DEBATES ON FARM RELIEF BEGIN TODAY

Debates On Leaders Busy Trying To Eliminate Export Debiture Feature.

Washington, May 8.—(AP)—The members of Congress faced a hard day's work today despite that the issue, with more than four-fifths of the total membership, was in agreement until tomorrow. The principal reason lay in the necessity for study of the new 85-cent tariff bill with its numerous proposals for changes in the tariff schedules now in effect. The bill was not introduced in the Senate yesterday, and disagreement with the decisions of the Ways and Means Committee and the Finance Committee began to crop up immediately throughout the day.

The Senate session today, called an hour earlier than usual, was scarcely less interesting to the members of the two chambers. The members had agreed to limit debate on the export debiture provision of the farm relief bill after 2 p. m. with a vote impending which would give the first test of administration strength in that chamber. The election of President Hoover in view of his announced opposition to the proposal.

The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, meanwhile, was called in a hurry into the radio, telephone and cable industries as part of its consideration of a bill to set up a federal communications commission. The Senate Finance Committee also was called to take up the resolution of the Ways and Means Committee proposing an investigation of the conditions in the textile industry in North and South Carolina, Tennessee, where strikes have been in progress some time.

Washington, May 8.—(AP)—Administration leaders in the Senate today only a few hours left today for their efforts to avert defeat in their attempt to eliminate the export debiture proposal which President Hoover opposes from the General Farm Relief bill.

The unlimited debate on the provision of the bill, mostly Democrats and Republican independents, were in, meanwhile, with their extensions of confidence, and leaders of the group claimed a majority for the provision in the Senate.

The Debiture contest is regarded generally as the first big test of strength between the new Chief Executive and the Senate, and Mr. Hoover has been kept advised of developments in the situation by Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, who has himself sponsored the move for elimination of the debiture provision.

According to the contest was won by one, Watson has asserted that at this time did not mean the bill would reach the President with such approval in it. It is reported in the bill as passed in the Senate, he said, it would be vetoed during the joint conference with the House which must be held to bring the two chambers agreement on the various provisions and phraseology.

Mexican President Opens Up Way For Settlement Of Church-State Strife

Mexico City, May 8.—(AP)—President Emilio Portes Gil, has opened a door through which diplomatic negotiations for settlement of his country's church-state strife may be approached. In a signed statement published today he said: "If Archbishop Ruiz (Monsignor Leopoldo Ruiz Y Flores, Archbishop of Michoacan, and a leader of the Mexican Roman Catholic hierarchy), should desire to discuss with me the way to bring about co-operation in the moral effort to better the Mexican people which he desires, I shall have no objection to talking with him on the subject."

Archbishop Ruiz recently gave out a statement published in the United States which said "the church and its ministers are ready to co-operate to the fullest extent for the betterment of the Mexican people." "I was pleased with the statement made by Archbishop Ruiz to the effect that 'the religious conflict in Mexico was not motivated by any cause which may not be corrected by men of sincere good will' and his categorical declaration that the Catholic Church and its ministers are prepared to co-operate with the Mexican government in every proper and moral effort for the benefit of the Mexican people."

"Co-operation for that purpose is exactly what the Mexican government has always desired. I stated publicly a few days ago that in my opinion the Catholic Church as an institution was not associated with the military uprising which has just ended in Mexico."

"I added that many members of the Catholic clergy in Mexico had recommended and counseled respect for law and order. Unfortunately an important minority who represent neither the Mexican nation nor the Catholic Church apparently favor violence."

The president then said that although there were no officially accredited representatives of the Vatican at Mexico City, and that although such were prohibited by Mexican law, the government was not barred from exchanging ideas with ministers of the Catholic Church or from holding informal conversations with dignitaries of the church as to fulfillment and interpretation of laws applicable to the clergy.

There was some speculation here as to how broad a spirit of conciliation the president's statement might portend. Settlement of the controversy between the church and the Mexican government apparently has hinged, since the rupture became open in 1926, on some modification of arrangement of the national religious laws which would permit the clergy to exercise its offices without conflict with its own ecclesiastical constitutions.

The specific point has been registration of the priests which the government has required and the episcopate authorized all priests in Mexico to abandon their posts rather than comply, the result being that since 1926 no services have been conducted by priests in Catholic churches throughout Mexico.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT CRITICISED

Civil Service Reform League Scores Method Of Selecting Postmasters.

New York, May 8.—(AP)—The postoffice department and the method of selecting postmasters were severely criticised in the annual report of the council of the National Civil Service reform league which was read at the league session here today.

"The selection of postmasters throughout the country continues to be based on political preference, notwithstanding the Merit system established by President Harding in 1923," the report said.

An investigating committee of the league found the postoffices were filled on a partisan basis although the Civil Service Commission conducted competitive examinations to establish eligible lists from which appointments could be made. Not the person at the head of the list, but the person most favored politically, and in some cases the candidate paying, or promising to pay the most money for the place received the position.

The league asked that President Hoover insist upon the appointment of postmasters from the head of the list. The report also urged that 5,000 positions, now excepted from the law, be placed under the jurisdiction of the Civil Service by the President.

The executive order of President Coolidge, issued on the eve of the Hoover inauguration, granting preference in appointment to all federal positions to disabled veterans, also was criticized.

The league believes the new order is most ill-advised and will result in serious impairment of the efficiency of the government service," the report said.

The Senate sub-committee was urged to continue its investigation into federal appointments and the league recommended the "prosecution of unscrupulous political leaders who have flouted the law and who treat the distribution of public office as so much political and personal plunder."

Heflin Scores Order Barring Paper Men From Sinclair's Cell

Washington, May 8.—(AP)—The order of Washington jail officials barring newspapermen from Harry F. Sinclair's prison house, was attacked in the Senate today by Senator Heflin, of Alabama, who said it was "time for those in authority to stop trucking to millionaire criminals."

Heflin declared Sinclair, whom he described as "this thief who stole from the government," should be accorded no special privileges. "The press will not be permitted to go to his cell and write about him," Heflin declared. "But a poor boy would not have such protection or such a shield about him as has been thrown about this millionaire prisoner."

"Oh, when will the day come when our authorities will stop this deference to millionaire criminals? Let them wear the stripes like any other prisoner."

"Don't you approach the cell of Sinclair, these reporters are told. You will disturb him. He's taking a nap."

Three Gunmen Slain As Gangsters Get Revenge For Chicago Massacre

Hammond, Ind., May 8.—(AP)—A treble slaying today undered the brief truce of Chicago's gangland. Three men, identified by newspapermen as John Scalsi, Albert Anselmi and Joe Guinta, were shot to death on a rural roadside early today and the retribution of their underworld foes for the massacre of George (Bugs) Moran's seven clansmen last St. Valentine's day.

Scalsi and Anselmi were reputed henchmen of Scarface Al Capone, notorious gang leader, now a resident of Miami, Fla. Scalsi had been freed under $50,000 bond only a week ago pending trial as one of the Moran gang executioners.

Chicago police were attempting to verify and make official the identifications of newspapermen. Their progress was retarded because of the finding of the bodies across the state line in Indiana.

The pair were found heaped in the back seat of a coupe that had been nosed into a ditch near Wolfe Lake, just this side of the Illinois state line, their bodies covered by a blanket. Twenty feet away officers found a third body, identified tentatively as that of Joe Guinta, another gangland habitue.

Hammond police were unable to verify the identifications made by newspapermen from Chicago who brought photographs from their gallery of gunmen and hoodlums to compare with the victims. The reporters, however, expressed themselves as certain of the identities of the dead trio.

Scalsi and Anselmi, a dread duo of killers with whom police have often had to confere, were regarded as the most dangerous today were seen as the stroke of avengers for the seven followers of "Bugs" Moran, the north side chief, who were lined up against the wall of a North Clark street garage three months ago and swept with machine gun fire.

Truce have Scalsi and Anselmi been tried together for the slaying of two policemen, only to win acquittals because they professed to believe the district squad had chased them was a squad of their underworld foes.

Scalsi and Mack McGurn, "Machine Gun" Jack, were the only two indicted for the Moran gang massacre. Their trials were deferred several times at the behest of state's attorneys and police who wanted further time to build up cases against the men and only last week attorneys obtained their release from the county jail under heavy bond on the promise of their appearance when the trial was called. McGurn had been trapped in a downtown hotel where he had been hiding since the day of the seven-fold murder. Scalsi, however, sauntered into police headquarters one day and surrendered, observing he had been one of the dozen listed as "wanted" by the police for investigation.

URGES PROBE OF STRIKE AT TEXTILE MILLS

Labor Head Tells Senate Committee Investigation Is Imperative.

Washington, May 8.—(AP)—A Senate investigation of the workers' strike in the southern textile mills was urged today by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, before the Senate manufacturers' committee on the ground that a "most extraordinary situation exists."

Mr. Green charged "that the mills in the south are paying indefensibly low wages; that they are working the employees extraordinarily long hours; and that they are absolutely lacking in the protection usually afforded employees."

"We talk about communism penetrating into these communities," he said. "Just such conditions breed communism. The southern workers know nothing of communism but in their hour of distress they accept the hand of any helper." The labor federation head was called by the committee as it began consideration of the resolution of Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, proposing a Senate inquiry of the labor troubles in the textile mills of North Carolina, South Carolina and Tennessee.

Green declared that "with the exercise of common sense" the difficulties at Elizabethton, Tenn., could have been settled in five minutes by reasonable fair means.

"The basis of all the discontent is low wages," he continued, "and the onerous conditions imposed on the employees and the women and children who are worked for long hours."

An assertion by Green that South Carolina had no compulsory education law was challenged by Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, who later read into the record the South Carolina statute compelling children under 14 years of age to attend school.

"Nevertheless," Green declared, "there is no denying the fact that large numbers of children are employed in the mills in South Carolina and under the most unfavorable conditions. Now women and children and their belongings are being thrown out into the street by eviction orders. Is that the way to promote industrial peace?"

"The American Federation of Labor stands as a barrier to the march of communism but the owners of these mills are sowing the seeds of communism and that spirit is pervading the conservative, peaceful communities of the south."

UNION LABOR HOLDS OUT IN RAYON STRIKE

Leaders Continue Effort To Get Mills To Employ Members Of The Union.

Elizabethton, Tenn., May 8.—(AP)—Apparently holding to their policy of "orderly resistance" to the operating plan of the American Rayon and the American Ginzstoff Companies, rayon mill strike leaders today renewed their efforts toward inducing the factories to employ union labor.

Legal aid was asked of the Civil Liberties Union and appeals have been made to Governor Henry Horton by labor leaders to have national guardsmen withdrawn from patrol duty. The legal aid was asked in connection with a charge by the union leaders that the plants had violated the child labor law and that troops were illegally stationed here.

A deputy sheriff was expected to go on trial today on a charge of "obviously assaulting a minor striker yesterday. The office was held by a court that released the striker after trial on a charge of picketing.

Mountaineer strikers were incensed at the alleged attack on the youth and labor leaders said the resentment was so strong that violence was possible despite their pleas for peaceful resistance. William Kelley, vice-president of the United Textile Workers said, "If there is violence it will be the fault of deputies who have mistreated the strikers." Kelley praised the conduct of the national guardsmen.

Adjutant General W. C. Boyd said peace officers had told him the situation was out of their hands and that militia was needed.

Air Mail Pilot Killed In Crash Near Cheyenne

Cheyenne, Wyo., May 8.—(AP)—Ivan Heuston, Denver, pilot on the Denver-Cheyenne airmail route, was found dead amidst the wreckage of his plane ten miles south of here today. Heuston had been missing since 7 o'clock last night, when he passed over the local air field. He was unable to make a landing on account of the dense fog.

Heuston apparently lost his way in the fog and crashed in attempting to make a blind landing. Although badly wrecked, the plane did not catch fire. The mail was recovered.

Pal Maroney, pilot on the Cheyenne-Salt Lake City leg of the Transcontinental Air Mail Service, met Heuston's plane shortly after he took off last night and blinked his lights but there were no responding signals. Maroney was forced down by the fog shortly after taking off. He escaped injury.

Heuston was a native of Oregon and was graduated from the State University there in 1924. He completed a flying course at Kelly Field, Texas, last February.

Effect Of New Tariff Studied By Statesmen

Washington, May 8.—(AP)—The possible political and economic effects of the new tariff bill placed before the House by ways and means committee Republicans were being gauged today by leaders of both parties in Capitol Hill.

Such tariff experts of the minority as Representative Gardner of Texas, and Hull of Tennessee, and Senator Simmons of North Carolina, were carefully studying the 85,000 word document preparatory to general and specific onslaughts.

Some members of the majority party also voiced dissatisfaction with various proposals in the measure, including the duties on building material, cedar lumber, shingles, brick and cement, and birch and maple lumber, all of which now are on the free list.

Those issuing statements on these duties included Representatives Ramseyer of Iowa, a Republican of the ways and means committee, and Haugen of Iowa, chairman of the agriculture committee. Rep. Fear of Wisconsin, a Republican independent, assailed the increased duties on sugar as indefensible.

CHINA AGAIN IN THE GRIP OF WARFARE

Factional Strife Breaks Out Anew In Southern Part Of Country.

Canton, China, May 8.—(AP)—Factional warfare between the Provinces of Kwangsi and Kwangtung in South China was in full progress today with the important city of Canton threatened with capture by the Kwangsi group.

The overnight change from peace to war has resulted in the flight of thousands from Canton to Hong Kong while the Nanking government Central Bank notes, already 25 per cent under par, were still falling here.

Behind the present warfare lies the struggle between the Nanking or Nationalist central government and the Kwangsi Military clique as well as a more centralized rivalry between the Provinces of Kwangsi and Kwangtung.

The Cantonese are feverishly mobilizing troops and pouring them westward to oppose the advancing Kwangsi forces and a clash was expected in the Shuihung area only 50 miles from Canton.

Baptists Nearing Convention Close At Memphis, Tenn.

Memphis, Tenn., May 8.—(AP)—Numerous affiliated bodies of the Southern Baptist convention approached the close of their annual meetings here today while church committees attacked the mass of business awaiting consideration when the convention begins its sessions tomorrow.

The executive committee made up of many of the outstanding church leaders had before it proposals to rearrange the church finances, extend the denomination's effective influence to thinly populated districts, reorganize the home mission board and carry out other reforms advocated by various elements in the convention.

Nearing the end of its convention tonight the Woman's Missionary Union accepted reports indicating rapid development of the unions auxiliaries for younger church members. One report said there were 18,787 such organizations functioning during the present church year.

Most of the messengers to the convention centered their interest in the deliberations on the executive committee, the governing board of the organization.

JURORS HELD FOR BRIBERY IN NASHVILLE

Members Of Jury In Murder Case Confess To Charges Of Bribe And Bribery

Nashville, Tenn., May 8.—(AP)—E. P. Osburn, carpenter, whose vote for acquittal hung the jury in the trial of Walter Liggett for the alleged murder of Turney Cunningham, and Rainey "Coo" Creswell, grocer, have confessed to charges of accepting a bribe and bribery, respectively, according to Attorney General Richard M. Atkinson.

Arrested just after midnight, Osburn and Creswell pleaded not guilty before a magistrate and then were taken to Atkinson's office and questioned.

According to the alleged confessions the negotiations started the day Osburn was summoned for jury service, when he told Creswell he couldn't serve because it did not pay enough.

Creswell is quoted as saying that he could get the Liggetts to pay Osburn well if he would do the right thing. After Osburn was accepted as a juror, Creswell was alleged to have met Walter Liggett at night under a railroad trestle, and Liggett is alleged to have offered Creswell $200 to get Osburn to hang the jury.

The amount Osburn was to expect was not stated in the alleged confessions. Creswell was quoted as telling Mrs. Hattie McBride, Osburn's daughter, who was his employee to "tell the old man not to worry about the grocery bill he owes me. It will be all right."

Hams—Hams—Hams. Hurrah for the famous Onslow county hams. The last 25 years I have been boosting the famous Onslow county hams. I have been leading all my competitors in Greenville for the same ham. Distressingly, I have been told by them with more truth than poetry. I was not making any money and should sell them higher. As I am not any spring chicken, it is too late for me to come back and make money. But I have the solace to know that conscience is clear, and that I have my many customers with some degree of appreciation of their patronage and my younger competitors have learned to appreciate the famous Onslow county hams.

Full lot on hand this time and will continue to sell them at the same price during this week. After the 10th of May, as they are getting scarcer, and the price will advance. It will be necessary compelled to advance some with the market.

Thanking my many customers for their past patronage, I bespeak and solicit the same, when in need of a famous Onslow county ham, call

MEMPHIS WOMAN LEADS NEW ORLEANS GOLFERS

New Orleans, May 8.—(AP)—Led by Mrs. David Gault of Memphis, three times champion, and Mrs. Dalton Raymond of Baton Rouge, former title holder, 16 women golfers set out today in a second round tournament over the Southern Women's tournament over Maitairie course here.

Mrs. Gault, however, anxious to win her fourth title and set a record for the event, had a worthy opponent today in Mrs. Carl Hess, of Birmingham, who yesterday turned in a score of 89 for the 18 holes to win from Miss Bertina Manson, of New Orleans, 4 and 3. Mrs. Gault bested Mrs. H. Wilson, of New Orleans, 6 to 5.

The lithe, hard swinging Mrs. Raymond, however, had other worries. Her game was wobbly and she had no little trouble yesterday in beating Mrs. Herman Gartner, of Fort Worth, 2 and 1.

The state of North Carolina presented a triple threat in Mrs. R. R. Jones, women's champion of the Carolinas; Miss Dean Van Landingham, and Mrs. W. H. Willard, of Charlotte.

Birmingham, Charlotte, Fort Worth and New Orleans each survived with two players with a chance for the title.

MAKES PLEA FOR BETTER RURAL LIFE

Franklin Roosevelt Outlines Problems Fronting Farmer In Address in Ga.

Carrollton, Ga., May 8.—(AP)—Three problems facing the state of Georgia, his home state of New York and practically all of the 46 other states, in their efforts to improve the conditions surrounding rural life, were outlined by Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt in a commencement address at the Fourth District Agricultural and Mechanical School here this afternoon.

These problems, which the governor said would aid agriculture in keeping its place with the tremendous strides of present day civilization, were: Bettering of home living conditions, improving of methods of agriculture itself and eliminating local government inefficiency.

"The problem of bettering home living conditions is being met on the educational side by the splendid growth of the study of home economics," Governor Roosevelt asserted, "but this work needs expansion not merely through agricultural colleges but through the high schools and grade schools."

"Here in rural Georgia as in rural New York," the speaker continued, "taking up the problem of improving agriculture, it is safe to say that at least 75 per cent of farming is unscientific. If the same conditions of lack of modern business methods were applied to American industries and manufacturers, we would be a bankrupt nation today. This condition will not be corrected by federal farm relief laws or by any one panacea. Relief must come through education along the right lines and through co-operation between individuals and communities."

Proceeding to the problem of local government inefficiency, Governor Roosevelt declared that local taxes are unnecessarily high and are wastefully used in almost every rural county in America.

"We talk about extravagancies of federal and state governments but we overlook the fact that by far the greater part of the taxes we pay are local taxes and are locally expended. The business management of the country ought to be along business lines, not as today along political lines."

"In the same connection we need in our agricultural communities a greater interest on the part of the average man and woman citizen in the conduct of our local government. In other words, co-operation with all other counties of the state in the place of selfishness, and in the long run this will help our local needs to a great extent. There, we need to study what other states have done and are doing. This is just as true of New York as in Georgia. If we are to stop the present American tendency to concentrate all power in Washington; if we are to remain a democracy instead of becoming an oligarchy, we must start at the bottom and not at the top."

"At the bottom, is first the township, the small cities or the counties. The new race of young men and young women begins to take hold of the reins. This younger generation has educational advantages undreamed of by their fathers and mothers. The responsibility will soon rest in their hands. There is a wider point of view than the older generation possessed. They understand the term state-minded and nation-minded. In that lies the hope of the future."

OIL MAGNATE SETTLES DOWN TO JAIL LIFE

Harry Sinclair To Listen In on Races Over The Radio During Friday.

Washington, May 8.—(AP)—Harry F. Sinclair, registered pharmacist, settling rapidly into the jail life he will live until mid-summer, looked forward today to the privilege of listening over the radio Friday while one of his thoroughbred pets carries his racing colors into an American turf classic.

The multi-millionaire oil man, who Monday began serving a ninety-day sentence for contempt of the Senate, has seldom missed being in his box for the running of an important race in which he had entries, and in the preakness he has five colts nominated, with Mei Fox and Leucite expected to start. But he will see that race only through the eyes of a radio announcer and then by permission of his jailer and because of his good fortune to have studied pharmacy in his youth.

Today the celebrated prisoner was able to go about his duties with the newspaper spotlight turned not so directly upon him, as it has been recently. It was turned aside by order of George S. Wilson, director of public welfare, who has barred all newspaper men from the jail temporarily because he said they were interfering with the routine of the institution.

Yesterday Sinclair assisted in the dressing of a minor wound on a prisoner and found time between work and straightening up his private shelf to strike up an acquaintanceship with a race horse book-maker. He will not be permitted to see callers, except on Sundays, but his attorneys may call at any time, and Warden Peak said that his mail would not be examined.

Michaelson Trial Nears End Today

Key West, Fla., May 8.—(AP)—Trial of Representative M. Alfred Michaelson of Illinois, charged with violating the prohibition act was expected to be concluded here today.

Although the government has 17 more witnesses to be heard, only one witness had been named for the defense and Judge Halstead L. Ritter said he would hold a night session if necessary to complete the trial.

While the government attempted to prove that the Congressman brought liquor into this country in baggage from Cuba, in January, 1928, great interest centered on pos-

NO MARKET, NO SALES

Judge Meekins' declaration that ownership of liquor is a felony is getting down to business in a way that should make the enforcement of prohibition possible.

With Mrs. Alice Longworth assuming the role of "Joan of Arc" in the war of Mrs. Gann's Washington correspondents can rest assured that for the time being at least, there will be enough activity in Washington for them to hold their jobs.

IS THE LAW "A ASS?"

The law works in ways that are not always easy to understand. The millionaire oil king, Sinclair, goes to jail for 90 days for refusing to answer the Senate's proper questions, and Stewart, another oil king, is driven out of office by Rockefeller for contumacy.

ABOUT TOWN

"Kinston people seem to think the jinx is trailing their ball club," pointed out a traveling man today, looking over the standing of the clubs.

"But Kingston isn't the only town that will make such charges in the near future. There hasn't been so much changing around in the league so far, but sooner or later some of those top-notchers are going hurtling to the bottom of the ladder to stay there."

clubs column and give the remaining clubs a hard race for honors. It would have a tendency of producing more actual interest than any other one thing."

"That ball game Greenville lost to Goldsboro Monday was a heart-rending affair," asserted a Greenville man today.

"To think of holding a club runless seven innings and then have its players take a spurt and win the game. But it's the way of baseball, and had we been in the place of Goldsboro we would have hurrahed as much as they did."

"We may have to watch more game of this class before the season is over, but let's hope not. Most any kind of ball is better than that. What we want is more wins and not so many losses."

"Sunday will be Mother's Day throughout the nation," reminded a reader this morning, as he dropped into the office to tell us of the happenings around his neighborhood.

"Greenville people like millions of others throughout the nation, will pay tribute to her countless mothers. Red and white flowers lovingly tucked away in the button-holes of coats of the masculine element will speak in eloquent terms of mothers who sacrificed in behalf of making the nation greater and better."

"No one should forget to honor his mother on this occasion especially set aside for this purpose and it is hoped Greenville will outdo all previous efforts along this line."

"Parents should encourage their children to take part in the Boy Scout movement now in progress in this city," said a prominent leader of the organization today.

"Boy Scouts stand for principles that mean much in the life of the future man of America and it is the duty of parents to encourage their children to take part in activities of this kind."

"Greenville is in the midst of one of the greatest organization periods in history at this time, and with co-operation of parents there is no reason why we should not have one of the most successful Scout bodies in the state."

"Remember the duty you owe that child of yours, mothers and fathers, and see that he is enrolled in this great movement to improve the condition of the man of tomorrow."

"I like the way that boy Jones hits the ball," observed an admirer of the first sacker of the Greenville club, referring to the good stick work the youngster has set this season.

"The ever-ready stick of Jones has played an important part in virtually all games which Greenville has played. He apparently knows the kind of ball he wants to hit and when the pitchers give it to him, the sphere oftentimes lands a long way in the outfield."

"It takes heavy hit work to win a ball game, and if Jones and the rest of the club should be able to continue their heavy slugging the remainder of the season our status ought to be right good in the standing of clubs column."

"Lots of new people are moving to Greenville these days," observed an old resident today, speaking of the number of new houses under erection in the various residential districts.

"I used to know everybody in town, but I don't know half the people here now. 'If the increase of population continues the next two or three years like it has in the past five years Greenville will be one of the largest towns in Eastern Carolina.'"

Triple By Jones Gives Greenville 2 To 1 Win Over Goldsboro Outfit

The mighty bat of Jones came in timely again for the Greenville club yesterday and they won a 2 to 1 decision over Goldsboro in one of the most spectacular and thrilling games witnessed on this diamond in many a day. The victory gave the two clubs an even break of the series, Goldsboro having won the day before by a 4 to 2 count.

After the two clubs had breezed along for three innings without a hit or run, Jones, first-sacker of the Tobaccoists, stepped up to the plate and hit the ball a deep center field for three bases scoring Bangs, who had been given a base on balls, and Edwards, who got on with a neat single to left field. The side was retired when Hart hit into a double play.

The visitors did their only scoring in the ninth frame with a double by Patton and single by Bickham that scored Patton. They made a desperate attempt to tie the score, but the side was retired without such an ambition being realized.

The game at the outset developed into a pitchers' duel between the respected Garbee, of the Greenville club, and Raket for the visitors. Roth went hitless until the fourth when the triple and single off Raket's delivery proved his undoing.

Garbee proved master of ceremonies in every inning until the ninth when two hits in a row prevented his turning back the Bucs without a run. He allowed four hits, all but two going to waste. Raket let the locals down with three hits, and positively refused to yield more when they would have resulted in scoring.

Both clubs played errorless ball, and while there was nothing sensational attached to the fielding of any particular player, all of them were on the job when needed.

It was the first time this season Greenville people had an opportunity of witnessing a real pitchers' duel and both the grandstand and bleachers sat asy as batsmen after batsmen was turned back by the lurers without the slightest sign of a hit. Both clubs hit the ball, but they were easy grounders or pop flies that were easily handled by the fielders.

The Greenville club left today for Fayetteville to begin a two-day series with the Highlanders. They will return home Friday and Saturday to close the week with Rocky Mount. This will be the first invasion of Greenville by the Bucs and the two games a re looked forward to with more than general interest.

Birmingham And Atlanta Tie Up

Atlanta, Ga., May 8.—(AP)—Birmingham and Atlanta had a field meet yesterday with the result a dog fight, 12 to 12, in ten innings the game being halted by darkness. On other Southern Association diamonds, games were won by comfortable margins. New Orleans gained a 12 to 4 victory over Little Rock. Memphis defeated Mobile, 5 to 2, and Chattanooga vanquished Nashville, 4 to 2.

Asheville, Greenville and Charlotte, the first two taking double headers, turned in victories yesterday in the South Atlantic Association, while Knoxville lost a twin bill to vacate second place. The Macon Peaches' won from Augusta, 6 to 4, to remain at the head of the column. Asheville hit heavily in the closing chapters of both contests to defeat Knoxville 5-4 and 7-2. Charlotte downed Columbia, 4 to 2, and Greenville measured Spartanburg twice, 6 to 3 and 3 to 2.

Steve Ellis of Selma, held the Jacksonville Tars to five hits, while his team mates negotiated three runs to blank the enemy, 3-0, and rout them from second standing in the Southeastern League. The Pensacola Flyers came through in the fourteenth inning to defeat Montgomery, 5 to 5, and Columbus rallied in the ninth to win over Tampa 5 to 3.

YANKS BACK HOME AGAIN

The Yanks are back home again, but only by the skin of their teeth. The champions regained their old standing ground with just half a game to spare late yesterday as they shaded the Browns by 6 to 5 at Sportsman's Park while the White Sox were tumbling the thistles by 4 to 2 in a surprising battle on the Chicago front. This combination of events left the Macks and the Browns in a virtual tie, but for second place rather than first.

The Yankees fired a dozen hits at young Alvin Crowder. The hardest was Babe Ruth's home run with two aboard in the fourth, but the most effective was for Meusel's pinch double in the ninth after Babe had walked and Gehrig had singled. Both scored, carrying the runs which decided the game. Ruth's homer was his fifth.

The other side of the picture, from a Yankee point of view, was Herbert Pennock's third failure in the box this season. The defeat of the Athletics at Chicago was brought about largely by Alphonse Thomas the hard-luck champion of the American League. Alphonse was some better than Bob Grove in a pitcher's battle which finished with the Athletics in possession of only five small hits.

Boston nosed out Cleveland by 5 to 4 and Detroit shaded Washington by 3 to 2 in minor raids along the American League front. The Giants once more had to hit for four bases to score, and as a consequence the Pirates rushed off with the decision by 3 to 2 in their first engagement of the season at the Polo grounds.

The Bucs tied in the eighth and won in the tenth when Lloyd Waner doubled and Pie Traynor singled. Larry Benton was the victim. Hay Schalk, managing the Giants in the absence of John McGraw, permitted Benton to bat for himself with two out and the bases filled in the ninth, with the result that Benton raised a foul to Shelly.

Young Larry French the Portland, Oregon, southpaw, made his first big league start, and showed no timidity whatever in the face of Giant bats. The Braves remained at the top by shelling the Cardinals 8 to 5 in an eighth inning rally. Billy Southworth tried to slip past the Braves with his second pitching string, but this was insufficient. The Cubs had no trouble with the Robins winning by 9 to 4, and holding within striking distance of Judge Fuchs' amazing team.

Charlie Grimm backed up by Nehf's fine pitching with two home runs, and Riggs Stephenson hit one. Frank O'Doul, the reformed pitcher, hit his fifth home run at Philadelphia, enabling the home team to defeat the Reds by 6 to 4.

SPORTS SLANTS

By ALAN J. GOULD

Associated Press Sports Writer
New York, May 8.—(AP)—The smooth surface of organized baseball has been somewhat ruffled by reaction to the disciplinary moves of Commissioner Landis on the "covering up" of strings attached to minor league talent.

Baseball men familiar with events of the last few months, subsequent to the drastic steps taken by Landis to free the players involved and fine the big league clubs accused of violating the optional player limit, understand that a bloc of American League magnates is again ready to shoulder arms. In fact, the "wise ones" assert that the main purpose of the American League meeting in Cleveland yesterday was to air the objection to Landis' action, although the headlined item of news concerned the abandonment of the "most valuable player" award.

For years the Major League magnates, by a gentlemanly understanding, have "covered up" players put out for more seasoning in excess of the official limit of eight. Apparently a number of them, understood to be led by Clark Griffith of Washington, resent the summary action of the high commissioner in not only calling an abrupt halt but in administering sharp discipline.

Whatever their personal feelings, there is not likely to be a serious tempest, especially since Landis retains the full backing of the National League and sufficient American League support to give him any vote of confidence required. Further more the commissioner's sweeping powers of office give him undisputed control of the situation. There is no appeal from a decision by Landis, whose $65,000 a year job as sole arbiter of organized baseball has until 1933 to run.

"Although there has been some objection to continuing it, the National League will not join the American in discarding the "most valuable player" contest this year. The issue was debated at both the December and February meetings of the National League.

ings of the National League magnates but a majority voted to maintain the award for this year, at least.

Despite some criticism, the general feeling among baseball men favors retention of what has come to represent a "hall of fame" for big league stars. They believe the incentive and recognition it furnishes to the players outweighs any objections.

Since 1922 the official American League award has gone, in succession to George Sisler, Babe Ruth, Walter Johnson, Roger Peckinpaugh, George Burns, Lou Gehrig, and Gordon (Mickey) Cochrane. Since 1924 the National League prize has been bestowed upon Dazzy Vance, Rogers Hornsby, Bob O'Farrell, Paul Waner and Jim Bottomley.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, May 8.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 2 to 7 points in response to firmer Liverpool cables and on private reports of rain in the central belt. Trading was rather quiet as there was disposition to wait the weekly weather and crop bulletin, but the market hardened later on local covering and buying of houses with Liverpool connections. Offers were not large and by the end of the first half hour prices showed gains of 9 to 12 points. July advanced from 18.68 to 18.77 and December from 18.81 to 18.93. Private cables reported Continental and Bombay buying as well as covering in the Liverpool market with a cessation of selling pressure. There was said to be a fair cloth inquiry from India although many offers were unworkable.

Atlantic river, is understood to have purchased a block of this stock from a group of New York brokers. General refractories, Allis Chalmers, Curtiss Aeroplane, Columbia Carbon, Commonwealth Power and Union Carbide and F. G. Shattuck sold 3 or more points below last night's final quotations. General Motors failed to make much response to predictions of a small extra dividend tomorrow, and Chrysler was rather heavily sold during the morning.

STOCK MARKET

New York, May 8.—(AP)—High money rates continued to have a restrictive effect on speculative operations in today's stock market. Control of the price movement shifted frequently between the "bull" and the "bear" forces, with the former apparently unable to attract a large outside following and the latter unsuccessful in forcing any extensive liquidation.

Call money renewed at 14 per cent with the supply relatively small. Little money from out of town was in evidence, and New York Banks apparently were disinclined to help the situation by increasing their rediscounts at the Federal Reserve Bank. Some brokers held out hope of lower money rates before the day was over but bankers were not so optimistic.

Trade news continued favorable. Weekly steel trade reviews published today showed no indication of any recession in activity, with most of the leading plants operating above their rated capacity. Iron age stated that steel production is undiminished, but a slight decline in the volume of specifications has been reflected in a promotional shoring-up of deliveries, adding that "no definite announcement regarding third quarter quotations has been made by producers, but advances in sheets, bars, plates and shapes were freely mentioned as possibilities."

Crude oil production showed a moderate reduction last week, and freight car loadings are being maintained at a high rate. The latest batch of first quarter earnings statements continue to make a favorable comparison with the same period of last year. The increased operating efficiency of the railroads reflected in the proportionately larger gain in net income than in gross is considered one of the most encouraging aspects of the railroads situation.

Heavy liquidation of radio, presumably for the account of the Meehan interests which have been active in that stock, appeared to have been completed, at least temporarily today, and the stock snapped back from a low of 99 1-8 to 101 3-4. Murray corporation, Warren Bros., United Aircraft, American and Foreign Power and Borg Warner, which have been under intermittent selling pressure all week, also rallied 2 to 6 1-2 points above yesterday's final quotations.

One of the most interesting movements of the day was in the Indian Motorcycle issue, the common rallying nearly 8 points to 28 1-2 while the preferred broke to a new low at 70 and snapped right back to 67 1-2. Charles A. Levine, trans-

WEATHER UNFAVORABLE FOR COTTON CROP
Washington, May 8.—(AP)—The Department of Agriculture's weekly weather and crop bulletin for the week ended yesterday says that the week was generally and in most places, decidedly unfavorable for the cotton crop. East of the Mississippi river frequent rains, wet soil and frequent low night temperatures were unfavorable for plants, and for germination and growth of early planted cotton, while in some sections, especially in Georgia, cold winds destroyed considerable of the early plants, necessitating replanting. In the more southern portions of the East Gulf States conditions were somewhat better.
