REBELS PREPARE TO MEET CALLES WITH BIG FORCE

Revolutionists Concentrate Heavily At Torreon to Check Movement of Federal Troops; Federal Commander at Monterey Plans Advance On Saltillo.

Stiff opposition to the enveloping federal advance appeared likely today as rebel troops concentrated heavily at Torreon to meet the northern drive of General Calles, Federal Generalissimo.

General Almazan, Federal Commander at Monterey announced he was planning to advance on Saltillo with an army of 10,000 men in an effort to drive back the insurgents on their Torreon base.

Government circles generally expressed belief that the rebel movement would disintegrate rapidly as the federal forces approached, but the revolutionary leaders gave every indication of putting up strong resistance.

General Calles was reported to have reached Camacho with the advance guard of his powerful army, but between this point and Torreon was an almost waterless desert.

The rebels reported destruction of railway bridges between Camacho and Torreon on several days giving the insurgents an opportunity to gather strong reinforcements for General Escobar, rebel commander-in-chief.

In Saltillo, the insurgents were continuing a cautious advance down the Southern Pacific railway toward Mazatlan where 2,000 federal troops were strongly entrenched.

This advance was being conducted by General Iturbide with 5,000 men converging upon Mazatlan from various points.

The government today announced confiscation of the property of the chief rebel leaders, Generals Cruz, Manzo and Aguirre as well as that of Governor Fausto Topete of Sonora. The property was valued at several hundred thousand dollars.

Mexico City, March 12.—(AP)—Mexicans today foresaw quick suppression of the revolt against the government, possibly even with no more serious and sanguinary battle than has marked the Rebellion's course thus far.

While the main army of General Calles moved northward from Camacho, Zacatecas, toward Torreon, Coahuila, the more optimistic believed that when it faced the Army of General Jose Gonzalo Escobar the rebel army would only postpone disaster for General Escobar, these held. Few believed the limited rebel army believed at best to number only 6,000 men would be able to withstand onslaught of 15,000 men under General Calles.

Events of yesterday bolstered optimism. Between Camacho and Durango City the federal General Rodrigo Quevedo fought up with the rebel General Francisco Urbalejo. A hundred and thirty-five of his followers surrendered leaving him with only a few followers, with whom he himself escaped. The surrender occurred between the railroad stations of San Felipe and Pasterias. Among those surrendering were Capt. Col. Luis B. Duenas and nine other officers.

At Santa Lucrécia, Southern Vera Cruz, General Alejandro Manrique of the Tehuantepec area, received the voluntary unconditional surrender of General Simon Aguirre, brother of General Jesus M. Aguirre, leader of the revolt in Vera Cruz.

Twelve lower ranking officers and thirteen soldiers surrendered with Aguirre. The prisoners were taken to Aguila, Vera Cruz, to await court martial. Troops continued close pursuit of General Jesus M. Aguirre who was said to have but two men with him.

Surrender of these officers and of the only remaining large contingent of rebel troops in Vera Cruz at Juanita yesterday definitely moves the south from the revolt.

In the north, however, aside from the minor movement against Durango the federal activities had three phases, one of them not at all clear. There was of course the general offensive against Torreon by General Calles, who may reach the Coahuila City either today or tomorrow.

A government statement said General Juan Andreu Almazan was leaving Monterey for an offensive against Saltillo. The wording of the statement indicated a body of rebel troops was operating in that district. Almazan had been previously reported even as occupying Saltillo, but rather far removed from other rebel activity in the state.

Official announcements said a rebel advance guard of 400 or 500 of the army of General Roberto Cruz had reached Quila, south of Guilaquim, Chihuahua, and was continuing its advance toward Mazatlan, West Coast seaport held by General Jaime Carrillo.

Jones Act Causes Liquor Prices To Soar in New York

New York, March 12.—(AP)—The New York Herald Tribune says today that the Jones Act, increasing penalties for prohibition violations has caused the price of liquor to soar, putting many of the smaller speak-easies out of business.

The wholesale price of whiskey, says the newspaper, has advanced as much as $40 a case and grain alcohol has doubled to around $14 a gallon.

Delicacies to speak-easies have been curtailed to such an extent that only about one half the 1,400 speakeasies are being delivered.

Murice Campbell, federal prohibition administrator, also declared the Jones Act was putting many speak-easies out of business.

Murder Case To Open Today At Greensboro, N. C.

Greensboro, March 12.—(AP)—Trial of Ben Wallace and Walter L. Stevens, charged with shooting to death Hubert Herring, young Winston-Salem man, was scheduled this morning to start this afternoon in superior court here, with Judge Walter E. Moore of Sylvia presiding.

The case involving the two men was called when court opened today but was postponed until afternoon pending the arrival of W. C. Gardner, a defense witness from South Carolina. Mr. Gardner, according to Stacey Gifford, defense counsel appointed by the court, is expected to testify that the two men were not in Greensboro the night Herring was shot.

Herring was fatally wounded when he jumped on the running board of a moving automobile, occupied according to witnesses, by two men, shortly after the machine had a collision with his own. He was said to be demanding payment of damages when shot.

The 60 special veniremen called for the opening of court were dismissed until the afternoon session. The case against the two men was first called here January 25th but was continued for the term on its second day by Judge John H. Clement of Winston-Salem, presiding, when he was informed that the witness from South Carolina could testify one or perhaps both of the defendants as having been with him between Anderson and Greenville, S. C., the night Herring was shot.

At Santa Lucrécia, Southern Vera Cruz, General Alejandro Manrique of the Tehuantepec area, received the voluntary unconditional surrender of General Simon Aguirre, brother of General Jesus M. Aguirre, leader of the revolt in Vera Cruz.

Twelve lower ranking officers and thirteen soldiers surrendered with Aguirre. The prisoners were taken to Aguila, Vera Cruz, to await court martial. Troops continued close pursuit of General Jesus M. Aguirre who was said to have but two men with him.

Honeymoon Of War Angel Has Tragic Ending

Santa Maria, Cal., March 12.—(AP)—The honeymoon of Kathleen Burke McLean, war time "Angel of France" was turned into a cycle of mourning today as the result of the death of her husband, Col. John Rezinold McLean, war veteran and Arizona mining engineer.

Colonel McLean, who on March 2 was married to the former Kathleen Burke Peabody, died here last night from injuries received in an automobile accident last Sunday.

Mrs. McLean, whose former husband was the late Frederick F. Peabody, well-known oil manufacturer, was slightly injured in the accident.

The tragic ending of the honeymoon came while Colonel and Mrs. McLean were returning to Montecito from Del Monte where they had come after the wedding. After a week of festivities planned for them by their friends in Montecito, the couple had planned to visit Santa Barbara in Washington and then sail for Italy to spend a season before going to Argentina where Colonel McLean had valuable mining interests.

Colonel McLean was 41 years old. During the world war he commanded the 36th infantry. After the armistice he returned to his profession of mining engineering. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton McLean and a sister, are residents of Phoenix, Arizona.

The most decorated woman in the world war "was the one earned by Mrs. McLean, then Kathleen Burke a nurse for relief work abroad during the war. Among the battlelines she was called "The Angel of France." She met Col. McLean when he entered a field hospital to receive treatment for injuries. She also met Peabody during the war and married him several years later. He died in Santa Barbara two years ago.

School Aid Bill Passed By Overwhelming Vote; Returned To The House

Raleigh, March 12.—(AP)—The school aid bill, which started out as the McLean eight months term measure, passed another milestone in its turbulent legislative course today, but got a shape that bore scant resemblance to the original McLean product.

Carrying an annual equalization fund of $6,500,000 the bill was passed by the Senate, 46 to 2, and returned to the House for consideration of Senate amendments. Leaders predicted early acceptance of the changes, as the result of a great deal of unofficial conferring and compromising during the last couple of weeks.

The Senate also passed the bill sponsored by Governor Gardner to do away with the post of pardon commissioner and create in its stead the office of executive counsel to the governor. It had already been passed by the house. The executive counsel will be appointed by the Governor and will receive not more than $7,500 a year.

While the House was preparing to meet as a committee of the whole to consider the revenue bill reported out by the finance committee, it worked vigorously at its calendar, and acted upon a mass of bills, without, however, approaching the record set yesterday when 95 measures were passed at one sitting.

EXPLORER TO BE WELCOMED TO NEW YORK

City To Turn Out In Honor of Sir Hubert Wilkins, Antarctic Aerial Explorer.

New York, March 12.—(AP)—Returning from his aerial exploration of the Antarctic, Sir Hubert Wilkins is to be the city's guest at an official welcome today.

Arriving late in the afternoon on the Pacific Liner Ebro on the Panama Canal with a stop at Havana, he will be met at Hoboken by the mayor's committee for the reception of distinguished guests and escorted to City Hall.

Whether Miss Suzanne Bennett, and address, who announced her engagement to him shortly after his departure for the Antarctic last September would be at the pier to meet him remained uncertain. "You never can tell," said Miss Bennett. "I might be there, and I might not."

To Obtain Divorce From Playwright

New York, March 12.—(AP)—The New York American says today that Mrs. Eugene O'Neill is going to Reno to obtain a divorce from the playwright is fulfilling a proviso in their marriage ceremony whereby each agreed to give the other freedom should love for another arise.

This proviso to the marriage ceremony, says the newspaper, was worded, "until love do us part" and was to become effective whenever desired by either.

O'Neill, says the American, reminded his wife of their agreement in a letter from London in which he said:

"I love someone else deeply. There is no possible doubt of this and the someone loves me. Of that I am as deeply certain."

"We have often promised each other that if one ever came to the other and said they loved someone else that we would understand that we would know that love is something which cannot be denied or argued with."

Calciotta Monterey, actress, has been mentioned as the present object of O'Neill's affections.

Consider Appeal In Bank Case

Memphis, Tenn., March 12.—(AP)—Attorneys for the former National City Bank today had under consideration an appeal to the Supreme court of the United States of a decision of the U. S. Circuit Court of appeals which gave Edward Carter, 72 year old Virginian a judgment with interest amounting to $43,000 representing lifetime savings lost to swindlers at Hot Springs, Ark.

The swindle involved the alleged participation of an official of the liquidated bank. Carter contended the bank endorsed the official in a fraudulent transaction.

The court of appeals yesterday affirmed a decision of Federal Judge Harry B. Anderson, Memphis, in 1927, which gave Carter recovery of his lost funds with interest.

Seize Property Of Rebel Leaders To Pay For War

Mexico City, March 12.—(AP)—The government announced today that it had confiscated Mexico City property belonging to prominent rebel leaders and would auction it to help defray costs of suppressing the revolution.

Among those named were Governor Fausto Topete, General Roberto Cruz and General Francisco Manzo, all of Sonora, and General Jesus M. Aguirre of Vera Cruz.

The Cruz property was valued at about 300,000 pesos (about $150,000). General Manzo's Aguirre had a house and furniture. All bank accounts were also confiscated.

The seizures were made under the terms of a recently promulgated regulation providing for confiscation of property of those guilty of sedition.

Take Steps To Improve Traffic Conditions In The Business District

The one hour parking ordinance in the business district will be completely enforced in the future if recommendations prepared at a joint meeting of committees from the Board of Aldermen and Merchants Association count for anything.

The two committees met this morning to iron out questions dealing with the traffic situation in the business districts and provided recommendations for complete enforcement of the one hour parking law in a specific area of the business section.

"Many local people do not regard the traffic ordinances in the business district because they are not enforced," a member of the committee stated after the meeting this morning. "But we have provided certain amendments to the ordinance that should play an important part in the traffic situation in the future."

The recommendations will be presented at the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen. They provide for the one hour parking ordinance on Evans street from Third Street to the Gas office; on Fifth Street from Reed to Washington Streets; on Dickinson Avenue, beginning at Five Points to Pitt Street.

The committee stated there was a possibility that other sections of the business district would be included in the one hour parking area at a later date. However, it was stated that the present plan would be tried out and its success would largely determine action in connection with the other sections.

Members of the committees that met this morning were: P. L. Goodson, J. Key Brown and J. D. Rodgers, representing the Board of Aldermen; J. J. White, J. H. Blount, B. B. Sugg, Frank Wilson and J. A. Collins, representing the Merchants Association.

TWO SHOT ON TEXAS BORDER

American Patrolmen Wounded in Attempt To Smuggle Arms Over Border To Mexico.

El Paso, Texas, March 12.—(AP)—An attempt to smuggle arms and ammunition across the international border was frustrated late last night after a gun battle in which two American patrolmen were wounded.

August Steinburn and Francis A. Scott, members of the border patrol, were the men wounded. They were shot from ambush near Cordova Island as they started to investigate the presence of two letters on the American side of the boundary.

Approaching to within 40 yards of the two, the officers shouted and the answer was a fusillade of bullets from an other direction where a group lay concealed in a thicket. Both men fell wounded.

Reinforcements arrived under command of H. C. Horsley, head of the border patrol. A miniature battle followed in which many shots were fired. Thereafter, half a hundred men were seen to run to safety on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande. Horsley reported today.

Army Dirigible Suffers Mishap

Norfolk, Va., March 12.—(AP)—A forced landing on Chesapeake Bay after bumping off a tree near Bayshore Beach has convinced the crew of the Army Dirigible TC-10 that its participation in the inaugural parade at Washington last week is something to be remembered.

Suspecting that the blimp may not have come through the rain and wind of March 4 without injury, Lieutenant Colonel J. W. S. West, executive officer of the field, took it up yesterday for a test flight with Lieutenant Leslie Skinner and Sergeant Harry Balacks and J. J. Horan, of the nineteenth airship company.

Officers at the field and Mrs. West who was watching from a window of her home, saw it drop into the tree. Rescue boats and ambulances were immediately ordered to the scene. Then it swung free, and the crew stepped out.

The boats were held in readiness, however, when it was observed that the blimp's nose was "baggied in," indicating low gas pressure, and were started again a few minutes later when the ship settled on the Jay Fishing boats operating nearby, however, beat them to the help-less craft, and took off the crew, duff and unhurt.

Paris, March 12.—(AP)—Marshal Foch was better today after a slight flurry in his condition yesterday. His temperature was normal and his pulse count 90, a decrease which doctors attributed to weak heart action incident to age and long illness.

Blind Woman Dies Of Self-Inflicted Injuries at Chicago

Chicago, March 12.—(AP)—No more blindness, poverty and loneliness for Mrs. Matilda Dinger. The pistol her husband loaded and put away 35 years ago has seen to that.

The little old lady who lived in the alley cottage out on Larabee street had been a charity charge four years; ever since at the age of 78 she had to abandon nursing because her sight was gone. Since then the "Society" has paid the rent, the "Society" has sent the coal, and the "Society" has supplied her frugal fare.

There wasn't much for Mrs. Dinger to live for. Not much unless perhaps it was the weekly visit of Mrs. Elizabeth Helm who always brought what Mrs. Dinger liked—sausages. By careful limiting her daily portions, Mrs. Dinger managed to make the sausage last through the week.

Sausage isn't much of a table luxury. Still, if one is 82, blind, poor and alone; and if there is only beans and bread and meal for porridge—

It was the only thing that brought joy to the little alley shack. And after four years of blindness and loneliness, it was not enough to take Mrs. Dinger's mind off the dresser drawer, and the loaded weapon that lay there.

Mrs. Dinger took the weapon in her wrinkled hand. That was a week ago. Mrs. Helm called the same day with the sausage.

"I shot myself," Mrs. Dinger told her. "Death's too slow."

For a week she lay in a hospital. She asked the nurses not to help her. She did not want to live. She was blind, poor and alone.

Last night she died.

Burke Tenders His Resignation

Washington, March 12.—(AP)—Commissioner Charles N. Burke of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, has tendered his resignation and it was indicated today that it would be accepted by the President. The commissioner has been under continuous fire by members of Congress for some time during an investigation of the administration of Indian affairs.

Hoover Leaders In South To Distribute Patronage

Washington, March 12.—(AP)—Recognition of the leaders of the Hoover Democrats of the South in the matter of federal appointments in that section is likely to be adopted by President Hoover as a cardinal policy.

There are also indications that in the Eastern and Western states the regular organization leaders will be required to consult on appointments those who had charge of the Hoover pre-convention campaign in those cases where these men are not identified with the regular state party leadership.

While there has been no formal announcement of the methods that are to be pursued in selecting federal officers in the states South of the Mason and Dixon line, the general expectation is that this will be largely in the control of a committee, for each state on which the Hoover Democrats will have membership, although by no means a majority.

The committee plan of handling patronage is being tried out in New York state, where Edmund H. Macleod, State Chairman Charles D. Tilles, Republican National Committeeman, and William H. Hill, leader of the Independent Hoover-Pre-convention organization, are functioning. A number of appointments including three judgeships are to be made in New York state, but so far as is known the committee has not yet made any recommendations.

The patronage situation in the South already has given the President considerable concern and has been an indirect cause, at least, of the retirement of Horace A. Mann.

Boy With Hundred Sweethearts Hangs On Murder Charge

Liverpool, March 12.—(AP)—Joseph Reznald Victor Clarke, known as "the boy with a hundred sweethearts" was hanged this morning for the murder of Mrs. Alice Fontaine, the mother of one of his sweethearts.

Clarke kept his boast to his jailors that he would face death bravely and assisted them to the scaffold.

Clarke was 21 years old and well educated, having had a brilliant school career in England. He visited his mother in Virginia when he was 16, spending a year at Princeton University before returning to England.

He studied psychology and hypnosis, police said, and then began to entangle many women. In the case of Mrs. Fontaine he boarded with her rent free while he courted her daughter. He fleeced her of her life savings and the killed her.

Chicago Woman Marries Sister's Divorced Husband

Chicago, March 12.—(AP)—Miss Mary Meeker, daughter of Arthur Meeker, former Vice President of Armour and Co., was married yesterday to her older sister's divorced husband, Ambrose C. Cramer, 11.

The brief ceremony at Washington was in strong contrast with the elaborate and fashionable event of 1916 when Cramer and Grace Meeker were married with 12 years old Mary as their flower girl. Yesterday the two socially prominent Chicago families were again united but this time without any advance notice and before only a few witnesses.

The officiating clergyman, the Rev. James T. Marshall, said he had never seen any of the members of the wedding party before. Cramer and a friend asked him to perform the ceremony right away. Mr. Marshall said, and when he consented they went out to get the license. The bride's parents were the only others present.

The first news of the marriage was a brief announcement telegraphed to Chicago society editors by Mr. Meeker. Cramer and Mary Meeker had always been known as good friends since childhood and he had been a frequent guest at the Meeker home recently, but there had been no hint of an engagement.

Cramer and Grace Meeker were divorced two years ago and soon afterward she married Francis Vernon Lloyd, Philadelphia society man. Mrs. Cramer obtained the degree on a charge of desertion. Two children, born to Cramer and his first wife became through yesterday's marriage, step-children of their aunt.

PRES. HOOVER THINKS ABOUT FARM RELIEF

Chief Executive Turns Thoughts to Message For Special Session Of Congress.

Washington, March 12.—(AP)—With the special session still a month away, President Hoover is turning his thoughts toward the development of plans for dealing with farm relief in his message to Congress when it assembles in extraordinary session.

Already the President has given much thought to the problem and his views largely are being followed by the committees of the Senate and the House in planning hearings to work out the legislation. These will be opened several weeks before the special session starts.

Although Mr. Hoover is reserving the public revelation of his plans for his message to Congress, it is known that the committees are preparing to approach the task largely from the cooperative marketing scale.

In several of his speeches last summer in which he dealt with farm relief, Mr. Hoover stressed the part that he feels cooperative marketing must play in assuring the farmer a proper price for his product. Along with cooperative marketing, he placed tariff revision and the development of cheaper transportation to markets.

Many of the witnesses to be heard by the committees in planning the farm bill are expected to be persons who have had experience in dealing with the marketing of farm crops and the belief has been expressed that the measure that will come from the committee will largely hinge around the development of marketing facilities.

In the midst of his thought of farm relief, however, the President still finds time for innumerable conferences upon patronage, federal appointments, immigration, prohibition and the wide range of subjects that fit their way to the desk of the chief executive.

HOLD GIRL AS A WITNESS IN TWO MURDERS

Demaris Dore Confesses Witnessing Shooting of Walsh; She Knew Rothstein.

New York, March 12.—(AP)—A night club hostess, wise beyond her 18 years in the ways of Broadway gangsters, was under guard of a police matron today as an important witness in two slayings.

Demaris Dore, who was quoted as saying she had witnessed the shooting of Thomas (Fatty) Walsh in a Miami hotel last week, also told police she knew Arnold Rothstein, who was fatally shot in the Park Central Hotel here November 3.

Police Commissioner Whalen, who took personal charge of the examination of the girl when she was brought to police headquarters yesterday, was impressed by her story. "She is loaded with information," he said. "She has proved a mine of information about the Walsh case. She knew Rothstein and all his associates."

He said that for her own sake he could not reveal what she had learned from her, adding that her information coincided with what New York detectives had learned in Miami regarding the slaying of Walsh.

The girl told police she had been a frequenter of Lindy's Restaurant and a night club known as the Silver Slipper, where Rothstein and his pals hung out. It was at Lindy's that Rothstein received the telephone message calling him to the hotel room where he was shot.

George A. McManis, who police said engaged the room, is in the toms awaiting trial on an indictment charging murder in the first degree for the killing of Rothstein.

Mr. Whalen said the girl told of meeting many well known Broadway gamblers when she went to Miami several weeks ago, some of whom were being sought for questioning in the Rothstein case. She denied meeting Hymen Biller, who also is under indictment for the killing of Rothstein. Biller disappeared soon after the shooting and has evaded arrest.

Miss Dore, blonde and petite, entered police headquarters with cheerful men and self assured. Ten hours later she was near hysteria when detectives ended their questioning for the day and sent her to a hotel to spend the night accompanied by a police matron.

Mr. Whalen would not say whether she had told detectives of witnessing the shooting of Walsh. She had been quoted as saying Walsh was shot by one of his companions as the result of a sudden quarrel. She refused to identify the man who did the shooting.

Miami police are seeking Eddie Wilson, a gambler, in connection with the killing of Walsh. Arthur L. Clark, New York gambler, who was wounded in the arm when Walsh was shot, is being held in a Miami hospital as a material witness.

Head of Anti-Smith Faction in Virginia Visits Richmond

Richmond, Va., March 12.—(AP)—With a committee of prominent Republicans appointed to confer with the Anti-Smith Democrats on a united campaign in the Virginia state elections this year, interest was attached today to a visit to Richmond of Frank Lyon of McLean, chairman of a committee named by the Anti-Smith organization to make plans for an Anti-Smith convention.

Louis F. Powell of Richmond, a member of the convention committee from the third district, said that the visit of Mr. Lyon today was informal and that no meeting of the convention committee had been called. He added, however, that a few prominent Anti-Smith leaders had been invited to meet with Mr. Lyon for luncheon. The convention committee was empowered by its recent Lynchburg conference to call a state convention to nominate "if deemed proper" a ticket for election in November and to arrange for the time, place and basis of representation.

It was definitely announced last night that the Republican state organization would make an effort to bring about co-operation with the Anti-Smith wing of the Democratic party. R. H. Angell, Republican state chairman, C. Bascom Sloop, Colonel Henry W. Anderson, and Joseph L. Crupper, all well known Republicans, were named as a committee to negotiate with the Anti-Smith Democrats.

The Republican executive committee, meeting in Roanoke, called a meeting of the Republican state central committee to be held in that city on March 23. One of the purposes of the gathering as set forth by Chairman Angell is to work out an effective and efficient method of qualifying those who are in sympathy with us to vote in the fall election. All members of the executive committee were urged to lend their efforts in this direction.

An automobile club for youngsters above 80 has been organized by Gustav Hellermann, 91, st. Hagin, Germany. Twenty charter members joined.

"My Thirty Years at Sea"

by CAPTAIN GEORGE FRIED

The social obligations of a captain are many and varied and etiquette is closely followed. Fried encountered them immediately he came in command. What they are, how he met them, and his policy of an open cabin door to passengers, are subjects of this story.

By CAPT. GEORGE FRIED (Copyright 1929, Associated Press) CHAPTER XIV

Following the Siberian trips, the America was ordered to Newport News, where the Mount Vernon was tied up with some 5,000 troops aboard, which she had brought from Vladivostok eastward. She had engine trouble and the men were transferred to our vessel and once again we proceeded to Trieste. On the return voyage the America took some 2,400 passengers to New York, many of them being Italian immigrants.

The America was still fitted out as a transport but in that category had accommodations that were just as good as those offered to the immigrant before the war. What the men but they frequently confide in me that they would like to see what a real storm is like just for a few minutes.

A woman came to the bridge one day and asked me the usual introductory question, to which I had to explain that it was impossible to determine the weather several days in advance and that the time of arrival could not always be determined less than a few days out. She then requested that I go a little further north and pass an iceberg so her husband, who was on board, could see what one looked like. Of course, granting requests like these is quite impossible for our courses are the same across the Atlantic during various periods of the year and are changed because of the ice floes, primarily.

Passengers as a rule are never permitted on the bridge but the captain of the ship will permit them to stand on the wing for a brief period during favorable weather. The officers of the bridge cannot have anyone moving about to divert their attention, and what is more important, they cannot be contrast there is between those quarters of pre-war days and the ones the third class passenger enjoys today. In the old days there was no dining room. The immigrants sat in circles on the deck ten to a mess, around a katie in which some sort of a stew had been cooked. Each had a bit of utensils from which to eat. The refuse was thrown overboard and the passenger had to clean the utensils for the next meal. All the women were segregated in one compartment of the ship, separate from the male passengers, and each immigrant was given a donkey breakfast—an armful of hay for a bed. There were only crude sanitary facilities and social halls and smoke rooms were never dreamed of.

Today the third class passenger has a bed with clean linens, rooms with berths, dining room, smoking room and social hall, a library and baths.

After her career as a transport the America was taken over by the United States Shipping Board and allocated to an organization that failed after a short period of operation. In 1921 the United States Lines became the operating agents. We then had the nucleus of the America and in February, 1922, took command of my first passenger ship, the Peninsular State, which was afterwards renamed the President Roosevelt. I took her out of the Camden yards as a new ship and remained aboard as master for six years, during which time I had the good fortune to supervise the rescue of the crew of the British freighter Antiope in mid-ocean, a little more than three years ago.

In February of last year it again fell to my lot to return to the command of a passenger unit for the American Merchant Marine. For one year I served as a chief officer of the America but this time as captain, a promotion that thrilled me. For I regard the America as a fine large dignified command. She has the most luxurious captain's quarters I have ever seen on shipboard and is without question one of the finest cabin liners in the North Atlantic service. It was completely reconditioned just prior to the time I was reappointed to her.

Taking command of a passenger liner gave me an additional responsibility in a social way, to which I was unaccustomed. On a passenger vessel there are also more obligations. My cabin is always open day and night to any passenger. I want them all to feel they can come to me if the occasion arises. I have repeatedly found the traveler very considerate and only in rare instances does he come to me with a complaint. These are usually of a minor character and can be adjusted by department heads on shipboard.

The appearance of the captain on the decks or at his table in the dining saloon invariably starts a barrage of questions from the passengers. As soon as we pull in the lines I am asked, "What kind of weather will we have on the trip and when will we arrive?" Women passengers fear storms more than distracted by answering questions that are bound to be asked when a passenger sees some of the instruments on the bridge for the first time.

Extension Engineer To Assist Farmers Of Pitt Next Week

A. T. Hoiman, extension agricultural engineer, will conduct a terracing and drainage school in Pitt county Tuesday and Wednesday, March 19 and 20, according to information given out this morning by E. F. Arnold, director of the Pitt County Farm department.

The first school will be conducted on the 19th at the John T. Thorne farm, two and a half miles from Farmville, on the Snow Hill road. On the 20th, the school will be held on the farm of Marvin Taylor, near Grifton.

Mr. Arnold said any farmer who attends the meetings will have the opportunity to observe the laying out and building of farm terraces and plans for the laying of drainage tile. These desiring to do their own work will be given instructions in the use of instruments in laying out of terracing line and the drain tile lines.

Hope was expressed that all farmers who have terracing and drainage problems would be in attendance and learn the latest methods employed in handling these two important farm questions. The schools will be conducted from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

It was stated that this would be the last time Mr. Hoiman would be in Pitt county this year, owing to the enormous demand for his services in other sections.

PROSPERITY AND FIRE

According to a compilation by the New York Journal of Commerce, insure fire losses last year totaled $301,675,660, a minimum for the period from 1920 to 1928.

While these figures are commendable for the reduction shown, they are in no wise justifiable, the report says, "and represent an economic waste of national resources that constitutes a serious drain even upon a prodigal nation. The extent of this waste may be seen from the figures of the fire losses of the past 50 years, representing $10,261,472,405 in the aggregate as to property values destroyed."

In 1926 our total fire losses were the highest on record and it is noteworthy that they have been appreciably reduced during the last two years. There is, however, the cause for conceit as yet. It is only our tremendous prosperity that offsets so inexcusable a waste.

Over 80 per cent of all fires are attributable to carelessness. Various organizations are making intensive efforts to educate the people in fire prevention. And until the lessons are heeded, our fire loss must continue to be a serious blot on our record of prosperity and progress.

WHAT WE NEED IS SPECIALIST FARMERS

The sort of farmers North Carolina needs is specialist farmers, men who are proficient in some one of the multiplied diversities which agriculture offers.

That is the judgment of former Governor Morrison. He was outlining his ideas about the matter in an address last night to the agriculture class of the Sharon High School when he made this interesting and effective statement and elaborated thereupon.

The former Governor who has become a more practical student of agriculture and of economic affairs since he has had time to devote to such studies in these last few years, claims that the cotton and tobacco farmers of North Carolina are the greatest farmers of this class in the whole country. He said that the records proved it in showing that they make more per acre planted out of these crops than similar farmers anywhere else, but their trouble is in making any net profit because of the absence of diversities, failure to raise at home the stuff they need for man and beast.

Not all farmers can do the same sort of farming, he further declared. Some can't grow cotton no matter how much protective legislation they might be given from the State because they are not naturally fitted for cotton farming. The same with tobacco raising. Some men cannot raise hogs and others cannot raise beef and others cannot raise poultry, but, at the same time, there are some who can. The Governor's argument is that those who have an aptitude for specific branches of agricultural pursuit should abandon everything else in order to centralize on such a pursuit.

The former Governor is defensible in his theories about this matter. If there must be specialist-lawyers and specialist-merchants and specialist-doctors and the specialist-everything else, why is it not reasonable to assume that specialist-farmers have equally high and important place in our economic scheme of things.—Charlotte News.

ABOUT TOWN

"Yes, we hope to have a real ball club this season—one that every citizen in the city will be proud of."

So said G. V. Smith, president of the Greenville club of the Eastern Carolina league, in reply to a question as to ball prospects.

"Manager Lester Bangs will return to the city within the next few days and we will then get every thing lined up for the opening of training season the latter part of the month. Bangs has lots of good material signed up, and we are confident of putting out a team that will reflect great credit upon this community."

"The dental clinic being conducted in the various schools of the county is meeting with splendid success," a member of the department of health indicated today.

"The clinic opened several days ago and since that time numbers of school children have received attention. While the teeth of Pitt county children have been declared much above the average, there are numbers of children requiring attention during this campaign to improve oral hygiene conditions in the many schools."

"Dr. Branch did some splendid educational work in this respect during his recent lecture tour of the county and good results are expected to obtain."

"I am glad the Merchants Association is urging the enforcement of the one hour parking ordinance on the main streets of the city," remarked a citizen today, commenting on action of the association in urging the Aldermen to look into the matter.

"Numbers of motorists unwittingly take advantage of the law and unless it is enforced no relief may be hoped for in sections where traffic conditions are bad at the best."

"It would be an easy matter to issue courtesy cards to visiting motorists for their convenience while in the business district. Why not try out the plan and see if it doesn't work to the advantage of the entire community?"

"Contributions are not coming in as fast as they should for the County Home radio fund," said one of the business men promoting the raising of the fund.

"If you haven't contributed, why not do so at once and in that way do your part by carrying happiness to the drab, colorless lives of those who are spending their last days as county charges."

WANER BOYS HOLD OUT ON THE PIRATES

This is the eighth of a series of stories dealing with first hand surveys of 1929 Major League clubs.

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND
Associated Press Sport Writer

Paso Robles, Calif., March 12.—(AP)—The Waner brothers, Paul and Lloyd, are still on the absent list of the Pittsburgh Pirates who are mustering for the National League pennant drive behind a pitching staff that gives early season promise of being second to none in the circuit.

In the hustle and bustle of training camp preparations here the fact that the star outfielders continue firm in their holdout roles has been sidetracked for the more serious business of molding available material into championship calibre. Besides the general opinion here is that the two Waners will have settled their salary differences and be in uniform by the time the season starts.

Manager Donie Bush pins his hopes on his hurlers and expects the rest of the squad to rise to the occasion. The mound crops has been greatly strengthened by the addition of Jess Petty, veteran left hander acquired from Brooklyn in the deal for Glenn Wright, shortstop. Ray Kramer and Burleigh Grimes, right handers, are in top form. The triumvirate of Petty, Kramer and Grimes will bear the burden and should do until another comes along. Two other old timers, Carman Hill and Lee Meadows, the latter back from the voluntary retired list, are showing up well and may get into the running.

The rookie pitching field is unusually fertile and from it Bush looks for at least two youngsters to help the cause along. Steve Swetone, right hander, and Larry French, a southpaw have the inside positions. Swetone pitched Indianapolis onto the map last season and French did more than his bit for Portland of the Coast League. Ervin Brame, right hander, has a job because of his pitch hitting ability. Fred Fausell, left hander, and Walter Taucher, and Ralph Dawson, right handers, all holdovers, have not been counted out.

If the Waner boys pull the unexpected and remain out of base— the Pirate outfield will be headed by George Grantham, Fred Eckel and Adam Comorosky, the latter two youngsters but members of the squad in 1928. An outfield without the Waners is almost a calamity but Bush feels that the alternatives are not the worst in the game by any means.

Added to the uncertainty of the outer garden is an infield problem involving third base. Captain Pie Traynor has been shifted from third to short and at the latter position Bush believes he will be a star of the first water. Jim Stroner, a recruit who clouted out 42 home runs for Wichita in the Western league last year, is wanted for the third base station, but so far has been handicapped by a recent appendicitis operation. Sparky Adams has been holding down second base most of the time and third some of the time which Dick Bartell believes him at the keystone berth.

Harry Riconda also from Brooklyn in the Wright deal, is another making a strong bid for third. Earl Sheely, ten year veteran of the minors, is back after a season in the minors and bids to become as valuable as any man on the club. His work at first base is a delight to the bosses and his big bat should prove in several dozen timely runs.

The catching duties will be divided between Charley Hargreaves and Ralston Hemsley, with Claude Linton probably getting the call for the third string job.

No Basketball League Ahead

Lynchburg, Va., March 12.—(AP)—For the present at least, there will be no basketball league made up of the eight major colleges, members of the Southern conference of the Middle Atlantic area.

Plans for such a league, which were proposed some while ago were definitely abandoned at a conference of representatives of the colleges of the Middle Atlantic area here yesterday. Opposition developed from the University of North Carolina and Virginia Military Institute. Failure of Duke University to send a representative to the conference was taken as evidence of opposition on the part of that institution.

It was the position of both of the opposing schools that playing in the proposed league, in addition to regular schedules and in the Southern conference Tournament would keep players away from their studies too much.

Institutions represented at the meeting were: Washington and Lee, University of North Carolina, University of Virginia, Virginia Military Institute, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, University of Maryland and North Carolina State. The baseball schedule for the league composed of colleges of the eight Southern Conference members of the Middle Atlantic area, with the exception of Duke, will begin the first Tuesday in April and will include 40 games as adopted at the meeting here yesterday.

SOX PIN HOPES ON NEW STARS

With the old reliable Gib Falk missing there is a job open in the White Sox outfield. John Watwood, a Shreveport recruit, and Randy Moore are among those trying for the place at the Dallas spring camp. These and other youngsters, including Ed Walsh, jr., are depended upon to put new life in the outfit.

ROBINSON UP AGAINST BIG PROBLEM NOW

Clearwater, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—Wilbert Robinson, the "Jolly Robby" of Brooklyn baseball, finds it harder to display his beaming smile as the Robins established and preliminary to his training. Any frowns he may be concealing seem justified. His star pitcher is out of the camp, his captain and shortstop about whom he expects to build his team are suffering from a sore arm and he has some fielders who can't hit. The speed ball king of the National League, is looking for a busy season while he confines his attention to the business office instead of the ball field. The doctor thinks the club officials have undervalued his value by about $2,500 and wants his contract figures revised. Glenn Wright, a great shortstop for Pittsburgh pulled up with a lame arm in his first day of practice and is under treatment. Until the extent of the hurt is finally determined, manager Robinson's plans for the infield combination must remain uncertain.

Brooklyn lacks co-ordination in some of the players. If Vebly Gilbert could hit like either Herman or Harvey Hendrick he would be a third base sensation and if either of the club's star hitters could come up with the regular effort, Robinson would worry much less. "Too early," says the manager when asked if he had made a tentative arrangement of his infield and outfield combinations. The task may still be a trifle difficult much later.

Two positions seemed assigned. DiBismetto, who can't hit and field, will play first base and Herman will take care of right field. Hermona is no ball hawk, but he is the club's best hitter.

Jake Flowers was given a tentative advantage at second base in the pre-season calculations but Billy Ruel, who has had two trials with the club, has complicated the situation by his good playing in practice. Ruel appears certain to remain with the club as he is a versatile performer.

Wright in shape conceded the shortstop position without opposition but if his arm should be slow in coming around Dave Bancroft will have to step in. Tibbert is essential at third base and if he remains stand-point he will be moved from the outfield at least part of the time. Babe Bruesler will be an outfielder, at least part of the time. Max Rosenfield, of the University of Alabama, top football and baseball player, John Fredrick, a Memphis graduate, the much traveled Henry Cullop, and Hal Lee, a touring star, are also in the camp.

KING OF SWAT IN SHAPE FOR GREAT SEASON

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig are enjoying their usual health and the New York Yankees are ready to start another quest for baseball supremacy. It matters little in the world of champions that an untired third baseman will protect a corner of the infield, the throwing of the pivot man at second may lack snap and precision and two pitchers are trying to regain their misplaced cunning. Ruth and Gehrig are in good health and spirits. The Yankees believe that when longer hits are made, Babe and Lou will make them.

The athletes of Miller Huggins find their position as stellar figures a mixed blessing. Every man's hand in baseball is against them but as champions the burden of proof in eviction proceedings is on the opposition. Mark Keenig, who has been a shortstop during most of his baseball life, for the time being at least has succeeded Joe Dugan at third base, with shortstop falling to Lyn Lary, sensational Pacific Coast recruit. Lary promises to join the small class of players to live up to advance notices and big price tags. In his introduction to manager Huggins he has displayed fewer weaknesses than most youngsters breaking into fast company.

In the limited scope permitted by "Hug" Tony Lazzeri, who suffered from a lame arm last season, has thrown well enough although no occasion has appeared calling for him to "bear down" on his regular arm. Leo Duracher, a great infielder in any league and Gene Robertson, better as a hitter than a fielder, stand subject to call without notice. Lou Gehrig has a first base assistant in the person of the veteran Leon Barna. The Yankees, always well fortified in the outfield, have now an even greater surplus of talent which may prove embarrassing when the time comes to clear the decks to a working basis. Ruth, Combs and Muesel, of course, will get first call, and Durst and Paschal, able reserves, have been joined by Sam Byrd and Elias Funk, good enough to qualify as understudies. Outen the North Carolina State Collegian, can hit, but the Yankees will not be able to take advantage of his ability at this time.

The catching staff also presents a contest with Arnie Jansens, an Oklahoma City recruit, fighting energetically for a place. Bengough, Dekey and Grabowski are wearers of service stripes. Herb Pennock and Wiley Moore, pitching casualties of 1928, look all right and feel all right, but the extent to which their ailing arms have been rejuvenated can be told only under fire.

White Hoyt and George Pipgrass will take up just where they left off last year and Tom Zachary, a bulwark in the cleanup days of the campaign, seems to grow younger with the passing of the years. Ed Wells, a left hander, with an abundance of ammunition, who has been a major leaver before, has an excellent chance to be one again after a tour of duty in the Southern Association.

Herb Johnson, Fred Hamach and Myron Thomas are back again as is Al Sheely, who started with the Yankees and finished with St. Paul.

Too Many Dogs
Summersville, N. Y.—When David G. Wilson reached home the other night he found 35 dogs wagging their tails at him from sofas and cozy chairs. A coal man had left the cellar window open and the night was cold.

YANKS BEAR DOWN WITH BABE SETTING PACE

In center the big Bambino tries to scoot home ahead of an outfield throw at the Yankee training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla. Herb Pennock and White Hoyt are beginning to steam them up a bit down south. They want to be ready, for one or the other will be the opening game choice of Manager Huggins.

Fay Thomas the former Giant, is bidding for a place. If they start playing football the Californian can not be kept out. Of the younger candidates Roy Sherid, seems to have a slight advantage.

Ruth continues to pack the customers in, with or without tickets of admission. The practice of the Yankees is followed twice daily by great crowds with a definite suspicion that a majority come to see the big fellow with the little legs hit the ball.

Before Ruth deserted the golf course for the baseball field the attendance was rated no better than fair. It jumped overnight. To the baseball rail birds the Yankees are only a ball club but Babe Ruth is a hero.

Big Elephant
New York—Khartoum, the biggest elephant in captivity, has developed a sudden, dangerous disposition. There are extra steel bars on his cage at the Bronx Zoo. He inhabits one while a keeper cleans the other. He is 10 feet, 7 1/2 inches tall, two inches shorter than the late Jumbo. P. T. Barnum's favorite.

Clearwater, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—"Where are the hits of yesterday," is the war cry of Brooklyn's Robins now. The usual batting practice and practice games were on the card yesterday but the long blows of previous drills were mysteriously missing. An investigation revealed that the pitcher was throwing curves for the first time this year and the batters were biting hard.

Avon, Catalina Island, Calif., March 12.—(AP)—Cub pitchers have gone over the three inning route for the last time this season unless they are retired by base hits. Manager Joe McCarthy has advised that hereafter each hurler will be assigned five innings and that the "bearing down" season is at hand.

Washington, March 12.—(AP)—President Clark Griffith and "Sad Sam" Jones, veteran twirler, continued their haggling over monetary matters yesterday as the Washington Nationals went through their workout at Tampa, Fla., in preparation for today's game with the Boston Braves. Jones is not being permitted to don his uniform until he agrees to salary terms.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—"Goose" Goslin, big gun of the Washington outfield, has not signed yet, either, but he trotted out along with Joe Judge for the first strenuous work they have indulged in this year and both were in fine fettle after their baths at Hot Springs.

TRAINING CAMP NEWS BRIEFS

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—Rumors in the Yankees camp are that a catcher is to be added to the roster. Benny Bengough, the regular receiver, has been troubled with a shoulder malady and it was decided that the only cure was to have his tendons removed. If he shows signs of a quick recovery, it is probable that the Yankee can get along with the three other catchers on his list.

(AP)—Outfielder Frank McGowan today was listed as a holdout by Vice President McEvey of the St. Louis Browns. McEvey said the Browns had "gone the limit" with the cardener who came to the club last mid-season from Kansas City.

Avon Park, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—Cardinal rookies were given another chance yesterday only to succumb to the stick work of the Boston Braves, 8 to 5, in the club's fourth exhibition contest. It was the Braves first pre-season melee.

Fort Myers, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—The bush-riding athletics were back in baseball harness today, with a return game with the Cincinnati Reds on the afternoon program. All games were given a day off yesterday. Field manager Eddie Collins believing that a day of rest wouldn't do any harm after the equid had traveled 500 miles in motor buses to play games in St. Petersburg and Miami.

Winter Haven, Fla., March 12.—(AP)—The arrival of James Madison Holloway, another pitcher, today boosted the number of boxmen with the Phillies to 14. There are so many fillers in camp that Manager Shotton has ceased to wonder about Bob McGraw, veteran pitcher, whose signed contract has not been received.

Fannie Ward
Famous for Her Ever-Youthful Appearance.

"Reach for a Lucky and not for a sweet." That's been my policy ever since Luckies started—my way of retaining the figure I need to be known as the ever-youthful Fannie Ward. So I say to you women who want to cheat time as I have done, "Reach for a Lucky and not for a sweet."

THE modern common sense way—reach for a Lucky instead of a fattening sweet. Everyone is doing it—men keep healthy and fit, women retain a trim figure. Lucky Strike, the finest tobaccos, skilfully blended, then toasted to develop a flavor which is a delightful alternative for that craving for fattening sweets. Toasting frees Lucky Strike from impurities. 20,679 physicians recognize this when they say Luckies are less irritating than other cigarettes. That's why folks say: "It's good to smoke Luckies."

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in Cigarette smoking to the improvement in the process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This confirms in no uncertain terms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

Market Report

COTTON MARKET

New York, March 12.—(AP)—Cotton advanced steadily today at an advance of 3 to 12 points in response to relatively firm cables and renewed activity on Wall street and commission house buying.

A private report estimating consumption of cotton in this country for February at 584,000 bales compared with 572,875 last year, no doubt contributed to the advance, which carried May up to 21.32, and the new October contract to 20.51 or about 9 to 13 points above yesterday's closing quotations in the early trading.

Realizing was in sufficient volume to check the advance at these figures, but the market was steady at the end of the first half hour and within 5 or 6 points of the best.

Private cables reported trade calling with London and Bombay buying in Liverpool and said that more cotton cloth sales were reported for China.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 12.—(AP)—Wheat advanced abruptly today toward the last, influenced by scarcity of offerings and by increased purchases on the part of houses with connections southwest. High winds which threatened damage from soil blowing were reported at a number of points in domestic wheat territory.

ment by banks here of the large surplus of funds accumulated in preparation for the heavy mid-month disbursements and federal income tax payments. Time money ruled firm around 7 3/4 per cent with little money available below that figure.

Wall street generally expects an increase in the New York Federal Reserve Bank discount rate either this week, or next. It is reported that a loan interest had been built up in expectation of the higher rate, and that the rally today represented the driving in of over-extended "shorts" in some of the volatile issues.

Public utilities were in the forefront of the early afternoon rally. One block of 15,600 shares of Pacific Gas and Electric changed hands at 55 1/4 or 3/4, followed by an advance which wiped out the early loss. American Express jumped 8 1/2 points; American Railway Express 4 1/4 and Electric Power and Light, American & Foreign Power and Western Union sold 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 points higher.

Radio (new stock) which is now traded, in against the delivery of actual certificates, again changed hands in large volume, climbing 3 points. The old stock, which will disappear from the list a week from Friday, jumped 10 points.

Coppers moved forward under the leadership of Anaconda, Chile and Kennecott, all of which sold 3 to 4 points above last night's closing quotations. Russia Insurance soared nearly 9 points to a new high at 277 3/4 and Foundation Co. moved up 4 3/8 to a new top at 59 7/8. Allis Chalmers, National Cash Register, Union Carbide and A. M. Byers, sold 3 to 5 points higher.

There were a few soft spots. Case Threshing Machine broke 16 points to a new low for the year at 435 and Victor Talking Machine sold nearly 7 points lower.

White House Bed Not To Hoover's Liking

Washington, March 8.—(UP)—President Hoover does not like the bed he found in the White House. After a four-night trial of the Presidential bed, a part of the government's permanent White House equipment, Mr. Hoover today had his personal bed moved down from his S. Street home, and set up in his own room at the executive mansion.
