DOCTOR GOES ON STAND IN MURDER CASE

Testifies That Blood On Vanderburg's Coat Could Have Been Rabbit Blood.

Gastonia, April 30.—(AP)—Dr. Roland S. Clifton, Gastonia physician, recalled to the witness stand today, testified the blood he examined on Jacob Vanderburg's hat could have been rabbit blood.

The physician testified last week that on examination it gave the same reaction as human blood and he believed it to be from a human. The blood was discovered on the boy's hat after the 17-year-old defendant had been brought to the city police station here on the night the charred bodies of his father, mother, two sisters and a brother were found in the burned Vanderburg home. He is charged with their murder.

The physician's testimony came out under cross-examination. "Doctor," asked A. C. Jones, defense attorney, "all you can say is that you found mammalian blood?" "Yes," replied the physician. "And rabbit blood is mammalian blood?" "Yes."

He previously had said he examined the blood "microscopically and chemically" and the tests showed it to be the "same as human blood."

Much of the other testimony during the morning session was from character witnesses. Solicitor Carpenter continued his rebuttal, introducing witnesses who testified the defendant's character was bad and the characters of the state witnesses were good.

Several of the witnesses who declared Jacob had a bad reputation brought out personal quarrels they had had with him. J. A. Ruzynski, former tenant on the Vanderburg farm, said the boy had told him if he couldn't get rid of him any other way, "I'll take a gun to you."

O. L. Rhyne admitted that he and Mrs. Vanderburg had a quarrel when a dog belonging to her had tried to attack him but denied the ill feeling was consequence of Jacob's attempt to break his tractor after he (Rhyne) had killed some guineas belong to the Vanderburgs. He also denied Mrs. Vanderburg had attacked him with a butcher knife.

Announcement of the order of attorneys' arguments was made. Solicitor Carpenter will be given first and last argument, while defense counsel said Mr. Jones would speak first, followed by J. M. Hoyle, Marvin Ritchie, George Wilson and A. E. Woltz, in the order named.

Little Hope Held Out For Amended German Proposal

Paris, April 30.—(AP)—Little hope was felt here today that Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, German reparations spokesman, would bring back with him from Berlin an amended German offer which would permit the experts to resume negotiations for a final settlement. The conviction was growing that the eleven weeks old reparations conference had entered the last week of its existence.

The few optimists seemed to pin their faith on hope of a proposal by Dr. Schacht, improving his former terms for the first fifteen annuities, but such information as reached Paris from Berlin, where Dr. Schacht was attending a meeting of the Reichsbank directorate, indicated no such change of attitude on his part.

Meanwhile starts of the various national delegations continued swift and careful preparation of the final report to the governments, which it was hoped, at least, would make negotiations in the future an easier task.

Take Precautions Against May Day Disorder in Europe

London, April 30.—(30)—Unusual police precautions were in order in almost every capital in Europe today and tomorrow in anticipation of May Labor and Communist disturbances.

Berlin and Paris were regarded here as especially liable to disorders on the fete day of the third internationale. Outdoor public meetings have been restricted in both cities until after Wednesday.

The Daily Mail presented a story that Communist leaders in Moscow had ordered their agents to instigate rioting throughout Europe. The Mail cited passages from Pravda, Moscow, urging Communists everywhere to go into the streets in a new revolutionary effort, and declaring a new revolutionary battle was getting under way in India in connection with strikes among mill workers at Bombay.

Strange Malady Puzzles Public Health Officials; Two Dead At Rocky Mt.

Rocky Mount, April 30.—(AP)—Local health officials today awaited advices from Raleigh and Washington in the hope that a satisfactory diagnosis which would clear up the mystery of a strange malady which has claimed two victims and given another a severe battle for his life. Rocky Mount and surrounding territory was plunged into practically a state of community hysteria yesterday as groundless rumors flew thick and fast but the community plus had slackened almost to normal again today in the face of assuring statements from health officials and the knowledge that no additional cases of the strange malady had occurred. In the meantime the disease remained just as baffling to local physicians and health authorities as ever. Blood, tissues and fluid taken from the two victims of the malady were taken to Raleigh and Washington yesterday for examination and analysis in the hygiene laboratories of the State Health Department and the United States Public Health Service, and an anxious city today awaited definite reports from these officials.

The victims of the disease, both of whom died within a comparative few hours after they were stricken, are the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. McCrea and Miss Mollie H. Wetwiler, veteran trained nurse of the city. Mr. McCrea, a member of the Rocky Mount baseball team and the first to be stricken, is regarded as on the road to recovery at a local hospital, and both other cases have been traced directly to contact with him.

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—Dr. George W. McCoy of the Public Health Service, who has returned to Washington after studying a strange disease that caused two deaths recently at Rocky Mount, N. C., said today that the nature of the malady or its cause had not yet been determined. He said that the investigation was being continued and that the health service hoped to ascertain what the disease was, and what caused it.

Dr. McCoy said that the illness started with a headache, followed by vomiting and a rash which broke out on the skin. In two of the cases he said the illness was rapidly fatal while the third person attacked, but who recovered, had the same symptoms as the other two.

TWO INDICTED IN DISORDERS AT GASTONIA

Grand Jury Returns Presentment Against Two Deputy Sheriffs In Mill Disturbance.

Gastonia, April 30.—(AP)—Thorough and searching investigation of the wrecking of headquarters of the National Textile Union which is conducting the Lory Cotton Mills strike here failed to bring forth evidence upon which to indict any one, the Gaston county grand jury reported to Superior Court Judge A. M. Stack here today.

The jury which was especially instructed to investigate the wrecking on April 19 of the strikers headquarters and the store of the International relief fund indicated two special deputy sheriffs, W. W. Bindeman and Joe Sarvis, who are accused of having attacked Legette Blythe, staff correspondent of the Charlotte Observer.

Blythe was attacked and knocked unconscious when a group of deputies guarding the mill property broke up a parade of strikers and strike sympathizers on April 23.

The jury reported that it had examined more than 100 witnesses. "We found sufficient evidence," the report said "at this time to make presentments of an assault by two Deputy Sheriffs and we made presentment in such cases. The solicitor drawing a bill of indictment upon this presentment. A true bill was found against said officers."

"Evidence was adduced before us of an assault in another case sufficient to base a presentment, but such offense being within the jurisdiction of the municipal criminal court of the city of Gastonia and being informed that such case is pending in said court, we have made no presentment in this particular case."

Believe Germany Would Accept U. S. Compromise Of Reparations Problem

Berlin, April 30.—(AP)—If Owen D. Young, American reparations chairman, should arrive at a compromise reparations figures acceptable to the Allies it probably would receive a favorable German reception.

Germans believe that if the settlement should be too big a burden its terms would be elastic enough to provide some measure of relief. Such an eventuality as new offer by Mr. Young, a sort of compromise which the Allies would accept as preferable to reversion to the Dawes plan, was seen at the informal meeting of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht and members of the German Cabinet yesterday, it was understood, as affording almost the sole hope of the conference at Paris.

Granting even that Mr. Young submitted figures judged here beyond Germany's capacity to pay, if they were accompanied by a "protection" clause similar to that contained in the Dawes plan they might prove workable at least for the present.

Germany, it was said, could make a real and determined effort to meet them, but if such measures, loyally undertaken, proved ineffective the German government would want to be in a position to demand reparations.

SPECIAL TERM OF CIVIL COURT OPENS IN CITY

Pitt Woman Sues Relatives For $35,000 For Estrangement Of Husband.

One of the hardest fought legal battles heard in this city in years was begun at the opening of the special session of Pitt County Civil court yesterday. It was the case of Mrs. R. C. Townsend, of Farmville against J. C. Holderby, Murial Holderby and Mrs. Lily Holderby. Mrs. Townsend is suing the three defendants for $35,000 damages, claiming that they were responsible for the estrangement existing between her husband and herself.

The defendants contend, however, that the estrangement existed before they had anything to do with the affair and evidence to this effect will occupy the court today and probably tomorrow.

J. C. Holderby is the step-father-in-law of Mrs. Townsend. The estrangement of Mrs. Townsend and her husband has existed since 1924. Mrs. Townsend was on the stand a greater part of yesterday afternoon. She testified concerning the sending of her husband to a hospital for some nervous disorder. It was at this time the relations with her husband became strained, later resulting in complete estrangement from alleged activities of the defendants.

The case is expected to occupy attention of the court through today and a greater part of the tomorrow. Both the plaintiff and defendants are represented by some of the best legal talent in this part of the state and arguments are expected to be long drawn out and heated. Two cases were disposed off before court began action in the Townsend case.

Mrs. Nancy Ross obtained judgment.

Carnes Reported To Have Bad Case Of Tuberculosis

Milledgeville, Ga., April 29.—(AP)—Dr. Richard Binion, physician at the State Prison here today, said that Clinton S. Carnes, former treasurer of the Southern Baptist Home Mission Board, serving a five to seven-year term for embezzlement, is suffering from a bad case of tuberculosis and has been confined in the prison tuberculosis hospital for two weeks.

F. C. HARDING HEADS LOCAL ROTARY CLUB

J. H. Blount Elected Vice-President And Howard McGinnis, Secretary.

Hon. F. C. Harding, prominent local attorney, is the new president of the Greenville Rotary club. His election was announced at last night's meeting of the organization. He succeeds Dr. K. B. Pace, who served for a term of one year.

Other officers elected were: J. H. Blount, vice-president; Howard McGinnis, secretary-treasurer. The new board of directors elected at a previous meeting are: Dr. K. B. Pace, S. T. White, Herbert Waldrop, Jaspet Winslow, Howard McGinnis, Judson Blount and F. C. Harding.

Short talks dealing with the progress of the Boy Scout training school, which has been in progress in this city several weeks were made by members of the Boys' Work committee. They reported that numbers of interested citizens were being trained for leadership in the Boy Scout work and that plans for organization had practically been completed. They said the listing of boys of Scout age would begin immediately as that soon as this was completed, the boys would be divided into troops ready for active service.

Members of the club who recently attended the district conference at Raleigh gave an interesting report of the meeting. They said it was one of the best conferences held in some time and that the various clubs derived much benefit from it.

A committee was appointed to arrange a program for Ladies' Night, which will be held by the club on Monday night, May 20th. This is always one of the outstanding events of the year and one of the most interesting programs of years is expected.

Commercialization, it is felt in circles exterior to Germany, is a prerequisite of any settlement, and as such involves inelasticity which probably will make any compromise offer Mr. Young may make acceptable to Germany.

Mrs. Tom Blow Dies At New Bern

Mrs. James Campbell left this morning for New Bern in response to a message announcing the death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Tom Blow. Mrs. Blow died this morning in a New Bern hospital. She was well known in Greenville, and has a host of friends who will regret to learn of her death. She was formerly Miss Justine-Camauld of Washington.

ATTEMPT TO SPEED UP ON FARM RELIEF

Senate Busy Hurrying Through With Farm Question, as House Takes Day Off.

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—Congressional activity centered again today on the Senate side with leaders there striving to speed up consideration of the farm relief bill, while the House took a day off awaiting new legislative fields to conquer.

Committee activity also was greater on the Senate than the House side of the capitol. The Senate judiciary committee was again confronted with the problem of deciding whether to report that Secretary Mellon is holding office illegally, and the interstate commerce committee was called to consider presidential nominations and bills on its calendar. House ways and means committee Republicans, meanwhile, were still engaged with their draft of a tariff revision bill.

The judiciary committee's quarterly, growing out of its investigation of Mellon's right to hold office under a resolution by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, has hinged on the report prepared by Chairman Norris declaring that an old statute providing that the head of the treasury department shall not be interested in carrying on trade or commerce makes the veteran secretary ineligible.

Attorney General Mitchell has assured President Hoover that the contrary is true, and close division on the question among committee members has been apparent for some days.

Chairman Madden of the House banking and currency committee, has introduced a bill to permit the Federal Reserve Board to grant withdrawal by any state bank or trust company from membership in a federal reserve bank without waiting for the expiration of six months' notice now required under the federal reserve act.

The measure, which was introduced at the request of the Federal Reserve Board, would amend the board authority to waive the notice of withdrawal, as its discretion. It also would give the board the right to insist upon a withdrawing bank to remain a member for the full six months.

Difficulties in the way of a fair enforcement of the alien deportation law enacted at the last session of Congress may have been called to the attention of Chairman Johnson, of the Senate immigration committee by Secretary Davis, of the Labor Department.

The secretary suggested that the law be modified, and Johnson replied that he agreed, asking the secretary to submit an amendment.

Standard Oil Co. To Give Stewart $50,000 Pension

New York, April 30.—(AP)—The New York American said today it has learned on good authority that the board of directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana has voted a pension of $50,000 a year to Colonel Robert W. Stewart for his years of service with the organization.

Colonel Stewart was deposed as chairman of the company by John D. Rockefeller, Jr. The American says the pension carries with it the understanding that he is not to join any competitor of the Indiana company or its subsidiaries.

Britain Will Adhere To Protocol Prohibiting Use Of Poison Gas In Warfare

Geneva, April 30.—(AP)—Declaration of the British government to adhere to the Geneva protocol of 1925 prohibiting the use of poison gas in warfare was announced today by Lord Cushendun at the opening of the session of the preparatory disarmament conference.

The British spokesman made the single reservation—that reciprocity must prevail, and then made a similar announcement on behalf of Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and the Irish Free State. Dr. Walter A. Riddell on behalf of Canada announced his government had asked parliament to ratify the protocol.

Nicolas Politis, of Greece, expressed the hope that other signatory states which had not yet ratified the protocol would see their way clear to do so. The protocol was that arrived at, after American initiation, by the League of Nations tariff in arms conference in 1925.

A discussion of tables, with respect to the fixing and listing revaluation, etc., of the maximum armed forces of each nation ensued. Hugh S. Gibson, American spokesman, intervened with the important statement that the United States could accept limitation of Naval effectiveness only provided such limitation was generally accepted and on condition a satisfactory agreement was reached respecting the limitation on warships.

The discussion on Naval tables was then deferred.

Mystery Surrounds Death N. Y. Couple

New York, April 30.—(AP)—Discovery of the bodies of a young broker and his bride in their midtown apartment presented a mystery to police today.

Homer L. Carruthers, 28, and Olga 29, who eloped a month ago, were found dead on the floor of their kitchenette by a policeman summoned by an iceman whose suspicions were aroused when unable to enter the apartment since Thursday.

Mrs. Carruthers' body, clad in a night dress, was found on the floor and that of her husband, fully clothed except for coat and vest, was crouched over hers as though he had been trying to lift her when he fell. Except for a bruise on the young woman's face there was no wounds on the bodies. No weapons were found.

The apartment was in disorder and a neighbor told police she heard sounds of an argument in the apartment Thursday night and had noticed a strong odor of gas.

Reconstructing the tragedy the police were inclined to believe that after the quarrel Mrs. Carruthers shut herself in the kitchenette, turned on all the gas jets, that later she was found unconscious by her husband, that he turned off the jets and then succumbed to the fumes.

relatives and friends told the police the couple appeared very happy.

Anti-Smith Crowd To Meet In June

Richmond, Va., April 30.—(AP)—Virginia anti-Smith Democrats are to meet in Roanoke in convention June 18 with representation based on one vote for each 500 votes cast for all parties in each county last November.

Frank Lyon, chairman of the State-wide committee, in making the announcement here last night, following an executive meeting, said that all anti-Smith Democrats in the State are invited to be present at the convention.

No announcement was made as to the program planned.

New Yorker Confesses Killing Estranged Wife And Burning Her Body

White Plains, N. Y., April 30.—(AP)—Earl Francis Peacock today confessed that he killed his 29-year-old estranged wife, Dorothy, after a quarrel, and burned her body with kerosene, according to Michael Silverstein, chief of Mount Vernon detectives, and Captain Philip McQuillan, of the Greensburg town police.

The charred body was found under an apple tree in a thicket along the Ardsley road last Saturday and identification was made through a small burned piece of her house dress. The husband was taken into custody last night, as material witness. After a severe all-night grilling at Mount Vernon police headquarters he broke down this morning, the officers said, and made a complete confession.

Cool and collected, apparently, Peacock, who is 21 years old, was brought here from Mount Vernon and questioned in private by District Attorney Frank A. Coyne. He will be taken back to Mount Vernon this afternoon for formal arraignment.

According to the alleged confession of the youthful husband, as made public by Captain Silverstein, the couple had been living apart, following a disagreement. The wife went to New York, while Peacock continued to live in his Mount Vernon home.

On the night of April 21 Peacock was playing cards at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Alphonso A. Heinzelman, in Bronxville, when he recalled that it was his first wedding anniversary. He excused himself and drove in his car to the house in West 143rd street, New York, where his wife was living under the name of Lillian Maney.

WALSH WOULD PROBE MELLON CANADA VISIT

Senator Suggests Investigation at Senate Committee Hearing Today.

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—Inquiry into the nature of a visit to Canada by Andrew Mellon in 1925 and as to whether it was in the interest of the Aluminum Company of America, was suggested before the Senate Judiciary Committee today as it argued over the right of the secretary of the treasury to hold that post.

Supporting the report of Chairman Norris that Mellon as a stockholder in various enterprises is violating an old statute forbidding the secretary of the treasury to be interested in carrying on trade or commerce, Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, raised the point of Mr. Mellon's purported Canadian visit.

Senator Walsh has produced before the committee a deposition of Mr. Mellon in a law suit involving a claim against the Aluminum Company of America. That suit was tried in 1925. The Aluminum Co. was charged with violation of the anti-trust law in the acquisition of a certain tract of land in Canada.

It was the understanding of Senator Walsh that Mr. Mellon, who is a stockholder in the Aluminum Company, went to Canada and while there signed certain papers in connection with the land transaction.

The Montana Senator, however, informed the committee today that the record was "vague" on this point. He left the suggestion that further inquiry on this point would be advisable.

FARM BOARD GETS THOUGHT OF PRESIDENT

Indications that There Will Be Plenty Of Applications For Paying Jobs.

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—Even before President Hoover has finished the difficult task of completing the personnel of his law enforcement commission, he finds the problem of selecting members for another important new agency, the Federal Farm Board, already being thrust upon him.

There have been few volunteers for the honorary posts of the commission, but indications are that there will be plenty of candidates for the $12,000 places on the farm board. Many of the hopeful, in fact, are in Washington now to exert what influence they can muster to obtain appointment to this new federal organization which is expected to have power and standing comparable to that of the Federal Reserve Board or the Interstate Commerce Commission.

While some names may have been suggested to the President, however, he has given little if any thought to appointments, as this is a problem he will be called upon to meet only after Congress has completed the pending farm relief legislation and he has signed it. Mr. Hoover is never disposed to cross his bridges before reaching them.

Those who have talked with the chief executive about this matter seem to be very certain that reports that he will seek the services of Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, as chairman, are far from the mark. Mr. Lowden, who was foremost among Mr. Hoover's opponents for the Republican presidential nomination, withdrew from the race after the Republican convention had rejected the nomination. Lowden has rejected the nomination, and the principle of the old McNary-Haugen bill.

Some friends of Mr. Lowden now in Washington assert that he would not accept membership on the board even if it were offered to him. The former governor has twice sought the presidential nomination of his party and was nominated for the vice-presidency in 1924 only to refuse it.

Selection of the farm board is not going to be an easy task, as a prerequisite for appointment, it is expected, will be the possession of broad financial and executive experience as well as a thorough understanding of the farm problem and a sympathy with the plight of the agricultural industry as a whole.

Shippers Continue Arguments Before State Commission

Raleigh, N. C., April 30.—(AP)—Shippers' interests today resumed presentation of argument before the Corporation Commission against a petition of the railroads for cancellation of portions of the North Carolina exception sheet. It was revealed after the hearing started yesterday that the railroads had amended their original petition, withdrawing their request for abolishing the exception sheets on a large number of commodities originally included.

Commodities listed by carrier representatives as those on which they would not seek a change in rates were cotton bales, sweepings and piece goods; cotton hose and washes, tea, fertilizer, and fertilizer materials; fresh fruit, grain and grain products; iron and steel, cast iron pipe and fittings; leather, veneer and thin lumber; naval stores, paper and paper articles; peanuts, marble and granite; stoves and ranges, syrup and molasses; manufactured and unmanufactured tobacco; vehicles and dry goods.

Ask Pres. Hoover To Lend Support To Relief Fund

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—Members of the Alabama delegation in Congress asked President Hoover today to support legislation to increase the loan fund already established for the relief of farmers of the Southeastern states who have suffered from recent storms.

The group consisting of Senator Hefflin, and Representatives Steagall and Hall, all Democrats, explained that $6,000,000 had been appropriated for loans from which seed should be purchased for rehabilitation from the hurricane of last September. In administering this money the agriculture department has determined, they said, that sufferers from the recent Alabama flood, could be beneficiaries.

The delegation asked that money be loaned from this fund for the purchase of horses and live stock as well as seed and fertilizer, and that an additional sum of $2,000,000 be made available.

GOLD BULLETS

by Charles G. Booth

SYNOPSIS: Alex Peterson was a picturesque gambler of the California mining camps in the '90's. John Peebles buys one of Peterson's famous gold-mounted revolvers, loaded with gold bullets, from Nathan Hyde, a crafty and secretive antique dealer. Hyde refuses to tell how he procured the weapon. Roy Hammond, lawyer and former-ly a prospector, is visibly startled when Peebles unexpectedly enters Hyde's office. Hyde deliberately covers some object on his desk. Peebles ponders on the possible connection between Peterson, his gun and gold bullets, and the furtive conversation in the antique shop.

Chapter 2.

DEATH OVER THE WIRE
I had several things to do in town so instead of going straight home I dined at Gall's with my old friend Captain Deacon, our chief of police. Deacon had done more than his share towards making the department as efficient as any in the state and I respect his keen driving brain.

Ogden Slumped Over. At His Neck a Cross of Metal Burned Blue

The meal over and my business attended to, I drove slowly home. It was just ten minutes past nine when I arrived there. I was to remember the time.

Polyandra reclined on the hearth. She got hastily up, stretched herself and after a while came purring towards me. I picked her up and she made herself comfortable on my shoulder. Polyandra is a gold-brown Angora, a magnificent animal, and I suppose I am absurdly fond of her.

"No more complaints, Polyandra?" I inquired.
Luther MacNair, a retired private detective of considerable reputation, had recently come to Magnolia avenue. It turned out that he has a passion for growing tomatoes. Polyandra got among the vines—so he said—and some little damage was done. I insisted on paying MacNair's estimate of the damage, but he was quite nasty about it.

Lucy danced in just then. She is always dancing in upon me. Look at me instead of Polyandra. Uncle John. Am I all right?"
I frowned. "How should I know whether you are all right? Ask Jerry!"

"He's busy with his father. That horrid old mine again. He telephoned me during dinner. Something has happened."
"What?"
"He didn't say. Do you like my new dress?"
"You'll do," I said. "Where are you going?"

"To the Chesters. I am singing there. Jerry will come for me after his father has done with him. I suppose. I wish Mr. Ogden would let him reopen that old mine. Jerry believes he can make it pay. I don't know why Mr. Ogden is so stupid."
"He should know best."
"You old people always know best! You dear old Uncle John. What were you doing all afternoon?"

"Well, I bought a pistol."
"Business? Another?"
"Is a pistol I have been trying to get for a long while, my dear. It belonged to a man named Peterson who lived in the mining town of Torridity down in Skull Valley."
"Torridity! Why, that where Mr. Ogden's mine is. Isn't it strange that he won't let Jerry open it up?"
I chuckled.

"She kissed me again and fled. Now that Lucy had spoken of it I recalled that the mine Jerry wanted to operate—some feeling about it had arisen between father and son—was in or near Torridity. The coincidence was interesting. I was getting up to unwrap my purchase when Mrs. Moffit came in.

Without Mrs. Moffit I would be more of a labyrinth than it is and I an infant in the middle of it.
"How's your head, Mr. Peebles?" she inquired solicitously.
"Head?" I murmured.

"Mrs. Moffit looked disappointed. "You had a headache when you got up this morning, hadn't you? I suppose it was that pie last night. I was bringing you a powder." Mrs. Moffit has a powder for everything.
"Ah, yes," I said. "Well, it's all right now and it wasn't the pie. I am very fond of Mrs. Moffit's pies. She shook her head disapprovingly. "You always say that. Mr. Ogden phoned a while back. He said I was to ask you to call him up as soon as you came in. He seemed terrible upset about something. I didn't know you were home until Miss Lucy told me just now."

I crossed to the telephone wondering what was the matter with Andrew. Instead of taking the instrument up at once I unwrapped the Peterson revolver and ran my fingers caressingly over the barrel and gold-mounted butt. I was on the point of breaking the weapon when the telephone whirred sharply.

As I picked up the instrument my eye fell on the clock on the mantel. It was exactly 9:30.
"Hello," I called.
"Is that you, John? This is Andrew. His voice might have been any one's but his so strained and unnatural did it sound.

"What is it, Andrew?"
"I want to see you."
"I want to see you. Come over right away. You hear me? Right?"
The voice had stopped. Then I heard what might have been a gasp. A queer, strangled sort of gasp. Silence again. Now came a dull thud and a rattle.

"Andrew!" I shouted. What's wrong, man?"
Did I hear a faint groan?
I threw off the shackles that bound me, flung myself through the French window near my desk, and plunged into the maze of shrubbery outside.

The moon had not yet risen, but my feet quickly found the familiar winding path and I raced through the scented gloom toward the Ogden house. Suddenly, I heard the pound of feet on the cinder walk ahead and as I neared the walk Jerry Ogden's white flannels flashed past into the drive.

"Jerry!" I called. "Jerry! Jerry!"
Instead of replying, he went on like the wind and I stopped, dumfounded. He had seemed to drop something as he passed, but the gloom was too deep for me to be sure of this.

The shadows of the place swallowed him before I could see whether he had gone on to the garage, which lies on the other side of the house, or down to the avenue, and I stood with a queer godliness tightening about my heart.

Off again at top speed. I did not stop until I had climbed over the iron grille which embraces a tiny balcony just big enough to stand on outside the library window. The doors of the window were ajar, but drawn draperies concealed the room. I was sweating with dread. For the moment I couldn't have parted the curtains to see what Andrew's boy had fled from to save my soul.

Desperately beating my weakness back, I compelled myself to open the window, to part the curtains, to look in.

Andrew Ogden sat at his desk, his head down upon it. The light of a reading lamp fell upon his neck where a cross of metal burned blue.

Junior-Senior Banquet.
Last Friday night at 8 o'clock, the Junior class of Greenville High School gave their annual banquet honoring the Senior class of 1929. Covers were laid for 163 guests.

The Dutch motif was carried out by means of a windmill in the center of the floor, the place cards, and the costumes of the Freshmen girls who acted as waitresses.

Amusement was offered by Miss Bett Dixon's dancing class and the school's vocal trio. The four courses were delectable, the speeches memorable, and the dancing and singing splendid.

After everyone had filed in and taken his place at the table, the Juniors made the Seniors feel at home with a song of hearty welcome. Then Joe Dixon, president of the Junior class, promoted the feeling of good-will with the customary address of welcome.

The response was made by Louis Skinner, president of the Senior class. The toasts and responses that followed were punctuated with dances which were likewise worthy of commemoration.

Little Frances Spilhan, an aesthetic dancer of unusual merit, and the first dancer of the evening, delighted the guests with an acrobatic dance done to the tune of "Making Whoopee." Miss Elizabeth Carr, looking very pretty and quite Dutchy, next did a Dutch dance. Later in the order of events, Misses Elizabeth Ferguson, Elizabeth Carr and Olympia Jones treated the guests with an old-fashioned dance. Last, but not least, the trio of Greenville High school, Pete Bynum, Sam Godley and Harry Forbes, sang "Moonlight and Roses," and several collegiate ditties.

The banquet was held under the auspices of the Woman's club and a committee of teachers. The program was as follows:

Welcome to Seniors—Juniors.
Address of Welcome—Joe Dixon.
Toast to Seniors—Catherine Utley.

Response—Jane Hall.

BACKBONE OF REVOLUTION NOW BROKEN

General Calles Reports Disintegration Of Forces On The West Coast.

Nogales, Ariz., April 30.—(AP)—The Mexican revolution, its back broken by the flight of many of its leaders to safety on American soil, disintegrated today into guerilla warfare.

The west coast rebel army, under General Fausto Topete, former governor of Sonora, was demoralized yesterday by the surrender of Col. Miguel Guerrero and 500 soldiers to federalists at Ortiz, Sonora, and the flight of Topete and his staff and Captain E. H. Polk, the American leader of the rebel air forces, to the United States.

Nogales, Sonora, headquarters city of the revolutionaries, was placed under martial law by Gen. Francisco Borquez, who ordered anyone found on the streets after 11 p. m. would be arrested. It was predicted that Nogales would be in federal hands in a few days.

Hundreds of persons, Americans and Mexicans alike, lined the international border and the main street leading through the twin cities of Nogales, Sonora and Arizona, waiting for a glimpse of the rebel leaders as they crossed into the United States here.

General Topete's crossing brought a roar from the crowd and a rush after his motor car. Others who crossed included Topete's chief of staff, General Hector Ignacio Almonda, General Ramon P. Turbe, Dr. Francisco Arriola, chief surgeon of the rebel army; Topete's brother, Col. Ricardo Topete; Gen. Eduardo Garcia and two other American fliers, Patrick Murphy and B. M. Cole. Polk and Murphy were held by immigration officers on charges of violating the American neutrality act.

None of the Mexican rebel leaders here was in custody of American officials so far as known and whether they would be arrested or interned was not disclosed. Topete and his brother went to a house where their wives have been living.

One advertisement for a husband brought a Massachusetts woman 19 replies. She still is unmarried.

Boy Scout Plans To Be Discussed In City Tonight

Definite plans for organization of local Boy Scout troops will be outlined at a meeting to be held in this city tonight at 8:30 o'clock, according to information given out today by members of the local Boy Scout movement.

The ministers and troop committee of all the churches will meet with the Scoutmasters' class and outline plans for troop committee work.

Boy Scout executives have been undergoing training in this city for sometime under direction of Herbert Stuckey, of Wilson, executive of the Wilson area, and activities have advanced sufficiently to justify organization of the various troops, it was said.

They refused to see anyone except their closest friends.

From both rebel and federal sources came the report that General Almazan was pushing westward through Pulpito Pass, but the rebels insisted that he was paying heavily in casualties. At Naco, Sonora, federal officials confirmed reports that troops would soon enter for Nogales, and it was indicated the movement would start tomorrow. A rumor persisted in Nogales that the rebels intended to surrender Agua Prieta immediately. This was denied, however, by revolutionary officials.

There was an almost constant stream of Mexican families seeking safety in the United States.

Washington, April 30.—(AP)—Railroads serving Southern coal mining districts, the Chesapeake and Ohio and Louisville and Nashville systems today filed with the Interstate Commerce commission motions asking dismissal of proceedings instituted by Ohio and Western Pennsylvania coal interests looking to a nerve Commission proceeding alike rate controversies.

The Ohio and Pennsylvania petitions asked the commission to order Lake Cargo rates raised from West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee mines by ten cents per ton.

The two railroads named, which that territory, told the commission today that the Northern petitions represented an attempt to resume a controversy which was now settled Court action and Interstate Commerce Commission proceedings alike.

were declared to have settled reasonable rates on the Lake Cargo traffic and the commission was asked to disregard the attempt to resume the litigation.

From its very origin, the new Dodge Brothers Six had to be what it actually is—a value beyond parallel or precedent. It was built with the studied care and uncompromising skill that have made the Dodge Brothers name a symbol for dependability. Walter P. Chrysler endowed it with innumerable refinements and more than a score of mechanical betterments. Outstanding among these is the exclusive Mono-piece Body—one of the most important developments of recent years. By a wide and commanding margin, the new Dodge Brothers Six is the greatest value in Dodge Brothers history.

Announcement to the effect that the preliminary Boy Scout work is progressing nicely and within a short while all the boys of the city will have been organized in to active scout troops.

Yesterday we began a new serial story in the columns of this paper. Tomorrow the first of a series of cross word puzzles will appear.

SENATOR NORRIS IS RIGHT

When President Grant appointed A. T. Stewart, the big merchant of his day, Secretary of the Treasury, he was not permitted to serve because he was "interested in trade and commerce."

Senator Norris poked some good sarcasm at President Hoover, for saying in his speech to editors that "this beautiful sentiment (of devotion to the law as written) should be a guiding star."

should be obeyed or repealed.—News and Observer.

Nowadays the maraschino cherry probably feels greatly humiliated by the stuff with which it is forced to associate.—Louisville Times.

ABOUT TOWN

"Hon. F. C. Harding, speaking at the dedication of Tar river bridge to Pitt county men who fought in the World War, was right when he declared society to be one of the most important problems of the present day."

"Evil influences are eating at the founder of the nation which the founder soldiers fought to preserve, and it is their duty today to rally to the defense of this cause as they rallied to the cause of the world ten years ago."

"It was rather incident Sunday for straw hats, but young men who bought Saturday intending to dress up the next day, should not be discouraged," declared a merchant this morning.

"There are many more Sundays to come and they will be warm, bright Sundays—just the kind of days when the majority like to get in their cars and hunt the cooling breezes of the beaches."

"If you were among the number that did not buy Saturday, official straw hat day, visit the stores this week and select the kind of hat you want. The stocks are still complete in every respect."

"Greenville romped off with both games of the Wilmington series," observed a fan this morning.

"If the boys should be able to repeat the performance with Fayetteville, Kinston and Rocky Mount, then our position in the standing of clubs' column would be greatly improved."

"Greenville people ought to attend home town games in that way show the boys they are behind them in their effort to capture more laurels."

"The rounding up of the band of thieves here Sunday night is a matter in which everybody is interested," said a citizen today.

"The city has been in a state of uncertainty since the series of robberies in the residential district, and it is probable the arrest of the four robbers will have a quieting effect."

"It is believed the thieves were members of the same band operating in the residential district; if that is so, the court will deal severely in the case."

"It is gratifying that Congressman Lindsay Warren has seen fit to use his influence in behalf of the establishment of a radio broadcasting station in this city," remarked a reader of the Reflector, after reading the story dealing with Mr. Warren's intention to help secure the permit from the Federal Radio Commission.

"Greenville people want this radio station and if there is any chance in the world of them getting it, then they are going to work until it has been made an actuality."

"Other towns have stations of this kind and it looks like we are just as much entitled to one as any of them."

"Did you begin the new serial story carried in the columns of the Reflector yesterday?" questioned a member of the editorial staff of one of the subscribers today.

"It is well if you did. The story is an intensely interesting one and will furnish many pleasant evenings for our hundreds of readers."

"Watch the columns of the Reflector from time to time for additional features. Our subscribers are getting the very best in news and fiction and the next few months will witness the printing of many gripping tales."

"Local people should watch their step and try not to violate the one-hour parking law," declared a business man today.

"This new ordinance was passed by the City Fathers to improve the traffic situation in the business district. It is a measure that applies to everybody except the visitors, and home folks should do everything possible to help the officers enforce it."

"Watch how you park your car in the restricted area and in that way assist the officers in making the law effective."

Edison Seeks Boy To Carry On His Work

WINS THIRD PRIZE IN ESSAY CONTEST

Following is the essay on Athey's paints, written by Ruth Turner, Arthur School, which won third prize in the recent contest conducted by Baker & Davis Hardware Co.

Athey's Best Paint Ever On Brush.

When I went in to Baker & Davis Hardware store at Greenville, I asked if they had any good paint, and they told me they had the very best there was on the market. They also have a paint for everything.

Krypt Lac, Athey's Flat Interior, Varnish Stain, and Athey's Semi-Paste Paint.

Krypt Lac is a paint that may be used for the interior. It will not peel or rub off.

Athey's Flat Interior paint is a paint that is made to meet the interior decorating of wall and ceilings. It is sanitary and washable and is recommended for the interior of hospitals, schools, churches and homes.

Varnish Stain is waterproof and heelproof. It does not scratch, turn white and does not show heel marks. It is so easy to apply—a child can use it.

Athey's Semi-Paste Paint is made of the best and purest paint materials and is more economical than any other high quality paint. It may be used for either the exterior or interior, and it is very cheap.

It pays not to put Kalsomine on your walls or ceilings, but use a paint that you can be sure of.

If you will paint with Athey's, sold by Baker & Davis Hardware Co. at Greenville one time, you will always use it afterwards.

PALE AND THIN, NO STRENGTH

Kentucky Lady Was Weak and Listless. Says Cardui Helped Her Back to Good Health.

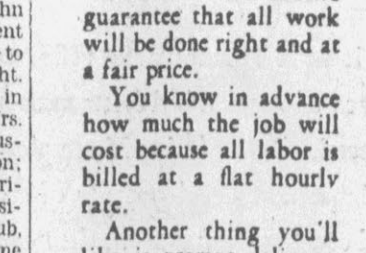

Independence, Ky.—"During girlhood, I was weak and listless, pale and thin, had no strength at all, and my mother thought I needed a tonic to build me up, so she gave me Cardui," writes Mrs. Clarence Stevens, of this place.

"Mother read about Cardui, and she thought that was the thing for me to take. It did me a great deal of good. I took it for about a year when I was fourteen years old. I got strong and my color was good, and I was a normal, healthy girl. It did my nerves good, too."

"Since I was married, I have taken it off and on when I thought I needed a tonic. Last year I was run-down and weak, and did not have strength enough to do my work. I had a sick spell which left me in bad condition, and I could not get up on my feet again."

"I took Cardui for several weeks and I felt well again. I had a good, healthy appetite. I was strong enough to do my work without complaint. I have recommended Cardui to my friends because it helped me."

Cardui Helps Women to Health. Cardui, for hygienic reasons, should be used by women as a safe, effective detergent. 50 cts.

Greenville Defeats The Fayetteville Highlanders

Greenville won the opening game of the series from the Fayetteville Highlanders here yesterday afternoon by the score of 12 to 3. It was the third straight victory of the local club, they having won two games from Wilmington in the closing series here last week.

The Highlanders had occupied the top of the standing of clubs column until yesterday, but the loss to Greenville sent them careening down to second place with Goldsboro taking the lead.

The victory over the Highlanders was a well deserved one for the local club. Fielding errorless behind Dawson and Joliff, the Tobaccoists hit the ball hard at opportune moments and piled up a lead in the first and third innings which the visitors found it impossible to overcome.

A young left hander by the name of Dawson started out on the firing line for the locals. He turned the heavy hitting visitors back in splendid form during the first inning, but in the second frame he was as wild as the proverbial March hare, filling the bases with free passes to first. Crowe, hard-hitting center fielder of the Highlanders, came to bat at this period and emptied the bases with a slashing drive to left field.

Even after the bases had been emptied, Dawson was unable to settle down and pitch his way out of the hole. The paths again became congested, and Manager Bangs called out the veteran "Deacon" Joliff to stop the run getting. Joliff lived up to everything expected of him. With the bases drunk, he caused Finlator, slugging right fielder of the Highlanders, to hit into a double play to retire the side.

From that moment on, the "Deacon" was master of ceremonies. On one or two occasions he found himself in an uncomfortable position, but clean, and at times, spectacular fielding of his teammates prevented any runners from reaching further than third base. It was Joliff at his best, and when the veteran is going good, he is probably one of the most invincible heavies of the circuit.

Mungo, O'Quinn and Stephenson pitched for the Highlanders. O'Quinn relieved Mungo in the third inning, but he didn't complete the inning before being relieved in favor of Stephenson.

Edmonds, Greenville third sacker, had his team with the bat, setting three safeties out of three trips on the platter. He was followed closely by Pasquella, Edwards and Hart, who were credited with two hit each. The locals got by without a single bobbie being credited to them. Fayetteville had four chucked up against them.

The Highlanders will complete the series here this afternoon. The remainder of the week will find the locals playing at Kinston and Wilmington. The locals opened the season with Kinston here and managed to tie the opener and win the second.

YANKS GET POOR START THIS SEASON

The flying start that has carried the New York Yankees to three consecutive American league pennants seems to be conspicuous by its absence this year.

That fact may or may not be significant but you can't blame the rest of the league if they should be hoping that the world's champions at last have hit a slump that will permit someone else to represent the junior circuit in the world's series. On the other hand, the boys have been waiting so long for the Yanks to crack that they may not recognize a slump when they see it.

In past years the Yankees have broken their rivals' hearts by getting away to a fast start and piling up such huge leads that a late slump was not fatal.

But this year the champions have not started impressively at all two weeks of campaigning finds them in third place with five wins and four defeats. They did not suffer their fourth reverse last season until May 2 when they had won 11 games.

And the Philadelphia Athletics, chief sufferers from the Yankee scourge last season, are gaining some adequate revenge. Yesterday they fell on Henry Johnson and Gordon Rhodes for eight big hits to down the champions 10 to 1. Mule Haas and Al Simmons each hit for the circuit with one on in the fourth and Mickey Cochrane, after clearing the bases with a triple in the eighth added insult to injury by stealing home while Rhodes was winding up. Max Blshop got five straight bases on balls and scored three times. Rube Walberg held the Yanks to six hits and fanned seven men.

Behind good pitching by Sam Gray, the St. Louis Browns clung to their hold on first place, a step ahead of the Athletics by defeating the Detroit Tigers 3 to 2 in 10 innings. Viv Sorrell gave Gray a great argument but weakened in the first extra inning when the Browns pushed over the winning run.

The Chicago White Sox hopped all over four Cleveland pitchers to turn in a 13-4 triumph at Chicago. Ted Lyons was hit freely but the Indians wasted most of the 13 hits they made off him.

Over in the National league, the Chicago Cubs could not do much with Pete Donohue except in the sixth inning when they bunched five hits for four runs, enough to beat the Cincinnati Reds 4 to 2. Charley Root kept the Reds

Your MODEL T FORD is still a good car

THE Model T Ford led the motor industry for twenty years, because of its sturdy worth, reliability and economy. Those same reasons continue to make it a good car. As a matter of fact, nearly one-fourth of all the automobiles in use today are Model T Fords. Millions of them can be driven two, three and even five more years with reasonable care and proper replacements. Figures show that the average life is seven years.

Don't sacrifice your Model T, therefore, but take it to the Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of putting it in A1 shape. A very small expenditure may be the means of giving you thousands of miles of additional service.

For a labor charge of $20 to $25 you can have your motor and transmission completely overhauled. This price includes new bearings, reboring cylinders and any other work necessary. Parts are extra.

Valves can be ground and carbon removed for $3 to $4. The cost of tightening all main bearings is only $6. The labor charge for overhauling the front axle is $4.50 to $5—rear axle assembly, $5.75 to $7.

New universal joint will be installed for a labor charge of $3. Brake shoes retined for $1.50. Rear spring and perches rebushed for $1.75. The cost of overhauling the starting motor is $3. A labor charge of approximately $2.50 covers the overhauling of the generator.

It will pay you, therefore, to see your Ford dealer and have him put your Model T in good running order. By doing so you will protect and maintain the investment you have in your car and get months and years of reliable transportation at a very low cost per mile.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, April 30.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 1 to 6 points in response to firm late cables from Liverpool and a rather a reactionary sentiment following yesterday's sharp decline. In addition to covering some local and commission house buying was reported which may have been promoted by private reports pointing to a heavy emergence of boll weevil, and the market showed net advances of 9 to 16 points by the end of the first half hour.

The advance encountered further liquidation but offerings were much lighter than recently and the disposition to take profits on recent sales was probably increased by some uncertainty over tomorrow's weekly weather report.

Private cables reported Continental and Bombay selling in Liverpool but declines there were followed by rallies presumably on covering and buying for a reaction.

New York, April 30.—(AP)—The apparent passing of the Monthend Credit stringency, reflected in the lowering of the call money rate from 14 to 10 per cent, stimulated a general recovery in prices in today's stock market. Scores of issues were marked up 3 to nearly 20 points, many of them to new highs, on a revival of pool activities, and a broadening demand on the part of small speculators.

Except for the publication of another series of favorable earnings reports and the issuance of valuable "rights" to American Telephone and Telegraph Company stockholders in connection with a new $219,000,000 convertible bond issue, there was little in the day's business news to influence the price movement. While 10 per cent call money is by no means cheap, Wall Street obviously was relieved that the threat of another flurry to 20 per cent had been avoided, and faster rates are looked for as the May 1 dividend and interest checks were cleared.

U. S. Steel common, which is expected to show quarterly earnings of between $5 and $6 a share, in the report to be issued after the close of the market, was taken in large blocks in the early afternoon, crossing $190 a share. Bethlehem Steel which has been rather sluggish since the announcement of an additional stock offering, quickly advanced more than 4 points. Ludlum Steel ran up 6 points to a new high record, and Midland Steel products preferred and A. M. Byers each sold at least 4 points above yesterday's final quotations.

Wild fluctuations again took place in United Aircraft, which soared nearly 12 points to a new high record around 150, or nearly double the price of three weeks ago. So swamped was the specialists with orders for this stock that he found it impossible to accept any but market orders. Other airplane issues also were heavily bought on prediction of unusually large earnings and rumors of new consolidations. Commercial Solvents was the spectacular individual feature, soaring nearly 20 points to a new peak at 389 1/2, which compares with the year's low at 225 1/4. Buying of this issue was influenced by expectations of large profits from the heavy sales of its new product, Acetone, used in oil refining processes. U. S. Industrial Alcohol crossed 170 to a new top for the year.
