COURT ACTION AFFECTS MANY RADIO FIRMS

$20,000,000 In Back Royalties Involved in Judgment Handed Down in Delaware.

Wilmington, Delaware, Aug. 13.—(AP)—A judgment said to involve approximately 90 per cent of the country's radio manufacturers and an estimated $20,000,000 in back royalties has been handed down here by Federal Judge Hugh M. Morris against The Radio Corporation of America.

The judgment, which was announced yesterday, affects three beneficiaries. Francis W. Dunmore, employed in the bureau of standards, Washington; P. D. Powell, former bureau employee and a Dubilier Condenser Corporation of New York; and appearing plaintiffs.

The decision is the result of a suit brought in 1927 against Radio Corporation of America, alleging infringement on patents owned by the plaintiffs for the manufacture of instruments for radios which eliminated the necessity of storage batteries and made it possible to operate from standard residence lighting systems.

Testimony brought out that Dubilier had been at work prior to 1924 on elimination of storage batteries from radio sets. He went to Washington in 1923 to take out patents for what he thought was a practical method to accomplish the result and they had met Dunmore and Lowell there to perfect a method along the same lines as Dubilier. The latter agreed to purchase the rights to the license under the patent and to share equally in royalties.

The judgment calls for an accounting of the books of the Radio Corporation for payment of alleged damages incurred by plaintiffs. An application for an injunction restraining the Radio Corporation from using the patent until full accounting has been made will be filed at once, it was said by attorneys for the plaintiffs.

Fur Schooner Wrecked on Ice; Crew is Saved

St. Paul, Alaska, Aug. 13.—(AP)—The crew of the wrecked fur schooner Wif, presumably was on its way toward East Cape, Siberia, today, either in small boats or aboard the Russian steamer Stavotol.

That the crew of 20 had been picked up was indicated in a message received here from R. S. Polster, supercargo and one of the schooner's owners. He asked the U. S. coast guard vessel Northland, to pick up the crew at East Cape about September 10. His messages indicated the crew was in no danger but that the Wif was a total loss.

The schooner wintered in the ice north of Cape Siberia, and was reported clear on July 29, when cargo was unloaded at North Cape. She then proceeded toward Kilyma, where heavy ice was encountered and her hull was damaged on the night of August 10. She then was beached near Cape Billings, where ice floes crushed her.

Rocky Mt. Man Kills His Wife and Self

Rocky Mount, N. C., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Ruffin Burt, 30, shot and killed his wife, Rosella Price Burt, 21, here today and then committed suicide.

The shooting occurred at the woman started to work in a cotton mill after a quarrel about family affairs. Mrs. Burt was shot from behind with a shotgun and died instantly. Burt then turned the gun on himself. He died in a short time.

Burt formerly was employed at the Atlantic Coast Line shops here but was laid off recently and went to live in the mill section of the city. About a month ago, in a fit of despondency, he is said to have swallowed poison but recovered.

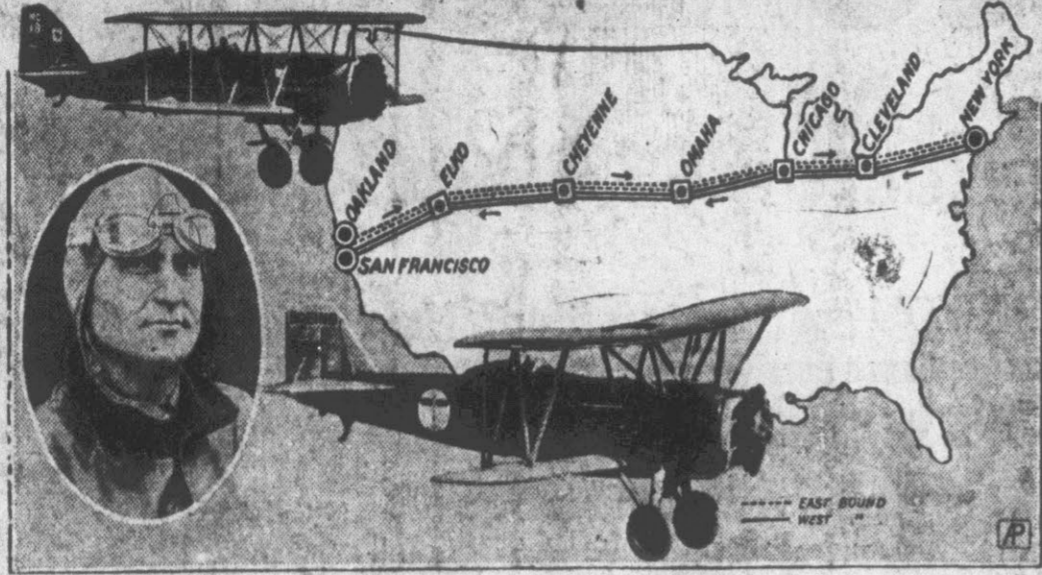

This morning, eye-witnesses said, Burt was sitting in the path leading to the mill when his wife passed him. He fired one shot at her. It struck her under the left shoulder.

Missing Airplane Arrives in Manitoba

The Pas, Mon., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Anxiety for the safety of Charles A. "Duke" Schiller, Canadian aviator and his party, was at rest today after receipt of a message announcing their arrival at Banker Lake.

Schiller with Thomas Credinerton, a prospector, and Jack Humble, a mechanic set out two weeks ago on a prospecting flight into the north country, along the shore of Hudson Bay.

BOMBS SHOW GREAT GAIN AT CHICAGO

Rackets Cost the Illinois City $186,000, 000 During the Year 1928

Chicago, Aug. 13.—(AP)—The bomb and the racket, twin terrors to small merchants and tradesmen, have shown a sharp gain this year over last, the Employers' Association has found out.

Rackets cost the city $86,000,000 in 1928, according to computations by Joseph Neilsen, assistant secretary of the association. This represents an average cost of $36 for every man, woman and child in Chicago, figures for 1928 indicate that the final total for the year will be even higher.

The bomb, which serves racketeers as a lash to whip racket victims into line, is more dangerous than the bomb of a year ago, the average damage of each bomb in 1928 was $1,214. The first bomb of 1928 was thrown Sunday night, 46 days earlier than bomb No. 71 was set off last year.

The Employers' Association has catalogued 94 organized rackets now operating in Chicago. The "business racket," as Neilsen called it, was described as having been originally a "purely Chicago institution which worked so successfully here that it spread to other cities.

SNOOK TRIAL NEARS END AT COLUMBUS, O.

Murder Trial Expected to Reach the Jury Sometime Tomorrow.

Court Room, Columbus, Aug. 13.—(AP)—The state pushed toward the close of its rebuttal testimony today in the trial of Dr. James H. Snook for the killing of Theodor Hix with the prospect that the case would be in the hands of the jury some time tomorrow.

Chief Harry French of the Columbus police department, was on the stand much of the morning, denying the testimony given by Dr. Snook as to the admissions the defendant made during the examination that preceded his confession. The chief declared that it was Dr. Snook himself who dictated the confession that the defendant had attributed in his testimony to Prosecutor John J. Chester, Jr., this corroborated the confession by saying that Dr. Snook, before making it, had described the cutting of Miss Hix's throat. In his testimony Dr. Snook said he swore he had no recollection of severing her jugular vein, the act on which the state bases its charge of premeditation.

Dr. J. M. Dunn, who examined Dr. Snook last Friday, testified today that he found bruises on his body but that he thought they were not more than two or three weeks old. The defense maintains that Dr. Snook struck the first blow with a hammer on Miss Hix's head after she had attacked him at a rifle range on the edge of the city where they had gone for their last tryst on the night of last June 13.

Negro Confesses Killing South Carolina Sheriff; White Men Paid Him $50

Greenville, S. C., Aug. 12.—(AP)—Blair Rook, negro, today was being held in the Greenville county jail on a charge of having shot and killed Sam D. Willis two years ago.

Confessing the killing in a written statement, the negro said that he was promised $500 by two local white men for committing the deed. He only received $56 he said.

Rook, whose name was withheld in the first announcements of the confession made to Sheriff Cliff Bramlett and other officers, was permitted to talk to newspapermen today. The names of the men who are alleged to have paid him for the killing were withheld although the sheriff said he expected to make other arrests shortly. One of the men implicated by the negro is said to have been prominent in public affairs.

Sheriff Willis was killed as he drove his automobile into his garage at midnight June 11, 1927. The killing has been a mystery from the start. Shortly after the sheriff's death his wife and chief deputy, Henry Townsend, were arrested and tried on circumstantial evidence.

On last January 1 when Sheriff Bramlett took office, Deputy Sheriff George King told his superior he had a lead on the case. He was told to work on it. On last Tuesday he arrested Rook at a construction camp in the northern part of the county and brought him to jail here. The confession was made the next day. The sheriff withheld news of the arrest until last night while officers worked on leads furnished by the negro.

The negro's confession, which he related to newspapermen today, said that he went to the rear of the Willis home for the sole purpose of killing the sheriff. Rook walked up the driveway to the garage and hid himself on the right in some hedge bushes. He waited there about an hour. When the sheriff entered the driveway the negro said he crawled to the corner of the garage and as the sheriff started into his home he stepped out to fire.

The sheriff heard the movement and turned. Rook said he shot once and saw the sheriff stagger. He then stepped closer and fired two more shots into the falling body. He then turned and walked away. Rook said that when he left the officer was on the ground.

As he crossed the street Rook said he saw the lights come up on a parked car and cut across the fields going into a negro settlement after crossing two creeks. In the first creek he dropped his gun, an automatic. After going through the negro settlement he went to a house where one of the men who had engaged him to do the killing was staying. He spent the night in the latter's automobile.

Rook said he was "approached" about the "job" some months before and was promised $500 if he did it. Then he was told that he would be killed if he did not do the killing or if he told anyone about the negotiations. He said it was fear of the consequences more than the promise of reward that finally led him to shoot Willis.

Some weeks before he said one of the white men had asked him if he had a gun. He did not but bought a small calibre automatic from another negro for $50 on a promise by one of his employers that he would be reimbursed.

He said that soon after this one of the men told him the time was "ripe" for the job. He said his teeth were hurting him and he wanted to have them fixed first. The man gave him money to pay a dentist. Just at dark the night of June 11 the negro, driving an automobile, and accompanied, he claims, by one of the white men implicated in the confession, rode past the Willis home several times. The white man showed the negro where the sheriff lived and where his car would enter the garage.

Rook said he did not know the sheriff and had never seen him. He killed by description only, he said. "We drove by two or three times," the negro continued. "We went so slow one time that the engine choked down. There was an automobile in front of the house with a man and a woman in it. When we came back another time, they were gone. Then we went away.

"We left the car and started back walking. I had gotten some liquor and I was feeling pretty good. He (the white man) walked part of the way with me and then turned back. I went on and came to the driveway.

"I went to the right hand side of the garage. I had been told that the sheriff was a slender man, would drive in the left of the garage and would be wearing a white shirt and straw hat.

"I never went behind the garage at all. I just sat down at the side of some hedge bushes. All of the noise I heard was some chickens. I waited there for quite a while, about an hour. I was a bit scared but was feeling pretty good from the liquor.

Then I saw a car come in and got up. When the automobile came into the garage I walked to the corner. When the sheriff came out and started to the house I seeped out. He heard me and turned around. I did not see him react for a gun. I just shot without speaking. He never spoke either. I saw him stagger and stepped closer. I shot two more times and saw him start to fall. Then I turned around and walked down the driveway."

TWO KILLED ON COASTER AT ST. LOUIS

Man and Girl Hurlled to Death From Amusement Device at Park.

St. Louis, Aug. 13.—(AP)—A 15-year-old girl and a man, 23, were instantly killed in an amusement park here last night when they were thrown from a car on a roller coaster as it made a turn at the top of an incline, 40 feet above ground. Two employees of the device were arrested by the coroner. The girl, Helen Brockmeyer, was thrown to the inside. Her body landing on a lower track while the man was tossed to the outside, his death being caused by a broken neck. The girl's body was severed when the car passed over it on the lower track.

The two employees held were James L. Shacklett, the brakeman, who told police the straps holding the girl and the man were fastened as they left his control point, and Magnard shoemaker, the engineer who erected the device and was in charge of its operation. The coaster was only opened last Saturday. Fastenings were broken when the car was inspected immediately after the tragedy but were loose.

Guy A. Highower, companion of Clark, told police he was seated in front of his friend and as the car went around the curve at the top of the device, he felt the car bump and looked around to see an empty seat.

Postpone Flight Of Zepp Until Thursday Morning

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Dr. Hugo Eckener, after a meeting with his chief officers today decided to postpone the start of the Graf Zeppelin for Tokyo on the second lap of its round the world flight until the early morning hours of Thursday.

Weather reports received during the night indicated a low pressure area over Siberia moving eastward more rapidly than had appeared yesterday afternoon. With a day's delay there was still hope that Dr. Eckener might be able to choose the great circle route west of the Bohemian mountains to Koenigsberg into Russia.

According to Captain Von Schiller, the Russian government is leaving no stone unturned to supply the most adequate weather service possible in view of the rather scant number of stations along the route.

Sixty persons will board the Zeppelin on the Tokyo flight, Captain Von Schiller stated.

Our crew will be only 40 instead of the usual 41 because Ludwig Marx, our oldest mate is not well and cannot risk the journey."

As to stowaways, Captain Von Schiller said that this time the police were assisting the Zeppelin watchers night and day to prevent any one smuggling aboard.

"The police have orders to shoot when they see anybody attempting to steal onto the airship," he declared.

RANKIN FLIES FROM CANADA OVER MEXICO

Flier Prepares to Return to Portland After Completing Non-Stop Trip.

Agua Caliente, Mexico, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Having succeeded in making a non-stop flight down the coast from Canada to Mexico, Tex Rankin, American aviator, groomed his little plane for a take-off here today in the direction of Portland, Oregon, his home.

Rankin completed the southward flight by landing here late yesterday, 13 hours, 7 minutes and 49 seconds after leaving Vancouver, B. C. He covered the 1,350 miles at a pace of better than 100 miles an hour, despite headwinds encountered during the first part of the flight. The plane had an 80 horsepower 4-cylinder motor. It consumed about 75 gallons of gasoline, making about 18 miles to the gallon.

The jovial aviator, brimming with pride over his achievement, acknowledged that he had "traveled light." His "baggage" over which he showed some concern when he landed, consisted of a clean shirt, a pair of trousers, a toothbrush and a razor. It was all wrapped up in a piece of paper to save room and avoid extra weight.

As far as could be learned here, Rankin is the first flier to take off in Canada and land in Mexico on a non-stop flight, although two army aviators, Captain Lowell Smith and 1st Lt. John Paul Richter, flew from border to border in 1923. They started and landed in American territory however, and flew a plane with a 400 horsepower engine. Their plane was refueled twice in the flight.

CHILD BADLY INJURED WHEN HIT BY AUTO

Young Woman, Driver of Car Charged With Assault With Deadly Weapon.

Dangerously injured when run down by an automobile late yesterday afternoon, Charles, 3-year-old son of S. R. Dudley, who resides on the Greenville-Bethel highway, was reported to be getting along as nicely as could be expected today at the local hospital where he was carried immediately after the accident. The child suffered a severe fracture of the skull, and while it was at first thought he had slight chance of recovery, his condition was reported improved this morning.

The automobile was driven by Miss Lillian Murphy, of Zebulon. She was being sought today by local officers on a warrant sworn out by the father of the child, charging assault with a deadly weapon.

The little boy and his sister were crossing the highway in front of the Dudley home when the accident occurred. The car was said by an eye-witness to have been off the pavement on the left hand side of the road when it came in contact with the child's body. The other child escaped unharmed.

As soon as Miss Murphy can be located she will be brought back to Greenville to face preliminary trial.

SEIZURE OF RAW OPIUM IN N. YORK CITY

Federal Agents Seeking Source of $1,000, 000 Worth of Stored Drugs.

New York, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Federal narcotic agents were seeking the source and destination today of a ton of raw opium, which they seized in a downtown warehouse.

The opium, which was valued by its captors at $1,000,000 wholesale, or $1,000,000 bootleg prices, was confiscated after truck drivers directed the agents to the storage place to which they had moved it.

Two men were taken before United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle for questioning in connection with the seizure. One of them whose identity was not disclosed, was released while the other, Moe Albert, of a trucking firm, was held to further questioning.

Agents had been working nine months on the case under the direction of Chief Agent George Cunningham, said they believed the seizure was one of four consignments of equal size which have arrived in the past year. The other lots, they said, had been distributed to the illicit narcotic trade.

The seized opium was in three packing cases each of which weighed between 600 and 800 pounds. The cases were addressed to J. Fisher, which agents said was a fictitious name.

COMPROMISE EXPECTED ON REPARATIONS

Important Proposals Looked For as Next Step in Hague Drama.

The Hague, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Important proposals representing a spirit of compromise by France, Belgium and Italy are expected to comprise the next act in the reparations drama.

The proposals probably will be made today to Philip Snowden, the British chancellor of the exchequer, either by Henri Jaspar, Belgian premier, or by Louis Locheur, the French minister of labor, the former conferring with Mr. Snowden this morning and the latter after he is through.

The nature of the proposals was not disclosed, but they were understood to involve compensation to Great Britain for the sacrifices it would have to make in accepting the Young plan in lieu of guarantees under the Dawes plan and the Spa percentage arrangements for division of reparations. Mr. Snowden's insistence that these sacrifices went beyond anything Great Britain could accept was the bar upon which the conference ship almost wrecked.

The negotiations represent strenuous effort to save the conference from utter stalemate and collapse. In the event of failure the next hope seemed to be in adjourning, as sought by some of the French yesterday, until September. At that time the conference might be resumed in the conciliatory atmosphere of the League of Nations assembly at Geneva, where both Aristide Briand and Ramsay MacDonald, British premier, will be present.

London, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Great Britain would like her troops held from the Rhineland by Christian if possible but well-informed sources in London today believed a new fact or decision had been reached on the question of early evacuation of the Rhineland in London or at the Hague.

The British government's position is described as very simple. It would like to evacuate British troops before the end of the year but preferred evacuation to be the result of a general agreement with France and Belgium.

In general observers were confident that the Hague conference would reach an agreement on the principle of evacuation of an entire area and adoption of the Young plan.

New York, Aug. 10.—(AP)—Henry Ford, as the most prolific producer of automobiles in the world has been asked by Borough President Harvey of Queens, to help solve the problem of disposing of abandoned cars.

Professing to see a situation which will in time tax the resources of the nation for its elimination, Mr. Harvey requested Mr. Ford to lend his automotive genius to abating the nuisance of streets and vacant lots littered with discarded automobiles, many of them Fords.

Explosion Causes Spread of Fire At Primrose Mine

Pottsville, Pa., Aug. 13.—(AP)—With three additional explosions shortly after midnight spreading the flames over an area 250 feet long, a heavily marshaled fire fighting force continued today to battle a fire in the primrose vein of the Sherman Coal company here.

Twenty five miners at work when a series of four explosions started a fire in a gas pocket last night, escaped through the air breath in an intersecting gangway, but four men, members of a rescue party, were severely burned.

Veteran Actor Passes Away

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 13.—(AP)—John Pringle, 67, actor and veteran head of stock companies in New York Chicago, known as the father of John Gilbert, screen star, is dead.

Gilbert refused to recognize Pringle, who was his mother's first husband, as his father, saying his mother had told him he was born of a second marriage to a man named Gilbert.

Pringle, who since his retirement from the stage four years ago, had been employed in firms, clung to his contention that his divorced wife, the screen player's mother, did not reveal the facts of his parentage to young Gilbert. The widow, Mrs. Florence Pringle, also survives.

MISSING TRAPPER FROZEN TO DEATH

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Lost in a blizzard that howled down out of the Arctic on June 21, last, Ivan McKay, Christie Bathurst Inlet trapper, was frozen to death, it was learned today. His faithful dog was found alive by search parties that set out on the trapper's trail after the blizzard had spent its force. SCOTS BLANK GREENIES BY SCORE 7 TO 0

Fayetteville, Aug. 13.—The Fayetteville Highlanders won the fifth straight game by defeating Greenville this afternoon 7 to 0, by landing on Fitzpatrick in the sixth and eighth inning.

Roy Brandon held the visitors to two clean hits and two scratches. He was a trifle wild throughout, and gave way to Durham after walking Clemmons and Cox in the ninth. Jones was retired on strikes and Edmonds hit into a double play, Partridge to Frisbie to Mackie. Every member of the local team played championship ball. The infielders were responsible for 24 of the 27 putouts. Noblock pulled two nice fielding plays for the visitors. Fitzpatrick performed in great style on the mound until the sixth Partridge started the round by hitting the first pitch to left for two bases. Crow walked and Finlator laid down a perfect bunt. Eddie Mackie then batted in two runs with a single over second, and Finlator scored when Young threw the ball in the dugout.

A double and three singles in the eighth drove Fitzpatrick to the bathhouse. Skelton, who relieved him was greeted by a single by Rhinehardt and a sacrifice fly by Frisbie. The box:

Police Order Dogs Confined in City

If you have a dog it would be advisable for you to keep the animal confined hereafter and not permit it to rove aimlessly about main thoroughfares of the city. Chief of Police Preston Pierce stated today that people in the residential districts were complaining about the number of dogs roving about, and requested this condition to be relieved. Owners will first be notified if their dog is caught on the streets but after that time they will be ordered to appear before the Mayor and explain why the dog was not confined. Dogs are a menace to children playing about the residential districts and it is to protect the little chaps that the complaints have been made to the police department it was stated.

It's amazing how sudden-attention from an uplifting or intellectual conversation.

We all know what we should do, but most of us find it so much easier to try to do as we please.

MAC WAS RIGHT

Judging by the present standing of the Greenville baseball club we are almost convinced that Tony McKelvin, sports editor of the News and Observer is somewhat of a prophet. At the time the matter of a split season in the Eastern Carolina league was being discussed, Mac commented that he saw no use in splitting the season, even though you wipe a slate clean and start over, the teams will in a short time, seek their proper levels. At the time Mac made the statement Greenville was at the bottom of the won and lost column. The season was split, we started over, and today we are again at the bottom of the column. Despite the fact that the situation is not to our liking, we must admit that Mac knew his stuff.

ABOUT TOWN

"With the opening of several tobacco factories in Greenville, business conditions ought to begin to improve within the next several days," remarked a well known business man today.

"The factories employ several thousand laborers and the bulk of the payroll will be spent among the Merchants of Greenville and vicinity, greatly relieving the trade shortage and financial stringency experienced during the summer months.

"Business conditions should continue to improve from now on and in the course of a few weeks Greenville will be back to normal again, or as near normal as the sale of millions of pounds of bright leaf tobacco can make it."

"After this long, hot month is over, the weather will begin taking on the tinge of fall, and it will only be a matter of a short time before the key fingers of winter hold us in their grip.

"These constant changes of season of the year give this vicinity the most ideal climate in the world.
It is seldom ever too cold or too hot, both seasons being exceptionally mild compared with other sections of the country where excess is very noticeable many times of the year.
"Greenville people unquestionably will be glad to welcome the fall. It is the season they like, not only for the sake of cooler weather, but for the millions of dollars that pour into the pockets of the farmers and business men from the sale of the golden tobacco crop."

"The clubs experiencing financial difficulty," said a member of the Greenville baseball club today, "and we are calling on the public to attend as many of the home games as possible to help us improve this condition."
"We have hired a new manager in the hope of rejuvenating the club, and fans from now on may expect a brand of ball in keeping with the city which the club represents.

"The new manager will be remembered with interest by representatives of a former generation who saw him catch the mighty Dave Roberson in the days of the old Coast Line League. Those were hectic days, days that gave the nation some of its greatest ball players, and fans who attend the remainder of the games this season will have the opportunity of seeing a product of the first East Carolina league for this section in action.
"Keep in mind the fact that it takes money to run a ball club, and that your attendance helps increase the gate receipts and relieves the club's financial embarrassment."

"A new serial story was started in the columns of the Daily Reflector yesterday," mentioned the circulation manager today, "and if your subscription is about due to be renewed immediately so that you will not miss a single installment of the story."
"This is a tale told by an author during the fall and winter months, will want to keep in touch with it from day to day and thrill with other readers over the many interesting situations brought about from time to time.
"The story is only one of the many interesting features which the Reflector will offer its readers
during the fall and winter months, so see to it that your subscription is paid up in advance and assure yourself of not missing a single issue."

"We like our new location in the Edwards building," said E. F. Arnold, director of the Farm Department, speaking of the change of his department and that of the Home Demonstration office from the third floor of the court house to the building adjoining the court house grounds.
"We have lots more room and are able to dispatch our business with more ease and rapidly than ever before. If we ever get the public fully informed regarding the change, then everything will be all right. As it is, court house officials are forced to answer many questions daily regarding the change of locations, and the people are busy trying to find us. But this will not last long. Soon everybody will know where to find us and then things will run along better than ever."

THAMES GIVES UP BODY OF MISSING ENGLISH SCHOLAR

Windsor, England, Aug. 12.—(AP)—
The body of Hugh McNaghen, vice provost of Eton college and widely known as a classical scholar, was recovered today floating in the Thames near Clewer, after Mc-Naghen had been missing since Saturday.
McNaghen had been staying with his sister in the Etonian Country Club and Saturday went for a stroll after dinner. He last was seen on the club lawn leading down to the river. The body was found 50 yards below the steps of the country club.

TAKE STEPS TO UNITE DISCIPLES AND BAPTISTS

Seattle, Aug. 12.—(AP)—A step toward unification of the Disciples of Christ with the Northern Baptists was taken by the delegates to the International Conference of the former denomination here last night.
The convention adopted the report of its church unity committee recommending immediate steps to combine the educational, evangelistic and missionary work of the two bodies.

QUAKE CAUSES FIGHT

Toronto.—The usual grist of strange experiences followed Monday's quake but top prize goes to the town of Weston. There two boys, twins, had to be separated by family and neighbors when a fist fight resulted from the insistence of each that the other was to blame for repeated shaking of his bed preventing sleep.

Heavy Dating Features Play in Piedmont

(By The Associated Press)
The old batting punch had its day in the Piedmont yesterday.
The Patriots, traveling along at high speed in the lead, disengaged the Twins into submission 16 to 4.
The height of the batting attack came in the sixth, when the Pats broke through a four-four tie for eight runs. Bray went the route for Winston-Salem despite Greensboro's continual slugging.
The second-place Bulls battered their way to a 9:18 decision over High Point, counting the tying and winning markers in the ninth. A three run rally in seventh had pulled them within striking distance.
The nearest thing to a pitching

HORNETS BLANK COLUMBIA 5 TO 0

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 12.—(AP)—The Atlanta Hornets yesterday blanked Columbia 5 to 0 in a heated affair in which fullbacks were narrowly averted to challenge the South Atlantic led held by the Knockout Snakes. Pitcher Brown of the winners, was in great form, holding the comers to the scattered hits.
The Cacon Peaches continued on the downgrade, dropping the series opener to Augusta 3 to 0. The Marquises were wobbly afield and let in all of the runs. Pitcher Knider of the losers held the Wolves to four hits but his efforts counted for naught. Johnny Walker scored his eighteenth win of the season for Knockout, defeating Asheville 7 to 1. Greenville at Spartanburg was winded out.

Death Treasure

by R. A. J. WALLING

SYNOPSIS: Veronica Sea-broke, periously astride her career horse, swept down the road and fell—into the arms of Tom Grenofen, an artist, who had just come to live at Blackwater, a delightful colony in England. It was his first meeting with the vivacious Veronica and her blustering father, who freely voices his dislike for one Roger Pell, another Blackwater resident whom Grenofen does not know. But the next day, Grenofen meets Pell and learns more of the community and especially of Newplace Abbey, its owner, Bertram Fotherbury, and certain archeological treasures reported found beneath the surface of the estate.

Chapter 2 THE MYSTERIOUS PELL

I was destined to meet Veronica again on the afternoon following Pell's visit to Woodcot. With her were Anderson Royle and Martin Somersfield, whom she introduced to me, and insisted I join them in a proposed speed-boat run.
We paddled out to the Fifer, an 18-wheeled craft, composed nearly entirely of cowl and engines. I will not describe that run except to say we covered 65 land miles in an hour.
It was more interesting for me to watch Veronica's glowing blue eyes and golden complexion. But before we landed I learned several things directly and indirectly.
First Bertram and Somersfield were intelligent, likable young fellows; both thought themselves madly in love with Veronica, and she declined to treat them as anything but pals.
That both the young men shared the commander's dislike for Roger Pell, but Veronica was quizzical and would not reveal what she thought of him.
That another person who was disfavored by both men who alluded to him as "the unluckiest cub." I gathered Mr. Fotherbury was as objectionable as his father was charming; that the son had dared to get even on Veronica, an unforgivable sin.
If I have succeeded in giving an impression of Pell as a disturbing influence in Blackwater, I can now pass to the critical events of that summer, which culminated in the tragedy in the library at Newplace.
Before the crucial month ended he was "Pell" to me, and I to him "Grenofen." I think it was Veronically looked far more clerical than Mr. Marling.

"Ah, my dear Pell!" cried Mr.
Fotherbury. "Here is a real find.
And Mr. Grenofen—this will test your skill. How do, Marling?" Pell insisted the sensational discovery should be broadcast. Mr.
Fotherbury urged him to wait, but in the end, a note went to The London Times, supplemented by a communication from the paper's correspondent at Hollar Bay to the effect that Mr. Fotherbury in his excavations had "the expert help of Roger Pell, well-known archeologist."
I cannot quite recall how the suggestion arose that I should then and there do a drawing of the discovery and myself take it to the British Museum. Under pressure, I agreed, and Mr. Fotherbury left us to write the museum people to expect me.
Thus, on the following noon, I arrived there and found myself greeted and berated me to wait until he telephoned Professor Laxton.
Laxton was announced soon thereafter. I had no large acquaintance with the professional tribe but I thought Laxton a remarkably favorable specimen. He was a hard set, vigorous man of middle age, clean-shaven, with a rather sleepy eye but a canacity to come awake in an instant.
Professor Laxton asked me to show him the drawing but after a casual glance, he put it to one side.
"I saw in The Times," he said, "Mr. Fotherbury is being assisted by a Mr. Pell. Have you met him?"
"Yes," I answered. "I've seen quite a lot of him."
"I don't seem to remember the name of Mr. Pell as an expert in archeology," Professor Laxton rejoined. "It's a distinctive name, not likely to be forgotten. What sort of a man is Mr. Pell?"
We talked for nearly an hour. I described Pell and afterward regretted that I mentioned the obvious enmity in Blackwater against the newcomer. Laxton studied me quizzically as I gave him this information.
"Pell—I can't get over Uell," he ruminated as I was departing. "I ought to have heard the name. Mr.
Pell doesn't seem to be very popular in Blackwater, does he? I wonder why."
I was unable to enlighten him, or myself, in this speculation, and took my leave. But I was determined to sound out Pell as soon as possible. I took luncheon and early in the afternoon was in the train bound for home.
Again I found myself unconscious-

COTTON MARKET

New York, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 2 to 6 points on buying which appeared to be based on an unfavorable view of the weather news. According to early reports, there were only showers in the west which were considered inadequate. Some traders thought further showers in the east would stimulate boll weevil damage.

Offerings were light and the market worked up to 12.22 for October and 12.77 for March in the early trading, about 9 to 14 points above yesterday's close. Some traders buying and covering were reported on the advance which was encouraged by the weekly report of a trade authority that the condition of the crop had declined steadily during the past week. Although it was still probable above the average for this date, private cables said they had been continental and Liverpool buyers in the Liverpool market.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Evidence of the European demand for wheat from North America brought about a sharp rise in wheat prices today but heavy profit taking caused a reaction. Renewal of advance wheat from Australia and Argentina was an outstanding feature.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Aug. 13.—(AP)—Led by U. S. Steel common, which soared more than 10 points to another new high record at 239 7/8. The stock market shook off its early irregularity today and pressed forward the accompaniment of a series of bullish demonstrations in the public utility, investment railroad, electrical equipment and aviation shares. LaCrosse Gas, which broke 69 points last week, rallied 40 points and scores of others were run up 1 to 10 points.

The spectacular rise in steel revived rumors of a stock split up and higher cash dividends but such action was not generally expected until the end of the year. Members of the Finance Committee meet this afternoon and the regular monthly meeting of directors will be held on the 27th. But the corporation officers reported that "only routine business" is scheduled for consideration. Steel broke to 213 1/2 in last Friday's break. The floating supply in the hands of brokers at the end of July was about 25 per cent of the total shares outstanding.

Copper stocks followed in its wake, Bethlehem and Crucible moving up 1 1/2 and 3 points to new high records at 128 1/2 and 112 7/8, respectively. High current earnings, coupled with a continuation of unusually heavy summer output, have encouraged buying of this group.

The credit situation showed signs of easing today despite the bullish activity of the last three sessions. Call money renewed unchanged at 8 per cent but was quoted at 7 per cent in the outside market in the early afternoon. Bankers report that the Federal Reserve system has placed substantial sums on the credit market by the purchase of bills at the reduced buying rate announced last week.

General electric dropped 5 points in the early trading to 374 1/2 and then shot up. A. Wm. Simmons Co. ran up 7 points to a new high at 125 and A. M. Myers, Frank G. Shillock, Warren Bro. United Aircraft, Wright Aeronautical, Amer. Can power and Light, Westinghouse Electric, Montgomery-Ward, American Machine and Foundry and Calhoun Safety Razor sold 4 to 7 points higher, the last two reaching new high ground.

Boston and Maine assumed the leadership of the rail group by soaring 10 points. Chesapeake and OHIO RAN UP 6 1-2, NEW YORK CENTRAL 4 AND SEVERAL OTHERS 2 TO 3 POINTS.

The day's business news was mixed. The American Woolen Company reported a deficit of nearly $2,500,000 in the first six months as against a loss of $894,700 in the corresponding period a flat year. Reports were favorable. Private dispatches from Tulsa indicated a record breaking production of crude oil last week.

Election of nine additional directors of the Occidental Life Insurance Company, all of them leading business men in North Carolina, was announced yesterday by Lawrence F. Lee, president of the insurance company which moved its headquarters from Albuquerque, New Mexico, to Raleigh in 1926.

The additional directors were elected at a special meeting of the stockholders in the company's offices here yesterday morning.

The new directors are: Judge Junius G. Adams of Asheville, president of the National Bank of Commerce of Asheville and a prominent attorney of that city.

T. L. Bland, of Raleigh, president of the Griffin-Bland Hotel Company.

E. G. Flanagan, Greenville president of the John Flanagan Buggy Co., and director of many banks throughout the State.

Felix Harvey, Kinston, president of L. Harvey and Son, and also a prominent director in many banks.

R. L. Huffines, Rocky Mount, cotton mill operator and connected with many banks in Eastern Carolina.

Frank Page, Raleigh, former chairman of the State Highway Commission and now vice-president of the Wachovia Bank and Trust Company.

Reuben B. Robertson, Canton, president of the Champion Fibre Co.

W. S. Ryland, Raleigh, president of the Citizens National Bank and closely connected with former Gov. A. W. McLean in the formation of the new North Carolina Bank and Trust Company.

P. H. Williams, Elizabeth City, vice-chairman of the Advisory Budget Commission, and president of the Savings Bank and Trust Company of Elizabeth City.

The directors of the company before the addition of these nine were: J. E. Cox, Albuquerque, N. M., banker; L. C. Cartwright, Raleigh, vice president; Laurence F. Lee, Raleigh, president; Mrs. Florence O. McMillen, Albuquerque and W. L. Noneman, Raleigh, secretary.

Since moving to Raleigh from New Mexico the company has taken an active part in civic affairs of both the city and state.

Apologizes For His Absence At Union Services

To the Christian people of Greenville who attend summer union services, I beg the privilege of an humble apology for my absence from the services on Sunday evening last.

The truth is, these arrangements were made at our pastors' conference of July 1st, and somehow I have harbored the impression that I was to preach on the Third Sunday night. So on last Sunday evening I was in Hyde county, at Englehard, preaching my best to the saints and the sinners of that far eastern clime.

I am sorry to have missed the union services this summer, but the conditions have been such that it has been absolutely impossible for me to be present. And I was very fully embarrassed and truly sorry when upon my return to the city on Monday, I found that my absence had caused an interruption of the splendid summer services. I beg you most humbly to forgive me.

Most gratefully yours,
