

Heavy Fighting Imminent As Loyal Mexican Troops Begin March On Monterey

Federal Troops Converge From Five Directions in Attempt to Retake City Captured By Rebels Forces Yesterday; Government Scores Decisive Victories in Vera Cruz; Serious Losses Encountered in The North.

Mexico City, March 6.—(AP)—Federal troops converged from five directions this morning on Monterey, Capital of Nuevo Leon. A counter attack which would attempt recapture from General Gonzalo Escobar was imminent.

So seriously did the government regard rebel successes in Northern Mexico and capture of Monterey Monday by General Gonzalo Escobar that large body of troops was taken from the Vera Cruz campaign and dispatched to Nuevo Leon. General Andrew Almazan, commanding the Vera Cruz campaign, was sent northward with the contingent which this morning was well past San Luis Potosi.

Meanwhile another federal contingent was advancing north-westward from Tampico under General Roldofo Ortiz and was bivouaced at Monte Morelos, Nuevo Leon, where it awaited General Almazan. Monte Morelos is a few miles south of Monterey.

Another federal column started from Matamoros, northeastern Tamaulipas, while General Braulio Guerrero at the head of federal troops advanced from San Lázaro southward and reached Salas Victoria, a few kilometers north of Monterey. General Meza, formerly of General Escobar's command advanced from Coahuila to join with the federal contingent.

Thus in the space of 24 hours government efforts to crush the rebellion shifted from Vera Cruz where opening the port as an outlet to the gulf was a matter of some necessity, to the north where railroad communications with the United States had been broken by rebel successes.

The contingent moving against Monterey will prove a formidable army, but such are the natural fortifications of the city bitter fighting may take place in an attempt to recapture it. General Escobar has 2,000 troops at the city for defense. It is believed he will face as many as 8,000 federal troops.

The government announcement telling of the plans for the offensive expressed the belief Monterey would shortly be taken and General Escobar defeated.

Against reverses in the north the government had to its credit victories in Vera Cruz, including recapture of Orizaba, and return to its fold of the unit commander by General Molinar.

In an official statement President Gil said the troops commanded by General Molinar had been permitted to rejoin the government forces and instructed to go to Esperanza, Puebla for incorporation into the advancing federal armies.

News of serious losses in the north was contained in an official announcement which said the city of Monterey, Capital of Nuevo Leon, had fallen to General J. Gonzalo Escobar after a bitter fight. The attackers outnumbered the garrison; among those killed was the federal commander, General Rodrigo Zurriaga.

Another announcement said General Manzo had started a rebel offensive down the west coast from Navajoa, Sonora.

General Jaime Carrillo, chief of military operations in the State of Sinaloa, just south of Sonora, was opposing the advance, holding it back as much as possible until he should receive re-enforcements.

The situation in the north could be inferred from disruption of communication between Mexico City and the Texas border. Passenger trains which left this city for Laredo returned after reaching a point between Queretaro and San Luis Potosi although the line was said to be open to the latter city.

The line Ciudad Juarez was closed also between Queretaro and Zacatecas. The only railroad outlet from the capital appeared to be from Mexico City to San Luis and thence to Tampico, in the state of Tamaulipas, which is still loyal to the government.

Loss of Monterey cost the government an industrial center and the key to the railroad system of northern Mexico. From the city there is a railroad line to Tampico which might afford rebel access to the important state of Tamaulipas.

Disruption of communications in the north has left several hundred American tourists, most of them anxious to get back home. It was thought possible today that Ambassador Morrow would procure a special train and heavy guard escort to take them to Tampico.

Unofficial estimates placed the military strength of the revolting forces at about one-sixth of the total Mexican army of 60,000 officers and men. Of these 10,000 rebel soldiers 2,000 are believed to be with General Escobar in Coahuila, possibly 3,000 with General Jesus Maria Aguirre in Vera Cruz and most of the remainder in Sonora.

There is a feeling that the government will be able to down the revolt although the process may be somewhat lengthy.

POISON BOOZE CLAIMS MORE LIVES TODAY

Death List At Peoria Reaches 17; Five Persons Arrested In Case.

Peoria, Ill., March 6.—(AP)—More names appeared on the poison liquor death list today, and the total stood at 17.

Two men and their wives are held for murder. It is charged they furnished the poison drink. Another man is charged with manslaughter. One of those held under a murder charge said he obtained his liquor supply from a Chicago dealer, whom he refused to name.

The beverage that resulted in the 17 deaths, the blinding of several persons and the serious illness of dozens more, contained 15 per cent wood alcohol, according to a chemist's report. The industrial alcohol which was used appeared to have been poorly redistilled, the report said.

The murder charges against Mansfield, his wife, and G. O. Guffin and his wife were based on only one death, that of Clarence Hoppe, Saturday night.

John Cox of Vermont, Ill., is held on the manslaughter charge. It was he, the charges state, who sold liquor which is blamed for three deaths.

LYNCHBURG GIRL IS STILL IN COMA

Lynchburg, Va., March 6.—(AP)—Marjorie Dowdy, 10-year-old girl of this city, had been in coma 618 hours this morning as the result of an automobile accident February 8. Physicians say slight movements in her arms and legs indicated that her condition was better today.

House Passes Workman's Compensation Measure; Other Bills Go Through

Raleigh, March 6.—(AP)—The House passed the workman's compensation bill after a short debate today without a record vote. Eight amendments were adopted but with the exception of one raising the funeral allowance from $125 to $200, they made no material change in the measure. The bill now goes back to the Senate for action on the House amendments.

Before getting round to this measure, which was advocated by Governor Gardner in a special message, the House disposed of the usual day's routine, passing a large number of minor bills, and receiving a generous quantity of new bills.

The Senate, with its calendar free of major problems for the time being, also around out local and minor public bills, and took a step intended to pave the way for final adjournment next week by instructing Lieutenant Governor Fountain to appoint a special calendar committee to expedite the handling of bills.

Senator Person's committee on propositions and grievances gave a favorable report to his resolution

HOOVER WILL CALL SPECIAL SESSION SOON

President To Confer With Tilson Today Relative To Next Congress.

Washington, March 6.—(AP)—President Hoover soon is to issue the call for the special session of the seventy-first Congress for the consideration of farm relief and limited revision of the Fordney-McCumber tariff act.

He had called in representative Tilson of Connecticut, the Republican leader of the House, for a conference today to discuss the date for the convening of the law-making body, a matter depending upon how soon the House Way and Means and agriculture committees can have the bills in shape for presentation.

The majority leader has estimated that this could be by April 10 and if the Chief Executive is convinced that this estimate is accurate the call probably will be for that day. Other leaders on Capitol Hill, however, think the session should start between April 15 and 20 so that there will be no question of delay in getting down to work once the two Houses have assembled.

Mr. Hoover already has discussed the extra session with Vice-President Curtis and Senator Moses, of New Hampshire, President portpore of the Senate, and he probably will take the matter up with other leaders during the next few days.

The conference with representative Tilson was only one of many which had been arranged for the President during his second day in the executive offices since his inauguration.

In fact he faced a day very similar to yesterday when he was kept busy receiving delegations and individuals and giving his attention to official business during a work day that began a few minutes before 9 a. m. and ended at a little after 6 p. m. These are likely to be the regular executive office hours, but, as has been his custom for years, Mr. Hoover probably will take some work "home" with him almost every evening.

Delegations which were to visit the White House today to greet the President included those from Louisiana, Arkansas, and other states which have remained over after the inauguration. Mr. Hoover shook hands with 2,444 callers yesterday and the expectation was that the crowds today would be only a little smaller.

The Chief Executive is getting pleasure out of these contacts with the people and those about him predict that he will receive large crowds every day. Handshaking furnishes little strain for Mr. Hoover and he likes to meet people, especially those from back home.

Representative Wing, Democrat, of Cumberland, introduced a bill in the House amending the corrupt practices law to make violations of the election laws felonies instead of misdemeanors, and requiring that any committee or organization active in a campaign should file itemized statements.

SOUTH LOOKS FOR RELIEF FROM STORMS

Floods Conditions Expected To Improve With Advent of Fair Weather.

Atlanta, Ga., March 6.—(AP)—The south today looked to fair and colder weather for relief from the general rains of the last week that have sent rivers and streams to high levels, causing extensive flood damage and impairing rail and highway traffic in some sections.

Georgia lowland residents, who have felt the brunt of the high waters caused by rain which fell unceasingly for 36 hours, were expecting a general recession as flood crests passed down rivers and streams for the second time in two weeks.

Newton, a village of 400 population a few miles south of Albany, Ga., was perhaps the worst sufferer from the flood waters. The town was cut off from all highway communication and most of the residents had taken refuge in the neighboring village of Camilla when the rise in the Flint River threatened their homes.

Four dams, holding back water in middle Georgia pleasure lakes and mill ponds, gave way yesterday. Bursting of the Houston factory dam holding back a lake six miles long and three-quarters of a mile wide carried out Tharpe's mill four miles further down Mosy Creek while Solpmon's dam at Twin Lakes on Tupelo Creek carried a smaller dam with it when it went out.

Heavy rains in the Atlanta section of Georgia were being felt in the Ocmulgee River near Macon today, causing a sharp rise and again interfering with railroad traffic. Trains were able to move only slowly in some places because of water that covered the rails.

Rivers in southern Alabama were above flood stage, with new rises noted at Milledgeville. The Tallapoosa River went up 27 feet, while at Wetumpka the Coosa had risen ten feet.

The greatest rise in Alabama was reported at Milledgeville where the Tallapoosa River went up 27 feet, while at Wetumpka the Coosa had risen ten feet.

Heavy rains have been reported generally from southeast Louisiana northward to eastern Tennessee, and in the interior of the Carolinas. Telegraph and telephone communication was interrupted at Lexington, Ky., by a driving snowstorm, while the Kentucky River had overflowed several thousand acres of land in Davis county.

Some wind damage was reported from localized sections of the south, while a negro was drowned yesterday when he fell into a flooded creek in Alabama, near Columbus, Ga.

Cleveland Officer Killed By Thieves; Another Wounded

Cleveland, March 6.—(AP)—Patrolman Carl Sherman was killed and Sergeant Martin E. Hoffman was shot through the chest today when they attempted to stop two thieves from stripping an automobile.

The two officers received a call at a west side precinct station that two men were stripping an automobile at a lonely spot and left to apprehend the thieves.

As they drove up and stepped out of their own car, the two robbers opened fire before the officers had a chance to draw their guns. Anthony Bandy, a bus driver, found them later. Sherman dead and Hoffman lying on his side.

The slayers escaped in their car, which they had stolen.

Stresemann Pleads For Protection Of Minority Peoples

Geneva, March 6.—(AP)—Speaking calmly and eloquently before the League of Nations Council, Dr. Gustav Stresemann, the German foreign minister, today delivered an address in behalf of improved protection for the rights of minority peoples.

There was no trace of the explosive emotion he had displayed at the Lugano session of the council in December when he had a wordy altercation with Foreign Minister Zaleski of Poland over the question of German minorities in Polish Upper Silesia.

Proposing the creation of a special commission to study the whole problem of minorities, Dr. Stresemann declared in solemn tones that the peoples attached to nations not their own have "eternal right to speak their own language and to keep their souls and faith."

PROBE DEATH OF WOMAN AT MIAMI HOTEL

Dade County Officials Investigate Mysterious Slaying of Mrs. Nora Wilson.

Miami, March 6.—(AP)—After questioning witnesses for nearly three hours, Richard H. Mims, assistant State Attorney, announced the state is satisfied the death of Mrs. Nora Wilson, 40, Lancaster, Pa., shot to death in her room at a downtown Miami hotel early Sunday, was suicide. No further official inquiry will be made, he added.

Miami March 6.—(AP)—Search for the slayer of Mrs. Nora Wilson, 40-year old housekeeper and 30 years old social hostess and chaperon in the employ of Guy Loomis, wealthy New York investment broker, was taken up today by representatives of the State Attorney of Dade County, Fla.

Four witnesses were on hand today as the state began its attempt to reconstruct the picture of the woman's death sometime Saturday. They were Loomis, who testified yesterday that the woman had often mentioned to take his life and hers, Miss Margaret Cramer, New York nurse, and the Captain and one member of the crew of Loomis' Yacht Madine.

Two other characters were sought by officials to tell of their relations with the woman since she returned from a Cuban trip recently with Loomis, Miss Cramer and others. The two characters were known to officials only as "Racehorse Charlie" and "Prisco Legs" alleged gamblers, who are believed to have been intimate with the woman prior to her death.

A more or less indefinite search was inaugurated today for the unknown persons who were held responsible by a coroner's jury yesterday for the killing of Mrs. Wilson in her hotel room here sometime between 3 o'clock Saturday morning and 11:30 o'clock that night. Blanket warrants charging murder were issued last night after the coroner's jury had returned its verdict that Mrs. Wilson died from bullet wounds inflicted by an unknown person armed with a .32 calibre revolver. Officials, however, were at a loss pending developments today to know the identity of the slayer.

POISON CAUSES DEATH OF MAN AND HIS WIFE

Atlanta, March 6.—(AP)—Poison believed to have been mistaken for an indigestion remedy last night caused the death of W. R. Slate, a prominent lawyer, and his wife. Both were 34 years old.

Good Takes Oath Of Office Today

Washington, March 6.—(AP)—James W. Good, native of Iowa, but whose present home is at Evanston, Ill., took the oath of office as Secretary of War today, succeeding Dwight F. Davis of St. Louis.

Mr. Good, who has lived in Washington before as a member of Congress, was sworn in by John B. Randolph, veteran assistant chief clerk of the War Department. A large number of personal and official friends of Mr. Good witnessed the ceremony.

Industrial Survey Sets Forth Many Advantages Of City And Community

The industrial survey of Greenville has been completed, and first copies of facts compiled by the surveyors are in the hands of local organizations. The survey was conducted by the Craig F. Gilbert Co., industrial representatives, of Washington, D. C., who will have charge of the placing of advantages of this locality before large industries of the nation.

The purpose of the survey is to furnish information to organizations of the country desiring places to locate. The Washington representatives form a connecting link between municipalities and big business enterprises. They tell industry the advantages of a certain community and assist them in every way possible to obtain a desirable location. They have played an important part in the life of other communities, and opinion was expressed sometime ago that they would be able to attract attention of the business world to this community.

The survey sets forth in an interesting way the most important advantages of Greenville. After amassing up the resources and possibilities of the city, the surveyors offered the following recommendations:

A careful study of the facts contained in the industrial survey of Greenville will lead directly to the inevitable recognition of the suitability of Greenville for the location of certain specialized types of industry. These types, it will be noted, are those which at the present time are seeking widely for conditions more favorable to profitable operation than they now have.

Chief among these is the textile industry. Textile mills, faced with the growing competition from the South, have been recently moving to this favored section of the country in large numbers. In Greenville will be found in abundance the factors which make for efficient textile operation.

Labor is plentiful, cheap and contented; in nearby mills there is a nucleus of trained labor ready to form the basis of the new mills or organization. These same mills furnish both a source of supply and market to specialized textile mills.

Transportation is adequate, power dependable and cheap, and climatic conditions decidedly favorable. In this line Greenville is recommended to mills manufacturing, shirts and overalls, mattresses, sheetings, rayon goods, hosiery, underwear, print cloths and silk garments.

While the presence of as 64 parts per million of iron in water used for bleaching can cause some trouble, the cost of reducing so small a quantity to a harmless maximum is not great enough to interfere with its use. A bleechery and dye works should investigate Greenville.

Manufacturers of wool products, especially cheap furniture, boxes, barrels, implement handles, veneers, etc., will find the timber resources of the Greenville territory worthy of consideration. This timber is readily accessible, and is plentiful.

There is, near Greenville, a deposit of refractory clay which is known to be suitable for the manufacture of a very high grade face brick. This clay will be completely surveyed, and its extent and quality determined by this company with interested manufacturers.

The local water also appears to be suitable for the manufacture of paper. With pine plentiful and other conditions favorable to this industry, paper manufacturers should investigate Greenville's offering closely. Southern paper mills in other localities are daily proving the suitability of their location.

OIL LEADERS TO CLASH AT WHITING, IND.

Stewart And Rockefeller Interests To Stage Battle of Ballots Tomorrow.

Whiting, Ind., March 6.—(AP)—Oil, in squatty lanks belly deep in bare earth, oil forever settling in greasy film, its penetrating smell ever present; oil—formed the background today for a picture unique in industrial history.

It was the end of a nation-wide scramble for stockholders' votes to control a billion dollar corporation, the Standard Oil Company of Indiana—the elimination of John D. Rockefeller Jr.'s fight to force Col. Robert W. Stewart from the chairmanship of the board of directors.

Oil piped hundreds of miles from western fields, is the life-blood of this city of 20,000 inhabitants at Chicago's back door on the southern shores of Lake Michigan. The huge refineries employ approximately 90 per cent of the residents who are ready for the influx of stockholders tomorrow to attend the annual meeting.

Restaurants were stocked with food and supplies for the anticipated 2,000 or more visitors, and hotels expected to have all rooms taken, for indications were that the meeting would last at least two days, unless the outcome was indisputably determined by the number of proxies on hand in Chicago before the session opened.

Just off the main street, the story and a half brick community house was fitted out like a political convention hall, with batteries of telegraph and telephone wires resting under the auditorium stage, portable tables in the orchestra pit, loud speakers linking the men's and women's symposiums with the main hall, and refreshment stands loaded to capacity.

Indeed, Whiting expected to witness a real convention fight, with Col. Stewart, holding the key to his annual business report, Rockefeller representatives presenting their side of the argument, and individual stockholders being heard from the floor. Mr. Rockefeller himself is in Egypt.

The meeting will first be called to order at the refinery offices, according to law, and then, if the expected crowd is on hand, will adjourn to the community house to decide on the "moral issues" of Col. Stewart to continue as a company director.

Col. Stewart was asked what he would tell the stockholders in defense of his activities with the Continental Trading Company which resulted in Mr. Rockefeller's demand for his resignation.

"Well, if they flush me I'll tell them plenty," the great shoulders six-footer replied.

He will act as chairman to open the meeting and then is expected to surrender the chair to F. G. Feubert, president, as he did last year, inasmuch as he is under the Whipray W. Aldrich, New York lawyer, will be on hand to speak for John D. Jr. in any fight which may develop. He arrived in Chicago Monday with 16,000 proxies to cast under armed guard.

Fifty-nine per cent of the more than 90,000 shares of Standard Oil stock had been lined up against Col. Stewart, Mr. Aldrich said. The Rockefeller group has 16,000 of the 56,000 stockholders on its side.

Col. Stewart had on his side the proxies of 99.7 per cent of the 7,000 employe-stockholders. He also claimed the proxies of nearly all the stockholders in the mid-west.

Plan to Change Reparations To Commercial Plan

Paris, March 6.—(AP)—Phase of removal of the reparations question from a political to a commercial sphere faced the committee of experts at its plenary session today.

The entire aim of the committee is to remove the feeling that Germany is paying reparations growing out of the war. Rather it is sought to make the payments on a strictly business obligation and debts owed by one country to another.

It is in pursuance of this goal that the plan of a trusteeship for reparations now before the committee in complex form has evolved from deliberations of three sub-committees and private talks among the individual delegates.

CLYDE LINER MOHAWK CONTINUES JOURNEY

Jacksonville, Fla., March 6.—(AP)—The Clyde Liner Mohawk was ready to resume her voyage to Miami today after spending yesterday aground on a mud bank in the St. Johns river.

No damage was reported to the ship by officials who gave her a thorough inspection, and few of the 195 passengers knew anything was wrong with the liner, which went aground in a stiff wind before most of them were awake yesterday.

My Thirty Years at Sea

By CAPTAIN GEORGE FRIED

In earning his rank, Fried worked from the coal bunker to the bridge. He took every job as it came. It was in a ship's school room that he learned the problems of navigation, a school room in which he believes was laid the foundation of his progress.

By CAPT. GEORGE FRIED (Copyright 1929, Associated Press) CHAPTER IX

Earning the rank of captain is sometimes not very easy. Promotion depends a great deal upon the circumstances, and of course, hard work and study are absolutely essential.

Entering the navy as a landsman for training and having the appearance of being strong physically, I was assigned to the blackgang and cruses and battleships and in 1916 to the fleet reserve. My first job was as third officer on the Salacer. There was a bad fire on the ship one time which started from natural combustion in the bunker. Some of the crew insisted that a boatswain had fallen into the medicine locker to watch the fire had spread.

I was permitted to go into the locker with a wet towel around my head and a line on my body. A number of hoses were playing down there and I felt around but could not locate him. I was completely knocked out from this experience and later found that the boatswain had been elsewhere and was unharmed.

Shortly before the war, I was recalled by the navy and was attached to the battleship Kentucky. After worked in the fire room of the Buffalo and Hartford, passing coal, firing and oiling. This was a department that I was not very keen in working inasmuch as I had set my eyes on the bridge, but it fell to my lot and I decided to go through with it, come what may.

It was in the West Indies, aboard the Hartford, that I was assigned with another young man to a coal bunker to trim coal as it came down. By trimming coal is meant to push the coal out into the corners of the bunker so as to get as much as possible into this particular hold. After the bunker is half filled it is impossible to get out, excepting through the opening through which the coal is being poured in.

The coal was coming in so fast that it was impossible for my companion and myself to get the coal clear of the chute. Naturally fresh air could not enter.

It was very warm, in fact so hot that the perspiration ran down on our foreheads and into our eyes, carrying coal dust with it. It was not long before my companion almost suffocated and became prostrate. We worked with regular miners' lamps. I had a bucket of water which I threw on him to restore him. The coal continued to pour in for three hours and finally when the workmen quit on the outside for the day, we shoveled the coal away and got out. That was the last time I went to a coal bunker.

I later made a request to the captain and asked him to transfer me to the deck department, because I had been accustomed to working in the open air on the farm and in the Army, and I felt that I was more apt to that type of work. I also explained to him that I had ambitions of becoming an officer on the deck. He granted my request.

I was in the deck department for six months, going through the grades of a routine seaman, coxswain and quartermaster. Every summer the Hartford was employed to take midshipmen from Annapolis out on a cruise. It was on one of these cruises—one of my jobs being to wind all the clocks on the ship—that I wandered into the school room located on the half deck aft.

In this school room was a large blackboard on which were problems pertaining to navigation and other subjects which the midshipmen were to solve during the course of their work. The cues pertaining to navigation interested me so I copied them and when I got to the corner of the chart room, I tried to work them out. That was my first experience with navigation, and I believe this to be the foundation of my progress to the bridge.

The officers on the Hartford were kind and courteous and several who saw me at work assisted me. Later I obtained some books and delved more deeply into the subject. Along with this, of course, I was getting instructions in seamanship, gunnery and sail drill, but the routine was then interrupted by special orders as "topside cleanings and buntings weather topsail braces." That was a signal to drop everything and get to the station for taking in sails.

Another order that frequently interrupted my studies was "ready about station for stays." This means tacking ship. In those days we stood watch four hours on and four off, which is quite different from today with the three watch system—four on and eight off.

ford, I was transferred to various an examination I was assigned to that ship as an ensign and then became junior lieutenant aboard the Petrel. Then the war broke out and I was promoted to the rank of lieutenant and placed in command of the Zuiderzijk.

B. T. P. U. Training School.
The B. T. P. U. Training School of the Immanuel Baptist Church is in full swing. The school opened Monday under very unfavorable weather conditions but the attendance far exceeded the expectations of the most optimistic supporters of the work. Tuesday night the attendance increased and very nearly reached the goal set for the school's enrollment and there is every reason to believe that the school will continue to grow. There were 90 present Monday night and 85 Tuesday night.

Miss Marguerite Harrison of Goldsboro, Baptist Young Peoples worker for Eastern North Carolina, is in charge of the school. Miss Harrison is an unusually capable and enthusiastic worker and there is not a dull moment during the sessions of the school over which she presides.

Assisting her in the work are Miss Wages, high school teacher at Stokes, who teaches the senior class studying "Pilgrims Progress;" Rev. L. R. O'Brien, pastor of the church, "Training in Baptist Spirit," as a text book; Mrs. J. B. Waddell, teacher of the Junior class, studying "Bible Heroes;" and Rev. A. L. Brown, of Four Oaks, N. C., teacher of the Junior class studying "The B. T. P. U. Manual."

In addition to teaching the Junior class, Rev. Mr. Brown is delivering a series of stereopticon lectures on the Parables of Jesus. The pictures are fine and the brief explanations are clear and timely making this feature of the school helpful as well as interesting. Mr. Brown states that the lecture tonight on the parable of the "Ten Virgins" is the most popular of the series because the pictures are unusual appropriate and beautiful.

USE OF LIBRARY BOOKS ON AN INCREASE

During February 3405 books were loaned from the Greenville Public Library. On Feb. 25th, 210 books were distributed. This was an average of a book loaned every ten minutes for the hours that the library was open. No record is kept of the books returned. But practically as many are taken in as go out because people usually exchange books, bringing in some and taking out others.

During this same month material for eleven club papers was secured from the N. C. Library Commission and from the Library Extension Department of the University at Chapel Hill.

The average daily circulation for March has been 169 books. The library now located next door to the Sumrell Motor Co. is open from 2 p. m. to 9 p. m., daily, except Sunday. Every resident of Greenville and Pitt county is invited to come in and find both pleasant and profitable reading.

Plan To Cut Out Big High School Cage Contests

Chicago, March 6.—(AP)—Large high school basketball tournament bringing teams from many states for several days will be things of the past if the recommendations of the National Federation of High School Athletic Associations are adopted.

The National Federation has not only put its foot down on the national prep classic at the University of Chicago and similar interstate tournament but has also strongly disapproved of long schedules and frequent tournament within states. With the federation refusing to sanction the Chicago tournament the national meet will be shorn of its national aspect as the organization has 31 states members.

"In its effort to hasten what is termed 'overemphasizing of the game' the federation will ask the North Central Association of Colleges and secondary schools to adopt standards demanding some limitations of schedules as an essential prerequisite of accrediting."

College, high schools, athletic clubs and other organizations accustomed to conducting invitational tournaments for high school teams will be appealed to in federation's campaign to do away with all tournaments except those requested by the State high school association.

An average of one interscholastic game a week throughout the season is a reasonable maximum for a schedule, in the opinion of the federation, which has instructed its national council to urge high school educators and coaches to curtail schedules to the maximum suggested.

Deny Report That American will Send Arms to Mexicans

Mexico City, March 6.—(AP)—The government today published this telegram from Ambassador Teller at Washington:

"As a result of a conference between President Hoover and Secretary Kellogg the State Department is delivering to the press an announcement that the American government will furnish to the Mexican government upon solicitation arms and facilities for their exportation according to the needs of the Mexican government."

"Continuation of the policy established when an embargo was decreed on exportation of arms to Mexico was promised too; this will impede illicit exportation of arms to the rebels."

No announcement has been made in Washington about the American government furnishing the Mexican government arms.

President Hoover it has been announced, sees nothing in present circumstances to warrant a change in the Mexican arms embargo policy, established in 1923 which prohibited exportation of arms except upon license of the State Department.

At that time the Obregon government in Mexico obtained arms from private munitions supply companies in the United States to enable it to combat the rebellion of Adolfo de la Huerta.

Convalescents from "flu" should build up strength

Now is the vital time to keep system functioning normally

YOU think you're all well from the "flu." Crazy to get out and back to the job again. You start out with a lot of pep in the morning. And by night you can hardly drag one foot after the other, let alone eat your dinner with relish.

Often a period of weakness follows "flu" and that's the very time to watch yourself carefully. Don't let your system get slowed up or sluggish. Keep it functioning normally with Nujol. Take a tablespoonful of Nujol every night. That's not hard to do—and it does help tremendously.

Physicians agree that, particularly when you've been sick, purging by laxatives and cathartics is not advisable. Many doctors are, therefore, prescribing Nujol, as in no case does it cause exhaustion or weakening of the system in any way.

Nujol can't possibly upset you or disagree with you. It is as harmless as water. Just a pure natural substance that keeps the system functioning as nature meant it to. Regularly. Easily. Contains no drugs or medicines. It eliminates poisons and brings about better health.

Get a bottle and start taking Nujol today. It is one simple way to regain strength and keep fit. Made by the makers of Mistol.

Itinerant Barber Pays For Murder Of Young Woman

Boston, March 6.—(AP)—George E. H. Taylor, 47 year old itinerant barber, street dancer, coal miner and former convict, was executed early today at Charlestown State Prison for the murder in June, 1927, of Stella Pomikal, 21 year old Lawrence girl.
Early last night he was baptized by the Rev. William B. Whitney, Protestant Chaplain at the prison, and a few minutes before midnight he was given communion. He declined, however, to accept the suggestion of the chaplain that he leave a final statement of the crime.
The killing was on Salisbury Beach, a summer resort. Taylor obtained a job in a barber shop a day before the girl was found strangled to death after an attempted assault and he disappeared the next day. Through a pair of sun glasses found near the body and his sale of the girl's watch to a man who had given him a left between two New Hampshire towns, he was tracked to Hyde Park, Vt., where he was arrested.

GOT CART BEFORE THE HORSE

While we believe in party regularity we believe that the Senate got its wires crossed in the adoption of a measure that would make it illegal for a candidate to run on the independent ticket in the election if he is defeated in a primary.

ABOUT TOWN

Facts contained in the industrial survey of Greenville should be of interest to industrial leaders of the nation desiring to find new locations, declared a well known business man today.

APPROACHING THE PRACTICAL

Now and then some of the statesmen at Raleigh make an excursion into the field of common sense. The Senate Saturday passed a bill changing the statute to provide for prohibition of driving by a person proved to have driven while intoxicated from 90 days to six months for the first time.

mendous interest in the punishment of persons who cause accidents on account of alcoholic indulgence, but there is relatively little concern expressed about keeping such people off the roads.

The Senate was, for the time being, in the field of common sense. Whether anything profitable was being done there is not so certain. It is not easy to prescribe the exact course to be followed by a Superior Court judge.

ABOUT TOWN

The final basketball game last night was one of the season's thrillers, declared a supporter of "Soup" Porter's aggregation of high school athletes.

"I was glad to hear of the naming of so many young men to take the Boy Scout training course," mentioned a citizen today.

"The weather will only remain favorable the rest of the week, we shall be able to wind up the membership drive in a blaze of glory," a member of the membership campaign of the Merchants Association declared this morning.

"The Merchants Association is playing an important part in the life of the community and the more members we have the more good we shall be able to accomplish.

"We are still shipping poultry to northern markets," a member of the Board of Agriculture told the writer of this column today.

Tires for the new Ford are specially made to give long wear

WHEN the new Ford was designed, it was immediately apparent that a new tire would have to be made to match the car's performance. It was distinctly a new problem, for here was a car with quicker acceleration, greater speed and more braking efficiency than any car of similar size or weight.

So that every Ford owner might be assured of maximum tire mileage at the lowest cost, the Ford Motor Company devoted many months to research and experiment in conjunction with the leading tire manufacturers.

As a result, certain definite specifications were developed for tires for the new Ford. These specify cords of certain strength and texture, a large volume of tread and side-wall rubber, sturdy non-skid design, and reinforced plies for protection against bruise breaks—all the strong features of construction formerly considered for only the largest tires.

Great care also was taken to secure the best riding qualities in connection with the transverse springs and Houdaille shock absorbers used on the new Ford. Though the Ford tires are 30 x 4.50 in size, they have the resiliency and air space of much larger tires because of the drop center rim of the steel spoke wheels.

When punctures come, as they will with any tire, you will find the Ford dealer particularly well-equipped to make repairs quickly and at small cost. See him, too, for replacements. Then you will be sure of getting tires built specially for the Ford car according to definite Ford specifications. Ford FORD MOTOR COMPANY

SOUTHWORTH FEELS SURE OF ST. LOUIS

Avon Park, Fla., March 6.—(AP)—If it is true that uneasy lies the head that wears the crown of manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, Billy Southworth is managing to conceal it. In spite of the fact that he is the fourth manager of the Red Birds in four years, the little outfielder in all appearances in non-chalant, in the best manner recommended by the cigarette advertisements.

The former pennant winning Rochester pilot, believes in hard work and most of it. No club in Florida is working such long hours and at such speed as the National League Champions.

A training camp innovation has been made by the construction of two batting cages, in addition to the regular batting practice at the plate and three divisions take many cuts at the ball during practice. Southworth also has two pitchers alternating in pitching to the batters.

The only picnic about the champions' practice sessions is the luncheon. The athletes waive the formality of returning to their hotel for a midday meal, and are satisfied with a sketchy repast on the bench and in the clubhouse.

The Cards are committed to one infield change and there may be more. Charley Gelbert, the sensational young shortstop from Rochester, will play short. Gelbert may face the handicap of too much boosting for every International league manager and player has predicted without qualification that he will make good with a rush.

If Carey Seip, the Arkansas traveler from Houston, comes up to expectations he will go to second base with Frankie Frish moving over to third. If a tour of bench duty is considered necessary for Seip's baseball welfare, Fred Haney, former Detroit player and the versatile Andy High are available for third, Jim Bottomley, gets renomination without opposition at first base.

There are only six outfielders on the roster, including manager Southworth, who probably will fill a utility role. Walter Roettger, who was batting at a terrific clip when he broke his leg July 4, seems to have recovered and would seem to have first call on right field. Taylor Douthitt and Chick Hafey will hold over in the other outfield posts. This arrangement will leave Ernest Orsatti, fleet Californian and Roscoe Holm, a baseball handyman available as reserves with the manager, who was among the leading hitters of the International league on his brief vacation from the majors. Southworth's arm is none too good, however, and he may content himself with pinch hitting against right hand pitching.

Jimmy Wilson will do most of the catching with the veteran Earl Smith available as first assistant. The other catching assignment awaits a contest between Gus Mancuso, and Clarence Jonnard, a member of the pitching and catching arm of Jonnard brothers.

The pitching mainstays all know their way about from previous ordeals by fire. Grover Cleveland Alexander, at 42 and with 18 major league championships behind him, is the youngest player in the camp. He fields bunts by the hour and will be the first pitcher ready to take a turn. Willie Sherdell, Jesse Haines, Clarence Mitchell and Sylvester Johnson will complete the big five.

Herman Bill, back for another chance, and Frankhouse and Haid, who were on the club last year, should stick and two Texas leaguers Bill Gallahan and Harold Elliott, have a chance. Gallahan has been handicapped in his early efforts by injuries, as has Frankhouse.

BABE RUTH PULLS THE "GOAT" STUNT

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 6.—(AP)—It is not often that Babe Ruth plays the role of "goat" but he was suffering under that ignominy at the New York Yankees training camp today. He was playing first base for the Yankees. Gerigh bunted. He should have been an easy out, but Ruth neglected to keep his foot on the bag when he took the throw. Gerigh eventually scored the winning run Lazzari's line single. At that time Ruth got one out, a soaring fly that the wind caused to fall safely.

Wright Field Captain. Clearwater, Fla., March 6.—(AP)—Glen Wright, the former Pittsburgh star, is the new field captain of the Brooklyn Robins. Wright, traded to Brooklyn during the winter for Jess Petty and Harry Riconda, was named yesterday, and then led his regulars to a 15 to 1 victory over the yanigans.

LOCAL CAGERS VICTORS AGAIN

Greenville high school's team proved last night that they had lost none of their skill in playing basketball by defeating the fast Roanoke Rapids team by a score of 30 to 18. This game came as considerable consolation to the Greenville followers, who felt a little regret at the close defeat by Farmville last week, and some of whom feared that the Big Green team had gone stale.

Past play in every department of the game marked Greenville's offensive and defense throughout last evening's game. Roanoke Rapids played well, but were simply outplayed in each department by the locals. Bostie's handling of the ball was of the usual high character, and his floor work did much to contribute to the scores of his teammates. He tallied five times, each one a pretty shot. Tucker proved himself high scorer for the game, with seven baskets and a foul, for 15 points. His main reliance was a deadly "crisbed" crib shot that had the trick of always rolling around and then down for the tally. Burnette played his usual steady game about the floor with the easy handling of the ball which has been often remarked, much to the advantage of his team, even had he not scored thrice. Easton distinguished himself, not only under the opposition goal, but also under Greenville's, by tallying a crib shot from the foul line, and another good looking basket. Capt. Hicks, ably seconded by Briley King and Fearnie, spent most of the evening in pleasant and profitable prevention of Roanoke Rapids scores, and succeeded to the extent of allowing but seven goals for the game.

Referee Burroughs held the game well in hand with the calling of 11 fouls on the local boys and 5 on Roanoke Rapids, could not be accused of any favoritism. The State College tournament next, when Friday morning will take on Lexington, with the more distant future a large question mark. Final rites:

N. C. STATE VICTORS OVER BLUE DEVILS

Atlanta, March 6.—(AP)—A big red basketball team from the rolling sand hills of North Carolina today stood champion of the Southern Conference—it was the Wolfpack of North Carolina State College.

The collegians of Raleigh battled down a game contender in the Blue Devils of Duke University last night in the final round of the annual title tournament with the count winning by 44 to 35. Some 1,500 fans, braving a biting wind, saw Goodwin, Harr, Johnson, Warren and Young form a great combination of dribbling basket hitters to eliminate the doughty floor-men of Duke. They saw the versatile Werber, the blonde Crosson and the speedy Councilor—Durham's pride and joy—fight to a finish and finally be subdued only after a great exhibition.

It was apparent victory for either team until well in the second half so evenly were the teams matched. State, as the experts figured, carried a decided edge in dribbling the ball through for shots but Duke's defense tightened to the point where for a time it seemed that the long tries of Goodwin and mates would be of little avail. For minutes at a time State found every shot was rushed and proved wild or short. They finally found perseverance telling, however, and made the efforts click when Goodwin, Harr and Johnson ran away under the hoops.

On the other hand, Duke had an effective passing game with the players feeding the ball to Crosson but they failed in long shots, a telling point in their previous encounters. Werber was as good as ever in running the floor, but he failed to kick in as often and effectively as on Monday night against Georgia Councilor, also adept in running the floor, managed to get three baskets but that was insufficient to stem the red avalanche.

State's defense was on its toes in the first half and it was there that Duke fell short. The Blue Devils rush was going down well but not following through and Warren and Johnson were taking the ball from the backboard consistently. The Raleigh quintet found a big hand and pat awaiting them as the final gun found them in front but the crowds also overran the platform for congratulations to Duke, the conference's newest member.

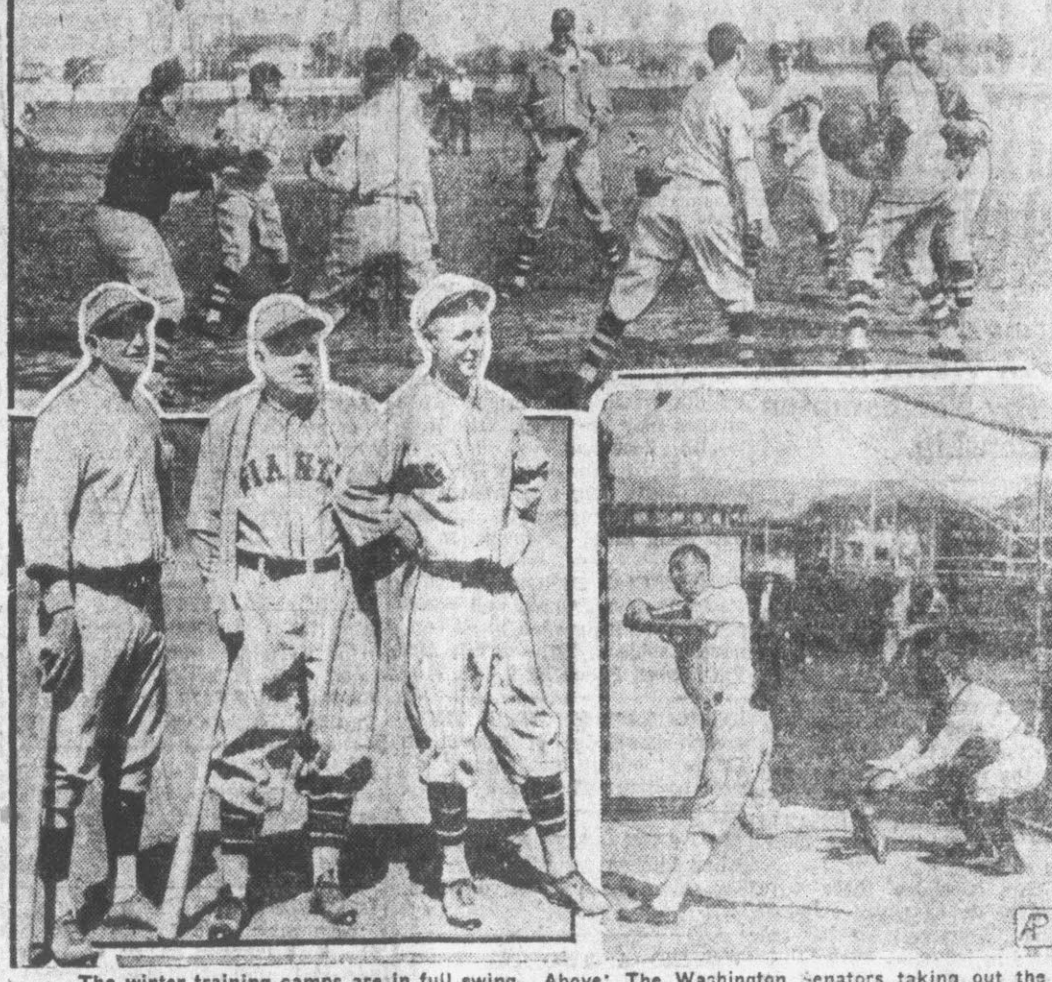

State Celebrates Atlanta Victory In Noisy Manner

Raleigh, March 6.—(AP)—The celebration of State College students last night over their victory at Atlanta in which they won the Southern Conference basketball crown brought out the firman. After serenading Dr. E. C. Brooks, president, girls' colleges in the city and others the students built a bon fire on the street near the News and Observer building which was extinguished by the firemen. So noisy was the celebration that many in the city were awakened.

The Cubs go to the mainland tomorrow to meet the Los Angeles Angels in the first of a three game series. All of the Cubs are in the best of physical condition for the first real pre-season game with the Los Angeles club.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, March 6.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 2 points to a decline of 5 points. Most months were lower under a falling and some southern and local selling promoted by disappointed Liverpool cables and prospects for improving weather in the eastern belt.

Offers were absorbed by continuation of the recent buying movement, however, and the market became firmer after the early selling had been absorbed. May sold up to 2.20 and the new October contract to 2.20. This carried active months 6 to 14 points net higher by the end of the first half hour. Private cables reported local and continental buying in Liverpool but said Bombay selling had checked the advance. They also reported disturbances in Calcutta were checking business in cotton cloths.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 6.—(AP)—Grain values turned upward today after an early setback, but the rallies failed to hold well. Eastern interests were credited with buying wheat futures deliveries, and there were indications of a cold wave which might catch a large part of domestic wheat territory without snow protection.

Wheat closed nervous 1-8 to 7-8 net lower; corn unchanged to 3-8 off; oats 3-8 to 7-8; soybeans and provisions unchanged to a rise of 25.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 6.—(AP)—The stock market displayed another complete reversal of form today, rallying briskly in the morning under the leadership of the copper shares and then turning reactionary when the call money rate was marked up from 8 to 9 per cent. Many of the early gains of 1 to 7 points were cancelled, and a long list of issues sold 1 to 5 points under yesterday's final quotations.

The rise in the call money rate was accompanied by only a moderate calling of loans, indicating the extreme sensitiveness of the money market on the approach of heavy mid-month tax and treasury financing demands. Bankers recently have been showing a reluctance to replace called loans, and there has been a marked reduction in the supply coming here from outside sources. The recent decline in trading here has revived fears in London of a further American drain on British gold but bankers believe that the Bank of England would again increase its discount rate if such a movement assumed large proportions.

Coppers made a good response to the Anaconda Copper Company's funded debt retirement program. Utah jumped 15 points to a new high of 340 and Anaconda ran up 4 1-2 points to a new peak at 163. Kennecott, Nevada and Chile also moved into new high ground. Some of the gains were cancelled in the early afternoon selling movement. American Express soared twenty-eight points in the early trading to 230 duplicating the year's high record. International Silver jumped 6 1-2 points to a new top at 150 and Associated Dry Goods, Curtiss, Johns-Manville, Stewart-Warner and Tobacco Products sold 4 to 5 points higher before the selling movement started.

Rails (old stock) was hammered down 7 points below last night's close to 381. There was little in the day's business news to influence the price movement.

MR. COOLIDGE SETTLES DOWN TO QUIET LIFE

Retiring President Given Warm Reception by Northampton Citizenship.

Northampton, Mass., March 6.—(AP)—Calvin Coolidge settled down contentedly today to the quiet ways of his New England neighbors.

Yesterday was a day of homecoming, of an enthusiastic reception from his fellow townsmen and of poking about his half of the frame double-house on Massachusetts street, to see that everything was as it should be. But today there was a time for throwing himself thoroughly into the role of a citizen, even while sitting in the highest office the nation could offer, he frequently looked forward—that of a plain, private citizen.

For Mrs. Coolidge there were household duties which required attention. When a home has not been lived in for eight years things are bound to go awry—little things which others may overlook but which the mistress of the house notices at once and proceeds as quickly as possible to get straight. Then, too, there were old friendships to be renewed, a visit to be made to her mother, who is seriously ill at Cooley Dickinson hospital. Mrs. Coolidge hoped for a let-up in the continual drizzle that followed her from Washington, in the hope that she might be able to indulge in her favorite recreation of walking.

Odd jobs to be done about the house appealed to Mr. Coolidge. Getting out a few tools and attending to the little repairs that constantly are necessary in one's own home has always been a great source of pleasure to him. Only at infrequent intervals was he able, as chief executive, to indulge in this sort of thing. In an executive mansion, there are too many servants.

Mr. Coolidge, as always, anxious about his health, joined Mrs. Coolidge in looking for an opportunity for a brisk walk, which he has termed the most beneficial form of exercise. Moreover his desk in the law office that throughout his years in high office still bore his name, remained to be visited.

CHICAGO COP IS SUSPECT IN GANG MURDER

Officer's Name Supplied in Raid on Liquor Garage-Depot Yesterday.

Chicago, March 6.—(AP)—Ever since the Valentine's day gang massacre, the state's attorney's office has closely studied the possibility that one of the slayers may have been a police officer. Today, these investigators said a policeman now is under surveillance as a suspect.

A raid yesterday on a liquor depot supplied the officer's name, they said. On a wall of the depot (a garage) was found his name, address and telephone number, with information on where he might be reached at any hour of the day.

The place raided was operated by Claude Maddox and Danny Valto, both wanted in connection with the slayings.

John Stee, deputy police commissioner, does not hold with the state's attorney's men that a policeman was involved. He reiterated today that the septuple slaying was accomplished by paid killers from out of town.

"How about Jack McGurn?" he was asked. McGurn is under arrest charged with the murders. "McGurn was in the game," Stee said. "He no doubt planned it. If we had all the men's names after, we still would hold him."

The killers who Stee said were paid $10,000 each to aid in wiping out the George Moran gang, were Fred Burke and James Ray, former members of the St. Louis "Egan's Rats."

Assistant State's Attorney David Stansbury said he had learned that Burke and Ray achieved their reputations as slayers when they killed Frank Yale in New York last July 1st.

Yale and "Scarface Al" Capone, Chicago gang chief, worked together for a while. Stansbury related, ex-convicted hired killers who were not known to their victims, but they had a falling out. Capone was in Miami, Fla., the day Yale was shot. Stansbury pointed out, New York police traced the guns used by the Yale killers to Miami.

The Capone gang had a hand in the Valentine's day massacre as well as the Yale killing, Stansbury said.
