WITNESS IN RANIERI CASE IS SHOT DOWN

Joseph Perconti Victim of Assassin Bullets at Joliet, Ill.

Joliet, Ill., April 19.—(AP)—Another important though sub Rosa figure in the Ranieri kidnaping case of last December has been assassinated in his own dooryard probably, police, said, because he "talked too much."

Joseph Perconti, 37, slain by shot gun killers shortly before last night, is the man generally believed to have given police information on which they arrested the kidnapers of 10-year-old Billy Ranieri. He was one of those arrested with the kidnapers, and when the case against him later was dismissed, the understanding was that it was in consideration of information which resulted in the conviction of two men for the abduction.

Perconti had just put away his automobile in the garage at the rear of his home last night when two or more men from a curtained automobile discharged sawed-off shotguns at him at close range. The two weapons later were found 150 feet away.

Among those being sought today for the slaying was Perconti's brother, Tony, who was one of those charged with the actual kidnaping of the Ranieri boy but who never was apprehended.

Police believe Tony may have killed his brother in the belief that Joe Perconti's story to officers had involved him in the abduction.

Mrs. Joe Perconti said she received a phone call late yesterday threatening her husband's life unless he turned over a large sum of money to the caller, who, when asked his identity said: "Joe will know who."

When she told her husband of the call, he merely shrugged his shoulders. Mrs. Perconti said, and made no comment. Six hours later she was dead.

Joe Perconti, who was 37 years old, had a dubious reputation with Joliet police, who connected him with various liquor interprises. They considered it possible that a liquor feud may have been the cause of his assassination; but they have greater credence to the dead man's connection with the Ranieri case.

Another figure in the Ranieri case Ole Schully, was killed while the trial of the kidnapers was in progress. He was trapped in a restaurant and shot dead the day before he was to have testified for the state.

Rick New Yorker Announces Wedding

New York, April 19.—(AP)—H. L. Doherty, one of the country's wealthiest bachelors and nationally known as a public utility leader, has announced his marriage last New York's Eve to Mrs. Percy Frank Eames, a widow, who nursed him during a 20 years illness.

Mr. Doherty, whose wealth is variously estimated from $25,000,000 to $200,000,000 is 58 years old. His wife is 40. News of the wedding came as a surprise to his business associates to whom he often had said he would remain a bachelor all his life.

The announcement was made at the offices of Henry L. Doherty and Company, where it was said Mr. and Mrs. Doherty were on a belated wedding trip to Atlantic City. The wedding took place at the home of Canon Lawrence E. Skey, rector of St. Anne's Anglican church at Toronto.

Mr. Doherty had been forced to forego business for two years and for a time was seriously ill of arthritis at Battle Creek Sanatorium. He was advised by his physicians to delay announcement of the marriage so that he might escape, during convalescence, the messages and visits of friends.

Veneer Plant Damaged by Fire At Marion, N. C.

Marion, April 19.—(AP)—The damage at the Marion Veneer and Panel Company, where fire raged for about an hour late last night, this morning was estimated at $30,000. The loss was covered by insurance, according to officials of the concern.

The storage building was destroyed and the drying rooms were damaged, but firemen were able to save the remainder of the plant from serious damage. The flames threatened for a time to spread to the Teague Furniture Company nearby.

The fire's origin was not known.

HOUSE PLANS TO SPEED UP FARM RELIEF

Members Hope To Reach Final Vote On Measure Tuesday or Wednesday.

Washington, April 19.—(AP)—Although the Senate was in adjournment until Monday, the wheels of Congress were gathering momentum today for the expeditious fulfillment of one of the principal purposes for which it was called into special session.

Operating under rules limiting general debate to the remainder of this week, the House planned to have its farm relief bill advanced to the stage where amendments may be considered Monday. Leaders were hopeful after a survey of the situation disclosed in the opening discussion yesterday, that the measure could be brought to a final vote and sent to the Senate, Tuesday or Wednesday.

They did not look for trouble in speeding passage of the bill to arise immediately out of the impending struggle over incorporation in it of an export debenture provision. The strongest center of support for that proposal seemed, for the present at any rate, to be in the Senate where it was included in the tentative draft of the farm relief bill introduced yesterday by Chairman McNary at the direction of the Senate agriculture committee.

Ground work for opposition to that move, however, was laid in the opening discussion in the House, where the leaders are convinced that their measure is more nearly in accord with the views of President Hoover than the bill which the Senate committee favored. Speakers indicated clearly that if the Senate should approve the debenture plan provision, it would be opposed as "revenue" legislation which the House alone has the right to originate.

The House ways and means committee, meanwhile, was called to consider its draft of another of the major items of the administration program for the special session—the tariff revision bill, which President Hoover wants to see confined to schedules affecting agriculture and a few other sections and administrative provisions.

The Senate agriculture committee had its tentative bill back on its hands for formal consideration, and expected to be able to whip it into final shape and make a report on it Monday, enabling the Senate to begin discussion of the measure.

The Senate judiciary committee also was called to continue consideration of the investigation of the right of Secretary Mellon to hold office, challenged in the resolution of Senator McKellar, Democrat of Tennessee.

Death Staves Off Failure Of Reparations Conference

Paris, April 19.—(AP)—The dramatic death of Lord Revelstoke, leading British financial expert on the reparations committee, only a few hours before a vital plenary session of the committee today staved off the imminent complete breakdown of the reparations negotiations.

The new turn in the reparations situation came with startling suddenness. Today's plenary session called for 11:00 a. m. had been expected to see the end of the ten weeks of arduous effort by the experts to solve the most vexing problem, but the death of Lord Revelstoke from heart disease at 7:30 o'clock this morning postponed what had seemed an inevitable announcement of complete failure.

When the experts, worn by their

GRAND JURY FINDS COUNTY OFFICES O. K.

Report Submitted To Judge Daniels Contains Only One Recommendation.

Declaring that affairs of the county are being well cared for and that the county officers are being efficiently managed, the grand jury of the criminal term of Pitt county Superior Court yesterday submitted their report to Judge Frank A. Daniels of Goldsboro.

Submitted under the signature of W. J. Boyd, foreman, the report also stated that members of the jury had visited the county home, the jail, and county road camp and found that each was being conducted in a commendable and satisfactory manner.

The report contained only one recommendation. That pertained to the physical condition of a colored inmate of the county jail. The jury asked that his condition be carefully examined to determine whether or not he was in need of an operation.

The complete report follows: To His Honor, F. A. Daniels, Judge Presiding:

The Grand Jury of this Criminal Term of Criminal Court beg to submit the following report:

The Grand Jury carefully considered and passed upon all bills submitted, and preliminary hearings have been made in all cases where the evidence so justified.

The Grand Jury has visited the various offices of the County, as follows: Clerk of Superior Court, Register of Deeds, Board of Education, Tax Supervisor and Auditor, Treasurer, Sheriff, Welfare Department, and County Farm Agent.

It has found in each instance that the affairs of the county are being well cared for, and that the offices are being efficiently managed.

The Grand Jury visited the following County Institutions: The County Home, under the management of Mr. Corbett, was found in excellent condition. The inmates were well satisfied with the care and attention they were receiving. The crops in the barns, the stock and the home itself, are in excellent condition and the management is due much commendation for the interest shown.

The County Jail was carefully inspected by the entire Grand Jury. The prisoners appear to be well provided for, and the sanitary conditions of the building was found to be good.

The road camp was also visited by the entire Grand Jury. The cages and grounds are well kept, the sanitary conditions are excellent, and the physical and moral condition of the prisoners seen at the camp is very good.

With further reference to the physical conditions of prisoners in the county jail the Grand Jury recommends in the case of one Richard McLawhorn, that the County Commissioners have the proper authorities investigate his physical condition with the view to determining whether he should be operated on at the County's expense, should this investigation show that an operation is necessary in order that his condition may not become more aggravated while he is a County charge.

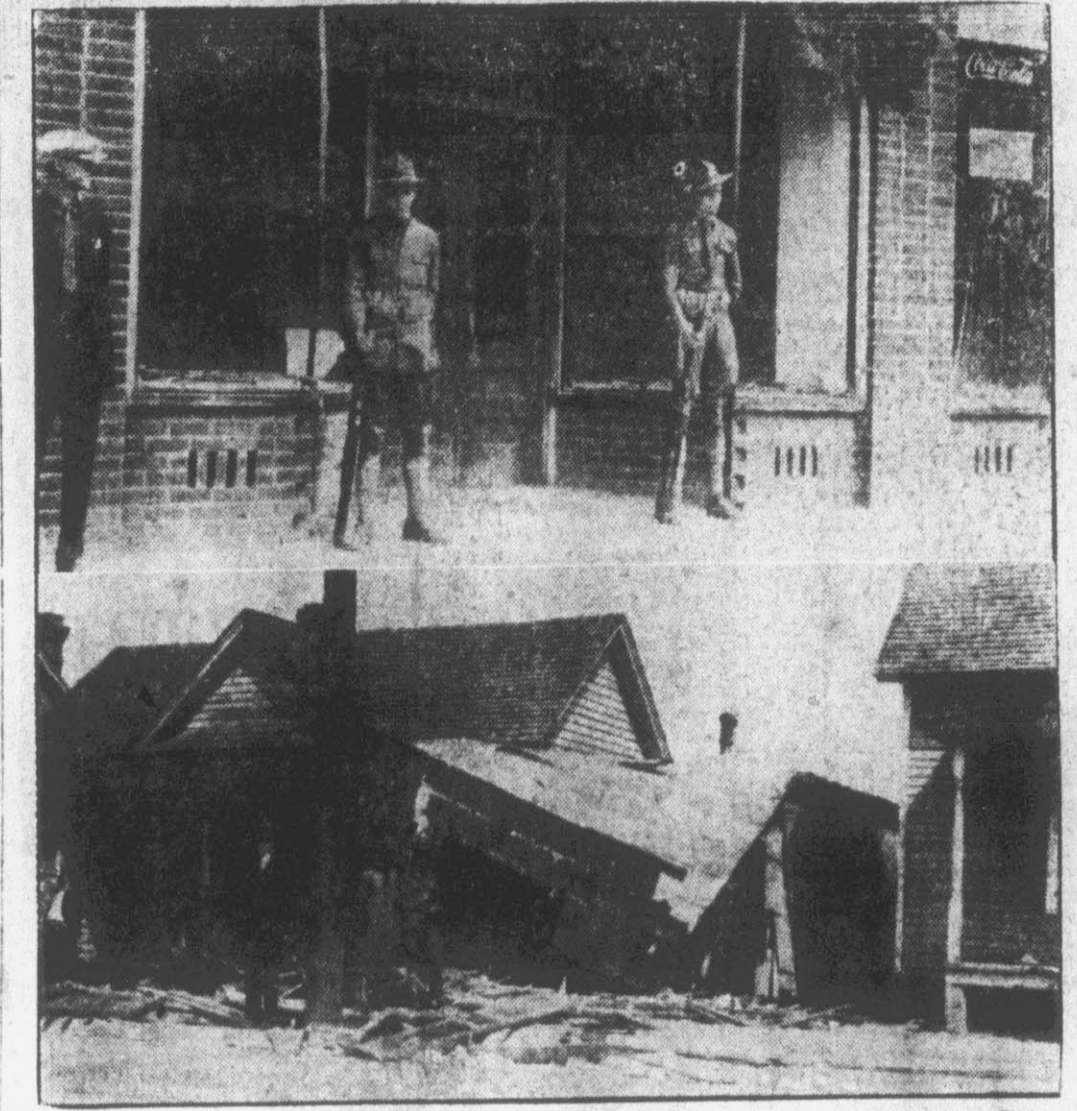

We commend the Presiding Judge for the manner in which he conducts his Court and express our appreciation to the Judge, the Solicitor, and all Court Officers, including the Grand Jury Officer, for their splendid co-operation.

Respectfully submitted, this 18th day of April, 1929.

ROBERT KING SENTENCED TO COUNTY ROADS

Negro Found Guilty of Manslaughter in Connection With Death of Aaron May.

Robert King, colored, of the Falkland community, was found guilty of a charge of manslaughter by a jury in the criminal term of Pitt County Superior Court yesterday afternoon and sentenced to two and a half years on the county roads. He was charged with the killing of Aaron May, also colored, about two weeks ago.

The murder occurred at the home of a negro by the name of Anne Bridges where May was a boarder. King said he saw May and the woman run out of the house and engage in a fight in the yard and that he attempted to intervene. May resisted the action, he said, and attacked him. He grabbed an axe and hit May in the head.

In an investigation made shortly afterward by Sheriff Whitehurst, the woman declared that she and May were playing when King suddenly appeared from around the house and hit May in the head with the axe.

This was the only outstanding case heard at yesterday's session. Two or three other cases of minor importance were disposed of.

Charlie Eure, negro, charged with attempted forgery, was sentenced to six months in jail to be hired out to his uncle.

J. R. Dawson, colored, charged with assault with a deadly weapon was adjudged not guilty.

Eddie Dickerson was found not guilty of assault with a deadly weapon.

Jury Recommends Moral Housecleaning Of Youth In The State Of Illinois

Chicago, April 19.—(AP)—Six prominent educators, sitting as a coroner's jury, have evolved from the investigation into George Lux's death last Sunday a series of recommendations for a "moral housecleaning" of modern youth; for solution, their verdict said, of a problem "which seems to be becoming all too general for the public good."

Lux, 23 years old, was suffocated under an automobile in which he was riding with young men and women following a tour of roadhouses.

"We recognize that the automobile, the roadhouse, the beer hall and the speakeasy have been sources of social and moral deterioration, and urge that every effective means of control be employed to regulate and eliminate, as the case requires, those sources of corruption in the life of youth."

"The jury believes that when not only schools but all other social institutions as well develop ways and means of making character ideals effective, a large part of the problem will be solved."

"We are convinced that the problems and conditions which face youth are not of their own making. They are not responsible for the fact that social conditions are unstable and unfavorable to the development of the highest type of life. We believe that in the final analysis, the determination of their behavior and the use of the young people are going to make of existing circumstances rests with the younger generation."

"The jury recommends that youth accept and make as of whatever aid they may receive from parents and social institutions, and that they evaluate that aid in the light of their deeds and aspirations."

"In the age of the automobile and the airplane intoxication has no place."

"The jury feels that law enforcement agencies ought to be encouraged by both individuals and great institutions to fill with great vigor, their obligations. School children, and even young men and women, should be protected as much as possible from the blighting influence of irregular, unlawful and socially deteriorative places."

"The verdict was signed by Edward J. Tobin, county superintendent of schools; Paul T. Bessin, superintendent of Lombard schools; Benjamin F. Buck, assistant superintendent of Chicago schools; Prof. E. W. Burgess, head of the sociology department of the University of Chicago; Prof. Sherman Stead, head of the psychology department of Northwestern University."

In line with the jury's recommendation a statement was issued by William J. Brown, superintendent of Chicago schools, in which "on behalf of future citizenship," he appealed to fathers "to give their town a moral housecleaning." Bogan said: "Fathers are failing

Jackie Fields Is Recognized by Commission

San Francisco, April 19.—(AP)—Jackie Fields, one of the greatest welterweights ever developed on the Pacific coast, strengthened his claim to the world's welterweight title when the California Boxing Commission voted to recognize him as champion in this state.

After a short discussion yesterday, the commission ruled that Fields hereafter will displace Joe Dundee as the recognized title holder. Records were produced to show that Ancil Hoffman, fight promoter, has made numerous offers to Dundee to defend his title here against Fields and that Dundee has repeatedly ignored the offer.

The action gives the Los Angeles boxer (luta) recognition in twenty-eight states as the N. B. A. has already named him champion in the 27 states with commissions affiliated with its organization.

REPARATIONS CONFERENCE MEMBER DEAD

Lord Revelstoke, British Banker, Dies Suddenly in Paris.

Paris, April 19.—(AP)—Broken and tired by the failure of the Reparations Conference to arrive at a satisfactory settlement, Lord Revelstoke, distinguished British banker, died in his apartment at 7:30 a. m. today. Heart failure was given as the cause.

His brother, the Hon. Cecil Baring was at his side when the end came. The plenary session of the reparations experts' committee, which was to hear his report this morning on the breakdown of the conference negotiations, convened and immediately adjourned.

Intimates said the famous Britisher, who shared with Sir Josiah Stamp the leadership of the British delegation, had been under an intense strain throughout yesterday's session of his sub-committee. At this session the German delegation refused a compromise with the Allies making imminent its adjournment and failure.

Last night he complained of being tired.

John Baring Revelstoke, or Lord Revelstoke, the second Baron of that name, was one of Britain's most distinguished bankers a director in the firm of Baring Brothers and Company, Ltd.

In the 65 years of his life he held such posts as receiver general of the Duchy of Cornwall, member of the council of the Prince of Wales, Lieutenant of the City of London, and director of the Bank of England. His decorations included commander of the Legion d'Honneur and order of the White Eagle (Russia).

He shared with Sir Josiah Stamp leadership of the British delegation to the Reparations conference, and during the sessions of the experts' committee headed a sub-committee which undertook such important work as elimination of the transfer clause from the reparations arrangements, commercialization of the German reparations debt, and constitution of an International bank to handle the reparations payments.

SEEK MEN IN STRIKE CASE AT GASTONIA

Organizer Wanted In Connection With Textile Mill Walk-out.

Gastonia, April 19.—(AP)—With Ellen Dawson, organizer for the National Textile Workers Union, in jail awaiting bond on a federal warrant, search was started today by state authorities for Fred Edwin Beal, another organizer. Beal is wanted in arrest and bail proceeding in connection with a civil suit charging him with enticing Mrs. Troy James, a striker, from her home here and taking or sending her to New York.

Beal has not been seen in Gastonia by anyone outside union ranks, insofar as could be learned today, since the building used as a strike headquarters near the Loray mill was destroyed by a band of masked men yesterday. Efforts to locate him yesterday for a statement were fruitless, although officials of the union and its allied organizations asserted that both he and George Pershing, Communist newspaper reporter, were in the Loray mill village.

Miss Dawson was arrested before dark last night after she had made a fiery address to a group of strikers. Deputy U. S. Marshal M. C. Cain of Charlotte, who carried a bench warrant issued at Trenton, N. J., took the little Scotswoman to Charlotte, where she was given a preliminary hearing before a United States commissioner and held for the Trenton, N. J. federal court in $2,000 bond. She is accused of obtaining a false affidavit when she obtained naturalization papers. Officials of the Labor Defense Fund, an organization allied with the National Textile Workers Union, said they would obtain bond for her today from a surety company.

Mrs. Jones, whom Beal is alleged to have enticed from her home, was one of a group of strikers taken to New York to make talks at a mass meeting designed to aid in gathering relief funds. Her husband filed suit for $5,000 against Beal several days ago, it became known today and secured a warrant in arrest and bail proceedings, used in this state to guarantee attendance of defendants in damage suits.

Throughout the textile zone where there are strikes in a do or die condition, negotiations are under way in all places except those where the National Textile Workers Union is operating the strikes.

Mary Matthews Crowned Queen Of Apple Show

Winchester, Va., April 19.—(AP)—Miss Mary Jo Matthews, a pretty little West Virginia girl who came here wondering how it would feel to be a queen, found royal exceedingly pleasing today as "Queen Shenandoah VI," ruler of the Apple Festival, presided and mistress of the land of make believe. At every turn she was hailed by the multitude of enthusiastic subjects anxious to pay her homage in her newcomer at the festival flocked.

But more energetic visitors and short but brilliant reign. early in the daylight fireworks displayed while hundreds of others milled about the streets listening to the bands and mingling with the crowds. Salutes of the aerial bombers fired in honor of the Governors of Virginia and West Virginia, the queen of the festival, and the Apple blossoms, rang out like the roar of heavy guns.

Winchester, a city captured and recaptured 72 times during the civil war, was an extremely noisy but peaceful city today—the "big day" of the annual festival attended by residents from all sections of the apple growing country. The vast throng appeared determined to see every thing but was confronted with the yet unsolved problem of being several places at the same time.

The gorgeous spectacle in the "pageant of the builders," presented for the second time, was one of the principal attractions of the meeting. Newcomers at the festival were joined there by many of those who witnessed the demonstration yesterday at the Handley High School. The grand festival parade, known as "The trail of the Pink Petals," and in which about 61 floats and 29 bands were to participate, was set to move promptly today through the busy Shenandoah valley to review the parade at the fair grounds.

How To Build A Bigger And Better Greenville.

Our attention is being directed toward the subject of making Greenville a bigger and better city. The question before us is "How must we do this?" First, by the increase of manufacturing facilities; second, by the promotion of the educational program; and third, by strict observance of the city laws.

The encouraging of building industries means an increase in the population of any town. The most logical way to do this is to encourage manufacturing establishments and money-making devices such as, technical mills, silk mills, and hosiery mills. In this way, there will be a steady flowing in of money which marks the progress of any city. For where there is wealth there is growth.

In order for a city or town to attract any manufacturing facilities, the populace must work together. This is done by co-operation; for co-operation is the foundation of success.

Educate your children, the coming generation of tomorrow, and those upon whom responsibilities will rest in the future years. It cannot be doubted that education is the father and mother of opportunity and success in life. You may know this from your own deficiencies. Therefore, give your children a chance at opportunity by educating them.

An increased population is accompanied by all kinds of vice and debauchery. How can we curtail this? First, the populace must come together and establish laws so as to punish these non-law-abiding citizens. After these laws are made, then elect a board of officials who will enforce the law to the fullest extent. Then each person must take it upon himself to live a clean, wholesome life, void of any unlawful thought or action. If this is done throughout a city, it will be rich with love and prosperity, and this alone will make a Bigger and Better Greenville.

—Martha Lee Thompson.

How To Build A Bigger And Better Greenville.

Greenville is located in both the coastal plain and Appalachian Mountains sections. The fertile soil of this region enables the farmers to make better yearly crops; thus making Greenville a bigger and better Greenville.

The second way I would suggest to improve Greenville is as follows: All inhabitants of Greenville protect and obey its laws and follow its instructions. This city is the hub and also the center of Eastern North Carolina.

Third, to make Greenville a bigger and better Greenville, the people of this community should keep the city clean; hence, free from disease. The idea of opening the Tar river to navigation is a good one because it enables us to carry on transportation by water as well as by land; it also furnishes recreation for the summer tourist. The Merchants Association is trying to furnish manufacturing enterprises to the people of this city who will work throughout the year. Our city is the center of the bright leaf tobacco belt; it is the third largest tobacco market in the United States. There are five local tobacco companies which furnish work for laborers about five months in the year. During that time the city is densely populated. If such could operate all the year there would be a bigger and better Greenville. If the local factories would operate all the year so that our people could work, it would enable them to keep their children in school and out of questionable places and that would also help to make bigger and better the city of Greenville.

A public library would be a great help to the youth of this community and keep him from violating the laws. Such improvements would, I am sure, build a bigger and better Greenville.

On February 16, fifty-three Gruen Pentagon watches were presented by the athletic association of Georgia Tech University to the members and association of their "Golden Tornado" national football champion team for 1928.

This is but another indication of the nation-wide approval of watches for presentation in commemorating such noteworthy accomplishments. It is also interesting to note that the famous Gruen Pentagon was selected, the same high grade watch that is sold by our local jeweler, "At The Big Clock."

RED OAK NEWS

The Red Oak Sunday school was host to its members last Saturday at a delightful fish fry at Public Landing. The ladies cooked the fish while the men folks enjoyed sitting around and telling them what to do. About fifty members enjoyed the fry. We are expecting to enjoy ourselves very much at our community sing which we are planning to have at Red Oak Church next fourth Sunday afternoon, April 28th, at three o'clock. We extend a special invitation to music and song lovers to be present. Come and help make this a period of worship in song. We are sorry that our good superintendent, Fenner Allen, has been feeling kind of under the weather since the fish fry. We told him about it, but he wouldn't listen to us. A little baby girl weighing seven pounds, came to make her home with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Tyson last night. We welcome her to our community.

Rupture Shield Expert Coming to GREENVILLE

on Tuesday, April 23rd at

Proctor Hotel from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Evenings by telephone appointment only

ONE DAY ONLY

No Charge for Consultation

Mr. C. F. Redlich, the successful expert says:

The "perfect Retention Shields" hold the rupture perfectly, no matter what position the body assumes or how heavy a weight you lift. They give instant relief, contract the opening in a remarkably short time and strengthen the weak tissues (the real cause of rupture) so that they frequently recover their previous natural retaining power, needing no further outside support. Stomach trouble, backache and constipation often caused by Rupture promptly disappear.

Truly remarkable and prompt results have been obtained not only with recent and not fully developed ruptures but also with old, long neglected ones. Ingenious, recently perfected devices are now holding ruptures firmly which heretofore never had been retained.

No elastic belts nor filthy leg- straps are used. I guarantee to hold any rupture and also the durability of my absolutely sweat and moisture proof, sanitary appliances.

75 per cent of ruptured children recover completely through expert mechanical treatment according to statistics.

Do not waste your money on widely advertised mail order contraptions. You cannot fit yourself. C. F. REDLICH, Rupture Appliances Expert, Home Office, 535 Boston Block, Minneapolis Minnesota.

SENIOR PLAY AT COLLEGE BIG SUCCESS

First Performance Of "Little Women" Considered Dramatic Triumph of Years

The Senior Normal class of East Carolina Teachers College gave the first performance of "Little Women" last night. The second performance of the play will be given this evening at eight-thirty o'clock. The cast includes Miss Nattina Strobach, their director of the Division of Community Drama of the University of North Carolina, and all others who assisted them have a right to feel proud of their achievement.

The audience was far above the expectation of the class. Good representations from all the surrounding towns were evident, many people coming from a distance of one hundred miles. There has never been a more responsive audience. They wept with the sorrowful and laughed with the happy. None of the fine points were missed.

Music between acts by Miss Milford Sasser accompanied by Miss Felma Holland at the piano helped to keep the audience in the mood of the play. Miss Sasser sang well several selections which were in keeping with the atmosphere of the play.

Each of the characters played well her individual part, but Nancy Gordon as Mr. March, father of the girls, was most pleasing throughout the entire performance. Her genial smile radiated happiness to all the children and made her appear most fatherly.

Mary Morton Williams as Mr. March entered into the spirit of her part well and showed that she was well chosen for her part.

Olivia Studier as Meg won the hearts of the entire audience by her simple yet enthusiastic manner. Evelyn Heilig was a typical Jo. She was kind and willing to sacrifice, characteristics prevalent in the character herself.

The part of Beth could not have been better played than it was by Elizabeth Hooker. Simplicity was the keynote of her success. She wrung tears from her spectators by the way in which she looked at and presented her views of approaching death.

Louise Dail as Hannah Mullet kept the audience in an uproar with her actions. The scenery, lighting, costuming and other outside preparations were quite pleasing. Much credit is due the performers.

Don't be a Take-a-Chance FARMER

...Side Dress with Chilean Nitrate

THE more Chilean Nitrate of Soda you feed to your cotton crop, the more certain you are to make a big per acre increase. Don't take a chance on the weather... Chilean Nitrate helps set an early crop, strong enough to stand bad weather. Don't take a chance on the weevil... Chilean Nitrate helps mature bolls early— ahead of this destructive pest.

"I am a firm believer in side-dressing cotton, small grain, and corn with Nitrate of Soda. I use 100 to 150 pounds per acre. I have already bought my supply of eighty tons for this season's use."

L. D. ROBINSON, Wadesboro, N. C. Mr. Robinson is a former U. S. Congressman from North Carolina. He is president of one of the leading banks in the state, former director in the N. C. Cotton Growers Cooperative Association, a lawyer by profession and one of the leading farmers of Anson County.

Chilean Nitrate is the old original "soda" that 800,000 farmers used last year. It is the only natural nitrate fertilizer—not synthetic—not artificial. It contains all the elements nature gave it... including iodine. Nothing added. Nothing taken away.

Don't be a take-a-chance farmer. Use Chilean Nitrate and make money.

Levee Caves In At Knowlton, Ark.

Memphis, Tenn., April 19.—(AP)—Four hundred feet of the main Mississippi river levee at Knowlton, Ark., has caved into the river and engineers today based their hope for preventing a huge crevasse on a banquette hurriedly looped around the caved-in section. Thousands of sandbags have been placed back of the new dirt loop to strengthen it and these are reinforced with heavy timbers. All available men from Laconia Circle and from Helena have been taken to the scene of the cave-in by U. S. steamers.

Giant Sturgeon Caught By Local Man in Tar River

A sturgeon weighing 65 pounds, was caught by E. B. Thomas of this city, while fishing from a boat on Tar river below Grimesland yesterday afternoon. The big fish put up such a fight that Mr. Thomas was forced to call for the assistance of E. T. Forbes, Bill Langley, Joe Boyd and J. L. Anderson, who were fishing in boats nearby.

The giant member of the finny tribe was brought to Greenville, properly displayed to those who dis-credit fish stories at this season of the year, and today graced the tables of numbers of friends of Mr. Thomas.

PUBLIC MUST BACK TAX REDUCTION

One of the great curses of government, and one that has an appreciable effect on the tax-bill, is overlapping in the administration of public business. Our units of government groan under a dead weight of redtape and inefficiency caused by too much injudicious activity of a political sort and too little real responsibility.

We cannot have thorough efficiency and economy in government until public officials and public employees regard themselves not as independent agents with vast sums of money at their command, but as public servants responsible to every taxpayer.

There is a great amount of talk about over-taxation, but little intelligent action. We all see the need of placing government on a sound business basis but fail to encourage cures. Antiquated systems, a superabundance of employes, many of them useless, and political slothfulness and evasion cost money.

It is the concern of every taxpayer to see that all units of government are efficiently and honestly administered. Until that is done taxes will continue to climb.

CARELESSNESS IN DRIVING

When a person goes out on the road he takes his life in his hand. It is a toss up as to whether he will be able to get back home alive, with the reckless and incompetent and careless people operating cars on the highway.

Every month sees an ever increasing list of casualties, and injured bodies to say nothing of the injury to property.

Last March twelve months ago the number of deaths in this state were 28, this last March they were 47, an increase of more than fifty percent. Just think of killing 47 people in one month on the highways? And yet all of this is not only avoidable, but if one will drive with a reasonable amount of care there would be no accidents.

During the legislature a bill was presented to take the license from those who for any reason should not operate a car. That bill was defeated, and why no one knows, unless some thought that it might decrease the sale of cars. But what is the sale of cars compared to the loss of human life.

Another bill was introduced to compel every owner of a car to carry liability insurance. That bill too was defeated. That is a law also that should pass. Any one with a broken down second hand car can come along down the road and bump you and there is no way to secure the damage thereon, while your car is insured and if you are liable for the accident he can collect. The game is too one sided and the risk is too great. Something must be done about it or the highways must be given over to those who do not care, and are incompetent, and therefore are handling a deadly weapon every time they are out with an automobile.—Wilson Times.

ABOUT TOWN

"Join the crowd and attend the opening of the Eastern Carolina league at the fair grounds here this afternoon," urged a fan this morning.

"With the majority of stores closing and the city presenting a holiday appearance, you can't afford to stay at home and miss seeing the locals in the initial clash of the season.

"Then, too, in this game you will have an opportunity of seeing the club in action against another club of the circuit which they will meet several times again this season. Should we win the opening engagement, it will mean that we shall be able to pat ourselves on the backs and get ready for the race in real earnest.

"Don't miss the game today. If you can't attend, then make it a point to be on hand tomorrow to do your part of the rooting."

Delegates to the Albernath Presbytery, which held forth in this city Tuesday and Wednesday were pleased with their reception by the local church, said one of the convention attendants.

The visitors remained in the city one night and were shown numbers of courtesies by local people. This left a good impression and will mean much to the city in the future as the delegates tell other people of the way they were treated in Greenville.

"But this spirit of making people feel at home is not anything new to Greenville. Our Greenville, yours if you come," is a slogan that applies to everybody and it will continue to apply as long as the city stands."

"Greenville extends a cordial welcome to Rev. A. W. Fleishman; new pastor of the Memorial Baptist church, who recently accepted the pastorate of the local institution," said a citizen today.

"Mr. Fleishman comes to Greenville from the Baptist church of Louisville. He was at the Southside Baptist church at Raleigh before going to the charge at Louisville.

"Greenville offers a splendid field for service and the new minister will find everybody ready to co-operate with him in his work."

"Commercial students of the local high school are looking forward with much interest to the Northeastern typewriting contest to be conducted in the Greenville high school Saturday," said a patron of the school today.

"The speediest of local typewriting and shorthand experts will take part in competition with students from other towns. Greenville is hopeful of winning out and the students have been putting forth much effort getting ready to match their skill with other participants."

"Yesterday was remnant day in Greenville," said a merchant today and the stores that had remnants to offer were crowded most of the day by interested shoppers.

"These special sales days are getting to be of more than general interest to the people in this trade territory. They know that the merchants have bargains to offer them and they don't fail to take advantage of the numbers of opportunities to purchase them.

"Greenville is rapidly forging to the front as the leading business center of this section of the state, and the special bargain days are doing much to improve the situation.

"The weather man is the most unreliable person in the country at this time," firmly declared a reader of the paper yesterday afternoon as he watched fleeting clouds pass over the city.

"This morning it was as fair and pretty as I ever saw it. Now look at it! Unless a change takes place, we will have a cold rain by night fall, or still colder weather with frost in the morning.

"I will certainly be glad to see summer time come. I am tired of cold weather and the discomforts that go with it. Summer time is the season of the year for me, and the sooner it comes the better I shall like it."

Most Lawn Failures Caused by Lack of Nourishment A Condition Easily Corrected

GRASS, flowers, shrubs, trees—all plants—are like human beings. They are living things. They must be fed. They need plenty of nourishing food for health and vigor. They require a "balanced diet," just as we do. Without it they become sickly and eventually die. Yet most lawn failures are caused by actual starvation. The most elementary feeding needs have been neglected. How can this condition be corrected, particularly in cities, where the best soils are none too good? The easiest solution, thousands of home owners have found, is Vigoro. Vigoro is a scientifically prepared, odorless plant food, originally formulated for gardeners and nurserymen. America's finest estates have used it for years with remarkable success. And thousands of small home owners have found it just as effective. Properly balanced and complete, Vigoro supplies all the nourishment required for early, vigorous growth and full development of fruit, flowers and foliage. It develops stronger root systems. It increases humus. It helps choke out weeds. Lawns become more heavily carpeted, greener. Flowers are perfect in color and kept blooming longer. Shrubs and trees taken on a new vigor. And with Vigoro it is easier by far to have a successful home garden—crisp, flavory vegetables of all kinds. Clean and odorless. Vigoro can be sown by hand, like grass seed. Its cost of application is surprisingly low—only 10c to 20c for every 100 square feet. Full directions in every bag—100, 50, 25 lb. sizes and 5 lb. packages. See your dealer. There's one close by. Get your Vigoro now—enough for everything you grow. And this year have results such as you've never before dreamed possible.

The Calendar of Plant Feeding THIS MONTH 1. LAWNS: As soon as grass shows green, or any time thereafter, apply plant food. 2. FLOWERS: Work plant food into soil before seeding; or for perennials, as soon as plants appear. For early large and richly colored blooms make later feedings. 3. VEGETABLES: Work plant food into the soil before seeding. Later feedings will hasten maturity, increase yields. 4. SHRUBS, TREES: Apply plant food any time after leaves appear.

BABE STARTS SEASON WITH CIRCUIT DRIVE

Whatever the fate of the Yankees in their fourth quest for the rainbow's end, and its pot of pennant gold, American league pitchers are due to spend many anxious afternoons trying to circumvent a Babe Ruth bent upon battering down the fences in left field instead of right. Employing an entirely new stance at the plate, with his left foot swung back almost out of the batter's box, the big Bambino opened his 1929 campaign with a home run in his first attempt yesterday, and so started the Yankees toward a 7 to 3 triumph over the Red Sox in the first game at the Yankee Stadium.

Admittedly something of a problem to pitchers at times in the past, Ruth in his new stance presents an entirely different puzzle to pitchers who already had decided that his only weakness was a base on balls. With the Babe standing back and firing at the left side, fielders also may have their troubles playing for the big slugger.

Bill Carrigan's system of "playing him straight" may be the best after all.

The Yankee opening was Ruth's very own. With his bride of a day stationed in a box near the New York bench, the Babe started the season right with his left field homer, and after that everything he did was right. Lou Gehrig hit his homer in the sixth, but the fans remained the Babe's.

The cold weather kept the opening day crowd down to 35,000 hardy clients, but a good half of those mobbed the home run king in a friendly but vigorous fashion at the close.

All the usual frills, and a few more, marked the Yankee debut. Judge Landis presented the Hugmen with wrist watches, emblematic of the world's championship. Colonel Jacob Ruppert and E. S. Barnard, president of the league, led members of both teams to the flagpole where the usual three banners were unfurled, and a ball game was played.

George Pipras carried his wildness into the championship season, an Miller Huggins yelled enough with one out in the sixth, the bases full of Red Sox, the Yanks only one run ahead and two balls called on the batter. The curve ball star had given only three hits, but had decorated them with nine bases on disturbance, Gehrig hit his homer, and the Yankees went on to win.

The Athletics made it two straight over the Senators at Washington, winning by 8 to 2. Rube Walberg, out for his first center, never was in danger after the Machmen got him six runs in the fifth.

The Browns won their third straight from the White Sox by 4 to 1 and the Cleveland Indians made it two out of three from Detroit with an 8 to 4 victory.

The Eastern opening of the National league was just as frost-bitten as that of the American and more dismal. The Giants gave an unimpeachable display in defeating the Phillies by 11 to 9, and the less said about Boston's 13 to 12 victory over Brooklyn the more charitable it will be for all concerned—including 5,000 venturesome Bostonese who paid to see it.

As the Giants, with Larry Benton in the box, sagged before a philly rally in the ninth, distant rumbles drifted from the Chicago front where Bruin Howitzers again were blasting a path through Pirate defenses. The Cubs won by 11 to 1 behind Sheriff Fred Blake, and made it two out of three from the Buccaneers.

Jesse Haines outpitched Adolfo Luque at Cincinnati to give the champion Cardinals two out of three against the Reds so far in the opening series. The score was 3 to 1.

LOCAL PILOT HAS HAD VARIED BASEBALL CAREER

Bangs, Greenies' Leader, Has Had Varied Baseball Career.

This article republished through courtesy of the News and Observer.

No skipper in the East Carolina circuit can boast the wide experience which belongs to Lester M. Bangs, pilot of the Greenville Tobacconists. Bangs, while a stranger to the Class D circuit, is well known of fans over the league territory because of his long service in the Virginia league back in the days when that circuit functioned and eastern North Carolina towns held franchise in it.

The coming season as the fiery little fellow's 21st in baseball. He started out back in 1909 and in the interim has played in the Federal league, Eastern league, Connecticut league, Texas league, Northwestern league, Virginia league, Eastern Shore league, Blue Ridge league and perhaps a couple of other circuits including two seasons as skipper of a club in Western Canada where he won two pennants.

Pilo's Record Good. Bangs' record as a pilot is a good one. He has had the wheel on even clubs and four of them came home in front. On top of that he can boast two second-place finishes and has a third-place for his other season as a leader. Not bad, what!

They like Lester Bangs here in Greenville. The manner in which he has handled his club in the spring workouts has pleased the fans. He can still cavort about the outfield and his batting eye is keen. The bugs in the smallest town in the East Carolina loop figure that Les will make their city a real contender in the chase which opened today.

About The "Shipwreck." While Bangs' nickname of "Shipwreck" has become quite appropriate in view of his timely hitting, the name goes back more than a decade. Les served overseas with the 29th Division and the transport on which he made the round trip over the pond had safe journeys. However, the ship on which Bangs sailed to join the Portsmouth club back in 1918 was wrecked and when the old craft went down it carried all of Lester's belongings.

Bangs arrived at Portsmouth clad in an old pair of sailor's trousers, a ragged coat and a pair of shoes—all secured after his rescue. And that's all he had. Hence the name "Shipwreck" which the ball players promptly stuck on him.

Les played for ten seasons with the Portsmouth Trunkers and was named manager in 1925, a post he held through the 1927 season. His clubs always were scrapping clubs and what it took to put the fire into them was possessed by Bangs. He was popular throughout the Old Dominion loop. Last season he began as pilot in the Eastern Shore circuit but that league passed away, and he went from there to Hagerstown in the Blue Ridge league.

KINSTON TO OPEN SEASON HERE TODAY

Greenville and Kinston ball clubs of the Eastern Carolina League were scheduled to open the season at the fair grounds here this afternoon at four o'clock. With ideal weather prevailing, it was expected that the largest crowd ever before attending an opening game would witness the initial exhibition.

The Greenville club was said to be in excellent condition for the clash. Kinston was also reported in splendid form following strenuous training and exhibition games.

The game was scheduled to be preceded by a parade of the local club, headed by the high school band. Aside from this nothing out of the ordinary was attached to the opening.

Dozens of horses at the track for the spring meeting which opened on Monday, escaped or were led to safety by stable boys and trainers. Fire companies from six towns were called.

The fire was discovered by the horses themselves, their stamping and neighing arousing attendants and neighboring attendants who summoned the fire departments.

Valuable Horses Perish In Fire In Maryland

Havre De Grace, Md., April 19.—(AP)—Ten horses were known to have perished in a fire which last night destroyed two stables and a cottage at the Havre De Grace race track. Several others were missing.

All of the horses which died in the fire were in one stable, next to the fire departments.

B. & L. GAINS FIVE MILLION IN THE STATE

Total Assets During Past Year $95,009,520, Commissioner Boney Reports.

Raleigh, April 19.—Building and Loan Associations which had their humps a few years ago, even as the banks, gained nearly $5,000,000 in 1928 over 1927, and without getting hefty about it, Insurance Commissioner Dan C. Boney today spread the news about the world.

The state had no building and loan break in 1928 and the year passed with a clear and big gain. The satisfaction is all the greater because these figures reflect sanity in the purchasing of the people. It had been said by them of old time that the people of the state are not now buying homes but selling them and putting the proceeds into the latest automobiles. The motor buying has gone on, but home purchasers have not fallen off therefor.

"I am much gratified," said Insurance Commissioner Dan Boney today, "to note a healthy increase in assets during the year. We had 232 associations operating in North Carolina at the close of business on December 31, 1928, with total assets of $95,009,520.01, as against $89,118,990.59 in 1927, a gain of nearly five million dollars.

"I consider that our building and loan associations are among North Carolina's greatest assets, reaching as they do practically every section of the state. There are associations operating today in 151 North Carolina towns, situated in 75 of our 100 counties, all of them teaching thrift and improving citizenship by making home ownership possible.

"Last year our 232 associations built, or added materially in building $800 homes valued at $25,444,083.24, an average of 182 homes for each of the 73 counties having associations. This is a decrease of 45 in number of homes built in 1927, but an increase in the value of homes built of $499,000.

"At the close of the year there were more than 100,000 shareholders, 93,265 of them being whites and 15,835 colored a gain of 6,836 over 1927. The total number of shares held was 1,802,289, a gain of 70,421 over 1927.

"This it appears that there were outstanding at the end of 1928 193 shares of stock for every three people in the state and that one person in every 26 was a shareholder. It is apparent, therefore, that while splendid progress has been made and our present status is gratifying, we have not reached a saturation point and there is still room for expansion and need of much missionary work in North Carolina.

"Our figures show that our associations have had a uniformly profitable year. The average net earnings rate was 6.14 per cent and profits were paid of approximately to shareholders in excess of $4,500,000."
