PUSH PLANS FOR SEAPORT AT BEAUFORT

Ask Governor's Cooperation In Making Inlet Great Center Of Navigation.

Raleigh, April 5.—(AP)—Plans for developing a seaport of the first magnitude at Beaufort inlet were going ahead here today.

Congressman C. L. Abernethy and J. S. Cushman, Philadelphia shipping man, who with Henry Heberman, of New York, also a large owner of ship tonnage, asked Governor Gardner's cooperation yesterday, remained in Raleigh today to confer with potential big users of the port and to confer with Corporation Commissioner I. M. Bailey, who is also Secretary of the State Transportation Advisory Commission. Mr. Heberman returned to New York after the conference with the governor.

With an assurance by Congressman Abernethy that he was confident of being able to get the Beaufort inlet dredged to a 30 foot depth, Mr. Schmacher said all that stands in the way of realization of the project is the cooperation of the State and the Norfolk Southern Railroad in providing adequate terminal facilities.

Mr. Heberman is President and owner of the American Export line, which has a fleet of 34 trans-Atlantic freighters, and Mr. Schmacher manager of Inter-Ocean Steamship Co., operating 18 steamers in the coastwise trade.

Aldermen Pass One Hour Parking Legislation For The Business District

A one hour parking law for the Greenville business district was passed by the Board of Aldermen in regular monthly session at the City Hall last night. The ordinance became effective with ratification and resulted in the repeal of all other traffic regulations conflicting with the new legislation.

The ordinance makes it unlawful for any vehicle of any description to remain standing or to be parked for a longer period of time than one hour between the hours of 9 o'clock a. m. and 6 o'clock p. m. The districts affected by the ordinance are Evans street between Third and Five Points, including that further portion of Evans street extending to a southern parallel line of the building now occupied by the Carolina Gas and Electric Company, Fourth street, between Washington street and Cotnam street, Fifth street, from Washington street to Beade street. Parking will be alternated from one side of the street to the other with each calendar month.

Article Two of the law also provides that it shall be unlawful for any vehicle of any description to remain standing or to be parked, except upon a parallel line, upon one side only of the street, not more than six inches from the curb upon Fifth street from Five Points to Beade street and from Five Points upon Dickinson avenue to Washington street.

In connection with the passage of the new legislation, it was stated that courtesy cards would be furnished by the Merchants Association to be issued to out-of-town people visiting the business district. With exception of a few changes, the ordinance is similar to provisions contained in a recommendation prepared by committees from the Merchants Association and the Board of Aldermen some time ago. The need of more complete parking regulations in the business district had been under fire for several months and action of the Board last night, it is believed, will greatly improve the traffic situation in the district.

A governor's constable in Greenville had been assigned to accompany Mr. Latimer but he was told today that he would not be needed. There have been practically no disturbances here.

J. W. Shaley, state commissioner of agriculture, who is also commissioner of commerce and industries, was expected here today to conduct the investigation.

The employees of the Brandon Corporation were to receive their last pay envelopes this afternoon. Under the system prevalent here the brand is held back a week. The Brandon mill employees are due two days' pay, they being the first to strike, with the others due more.

LONG SCORES ACCUSERS AT BATON ROUGE

Young Louisiana Governor Cheered By Thousands In Demonstration Last Night.

Baton Rouge, La., April 5.—(AP)—Louisiana was attempting today to digest the intense factional Democratic politics served it by opponents and supporters of its stormy young governor, Huey P. Long, who is fighting for his political life in the clutches of impeachment proceedings in the House of Representatives.

He sought to hold public opinion by bringing in his followers from all parts of the state last night to stage a demonstration in the capital, which he topped off with a burst of oratory that tore at his enemies and defending his record. He assailed in bitter terms all of the daily newspapers of Louisiana which he said were tramping at him because he dared to suggest a tax against the Standard Oil Company.

The crowd, which overflowed the hall and into the streets where they listened to him through a radio, yelled and cheered for three hours and endorsed his administration with unbridled applause.

The rally in the hall followed immediately adjournment of the House, where all day witnesses were questioned about the expenditure of an appropriation of $6,000 which Governor Long drew in cash to entertain the governors' conference in New Orleans last November. His accusers charged that he used $1300 of this fund to purchase an automobile, while Seymour Weiss, assistant manager of the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans, said the governor spent $6,200 on the visiting governors.

At the mass meeting Gov. Long pleaded for his followers to stand by him and not desert him while he had "his breast against the sword of his enemies."

Loud cheering often interrupted his speech and at its conclusion the crowd rushed forward to shake his hand and his companions had to force a way for him through the aisles.

A press photographer narrowly escaped man-handling when he shot a flashlight which brought a rebuke from the governor, who had previously warned that he would permit but one flashlight. Men in the crowd offered to throw him out but the governor requested them not to harm him and to let him out.

WITNESSES IN RUM RAID SLAYING

Philip Johnson (left), alleged to have purchased the liquor to be used as evidence against the De Kings, testified at inquest into killing of Mrs. Lillian De King in dry raid at Aurora, Ill. Eugene Boyd Fairchild, dry investigator, also testified.

D. L. Whichard, 1313 Washington street, died at 11:40 a. m. today after a lingering illness of about a year.

ORDER MILL STRIKERS TO QUIT HOUSES

Former Lory Employees Ordered To Vacate Mill Houses At Gastonia.

Gastonia, April 5.—(AP)—Notice that the former employees of the Lory mills here who do not longer desire to remain employees of the Manville-Jencks Company must vacate the mill houses and premises was made this morning in circulars distributed by the mill authorities.

As the workers who were due wages for last week filed by the pay window to receive their envelopes all were handed circulars in which the anonymous message was made that any persons not desiring to continue work must immediately vacate the houses.

J. A. Bueh, general manager of the mill said this morning that there were more people at work in the plant today than yesterday.

Quiet prevailed in the community as the five units of North Carolina national guard continued their patrol duty in the neighborhood of the plant, where several hundred strikers walked out at the call of the local labor union. The guardsmen were called out when trouble was feared Wednesday.

Bank Robbers Make Haul In South Carolina

Chester, S. C., April 5.—(AP)—The Bank of Blackstock, at Blackstock about 12 miles South of Chester, was burglarized last night. The vault door and two safes were blown open and about $1300 in cash, as well as other securities were taken. The work appeared to be that of professionals, police said, and no clues were found.

Bank Closes At Gastonia

Gastonia, April 5.—(AP)—The Commercial Bank and Trust Co. of Gastonia, with branches at Cherryville, Kings Mountain, Mount Holly and Lincolnton, failed to open its doors for business today.

The bank, a state institution, had a capital of $500,000 and deposits of about $2,500,000.

A statement posted on the door of the bank today said: "This bank has been closed and placed in the hands of the State Corporation Commission by order of the board of directors."

No reason for the closing was announced but it was reported that frozen assets were responsible.

Send Gunboat To Protect U. S. Property In Mexico

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson took energetic action today to protect Americans in the state of Sinaloa by requesting the Navy Department to send a destroyer to the port of Topolobampo.

The Secretary of State asked Secretary Adams to dispatch the destroyer to protect American and other nationals whom Mr. Stimson declared to be endangered by the retreat of Mexican rebel forces in Sinaloa.

As another measure of protection for Americans in Naco, Ariz., Mr. Stimson requested the secretary of war to convey to rebel leaders in Sonora an additional warning that their airplane pilots must refrain from dropping bombs into the American city when they raid the federal forces in the border. The secretary requested also that the War Department direct the American military commander at Naco to see that the warning is effective.

BODY OF DEAD AMBASSADOR ON WAY HOME

Remains Of Myron Herrick To Reach N. Y. Saturday, April 13th.

Brest, France, April 5.—(AP)—The body of Myron T. Herrick, ambassador to France, this morning was placed aboard the finest of the French cruisers, the Tourville, for its journey back to the United States. It will reach New York on Saturday, April 13.

In the brief interval between its arrival here aboard a special train from Paris at 7:30 a. m., and the transfer to the Tourville, in Brest, roads another impressive ceremony took place, as imposing in a small way as that at Paris yesterday.

Ships and harbor defenses gave the ambassadorial salute of 19 guns as the body was removed from the train and placed in the private reception room of the station where French infantry stood at present arms and a marine band played the Star Spangled Banner and "Aux Champs."

Rear Admiral Pirot, commander of the naval base at Brest, delivered a brief eulogy, to which Brigadier General William Harts, American military attaché at Paris, responded. Others around the bier were Louis Fontana, prefect of the Brest region, Harold Collins, American consular officer in charge, General Duval and Rear Admiral Herrick.

The Colonial infantry battalion band played "La Mort Dase," as the cortège started toward the harbor, a platoon of mounted Republican guards leading the procession. When the cortège reached the Avenue President Wilson, it halted while a naval band again played the Star Spangled Banner with muffled drums and muted instruments. A group of French veterans in civilian clothes at the Place President Wilson saluted as the body passed them.

Once again the Star Spangled Banner and "Aux Champs" were heard at the pier as the body was taken aboard the funboat Dolmen, its flag at half mast and with streamers of crepe from both masts. An immense crane, accustomed to transporting 30-ton guns and 60-ton boilers aboard men of war, gently lifted the coffin from the wharf to its deck.

Local Woman's Mother Dies At Athens, Georgia

Mrs. Emma Davis, mother of Mrs. T. T. Hollingsworth of this city, died at her home in Athens, Ga., last night at 9:30 o'clock, according to information received in this city today.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Athens Episcopal church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollingsworth were called to Mrs. Davis' bedside several days ago. Mrs. Davis was well known in Greenville, having visited here on several occasions.

Strikes Blamed On Living Conditions

Columbia, S. C., April 5.—(AP)—South Carolina Textile strikes are blamed upon "deplorable" living conditions in the mill villages and over work at the mills by a report in the hands of a state legislative committee early today.

The committee, appointed by the last legislature to investigate mill conditions, was preparing its report last night. In a statement issued before completion of the draft, it exonerated labor unions of blame and declared mill officials responsible for "putting more work on the employees than they can do."

The statement said the committee would report that it found conditions "deplorable both as to pay and to living." Families were declared to be in need even where their members were working regularly.

The committee will report, the statement said, that labor unions are non-existent among the Textile employees.

RECORD HEAT WAVE CLAIMED BY MID-WEST

Many People Hunt Parks And Beaches As Thermometers Climb To 93 Degrees.

Chicago, April 5.—(AP)—Another day of record-breaking heat was forecast today for the middle west, with temperatures in the 90's only a day behind.

The weather bureau said the abnormally high temperatures would continue today throughout most of the district, making an exception only of the northern half, where cooler weather was predicted.

Fruit trees blossomed at Jacksonville, Ill., where the thermometers climbed to 93. Chicago's 79 equalled the previous record for April 4 and sent many persons to the parks and beaches.

Big Damage From Boll Weevil Seen In North Carolina

Raleigh, April 5.—(AP)—A strong probability that boll weevil infestation in North Carolina's cotton crop will be heavier than ever before this season was seen today by B. W. Leiby, Entomologist of the State Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Leiby based his opinion on observations of boll weevil emergence made at Aberdeen where last fall a large number of weevils were placed in cages. Ten per cent of the number are reported to have left their winter quarters already, an emergence three times as great as ever recorded before at a date this early.

Although Mr. Leiby foresees a record-breaking infestation, he assured cotton planters that this does not necessarily mean that the crop will suffer more heavily than heretofore, because summer weather conditions are such an important factor in the development of weevil activities.

General Calles in a message to President Gil forwarded estimates of the carnage at La Reforma.

Rebel dead, he said, exceeded 1,000; wounded numbered 500. There were 2,000 prisoners. The dead lay in great stacks at La Reforma while arrangements for disposal of the bodies were made. General Calles said he had not had time to check up on federal casualties.

Other accounts of the La Reforma action described it as a "virtual massacre." So surprising was the federal attack that the rebels, caught on a dry barren plain without any other protection than their own arms, in some cases lay down on the ground where machine gun fire killed hundreds. Airplanes dropped 75 pound demolition bombs.

Success is attending the West Coast campaign also. General Lázaro Gardenas, in command there, reported the rebels of General Cruz and Ramon Turbe were retreating from Culiacan, capital of the State of Sinaloa, and that he expected to occupy it within two days, using it as a base for operations against Southern Sonora.

In revealing his plans for operations against the so-called religious insurgents of Jalisco and Guanajuato General Calles said the 5,000 men he is sending South under General Saturnino Cedillo would be joined by forces from Vera Cruz and Michoacan and by 1,000 volunteers gathered in the State of Zacatecas.

Calles has ordered repairs on the rail lines between Jimenez and La Reforma, which the rebels pulled up behind them as they fled from Jimenez Wednesday morning.

Nathan Leopold Dies at Chicago

Chicago, April 5.—(AP)—Nathan F. Leopold, Sr., last of the three fathers bowed under the tragedy of the Bobby Franks kidnaping, is dead at the age of 60.

A. H. Loeb, father of Richard Loeb died October 27, 1924. Jacob Franks, father of the slain Bobby, died April 19, 1928. All three men were prominent in Chicago life up to the time that Bobby Franks was kidnaped and killed by "Dickie" Loeb and Nathan F. Leopold, Jr. All lived in seclusion thereafter.

FEDERAL ARMY STILL CHASES REBEL TROOPS

Official Government Places Insurgent Losses at 1,000 In Jimenez Battle.

Now far into the State of Chihuahua, federal cavalry ranged rapidly North today in pursuit of the remnants of the rebel army reported virtually destroyed in fighting at Jimenez and La Reforma.

Official government figures on rebel losses placed the number of dead 1,000, the wounded at 500 and the captured at 2,000.

Rebel headquarters at Juarez, however, stated that it had received no advices of the extermination reported by the government.

On the other hand, messages coming from rebel commanders and travelers from Diaz, North of Jimenez, stated that General Almazan, the federal advance commander had been trapped between Escalera and Jimenez by strong rebel forces.

The campaign on the West Coast also was reported developing favorably for the government.

The rebels were stated to have evacuated Culiacan and to be retreating further Northward.

The situation at Naco on the border was still tense, neither the rebels nor the federals engaging in any but aerial warfare. In this the federals suffered heavily by the loss of the one plane stationed there.

A force of 800 federal sympathizers was reported forming in Northern Chihuahua for the purpose of attacking the rebel garrison at Juarez and bringing that border city back into the government fold.

Diverting attention to Jalisco and Guanajuato, the government continued its preparations to stamp out the so-called religious insurgents in those states.

Governor Phillips of Arizona has prepared a protest which will be sent to Washington, against the alleged movement of Mexican federal troops through Arizona.

Mexico City, April 5.—(AP)—General Plutarco Elias Calles today pushed federal cavalry northward through Santa Rosalia de Camargo in an effort to overtake and "exterminate" fleeing remnants of the rebel army which aviators sighted at dusk yesterday.

Having figuratively executed the rebellion at La Reforma Wednesday, he sought today to administer Mexico's traditional Coup de Grace.

Federal aviators sighted a lone troop train of four cars just North of Santa Rosalia, with many miles of damaged rail line between it and Chihuahua City. Nearby were comparatively small detachments of rebel cavalry.

Federal cavalry was immediately brought up from La Reforma for pursuit.

General Calles in a message to President Gil forwarded estimates of the carnage at La Reforma.

Rebel dead, he said, exceeded 1,000; wounded numbered 500. There were 2,000 prisoners. The dead lay in great stacks at La Reforma while arrangements for disposal of the bodies were made. General Calles said he had not had time to check up on federal casualties.

LOCALS MAKE EVEN BREAK IN DEBATES

Greenville, Washington and New Bern Eliminated in Contests Today.

Greenville, Washington and New Bern debating teams made an even break in the state-wide triangular debating contest today and automatically eliminated themselves from further participation in the series.

The Greenville affirmative team defeated Washington at Washington this morning at eleven o'clock. The negative team met defeat at New Bern at the same time.

While the New Bern team was hitting it in high places against Greenville at New Bern, the other Craven county team met disastrous defeat at the hands of Washington at the local high school building. The "fifty-fifty" break dashed the hopes of supporters of each of the schools that their teams would survive the elimination contests and go to Chapel Hill for the semi-finals leading to the championship.

The World Court was the subject of the debate in all three cities. The Greenville affirmative team at Washington was composed of Miss Jane Hall and Ray O'Brian. They were accompanied by Miss Madge Daniels, high school English teacher. The negative team at New Bern was composed of Hoover Tall and Warren Scoville. They were accompanied by Miss Clem Bridges, debate coach.

Both Miss Hall and young O'Brian were members of the debating team last year.

Reserve Banks Told To Continue Credit Adjustments Plans

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—Continuation of the credit adjustment cooperation of Federal Reserve banks and member banks which has been attended by curtailment of brokers' loans in recent weeks was called for by the Federal Reserve board in a statement published today reiterating its warning of February 7.

The board's statement of February 7, it recalled, "pointed out that, owing to the unusual absorption of credit in the security market, money rates to business were increasing at a time of the year when money conditions are unusually easy."

"In his statement," it explained, "the board endeavored to enlist the cooperation of the Federal Reserve banks and member banks, in order to bring about an orderly readjustment in the credit situation. Progress in this readjustment in recent weeks is indicated by the decline in brokers' loans of members banks."

"Continued developments in this direction, indicating a definite reversal of recent trends, would release an increasing amount of credit for the use of trade and would lead to an easing in the money situation. The objective of its policy, the board declared, "is a resumption of small increase and bank investments have declined slightly."

"In New York City the growth in bank credit had been practically confined to so-called 'all other loans' that is, loans not secured by stocks and bonds. This class of loans by New York City banks increased by nearly $200,000,000 between early February and the end of March."

Seaman Losses Life In Battle With Sea; Rescue Boat and Crew

Philadelphia, April 5.—(AP)—The auxiliary schooner Nomad lay at rest in the Philadelphia harbor today, her skipper lost in a watery grave and her millionaire owner and crew of two resting from 11 days' battle with angry seas.

The 125 foot pleasure craft was towed to port by coast guard patrol boat 107 from a point 18 miles off Cape May where it had been sighted aimlessly drifting without a helmsman by Ensign W. E. Anderson, coast guard aviator.

Aboard the craft today was customs officer Luther Sterner who told of the Nomad's terrifying log as it had been related to him by the owner Leland H. Ross, of New York City. Ross and the crew Richard J. French, steward, and Henry G. Push sailor, rested in their bunks below monition, placed his wife ashore just before they left. Within a few hours the motors failed and when decks.

The Nomad, Sterner said, put out from Charleston 11 days ago, flying the pennant of the New York Yacht Club. Ross, as if acting on pre-emptive efforts to repair them failed sail was set.

The Nomad plowed through gradually mounting seas under full sail until a sudden squall tore away part of the mainsail. Captain John L. Schofield climbed aloft to make repairs when a rolling sea wrenched him from the mast and washed him overboard. He was never seen again.

Day after day Ross and his crew worked to keep the craft headed into the sea. Water flooded the stores and surmured the engines.

A distress signal was flown. On the eleventh day, with all on board prostrated by exhaustion, the Nomad was sighted by the aviator and a patrol boat despatched to assist her. Sterner denied that Ross and his crew were drunk or that the craft was without a helmsman when picked up. He declined to comment upon the statement that forty bottles of liquor were found in the ship's cabin. It was reported that federal authorities would make a through investigation of the Nomad's voyage since leaving Charleston an dtho manner in which Captain Schofield lost his life.

Many Families Are Marooned By Michigan Flood

Detroit, April 5.—(AP)—Hundreds of families early today were marooned in their homes by flood waters from Comor's Creek on Detroit's east side, caused by heavy rains. Water to a depth of five feet swept over the streets and many families were forced to the second floor of their homes. Police received reports that members of one family had been overcome by gas but were unable to reach the house to attempt a rescue.

An area about a mile square was flooded. Automobiles parked on streets were swept away, some of them several blocks. Basements of stores in the district were filled with water. Shopkeepers opened up to sell hip boots and waders to rescuers.

In addition to the work of removing those most seriously in danger, police and other workers were confronted with the problem of clearing clogged sewers. One fire company was called out and aided with ladders in removing marooned persons from their homes.

The program for the afternoon provided by the hostess was a most unusual and interesting one. She had requested several of the members to tell some facts about the life and writings of her favorite short story writer. The writers mentioned and charmingly discussed were Clarence Budington Kelland, O. Henry, Oppenheim, Peter B. Kyne, Fannie Kilburn and Irvin Cobb. In her usual vivacious manner, Mrs. Spilman read "Boob Husband," by W. O. Saunders. It is one of his articles written in a humorous vein and one in which he was at his best, the "Boob Husband" being the husband of the modern woman of forty-five and more who never tires.

The program was concluded by Miss Shillie Joyner Davis who gave Struthers Burt's short story, "A Cup of Tea," a story full of unique situations told in a most interesting way.

The hostess, assisted by her daughter, Miss Margaret Hassell, served a delicious salad course.

OPPORTUNITY

How often one hears it said, "I could have been as great as he, but I was never given the opportunity." What is this wonderful thing so frequently referred to and to whom is it restricted? Apparently, some believe that it is a gift offered to only a favored few who, immediately upon receiving it, are borne upward by its wonderful qualities to the height of fortune without further effort upon their part.

Equalization Fund. According to a bulletin of the National Educational Association, as cited by The News and Observer, only four States in the Union spend a greater percentage of their tax revenues on schools than does North Carolina.

For higher education the State is paying more than the nationwide average. While the average for the nation is $1 for higher education to $10 for public salaries, North Carolina is paying $1.00 to $6.50.

We have not yet attained to the degree of educational diffusion in North Carolina that would represent an ideal condition, but it is evident that we are pouring our wealth into this enterprise at a pace that was never dreamed of as possible even back yonder when Governor Aycock electrified North Carolina with his impassioned pleas for free schools.

ABOUT TOWN

"Typhoid clinics conducted over the county by the Department of Health are meeting with splendid success," said one of the public health workers today.

"The majority of people are responding to the effort to complete the inoculations before planting season actually gets under way. Several hundred were inoculated the first day of the clinic and this has been continuing with varying degrees of success ever since."

"By taking the treatment now farmers will be over the effect and in splendid condition to look after duties of the farm when the season for planting actually opens."

"Members of the Association realized a great ambition when they reached the hundred mark in membership last Wednesday," said a member of the organization today.

"Our debating teams went off today to attempt to capture victories over New Bern and Washington in the preliminaries of the state-wide triangular contest," reminded a citizen this morning.

Tobacconists To Invade Piedmont Territory For Four Games Next Week

Members of the Greenville club of the Eastern Carolina league will leave Sunday for the central part of the state for four exhibition games with club of the Piedmont league. The schedule calls for games with Winston-Salem, High Point, Greensboro and Durham. They will be out of the city about five days.

Manager Bangs believes these games will put his club in splendid trim for the opening of the Eastern Carolina league season the 19th of this month. Other exhibition games however, will be played on the home grounds before the opening of the circuit and Greenville people will be given an opportunity of seeing their home town club in action.

Labor Flare Up Reported From Elizabethtown

Elizabethtown, Ten., April 5.—(AP)—The eyes of organized labor were focused on Elizabethtown today as a result of a flare up over recent labor troubles which drew from President Green of the American Federation of Labor an emphatic protest of what he termed an "outrage" against labor officials.

He referred to the alleged abjection of E. P. McGrady, legislative representative of the American Federation of Labor and A. L. Hoffman, Textile Union organizer who claimed they were taken from their hotel by a party of about 20 men early yesterday and "run out of town". The incident resulted in the arrest of six Elizabethtown citizens.

In a formal statement issued at Washington, Mr. Green called on Governor Horton to "bring the criminals to justice" and to afford the labor officials protection while in Elizabethtown. He further declared that "if necessary" he would pay Elizabethtown a personal visit "as a challenge to this lawlessness."

An undercurrent of feeling that followed a recent strike affecting local Rayon Mills was believed responsible for yesterday's demonstration.

McGrady and Hoffman reported last night they were unharmed after being taken from their rooms, placed in automobiles and ordered to leave the vicinity. McGrady was in Bristol, Tenn., and Hoffman was in Asheville, N. C. J. B. Penix, local labor organizer reported that an effort also was made to kidnap him which was frustrated when his sister handed him a pistol and he fired on a group of alleged abductors.

The men arrested were J. L. Trolinger, said to be a Rayon plant foreman; Charles D. Meadows, A. A. Hale, Roy Wilcox, Nat Perry, and Paul Nedearis. All declined to comment on the incident. They waived preliminary hearing and were held to the State under bond of $1,000 each.

Championship At Stake in Pinehurst

Pinehurst, April 5.—(AP)—The North and South Women's championship lay today between Miss Glenna Collett, of Providence, R. I., National champion, and Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago star.

With a long list of America's notable women golfer left along their line of march these two were pitted against each other in the finals here today. Miss Collett reached the last chapter by virtue of a bitterly contested match yesterday in which she defeated Miss Marion Tuppie of New Orleans by a one up margin.

Miss Van Wie's semi-finals victim was Miss Edith Quier, of Reading, Pa., whom she defeated five and the Piedmont clubs something to think about before the dust of battle clears away.

Practically every member of the organization will be taken on its invasion of the Piedmont territory. Bangs will have a great array of hurlers to chase from, chief among them being "Deacon" Joliff, iron man performer of last season, and Cherry, a youngster who showed much promise last year.

Although definite announcement has not been made as to the clubs to play in exhibition games on the Greenville lot following the team's return from the central part of the state, it is a known fact several good games are in the offing and that announcement will be forthcoming in the next few days.

Stellar performance is expected of the club in the clash with the Piedmont clubs and Greenville fans are watching the outcome of the engagements with more than ordinary interest.

Bunion Derby Off On Forty Mile Lap

Havre de Grace, Md., April 5.—(AP)—Some fifty of C. G. Pyle's "Bunion Derby" runners bound for the Pacific, shivered in a biting drizzle while they lined up alongside the Pennsylvania station here today for a roll call to start the day's lap of about forty miles to Baltimore. The start was made in threatening weather and some of the runners set out in oil skins and raincoats.

Behind them strings a vari-colored file of automobiles bearing their camp equipment and attendants.

Tomorrow the runners will press on to Frederick and Sunday will take them to Hancock Md.

Present top standings are: First Herbert Hedeman, New York; second, John Salo, Passaic, N. J.; third, Edward Gardner, Seattle; fourth, Paul Simpson, Burlington, N. C.

Lindy Makes Flight With Morrow Girls

Guerravaca, Mexico, April 5.—(AP)—All three of the daughters of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow are air minded. One of them in June will be Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, foremost aviator. The other two, since sister is to have an airman husband, are losing no chances to get some of their thrills for themselves.

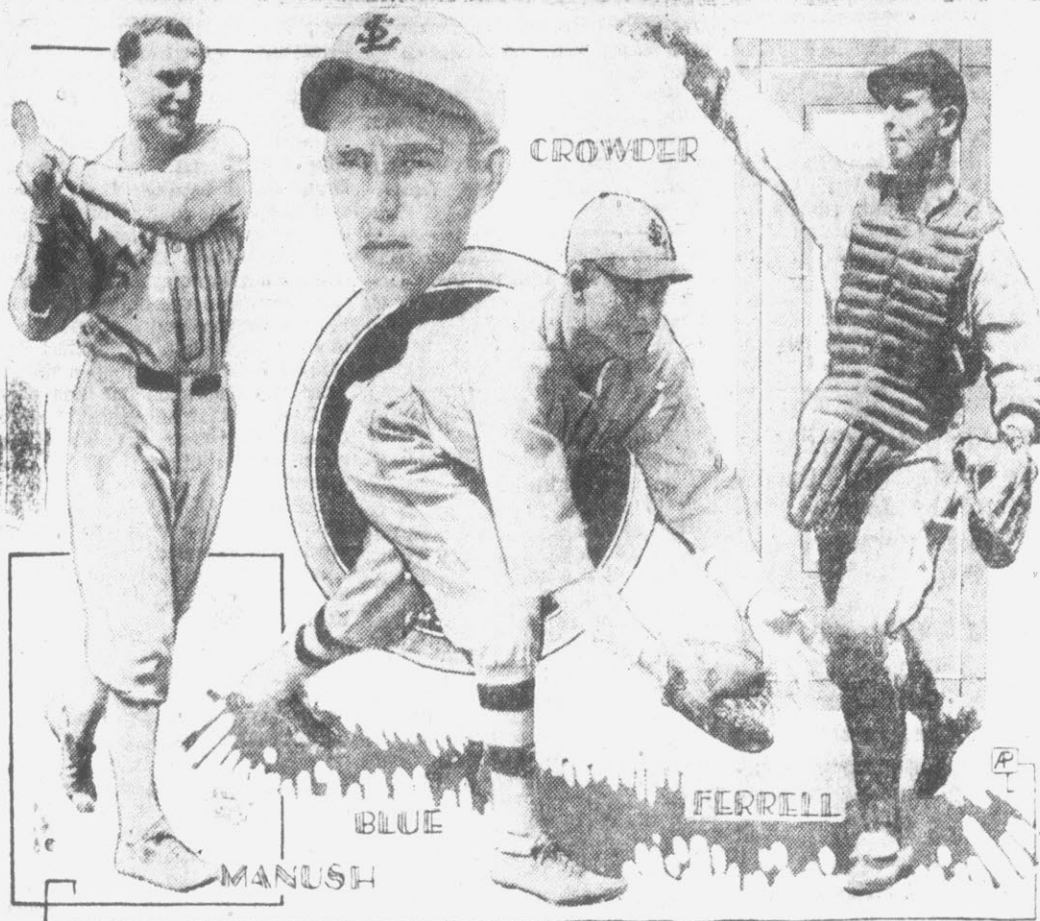

Miss Elizabeth Morrow, sister of Colonel Lindbergh's fiancée, Anne, flew with him yesterday for more than an hour. Their trip in his small two seated plane took them over the twin volcanoes Popocatepetl and Ixtaccihualt. Such a trip fosters the budding romance of Colonel Lindbergh and Anne in early days of their courtship.

Anne's other sister, Constance, who will return shortly to school in the United States went for an airplane ride too, though hers was not so long as Elizabeth's. Anne herself did not get to go until her two sisters had come back to earth. It was her second trip with her aviator husband to be since she crashed with him at Valbuena more than a month ago.

An early arising today was inevitable for the aviator, who with Mrs. Morrow and the three daughters came to the Morrow country home in Mexico, he has not liked his extra vink in the morning but for the simple reason that since the revolution the noise attendant to a kind of modified martial law makes sleep after 6 A. M., almost impossible.

The twentieth child has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green of Farragut, Iowa.

BIG FOUR OF BROWNS IN TRIM FOR 1929 SEASON

This is the big four of the St. Louis Browns. Manush came within one point of the league batting title last year. Alvin Crowder has just as much stuff as last year, when he won 21 games and lost only five. Lu Blue, from his first base position, is steadying Dan Howley's infield. Ferrell is ace of the catching staff.

Social Crisis Is Troubling Capital City

Washington, April 5.—(AP)—The capital's current social crisis over the status of Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, sister and official hostess of Vice-President Curtis, is causing many worried hostesses to turn hopefully to history for precedents to guide them until Secretary Stimson hands down his final decision.

Most of the incidents which have raised similar questions in the past, however, have to do either with the official hostesses of social events or with those of official ranking lower than the Vice-President.

With specific guidance thus denied them, some have about decided to follow the ruling made by Former Secretary Kellogg just before his retirement that Mrs. Gann as a guest at official dinners, should follow and not precede the wives of Ambassadors and Ministers.

In view of Mr. Curtis' protest of this ruling and his belief that his official hostess should be accorded the same recognition a Vice-President's wife would receive, which would place her ahead of diplomats' wives, other hostesses are not nearly so certain about what to do. Mr. Curtis and Mrs. Gann, meanwhile, are abiding by their hostesses' decisions.

All of the trouble is laid on the door of "precedence." There must be precedence, all Washington officials and their wives agree. A member of the diplomatic corps is credited with having once explained, "since the good God made us so that we cannot all get through the door at once, there must be precedence."

Dry Agent Says He Is Going To Tell Everything

Aurora, Ill., April 4.—(AP)—Eugene Boyd Fairchild, County dry investigator who was arrested last night on charges of perjury, said he had been "double crossed" by county authorities and that he was "going to tell everything" he knew about the events leading to the fatal shooting of Mrs. Lillian DeKing during a dry raid.

Fairchild said when officers found him at his father's home in Odell, Ill., that he did not even read the search warrant which he signed and which was the basis of the raid in which Mrs. DeKing was shot by Deputy Sheriff Roy Smith.

"I signed the affidavit because I was told to do so by Walter Miller, the chief investigator," Fairchild said. "I told him I hadn't made the buy myself, but that another man had, and he said it made no difference."

The search warrant stated that Fairchild had brought liquor from a woman in a house whose description roughly fitted the DeKing home. It was the investigator's statement to a coroner's jury Tuesday that he had made any liquor purchases there that resulted in the issuance of a warrant for his arrest.

Fairchild also blamed his disappearance after the inquest on his superiors. The chief investigator came to him, Fairchild said, and told him to get out of town again. (He had previously disappeared the day after the shooting.)
