

Mexican Revolutionaries Begin March on Juarez; Federals Claim Victory

Handful of Government Troops Make Hasty Preparations For Defense Of Town; President Gil Claims Recapture of Monterey and Other Strategic Points.

Nogales, Ariz., March 7.—(AP)—Advices to the Associated Press today from Guasave, Sinaloa, stated that General Hurbe, leading a body of rebel troops, was advancing southward and expected to take Culiacan, the state capital of Sinaloa, today. Observers in South El Paso gazing at Juarez through field glasses, reported seeing federal troops stationed on the roofs of Juarez buildings as snipers. Major Gallo and four other town officials still were held in jail for alleged revolutionary activities.

El Paso, Tex., March 7.—(AP)—A handful of federal troops in Juarez, across the border from here, prepared today to defend the city against an attack by rebels under General Marcelo Caraveo. Machine guns have been mounted around barricades at the railroad and at the principal street intersections. Reinforcements were reported to be on the way but it was doubtful whether they would arrive before the revolutionaries.

The rebels, reported to be advancing on Juarez, were believed to be in the mountains 20 miles north. Railroads in that direction have been destroyed by government troops. Following reports that a pro-revolutionary movement was gaining headway in Juarez, the federalists established military posts over the customs house, disarmed police, and arrested Mayor Augustine Gallo and a number of other town officials.

On this side of the border, United States Army officials at Fort Bliss watched the situation closely. They indicated that American troops would cross the border and enter Juarez should fighting develop there in such a way as to endanger the lives of Americans in El Paso. American troops drove Francisco Villa out of Juarez in 1919 after a bloody battle had killed several residents of El Paso.

General R. Ramos, who resigned as assistant secretary of war to assume command of the troops in Juarez, said he would defend the town unless overwhelmingly outnumbered, in which case he would withdraw his troops and retreat.

General Ramos arrived here last night by airplane from Brownsville and in an interview with El Continental Spanish language newspaper, outlined a part of the government's plan of operations. He said two columns of troops, some 1500 men, aided by two squadrons of airplanes, are advancing against General Jesus Aguirre, one of the leaders of the revolt. General Almanzan is in charge of the federal troops, Ramos said.

Some 20,000 men in four columns are moving upon General Escobar another revolutionary leader at Monterey. The columns are moving from Saltillo, Tampico and Zacatecas.

In the Sonora area, Ramos said General Cardenas is organizing troops to attack the rebels. He is recruiting upward of 10,000 men in the states of Aguascalientes, Queretaro and Michoacan. Victorious federal troops today were converging on Vera Cruz to deliver what the government hopes to be Gen. De Graze to the rebellion headed by General Gonzalo Escobar and General Aguirre.

Provisional President Gil's announcement of the recapture of Monterey and Cardova predicted in terms of vigorous confidence that the revolt would soon be crushed and the city of Vera Cruz retaken by government forces.

A report gained wide circulation in Mexico City that the censorship would soon be removed. Delegates of the national league of farmers voted to support the government against the revolutionists. The government received notification of support from another important source in a decision by Mexico City merchants to fix the prices of food and necessities for the prevention of profiteering.

The government's communique stressed successful military action against the rebels on both the northern and eastern fronts. The communique said that General Aguirre, the rebel leader at Vera Cruz had lost a large share of his support and that only two isolated military units of revolutionaries remained in the whole state of Vera Cruz, one at Perotes and the other at Jalapa.

A letter announcement added that the troops of General Escobar had been driven out of Saltillo where they (Continued on page six)

HOUSE G. O. P. WILL SUPPORT PRES. HOOVER

Leaders Plan to Use Full Strength For Hoover Policies At Special Session.

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—Republican leaders in the House are determined to use their increased party strength in the seventy-first congress to support the policies of President Hoover.

The Republicans will have a plurality of probably 102 members over the Democrats when the special session of Congress convenes in April to revise the tariff and pass farm relief legislation.

As a result of the November elections the line-up shows 267 seats are to be filled by Republicans, 165 by Democrats, and one by a farmer-labor member. One seat is in doubt and another is vacant, both of which probably will be filled by Democrats.

This is the greatest majority Republicans have had since before the Wilson administration. So strong are the Republicans that peace has been made with the independents who supported Senator LaFollette in the 1924 Presidential campaign. If the hatchet has not been buried, it is further indicated by their power. The Republican leaders have agreed to increase their memberships on committees, particularly the important ones, by a majority of two to one. Committees of twenty one members are to have 14 Republicans and seven Democrats. A Democratic vacancy on the agriculture committee was filled by representative Elbert S. Brigham, a Republican, of Vermont.

The majority leader, representative Tilton, of Connecticut, feels that enough power is held by administration supporters in the House to block any legislation originating in the Senate that might not meet with White House approval. In view of this, the House leaders, Tilton said, are planning on confining activities to farm legislation and tariff revision as President Hoover said he desired in his inaugural address. As a consequence only the agriculture, Ways and Means accounts and rules committees would be organized. To strengthen the Republican force on the powerful rules committee, representative Lloyd Thurston of Iowa, was reappointed bill passed by the House at the seventeenth Congress, Tilton said, and difficulty would be encountered in obtaining favorable action in the special session.

TELEGRAPH COMMUNICATION WITH MEXICO HAMPERED

New York, March 7.—(AP)—Telegraph communications between the United States and Mexico City were hampered today. The Western Union announced that its land line between Vera Cruz and Mexico City had been cut. Telegraph communication with Mexico City ordinarily is by land lines to Galveston, Texas, thence by cable to Vera Cruz and land lines to Mexico City. There are Mexican government lines between the capital and Vera Cruz in addition to the Western Union.

DISASTROUS FIRE SWEPT YORK, S. C.

Rock Hill, S. C., March 7.—(AP)—The Rock Hill fire department at noon today sent an angry company to York, the county seat, where it was reported a fire fanned by a heavy wind was threatening the city. The fire was in the business section but no details were available.

Although he would not attend cabinet sessions even if invited, former Vice-President Dawes did take a hand now and then in the framing and piloting of legislation in the Senate. It is an open secret that his activities on behalf of the McNary-Haugen bill created a breach between himself and President Coolidge.

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—Victories by the Republican party in the one-time "Solid South" are seen by leaders, not as political accidents, but as gains to be consolidated.

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENT BOND ISSUE BILL PASSED BY THE HOUSE LAST NIGHT

Raleigh, March 7.—(AP)—The permanent improvements bond issue bill, providing $1,972,000 for State institutions during the coming biennium, was passed by the House shortly after midnight this morning after a spirited three hour debate the vote was 66 to 34. Last week, when the measure came up for consideration it was voted down 70 to 37.

Since last night's session an anti-night, today's session of the House will not be a legislative day but will be merely a continuation of the legislative day of March 6. After reaching the vote on the bill, the House recessed until 11 o'clock this morning instead of adjourning. For the first time this session, the speaker of the House, representative A. H. Graham, the only member of the budget commission left in the legislature, left the chair, and took the floor in support of the measure. Representative J. K. Wilson, of Pasquotank, chairman of the appropriations committee, led the forces supporting it, while the opposition rallied behind representative Odus M. Mull, of Cleveland. Mull sought to amend the bill to require its submission to the vote of the people, but this with a large number of other proposed amendments was rejected. As its unfinished business, the Senate had before it today the Johnson bill, which would prevent Republicans from participating in Democratic primaries. Democrats out of Republican primaries, and self-styled independents out of all primaries. Debate on this measure yesterday showed a sharp difference of opinion among the Senators. Members of the education committee indicated that a report would probably be made today on the House education bill, providing $15,525,000 as school aid for the coming two year period, with no material changes expected in the House measure.

Extra Session Congress Called For April 15th

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—An extra session of the 71st Congress for April 15 was called today by President Hoover. Specifically the call proposed legislation for agricultural relief and for "limited changes of the tariff."

The proclamation says that these matters cannot in justice "to our farmer, our labor and our manufacturers be postponed."

CURTIS TO SIT AT SESSION OF NEW CABINET

VICE-PRESIDENT DESTINED TO PLAY BIG PART IN AFFAIRS AT WASHINGTON.

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—Vice-President Curtis is likely to have a larger measure of participation in the affairs of government during the Hoover administration than has any other man who has held Vice-Presidency in more than a generation.

While the sole duty prescribed for the Vice-President is that of president in the absence of the President, President Hoover even before the election invited Mr. Curtis to sit in a cabinet sessions and the invitation was promptly accepted. So it will be that the Vice-President will be at the council table tomorrow at the first session of the Hoover cabinet.

The practice of having the Vice-President attend cabinet meetings was initiated by the late President Harding when Calvin Coolidge held that office. As valuable as his advice may have been, Mr. Coolidge was unable to bring to the deliberations of Mr. Harding's advisers the vast fund of knowledge concerning the legislative branch of government which Vice-President Curtis possesses.

With but a single break, the former Senator has served in the two Houses of Congress for more than thirty years and has been the Republican leader in the Senate since the death of Henry Cabot Lodge more than four years ago.

Few men on capital hill are as well posted on Senate rules and procedure as is Mr. Curtis and few of them have as wide a circle of intimates among the members of Congress irrespective of party lines. Coming to the cabinet sessions thus equipped, the Vice-President will be able to give valuable advice on subjects which must be placed before Congress and he will be in a position to wield a considerable influence at the Capitol in the shaping of administration measures and in the handling of them on the floor of the Senate.

Those conversant with the situation would be surprised if his advice is not sought on legislative affairs alike by President Hoover and the leaders as well as the rank and file in the Senate.

Although he would not attend cabinet sessions even if invited, former Vice-President Dawes did take a hand now and then in the framing and piloting of legislation in the Senate. It is an open secret that his activities on behalf of the McNary-Haugen bill created a breach between himself and President Coolidge.

REPUBLICANS SEEK STRENGTH IN SOUTH

Washington, March 7.—(AP)—Victories by the Republican party in the one-time "Solid South" are seen by leaders, not as political accidents, but as gains to be consolidated.

After a session here by the executive body of the Republican national committee, Chairman Work announced that the party would "exert every influence within its power not only to make these results permanent but to encourage and build up virile and militant party organizations throughout the southern states."

Steamer Goes Aground.—New York, March 7.—(AP)—The Lamport and Holt liner Van Dyck, sister ship of the Vestris, went west around off Governor's Island in the upper bay this morning as she battled a whole gale on her way to her pier from Buenos Aires. Wrecking tugs went immediately to the assistance of the 13,000 ton liner. She was in no danger as she stuck fast in the mud off the easterly side of the Island. She had 275 passengers.

SMITH & SUGG WILL ENLARGE WAREHOUSE

Smith and Sugg, owners of Star warehouse, have purchased the R. W. Dall property on Eighth Street for the erection of an addition to their warehouse building during the summer months. The enlargement will give them a total floor space of approximately 75,000 square feet. The warehouse is already one of the largest in this section, and the contemplated enlargement will place it among the two or three largest in the state.

PURCHASE SITE ON EIGHTH STREET FOR ERECTION OF ADDITION DURING SUMMER.

The addition will contain extra offices and ladies' rest room. It will have an entrance from Eighth Street, making the building accessible from three streets. The addition will be constructed of brick like the remainder of the building.

This is the second enlargement made by this progressive tobacco warehouse firm in the last three years. It will give them sufficient capacity to take care of their patrons during the most congested parts of the season, and enable them to handle a considerably larger volume of bright leaf.

The building at present located on the new site on Eighth Street has been offered for sale. As soon as a sale is made, it was understood that work of removing the building would take place to make way for preliminary work in connection with construction of the enlargement.

Mr. Sugg said this morning that actual construction, however, would not begin before the early part of the summer. The building will then be rushed to completion and everything placed in readiness for the opening of the new season.

LANDBERG ABLE TO USE ARM AGAIN

Mexico City, March 7.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Landberg had the use of his right arm today for the first time since the accident a week ago at Valbuena Field when his plane, capsize on landing from a picnic trip with his fiancée, Miss Anne Morrow.

His physician allowed him to remove the sling which had held his arm in place until the effects of a dislocated shoulder could be overcome. Meanwhile popular interest in revolutionary activities has drawn attention away from the colonel and his romance.

TRAIN OPERATES IN REVOLUTION AREA

PLUMBER FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

Greenwood, S. C., March 7.—(AP)—Cliff McCrary, 50-year-old plumber, was found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Rosa Davis, wife of C. L. (Buck) Davis, in general sessions court here today. The jury recommended mercy and Judge Hayne F. Rice, presiding, passed sentence of life imprisonment.

Tar River On Rampage Again

Rampaging Tar River, swollen to flood stage by recent heavy rainfall, was expected to reach a 20-foot stage by Sunday, according to information furnished today by W. T. Clark, local weather observer. The river overflowed its banks several days ago, and its waters have spread over hundreds of fertile acres below the city. The river reached a 23-foot stage during the heavy rains last year and seriously threatened to destroy the dam on it in connection with the new Tar River bridge. The weather observer said that the present rise would lack about 12 inches or more overflowing the high ways.

HEAVY WINDS DO DAMAGE IN THE MID-WEST

Property Damage and Probable Loss of Life Reported; Fire Adds To Menace.

Chicago, March 7.—(AP)—Destructive west winds spread snow and cold over the mid-west last night causing personal injuries, property damage and possibly loss of life.

Fire added its menace to the other elements of work. At Tomahawk, Wis., the wind whipped a fire through the business section, causing a loss of $500,000.

Six persons were injured in Chicago and three others, who set out on Lake Michigan yesterday in a small fishing boat, were believed lost in the gale.

The cold wave came just when the mid-west was enjoying its balmy weather. In Chicago the season's high temperature of 53 had been recorded before the gale sent the mercury down 49 degrees in 12 hours. Similar drops were reported in many other cities.

Wind of 45 miles an hour, broke windows, trees chimneys, and signs in Milwaukee and Chicago. Northern Wisconsin and Minnesota reported a heavy snowfall that hampered traffic.

Ice gorges and overflowing rivers caused much damage in Nebraska and Illinois.

The wind ripped across Ohio today, reaching a velocity officially reported at 65 miles an hour. A 200,000 fire destroyed a two story building in downtown Cleveland and for time threatened an entire business block before it burned itself out. Considerable damage was reported throughout the state. Wire communication was hampered.

PREFERS HUNTING TO SOCIETY.

New York.—For six years Gertrude Sanford, 27, daughter of a wealthy sportsman, has preferred the life of big game hunting to society. She is now in the wilds of Abyssinia in search of a rare species of antelope. On previous hunts she has killed elephants, lions, leopards and rhinos.

Raleigh, March 7.—(AP)—The legislature met in joint session today, and elected trustees of the University of North Carolina and North Carolina State College, after the Senate and House had held brief sessions for the transaction of regular business. The elections were routine, the joint session merely confirming the nominations made by the committees on the trusteeships of the two institutions.

The Australian ballot bill, already passed by both houses, was sent back to the committee on election laws by the Senate today, for consideration of the amendments made by the House. Most of the 30 amendments were regarded as acceptable to the Senate.

Little business outside of the consideration of uninitiated matters and the introduction of new bills, was transacted by either house.

Without debate the Senate tabled Senator Peron's bill to provide for a special joint commission to investigate the activities of the anti-Smith campaign committee in the state by a vote of 28 to 14. The Senate bill "to require conditions of all public local and private contracts to speak the truth" was passed unanimously at third reading.

Landslide Claims Heavy Toll Life In Madeira Island

London, March 7.—(AP)—Details were being sought today of a disaster in the Madeira Islands. Messages from Funchal said that 100 persons had lost their lives in a great landslide. Renter advices were that five had been killed and 100 more homeless. Reliable information was unobtainable.

The place where the slide occurred was variously described as the valley of St. Vincent and Sao Vincente, on the north coast of Madeira Island. The victims were occupants of houses which were swept into the swollen waters of a river and out to sea.

Volunteer relief corps recovered five bodies but their work was impeded by continued heavy rains.

The Madeira Islands lie off the coast of Morocco in the Atlantic Ocean. They are a province of Portugal and consist of the island of Madeira, a smaller island called Porto Santo and a tiny island named Deserta Grande. The population of the group is chiefly confined to the island of Madeira.

Minor Business Handled By State Solons Today; Several Measures Pass

Raleigh, March 7.—(AP)—The legislature met in joint session today, and elected trustees of the University of North Carolina and North Carolina State College, after the Senate and House had held brief sessions for the transaction of regular business. ## COL. STEWART DEFEATED IN PROXY FIGHT

Chairman Standard Oil Co., Ousted By Rockefeller Forces Today.

Whiting, Ind., March 7.—(AP)—Col. R. W. Stewart was deposed as chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana today at the annual stockholders meeting climaxing a bitter proxy battle between himself and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who instituted the proceeding to oust Stewart.

Whiting, Ind., March 7.—(AP)—A $900,000 corporation today painted, on a Whiting canvas, an epic oil.

It was a picture made by the proxies of the 56,000 shareholders of the Standard Oil Co., of Indiana; a picture of Col. Robert W. Stewart, its executive head, fighting with proxy-pointed lance the forces of the younger John D. Rockefeller, similarly armed.

The best information available before the annual meeting of stockholders was called to order at noon today was that Col. Stewart, former boy-lawyer-politician-rough rider and 62-year-old chairman of the company's board, was shipped; that the Rockefeller forces, assaulting his "moral fitness," had more than enough proxies to end his 11 year's leadership.

This Col. Stewart would not admit; nor would he make advance claims of victory, as did his antagonists. He said he had made an energetic campaign for support; that he had a majority of stockholders behind him, though they might not represent a majority of the stock; that his fellow directors had given him their endorsement.

Mr. Rockefeller's field leader, W.throp W. Aldrich, of New York, went to today's meeting with an announcement that the Rockefeller faction held control.

At the last minute the talk had turned not to who would win but to how great an advantage the Rockefeller group would possess. The estimates ran from a million to a million and a half votes, as votes are counted in shares of the company's stock; the Rockefeller forces claimed control of 50 per cent of the company's 9,000,000 votable shares. The claim was made after a report of all proxies had been made.

To these advance statements of victory there was no answer from the Stewart camp. Col. Stewart himself said he was "too busy to talk" to newspapermen yesterday. His associates would offer no comment. Whatever the preliminary check of proxies may have shown, Col. Stewart made it clear that he had no intention of leaving before the votes were cast, and that he would be present and active at today's meeting.

Should Col. Stewart lose, there would be three vacancies on the directorate to be filled. It was understood that the Rockefeller forces had decided that these vacancies should be filled by the election of Dr. William M. Burton, former president; Thomas S. Cooke, now in charge of manufacturing for the American Petroleum transportation corporation, a subsidiary; and Dr. G. Bang, manager of the Whiting Refinery.

Earlier predictions that Ed O. Seubert, President of Standard Oil of Indiana, would succeed Stewart as chairman should the election go favorably for the Rockefeller group, were regarded today as erroneous. The best information was that Seubert, who has been supporting Col. Stewart, would remain as President and executive officer, but that Dr. Burton would be named chairman with final authority.

My Thirty Years at Sea

By CAPTAIN GEORGE FRIED

Commanding his first ship was in itself a singular experience for Fried, but with it was added the thrills of escaping two attacks by submarines. Full speed, a decoy and a zig-zagging course eluded one danger; he broke clear away from his convoy and crossed the Atlantic alone, on the other.

By CAPT. GEORGE FRIED (Copyright 1929, Associated Press) CHAPTER X

My first experience as captain of my own ship was aboard the Zuiderdijk, during the war. This was a freighter which transported munitions, foodstuffs and railroad equipment. She had about 150 men in the crew.

Going out aboard the ship in command for the first time is in itself a thrilling experience. You have the warning impressed upon him.

On my first voyage bound for France we were not far off the French coast when a freighter traveling in a convoy just 200 yards away was torpedoed. It was just after sunset, and I must admit that it was the worst scare I had ever had in my life.

A general alarm was sounded on our ship to let everyone know that we were being attacked. There was consternation. It seemed that the entire crew beat it for the life boats. The boats were all rigged up ready to lower with full equipment.

My first thought was to order full speed ahead and the engine room responded with full speed and a little more. The next thought was the men. I grabbed a megaphone and ran to the portside of the bridge shouting, "Don't lower the boats."

Plymouth and started from Plymouth with 12 other ships. We were just outside the entrance of the English channel when a submarine got between two freighters and torpedoed both of them. The convoy spread. I never did believe that it was fair for German U Boats to sink without warning, for it certainly lacked courage on their part. In this instance, the ships were unarmed and carried nothing, retreating to this country in ballast. We had orders to proceed in an emergency of this kind and to leave the disabled vessels behind to be taken care of by the destroyers.

I continued on the voyage alone and was two days out of New York when I had a peculiar premonition. I told some of the deck officers that I was feeling uneasy, and that I could not sleep, although I had turned in several times. Being out of the submarine danger zone, I ordered the running lights turned on, and hardly had this order been carried out when we discovered a convoy of about 40 ships directly in our path. I was following instructions and the route laid out for so that no ships should have been on the same course. I signaled to the leading ship by blinker light, thereby avoiding a collision.

We circled the convoy and the remainder of the journey to port was uneventful. I remained as commander of the Zuiderdijk for eight months before being transferred. In August, 1918, I was assigned navigating officer of the America, the vessel I now have the privilege of commanding. During this period the America carried troops to Europe and home after the armistice. Among them were many members of the Twenty-sixth (Yankee) division.

You are a sort of king, a monarch of all you survey. You no longer have a routine to follow. It is constant anxiety until you know that you have men who are competent to handle the tasks assigned to them. Even then you feel more secure by constant supervision. One of the first things I did after I took command of the Zuiderdijk was to post in the chart room in conspicuous places, "Safety First—Take No Chances" and "Eternal Vigilance Is the Price of Safety." A bit of advice was printed in large letters so that every man entering the chart room could not help but don't lower the boats." I then dashed to the starboard, giving the same order. Some of the men, as I glanced at them quickly, seemed astounded, but no boat could be lowered with the vessel at full speed. It was safer for us to be moving and zigzagging than it would have been taking chances to slow down and make the ship a target for our attackers. Later the ships met at a rendezvous and we were safely escorted to port. We had no guns aboard the Zuiderdijk, so I decided to rig up a dummy to look like a big gun to incoming submarines so that they would not take us by shell fire, as I would rather take chances with torpedoes than gun fire. That scare proved a good influence on the whole crew, for no one ever became excited again. On our return voyage I went to

JOHNSON IN TAMPA WITH HIS OUTFIT

Tampa, Fla., March 7.—(AP)—Walter Johnson, who spent 21 years in the ranks of the Washington baseball club, has returned to assume the post of commander-in-chief, facing an unusual handicap. The big fellow is held in such affection by his fellows it is possible they will be too enthusiastic in trying to win for him. It may be that the greatest danger facing the Senators in the coming campaign is pressing a golf term for trying too hard.

The great neutral vote of baseball has cast solidly for Connie Mack for years but the tall factician may have to share it this season with the big train for among the fans at large Walter Johnson remains one of the great idols of the game. The feeling extends to the Washington players and everyone of the 30 athletes in the training camp wants to go out right now and die in a baseball way for "Good old Barney."

Manager Johnson himself is paying strict attention to his pitchers. As one of the great mound stars of all time he is qualified to pass on pitching performances and certainly some of the younger school will be better for having passed under the tutelage of the old master. Of the even dozen pitchers on hand over half of the number are regarded as sure to stick with the other two or three players very much in doubt. Sad Sam Jones, Garland Braxton, Irving Hadley, Fred Marberry, Lloyd Brown, Adolph Liska and Paul McCullough promise to start.

A merry battle may be fought out among the rest. Bob Burke, a tall but very thin left hander, who was on the club last year, needs more weight, and Jim Weaver, six and one half inches over six feet and scaling 230 pounds, has to much. Liska, whose underhand delivery will remind veteran American league fans of Jack Warhop of the old New York Highlanders, is said to have a priceless pitching asset in control. Buddy Myer, obtained at great price in playing talent from the Boston Red Sox, will play third base, Ossie Bluege moving to the top of the infield to make room for him. Bluege will take care of short stop with Joe Cronin, a promising young shortstop acting as understudy. Stuffy Stewart and Minter Hayes will play second base between them. Stewart seems to become faster as he grows older and he has practically made good on his third trial although he may not play regularly.

Joe Judge has no opposition at first base but a substitute has not yet been elected. The chances of Harry Boss, a little Rock recruit, were hurt when he suffered injuries to his hands in an automobile accident. Charles Gooch, former Little Rock third baseman, detecting evidences of crowding around third, announced himself as a former first baseman and is attempting to qualify as far away as he can get from his regular position and still remain on the infield.

Muddy Ruel, the Senator's star catcher, who is going through a systematic course of training for his arm, is doing little actual catching in advance the opening of the season. Benny Tate, long the second string Washington receiver, is again available and Ed Kenna and Al Bohl are willing to accept the other nomination.

LOCAL CAGERS WILL PLAY IN TOURNAMENT

The high school basketball tournament sponsored by the Department of Physical Education of State College opened this afternoon with Greenville drawn for an early game with Lexington in the first round tomorrow. The outcome of this contest should be known here by noon, in time to let the team's followers know whether they continue in the race, with the next games against High Point or Durham.

The boys are in good shape, physically, but the team, as a whole is a little stale. This comes perhaps as the result of too many games in a hard season, and is an evil against which all the coaches in the world have been unable to fight or find a successful cure. The fact may injure the boys on their mettle, and make them do better than they could if they felt themselves in top condition. The N. E. A. C. will be well represented in the tournament, and some of the conference teams should go a long way. In their class, Farmville is expected to show well and a final game between Red Springs and Farmville would be a good forecast.

N. C. MOUNTAINEER SHOWS BRAVES SOMETHING
St. Petersburg, Fla., March 7.—(AP)—Hirman Holtschauer, a big North Carolina mountain school teacher, has shown the Braves' management here that he can pitch a fast ball with a hook. He appears likely to stick with the team this season instead of being sent out on option as he was last year.

RUFFING RETURNS TO THE RED SOX
Bradenton, Fla., March 7.—(AP)—Charley Ruffing, a 24-year-old pitcher who showed a great deal of promise two years ago only to lose 25 games while winning ten last year, has ambled into the Red Sox camp here carrying 230 pounds and a determination to do better.

"By Joe! it's good to smoke Luckies."

Felix Count Luckner

"Lucky Strikes? By Joe, yes. Let me tell you. I was cruising in my raider in the South Pacific. It had been damp, rainy weather and every bit of tobacco we had on the ship was mouldy and could not be smoked. We began to be desperate. The men were—what you call—grouchy. Along came an American ship. We captured her and after taking the captain, officers and crew aboard my raider and finding comfortable places for them to stay, I and my officers went over to the captured ship to see if there was anything aboard her that we wanted. We searched her. And what do you think? Under the cushions of a seat in the captain's cabin we found 500 packages of Lucky Strikes! I tore off the end of one and lit it and filled my lungs with it, and By Joe, I was a man again. We had enough for all the crew and we were all cheered up and we all became friends once more. By Joe, I was sorry to sink that American ship that had brought us those smokes. Lucky Strikes, they are wonderful, and my Countess, of course, wishes a fashionable, slender figure. She smokes Lucky Strikes when she is offered fattening sweets. And my life has always been an active one and I must be trim and fit. I love to feel what you Americans call 'peppy.' So no sweets for me. Give me a Lucky Strike instead. By Joe, it's good for us to smoke Luckies."

Announcement of enlarged facilities in the way of warehouse and factory room on the Greenville tobacco market before another season opens is another indication that there will be even greater efforts toward a greater season here next year than the record breaking season just closed. Now if the buying companies will just come across with that badly needed fifth set of buyers there will be no question about the Greenville market's continued progress. It looks like to us that a growth from a 28,000,000 pounds market to a 72,000,000 pounds market in five years certainly justifies the demand now being made for the additional buyers.

The industrial survey just completed, extracts from which were published in this paper yesterday, sets forth clearly that Greenville has many advantages to offer to the home seeker or the persons seeking sites for industries. Such definite data as is contained in the survey is something that Greenville has needed for a long time and now that we have it surely we should be able to use it to good advantage in attracting new people and industries to our community.

The first school for scout masters who are to take part in Boy Scout work here will be held at Teachers College next Tuesday, March 12. If you are interested in this phase of boys' work and would like to lend your aid in the way of serving one of the scout troops, be sure that you are on hand when the school opens. In order for the scout work to prove successful men must be willing to give a portion of their time to the movement. It is a great work and if you are fitted for it you will not only enjoy it but you will be rendering a great service to your community.

ABOUT TOWN

Greenville offers a distinct opportunity to the manufacturer, according to facts contained in the industrial survey just completed, as asserted a merchant today.

"The majority of people have been aware of the fact for years, but this is the first time it has been presented to the public in such a convincing way. This information should play an important part in interesting outside capital in the community. It should be instrumental in including textile plants to seek desirable locations here.

"Everybody knows that living conditions have much to do with the location of factories of any kind. The manufacturer considers the cost of living, controlling as it does, the local wage demand and operating costs in many directions. The various factors which regulate the cost of living combine in Greenville to make these costs in every respect favorable to industry.

"With the industrial surveys making this information available to some of the largest manufacturers of the nation, it is easy to believe the next few months will witness the location of a few such industries. It is to be hoped so, for this is what we need to make the industrial life of the community complete."

"The victory of State College over Duke University was greeted with enthusiasm by former students of State in this locality," declared a State alumnus today.

"The victory gave old Alma Mater the championship of the Southern conference and the crown will rest securely at Raleigh until some other team proves capable of winning it. State is proud of the achievement, and the majority of North Carolina people no doubt will be glad with them.

"But the victory is not as complete as it would have been had Duke been the loser. The University fought determinedly and won the right to play State in the final game of the championship contest. It was a great game and double honor comes to the state in that the finishing battle was staged by North Carolina teams."

"Let's hope the ground hog has had his inning," a believer in the forty days of bad weather prediction said this morning.

"We have had enough cold and rain to last us quite a while, and if the weather man will let up business will begin to hum anew in this locality. The bright sunshine of yesterday gave the first indication of approaching springtime.

If it will only continue for several

BLOATED FEELING
And Other Troubles Went Away After This South Carolinian Had Taken Black-Draught.

Iva, S. C.—"I have used Black-Draught, at intervals, for about five years," says Mr. J. F. Gilliam, of this place. "I take it for indigestion. After eating, I would have a tight, bloated feeling, and pains in my chest and stomach. I would spit up my food, and some things I ate would not agree with me at all. I would be hungry, but afraid to eat on account of the indigestion. I would be constipated, too.

"Some one told me that I should try Black-Draught, which I did, with good results. I take just a small dose after meals, and I feel like a different person.

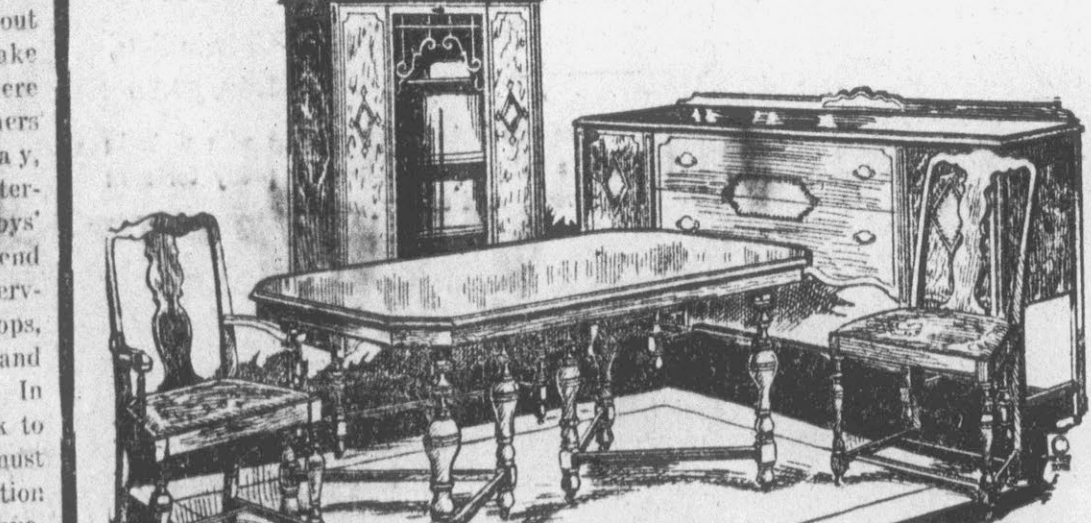

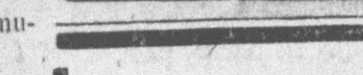

"I do not have any more trouble of that kind. I can now eat almost anything I want to, at any time, and it does not hurt me.

"Black-Draught is a splendid medicine. I can recommend it to others."

Thousands of people have found relief, in cases of common indigestion, by taking a pinch of Black-Draught after meals, and continuing this treatment for several days.

Take Theford's Black-Draught. It is purely vegetable and acts in a helpful way, without the bad effects of mineral drugs.

every form of life will take on new activity.

Springtime is the best time of the year. It puts life into the majority of humanity and causes them to forget the bleak, chill days of winter, filled with bursting water pipes, disrupted telephone and telegraph connections, and last but not least, disabled heating systems.

"The spirit of returning Springtime is in the air, so get ready for it out of yourself, and get ready for it out of yourself."

"It was one of the greatest transactions ever reported in this county," a member of the office of the Register of Deeds declared this morning, commenting on the deed of transfer of the holdings of the Home Telephone and Telegraph Co. to the Carolina Telephone Co.

"The transfer affects several counties in which property of the Home Telephone Company was located, and considerable time was required for the deed to reach Pitt County. The transaction was made sometime ago.

"A million dollars is a lot of money, and the filing of a deed involving such an enormous sum invariably attracts attention in communities where such big deals are uncommon."

"Business has been good despite the inclement weather of the last few days," local merchants informed a member of the Reflector staff today.

"Saturday and Monday were two of the best days we have had since the Christmas holidays. Our sales were much above the average and a considerable amount of cash was involved.

"I don't know what caused this unexpected turn in business. I didn't inquire about that because I was too glad to get the business. But it was contrary to expectation and caused considerable surprise when the final check of sales was made.

"With the advent of fair weather, we expect buying to be heavy from now on. This will consist mainly in the sale of spring clothes and things used by the farmers preparatory to planting season.

"The outlook for a good business year is very bright and if things continue like they started, the general run of business men should have nothing to regret."

First Radio Service Here is Successful

The radio service at the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening, was as successful as weather conditions would permit, and was heard by a good-sized crowd of members and their friends. Two large radios were installed by the Smith Electric Co., and the machines were under the supervision of Mr. Milo Smith. Promptly at 6 p. m. the service in Raleigh, was begun and the audience listened to this program for about half an hour, when because of static it was switched to Charlotte, and the program finished there. This was the better station and Dr. Gilmour of Wilmington was heard very distinctly. Both Dr. Lacy, in Raleigh, and Dr. Gilmour in Charlotte told the audience of the every member canvass which is to be made on next Sunday the 10th, when members will make their pledges for local and benevolent causes for the church year beginning April 1st. The benevolent quota for North Carolina is $900,000, which does not include local expenses at all. Both speakers stressed systematic and proportionate giving by each member, not excepting the children. Teams from the churches will canvass the membership on Sunday afternoon, and they are urging the members to stay at home the earlier part of the afternoon until the arrive. A letter plan would be fore each member to make his pledge at the morning service, when an opportunity to do that will be given.

The approximate amount for the local church is $4,000 which includes $1,000 for benevolences.

The congregation of the church through their pastor thanked the Smith Electric Co., for the use of the Radios for this unique service.

Local Boy Member Of The Victorious State College Team

The winning of the Southern Conference basketball championship by State College holds more than passing interest to Greenville people because of the fact that a local boy, Johnnie Mason, was a member of the victorious squad. Mason took part in most of the games played in the Atlanta tournament, and especially the last game which gave State the right to the conference crown.

Mason is a graduate of the Greenville high school. He took an active part in basketball activities during his last two years in school here. He is the son of Mrs. W. P. Mason of this city.

Young Mason will be graduated from State as an electrical engineer at the end of this term. He has accepted a position with the General Electric Company at Schenectady, N. Y., and will begin duty as soon as school is over.

This is the second Greenville boy that has stood out prominently in basketball in North Carolina colleges during the present year. Billy Browne, son of Dr. Zeno Brown, rendered brilliant service with the University this season and is counted one of the most resourceful players on the team.

Boy Scout School To Open Tuesday

The local committee on Leadership Training in the new Boy Scout organization will conduct a course in Scoutmastership, at E. C. T. C., room 209, administration building, Tuesday night, the 12th.

The college is very cordial in its attitude toward Scouting and is providing quarters for the sessions of the course, which will be conducted every Tuesday night for a period of twelve weeks.

The Leadership Training Committee for Greenville is composed of Rev. E. L. Hillman, Mr. Guy Smith, and Mr. R. G. Fitzgerald. They will be assisted in the course by Mr. Herbert Stuckey, Scout Executive of this area, who will take part in every session.

The loyal Boy Scout organization is planning to first get a group of good men trained in Scouting methods and then issue troop charters to the churches that furnished adequate adult volunteer leaders to administer troops and then said churches organize the boys into patrols and troops. Any boy over 12 years old may join and each church will accept boys of any denomination—that is no troop will be limited to a certain denominational membership. Boys who have no church connection will be equally as welcome as those who belong to churches. Every parent should support the men who are volunteering as leaders.

MEXICAN REVOLUTIONISTS BEGIN MARCH ON JAUREZ; FEDERALS CLAIM VICTORY

had taken up a position after their defeat at Monterey. The Escobar contingent is now reported on the way to tomorrow along the western border of Coahuila.

Government officials think that General Aguirre has only 600 men left in his command. Colonel Tejeda, Governor of Vera Cruz and loyal supporter of the federal regime is thought to be at Paso de Ovejas with 2,000 men. This place is twenty miles from the city of Vera Cruz and Colonel Tejeda is reported to be ready to aid in an attack on the city as soon as he receive munitions.

It was learned in a well informed quarter that part of the forces originally supporting General Aguirre in Vera Cruz rebelled against him and drove him out of the city. Severe street fighting is said to have occurred in the course of this revolt within revolt. The general with a small group of followers is thought by this informant to have sought refuge by putting out some by fleeing into the woods north of Vera Cruz.

The Western Union land wires between Mexico City and Vera Cruz were cut tonight. All service between Mexico City and the outside world by this channel ceased immediately. The Aguirre group of rebels is believed to have cut the wires to aid its evacuation of the city.

Rebel forces are reported to be in complete rout everywhere with the important cities of Orizaba, Cordova and Jalapa once more in the hands of federal troops. "The enemy is the victim of inconceivable panic," says a statement.

issued Wednesday by the government. Officials said that the government forces did not expect to find any revolutionary troops in Vera Cruz when the city is recaptured. The government ordered a squadron of military aviators to fly over the forces of General Escobar and drop handbills explaining to them that they are rebelling against the national government. This action is in connection with charges made by officials here that General Escobar had received his supporters by telling them they were on the side of the government.

The airplanes will also drop copies of Mexico City newspapers for the purpose of informing them of the situation in the capital. General Ortiz, leader of the loyalist forces at Monterey, wired ex-president Cal-

TRAINING SCHOOL P. T. A. MET YESTERDAY

The regular March meeting of the Training School Parent-Teacher Association was held Wednesday afternoon. This being "Child Safety Week," the latter part of the program was devoted to that subject which was ably handled by Miss Bizer, who also gave some pertinent facts in regard to the present school situation in North Carolina and the visible result of the reaction upon the schools of Greenville.

The first two numbers of the program were given by Miss Johnson's second grade and Mrs. Sawyer's third grade children. Both sides gave some feature of their regular school work, the second side presenting songs and poems relative to spring, and the third side a most modern and unique dramatization of "Hansel and Gretel."

During the business session it was announced that a clinic for children who will enter the Training School next September will be held at the school building on April 1 at which time doctors and nurses will be on hand to test or examine for defects in eyes, ears, nose, physical condition and bad habits and adenoids. Parents were invited to send or bring in names of children in their neighborhood who would attend this clinic at the regular P. T. A. meeting in April. ## COTTON MARKET

New York, March 7.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 9 to 14 points on covering or rebuying by recent sellers and a renewed demand from the trade or commission house sources, which was promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables and continued favorable reports from cotton producing markets. At the end of the first half of the prices were 7 to 10 points net high.

Private cables reported local and Bombay liquidation and some buying in the Liverpool market, but said it had been absorbed by trade calling and continental buying. There was rumor that the figures of the International spinning organization placed the world's consumption of American cotton for the first half of this season at 7,613,000 bales.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 7.—(AP)—Higher prices for wheat resulted early today from freezing weather through out winter wheat territory contrasting suddenly with abnormal warmth and causing fears of crop damage. General buying wheat future deliveries took place and included purchasing for houses with connections in Europe. Opening 1-4 to 1-2 higher wheat afterward continued to show strength. Corn, oats and provisions also were firmer, with corn starting unchanged to 1-2 up and subsequently showing advances all around.

STOCK MARKET

New York, March 7.—(AP)—Alternative periods of weakness and strength characterized today's stock market, which reflected extreme nervousness over the credit situation. Call money opened at 10 per cent., the highest renewal rate since January 9, and advanced to 11 in the early afternoon. Such liquidation as appeared was only moderate in volume, indicating that accounts were well margined.

While the 4-3-4 per cent rate on the new U. S. Treasury financing was about in line with expectations it served to accentuate the present credit stringency, and revived fears of an early increase in federal discount rates. While preparing for the heavy mid-month tax dividend and interest payments, the banks are showing a reluctance to increase their borrowings at the Federal Reserve bank.

Trade and business news continues favorable. Directors of the National Dairy Products corporation declared a stock dividend of 100 per cent, and valuable stock subscription rights were voted to the stockholders of American Steel Foundries. Several excellent earnings reports made their appearance during the day, Union Carbide showing a gain of more than $5,000,000 in net last year over the year before.

Good Cotton is Wanted

In the United States the demand is greatest for strict low middling, middling, strict middling and good middling from 15/16 to one inch in length, says the 1927 Yearbook of Agriculture. These four grades made up 85.05 per cent of the total consumption by American mills. All the lower grades together accounted for only 13.28 per cent. The demand for cotton under 1/2 inch in length was less than one-tenth of 1 per cent of the whole. In other words, GOOD cotton is wanted—cotton up to a standard. And the farmer who uses V-C has it to sell!

Back Up the Scientists

Everybody can eat just so much and put on so many clothes—and he can't eat or wear any more, no matter how rich he is. But on other things his pocketbook is the only limit. The job is to learn how farm products can be used in making these other things too. They hold big opportunities. Cotton seed used to be a big nuisance around gins, for instance, thanks to the scientists. Scientific research must stay on its job of hunting for new values in old farm products. There ought to be a good use—besides just eating it or wearing it—for EVERY crop a farmer can grow. Let's back up the scientists with encouragement and money—and they'll dig up hidden markets all around us.

Labor required for producing a pound of tobacco ranges from about seven-tenths of an hour (42 minutes) for Virginia bright to about three-tenths of an hour (18 minutes) for Kentucky dark. — YEARBOOK OF AGRICULTURE.

Puts Money in the Leaf

Yield and quality must balance if the tobacco grower is to make full profit from his crop. All authorities agree on this. V-C Fertilizers are recognized as a vital factor in good yields of quality leaf. Made especially for a purpose—made carefully, thoroughly, honestly—they contain the usual ingredients plus one more that is not a chemical... V-C's good name. Successful growers prefer V-C Fertilizers, because they know this fourth ingredient is there. They have learned that it puts the money in the leaf.

"There is not an acre of land in the whole United States that doesn't need at least one of the three principal elements of a complete fertilizer."—H. D. Wilson, Louisiana Commissioner of Agriculture.

Why is the boll weevil always called "he"? It's the hen that does the damage.

Learn to Fertilize Right
"The use of commercial fertilizers is rather generally practiced, particularly in the eastern humid sections of the Cotton Belt. Unfortunately in many cases apparently too little is used, or it is used without enough skill to secure the best results."—Yearbook of Agriculture.

"I have used V-C, and although the boll weevil hit our county hard I made over a bale to the acre."—J. W. Long, Tarboro, N. C.

One Ton Against Fifteen

Less than 27 pounds of plant food are in a ton of average livestock manure—27 pounds in 2,000. "Are the other 1973 pounds 'filler'?" asks the National Fertilizer Association. It then points out that a ton of 5-8-7 commercial fertilizer contains 20 units or 400 pounds of plant food—as much as you'd find in 15 tons of manure.

FROM LEAF TO PACKAGE the manufacture of cigarettes requires about nine days, says a government report. But it took five years before that to make all the tobacco mixed in them.

"Artificial Cotton" Now
Between three and four million pounds of "artificial cotton" are now being grown in England, according to a report from London. The fiber is described as growing on a plant seven feet high that was discovered in British Guiana.

ONE WAY to catch step with the procession and stay up with the leaders is to subscribe to a good farm journal—and read it!

One on the Indians!

The Indians had their pipes—made of clay or stone and none costing as much as an acre of good loamy land. But they were PIPES right on, and they drew good smoke. Not only that, but the Indians rolled their own cigarettes. Moreover, the Indians had their stogy cigars. Home-made, all of these. But they were the originals of all that we have. There's nothing new... Fertilizer? The Indians had that too, of a sort—fish, right out of the creek, buried beside the plant. But it wasn't V-C. Ho-hum!

FULL ROWS? Ah, there you've got it on the redskin!

V-C FERTILIZERS have given us quality crops and greater yields. This year with boll weevil infestation the worst ever known around here, we averaged nearly a bale to the acre.—Coats Mercantile Co., Coats, N. C.
