DR. DAVIS IS GIVEN YEAR TO LIVE BY DOCTOR

President Of Chicago Theological Seminary Victim Of Incurable Malady.

By EDWARD STANLEY (Associated Press Staff Writer) Chicago, June 8.—Down in the offices of the "Valley of Death" talks Dr. Ozara S. Davis to meet friend—alone, fearless, confident. Victim of an incurable malady, the noted theologian has heard himself pass a final sentence upon himself—a year, perhaps longer perhaps only a few days, and then the work ends.

But there is no fear in the heart of the gentle, snow-haired veteran of the pulpit who rose from a shoeless penniless newsboy to become pastor of the Congregational church and President of one of its chief fountainheads, the Chicago Theological Seminary.

True, he has retired from the pastorate and has become President Emeritus of the Seminary. But his hand is steady, his eye twinkles clear and his laughter hearty as he sits in his study in the new 200,000 $ seminary building—tall his 70 years as his head—talking his life, what he has seen in his years, and of tomorrow.

"Excuse me if I am not as active as I once was," he said. "I've been a doctor on surgeons. I've tilted my chair, chucking at the ground. Dr. Davis is 70."

"Of course, I don't want to go to a hospital. It's a mighty interesting world and I'm having a mighty good time. But I'm no more afraid of it than I am of walking through the streets. For I know that I shall have a spiritual body with me if I please and I won't have words about other and better of my physical one."

"I'm a gentleman of letters and I like to write some books. I've written a biography of Victor F. Lawson, lawyer, some, and lecture in my classes. I've paused, thumbing memory's pages."

"This world has been very good to me. Think of the things I've seen in my time. Our problem is how to provide personal comfort to direct for the common good. The young people today—they're the finest I have known. They're more honest, fearless, more trustful. They do some things that make me shiver, but they insist on their own thinking for which I thank God."

"I believe there is more religion in the popular mind today than there was in the days of the great revival. We're still in the period of rethinking our world. There never a great war not followed by a tide of confusion. War sweeps away all ethical distinctions and must be re-established to give conditions."

"Yes, this world has been very good to me. You must remember I started out with very little. One time ago I sat next to former President Coolidge at a banquet. I was in office then I brought a picture taken at the banquet to show it to my children and they said there was a time when I had no shoes. America is the land where I could do that."

"Davis' parents were poor. The son of a baggageman in a little town about 60 years ago weren't it. So Ozara sold papers until he earned telegraphy. He worked his way through Dartmouth."

Hartford (Conn.) Seminary he a traveling fellowship and two years later got his Ph. D. at the Yale University in 1893.

Twenty Persons Injured In Riot

Paris, France, June 8.—(AP)—Twenty persons were seriously injured today in an outbreak of riot incident to storming of the Bastille by a mob of 10,000.

A disturbance followed return of sentence of life imprisonment Charles Bataud, degenerate son of a merchant, who was convicted of two murders, but by a twist of court procedure from the guillotine.

A mob formed outside of the Bastille and demanded Bataud be set over to them. Troops fired to quell the mob. Fourteen of those injured were Republican guards. There were a number of minor injuries.

NEW CABINET TAKES CHARGE IN ENGLAND

British Press Reported Well Pleased With Selection Of Minister McDonald.

London, June 8.—(AP)—Many expressions of satisfaction at Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's cabinet selections were heard in Great Britain today. Even the opposition press found its way clear to bestow praise and offer thanks that the new Premier's official family had been chosen from the "right wing" or less radical element of his party.

London, June 8.—(AP)—Miss Margaret Bondfield, Minister of Labor in the government of Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Great Britain's first woman cabinet member, has resigned her place as one of the staunchest and most able of her political faith.

Lady Astor, Rock-ribbed conservative, said of her in 1924: "Maagie Bondfield is worth twice some of the men in the cabinet."

Lady Astor charged Mr. MacDonald's failure to appoint her then to anything more than parliamentary Secretary to the Labor Ministry—not of cabinet rank—to "subconscious prejudice against women on the part of all parties."

"Miss Bondfield, 'Our Maggie' as her colleagues affectionally call her is 56 years old. In her youth in Somerset she was a 'school marm' and shop-girl. She early identified herself with the labor movement. First becoming assistant secretary of the ship's assistants union in 1898.

She wrote for labor and socialist publications in 1923 won a place in Parliament from Northampton. At various times she was delegate to the Russian Congress of Labor Union (1920) labor advisor to the British delegation to the Washington labor conference 1919 and later, similarly, to Geneva conventions and chairman of the General Council of the Trade Unions Congress in 1923.

She is known as an exceptional speaker and parliamentary tactician. Besides being the first woman cabinet member she will be the first woman to be a member of the important privy council, and will become "right honorable Margaret Bondfield," the first woman entitled to that appellation.

Chief Justice Taft Confined in Hospital

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—Over-exertion on a recent trip to Cincinnati and gall bladder trouble have confined Chief Justice Taft to Garfield hospital here for rest and observation.

Hospital authorities say he is in no danger and his condition is satisfactory. Drs. Francis R. Hagner and Thomas A. Clayton, his personal physicians, do not expect an operation to become necessary, and believe a complete rest for several days will enable him to recuperate.

BABE RUTH OUT OF GAME INDEFINITELY

Suffering From Heart Trouble, Bambino May Be Late In Returning To Club.

New York, June 8.—(AP)—Lying in a sick bed, George Herman Ruth, mighty man of sweat, held the undivided attention of baseball's millions today.

A victim, according to official pronouncement, of "muscular heart trouble," the great home run slogger of the New York Yankees will be out of the game for an indefinite period.

The more optimistic of Ruth's intimates said he would be back in the Yankees' lineup within a week or ten days; the more pessimistic inclined to the belief that Ruth would not don his uniform for a month and a half at least and possibly for the rest of the season. The great majority of expert opinion took the then two extremes, divided by two and arrived at the conclusion that the "Big Bam" probably would be back in the game within three weeks.

Certainly there appeared to be no basis for early reports that Ruth's baseball career was over. Efforts to learn the Babe's exact condition were hampered by the wall of mystery with which his illness has been shrouded. Would-be interviewers have uniformly been unsuccessful in their attempts to pass dormen and elevator operators at the west 86th street apartment where Ruth and his bride of two months, Mrs. Claire Hodgson Ruth, are living. Enough has been learned, however to indicate that a brief vacation is all the slogger needs to put himself right again.

Ruth himself was quoted as declaring he would be "as good as ever" in ten days. Yankee officials, informed by the club physician that muscular heart trouble was not necessarily a serious ailment, thought the Babe would be with them in a week or ten days.

Ruth has been out of the lineup almost a week. After he had hit his tenth home run of the season last Saturday, he left the game and later went to a hospital for an x-ray to determine just how serious was the cold with which he had been suffering for some time. Announcement was made that one lung was congested and that he would be out of the game for a week.

Mrs. Ruth said yesterday that the only serious thing about her husband's illness was the joy of convincing him that he must obey his doctor's orders to take a short rest. "Babe needs a rest," she said. "If he took out of the stadium he would be in uniform, nobody could stop him."

Ruth has been out of the game on frequent occasions during his sensational career but this is only his second long layoff because of illness. In 1925 he was taken ill during the spring training season and was taken to New York, unconscious from an attack of influenza and indigestion. He did not play his first game that season until the first of June. His other absences from the lineup have been due to injuries or suspensions meted out by his manager Miller Huggins, or Commissioner Landis when the Babe was the well-known playboy of the game.

Since he signed his three year contract for $70,000 a season in January 1927 he has appeared in practically every game of the Yankee schedule.

U. S. Gunboat Still Aground In China Today

Shanghai, China, June 8.—(AP)—Further efforts to pull the United States gunboat Luzon off the beach near Woosung having failed, a Japanese salvage company has been given the contract to attempt to free the boat which went aground Wednesday night while in the hands of avian pilot.

Admiral Mark L. Bristol, commander in chief of the Asiatic fleet, explained it was necessary to call in the salvagers as the navy lacked the necessary equipment for the task in hand.

Chief Aderhold and the three wounded patrolmen and a plainclothes man answered a call from Patrolman H. C. Jackson, on duty at the Loray Mill, who reported that a group of strikers and sympathizers were en route to the mill. The police turned the crowd back to ward their camp, some four or five blocks distant, and the chief decided to investigate a fight between two inmates of the camp.

Five Persons Wounded When Strikers Fire On Officers At Gastonia

Gastonia, N. C., June 8.—(AP)—Chief of Police O. L. Aderhold, who was seriously wounded last night in a battle between guards at the tented camp of striking Loray Cotton Mill workers and city policemen, died in a hospital here at 10:20 this morning.

A. J. Roach and Thomas Gilbert, policemen, were holding their own, it was reported at hospitals this afternoon. Joseph Harrison, who claims to be a National Textile Workers' Union organizer, and who was wounded by the same charge of birdshot that struck four policemen, was "moved" shortly before noon today to a jail in another county.

George W. Carter, guard at the strikers' tent colony, who admitted "suffing" with Patrolman Gilbert, and Louis McLaughlin, identified by Patrolman Ferguson as the man who fired at him, were taken to another county jail. Officers declined to make public just where they had been taken.

At noon today 59 alleged strikers, guards and strike leaders were in county and city jail charged with assault to kill. It was stated a police headquarters this afternoon that no warrants had been amended as a result of the death of Chief Aderhold, but it was added that some of them probably would be.

Gastonia, N. C., June 8.—(AP)—Four men today were in hospitals, two of them in a serious condition, a fifth was nursing bird shot wounds and forty-four members of the National Textile Union were in jail charged with assault with intent to kill as a result of a fight last night between guards about the strikers' tent colony and city policemen.

The city, which for several hours last night was thrown into a turmoil that for a time appeared to be approaching a situation so serious that an effort was made to obtain troops, had grown calm with rapid work by special police agents. A request for rounding up suspects. A request for troops made to Governor Gardner met with a statement that the local officials should handle the situation if possible and later the request was withdrawn.

Of the five wounded men, Chief of Police O. L. Aderhold was the most seriously injured. Attending physicians said he had probably fifty birdshots in his lungs and that his chances for recovery were even.

A. J. Roach, a patrolman, was peppered by scores of shot and was regarded as being in a serious condition, while it was expected that Patrolman Tom Gilbert would recover. Patrolman Charles Ferguson received a number of shot in his arm and shoulder and Joseph Harrison, of Passaic, N. J., who claims to be a National Textile Workers' Union organizer, was struck in the arm and side by a number of shot.

The shooting, all agreed, was done by guards posted about a tent colony established by the National Textile Workers' Union for some 1500 persons, strikers and members of their families, who were evicted from houses in the Loray Mill village a month ago. The policemen fired only one shot. It is claimed Patrolman Ferguson's gun being discharged when he fell to the ground to avoid a load from a shotgun.

Chief Aderhold and the three wounded patrolmen and a plainclothes man answered a call from Patrolman H. C. Jackson, on duty at the Loray Mill, who reported that a group of strikers and sympathizers were en route to the mill. The police turned the crowd back to ward their camp, some four or five blocks distant, and the chief decided to investigate a fight between two inmates of the camp.

UNCOVER NEW ROMANCE ON OLDBROADWAY

Revealed That Power Magnate Married Former Dance Hall Hostess.

New York, June 8.—(AP)—A new chapter in the romantic lore of Broadway was revealed today by friends of a former dance hall hostess, now the wife of A. R. Graustein, multi-millionaire head of the International Paper and Paper Company.

When Graustein's marriage at El Paso, Texas, March 14, was announced, the bride was identified merely as the "former Claire Patton" of that city.

Former associates at Roseland dance hall recalled the meeting of the paper and power magnate and his future bride on the dance floor and the decided preference, which the wealthy patron displayed for Miss Patton as a partner.

Miss Elizabeth Cowley, head hostess, who introduced the couple, said: "Of course the girls meet and dance with so many persons that it's hard to remember faces. But when a man comes back and back again, then the girl's success is proved and we become interested in her admirers."

"I remember Mr. Graustein very well. He goes so he liked to sit out many dances with Claire. He became her steady admirer. We didn't know he was so rich and important then."

Graustein yesterday declined to comment on his marriage. He said he at first had been annoyed that news of his romance had come out but did not mind it any more.

J. O. DUVAL TO QUIT AS CITY CLERK

Alderman Advised of Intention To Quit In Letter Last Thursday Evening.

J. O. Duval, city clerk of Greenville for a number of years in a letter to the Board of Aldermen in regular monthly session last Thursday night, advised that he would not be a candidate for re-election to the office of city clerk and tax collector at the expiration of the present term at the end of this month.

He stated, however, that he would be glad to continue his services during the same the annual audit of the city books was being made and for a sufficient time to familiarize himself with the accounts of the city.

Following the reading of the letter by Mayor J. C. Lanier, the Board gave Mr. Duval a vote of thanks for his expression of willingness to be of most possible service to the town in aiding in the audit and helping to break in a new man for the job.

The matter was omitted from the regular report of the proceedings of the Board of Aldermen carried in the columns of this paper yesterday, as it occurred after the regular order of business of the evening had been completed and did not get into the full report.

PRES. HOOVER WILL FISH IN BLUE RIDGE

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—President Hoover left here today for his fishing camp on the upper reaches of the Rapidan river in the Virginia Blue Ridge Mountains.

The chief executive decided to spend the week-end in the proposed Shepards Park section of the Old Dominion despite chilly and threatening weather.

Accompanying Mr. Hoover were Mrs. Hoover, Secretary Hyde, Dr. Vernon Kelloe and Lieut. Commander Joel T. Boone, the president's personal physician.

Mr. Hoover hoped to get in some fishing on the trout stream during the afternoon and he planned to return to Washington early tomorrow after sending the night at the camp of tents which has been erected on the site arranged for him by Virginia state officials.

Dean Resigns

The Very Rev. Herbert L. Johnson, dean of St. Paul's Protestant Cathedral, Detroit, has resigned because he said of "the limitation by the cathedral vestry of the freedom of the pulpit."

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—Hoping to start a real vacation in the near future, Congress decided not to take today off but to get on with its work.

With the farm relief bill before the Senate for final action and the census reapportionment measure in conference for adjustment of minor differences, leaders felt free to go ahead with plans looking to an early adjournment until September.

Those plans depend chiefly upon the success of efforts to obtain an agreement for a Senate vote on the tariff bill about mid-October and the failure of export debenture advocates to hold together a sufficient majority in that chamber to bring about a deadlock with the House on the farm bill.

The Senate Democrats have been caucused to confer on the tariff proposal Monday, and apparently are willing to accede to the step-by-step leaders' wishes if in the words of their own leader, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, they are assured "reasonable time for a discussion of all amendments that may be offered."

An agreement fixing a time for a vote on the tariff bill, on which hearings will be started Wednesday by the Senate finance committee, will require a two-thirds majority.

Senator Robinson, meanwhile, is leading the opposition to acceptance of the tariff conference report on the farm relief legislation, which would eliminate the export debenture proposal voted by the Senate 47 to 24, over "obscure administration" objections through a coalition of Democrats and Republican independents.

That report was adopted by the House with little debate and has made the order of business in the Senate today.

Preventing a revised farm bill regarded as acceptable to President Hoover, action on the report is not expected until next week. Senator Robinson has announced his intention to try to force a House vote on the debenture plan, a move which administration leaders of that chamber thus far have successfully blocked through its representatives in the joint conference negotiations.

Abandon Junior Prom At Evanston

Evanston, Ill., June 8.—(AP)—There will be no junior "prom" at the Evanston township high school this year because 15 negro students will not relinquish their right to attend as members of the class.

The "prom" scheduled for June 14 has been definitely abandoned subsequent to the action of the Evanston country club in refusing to allow the class the use of its club house if the negroes attended.

Members of the school faculty, school officers and the "prom" committee were unable to discuss the negro group from the school.

There are 700 students in the Junior and senior classes eligible to attend the function.

GOLD BULLETS

by Charles G. Booth

SYNOPSIS: Jerry Ogden tells the story of his father's last night as Alex Peterson, overlord of Torridity—a story revealed by Andrew Ogden just before he was murdered. Peterson's younger brother, "Jerry," was sentenced by miners' trial to hang for robbery. Defying the men pursuing his brother, Alex locks "Jerry" into the Peterson mine and demands that they delay their hanging until morning so that he may examine their evidence. Alex tries to bribe Joe Lundy, whose gold "Jerry" admits stealing, but Lundy, fearing the mob, refuses. They agree to wait until sunrise.

Chapter 32. A NIGHT OF HORROR

Deacon and I sat breathless as Jerry paused momentarily. The suspense was terrific and it was a distinct relief when Jerry resumed. "It was just nine by dad's watch. The sun rose at four. He had seven hours' grace and he knew he was in for the biggest night of his life. "Dad was ready to say: Uncle Jerry, but whether it was an honest acceptance of his offer that Lundy had in mind, or not, he couldn't decide. That sense of 'something else' the skull. Ten-to-One. Don't it seem as if a couple uh high fliers like you an' me ought to git together?" "Dad didn't think so just then. He'd come to talk about his brother. That evidence against him. Lundy said there wasn't any hurry. "You'll show it to me now, Dad shouted suddenly. "Lundy drew back. 'Scared?' he drawled. "MacCoy said it looked that way and Richey guessed Dad had never eat in a real game. Lundy laughed. "At that they began to grin and checks and Dad knew that 'something else' in Lundy's mind was now. Dad said he'd never heard of anything quite so damnable. "And then he got the other side of the picture. He knew what Lundy was after. The proposition was ghastly, but nothing else had presented itself, or seemed likely to. And Jerry was waiting for him... a rope ahead". . . Jerry, his kid brother! And it was he who had brought him here! (Copyright 1929, Wm. Morrow Co.)

What is Lundy's ghastly proposition? Can Peterson win his brother's freedom? Continue the story with Monday's chapter.

"ADS" IN THE REFLECTOR PAY

buzzing in Lundy's head wouldn't let go of him. "Dad stuck off towards the town. Burke, Webb and Pich fell in 100 feet or so behind him. A terrific din was pouring out of Lundy's Place. Shouting, laughing, women squealing, ragtime on a tiny piano and all that. A hush fell as dad entered. He went up to the bar and bought a drink. "Where's Lundy?" he asked. "The bartender seemed nervous. 'Upstairs,' he replied. "As dad made his way towards the gallery stair, Pich, Burke, and Webb came in. "Dad stood at the top of the stair and looked down into the hall. The piano had started again and the crowd was milling around the floor or drinking at the bar. They all seemed animated by the same impulse: to have as good a time as Lundy's Place could offer them, dad said. As he watched them, it came over him that they were all of a kind. They might have been members of a single body. "Sheep," dad muttered to himself. Think alike, act alike. Whether it's lynching a man or swallowing booze. Wax! Get 'em hot enough and you can shape 'em any way you please. "These were his thoughts as he stared down into the hall and I mention them because they bear on what follows. The comparison to wax sent dad's eyes to a colored poster lacked in the well of the stair. It went something like this, dad said.

milk. The pause gave me time to assemble my wits. My feeling had become one of stark horror as Jerry described that poster and the party concealed entrance to Lundy's "secret" room. Wax dummies! I had suspected something of the sort. Jerry was commencing again. "Those poker chips Lundy was fiddling with must have given dad an inkling of what the man had in mind," Jerry paused. "I won't pretend that what I have told you is an exact description," he went on earnestly. "But it's different with what I'm going to tell you now. Dad had what follows as clear as a letter on a dictaphone record and he passed it on to me that way. "Howdy, Ten-to-One," Lundy greeted dad. "Come in." "Dad described the room. A hanging lamp lighted it. There were half a dozen chairs, an old desk, the table, and an old-fashioned safe with a broken lock. A brewery calendar with a picture of a woman in tights hung on the south wall. A door in the east wall led into a storeroom which occupied the other two-thirds of the end of the building. "Mac an' Rich is fair itchin' for a game," he went on. "Itchin' is right. Richey and MacCoy supported him. "Dad drew on his cigarette. "There's plenty of easy money downstairs," he said. "Lundy leaned nearer. 'Yuh've got the reputation uh bein' the gambler'sat hombre as ever come into

 Consider the Delivered Price
 Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values. Viking delivered prices include only reasonable charges for delivery and financing.

There is one outstanding difference between the new Viking and all other automobiles. The Viking is the only medium-priced car on the market today that provides the definite superiorities of ninety-degree, V-type, eight-cylinder performance.

The difference is instantly discernible when you drive the car. The very feel of its power—its smooth, quiet flow—suggests the remarkable performance abilities of its 81-horsepower, V-eight engine.

These abilities become increasingly evident with every performance test. There is indescribable smoothness. Acceleration is exceptionally swift and sure, both in getaway from a standing start and in pick-up at the higher speeds. Speed is easy and effortless, practically limited by the driver's desire. Few motorists drive as fast as this new Viking will travel.

Among the outstanding advantages of the new Viking engine are its simplicity, rigidity, accessibility, and compactness. The valve mechanism is entirely new in design and is more accessible than in the conventional automobile engine. The valves are set horizontally and are unusually simple, quiet, and rigid. Fuel distribution is based on the down-draft principle of manifolding—providing each cylinder with a fuel mixture of uniform quality. The four-wheel brakes are of the new two-shoe.

Carroll-Long.
Starks, Fla., June 1.—Pink radiance roses and Shasta daisies against a background of bamboo, fern and potted palms filled the chancel of the Methodist Episcopal church today at high noon, making a setting for the wedding ceremony of Miss Margaret Peek Long, daughter of Mrs. Hardin Long, and Dr. Bryant S. Carroll of Winterville, N. C. The double ring ceremony of the Methodist church was read by Rev. M. Chandler Stith of Louisville, Ky., a friend of the bridegroom. The nuptial music was rendered by three friends of the bride, Miss Ethel Griffin, organist; Mrs. M. C. Stith of Louisville, Ky., soloist, and Owen Griffin, violinist. Mrs. Stith sang "At Dawning" (Cadinan), and "O Promise Me" (De Koven). Mr. Owen Griffin played Schubert's Song of Love, and Miss Griffin played Traumerel softly during the service.

At the stroke of twelve the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin announced the bride party, which entered the left aisle and, after the marriage vows were taken, departed through the right aisle to the strains of Mendelssohn's recessional. The junior bride's maid, Miss Lois Long, a sister of the bride, entered the church first in a yellow organdie frock of uneven hemline and a mid-dish shoulder cape with yellow marine hat and accessories to match, carrying an arm bouquet of yellow rose buds. Miss Myrwin Jackson, of Buxton, Ga., maid of honor, was attired in a pink chiffon creation with irregular hemline, a deep yoke and a shoulder cape of ecru lace. With this she wore a transparent picture hat and matching accessories, and her arm bouquet was formed of pink rose buds.

Miss Long entered with her uncle, Judge A. V. Long of Gainesville, by whom she was given in marriage at the altar, where they met the bridegroom and his best man. The bride was gowned in a mid-night blue georgette ensemble traveling suit, with a flesh colored blouse embroidered in blue and gold. Her close-fitting hat was of blue and beige Baku straw. She wore beige shoes and hose. She carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses, showered with valley lilies.

T. Telfair Long, a brother of the bride, served as Dr. Carroll's best man, and ushering were D. Powell Carpenter, Hamilton Ritch, a cousin of the bride, and Comer Long, a brother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a white costume of chiffon and lace, a white hat and white slippers.

Dr. Carroll is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Carroll of Winterville, N. C. He attended the University of North Carolina and the University of Florida, and was graduated from the Atlanta Southern Dental College where he served two years on the student council and was president of the senior class of 1927.

DELIGHTFUL LUNCHEON FOR BRIDE-ELECT

One of the most attractive of the pre-nuptial entertainments complimenting Miss Eliza Laughinghouse, was the luncheon given at noon today by Mrs. J. L. Hassell. The spacious home was charming with a profusion of garden flowers and the atmosphere was enlivened by many friends.

Mrs. Dall Laughinghouse and Mrs. Swanson Graves received at the front door and introduced the guests to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hassell, Miss Eliza Laughinghouse, Mr. Lemuel Blades and Mr. and Mrs. Ned Laughinghouse, parents of the bride.

A lovely luncheon was served by Mrs. Julian White and Mrs. Paul Royer, assisted by Misses Margaret Hassell, Hattie Sylvant and Lillian Woodley, of Suffolk, Va.

A number of out-of-town friends with the relatives of Miss Laughinghouse and Mr. Blades, enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Hassell who, as always, was the perfect hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Lipscomb showed the guests to the dining room. The dining room carried out the general pink and white color scheme and was lighted with pink tapers. A large bride's cake formed the centerpiece on the table. Misses Frances Morton, Mary James Lipscomb and Helen White served a pretty pink and white ice course.

Much merriment was caused in cutting the cake. Miss Elizabeth Wood of Elizabeth City, cut the "thimble"; Rev. A. W. Fleischmann, the pipe, denoting peace; Mrs. A. W. Fleischmann, the dime, denoting riches; William Holtz, the fox head, denoting cunning; Miss Muriel Comber of Rutherford, N. TOO MUCH CLEARED LAND
 Heaven knows, farmers are tired of being preached to. But perhaps a patient farmer here and there will pause and listen a minute to what the New York State College of Forestry has to say about a certain phase of farming often ignored. It is like this:

The pioneers naturally cleared off the forests, felling millions of acres of trees to make the land available for agriculture. That was a tough job. It took heroic effort and stamina to get rid of the trees and stumps and break in the soil. And these giants of those days overdid it.

They cleared forests from much land that was naturally adapted to growing trees, and wouldn't grow anything else when the trees were gone. They didn't know much about soils then.

Now, when more is known about what soils are suited to what crops, great areas of cleared land are abandoned.

"The only use for this abandoned land today is to raise the forest crops that once were believed to be an encumbrance. In our later-day wisdom we find ourselves going back over the trail blazed by the laboring pioneers in order to undo what they did."

The pioneers pursued the delusion that there was no such thing as "non-agricultural land." Now, if farmers are to prosper, it is necessary to recognize the facts, and use such land for what it will produce. That means crops slow in growth, but wealth-producing in themselves, and benefiting ordinary crops by their effect on conservation of moisture and prevention of soil erosion.

BILLBOARD SLOGAN
 Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr. and the New York Art Centre are offering a prize to high school students for the best slogan against ugly billboards. They don't use the word "slogan," but that is what they mean.

The slogan business has been overdone in this country since 1914, but if there is any cause deserving a new outburst, it is this. The country is about ripe for some devastating phrase that would blow a million billboards off the landscape.

It is good exercise, too, for boys and girls in school, emphasizing vividness and economy in language in a too garrulous age.

WEALTH
 Quoted from a recent Chicago dispatch to a New York paper:

"Approximately $300,000,000 was added to the actual and prospective wealth of the country today as the result of one of the most sensational advances in the grain market since the war."

Speculators ran up the market price of grain enough cents per bushel in one day so that the total jump indicated a value of $300,000,000 more than the day before on the total volume of grain the gamblers were gambling on. So the correspondent made the curious inference that the country was just that much ahead.

By the same reasoning, a roomful of people playing bridge would be $1,000 better off if they were playing for money and the winners gains at the close of the game aggregated that sum.

What about the losers?

It is just another illustration of the common fallacy that the country's wealth is increased every time bull speculators run up stocks, and diminished every time the bears drag them down.

What is wealth? Are poker chips wealth? Any one who thinks so might try eating them, or wearing them, or leaving them to his children.

What is wealth, of course. And when the owner of wheat gets more money for it, he gains wealth, because he can buy more with the money. But there is always the other fellow, who has to pay him more for his wheat. The basic value remains the same.

It is so with any kind of inflation. Some make profit by grabbing something as prices wash back and forth. But real addition to wealth

ABOUT TOWN

"Flow the dirt higher around your tobacco stalk and get better results," is the advice of E. F. Arnold, director of the Pitt county farm department, commenting on the condition of the tobacco crop following the recent rainfall.

"By pushing the dirt higher around the stalk, the grower will give the top roots a chance of coming out and doing their part in giving new life and strength to the plant."

"If your tobacco is looking puny, try this suggestion and watch for results. It has proven of great value in other instances, and there is no reason on earth why it shouldn't do as much for the farmers of this section."

"Pitt county women interested in improving the condition of their home certainly had an opportunity of learning of new methods in home work at the annual Short Course which ended at the East Carolina Teachers' College here yesterday afternoon," said a well known woman today.

"The courses were highly instructive. They were conducted by experts in their lines—men and women who have made a lifetime study of home demonstration work and who are fully competent to take care of modern problems."

"These annual sessions have already meant much in the life of the small town and country woman and it is expected that future years will realize the realization of the dream of better homes which the women of this community have been longing for over a period of many years."

"Making one snake good for two hair-raising stories is one of the latest sprouts on the unsuspecting people of this community during the past week," laughed a man today.

Last Sunday a local man killed a five-foot rattler on the Stokes road. The reptile had five rattles, having lost several more in some unknown way. The snake was brought to town and displayed to friends.

"A day or so later the same snake made its appearance in tobacco town. This time it was in the possession of a 'cullid' gentleman who explained that he had literally murdered the reptile with a plow handle

"People who listened to the darter's story believed him. But, in the course of one of his narratives about killing the snake, he was heard by two or three persons who had seen the snake first exhibited by the white man a day or so previously."

"They didn't intimate, however, that they knew anything other than what the 'gemmen' told, and later found cause for many a good laugh as they heard other people tell of the negro's feat in killing the reptile."

"Looks strange to see all those changes in the lineup of the local baseball club," commented a citizen today, but they seem to be getting results and that's what the maturing results and that's what the majority of people are looking for.

"The final game against Goldsboro exhibited the fact that our club is able to hit the ball almost at will and this causes us to believe that we are going to do something more than stay in the cellar in the future."

"Consistent hitting and clean fielding are two of the outstanding requisites of a ball club and as long as we can do both, we have no fear concerning the future."

"The management didn't start making changes any too soon. In fact, if they had started several days earlier it is possible we might be far above the atmosphere of the cellar at this time."

"The City Fathers have provided a penalty of $10.00 for infractions of the traffic laws of the city," reminded a reader of the paper today, referring to action of the Board of Aldermen last Thursday night.

"The ordinance was passed some time ago without fixing the penalty, since this has been settled violators of the traffic laws may know what to expect when they are nabbed by the cops for violations of the kind."

"Proper traffic regulation is absolutely necessary to the life of every city and it is to be hoped the laws will be stringently enforced in this respect. There are some who apparently forget that law exist in this connection, but should they go to the police court once or twice and pay the penalty they would be more careful next time."

Townville, S. C.—"I had a bilious spell. I would get very dizzy and have such a bad taste in my mouth," says Mrs. Bertha Whitfield, of this place.

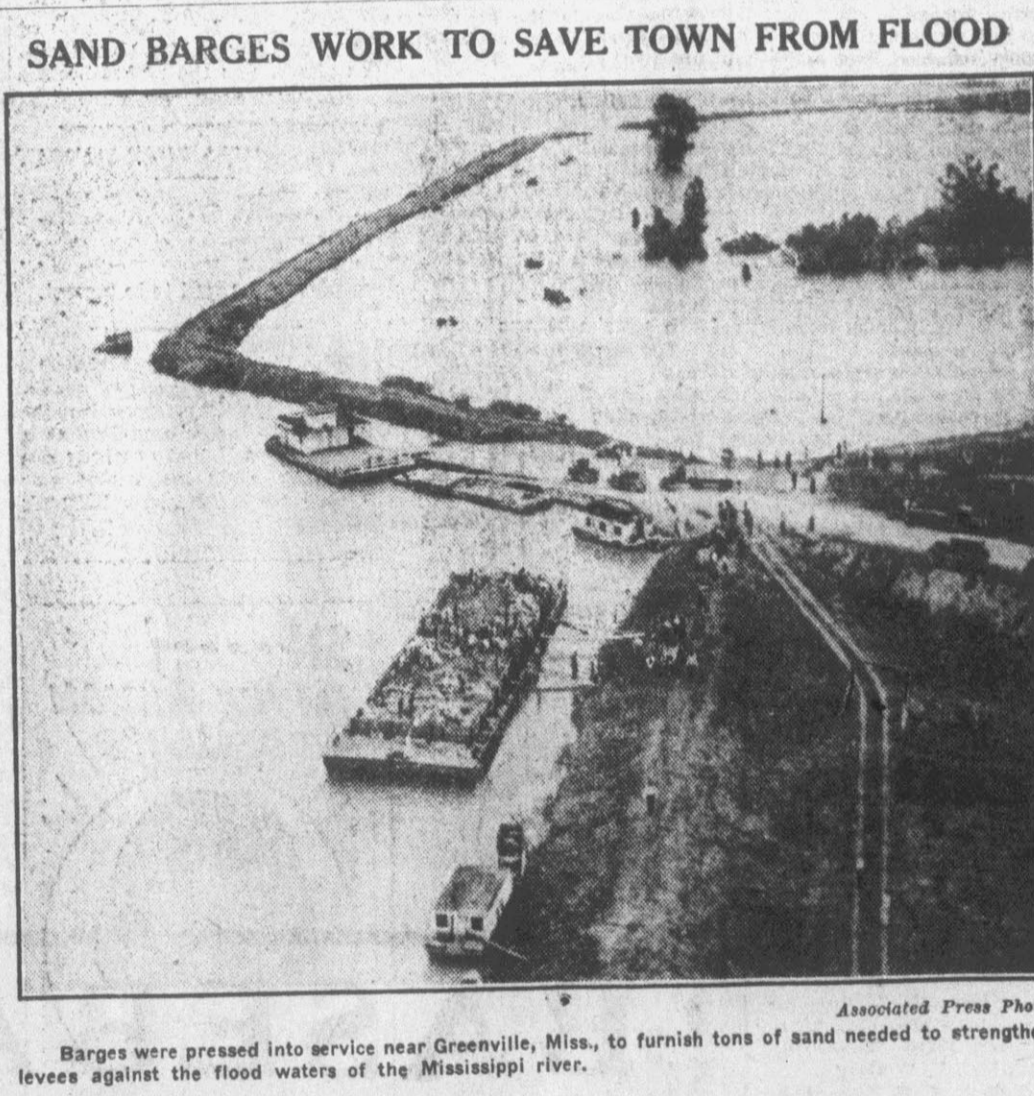

"When I would stoop over I felt like I was going over on my head. When I would get up mornings I felt as tired as when I went to bed. A friend told me how she had been helped by taking Black-Draught, and how she kept it in her home. So I thought I would try it, any way, which I did, and from then on I have used Black-Draught when I feel bad, get up tired, or feel that I need anything. Now I recommend it to my friends."

"If I get tired and sluggish, feeling like I must sit around when I have lots to do, I take Black-Draught. A few doses seem to be what it takes to cleanse my system of impurities that may cause this trouble."

Theford's Black-Draught is a purely vegetable remedy, prepared from herbs and roots carefully combined, weighed and packaged by automatic machinery.

DUFFY HELPS LOCALS LICK THE SAILORS

Another new figure appeared in the lineup of the Greenville base ball club of the Eastern Carolina League yesterday afternoon and the locals won the opening game of the series from Wilmington by the score of 10 to 2.

Duffy did the mound work for the Tobaccoists. He did it in such convincing style that the mighty bats of the Sailors were able to connect for only six hits, which all told, figured very little in the runs which they succeeded in sending over the plate in the fourth and ninth frames of the contest.

But, getting away from the pitching exhibition staged by an entirely new and unknown figure in these parts, it might be said that the whole team of Tobaccoists perform like veterans.

Ralph Williams, who has managed to continue control of second sack despite the erratic changes of the lineup of the last two days, was the big show with the stick, collecting a total of three hits out of as many trips to the plate.

Red Ellison who has had marked success on the mound, found himself completely out of luck yesterday, and took probably one of the worst outings handed him this season.

Monday has been designated as "Ladies' Day" by the management of the local club and all women will be admitted to the grounds free of charge.

The box score of yesterday's game follows: Wilmington, Ab. R. H. O. A. E. BROWNS LICK ATHLETICS IN STICK SPREE

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer) The proceedings at Shibe Park yesterday fell far short of being any part of an Athletic holiday.

But the antics of the Browns did enable several of the bench hands among the pitchers to get a few moments in the sun.

The Indians defeated the Yanks by the effective process of running up a big early lead and holding it to win by 7 to 3.

The Yankees have won but one of their five games against the Indians this season, and the suspicion grows in the east that Peckinpaugh's team was greatly under-rated at the start of the season.

Washington fans saw a collapse of two pitching staves in the same rack yesterday when the Tigers rallied to win in the last two innings to defeat the Senators by 17 to 1.

Travis Jackson contributed to the misery of Willie Sherdel with his seventh homer. The defeat dropped the Cardinals to third place as the Cubs continued to feel upon the Robins, winning the third and last of the series by 11 to 2.

The Pirates prevented the Giants from cutting down the margin between first place and fourth, winning again from the Braves by 6 to 2.

O'DOUL LEADS WITH THE BAT IN NATIONAL

New York, June 8.—(AP)—The name of Frank O'Doul, Philadelphia slugger, still appears at the top of the individual batting table in the National League, but this week the figure opposite it is 399.

Taylor Douthett of St. Louis with 44 runs, is the leading scorer, while his teammate, Chick Hafey, tops the field in runs batted in with 49.

The St. Louis monopoly is broken in home runs with Charley Klein of the Phillies leading with 14, but Hafey is next on the list with 13.

Other leading regular batsmen are: Hendrick, Brooklyn, 394; Herman, Brooklyn, 379; Terry, New York, 374; Stephenson, Chicago, 377; Frederick, Brooklyn, 365; High, St. Louis and Klein, Philadelphia, 363; Cuyler, Chicago, 362; and Clark, Boston, 361.

Burleigh Grimes tops the pitchers with nine victories and no defeats, and also leads with 191 innings pitched in 13 games.

The Phillies remain on top in team batting, this time with 316, but the rampaging Pirates not only have ousted the Cubs from second place but have joined the Phils in the 300 class with a mark of just 300.

FOXX FIRST WITH THE BAT IN AMERICAN

Chicago, June 8.—(AP)— Still whaling the ball at better than a 400 clip, Jimmy Foxx, Philadelphia first baseman, continued to set the batting pace in the American League at the end of the seventh week of the campaign.

Some distance back of Connie Mack's handy man was his teammate, Mickey Cochrane, who added a point to his mark for 353. The biggest gain of the period was made by Tony Lazzeri of the Yankees, who picked up an additional 23 points to jump from eleventh position to third with an average of .364.

With six players owning averages of 300 or more, the Athletics remained at the peak in team hitting. The club feasted on opposition pitching for an average of 312, six points higher than a week ago.

The task of taking a game from George Uhl's heavily was accomplished by the Athletics who trimmed him and the Tigers in a 13-inning contest. Uhl held his place at the top of the department, however, with a record of nine victories and one defeat.

Washington and St. Louis again exchanged places in their team fielding duel. The Senators led with an average of .976, with the Browns a point behind.

Other leaders: Home runs—Gehrig, New York, 12; Triples—Blue, St. Louis, 6; Doubles—Hellmann, R. Johnson, Alexander, all of Detroit, 19; Stolen bases—Gehrig, Detroit; R. Johnson, Detroit; Metzler, Chicago; West, Washington, 6.

High Point Trims Bulls High Point took a double fall out of Durham yesterday, trimming the Bulls 4-1 and 6-1 in a double-header and thereby moved up a notch in the Piedmont League standing.

The pair of wins vaulted the Pointers past the Salisbury Colonials into fourth place on the league ladder. The Colonials fell before Henderson 7 to 1. Winston-Salem dropped Greenboro 19 to 6 in the other Piedmont game.

In the Eastern Carolina loop, Rocky Mount and Fayetteville split a double-header, the Bucs taking the second game 6-4 after losing the opener 7 to 4. Goldsboro invaded Kinston and took a flap 4 to 3. At Greenville, the Tobaccoists pounded Ellison hard and won from Wilmington 10 to 2.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET, N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, June 8.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 2 to 3 points on covering promoted by reports of rains in Arkansas and the Mississippi valley. There was some selling on relatively light cables but the offerings were light and the active months rose 7 to 13 points net higher during the early trading with July advancing to 18.75 and December to 19.04. These prices attracted week-end realising and the market showed reactions of a few points around 10:30 o'clock. Private cables said there had been local, American and Bombay selling in Liverpool and that business in cotton cloth and yarns was restricted. The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 96,000 bales against 99,000 last year and 113,000 two years ago.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, June 8.—(AP)—Wheat traded upward in price today from start to finish but top quotations were not maintained, uncertainty prevailing about the government crop reports this afternoon.

Dry weather complaints from Canada, Argentina and Australia, especially Canada, were largely responsible for price advances. On the other hand, the government crop report due from Washington after the close of business here was expected to indicate a materially larger domestic yield of wheat this season than was predicted a month ago.

Wheat closed firm 1-2c to 1-1/4c net higher, corn 1-1/4c to 1-1/2c advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 1/2c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, June 8.—(P)—The stock market again failed to develop a definite trend today, price movements being extremely irregular throughout the brief session. There was little public interest in the proceedings, and the activities of professional operators were confined chiefly to a readjustment of speculative accounts.

A brief flurry developed in the oil shares in anticipation of constructive developments at the Colorado Springs conservation conference next week. One block 10,000 shares of Atlantic Refining changed hands at 70 7/8 or within a point of the year's high. Pan-American B Lago and Indiana Refining sold 1 1/2-2 points above yesterday's final quotation.

American Locomotive responded to the receipt of a $14,000,000 engine order from the New York Central by running up more than 4 points to 124 1/4, the highest price since 1925, when the stock sold at 144 7/8. Adams Express, which broke more than 50 points last week, jumped 23 1/2 points today. Volfirst Sale of the week. Evans Auto Loading was marked up more than 4 points.

Renewal of selling pressure against General Electric power carried that stock down more than 5 points. This trended to check the bullish demonstrations in American Water Works and American Power and Light, which moved into new high ground early in the session. Subvert Trustee was in good demand.

Weakness also developed in several of the motor accessory stocks. Heavy body breaking 4 points, Packard 3 and several others yielding a point or more. General Electric and American Tobacco B also yielded readily to selling pressure.

The closing was heavy. Total sales approximated 1,100,000.

WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR WEEK BEGINNING MONDAY

South Atlantic States.—Showers over south portion at beginning of week, followed by mostly fair weather during the middle of week, and showers again toward end of week. Temperature slightly below normal the first part of week over North Carolina.

Bank of France and head of the French delegation, epitomized sentiment among the experts in his epigram: "The report is not entirely satisfactory to anybody but it is highly satisfactory to everybody."

Diplomatic circles, foresaw another conference, possibly in the fall, of diplomats and financiers to arrange application of the plan. The same conference, it was believed, might take steps for a committee to control the Rhine zone when finally it is demilitarized and pave the way for evacuation by allied troops.

Such a committee also would broaden the scheme for the proposed international bank and complete its constitution, which the experts left merely in outline.

Eleven Held On Murder Charge

West Point, Miss., June 8.—(AP)—Eleven negroes implicated in an alleged plot to revenge a whipping administered one of their number by poisoning the family of Walker Goza, farmer, faced preliminary hearings today on charges of attempted murder.

Sheriff Lon H. Miller announced he had obtained a confession from one of the negroes, but did not reveal his name. Six of those involved, including two women, were in jail here, four were free on bond and one was held in Aberdeen, Miss. All live near the Goza farm ten miles from West Point.

Polson was found in a drinking cup used by the farmer's family which includes several children, the sheriff said. The officer did not give the nature of the trouble Goza had with the negroes which resulted in the alleged whipping.

The farmer told Sheriff Miller his wife picked up the drinking cup and as she emptied some water from it before drinking, noticed

ONCE you have driven a car with the patented double sleeve-valve engine, with its smooth, quiet flow of power, you become a Willys-Knight enthusiast and cannot derive full satisfaction from any less modern type of motor.

The new style Willys-Knight "70-B" combines sleeve-valve efficiency with custom-car beauty—grace of line, richness of color, artistry of finish and perfection of detail that make this remarkably low-priced car one of the outstanding creations of modern designers.

A heavy, fully drilled seven-bearing crankshaft effects smooth performance, and the improved frame construction gives extra strength and rigidity.
