RAYON STRIKE ENTERS SIEGE STAGE TODAY

Officials Plan to Close Mills As Workers Begin Fight to The Finish Program.

Elizabethtown, Tenn., April 17.—(AP)—An extended siege in the Rayon Mill strike here was in prospect today as officials of the American Federation of Labor and the American Rayon plants adjusted their machinery for an indefinite shutdown and the 5,000 striking employees announced they were prepared to "see it to a finish."

William P. Kelley, Vice-President of the United Textile Workers of America, here to direct strikers, said the announcement that the plants had closed indefinitely "suits us fine."

Dr. Arthur Mothwurf, President of both Rayon Corporations, adopted a similar attitude toward the strikers, turning his plants over to W. C. Boyd, Assistant General of the Tennessee National guard, for safekeeping. Boyd was in personal charge of two companies of guardsmen sworn in as special deputies and stationed about the plants to prevent repetition of the troubles which attended the walkout Monday, when workers, angered because some of their number had been discharged, entered the grounds and called the strike.

One picketer was under arrest on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, and another was in a hospital after being shot in the arm by an assailant. He and his fellow picketers said they could not identify. Shots fired into the air when two girls employed attempted to drive through ticket lines preceded the arrest of another but Sheriff J. M. Moreland said he was not certain the arrested worker fired the shots.

The labor leaders expected William McMahon, President of the United Textile Workers, to arrive Friday, and also had asked Paul Aymon, President of the Tennessee Federation of Labor, and W. C. Birtwright, Secretary of the Federation to come here.

There were rumors that warrants against the Elizabethtown business men who recently were said to have kidnapped two labor leaders, would be served this week, but Kelley and Alfred Hoffman, one of the kidnapped organizers, said the matter was in abeyance pending an investigation now being conducted by a Nashville law firm retained by the textile union. Several warrants have been served.

Labor leaders insisted that wages the center of dispute in a textile strike here several weeks ago, had nothing to do with the present walkout. They said company officials had refused to treat with grievance committees appointed under a recent agreement, and that until the company did promise "to meet us on fair ground" the strike would continue.

Winterville Man Found Dead in Bed

M. Joe McLawhorn, 54, was found dead in bed at his home in Winterville this morning about 6 o'clock, according to information reaching the city today. The death was discovered by a neighbor who visited the McLawhorn home and entered after being unable to get a response to repeated knocks for admittance.

Funeral services will be conducted from the late home of the deceased tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock by Rev. M. A. Woodard, pastor of the Wesley Branch church. Burial will follow in the family burying ground near Winterville.

Since the death of his mother last year, Mr. McLawhorn had lived alone. Coroner E. S. Williams was summoned to investigate the death but found that an inquest was unnecessary owing to the fact that death was probably due to an attack of apoplexy. It was known that the deceased suffered from high blood pressure.

Mr. McLawhorn is survived by two brothers, J. H. and John McLawhorn; one sister, Mrs. Mary Robinson, all of Pitt county.

No Recognition

Trenton, N. J.—The bicentennial of a great inventor has come by without recognition, notwithstanding the efforts of Alexander Simpson, state senator. Little or no attention was paid to the senator's motion that the state properly celebrate the 200th birthday of "The Great Philanthropist," Daniel Rariden, of South Amboy, who, the senator said, originated the brass rail in front of the American bar.

Storms Claim Heavy Toll Along The Atlantic Coast

New York, April 17.—(AP)—The Atlantic Coast from Maine to Virginia was strewn with wreckage today, piled up under the battering of a northeast storm.

While wind and waves sank small craft, demolished shipping and damaged shore structures along the coast. There was heavy snow in Western New York and Pennsylvania.

In New York harbor a tug and two barges were sunk. Six liners were held outside the harbor waiting for the weather to moderate before proceeding to their piers. The tide in the harbor rose to within a foot of the top of the battery wall and was close to the record, being four feet above normal.

At Bell harbor in the Rockway district a three story frame dwelling collapsed when the tide brought the high waves within reach of it.

The wind reached a velocity of 50 miles along the Maine Coast. A five masted schooner in Casco Bay was torn from her moorings and thrown on the rocks. Ships in port were lashed to their wharves. Communication lines throughout the state were down.

In Central Vermont the rain turned into snow. Roads in the mountains were blocked and telephone and telegraph service was crippled.

Fruit growers in Maryland, Virginia and Delaware reported heavy damage to orchards as the storm beat blossoms and buds from the trees.

The wind attaining a velocity of 78 miles an hour at Atlantic City. At point Pleasant Beach, N. J., a mile section of board walk was swept to sea.

At Avalon, N. J., a family of four was rescued by Coast Guardsmen after the spring tides and heavy seas had surrounded their bungalow.

Frank Marcy, a factory worker at Stamford, Conn., was struck on the head by a section of fence blown down by the wind and killed.

In Western New York and Pennsylvania the storm assumed the aspects of a blizzard. At Oneonta, N. Y., ten inches of snow fell.

Wind lashed up six foot drifts.

Scores of motorists were marooned at Towanda, Pa., where the snow reached a depth of 11 inches. There were sleet and snow at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and throughout the Wyoming Valley.

DECLARE WAR ON RUM EVIL IN MEXICO

President Portis Gil Takes Steps to Rid Nation of "Demon Rum."

Mexico City, April 17.—(AP)—President Portis Gil, the rebellion fast dying in the north, moved today to rid his nation of "The Demon Rum."

A tremendous educational program, designed to wean Mexicans from whiskey bottles and pulque cups, will be set in motion at once. The advantages of water and milk much of which in Mexico is obtained from goats, will be taught the people.

The President does not contemplate prohibition in any sense; there will be no enforcement of obligatory abstinence. State and city governments, Agrarian and labor organizations, and civic bodies throughout the country merely were besought in a statement to start an anti-drink campaign immediately.

The chief points on the program suggested by the President were: refusal by city and state governments to sanction new "vice centers," not even to replace those closed, requirement of one hour a week in all public schools to lectures on the rum evil, and development of sports to take Mexicans' minds off of vice.

His appeal, the President stressed, was principally to common sense; he termed alcohol "the powerful ally of tyrannies and unjust exploitation." Previously he had coupled excessive drinking in Mexico with various forms of so-called social evil and vice which he said had sapped the strength of the Mexican people.

The anti-alcohol move came as a sequel to the President's order two days ago to close all gambling houses in Ciudad Juarez, across the Rio Grande from El Paso, and attempt to suppress vice in the state of Chihuahua, just recovered from the rebels.

Merchants Celebrate The Hundred Member Mark

Celebrating the reaching of the one hundred membership mark, the Greenville Merchants Association entertained at a fish fry at the country club last night. The affair was marked by a number of short talks dealing with the record of the organization, and the rendition of several numbers by a local quartet. Despite overcast skies that gave forth intermittent showers, the fry was largely attended by members and numbers of guests.

LOCAL LEGION AND AUXILIARY IN JOINT MEET

Mrs. Iseley of Raleigh Chief Speaker At Gathering Here Last Night.

Mrs. George Iseley, of Raleigh, state president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion, addressed a joint meeting of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion and Auxiliary at the Rotary club last night. She spoke on the needs of the organization and what they are accomplishing in behalf of disabled ex-service men. She was presented by Mrs. K. E. Pace.

The meeting was attended by a large number of both men and women and proved decidedly one of the most outstanding of the year. Commander A. B. Corey, presided. A delightful supper was served.

Mrs. Iseley also spoke at a joint meeting of district auxiliaries at the Woman's club yesterday afternoon.

As head of the Woman's Auxiliary of the state, Mrs. Iseley was able to present a wealth of information dealing with Legion activities. She particularly stressed the need of caring for the number of former service men at Oteen. She told of what the various posts had been doing and said there was no doubt about it, the men were fully appreciative of everything done in their behalf.

She urged the local auxiliary to greater activity in the various phases of work and mentioned in a brief way some of the things her own town had done in improving their condition. The address was one of the most enlightening the Legion and Auxiliary members have heard in some time and is expected to result in much good.

WOMAN FOUND NOT GUILTY IN ASSAULT CASE

Mrs. Mollie Nelson, of Bethel, Not Guilty of Assaulting Aged Farmer.

Mrs. Mollie May Nelson, well known woman of the Bethel community, was found not guilty of an assault charge by a jury sitting at the criminal term of Pitt County Superior Court in this city today. She was charged with assaulting Frank Robinson, 68-year-old farmer, also residing in the Bethel community.

The case consumed all day yesterday and went to the jury this morning shortly after court convened. The jury returned a decision within about thirty minutes after receiving the case.

Robinson alleged that Mrs. Nelson had held him up at the point of a gun and forced him to write her a check for $5,000 which he later canceled. The defendant contended that Robinson had made improper proposals to her and offered her the check in an effort to settle the case.

It was understood that Mrs. Nelson recently filed a $21,000 civil action against Robinson and this will probably come up for airing at the next term of civil court.

The grand jury was putting finishing touches to examination of cases today preparing for a visit to county offices. The jury is composed of W. J. Boyd, foreman, Roy Bowers, R. T. Rogerson, Z. M. Whitehurst, G. H. Hudson, R. V. Keel, E. J. Peaden, H. C. Haddock, L. S. Edwards, J. S. James, G. A. Glenn, C. L. Stokes, B. J. Tyson, J. E. Davis, Howard Stokes, J. H. Coward, W. K. Pittman, C. L. Little.

The following true bills had been returned by the grand jury prior to today's sitting:

Robert and Mattie McKeel, larceny and receiving; Arthur Johnson, larceny; Charles Euse, forgery; Julius Barrett, assault with a deadly weapon; Andrew Sheppard, larceny; E. L. Bifolus, embezzlement; E. E. McLawhorn and Burton Corbett, robbery; Ray Stokes, breaking into entering and larceny; J. J. Stephenson, seduction.

How To Build A Bigger And Better Greenville

"Our Greenville, Yours If You Come."

I am a little girl who lives in the country, but since I have been coming to Greenville to school for four years, I feel as though it is "my Greenville," too.

Although we are very proud of our city as it is, there are many things to improve it.

First of all, I think we need a good library. A library reaches more people in a city more than any other one thing. The people in the city not only enjoy it, but the people in the country as well.

Wider and better lighted streets would also be a great improvement. We should keep the streets we already have clean. Sunday when I go to town, I can't help from noticing the papers and rubbish lying in the streets.

I think we could make the town more attractive by planting trees, flowers and shrubbery.

We also need a public park or

Germans Request Million Dollar Reparations Cut

Paris, April 17.—(AP)—Germany's counter plan for paying her World War reparations, presented to the Allied Experts of the second Dawes Committee by Dr. Schacht, Chief of the German delegation this afternoon, is understood to offer about one billion marks less per year than the creditors demanded.

Payments would continue 37 years instead of 58 years proposed by the Allies in their memorandum. The German offer envisaged annuities beginning at 1,100,000,000 marks and rising to 1,450,000,000 marks.

SEC. MELLON TO CONTINUE IN CABINET

Senate Committee Concludes That He May Carry on Without Renomination.

Washington, April 17.—(AP)—The Senate judicial committee in special session today concluded that Andrew W. Mellon could carry on in the Hoover cabinet as Secretary of Treasury without renomination.

More than 100 precedents were found of cabinet officers who had continued in office from one administration to another without having their renomination again referred to the Senate for confirmation.

Considerable discussion arose, however, as to the second phase of the resolution of Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, questioning the right of Mellon to hold office in the face of an old statute forbidding the Secretary of the Treasury to be interested in trade or commerce.

The question also was raised over Mr. Mellon's connections with the Overholt Distillery Corporation, of which he was at one time a stockholder. There is an old statute forbidding a revenue officer to be engaged in the whiskey business.

Suggestions were advanced that Mr. Mellon be asked to come before the committee or send it a statement of the extent of his business interests and this provoked considerable discussion.

Hoover Message Proved Puzzling To Legislators

Washington, April 17.—(AP)—Congressional leaders in a quagmire President Hoover seems to have put by some of his recommendations for administrative changes in the tariff act affecting the tariff commission.

They are frankly at a loss to understand precisely that he had in mind when he wrote in his first message that the commission should be reorganized. They will seek amplification and also will inquire whether it is his desire to have these recommendations written into the bill being drafted by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Interpreting the language of the Chief Executive in its most literal sense, some leaders said there would have to be legislation abolishing the present commission and setting up a new one under a wholly different plan of operation than that laid down in the tariff act of 1922.

Representative Tilson of Connecticut, Republican leader in the House, said he was confident Mr. Hoover wanted to have a commission composed of men of the broadest attainments who would arrive at reasonably speedy conclusions on tariff rate changes and whose recommendations to the Chief Executive would command the confidence of the country.

Chairman Snoot of the Senate Finance Committee suggested that the present act might be amended to increase salaries which would attract the highest class of men for service on the commission. However he was uncertain as to just what the President had in mind.

Terms of the present members of the commission under their twelve-year appointments expire one by one during each of the alternate years between 1930 and 1940 so that normally a reorganization of the personnel of the body could not be affected during the present term of President Hoover.

Ever since the flexible provision of the 1922 act came into force there has been intermittent friction within the commission and this finally led to a Senate investigation some three years ago by a committee headed by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader in the Senate.

Methods of finding foreign valuations have been one source of disagreement among the commissioners in the past, although in more recent years if there have been internal disturbances they have been kept within the confines of the commission headquarters.

Chairman Marvin and other members of the commission long have contended that the delays in making recommendations to the President on rate changes have been due to the requirements laid down by Congress as to how the differences in the cost of production at home and abroad shall be determined.

This situation was recognized by President Hoover in his message in which he stated that "the formula upon which the commission must now act often requires that years be consumed in reaching conclusions where it should require only months."

Efforts of the tariff body to obtain foreign costs of production by examination of the books of foreign manufacturers have led to considerable friction abroad, as in the case of investigations into Argentine corn and many products of France, Switzerland and other European countries.

The chief executive made no specific recommendation for a new formula, but one favored by some members of the commission is that of invoice values together with other easily determined quantities entering into the making of a rate equalizing production costs.

Bandits Shoot Two And Escape With Payroll at N. Y.

New York, April 17.—(AP)—A band of robbers in an automobile today held up and shot a policeman and a bank messenger who were guarding a payroll and escaped with a sum estimated at between $40,000 and $50,000.

The robbers sped up beside the payroll car and shot patrolman Joseph Clancy and the messenger John McKane. Clancy was seriously wounded but McKane was hurt only slightly.

The money was in several and was being taken to the Bell Telephone laboratories in Bethune street.

Eugene Crowley, 17, a pedestrain, was struck in the right leg by a stay bullet from one of the robbers guns.

The money was being transported in a taxicab instead of an armored car as is the custom in delivery of most large payrolls.

The visitors will be taken to consolidated school districts where beautification projects have been in progress for some time. After inspecting the schools, they will return to the Woman's club building where lunch will be served.

After lunch they will be taken to several homes of the city, where they will have an opportunity of studying features that go into the making of the home beautiful.

GEORGE ROSS DIRECT PRISON FARMS IN N. C.

Governor Gardner Announces Plans for Profitable Use Of State Convicts.

Raleigh, April 17.—(AP)—Two plans of Governor Gardner for making profitable use of the state's growing number of convicts were sketched in broad outline today.

One of them was revealed in the appointment of George Ross as director of prison farms, a new position, with a view to increasing the production of the farms in such articles as are now imported by North Carolina, and the development of a supply of such products for the 20,000 population in state institutions.

The other was the determination to make use of convicts in the building of state highways. After directors of the prison had appointed a committee yesterday to seek arrangements with contractors whereby the latter would agree to employ convicts, the governor let it be known that he does not expect to let any escapable obstacle prevent this use of prisoners.

"If necessary," he declared, "the state will obtain road equipment, and enter into the bidding for contracts before the highway department. I believe we can underbid any outsiders. We already have the labor at no cost except to feed and guard the workers, and we have that to do anyway."

The problem of what to do with the prison population of the state, was described as serious by the governor, who pointed out that admissions to the prison for the first quarter of this year exceeded the total admissions for all of 1917 and 1918.

At the prison, he said, 600 convicts are being maintained without any profitable employment, costing the state around $500 a day. The farms are over-innanned, he said, there being 700 prisoners at Caledonia when not more than 500 are needed.

"To keep these prisoners in idleness is not only a drain on the state," he said, "but it is not conducive to the welfare of the men themselves."

CREDIT ISSUE GETS THOUGHT FROM SOLONS

Administration Leaders Study Situation Created by Federal Reserve Board.

Washington, April 17.—(AP)—Administration leaders at the capitol are quietly studying suggestions for legislation at the extra session on the credit situation, which has been emphasized recently by the efforts of the Federal Reserve Board to check the flow of money into speculative channels.

There have been many indications of an early discussion of the subject in both the Senate and the House, but after conferences at the treasury and in administration circles generally, the Republican party leaders at the capitol are just watching and waiting.

The Federal Reserve Board seems destined to be the major subject of the congressional discussions. There are some ready to criticize it for its statements admonishing the member banks to curtail loans to brokers and dealers. There are others prepared to assail the board for not taking this step sooner.

Senator Glass of Virginia, a former Democratic secretary of the treasury, and one of the authors of the Federal Reserve act, is one who believes the board should have acted sooner.

Wisconsin LaFollette, Republican of Wisconsin, introduced a resolution more than a year ago asking the Federal Reserve Board to admonish member banks against an increase in the tremendous amount of loans made to brokers and dealers. The Senate banking committee favorably reported the resolution to the Senate, but it was never acted upon.

Both Senator Glass and Senator LaFollette are ready to tackle the complex problem of amending the Federal Reserve act in an effort to legalize a greater restriction on reserve funds apt to get into speculation but neither is willing to undertake the task at the extra session unless there is an assurance that the House banking committee will be organized and that both houses will be in a position to take action.

"Certainly there should be some formula," says Senator LaFollette, "for meeting the excessive use of money in speculation. But this question should be taken up when both branches of Congress are in a position to act upon it."

Nevertheless, plenty of resolutions and suggestions for legislation will be placed before Congress. As soon as the Senate is ready to do business, Senator King, Democrat, Utah, plans to propose an investigation of the credit situation and legislation aimed at forbidding the use of Federal Reserve funds in marginal transactions on stock exchanges.

BABE RUTH IS WEDDED TODAY AT NEW YORK

Home Run King Married to Mrs. Claire Hodgson Early Today.

New York, April 17.—(AP)—Babe Ruth, king of baseball's home run clouters, was married in St. Gregory's Roman Catholic church today to Mrs. Claire Hodgson while a tiny group of early morning worshippers bent to their prayers.

In strange contrast to the boisterous diamond personality of the New York Yankee slugger the wedding took place in the quiet dignity of the neighborhood parish, conducted by Father William H. Hughes shortly before the regular 6:30 a. m. mass.

Aside from the bridal party of half a dozen, there were less than 60 persons in the church.

The genial Babe, smiling but serious, arrived at the church with his small, dark-haired and attractive bride 25 minutes before the ceremony and joined other early morning worshippers in the all but vacant pews. A few minutes later Father Hughes stepped before the altar, called forth the names of the baseball star and Mrs. Hodgson and performed the brief wedding ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Ruth remained for the short mass.

Once the ceremony was over, Ruth clad in a blue suit with a white shirt and tan shoes, promised two altar boys autographed baseballs, and escorted his smiling bride down the aisle and into the battery of cameras that boomed a greeting.

The couple stopped but a minute with newspapermen and hurried away in Ruth's tan closed car to the 11 room apartment of the new Mrs. Ruth at the corner of Riverside Drive and 84th Street.

While waiting for the informal wedding breakfast with the small bridal party that accompanied the couple to the church, the Babe greeted newspapermen. He was soon in shirt-sleeves, escorting his visitors proudly about his new home, while Mrs. Ruth busied herself making everyone comfortable.

"We're not going on a honeymoon," she smiled to questioners. "We're going to work now and win another pennant."

"That's right," said the Babe, "we'll have our honeymoon on the ball field."

The weather beaten parish church was less than a tenth full during the ceremony, the bride wore a purple ensemble with a tight fitting purple hat, "blonde" stockings, and black pumps. Mr. and Mrs. George H. Lovell, of Earsdale, N. Y., long friends of the bridegroom, attended the couple. The bride's mother, Mrs. C. L. Merritt, a neighbor, H. L. Merritt and a few friends completed the party.

Although none of the Babe's team mates on the Yankee team, nor owners and officials of the club attended the ceremony, the normal quota of shiny-faced "kids" who attend Ruth everywhere, craved the chill rain and wind to see their hero.

The marriage today was the second for both the Babe and his bride. Ruth's first wife, Helen Woodford Ruth, died three months ago in a fire that destroyed the home of Dr. Edward H. Kinder in Watertown, Mass. Frank Hodgson, first husband of the bride, died several years ago. She has a daughter, Julia, nine years old.

BABE RUTH MARRIED TODAY

George Herman (Babe) Ruth, world baseball home run champion, and Mrs. Claire Hodgson, of New York, former actress, were married in New York this morning.

Praises Features Of The "Viking"

Advancements in automobile engineering as represented in the new Viking, the 90-degree, V-type Eight cylinder automobile just introduced as a companion car to the Oldsmobile Six, were highly praised today by J. F. Brinkley, parts and service manager, of the Sugg Motor Company, of Greenville.

He has just returned from a convention of field service supervisors which was in session all of last week at the Oldsmobile-Viking factories at Lansing, Mich. Accompanying Mr. Brinkley were Mr. M. J. Sugg, manager of the sales department and Mr. J. L. Savage of the service department of Sugg Motor Co.

The program at the convention featured the mechanical design of the new Viking, which was explained in minute detail by engineers and factory service executives. In addition there were sessions devoted to the 1929 Oldsmobile Six and Fisher-built Oldsmobile and Viking bodies.

The forethought displayed by the Oldsmobile-Viking service executives in preparing every detail for the efficient and proper maintenance of the new Viking in advance of its public introduction is an outstanding example of the deliberate care with which the Viking Eight has been developed and is being manufactured. In fact, it is believed that the convention of Oldsmobile-Viking field service executives just held in Lansing marked the first instance in which any automobile manufacturer has ever held a meeting of its field maintenance organization revealing every detail in a maintenance educational program prior to the public showing of a new car. All special tools and equipment devised for the economical maintenance of the Viking were demonstrated and instruction in their efficient use given the field service supervisors.

This evidence of the attention given by the engineers to all advance details is a tribute to their art. In fact the entire convention was a revelation in the painstaking care used by the service executives and engineers working hand in hand to enhance owner satisfaction.

The following description of the highlights of the meeting is given by Mr. Brinkley.

"It is a recognized fact that all operating machinery requires maintenance by a trained mechanic, and the automobile is no exception. However the frequency of this maintenance work and the ease and economy by which it may be accomplished depends greatly upon the design of an automobile, the degree of precision employed in its manufacture and the specialized time-saving equipment provided with which to do the work.

"This factor evidently was at the forefront in the minds of the Oldsmobile-Viking engineers when they were developing the Viking, for this new companion car to the Oldsmobile Six in a striking example of an automobile that should give the utmost in owner satisfaction.

"Lubrication and cooling are two fundamental factors in making a good running, trouble free automobile engine. Realizing this, the designers of the Viking Eight developed a lubricating system which provides oil to every moving point in-generous quantities and also perfected an entirely new oil cleaning system. Cooling is exceptionally thorough in the new Viking engine. Cylinder walls, valves, valve stem guides and combustion chambers are water-jacketed, and manifold distribution of the water in the twin-blocks, with graduated outlets direct to points of greatest heat, assures uniform, efficient cooling of the entire engine. The water space extends far down on the crankcase wall and assists in cooling the lubricating oil.

"In points interesting to a maintenance department—and by the same token of extreme importance to the owner—the engineers have attained new heights of accomplishment. They have so designed the Viking engine that every point where adjustments are required to keep an engine in first class condition, these adjustments can be made with the greatest ease. This means that the maintenance operations on the Viking can be accomplished with economy and dispatch.

"Another point which was brought out at the convention was the close limits to which all operations are held and the rigid and demanding inspection system used. Every part must pass these inspections, some of which measure to within a fraction of the width of a human hair.

"One day of the convention was spent at the great General Motors Proving Ground, the 1280 acre outdoor laboratory at Milford, Mich., where all General Motors cars are tested and where the design of the Viking was checked for its ability to fulfill Olds Motor Works' ambition to build the best eight cylinder car in the medium price field.

There we had an opportunity to drive the new Viking over the speed track, up and down hills, some far steeper than I ever expect to drive over again, and over every type of highway so that we were enabled to learn first hand the great performance ability of the new car.

There were 120 field service supervisors representing the entire country present at the convention as well as representatives from the General Motors Corporation, General Motors Export Company, General Motors of Canada, Ltd. and other affiliated companies.

Following his return, Mr. Brinkley is conducting meetings here which are being attended by the service managers of all Oldsmobile-Viking dealers in this district to impact to them the instructions received during the convention at the Lansing factories. Similar meetings are being held in all sections of the country by the field service men who attended the convention.

In this way every Oldsmobile-Viking service man in the United States is being made thoroughly familiar with all Viking maintenance operations as perfected by factory executives simultaneously with the introduction of the new eight cylinder companion car to the Oldsmobile Six.

STRONG CAST FOR "LITTLE WOMEN"

There is a very strong cast for "Little Women" the play to be presented at East Carolina Teachers College, tomorrow evening and again on Friday evening. Most of the girls taking the leading parts have scored successes elsewhere, either in high school plays or in Little Theatre movements.

Nancy Gordon, who takes the part of Mr. March, was in the plays presented by the "Little Theatre Guild" of Rocky Mount.

Mary Morton Williams, as Mrs. March, is beyond criticism.

Exote Burton as Mr. Lawrence, the grandfather, has been connected with the civic plays in Reidsville.

The appearance of the four sisters in the play is so well fixed in the eyes of the public because of the graphic descriptions in the book and the faithful representation on the stage and in the movies that those taking these parts must look just like the four sisters, Meg, Jo, Beth and Amy, are Olivia Stadler, Evelyn Heilig, Elizabeth Hooker and Evelyn Mitchell.

Miss Lucy Pritchett and Louise Dail are fine and furnish much of the humor of the play.

The hero, Laurie, seems to walk the stage himself, when Miss Lelia Brown Stancill walks out in this part.

Miss Pauline Anderson is John Brooke.

Miss Thelis Bowden as Professor Bhaer, makes this fine old character live again.

Miss Strobach, the director, is pleased with the work and everything points to successful performances.

WINTERVILLE PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

The April meeting of the Winterville Parent-Teacher Association met on Monday evening at eight o'clock.

After the call to order, "Parent-hood United" was sung; this was followed by a short prayer led by Rev. M. A. Woodard. The minutes of last meeting were read, and the treasurer's report given.

The president then called for reports from the chairmen of all the standing committees, and the following responded:

Membership, Mrs. A. W. Ange; Publicity, Mrs. O. H. Jackson; Program, Miss Mary Ida McGlohon; Social, Miss Beth Carroll; Child Welfare Magazine, Mrs. O. H. Jackson; Awards, Mrs. W. H. Covert; Ways and Means, Mrs. Jno. R. Carroll. These reports were a review of the year's work. They were very gratifying since they showed that much had been accomplished. The students, teachers and association, with its one hundred and thirty-one members, have raised $583.20.

Miss Beth Carroll, who has been teaching public school music for the past three months, gave a report of her work. Mrs. Ross and Miss Lewis were asked to give the teachers' viewpoint. They were high in their praises of results in this department.

Reports of the committees for the month were then given. Mrs. A. D. McGlohon gave a splendid report of the visiting committee. Mrs. Ange, chairman of the nominating committee, heartily recommended the re-election of the same officers for another year. This was unanimously adopted, and their election was an expression of appreciation for the services they have rendered. The officers are: President, Mrs. R. E. Davenport; vice-president, Rev. M. A. Woodard; secretary, Miss Nannie Loy Tucker; treasurer, Mr. J. L. Rollins.

The association voted to keep the library open during the summer months. Miss Dora E. Cox was elected librarian, with Mrs. F. F. Cox assistant.

Mrs. Jno. R. Carroll, vice-president of the county council of the Parent-Teacher Association, announced that there would be an all-day meeting of this organization on Thursday, the 18th, in the Woman's club house. She extended a cordial invitation to all the members to be present. The president changed this to a request, and made a strong appeal for a large representation.

O. H. Jackson then announced the winners of the attendance awards. They were: high school, Miss McGlohon; grammar grades, Miss Lewis; primary, Miss Bridgers. This concluded the business hour and the program committee took charge. The audience was delightfully entertained by groups of songs from the different grades. The melody and sweetness of their voices showed the result of good training. This was indeed a splendid program.

High School Play Proves Big Success

Daddy Long Legs presented at the high school last night, was a success from every point of view. First of all there was a large and appreciative audience and second, the audience was more than repaid for coming. All of the musical organizations contributed delightful selections and the whole evening was a most enjoyable one.

The main reason for the success of the play itself it seemed was that each character threw himself or herself into his or her part wholeheartedly. The orphans even though they were brow-beaten by Mrs. Lippett (Mary Frances Whitehurst), were still lively when it came to playing jokes on the trustees, Frances Morton and Eloise Garrett (as college girls, were true to type; for they had to rush like fury to clear the room for visitors who came too soon, but despite this, Mrs. Pendleton's (Henrietta Hyde) family pride was mortified over the messy way in which they kept their room. The Yale student, Hoover Taft, as Jimmie McBride, brought many a laugh because of his everlasting attentiveness to his mustache and because he was seemingly always in the way. Zelle Foley was a typical rural character ever interested in telephone gossip. The secretary, Louis Skinner and Howard Wilson, the butler, could not have been better in their parts, while Jane Hall played well to the very last her part as peacemaker and guardian of Judy and Jerry.

But Elizabeth Moore and Troy Burnette excelled as heroine and hero. Elizabeth could not have been a better actress, nor prettier nor sweeter than she was an orphan and as the sweetheart of her Daddy Long-Legs. Troy Burnette could not be surpassed in playing up to his part as trustee, guardian, uncle and last but not least, the perfect lover. His part was a difficult one and the successful way in which he carried it off contributed much toward the appreciation that the audience felt for this demonstration of true dramatic talent.

MRS. ISELEY IS SPEAKER AT MEETING HERE

Raleigh Woman Addresses Members of American Legion.

The American Legion Auxiliary of Pitt county was hostess to the auxiliaries of this district at a meeting at the Woman's club yesterday. Mrs. George Iseley of Raleigh, state president of the American Legion Auxiliary, was guest of the club, and members of the Washington and Columbia chapters were also invited guests for the afternoon.

The guests were met in the reception hall of the club by Mrs. M. K. Fort, Miss Mollie Manning, Mrs. Dennis, Mrs. Frank and Mrs. Frank Bendall, who were hostesses.

Mrs. Frank graciously presided over the meeting. The visitors were welcomed by Hon. J. C. Lamier, mayor of the city, and as a member of the local Legion post. Mrs. E. B. Pace, as president of the Pitt County Auxiliary, welcomed the visitors on behalf of the local chapter in a most happy manner. Then Mrs. Knott Proctor, accompanied by Mrs. R. S. Neal, sang, "I've Done My Work," by Carrie Jacobs Bond.

A short business meeting was held in which Mrs. Frank asked for reports from the various auxiliaries. Greenville reported much constructive work to have been done, and that the bronze tablets, which are being given as a memorial to the men of Pitt county who served in the world war and in memory of those who gave their lives for their country, and which are to be placed on the new bridge crossing the river, have arrived, and will soon be placed on the bridge, with appropriate ceremonies.

Mrs. Frank introduced Mrs. George Iseley, the speaker of the afternoon, who spoke on the chief and most important phases of the auxiliary work in the state, welfare work for the families, especially the children of the parents at Oteen, and the rehabilitation work among the men themselves. She gloriously described the future promises of work to be done for these men by the auxiliary alone, since other agencies, which have functioned so well in caring for them are withdrawing their activities owing to lack of funds. She impressed everyone present with the ever growing needs of the disabled veterans, especially the non-compensated men, who if taken ill since 1925, have a difficult time proving to the government their disease was contracted as a result of activities during the world war. Consequently the list of men not compensated by the government grows, and these are due special care.

Mrs. Iseley described the Oteen hospital as one of the best kept and equipped of the army tuberculosis hospitals in any state. She pictured to the audience the growing plant there, with the old wooden structures giving way to the modern and permanent buildings of stone, the fine staff of 30 physicians, the excellent corps of nurses, and the life lived there in the hospital area in general.

The local auxiliary was indeed very proud to have heard Mrs. Iseley, who during the past year as state president has so generously given of her time, her youth, her enthusiasm and her love for the cause of the disabled veterans of the world war.

At the conclusion of the program, delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, tea being poured by Mrs. L. H. Bowling and Mrs. J. B. Kittrell.

OUR GARBAGE DUMP

The school children who included in their essays the garbage dump at the north end of the river bridge as one of Greenville's detriments certainly hit upon something that should be remedied. Many other cities in this locality as well as our own originally chose spots along one of the main highways for a garbage dump because of easy access to same, but the practice is a great mistake and already there are movements in most of the places to remove them to other sites. Such a movement should be started here and carried to completion. There are hundreds of visitors to our city each day who travel over this route and their first sight when they near our city is not the handsome new river bridge, but a garbage dump from which a herd of goats are prying their livelihood. It is useless to endeavor to describe these garbage dumps along the main highways other than to say that they are a disgrace to any community. Certainly the one at the end of the bridge should be moved to some more obscure place where it would not prove offensive to every traveler along one of our main highways.

EUROPE STILL CONSIDERING AMERICA THE WILLING GOAT

There is an almost laughing impertinence behind the suggestion coming from the Allied Powers that the United States now cancel the outstanding costs ($217,000,000) incident to American occupation of Germany following the Armistice. This is especially true on account of several essential facts which seem to have been entirely ignored, if not forgotten. First, the United States subrogated to the use of the Allied Powers all manner of claims which it might have against Germany in the way of an indemnity for wanton acts of war causing an outlay of over twenty-four billion dollars, to say nothing of American property destroyed and American lives lost.

Second, the United States is still waiting for a debt settlement from France and has accepted radically scaled settlements from other powers for moneys advanced from the Treasury and foisted directly upon the people through the issue of war bonds at home, which amounted roughly to some twelve billion dollars.

Third, France and Great Britain have been paid the major portions of their own parts of the occupation costs until there remains unpaid to them on this score only about $60,000,000; whereas the United States has collected on this account only $89,000,000 since the Armistice was signed.

Yet in the face of these facts, it is gravely asserted that a refusal of the United States Government to continue to be the chief sacrificial goat of the World War, so far as its finances are concerned, would create a very unfavorable impression abroad.

Well, why not let it create an unfavorable impression? Certainly in the practical realm no impression could be more unfavorable than that already created which is, to wit: that the nation whose money, first, and whose men in the last analysis created the preponderance of power in the field which raised the curtain on the German adventure toward world imperialism is a sentimentalist to be chivvied by any hard-headed pragmatist of a European power wishing to take advantage of its weakness.

That is an impression born of contempt; and nothing is so subversive of peace and provocative of trouble as the idea on the part of one nationality that another nationality is an easy mark for exploitation. — The Raleigh Times.

ABOUT TOWN

"It was a pity Greenville had to miss the exhibition ball game scheduled here with Winston-Salem yesterday," said a supporter of the club today, "but it is not so bad when considering that the season will get under way Friday afternoon."

"We did want to see at least one exhibition game before the opening of the season, but since bad weather brought about the postponement, it seems there is nothing to do but wait until the circuit begins play and we got an opportunity of seeing the boys match strength against an Eastern Carolina team."

"Everybody should attend the opening game and get an idea what kind of a ball club we are going to put in the field this season."

"The joint meeting of the American Legion and Woman's Auxiliary last night was one of the outstanding meetings of the year," said a member of the post today. "The address by Mrs. George Isley of Raleigh, was timely and no doubt will result in renewed activity on part of the Auxiliary here. Mrs. Isley, as state president of the organization, knows the needs of the various posts and the things she had to say here ought to prove most helpful."

"These joint meetings do much towards cementing relations between the Legion and its Auxiliary and ought to result in great things in the future."

"Off to Richmond again with a carload of hogs," asserted F. Arnold, prior to leaving for the Virginia capital yesterday afternoon.

"We hope to make the sale at Richmond, but if the price situation isn't right we may send them to Baltimore. This action was necessary not long ago and we received considerable more than we were offered at Richmond."

"This extra money crop is bringing thousands of dollars to Pitt county that the farmer could not get had he not given attention to the raising of hogs. His earnings this year will help him pass over the dull summer months in better condition than ever. The next few years should witness even better conditions."

"The fish fry given by the Merchants Association at the Country club last night was an enjoyable affair," declared one of the invited guests today.

"The fry was given to celebrate the reaching of the hundred membership mark by the Association and everybody seemed to be as happy over the realization of the ambition as the Merchants."

"The association has played an important part in the life of the community during the last few years. It has taken the place of a chamber of commerce and other like organizations and has accomplished some splendid results for the community."

hundred membership mark before many more years roll by."

"The stock soliciting committee of the Greenville baseball club will visit you sometime this week and try and interest you in the financial support of the Tobaccoists," said a stockholder today.

"The shares are being offered at $10.00 each. This is done to give everybody an opportunity of becoming a shareholder in the club. We hope to dispose of as much stock as possible in order that the club shall be able to continue the season without being cramped in a financial way."

"We have been assured of a winning organization and this means that hundreds will attend all games played here. Big attendance will mean large gate receipts and this in return will mean financial independence of the club."

"Be one of the original stockholders so that you will have the pleasure of realizing that you were one of the first to put the Greenville club on a safe financial basis."

"The prize winners in the Merchants Association essay contest are to be congratulated," declared a reader of this paper today, commenting on the number of splendid suggestions presented for a "Bigger and Better Greenville."

"These youngsters have exhibited splendid knowledge of conditions, and their suggestions go to show that they did some real thinking. The Merchants Association really did something worthwhile in making the contest possible, and it is not too sanguine to believe that many of the suggestions offered by the youngsters will become actualities in the future. The young men of today will be the citizen of tomorrow, and some of his future deeds no doubt will be actuated by visions of the present."

Asks Pension For The Coast Guard

Washington, D. C., April 15.—Immediately after the House was organized this morning, Congressman Lindsay Warren of the First North Carolina District, introduced one of the most important bills that will be presented during the 71st Congress. The Warren bill would place the personnel of the Coast Guard under the general pension laws of the country as is provided for the Army and Navy. Since Mr. Warren has been a member of Congress he has been slowly creating sentiment in favor of this proposal which would remedy a glaring inequality between the different branches of service. As it is now, a coast guardsman can die or be killed in the service, and his widow gets only six months pay, and his family in many cases is left penniless, while the widow or dependents of a man in the Army or Navy immediately get a pension.

"On account of the restricted legislative program in the House, the bill will not be considered by the Pensions Committee until the December session. Mr. Warren was selected to introduce and father this proposed legislation on account of the great interest he has taken in the Coast Guard."

NOTICE OF SALE OF LAND

By virtue of the power of sale contained in a mortgage deed to me, executed by Silvester Adams and wife, Virginia Adams, dated December 28th, 1920, and recorded in the Registers' Office of Pitt County, N. Report of sale will be made to the Clerk of the Superior Court of Pitt County as the law directs. This March 22, 1929. G. C. Williams, Mortgagee. March 11-1w-6w

ALBERMARLE PRESBYTERY OPENS HERE

Rev. A. S. Venable, of Farmville Elected Moderator at Opening Session.

Rev. A. S. Venable, D. D., of Farmville, was elected as moderator of Albermarle Presbytery which convened in a two day's session at the Presbyterian church in this city last night at 8 o'clock. Rev. J. L. Youdell of Tarboro, was elected temporary clerk.

The opening sermon of the convention was delivered by Rev. J. T. Wildman of Parmele, retiring moderator. Delegates from thirty-five churches of Eastern Carolina are expected to attend the convention which will be brought to a conclusion tonight.

Rev. H. M. Wilson of Leggett, delivered the annual sermon this morning at 11 o'clock. This was followed by communion.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the Presbytery will consider local home missions and hear reports from the various churches and prepare them for the annual meeting of the highest church court, the General Assembly, which meets at Montreat May 16.

In the opening sermon last night, the retiring moderator took his text from the first verse of the third chapter of Second Timothy. He said:

"In the last days perilous times shall come. No prophecy has ever been understood until after its fulfillment. Then it is always clear, and we wonder why we failed to see it before. Much of the Bible is unfulfilled prophecy, and we should never be dogmatic in declaring our view to be the right one. Whether you are a pre-millennialist or a post-millennialist, we must agree on this, that our Book tells us of suffering and sorrow and apostasy and trouble ahead. In the last days perilous times shall come. And in these last days perilous times have come. Let's read more of this third chapter of Second Timothy:

"In the last days perilous times shall come, for men shall be lovers of their own selves, covetous, boastful, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholiness, without affection, true breakers, incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good, traitors, heady, high minded, lovers of pleasure more than lovers of God, having a form of godliness but denying the power thereof."

"Is this not a perfect picture of this day? Do we not hear much of blaspheming? Much of disobedience to parents? Are not our churches deserted and our places of amusement crowded? Apostasy? Many heretical sects spreading in the land. Russian Bolsheviki spending millions to spread their pernicious doctrines. Do you know the doctrine of the Russian Reds? There is no God. Kill out religion. No private property. It belongs to the state. Women are also the property of the state, and for any man that dares to abuse one? And Russia is active in spreading these awful doctrines in all the world. And our people are accepting them. Even in the South."

"The popular preacher today is the one who refuses to preach a high standard, but says our religion ought not to be in the way of our amusement. Our finances are in a critical condition. A great slump in all departments. Our foreign missionary committee is retreating. We have less foreign missionaries now than ten years ago. Orphanages are reducing their families in the face of hundreds on the waiting list. Hundreds of needy, suffering, hungry little tots with no home, and our churches are not providing for them. Foreign missionary sermons are not popular. The cause that is nearest to the heart of God the Father and Christ the Son is not acceptable to the people today."

"We have said enough—What about it? Does this give us the blues? Does this make us lose our faith? By no means. This is a strong proof that our religion is true. When we see these things come to pass we know that Jesus said it would be so. When we see the prophecies being fulfilled we know the promises to us will be fulfilled."

"When we see the whole world rushing on to its own destruction we know that the God of this world is only permitted to do his will till the time when we shall see the glory of God and shall see his power in the destruction of all His and our enemies. The spirit said, 'Till men shall say worse and worse, and so when we see it we know that The Most High ruleth in the army of heaven and among the inhabitants of the earth, and none can stay his hand or say unto Him, What doest Thou?' When we see things going wrong we know that the Lord is still on His throne. When we see this great apostasy we know that Christ said of His church that 'The gates of hell shall not prevail against it.' And when we see so many going away from God it makes us the more earnest and anxious to spread the gospel that some might be saved."

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, April 17.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 6 to 7 points under rather general selling, which was evidently influenced by a favorable view of the weather news and relative easy Liverpool cables. Early offerings were absorbed by covering, with both trade and speculative shorts reported buyers of near months. But there was considerable cotton for sale and bulges of 2 or 3 points were not fully maintained. The market was not fully maintained. The market was barely steady at the end of the first half hour.

The outlook for clear weather over the belt was accompanied by prospects for rather low temperatures in the Eastern belt. This was not considered of much importance so early in the season and the weekly report of the weather bureau seemed to be more favorable than some recent buyers had anticipated.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 17.—(AP)—Trading in today's stock market continued relatively light in volume but prices displayed a firmer undertone as fresh buying operations appeared in the oils, coppers, toads, chemicals and an assortment of specialties. At least 15 issues moved into new high ground for the year, many of the extreme gains running from 3 to 12 points.

Call money renewed at 8 per cent and appeared to be in plentiful supply at that figure, with no calling of loans reported up to early afternoon. Time money was a shade easier, 60 to 90 day maturities being available at 8 3/4 per cent, as against 9 earlier in the week, while the distant maturities were quoted at 1-2 per cent.

Heavy buying of Sinclair featured the revival of speculative activity in the oil group. One block of 48,000 shares of that stock changed hands at 39 followed with in a short time by a block of 10,500 shares at 40. Skelly and Sims established new high levels for the fourth consecutive day.

New peak prices for the year also were registered by Adams Express, American Can, Belding Hemingway, Marine preferred, Crax Carpet, Glidden Marmon Motors, Phillips-Jones, Intertype and Hershey Chocolate common and preferred, the gains running from fractions to 5 points.

International Telephone soared 12 points above yesterday's final price and Commercial Solvents, American Railway Express, General Electric and Ingersoll Rand sold up to 9 points higher.

Seek Change of Venue In The Vanderburg Case

Gastonia, April 17.—(AP)—Motion for a change of venue in the trial of Jacob Vanderburg, 17, charged with murdering his parents, two sisters and brother, was made in Gaston Superior Court today by defense counsel after Judge A. M. Stack, presiding, had denied a continuance. Arguments on the latter motion will be heard tomorrow. Judge Stack ruled.

Solicitor John G. Carpenter said that if the change of venue was refused, trial of the youth Vanderburg should start April 24. Young Vanderburg was indicted on charges of murder and arson after the bodies of his father, J. W. Vanderburg, wealthy Gaston county farmer; his mother, two sisters and a brother, had been found in the ruins of their home after it was destroyed by fire.

Jacob was found sitting by the side of the road when neighbors reached the fire.

A coroner's jury held the Vanderburg's had been slain and the house then set afire.

Defense counsel, in lodging its motion for a change of venue, set forth that sentiment in Gaston county was such that a fair trial for the defendant would be impossible.

Judge Stack decided to enter upon trial of minor cases on the docket today. Solicitor Carpenter, however, expressed the belief that the Vanderburg trial would be reached within a week.

Dr. James K. Hall, Richmond, Va. alienist, is here making a study of Vanderburg's mental condition.
