Leaves John At School Without An Automobile. Cambridge, Mass., July 2.—(AP)—Miss Florence Trumbull, daughter of the governor of Connecticut and fiancée of John Coolidge, thinks the former president's son will make a better student at the Harvard Business School's summer course if he has no automobile to distract his attention.

Young Coolidge, who is employed by the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, was driven here to enroll by Miss Trumbull in her roadster.

"Are you going to leave your car with John?" a newspaperman asked her.

"No, I'm going back in it myself," she replied.

"Then I'll lend him my car to run around in," the reporter suggested.

"Indeed, you'll do nothing of the kind," she promptly retorted. "He is here to study and it's a hard course."

Coolidge is a graduate of Amherst in the class of 1928. He is taking a course in transportation at Harvard.

The car was undamaged but the license plates had been changed. After driving a short distance he found himself in Nutley and drove to the police station.

He told the police he had no idea why he was taken prisoner and was unable to say where he had been held.

In his telephone conversation with Mr. Roegner he said he would report at the bank on Wednesday after his experience. Upon assuring themselves of Elliott's identity the police permitted him to depart for his home.

Elliott had last been seen Wednesday morning after taking his 8-year-old daughter to school on his way to the bank. A check of his books by state bank examiners, which was underway at the time he disappeared, was said by Mr. Roegner to show all his accounts in order.

Next Election. The name of present chief, J. L. Whichard, was presented by Alderman Harvey and seconded by Alderman Brown, while the name of former Chief Lester Jones, now lieutenant of the State Highway Patrol, was presented by Alderman Waldrop and seconded by Alderman Garrett. The vote was five to three in favor of Jones, the vote being as follows: For Jones: Waldrop, Garrett, Boyd, Smith, Hollingsworth. For Whichard: Brown, Bradsher and Harvey. It was then moved that the pay of the office of chief of police be increased from the present rate of $210.00 a month to $250.00 a month and that the place be tendered to Jones at the maximum.

It was also voted that the maximum pay of patrolmen be increased from a present salary of $135.00 to $150.00.

J. L. Whichard was unanimously elected assistant chief of police at a salary of $180.00. A motion was then unanimously adopted that full supervision and authority over the police force be placed in the hands of the mayor.

The next matter brought before the board was that of the disposition of the city garbage. For some time past the city garbage has been dumped and given away to individuals. But it was brought out that the town had received one or two cash offers for its garbage and the matter was turned over to a committee to investigate, procure all possible offers for same and report at the August meeting for action by the board.

The matter of electing a superintendent of city streets, the position now held by D. M. Sellers, was ordered deferred until the meeting of August 8th, during which time Mr. Sellers will continue at his present salary. The next matter was the election of a mayor pro-tem, with the result that Alderman John Ivey Smith was chosen for this place.

The matter of selection of one particular person to be in charge of the street sweeper and likewise responsible for the up-keep of same, as well as sweeping the city streets, received unanimous action on the part of the board, and James Lawrence, former city employee, was hired for the position.

The matter of rehiring the fire truck drivers was discussed and definite action was deferred until the meeting of August 8th. The present drivers will continue at their same salary until that time.

Among the regular appropriations by the board was $25,000 a month for the County Welfare department, $400.00 a year to the local unit of the National Guards. The appropriation to the Public Library was ordered to continue on the same basis as heretofore until such a time as the new Public Library should be built and appropriation for maintaining same could be made.

BANKER TELLS OF ABDUCTION AT NEW YORK

W. H. Elliott Reappears as Mysteriously As He Disappeared, and Is Unharmed

Nutley, N. J., July 2.—(AP)—Reappearing as mysteriously as he disappeared last Wednesday, Willard H. Elliott, Passaic banker, was found sitting in his automobile early this morning and told of having been kidnapped and held captive by three men.

Except for a several days' growth of beard, the missing banker appeared none the worse for his experiences. He said no threats had been made by his captors, nor any ransom demanded and could assign no reason for his abduction.

After telling history to the police and telephoning John J. Roegner, president of the Hobart Trust Company, where he was vice-president and treasurer, he left for his home in East Orange.

He later declined to talk to newspapermen.

It was shortly after 3 o'clock this morning that the man was found. His story as told to police was very sketchy.

"The police said Elliott was sitting in his parked automobile calmly reading a newspaper when he was seen by patrolmen. After establishing his identity he went home to bed, promising newspapermen an interview when he arose."

He said while enroute to Passaic last Wednesday morning from his home in East Orange, his machine was forced off the road by a car containing three men who forced him into their machine and drove away. He said he was held captive from Wednesday night until last night and was refused permission to communicate with anyone.

He said last night he started drinking with his captors and when they became drunk, he managed to get away. He found his own machine in front of the place where he had been held.

The car was undamaged but the license plates had been changed. After driving a short distance he found himself in Nutley and drove to the police station.

He told the police he had no idea why he was taken prisoner and was unable to say where he had been held.

In his telephone conversation with Mr. Roegner he said he would report at the bank on Wednesday after his experience. Upon assuring themselves of Elliott's identity the police permitted him to depart for his home.

Street Car Men Out On Strike At New Orleans

New Orleans, July 2.—(AP)—All possible motor buses and taxicabs were pressed into service today to furnish transportation in a general strike of street car employees here.

Approximately 1,800 men were affected by the surprise suspension of work order issued last night by Edwin Peyroux, president, and other officials of the local Carmen's Union, ordering activities ceased on the claim that recent arbitration with New Orleans Public Service, Inc., over alleged dismissals and suspensions of employees had proven unsatisfactory.

The street car men present in mass meeting unanimously voted down, clause by clause, a three-year new contract proposed by Public Service and accepted the order to walk out on completion of their runs. The order became finally effective at 5:30 o'clock this morning, the time for the last night cars to enter the bars.

HOOPER HOPEFUL OF TAX REDUCTION. Washington, July 2.—(AP)—President Hoover is hopeful that the treasury surplus at the end of the fiscal year just closed may lead to a reduction in federal taxes, but he still feels that there are many factors to be determined before a definite program can be formulated.

Before tax reduction can be effected, the president said today, the effect upon the treasury of legislation approved in the last 12 months must be determined, the extent to which routine expenditures can be reduced must be known, and prospective revenue must be more closely estimated.

By November 1, the president said, these things should be known. He did not say, however, whether he thought it possible to introduce tax revision legislation at the regular session of Congress next winter.

SAYS CLASS RATES IN N. C. DISCRIMINATORY. Washington, July 2.—(AP)—An Interstate Commerce Commission examiner today reported to the commission that he had found class rates within North Carolina caused unjust discrimination against interstate commerce between Virginia and North Carolina.

He reported also that class rates from points in Virginia to destinations in North Carolina, were found unduly prejudiced and preferential in relation to class rates in effect on intrastate traffic in North Carolina.

The examiner recommended that a scale of rates be applied in North Carolina which would remove the discrimination.

As an example of the present rates, the examiner said the rate on 100 pounds of potatoes from Norfolk to Asheville, 419 miles, was 80 cents, while from Elizabeth City, N. C., to Asheville, 455 miles, it was 41 cents. The complaint was filed by the State Corporation Commission of Virginia against the Aberdeen and Rockfish Railroad.

OFF TO A GOOD START

In addressing the board of aldermen last night at its first meeting of the year, Mayor Lanier declared that the members of the board were the representatives of the citizens of the town and that to serve the interests of these citizens was the foremost function of the board.

Predicting that a lower tax rate for the year would be possible if every member of the board co-operated for efficiency and economy in the town's affairs, the mayor voiced the belief that it was just this type men who composed the board and he was confident that we could have a good government and at the same time get some tax relief.

Good city government and tax relief are two things that every citizen wants and when at the very start a mayor and the board of aldermen proclaims these things as their outstanding policies it bespeaks in advance a successful administration.

"I hope I shall be able to tell the club about this meeting, and that each member will be able to register the same sensations as the hundreds who attended the convention."

"Tobacco curing has gotten away to a good start in Pitt county, mentioned a grower today and for the next month or so farmers will be as busy as bees getting their golden harvest ready for the opening of the market September 3.

"While the crop is going to be reduced considerably on account of the heavy rainfall the last month, there will be enough of the golden weed during the early part of the season to keep the corps of tobacco warehousemen and factory employees busy for sometime."

"Everybody will be glad to see the market open. It is the season of prosperity in this section, and whether the situation is exactly as favorable as expected, money eases up a bit and everybody feels better than any season of the year."

"We are going to be out of the city for several weeks," a Reflector reader informed the manager of circulation today, "so please send a copy of the paper to our address every day."

"We want to keep in touch with everything happening back home while we are out of the city, and the only way to do it is through the columns of the paper that has been serving the family over a period of fifty years. Home news enables one to enjoy his vacation to a greater extent than otherwise, and if you'll be sure to send the Reflector every day we feel that we shall have one of the most delightful times in years."

"Well, the old ball club took a spurt Saturday afternoon and won out over the wily Scots," reminded a follower of the Tobaccoists, as he discussed the fine points of one of the club's first victories in several days.

"Maybe this means that we have broken away from the jinx and that the remainder of the season will witness a greater number of victories chalked up to our credit."

"Everybody admits we have one of the best clubs in the circuit, and when we step out and leave that darned jinx maybe we shall be able to take our rightful place in the standing of clubs' column."

"I was up in the western part of the state a few days ago," said a citizen today, and wondered how the farmers managed to get a living out of such barren soil.

"But in looking around I saw several red cows grazing contentedly in a nearby meadow, and a flock of chickens picking around in the red clay soil. Light began to come to me immediately. Any farm with enough cows and chickens and hogs needn't worry about the crop situation. They are safe against the capers of the weather man. They are producing the things to sustain them when all others fail and were consciously, or unconsciously, enunciated by the chief executive some time ago."

"Even in the absence of a Tobacco Cooperative Association, it would seem that here is a place for the Farm Relief Board to begin to function intelligently and helpfully, not in the way of price fixing, but by seeing that the growers and their creditors are not unduly embarrassed during the long wait before they can get a price for what they have labored to produce."

ABOUT TOWN

The first of the series of union services to be conducted by the city churches during July and August will be held at the High School Auditorium Sunday night, July 21. L. R. O'Brien, chairman of the local Ministerial Association said today.

The schedule of services has already been arranged and every church in the city except the Free-Will Baptist will take part in the services.

"Services previously have been conducted on the courthouse lawn, but the same location could not be used this year due to the fact that all of the benches were destroyed in a recent fire. However, if the public desires, an offering will be taken so that we shall be able to move back to the courthouse location."

"The public is urged to keep these services in mind and to attend in large numbers. It is hoped that the high school auditorium, one of the coolest and most commodious public buildings in town, will be packed to capacity at the opening service and that each succeeding service will witness similar attendance."

"That was a big convention the boys pulled off at Milwaukee," said Ralph Deal, president of the Greenville Kiwanis Club, who has just returned from the scene of the meeting of International Kiwanis.

"Kiwanians were there from all over the country and they were so busy rubbing elbows with one another that some of them went home with elbows exposed to the rays of the benevolent sun. But they were happy—the happiest crowd you ever saw in your life—happy in the fact of having learned so many things about an organization that is rapidly forging to the front as one of the greatest exponents of ethical development."

"I hope I shall be able to tell the club about this meeting, and that each member will be able to register the same sensations as the hundreds who attended the convention."

ATHLETICS SECURE IN TOP PLACE

By HERBERT W. BARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer. The Fourth of July, time-honored occasion for taking pennant soundings, is close at hand and if baseball tradition holds neither the New York Yankees nor the St. Louis Cardinals will repeat their Major League championship victories of last year.

Baseball tradition has it that the leaders on July 4 are the pennant winners of late September. There have been exceptions to this rule but they have been surprisingly few and far between.

As the races stand now neither the Cardinals can reach the top of their respective leagues by July 4. The Yankees languish in third place in the American League, nine full games back of the league-leading Philadelphia Athletics. The Cardinals trail the Chicago Cubs, pacemakers of the National circuit, by five games.

Whatever happens between now and Independence Day, the Athletics cannot be ousted from the American League lead. The Cubs' hold on first place in the National League is not secure. Donie Bush's Pittsburgh Pirates trailing by only half a game.

The National League situation remained the same yesterday as the Cubs and Cardinals struggled to a wild 11-11 deadlock, called at the end of the sixth inning to allow the Cardinals to grab a train for Pittsburgh. Six pitchers saw service in the shortened fray and among them granted 29 safeties. Riggs Stephenson, Cubs outfielder, was the batting star of the day. He crashed out two home runs and a double and drove in seven runs.

In the American League, the Yankees barely escaped dropping back a little further in the race. Benny Paschal's pinch home run with Koenig on base in the seventh gave the champions a 3 to 2 verdict over the Boston Red Sox. Paschal's homer enabled the Yanks to shake the spell that Billy Payne has woven over them this season. Payne already had beaten the champions twice and seemed to be well on the way to a third victory when Paschal came through. Herb Pennock was given credit for the victory, although he was out of the game when the winning runs were scored, his final being a pinch batting for Sam Rice.

Durham Breaks Winning Streak Of Greensboro

(By the Associated Press) With Vance Page twirling, the Bulls rallied to the cause of Greensboro yesterday and snapped the Patriots' eight-game winning streak. The Whitted men banged Kermit Smith and Crews, who relieved him, for a total of 12 hits to cap the series opening, 9 to 5. The victory left Durham only four games to the rear in duel with Greensboro for the league leadership.

While the Bulls and Pats scrapped among themselves, Henderson and Salisbury showed why they wanted the league race to start all over again with the first of July. The Bunnies smacked Winston-Salem, 6 to 0, Barker's homer with two aboard in the third proving the winning blow. Dyer and Packard too honors as the Colonials defeated High Point, 6 to 2. Dyer batted in two runs and Packard three.

In the Eastern Carolina League, the Tars pushed their lead up to a game and a half by licking Kingston, 6 to 3, in an 11-inning battle, while Rocky Mount was idle, due to rain. At that the rain looked good to the Buccaneers, for when it fell in the third inning they were trailing Greenville 0-3.

British Subject Reaches Finals In Tennis Match

Wimbledon, July 2.—(AP)—For the first time since 1925, a British subject has reached the semi-final round of the men's singles in the British tennis championships. H. W. Austin, generally regarded as the most promising English tennis player in recent years, gained the semi-finals along with Big Bill Tilden, Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra, by eliminating the Hungarian ace, Baron Von Kehring, in straight sets yesterday.

Notwithstanding Austin's performance, the experts are predicting another all-French final pitting Cochet to beat Tilden and Borotra to down Austin.

The Women's singles has developed into pretty much of an all-American affair. Helen Wills, the defending champion, and Helen Jacobs already have won their way into the semi-final and a third American, May Sutton Bundy who won the British title more than a score of years ago, had only to dispose of Joan Ridley, of England, today to reach the same round. The fourth semi-finalist was Elsie Goldsack, of Scotland.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, July 2.—(AP)—The cotton market opened barely steady today at a decline of 2 to 7 points in response to relatively easy cables and unfavorable weather reports. October sold off to 18.14, but there was a fair scattering demand which was supposed to include some trade buying at the decline and fluctuations during the early trading were rather irregular. October rallied about 7 points from the lowest or 4 points above yesterday's closing quotations, but the advance was not fully maintained and July was relatively easy under some further liquidation which was supposed to reflect the circulation of a few additional notices.

At the end of the first half hour, the market was net 7 points lower to 2 points higher. Buying was promoted by continued reports of heavy boll weevil infestation.

Private cables said Liverpool had been influenced by general liquidation and short selling on the favorable view of weather conditions in the south and reports of a poor demand for cotton cloths.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, July 2.—(AP)—Sudden but temporary in wheat at Liverpool and Buenos Aires helped give a decided fresh strength today to the wheat market here. Besides, export demand for wheat from North American broadened out. Reports of adverse wheat crop conditions in Canada and the United States persisted, with estimated current that the 1929 yield in the United States will be 20,000,000 bushels less than last year and Canada reduced 140,000,000 bushels.

Wheat closed unsettled, 1-5c to 2-1-10c net higher; corn 1-4c to 2-4-7-8c up; oats, 3-8c to 1-2c advanced and provisions varying from 1c decline to a rise of a shade.

STOCK MARKET

New York, July 2.—(AP)—Fifteen per cent call money, which sent a speculative chill through the stock market yesterday and brought about a reaction in prices, made its appearance again today, but the market moved steadily upward, with U. S. Steel, common, and at least a dozen of the leading railroad shares touching new high records for the year. There were several soft spots scattered throughout the list, particularly in the building utility group, but they had little influence on the general market.

Call money was scarce at 15 per cent for a time and the rate threatened to go higher, but New York banks freely supplied funds when the stringency became apparent, and the rate from the outset but these funds were replaced. There was no change in time money, commercial paper of bankers' acceptances. With the July 4th holiday invariably creating heavy currency demands and more stock purchase "rights" expiring this week, there appears to be little hope of any marked easing of call money rates before next week.

U. S. Steel, common, the forthcoming dividend action of which is arousing widespread interest and curiosity, returned to its role as the market leader by climbing more than 3 points to 195 5-8, which exceeds the highest price reached before the issuance of additional stock for the retirement of funded debt.

Railroad shares were heavily bought as a result of the excellent May earnings reports now being published, and also in the belief that the filing of the Washburn plan would hasten action on the general railroad consolidation program. The rise in a few issues, such as New York Central, also was accompanied by uncommon rumors of higher dividends. Atchafalaya, Union Pacific, New York Central, Chesapeake & Ohio, Pere Marquette, Missouri Pacific, common, Kansas City Southern, Delaware & Hudson,isco, common, Wheeling & Lake Erie, preferred, and Bangor & Aroostook all reached new high ground for the year, some of them touching the highest prices ever recorded. The gains ranged from 1 to 2 points.

General Electric continued its spectacular climb by advancing 1-1/2 points to a new peak at Adams Express broke 18 points and rallied 11. Abraham & Straus dropped 16 1-2 points. At least a score of others, including International Business Machines, Greene Cananea Copper, Public Service of New Jersey, American Telephone and International Telephone yielded 1 to 2 1-2 points.

Young Woman Held For Slaying Man

Sellsbury, July 2.—(AP)—Eunice Bost, 19-year-old cotton mill worker of Concord, is held in the Rowan county jail charged with slaying John Seagraves near China Grove on the night of September 1.

Bost was arrested by Chief Ira Chapman, of Kannapolis as a result of a statement of Ruth Shepherd, 19-year-old companion of Bost, on the night Seagraves was killed.

Seagraves was found by passing motorists and died in a Salisbury hospital the following day from injuries and exposure.

Bost said that he was passing a car when he saw a man and cut in toward the car to miss the pedestrian. He heard a noise which he thought was his rear end scraping the other car, and as the car did not stop he proceeded, believing he had not hit Seagraves.

This store will be open all day Wednesday for our auction sale, which takes place at 3 p. m., and 8 p. m. But we will be closed all day Thursday, July 4th, opening Friday morning, July 5th, opening Friday and Saturday, 3 p. m., and 8 p. m. Be sure and visit us during this sale. We are having large crowds at each sale.

AIR MISHAPS CLAIM SEVEN LIVES IN N. Y.

Two Of The Most Popular Pilots In Country Numbered Among Killed Since Wednesday.

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., July 2.—(AP)—Everybody is doing all the flying he can these days at Roosevelt and Mitchel fields. And all the pilots and mechanics and officials have developed a manner that is elaborately casual.

But underneath all this activity and through the laughter—the sort of laughter that curls up the corners of the mouth but leaves little furrows between the eyebrows—is visible a deadly seriousness, a kind of mental tightening of the belt.

There have been four crashes at the Long Island fields since last Wednesday. Seven persons have been killed, including two of the most popular pilots along the Atlantic coast.

Friday morning it was Jack Ashcraft, desperately trying to find his way with empty gas tanks through fog that dropped its deadly white curtain all the way down to the ground.

Yesterday it was "Bill" Stultz, trans-Atlantic flier, who was honorary pallbearer at Ashcraft's funeral on Saturday.

In the other hazardous survivors are expected to be nervously upset and unfit for work when one of their fellow-workers is killed. When a workman falls off a steel skyscraper, for instance, everybody lays off for the remainder of the day.

But aviation is not like that. There is that rule in the army flying service whereby a pilot, if he comes out of a crash alive and not badly injured, immediately takes up another ship and flies it until he is all cured of his "nerves." It was that rule that made Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, with one arm in a sling, take his fiances up for another ride the very next day after an accident in Mexico City last winter.

And so, all day yesterday at Roosevelt and Mitchel fields airplanes zoomed up again and again off the soggy, rainsoaked field. And so the grim joke goes on.

"It's your turn next and then mine," one pilot will say to another. And then they both grin.

"Hey, hey, it's the good old links" they tell each other over hot dogs one day service on LINEN SUITS, only 75c. Phone 619. Rainbow Cleaners. 21-20t.

At times there is an irritability along with the humor. One of the stories going about the fields is that after there had been two crashes in the neighborhood on Friday, an official called a certain young millionaire into his office and, "just to relieve his feelings, gave him a whole of a howling-out for every careless stunt he'd ever pulled."

During the long wait for Captain Frank Hawks Friday night and after he landed—in a steel fence, but unhurt—there were arguments here that nearly developed into fist fights.

And when Martin Jensen forced down from his endurance flight on Saturday night, bitterly upbraided the crew of his refueling plane as he climbed out of his cabin, haggard and lame and dead from the roar of the motor, he was answered just as sharply as he had spoken, although everybody really sympathized with him in his disappointment.

Activity—that's what pilots crave in times like these, activity and all the jokes that can be mustered up. They found one outlet Friday afternoon when the doctors called for a blood transfusion for Viola Genery in Nassau hospital as a result of the crash in which Ashcraft was killed. So many pilots and mechanics rushed to the hospital in answer to that call that attendants lost count of the number.

"It's so awful not to be able to do anything to help her, and to just have to stand around here like this and wait," said Elinor Smith who, being a girl, cannot be quite so consistently casual as some of the men.

On Thursday some of them will find another outlet in honoring "Bill" Stultz—by flying over his funeral procession.

Japanese Cabinet Resigned At Noon

Tokyo, July 2.—(AP)—The government of Premier Baron Tanaka resigned shortly before noon today after a cabinet crisis precipitated by investigation of the assassination in Manchuria last year of Marshal Chang Tso Lin, Chinese military oppositionist.

The resignation was presented to Emperor Hirohito before noon, his imperial message a "short time later" sending for Yugo Hamaguchi, liberal or Minshito opposition leader, ostensibly to ask him to form a new cabinet.

Prince Saloni, the former premier and one of the "Ginn" or so-called elder statesmen, also was summoned, presumably to advise with the throne and the Minshito leader with regard to a new government.

Should Ashcraft die, the town of Marshville, which failed to take out any liability insurance, will have to pay his dependents about eighteen dollars a week for the next several years.
