CONGRESS TO OUTLINE PLAN FOR VACATION

Members Plan To Stop Work Last Of June Until Early Part Of July.

Washington, May 21.—(AP)—Assurance of a vote this week in the pending census re-apportionment bill in the Senate has prompted Congressional leaders to lay plans for a vacation beginning at the end of the month and carrying through at least until early in July.

Senator Johnson, Republican, of California, obtained the agreement in the Senate yesterday restricting debate on the census re-apportionment measure after Thursday. Only the conclusion of the lengthy attack of Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, on the "power trust" and his denunciation of the purchase of newspapers by power interests remained to be heard today before the resumption of work on the bill.

The House still had the tariff bill before it and the conferees of the Senate and House were engaged with their study of the conflicting farm relief measures. The House will act on the tariff measure before the contemplated vacation is undertaken and final enactment of the farm bill also must be accomplished before that respite is considered.

With the census re-apportionment measure out of the way, administration leaders in the Senate were prepared to give consideration to President Hoover's recommendation for repeal of the national origins immigration quota basis. A close lineup with the result in doubt is in prospect on the immigration contest. Senator Reed, Republican of Pennsylvania, is leading the fight for retention of the national origins and Senator New, Republican of North Dakota, is waging the contest for repeal.

The decision of the Supreme Court yesterday in the O'Fallon Railroad valuation case has prompted some suggestions for legislation but apparently no attempt along this line will be undertaken at the extra session.

Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, is one of those who believe the decision will necessitate Congressional action. However, Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, the chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee, says he wants time to study the matter and in view of the fact that the House will not consider the legislation he is not likely to object to the issue into this session.

Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, is figuring on a recess from about Decoration Day to the Fourth of July while the Senate finance committee works on the tariff bill but there is an incident movement until next October. A vote will be asked sometime this week by Chairman Loflette of the Senate manufactures committee on the resolution of Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, proposing a Senate investigation of the strikes in the textile mills.

Hitch-Hiker Has Big Adventure In Congaree Swamps

Columbia, S. C., May 21.—(AP)—Konrad Hofner, 30, native of Basle, Switzerland, today was recovering from an adventure in the Congaree swamps that listens almost like fiction.

Unable to speak English, the Swiss, hitch-hiking from New York to Florida, spent three days in the swamps; was chased with sticks and guns by negroes who thought him a "wild man"; shot in the leg by whites who thought they were defending their women, and finally was picked up by county police when hunger and pain drove him to a public road.

Hofner was found lying on a highway late yesterday by police who were seeking the "wild man" reported by the negroes. After a Swede and a German had failed to understand him an American of French parentage talked to him in German dialect Swiss. The story unfolded was that Hofner had been working on a New York farm and decided to go to Lakeland, Fla., to work. He had no money and was hitch-hiking.

He told how he approached a negro cabin seeking food and was chased into the swamps, the negroes thinking him a "wild man." Later he approached a white man's home and men in the house shot him thinking he was insulting the women there. He hid in the swamp until the pain of a dozen small shot in his leg and the pangs of hunger drove him out. Doctors said he was suffering mostly from exposure and starvation.

Morrow Made Subject of $50,000 Extortion Plot; Daughter's Life In Peril

Boston, May 21.—(AP)—The Boston Post in a copyrighted story today says Dwight W. Morrow, ambassador to Mexico and father of Anne Morrow, fiancée of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, has been made the subject of a $50,000 extortion plot. The money, the Post asserts, was demanded under penalty of torture and death of his youngest daughter, 15-year-old Constance Morrow, a student at Milton Academy.

The newspaper says it has learned that the receipt by the girl of two threatening letters was directly responsible for last Saturday's secret flight by Lindbergh and members of the Morrow family from the Morrow home at Englewood, N. J., to their summer place at North Haven, Me.

It was also responsible for the detective guard which has since stood vigil over the island retreat of the Morrows in Maine and for the impersonation of Constance by another girl at the Milton Academy while Constance was being spirited away to join the airplane flight.

The Post declares it has learned that when Miss Morrow received the first letter she showed it to the school authorities. Her family was notified and a guard assigned to her. When the second demand was made it gave detailed instructions how and where the money was to be placed and named last Saturday afternoon as the time. At this juncture Mr. Morrow's former partners in the firm of J. P. Morgan and Company were appealed and the services of federal operatives were enlisted, but although Miss Morrow's impersonator adhered strictly to the instructions no one appeared to claim the package.

SUBMARINE IS RAISED FROM OCEAN BOTTOM

Colon, Canal Zones, May 21.—(AP)—A United States submarine and its crew was raised from the bottom of the sea for the first time in navy history on May 17, in Panama Bay.

The S-11 which went down to a depth of 87 feet, was found by the submarines S-12 and S-20 and was raised by the rescue ship Mallard a few hours later.

Naval officers here were so impressed with the demonstration that they said no disaster such as followed the sinking of the S-51 or the S-4 was now possible. The test started with the submarines and the rescue ship in the port of Balboa, the S-11 leaving early on the morning of May 17. At 8:00 a. m. she flashes a signal that she was ready.

The other submarines went to look for her, picking up her oscillator signals sent for an hour and a half after which the S-11 simulated complete helplessness.

The S-12 was the first to catch the signals, just one hour after the first call from the S-11. Then the rescue ship Mallard started for the spot 3,000 yards from Tobogullia Light. She sighted air bubbles at 10:30 a. m. Twenty-five minutes later a granule had hooked on to the sunken submarine.

At 11:27 a bottle with the following message was picked up: "S-11 heading 156 true in 87 feet of water. Mud bottom. Control room abandoned. Listed two degrees southward."

At 11:46 four buoys planted by the Mallard were directly over the submarine and that phase of the experiment was completed by 2:12 in the afternoon.

At 2:27 Diver Obelskevich went down and by 3:55 p. m. a salvage air hose had been hooked up ready to blow out any compartment.

The men in the submarine suffered no inconvenience.

Many Claims For Body Of Broker

Omaha, Neb., May 21.—(AP)—Conflicting claims for the body of a man, identified by authorities as George R. Christian, missing New York and Trenton, N. J. broker, have been made to Acting Chief of Detectives Warren Duffield of Omaha.

The man died Saturday night and was identified from newspaper clippings and photographs found in his luggage. The claims have been advanced through telegrams and telephone calls by Louis Christian, a brother residing at Maplewood, N. J., by a Brooklyn man claiming to be a cousin of the former broker and by a third man, whose connection with Christian remained unexplained.

A long distance call came to Acting Chief Duffield last night from a man giving the name of R. F. Stmad, 786 Washington avenue, Brooklyn. Stmad said he was a cousin of Christian and was speaking for the latter's wife, whose name he gave as Labenia Brenner. He asked that the body be sent to the Brooklyn address, but Duffield replied that this is impossible until identification has been made positive.

BAN BILLBOARD PICTURES OF WOMEN SMOKING

Sioux Falls, S. D., May 21.—(AP)—Those billboard pictures of women smoking cigarettes have so irked the city commission that it has voted, two to one, to forbid such things here. While opposing pictured puffing, the commission did not vote upon an amendment which aimed to prohibit women smoking in public.

NEGRO HELD FOR MURDER IN BEAUFORT

Nathan Crandal, Of Pitt County, Charged With Killing 17-Year-Old Girl.

Charged with the murder of a seventeen-year-old negro girl, Nathan Crandal, negro, of the Pactolus community, Pitt county, was being held in the Beaufort county jail today awaiting trial at the next term of criminal court.

Crandal was arrested at a store in Pactolus last night by Deputy Sheriff Herbert Harris of Greenville, and immediately carried to the Beaufort jail for safe keeping. Crandal is alleged to have shot the girl and then placed her body on a railroad track. The body was discovered however, before it had been mutilated by a passing train and subsequent investigation showed that the girl came to her death by a bullet fired through her brain. The killing occurred in Beaufort county and is said to have resulted from a desire of Crandal to obtain insurance on the girl's life.

GRAF ZEPPELIN GETS READY TO RETURN HOME

Cuers, France, May 21.—(AP)—The French naval authorities here today supplied the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin, with 3,000 cubic meters of hydrogen lifting gas necessary to enable it to make its return trip to Friedrichshafen later this week.

It was explained that the big ship's lifting gas supply had been carefully apportioned to the load to be lifted, and which while sufficient for the trip to America was not sufficient for the three additional persons who intend to fly back to Friedrichshafen.

The dirigible will have 21 passengers in addition to a crew of 40 on the return trip, which should be made Thursday or Friday. There were 18 passengers on the outbound trip. Four of the original 18 have abandoned their booking aboard the air liner, but seven French naval officers who have accepted the invitation of Dr. Eckener, master, have more than made up for them.

The two motors which were sent from Friedrichshafen have been installed, giving the ship now four good motors for the trip. A fifth, which was being sent from Genoa, can be installed en route.

Herr Dvorak, the engineer from the Zeppelin Works, said today he was still at a loss to explain the cause of the breakdown of the engines, but indicated he would undertake a long and careful investigation with a view to eventual determination.

Mrs. Mary Pierce, the only woman passenger on the ill-starred trip, will make the return trip.

Predict Decrease Of Georgia Peach Crop

Atlanta, Ga., May 21.—(AP)—The 1929 Georgia car lot movement of peaches will be the smallest since 1923, according to United States Department of Agriculture Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimates. The movement was estimated at 9,500 cars, compared with 15,326 cars in 1928.

Early curculio infestation was the worst in years, the bulletin said. One-fourth less than last year's shipment was indicated in South Carolina, reports from that state show. North Carolina will be slightly below 1928, with other peach growing states much better than in the last three years.

TAKE STEPS TO PROTECT NATIONALS

Britain, America And Japan Send Gunboats To Disturbed Area Of China.

Canton, China, May 21.—(AP)—British sailors landing from gunboats in the harbor today in Shamen quarters immediately began construction of defenses in various parts of the English concession gates and bridges were closed and guards posted.

The British consulate warned subjects not to leave Shamen and asking they assemble at Cantonolion railway compound. Three British and two French gunboats and two Japanese destroyers were anchored in the harbor outside the concession. The U. S. S. Tuisa was en route from Hong Kong.

In the native city the utmost tenseness prevailed with attacking Kwangsi troops known to be not far away, although there was no definite word as to their position. Sacking of the city, the largest of southern China, was feared in the event of capture by the Red Kwangsi elements which was believed imminent.

Reports from Wuchow, on the Kwangsi border, said bombing raids and threats of new expeditions against it had aroused considerable feeling and much criticism of the Kwangsi generals. Forty Americans there were safe with the U. S. S. Guam protecting them, although food was running low.

The rebel Cantonese naval commander, when the Cantonese allowed to leave for Hong Kong, after they forced ships which followed him in mutiny to capitulate, was at Wuchow and has been placed in command of a Kwangsi naval squadron of 30 gunboats.

About $2,000,000 Mexican in silver bullion has been moved from the Central Bank to Hong Kong for safety while many leading Sino residents have sent their families to the English territory.

Wickersham Heads Law Enforcement Commission

Washington, May 21.—(AP)—President Hoover today invited the seven members of his newly appointed law enforcement commission to meet with him at the White House for luncheon May 23. This will give ample time for the members from the Pacific coast and the far west to get to Washington.

Washington, May 21.—(AP)—George W. Wickersham, Attorney General in the Taft administration, has been selected by President Hoover as chairman of the National Law Enforcement Commission, which will have associated with him nine other lawyers and one woman representing all of the major geographical divisions of the country.

In announcing the personnel of the commission, White House officials said Mr. Wickersham would call the group together here later in the week to map out a preliminary program for the work which is expected to last upwards of two years and which is regarded by the chief executive as the most important task confronting his administration.

Heading the list of members of the commission is Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War in the Wilson administration, and chairman of the National Crime Commission. The others will be three federal judges, William S. Kenyon of Iowa; William I. Grubb of Alabama; and Paul J. McCormick of California; four eminent attorneys, Roscoe Pound of the Harvard Law School; newly W. Anderson of Richmond Va.; Monte M. Lemann of New Orleans, president of the Louisiana Bar Association, and Frank J. Loesch, vice president of the Chicago Crime Commission; a former jurist, Kenneth R. Mackintosh of Washington State, and one educator, Miss Ada L. Comstock, president of Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass.

The commission is expected to get at its work within a short time and concededly has before it the most stupendous undertaking of any similar body in the history of the country. Guesses as to the length of time it will require for the completion of the job vary, but even the most optimistic agree that a final report is not to be expected within a year and a half or two years.

While the official White House announcement of the personnel designated the body as the Na-

Tunney Made Defendant In $500,000 Breach Of Promise Suit In N. Y.

New Haven, Conn., May 21.—(AP)—Announcement was made here today that paper in a suit for alleged breach of promise of marriage with $500,000 claimed damages, brought by Mrs. Katherine King Fogarty, 30, of New York City, against James J. (Gene) Tunney, the retired heavyweight boxing champion, had been sent to Bridgeport to be entered in the superior civil court of Fairfield county.

The papers were sent by a deputy sheriff for filing this morning, and a member of the law firm of Field, Durant and Levere went to court to arrange for other details of entry of the suit.

The papers had not been filed at noon. It was stated at the office of Colonel Lewis L. Field, who signed the writ as Commissioner of the Superior Court that the delay was due to details of garnishing all banks in Stamford and Greenwich in which there was a possibility that Tunney had a bank account. It was stated that attachment had been entered against Tunney's estate, bought about a year ago in Stamford for a country home and which is assessed for $14,000.

Mrs. Fogarty formerly lived in Field, Durant and Levere, where she obtained a divorce. Colonel Field said she is not now in Connecticut but declined to say where she was staying. He said that at the present time there would be no further information about the case other than contained in the papers which would be on file in the Superior Court at Bridgeport.

Stamford, Conn., May 21.—(AP)—Attachments were made against two pieces of property owned by Gene Tunney by Mrs. Katherine King Fogarty, of New York, against the former heavyweight boxing champion in a suit for breach of promise to marry. Officers left to file complaint in the suit at the Superior Court in Bridgeport.

Monoplane Fort Worth Still in the Air In Texas; Refueled Again Today.

Old Orchard, Me., May 21.—(AP) Reports of bad weather conditions over part of the 4,700-mile trans-Atlantic course they expected to follow today prevented the projected take-off for Rome of Roger G. Williams and Lewis A. Vanvey in the monoplane Green Flash.

The plane, in which Martin Jensen recently established a world solo endurance flight record, remained in a hangar where it was crunched last night after Dr. James H. Kimball, of the New York Weather bureau advised that conditions would not be propitious for the flight for at least 24 hours.

Immediate preparations for a take-off at Old Orchard today were made after the fliers arrived here late yesterday from the Ternburg airport, New Jersey.

Whether the Green Flash would take off at daybreak tomorrow depended, Williams said, on further weather advice. So certain were the fliers of the plane's ability to carry them on the fifty-hour flight that no safety devices or radio were carried in their equipment.

Williams said they planned to strike southeast from Old Orchard for 500 miles until the sun passed was reached. Then they expected to fly straight east to the southern tip of Spain, over the Mediterranean and thence to Rome. The fliers hope to establish a long-distance world endurance record.

Both the District and Division Engineers strongly recommended the improvement but it was reported unfavorably by the Board of Engineers.

The hearing is for the purpose of getting the board to reverse itself. Mr. Warren also announced that Theodore Carlyle Turnage, Jr., of Farnville, has successfully passed his examinations and would enter the Naval Academy on July 1st.

Bad Weather Holds Up The Rome Flight

Old Orchard, Me., May 21.—(AP) Reports of bad weather conditions over part of the 4,700-mile trans-Atlantic course they expected to follow today prevented the projected take-off for Rome of Roger G. Williams and Lewis A. Vanvey in the monoplane Green Flash.

Senator Would Have Federal Trade Commission Investigate Copley Interests.

Washington, May 21.—(AP)—Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, repeated his demand in the Senate today that the Federal Trade Commission reopen its inquiry of the financial interests of Ira C. Copley, the owner of a number of newspapers, after he had read a telegram from Mr. Copley denying charges that he still owned stock in public utilities.

Mr. Norris then declared that Mr. Copley and his attorney "seem to be in disagreement." Norris said that testimony of Copley's attorney tended to bear out his own statement regarding Copley's financial interests.

Norris yesterday said a man in San Francisco whom he did not care to name had informed him that Copley still held $50,000 of securities. In his telegram, Mr. Copley declared, "Please present my compliments to your acquaintance in San Francisco and tell him for me that he is a plain, common liar."

Resuming his discussion of power interests, Norris said the "testimony is that Mr. Copley still owns considerable stock."

"I have in my possession," he declared, "some editorials on the matter quoting the testimony of Mr. Copley's attorney to the same effect as I stated yesterday. I join Mr. Copley in asking the Federal Trade Commission to inquire into this."

Canadian War Pilot Killed In Crash At Roosevelt Field, N. Y.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., May 21.—(AP)—Captain Arthur Argles, Canadian war pilot, was killed and Albert Harris, wealthy real estate operator and aviation student, was in Nassau hospital today as the result of a lesson in tail spinning. Argles went up with Harris yesterday in the broker's plane to demonstrate the beginner how to handle his ship in a spin. Observers saw the plane go through several manoeuvres then whirl downward.

The wreck of the plane was found with the nose buried deep in the earth on a farm, two miles from the field.

Bombing Planes To Stage Raid Over New York

Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, May 21.—(AP)—Governor's Island off New York City, was the mark today of the initial experiment of armed forces with long-distance bombing cruises. A regulation United States Army bomber with 2,200 pounds of explosives was fitted for the non-stop air "raid" to be accomplished by two re-fueling contacts over Washington.

The scheduled departure this afternoon, with favorable weather, was the first attempt to send one of the heavy ships on a long flight while loaded to capacity. The distance, about 1300 miles is more than double the cruising range of bombers.

The invasion will take the plane over Washington late this afternoon. There re-fueling plane No. 1, used in the Question Mark flights in California, will refill the tanks in the air. Proceeding to New York at about 8:30 p. m., the plane will follow Broadway to Governor's Island, drop three flares and turn back toward Washington, dropping one flare at Atlantic City on the way.

GOLD BULLETS

by Charles G. Booth

SYNOPSIS: During the blistering heat of the desert, Lucy rushes to Skull Valley to warn her fiancé, Jerry Ogden, that the police charge him with slaying his father, Lucy's uncle, John Peebles, follows her to the ghost town, Torridity, where the murdered Andrew Ogden is believed to have ruled 30 years before as Alex Peterson, gambler and overlord. As Peebles searches the eerie buildings, Lucy and Jerry suddenly drive past but fail to see him. Peebles tries to follow them but discovers that the tires of his auto have been slashed.

Chapter 22.
SHOTS FROM A TOMB
What of the man who had slashed my tires? Dillon, undoubtedly knowing that Jerry was in Torridity, he had come to plant the flannel. The children, I decided, don't know he was here and he may not have seen them. He certainly knew I was here. Why in the name of common sense hadn't I brought a pistol?

I don't know what made me think of Furie just then. MacNair had assumed that Furie knew something about the Two Brothers mine; perhaps, indeed, had brought Ogden the description of him strongly suggested the old desert-rate type. Mightn't Furie be a relic of Torridity's vanished prosperity? Was it Furie's presence I had sensed in the town instead of Dillon's? Was it, indeed, Furie who had slashed my tires? And had Dillon, after "planting" the flannels, taken himself off? I began to wonder about the Two Brothers mine. MacNair had connected Furie and the quartz specimens with it and I had concluded Lucy had found Jerry there. After swallowing a sandwich I set off up the street towards the flank of mountain behind the town. On the outskirts my feet found an indistinct trail of sorts and I let them carry me along it.

The sun was declining towards the Skeletons, but the wind blew hot as a dragon's breath and in its teeth whistled that sound I had heard as I drove towards Torridity. I thought it hissed at me. "Go back, you fool!" A thin sand haze hung in the air. A windstorm impinged me to go back; but just then I saw the buildings of an abandoned mining property. Heading into the bits of the wind, I quickly identified the property as the Two Brothers by the huge mass of splintered rock in front of the entrance to the main bore.

It took me half an hour to explore the property. In ruin and a-creak in the burning wind, the buildings were a sorry mess, but the machinery was in fair condition. From the "tailings" dump I followed the ore cart rails up to the great pile of debris which blocked the entrance. To remove it would be a sizable job. In a barn-like structure was the police car Lucy had commandeered. It cheered me mightily. Leaving the car where it was, for the time being, I started back along the flank of the mountain.

The sun was lower. The wind had quickened; its eerie note shrilled a little. After I had gone 100 yards beyond the limits of the Two Brothers property I came upon a narrow gash slashed deep into the flinty mountainside which I hadn't seen as I came up. A vague trail led into the gash and the imprint of shoes showed in a sprinkling of sand at my feet.

Striking into the gash, I found myself between towering walls of reddish rock which gradually widened into a sizable canyon that cut into the heart of the Skeletons. I had gone some 200 yards when I noticed a "V"-shaped joint in the south slope of the canyon. As I approached the joint I saw it was really a cavern-like slash in the rock wall.

I had come within 30 feet of the slash when a rifle cracked and a bullet flattened against the rock 12 inches above my head!

My eyes sprang up the opposite slope which ascended gradually and I saw not far above me a small wooden shanty from which, I concluded, had come the shot. I wondered if I were to be dropped dead as I stood.

The slash offered sanctuary. Only 30 feet away! Could I make it? I hurried myself toward it. Before I had covered a third of the distance the rifle cracked again and my hat leaped and fell over my face. Losing my balance, I reeled back against the cliff.

It seemed likely that a third shot would put an end to the foremost collector of pistols in San Felipe county and I stayed where I was. The sun was beginning to set beyond the crest of the Skeletons. It grew perceptibly darker. What were the man's intentions? Perhaps he merely intended to keep me out of the slash. Holding my breath, I edged away from the slash. Nothing happened. Apparently I might take myself off, but I mustn't go into the slash.

Why? It didn't take me long to speculate about it. If the slash was not a new opening into the complicated workings of the Two Brothers mine, what was it? The marksman on the hillside was guarding a recently exposed ledge of gold-bearing ore.

"Who is it?" I muttered. "Furie—Dillon?" If MacNair was right in his assumption that Furie knew something about the specimen we had found in Ogden's desk it might be Furie.

My immediate concern was to get away. With my eyes upon the slope opposite I made my way along the trail, half expecting the smack of a bullet. But it didn't come and presently I was out in the desert again.

The sun had gone. Into the shrill cry of the wind had come a human note as awesome as a voice from a tomb. Little wheels and whirrs of sand sprang up, danced, died. The sand haze nipped my throat, stung my nostrils, watered my eyes. A curious sense of the desert noiding itself in leash, of malign forces gathering beneath this outward tranquility, affected me and I began to run.

When I had come within 100 yards of the nearest building the wind screamed like a herd of terrified horses. The ferocity of this wind was beyond conception. It took me into its arms and, spinning me like a top, ran with me screaming down the street. Abruptly it let me go and for a moment I hung in a little pocket in the wind. Gyres of sand sprang up from the earth, ropes of sand fell from the sky and I saw them driven by the bellows of heaven into the levels of a pit full of fiends let loose.

And then, suddenly, a blast of sand poured into my face, blinding me; the wind picked me up again, spun me, and hurled me against the side of a building. Pounding me, it smote me blow upon blow until I thought my senses would leave me. My body felt beaten to a pulp and my face was stinging and bleeding from tiny cuts inflicted by the gravel-toothed wind.

Once again the wind picked me up and sent me spinning down the street. Then it smote me side-ward. I pitched through an open door and went headlong. (Copyright, 1929, Wm. Morrow Co.) Will the desert's fury add Peebles to its toll? Who fired the shot? What is he guarding? Continue the story tomorrow.

RATHER JUST SIT AROUND!
A Feeling Often Mistaken for Laziness When Really Due to Constipation.

Redfield, Ark.—"Black-Draught is certainly a mighty good medicine to have," says Mr. J. A. Tuck, of his place. "We use it about all the time. I take it for indigestion and headache."
"If I get constipated and bilious, I feel like sitting around instead of working. I haven't any ambition to get up and get busy, but after I take a few doses of Black-Draught, and it acts, I feel all right. Black-Draught hasn't failed me yet."
"My daughter wasn't well. Had no formations that seemed to bother her. She would have trouble in getting her breath. She was sallow and peaked. Now she takes Black-Draught and it seems to help her. She takes it after meals. This seems to dispel the gas, and she is much better than she was. Her skin cleared up considerably."
"We wouldn't be without Black-Draught. It is a good medicine." Thousands of others say the same. The genuine Theodor's Black-Draught is easily obtainable from neighborhood druggists, in 25¢ packages. Give it a good trial.

The Orange-Crush Dispenser, at all soda fountains (with "Crushy" on the medallion).

Meet "Crushy" at the Soda Fountain

"CRUSHY" wasn't turned out to win any beauty prize. Just so you'd know him and make no mistake. He looks like a cut of a court clown of Egypt Ptolemy, right off the royal barge, but it's a certified news bulletin that wherever he is, the orange juice flows in a freshet. He may have been cut with a jigsaw, but he knows his orange juice!

It's got to come from big, roly-poly, eighteen karat, golden oranges, ripened out on the end of a bough instead of in a freight car, if "Crushy", royal entertainer, is going to use it, with a dash of added fruit juice and color, as a smile producer.

There's a small medallion portrait of "Crushy" on the base of the Orange-Crush fountain, on the counter presided over by your favorite soda-water dispenser. Meet him—shake hands with him by taking a glass of Orange-Crush in your right hand and saying "Here's how!"

Orange-Crush is giving new and delicious variety to the ice cream specialties served at the soda fountains.

You'll need your left hand on your vest to register a round one hundred per cent pleasure.

Largest fruit-drink seller in the world—and with ice cream it's like icing on the cake.

Victor Offers Gala Program

With a gala program, an all-star cast, and 20 musical headliners and four great orchestras, the Victor Talking Machine Company will present what is perhaps the most pretentious microphone entertainment ever put on the air on Friday evening, May 24. The broadcast will utilize the complete coast-to-coast facilities of the National Broadcasting Company and four of its largest New York studios will be required to accommodate the exceptional array of talent secured for the occasion.

The list of performers is made up exclusively of Victor artists, whose records as well as their public appearances have made their names household words throughout the world. In fact, the announcement of those who will participate in this hour and a half of rare entertainment reads like a musical who's who.

Both Rosario Bourdon and Nathaniel Shilkret will wield batons throughout the evening. Musical selections and accompaniments will be played by the Victor Concert Orchestra, Victor Dance Orchestra, Victor Salon Orchestra and the Victor Symphony Orchestra.

Milton Cross, who recently received the gold medal for good microphone diction from the Academy of Arts and Letters, will be master of ceremonies and will introduce the Victor celebrities. During the evening it is said there will also be made an announcement of exceptional importance in connection with modern radio development.

Arrangements for this nationwide broadcast are now being completed by officials of the Victor National Broadcasting Company, and it is estimated that the Victor entertainment will be heard by more than 40,000,000 people from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to the Gulf. From the four combined NBC studios in New York, where the artists will assemble, the concert will be relayed by specially leased telephone wires to Chicago and from there to Denver and Salt Lake City, to be rebroadcast over the West from those points.

In addition to the popular mezzos, Rosario Bourdon and Nathaniel Shilkret, the big all-star Victor cast includes Gene Austin, Franklin Burr, Jesse Crawford, Richard Crooks and Frank Crummit. Mischa Elman's marvelous technique will be at its best as he plays "Valse Triste," and Hulda Lashanska's pure lyric soprano will delight her audience with "Sweetest Story." Then will come the popular High-hatters, and Johnny Marvin will be heard in a typical vocal and ukulele number. George Olson has chosen "Dream Mother" as his selection and Jack Smith's famous tenor will whisper "I Kiss Your Hand, Madame." Rudy Vallee will set his listeners' feet shuffling with "Deep Night." Laurence Tibbett of Metropolitan Opera Company fame will have the barytone solo, "Toreador Song," and charming Aileen Stanley is to sing "I'll Never Ask For More."

If you have property to sell or rent, consult with us. It will pay you well. H. A. White & Sons.

Story Telling At The Library.

There will be story telling at the Public Library this summer, one afternoon per week for six weeks. The story telling hour will be for children from six to eleven and will be held on Thursday afternoon from 5 to 6, beginning June 13 and running through July 18. This summer library activity, while under the general supervision of the library, will be directly carried on by the Sodalis Wesley Class of the Methodist Church. This class, with Mamie Ruth Fleming as president, and Mrs. H. L. Rivers, teacher, has entire charge and will work out plans to provide stories and games for this hour.

They have already invited some of the best juvenile leaders in town to co-operate and will invite some of the noted story tellers of Eastern North Carolina to assist.

The library board feels that the library is particularly fortunate in having this class take charge of such an important branch of the library service.

LADIES' NIGHT BIG AFFAIR AT ROTARY CLUB

One Of The Most Interesting Programs Of Years Given By Club Last Night.

Last night was annual "Ladies' Night" with members of the Greenville Rotary club and one of the most delightful and interesting programs in years was presented. In the absence of President K. B. Pace, the session was presided over by W. H. Rogers, Jr.

The program consisted of dinner, a musical program, several contests and the induction of three new members.

Julian White, president of the Merchants Association, delivered the address of welcome. He was very happy in his remarks, and assured the wives and sweethearts of the Rotarians that they always looked forward to "Ladies' Night" with peculiar interest and pleasure.

The response to the address of welcome was made by Mrs. L. A. Stroud.

Two solo numbers were rendered by Mrs. Knott Proctor, the first being "Sunrise and You," and the second, "The Desert Song." She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. S. T. White.

Two prizes were awarded in a story-telling contest, the winners being J. B. Kittrell, first prize, Haywood Dail, second. Dr. Alfred Schultz was the third contestant.

Mrs. Judson Blount, Mrs. W. C. Dresbac and Mrs. Carl Adams were awarded prizes for holding lucky numbers that had been provided at the plates of guests. Ralph Deal, president of the Kiwanis club, was introduced to the club, and responded with a few brief remarks.

The three new members inducted into the organization were Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, Roy Harris and Herbert Re Barker. R. H. Wright, president of East Carolina Teachers College, had charge of this ceremony. His words of induction were very appropriate and outlined the principles upon which the life of the club is based.

Dinner was served by ten young women representing the Home Economics Department of the college.

I. C. C. FACES HUGE TASK IN R. R. VALUES

Decision Of Supreme Court Affects Billions Of Dollars In R. R. Property.

Washington, May 21.—(AP)—President Hoover is confident that no increase in railroad rates will result from the decision of the Supreme Court in the St. Louis and O'Fallon case.

"I am confident there will be no increase in railroad rates as the result of the O'Fallon decision," the president said in a formal statement in reply to inquiries of newspaper correspondents.

The chief executive did not explain upon what he based his confidence, confining himself to the one sentence statement.

Washington, May 21.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today confronted the huge task of revising and bringing down to date its valuation of billions of dollars worth of railroad properties, with the prospect that further litigation and new legislation would be sought to clarify the situation.

That prospect stood out clearly as members of Congress and the commission and railroad experts pursued their study of the Supreme Court decision yesterday upholding the St. Louis and O'Fallon railroad in its test attack on the methods used by the commission in valuing its property.

While the commission withheld a public statement on the decision, which declared that reproduction costs must be considered in fixing carrier valuations, members were inclined to discount predictions that it would lead to large increases in rail rates. The case, it was pointed out, had to do chiefly with the re-valuation of the railroads; the commission's efforts to recapture under the law one-half of their net earnings in excess of six per cent of their value for distribution among less prosperous carriers.

The valuations on which the recapture efforts are based, it was conceded, do operate to some extent in the determination of rail rates, but the commissioners were apparently convinced that the present rate level would be recognized by the carriers as being at a practicable level in general and that no attempt to disturb it to any great extent would be made, except possibly to clarify legal questions involved.

In view of the court's indication that the commission's valuation of the O'Fallon property was improper because of failure to take the present cost of construction sufficiently into consideration and the existence of other differences in the general dispute over valuation. It was thought that the next step might be the presentation of another test case to the courts.

As to the probable effects of the O'Fallon decision on the clerical and engineering work of the commission, it was pointed out that the data it has gathered was not in question and that the administrative problem now was to develop new principles of valuation.

A number of members of Congress interested in railroad legislation displayed keen interest in the decision. Many thought congressional action would be needed to clarify the situation.

NEGRO KILLED AS HE ATTEMPTED TO ENTER GIRL'S ROOM

New Bern, N. C., May 21.—(AP)—William Johnson, 35, negro, said to be from South Carolina, was shot and killed early today as he attempted, it is alleged, to force an entrance into the room of Miss Inna Glover at Dover.

Walter Glover, father of the young woman, shot the negro. Glover was exonerated by Dr. J. F. Latham, coroner.

A charge of buckshot struck the negro in the face. Johnson had been working for the Goldsboro Lumber Company at Dover.

SAYS SINKING OF I'M ALONE ACT OF PIRACY

Member Of Canadian House Of Commons Also Terms It As An Act Of War.

Ottawa, May 21.—(AP)—Sinking of the Canadian schooner "I'm Alone" by a United States coast guard vessel has been termed an act of war or an act of deliberate piracy on the floor of the House of Commons.

C. H. Cahhan, Conservative member for St. Lawrence-St. George, in a speech declared that if the coast guard boat sank the schooner under direct instructions from American authorities, the sinking was an act of war. If the sinking was done without direct authority but on the initiative of the commander of the coast guard ship, it was an act of deliberate piracy, he asserted.

The speaker criticized the Canadian minister for introducing the discussion of "hot pursuit" into correspondence relating to the "I'm Alone" incident, saying that subject should have been left for the American authorities to bring up.

Premier MacKenzie King, defending the course of his government, said he questioned the propriety of discussing the subject while arbitration was pending.

He said in answer to criticism of the reference to "hot pursuit" in Canadian diplomatic correspondence that the secretary of the United States treasury had made public reference to the subject as a justification for the sinking.

Cahan declared that in his opinion nothing in the United States prohibition laws gave to the coast guard the right to seize foreign ships beyond the 12-mile limit and that therefore the sinking of the "I'm Alone" on the high seas 215 miles from the coast, was illegal.

ABOUT TOWN

"Ladies' Night" at the Rotary Club last night was one of the most delightful occasions of the kind ever held by the club before," said a member of the organization today.

"An exceptionally fine program had been provided for the evening and everything passed off in a way that produced considerable commendation. Members of the club always look forward to this occasion and it is an assured fact that it will become of more importance with the passing of the years."

"The passing of Colonel Harry Skinner will be received with profound regret by his hundreds of friends and admirers throughout the country," said a well known citizen today.

"Colonel Skinner was not only one of the outstanding members of the North Carolina bar, but a statesman whose ability won nation-wide recognition. His ideas were said to have been twenty years ahead of the time he was in Congress, yet they were so important that they became the basic principle of legislation years afterwards.

"He not only rendered distinguished service in Congress, but served as United States district attorney with such ability that he attracted attention of the nation.
He also served the state and national bar association in a way that won him unquestioned prestige in this field of endeavor.

"In the death of Colonel Skinner, Greenville, the state and the nation loses one who contributed his part in the progress which the country has made the last fifty years or more."

"The release of 'Deacon' Joliff, iron man hurler of the Greenville ball club will be received with considerable regret by persons who have followed his career over a period of many years," declared a local fan today.

"Joliff has taken a prominent part in the pitching life of the Virginia League and other organizations during the past several years. He came to the Eastern Carolina League as manager of the Greenville club. While he didn't hold this position for any considerable length of time, he remained with the team as one of its most dependable hurlers. He pitched so effectively last year that he was denominated "the iron man."
The cognomen was very fitting, coming as it did at a time when he gave Greenville some badly needed victories.

"Joliff has many more years of good service before him, and he will in all probability be able to render as brilliant service for some other club as he did for Greenville when he was in his hey-day."

"Well, the old ball club managed to break even with the heavy-hitting crew from Wilmington which tends to believe that they are able to come out on top when every member of the club is playing in old-time form," said a follower of the club this morning.

"Should we be able to continue to split fifty-fifty for the next several weeks it will not be long before we shall find ourselves perched near the top of the standing of clubs' column. It takes an exceptionally strong club to be able to win day after day without losing a game, and for that reason, it is evident that these break-even teams stand a good showing for greater honors.

"But we don't expect to do all the breaking even. We hope to be able to do better—at least win two to one of the games played. We haven't been able to accomplish such a feat as yet, but with new material finding its way to the clubhouse from time to time, the outlook for faster ball is very bright."

"How about that subscription to the Reflector?" asked the manager of circulation today of an old-time subscriber who had dropped into the office to pay his respects to the force.

"I had forgotten," the visitors replied, "and that's just what I had come to the office to see about. I think my time is about out. Enter me up for another year and see to it that no single issue is missed."

"The only time I hear rumblings of discontent around my household is when the Reflector fails to show up. On such occasions, somebody has to start for the postoffice and, of course, this task falls upon the head of the family.

EARL OF ROSEBERRY DIES IN ENGLAND

Epsom, England, May 21.—(AP)—
The Earl of Roseberry, former Liberal prime minister and one of the last of England's great victorians, died today at his home, the Durdans, near here after a brief illness.
All his relatives were at the bedside.

The Earl, who was the fifth of his name, celebrated his 82nd birthday a fortnight ago by driving from his country home, the Durdans, to Epsom town in a barouche and pair, accompanied by a postillion in true victorian style. Last Friday he caught a slight cold which grew rapidly worse.

GIANTS AND DODGERS VIE FOR BOTTOM

HOW THEY PLAY IN E. C. LEAGUE

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer

It has been a long time since national league fans have had an opportunity of watching the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers battle it out for last place at this more or less late date in the season, while the Boston Braves and Philadelphia take up the burden of making some kind of a showing against the undeniably stronger western clubs. But that is just what they are watching now unless they decline to let themselves believe what their eyes tell them.

Wilmington led the Eastern Carolina League in batting in all games played through Monday, May 13th, according to a compilation of the averages of the various clubs made public today. The list also included individual batting and pitching records of the different clubs. The averages follow:

In recent years when the center of national league strength has rested west of the Alleghenies, the Giants and to a lesser degree, the P. Rins, have been able to muster the strongest defenses for repelling western thrusts. This year these two clubs have made a sorry showing, while the surprising Phillies and the still more surprising Braves have at least put up some sort of a battle to remain within striking distance of the three leading western clubs—Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh.

There may be some hope for the east in the present cut-throat competition in the west where Cubs, Pirates, Cardinals and Reds are indulging in a dog-fight that is getting none of them anywhere.

The Cubs maintained their hold on the lead by downing the Pirates, 6 to 1, behind Guy Bush's five-hit pitching yesterday.

The Cubs made their eight hits off Steve Swetonic count.

At Cincinnati, Jess Haines recorded his fourteenth straight league victory in two seasons when he pitched the Cardinals to an easy 5 to 1 triumph over the Reds.

At Brooklyn the Robins trounced the Giants, 6 to 1, William Watson Clark, young left-hander giving the Cubans only two hits.

Cold weather forced postponement of the Braves-Phillie battle at Boston.

Only two American League games were scheduled, the Athletics strengthening their hold on first place by downing the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 1, while the St. Louis Browns were beating Chicago, 6 to 3.

"THE HAIG" REAPS SPOILS OF WAR

From the hands of A. W. Robertson-Durham (right), Walter Hagen received the cup emblematic of the British open golf championship following his sensational victory at Muirfield.

JOLIFF IS RELEASED BY LOCALS

"Old" Joliff veteran pitching ace of the Greenville baseball club, had received his unconditional release from the club, announced by club officials yesterday.

The club management also announced the acquisition of "Buddy" Crumpler, former Virginia leaguer, who has been playing with the Pen. League club of the Florida State League during the present season. He is an outfielder and is said to possess considerable prowess with the bat. He was to have made his initial appearance with the Tobaccos yesterday at Goldsboro, but was prevented from doing so by preparation of the game on account of rain.

The release of Joliff came as a distinct surprise to the realm of sports. It was announced earlier in the season that he would be transferred to Selma, Alabama, but he later decided to remain with the Tobaccos. He was known as the "iron man" hurler of the local club, having won this cognomen last season going to the mound in an emergency after pitching the day before.

Just what the veteran expected to do could not be determined today, but it was generally presumed that he would continue in baseball.

ATTENDANCE RECORD IS HELD BY TACHER

Mooreville, May 21.—AP.—One doesn't have to be a pupil to hold school attendance records.

Mrs. M. T. McKnight, teacher for 25 years in the public schools here, advanced claim to a record surpassing even those established by Miss Elma Love, of Kinross, S. C., and her former pupil, Miss Helen Lester, of Deale.

Where Miss Love, claimed eleven, and Miss Dean thirteen years of unflinching school-going, Mrs. McKnight boasts 25 years, with one day's absence. That absence occurred on the occasion of her mother's death twenty years ago. In the entire score and more years, Mrs. McKnight has never been a member of the class.

TOD MORGAN HOLDS LIGHTWEIGHT RECORD

Los Angeles, May 21.—AP.—Tiptular supremacy over the junior lightweights was retained today by Tod Morgan after he had saved off the savage attack of Baby Hal Sorio, Mexican challenger, of San Bernardino, Calif.

The challenger's flying fists, which have hammered 55 of his 75 opponents to the canvas for knockout victories, whanged away indifferently at Morgan here last night, but Sorio was unable to bare through the champion's defense appreciably. Morgan took eight of the ten rounds for a decision.

LUCKY STRIKE CIGARETTES
"IT'S TOASTED"

A Milestone
Lucky Strike represents a milestone in the progress of cigarette manufacture. The toasting process makes Lucky Strike the brand of distinction, and, in the opinion of 20,679* physicians, is the reason Luckies are less irritating. No other cigarette enjoys this secret heat treatment which removes impurities and irritants, produces a flavor beyond comparison and assures the smoker the maximum of delightful smoking pleasure and comfort.
