FOUL PLAY IS SUSPECTED IN ZEPPEL FAILURE

Experts Believe Motors of Dirigible Had Been Previously Tampered With.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, May 18.—(AP)—Thorough tests and examinations of the motors of the Graf Zeppelin which failed so soon after her departure for the United States on her second trans-Atlantic voyage will be made by German experts to determine just what went wrong.

The suspicion openly voiced in many quarters that sabotage was responsible was strongly doubted today by engineers and other high officials.

While the man in the street still could not conceive of any other explanation for the failure of the Maybach motors to function, inquiry among engineers of the company indicated that they staunchly held to the belief that sabotage was out of the question.

"The idea of sabotage cannot be entertained," said first engineer Hans Stiefel of the Maybach works. For the present, he declared, nothing could be said about the failure of the motors. "First the motors must be examined and thoroughly tested out."

Friedrichshafen, Germany, May 18.—(AP)—Feeling that sabotage was responsible for the failure of the Graf Zeppelin to complete its trans-Atlantic flight project grew here today.

Officials of the Zeppelin Corporation declined to comment upon the suggestion which others put forward with considerable frankness, although even they admitted perplexity and consternation at the abrupt end of the Graf's flight.

Director Osterle of the Dornier Airplane Works made this charge today. "Why should the same thing happen to two crankshafts?" he asked. "I have been with the motors for years and can't conceive of such duplicate tragedies. No there has been dirt work somewhere."

At the time he was unaware that the failure was quadruplicate. Dr. Ludwig Duerr, the Zeppelin's constructor, said that both he and the Maybach motor experts were mystified as to the cause of the engine failures. He did not believe it was due to overstrain, "when machines have successfully negotiated 10,000,000 revolutions we generally assume that the element of fatigue has been eliminated."

Meanwhile, 20 men arrested during the week after actions which characterized them as would-be stowaways were being held in strict confinement and it was known would be subjected to a rigid examination. There were too many of these in the opinion of officials to make the presence of all easily explainable.

Much, of course, hinged on what a thorough investigation of the motors which was being undertaken at Cuers would reveal. The greatest curiosity prevailed here with many, unquestionably, withholding expression of their fear of sabotage until examination of the engines was completed.

Dr. Duerr left here in the course of the night for Cuers to join the Zeppelin, and arranged loading, before he left, or four reserve motors for the dirigible and other supplies which Dr. Eckener had asked be sent him. These were placed on the first fast train for Toulon.

Pending investigation of the Zeppelin's condition nothing more than speculation was possible in prediction of the dirigible's immediate future. It was believed it would be necessary for it to remain at Cuers for at least a week or ten days, but whether it would start back to Friedrichshafen from there or continue its American flight was not known.

The matter of the $2,000 each which passengers paid for passage seemed in some doubt unless the Graf's owners chose to make another attempt at a trans-Atlantic crossing. Under the terms of refund of passage or damages, because the Zeppelin failed to reach its goal, more than 30 hours' flying could be checked against the tickets and no announcement was made as to whether the Graf could be used for another flight or whether it would be checked against the tickets as to whether they would be good for another flight.

PLAN GENERAL PROGRAM FOR SOUTHWEST FARMING

College Station, Tex., (AP)—Formulation of a regional program for conservation and utilization of southwestern farm land will be the subject of a conference at Texas A. and M. College June 20-21.

T. O. Walton, president of the college, has called the meeting. All institutions and interests concerned with the fullest development of land in the southwest have been invited to attend.

Lieut-Governor Fountain Stresses Need of Farmers In Address To Kiwanians

Declaring that farmers who expect relief from Congress "are holding a bag with the bottom out," R. T. Fountain of Rocky Mount, lieutenant-governor of North Carolina, delivered the principal address at the regular twice-a-month meeting of the Greenville Kiwanis Club last night.

Mr. Fountain urged that the farmers of Eastern North Carolina rely upon their own resources and produce more of the things which they consume at home. He followed out Governor Gardner's policy of attempting to get the farmer to realize the necessity for a "live at home" program, and urged the Kiwanians to do everything possible to convince the farmers of this section of the importance of this measure.

The session last night was presided over by R. C. Deal, member of the faculty of East Carolina Teachers College. Senator M. K. Blount was in charge of the program, which consisted of the usual supper with an extra course and several numbers by the high school orchestra, assisted at the piano by Mrs. M. K. Blount.

In introducing the distinguished visitor, Mr. Blount called attention to his long career in the legislature and the splendid service which he rendered as Speaker of the House. He said Mr. Fountain had always had the best interests of the state at heart and predicted his election as governor of his state at the next primary.

Mr. Fountain started out by expressing surprise at the evidence of growth in Greenville and surrounding territory. He recalled his first visit to the city in 1914 when he brought his sister here to enter East Carolina Teachers College. He said he lived in the country in those days and that the trip to the Pitt county capital was made by horse and buggy, instead of automobile.

"I knew then that this section around the college was destined to be one of the most desirable residential developments of the city, and that the town itself would sooner or later take its place among the progressive thriving centers of industry of the country," he declared.

The night had been designated as "Better Greenville Night," but the speaker said he was going to adhere to a suggestion by Ed Flanagan, one of Pitt county's representatives in the legislature, and talk about "How to bring more money to Greenville and Pitt county." It didn't take him long to warm up to his subject. Residing in a great farming community himself, he knew of the conditions afflicting the growers of North Carolina, and expressed himself to the Kiwanians with much feeling and earnestness.

The people of Eastern North Carolina at this time are facing a condition bordering close to bankruptcy, the speaker said. They are at the crossing of the bridge, and the success of their crossing will be largely determined by the attention which the business men and farmers give to credit conditions and methods of farming.

He pointed out that the farmers had abused their credit to such an extent that numbers of the most prominent time concerns had been forced out of business, leaving many small banks with them. The time has come for closing down on the credit situation, and this fact is made more imperative by the severe money-shortage which is not only being experienced in this section, but is reaching to many other parts of the country.

The banks should go about the business of loaning money in a more intelligent way, he thought. They should have something like a questionnaire for the farmer in order to be able to determine his resources and to see whether he is in posi-

PADEREWSKI TO VISIT CITY NEXT WINTER

Greatest Of All Musicians Booked For Concert At College In January.

Paderewski is coming to Greenville next winter. East Carolina Teachers College has secured him for a concert engagement in January. This is the fulfillment of a dream that seems too good to be true, but the contract has been signed and sealed.

It is an honor to any state to have as a guest this distinguished man, who is not only the greatest of musicians, but who is a great statesman and one of the world's leading citizens. Not only Greenville, but the whole of Eastern North Carolina will join the College in paying tribute to this great man.

This is the first college or university south of the University of Virginia he has ever included in his concert tours, and that is the only southern institution that he has ever visited. This is the first teachers college that has ever had him on an entertainment program, so far as can be learned. He rarely considers an engagement except in the larger cities and towns on trunk line of railroads. Greenville is exceedingly fortunate, and the Entertainment Committee of East Carolina Teachers College is to be congratulated on its success in securing the engagement.

Paderewski will travel in his private car, accompanied by his wife and staff, which includes a secretary and private piano tuner, as well as a chef. He will bring two Steinway pianos.

The committee was not satisfied with a one star season, even though the star is as great an artist as Paderewski, but has arranged an all-star program for the season of 1929-30. The series of entertainments is remarkably well-balanced. It includes a band, with symphony orchestra feature, interpretative dances, grand opera, a speaker of international fame, and other interesting attractions.

The United States Army Band "Perishing's Own" the band that led the parade at the Hoover inauguration, and is used on all the big state occasions, has been engaged for both an afternoon and evening concert. The music is composed of Spanish, representing the United States at the Exposition at Seville.

The Duncan Dancers, the group that is carrying on the ideals of Isadora Duncan in the art of interpretative dancing, will appear in the fall, opening the season.

Count Luckner, the famous "Sea Devil," the "friendly enemy" who captivated the public in the series of lectures he delivered throughout the county last year, will speak here. The Countess is planning to come with him. The Count, although a German, is honorary of the American Legion. His mission seems to be to end war. He is the chief drawing card on the lecture platform in America today.

A taste of Grand Opera will be given, and one evening film better up to the program than a whole week of it. "The Barber of Seville," one of the most tuneful and humorous of all the lighter operas, will be given during the winter.

Tony Sarg's Marionettes, that won the hearts of the public so that people have been calling for them ever since their wonder dolls performed here nearly two years ago, will be here again.

One of the college glee clubs from some college in the state will be included, as heretofore.

With seven star attractions, two of them giving two performances, the people of Eastern North Carolina will have a rich season. Greenville should help the college impress upon the people of other sections the great opportunity here at hand.

Field of Cocklebur Makes Appearance In Grifton Section

A specimen of a cockle burr, a plant that reaches maturity in the fall of the year, was brought to the Reflecter office today by J. R. Buck, farmer of the Clay Reel section, near Grifton.

Mr. Buck said he had an entire field of the burr and that it had reached a complete state of development.

"I am seventy years of age," Mr. Buck said, "but this is the first time I have ever seen a cockle burr before the fall of the year. They usually appear about harvest time and reach a complete state of maturity before the first frost. In fact, the old folks used to say that the matured burr presaged the coming of frost."

INVESTIGATION CONTINUED IN CLINIC BLAST

Cigarettes Smoked Near Film Storage Despite Warning To The Contrary.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 18.—(AP)—Poison gas released by burning x-ray films in the Cleveland clinic disaster was sufficient to have killed four million persons, chemists investigating the cause of the 1922 fatalities, reported today.

That approximately 1,000,000 cubic feet of gas was generated by the 75,000 pieces of film in the basement storeroom at the clinic was the opinion concurred in by Harry E. Rockwood, Cleveland, health commissioner, Or. A. H. Kegel, Chicago health commissioner and W. R. Yant, supervising chemist of the United States Bureau of Mines at Pittsburgh.

"When you consider," Dr. Rockwood said, "that one part of ethyl nitrous oxide or carbon monoxide in 100 parts of air is fatal, you can realize the extreme danger in being exposed even to the smallest quantity of these gases."

Cleveland, May 18.—(AP)—Investigation into the Cleveland clinic fire which caused the deaths of 122 persons from gas generated by blazing x-ray film went forward today with information that cigarettes were smoked near the film storage room and that the clinic had been warned of the danger.

These facts had been uncovered in testimony before an inquest conducted by Coroner A. J. Pearce and County Prosecutor Ray T. Miller, newspapermen were told. The inquiry was held behind closed doors.

Mrs. Rose Reber, charwoman at the clinic, told later of her testimony. She testified that men frequently smoked cigarettes in the basement near the room where the film was stored, and that she never had seen the steel fire door closed.

A report of the Ohio Inspection Bureau warning the clinic to safeguard the building by removing the film was read into the record. Pearce admitted after the hearing was closed.

Pearce, with Miller, declared their inquiry was "not a blame fixing affair" but an attempt "to determine exactly what happened."

The inspection report was filed with clinic officials sometime ago, Pearce said, together with recommendations that the film be stored in a separate building. Pearce said he "believed" the report mentioned the desirability of sprinklers and ventilation, but said he was not certain.

Officials of the clinic today announced that the death list to date included 122 names. Fifty persons were in hospitals, they said. The number of dead was reduced after they reported they were unable to find three of the reported victims, all of Cleveland.

Ben Jones, 39, professional football player, was the last to die. He had undergone an operation for the removal of tonsils when the blasts came. Clinging to a window sill, he was rescued by firemen and then drove to his home at Grove City, Pa., apparently unhurt. But the brown gas had filled his blood with poison and, unknowing, he had been dying slowly from the time of the explosions.

LINDY AND SWEETHEART LAND AT PORTLAND
Portland, Me., May 18.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, pilot of an amphibian plane with Miss Anne Morrow, his fiancée, seated at his side, landed at Portland Airport at 3 o'clock this afternoon, short of gas on a flight from New York to North Haven, Maine.

GANG THREAT HOVERS OVER CHICAGO, ILL.

Sinister Forebodings Follow Imprisonment Of Capone At Philadelphia.

Chicago, May 18.—(AP)—N. W. with Al Capone "put away" for a year in a Pennsylvania prison it remains to be seen whether the riddle of Chicago gang crime has been solved. There were ominous suggestions today that it had only been intensified.

The roost that Capone ruled was not one that the most optimistic police officers believed would collapse merely because its support was taken away. Even without its chief, the Capone mob remained a potent and sinister threat.

The gangsters themselves were not using a brass band to advertise their reaction to the jailing of Scarface Al, but police read several signs, none of which indicated any termination of gang warfare.

There was police speculation over a rumor that a "machine gun election" was being planned to elevate a new leader to Capone's vacant throne. There were reports, too, that rival gangsters, emboldened by the temporary removal of Capone, were getting ready to seize the "Capone territory" with bullets and bombs if necessary, and thus make the entire city the "territory" of one run running-racketeering- extortion gang.

George (Bugs) Moran, with Capone gone, remains the big name among Chicago gangsters now. It was Moran's gang that was the victim of the septuple murder last Valentine's Day—a murder that outdid in horror anything ever before perpetrated in the long years of Chicago gang reprisals. Moran blamed the massacre upon Capone's men.

According to Capone's statement to Philadelphia officials, a peace pact between the Capone-Moran gang and other Chicago mob leaders was effected only a few hours before Capone's arrest in Philadelphia for gun-toting. There have been peace pacts, however, before. Police placed little faith in any gang truce, especially in view of what has happened to Capone. His arrest, they think, might quite readily be given as an excuse to break the pact, if indeed any excuse were needed.

Lenroot Confirmed By The Senate

Washington, May 18.—(AP)—Irvine Lenroot, former Wisconsin senator, is to be a judge of the court of customs and patent appeals. Persistent opposition to his nomination was finally overcome yesterday and the senate voted confirmation.

The vote was 42 to 27 and it came only after seven hours of continuous debate by the Senate in executive session, with Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, continuing to the end the effort he began during the final days of the Coolidge administration to block the appointment.

Arkansas River Levee Breaks.

Russellville, Ark., May 18.—(AP)—The Holy Bend levee on the Arkansas river, 12 miles southeast of here broke early today, overflowing approximately 1500 acres of land.

Tarriff Suggestions Hold Right of Way At Capitol

Washington, May 18.—(AP)—Tariff suggestions had right of way at the capitol today, with both branches of Congress in adjournment and only the House ways and means committee Republicans meeting for a final hearing on appeals from members of their party for changes in the schedules they have recommended.

Disagreements over farm relief were sidetracked temporarily, but will be revived Monday by the initial meeting of the Senate and House committees charged with arbitrating the differences between the two chambers on the export debenture section and other points of difference in the bills they passed.

Of the ten members of the conference group, only two senators are on record as favoring the debenture proposal as part of the farm bill, and administration leaders are confident that this bitterly fought part of the Senate measure will be eliminated. With other sections also in dispute, however, it is expected to make the negotiations somewhat lengthy.

Although the House ways and means committee announced that today's meeting would be the last to hear complaints against their decisions in the tariff bill, they expect to meet again Monday and Tuesday to decide what changes they will introduce as committee amendments. Their work thus far along this line has given promise

CITY OFFICIAL HELD IN BANK ROBBERY CASE

Nine Other Persons Also Arrested In Hold-up At Pine Bluff, Ark.

Pinebluff, Ark., May 18.—(AP)—A city official was at liberty under $25,000 bond and nine other persons were in jail here today charged with complicity in the hold-up of the Peoples' Bank and Trust Company on April 23. The bank was robbed of $20,000 by five unmasked men.

Ralph R. Reed, city attorney of Pine Bluff, charged with being an accessory and receiving stolen property, was the tenth person arrested in connection with the robbery. He was placed in jail yesterday, but late last night bondsmen obtained his release. He will be given a preliminary hearing next Friday.

City and county officers said the warrant for the city attorney's arrest was based on evidence that Reed conspired with the hold-up gang and received $10,000 of the stolen money.

Reed's arrest followed that of three negroes, on accessory charges and the recovery of $1,000 in traveler's checks in their possession. Officers said the checks were part of the funds stolen from the bank.

Others in custody are three men recently arrested in New Orleans with $7,000 in cash on their persons in money belts, alleged to have been among the five who actually staged the robbery, and two men and a woman arrested in Little Rock the day after the hold-up on accessory charges.

The robbers entered the bank at the noon hour, forced employes and customers into the vault and escaped with all the money in sight.

College To Get Big Lens.

Cleveland, Ohio, (AP)—Baldwin-Wallace College at Berea is to have a $100,000 astronomical observatory. Dr. O. L. Dunsheimer, astronomer, plans to obtain a 15-inch Brashear lens for use in a 15-inch refractor.

GRAF ZEPPELIN IN HANGAR AT CUERS, FRANCE

German Dirigible Landed Safely Yesterday After Perilous Battle With Winds.

Cuers, France, May 18.—(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin, saved by its master, Dr. Hugo Eckener, from catastrophe in a perilous 34-hour flight, reposed today in a French hangar that from which only five years ago the ill-fated Dixmude went forth on its disastrous Mediterranean trip.

After hours of manoeuvring yesterday in which it seemed the air liner would be blown to sea or into the foothills of the Alps, the dirigible arrived over the naval air field here and was pulled to earth and secured at 8:35 p. m. (2:35 p. m. E. S. T.).

Four of its motors were not working, their crankshafts being broken, and the lone fifth motor had proved utterly incapable of combating the violent mistral, or cold northwest wind, which finally forced abandonment of the attempt to return to Friedrichshafen.

The passengers and members of the crew seemed little the worse for the arduous experience which began late Thursday when two motors failed off the coast of Spain.

A single sentence of Dr. Eckener's was eloquent testimonial to the rigor of the ordeal: "Never have I had such a difficult trip," the commander said with a sigh of relief. After thanking the French navy for the help given him in saving his ship, he pleaded fatigue as excuse for saying nothing more and retired.

The presumption was that the dirigible would have its motors replaced and complete the trans-Atlantic journey, either from Cuers or after a return to Friedrichshafen. Some of the passengers, far from discouraged at their experience, announced they would not cancel their bookings and would fly with the Zeppelin if and when she started to America again.

Two Americans, George N. Crouse, Syracuse, N. Y., and Maurice F. Nathan, New York diamond merchant, hurried to Cuersburg to take the Aquitania for home. Some others went from nearby Toulon to Paris for the night. Most, however, including Mrs. Mary Pierce, the only woman passenger, simply sought hotel accommodations at Toulon, content to sleep.

Four new engines to replace those which failed were en route today from Friedrichshafen with other supplies which Dr. Eckener asked be sent him.

Aside from the engines the ship was in excellent condition. Landing of the Graf Zeppelin was accomplished just 38 hours and 38 minutes after its departure from Friedrichshafen, and thirteen hours or more after it entered France from over the Mediterranean near the mouth of the Rhone.

Davis To Succeed Secretary Stimson In The Philippines

Washington, May 18.—(AP)—Dwight F. Davis, of St. Louis, secretary of war in the Coolidge cabinet, is to be the next governor-general of the Philippines.

In that post, he will succeed Henry L. Stimson, now secretary of state, and will carry forward the traditional association between his new office and the war department, under which it is administered.

Stimson was secretary of war in the cabinet of William Howard Taft, who himself had served as civil governor of the islands before becoming secretary of war in the Roosevelt administration. Similar posts were held by General Leonard Wood before he was made secretary of war.

Asheville Scout To Make Trip To Smoky Mountains

Asheville, N. C., May 18.—(AP)—William Bibb Greet, 16 years old Eagle Scout of this city, was chosen by the Boy Scout organization of Western North Carolina today to accompany an exploring expedition into the great Smoky Mountains National Park area in June. A thousand boys participated in the competition. Charles Edward Fisher, 17 years old Eagle Scout of Baltimore, was chosen first alternate, and Joseph Alfred Miller, Jr., 16 years old life scout of Brevard, was named second alternate.

The exploring expedition is sponsored by the Asheville Times and the New York Times. There will be four members in the exploring party, including the Boy Scout. The expedition will be in the high mountains more than a month and will explore the wildest and most rugged parts of the Great Smokies.

GOLD BULLETS

by Charles G. Booth

SYNOPSIS: Nearly frantic in her efforts to prove that her fiancé, Jerry Ogden, did not murder his father, Lucy defies the law and takes the fight into her own hands. She learns that Jerry was seen speeding toward Skull Valley, probably to the deserted Ogden mine at Torridity. Determined to reach Jerry before he is arrested, she looks Henry Deacon, chief of police, into a closet, takes his automobile and starts on a mad dash to the desert to save her lover.

Chapter 18 THE CITY OF SILENCE

What was I going to do, you ask? Well, I might smash in my English door—and let Deacon out. He would stop Lucy by telephone or I might leave Deacon and take after Lucy. The first was what I ought to do, and the second was what I was going to do. Lucy's argument had impressed me. It seemed vitally necessary to Jerry's well-being that he give himself up before he was arrested. If Lucy had the courage to take the law into her own hands, so had I.

Yes, even though it cost me Henry's friendship! And, besides, she wasn't going down to that devil's cemetery alone.

Slipping quietly into the house, I listened for a moment to the terrific uproar Deacon was making. Fortunately, the room was remote from the avenue. I made my way out to the garage, feeling uncomfortable about leaving him behind. Filling a couple of water canteens at a faucet, I took them into my car with me.

Two mountain ranges lay between me and my destination. The first 40 miles of road would be paved or good dirt, the next 20 would fall by degrees from poor to dreadful. Lucy would make for Pitchfork Canyon, the only possible approach to Torridity from the west, and I hoped to reach her before she began the descent. That road down into the Skull is a mad man's nightmare and I didn't fancy her making it alone.

The San Felipe Valley was drenched in sunlight and the sweet scent of orange blossoms hung like incense. This morning I had little time for sentimentalizing, however, and when, some short while later, the rhythmic throb of the engine fell steeply into silence, I had even less. I got out and looked in the tank. It was empty! The nearest filling station was seven miles behind me!

Raging at my carelessness, I flung my coat into the car and set off down the scorching road. When I finally got my hand on the wheel again, Lucy was some three hours ahead of me. Likely enough she was at Torridity.

Skull Valley lies between the Skeleton Mountains and the Red Gold Range. From the west you descend into it by Shinbone Canyon and on the east you ascend from it by the Devil's Mouth. A road of sorts spans the valley from Shinbone to the Devil's Mouth and if you want a taste of the grim terror of the place you may cross it by car. But Torridity is ten miles south of the road which spans the valley and the intervening stretch of desert is impassable. Another road, a miserable affair, leads into the valley by way of Pitchfork Canyon, passes through Torridity, and joins the main road at Devil's Mouth on the east. This is the only road into the town from the west. I supposed Jerry and Lucy had taken it and I purposed following it myself.

It was just one o'clock when I reached the summit of the Skeleton. Time was precious—my fears for Lucy had increased with every mile I had come—but nothing on earth could have driven me down Pitchfork until my eyes had had their desire of that sardonic masterpiece below. Never before had the valley gripped my soul with so violent a sense of unholy horror and sleek and tawny beauty.

The valley blazed with light and color. But as I looked upon this bewitching opalescence it seemed to me that something alive and watchful lurked beneath it. Something sleek as seal skin, vital as a young tiger, slurring as a perfumed goddess. Vaporous arms reached out to me and tried to cloud my senses—and I knew that its beauty masked a deadly and insidious as a serpent.

My eyes leaped to the saffron flanks of the Red Gold Range, then fell again into the rainbow sea below. A last look and I started down the Pitchfork. The road had been blasted out of the side of the canyon 40 years ago. Millions in silver, gold and brax had been multi-teamed around its hairpin curves. But with the closing down of the Torridity mining properties the road had fallen into disuse.

Little repair work had been done on the road of recent years and the spring freshets had made a ruin of it. Below we fell a 1,800 foot drop and as I crawled around the sharp curves I looked at death a score of times. Nor did I for a moment forget that the next bend might show me Deacon's car upside down and Lucy's broken body.

In two hours I reached the bottom. The opalescent beauty of the desert had vanished. Grim and terrible, it seemed to say, "I've got you, fool!" The trail to Torridity lay before me, and I was cheered. Ah! there were car tracks. Several of them. Lucy was ahead of me. I would be with her in half an hour! The trail was filled but I got along fairly well. The empty desolation oppressed my spirit and again I was seized by that profound melancholy I had felt in the canyon. The air seemed charged with sinister potency.

Torridity—nowhere was a sign of human life.

bell poured a ferocious blinding heat that made me thankful for my water canteens. A light, hot wind blew and a faint moaning sound was in the air. Perhaps I was running into one of the shrilling windstorms for which the valley is notorious. They come in a twinkling, sometimes last for days, and cease as suddenly as they begin.

Just then Torridity lifted its sun-bleached bones into view and I blared on by horn. In the heyday of its glory it had been a typical western mining town of 1,500 population. The present hopeless desolation of the town shocked me. I have been in a few "ghost cities" of the west, but none of them had seemed quite so abandoned as this one did.

And here it was that the candle of my friend's life had burned with such hectic brilliance that its reflection shone up through the dust of 30 years. What tragedy had dimmed its light? In the crooked main street, I stopped the car and with head bared listened reverently. A window rattled. A door creaked. That was all.

Again I sounded the horn. "Lucy!" I shouted. "Lucy! Lucy!" And then: "Jerry, where are you? Lucy! Lucy! Jerry!" No response. I got out of the car. Nowhere was there sign of human life. Here and there on the rutted street were the faint smudges of car tires. I tried to follow them, but the ground was unyielding and the trail soon ended. They had been here. Getting in the car, I drove up and down the street, blaring my horn and calling the children by name.

HEALTH LEADER DENIES MILD WINTERS HARMFUL

Augusta, Me., (AP)—The popular belief that a winter marked by absence of snow and by intermittent mild spells results in much sickness and disease is a fallacy, declares Dr. Charles F. Kendall, Maine state commissioner of health. Carelessness on the part of people and not the open winter was the cause of the various epidemics and general sickness last season, he asserts.

TAKE 50 YEARS TO MOUNT ONE ANCIENT SKELETON

New Haven, Conn., (AP)—The skeleton of a mosasaurus, a type of dinosaur which had been on hand since 1880, recently was put together and mounted at Peabody museum, Yale University.

The wait of more than 40 years was hardly a watch-tick in the history of this giant beast. For it lived at a period estimated at 12,000,000 years ago. It came from Wyoming, the first of its species to be discovered.

plane and he was dragged to the ground with the flames from the burning ship whipping about him. As he neared the ground he swung under the ship which landed on top of him. The ship came down into the rear of a residence and set fire to a garage.

The crash occurred during the biggest single sham battle staged thus far in the mimic warfare between the Red and Blue armies. There were 104 airplanes participating in the maneuvers, forty-two pursuit planes from the Red air headquarters at Norton field here went out to engage in mock combat with 15 bombers, 32 attack planes and 15 pursuit planes from the Blue headquarters at Wright field, Dayton.

It was reported that one of the planes struck the tail of another. Then burst into flames. An eye witness said that one ship suddenly became a mass of fire when plunged to the earth. The pilot of the other ship tried vainly to fly it, but it went into a tail spin and spiraled down.

Big Track Meet Opens At U. N. C.

Chapel Hill, May 18.—(AP)—The University of North Carolina's third annual southern pre-school track meet opened here this morning with stars from eleven Dixie schools in the competing list.

Goldwin of the Augusta Military Academy and Goldsmith of Fishburne Military Academy both broke the high jump record for the event when they tied at 5 feet 10 inches. Meet records were tied also in the two sprints and the low hurdles. Pharr of the Monroe Aggies, equalled the record in the 100 yard dash when he stepped it in 10 1-5 seconds. Eyster of Woodbury Forest, tied the low hurdle mark at 26 2-5 seconds, and Stokes of Woodberry Forest did the 200-yard run in 22 2-5 seconds.

Finals were held in the discus and high jump, and preliminaries in the sprints and both hurdles. Finals in all other events were to be completed this afternoon.

Goldsmith, the Fishburne star, gave his team an early lead nine points when he scored one first and tied for another.

Augusta was second with seven points, Woodberry Forest had two and a half and McCalle School two. The Monroe Aggies, defending champions, had a point and a half.

FLIER KILLED WHEN PLANES CRASH TODAY

Another Flier Also Injured When Two Planes Collide In Air Over Columbus.

Columbus, Ohio, May 18.—(AP)—One man was killed and another slightly injured here today when two planes which they were piloting in the national army maneuvers crashed over a northern residential district and fell in flames.

The dead man was Lieutenant E. L. Meadows, of the 95th pursuit squadron from Rockwell field, San Diego, Calif. He died when his ship crashed.

The second man is Lieutenant Fred Salter, San Diego, Calif., attached to the 95th pursuit squadron. He jumped with a parachute and landed in a ravine, suffering only burns about the face.

Dr. C. M. Valentini, Linden physician who treated Salter's injuries, said that the aviator told him he believed his plane was struck from below.

Lieut. Salter was badly burned as his gasoline tank exploded and the plane burst into flames, but he was able to make the leap.

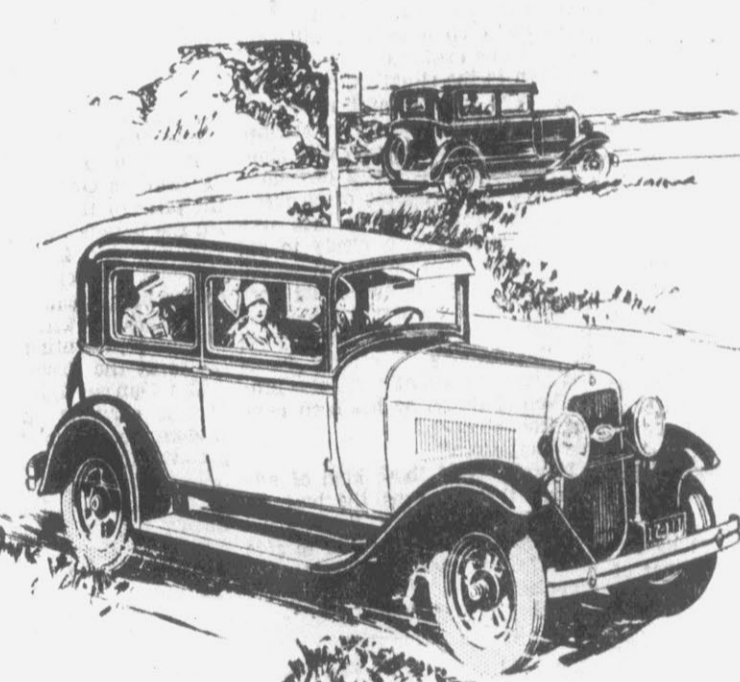

The crash occurred at an altitude of approximately 15,000 feet. Both pilots attempted to use the parachutes. Lieut. Salter was successful, but Sergeant Meadows' chute caught in the under carriage of his

Check Oldsmobile Performance by the Surest Test of all - DRIVE IT - KNOW WHAT IT CAN DO

There's one sure way for you to prove Oldsmobile performance... come and drive the car yourself! Learn by actual experience, not only what this Oldsmobile can do, but how it does it.

Get behind the wheel. Make yourself comfortable... regulate the adjustable driver's seat to suit your height. Note the convenient arrangement of controls and instruments—the facility with which you can operate the starter, lights, gear-shift, accelerator, clutch, and brakes.

Then drive! Try this finer Oldsmobile in traffic and out on the open road. Test every phase of its performance.

Even in thickest traffic, you'll find Oldsmobile easy to drive. Swift, stageless pick-up gives you the advantage at the signal light. Easy handling and flexible performance enable you to slip nimbly through crowded streets. Fingertip steering and a short turning radius simplify parking.

NEW LOWER PRICE
TWO DOOR SEDAN
$875

Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values. Oldsmobile delivered prices include only reasonable charges for delivery and financing.

Out on the road, Oldsmobile's big 62-horsepower high-compression engine delivers a smooth, rhythmic flow of eager power. There is greater speed than the average motorist ever needs—quick, sure acceleration to flash past other cars—tremendous reserve power for the hills—stamina to maintain a touring pace hour after hour.

And to match these brilliant abilities, Oldsmobile provides other fine car performance characteristics that add still further to driving enjoyment.

Oldsmobile is smooth and quiet at every speed. The vibrationless engine is mounted on special rubber blocks. Rubber cushioning, used wherever cushioning should go, silences the chassis. And sound-deadening insulation between the body and the chassis creates a silenced interior.

Wide, deep-cushioned seats and four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers assure supreme riding comfort, even on rough roads.

Splendid roadability results from a low center of gravity and properly balanced weight. Powerful four-wheel brakes bring you to a smooth, sure stop in a remarkably short distance. But come and make these tests yourself. Drive this car. Compare it, point for point, with other cars. Talk with owners and get the results of the trials of months and miles. Then, when you know what Oldsmobile can do, judge it by your own standards of performance and value.

WYOMING COUNTY WOMEN AMONG GRADUATES AT SOUTHERN CONSERVATORY

Durham, N. C., May 17.—The Southern Conservatory of Music brought its school year to a close last Friday night with a brilliant recital by the students and the presentation of medals, diplomas, testimonials and certificates. Mr. W. H. Overton, secretary of the school, awarded the medals, while the diplomas were presented by Dr. W. I. Cranford, of Duke University, president of the board of trustees.

Many floral tributes were presented by the girls by their friends and admirers, and the conservatory auditorium and halls were packed to full capacity. Director Gilmore Ward Bryant states that preparations are now being made for the six-weeks summer school for teachers and students, to open June 10.

Among the graduates were Misses Elizabeth Coward and Sara Brown Braxton, of Ayden, and Florence Overton, of Greenville.

Teachers testimonials in piano were given to Misses Ruby Barnhill, of Bethel, and Susan Barrett, of Farmville.

PRESBYTERIAN CLASS GIVEN BANQUET

The college class of the Presbyterian church was given a banquet Thursday evening in the basement of the church by Mrs. W. S. Harden, teacher of the class.

The tables were beautifully decorated in the college colors, purple and gold—the centerpiece being purple larkspur and yellow daisies. Seats were provided for sixty-five guests. A two-course luncheon was served.

Miss Rebecca Alexander acted as toastmistress and several of the young ladies responded to toasts in a most attractive manner. Rev. W. S. Harden made a short talk to the graduates of the class, who are leaving in a few weeks to take up their work in different sections of the state.

The class is divided into four groups and an attendance contest has been waged for the past six weeks which resulted in the "Ruth" group winning the contest. Miss Dorine Hoyer is captain of this group.

The banquet was given in honor of the winning group and the graduates of the class.

The officers of the class are: President, Miss Lonnie Carr; vice-president, Miss Madeline McCain; secretary, Miss Irene Scott; teacher, Mrs. W. S. Harden.

COMMITTEE TO TAKE OVER REINS OF DES MOINES SCHOOL

Muskegon, N. Y., May 18.—(AP)—A committee of the board of trustees of Des Moines University is preparing to return to Des Moines with the announced intention of taking over the reins of government of the institution after pending legal issues have been straightened out. The committee is headed by Dr. T. Shields, against whom the student body revolted. Trustees O. W. Van Osdel, E. A. Roberts and H. J. Hamilton, with Miss Edith M. Rehmman as secretary. They expect to be in Des Moines at an early date.

The Baptist Bible Union Convention, of which Dr. Shields is president, closed with a quiet session last night. Dr. Shields made no reference to university affairs during his closing address, but after the meeting issued a statement stating that a student resolution declaring that would not return to the college next fall was due to a misunderstanding on their part. The statement follows in part: "I am confident that when the students know the facts there will be a general reaction in favor of the position taken by the trustee board. We should, of course, be sorry should the students decide not to return to the university, but discipline must be maintained and the trustees must be supreme, no matter what the cost may be."

CITY SCHOOLS AGAIN SCORE IN OPERETTA

Production By Primary Grades Last Night Attended By Capacity Audience.

The Greenville City schools scored again last night in the presentation of the childrens operetta entitled "In a May Day Garden." The operetta was presented by the children of the primary grades of the city schools under the direction of Miss Lotta Veazy, head of the Public School Music Department.

There were two acts to the operetta both representing garden scenes. Act one represented the day before May Day and showed the children playing in the garden and making their May baskets. The garden was appropriately represented by the children's costumes as daisies, sunflowers, lilacs, tulips, pansies and daffodils. The ensemble presented a gorgeous color scheme. The second act took place in the garden and showed the May Day Frolic. The May Queen played by Jean Gaskins entered the garden and ascended the throne which the little brownies with the aid of the fireflies were able to complete after the Fairy of Dreams had put the flowers to sleep. When morning came the sunbeams woke the flowers and they all sang for her. The Queen was attended by her maids of honor, Virginia Clay and Della Lee Keeter; flower girls, Evelyn Glenn, Ann Skinner and Ann Hardee; train bearers, Joy Flanagan and Anri Gaskins; crown bearer, Curtis Perkins, Jr.; scepter bearer, Jimmy Warren. The toy band played before the Queen, the funny little clowns danced the Irish Children danced and the other children played games in her presence. The Spirit of Spring, Doris Duval greeted the Queen and danced for her and finally the May Day was completed with the customary May Pole Dance.

The music of the play was rendered by a chorus of 100 picked voices from the primary grades, directed by Miss Veazy with Eva Hodges at the piano. The production was greeted with prolonged applause by the huge audience which crowded into every available foot of space on the main floor and balconies. In fact large numbers of people were turned away from the door because standing room was not even to be had.

On every hand was to be heard praise for the work of teachers and children for putting over the production. For fifteen minutes preceding the performance the Greenville High School Orchestra under the direction of Mr. E. T. Robeson presented several numbers which the huge audience liberally applauded.

The producing staff is as follows: Director of chorus, Miss Lotta Veazy. Accompanist, Miss Eva Hodges. Music committee, Miss Helen Gray Jones, Miss Irene Ormand, Miss Geo. Hadley.

Dances and Games, Miss Freda Moore, Miss Evelyn Smith, Miss Agnes Fullilove, Mrs. E. T. Robeson, Mrs. Geo. Gardner, Miss Louise Galphin.

Costume committee, Miss Janie Lively, Miss Helen Gray Jones, Miss Grace Hunter, Miss Evelyn Smith, Miss Carolyn Fullilove, Miss Louise Galphin, Miss Agnes Fullilove, Mrs. E. T. Robeson, Mrs. E. T. Robeson.

Stage committee, Miss Eva Keeter, Miss Carolyn Fullilove, Miss Agnes Fullilove, Miss Grace Hunter, Miss Louise Galphin, Miss Helen Gray Jones, Miss Janie Lively, Jim Slay. Director of orchestra, Mr. E. T. Robeson.

Baskets on stage loaned by Moore and Randolph. Orthophonic Victrola loaned by Gross Music and Art Store.

STILL PROBE DISORDERS IN MILL STRIKE

Elizabethton, Tenn., May 18.—(AP)—Two magistrates here today bound over to higher court eight persons arrested after clashes here Thursday between union and non-union employes, forfeited the bond of another and announced that others rounded up by the national guard would be dismissed because they were unidentified.

The eight face charges of conspiracy to commit murder and rioting. They were released on bonds of $1,000 each. The majority of those arrested immediately after Thursday's fight were taken on "John Doe" and "Mary Doe" warrants. Other warrants charged "a red head boy" or "a blue-eyed girl" and similar terms.

The decision of the magistrates to drop charges against the unidentified persons met with the approval of the state's attorney, and no bonds were forfeited in their cases. This number included more than fifty. It also included those held for violation of an injunction and those taken in the Gap Creek trouble Monday.

The eight sent to higher court were: "Texas Bill," Lucille Ratcliff and Trixy Perry, girls; D. Sams, George Kate, Eugene K. Lewis, Paul Heaton and Homer Angel. The Gap Creek group were arrested again in the latter disturbance.

There will be a test suit here Monday before Chancellor S. E. Miller, when he will hear contempt charges against ten persons arrested at various times on charges of picketing. Those persons are separate from those who were released today from other injunction charges.

Washington, May 18.—(AP)—Dr. A. M. Mothwurf, president of the American Glanzstoff and American Bemberg plants at Elizabethton, Tenn., is among a group of witnesses scheduled to appear next week before the Senate manufactures committee in connection with its study of textile conditions.

Committee clerks said today it was possible that Mr. Mothwurf might testify Monday, but that this was uncertain as the order in which witnesses would be heard had not been decided upon as yet.

Mr. Mothwurf is one of a group of witnesses to be heard by the committee which has decided to receive testimony from all parties interested in the textile situation. Most of these witnesses are appearing at their own request, although some committee members requested that a few be asked to appear because of their knowledge of certain phases of the industry.

HURT TO STOOP TO LACE SHOES

Lexington, Ky.—Mrs. J. H. Nichols, who lives at 513 Elm Tree Lane, this city, says: "Some few years ago, my health was bad. I had very severe pains in my sides. My nerves were in a terrible condition. I could not rest. The lower part of my body was very sore. I could hardly stoop over to lace my shoes. I would have to put my foot on a chair. I did not feel like eating, and did not sleep well at all at nights. A friend of mine recommended Cardui. I began taking it and saw quite an improvement in my condition. I kept it up until I felt strong and well." About a year ago, Mrs. Nichols says, she found herself in a nervous, run-down condition. "I took Cardui again," she adds, "and it helped me wonderfully. It is a splendid tonic." Cardui is made from purely vegetable ingredients, and may be safely taken by women of all ages. Try Cardui in your case. Sold by all druggists.

To Our Friends:

I feel this an opportune time to call the attention to our Greenville friends that we are still striving to uphold a standard and a reputation of giving you excellent service like none in Eastern Carolina for low prices. We began with this idea of giving the public a full benefit of our efforts, by putting the excellent meals in reach of everyone. And we are asking the co-operation of all the families of Greenville to help us to sustain and keep your dining room as you would like to have it. Mrs. Parkerson and I have been made very happy in the past year, having served you and made so many friends, and our reason for saying this at this time is, as you know, the dull season in our city. And it is through volume that we are allowed to exist. We would be glad during these long hot summer days when cooking becomes a burden and not a pleasure at home, to figure with you and save you money and labor. This if considered and done by our friends, will be very much appreciated.

GREENVILLE LOSES GAME TO SAILORS

A single over second base by Tom Young gave Wilmington a 1 to 0 victory over Greenville in the opening game of the series at the Fair Grounds here yesterday afternoon. It was one of the most spectacular clashes witnessed here this season and was well attended despite overcast skies that gave forth threat of rain that never came.

Greenville made a desperate attempt to put runners across the rubber in their half of the eighth frame, but the powerful bats of Les Bang's followers failed to respond to the emergency and the Sailors were permitted to leave the diamond in possession of the game won by the smallest score of any other contest played here this season.

The game developed into a pitchers battle between Rose and Mason at the outset, and while the Wilmington hurler came out with the laurels it was not because he pitched better ball than his opponent. Honors were about evenly balanced in this respect with Mason getting a shade more credit because of the victory.

Bats that are usually active on the local diamond were strangely silent as the two slab artists went in after hitting without having a run chalked up against them. It really looked like they were destined to go the entire nine innings without having a runner cross the plate, but in the eighth Rose became the slightest bit unsteady and issued Brady a free pass to first. Clemmons fumbled one of Rose's tosses to the next batsman and Brady landed safely on the keystone sack. Tom Young heavyhitting Sailor, center fielder came to the bat at this stage and pulled his first and only hit of the game by a slashing grounder over second base. It was not much of a hit. But it was sufficient to send Brady to the checking station with the one and only run of the contest.

Greenville staged a dangerous rally in the same inning. With a runner on second and third, even the veteran Les Bangs pinch-hitting for Green, proved unable to provide the hit that would have sent two runners home with enough runs to win the game. It was a tense situation and the grandstand and bleachers yelled themselves hoarse only to see their hopes fade away without realization of a single run.

Wilmington staged a bad looking rally in the ninth, but Rose proved master of the situation and managed to retire the side, without further scoring.

Edmonds, third sacker of the Greenville club, had a perfect day with the stick. He secured three hits out of as many times to the plate. Clemmons had the next highest rating, getting two slashing dives out of three times up. Greenville compiled a total of eight hits against Wilmington's six.

The Tobaccoists will conclude the series with the Sailors here this afternoon. They will begin next week in Goldsboro where they will take on the league leading club for a two game series.

DERBY DRAWS THOUSANDS TO LOUISVILLE, KY

(Associated Press Sports Editor) Churchill Downs, Louisville, May 18—(AP)—A sloppy track, felloek open in mud after a hard rain, faced the field this afternoon for the fifty-fifth running of the Kentucky Derby.

It stopped raining at noon and brightened up the picturesque Downs a bit but the skies remained overcast and everybody came prepared for a damp afternoon.

Three early scratches reduced the field to 23 by noon. St. Ignatius, Hirman Kelly and Doris, all in the class of rank outsiders, were with drawn.

Louisville, May 18—By train and motor, by airplane and blimp, a horse and a foot, the main body of the greatest of all derby crowds poured into the blue grass capital today for the fifty-fifth running of the $60,000 Kentucky Classic for three year olds.

Semi-official estimates placed the number of visitors at 100,000. All have come with one object in mind, to place a bet on and catch a glimpse of the big race at Churchill Downs late this afternoon but it will be miraculous if more than 75,000 actually witness or even get within proximity of the running.

In many respects this is the greatest of American sports spectacles. It yields to none in color and tradition and combines the best features of many others. Roll together the excitement of a big heavyweight fight or a baseball world's series such as Washington or St. Louis has known, season with the mellow flavor of such an ancient event as the Harvard-Yale boat race and the spirit of milling gull gallery—and you have a composite of Louisville's jam on Derby Day.

The fervor of these followers of the turf is little short of frenzied. A chance visitor, suddenly caught in the midst of a bitter debate over the relative merits of rival horse flesh, finds himself caught in the argument in no time. It is not necessary to do like the Irish and inquire whether "this is a private fight."

Every body and his opinion and his money is welcome. The main facts of the 1929 edition of the derby can be set forth much more quickly than any argument can be closed.

Overnight twenty-six of the country's foremost three year olds have been named. This surpasses the field of twenty-two that started last year but turf experts expected no more than 18 or 20 actually to the post. Weather prospects were for thundershowers, increasing the likelihood of several scratches. Post time was set for approximately 5 p. m. central standard time. The race is at a mile and a quarter.

Depending on the number of actual starters, the stakes were expected will approximate $60,000, of which $50,000 goes to the winner, $6,000 to second horse, $3,000 to third and $1,000 to fourth. The outstanding favorite Colonel E. R. Bradley's Blue Larkspur, occupied a conflicting position. The son of Black Servant drew the extreme outside place, number 26, for the start. By coincidence, Blue Larkspur's main rival, Clyde Van Dusen, drew position No. 25, and the chances of both were considered to be in danger. Voltair, the Grayson-Fisher horse drew the pole position Number three went to Chicote, Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt's eastern horse and number five to Maishapur, representative of the San Francisco Sportsman Chaffee Earl, Minotaur, which ran second in the Preakness, was number eight and Karl Ebel, bearing the hopes of "Bathhouse John" Cauldhill of Chicago, was number 12. In between these two were the Waggoner entry from Texas, Calif Roper and Ervasi, another far western horse, owned by Baron Long, Windy City had number 24. In the consensus of experts, published today by the Louisville Cour-

BIGGS LEADS WITH STICK IN NATIONAL

BIGGS LEAD New York, May 18—(AP)—With five weeks of campaigning behind them, National League batting stars are finding 400 averages more and more difficult to maintain. Biggs Stephenson, the Chicago mauler, leads the list with a margin of one bare point over Frank Merriwell Frisch of St. Louis, 418 to 417. Bob O'Farrell of New York, with 414 and Barney Friberg of Philadelphia with 413 are the only other regulars or semi-regulars in the ultra-crowded circle.

Stephenson not only leads the league in batting, but also has the greatest number of hits, 41, and is tied with Hack Wilson and Rogers Hornsby, team-mates, and Taylor Douthit of St. Louis, for the top place in scoring. Each has 24 runs to his credit.

In addition to crowding Stephenson for the batting leadership Frisco shows the way in doubles with 11 and in triples with five. Melvin Ott of New York, is the home run leader with seven, followed by Wilson of Chicago, with six.

Stephenson again crowds to the top in runs batted, where he enjoys a deadlock with Chief Hafey of St. Louis. Each has accounted for 24 markers. Evar Swanson, the Cincinnati recruit, heads the base stealers with eight.

Following the 400 contingent in individual batting are these regulars: Smith, St. Louis, 394; Douthit St. Louis, 388; Gooch, Cincinnati, 381; L. Waner, Pittsburgh, 380; High, St. Louis, 370; and Hendrick, Brooklyn, 368.

Burleigh Grimes of Pittsburgh, stands alone among the pitchers with five victories and not a defeat. Jess Haines, the St. Louis veteran, crowds Burleigh with four games won and none lost. Carl Hubbell of New York, and Guy Bush of Chicago have won two games apiece.

The Phillies rest at the top in team batting with a mark of 298, three points higher than the Cubs. The Braves lead in fielding with 975, a three point advantage over the Cubs.

Sleeveless sport dresses are developed in cotton materials such as silk frocks were in the earlier showings. Wash silks are somewhat replaced by the cotton and linen dresses for beach wear. Many houses show printed linen or cotton sport coats.

N. Y. YANKS CONTINUE TO LOSE GROUND

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer. One short week ago fans of the Yankees were wondering whether the Yankees' slump was on again. Now they know.

Seven days since, the champions, ranging high on a wave of hitting, were reducing the fortifications of the west as the Mackmen faltered along the line of march. The Browns not only had lost their single skirmish against the Athletics, but had fallen back three times before having Yankee cannonading. The champions then moved, against Detroit to put down a Tiger rebellion, at which moment things began to happen.

The Yankees launched themselves upon their most ambitious May losing streak since the year of Babe Ruth's classic stomach, the Athletics reformed their forces for a strong finish in the west; the Browns rallied, and the Tigers continued their winning spurt, just as though the Yankees had been the Red Sox.

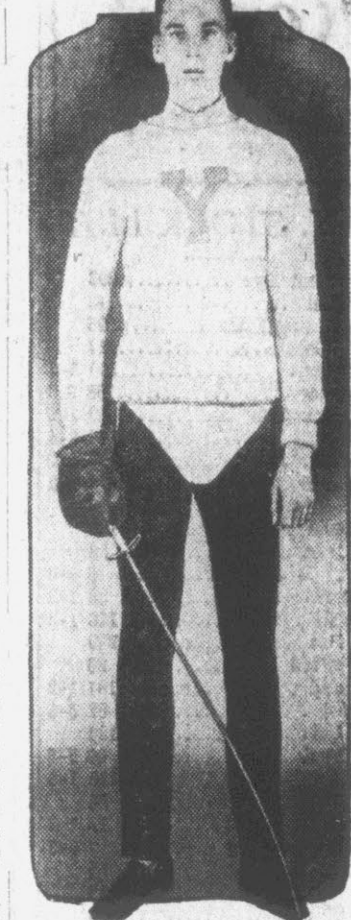

The home fans saw the New York losing streak increased to five at the Yankee Stadium yesterday as Ed Morris and the Red Sox dropped the champions by 5 to 3 in a twelve round battle.

Bob Grove pitched the Athletics to a 4 to 1 victory at Washington and the Browns nosed out the Indians by a 7 to 6 at St. Louis. This combination of events enabled the Athletics to gain a full game over the champions and lifted the Browns into second place.

Old Red Faber was too much for the Tigers, and the White Sox won the second game of the series, 6 to 2. The hammer-and-tongs brawl in the National League saw the Cubs regain the ascendancy yesterday. They celebrated their first good road trip in years by going home to trounce the Reds, 9 to 3. Sheriff Fred Blake had the upper hand at all times.

Tight Baseball On Eastern Circuit

(By the Associated Press) Eastern Carolina League clubs put on exhibitions of tight baseball yesterday. In each of the three games the victors won by one run margins, and in two of them the winning run was scored in the ninth inning.

Goldsboro shored across the final counter that defeated Kinston 5 to 5 in the last inning of their game while the Fayetteville Highlanders staged a two run rally in the ninth to defeat Rocky Mount 2 to 1. A walk and error and a single in the eighth scored one run and beat Rose in a pitching duel with Mason as Wilmington downed Greenville 1 to 0.

The Piedmont witnessed easy victories for the Winston-Salem Twins, High Point and the Durham Bulls. Each winning club ran its total to two figures. The Twins slugged their way to a 15 to 1 victory over High Point. Greensboro downed Henderson 10 to 2, while Durham took the contest with Salisbury 11 to 4.

In both leagues the same clubs were scheduled as opponents today with double-headers on tap in the Piedmont.

COTTON MARKET N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, May 18.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady at an advance of 6 to 12 points with the active months soon showing net gains of 20 to 22 points on active covering in new crop positions, together with some trade buying of old crop months which was evidently influenced by reports of showers or rain shower weather over Sunday.

The demand tapered off somewhat on the advance to 18.85 for July and 18.95 for December and there was enough realizing to cause setbacks of a few points, but more buying orders came in and the market was firm at the end of the first half hour.

Owing to the holiday there were no cables from Liverpool this morning, and the market there will remain closed until Tuesday.

STOCK MARKET

New York, May 17.—(AP)—Stock prices drifted downward today in reflection of growing uneasiness over the credit situation. A handful of high priced specialties were whirled upward, a couple of new high records, but the general list was under rather heavy pressure, with selling for both long and short accounts.

With the San Francisco Federal Reserve bank raising its discount rate to 5 per cent this week, placing all 12 central banks at the same level, and directors of the New York and Chicago banks reported in favor of a high rate, speculation for the advance found little encouragement for resumption of buying operations. Time money rates were reported to have stiffened, with 9-12 per cent now asked for some maturities.

Another sharp break in the advance Rumely issues the common breaking 9 points and the preferred 7 also tended to unsettle the market. Efforts were made to start a revival of buying operations in the oil shares, based on the prospects of an early increase in mid-continent crude oil prices, but they made little headway.

Burroughs Adding Machine continued to respond to reports of a stock split-up by soaring 1-4 points to a new high record at 327 1/4. Sparks Withington, after an early interval of heaviness, ran up 6 points to a new high at 260. Curtiss Aeroplane and Allied Chemical extended their early gains to 7 points and then ran into a wave of selling which cut the gains in half. One block of 10,000 shares of Pos-um changed hands at 78 up 1-2.

Auburn Auto and Case Thrashing Machine each sagged 6 points below yesterday's final quotations and Greene Cananea Copper, Otis Elevator American Tobacco B, Spiegel May Stern, Anaconda Copper and Borg Warner sank 3 to 5 points. Several of the recent leaders such as American Smelting, American Can, United Altrair, Simmons and General Railway Signal dipped 2 points or more.

The closing was heavy. Total sales approximated 1,500,000 shares.

Mrs. Sinclair in Hospital
Battle Creek, Mich., May 18.—(AP)—Suffering from what her physician described as a nervous breakdown, Mrs. Harry F. Sinclair, wife of the oil man now serving a contempt sentence at Washington, is a patient at a local sanitarium. Accompanied only by a secretary, Mrs. Sinclair arrived here last night and registered as Mrs. Elizabeth Sinclair. She was placed under the care of Dr. Clara Radabaugh. At Mrs. Sinclair's request, Dr. Radabaugh refused to discuss her condition beyond saying it was due to worry over her husband's confinement in jail at Washington.

Tacna And Arica To Be Divided

Washington, May 18.—(AP)—Tacna and Arica, which have been called the Alsace Lorraine of South America, are to be divided.

After 46 years of international controversy, Chile has agreed to return Tacna to Peru while retaining Arica.

The agreement was reached through direct negotiations made possible by the resumption of diplomatic relations between the two governments last year at the suggestion of former Secretary Kellogg.

As announced by President Hoover, not as arbiter in the dispute, but at the request of the two governments, the agreement does not mention the demand for a route to the sea which has been pressed by Bolivia, landlocked since the Chilean victory in the war of the Pacific which lost Tacna to Peru.

Bolivia and Peru were allies in that contest, and the announcement of the agreement between Chile and Peru brought a statement from the Bolivian legation that the questions involved were still "far from settled."

Chile, under the agreement, will pay $5,000,000 to Peru and, while retaining the port of Arica, will receive, without cost, all public works already constructed in Tacna, and Chile will retain the Arica-Tacna Railroad.

permitted the lifting of gasoline from the refueling plane.

The "Question Mark" was refueled from a plane which flew above it and from which gasoline was fed into the tanks of the "Question Mark" by gravity.

NEW YORK PRO WINS GOLF TOURNAMENT
Moortown, England, May 18.—(AP)—Joe Turnesa, New York pro, won the Yorkshire Evening News thousand guineas golf tournament today, defeating Herbert Jolly, British pro, in an extra hole match after the American had won three holes in a row to make it all square after 36 holes. It was the first time an American had won the event since its inaugural seven years ago. Turnesa won at the 37th hole when a few minutes before he seemed hopelessly beaten. Jolly contributed to his own downfall with poor putting at the 34th and 35th. With one chance left, needing only a half to win, he was trapped on the 36th.

Turnesa won at the extra hole when he holed out from 20 yards for an eagle three.

TWO FLIERS TO ATTEMPT TRIP OVER ATLANTIC

New York, May 18.—(AP)—A race between a French and an American crew for the honor of being the first this year to cross the Atlantic by air appeared today to be in prospect for next week.

Roger Q. Williams planned to take off Sunday from Tetterboro Airport, Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., for Old Orchard, Me., on the first leg of a flight to Rome, while Arno Lotti, said his French plane was virtually ready for its projected flight to Paris.

Williams will make his attempt in the monoplane "Green Flash," used by Martin Jensen to establish a solo endurance record early this year. He will be accompanied by Lewis Yancey, author of several text books on air navigation.

The airmen said they hoped to start across the ocean next Tuesday and reach Rome in 50 hours. The plane has a single motor and will carry 500 gallons of gasoline.

The French plane, also single-motored, will carry 1,005 gallons of gasoline for its flight to Paris. With its crew of three and equipment it will weigh six and one-quarter tons. Jean Assollant will be pilot. Rene LeFevre, navigator, and the third member will be Lotti, backer of the flight.

The plane has been undergoing grooming at Roosevelt Field for several days. If weather conditions are favorable he hoped to start the trans-Atlantic flight early next week.

WOMAN TO FLY IN ENDURANCE TEST AT N. Y.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., May 18.—(AP)—A woman will command one of two planes which were being fitted out today to challenge the world's refueling flight record held by the army plane Question Mark.

Announcement of the plans of Miss Viola Gentry, former holder of the woman's endurance record, to attempt to better the record of 150 hours, 40 minutes and 15 seconds established by the crew of the Question Mark at Los Angeles last January was made simultaneously with a similar announcement on the part of a crew headed by Lieutenant H. B. Clark, former manager of Roosevelt Field.

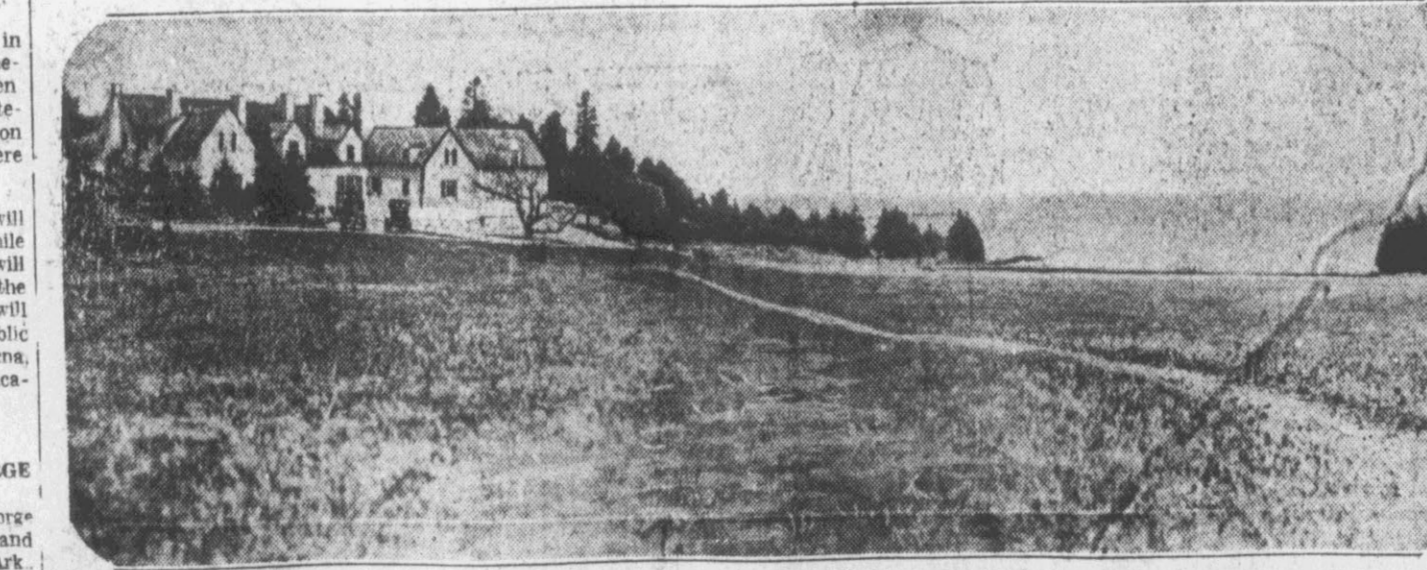

Lieutenant Clarke said he planned to take off in a monoplane Monday, day in an effort to stay aloft 200 hours. He said Martin Jensen, holder of the world's solo flight record, and a young German pilot, William Ulrich, would accompany him. The plane is called the "Three Musketeers."

Their plane will be refueled by means of a device which will enable them to pick up cans of gasoline from the ground.

Miss Gentry said she would take off Tuesday morning. Her plane has been christened "The Answer." Walter J. Carr, designer of the plane will accompany her.

Refueling of "The Answer" will be from another plane flying under it. A special pumping device has been installed in the "The Answer" to

WHERE LINDBERGH WILL LAND WHEN HE VISITS ANNE IN MAINE

Only a short distance from the summer home of the Dwight Morrors at North Haven, Me., a landing field is being prepared to enable Colonel Lindbergh to alight when he calls on his fiancee, Anne Morrow, to whom he is expected to be married in June. In the background is the Morrow home, which may be the scene of the wedding.
