YOUNG PRINCE SUCCUMBS TO BULLET WOUND

Prince DeSagan Victim Of Self-Inflicted Injuries Resulting From Love Affair.

Paris, May 28.—(AP)—Prince De Sagan, 18-year-old son of the former Anna Gould, died this morning after a vain eleven day fight to recover from a bullet wound, self-inflicted when his parents objected to his marrying until he was 21.

Death came suddenly as a result of pleurisy which followed the extraction of the bullet from beneath his lung. Members of his family were at his bedside.

The youthful prince came home to Whitstide from his school in southern France and immediately sought his parents' permission to wed a girl, nearly two years older than himself, whom he had met and with whom he had fallen in love.

She and her parents had accompanied him to Paris and they expected to be married immediately. Instead his father, the Duke De Talleyrand, told him no and insisted he wait until he was 21 years old.

He then sought his mother, the Duchess De Talleyrand, but she took the same position as the father, expressing complete satisfaction with his choice but insisting he wait until he attained his majority. Finally she modified this and told him they might be married when he was 20, in July.

The young man protested that if they did not grant him permission to marry at once he would shoot himself but his mother did not take him seriously. She scarcely had left him when she heard a shot and turned to have him fall almost in her arms.

He was taken to a private hospital where the bullet was extracted. It having penetrated between the liver and heart.

The girl immediately was notified and remained with him hour after hour in the vain hope she would be able to aid his recovery. Her hope and that of his grief-stricken parents, who considered they had caused his action, was futile, however, and today, eleven days after he shot himself, he died.

OCEAN FLIGHTS STILL HELD UP BY ELEMENTS

Two Europe-Bound Planes Landlocked At Airfield In Old Orchard, Me.

Old Orchard, Me., May 28.—(AP)—Continued unfavorable flying conditions over the Atlantic today kept two Europe-bound planes landlocked.

Roger Q. Williams, pilot, and Lewis A. Yancey, navigator, of the monoplane Green Flash, continued to receive unfavorable reports from Dr. James H. Kimball, meteorologist at the New York weather bureau. For more than a week the fliers had hoped for a break in the weather, which would permit a hop-off on their contemplated 4,700 mile flight to Rome.

Jean Assolant, pilot of the French plane, Yellow Bird, awaited word from his companions Armine Lotti, sponsor of the Paris hop, and Rene Lefevre, navigator, to prepare the big French plane for its projected flight to Paris.

Lotti and Lefevre are in New York to obtain detailed weather reports.

G. T. Roberson Dies At Bethel; Burial Tomorrow

Mr. Roberson leaves surviving him his widow, who was Mrs. Linnie Whitehurst; two sons, Alton A. Roberson, now in U. S. Navy with headquarters at New York City, and Lee Roberson of New Orleans, La.; one brother, Bynum Roberson of Robersonville, and two sisters, Mrs. W. G. Taylor of Robersonville, and Mrs. Jane Mobley of Williamston.

He was a very active member of his church, a most successful farmer and took great interest in all matters for the betterment of his community.

Hoover Announces The Resignation of Mrs. Willebrandt

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt today submitted her resignation as assistant attorney general to President Hoover who made the announcement.

Mrs. Willebrandt submitted her resignation March 4, along with all other appointive officers in the government. The resignation was not accepted by President and she remained at her post at his request, despite the offer to have the government appoint a successor.

The assistant attorney general now has received another offer regarded as an unusual opportunity and the President does not feel that he can ask her to remain longer at her present post.

MAYOR URGES OBSERVANCE OF POPPY DAY

J. C. Lanier Calls On Public To Carry Out Spirit Of Occasion Here.

I wish to take this opportunity to urge our citizens to carry out the spirit of "Poppy Day" by contributing liberally to this most worthy cause. The ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary are giving their time and efforts to raise money for the disabled soldiers of the World War, and all of us should help them and make their efforts a success.

I am sure that every one knows that every cent of money raised from the sale of poppies goes to provide the comforts of life for those wounded men who are in government hospitals. There is a great number of these men in the hospital at Ocean without a dollar except as it is furnished them from funds raised from poppy sales.

The poppies that will be offered for sale were made by these disabled soldiers. Each little flower represents the labor of the fingers of some man who lost his opportunity to earn a living because of injuries received in fighting for his country.

I appeal to the people of our community to "buy a poppy," and pay for it as you feel you are able to contribute to this cause.

Sincerely,
J. C. LANIER, Mayor.

Mother And Three Children Victims Of Escaping Gas

Marlinsburg, W. Va., May 28.—(AP)—A mother and her three children were found dead in their home here today with gas escaping from open jets in a stove. Police believe the woman had been brooding over the death of her own mother and took the lives of the little family.

The body of the mother, Mrs. Clara Mansford, 39, was found on the floor of the kitchen. Nearby on feather beds lay the children, Elizabeth, 11, Fanny, 10, and John, Jr., 8. The woman apparently had carried the beds from upstairs rooms and placed them in the kitchen. Windows and doors were closed tightly. Mrs. Mansford's stepchildren, Pearl and Ethel Mansford, were asleep on the second floor and were not disturbed.

Her husband, John Mansford, was at work during the night.

Nine Persons Killed In Alabama Mine Explosion

Yolande, Ala., May 28.—(AP)—Nine men were killed and two others severely burned in an explosion 1,000 feet below the surface in the Connerville mine last night. Officials of the Yel Coal & Coke Company, operators of the mine, said their inspectors reported the blast was caused by an over-charge of dynamite.

The bodies were recovered early today by rescue crews who worked throughout the night fighting flames that enveloped the workings flowing the explosion. The twelfth member of the night crew climbed from the shaft uninjured.

The dead, including seven white men and two negroes, are: Grover Herring, Eugene Herring, son of Grover Herring, Bill Kimbrel, Charley Patterson, Barclay Turner, Will Kelly and Harry Kelly, brothers.

Phil Grees and Allen Pearson, negroes.

NEGRO SHOT IN RAID ON RUM STILL

Leslie Cotton, Axe In Hand, Winged By Deputy Sheriff In Belvoir Township

Leslie Cotton, Belvoir township negro, was confined in a local hospital today suffering from injuries sustained when he was shot by a deputy sheriff during a raid on a still in the Belvoir community late yesterday afternoon. Another negro by the name of Elias Thiapen escaped during the raid, but was taken into custody sometime later. Three gallons of contraband whiskey and a still, which the negroes were said to have been operating, were captured by the officers.

Cotton was shot in the shoulder one time with a .38 caliber revolver by Deputy Sheriff Tucker, who was chasing Thiapen when he was suddenly confronted by Cotton with an axe in hand, preparing to land a knockout blow. The officer brought his gun into play and the negro dropped with the first discharge. Cotton was at first thought to have been seriously injured but an examination after his arrival at the hospital showed that the wound, although painful, was not considered necessarily serious.

Miss Fannie Nobles Passes Away in Ayden

Miss Fannie Nobles, 28 years of age, died at her home in Ayden at an early hour this morning, according to information reaching Greenville today. She had been in a declining state of health for several months and death was not unexpected. Complete funeral arrangements had not been completed today.

Miss Nobles was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Nobles. She had spent the most of her life in Ayden where she was born. She was a member of the Ayden Methodist Church and took much interest in activities of the congregation prior to her illness.

Col. Lindbergh Marries Ambassador's Daughter; Go On Secret Honeymoon

Englewood, N. J., May 28.—(AP)—Taking a waiting world completely by surprise, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his bride, the former Anne Morrow were away on a secret honeymoon today.

The marriage took place without previous announcement at about 4 p. m. yesterday in the drawing room of the home of the bride's father, Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow. Half an hour later the couple drove away from the estate unaccompanied, apparently bound for New York.

The Rev. Dr. William Adams Brown, professor of systematic theology at Union Theological Seminary, performed the ceremony in which a simplified form of the marriage service, with the word "obey" omitted, was used. He is a Presbyterian as are members of the Morrow family. Mr. Morrow is a member of the Seminary board and he and Dr. Brown are old friends.

Only members of the Morrow family and Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, the colonel's mother, witnessed the ceremony. These included the Ambassador and Mrs. Morrow, the bride's two sisters, Elizabeth and Constance, General and Mrs. Jay Johnson Morrow, brother and sister-in-law of the ambassador, and Miss Alice Morrow, his sister.

So quickly and quietly was the wedding held that it was 6:30 p. m. before the public knew that the marriage on which its attention has been centered since announcement of the engagement February 12 last, had taken place was furnished by Mrs. Edwin L. McVaine, of Meadville, Pa., sister of Ambassador Morrow.

A telegram from her brother said: "Anne and Charles married very quietly this afternoon. Betty and I regret your absence, but there seemed no other way after the sudden decision last night."

Mrs. McVaine said she was informed by telephone that the wedding was advanced at the request of Miss Morrow because she was annoyed by the publicity and the insistence of reporters and curiosity seekers for information.

The wedding was entirely informal. The bride wore a simple white chiffon dress, made by Miss Mary Smith, an Englewood dressmaker, who has sewed for the Morrow family for years. The bride had a short veil and in her ungloved hands carried a bouquet of blue larkspur which had been picked in the gardens of the Morrow estate by her fiancée a few moments before the ceremony.

Colonel Lindbergh wore a blue business suit of the sort that has been his favorite garb in flights about the country.

Each guest was given a piece of the wedding cake.

Dr. Brown describing the wedding said: "There were no special decorations. The very simplest wedding ceremony was used at the request of the family. It was a very unusual and very brief ritual, designed to use a minimum of words and time.

"There was no best man and there were no bridal attendants."

Possibility that the couple were planning a flying honeymoon was seen in orders received at Roosevelt Field from Colonel Lindbergh that his blue Falcon plane be conditioned and ready for flight.

At the field the only information obtainable was that a faulty oil line had been repaired and the plane found in perfect condition after a test flight.

Dispatches from North Haven, Me., where the Mowrows have a summer home, quoted Mrs. Hubert O. Grant, wife of the caretaker, as saying that there had been no instructions to prepare for the arrival of Colonel Lindbergh and his bride and that the house was being renovated and painted.

After the wedding it was learned that the marriage license was obtained by Colonel Lindbergh five days ago, May 22, the second anniversary of his historic landing at Le Bourget Field, Paris. John A. Manson, register of the Englewood Board of Health, who issued the license, was pledged to secrecy.

REPARATIONS CONFERENCE SHOWS LIFE

Statisticians And Accountants Reported Hard At Work At Paris Today.

Paris, May 28.—(AP)—The reparations conference which seemed in a coma until the past twenty-four hours was showing signs of reviving today and statisticians and accountants of the committee were hard at work figuring on different combinations by which it was hoped a final failure of the committee to solve the reparations problem may be avoided.

It has been proposed to date the application of the annuities suggested by Owen D. Young from September instead of April. This would give the creditors five months more of payments under the Dawes plan of 250,000,000 marks (about $84,000,000) more than under the first Young annuity, if dated from April. Two other combinations also were being discussed but thus far nothing like an agreement had developed.

Paris, May 28.—(AP)—Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, chief German delegate at the reparations conference, today went to get a breath of fresh air at the country home of a friend outside Paris, and his departure aroused reports in Berlin that he had departed on a mission to the Rhineland.

LONE AIRMAN BEGINS FLIGHT IN CALIFORNIA

Herbert Fahy Makes Second Attempt To Better Jensen's Solo Record.

Metropolitan Airport, Los Angeles, May 28.—(AP)—Herbert J. Fahy, test pilot for the Lockheed Aircraft Company here, took off at 4:43:05 a. m. today in his second attempt to better the solo non-stop mark of 35 hours, 33 minutes and 21 seconds established by Martin Jensen at Roosevelt Field, New York last February.

Fahy's plane was laden with 435 gallons of gasoline, enough to keep him aloft for about forty hours. His first attempt to shatter the record ended here Sunday after a little more than 21 hours in the air when fog had forced him to land. The terms under which he and his plane had been insured required him to stay above Metropolitan airport during the hours of darkness and he declared this had prevented him from moving away from the fog area.

Officials of the Lockheed company, backers of the flight, said the insurance terms had been modified to permit Fahy to move about in case fog again interfered with the flight.

Tobacco Warehousemen To Hold Annual Meeting In Greenville On Saturday

The annual meeting of the East Carolina Warehouse Association will be held at the country club in this city, next Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock, it was announced today.

About 200 tobacco warehousemen from all parts of Eastern Carolina will be in attendance and one of the outstanding sessions of years is anticipated, it was said.

The association embraced all markets in the new bright leaf belt. These markets last season sold a total of 308,879,790 pounds of tobacco for the huge sum of $61,668,621.93.

Tobacco growing is the outstanding industry of this section of the country, and the annual gathering of the warehousemen is always looked forward to with interest by members of the association and others connected with the industry.

As the largest tobacco producing center in the world, Pitt county has arranged a program for this annual meeting in keeping with her prominent position in this great field.

B. B. Surr, president of the association will preside over the session here. The address of welcome will be delivered by J. C. Lanier, mayor of Greenville, J. C. Eagles,

DOZEN HELD IN RIOT AT PITTSBURGH

Truck Driver Shot To Death When Deputy Sheriffs And Crowd Clash in Streets.

Pittsburgh, May 28.—(AP)—A dozen men were under arrest as police investigated a west end riot in which Michael Rockford 24, a truck driver was shot to death early today. Authorities say the riot was the outcome of a clash between deputy sheriffs and a crowd which attacked a milk wagon of the Liberty Dairy Products Company, involved in a labor controversy.

According to police a score or more men stopped the wagon and dragged the driver from his seat. Deputies have been guarding the trucks and wagons since a number of employees quit work in the labor dispute. The deputies ordered the crowd to disperse, according to the police and were stoned by the crowd. Then, it is said, one of the deputies fired into the crowd and Rockford fell.

A court injunction recently was granted restraining the employees from violence.

Committee Favors Publication Of All Future Roll Calls

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Publication hereafter of all roll calls taken in executive sessions of the Senate in the consideration of nominations, was recommended to the Senate today by its rules committee.

The committee also recommended that in the future only a majority vote, instead of the two-thirds now required, be necessary to obtain consideration of a nomination in open session.

HOPE TO GET CENSUS BILL VOTE TODAY

Progress Of Both Houses Increase Hope Of Vacation Before The Fall.

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—The wind-up of House consideration of the tariff bill and progress in negotiations among Senate and House leaders looking to an adjustment of the farm relief conference deadlock over export debentures provided buoyance today to the hopes of Congress for a vacation until fall.

Senate leaders were confident that the census-reapportionment bill could be brought to a vote late today or tomorrow despite the controversy which has developed over the amendment proposed by Senator Sackett, Republican, Kentucky, to exclude aliens from the population count on which representation in the House is to be based.

The farm relief conference committee, which have split on the stand of the House group that the Senate must recede from its position in favor of the export debenture plan before negotiations are undertaken to adjust the difference between the bills passed by the two chambers, were not called to meet this morning, but a feeling of optimism was strongly indicated.

Assured an opportunity to insert the proposal in the tariff bill, Senate leaders believe a sufficient number of debenture advocates can be won over to bring about its withdrawal from the farm measure to expedite completion of that legislation. At the same time, many debenture proponents have been insisting that the House first take action on the proposal as part of the farm bill—a course which the House conference committee has flatly refused to countenance.

The Senate rules committee, meanwhile, was called upon to consider various proposals for amendment of the chamber's rules growing out of the dispute which has developed since the publication of the purported secret roll call on former Senator Lenroot's nomination to the federal bench.

This part of the committee's proceedings in the matter was announced after its failure yesterday to draw from Paul Mallon, United Press correspondent, information as to the source of the Lenroot roll call distributed to newspapers under his name. Many of the proposals before the committee today called for amendment of the rules to end the practice of considering presidential nominations in executive session with members of the Senate pledged not to divulge the proceedings.

Final arguments on behalf of Senator-elect William S. Vare of Pennsylvania, whose right to a seat is being contested by his Democratic opponent in the 1928 election, William B. Wilson, were called for today by the Senate elections subcommittee which has investigated the case. The Senate Interstate Commerce committee also was called to continue its hearing on the federal communications commission proposal.

CREAMERY IS DISCUSSED AT MEETING HERE

Virginia Man Explains Creamery Operation Before Merchants' Association.

A meeting looking to the establishment of a creamery in Greenville was held in the office of the Greenville Merchants Association on Evans street yesterday, at which time interested parties from Virginia met in conference with several local people to discuss the matter.

With J. H. Blount, chairman of the committee from the Merchants Association, presiding, Mr. Rankin, of Roanoke, Va., who had had considerable experience in the creamery business, presented the important things necessary, including legislation for the profitable operation of the creamery.

The chair appointed a committee composed of M. O. Blount, C. W. Harvey, B. B. Suggs, W. H. Dall, to perfect further plans for the establishment of the creamery.

Much interest was manifested in the discussion and members of the local committee declared that the establishment of the creamery seemed a certainty at this time.

THE SOLDIERS' POPPY

A gleaming poppy buy from me today!
A poppy?—Yes, a poppy, bright and red.
Of thread and paper made. Take it, and pay
Your love to those who fought with noble deed.
Twas made by heroes still working for their cause.
"Uncovered by death and all his awful fears."
A poppy—yes, a poppy free from flaws;
A penny for reward, far more than tears.
Heroes, with hearts of gold, you work for dreamed
Of "shining vision, spotless, undefaced,
Until the world, repentant, and redeemed."
Will share the holy peace so far debated.
Retain your faith. Fair Peace will find her hour;
The world will catch the message of your flower.

GOLD BULLETS

by Charles G. Booth

SYNOPSIS: Peebles describes his experiences of the night to Deacon, omitting mention of the poker table. Deacon questions Furie without result, but purloins the lens which Furie always carried. Deacon eliminates Furie as a murder suspect, but theorizes that a quarrel over a new vein in the Ogdens mine ended with Jerry Ogdens stabbing his father. Peebles and Deacon enter the mine and find an immensely rich vein of gold.

A light-beam cut the inky darkness—"we waited, scarcely breathing."

Chapter 26.
"JERRY" AND ANOTHER
I think the discovery of no other form of wealth is comparable with that of virgin gold in its effect upon the human emotions. My brain seemed to have become a well of flame. A strange intoxication gave wings to my feet. And Deacon, who is seldom demonstrative, was similarly affected.

"Looks like that stuff we found in Ogdens' desk," he muttered. "The same," I said unsteadily. "I had it assayed," he went on. "It ran $20,000 to the ton."
I whistled. "If there's any depth or breadth to the vein or if the hanging wall is good, it may run into millions. Hello! What's this?"
We saw it at the same moment. A small square, shining object, it stood in a niche just below the vein. My hand beat Deacon's to it. "A silver snuff-box," he grunted. "It hasn't been here long by the look of it."
"It comes from one of the French Louis periods," I observed.

"Well, whose is it? You look as if you know something."
"It belongs to Nathan Hyde, Henry," I announced significantly.
"Hyde, Hyde," he muttered in perplexity. "It isn't like him to put a valuable down and get it."
I chuckled. "He must have been deeply stirred. Taking snuff from his Louis snuff-box is a sort of a ceremony with Hyde."

Henry nodded reluctantly, pocketing the snuff-box. "Coming upon the vein was enough to make him forget it, eh? Well, we had already concluded he knew something about the mine."
His tone implied that there was nothing more to it than that, but I knew the snuff-box had given him something to think about, and I laughed to myself as we went on into the timbered passage. We had gone some distance in the direction of the original entrance when I stopped abruptly, clutching Deacon by the arm.

I went a little sick, for I have no stomach for the gruesome. I had almost tripped over the skeleton of a tall man. It lay face up, arms folded. A few rags clung to the bones, high-faced boots covered the feet and ankles, a stout leather belt encircled the waist. Undoubtedly the skeleton had lain there many years, but from the uneven distribution of dust on it I judged it had been disturbed recently.
Deacon looked at me gayly. "Who is it, John?"
I knew very well who it was, and so did he. Dropping to our knees, I gently ran my hands through the dust and gravel around and under the skeleton. I brought to light two bone buttons, four metal ones, a bit of candle, a two-inch wire nail and a stub of indelible pencil.

"Somebody else has been at him," Deacon muttered. "Furie probably."
"See this!" I ejaculated.
The fifth right rib of the skeleton was nicked and split in the region of the heart.
"Bullet, by the look of it," Deacon commented.
"Here's something else!" I cried suddenly.
My fingers rummaging below the surface dust beneath the skull had encountered a crackly substance. I drew it forth—a small newspaper, yellow and brittle with age. In spite of my care it split in two as I opened it and spread it on the floor of the tunnel. At this head of the front sheet was the legend:
TORRIDITY FIRBRAND
A Weekly Newspaper
Terrace, South Valley, Cal.
Monday, July 8th, 1896.

Items of local interest occupied the front page: Gun Fight Along Main. Another Hold-up at Lundy's! Bad Medicine Closes Down. And so on.

Part of the top margin of the third page had been torn off. With it had gone the date line. We stared at the torn margin in silence, our hearts pounding in our ears. The curtain had lifted.

"This is where Furie got your pistol, John," Henry said at length.
"This is the pencil," I stared down at the remains below me. "Jerry—what were you to Andrew?" I looked up at Deacon.
"I suppose this was Andrew's reason for keeping the mine closed," he said huskily. "It's a good thing you found the note in that cartridge, John."
"You mean you'd have assumed Andrew had killed this man himself, 30 years ago?"
He nodded. "We should have had to. Andrew steadfastly refused to open the mine. Why? Because of what we have just found: the skeleton of a man who has been murdered. The inference would have been inescapable."
"Demonstrating again the unreliability of circumstantial evidence," I remarked dryly. "Here is my theory: Dillon killed Jerry 30 years ago, and he killed Andrew three days ago. He just found out that he, Dillon, had killed Jerry."
"Perhaps you are right," Henry admitted wearily. "But if you are right, why did Andrew leave this body here instead of giving it proper burial?"

"When we know that we shall know what turned Alex Peterson into Andrew Ogdens," I replied sentimentally. "Depend on it, he had some good reason. Andrew never did anything without reason."
"I wish MacNair was here," Deacon muttered, getting up. "He's got a solid head on his shoulders. This thing is too much for me. You'd better take care of that newspaper. That bit of pencil, too."
The blocked door of the mine was just beyond the body, and we were returning silently to the slash through which we had entered the tunnel when I heard quite distinctly a small sound. Somehow I felt that it was human origin. So did Deacon.

Someone is entering the tunnels—Who is it? Tomorrow's chapter will reveal the secret.

Increased Import Duties Provided By New Tariff; Final Action Is Pending

Washington, May 28—(AP)—Substantial increases in import duties on thousands of commodities of the farm and factory are provided for in the new tariff bill which before tonight is expected to be passed by the House and sent to the Senate.

The measure, the first tariff legislation in seven years, also recommends sweeping changes in administration provisions of the law and a reorganization of the tariff commission under a system designed to speed up its work.

The bill revises, mostly upward rates in every dutiable section of the existing Fordney-McCumber law, which it is designed to supplant.

Every man, woman and child in the country and nearly every foreign nation in the world is affected by the economic changes proposed by the measure in the seven year old Republican protective tariff structure.

Perhaps the most far-reaching change in the advance of sixty-four hundredths of a cent in the effective duty on sugar, rising the present duty of 1.76 cents a pound on Cuban raw sugar to 2.40 cents.

Other rate advances designed to aid the farmer and manufacturer affect such commodities as wool, cattle, dairy products, meats, grain, textiles, glass, furniture and clothing of all descriptions.

Important commodities long allowed free entry into the United States are made dutiable, including hides, leather, boots and shoes, cement, common building brick, shingles, cedar, ample and birch lumber.

The measure also sets up an entirely new rate schedule to embrace manufactures of artificial silk under the official name of "rayon." These goods are protected in existing law under the silk schedule.

From a public standpoint the increases in the sugar rate and the boosting of the duty on raw wool from 31 to 34 cents a pound are regarded as more important than the others. The duties placed on shoes and raises in rates on hundreds of other farm and factory products also will have a bearing on family budgets unless producers absorb the higher imposts instead of passing them on to the consumer.

While the measure is understood to be objectionable in some respects to President Hoover, it meets his request for a reorganization of the tariff commission by providing authority for him to terminate the terms of office of the present six commissioners at his will by the expiration of their terms.

The re-created commission would be composed of seven members, instead of six, and the President would be permitted to ignore political affiliations in making his appointments. Under existing law not more than three commissioners may be of the same political party.

Salaries of the commissioners would be raised from $7,500 to $12,000 and their terms would be for seven years instead of twelve as at present.

To speed up the commissioner's work in determining justification for rate changes, the bill proposed that it may consider differences in conditions of competition between domestic and foreign articles in the principal markets of the United States, instead of differences in cost of production as provided in the present law. Experience has proved that foreign production costs virtually are unobtainable.

The President, in exercising his power under the flexible clause, which authorizes him to raise or lower rates as much as 50 per cent would be allowed, if he deemed it necessary, to raise rates on the American selling price or to reclassify articles in order to effect rate changes.

In addition, the executive would be authorized to investigate methods for basing import duties on some form of domestic valuation instead of foreign valuation as at present, and report to Congress.

WORLD SOVIET CONSUL AT HARBIN, CHINA

HARBIN, Manchuria, China, May 28—(AP)—Chinese officials searching for a Soviet consulate here yesterday, charging the consul and staff with plotting them on charges which have not as yet been revealed.

It was reported that the Chinese authorities were inspired by the Nanking government and were searching for documents which might have implicated the Moscow government in anti-Nationalist activities. Particularly as regards the revolting war lord, Fing Yu Hsiang.

Peking, China, May 28—(AP)—Soviet consular authorities here today said they had heard nothing of arrests made by Sino officials yesterday at the Soviet consulate at Harbin, in Manchuria.

Hogs And Corn Pay Farmers Of North Carolina

"Over four hundred cars of demonstration-fed hogs moved out of North Carolina last year, bringing to the farmers $487,893.97 above the cost of marketing," said County Agent E. F. Arnold today. "Corn fed to these hogs brought more than $1.50 per bushel, yet there are farmers in Pitt county who say there is no money in hogs and corn.

"At present prices of production, corn growing on land producing 15 bushels per acre when fed with the proper supplements, will produce pork at approximately ten cents per pound, live weight, according to results secured by W. W. Shay, swine extension specialist. Mr. Shay finds that if the same conditions prevail and the corn is produced at the rate of 40 bushels per acre, the cost of the hogs, live weight, will be about five cents per pound. With hogs averaging this spring a little more than eleven cents per pound, live weight, it is easily seen which corn yield is most profitable. Hogs and corn, when properly managed, will always pay Eastern Carolina farmers a profit. The cost of corn will be the determining factor in the profit.

"Labor cost of producing 15 and 40 bushels per acre are very nearly the same," continued Mr. Arnold. "The elements that enter into the larger yields are better land, better seed and better fertilization. For this year's crop it is too late to change the land or the seed, but proper fertilization is still possible. Last year 77 carefully conducted demonstrations where an average application of 232 pounds of Chilean Nitrate of Soda was used a side-dressing on corn, gave an average acre increased yield of 20 bushels, or $31 return on every dollar invested in material for side-dressing."

If the corn from an acre yielding 20 bushels and the corn from an acre yielding 40 bushels is properly supplemented and fed to thrifty hogs which sell for $10.00 per 100 pounds, live weight, at the farm, the corn from the acre yielding 40 bushels will return over five times as much profit as that from the acre yielding 20 bushels. Mr. Arnold said. This information was secured from the results of hog feeding demonstrations conducted last year by the Swine Extension office and county agents in North Carolina. The farmers co-operating $37,740.59.

"Why take a small profit from corn produced at 20 bushels per acre when by proper fertilization you can produce 40 bushels and increase your acre profit five times?" asked Mr. Arnold.

Pitt Asks More Money From The Equalizing Fund

A delegation of Pitt county officials and business men went to Raleigh today to ask the Equalization Board to increase its annual appropriation to Pitt county schools. The county last year received $11,000 upon a valuation of $49,000,000 worth of property. Since that time, however, property has been revalued and the figures to be presented to the board will be around the $45,000,000 mark. This figure, it was said, should put the county in line for an appropriation considerably larger than last year. Several counties with smaller valuations last year received several times the amount of Pitt county, and the action brought about revaluation of property in numbers of the counties that suffered from high values.

The following Pitt county men attended the session in Raleigh today: E. G. Dawson, M. K. Blount, Dr. W. W. Dawson, Paul Davenport, W. H. Woolard, C. C. Coppedge and J. D. Rogers.

LIBRARY CALLING IN OLD BOOKS

Quite a number of books taken out of the Greenville Public Library during the spring are now getting overdue. We are quite anxious to get all of these in at once so as to get an exact inventory for the year's report. These books are needed, too so that we may organize our work for the summer months.

As school books are being packed away with all mothers, teachers and children, please send to the library any books that belong to us. Please look through bookcases and library tables in the homes and send in any books bearing the library stamp. If one is sure that a library book charged to him has been misplaced, please call at the library at once and see the librarian about the matter.

CONGRESS PROPER PLACE FOR MRS. RUTH OWEN

Washington, May 28.—(AP)—Congress is "a place as proper as a christian endeavor" to the daughter of William Jennings Bryan, representative Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida.

To Mark Hanna's daughter, representative Ruth McCormick, widow of Senator Joseph Medill McCormick it has meant "a place to preach the profession I had been preaching for so long."

They were telling several hundred business and professional women of the Capital what it meant to be representatives and calling upon their sisters throughout the land to call on into Congress.

Mrs. McCormick defined the profession she had been preaching and was now practicing as politics—"ward, precinct, county and state"—and pronounced it a high calling. To this Mrs. Owen asked leave to say "a fervent amen."

SAILORS WIN FIRST CLASH FROM LOCALS

Wilmington, May 27.—An effort to retire Weafer at first for a double play after one had been nailed at the plate this afternoon cost Greenville a 5 to 4 defeat at the hands of Wilmington when Schofield, perched on second, took advantage of Greenlee's overzealousness to scoot from the keystone sack to the pan with the winning run.

Rainey's drive over left field fence in the eighth inning with Robins on base had tied the score and put Wilmington back in the game. Robins had previously doubled earlier in the game to score two for the Pirates.

Pasquella's home run and Greenville hits back of local errors netted four runs for the visitors.

Thormahlen and Garbee both pitched winning brands of ball but were not accorded support calculated to help a pitcher out in the pinches.

Only five of the nine runs scored were of the earned variety.

Salisbury Too Much For Bulls
 (By the Associated Press)
 The league-leading Durham Bulls with their ace left-hander, Lanning, hurling, found the lowly Salisbury Colonials touch opposition on their home lot yesterday and dropped the series opener, 5 to 1.

Lanning did well until the preobal seventh inning when the Colonials cracked him for four runs. The fifth counter was chalked up in the eighth inning. Zimm, pitching for Salisbury, let Lanning and Wolfe touch him for successive doubles in the second inning for the Bulls' only score.

In the only other Piedmont contest the Henderson Bunnies fell before Greensboro, 6 to 4. Winston-Salem and High Point were rained out.

The tail-end Kingston Stemmers stopped the Rocky Mount Buccaneers' fast sailing at the top of the Eastern Carolina League, winning 5 to 1. J. Hawkins set the Bucs down with six hits and held them scoreless until the ninth inning. While the Buccaneers were losing, the second place Goldsboro Manufacturers moved up a game, taking their fracas with Fayetteville, 3 to 1. Wilmington rallied in the eighth and ninth innings to take the other Eastern Carolina game from Greenville, 5-4.

The same clubs were scheduled as opponents in both leagues today.

MOVE FENCE BACK ON HENDERSON DIAMOND
 Henderson, N. C., May 28.—(AP)—Batters of the Piedmont League, who have enjoyed Henderson's short left field fence to apparently the fullest extent this season, were lamenting today as the barrier was moved back 45 feet to try and stem the orgy of home run hitting which has been prevalent here all year.

Eighteen games have been played here and 44 home runs have been smacked out, with at least one being registered in each contest.

Local fans got tired of the four base bingles when it developed that visiting hitters had collected 26 of them and offered to pay the cost of moving the fence back. The pitcher's heartsily assented and, upon order of the club directors, the fence was moved today. It had been but 294 feet from the plate at its farthest point in left field.

Difference in Fogs
 Friedland, East Prussia—There's a difference of opinion as to the result of extensive tests with artificial fog designed to conceal the country side as protection from air attacks. Some experts say it would merely attract the attention of enemy aviators. Others think the scheme useless. In the tests smoke made by chemicals belched from a big power plant.

GREENVILLE DEFEATS MACON IN SALLY LEAGUE
 Atlanta, Ga., May 28.—(AP)—After tying the count in the eighth, Greenville yesterday rallied for 3 runs in the eleventh to defeat Macon 7 to 4 and enter into a tie for second place in the South Atlantic Association. Brice, Peach pitcher, held the enemy to two hits until the riotous eighth. Asheville, the league leaders, bested Charlotte in opener, 3 to 2.

Spartanburg bunched hits in the fourth and ninth innings to defeat Augusta 5 to 2, and push the Tigers back in the cellar. Knoxville hit freely in four successive innings to pound out a 9 to 2 win over Columbia.

PIRATES CLUB THEIR WAY TO SECOND PLACE

By HERBERT W. BARKER
 (Associated Press Sports Writer.)
 The ferocious Pirates of Pittsburgh won today their way into second place in the National League Pennant race today, with the pace setting position only a bare half game away.

With Jess Petty on the mound for them yesterday, the Corsairs pounded out a 10 to 1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, relegated the Cards to third place in the standings and saw first place only a half game distant when the Chicago Cubs obligingly lost to Cincinnati.

While the Pirates were facing Hallahan and Sherdell for 14 lusty drives, including two home runs by George Grantham, Petty was holding the Cardinals to seven scattered hits to register his second triumph of the season. His only other winning start, also against the Cards, came a month ago. The victory was Pittsburgh's sixth in succession and 10th in the Pirates' last 21 games.

His only other winning start, also against the Cards, came a month ago. The victory was Pittsburgh's sixth in succession and 10th in the Pirates' last 21 games.

The Cubs fell victim to a six-run rally in the eighth at Cincinnati and dropped the decision, 2 to 5, much to the delight of the Reds who had lost nine consecutive games.

Good pitching by Ray Denge and Claude Willoughby gave the Phillies both ends of a double bill with the Boston Braves, 2 to 1 and 3 to 1. Bob Smith lost the first game by passing Barney Friberg with the bases filled in the sixth. Willoughby had a shutout in his grasp in the nightcap until George Harper hit a homer in the ninth.

Over in the American League, the St. Louis Browns shaved a half game of the Philadelphia Athletics' lead by downing Cleveland, 3 to 1. George Blaholder kept eight Cleveland hits scattered and won his second victory of the six-game series of which the Browns took four.

The Chicago White Sox surprised with a double victory over Bucky Harris' Detroit Tigers, 7 to 4, and 6 to 5 in 14 innings. The Sox pulled the first game out of the fire with a four-run rally in the eighth and came from behind to take the second as well. All other Major League clubs had an off day.

British Proposal Talked By Rotes At Dallas, Texas
 Dallas, Tex., May 28.—(AP)—The British proposal to strike the "profit" out of Rotary International's slogan appeared today as perhaps the most mooted item in the business program of the 20th annual convention, attended by some 10,000 in session here.

A vote on the matter is expected Thursday. The Rotary International Association for England and Ireland, through its president, Arthur Chadwick London, yesterday introduced a resolution proposing that the slogan be changed. The resolution declared the motto does not "truly and correctly interpret the ethical aims and objects of Rotary International and is liable to create misconceptions in the minds of some of its members and the public." No substitute was offered.

Other foreign delegates entered the discussion. Alfred Colo, Buenos Aires, asserting that translation of the slogan into many languages sometimes resulted in a treatise for a motto and not a phrase.

The address of the president, I. B. Sutton, Mexico, was the outstanding feature of today's program.

U.S. Missionaries Tell Of Attack By Chinese Communists
 Amoy, Fukien, China, May 28.—(AP)—American missionary refugees, attired in Chinese clothing as disguises, arrived here today from Lungyehow where one of their number, Dr. C. H. Holleman, was made captive by Communists May 23.

The refugees said that 2,000 Communist soldiers attacked the missionary compound of the American Reformed Presbyterian Mission Station. The Russians are furnishing us with money and we are giving our lives. You foreigners are imperialists.

Provincial soldiers numbering 200 offered a futile defense, finally being overpowered by the Communists who razed the mission and forced Dr. Holleman to come with them with the excuse they needed him to treat their wounded. They finally retreated toward the Kwangtung border.

The refugees said the attack was purely anti-foreign since no Chinese houses were molested at all. They were able to make their way to safety only by donning the Chinese attire.

Every effort is being made to communicate with Dr. Holleman through friends and American consular officials.

AGHES AND PAINS ALL DISAPPEARED
 Suffering West Virginia Lady Took Cardui and Felt Better Than In Years.

Atkins, Va.—Mrs. Rozina Kelley, of this place, says:
 "My back gave me a great deal of trouble. It ached periodically, and my sides hurt me. I could not sleep at night. I would toss about and was very nervous."
 "I felt weak and listless. My work was an effort. I worried along, but did not get any better."
 "One day, I read about Cardui. I saw that it had helped women who had the same symptoms from which I was suffering, and so I made up my mind to try it."
 "I got a bottle of Cardui and began taking it. My improvement was noticeable. I began to feel stronger and the pains in my back and sides disappeared. My nerves grew stronger. I did not get upset so easily."
 "After awhile I was well. I felt better than I had in years. My health was restored. I am glad to recommend Cardui to other sufferers."
 Thousands of cases similar to that described above have been reported by users of Cardui.

MISTRIAL IS ORDERED IN DAMAGE SUIT

Inability Of Material Witness To Attend, Brings End To Barnes-A. C. L. Case.
 Owing to the inability of a material witness, Dr. Dave Tayloe, of Washington, to testify this morning, Judge F. A. Daniels, presiding over the second week's session of the civil term of Pitt County Superior Court, ordered a mistrial in the $6,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Mary Barnes against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company. Court immediately recessed until this afternoon, when several other cases awaiting consideration will receive attention.

The damage suit was taken up by the court immediately after convening yesterday morning and it looked like hearing would be completed until Dr. Tayloe failed to put in his appearance. His inability to attend resulted from illness. It was stated.

Mrs. Barnes was seeking damages from the railroad company, alleging that her deceased husband, W. T. Barnes, came to his death as result of the company's negligence in leaving their Fifth street crossing in bad condition.

Mr. Barnes died as result of injuries sustained when a local fire truck which he was driving upset while crossing the railroad track on Fifth street and ran into a telephone pole. The driver received a broken leg and internal injuries from which, it was alleged, he died some time later.

The railroad company, on the other hand, contended that they were not responsible for the wreck. They maintained that the crossing was not in bad condition and that the wreck resulted from other causes.

After an illness extending over a period of several days, Judge Daniels was able to resume the bench yesterday morning. The session last week was presided over by Judge Moore, of Williamson, who acted in the absence of Judge Daniels.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, May 28.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 1/16 points under a renewal of near month liquidation which sent the price of July off to 18.26, or 12 points, net lower. December declined to 18.91, or 4 points below yesterday's close, but there was some buying of the new crop months an unfavorable feature in recent weather reports and expectations that they would be reflected in the weekly report of the weather bureau tomorrow.

Prices generally turned steadier after the early offerings had been absorbed and rallied to about yesterday's closing quotations by the end of the first half-hour. Preliminary cables reported general liquidation in Liverpool and a weak market for Egyptian under selling by Alexandria.

STOCK MARKET

New York, May 28.—(AP)—The storm of selling which has been sweeping through the stock market for the past week appeared to have run its course; at least temporarily, today and prices rebounded in brisk fashion under the influence of strong buying support. A few weak spots cropped out here and there, presumably in reflection of the closing out of weakened marginal accounts, but most of the industrial and railroad leaders met strong support from the outset of the market.

Call money renewed unchanged at 6 per cent and appeared to be in fairly plentiful supply at that figure. Recent liquidation undoubtedly has released a large volume of credit and probably obviated the possibility of a sharp "money pinch" at the end of the month. Barring any sharp revival of bullish activity within the next two days, Wall Street expects a sizeable reduction in broker loans this week, preliminary estimates ranging from $100,000,000 to $300,000,000.

Speculative opinion is still sharply divided as to whether the current rally marks the end of the decline, or is merely a temporary rebound. While several of Wall Street's large operators reported as either loaded with stocks bought at higher levels or bearish on the general market, some observers feel that the market lacks the leadership formerly provided by this group.

A further break in wheat prices today, the May option selling down to a new low at 97 1/4 cents a bushel, had a rather depressing influence. The day's business was generally favorable, including another series of excellent earnings statements.

Atchison was one of the leaders of the day's rally, soaring 10 points to a new high record for all time at 214. New York Central moved up 4 and Colorado & Southern, New Haven and St. Louis Southwestern sold 2 to 3 points higher. Texas & Pacific broke 3 to a new 1929 low at 155.

Public utilities were again in brisk demand. American Water Works, which is expected to announce another stock split-up before the end of the year, rallied more than 6 points to a new high at 172.

General Electric ran up nearly 7 points. United Aircraft, 5 1/2. Curtiss Aero 5 and Sears Roebuck, American Can, Columbia, Carbon, Collier Radio, Westinghouse Electric, Johns Manville and Gillette Vety Razor advanced 3 points or more. Case Threshing and Montgomery-Ward practically wiped out their gains, declines of 6 1/2 and 6 1/2 points, respectively. Industrial Rayon broke 9 points to a new low of 30, which contrasts with the year's high of 135. Easton Axle also sank to new low ground.

Lady Astor Scores Before Communists

London, May 28.—(AP)—A dispatch to the Daily Express, today from Plymouth related how Lady Astor had harranged a crowd of Communists, who began their listening by jeering her but ended by laughing with her and applauding.

Lady Astor, an American born, peeress, was described as holding to the small end of her umbrella and waving it at the crowd which had packed the balconies about the court yard in which she stood.

"So you're a bunch of Bolsheviks, are you?" she cried. The Express correspondent saw one of the women in the balconies about to throw a cabbage at Her Ladyship so he begged Lady Astor not to attempt to continue her address.

"Leave this to me," was her reply.

A big rough man then stepped up and caught Lady Astor by the shoulders but he promptly fled when she turned the club-like attitude on him. Striking a comical attitude then she stalked to and fro elaborating her favorite temperance issue and ending: "Don't believe the damned idiots who come around you with fake promises."

The crowd cheered like mad the Express said, as she rode away in her car.

Copley asked the commission to give him an opportunity to testify after Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska, had told the Senate that he was informed that Copley held $5,000,000 of utilities stock. Copley denied that he had such holdings.

Years of service in MODEL T FORDS

THE Model T was so strongly and sturdily built that it is still rendering reliable, economical service to motorists in every section of the country. Millions of these cars can be put in shape for two, three and five more years of use at very small cost.

So that you may have this work done economically and satisfactorily, the Ford Motor Company is still devoting a considerable section of its plants to the man- ufacture of Model T parts. It will continue to do so as long as they are needed by Model T owners. The follow- ing list gives the approximate labor charges for recon- ditioning the Model T Ford:

Engine
Tune motor (including replacement of commutator case, brush and vibrator points if necessary)	$1.00
Grind valves and clean carbon	$.75 to 4.00
Overhaul carburetor	1.50
Reline detachable car transmission bands	6.00
Install new pistons or connecting rods	6.00
Tighten all main bearings	6.00
Overhaul motor and transmission	$20.00 to 25.00
Rear System
Replace rear axle assembly	2.50
Install universal joint	3.00
Reline brake shoes	1.50
Replace rear axle shaft, drive shaft pinion, or drive gear	5.00
Overhaul complete rear axle assembly	$5.75 to 7.00
Rebush spring and perches	1.75
Oil and graphite springs	3.00
Front System
Overhaul front axle	$4.00 to 5.00
Rebush spindle bodies and arms (both sides)	3.50
Replace or straighten spindle connecting rod	.75
Tighten radius rod or steering ball cap	.50
Tighten all sockets and joints of front end	1.50
Replace front spring tie bolt or new leaf	2.50
Straighten front axle	3.00
Chassis
Replace rear fender	1.75
Overhaul steering gear	3.50
Repair muffler	1.00
Overhaul radiator	7.50
Repair Coupe	25.00
Repair Sedan	20.00
Reupholster Car	8.00
Reupholster Runabout	15.00
Replace top deck (Coupe or Sedan)	4.00
Overhaul starting motor	3.00

These prices are approximate and are for labor only, because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The charge for these parts is low, however, because of the established Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.
