SENATE SPLIT OVER RIGHTS OF THE PRESS

Press Correspondent Summoned Before Committee To Explain Lenroot Affair

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—The Senate today stood divided not only on the long standing issue over consideration of presidential nominations in executive session but on the question of newspaper correspondents' privileges in the reporting of its proceedings.

The question was raised late yesterday during argument over the unanimous decision of the rules committee to bar United Press correspondents from access to the Senate floor. That action was taken by the committee because of the publication Tuesday by the United Press of what purported to be the Senate roll call on the nomination of former Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin, to the court of customs and patent appeals, which was taken in executive session and has been described by Senators as inaccurate.

Senators LaFollette of Wisconsin, and Johnson of California, both Republicans, protested against the action. The former contending that the action was discrimination, held that the committee had no right either to give or withdraw the privilege of access to the floor of any correspondent, and announced that he would object to the appearance of any newspaper man on the floor.

He put his purpose into effect soon afterward, objecting as soon as he saw a correspondent on the floor and being sustained by Vice-President Curtis, a former chairman of the committee. The Vice-President announced that, since the rules did not permit newspaper men on the floor during sessions of the Senate, their presence would not be allowed.

Press associations have been allowed for more than 20 years to have one representative each on the floor during open sessions of the Senate. This practice originated as a matter of courtesy and has been maintained as such.

The argument was precipitated by Senator Reed, Republican, of Pennsylvania, with the introduction of the following resolution from the rules committee:

"Resolved, that the report and publication of the proceedings of the Senate in executive session on the 17th day of May, 1929, is a breach of the privileges of the Senate, made possible only by a violation of the rules of the Senate, by some member or officer of the Senate; that this is a willful disregard of the obligation of duty and honor resting upon every one admitted to an executive session, tending to bring contempt upon the Senate, and deserves and should receive severe censure and punishment."

The resolution, Senator Reed said was unanimously approved by the committee, but action on it was blocked by Senator LaFollette. The committee also subpoenaed Paul R. Mallon, whose name appeared over the United Press article containing the purported Lenroot roll call, for questioning Monday. Chairman Moses described the subpoena as a start in the committee's investigation to learn the source of his information.

Several Arrests In Liquor Ring

San Francisco, May 23.—(AP)—Thirty-four persons including a police judge, a police captain and five sergeants and patrolmen, were indicted by a United States grand jury here last night on charges of complicity in an alleged Alameda county liquor and craft ring.

United States Attorney George Hatfield indicated that other persons more or less prominent might be linked with the case as the jury continues its investigation.

Missing Youth To Return Home

Mobile, Ala., May 23.—(AP)—Seventeen-year-old Rommie Simmons, of Winston-Salem, N. C., today was preparing to return to the home he ran away from over a year ago and to his parents with whom he had not communicated for the same length of time until last night.

The lad was located here yesterday after his picture, supplied by the Associated Press news photo service, had been published in newspapers. The Rev. Rupert G. Whitt, chaplain of the seaman's church institute, identified the boy by the picture and notified his father. The latter then communicated with his son.

In the time since he left home, Rommie has followed the diverse occupations of circus employee, seafarer and worker in the oyster industry along the southern coast. He said he left home to satisfy an ambition to see the world.

Zeppelin Slated To Take-Off For Home Late Today

Cuers, France, May 23.—(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin was preened today for its return to its home hangar, Friedrichshafen, with departure slated for late this evening sometime after arrival from Germany of its master, Dr. Hugo Eckener. Bad weather conditions, however, indicated a possible postponement.

TRADE STILL NERVOUS ON N. Y. MARKET

Buyers Attempting to Recover From Drastic Reaction During Yesterday.

New York, May 23.—(AP)—Operators for the advance today started rebuilding the speculative stock market structure, which was badly shattered yesterday in a drastic reaction which wiped out more than a million dollars in quoted values. Strong buying support was provided for the leading industrials and rails, many of which rallied $1 to nearly $7 a share.

Trading was still of a nervous character, with new soft spots cropping out as frightened investors and speculators threw over their holdings. Case Threshing Machine broke $23 a share to $27, which contrasts with the year's high of $509. Auburn Auto dropped $7 a share. Ingersoll Rand and Burroughs Adding Machine $4 each and A. M. Byers $3.50.

Lowering of the call money renewal rate to 6 per cent, unofficial predictions that no change would be made in the New York Federal Reserve discount rate after the close and estimates of a large decrease in brokers' loans all had a cheerful effect on sentiment. Considerable stress also was laid on the fact that yesterday's sales fell below 5,000,000 shares, as against the series of 5,000,000 to 8,000,000 shares in March, which was construed as an indication that there had been no extensive liquidation of investment holdings.

American Power & Light was marked up nearly $7 a share. New York Central, General Electric, Packard Motors, American and Foreign Power, and Curtiss Aeronautical each advanced $4 above yesterday's closing quotations. Allied Chemical $3 and Radio, United Corporation, American Can, Westinghouse Electric, National Cash Register, Gold Dust and other leaders climbed $2 or more.

Lindy And Morrow Back In New Jersey

New York, May 23.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, his fiancée, Miss Anne Morrow, and members of her family were at the Morrow home in Englewood, N. J., today after a flight from North Haven, Maine, piloted by the famous flyer.

In addition to Colonel Lindbergh and Miss Anne Morrow, the party consisted of Miss Constance Morrow, Miss Elizabeth Morrow, Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, their mother, and her secretary, Mrs. Josephine Graeme.

Colonel Lindbergh brought the amphibian plane down in Manhasset Bay about 8 p. m., after he had landed his passengers on Hempstead harbor in front of the home of Harry F. Guggenheim.

He secured his plane and was driven to the Guggenheim home where he rejoined the party. From there they were driven through New York and across the ferry to the Morrow home at Englewood.

Chicago Sleuth Slain Yesterday

Chicago, May 23.—(AP)—"Cop-killers," most despised of murderers under the policeman's code, have within a week struck two aces from the Chicago force; an unusual circumstance in a city where gunmen have been cautious heretofore about pulling the trigger against men wearing stars. The killing yesterday of Detective Joseph Sullivan was looked upon as a particularly severe blow, not only because Sullivan was one of the aces of the squad which has been working on the Valentine's day massacre, but because he also was on the trail of men who killed Detective Lawrence Martin last week.

Deputy Commissioner John Steeg, driving ahead to find the killers, was nevertheless openly despondent. Asked what he thought would develop as a result of the Sullivan killing, Steeg said:

"Oh, nothing, I suppose. The public doesn't care any more when a policeman is killed."

REPARATIONS EXPERT QUILTS CONFERENCES

Dr. Albert Voegler Resigns As Representative From Germany.

Berlin, May 23.—(AP)—Dr. Albert Voegler, colleague of Dr. Hjalmar Schacht on the German delegation to the experts conference on reparations at Paris, resigned today. The German government will accept his resignation.

Dr. Voegler returned here abruptly from Paris yesterday, preceded by reports that he was dissatisfied with reparations proposals put forward by Owen D. Young, American chairman of the conference, and would refuse to affix his name to a settlement embodying them.

Dr. Ludwig Kastl, who has worked with Drs. Schacht and Voegler since the inception of the conference, will succeed to Dr. Voegler's place on the German delegation.

It was understood Dr. Voegler's tentative resignation was handed in some time ago but only became positive and irrevocable today when conditions of the allied experts' counter proposals to reservations of the German experts became known.

Paris, May 23.—(AP)—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, accompanied by Ludwig Kastl, successor to Dr. Albert Voegler, whose resignation as one of the chief German reparations experts was announced this morning, called at the experts, headquarters today and had talks with most of the leading allied delegates.

It was believed that the purpose of the visit was to clarify some of the reservations made by the creditor experts in the revised text of the report submitted to the German delegation.

The exact points on which the conversations bore were not disclosed but it was assumed that the delegates talked about the newly proposed arrangement of annuities, the continuation of payments under the Dawes plan to the end of this year and the creditors' rejection of the German demand for the right to suspend payments on part of the protected annuities inside Germany.

Dr. Schacht's whole staff was busily engaged during the day in studying and analyzing the revised report with the hope of making known the German decision tomorrow, if not this evening.

News of Dr. Voegler's resignation was received with varied emotions in conference circles and in some quarters it was feared for a time that it might mean the break-up of the conference. It was felt in other circles, however, that the withdrawal of Dr. Voegler, who had been a stiff opponent of acceptance of the creditors' demands, might mean that the Germans would accept the allied counter proposal as laid down in the recent memorandum.

CIVIL COURT QUILTS WORK UNTIL MONDAY

B. W. Frizelle Fails To Recover In $15,000 Damage Suit Against Prescotts.

After catching up with the calendar, the week's session of the civil term of Pitt County Superior Court which convened in this city last Monday morning with Judge Clayton Moore of Williamston, presiding, was adjourned this morning. The second week's sitting will begin next Monday morning.

Only one case of outstanding importance was disposed of during the present term, it being that of B. W. Frizelle against G. W. and James C. Prescott of Ayden. The jury late yesterday afternoon returned a decision in favor of the defendants. Frizelle was suing the two Prescotts for $15,000 as damages for injuries which he is alleged to have received when an automobile driven by James Prescott collided with the plaintiff's mule and cart one night near Greenville. Although the defendants paid Frizelle's hospital expenses, they claimed the accident was unavoidable and that they were not responsible for his injuries.

Mobile Lawyer Testifies At Paper Investigation; Tells About Mobile Press

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—Thomas M. Stevens, a Mobile, Ala., attorney, testified today before the Federal Trade Commission that the first discussion of the establishment of the Mobile Press occurred in connection with a conference between officials of the Alabama Power Company and the International Paper Company on industrial developments in Mobile.

Appearing in connection with the commission's inquiry into reported investments of power companies in Alabama newspapers, Stevens outlined in his testimony the negotiations preceding the founding of the Mobile Press which started publication last April 15.

During the course of a conference between executives and engineers of the paper company and the Alabama Power Company on an $8,000,000 industrial development program in Mobile, Stevens testified that he had discussed the establishment of another newspaper in that city at luncheon with Thomas W. Martin, president of the Alabama Power Company.

"What about the continued raging of the Alabama Power Company by the newspapers?" Stevens said he had asked Martin during their conversation on the proposed industrial program.

"It is quite disagreeable and unfair," the witness quoted Martin as replying, "but we cannot let it interfere with our business."

Martin then said, according to Stevens, "how long are you people in Mobile going to put up with the conditions that exist in the newspaper world here?"

Stevens testified that he had been "disgusted for the past twenty years" with the newspapers published by Frederick I. Thompson, in Mobile, and also had been interested in several previous unsuccessful attempts to establish a rival newspaper. Martin, he added, was "most decidedly not pleased with the Thompson papers."

Matrin suggested, Stevens said, that if the attorney "got in touch with Victor Hanson of the Birmingham News and the Age-Herald," the latter could find a publisher for the Mobile paper.

"Early in December or January I had a call from Hanson," Stevens continued, "telling me that he had a man he was ready to recommend." Later, Stevens added, he met R. B. Chandler, publisher of the Mobile Press and Hanson in the latter's office in Birmingham and started the negotiations which culminated in the establishment of the newspaper.

During the luncheon with Martin, Stevens testified the Alabama Power Company had declared that his concern "did not consider it wise or sound policy to invest money in newspapers." There had been a suggestion at this meeting with Martin, Stevens said, that Hanson might be interested in taking over a Mobile newspaper, but the power company head expressed the view that the Birmingham publisher did not wish to add any more newspaper properties to his present holdings.

At his meeting with Hanson and Chandler in Birmingham, Stevens declared, Hanson assured him that Chandler would carry out any financial arrangements for the newspapers that was agreed upon and recommended Chandler "to me as a magnificent newspaper man."

Stevens declared that the stockholders of the Press had wished the

STRIKERS AND MILL OWNERS MARKING TIME

Union Leaders And Officials Await Attitude Of Strikers At Elizabethton.

Elizabethton, Tenn., May 23.—(AP)—Union leaders and textile plant officials, each of whom have announced their stand in the settlement of the strike here, today apparently were awaiting indications of the attitude of the 5,000 striking workers toward their respective policies before making any further move.

Meanwhile order was maintained throughout the strike area and as trials of fifty strikers on charges of contempt of court for alleged violations of an injunction granted the American Benberg and Glanzstoff corporations were continued.

The ultimatum of corporation officials which gives the strikers until Monday to return to their jobs, was confirmed by Dr. Arthur Mothwurf, president of the plants on his return from New York yesterday. Dr. Mothwurf said that former employees who were union members could return to work, but that the plants would be run on an "open shop" basis.

William F. Kelly, vice-president of the United Textile Workers of America, has said that "if the plants will take our workers back and not discriminate, the strike is ended." The union leaders previously had announced the immediate cause of the strike was "discrimination and denial of grievance committees."

That injunction which the fifty strikers alleged to have violated in their picketing activities prohibited interference with operations of the rayon plants.

Counsel for Dan Taylor, the first defendant called yesterday, contended the injunction did not apply to the present strike, but was granted in March when the strikers first walked out demanding more pay.

The decision of Chancellor C. E. Miller, the presiding jurist, was expected to determine the legality of picketing by strikers. In Tennessee picketing is legal but the law never has been brought to a test.

Dr. Mothwurf said yesterday that work on a large addition to the Glanzstoff plant would be pushed.

Mimic Warfare Staged In Ohio

Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, May 23.—(AP)—The Blue army, superior in numbers and equipment, advanced on a 200-mile front in spite of stubborn opposition from the Red forces, defending Columbus, Ohio, the capital of their state, as the big offensive in the United States army mimic warfare got under way today.

The "big push" started under the cover of darkness at 4 o'clock this morning and the imaginary bursting of shells lighted up the country-side (though no estimate of the losses was available, heavy casualties were reported on both sides).

The Blue army went over the top to rout the Reds from defensive positions on the Big Darby creek. The Blue first army made its attack on the southern front which is approximately 100 miles north of the Ohio river. The second army was on its left flank and the third army attacked on a northern front at approximately fifty miles.

All along the line the Blues met the determined opposition of the Red first, second and third armies.

Proceeding the Blue offensive rival squads of bombers protected by pursuit ships soared into enemy territory yesterday afternoon and bombarded important centers. The Reds succeeded in blowing up a supply depot of the Blue army at Springfield.

The Blues lost two bombers and two planes in an attack on Griggs dam in the territory of the Red army, but they inflicted no damage to the dam.

Broadcasting Co. Seeks Air Pirate

New York, May 23.—(AP)—The National Broadcasting Company today was seeking an air pirate who has been broadcasting false news reports over the same wave length at station WJZ.

The illegal broadcaster is believed to be operating in the vicinity of Patterson, N. J., where radio fans have reported hearing strange sounds over WJZ for the last three months. This culminated a week ago last Saturday when several persons reported they heard the station announce the assassination of President Hoover, and the serious illness of Vice-President Curtis.

Officials of the broadcasting company said they would endeavor to locate the air pirate by means of a direction finder.

Bombing Plane Refuels Over New York City

New York, May 23.—(AP)—Refueling of a bombing plane in the air was demonstrated over the city last night.

As thousands on the streets watched, a supply ship made five contacts with the army plane, flying close above it while gas was poured through a hose into the bomber's tanks.

The bombing plane was the one which flew from Dayton, Ohio, on Tuesday night and dropped theoretical bombs on Governor's Island as part of the aerial war manoeuvres.

Lieut. Odas Moon piloted the bomber and Captain Ross Hoyt was in charge of the refueling plane. They flew here from Bolling Field, Washington, where the bomber prevented the refueling demonstration.

OCEAN FLIERS ARE AWAITING GOOD WEATHER

Endurance Fliers At Fort Worth, Texas, And New York Still In Air Today.

Old Orchard Beach, Maine, May 23.—(AP)—Simultaneous take-off of two planes on trans-Atlantic flights, one bound for Rome and the other Paris, appeared in prospect today with announcement that the French plane, Bernard-191, would be brought here from Roosevelt Field, N. Y., for its flight to the French capital.

Amano Lotti, Jr., backer of the French flight, after an inspection of the hard sand beach here said his plane would be flown here as soon as weather conditions permit. The plane, in which Lotti, Jean Assolant and Rene Lefevre will be occupants, has been at Roosevelt Field for several days awaiting favorable weather conditions for its flight to Paris. Lotti said the beach here would permit a safer take-off than Roosevelt Field.

Meanwhile, departure of the monoplane "Green Flash" for Rome has been put over at least until tomorrow by stormy conditions over the Atlantic.

Fort Worth, Tex., May 23.—(AP)—The endurance monoplane Fort Worth, completed its 92nd hour in the air at 7:35 o'clock this morning.

The plane was refueled with 110 gallons of gasoline and 4 1-2 quarts of oil in the tenth contact with the auxiliary ship at 7 a. m. Food, changes of clothing, newspapers and mail were lowered to the pilot, R. L. Robbins and James Kelly.

If the Fort Worth is still aloft at 6:15:15 p. m., Saturday the "Quedion Mark's" record of 150 hours, 40 minutes and 15 seconds will have been equalled. An additional hour would set a new record.

Kelly, the assistant pilot, has a dangerous task each day of crawling to a specially constructed perch beneath the nose of the plane to grease the rocker arms of the engine.

Spence Acquitted In Murder Case

Anderson, S. C., May 22.—(AP)—Paris B. Spence, 22, today stood acquitted on a charge of murder, preferred against him after the body of Mrs. Clara Bryson Adams, partially decomposed, was found in the Saluda river near here early in March.

It took a jury only 30 minutes to reach the verdict late yesterday. All the morning session was taken up with the defence testimony. Five witnesses testified, among them being Spence who told of his affairs with the Dewey Rose, Ga., woman. Arguments and the judge's charge completed, the case went to the jury at 6:12 p. m. At 5:42 Spence was a free man.

Other testimony was introduced to show that the woman had been seen early in February, at a time Spence was in Detroit. Spence's mother, Mrs. C. C. Spence, testified the saw Mrs. Adams on February 6. This was more than a month after Spence and Mrs. Adams had taken a trip together to Tennessee, she said.

Spence told the jury he had been pursued by the 50-year-old woman and had left a job in an Emerson, Co., cotton mill to escape her attentions. A trip to Tennessee was made with her, he said, but he deserted her and had not seen her since.

BOTH HOUSES OF CONGRESS SPEEDING UP

Vote On All Bills Under Consideration In Prospect As Work Speeds Up.

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—The legislative machinery of both Senate and House was tuned up today to push the bills before them toward a vote, but the committees which represent them in their disagreement over farm relief were still deadlocked on the export debenture question.

The House was called to meet an hour later than usual—at 1 p. m.—to give the Republican majority three hours to confer on a special rule to govern the offering of amendments to the tariff bill. Republican leaders were confident that objections raised in their ranks to various schedules in the bill had been satisfied sufficiently to enable the majority to get together on a rule, shut off general debate and take up the measure for amendment tomorrow.

The special rule favored by some of the Republican leaders would fix a time for a vote on the bill and limit the offering of amendments to members of the ways and means committee. The Republican members of that committee met last night to give further consideration to amendments desired by dissatisfied groups.

One group comprising fifty members from seventeen states agreed yesterday to support the proposed increase in the duty on Cuban sugar to 2.00 cents a pound.

The Senate was under agreement to limit debate on the census re-apportionment bill after 3 p. m. today, making a vote before adjournment possible. The measure, which provides for the 1930 census and compliance with the constitutional requirement for reapportionment in accordance with each decennial enumeration has been the "unpublished business" of the Senate for some days but has aroused little discussion.

The farm bill conference, meanwhile, continued optimistic though still at odds. The House group has insisted that the export debenture proposal be eliminated from the Senate bill before other differences between that measure and the one passed by the House are discussed. Senate spokesmen, on the other hand, have urged that the House vote on the debenture plan, either directly as a farm bill conference issue or indirectly as a tariff proposal, so that, if defeated, they could ask the Senate to eliminate it from the bill without the danger of another prolonged debate on the question.

The manufacturers committee also was called to take action on the proposal of Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, for an investigation of labor troubles in the textile industry, and the interstate commerce committee to continue its hearing on the bill to set up a federal communications commission.

Refer Textile Probe To Federal Trade Commission

Washington, May 23.—(AP)—The Senate manufactures committee today voted 6 to 5 to refer the proposed investigation into labor conditions in the textile industry to the Federal Trade Commission.

The resolution will be reported to the Senate in that form. Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, the author, will make a fight to have the investigation conducted by a Senate committee as originally proposed.

Because of the close division in the committee another sharp line-up is in prospect in the Senate on whether to refer the inquiry to the

GREENVILLE DROPS ONE TO FAYETTEVILLE

Two walked batsmen and a wild fling to first by Edmonds, Greenville third baseman, enabled Fayetteville to take a pitchers' battle here yesterday afternoon by the score of 3 to 1. It was a heart-breaking finish to a game that had brewed along for eight innings without either side being able to score more than one run each and gave the Scots a good boost for higher honors in the standing of clubs' column.

The two runs that put the game on ice for the visitors came in the first half of the ninth inning. Finlator and Walters were given free trips to the first sack by Jeffers and advanced a base each on the play of Orvin's grounder from pitcher to first. Benin hit to the third corner, and Edmonds threw low to the first sack, the ball bounding past Jones and permitting the two runs to race home. The first tally came in the sixth on a double and subsequent larceny of the home bag by Frisbee. Greenville scored their only run in the third frame on a single by Nalbock after Clemmons had been hit by the pitcher. They staged several more dangerous looking rallies after that time but inability to hit opportunely prevented the runners from making a complete circuit of the bases. The final rally that set the grandstand and bleachers wild came in the last half of the ninth. Nalbock, with two down, doubled. Pasquella singled, but Crump retired the side with a slashing grounder to second base.

The game at the outset developed into one of the finest displays of hurling on the circuit this season. Shoaf, for the visitors, and Jeffers, for the Greensies, hurled brilliantly throughout the game, proving decidedly stingy in pinches when the slightest kind of a hit would have resulted in additional runs. Greenville secured a total of eleven hits off Shoaf's delivery, while the Scots touched Jeffers for only six.

Orvin, Scot second sacker, walked off with hitting honors of his club, getting two of the six tallies hung up during the game. Edwards, hefty right fielder of the local club, lead with the stick. He was closely followed by Williams and Nalbock, who were credited with three safeties each.

Fayetteville will complete the series here this afternoon. The locals will play in Kinston tomorrow.

The box score follows:

	AB	R	H	O	A	E
Fayetteville	27	3	6	27	17	0
Greenville	27	1	11	27	15	2

GIANTS SPLIT DOUBLE BILL

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN, Associated Press Sports Writer.

Fans at Ebbets Field yesterday saw the Giants narrowly avoid going into the last place. Master Edward Moore, the miniature second baseman, came all the way from Toledo to drop-kick a double play ball about the lot in the tenth inning of the nightcap with one out and the bases full of Giants.

The performance of Master Moore enabled Fred Fitzsimmons to take a 7 to 4 decision over Lou Koupal and Doug McWeeny after Clise Dudley had pitched the Robbings in a 3 to 2 triumph in the opener.

The rest of the fighting in the National League was mainly for exercise. The Phillies ceased to be the Phillies at Boston, but the Braves once more became the Braves. The result was a twin triumph for the Baker Boys, 6 to 3 and 13 to 4.

The Cubs and the Cardinals took an afternoon off, but the Pirates cornered the hapless Reds at Forbes Field and administered an 11 to 2 humiliation.

The American League situation is daily becoming more and more alarming for Miller Huggins, but it is not yet of record that any of the little Miller's seven fellow managers has lost so much as a minute's sleep over the situation.

The master mind of sportsman's park thought his way into second place yesterday as Rip Collins pitched the St. Louis forces to a 7 to 3 triumph over Red Faber and the White Sox, while the Senators were snapping their losing streak in two plays at the Yankee Stadium, the Athletics polished off the Red Sox in Philadelphia with little or no effort, 16 to 2.

The day's campaigning left the Athletics with a lead of two and one-half games over the Browns. The Yanks were a game behind the Browns.

Walter Miller again pitched smart ball in defeating the Tigers by 7 to 4 at Navin Field in the remaining American League fixture.

Rocky Mount Again Takes League Lead

(By the Associated Press.)
Rocky Mount and Durham continued as pace setters in the Eastern Carolina and Piedmont Leagues, respectively, yesterday, the Buccaneers bumping Kinston, 9 to 4, while the Bulls shaded High Point, 4-3.

The victories brought double satisfaction to the two league leaders since second place clubs in both leagues dropped their contests. Goldsboro dropped not hit the offerings of Thomasen with success and lost to Wilmington, 6 to 2. Rube Crews' pitching came in for a heavy battering as Greensboro went down before Winston-Salem, 9 to 3.

Salisbury pulled out of the Piedmont cellar with an 8 to 3 victory over the Henderson Bunnies. A ninth inning rally won for Fayetteville, 3 to 1, from Greenville in the other Eastern Carolina game. In both leagues the clubs meet the same opponents today as yesterday.

By ALAN J. GOULD

New York, May 23—(AP)—For no legitimate reason whatever, some alarm seems to have been felt out on the Pacific Coast that the Rocky Mountains or the long trip or something will stymie the eastern golf talent for the national amateur championship, to be played over the Pebble Beach course at Del Monte in September.

The far west has now received assurances that Bobby Jones will defend his title but apprehension still seems to exist that the boys in the northeastern sector will not be eager for the long jaunt.

The facts are that so far as the main talent is concerned, the east, south and middle west will be as formidably represented at Pebble Beach as it was at Braeburn last season. The long trips never have deterred the club-swingers from Portland, San Francisco, and Los Angeles. Likewise the trip in the opposite direction will be no barrier for the players of the Atlantic seaboard area. In fact, it may be an inducement.

The United States Golf Association officials confidently expect one of the finest fields in years to participate in the first championship tournament ever held beyond St. Louis. At least one special train will be chartered for the trans-continental journey from New York and another train load likely will bear the middle western enthusiasts to the coast.

Furthermore, any possible diminishment in numbers in the eastern delegation will more than be made up by drawing upon the talented resources of the wide open spaces beyond the Mississippi.

To make his two main championship bids this season, Bobby Jones will travel farther than in any year since 1926, when he won the British open at Yytham and St. Anne's and the American open at Columbus, Ohio.

After matching strokes with Farrell Hagen, Horton Smith and a few others on the outskirts of New York, the eminent Georgian will have nothing much to do until he packs up his bags to go to California.

The far west has had no conspicuous hand in the event of amateur championship honors since George Von Elm, the blond slugger, stopped Bobby Jones in the 1926 finals at Baltusrol. But Von Elm shifted ports and will be among the invaders at Del Monte this year.

The Pacific Coast expects to cut into the championship fight more heavily, with greater forces to draw upon, led by such seasoned club swingers as "Doc" Willins, Frank D'Op, Don Mac and Don Stein.

LES BANGS IS RELEASED BY THE GREENIES

Les Bangs, manager of the Greenville baseball club, has been released, it was announced by club officials today. It was understood that the release became effective last night.

Simultaneously with the announcement came the statement that the management of the club would temporarily be in the hands of President Guy Smith. It was stated that negotiations were a ready in progress to obtain a successor to the former Virginia League pilot, but the name of the prospect was not divulged.

Reason for the release of Bangs was not given out. Bangs assumed the leadership of the Greenville club at the beginning of the season. He is a former player and manager of Virginia League clubs, having also seen action in other circuits.

President Smith was silent today regarding the dismissal of the veteran player and manager, merely stating the club would be under his personal direction for the next several days.

Nut-Sweet Flavor

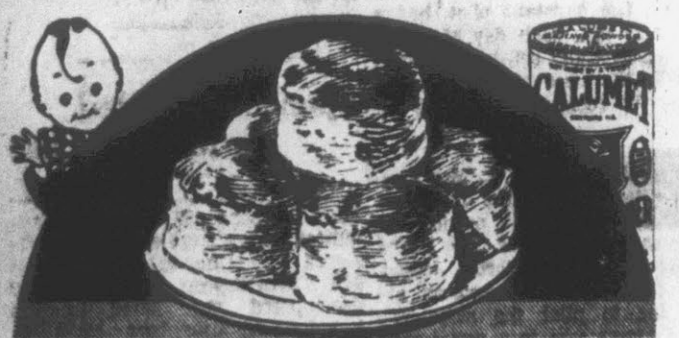

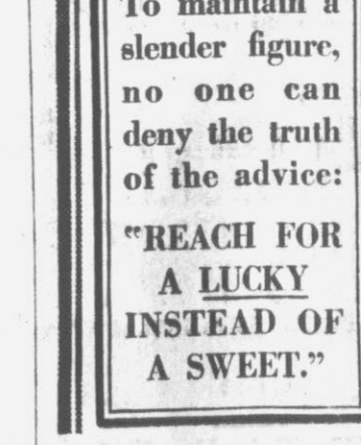

It takes three years to produce Lucky Strike's flavor. This unrivaled cigarette is a blend of finest tobaccos from each of three consecutive growths—the cream of the crop. Then comes the secret toasting process which in the opinion of 20,679* physicians makes Lucky Strike less irritating than other cigarettes. This exclusive heat treatment also purifies the tobacco and adds a touch of nut-sweet flavor—appetizing, delicious, different—the earmark of one of the world's most popular products.

MRS. WHITE ENTERTAINS SANS SOUICI BOOK CLUB

Mrs. S. T. White was gracious hostess to the members of the Sans Souci Club on Tuesday afternoon. Colorful flowers from the garden of the hostess gave the home the charm of springtime. The usual business session was short and interesting.

Mrs. Marvin Blount delighted the members of the club with her charming presentation of American Grand Opera. With the writer, one traced the development of Grand Opera in America, from the days of the conies till today, when the Metropolitan, the Chicago Civic Opera, and the Ravinia Park Summer Opera companies are regarded the best opera organizations in the world. The complete story of numbers of operas was told in a most interesting manner.

Particularly interesting was the history of "The King's Henchman," a performance of which was seen by some of the members recently in Raleigh. "Robin Hood," the popular and familiar favorite of light opera, was delightfully reviewed. A discussion of Victor Hugo's light opera recalled the days when every newsboy was whistling "Babes in Toyland" and "Naughty Marietta."

Mrs. W. L. Hall and Miss Bessie Brown delighted the members with selections from the operas which had been discussed.

The hostess served delicious refreshments, during the service of which the Victrola played "The Chocolate Soldier" and "The Merry Widow Waltz."

Former Service Men Urged To Apply For Adjusted Compensation Certificates

"The American Legion has learned that several World War veterans in this state have neglected applying for their adjusted compensation certificates. These veterans will incur serious financial loss if they do not apply before the closing date of January 2, 1930. Should the veteran who has failed to apply, die, his dependents will suffer substantial loss in the amount of the adjusted certificate should they make application."

This statement calling upon veterans to apply for their adjusted compensation certificates before it is too late made today by A. B. Corey, post commander of the American Legion here.

"In one of the greatest legislative endeavors in its history, the American Legion obtained enactment of the adjusted compensation act benefiting all veterans of the World War. This law became effective May 19, 1924, which allowed ample time for all veterans to take advantage of the offer. This measure provided for adjustment in pay for veterans of the World War of $1 for each day of home service and $1.25 for each day of overseas service between the dates of April 5, 1917, and July 1, 1919. No credit was allowed for sixty days of service or less and if the sum was less than $50 it was paid. The adjusted compensation certificates represent very much an endowment insurance policy and are payable at the end of twenty years after issuance. They have a cash loan value after the second year that increases annually. Regional officers of the United States Veterans' bureaus loan on the certificates to the veterans.

"The Legion learned that many veterans had failed to take advantage of this Federal bonus when the closing day for filing under the original act arrived. For the benefit of the tardy ones, the Legion obtained an amendment to the World War adjusted compensation act effective December 31, 1927, which extended the time in which veterans might apply to January 3, 1930. The closing date for application is again approaching and it seems improbable that the time limit will be extended beyond January 2, 1930.

"Some very sad cases of veterans who, through carelessness, failed to apply for adjusted compensation have been called to the Legion. To obtain the maximum benefit under this adjusted compensation act, a veteran must make application himself. If deferred until after his death, dependents of the veteran, upon making application, do not receive nearly as much as though the veteran had applied.

"For instance, if a veteran 33 years old who has the maximum of overseas service should apply, he would receive certificate payable in 20 years of $1,570. But should this veteran fail to apply and die in the meantime, his dependents would, upon making application, receive only $625. In addition, had the veteran applied, the certificate would have been payable upon death in a lump sum. The dependents would receive a decreased amount not in a lump sum, but in a series of installments.

"At Rocky Point, N. Y., recently the Legion found a veteran who died without making application for adjusted compensation. As a result of this neglect, his widow and two children, suffered a loss of $850. In Indiana a veteran called upon the department service officer the other day and obtained all necessary blanks for making application. He let them lay around several days and was killed in an automobile accident before sending them in. His widowed mother could ill afford the loss she incurred in the amount of adjusted compensation she received. Similar losses have been reported in this state.

"Crushy" wins in the tasting test

here's how.

The Orange-Crush Dispenser, at all soda fountains (with "Crushy" on the medallion).

THIS was the test, tried on ten able business men, in different lines, in the "fountain room" of a laboratory—one of the best in America.

Before each man came in, the juice of a fine, full ripened orange was squeezed into each of four glasses. The fifth was filled with Orange-Crush with its touch of added fruit acid and color. Each man in turn was told to select the glass containing the best orange juice after trying them all.

Each of the ten promptly selected the glass of Orange-Crush as containing the best orange juice he had ever tasted. And it did!

Orange-Crush is giving new life to the soda fountain, providing that different drink of fine, zestful flavor—giving new and refreshing variety to the inviting ice cream specialties served there.

ALL-STEEL BUILT like a SAFE

Put two months ago General Electric announced the first ALL-STEEL refrigerator ever built.

The all-steel refrigerator cannot warp. It is strong—built to last. The doors, fitted by hand at the factory, retain their close fit.

The General Electric mechanism is permanently self-oiling, hermetically sealed in a steel casing and mounted up on top, safe from dust and difficulties. Quietly, economically, it constantly maintains the temperature in the refrigerator at several safe degrees below the danger line of 50. It freezes ice cubes rapidly.

These six new models are offered at very low prices on conveniently spaced payments. The small family model, at the factory, is priced at $215.

Listen in on the General Electric Hour every Saturday, 8 to 9 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, over the N. B. C. network of 42 stations.

GOLD BULLETS

by Charles G. Booth

SYNOPSIS: Driven into the deserted livery saloon by the storm of the Skull Valley sandstorm, John Peebles is pursued in the dark by an unknown enemy. From behind the bar on the first floor, Peebles flees from his assailant's bullets to a gallery on the floor above. Peebles hurries a chair at the man, grapples with him and is thrown against the wall. As he strikes it, he discovers a small door, through which he crawls into another room. The door bolted, Peebles collapses, temporarily safe from his attacker.

POKER FACES

The storm lashed at the building and loose boards rattled like skeletons dancing in a closet. I was vaguely aware of the man investigating the other side of the wall. He would rap on the door with the butt of his pistol, then hurl himself upon it, but without effect. I was too ill to care and too dazed to move. Some time passed and then I heard him no more.

Presently I began to feel better. The room was pitch black. I still had a single match. Treasuring it between my fingers, I was loth to use it.

If I struck the match the flame would burn out and I would have lost my last anchorage in reality. In a way, I think I feared the light even more than I did the dark, for I had an uncanny sense of something fresh horror awaiting me. This sounds absurd, but it will indicate to you the abnormal state of my mind and how unfitted I was to pass on the nature of what was to follow.

I tried to rid my mind of its obsession by focusing my attention on the events that had brought me to this graveyard town. Gold bullets, poker chips, playing cards, the man "Jerry", Andrew Ogden and Alex Peterson the same man, blackmail Mrs. Joe Lundy, Dillon, Jerry flying for his life—but it wasn't Jerry! Nathan Hyde? Jerry and Lucy driving into the randblast. And then who had fired on me at the mine? Furie—Dillon? Dillon—Furie? Furie—?

"God help me!" I thought. "It can't be real! Or else I am going mad!"

I found, then, that the storm had stopped. When I did not know for I had lost track of time. The silence was more devastating to my tortured nerves than the uproar which had preceded it. I wanted to weep to laugh, to scream, to dash my head against the floor.

And then I made a discovery. The room wasn't as dark as it had been when I fell in through the door. I made out the shape of a small window on the north side of the room. As I continued to stare at the window a paralyzing coldness came over my body.

I was not alone in the room! Two men were sitting facing each other over a table in front of the window. The outline of their heads and shoulders merged into the shadows which enclosed the frame, but they were unmistakably there. That is, unless I were mad, and I was not at all sure that I was not! They must know I was here. Why didn't they speak, or come to me? They sat perfectly still. Why didn't they move? They sat in darkness. Why didn't they make a light?

I moved my lips in speech—but no word fell from them, and I hammered on the floor with my fists. Again I tried to speak, this time with better success.

"Say, there! I wish you'd help me."

The two men neither spoke nor moved.

That paralyzing coldness began to creep over me again, but I shook it off. Struggling mightily, I managed to get to my haunches. Then I remembered the solitary match in my hand. The very thing to attract their attention!

I drew the match sharply across the floor, but it must have been defective, for while the phosphorus flared up it did not light the stick, but hissed and sputtered and began to go out. The brief and feeble flame made little impression on the dark face of the room but it did slightly illuminate the surface of the table. At what I saw I dropped the match and it dropped down on my back again. "I am mad, or else I am dreaming!" I said quite loudly.

The two men did not speak.

Silent, stony figures at the table—their flesh was cold. In that moment of light I had seen playing cards and stacks of poker chips on the table. The two men were playing poker in the dark and their cards were exposed! It was a showdown. Crouched against the floor, I fought the horror rising in my breast. I was asleep! That was it, of course. Afterwards, I would laugh at my crazy nightmare! And yet—and yet—I ran my hands over the floor. Sand secured my finger ends. I felt of my body—thin and bony but real enough. Breathing deeply, I lifted my eyes to the window and shoulders were seen there. "Well," I said aloud. "If you want to sit in the dark pretending to play poker, why shouldn't you? It's your business, isn't it? And if you don't choose to take notice of me I can just ignore you."

But this nonesense didn't check my rising hysteria, which suddenly got the better of me. "Who are you?" I shrieked. Silence still. "What are you doing there? You can't play poker in the dark! You can't make a fool of me!" I pounded on the floor with my fists. No response. "For God's sake speak to me!" I screamed. "Who—who are you?" Still that devastating silence. I got to my hands and knees and crawled towards the table. "Why don't you speak to me?" I begged. "I can't stand it! I'll make you talk! What are you?" Sliding my hand over the edge of the table, I clutched one of the playing cards. That, at least, was real, and I thrust it into a pocket. Steadying myself with the table, I climbed to my feet. I thought I would fall, but somehow I managed to remain standing.

My trembling hand went out to the arm of the figure on my right. I felt a start, but it was a start half-blinded. I could make nothing definite of the man, but there was a "st" beneath the shirt. I fearfully ran my hand up to the shoulder. No word of movement from the figure. "Speak to me!" I implored. "A word! Oh, please!" Still that dreadful silence. Horror crawled along my arm, my hand crept along the shoulder to the neck, and then to the face. The flesh was cold. Something snapped in my brain. All feeling went out of my arms and legs and body and I pitched senseless to the floor. (Copyright, 1929, Wm. Morrow Co.)

Its style is the first indication of its big car qualities

One look at the New Pontiac Big Six and you know that here is something different in low-priced motor cars. It has the proportions, the rakish lines and the style of a fine big automobile. And this is your first indication of the big car qualities with which it is endowed.

If you will follow your impulse and look inside the car, you will see that Fisher designers have given it big car leg room and head room as well as big car appearance. You will see luxurious upholstery covering deep, inviting seats. You will see such unusual conveniences as foot control for the headlights, a coincidental transmission and ignition lock and an adjustable driver's seat.

We are prepared to give you a special demonstration which will show you the value of the many features which the New Pontiac Big Six provides. Come in for this demonstration and learn how you can step up in motor car quality without leaving the low-priced field.

Prices $745 to $895, f. o. b. Pontiac, Michigan, plus delivery charges. Bumpers and rear fender guards, spring covers and Lovjoy shock absorbers regular equipment at slight extra cost. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.
