GUN TOTERS PUNISHED IN COURT HERE

Three Liquor Cases Also Disposed of in Session of County Court Yesterday.

Carrying concealed weapons may not be a serious matter to the ordinary run of people but up in County court where justice is meted out once every week it constitutes a serious offense.

Two defendants appeared before Judge Whedbee yesterday charged with crimes of this kind, and they were immediately told that they might go out to the county roads and spend six months each. Both were colored. They were Charlie Moore and John Cradle, Pitt county negroes, who had probably never realized what the totting of concealed weapons meant until they appeared before Judge Whedbee.

After spending all day Tuesday and a part of Wednesday in the disposition of one of the most congested dockets in week, court continued its grind yesterday with the result that most of the cases to date were finally cleared from the docket. Unlike the session Tuesday when not a single violation of the prohibition laws came up for consideration, the hearing yesterday was marked by the filing of three or more defendants appearing on charges of this nature.

The most important of these cases was that of Jost Taylor, white man of the Falkland community, charged with manufacturing liquor. He was fined $250 and cost. Louis Wilson, appearing in the same case, paid a fine of $150 and costs. The two men were captured in a raid of their still by county officers last week and were brought to Greenville and placed in jail to await trial. Most people may not think anything about making a little wine from time to time, but the law says it can't be done, and accordingly Earnes Newborn, negro of the Ayden community, was arrested by county officers the other day and arraigned in county court yesterday to answer to the charge. He was released on payment of $50 and cost of action.

J. W. Little, appearing on worthless check charges, was released upon payment of cost with the understanding that he should settle the checks involved in the case. Aleck Battle, colored, charged with possessing liquor, paid a fine of $50 and cost. It was brought out that Aleck only had a quart of the fiery beverage for his own consumption, but that was more than the law allows any law-abiding citizen to have, and consequently the defendant paid just like the rest convicted on similar charges. Shade Ellison and Aaron Garris, colored, mutual assault; paid a fine of $10 and cost each.

Lindbergh Does Some Speeding on Auto Race Track

Detroit, Aug. 16.—(AP)—For a man who crossed the Atlantic in a day and a half, 112 miles an hour is not so fast, but Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh did that on a Detroit automobile company proving ground track yesterday and after a half hour of skidding around the concrete oval in an 8 cylinder car could not be persuaded to stop.

The flying colonel averaged 106 miles over a 2 1/2 mile track with banked curves but hoisted his speed to 112 miles an hour on the stretches.

Several Held For Violating Safety Device Ordinance

New Orleans, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Herbert B. Flowers, president of the New Orleans Public Service, Inc., and 27 motormen were charged in Recorder's court here today with violating the city ordinance regulating safety devices for street cars. Affidavits were filed as the aftermath of the death of a three year old child under a street car and investigation by city authorities reported that safety devices on the street cars had been wired up. All the accused were released under bonds of $250 each to be arraigned within the next few days.

JOYNERS ALL SET FOR BIG LEAF OPENING

Large Warehouse Building Has Every Convenience For Patrons.

The new Joyner Tobacco Warehouse, located between Pitt and Green streets, is now ready for the 1929 season.

This warehouse contains 56,000 square feet of floor space. The building is steel, brick and concrete. The house is modern in every way, with a large basement to care for the teams, with camp and rest rooms for men or main floor.

The warehouse was built by R. E. Harris, one of Greenville's business men and one of the largest farmers of the county. The house is operated by O. L. Joyner and Sons, who are veterans on the Greenville Tobacco Market. Mr. O. L. Joyner, Sr., is one of the pioneer warehousemen of Eastern North Carolina. He was a large factor in establishment of the Greenville tobacco market, and from the opening of the first warehouse here has taken an active interest in development of the industry.

He is assisted in the operation of the new warehouse by his son, O. L. Joyner, Jr., and Will Moore who has nine years service in both the leaf and warehouse end of the tobacco business.

The Greenville tobacco market last year sold over 71,000,000 pounds of tobacco for the farmers of Eastern North Carolina for about $15,000,000.

Preparations are being made to handle from seventy to seventy-five million pounds of tobacco on the local market this season.

Much Interest Displayed In Coming Campaign To Raise Advertising Funds

"Don't forget the campaign for raising the annual advertising fund for the city of Greenville to be staged next Tuesday," members of the Greenville Merchants Association said today.

"This will be one of the most intensive drives of the kind ever waged in the city before and we hope to have the entire sum of $3,500 subscribed before the day comes to a close.

While the city only asked for $2,500 last year, the increased amount asked for this year has resulted from the splendid strides which the town has taken in a business way. Everybody knows the healthy growth which the community has enjoyed the last several months, and that this would not have been possible without the intelligent advertising program made possible through the annual solicitation of funds from business interests.

Fourteen members of the Merchants Association will take part in the campaign to solicit funds. They will be directed by four captains assigned for service in various sections of the city.

The committees are composed of the following well known business men: Herbert Waldrop, captain, H. H. Duncan and Roy Kittrell, assistants; C. Heber Forbes, captain; Francis Bowen and Dock Horne, assistants; C. Heber Forbes, captain;

U. S. MARSHAL HELD IN JAIL FOR SHOOTING

Deputy Arrested For Shooting Storekeeper in Raid Near West Point.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 16.—(AP)—C. G. Collins a deputy United States marshal was arrested today and lodged in jail at West Point on charges of shooting with intent to kill Petr Miller, of Sweet Hill, brought to a hospital here last night with a bullet wound in his abdomen. Miller's condition was said to be serious.

Miller told detective Sergeants R. B. Sterling and L. C. Haake, the officers said that two men came to his home in King William county where he operates a store, saying they were thirsty and wanted a soft drink. He said the men told him they were insurance agents. One he said asked for a drink of water and he allowed him to enter to get it.

Later, thinking the officers might disturb his wife, police quoted Miller as saying, Miller attempted to stop them.

Miller was quoted by police as saying one of the officers attempted to put handcuffs on him, and that he resisted one of them fired three times.

United States deputy marshal W. B. Wilshire, who was not with the two men said the officers had a warrant to arrest Miller for violation of the prohibition law.

Collins was accompanied by federal prohibition agent S. H. Easter an under cover man and raid rader, Capt. R. O. Merrick federal prohibition director for Virginia, N. C. and S. C., said today. He said Easter had made a full report to him in which he told of keeping the father and brother of Miller away from Collins while he subdued the prisoner. Easter quoted Miller as saying "you'll have to kill me before I will go" when Collins placed him under arrest.

WAR VETS WILL WITNESS WEDDING AT ENCTMENT

St. Paul, Aug. 16.—(AP)—A remembrance of the Veterans of Foreign Wars activities will culminate in the wedding of Kettle Mulhall of Chicago and Charles V. Nolan of Clifton, N.Y., during the annual convention August 25-30.

The ceremony will be read before the delegates. The couple met when Miss Mulhall was sponsoring programs for world war wounded at Fort Sheridan, Ill. hospital, where Nolan, back from France, was a patient.

WHOOPIING COUGH LEADS DISEASES

Raleigh, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Whooping cough led the state in contagious diseases last week when 294 new cases were reported with diphtheria second with 51 cases. Forty four cases of typhoid fever were reported, 37 cases of scarlet fever, seven cases of smallpox and one case of measles. A year ago this week last week only 47 new cases of whooping cough were reported.

Considering the prize list, and the existing opportunity, there surely are many people who have that spark of business judgment, that ambition to better oneself financially to get in this list now. Show a little action and make more money in your spare moments than most people make in a year and some in two years.

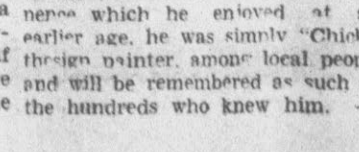

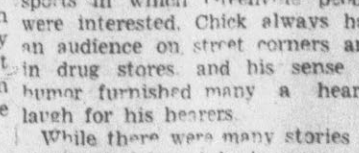

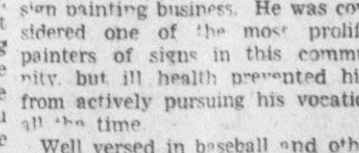

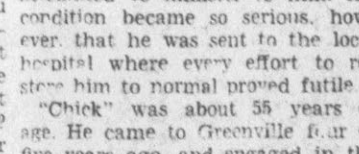

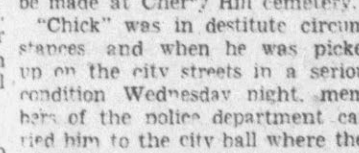

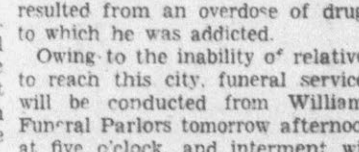

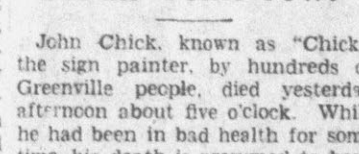

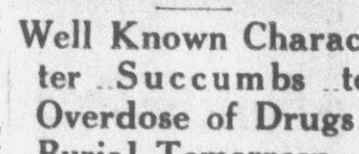

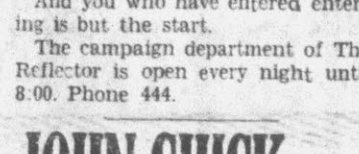

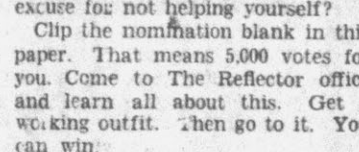

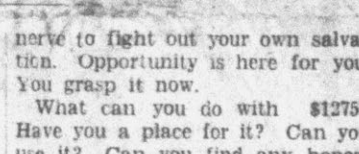

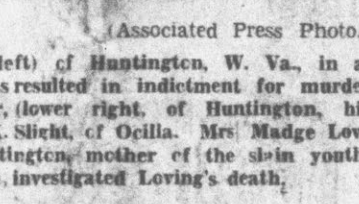

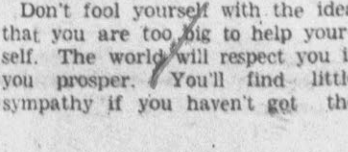

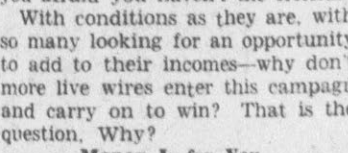

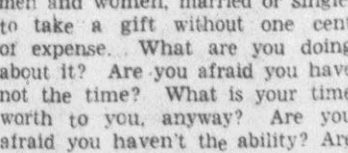

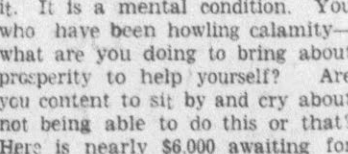

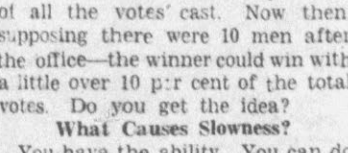

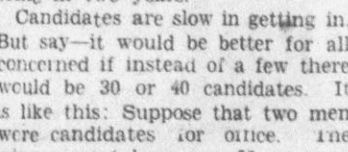

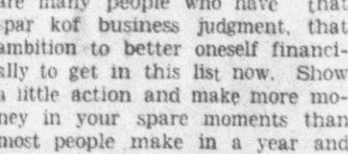

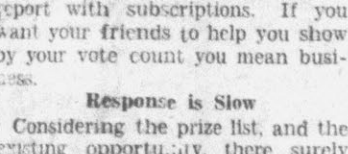

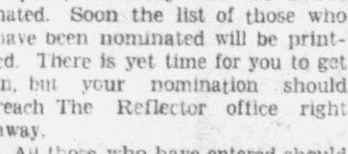

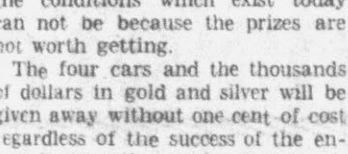

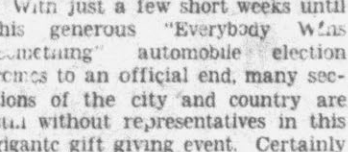

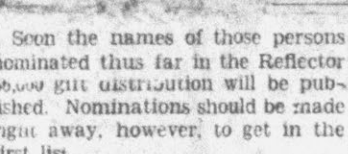

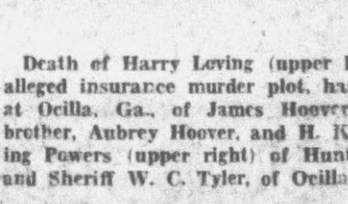

Candidates are slow in getting in. But say—it would be better for all concerned if instead of a few there would be 30 or 40 candidates. It is like this: Suppose that two men were candidates for office. The winner must have over 50 per cent of all the votes cast. Now then, supposing there were 10 men entering the office—the winner could win with a little over 10 per cent of the total votes. Do you get the idea?

What Causes Slowness? You have the ability. You can do it. It is a mental condition. You who have been howling calamity—what are you doing to bring about prosperity to help yourself? Are you content to sit by and cry about not being able to do this or that? Here is nearly $6,000 awaiting for men and women, married or single, to take a gift without one cent of expense. What are you doing about it? Are you afraid you have not the time? What is your time worth to you, anyway? Are you afraid you haven't the ability? Are you afraid you haven't the friends?

With conditions as they are, with so many looking for an opportunity to add to their incomes—why don't more live wires enter this campaign and carry on to win? That is the question, Why?

Money Is For You. Don't fool yourself with the idea that you are too big to help yourself. The world will respect you if you prosper. You'll find little sympathy if you haven't got the

PRINCIPALS IN MURDER PLOT PROBE

Death of Harry Loving (upper left) of Huntington, W. Va., in alleged insurance murder plot, has resulted in indictment for murder at Ocella, Ga., of James Hoover, (lower right) of Huntington, his brother, Aubrey Hoover, and H. K. Slicht, of Ocella. Mrs. Madge Loving Powers (upper right) of Huntington, mother of the slain youth, and Sheriff W. C. Tyler, of Ocella, investigated Loving's death.

Only Short Time Left For Entries In Prize Contest

Soon the names of those persons nominated thus far in the Reflectors prize contest will be published. Nominations should be made right away, however, to get in the first list.

With just a few short weeks until this generous "Everybody Wins Something" automobile election comes to an official end, many sections of the city and county are still without representatives in this gigantic gift giving event. Certainly the conditions which exist today can not be because the prizes are not worth getting.

The four cars and the thousands of dollars in gold and silver will be given away without one cent of cost regardless of the success of the enterprise, to those who are nominated. Soon the list of those who have been nominated will be printed. There is yet time for you to get in, but your nomination should reach The Reflector office right away.

All those who have entered should report with subscriptions. If you want your friends to help you show by your vote count you mean business.

Response is Slow. Considering the prize list, and the existing opportunity, there surely are many people who have that spark of business judgment, that ambition to better oneself financially to get in this list now. Show a little action and make more money in your spare moments than most people make in a year and some in two years.

nerve to fight out your own salvation. Opportunity is here for you. You grasp it now.

What can you do with $1275? Have you a place for it? Can you use it? Can you find any honest excuse for not helping yourself? Clip the nomination blank in this paper. That means 5,000 votes for you. Come to The Reflector office and learn all about this. Get a working outfit. Then go to it. You can win.

And you who have entered entering is but the start. The campaign department of The Reflector is open every night until 8:00. Phone 444.

China Gives Notice Of Offensive By Russians; Will Resist Invasion

London, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Ruter dispatches from Nanking state that the Nationalist government has instructed the Chinese minister at Washington to notify the Kellogg pact signatories that Russia has begun an offensive along the Manchurian border.

The Nationalist government at the same time instructed the minister to state that China, while resisting invasion would abide by the renunciation of war pact and still hoped to arrive at a settlement of the Chinese Eastern Railway controversy by peaceful means.

The Chinese action was said to have been taken after Nanking had received reports confirming previous dispatches that Russia had invaded Chinese territory.

Ruter dispatches quoted Foreign Minister Wang, as denying there was an disagreement between the Nanking government and Mukden and stating that Chang Hseuh-wang, governor of Manchuria, was following the instructions of the Nationalist government.

"The Russian associate managers of the Chinese Eastern Railway cannot be reinstated before the opening of negotiations. China's only course is for the entire nation to unite in resistance to Red imperialism else it will perish in the grip of Communism."

Holly carpenter died in a hospital here today from injuries received Monday when an automobile in which he was riding overturned several times on the Concord-Moore highway. L. J. Edwards, homestead and F. B. Bolin, Mt. Holly, hurt in the same accident, are improving though not yet out of danger.

FAIL TO FIND CASH AND TAKE CASH REGISTER

Robbers introduce new trick of store breaking in the Stokes Community. Failing to find money these days and times, robbers operating in Stokes county have made it a point of carrying off cash registers in order to assure themselves that they have the nearest thing to money possible.

At least, that's the way it happened in Stokes the other night. Robbers entered Whitchard's store, rifled the cash register to the amount of 76 dollars and a silver quarter of a dollar, and not being satisfied, walked off with the register valued at $250.

It may have been that the robbers needed a cash register with which to conduct their own business, but this fact has not been established as officers haven't been able to induce them to come within striking distance.

At any rate, officers of the Stokes community are keeping a vigilant watch hoping to bring the culprits to justice. Members of the sheriff's office are also on the lookout and people of the Stokes section are awaiting developments with interest entertaining the hope that arrest may be made in the near future so they may know what disposition has been made of the cash register, and especially, if robbers are really using money boxes in the conduct of their business.

Negro Held In Automobile Wreck

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 16.—(AP)—James Williams, Will Mebane, Ira Culbertson and Lizzie Barrett, negroes, were held in city jail here today on charges of injuring four persons in an automobile accident here last night.

The persons injured were Mrs. W. E. Watkins, Carroll Watkins, Miss Mabel Watkins and Miss Margaret Watkins. They were taken to a hospital.

The negroes are alleged to have refused to stop after the accident. They were arrested in Monroe.

Man Confesses Killing Girl

Duluth, Minn., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Oscar Olson, 29, a Duluth dock worker, confessed today, police said, to slaying Dorothy Aune in Minneapolis last Tuesday. Chief of Detectives R. E. Donaldson, however, expressed doubt concerning the man's story.

Local Tobacco Reports To Be Broadcasted at Raleigh

K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales of the Greenville tobacco market, has returned from Raleigh where he completed a contract for the broadcasting of local tobacco sales from Station WPTF while the coming season is in progress.

The contract was made through John G. Allen, manager of J. S. Buche and Co., Raleigh brokers, who have charge of the broadcasting of market reports from the Raleigh station. The Greenville reports will probably be broadcasted daily, the first at 1:10 and the other at 5:30 each afternoon.

This is one of the most forward steps the market has taken in past years to keep its patrons informed of the price situation and it is expected to be instrumental in furnishing thousands of farmers with first hand information regarding market activities.

ACQUIRE LAND FOR NATIONAL PARK IN N. C.

Park Commission Says 57,708 Acres Bought for Smoky Mountain Park.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 16.—(AP)—A total of 57,708 acres of land has been acquired by the North Carolina Park Commission for the great Smoky Mountains National Park, the commission announced today at a meeting in the executive offices in Asheville. The acreage included 163 tracts and its valuation is $57,118,46.

Attending the Park Commission meeting were Lieut.-Gov. Richard T. Fountain, of Rocky Mount; Mark Squires, Lenoir, Chairman of the commission; Dr. E. G. Brooks, Raleigh, secretary; D. M. Buck, Bald Mountain; Plato D. Edus, Asheville; J. A. Hardison, Wadesboro; and Harry L. Nettles, Asheville. Attorney General Dennis R. Brumitt, Judge L. R. Vatsar, of Lumberton, one of the commission's attorneys; and Col. Dave C. Chapman, chairman of the Tennessee Commission, and Judge Aust, attorney for the Tennessee Park Commission, met with the North Carolina Park Commission.

Vernie Rhoades, executive secretary of the North Carolina Commission reported the acquisition of forty-one tracts of land during the past month. The tracts had a total acreage of 3,285 1/2, a valuation of $41,542," he announced. Virtually all of them were firm tracts in Swain and Haywood counties. It was announced.

The acreage acquired by the commission for park purposes represents about one-fourth of the 214,000 acres North Carolina must acquire for the park. Tennessee is to acquire a like amount. As soon as the first 150,000 acres of the park territory have been acquired, titles cleared, this land will be turned over the government for administration and protection. It is expected that the first area will be turned over in a few weeks.

GIANT ZEPPEL HEADED FOR URALS TODAY

More than 36 hours out of Friedrichshafen, the world gridding Graf Zeppelin was speeding today toward the Siberian tundras apparently on a somewhat northerly course in an effort to avoid unfavorable winds.

The huge air liner, carrying 29 passengers, was reported north of Perm near the Urals, at 7:00 a. m. (E. S. T.) when she radioed that all was well on board.

She was heading in a northeasterly direction which would carry her over the northern Urals into Siberia rather than across the middle region which had been planned.

The zeppelin was making excellent time. When north of Perm she had covered approximately 2,900 miles or her 7,660 mile journey at an average of slightly more than 60 miles an hour.

Reports of the air liner, so frequent yesterday during her passage over Europe, became meagre today. As the ship steadily drew nearer the vast tundras of Siberia, the living south of the Arctic circle it was expected that only occasional wireless reports would be picked up and that reports of actual sightings would become infrequent.

Legal Flaw in Divorce Decree Gives Life Convict New Chance

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 16.—(AP)—Fate turned a flip-flop for Robert R. Garrett, convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment for a brutal slaying in the rugged Nebraska sandhills region.

Through a quirk of fate in a 25-year-old divorce suit his sentence has been lifted by a one-day margin and he has a good chance to win freedom.

Garrett, a divorced and presumably divorced wife convicted him with her testimony. She was the only witness of the killing of William Kinsley, the ranchman for whom she was acting as housekeeper.

The packed courtroom was tense as she took the witness stand and told her dramatic story, accusing Garrett.

She told how Kinsley was shot down as he passed the living room window at the ranch—the roar of the gun—his fall. Then she ran to the window, peered out and saw a figure crouching in the gloom, smoking a pipe in hand. The figure was Garrett, she testified.

Leveling the gun at her he took her many miles into the country before releasing her, she said. Garrett denied that story, denied the slaying and as the trial progressed produced an alibi for her. He was many miles from the scene of the slaying. But the jury believed the woman.

Just as he had been accustomed to his prison life, after two years, the Supreme Court sustained his appeal and sent the case back.

Nebraska laws require that a wife must wait six months after asking a divorce before the writ can be granted. She had desired to promote reconciliations. Mrs. Garrett's writ had been obtained one day before the six months expired and at the time of the slaying and the trial she was still his wife, and therefore could not testify against him.

Now it is the state's turn to see localness and technicalities in the law. In the meantime Garrett is in a local prison, awaiting retrial.

The law, the supreme court ruled is constitutional, and when Garrett comes back this time the state's chief witness—his wife—cannot point to him in a prosecution.

Infantile Paralysis Receives Attention

There has recently occurred several cases of infantile paralysis in different sections of North Carolina. Naturally the people in the sections affected have become concerned more than usual about the situation. It may be that there are more cases than are usually reported from this disease, but it may be said that every summer there occur some cases about over the state. In some sections of the country for the past two or three years outbreaks of the disease have been more severe than usual. There is probably more concern about the situation in this state at present than has been since 1925.

It is well that the people of North Carolina should become informed about this disease. Strictly speaking, it should not be called infantile paralysis, because it is not confined entirely to infants, and another reason is that it occurs often without any indications of paralysis. The technical name of the disease is poliomyelitis, but as this is a very long and hard name to pronounce, infantile paralysis being understood, still serves better. Very little is known about the disease, particularly as to the infectious agent causing it and the methods by which it is spread. The one thing that we do understand about the disease is that it seems to be confined for the most part to the hot summer months, disappearing in the early fall, after the first few weeks of cold weather.

The intelligent and watchful parent may best guard against the various after-effects of this disease by exercising the usual precaution of taking immediate action when even a child in the family becomes ill. When a baby or young child gets sick and the temperature goes up and the parents can not satisfy themselves as to the cause or nature of the trouble, and if the child remains sick more than a very few hours, the only advisable course is to send for the family physician and let him make a careful examination and institute proper measures for safeguarding the health of the other members of the family, as well as caring for the sick child.

The onset of this disease may be sudden, or it may be insidious. The child may get sick, be apparently bad off, and in a few hours, apparently get better. The doctors call this a remission of symptoms. There may be an interval of several days following the first stage, when the child will get very sick again, and the next time there can be no mistake. For the foregoing reasons it is advisable for parents to consult the family doctor right in the beginning of any illness of children which cannot be accounted for satisfactorily. There is fever and digestive disturbances, such as vomiting with diarrhoea, sometimes constipation, sometimes sore throat, or symptoms resembling influenza are present. The child is generally listless and tired. With a child old enough he may complain of headache. If the thing goes on long, there is restlessness and irritability and so on. Other diseases have these symptoms, and it is for the doctor to decide.

The purpose of this article is to advise the parent to take no chances with a sick child, but let the doctor decide whether or not it is contagious disease, and if the child shall apparently have infantile paralysis, it should be so isolated from the other children and careful technical treatment instituted which will prevent as far as possible the terrible paralysis, with subsequent deformities, if not actual death, which so often takes place. There should be no manipulation of the limbs whatever except the kind of manipulation advised by orthopedic experts and carried out by trained nurses.

The time for effective treatment is right in the beginning of the attack, and the best method of prevention is the same which applies to so many other contagious diseases, and that is keeping very young children away from crowds or gatherings of any kind, especially when infectious diseases are known to be present in the community.

Fire losses in the state during July dropped to almost half what they were July of last year, which is an indication that our people as a whole are realizing the real value of practicing fire prevention. We again congratulate our neighboring city Farmville, for being on the honor roll of cities in the state reporting no fires during the month. The number of times that Farmville has appeared on this honor roll recently speaks well for its people.

MONEY IN HOGS AND CHICKENS

That some Pitt County farmers are coming more and more to the realization that successful farming means more than just depending on the two principal money crops, cotton and tobacco, is clearly set forth in recent reports of the Department of Agriculture which show that annual poultry shipments from this county have increased from 11,000 pounds in 1925 to 125,550 in the present year, netting the farmers this year over $30,000. Another $28,000 was received by the farmers from hog shipments, making a total of $58,000 received by local farmers in addition to what they will receive for their cotton and tobacco crops. It goes without saying that the farmers who have shared in this hog and poultry money have not found financial conditions as hard as those farmers who had nothing to sell during the time they have been waiting for the tobacco markets to open. If more of our farmers would give some of their attention to the raising of some hogs and chickens for market and add a cow or two to their stock for production of a milk supply for the family and sell any surplus, they would soon find that their incomes from these sources would prove sufficient to keep them out of the financial strain that they now find themselves in every year between marketing seasons. A real cow, hog and hen program on every farm in Pitt county would mean prosperity for the entire community.

OUR TREES

Naturally our city must be progressive and we must continue to expand our utilities, but when we glance about us and note how rapidly our shade trees are diminishing it sets us wondering what our city is going to look like a few years hence. Just a few years ago we realized in this city the need of a gas system, with the result that a plant was put in and the gas turned on. Immediately the leaking gas mains destroyed a large number of our trees and they were cut down and carted away to the wood piles. Of course the gas company set about immediately to repair the leaking mains but the damage to the trees was beyond repair and no effort has been made to replace the large number of trees destroyed. From time to time it becomes necessary to add to our electric system and our telephone system, with the result that where tree limbs interfere with the passage of the lines or cables the trees are hewed away. In addition to all this, we occasionally lose a tree as result of decay or from storms, and we are fast reaching the stage of being without shade trees.

What we would like to see during the coming fall is an organized movement here to replace our lost trees. There are in our surrounding woodlands young trees suitable for transplanting, and in most instances the owners would be glad to donate these trees for use in our city. Properly transplanted the majority of these trees would live and grow and in a few years would add greatly to the appearance and comfort of our city.

ABOUT TOWN

"It certainly does pay to advertise in the Reflector," declared a well known citizen today. "The other day I lost a certain sum of money. I never expected to hear from it again. The matter was casually mentioned through the columns of the Reflector and next day an honest man returned the money to me. He had found it within a few feet of my automobile, but did not know to whom it belonged until my name was mentioned in the Reflector. "I have always known that it paid to advertise, but I had no idea such quick results could be obtained through the columns of a newspaper until I tried the Reflector."

"While factory whistles blowing during the morning hours may disturb some people, they sound good to me," declared a business man today, commenting on the renewal of activity in tobacco town. "These whistles mean that thousands of laborers who have been without work during the summer months have found employment and in a few days will be paying out considerable sums of money among the business houses of the city. It is impossible to estimate off hand how much the factories cut loose among these employees, but it is safe to say that it totals an enormous sum each pay day. "The majority of Greenville people are always glad to see the tobacco market begin business, because it brings about a general improvement in the financial situation and causes everybody to get a more rosy hue of life. It's a pity we haven't something to sell all the year around for then there would be no lean times and the faces of the hard-pressed business men would be wreathed in smiles most all the time."

"It is gratifying to note that plans of the library commission met with the approval of Mr. Harper D. Sheppard, of Hanover, Pa., donor of $50,000 for the new library to be erected as a memorial to his father. "This means that the commission will take immediate steps for erection of the building which will give this city more than usual prominence among the leading towns and cities in this part of the country. Greenville people are proud of Mr. Sheppard and the splendid donation that has made the library possible, and he may rest assured we shall always feel deeply indebted to him for the generosity that has made the building possible. "Money given to a cause that kind always brings its reward and we have not the slightest idea in the world but that Mr. Sheppard will be rewarded a thousand fold for a gift that means so much in the improvement of the people among whom his parents were reared. It is a fitting memorial to his father, a monument that will perpetuate the name of the benefactor until Greenville has become one of the mighty centers of commerce and industry of this great nation of ours."

"Don't forget the canvass to be made for the advertising fund for the city of Greenville next Tuesday," said a member of the Greenville Merchants Association today. "This city is asking for $3,500 this year which will make its advertising campaign possible. We

Death Treasure

By R. A. J. WALLING

SYNOPSIS: Roger Pell, man of mystery, is thoroughly disliked by the men of Blackwater and bitterly hated by the parson, Marling. Veronica Seabroke's eyes are blue eyes. Tom Grenofen among their victims and when she becomes entangled in the Pell enigma, Grenofen, too, is deeply concerned. An expert archeologist, Professor Laxton, denounces as a fraud the alleged Roman remains found beneath Newplace Abbey-the treasures which attracted Pell to Blackwater. Laxton and Grenofen hide in the abbey at midnight and observe a furtive digger in the excavations. Suddenly they discover that someone else is watching the uncanny scene. Darkness hides him as he flees but the wish of a skirt betrays his identity-Marling, who always wears a cassock.

Chapter 5 PELL FLITS BACK Although one o'clock had passed before we got back to Woodcut, Laxton was up bright and early Monday morning, and greatly pleased my mother by finding her in the garden and loving her roses. They had become excellent friends by the time I strolled down to breakfast. "I want to go down this morning and see the diggings," Laxton announced later. "Don't worry about coming with me. I'd still like to be anonymous till we meet this afternoon."

About 11 o'clock the idea occurred to me that I would look up Veronica. She might have something to say this morning at Sandpoint, however. I saw only Mrs. Seabroke, who told me Veronica had returned unexpectedly last night, being tempted home by the curfew bell.

Pell suddenly turned on his enemies, steel-gray eyes glaring defiance. fine weather. At present she had taken the dog for a run around the park; if I was walking that way I might meet her.

I walked on around the point where the road became a path along the low cliffs facing the Channel. I saw Veronica at some distance and pulled up sharp. The stud talking to a man. I had just time to notice that he was too tall to be either Royle or Somerfield. In a moment he had seen me stopped and disappeared. Veronica saw me and walked not towards me, but away.

I turned back on my tracks. The hint was so obvious. It was not Pell. Perhaps Veronica had not recognized me. Well, that was that. Shortly before the appointed hour of Fotherbury's meeting I walked into the avenue where that fantastic scene had been played the night before. Directed by a footman, I went to the beautiful house which the sixteenth century Redlads had spread around one of the old buildings.

At the entrance another footman met me and took me at once along a vaulted corridor to the room: Fotherbury used as a library. The light here was dim to eyes coming from the sunshine outside, for the only windows, small, high in the walls and almost at the roof, were filled with painted glass. I made out four persons in the room-Marling, Dr. Eastley, Royle and Somerfield.

Marling looked up and nodded. The two boys said in low tones, "How do, Grenofen?" I sat down opposite Royle. Marling's face absorbed me. He was paler than usual. His black tansure stood out almost fiercely against the pallor of his skin. His eyes seemed to avoid me. He sat motionless on an old black chest on the right of the fireplace, with Eastley on a chair facing him.

In other circumstances I should have enjoyed the beauty of this remarkable room-the rich shadows in the wagon roof, the gleam of the leather bindings of the books arrayed in shelves all around the lower half of the walls. It was all quiet, mysterious; the one modern touch was supplied by a wall telephone at the side of the hearth.

But the human interest of the occasion put esthetics out of mind, and almost at once the interest was intensified by the entrance of Seabroke. He came in noisily enough calling out to Marling: "What's it all about? Why ain't we on the ground?"

"I know nothing," said Marling, "except that Mr. Fotherbury wishes us to meet here." The commander made an inarticulate noise registering disapproval. "I suppose," said he, "Fotherbury

THINK BOXING COMMISSIONER OUT FOR GOOD

Satus of Paul Pehn Brings About Doubt In Minds of State Officials.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 16.—(AP).—Status of Paul Pehn, president of the national boxing commission, has brought about a question of doubt among the affiliated bodies of that organization, as a result of the recent ousting of the Illinois Boxing Commission by Governor Emmerson, Joe Q. Taylor, fourth vice-president of the N. B. A. States here today.

Mr. Taylor, who also is chairman of boxing commission, and president of the North Carolina Association of Boxing Commissions, said that a "precedent would be set" if Mr. Pehn were allowed to hold office in the national body, as officials never have been other than members of recognized boxing bodies in the territory they represent.

"The usual procedure in the case of a retiring president" said Mr. Taylor, "and Mr. Pehn automatically goes out of office next month, when the annual meeting is held in Chicago, is to place him on a national committee. But, in view of the fact that Mr. Pehn no longer is a member of a recognized commission, I don't know whether he will continue to take an active part in the affairs of the body. My opinion is that he will fade out of the picture."

Regardless of the status of the was confident the National Boxing Association would continue to function. He believes that the officers will merely move up one place.

Should this be the case, Mr. Taylor pointed out, that Stanley Isaacs, first vice president of the association would ascend to the presidency. Mr. Isaacs, who is from Cincinnati, represents the Cincinnati boxing commission of the national body.

Mr. Pehn, himself, doesn't believe that the Illinois situation will have any effect upon the National Boxing Association. Replying to a query sent him by Mr. Taylor, Mr. Pehn said that plans for the convention in Chicago on September 15-18, inclusive, would proceed as arranged at the meeting in Toronto last October.

Mr. Pehn has served as president of the national body for one year, and under the rules would be eligible for another term, if he were a member of a recognized commission, according to Mr. Taylor.

BULLS TAKE POSSESSION N. Y. MARKET

Stock Exchange Boiled Over with Bullish Enthusiasm Today; High Records.

New York, Aug. 16.—(AP).—The stock market boiled over with bullish enthusiasm today as a result of the recent improvement in the credit situation. Scores of issues were marked up $2 to $10 a share, in trading that averaged around a million shares an hour. New high records were established by at least a score of issues, including American Can, American Machine and Foundry, Consolidated Gas, General Asphalt, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Emmons Co. Union Pacific, New Haven and Pere Marquette.

The drop of $68,000,000 in Federal Reserve brokers' loans, coming on top of several days of sharply advancing prices, was accepted by leading financial interests. "Bear" traders, who had sold stocks heavily in anticipation of a "secondary reaction" were driven to cover and forced to compete with an army of new buyers who had stood on the sidelines until the Federal Reserve statement was out of the way.

Blocks of 5,000 to 20,000 shares changed hands in the early trading with blocks almost as large appearing on the tape later in the day as the leaders were pushed up to new high records. There were only a few soft spots, American Woolen common and Foundation Co., standing out by declining to new lows for the year.

BURNEY ENDORSED FOR LEGION COMMANDER

Raleigh, Aug. 16.—(AP).—Raleigh American Legion circles heard today that another name, that of John J. Burney of Wilmington, had been endorsed for the position of state commander.

With the annual convention being here August 25-27, inclusive, Col. Hidge A. Newell of Henderson and George K. Freeman of Goldsboro are avowed candidates for state commander and Henry Bourne of Tarboro has been mentioned as a candidate. The endorsement of Mr. Burney by the Wilmington post, of which he is commander, increases the interest in the race.

DOG TRENCH HERO CRIES AT WAR SONGS

Chicago, Aug. 16.—(AP).—Mrs. Walter Byrum tells this story about Goldberg, 13-year old war dog, wounded in the Argonne:

"Whenever he hears war songs on the radio he cries, and big tears roll down his cheeks. Goldberg stands at attention when the 'Star Spangled Banner' is played."

The animal was with battery B, 122nd artillery, in St. Mihiel and the Argonne. He was wounded and gassed, several "buddies" risking their lives to drag him in. The government gave Goldberg an honorable discharge.

Goldberg now spends most of his time dozing close to a stove.

POSTAL INSPECTORS RAID AIRWAYS OFFICE

New York, Aug. 16.—(AP).—Under instructions from the federal attorney's office, ten postoffice inspectors today raided the offices of the Coastal Airways, the Airva Corporation, Hadley and Company and the Howland Holding Company. Grand jury subpoenas were served on all persons found in the offices and demand was made for production of all books and papers.

Coastal Airways, which operates an air line to Albany, and Airva, which runs one to Boston, recently merged.

The raids were ordered by Chief Assistant Federal Attorney George J. Mintzer, who is engaged in a campaign against bucket shops, tipster sheets, and other organizations of the type he has characterized as "financial speakasies."

Mintzer said both Hadley and Company and Airva were headed by Austin H. Montgomery, who has served a term in Atlanta penitentiary for mail fraud in connection with stock operations.

MURDER CASE ABOUT READY FOR JURORS

Willis Murder Case Expected To Go to Court in S. C. in Near Future.

Greenville, S. C., Aug. 16.—(AP).—Strong probability that bills charging Harman Moore, 51 year old road forger and ex deputy sheriff and Blair Rook, 31 year old negro alleged gunman, with murder for the death of the late Sheriff Sam D. Willis two years ago, would be presented the Greenville county grand jury at the opening of general sessions court Monday August 26 developed in official circles today.

For the first time since the most recent series of sensational developments came to light, Sheriff Cliff Bramlett, today announced that he was virtually ready to turn the case over to solicitor J. G. Leatherwood for presentation to the court.

The sheriff explained that no more arrests were to be made unless developments not anticipated at this time arose and that he and his men had virtually completed their work of checking up on the negro's story and the complication of corroborative evidence. There is still a little checking and still some bits of evidence to gather before he will be ready to refer the whole matter to the solicitor but he does not believe that this work will require a great amount of time.

Solicitor Leatherwood, on the other hand said that he had not as yet examined all the sheriff's evidence but expected to begin this work about Monday of next week. He heard the negro's confession, cross examined him on it and he said to him if "his not the absolute truth don't tell it", and discussed the serious phases of the situation with the investigating officers. However, there is much work to be done in the nature of examination of all collected evidence and this task he expected to tackle next week.

"It is quite probable," solicitor Leatherwood said, "that after I finish the examination of the evidence that I will present the case to the grand jury and if true bills are returned will call it for trial during the August term. However, about that I cannot say just at what time. The term will be busy one even if the Willis case is not called."

COTTON MARKET

New York, Aug. 16.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 1 to 9 points on the coming party from the south covering and buying which appeared to be a private view on crop progress pointing to further denotation in condition.

Trading was only moderately active and the advance met some local selling while there was also some trade selling of May. The offerings were quite readily absorbed, however, and the market held steady at the end of the first half hour with active months showing net advances of about 5 to 10 points.

Cable advice from Liverpool said that the market there had been influenced by covering and local buying on unfavorable crop reports from the south and the termination of the Lancashire mill stoppage.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Aug. 16.—(AP)—Enormous purchases of future deliveries of wheat carried the wheat market skyward today, prices here reaching 5 3/4 cent a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Canadian threshing reports were worse than had been looked for, and primary receipts of wheat in the United States today were decidedly small, or than either a week or a year ago. Under such conditions, wheat here was in brisk demand.

Wheat closed unsettled at 4 1/8 to 5 cents net gain, corn closed 1 1/8 to 7/8 up, oats 1 1/8 to 1 7/8 advance and provisions showing a rise of 2 to 45 cents.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Aug. 16.—(AP)—The stock market gave an impressive demonstration of strength today in reflection of speculative pressure over the unexpectedly large drop in Federal Reserve brokers' loans.

Buying orders were distributed over an unusually broad list, with the result that at least two score issues were selling 4 to 10 points above yesterday's final quotations by early afternoon.

Call money renewed unchanged at 7 per cent and money brokers expressed the opinion that it probably would not go below that level because of the 6 per cent rediscount rate. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

THE SPIRIT OF THE ORIENT

MODERN interpretations of Oriental rug designs by Whittall are conceded by many to surpass the old originals which inspired them. Certainly they retain the true spirit of the Orient. And, as certainly, their weaving and colorings are more in keeping with present-day ideas of home harmony.

When may we show you these Oriental rug designs in the modern spirit—Whittall Anglo-Persians and the even more inexpensive Whittall Palmer Wilton Rugs?

◀ We hope you will come soon to see them ▶
