Mexican Battle Lines Draw Closer Around The City Of Torreon

Wide Circling Movement of General Calles Attempts to Cut Off Rebel Retreat Northward. Durango Expected to Offer Unusual Resistance.

Battle lines between federals and revolutionists around the strategic city of Torreon grew closer today as powerful rival armies were reported advancing on one another in an effort to come to grips.

The wide encircling movement of General Calles, federal commander-in-chief, to close in on Torreon and cut off the rebel retreat northward continued to develop steadily.

General Calles himself was within 20 miles of Durango. He hoped to capture it shortly and then to continue northward along the Mexican National Railway to Torreon.

Durango, however, may be a hard nut to crack as it is strong strategically and is reported guarded by 4,000 rebels.

Four other federal armies were also advancing on Torreon, three from the East and one from the South.

The government has expressed fear that the insurgent army will not stand and fight, but will flee northward in an effort to escape.

Advices from Juarez, on the contrary, said the rebels were reported on the march South from Torreon to meet the federal forces outside of the city.

At Naco, on the border, another battle was imminent between 1,200 federal and 1,000 insurgent. Ever since the return of Naco to the government fold, it has been a hot spot in the side of rebels for whom it was an important point, both for sending reinforcements southward and has as an avenue of escape to the American border in case of reverses.

While the rebels have been inactive for the past few days on the West Coast, General Manzo was again reported en route to take command of the insurgent forces near Mazatlan.

Many Americans are stranded in Torreon unable to obtain traveling papers because of the closing of banks. Others arriving at Juarez have been executed in Vera Cruz after court-martial.

Five high ranking rebel officers have been executed in Vera Cruz after court-martial.

Naco, Sonora, Mexico, March 15.—(AP)—American correspondents today were still awaiting the expected battle of Naco. To all appearances an encounter between General Olachea's 1,200 Indian federal fighters here, and General Fausto Topete, reported to be advancing upon the town from Nogales with 1,000 rebels, was imminent, but they have learned that "Manna" (tomorrow) is a slogan of Mexican military as well as civil life.

At Agua Prieta, to the East, General Yucupicio still held the town with about 500 Mayo and Yaqui Indians who at first were thought to be rebels, later became federals, and today apparently were of uncertain status as far as the revolution is concerned.

General Francisco Manzo was reported to be en route to Mazatlan to take charge of rebel troops near the city. Rebel headquarters at Nogales said a total of 2,000 men would figure in the attack upon Naco.

Nogales, Ariz., March 15.—(AP)—The reported advance upon Naco, Sonora, by border revolutionary forces was regarded here today as an effort to clear a path for the rebels from Torreon to the International line before the opposing armies clash in a crucial battle in the State of Coahuila.

Important developments were expected as the result of the sudden movement out of Nogales of most of the rebel soldiers.

About 500 men, commander by Gen. Fausto Topete, moved eastward yesterday lending weight to a statement by General Francisco Borquez that an attack would be made "any time soon" upon Naco, eight miles South of Bisbee, Ariz.

At the same time it was learned that General Francisco Manzo, second in command of the revolutionary army, had left Nogales. Borquez said he had gone South to take charge of rebel troops in Sinaloa who are preparing to storm the Coast City of Mazatlan.

That the movement of the rebels out of Nogales may be significant in another manner also was hinted on this side of the border. There were reports that a "material change" in the situation at Nogales was imminent. Federal sympathizers declared that Manzo's position in Nogales had been precarious.

STRIKE STILL CONTINUES AT RAYON MILLS

Textile Worker And Officials Still at Variance on Wage Question.

Elizabethtown, Tenn., March 15.—(AP)—Textile workers and officials of the American Glatstoff Corporation, Rayon Manufacturers today posited to end the strike that closed remained at wide variance in proposed to the huge plant Wednesday and the 2,000 men and women out of work.

The Tennessee State Federation of Labor threw its weight in support of the strikers following an ultimatum by Dr. Rrthur Methwurf, President of the Corporation that the plant would not be reopened on a union basis promising them a five-per cent wage increase last night. The strikers are asking wage increases ranging up to 30 per cent above the present scale.

Company officials however failed to reveal any change of attitude and insisted that any workers who returned to work would do so on the company condition that they were not affiliated with any union and at the present wage scale.

Sheriff J. M. Moreland, was charged with enforcement of an injunction secured by the company to restrain strikers from molesting the plant, following announcement of Captain Alexander Knox, National Guard officer, that troops were not needed.

S. C. Godfrey, Knoxville, organizer connected with the State Labor Federation told the workers last night they had the support of the State organization and that "funds would be provided if necessary" to aid them in their fight for recognition. The local Textile Union was formed at a Wednesday mass meeting that followed minor disorders and the closing of the plant.

Hughes Is Visitor To White House

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—Charles Evans Hughes, for many years an associate of the President Hoover in the Harding and Coolidge cabinets and more recently an active figure in his political campaign was an overnight guest of the executive at the White House.

Since the campaign, Mr. Hughes has come to be regarded as a close "unofficial adviser" of Hoover's administration, and it is assumed that his visit gave the President an opportunity to talk over with him several subjects which have occupied a considerable amount of his attention since his inauguration.

One of these problems, the study of Federal Law Enforcement and court procedure which Mr. Hoover emphasized in his campaign, was to do with a field in which Mr. Hughes has long been a prominent figure as jurist and lawyer.

This is a subject which is being given more and more attention by the President as he approaches the task of selecting his law enforcement commission. He has not yet offered a place on this commission to anyone, but is known to be casting about for individuals who will make his findings as authoritative and unbiased as possible.

Another problem on which Mr. Hoover is assumed to have sought the advice of Mr. Hughes is that of American adherence to the world court under the new "Root Hurst arrangement".

It was decided to ask that the parking ordinance on Dickinson avenue be extended to the Coast Line Depot. This would provide better traffic conditions in that section of town where congestion of Dickinson is almost intolerable during the fall and winter months.

Short talks were made by members of the police commission and the Association and each expressed his best effort in attempting to bring about a general improvement in the traffic situation in the main business district. It was the first time the situation has received such an airing since the two committees discussed it sometime ago, and such interest was evidenced by members of the police commission and Merchants Association alike.

The proposed extension of the white way from Washington street to the Coast Line depot is practically assured, it was divulged by members of the committee from the Association having this work in charge. A blue print covering the extension was presented. L. A. Stroud, chairman of the committee, stated that a majority of the property owners in this district had signed

NAME QUEENS TO EXPOSITION AT FARMILLE

Five Senior and Similar Number of Junior Queens to Represent Greenville.

The committee today announced selection of the queens to represent Greenville at the Eastern Carolina Exposition and Automobile Show to be held at Farmville during the week of April 28th. The list provided for five senior and a similar number of junior queens.

They are: Senior Queens: Misses Mary Lou White, Catherine Smith, Florence Taft, Maybelle Bamber and Virginia King.

Junior Queens: Alice Lee Blow, Mary Elizabeth Coppege, Jane Evans Rowlett, Elizabeth Gates and Jane Forbes.

The plucitude of the city is embraced in the selection of both the senior and junior queens. All of the seniors are popular members of the younger set, and the juniors take first rank among the juveniles.

Greenville will have more queens than any other town taking part in the contest. Farmville will have the next greatest number, being represented by three young women. All other towns participating will be allowed one queen each.

Two prizes of $50 each will be awarded the winners in the senior contest. One prize will go to the winner in Pitt county and the other to the other to the entire section outside the county.

The prizes of $25, $15, and $10 will be awarded to the three winners in the junior contest.

More than passing interest is centered around the contest this year and it will be one of the real highlights of the Exposition. Competition among the various towns embraced in the Exposition territory will be more pronounced than in years, and unusually heavy vote is expected to be recorded.

The Exposition this year will outclass all previous attractions of this kind, directors said today. The annual automobile show will be more extensive than ever, featuring numbers of popular cars sold in this section of the country. There will also be a number of free acts to take place during the day and night and there will not be a single dull moment for the thousands to throng the Exposition during the week the attraction is in progress.

Flood Menace Has Shifted To The Mississippi

Asheville, March 15.—(AP)—The promise of fair weather and retreating streams today banished the threat of floods that confronted Western North Carolina a day ago.

While numbers of the Mountain rivers still were out of their banks, reports from every section said they were dropping slowly. Slight damage was reported from the high waters. Fair weather and cooler was predicted for tomorrow.

ORGANIZE TO AID DRY LAW DEFENDANTS

New York, March 15.—(AP)—A group of lawyers has organized to aid Jones-law defendants.

Frederick R. Couderc, Jr., chairman, one of four former assistant United States Attorneys on the committee, explained its purpose as follows:

"It was felt that such a committee of lawyers might be helpful in aiding our jurists to perform their invaluable functions in preserving civil liberties.

"Since the sale of a glass of beer has been raised to the dignity of a felony, carrying penalties similar to those provided in this state for assault and manslaughter, it was thought wise to form a committee to assist those who have done nothing condemned by civilized society and who might be subject to such severe penalties.

"Aside from the law, the sale of intoxicants is not wrong. While it may be illegal it cannot be made wrong by statute, as it is neither condemned by moral sentiment nor inherently dangerous to others. To endeavor to penalize such an act by the infliction of penalties heretofore only applicable to the serious moral infractions brings the whole criminal law into contempt and handicaps its administration.

"We propose to right this measure with the same vigor as the New York bar displayed in the case of the enforcement act known as the fugitive slave law."

In addition to counsel the former assistant federal attorneys on the committee are: Frederick C. Belling, Harold A. Content, and Edward Lumbard. The other attorneys on the committee are former State Senator Courtland Nicoll, Odrian Larkin, Gordon Knox Bell, William De F. Manice, George W. Martin, Frank C. Fisher and Kenneth O'Brien.

The message was the first direct word from the guardsmen since they left their headquarters here. No casualties were reported.

Governor Graves said to one parties, composed of national guardsmen and citizens now are on the outskirts of Elba from both the north and from Enterprise, on the southeast.

A detachment of 200 guardsmen are moving toward Elba from Troy in motor lorries. They will proceed as far as possible in the trucks before taking to motor boats they carried with them from Montgomery.

Elba is 84 miles south of Montgomery and 32 miles southeast of Troy. All lines of communication are down south of Troy and east of Mobile.

A government plane dispatched from Maxwell Field for observation in the flooded area and to maintain radio communications with the national guard rescue base returned to Montgomery at 3:45 p. m., after coming into a dense fog bank at Troy. The plane piloted by Lieut. Charles S. Gravatt, with Sergeant R. F. L. Chate as observer, will return to the area if visibility clears.

A second plane dispatched to the flooded area, believed by Graves to still be flying blind in the fog. It is piloted by Lieut. John W. Persons, with Lieut. Byron A. Clow as observer. Graves said he could not see the ground from a low altitude.

A plane piloted by Lieut. M. Green took off from the field at 9 o'clock to assist in the rescue work. Officials at the field were attempting to establish communication with the plane piloted by Lieut. Persons which was reported flying in the fog in the vicinity of Troy.

Merchants Association To Put On Prize Contest For City School Children

Awards For Best Suggestion For "Bigger And Better" Greenville; Traffic Ordinance and White Way Extension Discussed By Directors.

Greenville school children are to be given an opportunity of winning cash prizes through a contest to be put on by the Greenville Merchants Association within the next few days, according to a decision of members of the board of directors of that organization in semi-monthly session here last night. The object of the contest is to provide suggestions for a "bigger and better" Greenville and pupils of all city schools are eligible to participate.

Rules and regulation for the contest will be made public within a few days. Several cash prizes will be awarded to the students presenting the best suggestions. The prizes will be awarded through a committee composed of members of the Association. While the plan had not been completely worked out last night, it was stated that all details would be completed and due publicity given the contest as soon as possible.

Discussion of recommendations to the parking ordinance covering the business district was also one of the outstanding features of last night's session. W. H. Bradsher, E. W. Harvey, and J. D. Rogers, members of the city police commission, were present and offered to assist in the plan to provide more complete enforcement of the hour parking law in the districts covered by the recommendations to be submitted at the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen by committees from the Merchants Association and the Ordinance committee of the Aldermen.

It was decided to ask that the parking ordinance on Dickinson avenue be extended to the Coast Line Depot. This would provide better traffic conditions in that section of town where congestion of Dickinson is almost intolerable during the fall and winter months.

CONNIE MACK IS ALL SET FOR PENNENT

Fort Myers, Fla., March 15.—(AP)—Connie Mack, active and cheerful in spite of nearly half a century in baseball, will attempt to win an American league pennant for Philadelphia with practically the same players who failed by a narrow margin last year.

Manager Mack will re-arrange his men to some extent but no new faces will appear in the regular lineup. Every indication, however, points to one new pitcher and if the young man about to be struck by the major league lightning has a curve ball. Athletic fans will see a great deal of him.

This promising recruit, Bill Breckenridge, late of Dartmouth, may be the only player who will have to be introduced at Shibe Park. The other youngsters who have a chance to stick, have been there before.

"Breck", as he is affectionately addressed by the other players, has not yet been called upon to show specifications for a curve ball but there is little doubt that he has everything else a pitcher needs. A husky lad, he whips his fact one through with easy control and for a young man short of his majority, he displays extraordinary coolness on the mound.

Assignment of the versatile Jimmy Foss of the extra Foxxes, to first base will cause a revision of the infield plans. Max Bishop, who have been renominated at second base without opposition but he show a disinclination to sign. He may get so far behind in training that he will not be able to catch up. In such an event Jimmy Dykes, who plays anywhere he finds himself, will play second with Joe Boley at short and Sammy Hale at third. If Bishop gets in at second, Dykes still may get a chance at a regular job, by forcing Hale from their base to a utility status. Joe Hassler and Eddie Collins again will stand by for infield emergencies. Nick Borelli, the mulhengen athlete, needs more experience.

The outfield of last season's close has been brought over intact with Albert Simmons, George Haas, and Bing Miller in undisputed possession of the field. Homer Summa, former Cleveland outfielder, will be a reserve assisted by Ossi Orwell, who was a pitcher last year and first baseman this spring. Redman Hume, Southern Methodist University football player and John Scott, Mercer University product and protégé of the Fort Myers Kiwanis club, are not yet ready.

Mickey Cochrane, the most valuable player in the American league by official verdict, will do the bulk of catching but Cy Perkins is available at first aid.

Est. Grove George Walberg, Howard Emske, John Quinn, Eddie Rommel and George Barnshaw will be the chief dependence in the pitching department with Breckenridge, Stewart Bolen, Carroll Yerkes and Bill Shorer available for relief roles. If Breckenridge's curve passes all the tests may become a starter.

John Pius Quinn, who will be 44 years of age the day after the fourth

TRAINING CAMP NEWS BRIEFS

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—If comparisons mean anything, the fourth place Washington Nationals of last year are headed for higher things in the American league.

Three straight victories have been chalked up in the Grape Fruit league including one yesterday against the National league champion Cardinals, whereas at this period last season the Nats had lost their first two starts and had got no better than a draw in their third contest with the lowly Boston Braves.

Yesterday "Sad Sam" Jones signed his contract.

Bradenton, Fla., March 15.—(AP)—The Red Sox may have a short-stop find. Rookie Bill Narlesky yesterday demonstrated against the Cincinnati Reds that he would have to be given serious consideration for a regular infield job.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 15.—(AP)—Coach Johnny Evers of the Braves, was cheerful today for the first time this week. After days of listless playing marked by sloppy fielding and weak hitting the Braves yesterday beat the Kanks.

New Orleans, March 15.—(AP)—Rain was the refrain at the Cleveland Indians camp today.

The weather has begun to worry Manager Roger Peckinpaugh there was little practice yesterday or the day before and Heinaman field today was soaked. The Indians are to play the New Orleans Pelicans tomorrow.

Los Angeles, March 15.—(AP)—Charlie Root, ace of all Cub pitchers in 1927 and one of the big disappointments in 1928, was to receive his first real test of the season today.

Manager Joe McCarthy announced he would use Root against the Los Angeles club in the opening game of their 28 game schedule, beginning here today.

Avon Park, Fla., March 15.—(AP)—Rilly Southworth's St. Louis Cardinals were soundly trounced at their home training party yesterday when Walter Johnson's Washington Senators put a 12 to 9 mark on them.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 15.—(AP)—The same infield Manager Dan Howley expects to open the season for the St. Louis Browns will get the call for the initial exhibition struggle tomorrow. It will be Lu Blue at first; O'Rourke, second; Kress at short and Grimes at third.

Paso Robles, Calif., March 15.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates have a Toboggan ready for a descent to the bushes. Three pitchers, a like number of in and out fielders and a catcher are to get a ride.

DEACON JOLIFF RELEASED TO ALABAMA; MANY NEW PLAYERS TO COME HERE

"Deacon" Joliff, iron man pitching ace of the Greenville baseball club of the Eastern Carolina League has been released to Selma, Alabama, according to announcement made today by Guy Smith, president of the local club. Joliff, who has been employed on the local tobacco market since the closing of the season last year, will leave for Alabama tomorrow to begin training.

Joliff was the first manager of the Greenville ball club. After he was deprived of the club leadership in favor of Tommy Abbott, the veteran moundsman rendered brilliant service on the firing line for the locals during the closing days of the season. There were two or three times when he was called upon to pitch several games in succession, and he always came across with the goods.

Lester Bangs, new manager of the club for this season, will arrive in Greenville tomorrow to begin final arrangements for training season which opens Monday week. Bangs for the past several years has played for different clubs of the Virginia League. He has had considerable experience in the managing of club players and is expected to put out a "winning club."

President Smith said this morning that prospects for the season indicated that there would be much excellent material here for the work-outs. Virtually all of the men who received contracts had seen previous experience in league baseball and the task of selecting the regular team will not be so difficult, it was believed.

A telegram has just been received from Crosjean, who finished last season at Greenville shortstop, was to the effect that he would arrive here Sunday, March 24th, and would report for training the following Monday morning.

Nine pitchers are included among the contracts that have so far been returned to the club management. Most of the hurlers are new to Greenville fans, and are expected to furnish keen competition for berths when training season actually gets under way.

President Smith said that aside from moving back the outfield fence they had reconditioned the grandstands at the ball park at the fair grounds and would have everything in readiness when the umpire shouts "play ball." He is optimistic over the outlook ahead of the Greenville club and firmly believes they will take the lead of the win column.

of July, is one of baseball's most interesting stars. John in his later years is developing more speed. He is still somewhat short of Grove's sensational fast ball, but the old man seems to be noticeably faster than he was a few seasons ago. He also has one of the few surviving spitballs in the game. The senior pitcher of the two major leagues in 1928 compiled a pitching percentage of more than .700 and had an earned run average of less than three runs to the game, so with speed this year he should do worse.

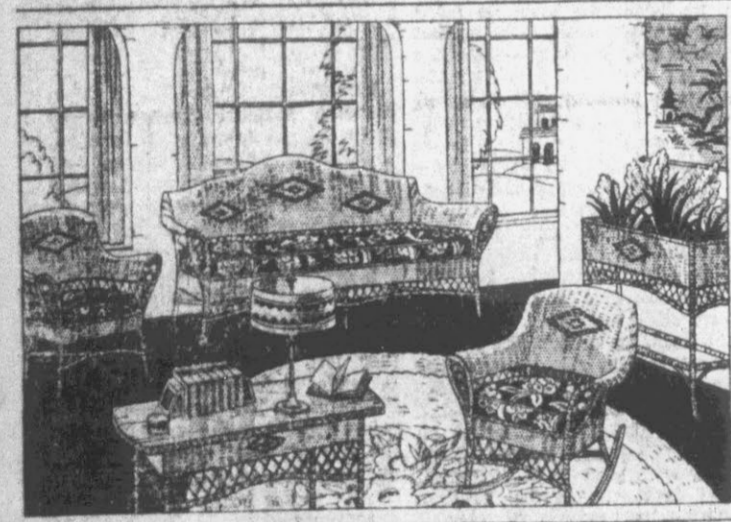

Earnshaw prepared carefully for the new campaign preceding the training camp work with bats and exercises at Hot Springs, Ark., and Manager Mack expects consistent work from the former Oriole. The other pitchers have rounded into shape without suffering injuries.

The Athletics have plenty of confidence and hope to do better than they did last year. One department in which improvement is expected is that of double plays. If the runner-up had been more adept at getting two at once, they might have won the American league championship.

Seagrave Will Take Part In Speedboat Race

Daytona Beach, Fla., March 15.—(AP)—Major H. O. D. Seagrave who earlier this week set a new world's automobile speed record of 231 miles an hour, today set out for added laurels. He expected to leave here early this morning for Miami where he will compete with Gar Wood for the title of "World Motor Boat King," in speed contests to be conducted in Biscayne Bay.

The Wood record, established in his "Miss America II" at more than 92 miles an hour, has never been exceeded. Major Seagrave has built the "Miss England" which he expects to beat Wood at Miami.

Meanwhile the tragedy which cost the lives of two men, and had a definite bearing on Major Seagrave's retirement from automobile racing, still lingered here today.

The body of Lee Bible, killed when he tried to break Seagrave's record in J. M. White's Triplex on the beach here Wednesday, was being sent today to his old home in Tennessee for burial. The body of Charles Traub, cameraman struck by the flying Triplex when it went out of control, likewise was to be sent to his home in Indianapolis today.

NOTED VIOLINIST TO APPEAR AT COLLEGE

One week from this evening, Ludlow, the wizard of the bow, will give his violin recital at East Carolina Teachers College. He will use his famous de Rougemont "Strad," which was made by the master-artisan of Cremona in 1703. When Ludlow began his search for a suitable violin he found the instrument had been in the de Rougemont family for about a century. Only bits of its history in the eighteenth century have been pieced out. There is a record of its having been played in Berlin once, but it must have been idle much of the time. It was played before the French emperor at Versailles the first of the nineteenth century.

When Ludlow bought it, the head and other tone-producing parts and even the rich, colorful varnish for which the artisan was famous, were intact. The neck, tail-piece, and finger-board, what might be called the external parts, were replaced to meet present-day requirements, but the parts that produce the music are the same they were 126 years ago. When it was made in Cremona, Radio fans will perhaps be thrilled over seeing the magic instrument whose tones they love.

Flood Menace Disappears In West Carolina

Chicago, March 15.—(AP)—The flood menace had shifted today from its northern tributaries to the Mississippi River itself.

Most of the lesser streams were getting back to normal after a three days' rampage, but reports of water seeping through levees and a threatened break had spread consternation among some of those living near the Mississippi.

Many communities in Nebraska, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois were still suffering today from the effects of the spring freshets of the last few days, but unless rains set in, the tributaries were not expected to cause much further trouble.

The Mississippi, on the other hand, was threatening to break through a levee on the Illinois side, north of Burlington, Iowa. Inhabitants of Gulpport, a village of 900, have moved to higher ground while large crews attempted to reinforce the levee.

Fate of Two Men Will Go To Jury During Afternoon

Greensboro, March 15.—(AP)—The fate of Benny Wallace and Walter Stevens, on trial in superior court here charged with murder in connection with the death of Hubert Herring, was expected to be placed in the hands of a Guilford jury this afternoon.

A Stacey Gifford, defense counsel, finished his argument to the jury this morning and Solicitor J. Frank Spruill, of Lexington, started the closing argument for the state. Upon conclusion of the charge by Judge Walter E. Moore of Sylvia, the jury will start its deliberations.

Testimony was concluded yesterday afternoon. One state witness testified on the stand that Wallace and Stevens were seen at a filling station in North Carolina, near here, the night of December 29th, on which Herring was shot to death and a defense witness declared that the two men rode with him between Greenville and Anderson, S. C., the same night. The case has aroused considerable interest here.

Herring was killed while standing on the running board of an automobile which had shorted before being in collision with the one in which he had been riding. He was said to have been demanding damages.

Youngster Lost In Nebraska Snow

Gordon, Neb., March 15.—(AP)—The snow swept sand hills hold that fate of little Melvin Reeves. The 60-hour search for the boy, unable to push the snow drifts which covered on his father's ranch, ended last night. Mr. and Mrs. William Reeves, the child's parents, were near collapse as they called off the search. When the snow melts, another posse will seek the boy's body.

The army of searchers, including 200 Indians from the Pine Ridge Reservation and Kyke, S. D., found themselves snowbound early today, unable to push the snow drifts which in many places were eight feet deep.

Melvin, six year old, and his brother Dwight, 2 years older, went to the pasture Tuesday morning hunting a lost Mitten. The last Dwight saw of his brother was when the smaller boy chased his hoop down a Canyon.

Dwight reached home, and his father soon grew alarmed over Melvin's continued absence. It had begun misting, and the mist was turning to snow as the father telephoned neighbors to help him seek the child. Before the searching party could arrive a blinding snow storm raged.

Taft Confesses Error.

Walden, N. Y.—Chief Justice Taft has confessed error in a letter to Helen Terwilliger, 13, who on the radio heard him administer the oath of office to Mr. Hoover. The words prescribed by the constitution are "Preserve, protect and defend." Mr. Taft wrote that he said "Preserve, maintain and protect," and added: "You may attribute no variation to the defect of an old man's memory." In view of the radio, the incident, he thinks, "shows how much more carefully one who is exercising a public duty must now conduct himself."

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

SHOULD BE TREATED ALIKE

The Finance Committee has almost literally "sweat blood" in trying to levy taxes to meet the needs of the State for the next two years. They were not free from mistakes, but when the time came to provide additional funds for the Equalization Fund, they turned to the Tax Commission report for information. It was chock full of information, but it had one concrete recommendation which opened the way. It pointed out that "power companies are rather lightly taxed as compared with railroads, telephone companies and certain other kind of property." The report said that ratio of taxes to income of steam railroads was 25.2; telephone companies, 24.4; electric light and power companies, 16.3. It also said of the electric light and power companies: "Their earnings for 1927 represented a return of 13.7 per cent on the assessed value of their property," whereas "the corresponding rate of return from the steam railroads was 7 per cent." It is interesting to observe from the Tax Commission's report the business property ratio of taxes to income is 28.6; residence property, 34.5; and farm property, 28.9. By what process of reasoning should residence property be taxed at a ratio of 34.5 and power and light companies at a ratio of 16.3? The public service corporations are authorized to fix a price on consumers to guarantee good earnings. Neither farms nor business houses have any such guarantee.

And yet, though the tax in the new taxing measure is less than the Tax Commission recommended, "the equality of tax burdens as between different corporations through the franchise tax," it is said that there is a differentiation between power companies and railroads. The Tax Commission did not think so. Both have the right of eminent domain, both are regulated in their charges, and it is difficult to see by what process of reasoning the tax should be lower for one than the other. The power companies are linked up with other companies more intimately than the railroads. Both have done much to develop the State, the railroads in the early days, the power companies later also stimulating industry. Both pay ad valorem tax on physical property, the railroads paying very much more than the power companies. The railroads give employment to stores at good wages to one employed by the power companies. The Legislature reduced the ad valorem tax on both in the same proportion the tax was reduced on lands. It was the clear duty of the Legislature to give to these two biggest public service corporations—railroads and light and power—equality of assessments. The House members one day wisely increased the tax and the next day reversed themselves—News and Observer.

ABOUT TOWN

"Congratulations to the Greenville Rotary club upon enlargement of the beautiful club building on Rotary avenue," said a citizen today. "The Rotas are always doing something to attract attention of the public and the addition to their home, the only Rotary-owned building in the world, is destined to bring them into the limelight more than ever."

"Greenville has received considerable publicity through the outstanding activities of this club, and it looks like we are to receive even greater recognition through the expansion program now under foot. "Such organization are a power for good in the communities they serve, and the Greenville club is no exception in this respect."

"The champion pig raiser of Pitt county hails from Belvoir township," reminded a prominent planter today, speaking of the activities of club members in this county. "His name is Forest Parker and he has the distinction of increasing the weight of hogs from 72 pounds to 288 pounds in a period of 96 days. Other pig club members have been recognized for what they done in this direction, but the work of the Belvoir lad is outstanding because he was able to add more weight to his pigs than the others."

"These prize-winning pig raisers are in Richmond, Va., today looking over the sights of that city and seeing something of the life around the stockyards. They are also helping in the disposition of a carload of Pitt county hogs on the Richmond market. It is a trip they will not soon forget. The two local banks that offered the trips to increase interest in hog raising are to be commended. They have proved a spirit of competition among the boys which no doubt will be instrumental in bringing thousands of extra dollars to Pitt county in years to come."

"Greenville people want to congratulate that Belvoir youngster for his achievement. He has set a record, which, it is hoped, others will attempt to better during the next year."

"Colonel Fred Olds treated us just like home-folk," said a parent who accompanied the Model school seventh grade students to the capital city Wednesday. "Colonel Olds is probably one of the best known citizens in North Carolina. He is genial and good-natured, always ready to talk about the achievements and possibilities of the great state where he has spent the greater part of his life. "He knows North Carolina as probably no other man does, and when he starts talking the listener may be sure of hearing something far above the average in the way of entertainment. It was this fact that caused Colonel Olds to prove so entertaining to the school children from this city. He talked to them and in doing so imparted information about the Old North State that not many of them had heard before. "Other trips may take place in the years to come, but the seventh grades of the Model school will not soon forget their first education trip to the capital of the commonwealth of North Carolina."

"That radio for the County Home should have been paid in 30 days," confidently asserted a business man today. "As it is, subscriptions have been rolling in slowly for over a period of several days and the total sum isn't raised yet. However, we are not far away from the mark. By Saturday night maybe the equipment will be installed, enabling the County Home inmates to receive sermons from distant cities. "If you haven't given anything to this cause, loosen up the strings of your wallet and do so immediately. Help make the county dependents happy; help drive away the care and worry that has crowded the lives of our unfortunates."

DENY REPORTS OF EFFECT OF NEW DRY LAW

Treasury Department Says No Cases Under Jones Law Have Reached Determination.

Washington, March 14—(AP)—Many reports have reached the ears of prohibition enforcement officials that bootleggers were scurrying to cover since the enactment of the Jones bill to increase penalties for dry law violations but there is no official confirmation of such stories at the treasury department.

Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of prohibition, and Dr. James M. Doonan, commissioner of prohibition, said that no cases brought under the Jones law had reached a determination, and it was impossible to judge the effects of the legislation at this early date. Lowman believed that most of the reports reaching the department concerning bootleggers quitting business were untrue.

Since the day the Jones law was signed by President Coolidge reports have come from various sections of the country that bootleggers were abandoning their illicit trade. Invariably these stories have said that the big operators among the violators were taking this action rather than face a penalty of five years in prison and a maximum fine of $10,000. The penalty, however may be set by the judge hearing a case and may be no more than under the present law if the court so rules.

Coincident with the report that bootleggers were becoming frightened it was related that the price of liquor was being doubled or tripled because of the added risks involved. These types of reports caused officials to smile, and they expressed the belief that the bootleggers were using a pretense to obtain from their customers a great deal more than the poor quality of liquor sold in this country was worth. Especially did this apply to the bootlegger who sold liquor by the drink, or pint or quart, for it long has been the policy of the prohibition bureau to devote its attention to the large operators among the violators and to strike at the source of supply rather than to pile up innumerable cases against small peddlers who are only disturbing agents for the big law violators.

Lowman said that while there had been a few arrests under the Jones law throughout the country, no cause as to its effectiveness could be set until some of the cases had been tried. He pointed out that under the law it was necessary for a federal grand jury to return indictment against persons charged with prohibition law violations and to give them a trial in the federal courts, already 21,000 cases behind on prohibition.

"My Thirty Years at Sea"

by CAPTAIN GEORGE FRIED

Radio has played an important role in Fried's rescue of 27 men in sea disasters so he naturally considers wireless one of a sailor's greatest assets. He forces regularly ocean flying boats largely because of the reliability of radio direction finders and tells how the modern traveler is kept advised of current events through the air.

By CAPT. GEORGE FRIED (Copyright 1929, Associated Press) CHAPTER XVII

Having had two experiences in rescuing 57 men from foundering ships in mid-Atlantic during severe storms and using the radio day after day while at sea for the navigation of my ship and communication

"The radio compass indicated he was 50 miles off the given position."

ing with the outside world. I naturally would consider wireless one of the sailor's greatest assets. It is the same medium that provides entertainment for you in your home almost any hour of the day, that is employed to safeguard the lives of millions at sea at all times during storms and fog.

Radio as a science is still in its infancy, but considering how it has been developed it is beyond human comprehension what we can expect. Without the aid of the radio compass it would have been impossible for me to locate either the British freighter Antiope or the Italian freighter Florida. I do not believe it is very far off when radio beacons will be established at various points so that a vessel in any kind of weather will be able to get her exact position, thereby preventing the possibility of a collision in a fog with another ship.

Several airplanes have already successfully negotiated the Atlantic. Aviation is also making rapid strides and some day it will not be uncommon to have a regular trans-Atlantic air service. These planes, carrying radio equipment, will find these radio beacons established for ships of great value in their navigation. But a good deal of study must yet be given to upper air currents before trans-Atlantic aviation will reach a degree of safety.

I think that airplanes will prove more practical in use across the ocean than dirigibles, because the former are faster and when sufficiently developed, will probably suffer less in a storm than a zeppelin. Storms will always be a hazard.

At the present time stations send out radio beams along the American coast day and night. Vessels with radio compasses can pick up these stations and accurately obtain their fixed position by plotting on a chart the direction of the beams. The position of the vessel on the chart is at the intersection of two or more of those lines.

When I went to the assistance of the Antiope, the master gave me his position at the time he sent the SOS. As I proceeded to that spot, I found that he had drifted. The radio compass on the President Roosevelt indicated that he was 50 miles away from the given position, so I changed my course and found him. The Florida was also off her position, being 150 miles away.

Rarely ever do I make a voyage that I do not use the radio compass in the ease and practical navigation of the ship. When trans-Atlantic liners run on a regular schedule with the promptness of ard, just as they are now. Nature's elements have wrought havoc with the staunchest of ships and probably always will, so that only planes of sturdy construction will be in use. There are many other factors to be considered, however, and the day of a regular trans-Atlantic plane service, even as a supplementary steamship service, is still some distance away, in my opinion.

A steamship at sea is a small world in itself. In the old days vessels crossed the ocean and the officers, crew and passengers never had a word from the outside world. It was only when they reached port that they knew what was in the news. Today, radio brings crew and passengers into communication with their relatives and friends during any part of the voyage in any part of the world. News dispatches are received every night. On the larger passenger liners these news items are printed in the daily paper, which is at the breakfast tables. Stock quotations of the chief issues dealing in on the New York Stock Exchange also are quoted. On some voyages we carry bankers, brokers and traders. They can ask for a quotation on a stock and in a few minutes the answer is received and within another few minutes, if they feel so inclined, an order to buy or sell can be put through.

Sherwood Magee, Umpire, is Dead At Philadelphia

Philadelphia, March 14.—(AP)—The death of Sherwood Magee, an umpire in the National league and for many years a big league player, marks the passing of one of baseball's most colorful figures.

He was stricken with pneumonia at his home a week ago. Death occurred last night. He was 44 and is survived by Mrs. Magee and three children. The funeral will be held Saturday.

Baseball fans of twenty years ago will recall Sherry Magee, then an outfielder with the Phillies, as one of the greatest natural batsmen in the game. He led the National league in batting in 1910, with an average of .331.

Magee was a part master in judging fly balls a fine base runner and full of so-called "inside baseball," for which the big leagues were noted in that period. The season of 1910 was his biggest batting year, but in 1911 he finished second in batting and in 1914 was third. He led the circuit that year in driving runs across the plate with a total of 101 and also topped the league in extra base hits.

Magee came to the Phillies in 1904 and was captain of the club in 1913. He became dissatisfied the next year when Pat Moran was named manager to succeed Charley Dooin, feeling that he was entitled to the post. The next year both the New York Giants and the Baltimore Federals sought his services, but at Magee's own request he was traded to the world's champion Braves for Dugley, Whitted and a cash consideration. He played two years with the Braves and after that was with Cincinnati for two years.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, March 15.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 4 to 15 points in response to relatively firm Liverpool cables and reports of further rains in the south. May contracts sold up to 21.30 or within 14 points of the recent level while the new October contract advanced to 20.63.

These prices seemed to meet the view of rather active realization of liquidation under which prices reacted several points, but offerings were well enough taken by covering and trade buying or reselling to speculative account to give the market a steady undertone.

Active months were holding about 9 to 10 points above yesterday's closing quotation at the end of the first half hour.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, March 15.—(AP)—First annual crop reports regarding domestic winter wheat, especially in the southwest together with outlook for upturns in Liverpool quotations brought about sharp price here today for wheat. Shortfall of wheat shipment from Argentina was given as the main reason for upturns in price at Liverpool.

Radio shares were again the feature of the market. The old side which disappears from the list week from today and has never had a dividend, continued to make its way by soaring 14 points to a new high at 515. The new stock of the company rose 3 points to 103 1/4.

Steel shares were heavily influenced by reports that mills were operating at practically capacity and by announcement of several new projects, including the construction of a high-arch bridge in New York which will require large quantities of steel.

Youngstown Sheet & Tube soared 7 1/2 points to a new high of 119 1/2 and U. S. Steel common moved up nearly 3 points to 190 3/4.

Reynolds assumed the leadership of the copper group by advancing nearly 4 points to a new high at 101 7/8. Miscellaneous mail order and chain store shares were heavily bought. Safeway Stores jumped 4 points and Montgomery Ward 5 1/4 points. International Telephone fell about 4 points, on the traditional "split on the good news" following the announcement of a 3 for 1 stock split.

Lindbergh To Map Air Route Across Country

Brownsville, Tex., March 15.—(AP)—His three-weeks visit at Mexico City with his fiancée, Miss Anne Morrow Lindbergh, ended, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today turned to his task of mapping an air route across the continent for his company Transcontinental Air Transport.

The Lone Eagle who piloted a regular air mail plane to Brownsville from the Mexican capital yesterday, over the route he opened last Saturday, planned to take off this morning in his own ship for a destination he declined to announce.

It was presumed however, that he would go to New York and then dispose of matters awaiting his attention in connection with the transcontinental air route.

Four Mexican government aviators were among the group of passengers who made the trip from Mexico City with the colonel. They came to the border to accept delivery of four planes purchased in Troy, Ohio, by the Mexican government for use in fighting the rebels.

Hoover Has No Intention Of Attempting to Dictate Terms For Farm Relief

Washington, March 15.—(AP)—President Hoover has no intention of undertaking to dictate either the terms or the name of the farm relief bill to be considered at the special session of Congress—a measure which he expects will form the basis for a solution of the agricultural problem.

While he will outline his views on the subject in his message at the opening of the extraordinary session April 15, he looks to the House and Senate agriculture committees to work out a constructive measure from the various proposals which have been or will be submitted for their consideration.

Meanwhile, he will hold himself in readiness to consult with members of the committee at any time they may desire his opinion or advice. He already has talked about farm relief with a number of the congressional leaders and frequent visitors by members of the agriculture committee to the White House during the formative stages of the legislation are expected.

The chief executive's plan of relationship with Congress on farm relief is an indication of the course he will follow on other legislation. He holds to the constitutional obligation for three separate and distinct branches of the Federal government and consequently feels that the administrative branch should refrain from undertaking to influence the legislative branch unduly in the performance of its functions.

There has been conjecture of late as to what name the new farm measure should bear with the suggestion made in some quarters that an unfortunate psychological effect

MANY SECTIONS OF COUNTY IN GRIP OF FLOOD WATERS; ALABAMA IS HARDEST HIT

Graves announced the completion of a single telephone line from the flooded area to the rescue base. The operator said they were attempting to confirm reports that a guard unit from Enterprise had succeeded in entering the city of Elba. He said a report was current at the base that refugees were being removed from the flooded city by the scores.

Lieut. John W. Persons telephoned Maxwell Field shortly before noon that his plane had been forced down by engine trouble two miles west of Marion Junction. Persons said he lost his bearings in a fog bank over Troy and flew far off his course to reach Marion Junction where he descended without mishap. A repair plane was immediately dispatched to his assistance.

The McNary bill, which was introduced at the last session of Congress and failed of action after both President Coolidge and Mr. Hoover had refrained from urging its passage, probably will form the basis at least for first consideration of the whole question by the Senate committee.

This measure has been described as the original McNary-Haugen bill with the controversial equalization for a revolving fund of $250,000,000 for use in controlling the exportable surplus of the major crops and also for the creation of a farm boards and stabilization corporations.

During his campaign, Mr. Hoover outlined a program calling for the creation of a farm board and farmer-owned corporations to see to orderly marketing processes and the protection of the producers from seasonal plights and to care for the surplus of their crops.

A number of plans already are before the House committee, which soon is to begin hearings on the whole subject at which additional ideas to effectuate relief are expected to be presented. The present hope of the committee is to have a measure ready for the House by April 20, at the latest.

Reaches New High Level.

New York, March 15.—(AP)—Heavy profit taking checked a wild bullish demonstration on the New York Stock Exchange today, which lifted nearly a score of issues to new high levels in a turnover of about 2,600,000 shares in the first two hours of trading.

The "Bull" movement was in response to the retention of a five per cent rediscount rate by the New York Federal Reserve bank, and a drop of $20,000,000 in brokers' loans, but as traders decided the market was by no means yet out of the woods so far as the credit situation was concerned, they were quick to take profits at the higher levels. Call money again renewed at 7 per cent, but time money was conspicuously scarcer, with little available under 8 per cent.

Girl's Testimony Will Clear Up Murder Case

Rutherfordton, March 15.—(AP)—Upon the story of a four year old girl Rutherford county officers are pinning their hope of unraveling the mystery of her mother's death and obtaining a murder indictment against her father.

The child told a coroner's jury here yesterday that the father, Julius Smith, had come to their home at the edge of South Mountain Wednesday afternoon and had threatened to kill the entire family of six. Later she said, there was a struggle over a pistol between her parents; a shot was fired, and the mother fell with a bullet wound in her breast.

Smith insisted that his wife committed suicide. No verdict was returned and arrest of the father was to have been delayed until after general reviews for the mother last night. Another mother will be held here, Coroner W. C. Hightower said.

Mr. Hightower said he was called to the Smith home, 22 miles east of here Wednesday night. He found there the body of the woman, the husband and two of their children. Two others had run away.

Spanish Cabinet To Put Stop To Student Rioting

Madrid, March 15.—(AP)—Official announcement was made early today that the cabinet would meet later and adopt fresh measures for the maintenance of order throughout the country. The announcement followed renewal of students rioting in the center of Madrid last night.

The announcement referred to "the agitators persisting in their unpatriotic attitude and forgetting all considerations of national interest." It adds that while the government does not consider the situation grave it regards it as one both unpleasant and intolerable.
