TWO EDITORS SENTENCED TO JAIL IN OHIO

Cleveland Press Writers Also Fined $500 Each For Contempt Of Court.

Cleveland, July 17.—(AP)—Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland Press and Carl K. Matson, chief editorial writer were given a stay of execution today by appellate Judge Willis Vickers, after common pleas Judge Fredrick P. Walther had held them in contempt of court and ordered them to serve thirty days in the county jail and pay a fine of $500 each.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 17.—(AP)—Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland Press, and Carl K. Matson, chief editorial writer, were held in contempt of court by common pleas Judge Luther H. Walther, today. They were sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $500 each.

Judge Walther, who heard the charge brought as a result of an editorial in the Press criticizing his granting of an injunction to racing interests, ordered immediate execution of the sentence.

The jurist denied a motion for a stay of execution, saying there was no statute to support it. Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war and chief attorney for the newspapermen, hurried to the court of appeals to attempt to obtain bond for the men pending their efforts for a stay.

Bond was granted to operators of the race track resisters. Hanratty from interfering with use of the "concentration" system of betting, provided it is legal. The sheriff took the bond and the system is illegal and that therefore the order was not binding, and closed the track.

The Press is an outlet for the same day the injunction was granted and twice revised in later editions, declared the injunction "monstrous" or "redundant" and accused Judge Walther of having been made the dupe of racing interests.

The judge instituted contempt proceedings, charging the editorial was libelous and contemptuous. He asserted that if the paper's statements were true, he is "not fit to sit upon the bench."

Baker argued strenuously for freedom of the Press in the hearing, which was concluded this morning when Judge Walther refused his motion to dismiss the charge. He also denied that the editorial was in contempt.

In spite of Baker's announcement that he would appeal at once to the appellate court, Judge Walther issued a writ for Sheriff Hanratty to take the two men into custody immediately.

Stabber Claims Another Victim At Danbury, Conn.

Danbury, Conn., July 17.—(AP)—A stabber last night claimed another victim. Miss Caroline Pliska, of this city, was attacked and wounded on the breast as she walked along a street a short distance from her home. The assault was made so quickly she did not see her assailant's face. The stabber escaped through a nearby yard.

Five young women have been similarly attacked here during the past few months.

Lindbergh Makes Dirigible Flight

Los Angeles, July 17.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh made his first dirigible flight here last night upon their arrival at the Metropolitan airport by plane from San Francisco. A blimp was anchored at the field when the couple arrived and they transferred to it for a 30 minute tour.

Lieutenant Karl Lange, pilot of the gas bag, said upon its return to the airport that Lindbergh had taken the controls part of the time. The Colonel and his wife were laughing when they stepped from the blimp.

Mrs. Gene Tunney Regains Her Health

Venice, July 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Gene Tunney has recovered completely from her recent abdominal operation and now appears quite well. She and her husband, the former world's heavyweight champion were recognized yesterday by American tourists while they sat in front of a cafe at St. Mark's square.

They finally retired before the stars of the countrymen and Venetians who were told who they were. It was said they expected to spend several more days here.

Held In Opium Ring

Suen Foon, Chinese consul secretary in San Francisco, is charged with attempting to smuggle opium into this country. He was arrested with Mr. and Mrs. Ying Kao when customs officers found opium in their trunks.

LEGION NAMES DELEGATES TO ANNUAL MEET

Other Matters Discussed At Regular Monthly Meeting Of Pitt County Post.

Members of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion in regular monthly meeting at the Rotary Club Building last night, elected five delegates to represent the local post at the annual convention of the American Legion to be held at Raleigh, August 17th. Aside from this, the post enjoyed the usual supper, heard reports now in progress in this city, and activities of the Welfare Department to make it easier for crippled children to reach the orthopaedic clinic held in Goldsboro from time to time.

The session was presided over by Dr. A. M. Shultz in the absence of A. B. Corey, post commander, who could not be present on account of the death of his brother in Florida.

The following were elected to attend the state convention: William Dupree, Walter Cherry, Dr. A. M. Shultz, Robert Whitchard, Sam W. Worthington, Dave Moore, J. B. Kiltner, Claude Tolar.

Herbert Stuckey, director of the Wilson area of Boy Scouts, who was here to attend a meeting of executives of the local Scout organization, got his meeting place mixed up and walked in upon the Legionnaires just as they were putting finishing touches to a menu composed of beefsteak, gravy and potatoes. After informing the Boy Scout leader where the Scouts were meeting, Dr. Shultz asked Mr. Stuckey to tell the Legionnaires of the work now under way in this city.

Always in a hurry, and already an half hour late for his meeting, the scoutmaster paused long enough to congratulate the men of Greenville for the hearty support which they had given the Scout movement, and assured them that their interest was meeting with fine results. The Scouts look upon the Legionnaires as their buddies, Mr. Stuckey told his hearers, and urged them to do everything possible to further the work here.

After these few brief remarks, Mr. Stuckey raced from the building with assurance of the Legion's support ringing in his ears.

K. T. Futrell, director of the Welfare Department of Pitt county, explained the movement now under way to furnish transportation for crippled to the orthopaedic clinic held in Goldsboro. He told the Legionnaires of the difficulty he had in furnishing transportation for the youngsters, and asked them to help him find a way for them to get to the clinic. Members of the Legion responded immediately, two or three car owners signifying their willingness to place their automobiles at the disposal of the Welfare Department for this purpose.

Mr. Futrell also explained the effort to give cripples of this county a chance of taking advantage of the clinic, and stressed the need of public co-operation in making this possible. The Legion promised to do everything possible to further the movement and to see that the children got the required attention.

BANKERS WILL HOLD MEETING HERE AUG. 4TH

Secretaries And Treasurers Of Federal Land Bank To Gather At Rotary Club.

Group Four of secretaries and treasurers of the Third District of the Federal Land Bank will meet in this city Tuesday, August 4th, it was announced today by Judge F. M. Wooten, secretary-treasurer of the Pitt National Farm Loan Association, which is a member of the Third District Land Bank.

Approximately one hundred members of the organization will attend the meeting which will preside over by Judge Wooten, who has also been requested to address the body. His subject will be, "Serving the Farming, the Major Industry."

The meeting will be held at the Rotary club building and is expected to bring out many interesting facts dealing with farm loan system in this section of the country.

The Third District comprises the states of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, and leading representatives of the banks of these states will attend the meeting here.

As the program for the meeting must be completed this week, the secretary of the district urged Judge Wooten to notify him immediately by telegraph if it would be convenient for him to address the gathering and to also designate his subject. Judge Wooten did so and a completed copy of the program will be made public within a few days.

FARM BOARD SEEKS TO CUT MARKET COST

Federal Body Believes Reduction Of Costs Would Increase Farmers' Earnings.

Washington, July 17.—(AP)—Reduction of the marketing costs of agricultural products will be sought by the Federal Farm Board as a means of boosting the farmers' returns without adding a corresponding increase to the consumer's expenses.

To accomplish this objective, the board has set itself to the task of organizing the farmers' marketing facilities on a gigantic nationwide scale, working all the time "with and through established groups of farmers who are organized or who may be organized on a basis of specific farm commodities."

Declaration of this policy was given in a statement by the board with an announcement that the members would go to Baton Rouge, La., July 29, to attend the meeting of the American Institute of Co-operation, during which they expect to confer with national leaders in co-operative marketing.

The announcement warned that "deliberate action must be expected. It was revealed that several appeals are pending from agricultural groups but no hint was given as to the probable disposition of the $500,000,000 loan fund.

The board's decision to work through the farm organization in its drive for reduced marketing costs is expected to lead to many conferences with the agricultural leaders. Regional commodity meetings are planned "as soon as time will permit" in such sections as the need for them becomes apparent. Chairman Legge is enthusiastic about the rise in wheat prices. He says it is justified by crop reports and weather conditions both at home and abroad, "although I would like to take as much credit as possible for it for the board." The "psychological effect" of the establishment of the board, he believes, has helped.

Mayor Urges Public To Cut Down Weeds

Mayor J. C. Lanier today called attention to the presence of weeds and rank vegetation throughout the city and urged all property owners to clean up their property, especially vacant lots and the sidewalks. With the wet weather, weeds have had an unusual opportunity for growth with the results that mosquitoes have infested different sections of the city.

The mayor called attention to the city ordinance requiring the cutting down of rank vegetation, and gave property owners one week in which to comply with this provision.

CHINESE HELD IN HUGE OPIUM PLOT

Mr. and Mrs. Ying Kao will probably be returned to China for prosecution. They were charged with trying to smuggle opium into this country after a huge consignment of the narcotic was found in trunks of Mrs. Kao. They are shown with Ernest Williams, United States commissioner, at San Francisco.

Russian City Rings With Protest Against Chinese; Moscow Embassy Attacked

Moscow, U. S. S. R., July 17.—(AP)—Moscow rang today with popular protest and demonstrations against the Chinese government, despite an announcement of what was considered a conciliatory communication from the Russian government.

Russian and Chinese patriots stormed the Chinese embassy on the Propokhin Pereulok, throwing rotten eggs, sticks and stones, and smashing window panes. War helmeted, heavily armed regiments of "Gay-payou" (secret police), cavalry, and infantry were hard put to preserve order.

Inside the embassy the demonstration, which increased in intensity last night, caused a panic among a staff of 20 or more who huddled together in one of the rooms. They were worn and pale from want of sleep.

Sia Wen Sun, the Chinese diplomatic representative, told the Associated Press he had not left the embassy for two days and had not sleep for two nights, cabling message after message with the hope of some word which would relieve the suspense. He said he never was gladder to see a visitor.

Meanwhile the Tass agency, official Russian news source, issued the following: "Friends of peace breathed freer this evening when the Chinese diplomatic representative here submitted to the foreign office a conciliatory communication from Nanking, saying: 'Although the entire cable containing the Soviet protest demanding a reply by a given date has not been received its main idea is already understood. Our government ordinarily maintains peaceful relations with the Soviet Union and although the Harbin incidents necessitated taking measures regarding the Chinese Eastern railway these cannot affect existing relations between the two governments.'"

"Ambassador Chu Zao Yang soon will return to his post but if the Soviet government has the same opinion of the subject it may be deliberated by both sides. In our opinion all problems must be solved on the basis of existing agreements and thrashed out at the conference. Under such conditions the questions will be solved easily."

"The communique ended declaring the Nanking government would reply to the Russian note immediately after the full text was received."

Tass simultaneously published a statement saying the Soviet government did not intend to reply to the Chinese communique but would await the actual reply to its note (the ultimatum) of July 3.

The demonstrations in front of the Chinese embassy contained large numbers of Chinese, many of them exiles, who at times outdid the Russians in their fervor. They adopted the Russian slogan: "Down With the Imperialists," and "Down With the Chinese Fascists!" and shouted in a strangely unenlightened Russian which at times became a frenzied refrain.

Premier Poincare Given Second Confidence Vote

Paris, July 17.—(AP)—While Premier Poincare was confined to his bed today with exhaustion and extreme fatigue from his strenuous efforts on behalf of the debts accorded with America and Great Britain, the French Chamber of Deputies gave him a second vote of confidence, 350 to 238.

The vote came on the resolution of the Socialist deputy, Blum, seeking subordination of the Young plan's adoption to immediate evacuation of the Rhineland. The resolution was passed for a confidence vote by Vice-Premier Louis Barthou who this took another opportunity to emphasize the government's victory of yesterday.

While the vote was being taken it was noted around that the premier's physician had found a slight feverish condition but said he was not gravely ill. He prescribed 24 hours rest and M. Barthou said he expected M. Poincare back in the chamber on Friday.

The majority today was nearly double that of last night and was significant because the opposition had one less vote than yesterday while the additional deputies present all stood by the government.

OVER FORTY DROWN WHEN SHIP SINKS

All But Two Members Of Chilean Transport Go Down In Violent Storm.

Valparaiso, Chile, July 17.—(AP)—Forty-one officers and crew of the Chilean transport Abtao were missing today—apparently drowned—after the sinking of that ship yesterday off this port in one of the most violent storms experienced here in years. Only two of the crew of 43 were saved.

At noon the transport radioed an appeal for help which three boats answered, the Flota, the Antares, and the Imperial. The Imperial picked up Boatswain's Mate Enrique Aranda, and the Antares the sailor, Francisco Miranda.

Two others, destroyers arriving at the location given by the ship in its distress signal, found several bodies among wreckage from the ship. It did not appear likely that there were any survivors as yet unreported.

Heavy seas and high winds kept rescue ships outside the harbor today. The storm raged over southern and central Chile all day and was particularly severe off the ports of Valparaiso and San Antonio.

Telegraphic communications on land to the south were interrupted partially.

The Batso was launched under the name of Ernest Hemingway at Borden, Germany in 1923. It was 221-2 feet in length and was capable of 100 knots. Its gross tonnage was 1,124.

SCOUT HEADS HOLD MEETING IN THIS CITY

Camp Schedule Arranged By Representatives From Four Counties Last Night.

Scoutmasters from Pitt, Beaufort, Green and Martin counties met Tuesday evening in Parkinson's Dining Room for a discussion of the Scout work in this area and to arrange for the campaign scheduled for the different Scout troops.

The permanent camp for this area is Camp Charles, three and a half miles from Mailey and fifteen miles from Wilson. The camp will be ready for use August 1st. This camp, to which the Greenville Scouts have in admission, has been pronounced by Scout officials and engineers as one of the finest camp sights in the South.

An experienced camp director has been employed to arrange for the camp work and are building rustic bridges, like shelters, council rings, rustic railings across the dam, and other accessories and conveniences. The regular camping period is then days, but due to the demand for the camp the Pitt county district and other districts represented at this meeting adopted a resolution asking for a camp period of seven days at a cost of $6.50. This resolution will probably be acted upon favorably by the area council.

In a discussion of the work done in the Pitt county district, Mr. Stuckey spoke most flatteringly of the successful efforts of the various officers of the district.

Those present at the meeting last night were: Ralph Deal, chairman of the Pitt county district, B. B. Sugg, chairman of the Scout troop organization committee, Dr. M. B. Massey, district Scout commissioner, Lee Moore, Joe Taft, Hoover Taft, K. T. Futrell and R. L. Totten, all of Greenville; James T. Barnes, John Barclay, R. A. Thompson and Herbert Stuckey, of Wilkes; F. A. Jefferson, Francis McDevitt and M. G. Waters, of Washington; E. J. Morgan and F. V. Hardison, of Snow Hill; Wheeler Martin, of Williamston.

Former Pitt Man Dies In Florida

S. Jasper Corey, former Pitt county man, passed away at his home in St. Petersburg, Fla., yesterday morning, according to information received by relatives in this city today.

He is survived by his wife and three children, his mother, Mrs. Sude D. Corey, and brothers, A. B. Corey and J. Hick Corey, of this city, V. T. Corey, Winnsboro, J. P. Corey, St. Petersburg, Fla., and three sisters, Mrs. G. A. Tabor, Verna Dare and Lyman Corey, of Greenville.

SENATE BODY HEARS FACTS ABOUT TARIFF

Testimony In Opposition To New Provision On Canadian Wheat Aired Today

Washington, July 17.—(AP)—The Senate finance committee today heard further testimony in opposition to the new provision in the House tariff bill subjecting Canadian wheat, milled in bond in this country for export to countries granting flour made from American wheat preferential duties to a tariff equal to such preference.

Such wheat intended for export to Cuba would pay a 30 per cent duty under the new provision or about 35 cents a barrel.

John Pillsbury of the Pillsbury Flour Mills Company of Minneapolis, with plants in Buffalo declared the change would mean that Cuba would buy direct from Canada the flour it now purchases from American millers. He declared there could be no basis for opposition to the general principle of putting in bond among domestic millers, because not one barrel of flour made from the Canadian product entered domestic markets.

He contended the Canadian wheat flour was especially desired by bakers in Cuba and that it was impracticable to export flour from his protein American wheat because such wheat could be sold entirely in domestic markets at prices above the world level.

Pillsbury said that his company was prompted to establish mills in Buffalo to take care of its export business in Canada manufactured wheat after a long struggle to secure the export trade in flour from American wheat had failed. He said a threat of Canada placing an export tax on wheat entering the United States for mill use in bond constantly was facing this and other companies.

Asked by Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, if his Buffalo mill could not be moved across the border and mill Canadian wheat with cheaper labor, Pillsbury said it could but it represented an investment of five or six million dollars and if moved the American employees would move with it at their same wages.

The witness said the only American millers favoring the change in law were a few in the southwest. As an owner himself of mills in Kansas and Oklahoma, he held the advantage in the Cuban market these millers believe they would get would be practically none.

Mystery Still Shrouds Death Troutman Man

Mooresville, N. C., July 17.—(AP)—A full day of investigation by a coroner's jury yesterday apparently brought no closer to solution the mystery surrounding the slaying of Hubert Sherrill, young merchant-farmer of Troutman, whose body with a bullet wound in the forehead was found on the Troutman highway last Thursday morning.

The jury heard 20 witnesses and then late yesterday adjourned with the conclusion that Sherrill was killed by "party or parties unknown".

Officers investigating the shooting hoped identity of the slayer might be determined through three warning letters the youth had received and one in pen and ink—warned Sherrill to stay away from Mooresville.

The night of his death Sherrill went to Mooresville to visit a girl who since revealed that they were affianced. She could give no clue to the possible writer of the letters.

FOURTEEN BIG BANKS CLOSE IN FLORIDA TODAY

All Of Institutions Located At Tampa and Southwest Part Of State.

Tampa, Fla., July 17.—(AP)—Fourteen state banks in southwest Florida closed their doors today, bringing to twenty three the number of financial institutions to fail within the state in the past two weeks.

Following the closing of the Citizens Bank and Trust Company of Tampa and nine subsidiary institutions here and in nearby counties today, it was learned that five other banks in this territory also had failed.

The institutions placed in the hands of the state banking department today were:

The Citizens Bank and Trust Co., of Tampa. Franklin Bank, Tampa. The Lafayette Bank, Tampa. American State Bank, Tampa. The Citizens Nebraska Avenue Bank, Tampa. The Bank of Your City at Your City. The Bank of Plant City, Plant City. The Brandon Bank and Trust Company, Brandon. First State Bank of Port Meade. The Bank of Pasco County, Dade City. First Bank of Port Tampa City. Bank of Mulberry, at Mulberry. Ellenton State Bank, Ellenton. Other institutions which have closed the doors within the past two weeks were:

People's State Bank, Jacksonville. Volusia County Bank and Trust Company, DeLand. First National Bank, DeLand. Colonial Bank and Trust Company, Daytona Beach. Atlantic Bank and Trust Company, Daytona Beach. First National Bank, Sanford. Merchants Bank, Jacksonville.

Tampa, Fla., July 17.—(AP)—The Citizens Bank and Trust Company, a state institution, and nine other unbranched banking institutions, failed to open today.

E. P. Jackson, state examiner, has been here since Monday checking up on conditions. Captain R. A. Gray, assistant to the state comptroller, was expected from Tallahassee at noon to take charge.

The board of directors of the Citizens Bank and Trust Co. at a meeting early today, issued a written statement explaining conditions as due to "unwise gossip and confused adverse conditions following the appearance of the Mediterranean fruit fly which was responsible for a feeling of unrest and fear developed on the part of the people."

The directors predicted that all depositors would be paid in full and that the depositors would go out of business.

Paid in capital of the Citizens Bank and Trust Company was $1,000,000; according to the published statement of the bank as of June 29th, last. Deposits were given as in excess of $3,000,000. John T. Bize is cashier; L. A. Bize, chairman of the board, and D. L. Aney is president.

Paid in capital of the Citizens Bank and Trust Company was $500,000, with deposits of $182,650.88; according to published statements.

The Lafayette bank had paid in capital of $150,000 with deposits of $457,222.65; the Bank of Your City paid in capital was $200,000 and deposits of $2,679,237.69, and the Franklin Bank's paid in capital was $500,000 with deposits of $322,868.87, according to statements of conditions as of June 25.

Figures for other branches indicated were not available immediately.

England Ready To Discontinue Use Of The Submarine

London, July 17.—(AP)—The British government repeatedly has offered to discontinue the use of submarines if other world powers would agree, and it still occupies that position. A. W. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, told the House of Commons today.

He made this statement in answering a member's question whether it was the policy of the government to discontinue for the present time the laying down of any more submarines.

"In the present state of international opinion on the subject, the answer is in the negative," Alexander replied.

"The position is that the declaration of the British cabinet in 1924, made during the Washington conference of 1921 and since confirmed remains the opinion of the British government. But until other nations agree to that opinion, no statement is possible."

Alexander stated that no submarine of the 1929 program has yet been laid down.

For the Love of a Lady

By JEFFERY FARNOL

SYNOPSIS: Love threatened once again by cruel, misunderstanding! Sir Richard rides to an appointment in the night with Gregory, who brings him money. With Gregory, to Richard's surprise, is Helen D'Arcy. Richard ignores her impassioned pleas for an explanation of his flight, until, finally becoming enraged, he calls blunts out his cruel conclusion—that she killed Julian and placed Richard's ring beside the body, where he found it, to fix guilt for the crime on him. Incensed to hysterical distraction by his false inferences, Helen strikes him a vicious blow in the with her riding-crop.

Chapter 21
ANOTHER RING
Sir Richard, strangely silenced by the vicious blow of Helen's whip, sat motionless and grim. They faced each other a while, she panting and desperate.

"Oh!" cried she. "Richard Guy! How infinitely I despise you! Gregory, take me back home!" Sir Richard dismounted and, picking up his hat, stood listening; he heard Gregory's voice, her murmurous answer, the leafy rustling of them as they rode away. Sir Richard laughed, somewhat ruefully, and finding the hat in his fist, clapped it on, swung to saddle and rode his solitary way. But he had gone no great distance when, moved by some sudden thought, he checked Caesar, all at once, and turning, cantered in the opposite direction.

Back rode he by familiar ways until presently his sharp ear caught the jingle of a bit, with a murmur of voices; therefore he dismounted, and stole forward in the shadow of high hedge.

"Ah, Gregory," sighed his lady. "Tis hateful world!"

Gregory sighed sympathetically, and held his peace, wherefore she questioned him immediately:

"You think the detestable monster hath found secure haven in the woods?"

"Tis so I pray, my lady."

"Didst warn him, Gregory—of these law-officers from London?"

"Alas, no, madam. I had small chance for word with him. You spoke him of this, I hope?"

"Not I—ah, no, my poor heart was too full of his cruel injustice, his base suspicions . . . and yet should this abhorred wretch be taken or come to any harm. I think 'twould break my heart. . . . S I pray God be his sure defence now and always . . . and so dear friend, goodnight!"

Off came Gregory's hat and he stooped to the hand she reached out to him, kissed it reverently and thereafter sat bare-headed to watch her safely indoors. Even then he remained staring at the house until — the hedge rustled behind him, and starting round, he reached for his pistol-holster as a masked man stepped into the moonlight.

"All's well!" said a familiar voice, and Sir Richard smiled up at him. "Yonder went rare creature, Greg, and—prayed for me—wep! Ha, 'tis sweet, good world!"

"But, sir . . . there be men from London to hunt ye down."

"Ay, I know, Greg man, I know. But—she prayed for me, and sure such prayers cannot but be answered. Howbeit, I'm come home again, old lad."

Now as they went, Sir Richard looked up at Gregory, riding so gravely beside him.

"Ha, Greg," he said, clapping him on the knee. "T'would seem I misjudged her—wherefore she woe me hateful, scorns and condemns me, and very naturally. Greg, wherefore, unless they hang me, I am determined to follow your advice and make her my wife, heaven help her!"

"And, sir, I dare to suggest she favours you."

"Yes, she hath already whipped me."

"Whi—whipped you?" repeated Gregory in shocked voice.

"Heartily, Greg. The which do argue her not altogether insensible; may I protest it promise well. Faith, 'twill be a right merry wooing."

So they presently reached the village where none stirred and no light beamed.

"A pretty place, Greg!" sighed Sir Richard. "And yet here, at this moment, sheltered 'neath one of these familiar roofs, lie they, few or many, that plot my ruin, though who or why, is beyond my guessing; thus here will I hide."

"Here, sir?" demanded Gregory, starting.

"Or hereabout. Tomorrow is the inquest on poor Julian, and I shall assuredly be pronounced the murderer, so here needs must I be."

"Nay, sir, 'twere wanton risk! There are these police from London. The whole place is watched for you."

"Well, I shall be safer here under their very noses; here must I bide."

"Sir," said Gregory in pleading tones. "Oh, Master Richard, never venture yourself hereabouts. I do entreat."

"Now Sir Richard, perceiving his passionate anxiety, squeezed him in long arm."

"Greg," quoth he, "good, my friend, grieve not thyself for me, for no murder . . . sometimes. It may be justifiable, Greg."

"Then, all at once, he was off his horse and had thrust the ring into Gregory's lax fingers."

"Howbeit, Greg," quoth he, "I wed her . . . cat's-eye or no! Take now my Caesar, away with him to Fallowdene or hide him where ye will, and be ready o' nights to open to my ghostly rapping. Should you not see me awhile, Landlord John shall give you word o' me, and so—farewell!"

"Ware, Dick," he gasped, "ware, Dick—a cat's-eye—"

Sir Richard checked himself with hissing intake of breath, and turning swiftly to stare at Gregory, found Gregory staring at him, and gazing thus on each other, wide-eyed, were silent a while; when at last Sir Richard spoke, it was in a hoarse and broken whisper:

"Greg, he . . . he was not ravishing them! Hee had been shot from the bushes . . . he had seen! A hand mid the leaves . . . thee cat's-eye ring! . . . You saw it also, Gregory—where?"

"Sir," whispered Gregory, "I saw it . . . on—her finger. But, sir, she may have lost it later."

"Or had it stolen from her, Greg, like mine—like mine. Ha, the devil! So here's another ring, then! Two of 'em! . . . And Julian died trying to tell me—what?" Sir Richard stared up at the moon.

"And yet . . ." he muttered after some while, "killing may . . . be shadowy corner where, deep in the angle, was that small door which seemed to hide from chance espial. Drawing key from inner pocket, he stood suddenly motionless and rigid, for his sharp ears had caught a stealthy sound hard by, his quick eyes beheld a shadow that moved amid the shadows on the . . . side of the wide yard. Sir Richard turned and, moving on soundless feet, followed grimly in pursuit, his face once more hidden beneath black half-mask.

A fitting shadow that leads to a delightful conclusion. Continue the story tomorrow.

well—all is well—automotive engineers are seeking to perfect the motor by reducing the size of the combustion chamber thereby increasing compression. This increased compression calls for a slow burning fuel that ignites with a powerful push downward instead of just an explosion—the old time gasoline and even the modern knockless fuel has not proven to be efficient to the extent required—Hence it has become necessary to increase the efficiency of Gulf No-Nox motor fuel to a point almost fifty percent greater—This increase takes No-Nox in the aviation class of motor fuels—Motorists who have been using No-Nox to their satisfaction will be amazed at its performance since the change—speed—power—pick-up—in fact, everything that may be desired will be found in this new fuel—Aviators and motorists may purchase from any Gulf Service Station or Dealer—this improved No-Nox from the same pump.

Some motorists may confuse color with efficiency—which is not the case—The orange color has nothing to do with efficiency—it would be just as good if water white in color. You may identify Gulf No-Nox by the Orange color—The Gulf Refining Company were the first to color gasoline orange for identification purposes on account of orange being a trade color in the orange disc.

Keeping watch with the doctors at the bedside through the night were Mr. Berger's wife and his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Welles, as well as several intimate friends and business associates.

Mr. Berger was hit by a street car while walking from the office of his newspaper to his home. Witnesses said he apparently became confused in the traffic and after dodging several automobiles seemed not to see the oncoming trolley. Although it was not moving fast, it threw him violently to the pavement.

Total Of 12,908 Persons Deported From U. S. in 1928

Washington, July 17—(AP)—A total of 12,908 persons were deported from the United States during the last fiscal year.

Immigration commissioner Hull, in making this announcement today, said the principal reasons for deporting aliens were because they were criminals, had overstayed their time limit or had become public charges.

Deportations numbered 11,625 in 1928; 11,662 in 1927; 10,904 in 1926; 9,405 in 1925 and 6,409 in 1924.

Salvation Army Loses Leader

London, July 17—(AP)—The Salvation Army lost one of its best known figures today with the death of Commissioner Frederick St. George de Laeture Booth Tucker. He was 76 years old.

Commissioner Booth Tucker was born in Bengal in 1853 and was in the Punjab civil service from 1876 to 1881, when he resigned to join the Salvation Army. He inaugurated Salvation Army work in India and was in charge until 1891 when he became foreign secretary at Salvation Army headquarters in London.

Auto Accidents Exceed Homicides In North Carolina

Raleigh, N. C., July 17—(AP)—Only automobile accidents exceeded homicides during the month of June as the cause of persons meeting violent deaths in North Carolina.

The monthly report of the State Board of Health reveals 66 persons were killed in automobile accidents, while 27 were killed by one of their fellowmen. There were 23 suicides, which ranked third on the board's list.

Falls to Reduce—Sued For Divorce

New York—Donald L. Samuels, age 28, weight 332, member of the New York Stock Exchange, is being sued for a separation because his wife says, he failed to keep his ante-nuptial promise to reduce. Pretending he was foregoing breakfast she averts, he used to go out hungry mornings and eat at a restaurant. The husband avers that his wife has a baffling psychosis because she reads romantic novels and that at times her conduct has so perturbed him that he has lain on the bed and cried. They have been married six years. The wife says the husband earns $60,000 a year and up.

URGE WOMEN TO WEAR DRESSES TO COVER KNEES

Salem, Ore., July 17—(AP)—A resolution urging women to wear dresses of sufficient length to cover their knees when sitting as well as when standing was adopted last night by the Catholic Women's society in its national convention here. Birth control and the new freedom for women were dealt with in other resolutions. Preceding their adoption delegates to the society and to the Catholic Central Verein of America heard addresses deploring the alleged immodesty of present fashions in dress and the practice of birth control.

Socialist Leader Critically Hurt When Hit By Car

Milwaukee, Wis., July 17—(AP)—Suffering from a basal fracture of the skull and other injuries which he received when struck by a street car, early last night, Victor L. Berger, former Socialist Congressman and publisher of the Milwaukee Leader, today was given only a scant chance to live by the two doctors who have been at his bedside almost constantly since the accident. He still was unconscious early today.

The physicians both were pessimistic in their reports, stating that Mr. Berger's 69 years and his weak constitution probably would not be equal to the strain of the skull fracture, coupled as it is with internal injuries and severe lacerations and bruises.

Keeping watch with the doctors at the bedside through the night were Mr. Berger's wife and his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Welles, as well as several intimate friends and business associates.

Mr. Berger was hit by a street car while walking from the office of his newspaper to his home. Witnesses said he apparently became confused in the traffic and after dodging several automobiles seemed not to see the oncoming trolley. Although it was not moving fast, it threw him violently to the pavement.

Mrs. De Priest Says White House Lady Is a Cosmopolite

Chicago, July 17—(AP)—Mrs. Oscar De Priest, wife of the only negro Congressman, made a three-minute talk last night to 300 women of the Pilgrim Baptist church, describing her impressions of the White House and its mistress.

Mrs. De Priest, whose husband represents the First Illinois district, was speaking of her impressions as a guest at a tea for Congressmen's wives given at the White House, June 12. She said she found Mrs. Hoover most charming woman—a cosmopolite.

Mrs. William E. King, wife of a negro legislator, introduced Mrs. De Priest as "the loyal helpmate of our distinguished Congressman, and the recent tea guest of the First Lady of the Land."

"The president's wife is a wonderful hostess," Mrs. De Priest said. "I believe she possesses a great soul. She is quiet and unassuming—quite modest, but she has all the dignity her position demands. The other ladies at the party discussed such problems as you and I might discuss on a Sunday afternoon in this church."

"There was no excitement when I entered the White House. All the storm of criticism has been stirred up since—Outside the capital, mostly below the Mason and Dixon line."

Death Car Driver Held At Charlotte

Charlotte, July 17—(AP)—E. B. Proctor, driver of the truck which collided with the automobile of Frank G. Bell, of Greenville, S. C., early yesterday has been placed under bond of $5,000 to appear in Recorder's court Saturday to answer to a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Bell was killed in the crash.

Rural police, who investigated, said Proctor's truck had no lights and that he was driving on the left hand side of the road.

Bell was the son of the late Frank Bell, for many years publisher of the Savannah, (Ga.) Morning News. He represented a manufacturing Supply House and travelled many Southeastern States.

Ambassador Dawes Lays Off Liquor

London, July 17—(AP)—Ambassador Dawes sat with 200 other guests at the hospital board of the famous old Vintner's Hall last night but abstained from drinking any of the wines and liquors which were offered the diners.

He did not, however, refrain from taking part in the ancient ceremony of passing on a huge loving cup around the circle of guests. The cup filled with especially brewed sack, was handed to Lord Derby, who presided.

Lord Derby turned to General Dawes and drank the Ambassadors health with due ceremony. The Ambassador then was supposed to turn and drink to the health of the guest on his left, Lord Riddell, London publisher. Instead however, he lifted the cup to his lips, held it there a moment, and passed it on.

Lord Derby in a speech said he gathered from remarks he had heard Ambassador Dawes was going to introduce the loving cup ceremony among American Senators in Washington. The cup to be filled with the national American beverage.

Warsaw Mourns Death Of Flier

Warsaw, Poland, July 17—(AP)—Mourning ceremonies for the late Major Ludwik Idzikowski were held in Warsaw today attended by members of the government and large throngs of the populace.

Meanwhile the body of Major Idzikowski aboard the Polish schoolship Iskra at Horta is being watched over by a guard of honor day and night.

Numerous messages of sympathy from all over the world have been received by the Polish government.

Can't Talk To Wife, Too Cross And Nervous

"Even my husband couldn't talk to me. I was so cross and nervous. Vinol has made me a different and happy woman."—Mrs. N. McCall.

Vinol is a compound of iron, phosphates, cod liver peptone, etc. The very FIRST bottle makes you sleep better and have a BIG appetite. Nervous, easily tired people are surprised how QUICK the iron, phosphates, etc., give new life and pep. Vinol tastes delicious. Sold by Warren Drug Co.

Three Lives Claimed By Gas At Chicago

Chicago, July 17—(AP)—Lethal gas escaping from a mechanical refrigerating system yesterday was blamed by health authorities for the deaths of three persons found asphyxiated in their apartment. The condition of the bodies and a leak in the building's refrigerating system indicated that methyl chloride gas, used as a refrigerant, was responsible for the deaths, Coroner Hermann Bundesen said.

Those asphyxiated were Joseph Painter, 32; his wife, Mary, 21; and their infant son, Joseph, Jr. The parents were found dead in bed and the baby in its crib.

After investigating the tragedy, Coroner Bundesen ordered immediate suspension of operation of all mechanical refrigerating systems methyl chloride gas and declared he would seek a special session of the city council to legalize the edict. Officials estimated that approximately 75,000 installations with perhaps 500,000 individual units would be put out of operation by the order.

Bessie Doresey, a maid, entered the Painter apartment late yesterday. The fumes of the gas almost overcame her. Police found it impossible to enter the place without covering their mouths and nostrils with water-soaked handkerchiefs.

The positions of the bodies indicated that Mrs. Painter, perhaps feeling faint and realizing the impending danger, had tried to rise from the bed, but was overcome. The gas, except in large quantity, is almost odorless, officials said, and the family was probably feeling ill upon retiring.

Gastonia Policeman Charged with Murder

Charlotte, July 17—(AP)—The Mecklenburg grand jury expected today to begin hearings on indictments charging Arthur J. Roach and Tom Gilbert, Gastonia policemen, with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill. The indictments were presented yesterday by solicitor John G. Carpenter.

The indictments charge Roach and Gilbert with the murder of a man named...

Famous Omslow County Hams

The famous Omslow County ham ad-writer has appeared on the scene again.

"Lord" how are they increased that trouble me! Many are they that rise up against me... "Selah".

On my last trip to Omslow County I suffered the trouble of having my new Ford car and trailer wrecked in collision with a truck. It cost me $55 to get the damage repaired. I was lucky to save my bones and bacon. "Selah!"

I was on the scene yesterday and hams are growing scarce and hard to get. I managed to secure a full supply, the finest of the season.

On account of the advance in price I will be compelled to charge my customers 49 cents a pound, 20,000 pounds have already been sold and my obligations are due to my former ad. I know the people of Greenville and surrounding community have a soul and conscience and don't expect me to sell anything below cost. Hence according to the rise I am compelled to make the price 40 cents a pound.

ABOUT

"That fifteen inning ball game between Wilmington and Greenville here Monday afternoon furnished fans enough thrills to last them a long time," declared a business man who was one of the many Greenville people who braved the threatening clouds to go out to the ball park to see the game.

"It was fitting that these two clubs should stage such a contest since both represent the lead-ers of the league. Wilmington had the distinction of winning the first half of the league season and Greenville holds first place in the standing of clubs in the last half.

"It will be many a day before Greenville witnesses such a game again. It will be many a day before another such game is pulled off anywhere in the league. In fact, such contests occur only infrequently and tend to inject more life into the national pastime than any other one thing.

"There is no question about Wilmington and Greenville having the two best teams in the league and it would be nothing but proper that they should tie up in the clash for the championship of the circuit.
But there is yet a long, hard road ahead of the Tobacconists, and it is going to take lots of public cooperation to help them accomplish the feat. If you haven't been attending the games played here, Mr.
Fan, get busy and go out to the remainder and in that way encourage the boys to maintain the pace they have set."

"Like the Pitt County Medical Society, Greenville people extend a cordial welcome to Dr. J. L. Winstead of Baltimore, who has accepted the position of chief surgeon at Pitt Community hospital," said a well known citizen today.

"Dr. Winstead comes to Greenville from Baltimore where he served various hospitals of that city over a period of fifteen years or more. He has seen considerable experience in the field of medicine and surgery and comes here with a splendid record behind him."

"Recommendations by the State Child Welfare Commission for improving sanitary conditions in Greenville and community will be received with general interest by the entire citizenship," declared a reader of this paper today discussing the story carried in the columns of the Reflector yesterday.

"The recommendations cover improvements in the field of sanitation that should have a far-reaching effect upon the life of the community.
For instance, every industry that employs labor will be required to make necessary improvements to provide the features of sanitation.
This not only guarantees better health for the laborers themselves, but insures the public against infection from contagious diseases.

"The Welfare Commission is doing a wonderful work in this field of endeavor and it should do much towards improving general health conditions among the people in this and other sections of the country where similar campaigns are under way."

"I never fail to read the Reflector advertisements," said a reader of this paper today referring to the attractive way which an advertisement of a local business house had been presented.

"The modern advertisement, instead of an unattractive way, is like a news story. The very best writers and designers are employed by the big advertising agencies and when they get through their work it is as near perfect as it is possible to get in this day of artistic development in the preparation of advertising matter.

"The Reflector service is immeasurable. It not only presents attractively written matter, but appropriate pictures greatly increase the value of the ad. I really understand now why advertisement in this paper always gets results, and feel that money invested in this way is spent wisely."

"It really looks as if Jupiter Plu-vus has let up on this section for the time being," remarked a citizen today, commenting on the sunshine that held sway in the city yesterday and today.

"A few days of sunshine after all the rain we have had the last month or so should bring about wonderful results in the crop situation and enable farmers to harvest their products without any great handicap.

"Then, too, the dry weather will have a tendency to drying up some of the mudholes here and there and greatly decrease the army of mosquitoes that attacked the community some time ago and still hold ramp today. An improvement in this situation alone would be great.
It is anticipated and the people rejoice the more it will be appreciated."

New York City has nearly as many telephones as all of Great Britain and more than half the number in Germany.

PREDICT COMEBACK OF
HORSE AND MULE

Washington, July 17-(AP)-The equine population of the country lost another decision to mechanical progress during 1928, but the bureau of animal industry expects the horse and mule to follow the comeback trail for the next few years.

A decline of about half million horses last year and about 85,000 mules left a shortage, and colt production is estimated to be only about half as great as in need to maintain the present equine population level.

Increased demand for well-bred stock meanwhile, has particularly affected saddle horses and polo mounts which are figured to be selling at the highest prices in history.

SHOOTING AFFAIR AIDED
AT CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Charlotte, N. C., July 17-(AP)-
The charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill lodged against Felix T. Moseley, former employee of the Highland Park Mill, who shot and slightly wounded L.
E. Anderson, mill superintendent, last Friday, will be aired in Superior Court. Probable cause was found at a preliminary hearing in recorder's court yesterday and he was bound over under $11,000 bond. The shooting followed a discussion between Moseley and Anderson of a notice given Moseley to vacate the company's house which he rented.

Anderson was wounded in the left shoulder.

Trial Of Policeman
For Murder Nearing
End Columbia, S. C.

Columbia, S. C., July 17-(AP)- Trial of A. W. McGraw, New Brooklyn policeman who shot and killed Henry Martin in the operating room of the Columbia hospital on the night of April 8, turned into its final stages today. The policeman, who is charged with murder, contends the shooting was in self defense.

The state rested its case against him late yesterday after evidence that included testimony of M. J.
Mims, companion of Martin, and of Miss Mamie Mills, student nurse at the hospital. Martin had been arrested by McGraw shortly before the shooting on a charge of driving an automobile while drunk as a result of an accident. He had been taken to the hospital to have injuries received in the accident treated.

Both Mims and Miss Mills witnessed the slaying. They said Martin stood by the operating table with a small pocket knife in his hand and quarreled with McGraw.
Three times, Miss Mills said, Mc-Graw told Martin to put his knife up and each time received the reply: "I don't have to." Then, she said, the policeman fired twice.

Miss Mary Roberts and Miss Azella Whitaker, nurses, testified they smelled whiskey on McGraw while he was at the hospital.
Mayor Lemuel Hall, of New Brooklyn, who ordered McGraw to take Martin to the hospital, said he had not smelled whiskey on the officer although he was close to his for several minutes.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kendall of Wadesboro, N. C., 77 and 67 respectively, have spent less than $5

Firemen To Elect
Officers Today

Hendersonville, N. C., July 17-(AP)-Following discussion of plans to erect a memorial to the late D. McNeil, of Fayetteville, founder and one-time president of the North Carolina state firemen's association the body in annual session here, today was expected to proceed to the election of officers for the coming year, and to select the meeting place for the next convention.

It was indicated that a spirited fight would occur when the question of the place for the next convention comes up for decision, with Morehead City and Wilmington the chief contenders.

For the past two years the Association has been raising funds for the Memorial to McNeil, and during that period something over $2-000 has been raised. Wednesday morning the body voted to seek contributions to the fund during the next sixty days, and at the end of that time appropriate whatever remained to make up the $5,000 for the general fund of the organization.

The committee in charge will select the type of monument and decide where it shall be located. It probably will be erected in Raleigh.
Officers to be chosen include President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Stenographer. The question of making the office of secretary a full-time position is one of the questions the convention probably will decide during the day.

Keeping up with the Joneses

A larger income may make it possible for the Joneses to have a much finer home than the Browns-but the Browns can own just as fine a car. For it does not require a big income to own a De Soto Six. And with a De Soto Six the Browns have the pride and satisfaction of driving a Chrysler-built automobile-with the ability to out-perform most other cars on the road.

De Soto Six is obviously smart and stylish; up-to-the-minute in mode. And it has not taken the motoring public long to find that De Soto Six is also exceptionally comfortable and easy riding, powerful, speedy and safe. Record-breaking sales figures for a first-year car are proof enough of its established and growing popularity.

Combine these qualities with low price, low maintenance cost and assured long life. The reason is plain why those who insist on smartness and performance, but must consider economy, are finding De Soto Six the most satisfactory car.

DAILY REFLECTOR, GREENVILLE, N. C.

Greenies and Sailors Divide Double Bill

After playing to a fifteen inning score here the day before, Greenville and Wilmington were unable to establish individual supremacy and split a double bill at the Fair Grounds yesterday afternoon. The Sailors romped away with the first game by the score of 5 to 0, and the Tobacconists closed the night cap by the skin of their teeth by sending a lone runner over the rubber in their half of the seventh frame, and winning 3 to 2.

Both games provided the usual number of breath-taking plays and a large crowd was on hand to cheer their favorites on to victory. Both clubs handled the ball in a spectacular way, Wilmington fielding so cleanly and with such accuracy that only one error was chalked up against them for both encounters. Greenville, on the other hand had two bobbles for each game, but the two in the last game did not figure in the scoring.

In the first game it was nothing more or less than too much Mr. Thormahlen, who let the locals down with only four hits and managed to prove master of ceremonies the remainder of the game. But this same Mr. Thormahlen met his Waterloo when he attempted to pull the iron man stunt in the second game. He was driven from the mound by a hail of Greenville blows in the second inning, and while the hits did not count for runs, they were sufficient to send the big heater to the showers for the remainder of the afternoon. He was relieved by Veach, who aside from two bad innings, the sixth and seventh, hurled winning ball.

Greenville made several threats at the checking station in the early part of the last game. Three different times runners were sent to the third corner, but at such moments Veach tightened up and declined to yield anything in the shape of a timely bingle. In the sixth, however, two free passes to first, a wild throw and sacrifice fly enabled the Tobacconists to send two runners over the plate tying the two runs which the visitors had made in their half of the same inning.

It was in the seventh frame that fans got the greatest kick of the afternoon. Nalbock hit past first base and was advanced to second when Cox sacrificed. Hiller grounded out from second to first, Nalbock going to third. After Crump had been given a free pass to the initial corner, Jones hit a grounder to the infield, and the ball was thrown wild enough to cause the first baseman to lift his foot from the bag to receive the sphere. As the foot was suspended in the air, Jones hit the bag, and the umpire called him safe. The play looked to an end a game that looked like it was destined to go into extra innings.

It gave the winners of the first half and the leaders of the series. Ludke pitched the first game for Greenville, and while he let the Sailors down with only seven hits, the bingles were sufficiently close together to enable the visitors to convert them into counters.

The bespectacled youngster by the name of Garbee, who has had phenomenal success on the firing line for Greenville this season, proved the undoing of the Sailors in the last game. He yielded up a total of six hits while his teammates were bounding out nine off the delivery of the two Sailor heavers.

The even break of the series enabled the Tobacconists to continue to hold their slim lead at the top of the standing of clubs column, and as a consequence much interest is attached to the opening of the series here this afternoon with Goldsboro. With the Bugs in third place in the standing of clubs column and making a strong bid for the top, the games today and tomorrow are expected to be fraught with more than ordinary interest and tremendous crowds no doubt will be in attendance, especially this afternoon when the city enjoys its usual Wednesday night holiday.

Yesterday's Results In Carolina Leagues

(By the Associated Press)

Daniel Boone led his Pointers on a hitting spree against Winston-Salem yesterday that turned into an orgy of scoring which as the Piedmont has not witnessed for many days.

The Pointers banged out 26 hits and totaled 25 runs while the Twins mustered 12 counters to give both teams a total of 37 runs. Mauney and Bray were the unlucky hurlers who faced the Pointers. Not content with their first slaughter, the Pointers cracked out 11 more hits to take the second game of a double header from the Twins 7 to 5.

Salisbury lacked a punch in the bingles and lost to Durham twice. The scores were 3-1 and 1-0. The Colonials filled the bases in the 7th inning of the second game with none out, but the Bulls held all the runners safely to the sacks while the next three men went out.

In the Eastern Carolina, Kinston defeated Goldsboro while the other clubs were dividing up a pair of double bills. The Eagles won their single contest 4-0 behind the hurling of Sullivan who held the Dugs to three hits.

Thormahlen shut out Greenville 5-0 for Wilmington in the first game of a double header, but failed in an attempt to pull the iron man stunt. The Greenies knocked him out in the second and won 3-2.

Loughran To Meet Braddock Tomorrow

New York, July 17.—(AP)—Tommy Loughran will defend his lightweight crown against James J. Braddock, of Jersey City, at the Yankee stadium tomorrow night in what may prove to be his last fight as a 175-pounder.

Despite his frequent title defenses and non-title bouts, Loughran has made little money out of the title he won from Mike McTigue in October of 1927. The big money lies with the heavyweights and Tommy is convinced he can make more than hold his own with any of the current crop in that division.

He has said that if he beats Braddock he will fight again as a light-heavyweight in September and then cast his lot definitely with the heavyweights. If he loses he has said he expects to take a vacation and see what he can do in the way of putting on more weight and adding a punch to his fistie repertoire.

Another element in Loughran's decision has been his reported difficulty in making the weight. Although there seems to be no reason to doubt that he will be down to 175 pounds for Thursday's battle there is no question at the same time that the task has weakened him to some degree.

Betting odds on the day before the fight favor Loughran at 7 to 5 but a rush of Braddock money may tighten the odds before ring time.

Braddock's sole hope of victory over the clever title-holder seems to lie in a knockout. However much he may have improved he can have no hope of outpointing a sharpshooter like Loughran.

Loughran's task appears to be simply to avoid the Jersey man's right, a hand which has packed dynamite for more contenders than one.

UNDER DOGS HAVE DAY IN THE NATIONAL

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer Under dogs had their day in the National League yesterday as all of the leading teams tumbled in a heap, preventing any contender from gaining. In the American League the Athletics retained their lead of eight games by defeating Cleveland, 7 to 5, in ten bitter innings as the Yankee coasted home by 11 to 7 at Detroit. The Yankee game was not nearly so close as the score.

In the general annihilation of contenders, along the National League front, the defeat of the Pirates was most notable. The Buccaneers had a record of eight straight in the east until Bob Smith pitched the Braves to a 1-0 decision yesterday. Brane was pounded for all the Boston runs in the very first inning, and Smith clinched the decision by stopping the Corsairs with four hits.

Claude Willoughby, aided by two home runs from the bat of Charlie Klein, was just a shade too tough for Pat Malone, and the Phillies won by 6 to 5.

Klein's two homers ran his total for three games to five, tying the Major League record held by Babe Ruth and several other players. Klein also established a new modern mark by ringing up three homers in three successive times at bat, the last time up on Monday night the first two yesterday Elmer Smith hit three circuit blows in three official times at bat for Cleveland in 1921, but a base on balls intervened.

Ruth turned the same trick in 1926 world series. Klein's two homers yesterday ran his total for the season to 28, giving him a margin of three over Ott for the inter-league lead.

Sylvester Johnson hit winning form at the Polo Grounds yesterday when he let the Giants down with seven scattered hits, and won his own game by smacking out a home run with one on in the fourth. The final score was 5 to 0, in favor of the cards.

Jack Hendricks continued his campaign to escape from the cellar, and approached to within three points of his goal. The Reds took both ends of a double-header from the Robins in Brooklyn, 5 to 3, and 7 to 2.

The victory of the Athletics was notable for the failure of Bob Fosse to win his game—for the first time in several starts. The eminent left-hander gave way to the veteran Quinn when the Indians went on the war path in the fifth, and Quinn resigned for a pinch batsman just in time to permit George Walberg to profit from Joe Shaulie's slip in the tenth.

The White Sox worked hard to edge out the Senators by 6 to 5 in ten innings, and the Browns consolidated their collapse by yielding another game to the Red Sox. Milton Gaston hurled three-hit game to win by 11 to 2. It was the second three-hit performance against the Browns in the three games of the series played thus far.

Campolo Fights Dekuh Tonight

(By the Associated Press)

New York, July 17.—(AP)—Argentina's latest threat for the heavyweight championship, Victorio Campolo, six feet seven and one-half inches tall, makes his American ring debut at Ebbets Field tonight with Arthur Dekuh, big Italian-American, as the party of the second part.

Humbert Fugazy, promoter, has arranged that the boys can swing at each other for not more than ten rounds but expects the end to come much sooner than that.

Campolo's name is not unknown to North American ring fans. He was bowling over heavyweights with reckless abandon until Monte Munn knocked him out some months ago. He got back into the limelight by knocking out Roberto Robertini, tough Italian battler, who was fighting last night.

Chicago—Steve Smith, Bridgeport, Conn., knocked out Frankie Garcia, Stockton, Cal. (1); Al Crisp of California; and Harry Forbes of Columbus, Ohio, drew (8).

In the Eastern Carolina, Kinston defeated Goldsboro while the other clubs were dividing up a pair of double bills. The Eagles won their single contest 4-0 behind the hurling of Sullivan who held the Dugs to three hits.

BENCH-WARMERS OF JUNE MAY DECIDE LEAGUE RACES

The reserve strength of the leaders seems likely to decide the pennant races as the season passes the meridian. Above are three of the "spares" upon whom their managers count.

gazy's chief drawing card at Ebbets Field last year.

Fugazy promptly signed up Campolo to meet Dekuh. The latter generally is credited with having as hard a wallop as any heavyweight now in the ring.

Jack Rensault, veteran Canadian heavyweight, meets George Hoffman, former amateur star, in the semi-final. "One-Punch" Leo Williams, current negro sensation, battles Jack Roper, youngest of the pugilistic Roper family, in another ten-round. Jack Hendricks continued his campaign to escape from the cellar, and approached to within three points of his goal. The Reds took both ends of a double-header from the Robins in Brooklyn, 5 to 3, and 7 to 2.

The victory of the Athletics was notable for the failure of Bob Fosse to win his game—for the first time in several starts. The eminent left-hander gave way to the veteran Quinn when the Indians went on the war path in the fifth, and Quinn resigned for a pinch batsman just in time to permit George Walberg to profit from Joe Shaulie's slip in the tenth.

The White Sox worked hard to edge out the Senators by 6 to 5 in ten innings, and the Browns consolidated their collapse by yielding another game to the Red Sox. Milton Gaston hurled three-hit game to win by 11 to 2. It was the second three-hit performance against the Browns in the three games of the series played thus far.

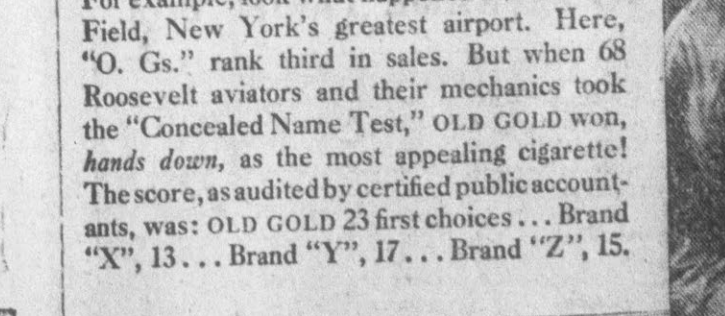

O.G. accepts Challenge at stronghold of its rivals

Show-down test . . . at Roosevelt Field, New York, reveals the true cigarette preference of Aviators.

The question is often asked: "Does OLD GOLD pick out its strongholds, the places where it outsells its three rivals, when it makes its 'Concealed Name Tests'?" The answer is "No!" OLD GOLD doesn't seek "set-ups" but "show-downs."

As a two-year-old youngster, "O. G." couldn't be expected to match "sales totals" with the three veteran brands, each from 12 to 16 years old. Give a young fellow time! But when it comes to comparing quality . . . that's "O. Gs." meat.

For example, look what happened at Roosevelt Field, New York's greatest airport. Here, "O. Gs." rank third in sales. But when 68 Roosevelt aviators and their mechanics took the "Concealed Name Test," OLD GOLD won, hands down, as the most appealing cigarette! The score, as audited by certified public accountants, was: OLD GOLD 23 first choices . . . Brand "X", 13 . . . Brand "Y", 17 . . . Brand "Z", 15.

On your radio . . . OLD GOLD—PAUL WHITEMAN HOUR . . . Paul Whiteman, King of Jazz, with his complete orchestra, broadcasts the OLD GOLD hour . . . every Tuesday, from 9 to 12 P. M., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, over entire network of Columbia Broadcasting System.

Columbia Takes Asheville In Tow

Atlanta, Ga., July 17.—(AP)—Columbia defeated Asheville, 8 to 2, while Knoxville was losing to Charlotte to tie the Smokies again for the South Atlantic Association leadership. Each has won 10 and lost 6 games.

The Charlotte Bees, although out-hit, fired away in the first three innings for all of their scores and nosed out Knoxville, 4 to 3. Chambers went to the hill in the third to relieve Keefe and held the winners scoreless the rest of the way. Harry Smythe, pitching his last game for Asheville before leaving to join the Philadelphia Nationals, lost to Columbia, 8 to 2, yielding 14 safeties. He was presented a traveling bag and silver offering by fans.

The Macon Peaches converted three hits into two runs to give Manager Tom Rogers a 2 to 0 mound victory over Greenville. Spinnars, "Chief" Wilkins was in the box for the losers. Bader's triple and Tremper's single in the fourth accounted for the runs. After losing the first, 1 to 0, getting but three hits, Spartanburg hit Augusta pitchers hard in the nightcap and evened the day's doings, 7 to 2.

Notice To Cut Weeds

To All Owners of Vacant Lots in the Town of Greenville:

You are hereby notified that pursuant to the ordinances of the town you are required to keep your property and sidewalks clear of weeds and other rank vegetation. The cutting of these weeds is essential to the health and sanitation of our community, and is necessary in the control of our mosquito problem.

Unless the law is complied with, and the weeds cut, within one week from this date, other steps will be taken to enforce the ordinance.

I trust that all citizens will co-operate in this matter, so that it will not be necessary to issue any warrants for the non-compliance with this ordinance.

COTTON MARKET

New York, July 17.—(AP)—The cotton market opened 5 to 13 points higher on a continuation of yesterday's buying movement which stimulated the firm Liverpool cables reports of rains in the central belt and reiterated reports of boll weevil infestation with increasing damage in the south. Realizing readily was absorbed, with the advance extending to 18.63 for October and 18.83 for January before the end of the first half hour, or about 26 to 28 points net higher on the new crop positions. July sold 15 points above yesterday's closing quotations. Trading was more active and local brokers said they saw some sign of an increased commission house interest. Liverpool cables reported continental buying and covering on a belief that the market had been overvalued.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, July 17.—(AP)—In a constantly soaring market with trading of huge volume, wheat prices here scored excited gains today of more than 3c a bushel. Sensational advances in Liverpool and Winnipeg quotations, with reports of greatly increased crop damage by drought and excessive heat in Canada as well as south of the international line, gave extraordinary impetus to trading. The land mark of $1.50 a bushel was not only reached but left far behind in the day's wild advance.

STOCK MARKET

New York, July 17.—(AP)—Easing of the mid-month credit stringency, coupled with another advance in December contracts to a new high wheat prices, which carried the record, stimulated a resumption of bullish activities in today's stock market. Some irregularity developed in the early trading, but the reactionary tendencies were checked when a plentiful supply of call money appeared on the floor.

Call money renewed unchanged at 12 per cent, but dropped to 10 around mid-day and threatened to go lower as the loanable supply of funds increased. The possibility of a large increase in Federal Reserve brokers' loans on Thursday acted as a retaining influence.

Weekly steel trade reviews continued favorable. Iron Age reports that "notwithstanding the reduced volume of buying of some steel products, notably cold-rolled strip and some grades of sheets, on which production has caught up with the demand. The steel industry, as a whole, has felt no market curtailment in general consumption."

Term implement and mail order shares were quick to respond to higher wheat prices. Case Threshing soared 18 points to a new high at 887 and International Harvester was marked up 7 points to a new high at 124 3-4. Montgomery-Ward and Sears Roebuck each advanced about 3 points.

Motor shares, in which a large short interest has been built up as a result of the growing competition in the industry, rallied briskly on what appeared to be short covering. Nash, Studebaker and Gardner all moved up 1 1-2 to two points. Airplane stocks also showed several points of strength. United Aircraft extending its gain to nearly 5 points while Curtiss and Wright each sold about 3 points higher.

Coppers, which were under pressure last week, again showed evidence of organized buying support. Greene Cananea ran up 6 1-2 points and several others advanced a point or two. Johns Manville, Air Reduction, DuPont, Purdy Baking, American International and National Cash Register sold 3 1-2 to 6 points higher. Engineers Public Service common and preferred, Harrington Rand and a sprinkling of other specialties reached new high ground.

Trading in the rails quieted down somewhat after an early outburst of activity, although Kansas City Southern, Colorado and Southern and Lackawanna moved into new high ground and Chicago Great Western, preferred, and St. Louis Southwestern recorded substantial gains.

WICKERSHAM'S TALK PRODUCES COMMENT

New London, Conn., July 17.—(AP)—The suggestion of George W. Wickersham, head of President Hoover's law enforcement commission, that enforcement of the prohibition law be divided between the federal and state agencies provoked varied comment from state governors assembled here today.

Such of the state executives as expressed an opinion gave little support to Mr. Wickersham's suggestion that an adequate division of enforcement authority might lead to modification of national and state laws to make them "reasonably enforceable."

GUNSHOT ACCIDENTS SHOW INCREASE IN N. C.

Pelham, July 17.—(AP)—Violent deaths from gunshot accidents show the largest per centage increase during the first six months of 1929 compared with the same period of 1928 of any of the violent deaths listed in the report of the Bureau of vital statistics of the State Board of Health.

During the six months of 1929 there were 40 deaths from gunshot accidents compared to 33 in 1928 or a per cent increase of 21.

The total of violent deaths in the state showed an increase of one this year over last for the period, the bureau reporting 828 in 1929 and 827 in 1928.

LOTTIE PICKFORD TO WED R. O. GILLARD

Los Angeles, July 17.—Lottie Pickford, screen actress, twice previously married, has applied for a license to wed Russell O. Gillard, 33, a Los Angeles undertaker.

Miss Pickford, in making application yesterday, signed her name as L. O. Rupp, the surname being that of her first husband. She gave her age as 33. Apparently piqued because her disguise of using her name by her first husband had failed, she threatened to "tear up the papers," but almost immediately changed her mind.

WOULD ACQUIRE ALL STONE AT STATE QUARRIES

Raleigh, July 17.—(AP)—The state highway commission at its meeting today authorized the chairman of the commission to enter into an agreement with state prison officials to acquire all stone to be used in building highways for the next two years from the quarries worked by the state prisoners at a price to be decided by the chairman of the highway commission, the chief highway engineer and the chairman of the prison board. This it was said by chairman Dougherty, will result in the state getting stone for two years at the present price, always having a supply to draw on and will insure employment for the convicts now used in quarries for a two year period.

TAX REFORM PROGRESS IS SLOW IN U. S.

Governor Byrd Tells Governors' Conference
Of Conditions
Prevailing Today.

New London, Conn., July 17.—(AP)—Progress in tax reform has been slow in the United States, Gov. Harry Flood Byrd of Virginia, said today in addressing the governors' conference here on "Sovereignty of the Subjects of Taxation."

The work of revising and modernizing archaic systems of taxation has only begun in this country, he said, and the highly unsatisfactory general property tax which should have been discarded years ago still is in general use in most of the states of the union.

State taxes are generally low in the general property tax plan, the governor explained, but when local levies are laid upon the same property the rates always are high and when the local rates are applied to intangible personal property they are found to be confiscatory.

"The reason for this is that real estate is grossly under-assessed in almost every state in the union," he continued, "whereas intangible personal property, such as bonds and notes, is not equally under-assessed if it is assessed at all, but such intangible personal property is assessed at its actual worth."

"Intangibles are not declared for taxation by many people, he declared, because they cannot afford to return them and tax authorities find it impossible to enforce such laws."

In face of such evils, Governor Byrd said, some states are substituting the classified property tax for the general property tax. Segregation always involves classification, he explained, which provides for the setting apart of certain subjects of taxation for state taxation exclusively and of certain subjects for exclusive local taxation.

"The rock upon which segregation rests is the setting apart of real estate for local taxation exclusively. This is the fundamental idea, and most of the rest naturally and normally follows. At the present time, real estate is not taxed for state purposes in California, Delaware, North Carolina, Pennsylvania and Virginia."

Under Virginia's classified property tax plan, he said, there is a complete separation of the sources

CAPTAIN HOLMES DISMISSED FROM ARMY FOR DESERTION

Washington, July 17.—(AP)—Captain Thomas Wyatt Holmes, of Mississippi, until three months ago stationed in the Canal Zone, was dropped from the rolls of the army today for desertion.

Reports to the War Department from the Canal Zone authorities said Captain Holmes had been absent from duty more than three months without leave, having left his post while under technical arrest. He had been arrested, the report said, pending an investigation of a salvaged airplane motor and was said to have quarreled with his superior officers regarding the use of materials for the cleaning of guns.

WAGE CUT OF MILLS WORKERS EXPECTED SOON

Washington, July 17.—(AP)—The Department of Commerce has been advised that a reduction of approximately 12 per cent in the wages of textile millmen and weavers in England will go into effect July 29. The recent ballot of the Master Spinners Federation, owners of the textile mills, showed that 92 per cent of the owners favored wage reductions and an announcement was made that lower wages would be put into effect.
