$300,000 FIRE SWEEPS PLANT AT ASHEBORO

Undetermined Blaze Wrecks Home Building, Inc.; Other Property Damaged.

Asheboro, N. C., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Fire of undetermined origin early today destroyed the plant of Home Building, Inc., and an unused building formerly occupied by the Asheboro Roller Mill. The Asheboro Ice company plant was badly damaged and several box cars on a siding at the Home Building, Inc., burned. The loss was estimated by fire department officials at $300,000, approximately one-third of which was covered by insurance. There was no loss of life.

Only one of seven buildings in the Home Building, Inc., plant was saved despite the efforts of the local fire department aided by trucks from Greensboro, High Point and other cities, the building saved was used as an office and housed the records of the company, a builders supply concern.

It was the second fire of major proportions in Asheboro within the past three days. Thursday night the Asheboro Chair company burned with a loss of $50,000. Fire department officials have not learned the cause of either fires and early today were investigating the possibility of an incendiary origin.

The blaze today was discovered in the finishing room of the Home Building, Inc., at about one thirty o'clock. Fanned by a stiff breeze, it swept beyond control of firemen and soon the entire plant was afire. Emergency calls were sent to Greensboro, High Point and other cities, but before aid could arrive the blaze had spread to the old roller mill and threatened the ice plant.

The combined efforts of firemen of the four towns succeeded in containing the blaze by about midnight. The plant was completely destroyed, ready afire and in limiting damage to the ice plant to one section.

L. S. Ross was president and Miss Esther Ross secretary and treasurer of the Home Building, Inc., which employed approximately 100 men. The chair company destroyed Thursday night employed 75 men.

Greensboro, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Belief that today's fire at Asheboro, which destroyed the Home Building, Inc., was of incendiary origin, was expressed by Fire Chief Frank D. Saw as details of the fire reached Greensboro.

Although the factory of the Asheboro Chair Company, which burned Thursday night, at a huge loss, was situated on a block from the Home Building, Inc., Chief Shaw scouted the theory that the blaze was ignited by sparks from the chair factory.

"It doesn't look right to me," the chief said. "I received a call this morning and one company went out in answer to the alarm in Asheboro."

W. A. Scott of Greensboro, deputy state insurance commissioner, stated that so far he had not been called upon to make an investigation of the chair factory fire, in which nearly $200,000 worth of property is believed to have been destroyed.

Mystery Surrounds Death of Girl At Home in Narbeth, Pa.

Philadelphia, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The mysterious death of Mary Frances Morgan, pretty 20 year old girl, whose body was found late yesterday strapped to a chair in the kitchen of her mother's fashionable residence in Narbeth, Pa., near here, puzzled police today.

Four belts, one of them believed to be a man's, bound the girl. Gas was flowing from a jet on a gas range, but the windows and a door in the room were wide open. There was no evidence to indicate there had been a struggle.

Charles Smith, superintendent of police said today he virtually had abandoned the suicide theory. A coroner's physician, who examined the body, said death might have been caused by asphyxiation, but police said an examination of the viscera, sent to chemists for examination had revealed there was not enough gas in the lungs to have caused death. They also said it would have been impossible for Miss Morgan to have bound herself with the straps, all of which had been fastened at the back.

JOCKEY BADLY HURT AT SARATOGA SPRINGS

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 17.—(AP)—An accident apparently has ended the riding career of Anthony Paschuma, 23-year old free lance jockey.

Caught in a jam at the barrier in yesterday's open race, Paschuma was thrown from his mount, dark gelding, and suffered a broken leg. Physicians said Paschuma probably would never be able to ride again.

Superior Court Judges Urged To Stop Practice Of Exchanging Courts

Lumberton, Aug. 17.—(AP)—At its fifth annual meeting at White Lake, Thursday August 15th, the Ninth Judicial District Bar Association passed, with a few dissenting votes, a strong resolution urging upon superior court judges the "grave necessity" of discontinuing the practice of exchanging courts, referred to its executive committee a resolution recommending that judges be elected by convention in order to take their election out of partisan politics, heard an address by Associate Justice George W. Connor of the State Supreme Court who delivered the principal speech of the occasion, elected Chas. G. Rose, of Fayetteville, to succeed Dickson McLean of Lumberton, as president, and enjoyed a feast in the open on White Lake beach.

There were about 60 lawyers present, or about 75 per cent of the lawyers of the district, which comprises the counties of Robeson, Hoke, Cumberland and Bladen.

The resolution putting the association on record as being opposed to superior court judges leaving the district which the law assigns them for 6 months and swapping with other judges to hold courts in other districts, was introduced and seconded by Stringfield and Downing, of Fayetteville, home town of Judge N. A. Sinclair, who is now holding court in Asheville.

The resolution in regard to election of judges was offered by Junius J. Goodwin, of Lumberton, and was referred to the executive committee to be reported for action at the next annual meeting. It proposes to petition members of the next General Assembly elected from this district to secure repeal of the primary law to the extent of releasing the judiciary of this district therefrom and to the end that all persons seeking judicial office in this district may be nominated in conventions held for that purpose.

SUN GOD STILL FLYING OVER THE COUNTRY

Rock Springs, Wyo., Aug. 17.—(AP)—The airplane Spokane Sun God piloted by Nick Hamer and Art Walker left for Cheyenne at 6 o'clock this morning after having made the trip from Rock Springs to Cheyenne, Wyo., last night.

Hamer and Walker had been circling the Rock Springs Airport and making refueling contacts since 6:30 last night when they arrived from Salt Lake. They will refuel in Cheyenne, probably about 9 a. m.

Why Hamer remained in the air over Rock Springs last night instead of going to Cheyenne after his gasoline supply had been replenished, has not been determined. Hamer dropped several messages to N. B. Wilson and Al Coppola, pilots of the Sun God plane sent from Cheyenne yesterday afternoon to conduct an emergency refueling contact, but only one was found.

The message, located in the darkness, gave notification of Hamer's intention of remaining in the air over Rock Springs until dawn, stated the motor of his ship was functioning in satisfactory order. That they were enjoying the trip, and that the only uncomfortable phase of the flight so far was that the parachutes they were using as seats were not conducive to rest.

Nine attempted refueling contacts were made during the 11 1/2 hours the Sun God was over Rock Springs and five were successful.

SPEAKEASIES THREATEN TO BECOME ISSUE IN N. Y. MAYORALTY ELECTION

New York, Aug. 17.—(AP)—New York's speakeasies, which have been estimated to number 36,000, today promised to become an issue in the city's mayoralty election.

Smallest Snake In World Captured By Belvoir Man

While zoological experts of the world have been casting about in an effort to provide the largest snake in captivity, it was left to B. Fleming, of the Belvoir community, Pitt county, a plain everyday dirt farmer, to provide what is generally believed to be the smallest snake in the world.

The tiny reptile, encased in a castor oil bottle, was brought to the Reflector office this morning, and then sent to the State Museum at Raleigh for examination by experts of that place.

The snake, measuring six inches in length and about the size of an ordinary piece of thread, was found in the yard of the Fleming home yesterday. The reptile was so small and bore such striking contrast to other infant members of the snake kind that Mr. Fleming at first doubted the evidence of his own eyes. But when he began toying with the little reptile, it raised its head and struck just like any other snake would have done in attempting to defend itself from possible injury.

Mr. Fleming, wishing to preserve the snake, coaxed it into a bottle,

STEAM STILL CAPTURED BY PITT OFFICERS

Liquor Making Revived in This Section as Fall of the Year Approaches.

A four hundred gallon capacity steam distilling outfit was captured in Greenville township by officers of the sheriff's department, it was announced at the sheriff's office today.

The still was not in operation at time of capture, but officers said that a run had been made a short time before their arrival judging by the general condition of the still site.

Aside from the still, they succeeded in rounding up approximately two thousand gallons of beer, and considerable paraphernalia used in connection with the manufacture of the illicit beverage.

"The worm to this still was one of the finest I ever saw," one of the officers remarked. "It was made of copper and considerably longer than the usual run of worms. I know the whiskey makers regretted losing it, although we were mighty glad to lay it among our store of copper in the confiscated cell at the county jail."

No arrests were made in connection with the raid. The officers had no information leading to the identity of the operators, and consequently all they could do was to destroy the site and bring the still back to the city to be placed among numerous raids made during the past month.

The officers are expecting to be kept busy from now on attempting to curtail the traffic in this county. Whiskey making is usually revived about this time of the year, and thousands of gallons of the contraband liquid are transferred from one section of the country to the other in surreptitious movements of the bootleggers.

While countless thousands of gallons of liquor are manufactured in Pitt, an untold amount is also brought in from surrounding counties, especially from Beaufort, Craven and Martin counties. It is not known why, but the imported beverage, as that from other counties is called, seems to tickle the pallet of the more select customer, and the demand for this brand during the fall and winter season is enormous.

Pitt county officers, augmented by city and town officials, are making an effort to reduce run running as much as possible this year and thousands of gallons of whiskey and many bootleggers are expected to fall into the toils of the law as the dragnet is drawn more closely about the traffic.

Aged Rum Runner Hanged In Florida For Killing Of Two Coast Guardsmen

Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Aug. 17.—(AP)—James Horace Alderman, 60-year-old rum runner, was hanged early today in a seaplane hangar at the coast guard base here for the slaying of two coast guardsmen in a gun battle on the high seas two years ago.

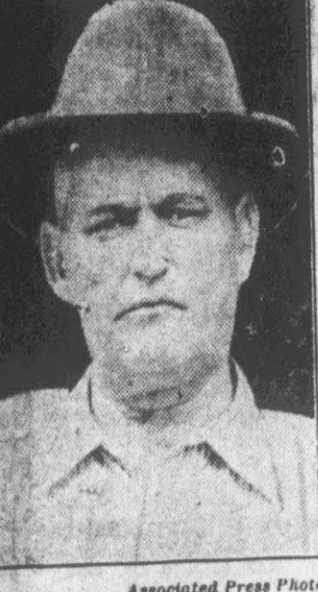

Alderman walked calmly to the scaffold with a prayer on his lips, showing no sign of faltering. With only execution officials, a spiritual adviser and the necessary witnesses present, the trap was sprung at 6:03 just as the first rays of the sun rose out of the Atlantic which borders the east side of the coast guard base.

A few minutes later the body was taken down, and at 6:25 a slowly moving hearse started with it directly to Miami where relatives have arranged the funeral and burial.

Alderman was convicted in January, 1918, of slaying Sidney Sanderlin and Victor Lamb, the guardsmen, as he attempted to run liquor into a Florida port. During the battle Robert K. Webster, secret service agent also was killed, but the rum runner was never tried for his death.

The seaplane hangar was designated for the hanging after the state had declined to permit the use of its property, giving special reasons for refusing each location the government requested. Alderman's case came under federal jurisdiction because his crime occurred at sea.

Britain Declines To Compromise At Hague; Other Nations To Act

The Hague, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Philip Snowden, British chancellor of the exchequer, today refused to compromise offer of France, Italy, Belgium and Japan to allow Great Britain an increased share of German reparations. The British chancellor claimed it was insufficient to satisfy his government.

The chief delegates of the four creditor governments aligned against Great Britain decided as soon as they received Mr. Snowden's reply to their proposals to meet at noon and decide what further action to take.

Feeling around the Hotel Des Indes, headquarters of the creditors power, was that Snowden's reply meant the inevitable breaking up of the conference. All delegates immediately communicated with their governments. Even Mr. Snowden has kept in constant touch with Premier MacDonald during the past two days.

The offer refused was that made yesterday by the four governments seeking to satisfy British demands for return to the Spa percentage for division of German reparations and other minor concessions. The four governments acted in an attempt to avert British withdrawal from the conference here on application of the Young reparations plan.

Mr. Snowden in his refusal to consider the compromise further said that instead of the 60 per cent of British claims it purported to offer upon examination he had discovered it made available only 20 per cent, which he said was utterly unacceptable to his government.

One of the eleventh hour expedients talked of save the conference was the mediation of Gustav Stresemann, German foreign minister, Great Britain and the other creditor powers.

It was understood however the Reich delegate preferred to hold aloof from the question of reparations annuities and to keep his hands free from political negotiations exclusively.

BIG AIRSHIP FLYING OVER ARCTIC WASTE

Hamburg, Germany, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The Hamburg American line received a wireless message from the Graf Zeppelin this afternoon stating that Dr. Hugo Eckener expected to arrive in Tokyo Monday night mid-European time, or presumably some time Monday afternoon eastern Standard time.

Dr. Eckener informed the station he was using only three of his five motors because of the favorable winds blowing over Siberia.

He said the motors were showing no strain and that all was well on board.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Aug. 17.—(AP)—The air liner Graf Zeppelin, far over isolated Siberia, today was speeding eastward just south of the Arctic Circle and at seven o'clock this morning, mid-European time (1:00 a. m. E. S. T.) gave her position 64 North 95 east.

The position given by Dr. Hugo Eckener to his home port at Friedrichshafen placed the Graf Zeppelin definitely beyond the halfway mark of her 7,000 mile journey to Tokyo on the second lap of her round the world flight.

She was about 200 miles due east of the Jenissei river which approximately marked the half way point. The region is a sparsely inhabited, the nearest large town being Ussudjakt, about 150 miles to the north.

PRES. HOOVER WELCOMED TO OLD DOMINION

Thousands Gather at Madison in Big Celebration in Honor of President.

By JAMES L. WEST
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

Madison County Fair Grounds, Madison, Va., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Headed by their governor, Harry Flood Byrd, thousands of Virginians from the Blue Ridge Mountain section converged upon the grounds today to welcome President Hoover to the Old Dominion and to thank and felicitate him upon selecting the headquarters of the nearby Rapidan river as the place for his summer home.

Governor Byrd accompanied by J. Plimer Bright, mayor of Richmond, came in on the army Blimp C 41 after an uneventful trip from Richmond. The big air craft settled safely to earth with its nose almost touching a hill side. Lieutenant B. T. Starkey commanded the Blimp which subsequently circled about the grounds and nearby country.

The governor was welcomed by J. M. Clore, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Madison and in charge of the ceremonies by officials of Madison and Culpeper, as well as representative J. A. Garber of this congressional district. The official welcome was formal, but not that of the thousands who swarmed around the airship. They rushed the state's chief executive, and literally mobbed him. He finally was able to make his way to a building nearby where automobiles swarmed to take him and Mayor Bright to the Hoover camp nine miles away. The president arrived there last night with a dozen guests from Washington including Ambassador Henry H. Fletcher, Ernest Lee Jahncke, acting secretary of the navy; assistant secretary MacRacken of the commerce department and Mrs. MacRacken; James Logan of New York; Captain Buchanan, U. S. N., the president's naval aid, and Mrs. Buchanan; Mark Sullivan of Washington; George Ackerson and Larry Richie, secretaries to the president and Lieut. Commander Joel T. Boone, physician to the chief executive. Governor Byrd became the guest of the president on the drive over the tortuous newly made mountain road to Madison.

They drove to the speaker's stand here which was set in a grove of white oak trees. The branches of which, however, failed to protect the guests of honor from the broiling August sun which beat down out of an almost cloudless sky.

A picked company of the celebrated Richmond light infantry blues, replete in their uniforms of the Swiss guards of Napoleon's army and a provincial company of Monticello guards from Charlottesville, formed the guard of honor for the president and the governor. The Monticello guard wore uniforms of revolutionary days.

The Richmond light infantry blues brand entertained the crowds with popular airs during the interim between the departure of the Blimp and the arrival of the presidential party. As the airship started on a cross country run so that the folks far up in the mountains might see this latest aircraft of its type, it flew directly over the crowds around the speaker's stand and received a rousing cheer. Save for flat cedar festooned around its base, the speaker's stand was decorated only with flags and red white and blue bunting. However battle flags of the old confederacy were not missing and a score of veterans of the war between the states proudly held or wore these. The veterans had a place of honor in the front row only twenty feet from and directly in front of the speaker's stand.

Three Believed Drowned in N. Y. Boat Collision

Alexandria Bay, N. Y., Aug. 17.—(AP)—W. Charles Lipe, Syracuse millionaire manufacturer, his wife, and Ford Dodge, their pilot, are believed to have been drowned when their speed boat going at full tilt, crashed last night into a 60 foot pleasure craft and sank in mid-channel of the St. Lawrence river, near here.

The excursion boat, "Thousand Islander", slightly crippled, raced with its 50 passengers shoreward and beached on a ledge six feet under the river surface.

According to passengers aboard the larger craft, and Captain Deviler Rodgers, its captain, Lipe's boat "Legles" rounded Cherry Island and plowed into the bow of the pleasure boat without any warning of its approach. The speed boat's number plates were imbedded in the bow of the larger craft.

Abundance Of Room For Entrants In Campaign

With just a few short weeks until the Reflector "Everyday Wins" campaign comes to an official end, many of the districts are short real live representatives in this gigantic gift-giving event.

Surely this cannot be because the prizes are not worth getting—and they will be given away without one cent of cost regardless of the success of the enterprise to the successful candidates.

In a few days the names of those nominated thus far will be published. Nominations should be made by 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, however, to get in the published list.

"Don't be one of those who will wish I had" when the election is over and the big prizes distributed—start an active campaign. It is doubtful if you ever had or ever will have such an opportunity for making big money without investing one cent.

Wake Up, Candidates
Candidates who have been nominated are urged to wake up to the true value of subscriptions during the first period. Thus far very few of those nominated have made any effort whatsoever in the way of securing subscriptions, or renewals of the Reflector. In fact, more subscribers have come to the Reflector office voluntarily and paid up their subscriptions giving votes to some contestant whom they happened to know than most candidates have brought in.

Votes accumulate very fast during part of the campaign when the vote schedule is the highest. Wake up, candidates; don't expect your friends to do it all; make some effort yourself and you will be surprised at how easily you can pile up a big total and go "over the top" for a car. Get busy now. It's up to you.

ANNUAL BATTLE WITH OLD STOVES AND BIG COAL BILLS TO BE AVOIDED

The annual battle, which rages from the beginning of winter until the coming of spring—a battle with stubborn, inadequate, inefficient old stoves and their allies, big coal bills, is to be avoided next winter and for many winters to come by many residents of Greenville and vicinity.

The name of the peace-maker—conqueror of spotty stove heat and high fuel expense—is Estate Heatrola, the original first-floor warm-air heating plant, which looks like a radio cabinet but works like a furnace.

"To the victor belongs the spoils," so, to those who have ended their war with the stove, is to be given a supply of free coal with their new Heatrolas, provided they take advantage of an offer now being made by Home Furniture Co., Co-operating with the Estate Stove Company of Hamilton, Ohio, manufacturers of the Heatrola, the local store is able to offer to Heatrola purchasers who place their orders between August 10 and August 31, a free supply of the best grade of coal.

N. C. Woman Killed In South Carolina

Galley, S. C., Aug. 17.—(AP)—Mrs. Etta Norris, of Rockingham, N. C., was killed, and five others slightly injured today when the automobile, in which she was a passenger, overturned, after being hit by another automobile. The accident occurred on U. S. highway No. 29, five miles from Blacksburg, S. C.

The car which caused the accident sped away, and the driver had not been arrested several hours after the collision.

Willie Ladd, also of Rockingham, was driving the car occupied by Mrs. Norris. The Rockingham car was enroute to Greenville, S. C., to the home of Mrs. H. C. Reeves, who also was accompanying Mrs. Norris and Ladd.

The unidentified car side-swiped the automobile driven by Ladd, hooking the rear of Ladd's machine and overturning it. Mrs. Norris died a few minutes after the accident. An inquest will be held today.

ABOUT TOWN

Greenville tobacco market has certainly taken a step forward by contracting for the daily report of its sales from station WFTF at Raleigh, declared a citizen today, referring to the story carried in the columns of this paper today.

"These reports no doubt will be followed with interest by the thousands of tobacco growers throughout this section of the country, and enable them to market their crop in a more intelligent and orderly manner."

"So far as known this is only market in this section of the country furnishing its patrons with this special brand of service and I have no doubt but that the general run of farmers will be appreciative of the effort of Greenville tobaccoists to serve them more efficiently from year to year."

The trend of prices and the amount of tobacco marketed from day to day is of vast importance to the grower, and as these two items will be included in the Greenville report, everybody may rest assured of being able to keep well informed about market changes from day today.

"Greenville people should do everything possible in order to comply with the request from the police department relative to the confinement of dogs," mentioned a citizen today.

"This is just as important as complying with any other matter affecting public life and happiness and it is to be hoped dog owners will chain their dogs at home and keep them there."

"Dogs roving about the streets are a menace to children. No one knows what time a dog is going to contract the hydrophobia and bite one of the little tots, probably resulting in his death. This is a serious proposition to the parent and the police department was right in demanding that all animals be confined this season of the year."

"Be sure to keep in mind the fact that the campaign to raise funds for advertising Greenville will begin next Tuesday morning," said a member of the Greenville Merchants Association today.

"This will be one of the most intensive drives for funds in history of the advertising campaign, and it is hoped the business men will respond liberally to the call for funds."

"We are asking for $1,000 more than last year, the increase being made necessary to meet the demands of the constantly growing community. The city has developed considerably even during the last few months, and it is going to be necessary to spend more money this year in placing its advantages before the public in the proper way."

"It matters not how much you gave last season, make a point to give as much if not more this year and in that way do your part in making this great advertising campaign an actuality. The results will be just as great as ever and every merchant will benefit materially."

"Money is still mighty tight," asserted one of the leading business men, "but there seems to be a tendency to ease up a bit in some directions."

"The resumption of operation of city should tend to relieve the numbers of tobacco factories in this pressure somewhat. The spending of thousands of dollars monthly that the community has not been realizing since last fall and winter should put more cash in the hands of the merchants, and in a short time every body will be affected by the change."

"There is nothing like industry to relieve financial strain, and now that Greenville has started to work again everybody may look forward to better conditions for the next few months."

"How about the rank growth of weeds about your premises?" questioned a citizen today, referring to the effort on part of city officials to bring about a general cleaning-up of the city.

"The cutting down of this vegetation will not only improve the appearance of your home but it will also have a tendency of doing away with some of the mosquitoes you have been troubled with the last several weeks. Rank weeds furnish a splendid breeding place for the little pests and the less vegetation of this kind you have about your home the less you will suffer from the nocturnal songs of the mosquito."

"The city is making an effort to get the people to co-operate in this campaign, and those who refuse to do so may expect to be summoned before the mayor at any time to answer why they refused to do so. There is an ordinance providing for the cutting down of weeds and it is the duty of the law-abiding citizen to do everything possible to abide by it."

Listen! Golfers! Forest Hills, N. Y.—A week end guest may not be necessary hereafter to furnish a partner for your singles. A tennis machine gun which, such stars as Betty Nuthall and Nin Richards declare, effectively simulates various types of "services," has been tried out and tentatively approved.

Death Treasure

By R. A. J. WALLING

SYNOPSIS: Fotherbury's library is charged with foreboding as eight men gather to hear the report of Professor Laxton, expert antiquarian, on alleged archeological treasures found under Newplace Abbey. The mysterious Rogel Pell is watched by seven men—Commander Seabroke, Dr. Eastley, Royle and Somerfield who dislike him; Marling, the parson, who hates him intensely. The other two are Pell's friends—Fotherbury, who owns Newplace, and Tom Grenofen, who fell in love with Veronica Seabroke the day he first met her, and who concerned himself with the Pell enigma only after Veronica became engaged to him. Laxton fails to appear. Suddenly Pell leaps to the door, closes and bolts it, then turns defiantly to face his enemies—a dramatic climax impends.

"Mr. Fotherbury," said he, "you have in your library a collection of human curiosities representing some of the most undesirable traits of the race. I will describe them—" "My dear Pell," Mr. Fotherbury interrupted him, "is it necessary?" "I'm afraid it's very necessary," said Pell.

"I'll begin with Seabroke... Sit down, Seabroke, will you? You hate me. You slander me. Why? Because I interfere with your disgusting plans for exploiting your daughter and breaking her heart. Seabroke, I describe you as a cad, a snob, a cupidinous schemer, and a bad father."

Seabroke, in the effort to restrain himself, looked ghastly. He might have been on the verge of a fit. But Pell looked steadily at him till he subsided.

Pell spoke again: "And if Mr. Royle will stay where he is and refrain from interruption it will be all the better."

I turned to look at Royle. He was fuming. Somerfield's hand gripped his arm.

If I had followed the momentary impulse to say, "Come on, Rev. Marling, we'll both go"—the course of life for all the people involved would have been altered.

But at that moment I caught a glimpse of the ghastly face of Marling, staring at Pell with an expression of horror and fear such as I hope never to see on any other

Chapter 6 MARLING SEES A GHOST

Seven met sat staring at Pell, who was standing with his back to the library door. Mr. Fotherbury's voice came like a breath of sanity in an insane situation.

"My dear Pell—what extraordinary conduct!"

"A little unusual, perhaps, Mr. Fotherbury," said Pell, "but you'll be enlightened, and then I shall ask you to admit that it is

A deafening explosion rocked the room—Rogel Pell fell dead!

"Mr. Fotherbury lifted his hands, as if to signify that he gave it up, and sat down alongside Marling. "I'm here," Pell went on, "to defend myself against a gang of scandal-mongers and to perform an act—"

And then what I expected happened. Seabroke went off with a bang; he thundered so, and his beard stuck out so menacing, that "I should be sorry for anybody to charge into Pell. Pell's features relaxed for an instant into a rather alarming smile.

"Be quiet, little man!" he said, pointing a finger at Seabroke. "Go and sit down and behave, or I'll tell your wife. I'm in command here."

Pell looked slowly around as a schoolmaster might look after putting the fear of God into a disorderly class.

though he had not even heard what Pell said.

Marling's expression of agony became almost intolerable to see when Pell fastened upon him.

"But, Mr. Fotherbury, what about the living he who sits beside you? He looks as if he'd seen a ghost! Ah... a ghost, Marling! You're going to see a ghost anyhow. I'll tell you a little of the dreadful psychic experiences of—" "My dear Mr. Fotherbury, when I came down to Newplace, he thought he saw a ghost, but he was not quite sure. He had seen me only once before."

"The horrid truth forced itself on him by degrees. He began to try to get me out of the way by telling lies about me. He cockered up a lurid tale about my past to narrate to anybody who might be of service to me in an emergency—to Royle and Somerfield, and, I expect, even to Grenofen."

"And what was the cause of Marling's conduct? Would you believe it, Marling has seen a ghost! And if one ghost why not another, a still more terrible and formidable specter?"

Pell looked at each of us in turn; a crescent of astounded faces.

"You don't believe in ghosts? I see you don't. Only Marling—he does."

Pell raised his left arm to look at his watch.

"Mr. Fotherbury," said he, "it is now a minute to four. At four a post will walk. Marling will see him, and I will introduce him to you."

Seven men in the room saw Pell murdered. Who is guilty? Continue the story with Monday's installment.

BUGS TAKE FIRST GAME OFF GREENS

Goldsboro won a twelve-inning battle from Greenville here yesterday afternoon by the score of 6 to 2. The visitors knotted the count in the seventh inning, and both clubs were forced to go five innings longer before Goldsboro got two hits, two bases on balls, and two sacrifices, which combined with an error, enabled them to send four runners over the rubber, virtually clinching the game.

Vaughan pitched a remarkably fine game for the Bugs, allowing 10 hits that were so well scattered that they figured in the scoring only in a minor way. Ludke hurled good ball for Greenville, and like his opponent allowed 10 hits.

Durham Climbs Toward the Top

(By The Associated Press) Greensboro and Durham kept step yesterday in their dash for the Piedmont league pennant.

Virtually tied for the league lead with the Pats, the Bulls hung up their eighth straight victory at the expense of Salisbury, 10 to 2. Edwards went the route for the Coils and was hit hard, early and often.

The Pats victimized Henderson 5 to 2, to cling to their percentage point lead in the league. Jimmy Teague showed the way for Greensboro with a pair of homers and a single. Turner limited the Bunnies to six hits and got three singles himself, driving in two runs.

The Twins bunched their blows off Acosta and won from High Point 6 to 4. Dubuque got credit for the victory, although he gave way for Yeager in the fifth when the Pointers threatened.

Rocky Mount defeated Fayetteville 4 to 1. Gill was in fine form for the Eastern Carolina leaders and allowed only four hits until the ninth when the Highlanders got three in a row and their one run.

Goldsboro won 12 innings before defeating Greenville 6 to 2. The Bugs ended the hurling contest between Vaughan and Ludke by combining two hits with a pair of walks and an error for four runs.

Wilmington and Kinston divided a pair the Tars grabbing the first 4 to 1, but losing the nightcap 4 to 2. The Eagles were out-hit 7 to 5 in the second, but bunched their blows to better advantage.

MACKS HOLD THEIR OWN; CUBS LOSE

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer) Novelty was injected into the two major league races yesterday at the Athletics failed to increase their lead and the Cubs lost ground. The Macks won a spirited game in Cleveland by 6 to 5, but the Yanks won with them—from Detroit by 12 to 2—leaving the Philadelphia margin stationary at 14 games. In the National league, the Cubs were defeated in Brooklyn 5 to 2 while the Pirates were scalping the Braves 9 to 3 to reduce the Bruin advantage to seven and one-half engagements. George Earnshaw held the Indians well in hand for eight innings at Cleveland while his mates prodded the Messrs. Shante, Holloway and Shoffner with such vigor that the A's took the field in the ninth with a lead of 6 to 3.

The Yankee victory at Detroit was notable for Babe Ruth's thirty-second home run, struck at the expense of George Uhle in the first inning. Earl Combs was on base. The champions drove Uhle from the box in three innings and continued their misconduct against Johnny Prudhomme.

Al Thomas pitched well enough to bring the White Sox home ahead of the Senators 8 to 6, and Charlie Ruffing tossed the Red Sox to a 3 to 2 decision over Alvin Crowder and the Browns at St. Louis.

The suspicion is growing in National league circles that Ray Moss, developing into something of a pitcher. He set the Cubs down without a run until the ninth at Ebbets Field yesterday, and when the leaders finally did solve his delivery, it was too late.

The Robins themselves had no little trouble with Charley Root, being held to two hits in the first six rounds, but they finally broke through for three runs in the seventh. Johnny Frederick placed the decision definitely beyond the Bruins by slapping Root for a homer in the next round after Moss had singled.

BABE HEMAN GOING STRONG IN NATIONAL

New York, Aug. 17.—(AP)—Babe Herman, the Flatbush flogger, continues to set the pace for National league batsmen, twenty-eight points ahead of Frank O'Doul of Philadelphia, his nearest competitor. Herman's average this week-end is a mere .413, according to averages issued today and including games of last Wednesday. O'Doul has .383.

Following the two leaders are these regular batsmen—Terry, New York, .397; Hornsby, Chicago, .384; Traynor, Pittsburgh, and Hendrick, Brooklyn, .362; Ha'ey, St. Louis, .354; L. Walter, Pittsburgh, .353; Douthett, St. Louis, .349; and Klein, Philadelphia, .348.

Hornsby leads in runs scored with 107, and Melvin Ott of New York, in runs batted in with 113. Terry has the greatest total of hits, 171, and Frederick, of Brooklyn, the largest collection of doubles, 39. L. Walter sets the pace in triples with 15 and Klein in home runs with 33. Cuyler, of Chicago, leads with 29 steals.

Guy Bush, in the seven days ending Wednesday, pulled up to a tie with Burleigh Grimes of Pittsburgh, for the pitching leadership. Each has won 16 games and lost only two for a percentage of .389. Grimes is still out with an injury.

The leaders are followed in the averages by two of Bush's Chicago teammates, Hal Carlson and Charley Root. Carlson has won 12 and lost two for .300, while Root has taken twelve victories with only four reverses for .750.

First Comes Sound, Progressive Engineering.

IN BUILDING a motor car, everything begins with engineering. No amount of pains in the selection of materials, no amount of skill in workmanship, no amount of care in inspection will take the place of sound, progressive design.

Oldsmobile recognizes this fundamental truth. And in order that its engineering may be of the finest, Oldsmobile has brought together a staff of talented and experienced men—and placed at their disposal every aid to modern engineering.

The creative thinking which makes Oldsmobile a car that does all things well is the product of a group which is not dominated by individual opinion. Any and every idea is given full consideration, so that the best may be selected through a long process of testing, proving, and comparing of results. Changes in Oldsmobile design are always made for the sake of progress—never for the sake of change alone.

On the Oldsmobile staff are experts in every branch of automotive engineering—men who have demonstrated creative ability along many lines. They are keenly sensitive to the requirements of the modern motorist. Their greatest joy lies in accomplishment. Their highest ambition is to contribute some new advancement to Oldsmobile and, through Oldsmobile, to the motoring public

At the command of these men are all the vast resources of Oldsmobile and General Motors. They work in their own complete and fully-equipped engineering and research laboratories, drawing upon the experience of General Motors Research Laboratories and availing themselves of the skill of Fisher artist-engineers. And day in and day out, Oldsmobile engineers prove their products by the facts developed in grueling tests on the great General Motors Proving Ground.

The ever-increasing success of Oldsmobile is evidence of the ability of these men. Brilliant engineering is responsible for Oldsmobile's efficiency and dependability—for its spirited performance and restful comfort—and for the low price at which these fine car qualities are available.

Oldsmobile is dedicated to quality manufacture, to honest advertising and selling, and to a broad, sincere service policy. But first of all, and above everything, Oldsmobile believes in sound, progressive engineering as the foundation on which to build.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Aug. 17. (AP)—The cotton market opened steady today with an advance of 15 to 20 points in response to firm Liverpool cables and reports of continued dry weather in the southwest. There was considerable realizing but it was absorbed on slight setbacks, with the market selling up to 18 1/2 for October and 18 1/2 for March contracts during the early trading, or about 13 to 19 points net higher. Reports from Washington concerning prospective loans by the Federal Farm Board to cotton co-operatives to assist in financing their marketing operation were mentioned in connection with the advance. Much of the buying, however, was attributed to nervousness over crop progress in the southwest and cable advice that there had been buying on the Texas drought in Liverpool. The amount of cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 39,000 bales against 52,000 last year.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Aug. 17. (AP)—Heavy week-end profit taking retarded the resumption of the upward movement in today's brief session of the stock market. Buying operations centered largely in a select group of oil, public utility, railroad, aviation and broker shares, with some sharp gains also recorded by a few high priced specialties. Despite the absence of many large traders in extended week-end trips, trading was fairly heavy in volume.

The establishment of new high levels by several of the popular industrial averages so soon after the drastic break of a week ago yesterday tended to revive speculative confidence. Wall street also was pleased with the announcement of further gold imports from London, as it is generally agreed that each dollar in gold provides the basis for $10 in credit. In view of the 6 per cent rediscount rate by the New York Federal Reserve Bank, the rate for call money during the next few weeks is expected to be stabilized just above that level.

Standard Oil of New Jersey touched a new high at 73 3-4 and then sold off a few points from the top on official intimation that there was no foundation for rumors of a merger with Standard Oil of California. General Asphalt, Pan American A, Continental Oil and Indian Oil Refining, common, and certificates also moved into new high ground.

American Telephone was brought forward as the leader of the public utility group, climbing 10 points to a new high at 293 1-2. New peak prices were established by American Machine, Worthington Pump Packard (new), and Follansbee Bros. Bendix Aviation, Curtiss Aero, Commercial Investment Trust, International Business Machines and Allis-Chalmers sold 3 to 6 1-2 points higher.
