TOBACCO MART PREPARED FOR OPENING DAY

Countless Thousands Expected to Attend Opening Here September 3rd.

Thousands of persons from many sections of the county are expected to be present at the opening of the Greenville tobacco market September 3rd, according to prominent tobaccoists.

Crowds have been large in past years, but they were nothing like the countless hundreds who are expected to throng every available space at the opening of the market. Preparations for the opening are well advanced and the doors are expected to be thrown open before the opening of the market. Ample preparations have been made to care for these people. Tobacco town at this time is taking on new life, and within the next few days numbers of changes in a business way will be perfected to take care of the uncounted thousands to come here on that day while the season is many Arabs.

There is something about the Greenville tobacco market this season that is proving a greater draw than ever before. What is it? Go down in tobacco town and look around and see for yourself the numerous changes that have taken place since last season. It seems as if some fairy has waved a magic wand over this district, turning out of the ground, to employ a figure of speech, literally transforming the section into a great expanse of business district.

The improvements to warehouses and red brick plants have increased their capacity to such extent that the market will be able to handle nearly 1,700,000 pounds of tobacco daily without congestion. The tobacco men have increased their facilities until they can easily keep pace with daily sales and then have something to spare if this should become necessary.

Many forces have contributed to the unparalleled development of the Greenville tobacco market. Chief among them is the strong personal interest manifested by the entire citizenship of the city. Now, probably, has a population residing in a strictly agricultural community given more hearty co-operation to the tobaccoists in their effort to make this one of the greatest bright leaf sales centers in the country. Every body seems to have joined forces in behalf of this one cause, and the future is bright for even greater expansion.

All of this has invited the confidence of the hundreds of growers who sell here during the course of the season, and when the auctioneer's voice begins its monotonous drone next week numbers of new faces will be seen here.

The tobacco this season will be fully harvested by the time of the opening day. Already a majority of the growers have stripped the fields and cured their crops. By the first of the month everybody will have their entire crop packed and stored away only awaiting the hand of time to move around to September 3rd for their annual bid. This is one of the greatest bright leaf seasons in the world.

TO PICK JURY WEDNESDAY IN STRIKE CASE

Venue of 200 Men Summoned in Murder Hearing At Charlotte.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Selection of the jury that will try the case of sixteen members, officials and workers of the National Textile Workers Union and affiliated organizations on charges of murder will not get started until Wednesday morning. A special venire of 200 was being summoned by deputy sheriffs.

The sixteen are charged with responsibility for the death on June 1 of O. F. Aderholt, Gastonia police chief. The delay in starting the jury selection was made known at noon today when court recessed until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. During the two hours of today's session the court disposed of three defense motions, drew the names of 200 persons for jury duty and ordered that the defense be granted the privilege of questioning certain state witnesses.

Judge M. V. Barnhill, presiding at the special term of Mecklenburg Superior court called when a change of venue was granted from Gaston county, announced that he would head arguments of defense counsel on undisposed of motions tomorrow. Tomorrow afternoon will be given over to attorneys conferences and examination of state witnesses by the defense.

Big Zeppelin Completes Perilous Flight Across Pacific To Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Guard immediately marched onto the field, forming a human chain around the sky conqueror during the mooring work.

Six naval planes circled overhead as the big silver snip came to earth. The nose of the newest trans-Pacific liner touched the mooring mast at 5:35 a. m.

The first word from the passengers of the Zeppelin was from Lady Grace Drummond Hay of London. "I am so glad to be back in America" she said.

"A very marvelous trip, a wonderful experience," was the comment of Sir Hubert Wilkins, Australian explorer and passenger.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, who was seriously ill for two days of the trip from Tokyo, was rushed by motor to a downtown hotel. Arrangements had been made to issue a statement, but a written statement he had prepared last night was lost as the wind tore it from his hand while he leaned from his control room window.

Those with whom Dr. Eckener had talked said he was highly enthusiastic over the success of the trip and convinced that it thus far had demonstrated the commercial feasibility of lighter-than-air transportation in ocean commerce.

Sir Hubert Wilkins said "it was pleasant to take this trip for pleasure, and be free from responsibility. However, the globe tour has proved to us the value of meteorological forecast. Before air lines can be operated successfully we must have greater cooperation among weather experts, and reports from many more fields."

Annual Pitt County Fair To Open September 30th; Work Started On Ground

A corps of men were busy at the Pitt County Fair Grounds today putting building and grounds in condition for the annual Pitt County Fair to be held in this city the week of September 30th, according to information given out today by Haywood Dail, secretary.

The fair this year will open on Monday night instead of Tuesday as customary. Mr. Dail said that constantly changing conditions had made it advisable to throw the gates open a day earlier than usual in order to give the countless thousands of people in this section an opportunity of enjoying the varied attractions of the county's annual exposition.

The fair this year will reflect as much growth along all lines as any other attraction in previous years, the secretary said. Every effort has been made to provide the highest class entertainment, he said, and midway will be a veritable avenue of fun and gaiety. Midway this year will be in charge of the West Greater Shows, said to be the largest aggregation of fun-makers and entertainers on the road. They have brought together some of the world's best shows and amusement devices and come to Pitt county with a reputation of furnishing the best to be found at fairs.

As usual there will be numbers of free acts pulled off during the afternoon and night in front of the grandstand. One of the feature acts will be presented by the Honey Family. This same act appeared at the State Fair at Raleigh last season, and Mr. Dail was so impressed with it that he immediately signed the Honey family for their appearance at the Pitt County Fair this season.

The band stand in the main grandstand will be occupied by Basil's Madison Square Band, one of the big musical organizations of New York city. Aside from rendering numbers of lively instrumental numbers during the afternoon and evening programs, the musicians also have features in the way of vocal numbers. This is the first time such a celebrated organization of musicians has been brought to this section, and the Fair secretary expressed himself as highly gratified at being able to obtain their services.

The race program, Mr. Dail said, will be up to the usual high standard. Numbers of outstanding horses of this and other sections of the country will be seen in action from day to day, and lovers of this kind of sport will be treated to a complete program each afternoon.

Considerable attention has been given to the thousands of exhibits to be shown in the various exhibit buildings while the fair is in progress. The resources and possibilities of the county will be set forth in an interesting way through exhibits of the farms, schools, and homes, and the collection is expected to be as extensive. If not more so, than in any year since the Fair has been in progress.

NEW STORE ON FIFTH STREET IS COMPLETED

Montgomery-Ward to Throw Open Doors To The Public in Next Few Days.

The Montgomery-Ward building, on east Fifth street, has been completed and stocks were being placed today for the opening of the store sometime in the near future.

The building, one of the most imposing structures in the business district, was erected by W. E. Hooker for the Montgomery-Ward Co., at a cost of $65,000. The building is three stories high with mezzanine and is constructed of brick with a front that is a gem, from the standpoint of architectural splendor.

The building was erected by S. S. Tolar & Sons, contractors of Rocky Mount. The architect was J. J. Sawyer, of Greensboro.

A large force of employees were busy today arranging stock and making preparations for throwing the doors open to the public in a few days.

Mr. C. O. Webster, in showing a representative of the Reflector through the store, pointed out some of the problems which his company is trying to solve in connection with these stores which are, as yet, quite experimental in their nature. The use of glass in the fixtures has almost entirely been dispensed with, so that customers may handle any of the merchandise. Old fashioned counters which are rapidly disappearing in leading stores are replaced here with open top display tables where the merchandise is attractively displayed and can be handled by the customer.

Mr. Webster stated that his company is installing a limited number of these stores. "We are trying to discover," said Mr. Webster, "the most practical method of carrying in stock a large range of the more than 33,000 items in our catalogue. While our business has grown to enormous proportions, we feel that a great many more people will order by mail if they have an opportunity to buy some of our merchandise over-the-counter and thus have an opportunity to judge the quality of our goods."

Mr. Webster stated that Montgomery Ward & Company stores are considered a great asset in the towns where they are now located and displayed telegrams, letters and newspaper clippings indicating that the tremendous growing power of the big mail order house though its intensive advertising is undoubtedly reflected in increased business for all the merchants in the towns where these stores are located.

At Lancaster, Pa., more than thirty thousand rural customers attended the opening of the Montgomery Ward store there. The merchants of Arkansas City, Kansas declared that Ward's opening day there was the greatest shopping event in the history of that city. Mr. Webster stated that his company is now being urged by Chambers of Commerce and business organizations all over the country to install stores because of the well established fact that they draw rural trade from very great distances. He states that it is quite common in these days of good roads and automobiles to have customers come as far as eighty miles to trade at these stores.

The agreement is expected to bring to an end the four weeks old walk-out which was precipitated when the company discharged several dozen men who had joined the United Textile Workers Union. Troops were called out a week ago today when an effort to reopen the mill was frustrated by several hundred strikers and sympathizers.

Mother of Four Is Arrested For Making Whiskey

Charlotte, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Florence Shanks, also known as Mrs. George Alexander, mother of four children, today was in jail here, charged with violating the federal prohibition law, after matching wits for five days with federal officers.

She is accused of moonshining and making home brew for sale. Meanwhile officers said Mrs. Shanks' four children, ranging in years from three to twelve, were destitute.

"I did not want to violate the prohibition law, but I had to make home brew and whiskey and sell it so I could feed my children," officers said the woman told them.

NEGRO SHOT TO DEATH IN THE BAMA SECTION

"Blackheart" Butler Drops Before Accurate Aim of Willie Hunt, Negro.

James Butler, better known as "Blackheart" among the colored element of Greenville, was shot to death by another negro by the name of Willie Hunt in an altercation in the Bama, colored section of the city, Sunday morning about twelve o'clock. With three shots from Hunt's gun lodged in his chest, "Blackheart" is said to have charged Hunt around the house and then dropped dead as he picked up an axe from a woodpile in the backyard and attempted to continue his assault.

Hunt immediately made his escape and officers reported today that no information regarding his whereabouts had been obtained. The shooting occurred at the home of Richard Hunt, brother of the slayer, and created more than general excitement among the hundreds of colored people residing in that vicinity.

According to evidence brought out at the inquest conducted this morning by Coroner E. S. Williams, "Blackheart" went to the home of Richard Hunt evidently set for a row. He cursed and raved and after heated argument he and Richard Hunt engaged in a fistic engagement.

Willie Hunt is said to have been "Blackheart" to leave the premises and not cause any trouble, but when the battle continued, Hunt ran into the house, got his pistol, returned and opened fire on the intruder. Four times Hunt fired at "Blackheart" and only one time did his aim go wild. Three bullets took effect in the chest, but they were not sufficient to stop "Blackheart," who turned on the man with the gun and gave chase until he dropped dead with the axe in his hands.

DERBY FLIERS BEGIN RACES AT TWO POINTS

First Fliers Take off From Los Angeles and Miami Bound For Cleveland.

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 26.—(AP)—V. A. Grant, of Cincinnati, was the first to take off from the Birmingham-Nashville leg of the Miami-Cleveland air derby this morning. Grant took the air at 9 o'clock and the other thirteen participants followed at one minute intervals.

Captain Frank Courtney, of New York, lost two minutes at the take-off when he failed to get started in fifth place but was off after making adjustments. The pilots were to pause at Nashville for lunch before going to Louisville for the final stop-over. They are scheduled to reach Cleveland Tuesday.

Metropolitan Airport, Los Angeles, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Lee Schoenharf took off here at 12:35 a. m. today for Cleveland, the first of the non-stop Los Angeles to Cleveland National air race fliers to leave. He hoped to make the trip in twelve hours. Five other entrants in the $10,000 race last night announced they would not start until tomorrow. Schoenharf declared the rules permitted him to take off this morning. The five other entries in the race planned to depart early tomorrow after midnight. Schoenharf said before the start he wanted to get on from the congestion which he anticipated would attend the formal takeoff.

His monoplane took the air without difficulty and after circling the port once immediately headed toward the east. The other entrants who agreed to make their hop at the same time included: Leut. Harry J. Brown, Cleveland air mail pilot; John Woods, Wauaua, Wis., millionaire; O. C. LeBoutillier, New York clubman; Captain Roscoe Turner, who just returned from a round trip passenger flight to New York City and Colonel Art Gobel, Pacific flier and holder of transcontinental speed marks.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 26.—(AP)—D. C. Warren of Oakland, Calif., got away first here today in the Oakland-Cleveland air derby. He left the field at 9:05 a. m. and was followed at two minute intervals by five other pilots in the race. The schedule called for a stop at Cheyenne, Wyo., for fuel and lunch before continuing to Omaha to spend the night.

J. O. Donaldson, Newark, N. J., Robert C. Nagle, Oakland, Joe Barrows, Oakland, Loren W. Mendell, Los Angeles, and Bob W. King, Los Angeles, followed in the order named.

King, who was forced down at Elko, Nev., yesterday by a storm, arrived at Salt Lake City airport at 3:29 this morning.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Led by Lieutenant W. B. Clark, Portland, eight fliers in the Portland-Cleveland air race sped out of St. Paul today on their way to Milwaukee, the next control point. Lieutenant Clark took off at 12 noon and was followed at three-minute intervals by the other seven entrants.

Hoover's Activity During Week-End Closely Guarded

Madison, Va., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Th end of another weekend in his mountain camp near here came today for President Hoover and with it the usual early morning trip back to Washington.

His activities during this trip were more closely guarded than on any other, and virtually nothing was known of events in the camp since he and his party arrived Friday. Secretary Adams and Mayor General Neville, commandant of the Marine Corps, were among the guests, and it is believed the president discussed with them the pending naval reduction negotiations with Great Britain.

While Mr. Hoover relaxed in his camp, the county supervisors of Madison county which last week formally bade him welcome as a "week-end citizen," moved to make more pleasant his trips from the White House.

In Culpeper county the president travels two sides of a triangle about five miles in length over dirt and oil-traced roads. Meeting in Culpeper with citizens, the Madison officials launched a campaign to complete the other leg of the triangle and save him several miles of travel.

Published List Points To Real Opportunities

Entrants and Votes Are Shown, Nominations Still Allowed.

With the first publication of vote standing today of candidates in The Reflector automobile and cash distribution the real competitive days of the campaign begin. From now on those of the public who are interested in the fortunes of a friend or acquaintance will have a way of watching their progress and be enabled to lend moral support and actual assistance.

The brief time which has elapsed since the first announcement of the election has been a preparatory period for the first people to enter. Of course, nominations are not closed now and there is plenty of room for many more to get in and win. Some few have gotten started in the race for the four automobiles and unlimited number of cash prizes, as is shown in the list of all votes cast for publication today.

It will be noted that many so far entered have not yet accumulated votes from subscriptions, their nomination votes and a few coupons representing the total credits as yet. Many of these folks are destined to get under way, however, and make themselves contenders right away. And it will also be interesting to watch the addition of new names to the list in any and all of the districts in the days to come.

Of course, there will also be some of those listed today who will vanish from the list. The only way not to win in this campaign is to be one who drops out or not to enter at all. If anyone does anything they win something.

Noting Reported In Mexican State

Mexico City, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Tolson dispatches to Mexico City news here today said nothing was reported yesterday from various parts of the state of Oahu, where gubernatorial elections were held. One person was killed, two perhaps fatally wounded, and more than a hundred injured to a lesser degree.

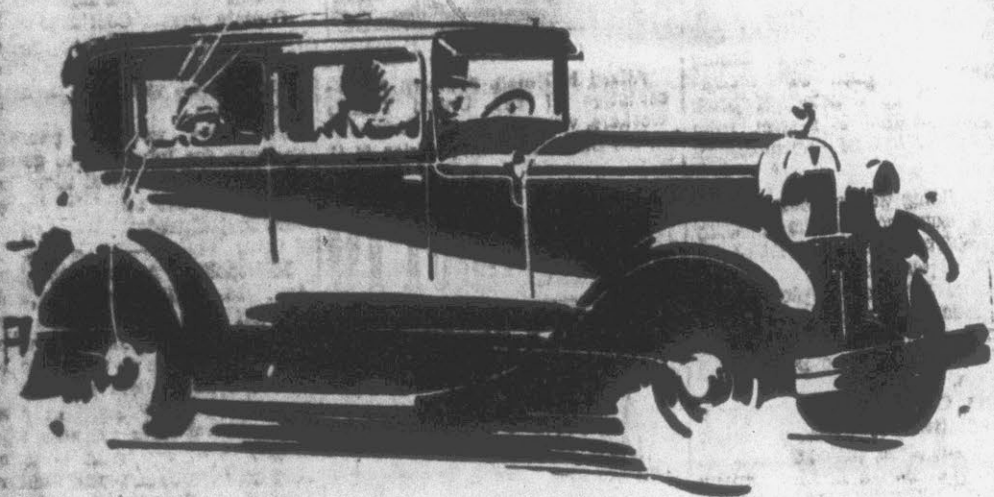

Several contingents of British troops, numbering 650 men, arrived here from Egypt late Sunday and immediately began to patrol the streets, giving rise to hope of improvement in conditions which steadily had grown more serious during the preceding 24 hours.

ANSWERS QUESTION ABOUT CHESTERFIELD ADVERTISEMENT

How rapidly the public is becoming "air minded" is shown by the surprising number of queries received for information about the type of airplane displayed on the current billboard advertising Chesterfield cigarettes.

The poster in question shows a monster "ship" in full flight, this symbol being used to dramatize the slogan, "Ever Mounting Popularity," as illustrative of the rapid growth of the well-known brand in public favor.

Salesmen for the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company, the Chesterfield manufacturers, report that they are kept busy answering the question, "What is it?" In each case the inquirer seeks specific information as to the type of plane used as a model.

As a matter of fact, the artist, Mr. C. E. Chambers, visited a number of the airports and flying fields in the New York district studying modern airplane design. His final painting represents a monster cabin monoplane combining the newest features of all the leading models used in commercial transport, and embodying some idealistic refinements which the experts declared would inevitably come as the art of serial navigation advance.

The poster is one of a striking series of designs which this famous artist was commissioned to paint.

Local Young Women Spend Twelve Days at Recreation Center On Pamlico.

Several Greenville young women returned home Saturday from a twelve day stay at Camp Pitt. They were Misses Louisa Mae Barker, Edna Earl Baum, Louise Briley, Lillian Brown, Margaret Clay, Louise Curran, Irma Cobb, Dunn, Allie Lee Fleming, Zelle Foley, Margaret Hardee, Alma Lee, Florence Moyer, Martha Scoville, Margaret Tyson, Mildred Winborne and Elizabeth Powell, of Wilson.

Camp Pitt is situated at Kapp Kiro, between New Bern and Morehead on the Neuse river, and is an ideal place for a camp.

The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. J. Lindsay Savage; camp physician, Dr. W. E. Evans, of Rowland; life guards, Mr. W. S. Evans, of Hemp; and Mr. Reginald Godwin, of Fairfield.

Sam and Willie, the camp cooks, added much to the pleasure of the campers, too, with their excellent meals and acrobatic dancing.

While in camp the girls took part in many contests and activities in which letters or awards were given. Among those who won letters for first places in different contests were: Louisa Mae Barker, Lillian Brown, Louise Curran, Zelle Foley, Margaret Hardee, Elizabeth Powell, Margaret Tyson and Margaret Clay. Louise Briley won one letter and one star.

Florence Moyer won a letter for her acrobatic stunts and a star for swimming.

Edna Earle Baum won a letter for the best marine collection, a star for swimming and a star for neatness in her cottage.

When the camp opened there were six girls who could not swim at all, but when it closed all of them could swim at least fifty feet, float and dive. Margaret Hardee won first place in the beginners' class.

Among the experienced swimmers Margaret Tyson won for herself first place, earning a letter and an enviable record.

One the last evening in camp the girls had a beach picnic, after which they were asked to vote on the campers they thought best fitted the following requirements:

1. Neatness in cottage and person.
2. Participation in camp activities.
3. Willingness to do her share of camp work cheerfully and well.
4. Cheerfulness of disposition and friendliness of attitude toward other campers.
5. Truthfulness and honesty.
6. Loyalty.

After all votes were counted it was found that Margaret Clay received the most with Lillian Brown and Edna Earle Baum tying for second place. Margaret Clay was then presented with a silver loving cup, upon which was engraved, "Best Camper, Camp Pitt, 1929."

Everyone enjoyed the camp and hated to have to leave it. They all agreed to go again next summer for an even longer stay.

Chapter 13 THE "CUB" IS LICKED

Veronica smiled at the amazement which was written in my expression. But amazement could hardly be regarded as unnatural under the circumstances. It was enough that a girl like Veronica should ask me to help her hide an unknown man—Roger Pell's murderer, for all I knew—but to learn my mother had entered the conspiracy, and without a word to me, was sufficient to shake anyone.

"Don't look as if you'd swallowed a slug, Mr. Grenofen," said Veronica, with a touch of her old manner.

"Very well," I said. "If this is the order, so be it."

"Agreed? Then I'm eternally grateful. But there's one other thing: will you walk home with me?"

Would I like a million!

"Now?" I asked.

"Yes. But that's not all. If we should meet anybody on the road will you be very kind and attentive, even affectionate? I hate it like mush—but if I give you the word, will you even paw me about?"

"Miss Seabroke!"

"I mean it. When I say 'paw,' you paw me brisk and hearty."

The change in Veronica was amazing. Her dejection had gone and her blue eyes blazed with fun. Was it all a huge joke, I wondered—one of Veronica's "monkey tricks," as Seabroke would have said?

I shook myself, shook off the glooms and horrors of the afternoon and the suspicions of the last five minutes, and capered into Veronica's own mood. We set off for home.

"Terrible lot of outsiders still left in the world, don't you think?" she asked, apparently apropos of nothing.

"Anything biting you at present?"

"Martin Somerfield just missed one last night," said Veronica. "You know—when you were so understanding—of course you don't want to know any more about it?"

"Not a word," I declared.

"In that case, I'd better tell you. An outsider molested me, and there were reasons why I didn't want a fuss made last night. But if an outsider molested me again tonight I should be grossly offended."

"You may rely on it," said I, "that nobody will molest you tonight."

"Oh, I do," said Veronica.

"Best Camper, Camp Pitt, 1929."

Everyone enjoyed the camp and hated to have to leave it. They all agreed to go again next summer for an even longer stay.

Man Arrested For Theft of Bicycle

Ernest Cobb, of Rocky Mount, was being held in the county jail charged with the theft of a bicycle from the Home Furniture Company Saturday afternoon. He will receive hearing in the next session of county court. Cobb was caught by representatives of the firm shortly after stealing the bicycle. He is said to have told officers that the son of the manager of the store told him he might ride the bicycle. The child, however, said the man told him to go into the store that Santa Clause was in there, and when the child had gone the man mounted the bicycle and rode away. He was overtaken by members of the firm in an automobile a short time later.

Death Treasure

by R. A. J. WALLING

SYNOPSIS: Tom Grenofen loves Veronica Seabroke and the two are being drawn by strange forces into the mystery of the "keyhole murder"—the shooting of Roger Pell at the door of Bertram Fotherbury's library. A few hours after the murder, Grenofen receives a puzzling request. Veronica plans to walk home from a nearby town that night, her mother tells Tom, and asks him to inform her of Pell's death. When Tom meets Veronica on a lonely seaside road, she is strangely agitated, then blurts out that she is hiding a man along the road, and more amazing—asks Tom to entertain this hunted fugitive as a visiting relative in his home.

the sandhills. Veronica saw first the figure that moved into the road from between two hummocks. I could not see the features of the man who stood in the middle of the road. But he was young and well dressed in a plus-four suit. I did not recognize his voice when he spoke.

His words and tone gave me a sensation of pins and needles in the knuckles. When we were within two yards of him he still stood in the middle of the narrow road, barring the way.

"Lo, Veronica!" said he.

And then I understood that he was not quite sober.

Veronica made no answer. I released her arm and put her gently behind me.

Then I took the young man by his collar and anything else I could catch in that region, and fetched him out of the road. He came to rest on his haunches. I fear rather abruptly, against a hillock.

The young man recovered his feet and came at me, shouting out: "So you're the little devil's bully, eh? You're a dam' little fool, Veronica, and you'll soon find it out."

The rush stopped when he observed that I had placed my right hand under guard of the left. I said: "If you were sober I'd knock spot, where the cub went to earth. A hundred yards from Sandpoint, I met him walking along the road holding a handkerchief to his nose. He passed me without speaking.

I turned and followed him past Seabroke's towards Blackwater, and stood at the bottom of Woodcot Lane until he was out of sight and hearing.

With a mind full of puzzlement and a sub-conscious sense of pleasure in the queer little episode, I reached home. It was nearly 11 o'clock.

My mother, meeting me in the hall, whispered: "Another visitor—Professor Laxton."

I sat down hard on a chair. "That's awkward, Mother."

"Yes, isn't it? Did I tell you I was expecting an old friend of my family, sort of second cousin, tonight?"

"No. What's his name?"

"Let me see—John, I think. Yes, John Merryweather."

Merryweather was my mother's maiden name and John Merryweather was a bachelor cousin of hers in London.

(Copyright, 1929, Wm. Morrow Co.)

Cousin John Merryweather enters the story in tomorrow's installment.

Department of Agriculture reports on the apple crop throughout this country and Canada indicate a 25 to 50 per cent higher yield this year with the fruit of a finer type than the average crop. In view of this, if there is anything in that old adage, we should have no trouble in keeping the doctor away this Fall.

Mr. Merchant: Are you letting the folks in your trade territory know that you are in business and what you have to offer them in the way of merchandise? The Reflector reaches five thousand homes in this trade territory daily. Our columns offer the best medium for carrying your message to prospective customers. Let us convince you that advertising in our columns pays.

Just a little more than a month from now the gates will swing open on the annual Pitt County Fair. No fair is complete without exhibits and every community should be interested in this phase of the annual county affair. No doubt there is something on every farm in the county that would prove an interesting sight to persons who will visit the fair. We urge every farmer to begin now to pick out some of his choice products for the fair. It is your fair.

STEPPING OUT

That Greenville and Pitt County as each year passes are coming more into the limelight as the center of the bright leaf tobacco industry is set forth in the fact that the Southern Agriculturalist in its issue of August 15 devotes its entire first page to an article concerning the tobacco industry in and about Greenville. The article is not one of propaganda, but facts compiled by members of the magazine's staff. Greenville and Pitt County should be proud of the fact that our section should receive such good publicity unsolicited. The magazine article will be a revelation to thousands of persons who never before have heard of Greenville and Pitt County.

ABOUT TOWN

The death of General Lawrence Tyson, of Tennessee, was received with profound regret by the hundreds of people of this county who knew him and felt like he belonged to them.

Born on a farm near Greenville, General Tyson was one of the many Pitt county men who went out into the world and carved their names in the hall of fame.

Always taking an active interest

In politics, General Tyson won his way to the highest honor which the people of his state could confer upon him. He was prominently mentioned for the presidency, and no doubt would have made an excellent showing for his party had he been put into the running.

"But the greatest honor came to him probably during the great conflict to put down German autocracy. President Wilson appointed him to command the Thirtieth, Old Hickory Division, one of the most famous divisions of the war.

"General Tyson covered himself with glory during the war, and was awarded the distinguished service medal, the highest honor which the nation can bestow upon one of her military leaders.

"While Tennessee no doubt feels that she has lost one of her most distinguished leaders, Pitt county at the same time feels like she has lost not only a leader but one of her very own, a man who overcame great circumstances to carve his name in the hall of the illustrious sons of the nation."

"We are going to try to conclude the campaign for the raising of funds with which to advertise Greenville next Tuesday," said a member of the soliciting committee of the Merchants Association.

"There is yet a considerable territory to be covered, but we hope to be able to cover it tomorrow and to be able to make a complete report of our activities next day.

"Half of the desired sum of $3,500 was raised during the two canvasses last week, and we feel that the rest should be contributed in the final drive, especially since the campaign has been given due publicity and people have had an opportunity of deciding about what they want to do in the matter.

"If you should be one of the persons the committees have not yet visited, think over what has been accomplished by advertising in the past and then decide how much you want to give to the cause this year. Bear in mind the growth the city has made the past year and that this calls for more money, then dig down into your pocket and prepare to give as liberally as you can to this great cause."

"Bruce Sugg is right about the time for action on the part of Greenville people to bring about an improvement in the roads from this city to Pinetops, Fountain and Vanceboro," declared a business man today, speaking of the talk which the local tobaccoist made before members of the Kiwanis club last Friday night.

"The sections referred to are among the most prolific producers of tobacco in this section of the country. They would market more of their crops here if they had highways as good as those leading to other big trade centers. In fact, it has been said by numbers of people from those communities that they had rather sell in Greenville but that they dreaded coming over the bad roads.

"This is a problem which Greenville business men should take under consideration at the earliest moment possible. These roads lead to progressive communities and there is no reason in the world why they should not be hard surfaced like some others leading to districts not near as important from the standpoint of agriculture.

"It is to be hoped some action will be taken in the near future to arouse more interest in the paving of these roads and that it will be called to attention of the highway commission at the earliest convenience."

"This is the last week before the opening of the Greenville tobacco market," reminded a citizen today, as he watched preparations under way in tobacco town for the annual event that means so much to the people of this community.

"The factories and warehousemen have made elaborate preparations for the market opening and when the voice of the auctioneer begins droning forth its message to the hundreds of growers Greenville will experience another one of those seasons of intense activity. It is a season of good time, of easy money and good humor, and Greenville and Pitt county people are always glad to see it come.

"Nobody knows anything about how tobacco is going to sell, but as in past years, they are looking forward to opening sales to give them some idea of the range of prices. With the short crop in the immediate territory, everybody is hoping for strong prices. It is their only relief from a period of depression that has caused them to live frugally the past few months, spending only whenever it has been absolutely necessary. It is an uncomfortable situation, and as a result the opening of the market this season will be of greater significance than ever to the countless thousands of people in this great tobacco producing section."

MILITARY UNIT RETURNS FROM ENCAMPMENT

Greenville Guardsmen Win Considerable Recognition at Camp Bragg.

Members of the local unit of the 113th Field Artillery of the North Carolina National Guards returned yesterday from Camp Bragg where they have been in encampment during the past fifteen days. All of the 53 men and three officers were said to be in splendid physical condition after the strenuous life in the military camp.

The local unit, recognized as one of the best of the young organizations, came in for more than ordinary distinction this year. They captured the baseball loving cup, won second place in track activities, and were given a one hundred per cent rating on military discipline.

Colonel Joyner, one of the leading officers in camp, is said to have told Captain Lagler that he was highly gratified at the splendid showing made by the Greenville artillerymen, and felt that they deserved all of the honors which had been conferred upon them.

Although the unit was not up to normal strength, it was the largest organization which Greenville had ever sent to camp before. The boys were in excellent condition for camp life when they entrained two weeks ago, and it was this fact that enabled them to make such a good showing both in the field of sports and in the military realm.

The officers of the unit expressed themselves as highly gratified at the recognition received by their charges, and hope to be able to capture even more laurels at the next encampment a year hence.

AL SINGER TO BATTLE CUBAN ON THURSDAY

New York, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Two of the reigning sensations of the fistic industry mix this week.

Kid Chocolate, Cuban negro featherweight, and Al Singer, meet in a 12 round bout at the Polo grounds on Thursday night with expectations of a $200,000 "gate."

Chocolate's career in this country has been one continuous string of victories over bantams and featherweights. He never has been beaten although Joe Scalfaro, hard punching New York bantamweight, gained a draw with him.

Singer stepped along the fistic trail much the same way until he was knocked out by Ignacio Fernandez. After that reverse, however, he came back better than ever, knocking out Andre Routsis, featherweight champion, among others.

The two youngsters meet 128 3-4 pounds with prospects that Chocolate will be outweighed by about four pounds.

Jack Kid Berg, of England, and Spug Meyers, Chicago junior welterweight, are booked in the ten round semi-final.

Bushy Graham, Utica, N. Y., featherweight, takes on vital Geroro of Spain, in a ten rounder in Philadelphia tonight.

Benny Schwartz and Benny Tressito of Newark, N. J., hook up in the semi-final.

At Mills Stadium, Chicago, Thursday night, Tuffy Griffith, Sioux City, Ia., is matched in a ten rounder with big boy Peterson, New Orleans heavyweight. Andre Routsis faces Johnny Datto of Cleveland, at that city on Wednesday night. Routsis' title will not be at stake.

Other bouts on the National schedule include: Monday—at Brooklyn, Dexter Park, Sammy Dorfman, New York, vs. Augie Pisano, New York, six rounds.

Tuesday—at Los Angeles, James J. Braddock, Jersey City, vs. Yale Okun, New York, light heavyweights, ten rounds; at Cincinnati, Mike O'Dowd, Columbus, O., vs. Freddy Miller, Cincinnati, featherweights, ten rounds.

Thursday—at New York, Fort Hamilton, Arthur Dekuh, Italy, vs. Italian Jack Herman, heavyweights, ten rounds.

Friday—at San Diego, Santiago Zorrilla, Los Angeles, vs. Raymond Contoya, San Diego, featherweights, 7 rounds; at San Francisco, Young Abbott, Fresno, vs. Bucky Lawless,

BUGS TAKE SECOND GAME FROM GREENS

Goldsboro, Aug. 24.—Skelton, on the mound for Greenville, was not so effective against the Bugs here today, and the locals took the second game 4 to 2 to make a sweep of the series.

Vaughan, twirling for Goldsboro, pitched a masterful game of ball, holding the visitors to scattered hits while the Bugs nicked Skelton for eight safeties.

Two Greenies' errors and a wild pitch and a wild throw by Skelton aided the Bugs' cause considerably. Both of the Greenville tallies came in the eighth-inning as a result of LaFleur's error in center field.

Bickham started with the stick for the locals with a triple and a single out of three trips to bat. Cox, for the Greenies, secured two bingles out of three times up.

REDS AND CUBS SPLIT DOUBLE BILL SUNDAY

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer)

The long-awaited grudge-meeting between the Reds and the Cubs came off in Cincinnati yesterday, but hardly as advertised. Lured by threats and counter-threats of what would happen when the Messrs. Wilson, Kolp and Donohue found themselves once more within the confines of a single ball park 35,432 clients appeared before the turnstiles with cash in hand. They expected at least a ten round bout, but all was two very business-like ball games played by peaceable young men who apparently did not know how to make a hostile gesture. Red Lucas won the opener for the home team by 6 to 3, his seventeenth triumph of the season, but Guy Bush turned the tables for Chicago in the nightcap, winning his eighteenth game by a score of 10 to 1 after being held 0 to 0 by Pete Donohue for seven rounds.

The crowd, the largest paid attendance ever accommodated at Redland Field, was not hostile to the pennant-bound Bruins. Hack Wilson's circus catches helped to cheer them considerably.

The even break enabled the Cubs to stretch their margin half a game to 13 full contests as the Pirates again bowed to the Giants, this time by 10 to 5. The Reds' edge now is exactly the same size as that owned by the wily Mr. McGillicuddy in the rival league. The Pirates are only three games ahead of the Giants, who took three out of four. Lester Sweetland pitched the Phillies to a 4 to 0 triumph over the Robins in Brooklyn yesterday, allowing only four hits, and Willie Sherdel shut out the Braves in Boston by an identical score while allowing five hits.

The game at the Polo Grounds was marked by Mel Ott's thirty-second home run and by Cy Rigler's manipulation of a broadcasting device which amplified announcement of batteries and player changes to fans throughout the park.

After 32 scoreless innings, the master minds of the Yankees devised a plan for getting runs across the plate, at once simple and effective. It was merely to have Mr. Ruth step to the front and hammer the ball out of the lot, which he had neglected to do for some days until yesterday.

Putting this plan into operation against Wally Stewart in the fourth and ninth innings at Sportsman's Park yesterday, Mr. Ruth snapped the Yankee string of scoreless innings and lifted his personal home run total from 33 to 35, but failed to win the ball game, which the Browns did at the expense of Roy Sherid by 3 to 2. Ruth's two homers broke up a tie which had existed among the Yankee slugger and Hack Wilson and Chuck Klein.

The Athletics also lost yesterday when Al Thomas allowed just four hits to win by 3 to 0. It was three out of four for the White Sox over the leaders, who now have dropped six of their last eight. The Mackian lead remains fixed at 15 games because the Yankee record over the same period is identical.

Detroit finally won from Washington, stopping the Senators by 5 to 7 in 11 innings at Navin Field and the Indians divided a double-header with the rejuvenated Red Sox. Cleveland took the opener by 5 to 4 and Boston the nightcap by 5 to 3.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 1 to 12 points in response to steady Liverpool cables and reports of continued dry weather in the south. Prices held quite steady during the first few minutes but the weather map seemed to afford some encouragement for expectation of showers in the south and prices eased off after the early demand had been supplied.

By the end of the half hour active months were about 3 to 6 points net lower under liquidation and local selling while there was also selling here for New Orleans account. October sold off from 18.61 to 18.45 and March from 19.13 to 19.10.

Private cables reported trade calling and covering which had absorbed some hedge selling and liquidation in the Liverpool market.
