CONTROVERSY OVER TARIFF GAINS SCOPE

Administrative Provision Of Measure Considered By Senate Finance Body.

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—The Senate finance committee turned its attention to the highly controversial administrative provisions of the House tariff bill today, while the controversy between Republicans and Democrats over various aspects of the measure gained momentum in other quarters.

The administrative provisions embody the changes from the present law voted by the House to facilitate and expand presidential authority to alter rates under the flexible tariff clause. They are regarded as comparable to the sugar schedule as a potential source of prolonged controversy after the measure reaches the Senate.

Further indications that the committee, despite pressure from Republican leaders to expedite its work, is not likely to have its report ready for the Senate's consideration as desired by August 19, were seen in the long list of witnesses remaining to be heard this week before the task of rewriting the House bill is undertaken in executive session with the Democrats excluded. Nearly 75 names still were on the list of those to be heard, although the original program for the hearings called for their completion last week.

Two subjects which have aroused widespread discussion—the foreign protests against various rate increases and the proposed 20 per cent duty on boots and shoes—figured in today's addition to the Senate Democratic tariff calendar.

Replying to a statement by Senator Harrison of Missouri, issued through the Democratic national committee, Senator Goff, Republican, West Virginia, said his fear that the numerous protests disclosed a likelihood of foreign retaliation and a ruination of our foreign trade is without justification.

The threat of foreign retaliation, he declared, already has "disappeared in their air" and the "protests arrayed by the Democratic serve only as a stimulus to American enterprise and adventure."

Holding that President Hoover, while secretary of commerce, had "pushed American sales in foreign countries beyond all previous records" in the face of higher protective tariff rates and had thus "demonstrated that a tariff does not ruin"—"check our foreign trade," the West Virginian declared.

"If this is true, and it is, then these foreign protests of producers and manufacturers are entitled to little weight in the minds of American business men, either north, south, east or west."

The proposed boot and shoe duty was described by the Democratic national committee as "simply a subterfuge" for picking the farmer's pocket in a statement embodying an attack on the proposal by Representative Mansfield, Democrat, Texas.

The rate, Mansfield contended, was excessive if considered as a means of compensating American shoe manufacturers in view of the proposed 10 per cent duty on hides. A 3 per cent rate, he calculated, would be more than enough to accomplish that purpose.

"It is plain to be seen," he said, "that the real purpose of the shoe tariff is for an excuse to raise the price of shoes, and by placing the tariff wall so high there can be no possible foreign competition."

Shoe imports at present, he asserted, amount to about one per cent of the American output of 450,000,000 pairs a year and are practically confined to special types for women and children, which "will continue to come, regardless of the tariff, and will not be displaced by shoes of American make."

TO NAME ARBITRATORS IN 'M ALONE CASE

Toronto, Ont., July 15.—(AP)—A special dispatch to the Globe from Ottawa today said that announcement of the arbitrators chosen in connection with the sinking of the Canadian rum schooner 'M Alone' by a United States coast guard cutter, may be expected in a few days.

It is understood Lyman P. Duff, of the Supreme Court of Canada, has been invited to represent the Dominion government.

Baker Infant Died Yesterday

The two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Baker died yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock after short illness. Funeral services were conducted from the Baker home this afternoon at four o'clock by Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Burial was made in the Elks graveyard, several miles from Greenville.

Scores Believed Buried Alive As Two Buildings Collapse At Montgomery

Montgomery, Ala., July 15.—(AP)—Several score persons were believed buried under debris of two large Montgomery mercantile houses which collapsed suddenly and without warning shortly after noon today. Every available physician, and the entire forces of the city fire and police department were rushed to the scene to aid in rescue work.

Witnesses of the cave-in expressed the belief that not a single occupant of the Pitz Dry Goods Store, the first building to collapse, escaped. Hope was held that a few of the employees of the Bullock Shoe Store next door, had time to gain the street before falling timbers caught them. It could not be readily ascertained how many persons were employed by the stores, although the majority of them were believed to be young women.

Onlookers expressed the belief that excavations being made for a new store next door to the dry goods establishment caused the collapse of the buildings, but firemen and city authorities refused to be quoted until a thorough investigation could be made. Seven ambulances were at the scene but forty-five minutes after the collapse rescuers had made little headway in removing the debris. Police threw up a human barrier around the buildings to hold back the noon day mob that sought to congregate around the structures. The buildings were among the oldest in the city's business district. The spot where excavations were being made formerly was occupied by a chain five and ten cent store which was gutted by fire last year at heavy loss.

Collapse of buildings has been frequent here in recent months, several firemen being killed last year when the walls of a store works gave way before the intense heat from a fire in an automobile paint store. Among those fatally injured was Chief Robert F. Dixon of the Montgomery fire department.

Two weeks ago several persons received minor injuries when a wall collapsed during a fire at a garage.

Chicago Fliers Marooned At Port Burwell As Plane Is Swept Out To Sea.

Ottawa, July 15.—(AP)—The fliers of the amphibian plane "Untin" Bowler were marooned at Port Burwell today, with their aircraft lost in the ice-filled Hudson straits, off Northern Quebec. The straits connect Hudson Bay and the Atlantic Ocean.

The plane was lost Saturday night when a gale broke up the ice to which it was moored and drove it out to sea. None of the crew was aboard. The accident ended an attempt to fly from Chicago to Berlin by way of Canada, Greenland and Iceland.

An official message to the department of Marine said: "Plane 'Untin' Bowler was lost last night in moderate southwest gale when ice to which it was moored broke up and drifted to sea. Plane when last seen from shore was surrounded by closely packed ice with bow in the air. No lives were lost."

The plane which was owned by the Chicago Tribune, left Chicago July 3 in an attempt to plot a new commercial air route from that city to Berlin. It was piloted by Robert East and Parker D. Cramer, with Robert Wood, aviator editor of the Chicago Tribune as a passenger.

After flying to Great Whale with several stops, the plane started for Port Burwell on the third day of the flight. It was unreported for two days. When the fliers reached Port Burwell, they said they had been forced down by fog on Ungava Bay 40 miles from Port Burwell.

Officers at Odds Over Return of Blacks Driven From North Plat, Neb.

North Platte, Neb., July 15.—(AP)—City and county officials were at odds today over the possible return of North Platte's negro population of 200, driven from the city Saturday by a mob of 500 following the slaying of a veteran police officer by a negro he sought to arrest.

Chief of Police James Dorrans said the negroes will be protected when they come back to their homes. "We will do our best to prevent violence," he said, "but it may not be possible."

County authorities looked on the situation in a different light. Sheriff A. J. Salisbury was quoted as saying that "it was the idea to keep them out." One negro in jail for a minor offense was released by the sheriff's office and ordered to leave town. Deputy Sheriff W. N. Simahts said he believed the exiles were too thoroughly frightened to return.

Threatened with death by lynching, the negroes made a hasty exodus, with or without belongings.

FARM BOARD MEETS TODAY AT CAPITAL

President Hoover Delivers Address To His Newly Organized Body.

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—President Hoover in addressing his newly organized Farm Board today declared "your fundamental duty must be to determine the facts and to find solution to a multitude of agricultural problems, among them to more nearly adjust production to needs."

Outlining the scope of the farm board problem, the President realized and hoped the farmers realized that "all this cannot be accepted by a magic wand or an overnight action."

Mr. Hoover addressed his brief statement to the farm board as it convened for the first time in an effort to solve the farm problem which has held the attention of Congress for a period of years.

The President said: "I have no extended statement to make to the Federal farm board as to its duties. The wide authority and the splendid resources placed at your disposal are well known. I am deeply impressed with the responsibilities which lie before you. Your fundamental purpose must be to determine the facts and to find solution to a multitude of agricultural problems, among them to more nearly adjust production to needs to create permanent business institutions for marketing which, owned and controlled by the farmers shall be so wisely devised and so judiciously founded and well managed, that by effecting economies and giving such stability will grow in strength over the years to come. Through these efforts we may establish to the farmer an equal opportunity in our economic system with other industries."

"I know there is not a thinking farmer who does not realize that all this can be accomplished by a magic wand or an overnight action. Real institutions are not built that way. If we are to succeed it will be by strengthening the foundations and building steadily upon them with the constant thought that we are building not for the present only but for next year and the next decade."

"In selecting this board I have sought for suggestions from the many scores of farmers' cooperative and other organizations and yours were the names most universally commended; you are thus in a sense the representatives of organized agriculture itself. I congratulate each of you upon the distinction of his colleagues and by your appointment I invest you with responsibility, authority and resources such as have never before been conferred to any government in assistance to our industry."

The eight of the nine members of the board who have thus been chosen by the President assembled in response to Mr. Hoover's call at the White House executive office early today. After posing for pictures on the White House grounds, the group returned to the cabinet room where Mr. Hoover delivered his charge to it.

Fahy Forced Down By Oil Line Leak

Wichita, Kansas, July 15.—(AP)—Forced down by a leaking oil line, Lieut. Herbert J. Fahy failed yesterday in his attempt to break the trans-continental round trip one-stop flight record. Fahy, who left Los Angeles at 12:06:52 a. m. yesterday, landed at Kiowa, Kansas, at 8:45 a. m. He flew here yesterday afternoon after he had dumped 200 gallons of his 400 gallon load of gasoline. He said he would return to Los Angeles in short stages and prepare for another attempt to set a new mark. The present record of 36 hours, 38 minutes and 48 seconds was made by Captain Frank Hawks, who flew from Los Angeles to New York in 17:28:16 and returned in 19:10:32.

To Make Survey Of Booze Supply

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—The prohibition bureau is expected to begin a survey in a few days to find out exactly how much of the 15,000,000 gallons of liquor supposed to be in the nation's government controlled medical supply actually is in storage.

Surveyors of distillers estimate that the official total has dwindled to about 7,000,000 gallons through leakage, evaporation, theft and adulteration. If the government survey shows less than 10,000,000 gallons on hand, steps probably will be taken at once to bring about replacement of distillation so as to replenish the supply and allow time for the required four years of aging for the new product.

Rising Greek

Newark, N. J.—Costas A. Psichos, a Greek immigrant who started a fruit stand 35 years ago, has sold a five story brick building, for $650,000. He rose from peddling to real estate operations.

Enraged Youth Shoots Father Over Automobile

Shelby, July 15.—(AP)—Said to have become enraged when his father denied him the use of the family automobile, Perry Philbeck, 17 years old, Sunday wounded his father, John Philbeck, 40, with a shotgun.

The youth was being sought today by Cleveland county officers. The father, in a hospital here, will recover, physicians said, although his face, neck and shoulder are literally filled with shot.

The boy agreed yesterday to come with officers to jail here, but gave them the slip enroute to Shelby, and has been sought since.

KING GEORGE UNDER KNIFE OF SURGEONS

British Monarch Undergoes Operation For Drainage Of Abscess On Lung.

London, July 15.—(AP)—King George was operated on successfully before noon today for drainage of a small abscess remaining in his right chest.

Seven doctors came to Buckingham Palace for the operation and the Prince of Wales drove over from York house, presumably to be at the bedside of his father in the event of emergency.

After the operation, the doctors issued the following bulletin: "An operation has been performed on His Majesty the king, portions of two ribs were removed in order to be circumscribed. The abscess is one and one-half inches across and should be quickly drained and treated. The condition of His Majesty is satisfactory."

(Signed) "Sir Stanley Hewitt, "Sir Hugh Rieby, "Professor Trotter, "Sir Francis Shipway, "Lord Dawson of Penn."

The king apparently was well prepared for what had been indicated was a minor, important use of the surgeon's knife. Reports from the palace where he passed last night restfully were that he was in his usual good spirits today. No particular concern was felt when the official bulletin was put out just after noon relating the necessity of removing portions of two ribs in order to obtain quick direct drainage of the abscess.

While public anxiety had not been excessive there naturally was a feeling of great relief at the announcement that the king's condition was satisfactory after the operation.

In court circles the result of the operation was regarded as highly satisfactory and it was strongly hoped, would pave the way to complete recovery.

The operation was performed by Sir Hugh Rieby and Professor Trotter in the king's bedroom, nurses Purdie and Black being in attendance.

Although the bulletin states that portions of two ribs were removed it is understood that one portion was removed from the same rib which was cut when the last operation was performed.

Because of the improved state of the king's general health, he came through the operation remarkably well and it was hoped that period before his recovery from the effects will be of short duration.

It was emphasized that the object of the operation was to obtain an opening which would be satisfactory medically for draining of the abscess and thus effect a cure of the local trouble in the right chest.

Stress was laid on the fact that although the operation was of a bigger nature than would seem to have been indicated previously, it was of a very different nature from that of last December when the king's whole system was poisoned. It was stated that the king underwent the operation for the local trouble as an otherwise fit man.

No further bulletin will be issued today, but it is probable that an official statement concerning the king will be made tonight.

Negro Killed In Fight Yesterday

Dave Willis, Carolina township negro, was killed in altercation with Will Wooten, also colored, on the Whitehurst farm in Carolina township, yesterday afternoon about four o'clock. Wooten escaped immediately afterwards and no trace of his whereabouts had been reported at the sheriff's office today.

Coroner E. S. Williams investigated the shooting, and the jury returned a verdict that Willis came to his death by a pistol shot in the hands of Dave Wooten.

SIXTEEN DIE IN ACCIDENTS IN THE SOUTH

Eight Also Injured in Series Of Mishaps In Various Sections Of Southeast.

Atlanta, July 15.—(AP)—Sixteen lives were lost, eight persons were injured seriously and upward of a score of others received minor hurts in accidents over the southeast through the week-end.

For the most part the fatalities were among persons who sought highways and swimming pools as to alleviate the oppressive heat. Automobile accidents claimed eight lives, three persons died from drowning, two from airplane accidents, one was killed by a railway train; a woman died from injuries received in a gasoline launch explosion and a boy was injured fatally by falling stone.

The casualties: Automobile accidents—Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Garrett and their infant of Jessup, Ga.; three other children slightly hurt; Robert L. Jones, 35, of Wagoner, S. C., killed at Augusta, Ga.; T. W. Warren, Memphis, candy manufacturer, at Jackson, Tenn.; wife seriously hurt; M. L. Smith, of Birmingham, Ala. Mrs. Smith suffered minor injuries; J. F. McClellan, of Eagle Mills, Ark., automobile struck by train at Camden, Ark.; wife in serious condition, and Miss Nellie Brennan, 18, at Atlanta.

Drownings: Ethel and Sarah Darity, 5 and 7, respectively, while playing in shallow water of Boca Ceiga Bay, St. Augustine, Fla.; Frank Perely, 24, of Foreman, Ark., while boating in the Kentucky river at Jackson, Ky.

Airplane accidents: B. F. Dixon, burned to death after crash at Birmingham, Ala.; Robert S. Horschey, pilot, and C. P. Cornelius injured; Rogon Showalter, 26, walked into speeding plane propeller at Erwin, Tenn.

William F. Whitten, 68, was killed at Macon by a railway yard locomotive while he was walking to work; Mrs. W. F. Goodson, wife of the chief civilian assistant to the commandant at Wilson Dam, was injured fatally when gasoline exploded on a government launch at Florence, Ala.; and Morgan Mitchell, 31 years old, was killed by the collapse of the stone work of a fireplace.

Reports of many minor accident injuries come from various sections of the south.

DAWES ATTENDS HOUSE SESSION

London, July 15.—(AP)—Ambassador Charles G. Dawes attended the afternoon sessions of the House of Commons today. He occupied a seat in the distinguished strangers' gallery.

Moscow, U. S. S. R., July 15.—(AP)—The Chinese government, presumably, has today and tomorrow to comply with Russian demands for settlement within three days of the crisis presented by Chinese seizure of the Chinese Eastern Railway.

If then the demands are not met, an ultimatum delivered to the Chinese charge d'affaires Saturday night said, the Soviet union will be compelled to resort "to other means in defense of the U. S. S. R.'s legal rights."

Moscow's ultimatum was written Saturday, and on Saturday night, signed by L. M. Karakhan, vice-commissioner for foreign affairs and former ambassador to China, was placed in the hands of S. K. Liao, the Nanking government's charge.

After warning vaguely of retributive measures, if China does not acquiesce in its terms, the ultimatum continued with an offer of the olive branch, saying that notwithstanding "violent and provocative actions of the Chinese authorities it once more expressed its willingness to enter negotiations with China regarding all questions connected with the Chinese Eastern Railway."

The ultimatum then said such negotiations would be possible only in the event of immediate release of arrested citizens of the Soviet republics, and cancellation of "all illegal orders" by Chinese authorities.

The Soviet government proposed: First, to call a conference immediately to regulate all questions connected with the Chinese Eastern Railway question.

Second, that the Chinese authorities immediately should cancel all

Revises Tariff Bill

MAJOR IDZIKOWSKI BURNED TO DEATH AND MAJOR SACIMIR SUFFERS SERIOUS INJURIES IN ATTEMPTED LANDING ON ROCKY FIELD IN THE AZORES; FRENCH PLANE AVERTED DESTRUCTION BY TURNING BACK IN FACE OF STORM.

New York, July 15.—(AP)—The Polish committee in New York today received a message from Major Casimir Kubala, at Santa Cruz, Island of Graciosa, in the Azores, stating that his companion, Major Ludwick Idzikowski, was still alive, but so severely burned that no hope was held for him.

The message, signed by Major Kubala and sent from Santa Cruz, chief city of the Island of Graciosa, was timed at 7:45 o'clock this morning, Greenwich time, or 2:45 a. m., Eastern Standard time.

In his message Major Kubala informed the committee that both he and his companion had been rescued from their airplane, the Marshal Pilsudski, in flames. Major Idzikowski had both feet burned and was in so severe a condition that it was not expected he could recover.

Previous advices received at Horta from Graciosa have stated that Major Idzikowski was dead and had already been buried.

Communication with the Island of Graciosa is extremely difficult and no confirmation of Major Idzikowski's death was available.

Horta, Azores, July 15.—(AP)—The first trans-Atlantic air race had ended in tragedy and failure, with the pilot of the Polish craft, dead, his navigator injured, and the plane destroyed. The other entrant, a French plane, averted destruction only by turning back to France before a "wall of wind" into which it had tried in vain to penetrate.

Major Ludwick Idzikowski was killed Saturday evening in an attempt to bring his plane, the Marshal Pilsudski to earth on a rocky field at Graciosa Island, 35 miles northeast of here.

His navigator, Major Casimir, was injured. The plane crashed and exploded. It was presumed Kubala either fell or jumped and escaped thus the disastrous bias; which took Idzikowski's life and wrecked the plane.

The French plane, the Question Mark, after battling head-on winds for hours and finding fuel going and speed cut to a third, turned back at 5:18 p. m. Saturday (1:18 p. m., E. S. T.) and at 8:27 a. m. yesterday (3:26 a. m., E. S. T.) landed safely at Vallcaboulay, France, a few miles south of Versailles.

"Don't cheer boys. We just missed out, that's all" its pilot, Captain Didonne Coste, conqueror of the South Atlantic, told the few who met him there. "But we will try again when the chances are more in our favor."

Captain Coste's landing came after 27 hours and 55 minutes of flying after the take-off at Le Bourget, at Daybreak Saturday, when he and his navigator, Jacques Bellonte, chivalrously allowed the slower Polish plane a 45-minute handicap in the trans-oceanic air derby. At the time of turning back he had blown to a locality northeast of the Azores about as near the American Atlantic seaboard as to Europe.

Pending establishment of better communications with remote Graciosa Island details were lacking as to just what happened to Idzikowski and Kubala and their plane. But from reports one story which generally was accepted was pieced together.

Idzikowski and Kubala struck the same adverse hurricane which Coste called a "wall of wind," and shortly afterward developed motor trouble, which compelled them to ask for information about a landing field at Horta—there is not a field for land planes in all the Archipelago.

At Horta the football field, the largest available plot, was prepared for their reception, and the residents gathered from all over the Island of Fayal, in a holiday mood, to watch the first airplane descend here.

But while Fayal celebrated the Poles, realized they could not reach Horta and asked with radio for a nearer place to land. They were directed to Braziera, a field on Graciosa Island, the most northeasterly of the group of five.

One who purported to be a news witness of the tragedy said the big gray plane swooped down over the island, making a few turns as if seeking a spot to come down. Native, by gestures designated the plot at Braziera, and the plane made for it.

But as it came closer to earth over the field it wobbled into a barrel roll, and a body was seen to hurtle from it, apparently thrown by the

FAVORS PLAN FOR FLIGHT TO NOME, ALASKA

Secretary Good Approves Flight From Mitchell Field To Northland.

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—Secretary Good today approved plans for a flight from Mitchell Field, L. I. to Nome, Alaska, by Captain Ross G. Hoyt, army air corps to begin within the next ten days.

Captain Hoyt will fly a standard Army pursuit plane and fueling will be done at Minneapolis, Edmonton, Alberta, White Horse, Yukon, Fairbanks, Alaska, and Thence to Nome.

The total distance of the flight is estimated at 4,250 miles and will be done in continuous stages with only short stopovers. The date the flight will begin will be announced after fueling arrangements are made by the army.

Captain Hoyt was the refueling of ficer for the army airplane "Question Mark", on its recent endurance flight.

Chinese Government Given Until Tomorrow to Comply With Demands of Russians

For the Love of a Lady

By JEFFERY FARNOL

SYNOPSIS: Helen D'Arcy is in love—she confesses to her aunt—with Sir Richard Guyford, suspect in the killing of his cousin Julian. She does not know, of course, that Sir Richard placed his ring beside Julian's body to draw suspicion upon himself, because remembering Helen's faithful threat, he believes this is a murderess. Captain Despard and Helen find the ring and she takes it to hide the evidence. Then a powerful weapon falls into the hands of Richard's enemies—his military cloak, stained with Julian's blood, is found near the fatal spot.

A MESSAGE FROM RICHARD

Now as Helen, the Marquis, and Captain Despard stood thus, looking upon each other in a dismay far beyond words, the Duchess approached.

"B' the powers!" she exclaimed, "three images o' tragedy—and all b' rayson o' one dirty old cloak!"

"But he wore that same cloak in the lane!" Helen said.

"Pah. Who's to say 'twas himself left it in the wood? So mighty convenient to be found!"

To the arbours they went and there seated, waited for the Duchess to begin.

"Now!" said the Duchess, "now, is there wan of us believes Richard could stoop to murder?"

Helen: Nay, but dear aunt, how if 'twas a duel and—

Duchess: We may know 'twas not a duel or Richard would never ha' run away. Beyond all doubt 'twas murder shure. And what truly amazing murderer! He scatters his possessions ari about the fatal spot! So reckless! His cloak, his hat—tomorrow they may find his hat and his boots. Oh, 'tis an astonishing murderer! So very infinite careful!

Marquis: (brightening) You think 'twas placed there by other hands than Dick's—?

Helen: But, dearly beloved, I gave Richard back the ring! I saw the cloak upon him! How then can they—

Duchess: Oh, Miss? And who's to say he was not way-laid—hurt, wounded, stripped and robbed—

Helen: Richard hurt! Wounded, perchance dead!

Duchess: (rapping snuffbox). Such a clack o' chatterboxes! Am I never to speak?—who's this?

The pair of eyes glanced round to see a small, slim figure curtsying demurely.

"I be Shuri, if you please," said she softly. "I be Shuri Camilo, o' the Poor Folk, w' a message."

"Why, Shuri!" cried Helen, smiling, and with hands outstretched; little Shuria, running forward, cuddled down at my lady's knee.

"My mother bid me find ye," said Shuri, smiling up into the lovely face bent above her; so saying, she held up a small, folded paper; Helen beheld scrawled thereon:

"Greg."

So to Gregory she gave it and he with murmur of apology, read it hastily and thought the letter seemed of no great length, it brought him to his feet with cheeks flushed and eyes aglow.

The Duchess exclaimed: "Read it, man, read it, this minute!"

So Gregory read as follows: My Dear Greg,

"When you read this I shall be a murderer proclaimed. And a murderer I must remain for divers reasons. Meanwhile, since even murderers must live, bring me what monies you have in hand to the old forest trysting place, at 10 o'clock on Wednesday."

"Thus far I am hale in mind and body, and so, to thee despite the damning evidences of my guilt, I subscribe myself now, as ever thy grateful, loving, Guyford of Weare."

Here Gregory paused to glance into each intent face.

"Post Scriptum.—Pray bring also my stuttest cloak, I mean the old campaigning cloak that is lined and turned up with scarlet."

Helen drew a deep breath. "His old cloak faced with scarlet?"

"But I saw him wearing it! Oh, Gregory, what . . . what can it mean?"

"Ah, my lady," he answered, lifting radiant eyes to the cloudless heaven. "It can but mean that who you saw in the cloak, it was most assuredly not Sir Richard."

"Nick's late!" said Sir Richard, frowning.

"Friend," quoth the Galloping Parson, "the High Toby concern is profession as no man may play fast and loose with."

"Faith, Rob, thou'art at least a conscientious robber!"

"Friend, I am so—for highway robbery should be taken seriously, as I've warned Nick many's the time, but then—Nick's . . . in love!"

Here the speaker shook grim head in scornful disparagement. "And love hath been the ruin o' many a promising High Tobyman as should have neither friend nor sweetheart. A true Tobyman should work alone, ride solitary and have faith abiding in Providence."

"Nay, Rob, surely Providence and robbery be but ill-assorted!"

"Ah, verily, friend! But I, though sinner by trade, am religious by instinct and reverent by nature. Bred to the church was I, and should ha' made a notable good parson, but a cruel destiny decreed otherwise. So 'stead o' taking holy orders I took to taking purses."

"Why not give it up?"

"Because on a gay, friend, I shot—and killed—a perjured rogue who had sworn away an innocent lie, then I vowed to live and die by the road. 'Twas long ago, since when six sinners vile have I made to cease from evil by means o' steel and bullet, translating 'em to a nobler living, I pray. . . . See yonder!"

and he jerked bevvigged head towards a small, battered, leather-covered box upon the shelf. "I call it my memento mori—ha' the goodness to set it in my reach." Sir Richard did as requested, and opening the box the Galloping Parson gazed into it, smiling a little grimly.

"Looke!" quoth he, and held up a rusty spur. "This was Sylvanus Todd, one o' Jonathan Wild's perjurers, as black a rogue as ever sold man or woman to the galleys! I killed him on Kennington Heath. This," said he, showing a large plate coat-button, "this was Timothy Dwyer, another o' Wild's crew. I stabbed him w' my sword one night, whereby two poor souls won free o' the nose awhile. Here now," he continued, drawing from the box a bunch of seals, "here's William Shand, another o' 'em. I shot him on Blackheath. This," and he showed a gold ring, "this was Thomas Collison—Tom was a mistake, however. This," and he held up a yellow lace ruffe, "this was a murderer o' quality, Sir Ralph Markly, that dodged the galleys, thanks to Wild, who sets another dangling in his stead. And that is all . . . but some day I'll rid the world of Wild—ay, of Jonathan and Titus Oldcraft." So saying, the Galloping Parson replaced his mementoes, sighed and closed the box.

"As to Nick," pursued the Parson, "the poor lad's in love, and so must go gallivanting to the Guyford Arms and the country hereabouts all agog by reason o' myself."

"Rob, 'twas I put Nick on riding for the inn tonight—if he come to any harm the fault is mine. Ha, d'ye judge him in danger?"

"No, friend, I don't—see yonder!" and he nodded towards the pewter plate that rose upon its rim, and subsided three times.

"That saddle o' rock and yet, 'tis well to be prepared." Saying which, the Galloping Parson took up and cocked one of his long pistols.

MISS STATION CHOSEN TO REPRESENT GREENVILLE

Morehead, July 15.—(AP)—Miss Blanche Station, lovely and popular young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van Station, has been chosen to represent Greenville at the Atlantic Beach Beauty Pageant August 14 and 15. Miss Station is one of the most attractive members of Greenville's younger set.

The Atlantic Beach Beauty Pageant, an annual affair, given in the beautiful setting of North Carolina's perfect playground, is being staged for the second time this year. Miss Jessie Sumerell, who directed the beauty pageant last year, is directing it again this year.

A prize will be given each contestant in the beauty pageant. The winner will represent Atlantic Beach at the Feast of the Pirates in Wilmington, and will have all expenses paid to Atlantic City or some other resort for one week. Girls in many towns all over the state have already been selected to represent their towns in the beauty pageant on the boardwalk of the Paroda-by-the-Sea, there will be many other added attractions of interest to visitors to the pageant.

Three Chicagoans Held For Murder

Chicago, July 15.—(AP)—Charges of assault to murder had resulted today in the indictment of three young Chicagoans, one the son of a millionaire. The alleged assault was upon Kasper G. Schmidt, son of the city comptroller, George K. Schmidt, and himself vicepresident of the Prudential State Savings bank.

One of those indicted was John J. (Bud) Corcoran, whose father, the late John J. Corcoran, was the millionaire head of the Washington Construction Company.

The trouble followed a collision between cars in which Corcoran and young Schmidt were riding. Schmidt's story to the state's attorney was that he was beaten by the Corcoran party and left in the road for dead. A girl companion, he said, also was dragged from the car and beaten.

Secret indictments were returned, leading to the arrests late Saturday of Corcoran, Ray Stenberg and Jack Watson, automobile dealers. The three were held over the week-end. Schmidt was sought today on charges by Corcoran, who blamed him for the assault.

Fishermen Hook Parrott.

New York—The fishing was fine for Theodore Marron, 10, and Joseph Shoepon, 11, until they hooked a parrott. The screams of the bird brought a policeman to the roof of a pet shop. He found the fishermen angling for pets through a skylight with an open padlock on the end of a string.

PITT MEDICOES HOLD MONTHLY MEETING HERE

Interesting Case Reports Feature Session At Woman's Club.

The regular monthly meeting of the Pitt County Medical Society was held at the Woman's Club in this city last Thursday night with Drs. J. C. Ellen and J. C. Green acting as hosts. Aside from an interesting paper, the physicians discussed interesting cases reported by various members of the Society.

Dr. L. C. Skinner read a paper dealing with "Etiology and Diagnosis of Chronic Erythraemia."

Case reports were made by Drs. Basnight, Stone and J. S. Morrill, and members of the society joined in lengthy discussion of the various phases of the reports.

Dr. John L. Winstead, Baltimore surgeon, who recently accepted a position with the Pitt Community Hospital, was unanimously elected to membership in the society.

Two Children Drown In South Carolina

Columbia, S. C., July 15.—(AP)—Two children, Vernon M. Eadie, Jr., 6, and his sister, Elizabeth A. Eadie, 4, drowned yesterday, at the north end of Folly Island, despite heroic efforts of the parents to save them.

The children were wading in the treacherous current in the channel, which separates Folly and Morris Islands, when they stepped in deep water.

Hearing their cries, the parents rushed to rescue them, and Mr. Eadie reached the girl, and attempted to throw her to her mother, who was standing in water neck deep. The child fell short of her mother's arms, and drowned, as Mrs. Eadie could not swim.

Mr. Eadie, then attempted to rescue his son, but the boy had been swept further out by the swift current, and Mr. Eadie, who suffered a back injury some time ago, was unable to reach him, and was forced to return to the beach.

Neither of the bodies had been recovered today.

One of the things that we have a superfluity of here at this time is mosquitoes. We admit that more than the usual amount of rain this summer has made the mosquito situation harder to control but from the great increase in these pests it is apparent that little or no effort is being put forth to keep our city free of them. A little effort along this line would mean much to the comfort of our citizens.

Eight thousand more automobiles were sold in this state during the first six months this year than during the corresponding period last year, according to figures made public today. Apparently times are not as hard as many of us have believed them to be.

Fifty thousand dollars has been received so far this year for poultry, and hogs shipped from this county. In the face of reports that hog prices will continue good because of a shortage of pork in storage should be an incentive to more of our farmers to give some of their spare time to this phase of farming. There is enough spare time on every farm which, if converted into money through the means of livestock and poultry, would mean much toward relieving our annual summer financial strain. We cannot hope for real prosperity on our farms so long as we depend entirely upon our cotton and tobacco for the farm income.

Two ocean flights started from Paris Saturday but both failed with one of them ending in the tragedy that wiped out the life of a flier who, had he lived, no doubt would have proved worth much to aviation. At its present stage ocean flying is still a great risk with the odds stacked against the fliers, and in a repetition of these attempted flights we can see no good. The first flights meant much to the progress of aviation in that they set forth the deficiencies in the present models of aircraft together with furnishing much scientific data that would prove worth while in future ocean travel by air. Since this first knowledge, however, we know of nothing new that has been gained by attempts at ocean flying. Until we can make use of the full knowledge we have gained in order that ocean flying might be made more safe, we see no need for further attempt at this risky business that ends more times in disaster than in success. Fliers capable of crossing the ocean by air are too valuable at this stage in the development of aviation to permit them to risk their lives in hazardous undertakings that mean little or nothing to the development of this new mode of travel.

Woman spends 85 per cent of the money that is spent in this country, a comprehensive survey reveals, but we suppose our ardent feminists feel that she's got to spend the other 15 per cent also before she gets equal rights.—Ohio State Journal.

ABOUT TOWN

"We need the leadership of the men of Greenville if the Boy Scout movement is to be the great success it should be," declared Herbert A. Stuckey, of Wilson, director of Boy Scout work of the Wilson area, speaking at the regular twice-a-month session of the Kiwanis club here last week.

"With the support of the men of this city there is no reason on earth why the Scouts here should not enjoy as much growth as any other section of the country. The boys are intensely interested in their work and the men who received training as Scout executives are doing everything possible for success. But there must be more of the masculine support. The boys must know their parents are behind them, that their friends' parents are behind them, before they can achieve the great success they should."

"Think over what the Boy Scout means to the future life of that boy of yours, my friend, and resolve to give your Scout leaders the kind of co-operation and support they deserve."

"I was glad to hear that citizen speak about the need of traffic lights in Greenville," said a reader of this paper today commenting on the statement made by a citizen through the columns of the Reflector several days ago.

"Traffic signals in the heart of the Greenville business district are needed to the same extent that other cities needed them before they got them and it is to be hoped some action will be taken in the near future to give our people the same protection as those of other towns of similar size."

"There is no argument against the need of the signals. This fact has been brought to the forefront quite forcibly the last few months by the general increase in automobiles in this community. While we have had few accidents, the strain at Five Points and other business intersections is terrific, and local automobile owners as well as those visiting here feel great relief when they get out of the congested centers."

"It is difficult to understand why Greenville should be without adequate traffic protection and other towns of similar size, and much smaller in size and population, for that matter, have systems which reflect credit upon the vision of their administration. The matter has been overlooked long enough and it is to be hoped some definite action looking to the establishment of signals will be taken in the near future."

"After remaining in the basement the most of the first half of the season, Greenville ought to feel rather dizzy going down from the heights of the top of the standing of clubs column of the Eastern Carolina league," asserted a fan today.

"But, should they feel that way, it is to be hoped it will not affect their equanimity and that they will be able to hold the lead and then add a few more games from time to time. It's a great feeling to be at the top of the ladder at least one time in the course of the season, and if we can maintain the pace and come out winner of the second half, well, it will be too glorious for words."

"Somebody, I don't remember who—said sometime ago that Greenville had one of the fastest clubs in the league. While I thought they were correct, I didn't realize how near right the opinion was until the beginning of the second half and the Worms began wiggling their way slowly toward the top of the ladder."

"Stick to the job boys, and rest assured you have every enthusiast in the city with you in this venture to capture second half honors."

don't miss a single copy," wrote a subscriber to the circulation department of this paper today, enclosing check for a renewal.

"I have enjoyed the last two stories. They are not only modern and up-to-the-minute in every sense of the word, but they were told in an intensely interesting way."

"I think this feature has greatly increased the value of your column, which, combined with the excellent news service, gives you plainly one of the leading dailies in this section of the country."

"I'd like to see some of these property owners cut the weeds down on their property," said a citizen today, speaking of the growth of weeds on vacant lots over the city. "Besides detracting from the appearance of the property they are breeding places for mosquitoes and other insects, to say nothing of making it impossible, in some instances, to allow persons to walk on the sidewalks."

"It seems to me that there is an ordinance against allowing weeds to grow on vacant lots, but either the ordinance has been repealed, or the enforcement of it is negligent."

Two Attacks Are Launched Against New York Mayor

New York, July 15.—(AP)—The administration of Mayor James J. Walker was attacked from two sources in statements published today and a committee of 882, headed by Augustus Heckscher, multi-millionaire philanthropist, announced plans to ask him to accept re-nomination.

One of the attacks was leveled at the Mayor by William H. Allen, director of the institution for public service, a civilian organization, who addressed a letter to Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, asking him to remove Mr. Walker from office.

Mr. Allen listed 26 charges against the mayor, accusing him of misconduct in office, wasteful neglect broken promises, over taxation and encouragement of graft.

DePriest Advocates Election Law Bill

Chicago, July 15.—(AP)—Introduction in Congress of a federal election law bill is promised by Oscar DePriest, negro representative at Washington from Illinois.

In his first speech in Chicago on "national racial questions since his elevation to Congress, DePriest told a negro audience last night his proposed bill would put national elections in the hands of government election boards. DePriest was introduced as the lone representative in Washington of the twelve million negroes in the United States.

"I am fighting," he said, "not for social equality, but for equality of the law. The prosperous colored folks in the north must rescue the disfranchised black peons of the south before the negroes of America are free."

"I am going to continue my tour through the south, notwithstanding threats I have received. I'm going to try to teach the colored people of their rights under the constitution."

Governors Meet In Connecticut

New London, Conn., July 15.—(AP)—Twenty-seven American states bring their problems to the round table today, with the convening of the 21st annual governors conference at Eastern Point.

The "first men" of the states, their wives and families begin arriving this afternoon. They will be received by a reception committee, headed by Governor John H. Trumbull and Lieutenant-Governor Ernest E. Rogers, of Connecticut.

The latter part of the day will be spent in rest, and recreation and the business of the session will begin Tuesday morning when Governor Trumbull will deliver an address of welcome. Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, then will launch as the topic of the program "Cime."

The conference will end Thursday night. Governor Charles A. Tobe, of New Hampshire, will extend an invitation to the governors to tour his state on Friday.

Pope Pius Holds Secret Service

Vatican City, July 15.—(AP)—Pope Pius held his first secret consistory palace. One new Cardinal was raised to the Purple—Father Ldefonso Schuster, Abbot of the famous Basilica of St. Paul's outside the walls.

His Holiness indicated in his brief remarks to the assemblage of Cardinals that there would be more Cardinals created at next December's Consistory. Cardinal Schuster will receive his Episcopal consecration next Sunday, at the hands of the Pope and later will be inducted as arch-Bishop of Milan.

No allocation was delivered, contrary to reports which have been current for some time there would be one dealing with settlement of the Roman question. The Pope said: "Certain events transpired with which we shall deal later on."

Fog Bound Boat Has Reached Port

Elizabeth City, July 15.—(AP)—Sunday excursionists, aboard the "Shady Side," spent the night anchored in the fog between Nagshead and Elizabeth City.

Almost twelve hours overdue, the "Shady Side" with more than seventy excursionists docked here today at 9:10. The boat, a crude oil burner, recently put in service between Elizabeth City and Nagshead, left the latter port at 6:45 last night, but when dense fog enveloped the sea, the boat anchored for the night, Captain E. A. Davenport said on docking here.

One tug, a yacht and the coast guard boat AB-21 were sent to hunt for the excursion steamer, but just as the tanker Tamarack left here the "Shady Side" was sighted.

Aside from loss of sleep, the passengers suffered no inconvenience, several reported, on arrival here.

FIVE NEGROES ESCAPE FROM N. C. PRISON

"Honor Grade Men" Employed In Highway Work Give Guards The Slip.

of five prisoners, all negroes, made their escape from prison over the weekend, prison officials announced today. Four of the five who escaped were "honor grade" prisoners and were engaged in state highway construction work in Wayne county.

The other was Ludy Robinson, who escaped from the central prison here.

The escapes were: Frank Johnson, Wake county, sent up in 1922 to serve seven to ten years for burglary; John Jones, Gilford, sent up in January 1928 to serve three to five years for breaking way robbery; John Quiller, Rockingham, sent up in January 1927 to serve three to five years for breaking and entering; Johnnie Morre, Beau fort sent up in July 1928 to serve three to four years for storebreaking and larceny; Ludy Robinson, Forsyth, sent up in February 1929 to serve three to four years for store breaking.

Thom Johnson and Ed. McKinnon negroes sentenced in Duplin superior court Saturday to be electrocuted October 10 for the murder of a merchant in Duplin, were admitted to the prison yesterday, both have appealed their cases.

William Lee, Duplin negro who spent nearly a year on "Death Row" was also back at the prison yesterday after a second trial in Duplin but instead of coming back to death row he came with a sentence of life imprisonment.

Over the week end it was also announced that Wade Koonce, negro who escaped from a road camp near Selma June 4, had been recaptured.

Probable Rifling Of Mail Aboard White Star Ship

London, July 15.—(AP)—Scotland Yard was assisting the English post-office authorities today in investigating the mysterious rifling of a registered mail consignment aboard the White Star liner Laurentic, arriving at Liverpool yesterday from Montreal.

The yard communicated with New York and Montreal in connection with the case which was said to involve a considerable loss. Investigators were known to have been struck with the remarkable similarity of the case and the robbery of the Levithan's registered mail a year ago.

When the mail sacks were opened discrepancy was noted between 20 pieces of the Montreal air mail alone were missing. The bag itself, one which a plane from Montreal had placed aboard the Laurentic at sea, was not damaged and its seals were unbroken.

Last year a mysterious rifling of the Levithan's registered mail bag was said to have netted the thieves between $100,000 and $500,000. A British government announcement placed the loss at $12,000. Three arrests were made, two of them members of the crew.

Hoover Inspects Rainbow Division

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—President Hoover took Ambassador Paul Claudel, of France to Baltimore with him today for a review of the Rainbow Division.

In addition to Ambassador Claudel the President was accompanied by his two sons, Allan and Herbert, Jr., his secretary, Joe Akerson, Joe Campbell Hodges, and Captain Allan Buchanan his military and naval aids and Lieut. Commander Joel L. Boone, his personal physician.

The Chief Executive's program included an informal luncheon at the Maryland Club after which it was planned for him to go to the City Hall to review the parade of the division which is holding its annual reunion in Baltimore.

ATHLETICS TAKE SCALP OF INDIANS

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Just when it began to seem as if the alarmists possibly might have some grounds for their apprehensions, Mr. Gordon S. Cochrane was welcomed back into the Athletic fold, fully recovered from a broken rib. It may be that his presence behind the bat was not the prime reason, but the fact remains that the Athletics defeated the Indians by 5 to 3 in ten innings at Cleveland yesterday, as Detroit trimmed the Yanks, 7 to 4.

This perfect Sabbath for the lean leaders of the Athletics increased the Mackian margin over the champions to eight and one-half games. The Macks are four games past the mid-way mark of the schedule and are better placed than were the Yankees at a similar period of the 1922 campaign, which witnessed 110 New York victories.

Gottlieb Mack tried to win yesterday with the young left-hander, Carroll Yerkes, but withdrew him for a pinch batsman in the sixth after a rally of two runs in the fifth had brought the Indians within one of a tie. Old Jack Quinn took charge of the game, and got credit for the tenth inning victory after permitting the Indians to tie in the ninth. Willis Hudlin pitched smart ball for Cleveland for nine rounds only to have Jimmy Zinn blow the game in the tenth after Zinn had served as substitute batsman for Hudlin in the ninth.

George Pipgras seemed to be headed for one of those fine afternoons he sometimes has (infrequently, though, this season), but the Tigers set off dynamite under him in the seventh. Command of the situation passed definitely to the hard-hitting Tigers in a five-run rally which gave the home club a lead of 5 to 3. George Uhl had some of the stuff which enabled him to win nine straight at the start of the season.

Frustrated by their vain efforts against the Yanks and the Macks, Daniel Howley's shock troops battled a three-hit game for Jack Russell of St. Louis, and the Red Sox won by 5 to 2. Blaeholder and Kimsey were none too good.

The White Sox defeated the Sun-

ators by 7 to 1 in the remaining American league fixture. The Pirates apparently can do well even when doing nothing. Confined to their hotel yesterday by rain, they still maintained their lead by a good margin. Carl Hubbell treated himself to a six-run explosion in the fifth inning, giving the Cardinals a margin of three, but the home team pounced upon old Mr. Mitchell for enough runs in the home half to tie. Carl Mays then entered the box and he held the Cards safe until Bill Terry's 11th inning single which gave the Clan McGraw a 7 to 6 victory. Bill Walker tottered in the eighth round of the nightcap, enabling the Cards to score three times to pull out a 4 to 3 victory. Jess Haines was the winning pitcher, although he gave way to a substitute at bat in the big St. Louis eighth. Cincinnati stopped Brooklyn by 12 to 3 as Swanson and Walker hit homers. SONNENBERG TO MEET NEW YORKER JULY 24. BRADDOCK RIDES FOR LIGHT-HEAVYWEIGHT CROWN

New York, July 15.—(AP)—James J. Braddock's attempt to lift the light heavyweight crown off Tommy Loughran's brow this week furnished metropolitan followers of the fistie industry with their first real championship bout since last September when Andre Routis beat Tony Canzoneri for the featherweight title. The battle of the left jab and straight right—Loughran and Braddock—is set for 15 rounds at the Yankee Stadium this Thursday night.

The advance dogs favors Loughran to outpoint the challenger, current odds being around 2 to 1. Braddock, who hails from Jersey City, sprang into the limelight last year with a two-round knockout over Tuffy Griffith. After dropping a decision to Leo Lomski he came back with a victory on a technical knockout over Jimmy Slatery, the Buffalo speedster. There is no question that Braddock will hurt anyone he hits, the question is whether he can hit Loughran who has waded through all challengers since he captured the title from Mike McTigue in October of 1921. Rene De Vos, Belgian middleweight, and Dave Shade, California veteran, are to meet in the semi-final and Harry Ebbets, Freepout slugger, matches punches with Izzy Grove, East Side middleweight, in another ten rounder.

German To Fight Addison Warren At Washington

Washington, July 15.—(AP)—Julius Weisse, German heavyweight contender, who meets our own Addison Exum Warren at Washington on Friday, July 19th, came to the United States in company with Max Schmeing. Over in Germany, Weisse was considered as good or better than Schmeling. He has faced and defeated some of the best heavyweights in Europe.

Weisse, who weighs 180 pounds, is a hard hitter. He is not a gymnasium fighter; in fact, he shows up to poor advantage in gymnasium work-outs. That is the result of his experience in the old country. When Weisse first started fighting, about four years ago, he used to better his sparring partners all over the ring, and before long he was having plenty of difficulty getting sparring mates who would give him a work-out. Finally, his manager impressed upon Weisse the importance of letting up in his gymnasium work, and it has become a habit with the classy German fighter.

Not long ago, Weisse met Battling Finch of Savannah, in Charlotte, and though he lost the decision at the end of ten rounds, he was fighting better in the last round than he was in the first. Weisse offers no alibi for his showing against Finch, but he insists that if he had prepared himself properly for the Finch contest, he would have knocked the Georgian stiff. There seems some justification for the German, for he drove down in an automobile from New York, and had very little sleep in the 48 hours preceding the Finch contest. His muscles were stiff.

For the fight with Warren, the big German has taken particular pains. He has worked like a Trojan in New York, and plans to arrive in Washington three days before the fight to complete his training. Weisse and his manager Solly Woods, veteran handler of boxers, insist that he will be a revelation against Warren. He plans to carry

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, July 15.—(AP)—Cotton opened easy today at a decline of 6 to 15 points under selling on reports of favorable week-end weather in the south and relatively easy Liverpool cables. Active months soon showed net losses of 5 to 16 points, with October selling off to 18.08, or into new low ground for this movement.

January declined to 16.35. There was considerable covering and some trade buying at the decline, but the market was rather unsettled and within 3 or 4 points of the lowest at the end of the first half hour.

Private cables reported continental liquidation and selling on the favorable southern weather news in the Liverpool market and said that Manchester was uncertain with sales of cotton cloths small and cotton yarns dull.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, July 15.—(AP)—News of drought-stricken crops burning up under 100-degree temperatures in Canada today pushed wheat prices up nearly 9 cents a bushel, or as much as 4 1/2 cents above where the advance started June 1. Today's trading in wheat was of a magnitude rarely equaled except in war times, and the rise of prices swept other grain also rapidly upward.

Closing quotations on wheat were buoyant, 7 3/4 to 8 7/8 above Saturday's finish. Corn closed 3 1/8 to 4 1/8 up, oats 1 7/8 to 2 1/4 advance and provisions unchanged to 20 down.

Table with columns: High, Low, Close. Rows for WHEAT, CORN, RYE, LARD, RIBS, BELLIES.

STOCK MARKET

New York, July 15.—(AP)—The stock market, which has been pointing upward for several weeks, turned reactionary today when call money was advanced from 8 to 12 per cent and threatened to go higher. Selling pressure was directed chiefly against the motor, copper, steel and public utility shares, although soft spots also developed in most of the other leading groups.

Heavy calling of loans, necessitated by the semi-weekly readjustment of banks positions at the Federal Reserve bank, coupled with the heavy mid-month disbursements, accounted for the stringency in call money. Little hope of any marked relaxation in rates was held out before the end of the week. The time money market was quiet with the undertone slightly firmer.

Business news continued favorable. June foreign trade figures showed an increase in both imports and exports over the same month of 1928. Another series of excellent earnings reports made its appearance. Western Union, S. S. Kresge and Detroit Edison making favorable comparison with a year ago, while the first statement of the Allegheny Corporation showed net profit of $1,219,106, which included nearly $400,000 profit from the sale of stocks.

Renewed liquidation of the copper shares was based on the disappointing statistics of red metal stocks and recurrent fears of a further decrease in the price of the metal. American Smelting, Anaconda, Kennecott, Miami and Andes were all carried down 1 to 2 1/2 points. Increasing competition in the motor industry, with unconfirmed rumors of price cuts before the end of the year, brought further selling into the motor group. Chrysler again breaking below 70, while Packard, Mack Trucks and Auburn fell 1 to 3 points.

POLISH AIR RACE PILOT DIES AS PLANE CRASHES; COMPANION BADLY HURT

(Continued From Page One) unexpected maneuvers. In a moment the plane hit the ground and there was an explosion. Kubiana was found near the wreck and the body of Major Idzikowski was extricated from the debris. Natives buried Idzikowski's body at 3 p. m. yesterday. Kubala was said not to be badly injured. Another account of the disaster, accepted in some quarters, said Kubala was taken from the plane wreckage also. Both he and Idzikowski were injured, Idzikowski dying as he reached the hospital. The plane burned after the two aviators were removed. There was some question as to the time of the crash, but it appeared to have happened between 7:30 p. m. and 9:30 p. m. local time, (3:30 and 5:30 E. S. T.) Thus they spent something less than 18 hours in the air. It was after noon Sunday before first advices of the crash reached here, the first dispatch saying the plane landed safely.

day filed a claim for compensation with the State Industrial Commission, which administers the workmen's compensation act.

Mr. Kaneer, who holds a $350 a month job, said four of the shot took effect in his body and that he will be unable to work for a month. If his claim is allowed he will receive a total of $56 in compensation in addition to his medical expenses. He is listed to receive $18 per week if the claim is approved, the maximum amount allowed as weekly compensation.

Among the 150 claims for compensation received in the mail today four were from employees of the city of High Point, three firemen saying they were injured while fighting fire and the fourth being from an employee of the sanitary department.

Rain-Rain-Go Away. New York—Take note of the weather for the next 40 days. St. Swithin, Bishop of Winchester, Eng., and a weather prophet, was buried in 1762. On July 15, 1862, the story goes, it was decided to move his bones, but a terrific rainstorm burst and continued for 40 days. The remains were left where they were. And so:

St. Swithin's day, if thou dost rain For 40 days it will remain; St. Swithin's day, if thou be fair, For 40 days it will rain nae mair. But the weather bureau records prove the poem wrong.
