but the offerings were absorbed on reactions of 4 or 5 points. The market was steady at the end of the first half hour.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 5.—(AP)—Sharp setbacks in the price of wheat today followed disclosure that offerings of wheat to come here from the southwest had found no acceptance.

A reason given for this situation was that elevator room here has become filled up. Lowest prices today on wheat were made toward the last and were about 4 cents a bushel under yesterday's top level.

Wheat closed heavy 2 1-4 to 2 1-2 net lower; corn 5-8 to 1 1/2 down; oats 1-2 to 1 off and provisions unchanged to a rise of 25c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 5.—(AP)—Heavy buying of the railroad and copper shares turned the general course of stock prices upward today after an early period of irregularity. Early losses, which ran from 2 to 6 1-2 points in more than a score of issues were substantially cut down, or wiped out, and a long list of issues sold 1 to 9 points above yesterday's final quotations. Trading was only moderately heavy in volume.

Call money renewed at 8 per cent and held firm at that figure. Other monetary accommodations showed no change. Bankers held out little hope of any marked relaxation in money rates before the March 15 income tax payments and government financing are out of the way. No official comment was forthcoming on rumors that New York Federal Reserve Bank directors voted to raise the discount rate to 6 per cent at their long meeting last month, but failed to receive the approval of the Federal Reserve Board.

Except for the recent publication of a series of unusually favorable traffic and earnings statements, there was nothing to explain the sudden revival of interest in the rail shares. New high records for the year were established by Missouri Pacific common and preferred. Seaboard common and preferred. Chicago & Great Western preferred. Western Pacific. Baltimore & Ohio. Colorado & Southern and Erie common.

Calling of a special meeting of Anaconda Copper directors for late today was accompanied by reports that plans were under way to retire part of the funded debt through the issuance of additional common stock. Anaconda ran up nearly 6 points to a new top at 157 3-4 and Kennecott moved up 3 points to a new top at 95 7-8.

Western Union ran up 9 points to within a point of the year's high. General Gas & Electric jumped 5 1-4 points and Purity Baking. Rosita Insurance, General Electric, Allied Chemical, Spicer Mfg. Goodyear Rubber, Packard Motors and Victor Talking Machine sold 2 to 5 points higher. Radio broke @ 3.4 points to 385 1-4 and then rallied to 398.

A SERIOUS CHANGE

Kennedy Lady Was Seriously Ill for Months But Was Finally Relieved By Cardui.

Lawrenceburg, Ky.—"At a time in my life, when my health was undergoing a serious change," says Mrs. J. C. Ray, who lives near here, "I found Cardui to be of the greatest benefit to me. I was seriously ill for about two months, and for several months I was not well. My nerves were all unstrung. I could not bear the least noise around me. I could not sleep.

"My head ached until it seemed as if it would burst. My feet and limbs swelled dreadfully. I felt tired all the time. When I was up, I dragged around the house, but most of the time I spent on the bed. "I got Cardui and began taking it regularly. Very soon I could see that it was helping me. I began to sleep better and eat more. The awful nervousness got better. "When I had finished the first bottle, I was much better than I had been for many weeks. I was so encouraged that I kept right on. Before very long I was doing all my housework and was feeling quite well.

"Thousands of other women have been helped by Cardui after long suffering from weakness and nervousness."

NOTICE OF SALE

By virtue of the powers of sale contained in that certain mortgage deed, from C. C. Holliday and wife to James E. Clark, Jr. and Wm. Bragaw, dated April 5th, 1918, and in that certain deed of trust from C. C. Holliday and wife to William A. Blount, dated March 14th, 1921; the same being recorded in the office of the Register, of Deeds for Pitt County, No. Car., in Book M-12 page 555, Book C-14, page 174, respectively; and by the reason of default in the payment of the debts thereby secured; the undersigned will, on Monday, the 18th day of Mar., 1929 at twelve o'clock, noon, before the court house door of Pitt County, No. Car., offer for sale at public auction, for cash, the following land:

In Pactoha Township, Pitt County, North Carolina, bounded on the north by Tranters Creek; on the east by James R. Holliday land; on the south by the J. E. Clark land; on the west by Sally Norcott's land; containing sixty-six acres, more or less.

The purchaser at the above sale will, in the discretion of the owner of the debts, be required to advance as much as ten percent of his bid as evidence of good faith, immediately at the close of the sale; and said sale will be reported to the Superior Court of Pitt County for confirmation or raise, as required by law. Upon failure to make such advance payment, as above provided for, the aforesaid lands will be offered for re-sale at the same place and on the same date at the hour of one o'clock, P. M.

This February 14th, 1929.
