KEYS BUYS OUT SOUTHERN AIR MAIL COMPANY

Head Of Curtiss-Keys Aviation Interest Buys Capital Stock Of Pitcairn, Inc.

New York, June 14.—(AP)—C. M. Keys, head of the Curtiss-Keys group of aviation interests, today announced purchase of the entire capital stock of Pitcairn Aviation, Inc., which operates the air mail route to the south.

"I have bought the entire capital stock of Pitcairn Aviation, Inc.," Keys said, "together with its flying services at various points in the south, but not including any of the manufacturing interest of Harold F. Pitcairn.

"Mr. Pitcairn desires, he tells me, to concentrate his efforts on manufacturing. Personally I regret his retirement from the air transport field and hope some time he will come back to it.

"We are going to carry on with the old staff of the work Pitcairn has begun. His studies indicate a good possibility for the development of rail and air and air passenger connections, perhaps seasonal in character, between the north and the south, and we intend to develop these possibilities so far as seems reasonable."

Pitcairn Aviation, Inc., operates the air mail line from Newark Airport to Atlanta via Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and Richmond, and the line from Atlanta to Miami via Jacksonville. It is one of the larger contract air mail services, having 1,520 miles of line in operation. The lines connect at the north with the Colonial Air Lines to Boston and Montreal and the National Air Transport to Chicago. At Atlanta, they connect with the Southern Air Transport and at Miami with the Pan-American lines to Central and South America.

Keys said that Pitcairn reserved for his own use the services of the business manager of Pitcairn Aviation, Mr. Childs and Chief Pilot James Ray. Aside from this few if any changes in personnel were planned.

Besides its mail planes Pitcairn Aviation owns several tri-motored ships bought for a projected passenger service which Keys said would be carried through.

No announcement was made of the price paid by Keys for the Pitcairn interests.

Second Victim Of Plane Crash Reported Dead

Havana, June 14.—(AP)—General George Taylor, 64, operations manager of the Pan American Airways, Inc., at Port au Prince, Haiti, and former United States Army officer, died yesterday of injuries received in an aeroplane crash.

His death, which occurred at the Los Angeles hospital at Santiago de Cuba was the second in the crash, which occurred yesterday morning. A. A. Griffith, radio operator, being burned to death when the plane, a Pan American Airways passenger mail ship, failed to gain height as it took off for Havana and struck some power wires.

Four others were injured. Mrs. Taylor, who escaped injury, was prostrated last night.

Commissioners Discuss Budget

Members of the Board of County Commissioners met here this morning to consider the new county budget, but nothing of any definite nature was decided upon because revaluation figures have not been completed. This matter will probably come up again at the next meeting the first Monday in July, when definite action is expected to be taken.

TORCH SLAYER SENTENCED TO DIE IN CHAIR

Elizabeth, N. J., June 14.—(AP)—Henry Colin Campbell, 61 year old bigamist, today was under sentence of death in the electric chair for the torch slaying of his mail order bride, Mrs. Mildred Mawry.

Convicted of murder in the first degree by a jury that deliberated four hours, he immediately afterwards was sentenced by Judge Clarence E. Case to die the week of July 15.

Campbell, at one time a $25,000 a year advertising man, received the sentence in the same stolid way in which he had listened to the testimony during the trial. His wife, Mrs. Roselea Campbell, who had stood by him since his arrest, attempted to rush to his side as he was being led away and later swooned.

The body of Mrs. Campbell, a 58-year-old widow of Greenville, Pa., was found aflame near Cranford, N. J., on Feb. 23, last. She had been shot through the head and her body drenched with gasoline.

Campbell later confessed killing the woman and said he had become acquainted with the widow by an advertisement he had inserted in a matrimonial paper saying he was a physician and not adverse to meeting a woman with money. She later entrusted her savings of $1,000 to him and they were married in Elkton, Md.

He said they started north in an automobile and that when they reached a point near his home he shot her and set fire to her body.

Freedom Of The Seas To Be Principal Discussion For Dawes And McDonald

Washington, June 14.—(AP)—The question of freedom of the seas probably will be the most important problem which Ramsay MacDonald, the British prime minister, will discuss with President Hoover, if he carries out his reported plan to visit the United States.

This question has been the subject of discussions in the Senate and diplomatic gatherings in Europe ever since the war. It was one of the questions Sir Austin Chamberlain, the recently retired foreign minister, discussed with the British dominions during the passage of notes between London and the dominion capitals on the whole question of Anglo-American relations, and Congress, while considering the cruiser bill, adopted an amendment urging the President to discuss this question with the interested naval powers.

It is closely related, in the minds of many, with the problem of naval reduction, which the President and Mr. MacDonald also will discuss if the latter comes to Washington.

Some hold that a settlement of naval limitation between the United States and Great Britain would automatically take care of the problem of freedom of the seas as it concerns these two nations, but others argue that the latter problem must be disposed of before naval strength can be discussed effectively.

Contrary to the common belief, the question is not one which has come up since the world war, but dates back to ancient Grecian times. Historical records reveal that a treaty signed then by the maritime governments stipulated that "the signatory powers shall all have the full freedom of the seas."

So far as the United States and Great Britain are concerned in this problem, both official and diplomatic circles today expressed themselves as of the opinion that a logical solution would be a division of hemisphere with the Atlantic Ocean as the boundary.

Under such an arrangement, these usually well-informed quarters said, England would take as her sphere Europe and Africa, with the United States guaranteeing not to interfere with Great Britain's obligations under the covenant of the League of Nations.

The sphere of the United States would be the western world, with Great Britain guaranteeing not to interfere with the obligations of the United States under the Monroe Doctrine.

Problems of the Pacific are dealt with, these circles pointed out, by the four-power agreement signed in Washington in 1921 by the United States, Great Britain, Japan and France, protecting their interests in the Pacific. This treaty expires shortly but it automatically renewed unless one of the high contracting parties gives notice of its abrogation.

APPEARANCE POWER HEADS IS POSTPONED

Federal Trade Commission Defers Hearing Representatives Alabama Power Co.

Washington, June 14.—(AP)—The Federal Trade Commission today postponed until June 19 the appearance before it of Thomas Martin and Logan Martin, president and general counsel respectively, of the Alabama Power Company, and Victory H. Hanson, publisher of the Birmingham Ala. News and the Age-Herald, were to testify regarding the financing of the Mobile, Ala., Press.

The postponement was made on the motion of Robert E. Healy, chief commission counsel, who declared he wished to examine the three witnesses at the same time with three other witnesses in connection with the investigation into the press.

The three other witnesses are Joseph F. McGowan, Mobile financier and a director of the Press; R. B. Chandler, editor and publisher of the Press; and Ernest F. Ladd, president of the Merchants National Bank of Mobile.

The appearance of McGowan, Chandler and Ladd had been scheduled for today but last week the commission proposed their appearance until June 19 because of serious injuries suffered by McGowan in a horse-back riding accident.

French Soldiers Reported Capture Moorish Village

Bobat, Morocco, June 14.—(AP)—While rebellious Moorish tribesmen besieged French detachments at Ait Yakoub, other French colonial troops have penetrated their own country and captured the village of Tount.

Thirty-five of the Moorish tribesmen were killed, the French attackers finding 30 rifles and taking six prisoners.

Due possibly to this attack at their rear and to the severe punishment to which French aeroplanes have subjected them the besiegers at Ait Yakoub have begun to withdraw, the tribesmen leaving in small numbers for their homes on the northern slopes of the Great Atlas Range.

Meanwhile French reinforcements including eight battalions of the French Foreign Legion, under General Freydenberg, were approaching Ait Yakoub, and were expected to initiate retributive measures almost at once.

No other desert tribes seemed to Moors, who June 9 attacked the day to have joined with the dissident French detachment at El Bordj, pursuing it to Ait Yakoub. Eighty-three French troops, officers and men, were either killed or are missing.

JUNIOR ORDER ENTERTAINED AT BANQUET

Local Organization Celebrates Increased Membership With Program Of Fun.

Celebrating the doubling of their membership, members of the Greenville Junior Order United American Mechanics and their wives and sweethearts enjoyed a delightful banquet and program of fun and frolic at Parkerson's Dining Room last night. Approximately a hundred and fifty persons were in attendance and heartily applauded the several musical and acrobatic numbers put on by an aggregation of entertainers from Goldsboro.

The banquet came at the conclusion of one of the most outstanding membership drives ever inaugurated in this city. The drive resulted in doubled membership which at this time stands at 160. Two teams, comprising the entire membership of the order participated in the drive and it fell to the losing team headed by L. S. Spence, well known Greenville florist, to provide the banquet and entertainment last night, this being required of the losers at the beginning of the campaign. The winning team was headed by Jake Wilson.

Rev. Thos. E. Beaman, pastor of the Free Will Baptist Church of this city, acted in the capacity of official spokesman for the losing team, at the outset explaining the nature of the occasion and the pride of the organization in being able to experience such pronounced growth in membership. He also announced the various forms of entertainment from time to time and said everything had been done to make it a full night for the members, their wives and lady friends.

The program opened with the singing of the national anthem by the entire assemblage and invocation by Rev. J. H. Williams. After enjoying a three course banquet, the crowd was treated to a couple of song numbers by that inimitable entertainer from Goldsboro, Dr. Zeno Spence. The singer had provided his composition especially for the occasion, and his occasional reference to some program produced considerable hilarity. He also scored a big hit with an exceptionally fine brand of yodeling. He was accompanied at the piano by his daughter, Miss Wilmer Spence.

Miss Marjorie Fussell of Goldsboro, who is well known to people who tune in on the broadcasting station at Raleigh from time to time scored heavily with three popular song hits at the piano. She played with all the ease and skill of an accomplished musician and her light program caused her hearers to be forgetful of the discomfort that had been occasioned by torrid temperatures at the beginning of the performance.

Ed Evans who has won much recognition as a fancy rope twirler and who has been dubbed Will Rogers the second by people in different places where he has appeared, provided a thrill with his program. Suspending an abbreviated lasso above his head and around his body, he pulled off a number of stunts that called for repeated applause.

Misses Jane Hardee and Clara Sepnce, in clown costume, scored heavily in an acrobatic performance.

BAPTIST CONFERENCE OPENS AT RALEIGH
Raleigh, June 14.—(AP)—More than 500 members of the denomination today were in attendance upon the third annual Baptist Sunday school conference, which is being held in Meredith College here today. Lectures and addresses by church and Sunday school workers made up the day's program.

BRUMMIT PRESENTS NEW INCOME TAX RULING
Raleigh, June 14.—(AP)—Attorney General Brummit has ruled that while taxes must be paid they are not debts that can be deducted in making out tax returns. The ruling, published today, was made on the request of Macon county authorities, who cited the provision of the law for reduction of "all bona fide indebtedness." Assistant Attorney General Frank Nash dug back 40 years into the archives and found a Supreme Court opinion ruling that the obligation to pay taxes does not rest upon the consent of the taxpayer, and, therefore, taxes are not debts.

House administration leaders assert the attempt will prove as futile as did that to include the proposal in the farm bill. They take the position that the vote in the House yesterday, 250 to 113, against debentures, settled them for the remainder of the session.

This view is not shared, however, by those who favor the plan in the Senate. A movement already is under way to modify the proposal in the hope of gaining support for it in the House. Senator Brookhart, Republican, Iowa, intends to propose that the revenue from debenture certificates be given only to stabilization corporations which the federal farm board will be authorized to set up under the terms of the farm relief bill.

Chief objection to the debentures centered in the belief that the farmer never would obtain the benefit of the money derived from their use. President Hoover contended they would benefit speculators but prove ruinous to the farmer.

Senator Brookhart and other debenture advocates now contend that, through issuance of debenture certificates directly to the assets of the stabilization corporations, the possibility of speculation in them would be eliminated and the farmer would benefit through his direct control of the corporations.

A number of the House farm leaders who asked for defeat of the debenture section in the farm bill, hold that the Brookhart proposal is unacceptable, but others declare that before a vote on putting the plan in the tariff bill can be taken many representatives will circulate in their districts and may change their present opinions.

Washington, June 14.—(AP)—More is to be heard from advocates of the export debenture plan even though it has been eliminated as an issue in farm relief legislation.

Their plan, in process of formation ever since it became apparent weeks ago that no farm measure, which included debentures, was likely to be approved, is to try to put the proposal into the tariff bill in the Senate.

SOVIET RUSSIA LAUNCHES WAR AGAINST CHINA

Soviet Troops Already Have Crossed Siberian Border To Begin Attack.

London, June 14.—(AP)—A Peking, China, dispatch to the Daily Express today said Soviet Russia had launched a war movement against China. Soviet troops were reported already to have crossed the Siberian border and to have established outpost in Western Manchuria.

The dispatch said Soviet reinforcements were being rushed in special trains over the trans-Siberian railway, and added that Chang Hsueh-Liang, who has ruled Manchuria since the death of his father, Chang Tso-Lin, had sent an urgent appeal to Nanking asking that measures be taken to protect the territory.

The drastic Russian measures were said to be in retaliation of raids by the Chinese-Manchurian officials on Russian consulates at Harbin and other places on May 28, in the course of which Russian consular officers and others were arrested and a considerable quantity of alleged propaganda seized.

The dispatch to the Express said the central executive committee of the Kuomintang, governing Chinese party, had been convened hurriedly to consider the situation.

Russian outposts were understood to have been established at Kharlar, Northwestern Manchuria, east of Manchouli. Manchurian provincial troops were under arms at Algon or Heilunkiang, on the river Amur, near Blagoveschensk, Northeastern Manchuria, with others available at Kirin and Fengtien. Kharlaris on the railroad across Manchuria to Mukden and Dairen.

The dead are: Thomas Kennedy, Christopher Kelly and Phillip Burns, all of Brooklyn.

About 50 men were working in the bottom of the Robbins dry dock at the time of the explosion, scraping the starboard side of the tanker Guf Penn. It is believed that a leak in one of the compressed air lines might have caused a pon-toon to explode.

The Guf Penn, formerly the Agawhaye, is an American tank steamer, used in the transportation of crude oil, and is owned by the Gulf Refining Co. here. The tanker was reported not damaged.

HEARING OF STRIKERS IS POSTPONED

After Two Hours Of Deliberation Today, Habeas Corpus Hearing Deferred To Tuesday.

Charlotte, June 14.—(AP)—After more than two hours of legal jockeying by counsel on both sides, hearing on the writ of habeas corpus seeking release of 19 persons held in connection with the Lory strikers' rent colony shooting, was postponed today until next Tuesday.

Judge W. F. Harding of the Mecklenburg Superior Court took this action after the state had agreed to release six of the prisoners on bail. Bond for the six, accused of assault, was fixed at $2,000 each.

Appearing in the Mecklenburg Superior court under a writ of habeas corpus, Fred Erwin Bell, southern organizer for the union, and eighteen other union leaders and strikers sought before Judge W. F. Harding to secure bail or freedom of charges. Bell and a dozen others are charged with murder in connection with the death of Chief of Police O. F. Aderholt, who died the day after the shooting. The others are charged with assault on three other policemen.

John G. Carpenter, district solicitor, sought dismissal of the writ on the ground that attorneys for the defense had entered pleas of not guilty when they waived preliminary hearing in recorder's court at Gastonia last Wednesday. This was disputed by Tom P. Jimison, attorney for the defense.

The first two hours of the hearing was taken up almost entirely with arguments and examination of Gastonia recorder's court officials.

House administration leaders assert the attempt will prove as futile as did that to include the proposal in the farm bill. They take the position that the vote in the House yesterday, 250 to 113, against debentures, settled them for the remainder of the session.

This view is not shared, however, by those who favor the plan in the Senate. A movement already is under way to modify the proposal in the hope of gaining support for it in the House. ## THREE KILLED BY EXPLOSION AT NEW YORK

Several Hurt By Blast Of Undetermined Origin At Brooklyn Dock Yards.

New York, June 14.—(AP)—Three men were killed, two men were seriously injured and five others slightly hurt in an explosion in a Brooklyn dry dock today.

The cause of the blast was undetermined.

The dead are: Thomas Kennedy, Christopher Kelly and Phillip Burns, all of Brooklyn.

About 50 men were working in the bottom of the Robbins dry dock at the time of the explosion, scraping the starboard side of the tanker Guf Penn. It is believed that a leak in one of the compressed air lines might have caused a pon-toon to explode.

Mexicans Pray For Solution Of Church Problem

Mexico City, June 14.—(AP)—Thousands of Mexicans streamed through the priestless Mexican churches today, kneeling and praying for a happy solution of the national religious problem in conference which are underway at Mexico City.

With the arrival of Archbishop Ruiz Y. Flores from the United States last Saturday, disclosing for certain negotiations to settle the long standing controversy, the visits to the churches increased.

In the last two or three days they have approached monumental proportions, not only in the capital but in every hamlet in the nation. Dispatches to newspapers here indicated.

A second conference between President Portes Gil, Archbishop Ruiz and Bishop Pascual Diaz of Yucatan at Chapultepec Castle yesterday evening was believed to have advanced the cause of a settlement of the problem still further.

A third conference was looked for sometime today.

Attempt To Get Debenture Plan Into Tariff Measure

Washington, June 14.—(AP)—More is to be heard from advocates of the export debenture plan even though it has been eliminated as an issue in farm relief legislation.

Big French Monoplane Reported Faring Good On Trip Over Atlantic

COMMITTEE COMPLETES FARM BILL

Joint Senate-House Committee Approves Bill Minus The Debenture Plan.

Washington, June 14.—(AP)—The farm relief legislation passed through one of the final steps of its congressional journey with House approval today of the revised conference report eliminating the export debenture proposition from the measure.

The farm bill now goes to the Senate where in view of the House vote against the debenture it is expected to receive speedy approval.

If this is forthcoming the measure probably will be sent to the White House before nightfall as Senate action will complete work at the capitol.

The debentureless bill was approved earlier in the day by the joint Senate and House conference.

Washington, June 14.—(AP)—In line with the decision of the House and concurring in the views of President Hoover the joint Senate and House farm conference committee today approved a farm measure minus the controversial debenture proposition.

The two houses still must ratify the action of the conference but those in charge of the legislation said they would press for immediate disposal in both chambers and predicted that before nightfall the farm measure would be on its way to the White House.

Under ordinary conditions, a conference report must lie over for a day before action, but in this instance unanimous consent is expected to be asked to expedite procedure.

In keeping with promises not to insist upon the debenture of the House rejected it, members of the conference committee favoring retention of the plan—Senators Norris of Nebraska, and Smith of South Carolina—signed the conference report.

This unanimous report indicated speedy adoption of the farm bill in both houses, probably with little debate.

Raleigh Holstery Damaged By Fire

Raleigh, June 14.—(AP)—Damage to the Mansion Park hotel here estimated today at from $20,000 to $25,000 as the result of a fire that threatened destruction of the building early last night. The blaze had gone through the roof and burst into a roaring fire before it was discovered by a passerby but all occupants of the building were warned in time to make their escape and to save their personal effects. It was a difficult fire for firemen to control being located in the attic. The building was formerly occupied by Meredith College.

A hundred police reinforced the regular guards and cleared the field early in anticipation of a great throng to greet the French fliers.

Paris, June 14.—(AP)—Favorable winds for the French trans-Atlantic airplane, Yellow Bird, blew all along the northern coast of France and Brittany early this afternoon so speed the three aviators to their destined goal at Paris.

There was no anxiety here as yet, although nothing has been heard from the Yellow Bird since the report from the steamship Wyndeville placing her about one-fourth across the Atlantic.

For the moment all speculation here turns on whether the aviators will be able to beat the time of the famous flight of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh, 33 1/2 hours, for his trip across to the mind of the French whenever they think of ocean flights.

The parents of Armeno Lotti, the radio operator, spent an almost sleepless night. Madame Lotti remained at her apartment during the night but her husband was at his office in the hotel which bears his name. They were both confident the flight would succeed and expected to go to Le Bourget this evening to await the arrival of the Yellow Bird.

The Yellow Bird is credited here with a speed of 150 miles an hour when not too heavily loaded, but as she made only 100 miles an hour during the first eight hours with a favorable wind, most aviation experts consider her arrival here unlikely until well after midnight. This would mean 6 o'clock or later this evening, Eastern Standard time.

Rene Lefevre's brother today received a cablegram saying that the plane carried sufficient fuel for 52 hours and that the fliers expected to make the trip in 30, which would bring the ship into Le Bourget at 9:00 p. m. or 3:00 p. m., Eastern Standard time.

Other advice indicates that the plane carried enough fuel for 50 hours, depending upon any head

PIRATES TURN GIANTS BACK SECOND TIME

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The twin dash of the Pirates and the Athletics continued yesterday to the accomplishment of increasing consternation on the part of contenders, real and suspected. The Buccaneers turned back the Giants by 11 to 7 for the second successive afternoon, gaining over every first division rival, but the Mackys had to content themselves with holding fast to their eight game lead. The Athletics trimmed the Indians by 1 to 3, but the Yankees kept pace by downing Detroit 8 to 3. The Pittsburgh game saw the early demise of both Jess Peitz and Bill Walker.

Melvin Ott's thirteenth home run with two on base entitled Peitz's case in the Giant half of the second and McGraw removed Walker on suspicion in the home game with one run in and the bases filled. Hemsley greeted Carl Mays with a triple and the Pirates were back in the game after having spotted the Giants a margin of six runs. As John McGraw tempted fate by chivving Joe Genewich to the fore, and as usual, Joe was marvelous until he gained a lead of one run.

The Cubs were unable to reach a decision in their five-inning game against the Phillies. The score was 0 to 0 when rain fell. The Cardinal Brave game at St. Louis was postponed altogether because of rain.

The old dander, Arthur C. Vance, made his first start since May 16, and the Reds would have been just as well pleased if he had postponed it a few more days. The Brooklyn star fanned only one but he gave Cincinnati just five hits and the Robins won by 2 to 1. The one run off Vance was unearned.

The Athletics carried their winning streak over into the Cleveland series with the greatest ease, extending the spurt to four games. Jimmy Zinn and John Miljus were pounded for fifteen hits, including homers by Haas and Dykes, as Eddie Rommel presented the novelty of not only finishing, but starting a game. The Indians got eleven safeties but seemed unable to bunch them.

Eddie Wells, the southpaw from Borneo, opened the Detroit series for the Yanks by issuing five passes. But at the same time limited the slugging Bengals to seven hits. The Yanks themselves rapped Earl Whitehill and Ed Stoner for fourteen blows, including a homer by Earl Combs. These were enough to pull Wells through, despite a last-minute Tiger rally.

Milton Gaston added to the woes of the Borwns by turning them back at Boston in a game which saw each side get seven hits. Gaston was steadier than Rip Collins and his successor Kimsley.

Walter Johnson went through another painful afternoon at Washington where the Chicago White Sox rallied for three runs in the tenth to win by 11 to 8. The Senators tied an early Chicago lead in the ninth with four runs, but Ad Liska was unequal to holding the Sox.

GREENVILLE WINS FROM BUCS AGAIN

Rocky Mount, June 13.—Greenville sluggers made merry with three Buc hurriers here this afternoon and when the ninth frame ended the locals were holding the short end of the 14 to 4 score. Sixteen hits formed the Greenville toll for the day after Landis Day. Less than 600 people saw the game.

McKay was wild in the first inning, and hit Jones to score Nalbock. Pasquella was the first hitter to face Simmons in the same frame. He hit a single past short to score two. Crump's single and Kendall's double were responsible for the other runs in this big inning.

Gill fared but little better at the hands of the visitors.

Landis Dedicates Macon Ball Park

Atlanta, June 14.—(AP)—Judge Kennesaw Mountain Landis, supreme commissioner of baseball, W. G. Branch, president of the South Atlantic Association, and other notable men saw Macon defeat Asheville, league leaders, 3 to 2, in a game which marked the dedication of Macon's $70,000 park. Buck Newsome, Macon pitcher, fanned eleven batters.

After Dick Niehaus had pitched baffling ball for eight innings, Columbia went on a barrage to score six runs, come from behind and defeat Spartanburg 7 to 3. Charlotte took a double header, from Greenville by scores of 11 to 10 and 7 to 2.

Pitcher Brown proved invincible in the second test until the seventh when Greenville scored twice. Swift held Knoxville at bay while Augusta hit timely to win 6 to 3.

Bunnies Check Patriot Rally

Henderson checked the last stepping Patriots from Greensboro yesterday but failed to shorten the lead of the Gate City club holds in the Piedmont League.

While Henderson was winning 8 to 5, Salisbury was hammering back the second place Durham 10 to 1 by a 12 to 9 count. Winston-Salem, in third place, gained a game on both terms by beating High Point 8 to 4.

Carl Husta, the Henderson shortstop, drove in five of his team's runs with two homers and a single.

In the East Carolina League Fayetteville gained a full game on Greensboro by besting the league leaders 6 to 3. Wilmington and Kinston split a double header, the Pirates taking the first 4 to 3 with a ninth inning rally telling the story. Kinston won the second 4 to 2. Greenville had an easy afternoon at Rocky Mount, winning 14 to 4.

 Taste shows, in Chesterfield, in the tobaccos we buy—aromatic leaf of good "body," free from harshness, high in natural sugar, mild, ripe. It shows, too, in the way we blend and "cross-blend" them.

Most of all, it shows in the way men stick to Chesterfields—for that's final proof of taste!

The psychological moment has come! To my many customers, 20,000 lbs. of these hams on hand, bought and to be paid for by W. H. Allen, the National Bank, or somebody. They are beauties, sweet and delicious. Greenville and the suburbs has a population of about 12,000. These hams will be absorbed and eaten by the 15th of July and all those who share in this eating will be pleased, satisfied, pacified and gratified.

Sold the hustler and wide-awake merchant W. L. Dunn, Pinetops, 300 pounds of hams and 100 bags of meal yesterday.

I was back in Onslow county yesterday in a New Ford Car and brought back a trailer full and as I pulled these hams through Jacksonville, Maysville, Trenton and Kinston every eye seemed to be wide open on the watchman's tower as if watching Ringling's Circus. ## Want This City Represented In Feast Of Pirates

In a letter received today by Mayor J. C. Lanier from McKean Maffit, secretary of the Feast of the Pirates, annual Wilmington carnival, hope was expressed that Greenville would be properly represented when the carnival swings into action, August 21.

"In the pageant of 1928 there was an outstanding float representing the town of Greenville," the letter stated. "Though this float did not receive first prize, it headed the list in honorable mention and probably would have stood higher had it not been for an accident.

"Our desires are to interest all of the outstanding cities of North Carolina to such an extent that they will participate in our celebration. We feel and know that Greenville has some outstanding or historical event of which you are particularly proud. We hope that the good city of Greenville can arrange to be represented in our pageant in a manner worthy of your good people.

"It is our hope to build up in the people of North Carolina a love of state, such as will make of them better citizens. To accomplish this hope we are building our pageant along historical lines as far as it is possible. May we hope that our sister city, Greenville, will take a rightful place in this event."

Many Farmers See Cultivator Demonstration

Sixty-odd planters from different parts of the county attended the cultivator demonstration conducted on the George Dall farm, Ayden township, this morning, and saw one of the most complete displays of cultivators shown here in years. Representatives of several leading cultivator manufacturers were present and put their implements through several demonstrations in an effort to show the farmers the latest developments in this branch of farming.

The demonstration was staged under direction of Mr. Weaver, agricultural engineer of State College, assisted by E. F. Arnold, director of the Pitt County Agricultural Department. Mr. Weaver gave careful instruction in the various uses of the cultivator and showed how it may be used to the best advantage by the farmers of this territory.

The second demonstration will be conducted on the Haywood Dall farm this afternoon, and it was indicated that attendance would be as large if not larger than this morning. Mr. Arnold said the majority of farmers were intensely interested in the development of cultivator manufacturing and received some valuable pointers on the latest methods of operation.

The Marmein Dancers will be here again on July 23rd, with a program of their marvelous interpretative dances. The series will close on August 8th with an entertainment by the humorist, Sidney London.

The cartoonist, Alton Packard, who was scheduled for a date in the series, has been obliged to cancel his engagement because of illness.

ABOUT TOWN

"Another distinct honor has come to a Greenville business man," the writer of this column was reminded today.

"This time it is no other than Judson Blount, prominent member of the Greenville Merchants Association who was elected vice-president of the State Merchants Association at the recent convention in Hickory.

"This is the third honor conferred among Greenville business men this week and goes to show that we have a type of citizenship that is rapidly forcing to the front in the business and social world.

"It must have been disappointing to Rocky Mount fans to see their idols of the diamond fall before powerful Greenville bats in the presence of the high commissioner of baseball, Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis," said a citizen today.

"But they didn't have known something like this would happen. Just when we want to do our best is the time something is going wrong and things turn out exactly opposite to what we expected. It seems to be one of the joys of life that is just as applicable in baseball as anywhere.

"But where Rocky Mount was 'knocked cold' by the outcome of the conflict, the winners of Greenville people who attended the game thought it was exactly what they deserved. And judging by the score it was.

"But taking it anyway we may, it was time for Greenville to win a game, and it might as well have been Rocky Mount as any other club, and probably more so, because they can afford to drop a game and not have their standing affected to any great extent."

"The cultivator demonstrations conducted on two Pitt county farms today were well attended and brought out many facts pertaining to the operation of this necessary farm implement," declared a member of the farm department this morning.

"Representatives of some of the most prominent cultivators manufacturers in the country were present to demonstrate the operation of their cultivators, and the information which they imparted from time to time proved both instructive and helpful to the planters.

"Demonstrations of this kind have proved a source of much value to Pitt county growers during the past and we are making an effort to increase the number with each succeeding year."

"If you are planning to spend your vacation away from Greenville this summer, why not purchase all of your needs from local merchants before leaving," suggested a well known merchant today.

"Our stocks at this time are complete with the most up-to-date goods to be found anywhere and prices are in keeping with the pocketbook of the most economical. Think this matter over. Don't wait to supply your needs after you are away, but buy them now while you have plenty of time to think it over.

"Then too you will leave this much money at home, to be spent in the improvement of home industries. Try it, you will find it to your advantage."

"We expect the summer term of the high school to be a great suc-

CITY DUMP A DISGRACE

And while we are on the subject of junk heaps detracting from the looks of our city, it might be well to again call attention to the disgraceful scene on the other side of the river just beyond our city. For some time a piece of land adjoining the highway has been used as a city dumping ground and if there is anything that is a disgrace to our city it is this sight. Apparently this spot was selected for a trash heap because of its easy access from the highway, but dumping trash and garbage in plain sight of travelers who pass along this route is a serious mistake. In many instances other cities in this section made the same serious mistake but some of them have realized the seriousness of it and have removed their garbage dumps to other sites. Greenville should take similar action. A garbage dump with goats prowling over it is anything but a pleasant sight to greet visitors as they reach the threshold of our city. Apparently we must have a city dump somewhere but surely we can find some better place for it than right on one of our main highways where it is offensive to everyone who passes that way.

cess this summer," said a member of the faculty today.

"Numbers of students have already enrolled for study, and the next few days will see them hard at work attempting to make up some study which they failed on at the regular term or to qualify in some extra branch of study.

"The term is being cut this year to eight weeks. This is done by working six days to the week instead of five as customary. It will give the students two extra weeks for vacation, and this plan at the outset produced much enthusiasm."

"We are going to Camp Bragg this summer to show the world what kind of an organization we have," declared a member of Battery E, local unit as they began making plans for the annual encampment at Fayetteville from August 11 to 25th.

"The period will be spent in going through usual military tactics. We had the honor of winning considerable distinction the last two years and are going down to the camp this year fully determined to capture even more laurels.

"From now on we will go through intensive training and by the time for the encampment every man will be in splendid physical trim for the test period."

GOLD BULLETS

by Charles G. Booth

SYNOPSIS: Marked cards in a gamble for a human life! Alex Peterson learns from Fur that the Lundy had used marked cards in the poker game which held the life of Peterson's brother as its stake. He returns to Lundy's office and accuses him. Lundy's bullet misses but Peterson shoots Lundy in the head. In the uproar of the saloon, the shots are not heard and Peterson escapes unseen. He rushes to his mine intending to flee with Jerry, his brother. Jerry does not answer his calls and in the tunnel Peterson stumbles over his brother's body.

Chapter 41.

THE FINAL GESTURE

I had expected some such climax as this; and as Jerry's voice faded out again we found ourselves looking at one another with melancholy eyes. He began again.

"Dad found a bit of candle in one of his pockets. He struck another match and lighted the candle. As the match touched the ground fire spouted up and sizzled for a moment. Dad said he supposed a little powder had been spilled by one of the mine hands.

"Holding the candle, dad knelt by the body. Uncle Jerry's face had a fierce, intent look on it. The wound was around the heart. Dad's other gold-mounted pistol lay beside the body. Near it was a copy of the Torridity newspaper.

"Dad turned the cylinder of the revolver. One cartridge had been discharged. We went to the door with the light. The key he had pushed under the door was where he had left it. He was quite sure what had happened. Uncle Jerry had concluded dad wouldn't be able to do anything for him and killed himself. His despondency had been natural; but it hadn't occurred to dad that he'd take his own life.

"Uncle Jerry was nearer to him than any one else—he hadn't any one else, then. Those few minutes by Uncle Jerry in that tunnel became the keystone of the life he'd yet to live. He talked to the body as if Uncle Jerry were listening.

"Why did you do it, son? Didn't I tell you I'd get you out? Dad blamed himself for taking Uncle Jerry to Torridity. It wasn't any place for a kid like you. I failed you all along. . . . I'm through, son. I'm pulling out to-night. Maybe some day I'll feel you've forgiven me.

"He began to think about giving Uncle Jerry decent burial. But where should he put him? He could never bring himself to work the mine again and as Uncle Jerry had chosen to die in it, why not make it his tomb? If Lundy's heirs found the transfer, he'd negotiate for the property.

"Dad had started to get up when the light flashed on the small blade of Uncle Jerry's knife. There was a stub of indelible pencil beside it. The pencil suggested a note and he picked up the newspaper. There wasn't any writing on it, but he noticed that part of the top of the back sheet had been torn off. Dad went through Uncle Jerry's pockets, fully expecting to find the missing scrap of paper with some word for him on it.

"There was no scrap of writing either on the body or near it. Bitterly disappointed, he placed the knife, the pencil, and the other trifles on the newspaper.

"Dad got up, thinking of Dillon. Queer, his going off like that, he reflected. There was another queer thing, too, that wound in Jerry's chest. Suicides usually fired at their heads.

"Dismissing these thoughts, dad hurried outside. To do what he had in mind would take some little time and he hadn't a moment to spare. The town was still quiet. Dad looked up at the overhang. It was some 200 feet high, dad said, 100 feet wide, and 30 thick at the bottom. The bottom of the fissure was 30 feet above the top of the mine door and it was fairly accessible by a rough trail.

"Dad went into the powder house and lighted a carbide lamp. There was plenty of dynamite. He began to trundle the sled, to the foot of the fissure trail, and then carried it into the fissure, a case at a time.

"The last case carried into the fissure, dad rushed back to the powder house and gathered electric fuses, copper wire, a battery box, a screw-driver, a hammer, and a pair of wire cutters and returned to the fissure. He forced the cases open, stuck fuses into two cartridges in each case, and attached copper wire to each fuse. He then shoved the dynamite into old drillings and crevices at strategic points and packed it down with earth and rubble. The lengths of copper wire which stuck out of each pocket of dynamite he connected to his main lines.

"He hurried down the trail, paying out the wires. Picking up the battery box, he raced to a point about 150 yards north of the overhang. The coils ran out there, and he connected them to the battery box.

"He cut back to the building and looked in at the bunkhouse. None of his men were in and he made for the stable. Gunpowder, the gray, whinnied to him but he saw nothing of Bluebell, the mare. Dad watered and saddled the gray and led it outside.

"He then drove out the six miles. Diving into his cabin, he wiped the sweat off his body, got into a clean shirt, clapped on a half-hired water capstan. He said he couldn't go without another look at Uncle Jerry.

"Dad had just got to the mine door when he heard shouting off towards Torridity. Turning, he saw lights. The lights grew brighter, the shouting louder. Then he went in to Uncle Jerry.

"I'm here to tell you good-bye, son," he said. "I'm giving you one grand funeral. It's all I can do. I reckon they'll not bother you. You can lie here forever. . . . Can you hear me, son?"

"He dropped to his knees and repeated the Lord's prayer.

"The shouting began to boom in the tunnel. Dad picked up the gold-mounted gun. But as he slid the gun into his holster a thought struck him and he drew it out again and placed it beside the body. It was just another of Dad's impulses. A good soldier had a right to be buried with his weapons.

"A last look and he was racing for Gunpowder. He picked up the box and peered off toward Torridity. He could just see a fan-shaped shadow sweeping across the burned-out plain. They were after blood. The shadow swept on towards the mine. Dad shoved the plunger down. Gunpowder shot forward.

"Nothing happened for a split second or so, then Hell broke loose.

He thought his eardrums would burst beneath the roar of the explosion. A fearful grinding, crunching, crashing sound followed the roar. Gravel and pebbles showered upon him and as they pelted Gunlike a cannon ball. . . .

"It was just dawn when had got to the top of Pichtfork. As he looked down over the Skull he felt as if he were tearing his fingers from his throat. He swung the gray around and faced the west. It was then that the name he had been looking for came to him 'Andrew Ogden.' I was a good name. . . .

"That's the Torridity story, Uncle John."

(Copyright, 1929, Wm. Morrow Co.)

Andrew Ogden's murder is still unsolved. The story of "Gold Bullets" continues with tomorrow's chapter.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, June 14.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 5 to 8 points, and sold about 8 to 10 points net higher immediately after the call with July advancing to 18.77 and December to 19.12. The buying was attributed chiefly to further covering in anticipation of bullish consumption figures and a bullish government report on boll weevil emergence. The advance met considerable resistance however, and prices eased off 4 or 5 points by the end of the first half hour.

Trading was quiet after the opening with the trade evidently waiting for the official reports. A private cable reported continental liquidation absorbed by trade calling and covering in Liverpool but complained of a poor demand for cotton cloths from India and China and said that yarns were inactive.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, June 14.—(AP)—Wheat hopes entertained that the farm relief bill would be signed by President Hoover tonight, grain prices moved upward most of the time today. Indications that rain was needed badly over a wide area in Canada were also a factor counting in favor of higher quotations on wheat.

Wheat closed unsettled 3-8 to 7-8 above yesterday's finish; corn closed 1-4 to 3-4 up; oats 1-8 to 1-2 to 3-8 advance, and provisions varying from 5c decline to a rise of 10c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, June 14.—(AP)—Heavy profit-taking impeded resumption of the upward movement in today's stock market but operators for the rise brought forward new leaders whenever the old favorites showed signs of faltering. After a strong opening followed by a mid-day wave of selling, the market took on the appearance of widespread irregularity by early afternoon but gains still outnumbered losses.

Lowering of the call money renewal rate to 7 per cent coupled with a further easing of time money rates stimulated pool activities. Bankers regarded the low call money rates as temporary and look for another upward flurry early next week.

Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck and Associated Dry Goods moved up in union, and there was a good demand for such issues as Murray Corporation, Columbia Carbide, General Railway Signal and Underwood-Elliott Fisher, the last two touching new high records. General Electric ran into heavy profit-taking after crossing 300 to

For Dancing

The hits you want... when you want them

THERE is nothing quite like the Victrola for dancing. You are the leader of the orchestra. You repeat any piece as often as you like. You make up your own program. And the music sounds just like the orchestra is right in the room with you.

If you have not an Orthophonic Victrola you really do not know what you are missing. Visit us and look over the fine assortment of Orthophonic Victrolas at our store. You will surely see one that takes your eye! Have us send it to your home for a self-demonstration. Play it as much as you like and then make your decision. Come in soon. There is no obligation.
