DECIDE DEBT QUESTION AT PARIS CONFAB

Reparations Experts Reach Agreement on How Much Germany Must Pay.

Paris, May 30.—(AP)—The allied creditor experts today reached a final agreement among themselves on the repatriation of the German reparations payments.

This followed the acceptance by the Germans last night of the new figures suggested by Owen D. Young, leaving nothing remaining for settlement but the question of the repayment of German marks in Belgium and an agreement concerning the German reparations to their acceptance of the Young plan.

It was understood that the Belgians agreed to take up the German marks question directly with Ambassador Von Hoeseck.

The general impression was that matters now would "move along very fast."

Just what percentages entered the new reparations scheme remained unknown.

There was no formal meeting or conference of the allied delegates this morning, but the creditor experts conferred in a series of private conversations.

Paris, May 30.—(AP)—After sixteen weeks arduous and tortuous negotiations, at times seemingly hopeless, representatives of Germany and her creditor nations have reached an agreement on how much the Reich must pay for allied losses incurred during the World War.

The total over a period of 50 years effective as of September 1, 1929, was estimated here today to approximate 113,000,000,000 gold marks or about $27,000,000,000 in this amount, 5-1-2 per cent interest would represent a present or capital value of something more than $8,800,000,000.

Throughout the negotiations an agreement on figures has seemed hopeless and the arrival at a final accord after the original differences appeared so irreconcilable was an event of great magnitude.

But, it did not settle the reparations problem. German acceptance of these figures, which are in effect those proposed as a compromise by Owen D. Young, was given with reservations, all of which the creditor nations have not accepted.

Pending an agreement on these reservations, few close to the conference today were willing to predict, unqualifiedly its successful termination.

The general impression, however, was that the greatest obstacle had been surmounted and that a path around the few remaining impediments would be discovered.

Conclusion of negotiations, with agreement or non-agreement on these reservations, written into a final report to the governments, was expected this week. Odds and ends could be cleared up next week and the conference finished no later than June 8.

The situation was explained by Thomas W. Lamont, American alternate delegate as follows:

"Both creditor and German experts have heretofore declared themselves willing to accept the annuity figures of 2,650,000,000 marks as suggested by the chairman, although a difference existed on the question of interpretation.

"This difference has now been removed and a common basis for interpretation acceptable to both the creditors and to Germany has been found, subject, however, to agreement on the outstanding conditions which still remain for discussion and settlement."

One Killed By Sewer Explosion

Ottawa, Ont., May 30.—(AP)—A seepage of gasoline today was believed responsible for a series of sewer explosions that caused one death and did extensive property damage.

Fliers Take-Off On First Leg Of Flight To Peru

Washington, May 30.—(AP)—Captain Carlos M. Pinillos and Lieut. Carlos Zegarra, Peruvian aviators, hopped off from Bolling Field at 5:30 a. m. today, for New Orleans on the first leg of a flight to Lima.

The fliers arrived at the field about 5 o'clock, accompanied by Alfredo Gonzalez Prada, first counselor of the Peruvian embassy, and his wife. Low visibility had been forecast, but at the take-off the outlook appeared favorable.

The green and orange Bellanca cabin monoplane was checked by Pinillos, the pilot. With Zegarra, he then took his position in the plane, taxied to the northern end of the field, turned southward for the take-off and soon was lost in the haze of early morning.

DRIVER KILLED IN AUTO SPEED CLASSIC TODAY

Los Angeles Entrant Crushed To Death When Car Turns Over at Indianapolis

Speedway, Indianapolis, May 30.—(AP)—With a record smashing crowd of 160,000 viewing the spectacle, one driver was killed and twelve others eliminated in the first 250 miles of the 500 mile motor race at the Indianapolis Speedway today.

The death of William Spence, Los Angeles, 24 years old, and elimination left 21 of the 33 original starters in the grind battling for a prize of $100,000.

With the race half finished, Ray Keech, Philadelphia, was in the lead with Fred Frame second and Louis Meyer, Los Angeles, winner of the 1928 race, third. Lou Moore, also of Los Angeles, was fourth. Keech had covered the 250 miles in 2:29:29.19, average of 100.344 miles an hour.

TWO SHOT IN DISORDER AT PROVIDENCE

Twenty Others Injured At "Tie Burning" At Brown University Last Night.

Providence, R. I., May 30.—(AP)—Two persons were shot and 20 others injured in a student demonstration at Brown University last night which started in the annual freshman "tie-burning" celebration and led to a pitched battle between students and police. Seven of eight students arrested during the riot still were in jail today, while college and police authorities held a long conference to discuss the situation.

The eighth student arrested, Sam Flora, football and baseball player from Warren, Ohio, who was to have played against the Harvard nine here today, was in the Rhode Island hospital with a broken arm.

The demonstration started when sophomore prematurely set fire to a bon-fire the freshmen had constructed in which to burn their black neckties, insignia of their scholastic standing. With the mixing of the students the disturbance moved downtown where 100 police reserves were called.

Four Men Entombed Under River Bed In New Jersey

Jersey City, N. J., May 30.—(AP)—Rescue workers sought today to recover the bodies of four men entombed beneath the bed of the Hackensack river when compressed air escaped from the caisson in which they were working, letting it fill with mud.

The victims, with ten who were saved, had been at work sinking the caisson for one of the piers of the vehicular and railroad bridge under construction between Jersey City and Kearny, N. J.

The caisson is a huge steel chamber opened at the bottom to connect with the surface by cylinders provided with airlocks. Compressed

FRANK RAY IS DEAD AT HOME IN THIS CITY

Well Known Paving Contractor To Be Buried at Cherry Hill Cemetery Friday.

Frank Ray, well known paving contractor of this city, passed away at his home on Pitt street at an early hour this morning. Death followed an illness extending over a period of three weeks. He was 57 years of age.

Funeral services will be conducted from his late home Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. E. L. Hillman, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, assisted by Rev. L. B. Jones, pastor of the Methodist church at Hamlet. Interment will be made in Cherry Hill cemetery.

Mr. Ray is survived by his wife, Mrs. Daisy Leonard Ray, and daughter, Mrs. T. J. Sachse.

The deceased was born at Independence, Kansas, April 2, 1872. When about 28 years old he went to San Francisco, Calif., and served in the Coast Artillery. Upon moving to Henderson, N. C., in 1905, he became assistant superintendent of the West Construction Company, of Chattanooga. He continued this construction work until his last illness overtook him about three weeks ago. He was married to Miss Daisy Leonard, of Henderson, August 16, 1905, and to this union was born one daughter, Ramona Ray. He and his family came to Greenville 15 years ago and for a number of years he has been doing concrete work under the firm name of Ray & Leonard.

Mr. Leonard, now resides in Raleigh. During the past year Mr. Ray had been working alone.

Mr. Ray was totally blind the last five years of his life, but he pressed bravely on giving evidence of industry and thrift and self-reliance. He was kindly and sympathetic and thoughtful toward others. He was ever glad to help the colored man who labored for him.

He was a devoted husband and father and always cheerful even under total blindness. He professed faith in Christ and became a member of the Methodist church about twenty years ago and has been faithful in the service of the Master.

Houston Oil Man And Wife Killed At Fort Worth

Fort Worth, Tex., May 30.—(AP)—Arthur Sayers, prominent oil man of Houston, and his wife, were shot to death early today at the home here of Mrs. Sayers' brother, Rover C. Williams, secretary-treasurer of the Orbit Oil Company of Fort Worth.

A 25-calibre pistol was found under Sayers' body and a 38-calibre automatic was on a sofa nearby. The larger pistol had been fired six times. None of the cartridges in the smaller gun had been used.

Mrs. Sayers had been visiting her brother for sometime. Mr. Sayers arrived last night. Police said the couple had been separated but were reconciled shortly after the husband's arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams had just retired leaving Mr. and Mrs. Sayers in the living room. Williams, told police, they said, that he heard the shots and that Mrs. Sayers staggered into the bedroom and died without saying anything.

The men were working 75 feet below the river bed last night when the airlock blew off one of the cylinders. The caisson sank and filled with muck, nearly to the roof.

The ten who were rescued were brought to the surface with their bodies distended by the sudden change in pressure and suffering from broken arms and legs. Four workers at the top of the cylinders escaped when the airlock blew out, although two of them were hurled into the river.

Administration Leaders Expect Summer Recess After Deadlock Break

Washington, May 30.—(AP)—Administration leaders at the capitol still are counting on an all summer recess before disposing of the tariff bill, despite a barrage of conflicting statements from the White House and Republican leaders in Congress.

Confidence that the long deadlock between the Senate and House over the export debenture provision of the Senate farm bill will soon be broken and the prospect of enactment of a farm measure without this provision which is opposed by President Hoover are inspiring the recess hopes of leaders.

Everything was quiet today at the capitol, with both houses in recess for Memorial Day, but tomorrow the conferees of the Senate and House will resume the negotiations on their conflicting farm measures which were broken off when representatives of the House demanded elimination of the debenture plan.

While both Senate and House conferees say there is no definite agreement yet for elimination of the proposal, the renewal of the conference is regarded as bearing out the apparent understanding that the Senate conferees will take the export debenture proposition back to the Senate for further instructions.

A White House statement has placed the sanction of President Hoover on the vacation plans with the proviso that the farm relief bill is first enacted into law and that an agreement fixing a definite date for a Senate vote on the tariff measure in the fall is reached.

In other words, Congress must dispose of the Hoover program for the extra session before the regular session convenes in December. The tariff bill must be on the statute books and given a try-out before the regular biennial primary campaigns open next spring.

Senator Smoot of Utah, the veteran chairman of the Senate finance committee, apparently settled the controversy in the Republican ranks over immediate passage of the tariff measure when he declared that it would require two months of work by the committee to get the bill ready for the Senate.

Senator Jones of Washington, the assistant Republican leader, and Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, have urged the President to stand against a recess until the tariff bill is out of the way. Senator Jones after conferring with the executive conferees, declared that the President wanted the bill passed by September.

There was considerable confusion in the administration ranks for a while. Statements came thick and fast. Speaker Longworth and Rep. Tilson of Connecticut, Republican leader, declaring against any recess until farm relief is enacted and definite assurance given for a final vote in the Senate on the tariff.

Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader, who has been striving to work out the agreement for the vote in the Senate on the tariff measure, got busy. Then came the White House statement backing up the program of the Senate leader

RASCOB CUTS DOWN DEBTS OF HIS PARTY

Democratic Chairman Reduces Debt By Calling On Guarantors to Make Good.

New York, May 30.—(AP)—The New York Times today said that John J. Raskob, national chairman of the Democratic party, has reduced the party's deficit from $1,000,000 to $350,000 by calling upon the guarantors of the Smith presidential campaign to make good their pledges.

This was learned last night after a conference of party leaders at which plans were discussed for strengthening the organization in the different states for the congressional campaign next year.

The call upon the campaign underwriters was understood to have been made by Mr. Raskob on his own initiative and to have caused consternation among some of the guarantors who had signed the pledges as a matter of form and had not expected to be called upon to make them good.

The guaranty list was made up two weeks before election when funds were running short at Democratic headquarters. The guarantors were asked to pledge themselves to underwrite any deficit on a budget of $4,000,000. Contributions during the last few days of the campaign were said to have assured this sum being met, but the campaign eventually went over the budget and cost $5,500,000.

The Times said Mr. Raskob was understood to have incurred these additional expenditures without consulting his colleagues at headquarters and some of the guarantors were said to have expressed considerable resentment at being called upon to make good a deficit which resulted from exceeding the budget.

Doubt was expressed by some of the guarantors that they were legally liable in view of the budget having been exceeded, but as virtually all of them are personal friends of Mr. Smith they decided to agree to pay.

An previous Democratic campaigns it was said underwriters were not called upon to make good their pledges, but that the deficit was left to be borne by the party at large at the next national campaign.

The largest contributors to the fund to reduce the deficit were Mr. Raskob, William F. Kenna and Lieut.-Gov. Herbert H. Lehman, of New York, each of whom was said to have contributed $150,000 in addition to large sums given during the campaign.

Others who were on the guaranty list were Bernard M. Baurch for $50,000; Michael J. Mehan for $75,000 or $100,000 and James J. Riordan for about an equal amount. In addition to the money obtained from the guarantors, $150,000 was realized from sale of the campaign speeches of Mr. Smith.

Hungry Baby Saves Family From Death In Burning Building

Columbia, May 30.—(AP)—A hungry nine month old infant is being given credit today for saving its own life and the lives of three others.

Stretcher Slight, chief of police of Eau Claire, as suburb of Columbia, was awakened by the cries of his hungry baby about 3:30 o'clock this morning. His entire house was in flames.

He roused his wife and his other child and then sought a means of exit. The hallway, he found, was a mass of flames. Realizing this his only means of escape was through a window. Police Chief Slight assisted his wife from the window of the one-story building just before the roof fell in.

MRS. MOORE DIES SUDDENLY AT HOME HERE

Funeral Service To Be Conducted From Late Home Tomorrow at 10:30 A. M.

Mrs. W. M. Moore died suddenly at her home on Eighth street last night at 8 o'clock. She had been in ill health for sometime. Her condition had greatly improved of late, however, and her death came as a distinct shock to members of the family and numerous friends throughout the county.

Funeral services will be conducted at her late home tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock, by Rev. W. W. Fleischmann, pastor of the Memorial Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. W. A. Lillycrop, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Interment will be made at Cherry Hill cemetery.

Mrs. Moore was born June 9, 1857. She was a native of this county, the daughter of Stanley and Susan Moore. She spent practically her entire life in Pitt county, mostly in Greenville.

On April 1, 1925, she was married to W. M. Moore. Besides her husband, three daughters survive this union, Miss Ward Moore, Mrs. H. S. Ragsdale, of this city, and Mrs. D. H. Bland of Goldsboro. She is also survived by a foster daughter, Mrs. R. M. Eiks of Washington five grandchildren and several brothers and one sister.

Mrs. Moore was a devoted wife and mother, and a faithful member of the Memorial Baptist Church. Her passing was received with profound regret by hundreds of friends in this and other communities.

MEMORIAL DAY IS OBSERVED IN THIS CITY

West Side Gangster And Another Man Shoot It Out In Saloon Basement.

Chicago, May 30.—(AP)—Thomas McElliott, West Side gangster, shot it out with another man in a safe on the edge of the loop early today, and was killed.

The body of McElliott, known as a labor racketeer, bomber and gunman, was found in the basement by a writer. He had been shot four times.

McElliott was a pal of Michael Reilly and William Clifford, racketeers, found shot dead in an automobile in Cicero several weeks ago. He also was arrested early this year in connection with the Calumet Baking Powder Company payroll robbery, but was not held. He was one of those named by Russell Thompson, confessed machine gun peddler, as having purchased a machine gun.

The body was found on the floor of a barroom in the basement by a police sergeant who had been notified that "some-one's been hurt over at Staley's." The cafe is believed to be a "speakeasy."

Police said McElliott, Clifford and Reilly were looked upon as leaders of the "bomb trust" having headquarters in a West Side saloon and taking orders for bombing at prices ranging from $25 to $1,000. The three also have been suspected many times of using other methods of intimidation in "muscling in" on labor groups.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED AT CAPITAL CITY

President Hoover Delivers Address Following Pilgrimage To Arlington.

Washington, May 30.—(AP)—The capital today was the center of the nation's observance of Memorial Day, with President Hoover, the central figure of the patriotic pageant arranged to express its gratitude of those who have offered their lives in defense of its honor and existence.

The hush of the reverent tribute lay over the city and its historic cemeteries with governmental activity stilled and Congress in adjournment for the occasion. Many members of Congress were away to speak at services in other places.

The president chose the occasion to deliver his second address since he took office, the day and its significance turning his thoughts toward world peace and foreign affairs. The amphitheatre of the Arlington national cemetery, where the tomb of the unknown soldier is enshrined, was the setting for his participation in the national tribute.

Joining with hundreds of other citizens in the desire to pay a personal tribute to the nation's war dead at that symbolic tomb, President and Mrs. Hoover had prepared their gifts of memory to lay on the marble slab—the president's a wreath and Mrs. Hoover's a single rose.

The annual parade of veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American, Indian and World wars, with the representatives of patriotic societies and their pilgrimages to the cemetery were arranged to precede the president's address, which began shortly after 1 o'clock and the accompanying services.

President Hoover, solemnly declared that it is the Kellogg-Briand peace pact is to fulfill its high purpose the nations must "clothe faith and idealism with action."

"That action must march with the inexorable thrust of common sense and realism to accomplishments in the white-columned amphitheatres here amid the resting places of the nation's heroes dead."

"If this declaration, really represents the aspirations of peoples if this covenant of genuine proof that the world has renounced war as an instrument of national policy," he asserted, "it means at once an abandonment of the aggressive use of arms by every signatory nation and becomes a sincere declaration that all armament hereafter shall be used only for defense."

"Consequently, if we are honest we must consider our own naval armament and the armament of the world in the light of their defense and not their aggressive use."

Expressing regret that despite the Kellogg-Briand treaty the world still is borne of the tide of competitive building, Mr. Hoover warned that "fear and suspicion will never slacken unless we can halt competitive construction of arms."

Calling attention that the United States had offered a new program to the world for actual reduction and the maintenance of an agreed relative of naval strength, the chief executive said "the time has come when we must know whether the pact we have signed is real, whether we are condemned to further and more extensive programs of naval construction."

"Limitation upward is not now our goal, but actual reduction of existing commitments to lowered levels," he declared.

After pointing to the "endless blessings" which he said would attend the carrying out of such a program, Mr. Hoover said the agreement entered into by the nations against war "implies more than a reduction of arms to a basis of simple defense."

"It implies that nations will conduct their daily intercourse in keeping with the spirit of that agreement, he added, it implies that we shall endeavor to develop those instrumentalities of peaceful adjustment that will enable us to remove disputes from the field of emotion to the field of calm and judicial consideration."

"It is fitting that we should give voice to these deepest aspirations of the American people in this place. These dead whom we have gathered here today to honor, these valiant and unselfish souls who gave life itself in service of their ideals, make from us the most solemn mood of consecration."

He said that peace should be established. Our obligation is to see it maintained. Nothing less than our resolve to give ourselves with equal courage to the ideal of our day will serve to manifest our gratitude for their sacrifices, our undying memory of their deeds, our emulation of their glorious example."

DONT FORGET THE FAMOUS ONSLOW COUNTY HAMS

To the people of Greenville and surrounding territory, I am due an apology for kidding them with the famous Onslow county ham in my former advertisements.

The name of Robert E. Lee in my advertisement gave me an inspiration to do my duty and speak thusly.—A gentleman by the name of T. J. Morton wrote me last week he had a lot of nice hams to sell and would be glad for me to come down and look them over. The name Morton is also an inspiration, knowing W. Z. Morton to be the best diplomat, as a tobaccoist both with the farmer and the buyers in Greenville, in my estimation. I ran across him three miles from Jacksonville yesterday and I found this T. J. Morton was also a diplomat in putting up the finest hams I ever saw, the most beautifully smoked and preserved to my taste. So much was I impressed with these hams, I bought his whole smokehouse, hams, shoulders, sides and all. It was the most beautiful smokehouse and the most beautiful lot of smoked hams I have ever seen during my past 25 years experience in Onslow county, and I have seen many.

Speaking of diplomats, I refer to both W. Z. Morton and T. J. Morton, not as crooks or schemers, but as men who are honest and reliable and know their business in their line, and everybody respects their judgment.

If you want one of these famous Onslow county hams, the most beautiful I ever saw, I am not kidding nor fooling anybody, but speaking straight from the shoulder, honestly and sincerely. Call Am off to Onslow county today to bring back the finest lot of meat ever offered to the people of this city.

Find Shortage In Cashier's Account

Jacksonville, Ala., May 30.—(AP) Arthur Wellborn, president of the Jacksonville National Bank, announced today that a shortage of $19,020 had been discovered by bank examiners in the accounts of Bernard Schmidt, assistant cashier who has been missing for several weeks.

Wellborn said the shortage is secured by an indemnity and securities and property owned by Schmidt. The bank faces no difficulty, he said.

PAINFUL EFFECTS OF CONSTIPATION
A Very Troublesome Condition Relieved by the Help of Black-Draught.

Huntington, W. Va.—Mrs. Ida Perry, 1715 Charleston Avenue, this city, says:
"Sometimes I suffer from indigestion, and I have found that quick relief follows a dose of Black-Draught. This medicine is also excellent for constipation, and I am glad to recommend it."
"All last winter, I suffered from pains in my legs and across my back. I did not sleep well at all, and was very nervous. I could scarcely walk, and was unable to climb up and down the steps. I was almost past going, and it took all my strength to get around. My housework was a great care, and I did not feel equal to it."
"I was in a condition that had been coming on me for a long time before I knew it. My trouble was from absorbed poisons, but I did not realize it until I was in actual pain. I found Black-Draught a great help in getting rid of this trouble. I use it frequently. I feel lots better after I have taken Black-Draught."

history of the county, and every body should immunize themselves against the fever by being vaccinated.
 "There is no reason on earth why you'd permit yourself to catch the fever. The public health workers are going to visit your very threshold, and if you do not take advantage of the opportunity which they offer, you have no one to blame but yourself.
 "Watch the date of the coming of the workers to your community and join the ranks of those who are making themselves immune from typhoid by timely vaccinations."

"Today should be one of the outstanding days of the year to Greenville and Kinston people," asserted a follower of the activities of the Eastern Carolina League, commenting on the two games to take place between the two clubs during the morning and afternoon.
 "This is the first holiday schedule of the season, and it is expected thousands of people will be present at the numbers of double bills scheduled throughout the league. Passes and season tickets will not be good on holidays as the entire proceeds derived from the two games go to Judge Branham, president of the circuit.
 "If you have been following the activities of your club, go out this afternoon and boost the boys on to victory. It is one of the best ways open to you to show your appreciation of their effort to give Greenville the kind of ball club we have been wanting for a long time."

"Too much care can not be observed in an effort to keep the Mediterranean Fruit Fly out of North Carolina," said a citizen today, speaking of the appearance of the pest in as many as two communities during the present week.
 "All Florida fruit should be carefully examined, especially the un-sound kind, and if there is the slightest indication of infestation by insect it should be reported to the health department. This is the only direct way the spread to our own crops may be averted, and it is up to everybody to observe this precaution.
 "Watch the next fruit that comes to your attention and do not eat it until you are fully satisfied that it is sound in every respect."

"The rowdy Sailors made two straight from us, but from now on somebody's ball club must do some fast playing to outclass us," firmly declared an officer of the Greenville ball club today.
 "It is true we have lost a majority of the games played this season, but that doesn't mean we are going to do the same thing the remainder of the year. We have a good ball club—one of the fastest fielding aggregations in the league—and when we begin getting the breaks of the game, we are going to slide up the standing of clubs column until we get mighty near the top.
 "If you haven't been giving the club the kind of support they deserve, go out to the next game and become one of the most lusty fans on the sidelines. You will feel better and the players who are bearing the brunt of criticism every time something goes wrong, will feel still better."

"Today is Memorial Day, and Pitt county, like thousands of other counties throughout the nation, honored the men who sacrificed their all in behalf of humanity," observed a member of the American Legion.
 "Former service men went to the graves of their departed comrades today and pledged anew their faith in the principles for which they fought—principles which stand out like a beacon-light to all the world.
 "Memorial Day will forever be a day of significance to the American people, because it is upon this occasion that they have an opportunity of showing to the world that the illustrious record of American soldiers on foreign battlefields is not forgotten. They will continue to honor these men as long as the nation stands."

BIG CUCUMBER CROP FORECAST FOR YEAR
 Chicago, May 30.—(AP)—Epicures whose taste runs to cucumbers are in for a treat.
 The government bureau today reported this year's cucumber crop in the four principal early producing states probably would be 50 per cent larger than last year. Alabama, South Carolina, Louisiana, and Georgia are the leaders. And aside from large gains anticipated in other states these will probably market 1,500,000 hampers of tempting green "cukes."

ABOUT TOWN
 "Greenville people should show their interest in educational work of the city by attending commencement exercises at the college Sunday morning and at the high school in the evening," declared a prominent business man today.
 "The college is performing a wonderful work among the young women of this state. It deserves not only the support of Greenville people but the entire state as well."
 "The city schools have established a splendid record during the last few years, and their rating among the best of the state is well deserved. Commencement this year will bring to an end one of the best of many past years, and it is the duty of every parent to attend and see what really great strides the various departments have made."

Quiet Prevails In "Big Ten" Scandal

Chicago, May 30.—(AP)—The Big Ten "scandal" temporarily was at rest today with University of Iowa officials sticking by their recent promise that reinstatement of faculty member control of athletics had been effected to satisfy demands of the conference, from which the school was expelled last week.
 Professor G. A. Goodenough, of the University of Illinois, chairman of the faculty committee of the conference, insisted, however, that the abolition of the alleged "slush fund" for subsidizing athletics at Iowa would also be required.
 President Walter A. Jessup, of Iowa, yesterday declined to answer directly Prof. Goodenough's charge, and declared that Major John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics of the conference, had stated Tuesday that "the issue was faculty controlled athletics."
 In applying Tuesday for reinstatement, the university's athletic council steered clear of the "slush fund" allegation and confined itself to assuring Major Griffith that faculty control had been restored.

Gretna Green Threatened
 Edinburgh—The original Gretna Green is threatened. The General Assembly of the Church of Scotland has formally asked the government that a commission investigate irregular marriages. The Duke of Montrose told the assembly there were 9,000 irregular marriages in Scotland last year. For hundreds of years the village of Gretna Green, just this side of the Scottish border, has been the mecca of elopers. All that is necessary is for a couple to declare in the presence of witnesses their intention to marry.

GOLD BULLETS

by Charles G. Booth

SYNOPSIS: Started by the sound of someone entering the Ogdin mine, Peebles and Deacon stand back in the darkness and watch his approach. The man makes an apparently futile search near the rich vein. As he is about to leave, his searchlight reveals his identity—Roy Hammond, the San Felipe lawyer. Peebles and Deacon do not reveal their presence and conclude that Hammond sought Hyde's snuff-box. As the two men start the return trip to San Felipe, Peebles examines the newspaper he found under the skeleton in the mine.

"It sinister smoothness seared my hand—I held the ace of spades"

Chapter 28.
THE ACE OF SPADES

One of the headlines I had noticed in the mine again caught my eye and I read the paragraph beneath it:

ANOTHER HOLD-UP AT LUNDY'S!
WHERE IS THE LAW?

Ten thousand in gold and cash were stolen from Mr. Joe Lundy's safe early this morning. This is the fourth of a series of thefts and hold-ups in Lundy's place in the past three months and it is by far the largest amount yet taken. The town is in a fine state when a man cannot conduct a respectable business venture without being subject to outrages of this sort, and the Firebrand calls on Deputy Sheriff Billings to do his duty. The Firebrand has it on good authority that Mr. Lundy has brought an expert from San Francisco to see what's what, and he has ordered his men to shoot to kill! Citizens of Torridity look to your gold! And your guns! (We know of half a dozen good ropes itching to stretch the hobe's neck, Joe. Ye Ed.)

The item was interesting and amusing and something of a side-light on conditions of that day, but nothing more, apparently, and why it should occur to me that there might be a connection between Mr. Lundy's misfortune and Andrew's death I couldn't for the life of me tell. But the notion had got into my head and there it stuck.

"Listen to this, Henry," I read the item to him.

"Pity the poor devil if they found him," he muttered grimly. "Torridity was one wild town from what I hear."

Of my feeling that the item might have bearing upon the matters which occupied our minds I said nothing. Henry is intolerant of feelings.

"It sinister smoothness seared my hand—I held the ace of spades" devil who had killed a man. Well, in a little while now, surely, we'd have to say to one another, Jerry and Lucy and I. What with Jerry's mad flight to Torridity, Lucy's daring pursuit of him, my own experiences in the town, and the discoveries Deacon and I had made in the mine, we'd have enough to keep our tongues wagging until midnight.

Mrs. Moffit met me at the door. "Where is Lucy?" I demanded, pushing into the house.

"Mrs. Moffit began to weep. "I don't know, Mr. Peebles. I haven't heard a word of her since I went to Circle Sunday morning. Nor you, neither. Nor Mr. Jerry. And what with the house being broken into and your lovely door ruined—simply ruined—and the police doing nothing about it—"

"Not here! Not here!" I shouted. "Nonsense, woman! Of course they are here!"

"Indeed they are not!" she wept hysterically. "And I haven't seen Miss Lucy since Sunday morning. And what with you going off and the house being broken into and your lovely door—"

Thrusting her aside, I rushed into my den and took up the telephone. Deacon was in his office.

"What have you done with Lucy and Jerry?" I bawled at him.

"They are not here, Jela!" he said in a troubled voice. "I don't know where they are, John. They are not here. The boy hasn't given him a call up. We haven't seen either of them."

I hung up the receiver, an empty feeling about my heart. If I hadn't put the instrument down I should have dropped it. My legs began to tingle and I collapsed into a chair. They hadn't been seen? Where were they? What had happened? Yesterday afternoon—they had had plenty of time! That sandstorm? Good God! Nonsense! They were safe—somewhere! But where? Why hadn't they telephoned?

Mrs. Moffit was in the room. She began to weep.

"Mr. Peebles!—there's something the matter—Miss Lucy—they haven't turned up—"

I stopped her sharply. "There's nothing wrong! The children will be home tomorrow. What have you got for supper?"

She must have believed me for after a sniffle or two she dried her eyes and gave me her melancholy smile.

a beefsteak pie and a caramel pudding.

"Excellent. Early, please. I went on briskly. "I haven't had a square meal since Sunday morning." Brushing her out of the den, I went to my bedroom and began to prepare for my bath. But my mind was still in a ferment of apprehen-

At the fork canyon, to which we had recently come, had lost none of its terror, but we managed the descent without disaster in some thirty minutes. It was three o'clock when we reached San Felipe. Deacon dropped me at a downtown corner, muttering something about seeing me later. He had been in a gloomy mood ever since we left Torridity and I had attributed it to his bewitched state of mind. Henry had been so sure of certain things, regretfully sure, it is true, but sure, nevertheless, and our discoveries had shaken his conclusions more than he had admitted. Needless to say, his perplexity had delighted me and I had let him alone.

Hailing a taxi, I settled into it keenly anticipating the joyful reunion before me. I had expected Deacon to insist on driving me home and I was relieved when he didn't, for I wanted the children to myself. My longing for a sight of Lucy's face had become almost a physical ache and I could hardly sit still on my seat. Lucy had come to me as a little thing, but I had never dreamed that she would ever fill my heart as completely as she did. One of these days I would lose her. The realization twisted my heart, but I knew I could reconcile myself to it. Jerry was a fine lad, too.

Only Andrew had lived to see the flowering of these young lives! but I knew I could reconcile myself to it. I clapped a rope around the neck of the

More than a quarter of a million users and they haven't spent a single dollar for service

TWO years ago this month the General Electric Refrigerator was first publicly announced. Fifteen years of research and development had produced a refrigerator with an hermetically sealed, dust-proof mechanism, mounted on top... a refrigerator with an improved type of cabinet, mounted on legs... one with an accessible temperature control... that required no oiling... that dispensed with all troublesome machinery... that carried an unequalled two-year service guarantee. A radical improvement, has been made in the cabinet. It is now all-steel! It cannot warp. It is as strong as a safe. You can purchase the new models shown at our display rooms on conveniently spaced payments.
