

BUGS TAKE TWO IN ROW FROM GREENS

Goldsboro made it two in a row by defeating Greenville yesterday, 4 to 3.

Freshour, on the mound for Greenville, pitched a winning brand of ball, allowing but five hits, while his opponent, Rakek, was touched for ten. But the necessary runs to win for the home club was not forthcoming, although there were several opportunities when a little inside baseball would have probably netted a counter or more.

Kendall, for Greenville, got three out of four to lead the local attack. Nalbock, also of the locals, was the only other player getting more than one single.

Bulls Quiet Stormy Twins

(By the Associated Press.) The Bulls put a temporary quietus on the up-and-coming Twins yesterday, clamping a two-ply licking down on them and thereby climbed into second place in the Piedmont standing. The scores were 13-5 and 3-2.

All the Durham lads had a hand in slugging out the first win, but Vance Page, Bull twirler, took individual honors in the nightcap. Besides limiting Winston-Salem to four hits, Page crashed out a homer with Strange on to count two of the Bulls' three markers.

The double victory shaved away half a game from the Patriots' lead in the Piedmont race as the Bulls were trimming Salisbury 9-5. Baker got a home run and two singles out of three tries to lead the Greensboro attack. Pat Townsend burg up his twelfth victory of the season as the Bunnies turned vicious and chased the Pointers' out of the Henderson park on the short end of an 11 to 1 score. Fogleman, who started on the mound for High Point, was knocked out in the second. Walters succeeded him and took severe punishment to the end.

Ellison's relief pitching for Wilmington as the Tars downed Kinston 11 to 6 featured the day in the Eastern Carolina loop. After the Eagles had bunched seven hits and six runs off Mason's offerings in four and one-third innings, the sorrel-topped Ellison went in and held them hitless while his mates pounded their way to victory. Goldsboro and Rocky Mount turned in the wins in the other Eastern Carolina games. The Goldbobs took their first from Greenville 4 to 3, while the Buccaneers beat Fayetteville 4 to 6 in a game held to 5 innings by rain.

ATHLETICS WIN TWO FROM SOX

(By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer))

Through a lull in the battle General McGillicuddy refused to quit fighting. With the Yankees idling in a Washington rain yesterday, the Athletics fell upon the helpless Red Sox for two victories, 7 to 1 and 8 to 2, increasing their lead over the champions to 10 full games. It often has been pointed out that an advantage for one contender over another in the games won column is of dubious value unless matched by a substantial margin in the lost column, but the fact remains that the Mackmen have reached the magic lead of ten games for the first time since 1914.

Teams have been known to fall short of a pennant by ten contests, but such instances are rare. There perhaps are no more than two such cases in the history of organized baseball.

Bob Grove registered his twelfth victory of the season in the first half of the Philadelphia double-header, while young Bill Shores, neophyte right hander, turned in his first full game of the year in the second. Grove allowed just six hits and Shores eight.

The Athletics were rough on Boston pitching. Al Simmons helped himself to five out of eight. Bing Miller hit in each game, extending his streak to 26 in a row and setting a new season's record.

The Detroit Tigers conducted themselves peaceable enough for six innings at Navin Field, only to fall upon Ed Walsh and the unsuspecting White Sox for 11 runs in the seventh. The Tigers won by 14 to 2.

Cleveland and St. Louis divided a double-header at Sportsman's Park to complete the American league program. The Indians came from behind to take the opener by 10 to 7, and this so unfurled the Browns that they won the second by the shut-out route, 8 to 0. The even division dropped the Browns out of a tie with the Yankees for second place.

The big western teams in the National league spiked their guns yesterday, leaving the Brooklyn Robins free to occupy the centre of the stage for their daily torture of the Giants. The clan McGraw went into the ninth innings with a lead of 10 to 5, and Larry Benton in the box, but the Robins soon shelled him for enough runs to tie the score. A home run by Val Picinich with one on capped the rally.

The defeat was the third in as many days for the Giants, with the Robins each time in the winning role. The flock now has a record of nine out of 14 against the Giants hardly an imposing record for a hopeful contender which planned to gain ground against the weaker teams of the east while the western clubs cut one another's throats. The Brooklyn victory yesterday again was sealed by John Morrison, the curve ball expert from Kentucky, who has become the star reliever man of the two major leagues since joining the Robins. The Braves and the Phillies divided a double-header in Boston. The home boys took the opener, 5 to 4 but the Phils rallied in the ninth round of the nightcap for six runs to win by 8 to 6. This victory broke a string of nine Philadelphia defeats.

Where They Play No Spit Season In Southern League

Memphis, Tenn., June 26.—(AP)—President John D. Martin has ruled that there will be no spit season for the Southern League this year, unless all the directors demand it and at least one of the directors has made it plain that he will not do so.

In a statement published today President Martin interpreted the league constitution to require a unanimous vote to change the present schedule. When reports circulated in Atlanta that Bob Allen, of the Little Rock club, intended to ask a vote on the proposal, Thomas R. Watkins, of the Memphis club, announced that he would not vote for a spit season if there were so much as an excuse to do so.

The ruling was requested by L. P. Emerson, secretary of the Chattanooga team. Emerson's request was the only one received. President Martin said, and the phrasing of his statement indicated that the matter was closed for the present season.

His Trucks Run Better After 100,000 Miles, Says Burdge

Red Bank, N.J., Operator Needs No Mechanics to Maintain his 15 Buses, Vans and Trucks

Stresses Importance of Good Motor Oil

The problem of lubrication fails to worry W. A. Burdge of Burdge & Sons, Red Bank, N. J. He picked the proper motor oil when he started business, and depended on it to take care of his trucks. It did.

"Right now," says Mr. Burdge, "any one of our 29-passenger buses can step out in high speed from a complete stop. That shows excellent condition if anything does. Most cars are worn out after 100,000 miles, but we don't consider a bus really good until it has gone that far.

Drivers Prefer Oldest Trucks

"Pretty strong statement? Well—maybe. But recently I had to send a man on a long trip and told him to take our newest bus. Instead of being pleased he asked if he couldn't take the one that has 375,000 miles credited to its motor. He knew it was the best job we have.

"That," continued Mr. Burdge, "merely illustrates my point—the value of good lubrication. Throughout the eleven years we have been in business we have used 'Standard' Motor Oil exclusively in every one of our buses, vans and trucks.

"Here's another secret. When a bus comes in from a hard run of many miles at high and steady speed we insert a dose of 'Standard' Penetrating Oil through the carburetor to lubricate the valves and keep them from sticking. Another way we keep the buses in good condition is to spray the springs with 'Standard' Penetrating Oil. In fact, we use almost the entire line of 'Standard' Oils and Greases."

W. A. Burdge rightfully gets full value from his trucks by using oilier motor oil

Good Treatment Helps

A great many bus and truck operators agree with Mr. Burdge, when he says that good trucks could be ruined easily with poor oils and careless treatment. But not with "Standard" Motor Oil, oilier, especially processed from crudes picked for their qualities of lubrication. Thoroughly refined. A richer, smoother, full-bodied oil that smothers friction and clings and protects every metal contact surface. On sale everywhere you see the "Standard" Motor Oil sign.

TENDERS CITY PUBLIC LIBRARY BUILDING

Former Resident To Donate Building As Memorial To Father

Harper D. Sheppard, Of Hanover, Pa., Native Pitt Countian, Tenders Gift Of $50,000.00 For This Purpose.

Greenville is to be the recipient of a handsome and modern public library building, a gift of a native son of Pitt county, according to announcement made here today.

In tendering his offer in a letter to a member of the Library Commission here, Mr. Sheppard attaches only three restrictions to his offer. First, that the city of Greenville furnish the site for the proposed building and that the site be sufficient in size to afford plenty of light on all sides of the proposed structure.

Mr. Sheppard's gift is a sum of $50,000, all of which will be used in the erection of the library building and permanent equipment for same.

After the death of his father, he and two of his brothers moved from Greenville to Baltimore. There Mr. Sheppard entered the shoe business and for a while traveled over the east as a shoe salesman.

Mr. Sheppard married Miss Nettie Ayers, of Baltimore, formerly of Virginia. They have two sons, the older one, Lawrence, now being connected with his father in the business, while the younger, Harper, Jr., is still in school.

Several years ago Mr. Sheppard and Mr. Myers gave to the city of Hanover a hospital with all necessary equipment. For the past two years, through friends in this city, Mr. Sheppard has been in close touch with the efforts being put forth here in behalf of maintaining a public library in this city, and it is believed that the interest shown here in the public library and the progress that has been made despite handicap, prompted Mr. Sheppard's generous offer to this city.

At a meeting of the library board last night, complying with Mrs. Sheppard's request as to a building committee of three, two of whom were made by him, the board unanimously chose Mr. James S. Ficklen as the third member of the building committee. Mr. Ficklen is chairman of the library board, having been elected when the board was appointed a year ago by the city aldermen.

The library board expressed great appreciation of the generosity of Mr. Sheppard and will present the matter to the Board of Aldermen at next Monday night's meeting.

FLIER DIES AS PLANE WRECKS AT FT. HARRIS

Indianapolis, Ind., June 27.—(AP) A solo flier of a few weeks' experience, James A. Perry, owner of the Indianapolis American Association Baseball club and president of Curtiss Flying Service, of Indiana, fell to his death in a cabin monoplane near Fort Benjamin Harris here yesterday.

The plane gained an altitude of about 100 feet after taking off from Schoen Field at the fort when, according to witnesses, the motor apparently failed. It nose-dived and crashed in a ravine, Perry being crushed when the motor telescoped the cabin.

Perry had narrowly escaped a crack-up a few minutes earlier when a plane piloted by Captain Earl Sweeney, in which he was riding, made a landing on one wheel because of a damaged landing gear. The plane in which he crashed was one that had been loaned to the government for use during a citizen's military training camp at the fort.

Captain Sweeney and Perry had flown to the army post from Mars Hill Airport where they had been awaiting the arrival from Columbus, Ohio, of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh. Perry had flown several times with the trans-Atlantic aviator.

After his arrival Colonel Lindbergh called on Norman A. Perry, brother of the dead man and expressed his sympathy. Later he made the brief comment, "all who knew Mr. Perry will feel the loss very deeply."

Captain Sweeney was at a loss to explain the accident, saying Perry was "an exceptionally good pilot" and "not easily rattled."

VIRGINIA G.O.P. JOIN FORCES WITH ANTIS

Richmond, Va., June 27.—(AP)—Virginia Republicans have joined forces with the anti-Smith Democrats in a determined effort to take control of the state government out of the hands of the Democratic party.

Dr. William Moseley Brown, a 35 year old professor of psychology, a Democrat until the 1928 presidential campaign, who asserted he was an "independent" in politics in accepting nominations for governor offered him by two political conventions within eight days, heads the coalition ticket. Running with Dr. Brown are R. Walter Dickinson, a southwest Virginia farmer and a Republican, seeking the lieutenant-governorship, and C. C. Berkeley, a Newport News lawyer and anti-Smith Democrat, candidate for attorney general.

The Republican state convention here last night was harmonious throughout, the nominations being made by acclamation and the platform exhorting the Democratic party being adopted without reading before the convention. The subject matter of the platform was summarized by Henry W. Anderson, a member of the Hoover law enforcement commission, who delivered the keynote address.

The Republican platform charged the Democrats with misuse of political power and encroachment on the rights and liberties of the people in order to entrench themselves more firmly in control of the state government. The party pledged itself to numerous reforms in the election laws and administration of laws in general and to sweeping reductions in taxes along the economy and simplification in state and county government.

C. Bascom Slem, national committeeman and not a number of years a leader of Republicanism in Virginia, declared the Democratic party as a national institution no longer existed in his address to the convention preceding his nomination of Dr. Brown. "The Democratic party has its Smith and its Raskob but it no longer has the southern Democracy," he said.

The coalition ticket will oppose Democratic nominees to be chosen in the Democratic primary August 6. Three Democrats seek the party nomination for governor—John Garland Pollard, G. Walter Mapp and Roswell Page—while James H. Price for lieutenant-governor, and Attorney General John R. Saunders, seeking re-election, have no opposition in the primary.

Dawes And Gibson Talk Disarmament

London, June 27.—(AP)—Ambassador Charles G. Dawes and Ambassador Hugh Gibson discussed methods of approach on the naval disarmament problem with Premier Ramsay MacDonald on Tuesday, but reached no definite form. Ambassador Dawes announced this afternoon in a press conference.

Announcements regarding matters of procedure in attacking the naval problem must be made by those in authority in the countries concerned and not by ambassadors, who are merely agents, he said.

Ambassador Dawes considered that his discussions with Ambassador Gibson, who left for Brussels today, were of the greatest value because of Mr. Gibson's intimate knowledge of the disarmament question.

Sweedish Flier Continues Trip To United States

London, June 27.—(AP)—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Reykjavik, Iceland, says that Captain Albin Ahrenberg, Swedish flier, who is on a trip to the United States, hopped off at 10:25 o'clock this morning, Icelandic time (6:25 a. m. E. S. T.).

The airman, who had received favorable reports of weather conditions from Greenland, Labrador, and Newfoundland, loaded his plane which had been used repairs here, last night.

JENSEN OFF ON ANOTHER FLIGHT IN N.Y.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., June 26.—(AP)—With his wife at his side, Martin Jensen in the monoplane Three Musketeers today was making his third attempt at a refueling endurance record. Taking off at 7:32 o'clock last night he must remain in the air one hour longer than the record of 172 hours, 32 minutes, and one second, set May 26 by R. L. Robbins and James Kelly in the plane Fort Worth.

Jensen carried 165 gallons of gasoline at the take-off, enough to carry the plane through the night, and planned to refuel in the air twice a day through a pipe line from a plane flying overhead.

His wife, an auburn-haired young woman of 26, holds a private pilot's license and planned to take her turn at the controls. A third member of the crew, William Ulrich, a veteran pilot, also took part in Jensen's previous attempts.

The plane is the same Jensen used previously but a catapult refueling device, the cause of his failures, was discarded.

Ninety gallons of gasoline were emptied into the plane shortly after 8 a. m. through the pipe line from the refueling plane.

A day's supply of food for the occupants of the Three Musketeers also was supplied by means of a basket attached to a rope.

Jensen dropped a note requesting that 75 gallons of gasoline be sent up at 2 o'clock this afternoon, saying, "We did not get enough this morning."

Another store of fuel was requested for 7 o'clock tonight. The note said "Everything fine and the goose hangs high."

Miss Minneapolis Battles Storms In Endurance Flight

Minneapolis, Minn., June 27.—(AP)—Nearing the 100-hour mark in his effort to set a new world's record refueling flight for airplanes the Miss Minneapolis, piloted by Thorwald "Thunder" Johnson and Owen Haugland, early today flew through rain storms which had continued throughout the night.

As the plane passed the 93-hour total this morning, officials observing at Wold Chamberlain airport reported the single motor appeared to be functioning perfectly.

It was estimated that the plane had been flown 6,700 miles. After last night's refueling, Johnson dropped a note saying the Miss Minneapolis was good for 200 hours more in the air. Another note informed the world that the fliers would not be down "until July 4."

A compass used in night flying got out of order and a new one was lowered to them after they had dropped a note requesting a new instrument.

Gangsters Kill Alcohol Pedler At Chicago, Ill.

Chicago, June 27.—(AP)—Two men last night shot and killed Samuel Muscia, 36, reputed alcohol pedler and gangster, tossed their revolvers beside his body and fled. Police said Muscia was a gangster under the banner of Joe Aiello, a George (Bugs) Moran ally. Muscia had served a Leavenworth penitentiary sentence for passing counterfeit bills and a Wisconsin prison sentence for burglary.

FORD SELLS RAILROAD TO INVESTORS

Sale Of Detroit, Toledo & Ironton Line Announced By Bank Yesterday.

Detroit, Mich., June 27.—(AP)—Successfully terminating his excursion into the transportation field, Henry Ford has sold the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad to an undisclosed group of investors believed to represent the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The sale was announced late yesterday by officers of the First National Bank of Detroit, through which the sale was made. Ford officials had announced Monday that negotiations for the sale of the line to the Pennsylvania Railroad were "almost completed."

Purchased in 1920 to round out the Ford program of controlling every step in production of his motor cars, the Detroit and Toledo and Ironton later was so renovated under the motor magnate's administration that it became a paying business in its own right.

Much of its success was attributed to the fact that its business was obtained from other roads holding Ford transportation contracts but Mr. Ford derived a great deal of pleasure from turning the once dead-end road into a profitable enterprise.

The announcement of sale did not mention the price. Ford bought the line for $5,000,000 but in 1924 it was valued at $1,000,000. The line had earned more than $1,000,000 a year over the four year period of Ford administration and in 1926 before the Interstate Commerce Commission. Ford attorneys argued that the rate setting regulation of the road should be placed at $23,061,208.

Widely separated units of the Ford industrial organization were welded together by the D. T. & I. It was intended originally to furnish a sure means of transporting coal from Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky fields to Detroit but also carried manufactured products across nearly all the largest east and west trunk lines between Detroit and the Ohio river. The total mileage now is 529 miles.

Reform Leader Halts Campaign For Lack Of Pay

Aunro, Ill., June 27.—(AP)—State's Attorney George D. Carbery, reform prosecutor whose dry raiders killed Mrs. Lillian DeKing during a raid on her home last March, has announced his prohibition enforcement crusade is at an end unless the Kane county supervisors sanction payment of his investigators' expense bills, totalling nearly $7,000.

The county board refused to pass the bills and referred them to the judiciary committee to be "whittled down." It was understood that they have been reduced about one-third by the committee.

Included in the expenses was an item of $1,700 for hospital and medical care for Deputy Sheriff Roy Smith, who was wounded by Mrs. DeKing's son after the woman had been shot. Oscar G. Carlstrom, attorney general, has ruled that the county is not liable for such expenses.

Protestant churches have aligned themselves with Carbery and petitioners have been circulated by several pastors urging the county supervisors to "co-operate" with the prosecutor by passing the expense bills.

FORMER N. C. MINISTER DIES AT RICHMOND

Richmond, Va., June 27.—(AP)—The Rev. James M. Hamrick, 56, died early today at the home here of his son, Mr. Hamrick, a native of North Carolina, was a graduate of Wake Forest College and the Southern Theological Seminary.

His last pastorate, which he held at the time of his death, was the Schoolfield Baptist church of Danville. He had filled pulpits in Gaffney, S. C.; Lexington, N. C.; and Richmond.

Trip Across Atlantic In Row Boat Ends In Tragedy

Charleston, S. C., June 27.—(AP)—The beach at Kiawah Island, 20 miles south of here, today held the battered and burned remains of the Aga, 18-foot boat in which Paul Muller, Berlin grocer, crossed the Atlantic alone.

Her young skipper, safe here after a shipwreck and night of exposure, told the story of the disaster and Tuesday of his Hamburg, New York voyage.

Beating his way up the coast of Miami, where he first touched the American shore, Muller ran into storms off the South Carolina coast. Late Tuesday, he said, a sou'wester the Aga, tore her sail to bits and tossed her on the rocky Kiawah shore.

"The Aga began to break up," said Muller in halting English. I poured what was left of my lamp's petrol over the decks and touched a match.

When no help came, he related, he began swimming for John's Island, seven miles away, where he could see a house. When he had covered part of the distance, Fritz

Stroebel, of Charleston, picked him up in a rowboat. The sea had grown rougher and they could make their way only to Snake Island, which is uninhabited. Shivering in a blowing downpour, the two men spent the night there.

With clearing weather next day, they made their way to Charleston and food. Muller is staying with Stroebel until he can make arrangements to continue to New York.

The young grocer-sailor was heart broken at his voyage's unhappy ending. Confidingly, he told of a girl waiting for him in Berlin and of how he had hoped his daring would bring him money enough to marry her. Agatha Gvinsky is her name.

"We are both poor people," Muller said. "I was a small grocer. I knew nothing of the sea, but I decided the exploit of Lindbergh I decided I must do something daring in order to secure money to marry."

"Now, I do not know what I shall do, but I want to go to New York. Something I shall do to make money to buy a farm for Agatha and myself."

Wilmington, N. C., June 27.—(AP)—Members of the North Carolina Bar Association began arriving today for the opening session of their three-day convention here.

Tonight will witness the initial session, all meetings being held in the oceanic hotel.

Henry M. London, of Raleigh, secretary of the association, and A. B. Andrews, president and also of Raleigh, arrived early today to make final preparations for the meetings. They spent much time greeting early arrivals.

Predictions were made by the officers that the attendance will exceed the 440 mark, with more than a hundred additional being accounted for in the number of guests.

Gurney E. Newlin, president of the American Bar Association, is scheduled to arrive tonight or tomorrow. Mr. Newlin will deliver the principal address of the convention tomorrow night. He will speak on "Organization of the Bar."

President Andrews will address the delegates tonight on "Legal Education." Routine matters also will be disposed of at the opening session.

Southern Cross Off To Singapore

Sidney, N. S. W., June 27.—(AP)—Captain Charles Kingsford-Smith and his three companions, took off in the Southern Cross from Derby, Western Australia, today for Singapore, Straits Settlement, enroute to England. The distance is about 1,650 miles, over the Indian ocean, Java, and the Java Sea.

SOLO FLIER IS OFF FOR LOS ANGELES

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., June 27.—(AP)—Captain Frank M. Hawks took off at 5:15 a. m. on a round trip flight to Los Angeles where he hopes to stop only long enough to refuel.

He hoped to establish three records, that for the round trip, east to west and west to east. The non-stop record to the Pacific coast is 24 hours, 51 minutes, established by the late C. R. D. Collyer and Harry Tucker. The west to east record is 18 hours, 21 minutes, established by himself.

Colonel E. M. Roberts, representing the National Aeronautic Association, gave 5:12:51 as the official take off time.

The plane carried 550 gallons of gasoline, an earlier plan of carrying 615 gallons being abandoned. Captain Hawks said it would take him three hours to refuel. He then will take off again for the return trip. The plane's engine is capable of 185 miles an hour.

Making the flight alone means that he will have to leave the plane itself 15 minutes out of every hour while he pumps fuel from the main tank in the fuselage up to the wing tanks from which it will feed the motor by gravity.

Captain Hawks was assured of excellent flying weather along the entire route except over Missouri, where thunder showers were reported.

PLAN MERGER OF TWO GREAT AIR CONCERNS

New York, June 27.—(AP)—Creation of the largest aviation company in the world through merger of Wright and Curtiss interests was proposed to stockholders today.

Directors of the companies affected have approved plans for the formation of a $70,000,000 holding corporation to be known as the Curtiss-Wright Corporation. It will take over, by an exchange of stock, the Wright Aeronautical Corporation and the Curtiss Aeroplane and Engine Company and ten affiliated organizations.

The new company will bring under one head the concerns founded by America's air pioneers, the Wright Brothers and Glenn Curtiss. Clement M. Keys, president of Curtiss, will be president of the holding company, and Richard F. Hoyt, chairman of the board of Wright Aeronautical, will be chairman of the Curtiss-Wright Corporation.

In addition to the Curtiss and Wright Corporations, the companies to be taken over are: Keystone Aircraft Corporation, of Bristol, Pa.; Curtiss-Robertson Airplane Manufacturing Company, of St. Louis; Curtiss Airports Corporation, Curtiss Flying Service, Inc., Curtiss Aeroplane Corporation, Curtiss-Caproni Corporation, New York Air Terminals, Inc., and New York and Suburban Air Lines.

The new company will have an authorized capitalization of 12,000,000 in par shares. There will be 2,000,000 shares of class "A" stock entitled to preferential payment of $2 a share annually and 10,000,000 shares of common stock.

The announcement said an offer will be made to stockholders of Traveler Manufacturing Company and Moth Aircraft Company, but details of those offers have not been worked out.

Units of the new company will be operated under present management and independently on each other.

Planes produced by the company will range from small Moth type to large Curtiss Condor bombers and Keystone Patrician types and Keystone-Leoning amphibians.

As one of the largest producers of airplane motors in the world, the company will put out various sizes and types from the 80-horsepower Wright Gypsy to the 600-horsepower Curtiss Conqueror. The motors will include water cooled, radii steam-cooled, in-line air cooled and chemically cooled motors.

Some of the largest air lines in the country are represented by interests behind the new corporation. Among them, National Air Transport, operating from New York to Chicago to Dallas; the Pitschman Lines, New York to Miami; Trans-Continental Air Transport, which starts air-rail service next month and the Aviation Corporation of the Americas, which operates air lines in the West Indies and Central and South America.

Curtiss Flying Service, which is organizing a nation-wide air taxi-service, aviation schools and sales agencies, will be the chief retail distributing agency for the new company.

Mr. Keys was born in Canada. After graduating from the University of Toronto, he came to New York to write fiction, entered newspaper work in Wall Street, specializing in railroads. In 1906 he became editor of World's Work and in 1911 established a bond business, then he entered the aviation industry and eventually became president of Curtiss.

Two Americans Hurt In Wreck

Mexico City, June 27.—(AP)—Dispatches from Tampico today said two Americans were injured, neither seriously, in a train wreck near Tampico last night. Nineteen altogether were injured.

The Mexico City-Tampico passenger train collided head on with a freight train, both locomotives being destroyed, although coaches remained on the track. The accident occurred six miles from Tampico between the stations of Ochoa and Tamias.

Meyer Katz, of St. Louis, 55, general manager of La Imperial Oil Company, was one of the Americans and Arthur McHall, address not given, was the other. Doctors were rushed from Tampico to attend the wounded.

Screen Actress Hurt In Wreck

Los Angeles, June 27.—(AP)—Miss Beale Love, screen actress, was painfully injured last night when her automobile collided with another car, driven, police said, in a reckless manner. Mrs. Love suffered an inch-long laceration above her eye, a badly bruised nose and a cut on the calf of her left leg. The asserted reckless driver refused to stop, police reported. Police surgeons said Miss Love probably would not suffer permanent disfigurement.

ATHLETICS BOOST LEAD LIKE MAGIC

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN
The lead of the Athletics seems to grow almost by magic. But National League contenders continue to out their heads against one another, with no particular gain for anybody. While the Pirates were losing and the Giants winning in John Heydler's circuit yesterday, the Mackmen were cleaning up their fourth straight from the defenseless Red Sox and the Yankees were dividing a pair at Washington.

The antics combined to place the Athletics at a point ten and one-half games in advance of the champions, which is no fit state of affairs if you ask the business managers. The leaders and the runners-up are to open a three-game series against each other in Philadelphia today, and singers of the ballroom are pressed hard to discover anything the least bit crucial about it.

One hopeful note, for the champions, stood out in their even break at Griffith Stadium. Herb Pennock pitched his second complete game of the season in winning the opener by 7 to 0, and gave Washington but seven hits. A few more such games from Pennock would make a large difference in the net result of the Yankee season, regardless of the position at the finish. Just when the Yanks were gloating over their good luck, Washington took the second game 4 to 3.

The Athletics varied their program somewhat by playing a close one with the Red Sox. The Bostonese outbit the Mackys by 11 to 8, but the leaders scored 6 to 5.

The contest produced home runs for Ken Williams and Jimmy Foss. Bing Miller hit safely, running his streak to twenty-seven games.

The Browns defeated Cleveland by 6 to 2, and entered a virtual tie with the Yankees for second place. The White Sox rallied in the ninth to defeat the Tigers at Detroit by 5 to 3.

The Giants finally pulled one game from the Brooklyn fire, after the Robins had taken three in the series, the pulling was done by 3 to 2 in 11 innings at the expense of Dazzy Vance. Carl Mays was put out of the game, with nobody out in the fourth and the bases filled, for protesting a decision at the plate. Jack Scott coming in cold, took up the battle with Vance. He was only held the Robins to two hits in eight rounds, but himself drove home the winning run.

A five-run assault upon Remy Kramer in the sixth enabled the Reds to defeat the Pirates by 6 to 4, and since the Cubs and the Cards were not scheduled to play, all first division hands rested on the Bucruners. The Pirate lead over the Cubs is now only one game.

The Phillies snapped further out of their recent doldrums, taking two games from the Braves, 8 to 0 and 5 to 2.

Asheville Wins First Half Of South Atlantic

Atlanta, Ga., June 27.—(AP)—Asheville became first half champions of the South Atlantic Association yesterday by dividing a double header with Knoxville, winning the first 5 and 0, and dropping the finale 4 to 2. Pitcher Smythe held the Smokies to six hits in the opener. Hudgens homered with one on in the sixth to push Knoxville ahead in the nightcap.

Macon, limited to four hits by Pitcher Killsen, converted the safeties into runs and defeated Augusta 3 to 2. Three of the hits were bunched with an error and walk in the second and third innings to produce all of the runs. Charlotte at Columbia and Greenville at Spartanburg were rained out.

Kiwianians Turn To Golf Play At Milwaukee, Wis.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 27.—(AP)—Following the adage, "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," 5,000 Kiwanians, delegates to the organization's thirteenth annual convention, here today transacted some of the gathering's most important business and, at almost the same time, enjoyed its biggest recreational feature—the annual championship golf tournament.

Under the head of business came first of all, the discussion of various resolutions offered from the floor. Chief among these was one seeking to make Kiwanis truly international by extending its field beyond the borders of the United States and the Canadian Dominion.

The resolutions, among them one pertaining to law enforcement, and another to character education, were prepared by the resolutions committee. The most important thing on today's program, however, was the annual election of officers. Horace M. McDavid, Decatur, Ill., was conceded to win the presidency 9 to 1 over most of the other offices loomed.

Youngest Victim Of Electric Chair To Die Tomorrow

Raleigh, June 27.—(AP)—Fredie Wiley, aged 17, who is scheduled to die in the electric chair tomorrow, will be the youngest person electrocuted in the 19 years the chair has been used as a legal method of execution at State Prison, according to Warden Haywood H. Honeycutt, who has witnessed all but two of the 96 executions carried out in the chair.

Wiley, convicted of assaulting a white woman in Randolph county during last April, has been pleading insanity the past few days. Two of his attorneys from Asheville appeared before Judge Townsend, executive counsel this week and asked for an examination of his mentality. Dr. Charles Laughlin, house state health officer, and Dr. Linville, superintendent of the state hospital for the negro insane, examined him on "death row" and reported that he had the mortality of the average negro of his age and age.

Judge Townsend today notified prison authorities that Governor Gardner would not interfere with the execution tomorrow and plans were being completed today to carry out the sentence of the court.

Dawes Attends Court Without Knee Breeches

London, June 27.—(AP)—Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, willing in most things to conform to the traditions of the country to which he is accredited, has broken on one thing, the requirement of silk knee breeches when in attendance at Saint James.

The ambassador, attending his first court, last night appeared in a sombre black evening dress, plain tails and white tie. Ignoring precedents set by Ambassadors George Harvey and Alanson Houghton, who wore the silk knee breeches and slippers demanded by English custom.

The general, tall and striking in his severe attire, was the center of attention in the crowd of brilliant uniforms and glittering medals from nearly every country in the world. He and Mrs. Dawes paid their respects to Queen Mary and others in the royal circle, after which Mrs. Dawes introduced eight American women to her majesty.

Newspapermen recalled General Dawes, in adhering to usual formal attire, revealed a point which he had made his own business in Washington prior to his departure for England. He was asked if he would wear silk breeches and answered, "You can do plumb to hell; that's my business."

Queen Mary wore a gown of green and gold, with a diamond crown, the famous diamonds known as the "crown stars of Africa," and the order of the garter. The Prince of Wales, in the scarlet uniform of a colonel of the Welsh guards, walked with his mother, taking the place of King George, whose illness prevented attendance.

Eight debutants and young matrons will be led by Mrs. Dawes tonight at the fourth Buckingham Palace court. Among those making their bow will be Mrs. Walter Mangum, South Carolina.

Former Policeman Condemned To Die In Electric Chair

Cleveland, Tenn., June 27.—(AP)—Prospect of death in the electric chair has prompted Homer C. Simpson, former police chief here, to ask for seven speeches, seven songs, and six former champion officers and soldiers as pallbearers at his funeral.

"I hate to leave this world of unmerciful sin and trouble," the condemned man wrote to friends here, "but I welcome a land where there are no funerals nor graves on the hillsides."

Simpson awaits death in the electric chair at Milledgeville, Ga., on July 10 for the murder of a Kingston, Ga., bank cashier during a robbery. He has asked mercy of Gov. L. G. Hardman of Georgia.

Of the 20,000 pounds of which I gave notice sometime ago, 17,000 pounds have been sold. Only 3,000 pounds more bought at this time and these will be sold by the 15th of July. However, I promise to take care of my many customers until August 1.

I have had many complimentary remarks made to me on my ads about Onslow county hams by men and women, well read and with fine judgment. Some have quizzed me to know what colleges I attended, and my pedigree, etc. In reply to these questions I will say I was prepared not for the University of North Carolina, Yale, Harvard, Princeton or even Oxford, England, but was prepared for the greatest university of the world. My father and mother, William and Louisa Allen, were illiterate. My father was a Primitive Baptist and attended the church at Great Swamp and Tyson Church. He believed in the scripture injunction, "Spare not the rod and ruin the child." Old man Dave House was his preacher. My mother was a little more conservative and liberal in her views and a constant believer in and attendant of the Free Will Baptist Church at Piney Grove. Old Man Billie Baker was her preacher. My mother, knowing that I was a little tanned by the scorching rays of the hot sun like all mothers, loved the youngest boy, and I being the youngest boy, not raised as a lily in a handbox, her doctrine was, "Pretty was as pretty does."

My father was a Confederate soldier and laid down his gun at Raleigh and returned home to make a living for his wife and children. I having been born after the war, my parents' financial condition was not so fabulous as to afford educational advantages to their children in letters, rhetoric, etc. The first advantage he gave me to get a ready-made suit of clothes was about three quarters of an acre of sage broom and a little cotton patch that made about 300 pounds of seed cotton. It brought two and a half cents a pound, at total of $7.50. I spent $6.50 of this money with Mr. Alfred Forbes for a suit of clothes that would cost $35 or $40 now.

My mother having died when I was fourteen and my father dying a year later, I approached Professor W. H. Ramsdale and asked the privilege of going to school to him the following spring. He told me, "All right." At that time he was teaching at the academy here. Later Professor John Duckett taught me at Greenville College. While I was studying under Prof. Duckett I taught school during the summer months for two years at Red Banks, later going to Chapel Hill to take up my studies at the University under Dr. Thomas Hume, professor of English, and former professor of Latin at the University of Virginia.

Since leaving the university, I have, like thousands of others, been devoting my time and energy to efforts at making a square and honorable living and getting along with my fellowman, as my mother always taught me "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

I'm off for Onslow county today and promise my customers a nice lot of these hams to suit their tastes, delicious and appetizing.

ANOTHER STRIKER JAILED AT GASTONIA TODAY

Gastonia, June 27.—(AP)—The city jail here today held another Lory mill striker arrested in connection with the slaying of O. F. Aderholt, chief of police, at the strikers' camp on June 7. He was Dell Hampton, said by officers to have been actively in charge of the camp guard the night Aderholt was fatally wounded. His arrest brought the number now under charges in the case to 23.

Hampton was arrested in Gaffney, S. C., yesterday and was brought to Gastonia when he waived extradition. Solicitor John G. Carpenter said he would be charged with murder.

Says Liquor Sold On Both Passages Of The Leviathan

New York, June 27.—(AP)—The New York Herald-Tribune said today that liquor is being sold aboard the United States liner Leviathan on both east and westbound voyages.

The source of supply for the last eastward trip was unknown, but the newspaper said it was learned when the ship docked here yesterday that there was enough liquor on hand to put the bartenders to work in first, second and tourist sections.

Passengers said cocktails were available before meals, the best of wines at moderate prices at the dining tables and anything except beer after or between meals. On previous trips since the United States Lines, Inc., took over the Leviathan from the Shipping Board, liquor was sold only on the westward trip. The Herald-Tribune said the only explanation for the presence of the liquor was that the medicine stores were being used as has been the practice on other American ships sailing to foreign ports.

The water in the Greenville Swimming Pool is being changed today. Come out and enjoy a refreshing swim in this fine pool. 27-2t

Nature Never Combines an Oak with a Birch

Neither does Nature combine crude oils of different base into a finished lubricant. Different types of crude oils have their own peculiar qualities. Each contributes toward perfect lubrication. The problem of securing the best qualities of paraffine crude and naphthene, of blending these two into an oil having properties of both, has finally been solved. Our chemists have made a two-base oil which is ideal for the modern high-compression, high-speed motor... the new Gulf

SUPREME MOTOR OIL

It resists heat and wear; minimizes carbon formation and in every way lubricates for the best performance of your motor. Let your motor convince you.
