MANIAC SLAYS THREE MEN; THEN SUICIDES

Several Also Injured As Former World War Veteran Runs Amuck In Chicago.

Chicago, June 1.—(AP)—Ferdinand Preuss, the maniac who shot three men dead and wounded four others while in a drunken fury yesterday, was decapitated today by a Chicago and Northwestern railroad train. A body found on the right of way was identified positively by a fishing license issued to Preuss, and police believe the man, sobbing overnight, realized the tragedy of yesterday and committed suicide.

The condition of Preuss' body indicated he had lain on the track and waited for the train to run over him, police said.

Preuss, a war veteran and expert marksman, killed two policemen and a civilian yesterday and wounded two policemen and two civilians with a pump shotgun. The police were members of a squad sent to arrest him after neighbors heard him threaten to kill his wife.

John Lee Conley, leader of the detective squad, was the first to fall before the madman's onslaught. After mortally wounding him Preuss fired at Policeman Herbert Hagberg, who whirled screaming. Conley then stepped and fell dead.

Ferd Preuss acquired a deadly aim during the world war. He went mad yesterday, his wife said, after a drink debauch that began three weeks ago, and warned neighbors to "keep your heads inside the windows if you don't want them blown off."

Police got a call that a man was quarreling with his wife and threatened to kill her. John Lee Conley's detective squad went to the North Side flat where Preuss lived with his wife. It was just one of hundreds of similar calls that are received during the year, and Conley and Herbert Hagberg, a member of his squad, walked leisurely around to the rear door and to their death.

The house that had been quiet when they approached, echoed with the roar of a pump gun as a charge of shot crashed through a window and tore into Conley's chest. A second roar and Hagberg, his face almost shot away, whirled, screamed, took a dozen steps, and fell dead.

Policeman Joseph J. Murphy, Conley's chauffeur, who had remained in the car, seized a shotgun and started to help the other policeman. He had taken less than a dozen steps when Preuss' pump gun blazed through a front window and Murphy fell badly wounded. A second later Guss Karos, who lived three doors away from the Preuss home, and John Chorzak, another neighbor, both attracted by the shooting met where Murphy had fallen. Karos had rushed out to meet his blind brother-in-law, Rudolph Krusche, who had been to a nearby store and was expected home.

Another shot, and Chorzak, who was standing not 10 feet from the window, fell dead. Karos jumped to shield his brother-in-law, and as he did so the fifth shot from the gun of Preuss struck him in the back.

Preuss, in a fury, pressed the trigger again and the hammer fell on an empty chamber. He then rushed out of the rear door of his home, cursed the bodies of Conley and Hagberg, and fled into an alley, taking the policeman's shotgun and it is believed, his revolver.

In the alley, he met Frank Vodka, who was running toward the scene of the shooting. Vodka turned and ran into a narrow passageway when he saw Preuss, foaming at the mouth and aiming the shotgun at him. Preuss fired once, then threw the weapon at Vodka. He then was seen to take a pistol from his belt, wave it wildly and run down the alley. That was the last seen of him.

Hoover Cancels His Fishing Trip

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—With another day of oppressive heat in prospect, President Hoover decided that he could probably keep as cool in the White House as in motoring to one of his fishing reserves and canceled arrangements that had been made for a trip to the fishing grounds at Catoctin Furnace, Md.

However, it was said at the White House that Mr. Hoover might take a short automobile ride through the suburbs of Washington some time during the afternoon.

Mrs. Hoover is in Boston today. She is to be at Swarthmore College, near Philadelphia, Monday, to receive an honorary degree and is expected back in Washington late the same day.

Kiwanis Head Advocates Public Park For City As Objective For Year

Outlining several objectives for the club during the present year, Ralph Deal, president of the Greenville Kiwanis club, last night told members of the organization assembled in regular twice-a-month session, that he would like to see the old Evans Street school site converted into a public park with a beautiful library building situated in the center of the location.

"There is no place of this kind in the city at this time and I hope the Kiwanis club will use its influence in making the public park possible. Property is cheaper in Greenville at this time than it ever will be again and the time to go about converting the school site into a park or playground was never more auspicious."

In the absence of K. T. Futrell, who was to have had charge of the program for the evening, the club members confined themselves to the singing of several familiar tunes, partook of a bountiful supper and listened to the president as he told them of some of the things he would like to see them "put across" during the present year.

Mr. Deal also saw need of an intensive membership drive, a larger appropriation for the underprivileged child and several other matters vitally affecting, not only the life of the club, but also that of the city and community. It was the first time in months the membership had listened to suggestions of these kind and opinion was expressed by several members that the objectives would more than likely bear fruit within a comparatively short time.

The club membership, Mr. Deal declared, was larger at this time than ever before, but he expressed belief that there were several classifications that should be filled. He urged the membership and classification committees to get busy and see what they could do in bringing about a general increase in membership. He also explained the different ways the club might go about accomplishing this purpose and told his hearers to leave no stone unturned in realizing substantial growth during the next few months.

Calling attention to the work which the organization had done in behalf of the underprivileged child, Mr. Deal declared that the $300 annual appropriation to this cause should be increased at the earliest possible moment. In the light of his references to this question, he was told by J. Key Brown, chairman of the underprivileged child committee, that virtually the total amount of the fund during the past year had been spent in behalf of children suffering with tuberculosis.

"This is a matter to which the national organization is paying more than ordinary attention," Mr. Deal said, "and I hope that this organization will in the future exert its every effort to aid these children whose opportunities in life have been decreased by the inroads of disease and like of nourishment."

Expressing belief that a public park on the old Evans Street School site would not only be a source of pride to Greenville people, but to people from all sections of the county, J. C. Galloway, prominent planter of the Grimesland community, declared the club should stand behind the president in his suggestion.

"We people would be delighted to see such an improvement and I have no doubt in the world but that it would be received with similar satisfaction all over the county," he concluded.

REPARATIONS EXPERTS HIT SNAG AT PARIS

Remuneration To Belgium For German Marks Provides Complex Situation.

Paris, June 1.—(AP)—A single question remained in the way of a settlement on the reparations problem at noon today and the experts were awaiting word from Berlin which it was expected would remove that.

The question was that of remuneration to Belgium for German marks left in that country after the occupation. It was thought first to have been settled yesterday with agreement between Belgium and Germany to handle the matter with private negotiations after the experts' conference had closed.

Overnight it developed, however, that while Belgium had appointed its representative for such negotiation, N. Gutt, Germany had not named its man, Emile Franconi, head of the Belgian delegation here, refused to sign any settlement or conference report until the negotiations were under way.

The experts were given reason to believe that the situation thereby was the result of an omission at Berlin and that it would be remedied shortly, until some further word was received from the German capital, they, therefore, were marking time.

Quick progress was made during the morning with other phases of the settlement and an agreement was reached on the German demand that some of the burden of the last 22 annuities under the Young plan be lifted. This agreement included a promise that if the United States reduced the sum of the German creditors' debts to America there would also be a reduction in what Germany owed to the former allies.

It also was agreed that of the last 22 annuities a share of the present value of 1,000,000,000 marks (about $240,000,000) will be bought in immediately through a fund to which both the allies and the Germans will contribute.

The Belgian demand to which the Germans have so strenuously objected has been that they be paid 37 annuities of 25,000,000 marks (about $6,000,000,000) to cover the depreciated currency. It was the German contention, in which many of the allied experts concurred, that the question was outside the scope of the conference.

City Churches To Close For Annual Sermons At High School And College

Baccalaureate sermons in connection with the closing exercises of the Eastern Carolina Teachers' College and the Greenville High School will be delivered in this city tomorrow morning and evening, according to announcement made from the heads of each of the institutions today.

City churches have abandoned all services tomorrow to give their congregations an opportunity of attending the services at the schools, and record crowds were in prospect today for both occasions.

The commencement sermon at the college tomorrow morning will be delivered by Dr. W. A. Stanbury, of Durham, N. C. Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the High School auditorium, Dr. E. C. Lynch, of Wilson, will preach the annual sermon to the graduates. Concluding exercises of the High School will be held Tuesday night, June 4th, at the Campus Building of the Eastern Carolina Teachers' College.

The order of services at the High School tomorrow night follows:

Election Produces Doubt As To Immediate Future Of British Government

London, June 1.—(AP)—Immediate future of the British government was in doubt today. The Liberal party of David Lloyd George apparently held the key to the political situation which has arisen as a result of labor's great fight, but insufficient victory in the parliamentary elections Thursday.

Although the British Labor party rode the Conservative government of Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin down to a decisive defeat, almost completed returns showed it lacking 20 seats of 308 necessary for a majority in the House of Commons. The standing was: Labor, 288; Conservatives, 250; Liberals, 53; others, 7.

Several possibilities suggested themselves.

First, that Stanley Baldwin, prime minister in the present or Conservative government, would go to the House of Commons and fight for control, depending upon Liberal votes to keep him from a vote of no-confidence.

Second, that he would resign, either immediately or after a no-confidence vote, and Ramsay MacDonald, as leader of the numerically greatest party, would be asked to form a government.

And, third, that the political stalemate which has resulted from the elections shortly would cause the downfall of any government which is formed and necessitate new elections, probably in the autumn.

The entire situation seemed to hinge on what the Liberals and David Lloyd George with their balance of power in the Commons would do. Mr. Lloyd George in 1923 made Great Britain's first Labor government possible, but he has said this election campaign he would not sanction a Liberal-Labor alliance again.

If Premier Baldwin does decide to try to maintain his government he would have to court Liberal support, and even with the vote of the entire Liberal bloc would find himself with a bare majority on any clean-cut party question. If the Conservative-Liberal coalition was no more stable than the Labor-Liberal in 1923-24 downfall of the government on some important question would be a matter of only a short time.

The prime minister himself was spending the week-end at Chequers, country place of British prime ministers, and had nothing to say. Seven members of his cabinet were not re-elected to the House. They may, however, have been a prophetic note in the words of Sir Austen Chamberlain, foreign minister in his cabinet, who said:

"I hope Mr. Baldwin will face the House of Commons and leave Lloyd George and the Liberals the responsibility of the situation they have created."

He is not compelled to offer the resignations of his government to the king until the House of Commons meets—in this case, June 25—and votes no-confidence on an important measure.

Senate Will Be Asked To Eliminate Debenture Plan From Farm Bill Next Week

Washington, June 1.—(AP)—Congressional leaders had a fairly clear field today to develop their plans for an all-summer recess of the special session in sympathy with the expressed desires of President Hoover. The Senate and House were both in adjournment over the week-end, but they already had made considerable progress toward an agreement on all sections in which the two chambers failed to agree except the export debenture proposal.

The Senate is expected to be called upon by its conference group to eliminate the debenture plan from its farm bill next week, and the House is prepared to take early action on the measure to provide for the 1930 census and subsequent reapportionment of the number of representatives allotted to each state.

Although some doubt has been expressed as to the willingness of the debenture advocates in the Senate to permit elimination of their proposal from the farm bill, administration leaders are counting on such action and are inclined to regard arrangements for disposition of tariff legislation as their principal task in the effort to comply with the President's views on summer recess plans.

The chief executive's opinion on that subject, as expressed in response to inquiries of newspaper correspondents, was outlined in the following statement:

"The majority leaders, both Senator Watson and Congressman Tilson, are united in their recommendations to me that there should be no recess in the special session until farm legislation is complete, and that there should be no recess after to complete its work, that except for a few weeks to accommodate the Senate finance committee in its hearings on the tariff bill unless there is a completely fixed agreement in the Senate as to an early date upon which a vote will be taken on the bill which would assure a final vote in the Senate as early as possible.

"The interest of the country obviously necessitates the rapid determination of both these questions, and I am entirely in accord with their views."

Senator Watson tentatively has decided to move for a recess from June 12 to September 9, with November 9 fixed as the date for the Senate's vote on the tariff bill and November 25 for action on the report of the conference committee which will be called upon in the meantime to adjust differences with the House.

Opposition to that program, however, has been indicated. Senators Borah of Idaho, and Jones of Washington, the latter assistant Republican leader in the chamber, both considering a recess unwise, while some others favored a shorter vacation than that proposed while the finance committee works on its revision of the tariff bill passed by the House.

Senator Borah's bill to establish government licensing and regulation of commission merchants handling perishable fruits and vegetables meanwhile, remains before the Senate. It has the endorsement of the Department of Agriculture, but has aroused considerable opposition during the debate.

The farm bill conference committee has prepared to continue in session throughout today if necessary.

FLOODS CLAIM TEN LIVES IN TEXAS AREAS

Damage Amounting To Millions Of Dollars Results From Torrential Rains.

Houston, Tex., June 1.—(AP)—Floods in south and east Texas following torrential rains, today had claimed ten lives, and caused damage amounting to millions of dollars.

Three persons, none of whom was identified, drowned yesterday. A messenger boy on a bicycle was caught in the swirling current in a street here and swept away. A terrified onlooker fell into the water and he too was carried away. It was believed the bodies would be recovered in the basement of some nearby building when the water recedes.

At Fort Worth a negro boy swimming in the high waters of the Trinity river, was carried under by the swift current. The river was 13 feet above normal.

Seven others lost their lives earlier this week.

The Houston and Beaumont districts received the brunt of the deluge-bound water. Hundreds of homes and business buildings were flooded. Shipping was at a standstill in the ship channel, the movement of all vessels being halted. Water covered two docks and flooded several warehouses.

Believe Lindbergh Is Honeymooning On The Georgia Coast

Brunswick, Ga., June 1.—(AP)—Runners that Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his bride, the former Anne Morrow, were honeymooning off the Georgia coast today, still lacked confirmation.

Newspapermen who sought to confirm the presence of the couple at the home of Howard E. Coffin on Sapelo Island, centered their search on locating the yacht Zapala, which put out for an unannounced destination Wednesday and has not been seen since.

The arrival Wednesday of Clement M. Keyes, president, and K. G. Wilson, vice-president of the Trans-Continental Air Transport Company at Sapelo, added to the fact that they immediately boarded the Zapala was used as a basis for speculation that the colonel and his bride were on the vessel.

Colonel Lindbergh is technical adviser to the Trans-Continental. C. S. Redden, vice-president of the Sea Island Company, of which Mr. Coffin is president, professed ignorance of the presence here of Mr. and Mrs. Lindbergh.

URGE EARLIER OPENING FOR LEAF MARKETS

Tobacco Warehousemen in Annual Session Today Ask For Opening Aug. 20.

Tobacco warehousemen of Eastern Carolina meeting in annual session at the Country Club here today, adopted resolutions to petition the United States Tobacco Association for an earlier opening of the markets of this belt. The date asked for was August 20, or not later than August 27.

The meeting, which was attended by representatives of practically all of the eighteen tobacco towns in Eastern Carolina, was presided over by B. B. Sugg, president of the organization. The meeting began with a general session at 11 o'clock, followed by barbecue and Brunswick stew dinner at 1 o'clock, and concluded with the business session which was held in the afternoon.

At the morning session, after brief remarks, President Sugg presented Mr. J. C. Lanier, who delivered the address of welcome to the visiting warehousemen. Mr. Lanier paid a glowing tribute to the warehousemen, setting forth what they had meant to the industry and what the industry meant to the section, and declared that it was superfluous to endeavor to express in words the welcome that such men as these would always receive in Greenville.

Mr. J. C. Eagles, of Wilson, in responding to the address of welcome, declared that Greenville's record in the past four years in which its tobacco sales had shown a gain of 25 per cent bespoke the harmonious spirit of endeavor and co-operation on the warehousemen and the hearty support of the citizens in general, made it a pleasure for warehousemen of Eastern Carolina to be guests of such a city and of such warehousemen.

Following the response to the address of welcome, the principal address of the morning session was delivered by Judge Albin Dunn, of this city. In his remarks, Judge Dunn stated at the outset that, while there were plenty of complimentary things to say of the tobacco warehousemen of Eastern North Carolina that his talk would not be confined to this phase alone, but would likewise include some advice which warehousemen and all other lines of business must follow if success were to be attained.

He reviewed the history of the tobacco industry in this section, which he praised the warehousemen and the pioneers of the tobacco industry for the manner in which they had met and overcome the many obstacles in the path of the success of the industry. Describing the warehouseman as the man who stood between the farmer and the manufacturer, and made it possible for the farmer to get the best price and at the same time dealt fair and square with the manufacturer, was indeed the man upon whose shoulders rests the responsibility of the success of the industry. In view of the important position held by the tobacco warehousemen, he urged strict adherence to a code of ethics in business that would not countenance crooked methods nor short cuts in business, and urged them to at all times to seek to place their business on a nobler and higher plane with the result that we would have a greater, a richer and better community in which to live.

He likewise pointed out the need of the tobacco interests being represented in legislative activities lest they continue to suffer an increasingly unjust burden of taxation. Pointing out one instance of recent legislation whereby the tobacco interests would suffer, he called attention to the provision in the 1929 Revenue Act of North Carolina that would triple the tax trucks operating for a distance of over fifty miles from home. Such a law, he declared, would cost the tobacco markets millions of pounds of tobacco and thousands upon thousands of dollars, because of the high tax it would be impossible for the farmer to afford to transport his tobacco beyond a minimum distance as provided in the Revenue Act.

Such a law, he said, was unfair, inequitable and should be declared unconstitutional. The tobacco interest, he said, because of the tremendous business it does, is an easy prey to both federal and state branches of government in their efforts to seek additional revenue, and the result of this, he said, would be still higher taxes for the various branches of the tobacco industry unless they secure representation in the legislative bodies.

He concluded his remarks by again extending praise to the warehousemen for what they have already meant to the section in which they operate and again warned that the success or failure of their various communities depended largely upon the manner in which the warehousemen conducted their business. ## Fears Invasion of Fruit Fly In North Carolina

Raleigh, June 1.—(AP)—On the eve of his departure for Washington to attend a public hearing on the Mediterranean fruit fly situation, Dr. R. W. Leiby, state entomologist, gave out a statement here saying "There is need for alarm over a threatened fruit fly invasion of this state, but there is no need for hysteria."

The entomologist appealed to the public of the state to maintain their watch for suspicious insects and larvae in fruit and vegetables of Florida origin during this month, after which, he said, there should be no more Florida fruit or vegetables available for consumption within North Carolina.

Incidentally, he took occasion to assure consumers of Florida fruits and vegetables that if they should by chance bite or eat the fruit fly in its preliminary stages there would be no danger to life or death. The insect is non-poisonous, he said.

He concluded his remarks by again extending praise to the warehousemen for what they have already meant to the section in which they operate and again warned that the success or failure of their various communities depended largely upon the manner in which the warehousemen conducted their business. # GOLD BULLETS

by Charles G. Booth.

SYNOPSIS: When Peebles finds in his pocket a playing card from the table at which sat the two silent figures, he realizes that what he thought a nightmare had been a reality. MacNair reveals that the cards found in Ogden's safe are "marked" so cleverly that only a strong magnifying glass can disclose the markings. Peebles and MacNair are startled when they find that Furie's eight-sided lens—once part of a pair of spectacles—clearly exposes them. Almost simultaneously they shout—"the poker game that cracked the town!"

Chapter 30. THE WOMAN IN BLACK. "Precisely. The poker game that cracked the town," MacNair echoed. "The town of Torridity thirty years ago. How it cracked it we don't know."

"And what—who was the stake?" I breathed. MacNair gave his cold-blooded laugh. "Ah! the stake that will be another part in our pattern."

"And the players?" "Ogden would be one of them," MacNair drawled with maddening deliberation.

Alex Peterson—Mrs. Lunday screamed—"shot my husband!"

"And Dillon was the other!" I shouted. "He seemed to ponder this. 'I don't know so much about that. Who is Dillon?'"

"You know perfectly well, who Dillon is!" I stormed. "Again the cold-blooded laugh. He got up and I followed him to his car."

After he left, I went slowly back to my den. After some thought I took up the telephone and was presently talking with an old colleague who lives in Los Angeles.

"Were you married to him then?" "Yes. But I did not live with him in Torridity. A week there was enough. The town was abandoned when the mines were closed down. My husband was shot about that time."

"Shot!" I exclaimed. "Is he dead?" "He might as well be. He was STORIED—two—gn(H)el Ob. shot in the head and he has been feeble-minded ever since. The bullet creased the scalp. He remembers nothing about the town—or the shooting."

The tragedy of her life clouded my spirit. "Since you were at Torridity for a week or so you will know something of the town at that time," I suggested diffidently.

"It was a place of evil!" she replied scathingly. "Did you hear of a man named Peterson while you were down there?" I asked. "Alex Peterson?"

"Alex Peterson!" the woman cried in so tense a voice that I was startled. "Alex Peterson shot my husband!"

He urged enthusiasm and ideals on the part of the warehousemen that would lead to a bigger and better future throughout the territory in which they operate.

Following vigorous applause on the part of the tobaccoists, there was a rising vote of thanks to Judge Albion Dunn for his masterful address and the inspiration he gave to his hearers.

President Sugg, after a few remarks, brought up the matter of seeking an earlier opening date for the Eastern Carolina tobacco markets, and called on Paul Frizzell, president of the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce, for a few remarks on this subject.

Mr. Frizzelle declared that the late opening of the tobacco markets during the past several years had cost the growers of Eastern Carolina millions of dollars. He pointed out that facilities on the farms of this section were not such to enable the farmers to properly care for their tobacco over a long period once the crop was made, and that the delay in the opening of the market had resulted in a considerable amount of damaged tobacco each year with a loss in dollars to the growers and through them the business in general in the various communities of this section.

He declared that his organization would petition and urge the United States Tobacco Association at its meeting the later part of this month to set an earlier opening date for this belt, and urged the Warehousemen's Association to appoint committees to make similar petitions to the tobacco association.

He declared that if the situation was presented to the buying interests in its proper light that he felt confident that they would grant the request for an earlier opening date.

Following a discussion of the matter by various warehousemen present, there was a motion by J. C. Eagles of Wilson, which was seconded by W. E. Fenner of Rocky Mount to petition the United States Tobacco Association to open the Georgia markets on July 16 if crop conditions in that state would permit, and that Eastern Carolina markets be opened August 20, or five weeks after the opening of the Georgia markets. In case crop conditions in the Georgia belt would not permit an earlier date, the petition requests that the opening of that market be not later than July 23 with the Eastern Carolina markets opening not later than August 27th, but earlier if conditions would permit.

It was pointed out that under this arrangement there would be sufficient time for the buyers to finish their work in the Georgia belt before taking up their duties in Eastern Carolina, and that indications in Georgia at the present time were that the Georgia crop would be ready for market by the 16th of July.

This request was believed by those at the meeting to be a reasonable one for all branches of the industry concerned, and there was an expression of confidence that the petition would be granted when presented to the sales committee at their meeting on June 27.

A committee composed of J. C. Eagles of Wilson, L. P. Tapp of Kinston, and W. S. Moyer of Greenville, will present the petition of the Warehousemen's Association to the sales committee. It was understood that a committee from the Eastern Carolina Chamber of Commerce would likewise appear before the sales committee in behalf of the petition.

It was then moved and unanimously voted that the Eastern Carolina Warehouse Association adopt resolutions expressing the great loss to the association through the death of Mr. J. N. Gorman, one of the section's pioneer tobacco warehousemen, and to convey the sympathy of the members of the association to the members of his family.

HALF HOLIDAYS
FOR SUMMER

A petition for the Wednesday afternoon half-holidays during the summer months is now being circulated among the business houses here, and indications are that the movement, as in the past, will be successful,
and store clerks and others
in business establishments will again have opportunity for a little recreation this summer. Such a granting of time for recreation among employees creates in them a spirit of loyalty to the employing firms that otherwise could not exist, and surely these summer half-holidays mean better service on the part of the employees during the five and a half working days remaining in each week.

WILL MEAN MUCH TO THE SECTION

In the taking over of an extension of highway Number 11, north of Bethel, the State Highway Commission has taken a step that will prove worth much not only to the people of the section
through which this extension will pass, but the entire traveling public as well. The opening up and improving
of the road via the Oak City route will affect the adjoining sections of Pitt, Edgecombe and Martin counties
and will afford a great convenience to the people living in that territory. In addition it will afford a shorter route
from this city to points north and for travelers from the north to this city and points south of us. We reiterate that the highway commission has shown wisdom in its decision to open up this territory by extending the state highway through it. The money expended in this project will prove a good investment.

MARKETS SHOULD OPEN
EARLIER

That an earlier opening of the tobacco markets in Eastern North Carolina
would be worth thousands upon thousands of dollars to the tobacco growers was emphasized before the meeting of the Eastern Carolina Warehousemen's Association
in session here, and we believe that when the matter is properly presented to the sales committee of the United States Tobacco Assocation the desired earlier opening will be the result. The late openings of recent years
together with earlier crops,
making storage of same necessary prior to the opening of the market, has cost the growers millions of dollars in the way of damaged tobacco and it is in an effort to eliminate as far as possible this form of loss that the tobacco men together with other organizations are urging the buying interests

to give favorable consideration to the earlier opening.

The position of the tobacco
warehousemen in the matter is not that of seeking for their own personal interest,
but the interest of the farmer upon whom we are all dependent.

In view of an earlier crop
in Georgia as well as our own section this year, the local association is requesting an earlier opening in the Georgia markets in order that the buyers might finish their tasks there in time to be on hand for an earlier opening of the East Carolina markets. As we see it, their request is indeed a reasonable one and one that should meet with the approval of the buying interests. An earlier opening is to the interest of the grower, and but for the grower the other side of the tobacco business
would be nil.

ABOUT

"Tobacco crops are looking mighty good in Pitt county at this time," declared a well known planter today following his return to the central part of the state.
"In fact, I believe the plants in this section are healthier looking than those of any other county in which I visited. Our growth is much ahead of that of the other communities and forecasts earlier harvesting of our crops.
"With continued good weather, Pitt county ought to be able to produce one of the best crops in years.
It is to be hoped that this will be the case as it will make up for some of the low prices of the past few years."

"Don't forget that all churches of the city are dispensing with services tomorrow morning and evening to give their congregations
an opportunity of attending commencement exercises at the Teachers College in the morning and the High school in the evening," reminded a citizen this morning.
"Much interest is centered about the exercises at both schools and it is hoped the memberships of all churches will be well represented.
Both the college and high school
have had very successful sessions and their closing exercises are of more general interest than ever before."

"The series of short courses to be conducted here for Pitt county farm women next week should be largely attended," said a well known woman today.
"These courses have been a source of help to the women of this community during the last two or three years, and they will become of more assistance as the years roll by.
"The different kinds of training offered by the courses are just what the farm women need to enable them to enjoy an expansion of community life and future years no doubt will see much benefit derived from their activities."

"Greenville extends a cordial welcome to the tobacco warehousemen gathered in annual session in this city today," said a prominent business man.
"These men are playing an important part in the life of their various communities, turning over as they do millions of dollars of the farmers' money every year.
It is an industry that has developed rapidly during the last several years and which promises to develop even more rapidly in the coming years. This is the first time the warehousemen have met here in five years. Greenville is glad to have them again and hopes they will not wait such a long time before coming again."

"Real old summer time has come at last," mentioned a reader of this paper today as he entered the office to inquire about the temperatures in other sections of the state.
"It is true we are having it hot here but it is nothing to compare with the heat in the east where several deaths were reported the middle of the week. We have lots of changeable weather in this section but the intensity of hot and cold doesn't begin to compare with that of other sections.
"Since we have had no reports
of prostrations around Pitt county,
it is to be presumed that we are getting off light after all. Let us hope it will continue this way during the summer-plenty of hot weather without the excessive dampness."

BIG SHAKE-UP REPORTED IN YANKEE CAMP

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer) Those gargantuan numbers on the backs of the Yankees will come in handy on the banks of the Harlem today. Some of the boys are going to be missing, and strange, if not altogether new, faces will appear in their stead. Habitués of the rubber ramps may strain their eyes, but they won't find Bob Meusel, for instance, in left field.

Miller Huggins admitted this as his shattered forces retreated to home fortifications before dawn today under cover of benevolent darkness. While confessing that Meusel's failure to start either of the last two games in Washington was due, to no mistake in handling in the batting order, the midwest manager surrendered other items of social interest.

Mr. Mark A. Koenig, he said, would give up third basing for a time in favor of Gene Robertson, the bench hand. Leo Durocher also would replace Mr. Lynsford Lary at shortstop. Corporal Huggins continued. He disclosed all this juggling with the attitude of someone who intends to close his eyes and hope for the best, topping off his remarks with the assertion that he would bench even Ruth if the exigencies of the situation seemed to demand it.

The Yankee shake-up was the greatest since the seventh-place year of 1925. It included Bob Meusel for the first time since the big Californian joined the club in 1920. The desire of Mr. Huggins to get a new deal for the Yankees no doubt was inspired in part by the pranks the Athletics have been playing. Fighting fire with fire in a sort of curtain-raiser to the general outbreak of inter-sectional strife scheduled today, the American League leaders matched hard knocks with the Tigers at Shibe Park yesterday. But to a ninth-inning ambush of Eddie Rommel, who nevertheless escaped with his life, the Bengals outshone the Macks on safe hits by 15 to 14, but Mr. McGillicuddy marched serenely from the premises with the decision in runs, 9 to 6.

This victory stretched the Athletic lead to five games over the Browns and to eight over the Yankees. Other American League clubs were engaged yesterday in moving their forces to the scenes of today's battles.

Only two skirmishes took place along the National League front but nevertheless offered the Cardinals a chance to regain the lead, which they did. The Red Birds again repulsed Cincinnati without frills or ceremony, this time by 8 to 1, as the heavy guns of the Phillies fired a broadside which sent the Pirate craft to the bottom. The figures were 10 to 7.

The result of these battles sent the Cardinals into first place again, with a margin of one game over the Corsairs. The Cards cleaned up five straight against the unhappy henchmen of Hendricks.

ROCKY MOUNT DOWNS LOCAL OUTFIT HERE

Rocky Mount defeated the locals here yesterday, 11 to 3, to get back on the East Carolina League top.

"Buddy" Crump, recognized in many circuits as an outfielder with few equals in the minors, tried his hand on the mound for Greenville, and started in the initial inning by giving five free passes to force in two runners. But he was allowed to stick to his post and there were more walks totally 12 and hits in bunches.

The nine hits scored off of Gill, visiting hurler, were well scattered. Alford, rapping for a perfect day, led his teammates, while Nalbock, with two out of three, bested the locals. Williams and Nalbock furnished sensational fielding features. The box score:

Blue Larkspur Will Appear In Belmont Races

By ORLO L. ROBERTSON, Associated Press Sports Writer. New York, June 1.—(AP)—In atoning for his poor Kentucky derby showing by winning the Withers Memorial Day feature, Blue Larkspur has given Kentucky a real threat in the rich Belmont stakes to be run at Belmont Park next Saturday.

The thrusting of the son of Black Servant-Blossom Time into the $70,000 Belmont picture changes the aspect of what heretofore appeared to be an eastern-controlled race. Blue Larkspur clearly demonstrated his liking for a dry track when he stepped the mile in the Withers in the sensational time of 1:36, the fastest mile of the season, and only two-fifths of a second off the track record.

If there ever was any doubt about the Bradley colt having a heart it was dispelled in that thrilling trial to Belmont stakes run before 40,000 persons Thursday, like a true son of his great sire, he came from behind to outgame two other great three-year-olds, Chestnut Oak and Jack High, in a driving finish. And the mile and one-half route of the Belmont appears to be made for E. R. Bradley's Standard Bearer. When he finished the Withers mile he was going stronger than either Chestnut Oak or Jack High, which faltered in the final strides after getting a burning pace to the final sixteenth pole.

SOLUTION OF "BIG TEN" TROUBLES IN SIGHT
Chicago, June 1.—(AP)—Solutions of the University of Iowa's troubles in the Big Ten today was definitely in sight. Decision to hold a hearing to consider Iowa's petition for reinstatement in the Western Conference group was announced last night by Prof. George A. Goodenough, of the University of Illinois, chairman of the faculty committee on athletics. Prof. Goodenough said he had been directed by the other members of the committee to call a meeting of Iowa officials, at which P. E. French of the Ohio State University, and Prof. James Page of the University of Minnesota, with Goodenough, will represent the faculty body. He said the meeting would be held at Chicago sometime next week.

Plenty Scoring In The Piedmont

(By the Associated Press) Those fans who like plenty of scoring should have been well pleased with the Piedmont's menu yesterday. There was not a game that did not produce plenty of counters. The Greensboro Patriots rolled up 18 markers as they drubbed Henderson 18 to 3 to cling to the league leadership. Durham treated Salisbury almost as badly, pounding out a 15 to 5 victory. Winston-Salem and High Point came nearer to staging a real contest. The Patriots took the game in the ninth, winning 7 to 6 when Daniel Boone slammed out a homer. In the Eastern Carolina, Rocky Mount went back to the league leadership by downing Greenville 11 to 3, while Goldsboro lost to Wilmington 7 to 5. Kinston took the other contest of the loop from Fayetteville 6 to 1.

Test its Easy Steering - Easy Shifting - Lightning Pick-up - Safety Brakes - DRIVE IT THROUGH TRAFFIC

IF YOU want a car that is easy to handle in traffic, come drive this finer Oldsmobile.

The moment you pull away from the curb, you'll realize that here is a car that will give you genuine pleasure to drive. The driving position is supremely comfortable, due to the Fisher adjustable front seat and the adjustable steering wheel. Controls and instruments are conveniently arranged. Gear-shift, clutch, and brakes are easy to reach and to operate. Response to the throttle is swift and smooth.

Your first experience at a signal light will tell you that here is getaway second to none—pick-up as stageless as that of an electric motor. And each succeeding trial will prove how readily Oldsmobile flashes into the lead when the green light signals "go."

But there's more than getaway to driving in traffic—far more. Put Oldsmobile through its paces. Make opportunities for difficult tests deliberately. Note how easily and surely Oldsmobile glides through crowded streets. See how it straightens out, almost automatically, after turning corners. Observe how quickly you can stop. Good brakes are an essential safety factor for city driving. Oldsmobile's positive-acting four-wheel brakes are exceptionally efficient—and they are smooth, quiet, and easy to operate as well.

Then try parking. The same fingertip steering and short turning radius that give you such sureness of control in driving make parking easy even in small spaces.

Just drive this Oldsmobile. Try it in traffic and on the open road. Make critical comparisons with other cars. That's the only way to find out what it can do, and how it does it.

TWO DOOR SEDAN $875

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, June 1.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 1 to 5 points under some overnight selling orders brought in by the declines yesterday while there may also have been some selling on a favorable view of the early weather news.

Offerings were readily absorbed at the initial prices, however, and prices steadied up before the end of the first hour on covering and trade buying. July rallied from 18.10 to 18.18 and December sold up 18.47 to 18.53 or about 2 to 5 points net higher, but liquidation continued and the advance was not fully maintained, with the market quiet at the end of the first half hour.

Private cables reported London and Bombay selling absorbed by fair calling and covering at the decline in Liverpool. The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 12,000 bales against 100,000 last year.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, June 1.—(AP)—Largely because of opinions from trade leaders that lowest prices on wheat for at least sometime to come had been reached, wheat advanced briskly to close.

Wheat closed unsettled 1-4 to 7-8 net higher, corn 1-4 to 1-8 up, oats 5-8 to 1 advance and provisions unchanged to a rise of 12.

DEATH TOLL FROM HEAT WAVE GROWS

Nineteen Deaths Resulted from Sweltering Weather in the East Yesterday.

New York, June 1.—(AP)—Deaths from the extreme heat which visited the North Atlantic states the last four days neared the half hundred mark today.

Nineteen persons died from the heat yesterday and three were drowned. More than a score of fatalities were reported previously.

With the temperature in the New York City area reaching a maximum of 90 degrees, the highest thus far this season, nine persons succumbed and 18 were prostrated.

The heat in upstate New York state took one life. A New York Central Railroad fireman died while working near Auburn, N. Y., a boy was drowned at Newark, N. Y., the third drowning in Wayne county within 24 hours.

One death was attributed to the heat at Paterson, N. J., while swimming. Boston, one of the centers to suffer most from the torrid spell, was the first to feel relief. A temperature of 84 degrees at 8 a. m. yesterday made it the hottest place in the county at that hour, but by noon the temperature had fallen to 71. Five deaths occurred, however, before the heat wave broke.

Other deaths were reported at Malden, Mass., and Lawrence, Mass. A 12-year-old boy was drowned at Providence, R. I.

The break in the heat wave over New England brought a drop of 33 degrees at Manchester, New Hampshire and a 10 degree drop at Burlington, Vt.

One death occurred at Philadelphia where a temperature of 92 degrees was recorded. At Gettysburg, Pa., a farm hand was killed by lightning.
