CUBAN FAVORS SUGAR TARIFF SLIDING SCALE

Ambassador Ferrara Believes Measure Practicable, Though So Far Unsatisfactory.

Washington, July 3.—(AP)—The idea of a sliding scale tariff on sugar, which is being considered by Chairman Smoot of the Senate finance committee, is held by Ambassador Ferrara of Cuba, to be practicable, although he regards the scales proposed thus far to be unsatisfactory.

"I believe," he says in a statement commenting on the Senator's position, "that the sliding scale on sugar can be a good solution of a bad one in the economic relations between the United States and Cuba."

"If the sliding scale is applied to the price possibilities of sugar in a moderate way, then, I believe, it will work for reciprocal benefit of all the people concerned and especially of the United States consumers. But if the sliding scale applies a very heavy tariff to the present prices and those which are probable in the future, and a very low tariff to sugar prices which never will exist, then the sliding scale will be a disguised way of increasing the tariff which will work against the interests of Cuba and in consequence, of the American consumer. It is fortunate for Cuba that her defense is, at the same time, the defense of the consumers of the United States."

"I have seen many sliding scales proposals, and is satisfactory to the Cuban interest, which I regard as the interests of the United States' consumers. But I think that a sliding scale can be easily made to take care of the interests of the United States producers and the Cuban producers. If producers want a real defense against excessive profits, I apply that to Cuban as well as United States producers."

As they sped toward their first 24 hours in the air they were forced at times to travel miles inland to escape the veiling fog banks, or to climb to high altitude. Mendell and Reinhart are seeking to better the record of 172 hours, 32 minutes, one second, established at Fort Worth by Reginald Robbins and James Kelly. They took the air only a few hours after Leo Nomis and Maurice Robinson, engaged in a similar attempt, damaged their plane in a forced landing at Metropolitan airport, Los Angeles, when their motor quit.

DEATH STILLS THE VOICE OF CINEMA STAR

Gladys Brockwell Succumbs To Injuries Received In Automobile Wreck.

Los Angeles, July 3.—(AP)—Death resulting from injuries received last week in an automobile accident, last night silenced the voice of Gladys Brockwell, prominent actress of the talking motion pictures.

Miss Brockwell was badly crushed when the motor car in which she was riding with Thomas Stanley Brennan, Los Angeles advertising man, plunged over a 75-foot embankment near Calabasas, Cal., on the night of June 28. Brennan is recovering from serious injuries.

The actress fought death stubbornly, despite the fact that from the first her chances for recovery were considered small. The last of four blood transfusions to save her life, was made shortly before the end. Dr. Norman P. Sprague, her physician, said the immediate cause of her death was peritonitis, which developed as a result of her injuries.

A popular star on the silent screen, Miss Brockwell for the last two years had made only irregular appearances in pictures, but with the advent of the sound development in movies she again rose to prominence.

She was one of the first actresses to appear in the new medium and after taking roles in short subjects, appeared in "The Lights of New York," which brought her recognition from producers.

Having begun her career as an actress at the age of three, Miss Brockwell achieved success first on the legitimate stage. She was starting in her own company at the age of 17.

Chief of Police Describes Finding of Blood Spotted Garments at Murder Trial

Chester, S. C., July 3.—(AP)—Blood spotted garments, purported to be the property of Rafe King, on trial here for the murder of his wife, Faye Wilson King, were found in the attic of the King home by J. Frank Faulkner, chief of police at York, who was conducting an investigation into the death of the woman.

Chief Faulkner today took the witness stand for the prosecution, and admitted that he discovered a coat and a pair of trousers in the attic of the house. Inside of the coat were the initials "R. F. K." and inside the trouser pocket was the word "King."

Solicitor Harry Hines conducted his first examination, since the case opened, and Chief Faulkner testified that he also found a shirt and a vest in the attic. There was blood blood on the left leg of the trousers, and there appeared to be blood spots on the coat, the witness said.

Search of the attic came after Chief Faulkner had discovered that dust, in a closet leading up to the attic, had been disturbed.

Cross-examination was conducted by Attorney John M. Hemphill, who attached particular significance to the fact that Chief Faulkner was called into the case.

"You were requested to go to Sharon and make the investigation," he asked.

"Yes."

"What was wrong with Sheriff Quinn's eyesight that he asked you to go?"

"Nothing," the chief replied. Mr. Hemphill dwelt at length upon the fact that the York chief of police conducted an investigation in Sharon.

ONE KILLED BY FIREWORKS IN NEW YORK CITY

Four Others Injured On The Eve Of Independence Day Celebration.

New York, July 3.—(AP)—Despite plans for a safe and sane celebration in the metropolitan area, one child was dead and four seriously injured by fireworks on the eve of Independence Day.

Anna Voight, 10 years old, died of a wound near the heart inflicted by an empty shell fired from a blank cartridge pistol in the hands of a boy.

Two boys and two girls were severely burned by premature explosion of fireworks.

While Tammany Hall and other patriotic and civic organizations were arranging programs for celebrations of the 154th anniversary of the country's birthday, transportation lines were marshalling forces to move an army of excursionists estimated at 1,000,000, to holiday resorts.

The New York Central Railroad announced that 100 extra trains would be operated during the holiday period. The Central Railroad of New Jersey was prepared to put on 67 additional trains.

Gov. O. Max Gardner yesterday announced the appointment of nine members of the board of trustees for the Eastern Carolina Teachers' College. Two of the new members are from Greenville, while Snow Hill also has two citizens represented on the board.

Following are the name of the trustees: J. K. Warren, Trenton; Mrs. Charles S. Forbes, Greenville; W. E. Hooks, Ayden; Mrs. John G. Dawson, Kinston; Marlow Lassiter, Snow Hill; E. G. Flanagan, Greenville; J. L. Griffin, Pittsboro; Henry Clarke Bridges, Tarboro, and Mrs. W. B. Murphy, Snow Hill.

Messrs. Flanagan, Griffin and Bridges and Mrs. Murphy were reappointed. Other appointments were new.

The terms of office for the new trustees differ in length. Mr. Warren's term expires in June, 1931. The terms of Mrs. Forbes, Mr. Hooks, Mrs. Dawson and Mr. Lassiter expire in June, 1933, while the old trustees hold office until June, 1935.

Attorneys for Mrs. Fogarty have not yet filed the reply to Tunney's answer, in which the retired boxer denied promising to marry the woman and in which he charged her with an attempt to exploit an acquaintanceship with him though he already had paid her more than $35,000 to waive any claims on him.

Her attorney said, however, that the divorce was granted on grounds of desertion and that a property settlement agreed upon by the couple was confirmed by the court. Custody of two children, Shane a boy, and Oona, a girl, was divided.

Two Hundred Homes Destroyed By Fire in Mill Valley, Calif.

San Francisco, July 3.—(AP)—A fire which cut a wide swath through the residential section of Mill Valley, across the bay from here, razed many beautiful summer homes in the wooded canyons near this city.

The extent of the loss remained to be determined but unofficial estimates ranged from $500,000 to $1,000,000. Fire department estimates indicated that about 200 homes, including several that contained costly art and literary collections, had been destroyed or badly damaged.

William Thomas, assistant manager of the Mount Tamalpais and Muir Wood Railroad was the only person who remained unaccounted for.

FLIERS STILL IN THE AIR AT CLEVELAND, O.

Cleveland, O., July 3.—(AP)—Sighting on the monotonous flight above Cleveland airport. Pilots Roy I. Mitchell and Byron K. Newcomb flew on today toward the world's record for endurance flights as they added to the hundred-odd hours they have remained aloft.

The fliers were well into their fifth day of fliers. Notes dropped indicated they were in the highest of spirits. Their downing was limited to a few simple stunts, but it was accepted as confirmation of their optimism.

A celebration with aerial fireworks was held at the field last night, 10:20 when the stricken plane passed the 100th hour. Only three other planes have remained in the air that long—the army plane Question Mark, the motorplane in which the record of 172 hours, 32 minutes and one second was established recently in Ft. Worth, and the endurance plane Miss Minneapolis, forced down last week after approaching 150 hours.

Continued good weather was forecast for the next 24 hours, but a change is predicted toward the end of the week.

BOMB WRECKS EXCHANGE AT LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, July 3.—(AP)—A bomb explosion shortly before 8:00 o'clock this morning, wrecked the offices of the Los Angeles grain exchange on the fifth floor of the L. W. Hellman building, located at Sixth and Spring streets in the financial district.

The blast echoed up and down the district and rocked the building. The offices were shattered and furniture was blown to bits, partitions torn out and plaster knocked from the walls and ceilings.

The explosion occurred just before the removal of a staff of clerks. Officers tried to close the building, but two other bombs were found, both of which were ignited but had failed to explode.

No reason for the plot could be learned immediately. Officials of the exchange were taken into custody for questioning. The offices were vacant at the time and no one was believed hurt.

RAILWAY MEN PLAN STRIKE AT CHICAGO

Engineers On Six Western Railroads Consider Fight On Carriers.

Chicago, July 3.—(AP)—Locomotive engineers of six western railroads are considering a strike to compel the carriers to recognize an individual grievance agreement with the International Brotherhood.

R. E. Edrington, assistant grand chief of the brotherhood, who last night made known this contemplated action, said engineers of the Missouri Pacific, the Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis, and the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad already have voted and the vote now is being tabulated.

Negotiations between the engineers and officials of the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, and Atchafalaya, Topeka, and Santa Fe railroads have come to an impasse, Edrington declared, predicting a strike vote by the engineers of those carriers within a short time.

Other railroads in all parts of the country have become involved, he said, and the strike threat might become national in significance.

The controversy is based on the refusal of the railroads to deal with the engineers independently of the firemen and engineers. Officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers contend their organization has the sole right to represent engineers, regardless of whether the latter belong to the engineers' or firemen's and engineers' brotherhood.

Under a joint working agreement signed in 1913 by the two brotherhoods with the railroads, the working grievances of engineers belonging to the engineers' brotherhood were to be settled through a joint committee representing the two brotherhoods. The agreement, it was said, did not become widespread until 1919. The Chicago headquarters of the engineers' brotherhood yesterday issued a statement that in 1927 the organization took advantage of the terminating clause in the agreement.

The prince and princess had been married for more than 20 years before they decided to retire to a monastic life. The prince became a novice in the monastery of Caroboli Di Monza and the princess entered the Convent of Restocco. After long study the prince was ordained by the Bishop of Lodi.

North Carolinians Dedicate Memorial At Gettysburg, Pa.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 3.—(AP)—While the nation is preparing to celebrate the birth of the United States Thursday, North Carolinians were centering their attention today on Gettysburg where a $50,000 monument to the soldier sons of that state and a $15,000 monument and leader were to be dedicated with appropriate exercises on the 26th anniversary of the culmination of the Battle of Gettysburg.

Exercises at 9 o'clock this morning were in charge of Governor O. Max Gardner, of North Carolina. Former Governor Angus W. McLean, of North Carolina, during whose administration the legislative appropriated funds for the memorial, was the principal speaker.

The month and stone ledger are tributes of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and a special part of the program was set apart for their dedication and unveiling.

The memorial stands on West Confederate avenue, near the Lee Virginia memorial, on ground from which the North Carolina soldiers started their march across the fields against the center of the Union line. Gutson Bertram, prominent sculptor, designed the group of five bronze figures and the layout of the 200-foot square plot which the memorial occupies.

The United States naval band from Washington, D. C., and the Sixth Field Artillery band from Fort Hoyle, Md., were to furnish music for the exercises.

For the Love of a Lady

By JEFFERY FARNOL

SYNOPSIS: Sir Julian Guyford appropriates the name of his cousin, Richard, to carry on a traffic of blackmail against women. Sir Richard discovers it through an accusation by Helen D'Arcy, a beautiful heiress. He lashes his cousin with a horse-whip and promptly receives a challenge to duel. Captain Despard and Viscount Brocklehurst plot with Julian to win the D'Arcy fortune by forcing Helen into marriage. Julian fears treachery and places a mysterious note in a pistol-barrel. Richard befriends a little gypsy girl—and is about to receive an uncommon reward.

Chapter 9 A SMILE FROM DIANA

Mr. Battleby hesitated, made as if to speak, thought better of it, gulped and went; whereupon the little gypsy hooted in shrill derision until Sir Richard closed her rosy mouth with finger and thumb.

"Not so, madam!" said he, "suffer the fellow to go; Shuri, if you must poach, why not keep to Guyford's?"

"Cause there be's so precious little to poach there!"

"Ay, true enough, child," he answered and glancing up saw Helen approaching across the green; but, marvel of marvels, she was smiling, while in her grey eyes was such a look as woke in him a growing wonderment.

"So you are not drunk, Sir Richard?" said she, at last.

"The day is still young," he answered, but Helen shook her head.

"I begin to find you out," she retorted. "And pray who is this?"

"An elfin, ma'am; a sprite dared to trespass on Sir John Parret's sacred precincts."

"And the reason why you knocked down Sir John Parret's loud-voiced bailiff. And what is your elfin's name?"

"Shuri Camlo—ore Lovel. Stand up, child," he commanded, "make your reverence to the lady."

"So the child made a bobbing curtsey."

"A pretty child!" said my lady. "Will come to me, Shuri?"

"No!" answered Shuri.

"And why not, child?"

"Bekos I like him best."

"Now tell me, Shuri, why do you like him best?"

"Bekos he be's a man for sure, I likes you too when you laughs!" said she and then she sniffed suddenly.

"Oh—beacon! And I do be fanned, brother!"

"So am I!" said my lady.

Sir Richard forthwith called: "Houze, Jonas, house!"

And forth reeled a cherry man who beamed and cocked a jovial eye; but beholding my lady he halted, somewhat taken aback.

"Jonas, we want breakfast at once—in the garden among your flowers."

And thus, with the gypsy child between them, they came into the garden behind the tavern.

In a shady corner of the garden, deep-bowered in honeysuckle, was an arbour, beholding which Shuri laughed and capered in elfin joy and drew my lady and Sir Richard thither; and here presently came Jonas, the landlord, bearing a well-laden tray.

Sir Richard, forgetful of the savoury viands before him, sat viewing my lady with thoughtful eyes, until Shuri finally spoke:

"Oh, brother, be's us never going to eat?"

Sir Richard started and took up knife and fork, my lady laughed and commenced to pour the coffee.

So they breakfasted together right merrily, by reason of little Shuri's thriving laughter, impish looks and odd questions; a truly memorable meal, more especially for Sir Richard, who beheld the transformation of stately goddess into unaffected girl; indeed my lady was a revelation, wherefore he watched her and forgot all else.

"Oh, brother, why d'ye stare at her so hard?" inquired the child suddenly.

"Do I, Shuri? Madam is quite used to being stared at."

He looked into those grey eyes that met his with such passionless serenity.

"Juno or Minerva—which?" he questioned.

"Either, sir, or anything rather than your roaring boy in petticoats! Fie, Sir Richard, am I so fierce, so—so inhuman?"

"This morning, my lady, I discover in you certain o' the humanities—soft looks, little kindnesses, unexpected tendernesses—"

"Oh, la, sir, you overwhelm me!"

"Fore heaven, ma'am, you puzzle me!"

"Only because you are the merest man—and wear a coat to match your reputation!"

"You mean that both are shabby, ma'am?"

"I mean that you are proud of them, sir! You flourish 'em, sir, you flaunt 'em in the face o' the universe with braggadocia air! To be viewed askance by your neighbours, to be avoid by your class, ill-spoken of by the world in general—this affords you a perverse joy; in fine, Sir Richard, I find you very—" young—and consequently—foolish, sir. And yet sir—

"Well, ma'am?"

"Despite this youthful bravado, I cense some small promise of better things—should you ever grow up."

Thus they talked, viewing each other with dispassionate yet growing interest; until little Shuri, having something to amuse her, and thus espied Sir Richard's ring, a signet-ring he wore upon his left hand; therefore she began to touch and caress this hand very gently, finally contrived to slip off the ring altogether and sat staring at the shining thing in gleeful ecstasy.

"That!" and pointed at my lady.

"Three!" at Sir Richard. "And three shall, one day, be two—but I hear Death creak in the green—a dead man—and one as runs for hiding to the poor folk. See—look yonder!"

And she pointed to a strange, small black cloud, "Death!" she whispered. "I see fetters—a prison cell—Ah, but true love shall find a way! And—see there, Guyford face to face with Captain Despard, a resplendent figure from top to toe, who stood with the ring on his palm. The captain tendred the ring with a profound obeisance.

"Ah, Sir Richard," said he, "tis a quaint piece." Sir Richard took the ring, slipped it upon his finger and bowed in turn.

"Suri!" cried a voice and they beheld an old woman watching them. Tall and gaunt she was, and herself with a strange pride, at sight of whom the child uttered a joyous greeting and next moment was folded in the woman's long arms; for a moment they talked together, then, clasping Shuri's hand, the old woman approached Sir Richard.

"For my dearie Dubbickie," said she with solemn gesture. "Trifling Camlo calls blessing on ye Guyford o' Weare. . . . But old Truffen, as has 'the sight,' warns ye. Lock ye now, and mark! . . . One!" and she stabbed finger at Despard.

"Two!" and pointed at my lady.

"Three!" at Sir Richard. "And three shall, one day, be two—but I hear Death creak in the green—a dead man—and one as runs for hiding to the poor folk. See—look yonder!"

And she pointed to a strange, small black cloud, "Death!" she whispered. "I see fetters—a prison cell—Ah, but true love shall find a way! And—see there, Guyford

o' Weare—above ye! 'Tis the Hand o' Glory!"

Sir Richard saw the small cloud, sailing directly above him, now glowed with a great and wonderful radiance.

do you shout the name of your car or whisper it ?

When you have finished discussing politics and the home team's batting slump and the conversation turns to automobiles, you naturally would rather be an orator than an auditor. And when you are asked the name of your car, you want to shout it, not whisper it. The driver of a Chrysler-built De Soto Six is proud to talk about his car in any company, for its name is accepted as a badge of real quality. Although De Soto Six sells for as low as $845, the price needs no apology from the owner. He found that he pride must be based on something more than mere transportation, nowadays. It can be inspired only by a car that conforms to every high standard of performance, appearance, comfort and safety.

People take it for granted that an automobile will get you there and back, that it started in life with a presentable coat of paint and that it has its quota of gimcracks and knickknacks. The test of its value is how much it exceeds these minimum requirements. The stricter the test, the more evident is De Soto's all-around superiority.

Ask for a demonstration and learn for yourself why De Soto Six owners like to "talk automobile" in any company.

ABOUT TOWN

'With all branches of business
suspended for the day,' Greenville will observe the Declaration of Independence in real style tomorrow,' declared a citizen today as he adjusted rod and reel preparatory to a day's outing at the seashore.

'Fourth of July and Christmas are two holidays the American people always want off, and the majority get them despite all pressure that may be brought to bear. That everybody deserves these two holidays goes without saying. They represent two of the most important occasions in the life of the world and the nation and it is nothing but proper that they should be fittingly observed by people who appreciate their significance.'

'Announcement of the election of Lester Jones as chief of police of the city of Greenville will be received with profound interest by the citizenship,' said a business man today, commenting on the splendid record which the present State Highway Patrol lieutenant established during his administration as head of the local police department before his resignation several months ago.

'As chief of the Greenville department and captain of the local unit of the North Carolina National Guards, Mr. Jones rendered outstanding service to the community.
He is a fearless officer and believes in enforcement of the law irrespective of person. It is this one fact alone probably that has given him such distinct recognition in the law enforcement field of this section of the state.'

'In beginning the new fiscal year
of the city of Greenville, Mayor J.
C. Lanier asked members of the Board of Aldermen to co-operate with him for the best interests of the city,' commented a citizen today, referring to the initial meeting of the City Fathers Monday night.

'Mayor Lanier begins 'the new year with bright prospects for great or advancement in all branches of the city administration, and there seems to be little doubt that he will not receive the united support of the board in putting across things he believes to be for the best interest of the city.'

'Harmony and co-operation in the administration of the government are absolutely imperative and it is hoped the combined support of every member of the Board of Aldermen will be directed with this end in view.'

'The new State Highway patrolmen present a natty appearance with brand new uniforms and motorcycles,' declared a Greenville business man yesterday, as he watched three of the patrolmen for this district riding down Evans street.

'These men have lots of territory to cover, but they should do much towards improving traffic conditions along the highways of the state.
Drivers may step on the gas and exceed the speed limit at times, but such infractions will not be as frequent and general as they used to be. One never knows what time a patrolman will appear from some secluded spot and demand a reckoning for violation of highway traffic laws.'

'While the patrol is being conducted at an enormous expense of call our own, and our pride will increase by leaps and bounds when the building has been erected and fully equipped and we have an opportunity of really seeing the advantages to result from such a splendid institution.'

'The gift fulfills the dream of members of the library commission, many of whom have struggled along year after year in an effort to give the city an institution of a creditable state. It should be a paying proposition in the saving of human life and property alone. North Carolina highways should be safer for travel now than ever before and they will become still safer as the officers begin bringing violators to justice in the various sections where they operate.'

'The gift of $50,000 for erection of the Sheppard Memorial Library will give Greenville one of the finest libraries of any city in the state except Raleigh where the 'State Library is located,' said a Greenville man this morning, speaking of action of the Board of Aldermen last Monday night in accepting the gift from Mr. Harper D. Sheppard, of Hanover, Pa., a former Pitt county man who is one of the nation's leading shoe manufacturers.

'To say that Greenville people are proud of Mr. Sheppard's generosity would be expressing the matter mildly. Everybody is enthusiastic over the prospect of having such a handsome structure we can

'This period of depression which Pitt county people are feeling at this time is not confined to us alone,' declared one of the local traveling men today following his return from the lower part of the state.

'The same situation appears to be general in all sections, and we should not feel lonely in the slightest sense of the word. Lean periods of the year will occur as long as the world stands. They have to come to cause people to tighten up a bit and lay plans for readjustment of their affairs. Without a little depression we would become so extravagant that it would be impossible for us to earn enough to keep us going even at inflated periods.'

'Don't look at the black cloud alone-remember that the fall of the year is coming and that it will bring some relief from the money shortage which the majority of us are feeling at this time.'

SEEK SLAYERS OF CHARLOTTE NEGRO

Charlotte, N. C., July 3.—(AP)— Convinced that Willie McDaniel, 23 year-old negro youth, whose body was found in a thicket near here Sunday, was lynched, rula police today sought some clue as to the identity of his assailants.

The youth's body was found face down and first beliefs were that he had died of heart failure. An examination by the county physician disclosed, however, that the neck had been broken and that there were skin abrasions on the neck and wrist. The opinion was expressed by police that McDaniel had been tied and hanged and his body taken to the thicket and left.

PAPPOCK IN SPRINT RELAYS FOR A. A. U. CHAMPIONSHIPS

CHARLEY PADDOCK

Lured back into action by his love for the track and field whirl, Charley Paddock will try his speed again at Denver, July 3 to 5.

By VICTOR G. SIDLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Los Angeles, (AP)—The inimitable Charley Paddock will not permit the word "finis" to be written on his cinderpath career—yet.

When it seemed the blond sprint veteran had hung up his spikes for all time, he broke the announcement that he would run in the sprint relays at the National A. A.
U. championship at Denver, July 3 to 5. He will compete for the Los Angeles Athletic club.

Paddock, whose dash exploits range over a period of some 15 years, believes he still has some good races in his famous legs. He does not intend to run any more open dashes, however, planning rather to utilize in the relay events
the experience of his many years of racing.

Many an old time sprinter, due to experience, can pass up a newly publicized star in a relay race, and it is here that Paddock intends to spring his 1929 "comeback." Charley has been a member of several Olympic games' relay teams, and his experiences in the baton event dates back to 1916. Time may have taken toll of his pumping legs, but is doubtful whether he has altogether lost the great drive with which he frequently was able to cover 100 yards in 8 4-5 seconds,
with an unring start.

In his 15 years of sprinting, Paddock has cracked scores of records, and many of them still remain in his name. Unofficially and officially he has equalled the recognized world's record for the century—9 3-5 seconds—eight times since 1916. In a race here in 1926, Paddock was timed in 9.5 seconds, but the mark was blue penciled because of the non-use of tenth second watches by the A. A. U.

ROCKY MOUNT SWAMPED BY THE GREENS

Rocky Mount, July 2.—Greenville boosted all sorts of baseball averages at the expense of Clarence Moore's Bucs this afternoon, and galloped off with the game, 14 to 1. Clay had a hard time in five innings. He gave up 13 hits after he had seen the Greens remain on bases when they could have been retired except for errors. Moss allowed fewer hits in the four innings he was on the mound.

Ludke, pitching for the Greens, kept the Bucs without a hit most of the way. He balked once when Fayonky was on third, but Ollie Anderson failed to regard it as a balk.

The Bucs were off form. McSwain did the bulk of the hitting for the Bucs, but he was not overly impressive in his fielding.

Rocky Mount, July 3.—(AP)—Hemmed about by a plethora of managers, Max Schmeling appears destined to starve in the midst of plenty.

Just when the German heavyweight's stock has gone sky-high because of his victory over Paulino Uzcudum, Schmeling's feud with his one-time manager, Arthur Buelow, has reared its head again to threaten not only Herr Max's peace of mind, but his ring earnings as well.

With the Paulino-Schmeling fight out of the way, the New York State Athletic Commission has decreed that Schmeling now must fulfill a contract, signed by Buelow with Humbert Fogarty to fight Phil Scott, of England, at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, August 7.

Schmeling has said time and again that he never would go through with any match arranged by Buelow. Rather he said, he would return to Germany and wait for his contract with Buelow to expire in October of 1930. The German may reconsider that statement when it is pointed out to shrill he now is riding the crests of the wave.

Whatever the German decides to do, it seems that Madison Square Garden's plans for a bout between Schmeling and Jack Sharkey here in September must be abandoned. Sharkey is bound to the Garden until July 15 when an opponent for the September bout must be named.

It seems not that the Garden may let its option on Sharkey expire without a struggle, contrary to reports, however, the Garden stands to lose nothing by failing to exercise its option on the Boston sailor.

As for the Athletic commission, Chairman James A. Farley said the commission would have nothing further to do with the situation except to see that Buelow gets his 20 per cent of Schmeling's earnings until his contract expires.

Buelow, through his attorneys, filed a motion in State Supreme Court yesterday asking appointment of a receiver for 13 1/3 per cent of Schmeling's purse for fighting Paulino. Buelow said the Athletic commission had declared it would order this part of the Teuton's purse paid to Schmeling's American managers, Joe Jacobs and Charley Rose.

Whatever happens, it appears that most of Schmeling's engagements in the near future will be of court rather than boxing record.

Bulls Take Final Game On Patriots

(By the Associated Press.)

The Bulls wound up their series with the Patriots with a cheer and a 10 to 5 victory yesterday and thereby shaved a game off the margin separating them from the leaders of the league.

Boss Whitted started his ace, Lee Reid, against Greensboro in the final game, and the big hurler, in addition to twirling winning ball, smashed out a double as his contribution to a battling spree that scored six runs for Durham in the second inning. It was Reid's 14th victory of the season.

At Henderson Mauney twirled Winston-Salem to a 5-2 victory over the Bunnies. Evans and White-man helped him out with a home run each. The Pointers wound up the series with Salisbury in an even break by winning 4 to 3.

Wilmington made sure of enjoying the Eastern Carolina league leadership on the traditional Fourth by taking a 10-inning contest from Kinston 2 to 1. Emmons let the Eagles down with six hits. Goldsboro and Greenville had easy times winning the other Eastern Carolina games, the Bugs defeating Fayetteville 11 to 5, while the Greensies swamped Rocky Mount 14 to 1.

CARDINALS CONTINUE LOSING OUT

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The situation of the Cardinals is becoming more and more alarming every day. The champions of John Heydler's circuit dropped their sixth straight yesterday to the Pirates, and yet, if the National situation is becoming alarming it may be said that the situation in the American league has passed that stage. The Yankees are trailing by several games and the Athletics appear free to down the Senators at will.

Pivoting at Forbes Field the Cardinals lost by a score of 5 to 3. The Cubs held the pace by shading the Reds in Chicago 5 to 4 in eleven rounds. The Athletics slammed the Senators by 7 to 4 and 4 to 1 in a pair of half a game on the Yankees who nosed out the Red Sox by 4 to 3 in ten innings.

The defeat of the Cardinals ran Billy Southworth's losing streak to 12 games in the last 14. The Cubs, the Pirates and the Giants are slowly but surely leaving the league champions behind.

Suffering a reaction after successful five-day stand in St. Louis, the Cubs faltered a bit against the Reds at Wrigley Field yesterday, but rallied sharply in the late rounds.

More important to the Cubs even than the victory itself was the showing of Charlie Root, who pitched his best ball in many weeks.

He gave way to a pinch batsman in the ninth inning rally, and Guy Bush held off the Reds for two rounds to get official credit for the victory.

By winning the Cubs remained half a game ahead of the Pirates, and increased their margin over the Giants to four full contests. The New Yorkers took the first game of a double header at Boston by 6 to 3 as Melvin Ott hit his 23rd homer, but the Braves won the second 3 to 2. The Phillies and the Robins had the afternoon off.

By overpowering the Senators in two games the Athletics extended their mastery of the Washingtons to 15 games in 17 starts this season. The Maeks incidentally stretched their lead over the Yanks and the Browns to nine and a half games.

Ed Morris might have won from the Yankees but for an error in the ninth by himself. Gehrig drove in two runs needed to tie after two were out, and Meusel ended it in the tenth with a double after Ruth had singled and advanced on a sacrifice. Waite Hoyt gave way to a pinch batsman in the ninth and the victory went to Wiley Moore.

The Tigers slugged the Browns 10 to 4. The champions thus climbed back into second place by a percentage margin, although virtually tied with the Browns. The Indians won two extra inning games from the White Sox in Cleveland, by 4 to 3 in ten innings and by 5 to 4 in eleven.

Pyle Squeezes His Way Out Of Courts Again

(By the Associated Press.)

Los Angeles, July 3.—(AP)—C. C. Pyle of trans-continental business derby fame was a five time winner and a one time loser at a hearing before the California Labor Commission yesterday. Five claims against Pyle, filed in connection with his recent coast-to-coast foot race, were dismissed by Commissioner R. Richardson for lack of jurisdiction. But Elden Allen, a patrolman, was granted $69.96 for services. Attorney John J. Wilson, representing Pyle, said he had never heard of Allen's claims before, but he paid it immediately.

Attorney Wilson informed the commission none of Pyle's 15 runners, who won prizes totaling $69,000, had complained. He said seven of them had been paid and settlement with the rest awarded payments on contracts by cities through which the race passed.

TRACK MEET OPEN AT DENVER, COLORADO

Denver, Colo., July 3.—(AP)—At offensive of broad expanse against amateur athletic union track and field records was on today, with a picked field of approximately 200 athletes leading the first assault in the junior division.

Although chief interest is centered on the senior championships to be held tomorrow, the junior class, open only to those who have not taken a first place in major competition, is not without its share of athletic luminaries.

There are many indications that this year's American Olympics will produce several new champions.

Following tomorrow senior championships are met with wind up on Thursday with the decathlon and the relays.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, July 3.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady today at a decline of 3 to 12 points under selling promoted by relatively easy cables but the offerings were comparatively light and prices worked back to about yesterday's closing figures before the end of the first half hour.

There was covering and some trade buying was reported on the rally which carried the price of October up from 18.22 to 18.26, or within 3 points of yesterday's closing quotations. July was relatively firm after the early decline to 17.73, selling up to 17.88 or 3 points net higher. Some uncertainty as to the showing of the weekly weather report and the near approach of the holiday, were considered responsible for part of the early covering.

Private cables reported hedge selling together with London and local liquidation in the Liverpool market.

Wheat closed strong, 1 7/8c to 2 1/4c net higher; corn 3/4c to 1 1/8c up; oats 1-2 to 3c advanced, and provisions varying from 12c decline to 5c gain.

STOCK MARKET

New York, June 3.—(AP)—Heavy selling of public utility shares, several of which dropped 2 to 6 points, temporarily unsettled today's stock market, which again was pointed to higher ground. Curiously, the low prices of the day were recorded after the call money rate had dropped from 12 to 8 per cent, but rising buying support made its appearance, particularly in the so-called "Morgan stocks," and the market was headed upward again in the early afternoon.

The mid-year stringency in call money, which sent the rate to 15 per cent on two successive days this week, passed late yesterday when the "outside rate" was dropped to 14 per cent. Money renewed at 12 per cent and then dropped abruptly to 8 when a large volume of funds made its appearance. Funds were available in the "outside market" this afternoon as low as 6 per cent. Further indications of a definite easing in credit conditions were seen in the drop of 1-8 of 1 per cent in bankers' acceptances, the second within a week, and the easier undertone for time money.

Weekly Steel Trade Reviews continued to paint a rosy picture of conditions in the industry. Iron Age reported rate of pig iron production in June at 123,255 tons a day, the second highest of any month on record. Ingot output for the first half of the year established a new high record for that period. U. S. Steel, common, crossed 199 a new high record for all time, an overnight gain of 3 points. Other "Morgan stocks" in brisk demand included Union Carbide, up 7 at 20 3/8, and General Electric, up 1-2 at 355, both new high records; Johns-Manville up 5 1/4, and International Harvester up 4 1/2.

Eastman Kodak, Underwood-Elliott Fisher and Bendix Aviation advanced 4 1/2 to 6 1/2 points to new high records. Western Union and Motor Products each rallied 8 points, Safeway Stores 6, and the American Tobacco issues, National Surety, Fidelity-Phoenix Insurance, National Cash Register and several others advanced 3 1/2 points.

In the railroad group, Jersey Central soared 21 points, Norfolk and Western moved up 5 to 260, Atlantic Coast Line 4 to 201, Atchafalaya 3 1/2 to 248, 1-2 and New York Central 1-2 to 221 1/2, all new wtops for the year or longer.

American & Foreign Power was the hardest hit in the utility group, closed 6 points. American Water Works, North American, Pacific Telephone, Columbia Gas, Detroit Edison, Standard Gas & Electric and National Power & Light fell 2 to 3 points before the selling movement

CAPITAL CITY PREPARES TO OBSERVE 4TH

President and Mrs. Hoover To Remain At Home During Independence Day.

Washington, July 3.—(AP)—The capital is preparing to set a national example with a "safe and sane" observance of Independence Day.

The quiet tenor of the day for high government officials will be emphasized at the White House. President Hoover had contemplated a visit to his Virginia fishing preserve, but decided against it. He and Mrs. Hoover will stay here with their son, Harbert Hoover, Jr., as a holiday guest.

Like most of the country east of the Mississippi river, the capital was promised fair weather for today and tomorrow. This forecast was especially welcome to the thousands of visitors coming here for the occasion, and to the hundreds of government employes and many officials who are planning to use their day of freedom for excursions elsewhere.

A formal celebration will take place tomorrow night at the Sylvan theatre in the Washington monumental grounds south of the White House, with Senator Harrison, of Missouri, as the principal speaker. The Marine band and various patriotic societies participating, and a fireworks display winding up the program.

Cudahy To Wed Muriel Evans
Los Angeles, July 3.—(AP)—Michael J. P. Cudahy, son of the late John P. Cudahy and grandson of the founder of the Cudahy Packing Company, has announced his intention of marrying Muriel Adell Evans, known on the screen as Muriel Evans.
The announcement, which was made last night after the couple had appeared before a Riverside, Cal., justice of the peace to file notice of intention to marry, was greeted with the blessings of the youth's mother, Mrs. Edna Cudahy.
Cudahy, who is 21, said they would return to Los Angeles after the marriage and make their home here. Whether Miss Evans will continue her work in the movies is entirely up to her, Cudahy said.
"It seems to me that a ceremony performed in a law office carries as much sentiment and weight as one performed amid a thousand persons," Cudahy said, in announcing that they would be married by a justice of the peace.
Miss Evans, who gave her age as 18, resides with her mother in Hollywood. She had appeared in a picture since her graduation from high school.
The marriage will be the culmination of a romance of five months. At one time it was reported that Cudahy and Joan Crawford, film actress who recently was married to Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., were engaged, but the wealthy screen insisted they were only friends.
