FIVE THOUSAND STRIKERS IDLE IN TWO STATES

United States Labor Department Abandons Efforts In Two Carolinas.

Charlotte, May 1.—(AP)—May day found approximately 5,000 textile workers in North Carolina and South Carolina idle and engaged in dispute with owners and executive over wage and working conditions.

The day also found the United States Department of Labor abandoning its efforts to do anything in the North Carolina zone because of the allegedly communistic leanings of leaders. Charles G. Wood, conciliator who has been in the strike zone since last night after giving the Associated Press a formal statement setting forth his reasons.

Thrown into a condition of uncertainty by scattered strikes covering the last two months, the textile district of the Carolinas was generally somewhat quieter but still unable to tell whether or no there would be any further spread. The National Textile Workers Union, which called a strike at the Loray mill of the Manville-Jencks Company at Gastonia a month ago, still was claiming to have made many mills but the free press that were put out by the organ and leaders had died down.

In South Carolina the employees of the Brandon Mills at Greenville, the Woodruff in Spartanburg county and the Anderson mills at Anderson, and at several other smaller mills still were on strike today.

There had been no trouble at any of these mills and there was no union affiliation. The strikes though well organized were each independent and dealt largely with the installation of the multiple-loom system known to employees as the "stretchout system" whereby spinners assisted by apprentices care for a large number of looms.

The principal trouble in the zone has been at the Loray mill in Gastonia with a threat at Pineville, N. C., where employees of a unit of the Chadwick-Hoskins chain struck. This latter strike ended last Monday without concession by the employers.

There have been near riots, fights and property destruction at Gastonia. Troops were called out the first day of the strike and remained on duty for ten days when special deputy sheriffs were placed in charge. The city of Gastonia adopted an ordinance forbidding street parades of any kind city officials asserting this was done as a means of protecting strikers from possible trouble rather than from any desire to hamper the Union men and women.

Efforts of the strikers to hold parades despite this ordinance have caused several comparatively minor disturbances the most serious being ten days ago when two deputy sheriffs are alleged to have slugged a newspaper reporter.

On April 19 a band of masked men tumbled a dozen strikers out of a wooden building used as headquarters by the union, wrecked the International relief fund, an auxiliary organization supplying food to strikers. The stock of the relief fund was destroyed but the store was reopened under military guard.

These incidents caused a grand jury investigation, made at the instigation of Gov. O. Max Gardner. This grand jury reported yesterday that it had been unable to fix responsibility for damage and destruction of the building but reported indictment of attacking Legette Blythe, Charlotte Observer reporter.

Report Sale Of Goldsboro Argus

Goldsboro, May 1.—(AP)—North Carolina's oldest newspaper owner today gave up the reins to a group of younger men. Col. Joseph E. Robinson, for 44 years owner and editor of the Goldsboro Argus announced the sale of his paper. He will still contribute to its columns, however.

The new owners are Talbot Patrick, B. Arp Lowrance and A. W. Huckle. Mr. Patrick, who has had wide experience in metropolitan and smaller newspaper fields, will be editor and general manager of the paper. He comes to North Carolina from the New York Daily News.

Mr. Lowrance formerly was field secretary for the North Carolina Press Association and is publisher of the Mecklenburg Times of Charlotte, and the Mount Holly News, and president of North Carolina Newspapers, Incorporated, a holding company. Mr. Huckle is editor and publisher of the Rock Hill, S. C., Herald and is widely known in the Carolinas and Virginia.

Col. Robinson founded the Daily Argus forty-four years ago and has been owner and editor continuously until today.

FARM RELIEF STILL TALKED AT CAPITOL

House Has Series Of Bills Designed To Stimulate Relief Program.

Washington, May 1.—(AP)—Farm relief was again the major topic of discussion today on both sides of the Capitol.

With its main session bill still in the machine, the House had a series of bills before it from the agriculture committee designed to supplement the general farm relief program. The Senate, meanwhile, had advanced its general farm aid bill to the voting stage and leaders were still hopeful they could get through with it before the week-end.

Still struggling with the question of Secretary Mellon's right to hold office in view of his stock holdings in large corporations, the Senate judiciary committee had before it a suggestion for an inquiry into a trip he made to Canada in 1925, after the Aluminum Company of America had taken over a power development from the Duke interests.

Further evidence that the sugar schedules will consume a considerable amount of time during the impending tariff discussion was given the House in a proposal by Representative Frear, Republican, Wisconsin, for a joint congressional investigation of the domestic sugar industry.

Representative Frear, who as a member of the House ways and means committee has been engaged for some time on the task of drafting the tariff revision bill, wants the investigation to go into the financial condition of the industry, the labor situation, contracts between sugar companies and beet growers, and the effects of the rapidly increasing free imports of cane sugar.

Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, meanwhile, had reiterated his determination to oppose to the end efforts to comply with President Hoover's recommendation for repeal of the national origins clause of the restrictive immigration act. He has been successful thus far in blocking attempts to bring such proposals before the Senate.

Tariff Issues Claim Attention Chamber

Washington, May 1.—(AP)—Tariff making and the possibility of retaliation from Canada against American policies affecting International trade claimed the attention today of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

The list of speakers on these subjects included C. H. Caham, members of the Canadian Parliament, and Chairman Hawley of the House Ways and Means Committee, which has been at work for some weeks drafting a tariff revision bill.

Bodies Of Missing Fliers Found In Australian Wilds

Sydney, N. S. W., May 1.—(AP)—The tragic aftermath of the search for the airplane Southern Cross was closed today with the report from a land party of searchers that the body of Robert Hitchcock had been found under a wing of the airplane Kookamurra and the body of Lieut. Keith Anderson about 40 yards away.

Lieut. Eaton's party reached the Kookamurra yesterday but so difficult of access is the region that contact with it could not be established until today.

Lieut. Anderson's plane was located in the wastes of the Tannian Bush on April 21, when a body was seen lying motionless under one of the wings. Little hope for finding either of the fliers alive had been held out.

MAY DAY IS CELEBRATED OVER WORLD

Police Prepare For Disorders In Berlin And Sections Of Mexico.

Socialist and communist organizations in Europe and the two Americas today celebrated May day, the International labor day, which police in most countries overlook extraordinary precautions to prevent disturbances.

Disorders especially were threatened in Berlin, where minor clashes with police already had occurred, and in Mexico City where an anti-American phase to the celebration developed. Police, while prepared, expected nothing untoward in London, Paris, Rome, or the South American capitals.

Parades and outdoor and indoor meetings were arranged for New York and other cities of the United States but no disorder was feared. The day was a holiday in most of Spanish America, with the newspapers suspended and such essentials as taxis and restaurants not operating.

Berlin reported its second clash in two days before celebration today even started. Two policemen were wounded in the industrial suburb of Neukolln when a group of communists attempted to form a procession in violation of special May day prohibitory orders. The constabulary used sticks to enforce their order to disperse. Several revolver shots fired by members of the crowd, one policeman being hit by a bullet and another receiving a knife thrust.

The demonstrators were finally put to flight when police began firing into the air. An order late last night reiterated the warning to women and children to keep off the streets today, some 15,000 police were mobilized for the occasion. Open air demonstrations of any sort were forbidden to workers for the first time since 1918.

The communist newspaper El Machete of Mexico said a demonstration would be staged in front of the American Embassy. An editorial attacked Ambassador Morrow, saying that it was neither General Calles nor the provisional President Emilio Portes Gil, who governed Mexico, but the American Ambassador, "Down with American Imperialism," the article concluded.

Hundreds of policemen were ordered on duty along routes of parades with a thousand others held in reserve.

A labor meeting this evening in North London will be addressed by the former Premier, Ramsay MacDonald. Communists arranged to parade the Thames embankment to Hyde Park for a mass meeting.

Extra detachments of Republican guards and soldiers were brought in from the Provinces and stationed at strategic points of Paris and its suburbs as a precaution against disturbances.

$250,000 Fire At New Orleans, La.

New Orleans, May 1.—(AP)—Fire which started in a plant of the General Box Corporation here this morning, destroyed a building containing approximately $250,000 worth of goods and was still spreading.

Every source of the city's fire fighting department joined in an effort to quell the flames which swept through 7,000,000 feet of dried lumber.

Fax Collections Show Decrease

Raleigh, May 1.—(AP)—State tax collections for April were reported by Revenue Commissioner A. J. Maxwell today as $487,980.30 compared with $488,163.33 for April of last year.

For the first nine months of the fiscal year, collections amounted to $12,469,981.34 as compared with $12,615,763.10 for the corresponding period of last year.

Raleigh Police Ask Federal Aid In Rum Traffic

Raleigh, May 1.—(AP)—Admitting their inability to break up a flourishing open liquor business of the curb variety, Raleigh police today looked to federal authorities for assistance.

Police blame their inability to cope with the situation on the fact that the rum runners invariably drive fast and powerful automobiles while the officials are equipped with light cars which can not compete in speed. They also point out that they are unwilling to endanger innocent lives by a mad rush through the streets of the city while the rum runners have no compunction about speeding 50 to 75 miles an hour to make their escape.

On two occasions recently, police have sought to block liquor cars by stopping their machines across the roads, but in both cases the rum runners escaped by ramming the officers' cars and keeping ahead.

DEMOCRATS TO ORGANIZE AT CAPITAL CITY

Permanent Organization To Be Established At Washington For Active Service.

Washington, May 1.—(AP)—Determined to build up their forces throughout the country and recover losses sustained in the last election Democratic leaders have decided to establish permanent party headquarters in Washington to conduct active organization work 365 days in the year.

The headquarters will be established under the direction of former Representative J. J. Shouse of Kansas, one of the framers of the Federal Reserve and farm loan acts and later assistant secretary of the treasury, as chairman of the Democratic executive committee.

Announcing the decision after an informal conference with a large number of Democratic senators, Chairman John J. Raskob of the Democratic national committee, said Mr. Shouse would devote his entire time to the work and would be in constant contact with members of the national committee and members of Congress and in complete charge of relations between state organizations, their chairmen and members.

The headquarters, he announced, will have monthly meetings in Washington in which he, as chairman of the national committee, and former Senator Peter G. Gerry of Rhode Island chairman of the advisory committee, will participate. Other members of the executive committee are Senator Harrison of Mississippi, Senator Pittman of Nevada, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York and F. J. Hoey of New York.

Mr. Shouse, the national chairman announced, "will call upon national committeemen and party leaders both in Congress and in the several states for advice and counsel, and will ask them to contribute their effort and thought that will best promote the party's interests."

"Everything will be done," he said "to build a strong, country-wide Democratic organization that will be a virile, going institution, functioning at all times in the interest of Democratic policies and doctrines as set forth by such great Democratic statesmen as Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson and Woodrow Wilson."

Mr. Raskob also announced that the party deficit had been reduced from $1,550,000 to about $800,000 and that he expected it to be brought under $500,000 within a fortnight. He told newspapermen that he had no intention of resigning as national chairman.

Says Communism Has Collapsed In North Carolina

Charlotte, May 1.—(AP)—Charles G. Wood, Department of Labor conciliator, was enroute to his home in Boston today to await what he termed the collapse of communism in North Carolina before resuming meditation efforts in strike town textile centers.

Mr. Wood, sent to the Carolinas by the government to attempt the settlement of labor disputes, abandoned the task yesterday, temporarily at least. Before leaving his headquarters here last night he issued a statement, in which he declared that "the communistic effort to promote strikes in the south is about over," but that he deemed it advisable to let the workers "discover their own mistakes."

Edmonton, Alberta, May 1.—(AP)—Mailing a perfect takeoff at 6 o'clock this morning, Capt. Parker D. Cramer and W. S. Gamble, who landed at the Edmonton Aerodrome late Tuesday evening, headed for Regina as the next stopping point on their return journey from East Cape Siberia, and Nome, Alaska, to New York.

FLIERS LEAVE ALBERTA BOUND FOR NEW YORK

$35,000 SUIT GOES TO JURY IN THIS CITY

Argument In Townsend Case Completed Shortly Before Noon Hour Today.

The $35,000 damage suit of Mrs. R. C. Townsend of Farmville, against J. C. Holderby, Murial Holderby and Mrs. Lily Holderby, went to the jury shortly after court convened at the noon recess today. The case was completed shortly before noon adjournment when Paul Fizzle, of Snow Hill, made the concluding argument in behalf of the plaintiff.

The case has occupied attention of the court since the opening session here Monday morning, and indications today were that the jury probably would be several hours in reaching a decision.

Mrs. Townsend is suing the Holderbys for alleged responsibility in connection with estrangement existing with her husband. She has been separated from her husband since 1924 and charged that influence by the Holderbys helped in bringing about this state of affairs.

The defendants, on the other hand, contended that they had nothing to do with the separation of the couple and declared that the estrangement existed before they had anything to do with the husband.

J. C. Holderby is a step-father-in-law of the plaintiff. The case is one of the longest drawn out of its kind heard in the local court room in years and has attracted considerable interest from the community in which it originated.

One other case was disposed of at the opening day's session. The Norfolk and Southern railroad obtained an order restraining the Rapid Transit Company from hauling freight from their depot in the city. Notice of appeal to Supreme court was filed.

Gastonia Cop Badly Injured In Auto Wreck

Gastonia, May 1.—(AP)—Carl Elliott, desk sergeant of the city police department was seriously injured and Chief of Police O. F. Aderholt, and Patrolmen Meek Parrish and Charles Ford badly shaken and bruised when an automobile in which they were riding returned near Monroe early today. The automobile skidded on a slick road.

The officers were enroute to Wilmington to attend the funeral of City Manager D. L. Struther, who died several days ago.

The men were brought back to Gastonia and all were confined to their beds.

Sergeant Elliott is suffering from a fractured rib which physicians fear punctured his lungs.

The party was one of several cars of city officials and others who left early this morning for Wilmington.

Begin Relief Fund For Families Of Gastonia Strikers

Gastonia, N. C., May 1.—(AP)—The Gastonia Gazette today announced that its columns are being opened for public contributions to a relief fund for families of cotton mill strikers. The paper started the fund with a contribution of $25.

The action, it was announced, followed statements to the paper by Miss Mabel Potts, of the city welfare department, to the effect that families of strikers were applying to that department for food, stating that they were hungry and unable to get food at the relief store operated in connection with the strike at Loray Mills.

HUSBAND 'ADMITS TORCH SLAYING

Police announced Earl Francis Peacock, husband of Mrs. Dorothy Heinselman Peacock, whose charred body was found near Scarsdale, N. Y., had confessed he killed his 20-year-old estranged wife after a quarrel and burned her body with kerosene. He is shown in custody of detective.

Several Persons Held In Sensational Slot Machine Investigation

Chicago, May 1.—(AP)—With six police captains, several prominent politicians, and others—29 in all—reported named in true bills by the Cook county grand jury, State Attorney John A. Swanson and his aides today hinted at further sensational disclosures concerning a syndicate which is said to have netted $25,000 daily through the operation of slot machines.

The true bills were expected to return today in the form of a conspiracy indictment. Among those reported named by the grand jury were:

Police Captains Patrick J. Collins, brother of the late Michael Collins, minister of defense and finance of the Irish Free State, who was assassinated; Dennis Malloy, once discharged from the police department, but reinstated; Richard Gill; Michael Tobin; Hugh McCarthy, and Michael Delaney.

Dr. William H. Reid, former city smoke inspector and prominent South Side politician, whose home was bombed twice.

Frank J. Beran, custodian of the police department. Sergeant Robert Sullivan. Edward "Spike" O'Donnell, reputed beer runner, racketeer, and gangster.

Arthur E. Dyer, Republican ward committeeman. William Bogenhagen, Republican ward committeeman and secretary to William Balmer, commissioner of public service.

The slot machine crusade grew out of an investigation into the death of Mrs. Selma Burnham, wealthy widow of the head of the Burnham Vending Machine Company. The company's records were searched for possible clues to her death. They furnished none, but did give the authorities an inkling of the vast operations of the slot machine syndicate.

A special squad of detectives was selected by Swanson to assist him in the investigation. Four men arrested early yesterday furnished information which is said to have resulted in disclosures involving the police officials, politicians, and others.

Another result, expected from the slot machine investigation is the possible solution of the bombings of the homes of Dr. Reid and Charles C. Fitzmorris, former chief of police and city comptroller, early last year.

After the reported voting of the true bills yesterday, the state's attorney refused to say what his next step would be, although he hinted strongly that other true bills and indictments, probably naming other police officials, politicians, and racketeers, would be returned in the near future.

Chicago, May 1.—(AP)—The Senate refused today by a vote of 69 to 14 to adopt the resolution of Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, condemning the attack on himself at Brockton, Mass., after he had delivered an address there.

Heflin had aroused considerable religious debate over his resolution after he had charged opposition to it was influenced by the Roman Catholics.

Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, called for a vote on the resolution today after Heflin had given notice he would discuss it again.

Those supporting the Heflin resolution included two Republicans, Robinson of Indiana and Sackett, of Kentucky. At the time of his visit to Brockton to address a meeting of the Ku Klux Klan, Senator Heflin was assailed with missiles, one of them a bottle which missed him and struck a policeman.

NEW EVIDENCE IN GANG DEATHS AT CHICAGO, ILL.

Witness Whose Name Was Kept Secret Identifies Suspect In Massacre.

Chicago, May 1.—(AP)—From a wooded, desolate island in the Rock river below Rockford and from the witness chair of the coroner's inquest there had come today new and significant evidence in the Valentine's Day gang massacre case.

The island was revealed as the machine gun target range of Chicago gangsters; the spot where they tested new firearms and perfected their marksmanship. A witness whose name was kept secret for fear of his being silenced by gunmen fearful of his revelations, identified the picture of a gang murder suspect as being of a man he had seen using a machine gun on the island before the massacre. The same witness partly identified two others from among the photographs of suspects laid before him by Chicago detectives.

Coincidentally with the evidence presented in Rockford, the coroner's jury got its first chance to question Frank V. Thompson, the man believed to have sold to gangsters the guns used in the septuple gang murder last February 14.

Thompson had been sought for a fortnight as a key witness in the murder investigation. He surrendered to the coroner late yesterday, entering the inquest room in the company of a lawyer. He conferred privately for several hours with Coroner Herman N. Bundesen, but the nature of his story was not made public. Dr. Bundesen, however, appeared in high spirits following the interview and said he believed "a way to solution of the massacre has been opened."

Dr. Bundesen ordered the arrest of Thompson and Peter Von Frantzius, sporting goods dealer who sold machine guns and other weapons to Thompson and others. Von Frantzius was asked how many guns he had on hand February 14—the day of the massacre—and he replied that he had none.

"How many have you had since then?"

"Four."

"What became of them?"

"I sold them to Thompson. He telephoned an order between 10 and 12 o'clock the morning of St. Valentine's Day. The murders occurred between 10 and 11 a. m. I immediately placed the orders, and the guns were delivered in March."

The only statement obtainable from Thompson was:

"It is true that I did sell him machine guns which I got from Von Frantzius. But I don't know to whom they went. He was just a man I had casually met, and I never did learn his name."

Shriners To Hold Big Ceremonial At Elizabeth City

Elizabeth City, N. C., May 1.—Plans for the spring ceremonial of the Suden Temple of the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, which will be held here May 22 and 23, are rapidly taking form. An elaborate entertainment program has been arranged for the benefit of the 5,000 or more Shriners and their wives who are expected to visit the capital of the Albemarle for the ceremonial.

A banquet will be given to the illustrious Potentate, John B. Griggs, of Elizabeth City, and his divan in the Christ church parish house on the night of the 22nd, with past potentates and distinguished guests in attendance. The banquet will be followed by the Potentate's ball, held in the ballroom of the Virginia Dare Hotel.

On the following day a trip will be made down the Pasquotank river aboard the U. S. S. Afterwards 500 automobiles have been provided to show the visitors local points of interest, including the Elizabeth City Country Club where they will have a chance to try their skill on one of the best golf links in the east.

Luncheon will be served in one of the large warehouses of the city and following it a street dance will be held, several blocks of Main street being roped off and decorated for the purpose. Music for the dance will be furnished by Whiteley's orchestra which has made a name for itself at previous ceremonials.

San Antonio, Tex., May 1.—(AP)—Lieutenant J. C. Bania, Brooks field flier, was killed today when his Army plane crashed near here. Six fliers at the field said the flier was attempting to make a eighty degree turn for a landing when his ship went into a spin at an altitude of 400 feet. He was flying alone.

GOLD BULLETS

by Charles G. Booth

By CHARLES G. BOOTH
SYNOPSIS: Murder, intrigue and romance! A net of circumstantial evidence begins to enmesh Jerry Ogden as the slayer of his father, John Peebles, confident in the innocence of Jerry, who is engaged to marry Lucy Peebles, niece, vows to find the murderer. In the background hovers the ghost town of Torridity, where Ogden owned a deserted mine which the missing Jerry wished to reopen; Torridity, where the legendary Alex. Peterson had reigned 36 years before with his gold-mounted revolvers and gold bullets. Peebles had just bought one of these famous revolvers from Nathan Hyde, who refused, mysteriously and furtively, to tell how he obtained it.

Chapter 3. THE FINGER OF SUSPICION

I have seen a good bit of death in my time, but never had it seemed so dreadful as it did at this moment. In the nine years I had known Andrew I had become deeply attached to him—he was perhaps the closest friend I had— and coming upon him struck down like that but the body still was warm. It is . . . I could feel the dagger twisting in my own heart.

Mrs. Hubbard gave a sharp cry and fell back, clutching her throat.

Assuming that Hubbard was telling the truth, Stimson could not have got to the library window, entered the room and killed Ogden in the brief space of time at his disposal. Nor could the Hubbards. The library door was locked on the inside, so entrance couldn't have been effected from the hall.

Mrs. Hubbard had come up noiselessly. Her eyes flew to the desk. She gave a sharp cry and fell back against the wall, clutching at her throat. She began to weep.

"You'd better take your wife up to her room," Hubbard said. "The police will want to talk to both of you. See if you can find Stimson, then come back here."

I watched them slowly mount the stairs. Twenty years they had been with Andrew. I went to the hall telephone and called Deacon.

"You'd better come over to the Ogden house right away," I told him.

"What's wrong, John?" "Ogden—hes dead! It looks like—" I could not pronounce the word.

He gave a sharp cry. "I'll be right over, John."

Deacon is a square-built man. Square of face, square of shoulder, square of heart and mind. Never have I known persona feeling to swing him from the path of duty as he saw it by so much as the breath of a quail's tail. He is as inexorable as time itself. If a man has the appearance of guilt he investigates him with meticulous honesty, locks him up if the evidence warrants it and frees him if it doesn't. In "open and shut" cases such methods are admirable, but when things are not what they seem and facts contradict themselves, the subtle approach and the comprehension and evaluation of human motives are, in my opinion, more likely to get at the truth. Deacon laughs at me, of course.

For this reason I dreaded his appearance. The serious implications of the evidence had not escaped my mind for an instant. I had seen Jerry flying down the drive a minute or so after his father had been stabbed to death. I had called and instead of answering me he had gone

Durham Bulls Maintain Lead In Piedmont

Charlotte, May 1.—(AP)—The Durham Bulls maintained their one game advantage over the field in the Piedmont League today and Goldsboro was still atop the Eastern Carolina roost by an even narrower margin.

Fayetteville, trailing the Bugs by half a game, muffed a glorious chance to go into the lead yesterday. They lost to Greenville 6 and 4, while the Wilmington Pirates were beating the pace makers by the same score.

Rocky Mount dropped a game to Kingston, 6 to 3, and finished the day in a tie for sixth and last place. Durham won yesterday from Greensboro, 8 and 4, but failed to gain on the second place Winston Twins, who defeated Henderson 9 to 4. In the third game Salisbury beat High Point 11 to 8.

Today Wilmington plays in Fayetteville, Greenville at Kingston, and Goldsboro at Rocky Mount. In the Piedmont, Henderson invades Salisbury, Greensboro goes to Winston and High Point to Durham.

Pyle's Runners Still In Missouri

Miller, Mo., May 1.—(AP)—C. C. Pyle's bunion boys shuffled along today over the last Missouri clods on their trans-continental tramp. Tonight they rest on the banks of the Missouri river at Joplin before starting tomorrow's jaunt into Oklahoma.

Pete Gavuzzi, the bearded Italian waiter of Southampton, England, checked up his second consecutive win and increased his lead over Johnny Salo, Passaic, N. J., policeman, to nearly four hours yesterday when he led the caravan into Miller from Springfield. Gavuzzi's time for the 33.7 miles was 4:15:10. Salo, who finished in a tie with Sam Richman of New York for sixth place, continued to pile up his advantage over Ed Gardner, Seattle negro, third in elapsed time. Gardner, handicapped by a shin splint, has finished far in the rear the last three days.

(Political Advertising) Mayor Of Greenville Admits He Is Unable To Enforce Dog Laws Of The City

I was born near Greenville and have lived here most of my life and have tried to be a decent law-abiding citizen.

I feel like I have a right to call the good peoples' attention of Greenville and Pitt county to the fact that summer is near here, and owing to the fact that Mr. J. C. Lanier, mayor of our city, says that the city administration cannot enforce the ordinances of the town pertaining to the dog law, I think the public should be notified of this fact and parents should be warned to look after their children, try to keep them from having one of their children bitten, as one of mine was, by a mad-dog turned loose by the orders of our former chief of police L. Jones.

Just about 30 days after Mr. Lanier had published a notice in the Daily Reflector to the effect that all dogs running at large on the streets of Greenville would be shot or taken up by the police by order of the mayor, J. C. Lanier, Mr. Lanier, by his own statement, says that they cannot afford to shoot dogs running at large and that these Greenville dogs are so educated that they can spot a policeman a mile off.

Mr. Lanier asked me to support him in the coming mayor's election. I told him that after the dirty deal I consider I got from two of the town's highest officials by their lack of enforcement of the law, that he was out of luck as far as I am concerned.

Betty.

Joyous and sweetly with Betty's voice.

As she sang by the old oak tree. "Home Sweet Home" was her choice. The song she sang with joyful glee.

Her dreamy eyes were a pretty blue. Her cheeks were rosy red. She was large, I'm sure, as her sister Sue. And also lame as was said.

Betty was generous and kind in her ways. And hardly ever did lose her temper. Even on snowy and rainy days. Not a word from her, not even a whimper.

She had a timid sister, her name was Netty. Her cheeks were also rosy and red. She wasn't half as pretty as Betty. Not one little curl was on her head. —Elizabeth Earle Baker.

Eureka—Eureka—After a dilatory search I found quantities sufficient to supply my many customers. I hope you're "lucky in love" with a famous Onslow county ham. Kemp Opposes Consolidation Of Railroads

Richmond, Va., May 1.—(AP)—George S. Kemp, a member of the first stockholders' protective committee of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway, and chairman of the second committee in successfully opposing the Van Sweringen mergers, today appeared before the Virginia State Corporation Commission to oppose the third and latest move of the Van Sweringens for railroad consolidation now before the Interstate Commerce Commission. The commission is holding a public hearing here to determine the policy of the State of Virginia in regard to the proposed merger.
Mr. Kemp announced that he was appearing as a citizen of Virginia, a stockholder of the Chesapeake & Ohio and on behalf of other stockholders not named.
His appearance followed an announcement by Attorney General John R. Saunders that he desired to intervene in the proposed merger on the grounds that it was violative of section 166 of the State Constitution dealing with competing railroad lines.

TEMPERATURES SEASONABLE FOR COTTON PLANTING

Washington, May 1.—(AP)—The Department of Agriculture's weekly weather and crop bulletin for the week ended yesterday says temperatures were mostly seasonable in the cotton belt. In the Carolinas planting made rather favorable progress and is well along as far north as the coastal plain of North Carolina. Elsewhere east of the Mississippi river field work was less active because of rather frequent rains. In central Georgia stands of early cotton are rather poor, while in sections of other states they are reported as irregular.

MANUFACTURERS AND LANDOWNERS

Do we get the whole truth about the conditions existing in our State, from certain interests, as to tax conditions and other public burdens charged against the people of the State.

The figures submitted from the most reliable records available tend to show most of these statements are absolutely incorrect and that the people are being duped by statements that are not correct.

The period since the world war is the one in which we are most interested, yet the figures for the past 30 years tell the same tale.

In 1899 all manufactured products in North Carolina were worth $85,000,000 and agricultural products $69,000,000. The value of manufactured products had increased 13 1-2 times in 1927, amounting to $1,154,000,000.

For the period from 1919 to 1927, factory products increased in value by $211,000,000, while the value of farm products decreased in value $132,000,000.

For the year 1927, the factory profits in North Carolina were $593,000,000. This was produced by the capital investment and the labor of 204,590 people, who were paid $158,394,000, or the average sum of $775 per year for each laborer.

loss if all items were charged against it.

Yet the land owner is paying the major part of the taxes of the State, almost totally sustaining the public schools, the county and municipal governments. It is often argued that North Carolina is a bad place for rich folks. Yet no State in the Union has seen as much prosperity since the world war as North Carolina—among the manufacturers. And they are actually fooling the folks into believing that they can not stand another cent of tax without having to go into bankruptcy. Of course, every sane man knows that when 2,984 manufacturing plants are making a clean-up of $593,000,000 a year, in profits, on the labor of 204,000 people, they will stay with us for a while. You see, they are making $2,420 clear on every factory hand they hire.

No; they are not going to pull up and leave North Carolina on account of cruel tax laws and go to some other State. What they really need is to have to pay a little more than they are now paying. — Williamston Enterprise.

ABOUT TOWN

"If Greenville can maintain the fast pace she has been setting the last several days there is no reason on earth why we should not be at the top of the standing of clubs' column in the next several days," declared a supporter of the local baseball organization this morning.

"Our showing against Wilmington and Fayetteville has been exceptionally fine and should we be able to hold the winning streak we ought to find ourselves perched at the top of the circuit with a good lead for championship honors.

"Watch the date of the games in this city and attend all of them. This will show the boys you are behind them and nothing helps like moral support in a case of this kind."

"The election of Hon. F. C. Harding to the presidency of the Greenville Rotary Club will be received with interest by everybody in town," said a member of the club today.

"Forsy Harding is probably one of the best known citizens of the county. He is not only a lawyer of outstanding ability, but an orator whose services are always in demand by some organization in this section of the state.

"Having been associated with the Rotarians for many years, Mr. Harding should be able to do a constructive work at the helm of the organization. He has always stood for the best interest of the community at large, and it is certain his influence will be felt more than ever while sitting as leader of this progressive body of men."

"If training and organization count for anything, then the Greenville Boy Scout movement is going to develop into one of the most outstanding in this section of the state," asserted a well known man today, discussing plans for the Boy Scout organization here.

"Leaders of this movement have been undergoing training here for several weeks, and at this time they are arranging for the formation of Boy Scout patrols. Every boy of Scout age is coming under their attention, and if possible he will be enrolled in this great movement to improve the moral, physical and spiritual life of the nation's youth.

"I shall be glad to see the organizations complete and every lad enrolled for active membership. It will insure an uplift which the juvenile doesn't get roving about the streets and into places where virtue is conspicuous for its absence."

having some real springtime," said a citizen as he walked up Evans street this morning, breathing deeply of the air-laden with the perfume of blooming flowers.

"There is no other season of the year preferable to springtime. This is the season when young men's fancies turn to things sentimental and when those too old to deal in sentimentalities continue to more vigorously hound the train of the almighty dollar. It is a season when all of us like to seek the open and commune with the thousands of beauties whose nature offers upon every hand.

"Another summer is winging its way to us through the glory of this springtime, so let us all enjoy the best the season affords, happy in the fact that we are alive and well, able to revel in the myriad treasures which life holds for everyone."

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, May 1.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 8 to 10 points, which was considered only a partial response to weakness in Liverpool. After showing net gains of 17 to 19 points, prices advanced on trade buying and covering.

The weekly weather report, was referred to by some traders as a standoff. Others considered it slightly bullish and there was some buying on rain reports from the South, while the failure of the early week to go further, promoted covering. Prices held steady later in the morning with July selling up to 18.35, and with active months at midday showing net advances of 2 to 10 points. A private report was issued pointing to an increase of only one per cent in the acreage.

STOCK MARKET

By STANLEY W. FRENCH, Associated Press Financial Editor.

New York, May 1.—(AP)—Easing credit conditions and favorable trade news provided the background for another broad advance in prices in today's stock market. Revival of pool activity, and a marked expansion in public participation, was reflected in an increased volume of trading. Extreme gains in the active issues ran from 2 to nearly 16 points, with at least 20 stocks pushed to new high levels for the year.

Call money renewed at 11 per cent, as against 14 yesterday, and dropped to 10 around midday. There appeared to be a plentiful supply of funds at the lower figure, and the rate is expected to work lower within the next few days. There was no quotable change in blue money and commercial paper rates, although an easier undernote was apparent.

The market was temporarily unsettled after midday by a break in the advance Rumely issue, which recently have been soaring to new high records under what appeared to be pool manipulation. The common broke from an early high of 162 to 97 3-4 and the preferred from 119 to 106 1-2, before sufficient buying support was forthcoming to stem the tide of selling. International Telephone and American Telephone each fell back about 4 points, Union Trust Car 3 1-2 and Corn Products 3, but all rallied.

The weekly steel trade reviews continue optimistic in character. The iron age starts, that despite record shipments, the inflow of steel business shows little reduction in volume, pointing to well sustained all operations through the remainder of the quarter.

United States Steel, common apparently had discounted the record-making first quarter price time out, and failed to make much way.

Unsettled fluctuations, were resuscitated in the United Aircraft issues, the non-soaring 15 1-2 points to a peak at 162 and then dropping 1-4. Union Carbide soared than 10 points to a new high of 255.

Necessary shares again gave the most impressive stimulus of group strength. New cords in that group were led by American Bosch, Borg Warner, Murray Corporation, Strömberg Carburetor, and B. and E. Electric, most of the gains running points.

Charlotte Man Commits Suicide

Charlotte, May 1.—(AP)—J. W. Ballenger, 80, was found lying dead on a bed here today clutching a pistol in his hand with his finger on the trigger and with a wound in the right temple.

A note addressed to Mrs. Allen of Spartanburg, S. C., was at the side of the bed. Police said the note indicated that bad health was the cause of the suicide. Property of the man was left Mrs. Allen, the officers said, who apparently was the only living relative of Ballenger.

When the body was found a bulldog was lying at the foot of the bed. The note made provision that the dog be given to the people on whose land Mr. Ballenger had operated a store at 900 North Caldwell Street.

KENTUCKY MAN KILLED AT CINCINNATI, OHIO

Cincinnati, May 1.—(AP)—August Bruck, 30, Newport, Ky., was found shot to death in the Hotel Gibson here today by a house detective. Police said the shooting occurred during the night and expressed the belief the crime was the outcome of alleged handbook operations of major proportions.

Strike Situation Quiet In Gaston; Many Mills Working

Gastonia, May 1.—(AP)—May day found Gaston county, for four weeks the battleground of the textile labor troubles coincident with strikes called by the National Textile Workers Union, quiet. The 103 textile mills in the county were reported running with full day shifts and a surplus of labor.

A check made this morning by the Gastonia Gazette brought information from mill owners and operators that 120 workers, all from the night shift, were idle at the Osage mill, Bessemer City and that 119 employees who had gone on strike at the Lory mill of the Manville-Jencks Company had not returned to their jobs. The Osage mill was closed for several days and recently resumed daytime operation. The night shift is not working. At the Lory mill it was stated that the jobs of the 112 employees still out had been filled. This mill works 115 persons on the day shift and more than 700 at night.
