THREE KILLED IN NEW YORK TRAIN WRECK

Two Score Also Injured When Elevated Trains Collide Over Yank Stadium.

New York, April 29.—(AP)—A steel train and a wooden one, jammed with between 2,000 and 3,000 office workers, collided on the elevated structure just above the Yankee Stadium today, killing three persons and injuring two score, half of them seriously.

Chaos and panic followed the crash and for more than an hour police and firemen fought with frenzied men and women trampling each other in a wild scramble for safety.

The accident, a rear end collision occurred at the 167th Street station, where the subway trains emerge from their underground tunnels and run on the same overhead tracks as the elevated railroad trains.

The wooden train was an "L" train and the steel one, a subway train. Both were Southbound with every seat taken and the aisles filled with strapangers. The wooden train had halted on signal to permit a subway train ahead of it to clear the station. The steel train came around a curve and coasted down a grade, the motorman realizing the situation too late to avoid a crash.

Those killed were J. Cullen, motorman of the subway train, William J. Schultz, a 17-year old student, and an unidentified passenger. The fire broke out in the rear car of the elevated train.

About half the injured were hurt in the scramble to get out of the wrecked trains and were allowed to go home after being treated by ambulance surgeons and at hospitals, twenty persons, however, suffered fractures, ranging from arms and legs to spines and skulls, and were taken to hospitals for emergency treatment.

For hours after the collision, even after the wreckage had been cleared away and traffic resumed, hundreds of persons stormed the high-rise police station seeking news of relatives or friends they believed might have been on one of the trains.

When police and firemen dug their way into the motorman's compartment of the subway train, using acetylene torches to burn away the twisted steel, they found Cullen with his hand on the emergency brake and motor set in reverse. He had realized the imminence of a collision but too late.

The body of the boy, who was identified as William J. Schultz, 17, of the Bronx, was found wedged near the motorman's compartment. An hour after the collision stragglers were still trying to get out of the trains.

They told of the wildest excitement after the crash. The passengers were thrown into the aisles by the terrific impact to become a fighting, scrambling, struggling mass. Police and firemen had to fight their way through a mad tide of humanity to reach the injured.

Many of them unconscious, who were being trampled on the floors of the cars. Other firemen quickly extinguished the blaze, the danger of which had added additional impetus to the panic.

The elevated train had stopped on a signal just outside the 167th Street station to allow a preceding subway train to clear when the following subway train came around the curve in the tracks to plow into its wooden rear coaches. Some witnesses said the subway train was not going over ten miles an hour at the time of the crash.

Gaston Sheriff Ordered To Court In Strike Case

Gastonia, N. C., April 29.—(AP)—Local battles incident to the strike of Lora Mill textile operatives here were moved today to Charlotte when Sheriff Eli Lineberger was ordered to appear at 2 p. m. in Superior Court there to answer a habeas corpus proceeding brought by three imprisoned alleged leaders of the strike.

The prisoners, Lester Holbrooks, Andy Cabe and Frank West, were arrested here on charges of leading a parade of strikers in violation of a municipal ordinance.

Judge Hoyle Sink signed the legal papers commanding Sheriff Lineberger to appear in the hearing. Jailer Tom Hanna announced that he intended to leave here at 1 o'clock for Charlotte with the three prisoners, whose lawyer is Tom P. Jimison, Charlotte attorney.

BARNES NOMINATED ASSISTANT TREASURER

Washington, April 29.—(AP)—George O. Barnes of Pennsylvania, was nominated today as assistant treasurer of the United States.

New Traffic Law To Be Enforced Here Tomorrow

Beginning tomorrow morning, the new one-hour parking ordinance will be rigidly enforced in the business district of the city, members of the police commission stated today.

Officers have been busy the last two weeks acquainting the public with provisions of the new ordinance, but after tomorrow those guilty of violating the law will be liable to prosecution.

Visitors to the city will be issued courtesy cards, giving them the privilege of parking longer than one hour in the business district.

Members of the police department have been urged to deal courteously with all cases, but to see that the regulation is properly observed.

PUTS DAMPER ON PLANS TO IMPROVE TAR

Major Snow Presents Unfavorable Report On Proposed Improvement Local River.

Congressman Lindsay Warren has been notified by the chief of engineers that Major W. A. Snow, district engineer at Wilmington has filed an unfavorable report on the proposed improvement of Tar river from Washington to Greenville and from Greenville to Tarboro. Major Snow has been making his investigations for over a year, and Mr. Warren expressed himself as being greatly disappointed. On account of shoals, Tar river is now only navigable to a point two miles below Greenville. The reason for the unfavorable report is the heavy cost involved.

Mr. Warren stated that as soon as the report reached Washington, he would then carefully study same, with a view of appealing from the decision to the Board of Engineers for Rivers and Harbors. Business interests in Washington, Greenville, and Tarboro have maintained great interest in the matter.

New Tar River Bridge Dedicated In Splendid Exercises Here Sunday

Calling former service men to arms—this time to combat the dangers threatening society—Hon. F. C. Harding, prominent Greenville lawyer, yesterday afternoon delivered the principal address dedicating the new bridge across Tar river as a memorial to the men of Pitt county who served in the great World War.

Quoting some great speaker who declared that the nation was facing one of the most perilous times in its history, Mr. Harding called on the former service men to use their influence in an effort to make the society of Pitt county more attractive and in that way offset the evil influences eating at the vitals of the nation. "Do this," he urged his hearers, "and in a few years another great monument will rise in your honor and make your immortality more lasting than ever."

The exercises were conducted at the court house at four o'clock under the auspices of the Auxiliary of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion, and were attended by a large number of former service men, members of the Auxiliary, and people from different parts of the county. It had been planned to hold the ceremonies at the bridge, but a steady downpour of rain the middle of the afternoon prevented the carrying out of these plans. The rain also prevented the unveiling of two markers which the Auxiliary had placed at each end of the bridge. The unveiling was to have been done by little Miss Elizabeth Bridgers and Master K. B. Pace, Jr.

The exercises at the court house were presided over by Mrs. K. B. Pace, president of the Auxiliary, and opened with the rendition of "America" by the high school band, directed by Mr. Eugene Robeson. Invocation was made by Rev. W. A. Lilycrop, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Pace introduced Frank Kugler, Sr., of Washington, district highway commissioner, who presented the bridge to the Auxiliary in behalf of the State Highway Commission. Mr. Kugler said the plan to dedicate the bridge to the veterans of the World War had his approval from the first. He thought it a very fitting tribute to the men who crossed the ocean to fight against one of the greatest foes of civilization.

Liquor Smuggling Plot Exposed At Havana, Cuba

Havana, April 29.—(AP)—An international liquor smuggling plot, involving millions of dollars, a well organized gang of runners throughout the United States and headquarters in Havana as a central distributing and shipping point, was exposed here today by Cuban secret police.

Alonso Fors, chief of secret police said that gang had been negotiating for the purchase of a large distillery here but the recent arrest of Sydney Hoffman, American chemist believed to be its leader, exposed the entire scheme. Hoffman had made a full confession prior to his deportation last week to the United States.

Washington, April 29.—(AP)—The gang of bootleggers exposed by the Cuban Secret Police was said today by prohibition headquarters to be the one through which Thomas Walsh, killed in a Florida hotel recently and a number of smugglers swindled a wealthy New Yorker out of $70,000 in a whiskey deal.

Prohibition officials said that Sydney Hoffman, whose confession exposed the plot, and three other men had been deported from Cuba at the instance of American authorities.

Four Store Robbers Caught Last Night; Held Under Bond

Caught while in the act of robbing Etheridge's Drug Store, corner Dickinson and Albermarle avenues four young negroes by the names of Willie Bland, Collin Harris, Nick Hines and Jack Parker, were banded to Superior court under bond of $500 each in a preliminary hearing in mayor's court this morning.

Owners of the drug store stated that approximately $500 worth of goods had been taken by the thieves but most of this had been recovered following arrest of all members of the gang.

Two members of the police force walked in on the thieves while they were completing their task last night shortly before 12 o'clock. Only two were in the building at the time, but they furnished their captors with sufficient information to enable them to round up the other two members of the gang a short time later.

A considerable part of the drug store haul had been removed to the home of Collin Harris. Whether or not Harris was directly connected with the robbery had not been determined today, but he was being held for receiving stolen goods.

Entrance to the drug store was made through the coal chute at the rear of the building.

The thieves seemed to have had a weakness for fountain pens. A check-up of the stock showed that pens valued at $300 had been included in the haul, as was a considerable number of kodaks, watches, cigarettes and lighters. Ten dollars in cash was also taken.

N. C. Shippers File Protests At Raleigh

Raleigh, April 29.—(AP)—Shippers from all parts of the state were here today to register with the Corporation Commission their protest against plans of the railroads to cancel the North Carolina exception sheet to southern freight classifications, and to substitute the southern scale for existing intra-state rates on less than carload lots.

The changes proposed, according to W. G. Womble, the commission's rate expert and director of railroad transportation, would increase the freight costs to shippers from 12 to 24 per cent.

VANDERBURG TAKES STAND AT GASTONIA

Youth Charged With Murder Of Family Describes Incidents Of The Tragedy.

Gastonia, April 29.—(AP)—Jacob Vanderburg, 17 year old defendant, took the witness stand at 10:33 o'clock this morning to describe events surrounding the death of his father, mother, two sisters and brother. He is charged with murder and arson in connection with their deaths and the burning of their farmhouse home.

Although apparently calm, he talked in such low tones that attorney J. M. Hoyle, who was questioning him, was forced to ask him constantly to speak louder.

The boy, after describing the plan of the house went direct into action the night of December 27. The five bodies were discovered in the burned home early the next morning.

Among the things he had done at the late afternoon were visiting his rabbit boxes and also pulling a tooth.

He described his terror when awakened by stifling smoke, of calling for his family and running for help to neighbors. Scores of well dressed women crowded into the space inside the jail railing, practically excluding all men with the exception of attorneys and newspapermen, and they were cramped position.

The defendant with a large pink nose in his lapel, was seated around six attorneys. He was wearing a coat again after having come to court without it for the first three days.

George Smith, textile mill worker was the first witness. He had formerly lived near the Vanderburg family and said Jacob had a good reputation. Solicitor Carpenter made him admit he had no knowledge of the boy's character now.

Laughter in the courtroom as the next witness, Joan Skidmore of Mount Holly, testified to a transaction in buying a cow at the Vanderburg home, caused Judge A. M. Stack to threaten arrest if there was not more quiet.

E. W. Scott, Gastonia automobile salesman, and J. K. Anderson, automobile mechanic, testified as to Jacob's character although they admitted knowing him slightly.

A. C. Jones of the defense counsel introduced two letters said to have been written by Frank Morgan, detective, to him. They were presented, he said, in reply to statements made by the detective on witness stand. Judge Stack ruled that most of the content of the letters was irrelevant but allowed the dates of the letters to be introduced. The dates were: High Court, January 21, and Richmond, February 5.

A. A. Vanderburg of Mecklenburg county, an uncle of the defendant, testified he had not seen Jacob in about four years, but that the boy's conduct was all right at that time.

Defense attorneys then withdrew from the courtroom for a conference after which they called Jacob Vanderburg to the stand.

He answered question by attorney J. M. Hoyle, in a calm, even tone. His face, however, was slightly flushed.

PROVIDE $2,000,000 FOR STORM SUFFERERS

Washington, April 29.—(AP)—The House today adopted a resolution to make available for use of the sufferers from recent southern tornadoes and storms the $2,000,000 remaining from the $6,000,000 appropriated at the last session for storm relief in the states of North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida and Alabama.

YOUNG WOMAN IS BURNED TO DEATH IN N. Y.

Police Attempt To Identify Victim Of "Torch Slaying" In Metropolitan Area.

New York, April 29.—(AP)—Police today sought to identify the badly charred body of a young woman as the first step in efforts to solve the third "torch slaying" in the metropolitan area within 14 months.

The body was found Saturday in a clump of woods on the Edwards estate between Scarsdale and Ardsley in Westchester county by Joseph Selvey, a steam fitter's helper of White Plains, N. Y. He did not report it until six hours later.

The victim was apparently about 20 years old, five feet four inches tall and weighed 110 pounds. An autopsy indicated she had been strangled before being set afire.

A quart milk bottle with a few drops of kerosene in it was found near the body. A towel which had been saturated in the liquid was wrapped about the head. A man's handkerchief also having an odor of kerosene, was found nearby.

A square of cretonne, evidently part of a house dress, was under the body. This and a pair of stockings were the only articles of clothing. A bundle of women's clothing was found in a ditch two miles from where the body was discovered but police have not determined whether the garments had belonged to the torch victim.

Dental bridge work in front of the upper jaw was considered by police the best lead to identification of body and dentists' records in Westchester communities, and here were being checked. The list of missing girls also was being scrutinized for descriptions which might fit the body.

Relatives of Gladys Moriz, a carpet factory worker who was reported missing since last Wednesday, viewed the body but could not identify it.

Of the other two "torch" slayings, both of which occurred in New Jersey, one is still unsolved.

The blazing body of Miss Margaret Brown, governess, was found February 21, 1928, near Bernardsville, N. J. She was identified a few hours later. Her slayer was never captured. Police received a $1,000 bond which had belonged to her in the mail with a note saying the writer had killed her.

Mrs. Mildred Mowrey's body was found near Cranford, N. J., February 23, 1929, burned beyond recognition.

Divergent Interests To Demand Consideration At Disarmament Conference

Geneva, April 29.—(AP)—Divergent national interests should work themselves to the forefront of deliberations of the preparatory disarmament conference in the next few days, and mark still further lines of cleavage drawn in last week's fight on trained reserves.

The Chinese proposal for abolition of conscription and Russo-German projects for reductions in war material and stocks must, both be discussed and acted upon before the subject of most interest to America is reached—that is, naval disarmament.

China contends that conscription leads to militarism. It is a view shared by most of the national delegations here but one so certainly to be opposed by most of continental Europe, France and Italy particularly, and Japan that the proposal seemed today to be fore-ordained to rejection, perhaps with the sting removed by a parliamentary maneuver such as that in the trained reserves disposal Saturday.

Their discussion as army effectiveness was ruled outside the scope of the preparatory commission's draft treaty.

An alignment of republican Germany and Soviet Russia for reduction of war materials and war stocks—which they claim make it possible for armies to strike quick decisive blows—has already appeared with formidable opposition certain from France and Italy.

A spokesman for France told newspapermen that German industry were already turning out great quantities of steel tubes which could be used for cannon in the event of war. The statement was made in advance of the French contention that private enterprise can always lay up immense stores of war material under the guise it is intended for the promotion of peaceful industry.

France and Italy particularly will oppose any great reduction of war stocks and materials. Germany, bound by the treaty of Versailles against accumulation, and Soviet Russia will insist the preparatory commission's draft treaty make specific mention of such reductions.

In connection with approaching discussion of naval problems the suggestion has been broached here that the time is not far distant when the yclepae must further enunciate its stand on the freedom of the seas.

MILL RESUMES OPERATION AT PINEVILLE, N. C.

Decision To Re-open Mill Follows Conference Of Owners and Employees.

Charlotte, April 29.—(AP)—The Pineville mill of the Chadwick-Hoskins Company, where a strike of textile employees was called, about two weeks ago by the National Textile Workers Union, was to resume operation at 1 o'clock today, E. B. Gossett, president, announced in a statement issued this morning.

Mr. Gossett, in his statement, said that a decision to reopen the mill followed a conference last Saturday between the management of the Chadwick-Hoskins Company and a committee of former employees from the Pineville plant. Previously during the week two other conferences had been held, he said.

It developed at the Saturday conference, according to the statement, that all former workers with the possible exception of four former employees who had taken a prominent part in the strike, desired to return to their position. The request to reopen the mill was endorsed by Sheriff Irwin of Mecklenburg county.

The Pineville mill was closed following threatened disorders incident to the strike.

FLIERS PLAN NON-STOP TRIP AROUND GLOBE

Washington Post Says Flight To Begin At New York Sometime In September.

Washington, April 29.—(AP)—The Washington Post says today that six internationally known aviators are preparing to begin a non-stop flight around the world from New York on the first clear day in September.

The names of only three of the aviators were given—Lieutenant Albert D. Hulse, former army air mail pilot; Captain Harry W. Lyon, Jr., navigator on the trans-Pacific flight of the Southern Cross, and Lieutenant L. T. O'Connell, radio officer at Lakehurst. The commander, the newspaper said, will be a world war aviator with more than 5,000 flying hours to his credit.

The name of the plane in which they intend to attempt the most ambitious flight ever undertaken as being constructed partly of metal and partly of linen fabric, powered with five 420-horse power Pratt and Whitney engines, equipped to take on fuel in flight, and capable of a maximum speed of 150 miles an hour and a cruising speed of 120 miles.

Twenty-two stations are to be established along the 13,500-mile route of which ten will be used only in case of emergency, the Post says, and two of the five engines are to be held in reserve. They will be sufficient to bring the ship through the variables, believe it all, three of the other engines break up under the five or six day strain.

The fuel tanks will have a maximum of 1,800 gallons, but only about half that amount, the newspaper says, will be taken aboard at New York to prevent overloading of the engines at the start. More fuel will be taken on while passing over Boston and the supply will again be replenished over Nova Scotia, under the plan, while a third refueling plane is to meet the non-stop fliers near Ceylon after completion of the 7,500 Atlantic leg of the flight.

From Glasgow, the route outlined lies over Siberia, thence to Nome, Alaska, south to the United States and along a northern route back to New York. Engine trouble is not expected until Nome is reached, if it is to be encountered at all.

The route is described as passing over countries containing about half the world's population, and the name of the plane will recognize the significance of that circumstance. It has been chosen by a Washington woman, the Post says, but her identity and the name she suggested have not been disclosed.

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 29.—(AP)—James F. Bickers, an attorney who aliened himself against dog racing and lawlessness in St. Petersburg, today was recovering from a beating given him yesterday by five men who kidnaped him from his home. Bickers said he would heed their warning to leave St. Petersburg not later than tonight.

Some mystery surrounded the affair. Bickers had just returned to his home from Sunday morning church services, when he was accosted by the men, who apparently had awaited his return near his house. At the point of pistols, he was forced into an automobile, handcuffed, gagged and bound.

The men drove some distance from St. Petersburg, Bickers said, took him from the car, removed his clothing, robbed him of $2,000 and whipped him. Then, warning him to leave town immediately, they drove away. Bickers said he made his way to a nearby highway, where a motorist picked him up and brought him to a hospital here.

His arrival at the hospital ended a five day search by 50 special police officers and two airplanes ordered out, after his wife, who was ill in her bed, had notified police of the abduction.

Coming here several years ago from Memphis, Tenn., Bickers represented local church interests in a fight on dog racing tracks which had been operated during the winter season. Only recently he sought the removal of Sheriff Glodstone Beattie on charges that the officer had accepted protection money from bootleggers.

Beattie visited Bickers last night and told the attorney he would "do everything in his power" to run down the kidnapers.

THINK REVOLT IN SONORA HAS COME TO END

General Calles Reports End Of Organized Resistance By Rebel Forces.

Mexico City, April 28.—(AP)—General Plutarco Elias calls Mexican minister of war, today considered the revolt in Sonora at an end, and the last Mexican state cleared of organized resistance to the central government.

In a message to President Portes Gil he said: "It is my honor to report with satisfaction that in my opinion the rebellion in Sonora has terminated as the principal traitors continue their flight northward unaccompanied by material support.

His message detailed unconditional surrender of two groups of rebel soldiers, totalling 1,000 men yesterday, and described disintegration of the rebel troops as they found retreat at almost every point blocked by Federal soldiers.

Continued desultory guerrilla warfare seems the prospect in Sonora for some little while as federal contingents pursue remnants of the rebel army into mountain districts. Aiding in this pursuit, General Calles said, were to be large Yaqui Indian contingents who had vowed their allegiance to the central government and had always remained passive to the rebel cause.

But one other military problem seems to face the administration of President Portes Gil, that being the suppression of the "Cristero" or so-called religious rebellion in the states of Guanajuato and Jalisco, where General Saturnino Cedillo is already campaigning vigorously against them. It is not believed General Calles will find it necessary to undertake personal direction of this campaign.

General Calles in his report said the last of the rebel armies had been driven north of the Rio Yaqui and that General Robert Cruz, one of the commanding officers of the rebel west coast army, had fled to the mountains. Marines had been landed at Guaymas from three federal gunboats there and were holding the city while reinforcements were rushed up the railroad from Corral, on the north bank of the Rio Yaqui.

The Federal gunboats in the harbor of Guaymas were to have shelled rebel troop trains passing the junction outside the city on their way northward towards Hermosillo and the United States border. Many, it was believed, would escape into the United States before Gen. Almazan, moving through Pulpito Pass, could cut them off.

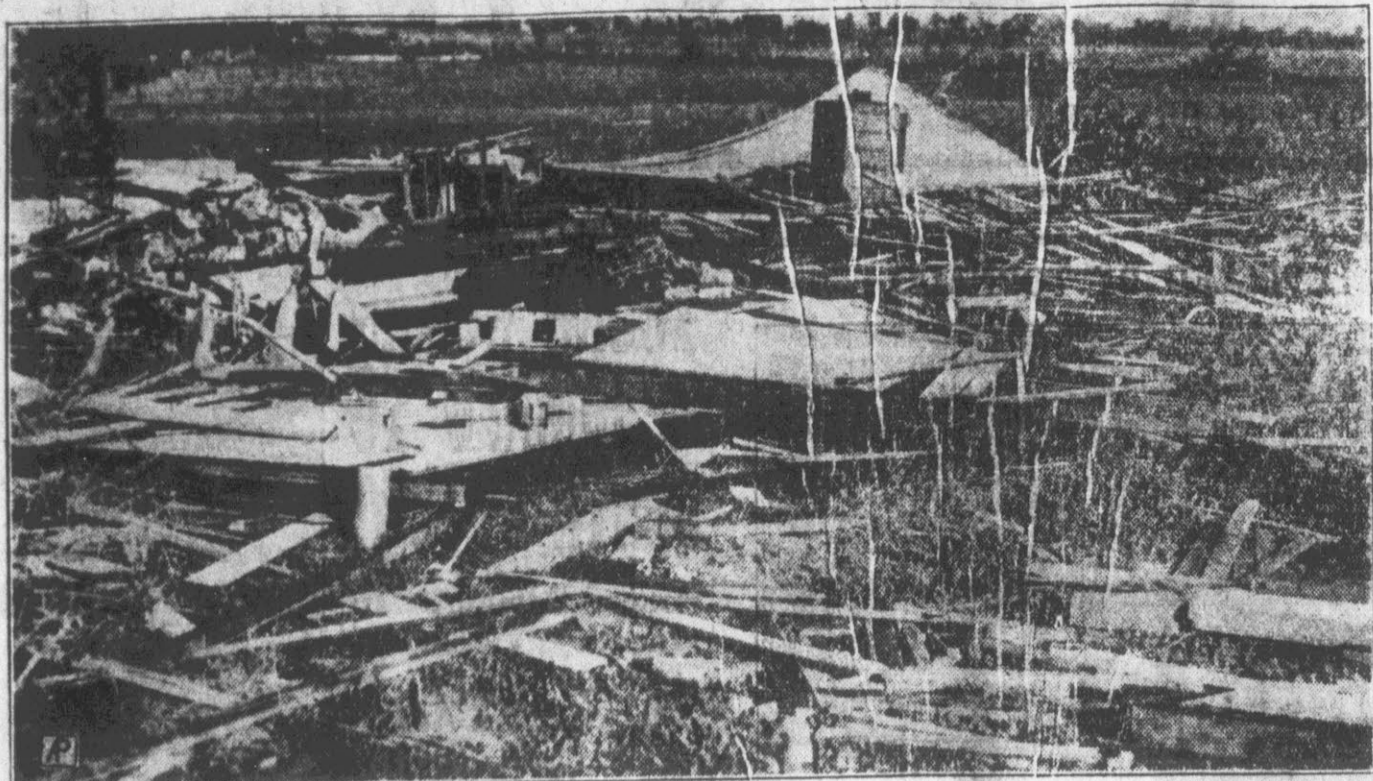

Two Americans Tell Of Escape From Insurgents

Mexico City, April 29.—(AP)—Two American sugar operators were telling friends today of escape from "Cristero" or so-called rebel forces, who attacked the train in which they were riding to Guadaluajara last Friday and wounded one of them, Emil King, in his hand.

King, with his business associate, B. F. Johnston, of New York, was en route to Los Mochis sugar plantation in the state of Sonora, when a band of rebels attacked their train, near Villameva, state of Michoacan. The passengers aboard the train threw themselves to the floor of the coaches while the military escort engaged the attackers.

The fight lasted 47 minutes. Arrival of reinforcements on gasoline cars finally caused the rebels to flee. There were no dead, and dispatches to Mexico City papers mentioned only King as wounded and said his injury, a bullet wound in a hand, was slight.

THREE FLIERS DIE IN WRECK IN CALIFORNIA

Early Morning Joy Ride Ends in Disaster When Plane Crashes Near Culver City.

Los Angeles, April 29.—(AP)—Three young men who went out for an early morning aerial joy ride crashed to earth and died in the blazing wreck of their airplane in an oat field near Culver City yesterday.

William H. Oviatt, Jr., 22, unlicensed pilot of the plane, Ray Scott, 25, motion picture scenario writer, and Mack Plucker, 25, screen actor, were the victims. Oviatt was the son of a Falmouth, Mass., theatrical producer, and nephew of Charlie Murray, motion picture actor. All had been living in Hollywood.

The three took off from Rogers airport "to take a spin," according to Thomas Loftus, the watchman. "I didn't want to let them have the plane, but Oviatt insisted," said Loftus. "They borrowed goggles, wheeled the plane out onto the runway and flew away in the fog."

About an hour later a group of Japanese gardeners heard a plane in the fog overhead. They said the plane suddenly roared out of the mist, its motor sputtering and its occupants shouting and laughing. One of the occupants was seen to lean out of a cockpit and wave. Then the plane crashed. Flames immediately enveloped the wreckage. It was several hours before the charred bodies of the men could be removed. Police identified them by piecing together charred cards found near the plane and by tracing an expensive roadster in which the trio had ridden to the airport. The car belonged to Scott's father.

GOLD BULLETS

by CHARLES G. BOOTH

A MOMENT before the millionaire Ogden was killed, he cried out the startling words, "Gold Bullets!" Peebles, his neighbor, had just bought an old revolver, once the property of Alex Peterson, a swaggering, reckless figure of those glamorous days of California mining towns. In one of its golden bullets was found a scrap of yellowed paper, revealing another mysterious murder, committed years ago.

I'm done for, Alex Dillon got me the skunk, but I put a bullet in him some time ago.

old scout, you did your best for me. I've been a bad devil Jerry.

WHO WAS JERRY?
WHO KILLED OGDEN?
— WAS THERE ANY CONNECTION BETWEEN THE TWO MURDERS?

MISS ANDREWS GIVES RECITAL

Delights Large Audience At Salem.

Winston-Salem, April 27.—The third in a series of graduating recitals to be presented by the School of Music of Salem College took place last night in Memorial Hall when Miss Elizabeth Andrews of Greenville, N. C., appeared as pianist in a program of marked interest and variety.

Miss Andrews is a pupil of Dean Charles G. Vardell, Jr., whose splendid training and influence were reflected in the fine musicianship of this talented young pianist throughout the evening. The opening number, Bach's Prelude in B flat from the "Well Tempered Clavichord," was played with an intelligent understanding of this particular style of composition. To the Mozart Fantasia in C minor, which followed, Miss Andrews gave a distinctly interesting interpretation, showing careful preparation of the finest details of phrasing and nuance. The Schubert Impromptu in G major, displaying a well controlled balance of tone, brought this group to a close.

Miss Andrews' second group opened with the "Harmonies Du Soir," by Lachuski, in which her playing was decidedly artistic and effective. The playful Karkanooff "Scherzino," followed with delightful contrast. This group was brought to a close with the brilliant Rhapsody of Dohnanyi, which showed a charming abandon of style and a fluent yet forceful technique.

The climax of the program was reached in the Beethoven Concerto in C minor, with Dean Vardell at the organ. Miss Lilyan Newell, soprano, of Rockingham, N. C., assisted Miss Andrews. Her voice is sweet and sympathetic and found immediate favor with her audience in the lovely aria "Je Veux Vivre," from Gounod's "Romeo and Juliette." A group of modern songs revealed an unusual flexibility and rare lyric charm. Miss Frances Jarratt appeared to excellent advantage in the careful and sympathetic accompaniments.

Methodist Pageant Largely Attended Here Last Evening

A pageant entitled "The Messenger of New Day" was presented by the Sunday School of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church last night in the main auditorium of the church. The pageant was given in celebration of Sunday School Day, an annual occurrence in the Methodist church. A crowd which filled the main auditorium and a large part of the Sunday school auditorium was on hand. Preceding the pageant the superintendent of the school, Mr. Junius H. Rose, made a brief talk on the work of the Sunday school.

Excellent lighting effects were worked out with the aid of a powerful spotlight, while the other lights were turned off. All participants did a fine piece of acting. The enunciation was clear and distinct, and the message of the pageant was put across to the audience in fine style.

The committees who put the pageant over were as follows: General chairman, Mrs. J. E. Winslow, assisted by Miss Athlene Edwards and Mesdames Junius H. Rose and O. G. Gully. Costumes, Mrs. Ed. Batchelor; Decorations, Mesdames W. S. Dail, chairman; L. B. Garris, James L. Evans, L. H. Spence and A. B. Ellington; Lighting, Messrs. Joe and Hoover Tait; Prompter, Mrs. M. E. Blount; Music, Mrs. Ray Tyson, Jr. The department superintendents, whose names appear below, were also members of the committee.

The characters and actors are given below:

WINS SECOND PRIZE IN PAINT ESSAY CONTEST

The second prize of Baker & Davis Hardware Co.'s paint contest was won by George Willard, Jr., Grade 7-A of the Intermediate school. Following is the essay submitted:

Athey's Paints. Athey, the name that signifies service, beauty and economy. Athey has a paint for every occasion; one for the house you are building or repairing; one for the farm implements; and numbers of other useful paints.

Athey's paints are most superior in all ways. When you build a house do not wait two or three months before painting it, but right away send around to Baker and Davis for some Athey's paint.

Some citizens, when painting houses, use inferior paints just because they do not know what kind of paint to use. You can always rely on Athey's paints. Athey's paints not only beautify the surface but preserve it.

A great problem that confronts the nation is: how can we save our trees? Lumber is being wasted all over the country. Now what can we do to help save our lumber? The answer is Athey's paints. Always bear in mind: "When you save the surface you save all."

Hams—Hams—Hams.

It's all over now until next Tuesday. I reiterate through my many friends, which are legion. I sold out the last ham this morning, and further through their gratefulness and gratefulness of P. T. Fountain which I consider the king ham dealer in Onslow and Duplin county, I have been able to sell more hams than all of Greenville, which I honestly and correctly believe, for the last ten days.

On next Tuesday I am, and purpose to go to Onslow county again, and take a trailer with me to bring back enough to supply the demands. My many customers may rest assured they will be taken care of.

LOCALS TAKE TWO STRAIGHT FROM PIRATES

Greenville made it two straight from the Wilmington Pirates by winning Saturday afternoon's contest by the score of 6 to 2. The game was probably one of the best seen on the Greenville diamond this season, and was witnessed by the usual large Saturday afternoon crowd despite overcast skies that gave threat of rain almost any moment.

Jeffries did the mound work for Greenville. It was one of the prettiest exhibitions of pitching seen here this season. He held the hard-hitting Pirates scoreless for eight innings, but yielded up enough singles in the ninth to net them two runs. Redden did the firing line feat for the visitors and was stung with hits at critical moments. He yielded only seven, the majority of which featured in scoring by Les Bangs and his crew.

The most spectacular part of the hitting of the Greenville club came in the fifth inning when Pasquella doubled to the left centerfield fence, sending three runners racing home. Bangs and Jones again led with the stick with two safeties out of four trips to the plate. Both clubs fielded in mid-season style, and had only two errors charged up against them.

For the next two days the Greenville club will play hosts to the Fayetteville Highlanders. Still stinging from the severe drubbing handed them by the Goldbugs on their recent visit to Goldsboro, Les Bangs and company were preparing today to retaliate in a way that will boost their position in the standing of clubs column. They dropped two games to the Goldbugs and they persist that proper retaliation should bring two in return.

The box score of Saturday's game follows:

Lull Occurs In Fistic Circles

New York, April 29.—(AP)—There's a lull in the cauliflower industry this week. Most of what activity there is comes tonight. At Philadelphia Jimmy Bass, the hard-socking featherweight, returns to the ring after a month's lay off to tangle in a ten round match with Johnny Farr, of Cleveland. Two good middleweights, Jack McVey, New York negro, and Vincent Forzzone, of Philadelphia, are matched in the 10-round semi-final.

Kid Chocolate, the Cuban flash faces Tommy Ryan, a right-hand puncher from Buffalo, in the 10-round main bout at the Broadway arena tonight. At the St. Nicholas arena, Baby Joe Gans, negro junior welterweight from Los Angeles, tackles Charley Rosen, of New York, in a 10-rounder.

Perhaps the best bout of the week will fall to Detroit fans. Ray Miller, who cuts 'em down with a left hook, meets Billy Petzelle, the Fargo Express, in a bout set for 10 rounds Wednesday night. Madison Square Garden's show on Friday night will feature a 10-round match between Al Mello, of Lowell, Mass., and Gorilla Jones, Akron, Ohio, negro and rough and ready customer.

Other bouts on the week's card include: Tonight—At New York, Broadway arena, Black Bill, Cuba, vs. Rabbit Parra, Chile, flyweights, 10 rounds; at Boston, Big Boy Rawson vs. Hambone Kelly, heavyweights, 10 rounds. Tuesday—At Chicago, Red Ross, South Chicago, vs. Jack Scarton, Detroit, middleweights, 10 rounds. Wednesday—At Toledo, Willie Michel, Belgium, vs. Midget Mike O'Doud, Columbus, featherweight, 10 rounds.

FRESHMEN WIN OVER WASHINGTON TEAM

The Freshman base team of Greenville High opened the season yesterday with much desired, but unexpected victory over the Washington Junior High team, by a score of 8-5. Both teams played a reasonably steady game, but were weak in the pitching department.

Pitching rated much higher than fielding on both sides. Taylor holding Washington to four scattered singles, and Gaultier doing equally as well for the home team. The lanky Washington pitcher struck out the first three Greenville batters, and the game opened impressively for the visitors, who were three runs behind before they tallied at all. Bunching hits and running bases well, together with two passes and two errors enabled Greenville to mark up 5 in the fifth inning, putting the game on ice. Greenville gave 16 men a chance for action, cutting off Washington in the last inning with six substitutes in the field.

Batteries: Taylor and Dail; Gaultier and Sterlitz.
Umpires: Valden and Johnson.

RAIN HOLDS UP CONTESTS IN MAJORS

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer)

In between cloudbursts and showers through the eastern theatre of major league war, pennant contenders, real and accused, stepped to the plate yesterday, and won a moral victory over the weather, and swam for their lives. One game was delayed, another was cut short, and the second portion of a scheduled double header at the Polo grounds was washed away.

Fighting in the western section saw the St. Louis Browns continue their mad race as two National League favorites fell before so-called under dogs. The Cincinnati Reds, conceded to be as far under as it is possible for dogs to get, left the Cubs reeling under a 17 to 12 blow at Redland field, but found themselves severely battered by Cub bats before it was called a day. Jess Petty pitched his first winning game of the year on turning the Cards by 6 to 2 with only four safe hits. The Pirates themselves had their troubles with old Pete Alexander, and made the game safe only by a three run assault, against Sylvester Johnson, in the ninth after Alex had given way to a pinch batsman.

About 42,000 fans were enticed to the Polo grounds by word that the Giants would trample the Phillies twice in the same afternoon. After Fred Fitzsimmons had toyed with the Phils to win the opener by 8 to 2, rain fell in such a business-like way that Giant officials were forced to send their customers home short changed.

The rain gave the Robins a chance to prove prove themselves as adept at losing in six innings as they were known to be in nine. The Braves accepted this decision by 5 to 2 and remained at the top of the peculiar standing of the National League clubs. Babe Ruth's second home run and Waite Hoyt's effective pitching pulled the Yankees through by 7 to 2 in Washington. The contest was delayed for more than an hour by rain. Hoyt took his third victory off the young season, with a defeat yet to be experienced. Boston fans finally had a chance yesterday to see a major league championship contest on the Sabbath, but the Athletics romped back to Philadelphia with an edge of 7 to 3.

Bing Millers and Jimmy Dykes contributed home runs to the Mexican cause. Eddie Parnell attended to the defense by serving the knuckle balls in his best style. The 6 to 3 victory of the Browns at Detroit, coupled with the success of the Athletics, left these two contenders in a tie for top honors in the younger major circuit, each with a mark of .667. The White Sox shaded the Indians by 2 to 1 at Chicago in the remaining American League skirmish.

Birmingham Trails Memphis and Orleans

Atlanta, Ga., April 29.—(AP)—A margin of one-half game today separates the Birmingham Barons from Memphis and New Orleans in the exciting race for the Southern Association leadership.

The lead of the Robben was sliced yesterday by the New Orleans Pelicans when they broke through in the tenth inning to score one and win, 5 to 4.

Memphis hit heavily behind Griffin and defeated Nashville 9 to 1 for their third straight win.

Rube Robinson, veteran pitcher, mastered the Mobile Bears while the Atlanta Crackers hammered away to score an 8-0 shutout. The Chattanooga Lookouts took the opening game from Little Rock 8 to 4.

Montgomery took both ends of a double header from Jacksonville 9 to 5 and 4 to 2. Tampa won the closing game of the series from Pensacola 8 to 4. Columbus and Selma were idle.

FORMER HIGH STARS TO PLAY 1929 TEAMS

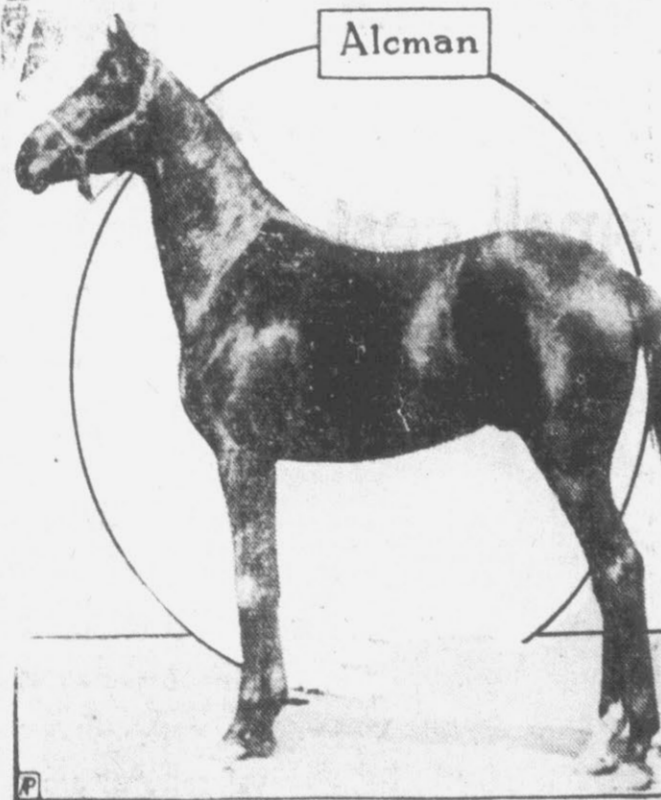

A very interesting post season basketball game is planned for next Tuesday night when the Greenville High Girls will don their uniforms once again to play the ex-High Stars, a combination of the best players of the last 12 years, for the benefit of the Building fund of the Episcopal church and the School Athletic fund. This game should be of much interest for several reasons. For one, it will give the school and its friends opportunity to see how the present team compares with the best of the past few years, and for another, it will show how soon people get out of practice. The meaning, of course, the present team which has been away from the court for two months, and does not feel the need of practice. On the other hand, the Ex-Stars have been steadily on the job for some time, and thing that most of the kinks have been ironed out of their still rather sore muscles, and that their skill and accuracy has to a large extent, come back.

At least half of the Ex-Stars have been outstanding college players after leaving Greenville High, and are not so many years off the active list that the school team can afford to rely on their rustiness of their opponents to a great extent. The Ex-Stars squad includes the following: Bessie Brown, Mary Warren, Virginia Arthur, Alma Lee, Sarah Ogletree, Catherine Smith, Clara Louise Moyer, Rose Hadley and Mary Louise Langley. It should be a good game when any combination of these formidable players takes the floor, and many should welcome the opportunity to see the game on Tuesday, April 30.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, April 29.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 7 to 21 points. It weakened right after the call under liquidation combined with wire and commission house selling stimulated by easy cables, reports of favorable weather in the South over Sunday, and complaints of continued slow demand in the domestic markets for cotton goods.

There was some trade buying of near months and covering seemed to be mostly in small lots but prices worked off to 19.54 for July and 18.77 for December by the end of the first half hour, or 24 to 27 points net lower.

Private cables said Continental buying had been supplied by renewed liquidation in Liverpool, owing to favorable weather reports from the South and that the decline had uncovered stop orders in that market.

Better demand for cotton cloths from India and China was reported in Manchester.

GRAIN MARKET

By JOHN J. O'NEILL, Associated Press Market Editor, Chicago, April 29.—(AP)—Notwithstanding announcement of 3,482,000 bushels decrease in the United States wheat visible supply, wheat prices were easier today in the late dealings.

Wheat closed irregular at 1-4c net decline to 3-8c advance; corn 3-8c off to 1-2c up; oats varying from 1-4c setback to 1-26 5/8c; grain and provisions unchanged.

STOCK MARKET

New York, April 29.—(AP)—Extreme nervousness over the credit situation brought about further settlement in today's stock market. Prices in a long list of standard industrials broke 1 to nearly 10 points in the early trading, but strong buying support appeared in the early afternoon and part of the losses were reduced, and a few wiped out in the general rally which started at that time.

Call money renewed at 12 per cent the highest opening future since April 2, and advanced her to 15 when it became apparent that the demand for funds exceeded the supply. Little fresh money was attracted to the market, even at the higher figure, and fears of a further advance in the rate led to heavy selling for both accounts.

U. S. Steel common was in the vanguard of the afternoon rally with buying influenced by expectations of an unusually favorable quarterly earnings statement after the close of the market tomorrow. Bethlehem Steel, on the other hand sold down 3 points in the early trading, and was unable to make up the loss.

Most of the day's trade developments were favorable. Several excellent earnings reports made their appearance during the morning and a new crop of merger and stock split-up rumors were in circulation, some disappointment was felt that the U. S. Supreme court again failed to hand down a decision in the St. Louis and O'Fallen valuation case, which hangs like the sword of Damocles over the railroad shares.

Coppers, which have been under rather heavy liquidation since the price trend of the Red Metal turned downward, received fresh buying on the theory that the price finally had been stabilized at a level which assured large profits to all of the large producers. Anaconda, Kennecott and Calumet and Arizona all rallied 1 1/2 to 2 points above last week's final quotations in the early afternoon recovery.

Aluminum was again a spectacular performer, breaking 8 points to 14 1/2 during the morning and then rallying to a new high record at 131 3/4 on what appeared to be a driving in of the short interest. Air reduction ran up 5 points to a new peak at 114 7/8 and Allis Chalmers rallied 7 1/2 points and Pittsburgh Coal 4.

In the early reaction, Midland steel products preferred broke 9 1/4 points and Wright Aeronautical, Curtiss, Corn Products, John Manville, Columbia Graphophone, Houston Oil and American Railways Express slumped 4 to 6 points. American Machine and Foundry and Hupp Motors sank to new low levels for the year.

Twelfth Week of Reparatons Confab Under Way At Paris

Paris, April 29.—(AP)—The twelfth week of the reparations conference opened today with an examination at a meeting of the drafting sub-committee of preliminary work on the proposed texts of the report to be submitted by the experts to the various governments interested.

These texts cover principally the question of establishing an international bank to replace the reparations commission and transfer committee as well as the agent-general in the receipt and distribution of reparations payments.

The experts are waiting for any possible development regarding figures before taking up the question of annuities or commercialization of any part of the reparations debt. The question of deliveries in kind may be wound up along with the other uncompleted points before Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, head of the German delegation, returns on Thursday.

Flood Danger Moves Down Mississippi

St. Louis, April 29.—(AP)—Troubled waters have moved down the Mississippi, transferring the strain from levees in the Quincy, Ill., territory to the stretch from St. Louis to Cairo. In its muddy movement toward the gulf it has lost some of its menace.

The river's level was two feet below the top of the lowest dike between Chester and Cairo, engineers for the Missouri Pacific reported. A break in the South Grand Tower levee system Saturday has covered 24 square miles with water. The gauge reading at Grand Tower was 33.9 feet, a rise of 4 foot in 24 hours. Jackson county, Illinois, officials have noted the "unusual blues" of water moving past the levees, but engineers believe the river can rise two feet more without further overflow.

Encouraging reports were issued by the weather bureau here where the water reached the 34.8 foot stage yesterday.

NATIONAL KARPEN FURNITURE WEEK

April 27th to May 4th

Mahogany ladderback, pleasing but inexpensive, an ideal chair for almost any room in the house.

Genuine reproduction, of Early American Chippendale chair on exhibit in the Metropolitan Museum. Hand carved mahogany frame with antique velvet covering. As nationally advertised by Karpen. $42.00 Plus freight

7 ways to beautify your home at small cost

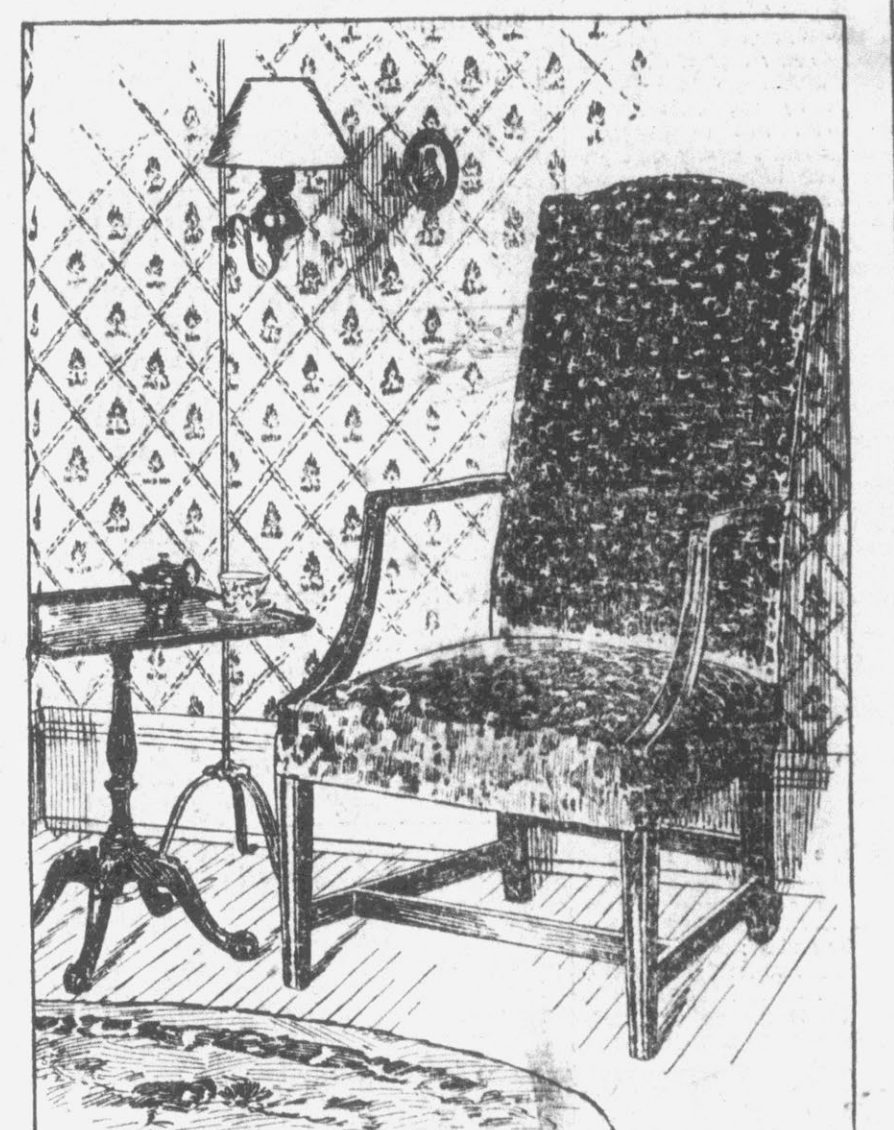

An unusually fine example of Early American craft, this Windsor arm chair of seasoned birch is a joy to the connoisseur.

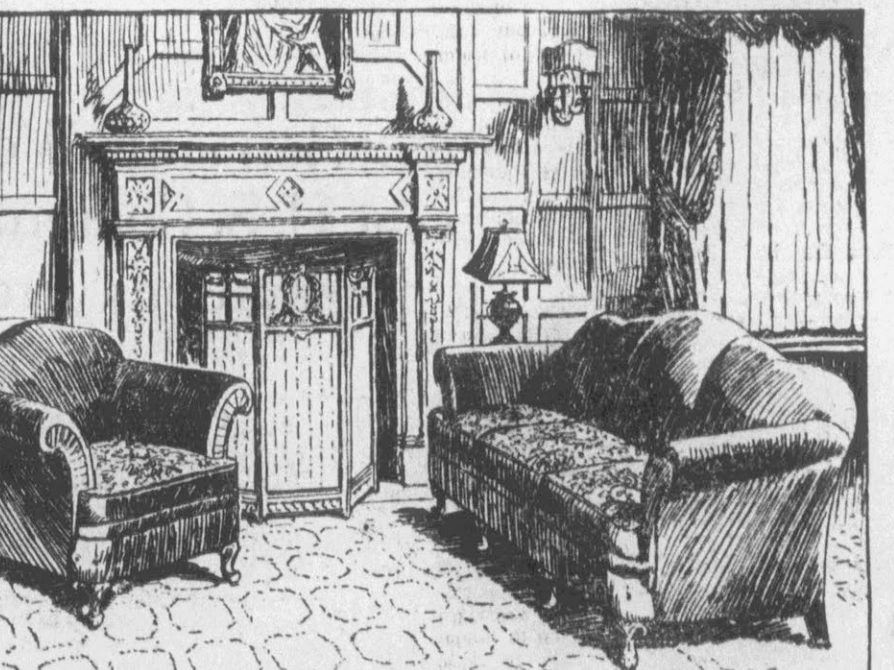

This roomy lounge chair—any man's idea of comfort—is in tapestry, with loose cushion, filled with softest down. Mahogany legs.

Very swaggy, but completely restful. Artifibre chair and ottoman. Colors will not chip or fade. Seasoned hardwood frame. Lasting comfort.

SEVEN Karpen Week values are shown here, representative of the dozens more in our great exhibit. Notice their wide diversity: a reproduction of a museum piece; two Early American designs, most attractively priced; an overstuffed club chair; colorful modern Artifibre pieces; and a superbly comfortable Queen Anne group. Here is variety to please the most discriminating taste. Here is the built-in quality and patrician character always associated with Karpen productions. And here are values! All are specially priced for this event.

The maximum of substantial comfort and distinctive beauty is here achieved. Both pieces are in wood-rose mohair with reversible Karpenesque cushions topped by linen frieze. Mahogany legs.
