Federal Columns Begin Moving For Attack On Insurgent Stronghold

General Calles Notifies Government That He Expected to Be in Possession of Torreon by Tuesday Night; Insurgent Commander Shows No Disposition to Retreat; Heavy Fighting in Prospect.

Mexico City, March 18.—(AP)—The government announces that the rebels are panic stricken and have evacuated Torreon in full flight.

The rebels were fleeing apparently towards Chihuahua City, it was said at Chapultepec castle.

General Calles, federal commander in chief, notified the government that he was moving to attack Torreon in force and expected to occupy the city by Tuesday night.

General Escobar, insurgent leader was showing no disposition to retreat, however, and instead reported a victory in the first skirmish with the advancing federal columns.

The initiative, the rebels attacked two federal columns at San Pedro on Sunday and claimed to have inflicted heavy casualties and taken numerous prisoners.

Several thousand men took part. The rebels claimed the capture of 1200 federals.

Saturday and Sunday in Torreon were marked by federal air raids which left four known dead and many wounded in their wake.

The first aerial combat in the history of Mexican revolutions followed the raids, an insurgent plane taking the air against the invaders but finally being driven off.

The federal flier was brought down by rebel guns.

Insurgent troop movement indicated that the long expected battle probably would not be in Torreon itself, but in the suburb of Gomez Palacio, three miles out, which provides an even better natural defense.

A decisive clash was expected by the government as a federal detachment reported the destruction of an important bridge on the railroad from Torreon north of Chihuahua, cutting off the only avenue of escape by rail for the rebels and city meet defeat.

Troop activity in northern Sonora indicated that the rebels are taking precautions against an anticipated federal attack from Baja California which is loyal to the government.

Torreon, Coahuila, Mexico, March 18.—(AP)—Victorious in the first skirmish with federal troops advancing on the city, but fearing air raids which already have taken their toll, revolutionary forces prepared today to defend the city on all sides.

Troops which rebels claimed routed two federal columns at San Pedro, less than fifty miles east of here, yesterday, were being massed on two railroad lines to stop the government forces. One line was from Canjitas on the South and the other from Durango on the Southwest.

The San Pedro battle followed week-end air raids on Torreon by a government squadron that resulted in injury and death to several persons. One aviator was brought down by rebel guns.

Citizens, in a state of excitement as a result of the bombing slept little last night expecting momentarily the long awaited battle.

General Rual Madero led the rebels in their victory at San Pedro. The rebels said they attacked the federal columns under Generals Juan Andreu Almazan and Eulogio Ortiz as they approached the city on two separate railroad lines.

The main body of rebels attacked from the front while 1,800 Cavalry men and 600 Infantrymen who had been stationed in the woods several miles away swept down and engaged federal troops from the rear.

Federalists said that more than 200 men were killed.

Revolutionists reported that they captured seven trains, 1,200 prisoners and "several" airplanes. Last night and early today rebel soldiers began arriving in Torreon with prisoners taken in the engagement.

General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, rebel commander in chief, ordered that they be disarmed, quartered in temporary barracks and shown "every consideration possible." No executions were reported.

During the bombing of Torreon, Mexico saw its first aerial bombing in a revolution.

In 1923 airplanes were used for observation purposes during the Adolfo de la Huerta revolt.

Two federal planes appeared over the city Saturday and Sunday, leaving in their shells torn wake a frightened civilian population, four known.

The aviators were flight Lieutenant J. Moir and Flying Officer H. Owen.

The two men hope to reach their destination 13,000 miles away, in twelve days.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER STILL RISING TODAY

Rampaging Stream Apparently Headed For Forty Foot Level At Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., March 18.—(AP)—The Mississippi river, lapping high against its levees as its spring habit, today continued its steady rise, apparently headed for a stage of 40 feet here, or five feet above flood level.

While smaller tributaries throughout the lower valley were swelled beyond their banks by backwater and large areas of unprotected land inundated, the present amount of water in sight did not constitute a major threat, river followers said.

Fair weather conditions for the valley seemed a further note of relief to the situation. All main levees were reported in good condition.

Clear weather for a few days will give the river a chance to carry off a large volume of the spring swell and will have important bearing on the situation later in reducing the flood level when the water draining off the East and West watersheds begins to arrive.

Emunctual rains in the upper tributaries basins during the next ten days will determine the crest of the present rise. Meteorologist F. W. Brist reported.

With the local stage nearing 30 feet today Mr. Brist predicted 40 feet of water on the gauge by Friday but withheld his crest prediction. United States government engineers had previously announced that the lower valley levee system was capable of holding 45 feet of water.

The Senate passed the revenue bill, and the $1,972,000 permanent improvements bond issue measure with practically no opposition.

The revenue bill was ordered sent back to the House for action on Senate amendments, while the bond issue was ordered ratified.

Another administration measure became law when the House passed the Senate bill, advocated by Gov. Gardner, to create a permanent tax commission. This proposal was rejected by the Senate when it was first voted upon, but later the measure was revived and approved. It passed in the House without difficulty.

The Senate limited debate to two minutes for each speaker in an effort to expedite transaction of the business on its calendar.

By a unanimous vote, the Senate passed on third reading the bill submitting to a vote of the people at the next elections in 1930 the issuance of $2,000,000 in bonds for the veterans' loan fund. The bill has already passed the House.

Raleigh, March 18.—(AP)—Without a record vote, the House today passed the Senate bill to increase the salary of the governor to $10,000 a year.

The measure does not become effective until after the expiration of the term of Governor Gardner. The constitution prevents the General Assembly from increasing the salary of the governor.

ORDER TROOPS TO N. MEXICO

General Moseley Instructed To Investigate Conditions At Columbus.

Washington, March 18.—(AP)—Brigadier General Moseley has been ordered to Columbus, N. M., to look into conditions at the border point, and a platoon of infantry has been started there from Fort Bliss.

Maj. Gen. Lassiter, commanding the eighth army corps at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, informed the war department today of the order issued to General Moseley and the platoon, which is under command of Capt. Andrew J. White.

The General described his orders as precautionary steps. There had been no previous reports here of any unusual conditions at Columbus.

The New Mexican town was the scene several years ago of the raid by the rebel General Francisco Villa, which eventually resulted in the sending into Mexico of General Pershing and his punitive expedition during the Wilson administration.

Several Injured In S. C. Gun Battle

Spartanburg, S. C., March 18.—(AP)—One man was in a hospital here near death early today, three rural policemen nursing bullet wounds, and three persons, a man and two women, were in the Spartanburg County jail as the result of a gun battle yesterday morning on the main street of Inman, northwest of Spartanburg.

Harry McLean opened fire on the officers when accosted by them to account for complaints made by neighbors who described him and his family as "religious fanatics," and belonging to a "mysterious religious cult."

With McLean at the time were his brother, Arnold, his sister-in-law, Miriam McLean and a cousin, Helen Wilson. Harry McLean was probably fatally wounded.

One of the officers, O. B. Edge was shot between the shoulders. Chief of Police J. H. Burnot and Magistrate R. D. Hicks also received minor wounds.

Officers stated that the McLean's had been making trouble in the community for some time with their "mysterious cult."

FARM PROBLEM PRESENTED TO PRES. HOOVER

Members of Farm Organizations Heard By Chief Executive Today.

Washington, March 18.—(AP)—With the special session of Congress, which will deal with farm relief and tariff revision, less than a month away, organizations interested in the solution of the agricultural problem are bringing their suggestions not only to members of Congress, but to President Hoover as well.

Delegations from two such organizations were given places today on the chief executive's engagement calendar. They were the Farm Bureau Federation and the National Livestock Association.

While Mr. Hoover is ready at all times to accept suggestions from members of Congress and interested groups outside the government organization, he is holding himself aloof from the actual formulation of the farm bill. His own ideas will be embodied in the message which will be sent to Congress at the opening of the session and until this communication is read from the rostrum of the Senate and House, the President plans to make no public utterance on the subject.

Time also was set aside for a call from Representative Bacon, Republican of New York, who is interested in the appointment of federal judges in his state. Five additional positions of this nature were created by bills passed at the last session of Congress and Mr. Bacon is anxious that one of the appointees come from his district.

The daughter of a famous Democrat, who herself has risen to national prominence, also had an appointment with the President. She was Ruth Bryan Owen, the daughter of William Jennings Bryan, who was elected to the House from Florida last fall.

Elizabethton, Tenn., March 18.—(AP)—Several hundred strikers today picketed streets and highways leading to both the American Glass-stoff and the American Bemberg rayon manufacturing plants.

About 250 Glass-stoff employees entered the plant through fields in the rear today and went to work, but company officials said fully 40 per cent of the 35,000 Bemberg employees failed to report this morning.

Sheriff J. M. Moreland and five deputies guarded the properties and acted as traffic police on the state highways, permitting general traffic to pass through the pickets.

The Glass-stoff plant was closed Wednesday after employees of several departments had walked out as a protest against the wage scale. The closing of the plant by the company resulted in approximately 2,000 persons being thrown out of employment.

Newark, N. J., March 18.—(AP)—Belmont Parsons, 25, of Brooklyn, N. Y., the fourth passenger in the Ford tri-motored plane which crashed late yesterday with a loss of thirteen lives, died in St. James hospital today.

Len Foote, the pilot, who lies in the hospital in a critical condition, is now the only survivor of the disaster.

Newark, N. J., March 18.—(AP)—Thirteen signees were killed instantly yesterday in the worst airplane wreck there ever has been in the United States. The pilot and one passenger, the only persons aboard to escape death, were seriously injured.

A huge Ford all-metal tri-motored monoplane operated by the Colonial Airways, crashed into a freight car loaded with sand while attempting a forced landing a mile from the Newark airport after its motors had stopped.

Len Foote, the pilot, and Belmont Parsons, a friend riding in the cockpit beside him, were hurled 50 feet from the plane by the impact. Those in the cabin were flung into a heap in the forward end of the fuselage. Many were impaled on pieces of torn metal.

Witnesses said the plane appeared to be in trouble from the time it took off from the airport with its load of passengers for a trip over New York City.

It rose slightly. Persons who saw the ship just before the crash said the propellers were turning over slowly as though the motors were dead. The plane was not more than 200 feet above the ground.

Foote apparently was attempting to bring the ship down on a clear space between two railroad lines, but the plane, buffeted by a high gusty wind, lost altitude too rapidly to clear a string of cars on a side-track of the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

The victims included an engaged couple, Miss Gertrude Steever of Bloomfield, N. J., and Reginald Woodward, a law student who lived in Brooklyn. The girl's brother, Andrew, was killed, as were two brothers, Andrew and Stephen Magness of Stamford, Conn. The dead are:

Joseph Bauer, Stamford, Conn.; Anton Boole, West York, N. J.; Andrew Magness, Stamford, Conn.; Stephen Magness, brother of Andrew; Raymond Helmsetter, Irvington, N. J.; Thomas Henderson, Weehawken, N. J.; Walter Henrichel, Jr., Jersey City; Patrick Januzzi, Jersey City; William Margareten, Perth Amboy, N. J.; Gertrude Steever, Bloomfield, N. J.; H. Clifton Steever, brother of Miss Steever; Reginald Woodward of Brooklyn; fiance of Miss Steever; William Ziser, Irvington, N. J.

The crash has only been exceeded in the number of victims by one other accident in the history of heavier than air operation. That was the wreck of the Dornier Wal plane at Rio Janeiro last December in which 14 persons were killed while on their way to welcome Santos Dumont, the famous aviator.

A motorcycle policeman and railroad employes saw the plane, struggling to stay in the air, swoop down as though to land, then crash against the car. They summoned aid and hurried to the scene.

Foote and Parsons were found where they had been catapulted through the roof of the cockpit. Foote had several fractures of the skull and internal injuries. He asked his rescuers for a cigarette and wished to know if he was in New York. Foote became unconscious. Parsons suffered a broken leg and was severely cut and bruised, but also was conscious when picked up.

Begin Rehabilitation In Flood Devastated Area; Find New Danger Point

Major Weaver reported to the governor that "people were hanging to tree tops" in Lowndes county with the river swollen to great width beneath them.

Major Weaver said the situation is so grave that he will again fly over the area this afternoon, accompanied by the governor.

Montgomery, Ala., March 18.—(AP)—A new area of acute flood danger, the section along the Alabama River south of Selma, was described to Governor Bibb Graves this afternoon by Major W. H. Weaver, commandant of Maxwell Field, the Fourth Corps Area flying base of the army. The governor considered the situation so grave he immediately planned to fly over the territory.

Montgomery, Ala., March 18.—(AP)—Subsiding waters in devastated sections of Southern Alabama, racing on through North-western Florida, left the work of prohibition of uppermost importance today as surveys were begun by relief forces.

First announcement of actual rebuilding in the wake of the high waters came this morning from the office of Governor Bibb Graves of Alabama when it was said those who were able financially would be allowed to return tomorrow to Elba, one of the towns to receive the brunt of the floods. It was added that some probably would begin returning to Geneva also tomorrow but this step depended largely on favorable reports expected later in the day.

Florida also presented a bright side to the picture of desolation and danger. Streams were reported falling and the prospect of a survey of damage within the next 24 hours was seen. This, however, did not include the lower reaches of the Chattahoochee and Apalachicola rivers where the flood crest was expected tonight with danger to highway and railroad bridges at river junction, Fla.

While reports were yet slow in reaching the outside world from the flood areas of Alabama and Florida, there were no further reports of looting after military rule had been instituted late yesterday at Elba and Geneva. Colonel Milton Stone of Governor Graves' personal staff reported sixteen cases of post-mortem looting at the Elba refugee camp and said looting was prevalent.

Announcement that a large supply of typhoid anti-toxin had gone into the area was made by the Alabama Health Department, adding the brand could supply enough of the anti-toxin to immunize 200,000 persons if necessary.

Typhoid was feared because of possibly polluted water.

The work of relief was still under way with airplanes, automobiles and motor boats being continued as a mode of transporting food and clothing into the water swept regions.

In the Alabama area the Red Cross and State authorities were coordinated in a move to feed and clothe the estimated 15,000 homeless while attention also turned in Florida to Caryville where damage was estimated at a half million dollars or more and 1,200 were driven to refugee camps.

Georgia's situation was yet acute in spots with the Flint river rising at Bainbridge and a small rise reported at Albany, Nexas, deserted by its 400 inhabitants for the second time within two weeks, was still the flood center while Montezuma, neighboring town, was inundated. Waters were diminishing, however, along most of the streams.

While the work of rescue apparently was well in hand, fear was expressed that the list of dead would grow as workers began to reach into the farm lands around the smaller towns. The toll remained at 29 known dead in Florida, Alabama and Georgia. Sixteen of the deaths were in Alabama.

Elba, Ala., March 18.—(AP)—Elba today passed from the control of the flood waters of Pea river and into the hands of the Alabama National Guard which organization established martial law to prevent looting and began the task of clearing the town of dead animals and other obstacles that might cause an epidemic.

A careful check of guardsmen indicated that no white person lost his life in the flood, which practically destroyed the town and caused a loss estimated between $2,500,000 and $4,000,000. Only one white person who had been reported lost.

Mr. Osborne was a former resident of Greenville. He lived here several years and was employed by the Liggett-Myers Tobacco Company. He was well known in this and other tobacco centers.

BIG BOXING PROGRAM ON THIS WEEK

New York, March 18.—(AP)—The current week's National Boxing program holds forth a pitfall or two for several of the ring's most prominent figures.

Ray Miller, the Chicago left hook star; Leo Lomaski, the Aberdeen, Washington, light heavyweight contender and Kid Chocolate, the Cuban featherweight, all are tangling with rivals who may or may not interfere with their hopes of eventual championship recognition. Miller, faces the toughest job of all. He is going to meet Jimmy McLarnin, the Vancouver Irishman, in a ten round return match in Madison Square Garden Friday night. McLarnin can drop his man easily and Miller will need to contend with either hand as Joe Glick will meet with the left hook of his early or face almost certain defeat. The Chicago star, who stopped McLarnin at Detroit several months ago, probably will have to give away as much as seven pounds to the Vancouver lad. The fight is at 140 pounds.

Lomaski and James J. Braddock seem to be about the most dangerous figures among the light heavyweight contenders, but Leo has a tough nut to crack at Philadelphia tonight in Maxie Rosenbloom of New York. They've fought twice, one bout ending in a draw and the other in a decision victory for Lomaski.

Aside from a draw decision with Joe Scalfaro, the Harlem slugger Eligio Sardinias, better known as Kid Chocolate, has swept through bantamweights and featherweights without a setback since he came to this country. On Friday night at the Boston Garden, however, the "Kid" is meeting a high class fighter in Johnny Vacca of Boston.

George Courtney, the "Oklahoma Cowboy," who eventually may cut just as much figure among the light heavyweights as he did among the middleweights, meets Nengo Tassi, Italian 175 pounder, in a ten round match at the Broadway arena here tonight. The Cowboy stopped Tassi in four rounds in their first meeting.

Other bouts on the National schedule include:

Monday—at Philadelphia, King Tut, Minneapolis, vs Pinky Kaufmann, Hartford, Conn., lightweight ten rounds; at Memphis, Red Herrin, Albany, N. Y., vs Alex Simms, Cleveland, welterweights, 8 rounds.

Tuesday—at Los Angeles, Rene Devos, Belgium, vs Johnny Gill, York, Pa., middleweights, ten rounds at Fort Smith, Ark., Art Dula vs Claude Hull, welterweights, 10 rounds; at San Francisco, Eddie Roberts, Tacoma, vs Pete Myers, San Francisco, welterweights; at Hollywood, Hener Sheridan, Sioux City, Iowa, vs Joe Roche, San Francisco, middleweights, ten rounds.

BUCKY HARRIS IS BUSY WITH TIGER OUTFIT

Phoenix, Ariz., March 18.—(AP)—Whether Stanley "Bucky" Harris plays or not, he is a factor that cannot well be overlooked when the chances of the Detroit Tigers in the forthcoming American league campaign are considered.

"Bucky" might be new to the club but nevertheless he is an experienced hand at putting out good ball teams. His record will attest to that. In the five years he has been wielding managerial reins, his products never have finished out of the first division.

After holding down an outfield berth for the past ten years, Harry, Hellmann, whose chief enjoyment appears to be knocking dry knots out of baseball fences, has been assigned to first base. Hellmann, who again aims to lead the league in hitting, is finding coverage of the initial sack much to his liking.

Dale Alexander, formerly of Toronto, a fence buster, has been hitting a mighty pace to vie with Hellmann. The six foot three inch first base prospect who batted 380 last season, appears to have put in a stronger bid for 1929 hitting honors than has Dudley Branch, drafted from Louisville, where he led the American Association in total bases and hit around 320.

Charley Gehringer, ranked as the best second sacker in the league, and a 316 batsman last year, will again fill the berth he has held for the last 3 years. He has Francis Sigafos, drafted from Portland, of the Pacific Coast league, as a rival, while manager Harris also can play second, but does not plan to do so unless an emergency arises.

Heinie Schuble, once with the St. Louis Cardinals, and last year with the Houston club of the Texas league, has been working his head off to make the shortstop grade. Mortie McManus, veteran of two years, is a certainty at third.

If Roy Johnson, $75,000 fly chaser from the San Francisco club of the Coast league, fits into the place Harris has opened for him, the Tigers will have an outfield possessed of both power and speed.

Harry Rice, who was secured in a trade with the St. Louis Browns last spring involving Manush and Blue, and John Stone, youngster who was brought up from Evansville last fall and proved a sensation, together with Johnson, are considered an ideal outfielder. All are better than 300 hitters. Robert Fothergill, whose connection with the club dates back six or seven years, is yet to be reckoned with, however.

George Uhlenhuth have been relinquished by Cleveland because he has lost his pitching cunning but Manager Harris is counting on the veteran to be a mainstay of the Tiger corps.

Emile Yde, former Pittsburgh Pirate, is another newcomer from whom Harris expects much. Camp followers believe Earl Whitehill should be the best left hander in the league.

Frank Barnes, a purchase from Houston, throws a left hand curve with an easy motion.

Harris has nine right handers in addition to Uhle. Six of them were with the club last season. Owen Carroll, leading club pitcher last year, George Smith, Stocky Lil Stoner, relief hurler, and Sam Gibson are the more experienced.

In all, five backstoppers are wearing the Tiger uniform, but it looks as if Mervyn Shea will be the ace of the lot. Larry Woodall, oldest catcher on the squad, had a bad season last year but expects to do better. "Red" Hargrave, a good hitter, is another veteran, while Raymond Hayworth, from Shreveport, and Eddie Phillips, recalled from Toronto, are the newcomers.

"I reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet"

"Whirling along the ground at 231 miles per hour to a new world's record was a thrilling experience. It was speed in breath-taking fashion. When I finally brought 'The Golden Arrow' to halt, the nerve let-down was terrific. But out came my pack of Lucky Strike and I soon was smoking in complete happiness. After the strain of my ride the toasted fragrance of Luckies was like a tonic. I reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet. I want to keep trim and fit. I want to feel the glow of pep and health at all times—the thought of excess weight really frightens me. I welcome a Lucky instead of sweets and things that would make me soft."

Note: Authorities attribute the enormous increase in process of Cigarette manufacture by the application of heat. It is true that during 1928, Lucky Strike Cigarettes showed a greater increase than all other Cigarettes combined. This confirms in no uncertain terms the public's confidence in the superiority of Lucky Strike.

Meeting Of The Garden Club.
The Garden Club held an interesting meeting at the club house last Thursday afternoon. Four new members were enrolled, and three subscriptions taken to the club magazine, "Better Homes and Gardens."

This department of the Woman's Club is the civic organ of the club, so the annual "clean up" campaign was discussed. The county demonstrator, Miss Nice, wishes city and county to work together, so the first week in April was decided to be the best time for united effort. In this connection, the club wishes to call the attention of the public in general to the fact that the collectors of garbage and trash have their instructions to enter back yards to take up trash. This makes it unnecessary to have cans and boxes standing on the street. The appearance of our streets will be greatly improved with these unsightly receptacles removed.

Owners of vacant lots are asked to co-operate with the club in making our city clean and attractive, by removing all trash, such as old lumber, tin cans, etc., and if possible, putting a wire fence or lattice on the street side, and training vines on same.

Mrs. J. N. Hart gave an instructive talk on bulbs, mentioning for one thing, that they were suitable things to bring to go in trees.

In April the club expects to have Mrs. Oscar Tucker give a talk on planting and growing dahlias; and in May, Miss Esterbrook, one of the vocational teachers, will address the club in a public meeting. —Reported.

Flood Waters Make Prohibition Clean-Up Along Georgia Rivers
Macon, Ga., March 18.—(AP)—Bollers and barrels, riding the receding waters of South Georgia floods, today told the story of muge prohibition clean-up in which neither Federal or State officers participated. Literally hundreds of riverside stills, which became of their inaccessibility had been comparatively safe from Internal Revenue men, were swept away by the high waters. "Three times as many federal officers as there are on duty here could not have done the work so well" one officer said, in commenting on the flood's clean sweep of the illicit liquor industry.

Radio Set Is Installed At The County Home

Through the liberality of the public purse, inmates of the county home enjoy the distinction of a radio all their own.

The equipment was installed Sunday afternoon and that night and Sunday night the county's indigent population listened to things over the air they thought they would never hear again.

The sum necessary for purchase of the radio was completed with contributions to this office today. The committee immediately started the raising of another fund of $20 for extending the radio service to the colored section of the county home. As it is now, only the white population enjoys the program, and it is the desire of the committee to install a loud speaker in the dining room of the colored building so that these people may also hear what is going on in the world outside.

Members of the committee today expressed gratification at the splendid way the public had contributed to the fund. They said they believed the extra $20.00 could be raised within the next several hours. In fact, $3.50 of this amount had been raised by the noon hour today.

Subscribers since the last report were: R. T. Cox, $1.00; L. B. Garrison, $1.00; Cash, $1.00; J. S. Ficklen, $1.50; Cash, $1.00; J. E. Jones, $1.00; Cash, $1.00; Frank Patrick, 50c.

Chicago, March 18.—(AP)—Four hundred persons looked on last night as Policemen George Schert and an unidentified robber shot it out a busy North Clark street intersection. Nine shots had been fired before the bandit fell dead.

King George Able To Walk

Bognor, England, March 18.—(AP)—Those about King George at Craigwell House today felt happier at the progress of his recuperation than they have felt in weeks. It was the first time the King had walked since he became ill more than four months ago.

Virginia Girl Still In Coma

Lynchburg, Va., March 18.—(AP)—Ill luck continued today to stak Marjorie Dowdy, 10, of this city, who has been unconscious here nearly 38 days from injuries received in an automobile accident on February 8.

Abscesses were discovered in the inner tracts of each of the child's ears Saturday morning, making an operation necessary. No anesthetic was administered because of a severe congestion of her right lung and the little girl screamed several times while the doctors were probing into her ears—the first sound she has made since the accident, hospital attendants say.

Attending physicians are finding it extremely difficult to assist Marjorie in her fight to recover. The measles she developed when she was first admitted to the hospital, settled in her right lung in the form of broncho pneumonia and with effects of the abscess operation combined with those two troubles, the little girl's system is being rapidly drained of vitality, physicians say.

Why Will It Pay Me To Borrow Money From a Building and Loan Association To Build My Home ?

There are many people that ask questions just as the above, their reason for asking them is due to the fact, they have never stopped to figure the proposition out.

For illustration suppose you were interested in borrowing $1000.00 for repairs on your home. You would subscribe for 10 shares of stock this at maturity is worth $1000.00, this 10 shares of stock has a borrowing capacity of $1000.00, you would pay interest at the rate of 6 percent into the Association on a weekly or monthly basis—you would also pay your weekly or monthly dues of $2.50 per week on your $1000.00 in saving department at the same time you pay your interest. When the amounts deposited and your profit is enough to mature your stock we turn this over to the loan department and cancel your $1000.00 mortgage. An example below of this shows you how it is done.

Saving Department	Loan Department
Our audit report shows we can mature in 325 weeks, which is 6 years, 3 months and one week. For example take 10 shares of stock, weekly payments will be $2.50.	Suppose you borrow $1,000 from us, you have 6 years, 3 months and one week to pay it back. Interest on $1,000 at 6 per cent, will cost you
325 weeks at $2.50 $812.50	6 years.....$360.00
Profit earned for you.....$187.50	3 months.....15.00
Total.....$1000.00	1 week.....1.25
	Total.....$376.25

In the saving department column you have earned $187.50 profit, in the loan department you have paid $376.25 interest, deduct $187.50 profit from $376.25 interest you have a net amount $188.75 interest paid, which is a fraction over 3 per cent paid on your loan.

Do you know of any individual or institution that will loan you money at such a small rate of interest?

Our Payment Plan Is Easy

We charge no bonus and only 6 per cent interest. Let us loan you money to build a home and let you pay it back like rent.

THE WORLD LOSES

Declaring that the world loses much through its indifference to the efforts of those who are really trying to do something and be something, William Feather, editor of the Imperial Magazine says:

"I like to work," said a man, particularly when I have a feeling that I am accomplishing something.

"It is important that we have the sense of getting somewhere. The tragedy is that many are doing excellent work, but nobody whose opinion really carries weight takes the trouble to say so.

"Why do we hesitate to express appreciation, approval, interest? Why do we assume that someone else is saying the kind word that we continually neglect to speak?

"Men who for years have given outstanding service to their communities and to their industries often quietly confess that their deepest and most disturbing wonder is whether or not they enjoy the good opinion of those they are striving to help.

"The world loses much by indifference. Communities lose, industries lose, employers lose.

"Some people cannot stand appreciation, but they do not amount to anything anyway. A little petting soon eliminates them. The majority are vastly stimulated by recognition."

A FEW OBSERVATIONS ON TAXES

If there were a general sales tax, of course the newspapers ought to stand their fair share of it. And it seems to me that the hullabaloo raised against this form of taxation is mostly nonsense.

A very small levy, one per cent or even less, upon sales would bring in all the revenue the State needs for schools and colleges, charitable and other institutions, public improvements and would not be unduly burdensome.

I have never known a time when railroads, telegraph and telephone companies, power companies and public utility concerns in general did not resist taxation violently on the score that any more taxes laid upon them would be "a blow at industry."

In this sort of talk the power companies are running true to form. Their handsomely paid lawyers and lobbyists fairly weep at the thought of the disaster in store for North Carolina if the interests in control of the State's water powers have to pay a larger tax than they have hitherto paid. These are crocodile tears. The available information about their earnings, present and prospective, indicates that the power companies can well afford to increase their contribution to the State's tax fund.—Chapel Hill Weekly.

ABOUT TOWN

"Glad to hear that Decon Joffit is going to be recain by the Greenville baseball club," said an admirer of the iron man hurler today.

"Greenville did the right thing when she decided that Joffit was too good to be released to the Alabama club. The former Virginia leaguer rendered invaluable service to Greenville last season and it is a dead clinch he should be able to do likewise year.

"Well a full team composed of men of Joffit's calibre, this old ball club should be able to walk away with a pennant or so every few years. But, as we only have two or three in his class, the best thing to do is to keep them and develop some of the promising youngsters into real sure enough material."

"It is gratifying to note that fresh eggs are not as scarce in Pitt county as they used to be," asserted a business man today.

"This is the result of the increase in poultry raising in the various communities. Farmers who never tried chicken raising to any extent before, have regular poultry yards now and help load up several carloads of chickens annually for shipment to northern markets.

"Hundreds of these chickens increase the county's egg supply months before shipment and many are kept on the poultry yards for this one purpose alone. May the good work continue. There is nothing more conducive to the happiness of an early rising business man than golden brown toast and a couple of soft-scrambled eggs. May the productivity of Pitt County hens increase with each succeeding year."

"I am glad the Merchants Association filed the prizes to school children for the best suggestions on a bigger and better Greenville," a parent this morning.

"This plan should put the child to thinking about his town and enable him to produce many constructive suggestions for community developments. Making Greenville bigger and better has been the object of the best brains of the city for a number of years, but maybe the mind of the child will produce some suggestion that the older boy and girl overlooked. Anyhow, it is worth trying, and the Merchants Association is willing to give cash prizes to those who submit the best suggestion.

"All children should be encouraged to take part in the contest. The training in writing, if nothing more, will be of value to them."

"Tar river runs wild occasionally, but at the worst this lazy stream, winding idly through Eastern Carolina, is nothing to compare with the raging streams in Alabama and three other states of the south," declared a citizen today.

"Thousands of persons have been marooned by the raging torrents in Alabama. Whole towns were inundated and the population were upped to house-tops and tree tops until rescued by troopers sent to their aid by boat and airplane. The situation was similar in Florida, Georgia and Mississippi, although none of these states suffered as severely as Alabama.

"Tar river overflows and empties over thousands of acres of farm lands in this section from time to time, but its damage is negligible when considering the toll of life and property exacted by the streams of other states.

"I have always argued that this is the God-blessed part of the world and I shall continue to maintain the fact unless some calamity occurs that will cause me to change my mind."

"Well drained farm lands are essential to good crop production," asserted a member of the Board of Agriculture preparatory to the opening of the drainage school for Pitt county farmers this week.

"With proper drainage and terracing, Pitt county farmers would not only increase the fertility of their lands but also increase their value. These two things are very essential in the life of the successful farmer and it is hoped as many farmers as possible will take advantage of the two-day school to be held here this week.

"If you have problems to solve in this direction, consult the specialist in the school. He is well acquainted with the different phases of terracing and drainage and should be able to offer many valuable suggestions."

HEAVY DOCKET GETS HEARING IN COURT HERE

Between Thirty And Forty Cases In County Court Friday And Saturday.

J. T. Pope, of the Grimesland community, charged with transporting whiskey and driving an automobile while drunk, paid a fine of $100 and cost and was ordered not to drive an automobile again for a period of 90 days by Judge W. L. Whedbee, presiding over the regular session of county court in this city Saturday.

About forty cases were handled by the court Friday and Saturday. The majority of the charges consisted of careless and reckless driving and violations of the prohibition law. The court usually sits on Tuesday, but was postponed until Friday on account of the absence of Judge Whedbee, who spent the early part of the week in Raleigh on official business.

Horace McLawhorn, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, was given the choice between a fine of $50 and cost or 90 days on the county roads. He paid the fine.

Fred Pugh, colored, charged with issuing worthless checks, was ordered to pay the checks and cost of action or go to the roads for 90 days.

Charlie Smith, colored, paid a fine of $50.00 and cost instead of accepting a 90-day sentence to the county roads on a charge of reckless and careless driving.

Lee Valentine, colored, larceny was given the privilege of paying $25.00 and cost or going to the roads for 90 days.

Harriet Taft, colored, paid a fine of $25.00 and cost in preference to going to the roads for 90 days.

Frank Staton, colored, drew 60 days' service on the county roads on a charge of vagrancy.

John Speight, colored, appealed to Superior court when he was ordered to pay the amount of the checks involved or go to the roads for 60 days, on charge of giving worthless checks.

Fred Pew, colored, drunk and reckless and careless driving, was sentenced to 90 days in jail and ordered not to drive again in 90 days.

W. L. Corey, driving while drunk, paid a fine of $100 and cost and was ordered not to drive again in a period of 90 days.

D. G. Morris, worthless checks, was given a 60-day suspended sentence to the roads.

Jasper Cooper paid a fine of $25 and cost for unlawful possession of whiskey.

J. T. Pope, charged with driving while drunk, was ordered to pay $100 and cost or go to the roads for 90 days. He appealed to superior court under bond of $200.

Charlie Smith, colored, charged with giving worthless checks, was fined $100 and cost and sentenced to thirty days in jail. Sentence, however, was suspended upon payment of $1.00.

Queen Marie Fails To See Prince Carol On Visit To Paris

Paris, March 18.—(AP)—If Queen Marie saw her errand son, Prince Carol, during her twelve hours visit here yesterday she did so in strictest secrecy and Parisians generally know nothing of it.

At the Rumanian Legation today it was said "the Queen did not see Carol." No one was found who actually had seen Carol and at the hotel where he usually stays it was said it was believed he had gone to Nice for the day.

Inasmuch as his mother and sister, Princess Ileana, are known to have changed their original plans for a visit to Brittany to include a stopover at Paris for a conference with him—at his own earnest request—the situation baffled those observers with an interest in Rumanian National affairs.

Queen Marie arrived here at 8:30 a. m., and went shortly afterward to the home of Marshal Foch to pay her respect to the bed-ridden old soldier. Owing to his condition she was not permitted to see him. She made three visits thereafter at the homes of friends on the Champs Elysees and the Avenue Bois de Boulogne, leaving with Ileana at 3:20 p. m., for Saint Brice, near Dinard, to visit her sister, the Grand Duchess Cyril of Russia.

Carol and his mother may have met at one of those three homes but it was said the visit at each was so short there could have been little time for more than filial greetings had such a meeting taken place there. Prince Carol was not present at the legation for luncheon nor among the imposing group of Rumanians who greeted the Queen upon her arrival.

The feeling was that Queen Marie had been warned of the possible political consequences of a meeting and had chosen to forego it.

"My Thirty Years at Sea"

By CAPTAIN GEORGE FRIED

No more dramatic sea rescue is to be found in modern shipping chronicles than that of the British freighter Antiope. Fried tells a gripping story of how he maneuvered the President Roosevelt in the first hours after he received the SOS. Once after establishing contact—he lost the freighter and feared she might have gone down with all hands. But she was picked up again and the batter to save her human cargo got under way as a violent squall struck the vessels.

By CAPT. GEORGE FRIED (Copyright 1929, Associated Press) CHAPTER XIX—PART I

The first real rescue in which I participated was when I was master of the President Roosevelt. The vessel was bound from New York by way of channel ports for Bremen. The SOS call from the British freighter Antiope was picked up by my radio operator at 5:40 a. m., Sunday, January 24, 1926. She gave her approximate position as latitude 46.10 north and longitude 39.58 west, having taken no observation for 36 hours. The weather was overcast with no wind and squalls and a westerly gale with a blowing force of ten. Immediately I changed our course and started for the position given, expecting to be in her vicinity in about three hours. My chief radio operator, Mr. Upton, was stationed at the radio compass getting a bearing of the Antiope every 15 minutes. These bearings indicated that her position was about 50 miles in error. Following the course of this compass the Antiope was picked up to 12:10 p. m.

I maneuvered the President Roosevelt, taking a position to the windward about 500 yards away. The Antiope was lying in the trough of the sea, listing heavily to starboard with high waves sweeping over her. Her engines were turning slowly and she was headed in a northerly direction, apparently trying to come up into the wind to heave to. But her steering gear was out of order. A large ice box had been carried from its regular place in and some way jammed the steering apparatus.

I asked the Antiope's master if he wished to abandon his ship, how many were in the crew, and if they had life belts. He answered that he wanted to be given a little time, as they were endeavoring to secure number three hatch and repair the steering gear. They were having difficulty in keeping up steam up because water was entering the fire room. The cargo of grain had shifted to starboard but the captain hoped to keep afloat until the weather moderated.

The President Roosevelt stood by. Fuel oil was pumped overboard to calm the seas, at the rate of about three tons an hour. Maintaining a position about 400 yards to windward, the results were very satisfactory. I kept the engines turning over slowly all Sunday afternoon and until 9 p. m. that evening frequent violent hail and snow squalls of hurricane force completely shut the Antiope from view. Her warning lights were extinguished and her radio became silent. Several hours later the weather again moderated. Attempts to communicate with her by wireless failed and as visibility increased it was apparent we had lost her. I did not know whether she had gone down with all hands or whether she was drifting helplessly without steam and no means of communication.

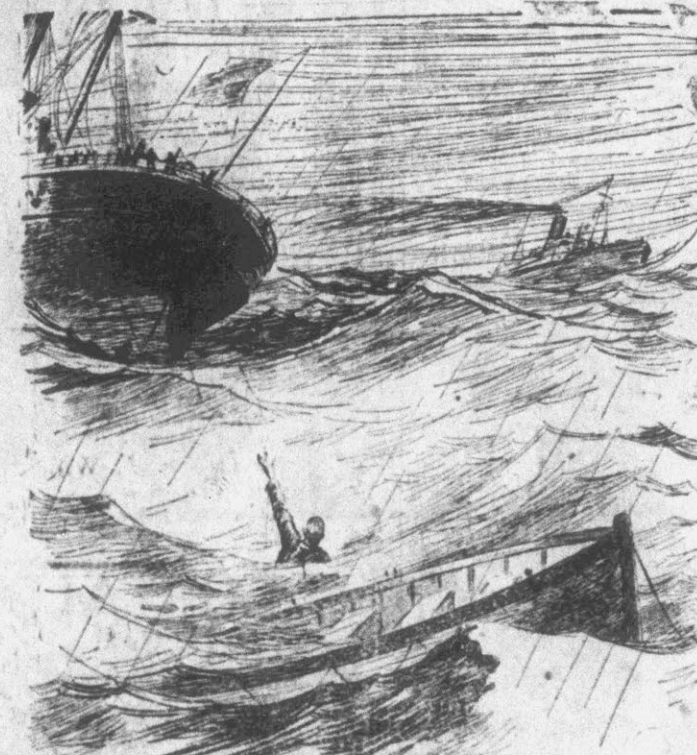

Monday I cruised back and forth in an effort to pick her up. Finally about 1 o'clock, we again sighted her. The wind was now southwest and moderating. We took a position this time 200 yards on her port beam and again pumped fuel oil overboard.

The captain of the Antiope then hoisted signals to the effect that he was ready to abandon his ship but had no boats, all having been swept away. His engine and fire rooms were flooded.

My chief officer, Robert Miller, and the volunteer crew of seven men who I had selected, cleared away. The boat was lowered with a long sea painter fore and one aft. Frapping lines were used around the boat falls to steady it while it was being lowered. The crew, with life jackets on, was pulling away from the ship when a violent snow and hail squall struck us and kicked up a heavy sea. The life boat climbed one of these heavy combers and almost stood on end. The crew was tossed to the other end and then into the water, but fortunately the life boat was right side up. In about three minutes all hands managed to scramble aboard again.

I ordered the life boat back and just as it was alongside another heavy sea threw the entire crew into the water a second time. They were close to the ship, however, and life lines and ladders were thrown to get them aboard. Two men lost their grip on the life lines which undoubtedly were slippery because of the oil. The master at arms, Wirtanen, seemed to have taken hold of a line on the stern of the boat and it appeared to me that he was trying to drift the boat and steer it with his powerful body, to ward the Antiope. He got within

He missed the life line thrown to him and was carried away.

Spartanburg, S. C., March 17.—(AP)—Fire which broke out early this morning in the J. D. Collins department store destroyed the building and contents. Poor Food—Little Mentality.

New York—Poor food, in the opinion of an investigator, is responsible for much low intelligence. Dr. John Munroe of Long Island University, has examined 5,000 children in 16 years. As one test, he fed eggs twice a day to ten children and found that the intelligence of nine increased.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH KILLING HER HUSBAND

Greenville, S. C., March 18.—(AP)—A bill charging Mrs. Emma Rose Sawyer with the murder of her husband, former court clerk, Ernest L. Sawyer, was presented to the grand jury in superior court of Pasquotank county which convened today.

At the coroner's inquest Mrs. Sawyer testified that her husband shot himself with a pistol which she had brought him after he had made a statement that he would kill himself if he had a gun. There were no eye witnesses.

Hugs Cause Marriage Decline.

Washington—How high prices for hogs caused a decline in marriage is described in a bulletin of the National Geographic Society. Buyers in Turkestan bid so high that it became more profitable for a father to keep his girls at home at work than to give them in marriage. Prohibitive compensation was demanded from suitors.

Society Brand Clothes

We have never used the word "cheap"

That word carries a meaning that doesn't apply to the merchandise we sell. It seems to suggest that we can give you something for nothing. And we can't.

Take Society Brand Clothes. They cost a bit more than the average. They simply can't be sold for less than fifty dollars. And when you buy them you're paying for everything you get.

But here's the point: The things you do get—such as fine fabrics, really expert tailoring, and unequalled smartness of cut—are of the sort that give you more satisfaction than you can measure in money.

That's value—as we understand it. Come see our new showing of Society Brand, and we believe you'll feel the same way!

Eagle Attacks German Plane.—Dessau, Germany, March 18.—(AP)—The Junkers Aeroplane Co. announced today that one of the regular air service planes between Gracon and Lemberg had been attacked by an eagle and its progress greatly impeded.

The terrific swoops of the huge bird caused the plane to rock badly. The monarch of the air finally broke its neck on the all-metal wing of the plane. When it arrived at Lemberg the wing was found to be deeply dented.

Brown swam ashore but Boyd, who was wearing heavy boots at the time, sank immediately. His body had not been recovered early this afternoon.
