FATE OF LOST PLANE STILL BIG MYSTERY

Search for San Francisco carried to South California and Old Mexico.

Winslow, Ariz., Sept. 7.—(AP)—An aerial search for the missing plane... Searchers for the lost air liner, City of San Francisco.

Southern California searchers... reported an unconfirmed report that a tri-motored plane, flashing lights on and off, was seen over the Providence Mountains, seven miles north of Bagdad, at 6 p. m. Thursday.

The report, coming through Santa Fe railroad offices and quoting James L. Shooks, a section foreman, said the plane appeared to have been in low altitude.

Shooks declared the plane passed within his sight and apparently landed but that he was not sure. The sound of the motors ceased, he said, and whether the engines stopped or whether the plane had gone beyond his hearing he was unable to say.

Two planes from Colton, Calif., were assigned to fly over the Providence Mountain area on the length of Shooks' story. Shooks said he had been in the desert for several days and did not know that the air liner was missing until he saw newspapers yesterday.

Stories of three persons along the international border near Columbus, N. M., sent two newspaper men about 50 miles into the almost impenetrable border country of Chihuahua where a strange airplane was reported to have been sighted south of the line about 4 p. m. Tuesday. This area is some 200 miles south of the place where the City of San Francisco was last seen on its flight around Winslow.

Although the aerial armada searching for the sky liner scanned about 10,000 square miles of territory in Arizona and New Mexico yesterday without finding a trace of the plane the ships were destined for more work over that region.

St. Louis, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh took off from Lambert-St. Louis field in a Lockheed Vega plane at 5:20 a. m. C. S. T. today for Winslow, Ariz., to aid in the search for the missing air liner "City of San Francisco." He was accompanied by his wife.

According to reports from the wing field Colonel Lindbergh planned to stop tonight at Winslow, unless forced to land en route by fog or other weather conditions. Visibility was poor here at the time of his takeoff.

Kansas City, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Alek Jackson, St. Louis endurance flier, took off from here at 6:30 a. m. today for Albuquerque, N. M., to join in the search for the missing transcontinental air transport "City of San Francisco." Jackson, accompanied by his wife, left St. Louis yesterday in the hope of making a non-stop flight to New Mexico, a flight here because of heavy

PRICES ABOUT THE SAME ON LEAF MARIJUANA

Market sold over 600,000 pounds yesterday at a general average of $11.57.

The price situation remained almost stationary on the Greenville tobacco market yesterday and 696,412 pounds of bright leaf, the largest sale since the opening day, went for a total sum of $80,577.57. The general average for the day was given at $11.57.

The official report of K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales, which was made public this morning, also showed that the market disposed of 2,360,866 pounds of tobacco during the week for a total sum of $27,186.24 at a general average of $11.51 per hundred pounds.

This was in striking contrast to the same period last season when the market sold 2,279,984 pounds for $27,636.96 at an average of $12.22 per hundred pounds.

Sales were finished yesterday afternoon about three o'clock and auctioneers immediately began cleaning up their floors in preparation for receiving the offerings of the farmers next week. The growers were again warned to keep their tobacco in a dry condition, as this, it was believed, would play an important part in the price situation.

SAYS PICKETS WERE ORDERED SHOOT TO KILL

Policemen gives testimony at Strikers' Trial in Progress at Charlotte.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—Pickets going to the Lorry cotton mill the night of June 7 were ordered to "shoot to kill" anyone who tried to stop them, H. C. Jackson, Gastonia policeman, testified today in the trial of sixteen strikers and strike leaders charged with the murder of O. F. Adersholt, chief of police of Gastonia.

The order, he said, was given by Fred Erwin Beal of Lawrence, Mass., organizer for the National Textile Workers Union, who was leading the strike. Beal is on trial charged with first degree murder along with W. M. McGinnis, Louis McLaughlin, George Carter, K. Y. Hendricks, K. O. Byers, Delmar Hampton, Robert Allen, Joseph Harrison, Clarence Miller, N. F. Gibson, J. C. Heffner, and Russell Knight. While Amy Schechter, Sophie Melvin and Vera Buch are charged with second degree murder.

Jackson said that Beal, addressing the strikers, told them to go into the mill. "If anyone tries to stop you, 'shoot to kill,' he quoted Beal as saying. Jackson said he went to the lot on which Union headquarters and the strikers tent colony were located, in answer to a call that there had been trouble. When he heard Beal's statement he went closer to the platform on which the speaker stood but about that time some of the audience recognized him.

The policeman said that W. M. McGinnis threatened him and he left the lot. Jackson said he recognized Louis McLaughlin, who Sheriff Allen of Cleveland county yesterday testified confessed to firing the second shot in the fusillade that fatally wounded Adersholt and injured three other policemen and a union organizer, and K. Y. Hendricks.

Later Jackson said he and other officers stopped the picket line and asked the strikers to disperse. The guards about the tent colony, their guns at any time officers passed on the street in front of the headquarters. He said he never saw them do this when anyone else passed.

PLAN TO BRING ZEP TERMINAL TO THE SOUTH

Dr. Eckener says German Dirigible service to Come South of Baltimore

New York, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The American Terminal for German trans-Atlantic dirigible service is expected to be established in a city south of Baltimore, probably at Washington or Richmond, Dr. Hugo Eckener, skipper of the German dirigible Graf Zeppelin, announced today before leaving for Germany.

In establishing regular trans-Atlantic service, Dr. Eckener said, the German Zeppelin company is seeking the best weather areas in which to build a terminal, and in this connection he pointed out that a weather shift line runs east and west immediately north of Baltimore, making the section to the south more desirable for landing than points further north.

Dr. Eckener said he did not think the Graf Zeppelin would land at the naval air station at Lakehurst, N. J. again because he did not want to wear out the welcome extended the Graf on three previous occasions by naval authorities.

Dr. Eckener said that a station in the south would be the American home for the German craft, although he intimated and Paul W. Litchfield president of the Goodyear Zeppelin company, said that mooring masts would be necessary at such places as New York and Philadelphia, to permit passengers to land nearer the large centers of population. The hangar in the south would be a great service station, such as a drydock or home port is to an ocean liner.

RESCUE MAN IMPRISONED IN OLD WELL

After 42 hours in a Caved in well, Wilkins Priest is Liberated in Iowa

Ottumwa, Iowa, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Wilkins Priest, imprisoned for 42 hours in a caved-in well here, was released at 6:07 a. m. today. He cried for water as he was brought on a cot to the surface of a shaft which workers had started yesterday morning.

Workers had toiled incessantly since Thursday morning when Priest was buried under rocks and sand when the caving of the 35-foot well crumbled while he was cleaning it.

"Water," gasped Priest as he was carried on a cot through the 30-foot false shaft, which rescuers dug after it was found impossible to remove the debris from the well. Although his voice was weak his eyes were open and he apparently was rational, despite his trying ordeal.

Dr. D. L. Bester made a hasty examination at the shaft, but was unable to determine the extent of his injuries. It was feared his legs were paralyzed by the pressure of the debris.

Several Injured In Clash With Religious Sect

Nelson, B. C., Sept. 7.—(AP)—A company of Doukhobors, numbering 250 men, women and children, was camped near here today after a battle in the streets of the town with citizens and police.

The Doukhobors are a religious sect of Russian origin whose efforts to hold nude processions have resulted in frequent clashes with the police. A number of them were in jail here awaiting sentence for indecent exposure.

A line of Doukhobor marchers entered the town from their encampment yesterday and had advanced nearly to the center of the city when they were halted by a barricade of trucks and automobiles across the street.

They declared that they were on their way to jail to join their fellows and threatened to disrobe if they were not permitted to proceed.

A pitched battle ensued in the course of which one woman Doukhobor suffered a broken leg and a number of others suffered minor injuries. The fighting continued for an hour until police, firemen and citizens had driven the Doukhobors out of the city.

A large number of sons of freedom, self-styled outcasts from the main body of the Doukhobors, were tried here yesterday for holding a nude parade a week ago. Sixty-three have been found guilty of indecent exposure and as many more are awaiting trial.

DEAL SPEAKS BEFORE LOCAL KIWANIS CLUB

President of Club tells About Work For the Under-Privileged Children.

The problem presented by under-privileged children of the community received attention of Greenville Kiwanians gathered in regular semi-monthly session at the Rotary club last night, and President Ralph Deal imparted considerable information dealing with the subject, not only in this immediate locality but in other sections of the country.

The program last night was scheduled to have been in charge of Judge W. L. Whedbee, of County court, but he was called out of the city unexpectedly and could not fill the engagement. This left the chairman of the program committee flabbergasted, but President Deal voluntarily offered to come to the rescue and in oratorical effort which Bruce Sugg, premier spellbinder of the club would find it difficult to excel.

While the program was cut short by reason of the inability of Judge Whedbee to be present, the club enjoyed the usual supper, several songs and last, but not least by any means, several instrumental numbers played in concert by Misses Edna Smith and Florence Overton. The numbers were light and airy and met with such hearty approval of the tired business and professional men that each selection was greeted by a storm of applause. In fact, appreciation was so liberal that the young ladies were called back for two encore numbers.

President Ralph Deal was elected as a delegate to represent the club at the convention of Kiwanis to be held in the city of Greenville, S. C., during the month of November.

Deal was said to work of the local club in connection with the campaign in the interest of underprivileged children had been meant for undernourished children. The plan he said had been found to be quite effective, and the reports presented from time to time by the chairman of the committee in charge of the work showed that good results were being obtained. Other clubs, he indicated, were following the Greenville plan, and the outlook for improvement in the condition of undernourished children is brighter at this time than ever.

He told of hospitals at Chicago and Minneapolis and what the Kiwanians of the cities were doing to provide for the thousands of children whose parents are unable to provide for them. The children in many instances are receiving hospitalization free of charge, this in numbers of instances being made possible through the liberality of men of wealth in sympathy with their more unfortunate fellowmen.

Mr. Deal urged the Kiwanians to continue to give attention to this movement to improve the health and longevity of the citizens of tomorrow by providing proper nourishment and treatment for the growing young bodies today.

Tobacco Growers Told to Organize in North Carolina

Raleigh, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Tobacco growers of the southeast were today advised and urged to organize sensible, sane and efficient state cooperative associations in order to evolve a better and more orderly marketing of tobacco by James C. Stone of Kentucky, member of the Federal farm board representing the tobacco growers.

Mr. Stone, addressing more than 30 tobacco producers who gathered here at the call of former officials of the defunct Tri-State Tobacco Co-operative association, urged the farmers to organize so that they might secure aid from the Farm board for farmer owned and farmer controlled Co-operative marketing associations.

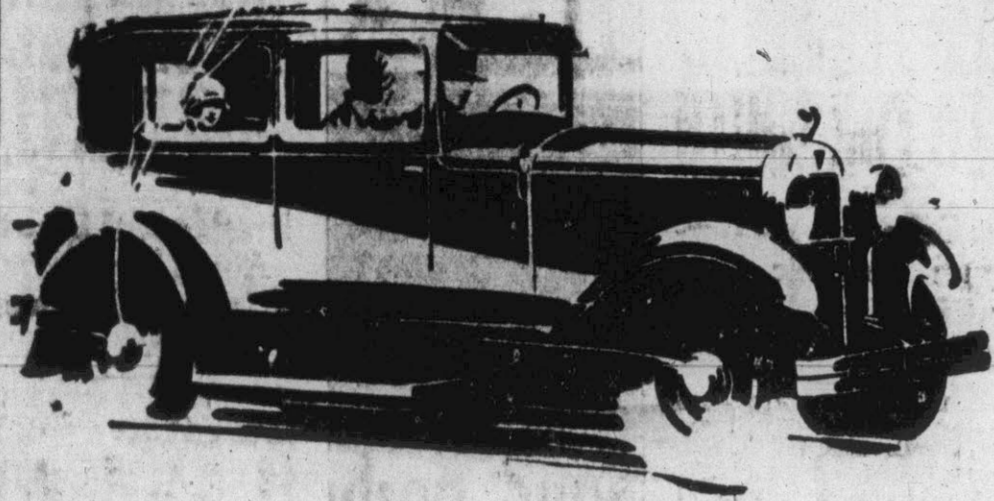

The meeting of representatives from North Carolina, south Carolina and Virginia was called to order by George Ross of Raleigh, who declared the meeting was called to consider its future as the tobacco grower. He was followed by Dr. Clarence Poe of Raleigh, also a former director, who further explained the purpose of the meeting, which was originally called to protest the payment of $75,000 additional in attorney's fees to three lawyers who were active in having the association placed in receivership. Their petition was heard by Judge I. M. Meekins in Federal court here today.

Great Britain Wins Schneider Cup Race

Ryde, Isle of Wight, Sept. 7.—(AP)—Great Britain won the tenth Schneider Cup race over the quadrilateral course on the Solent today, with Flying Officer H. R. D. Waghorn setting a new world record for speed of 329 miles per hour. The last Italian entry, Lieut. Giovanni Monti, on a Macchi-67, was forced down on his first lap. He apparently was uninjured.

Waghorn had previously traveled at a speed hitherto unknown to man; when like a silver bullet shot from a rifle, he streaked around one of his laps at 331.10 miles per hour.

Great Britain thus successfully defended, by an overwhelming margin the Schneider trophy which Lieut. Webster of Great Britain won in 1927.

Her sole competitor, Italy, was beset with hard luck throughout the race. Two of her airplanes were forced down and the only one to finish was far outclassed, though surpassing Webster's mark of 1927.

The speeds of 300 miles per hour which had been anticipated by some aviators were not even touched by the three British and three Italian pilots.

As the race drew to a close, Waghorn continued to push up his average, with 330.91 miles per hour for his sixth lap and 332.49 for his seventh.

His course average, however, fell

ONLY among cars of much higher price can you find any adequate comparison with the modish and beautiful design of the new Superior Whippet.
Mechanically, too, the new Superior Whippet offers many features found on cars costing two or three times as much. Whippet is the only low-priced car with all these important advantages: Full force-feed lubrication, silent timing chain; higher compression engine for more speed, power and pick-up; invar-strut pistons; extra long wheelbase; oversize balloon tires; "Finger-Tip Control"; and, in the Six, a seven-bearing crankshaft.

WORSHIP THROUGH INSPIRATION By The Rev. A. E. Harris, D.D. (Professor of the Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary at Philadelphia).

The true worship of God is through inspiration and not through a sense of fear or obligation. If we are to serve Jesus, with that sense of inspiration and not fear we need in a vision of the work we are going to do. In the physical world an architect visualizes the building he plans for erection; in the spiritual world we need a vision of the unseen so that we can accomplish the seen. And we must go out to do God's bidding with a sense of victory in our souls, not with a sense of defeat.

We sometimes fail to worship God in our service as well as in our services for we sometimes confuse service with services. We are put into the world not merely to come and worship on Sundays or on weekdays. We are put here to use in service that which God teaches. It is easy to be good if we are always in this atmosphere; it is easy to be good if we are always seated in the House of God. But what of tomorrow and the day after?

STICK TO THE FACTS While everyone now knows and realizes that tobacco opened low this week, there were still some places that sent out estimates that placed the price far above what it actually was, and together with these misleading reports added that growers were "satisfied" or "pleased" with the situation. No doubt in sending out such reports those responsible felt that they were giving their respective markets a good advertisement, but if they would only pause to give the matter thought they would realize that in the long run they are doing their markets and the tobacco growers an injustice. As we see it, the growers have no grounds to be pleased or satisfied with the situation, and we just as well face the facts as they are and stick to facts. While we are naturally interested in our own tobacco market and wish it to continue to receive a large patronage we owe it to the tobacco growers to give them the truth regarding the situation rather than a lot of propaganda, and for that reason we will print only official figures on our tobacco market. If every newspaper in the tobacco belt would do likewise and every state paper correspondent would stick to the facts as they are, we believe that the true situation would be more effectively impressed upon the minds of all.

Farmers everywhere would do well to discount all reports and market propaganda not backed up by the official figures.

ABOUT TOWN

The North Carolina Teacher, organ of the North Carolina Education association, has called upon teachers to keep the newspapers informed of their activities so the public may know what is being done in the world of education," observed a citizen today.

"I am glad to see the publication take this position. There are many things happening in our schools that would be of interest to the public, but which do not reach the newspapers because the teachers do not fully realize the importance of publicity.

"Let the folks know what your school is doing, Mr. Superintendent, and you can bet your last cent that you will get more co-operation than you ever got before."

"The death of Rev. J. M. Daniel, a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church, will be received with keen regret in this community," said a citizen today.

"Jim Daniels, as he was familiarly known in the many towns where he served his denomination for so many years, made many friends during his long stay in Greenville. He was one of those big hearted men, interested in everybody and everything, and his influence no doubt will be greatly missed in the denomination."

"It may be hard times," declared a citizen today, "but I am glad the fire department has seen fit to purchase new fires for one of the fire trucks in order to put it in good trim for future fires."

"That one truck may be instrumental in saving the city thousands of dollars. In fact, the fire deamon may cut loose one of these nights and entail loss several times the cost of the new tires, and it probably would be more had not the truck been in condition for hard service.

SMOOTH and QUIET AT EVERY SPEED

TAKE OLDSMOBILE out and try it—in the swift press of traffic and on the open road. You'll find dazzling acceleration, as smooth and stageless as the pick-up of an electric motor. You'll find exhilarating speed, with freedom from noise or vibration throughout the entire range. You'll find a tireless, effortless flow of power, with a tremendous reserve for steep hills and hard pulling.
Oldsmobile's big 62-horsepower engine is smooth and quiet at every speed. It rests on sound-deadening, vibration-absorbing rubber mountings of special design. The chassis, too, is rubber-cushioned wherever cushioning should be used. Fabric beading, where metal would otherwise meet metal, eliminates annoying body squeaks. And a special sound-insulating material between the body and the chassis creates a silenced interior.

In keeping with its smoothness, quietness, and brilliant all-round performance, this finer Oldsmobile is easy to drive and comfortable to ride in. Controls are conveniently arranged. Both the front seat and the steering wheel are adjustable to suit the driver's individual preference. Gears mesh easily and silently. Clutch action is light and smooth. Fingertip steering provides handling ease in traffic and simplifies parking. And Oldsmobile's quick-acting four-wheel safety brakes respond to the slightest pressure.

Interiors are luxuriously comfortable, with wide deep-cushioned seats, and plenty of head room and leg room. And four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers assure restful riding ease on any road.
Come, take a drive in this finer Oldsmobile. Learn not only what it does, but how it does it. Experience thrilling, powerful performance that is smooth and quiet at every speed. Match it against other cars in its field. Then... compare its value!

Death Treasure

By R. A. J. WALLING

SYNOPSIS: Veronica and Tom end their thrilling adventure at Silworthy Cove, where they find Mrs. Seabrook fast asleep in her husband's car—part of Veronica's clever scheme to account for their absence during the night. Veronica tells Royle and Somerfield when they arrive in response to a telephone message, that she, her mother and Tom discovered someone stealing the speed-boat and trailed it to Silworthy, where the thief abandoned it. They do not question her story but later that day Somerfield comes to the Grenofen home, convinces Tom he knows the truth and then reveals startling news—that Professor Laxton is close on Tom's trail and that Laxton, not an archeologist, is a detective.

Chapter 24

THROUGH THE KEYHOLE

Somerfield's discovery that Laxton was a detective was no great surprise to me.

"That's been worrying me ever since he came," I told Somerfield, although my suspicions of the man's real profession were more recent.

"Then the people at the British museum," Somerfield asked, "how?"

"Oh, that's quite easy. Laxton must have been on the watch for news of Pell. As soon as Pell's name appeared in The Times that day, when it said I was taking a drawing of the new fresco to the museum, Laxton or his superiors must have fixed up the trap with the museum people. Sunday night, when he took me down to the cloisters, policeman was written all over him."

"Of course, he was after Pell."

"It looked like that. But why?"

"At least three people could tell us that, Grenofen."

"Yes, I know," said I. "But I won't ask Veronica. I don't think it would be fair to ask Mrs. Seabrook. And if I asked old Seabrook—well, you can easily guess."

Somerfield nodded. "It's awkward. But you know, it may have to be done. If the professor gets wise to what happened last night, he won't have any mighty compunctions about asking. Will he, now? Splitting away the man he was after for the murder of Pell! Have you realized it?"

"My perception of reality was fogged by Veronica."

Somerfield, looking on from outside, was able to precipitate the confusion a little. He had an analytical mind. All these disconnections he said, had to be linked up somehow, and the only link he could see was Laxton.

Old Potherbury's excavations had brought Pell down to Blackwater. Then there was a get-away by a convict. The convict arrived at Blackwater, and on his heels—Laxton.

Pell was murdered in the act of revealing a ghost and when we look for the ghost we find—Laxton.

"Something in the background," said Somerfield, "between the Seabrooks, Pell and the convict. Something that even Laxton can't see, for he doesn't seem to have brought the Seabrooks into the picture yet. Therefore, whatever his knowledge, it begins later than the Seabrooks."

"No doubt about it," said I. "Laxton begins with some connection between Pell and the convict. The Seabrooks begin much further back. You remember that, immediately before Laxton came to Blackwater, he'd been in Devonshire. You remember the unexpected absence of Veronica from London that Saturday, and Pell's absence at the same time. You read that a woman and a car as well as a male accomplice were concerned in the escape. I think of Sunday night: Veronica's strange return; my encounter in Wood-vot Lane; Laxton's queer conduct; Laxton's knowledge that some fellow would be prowling about Newplace that night—it all shows Laxton had touch with something that was likely to happen."

"I've been wondering," Somerfield mused, "whether Laxton had any inkling of a possible shooting match and was trying to stop it. By the way, Grenofen, Laxton's not come out as a policeman yet. Why? He's still running the antiquarian stunt."

"Is he? Seen him lately?" I asked.

"Yes," said Somerfield. "This afternoon I met him coming away from Newplace—in a dirty mess, earth all over his boots and clothes. Just taking leave of Marling and the cub. Said he'd been exploiting with them. He walked along with me as far as the Lord Nelson. Fact is, Grenofen, that's what made me come to see you."

"Did he say anything about me then?" I asked.

"Yes. Asked if you were home from Hollam Bay. Whether I'd met your cousin. Whether you were specially friendly with Potherbury. He's got his eye on you, Grenofen. But that wasn't the most remarkable thing."

"He harked back to what happened in the library the afternoon Pell was killed. Then he asked me whether I saw you or anybody else take a book out of the shelves that afternoon."

"He said Potherbury had missed a book. It was in the library Friday. Tuesday, it couldn't be found. And Mr. Fotherbury wanted it very badly."

"What book?" I asked.

"An old illuminated book with a manuscript history of the abbey. Laxton said he wouldn't be surprised if it was what had put Mr. Fotherbury on his excavations."

"Nobody touched a book that day, so far as I remember."

"I didn't see anybody touch a book. But it's not the loss that interests me—it's the fact that Laxton's so curious about it."

"Yes, that's rather queer," I admitted.

"I'd give almost a dollar to know whether Pell was in the library on Friday and whether Marling knew he'd been there."

"Marling?"

"Well, think of Marling a minute. Hated Pell. Why? Suspected him. Think of Marling in the cloister Sunday night. Then Monday afternoon—you couldn't miss Mar-ling's face when Pell went for him. It was Marling who was going to see the ghost, if you remember. If Pell had taken the book, and Marling knew it, suppose the book contained the instructions for conjuring up the ghost, Grenofen?"

"I can't see how a book in Newplace library could have anything to do with conjuring a ghost out of a convict prison," said I.

"Did it ever occur to you that Pell might have been shot by accident?"

Somerfield put the question almost casually. It made me sit up.

"You mean—why Somerfield, you can mean only one thing! That fire except for one instant—"

"Of course I hadn't thought of it. The man who fired the shot was blind at the time; he couldn't see and see the target."

"Yes, and only one man could have been shot through the keyhole—the one who sat in the direct line of fire."

"And he was—"

"Marling."

An unique theory further darkens the mystery of Pell's death. Continue the story Monday.

Virginia Lady Tells How Her Suffering Was Relieved by the Help of Cardui.

Roseville, Va.—"I used to suffer awfully from nervous headaches," says Mrs. W. B. Caldwell, of 223 Nelson St., S. E., this city.

"My mother was here one day while I was suffering with one of these headaches, and she told me to try Cardui, which I did."

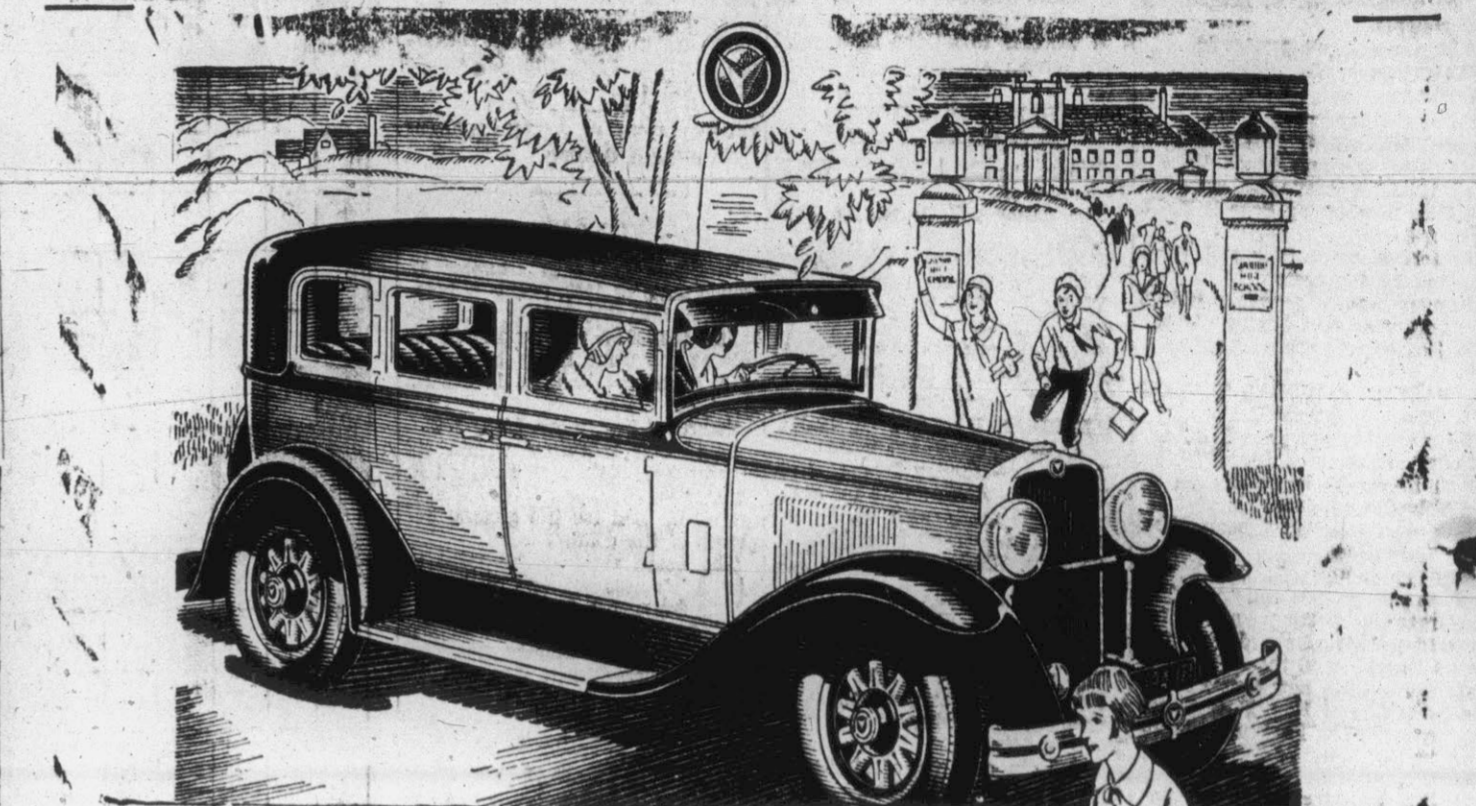

"After I had taken one bottle, I felt better and less nervous. I kept on taking Cardui, and found that by doing so I could avoid those headaches."

"I cannot begin to tell how much help Cardui has been to me, and how much suffering it has saved me. I am now well and strong."

BABE HERMAN LEADS WITH THE WILLOW

New York, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The mad scramble between Babe Herman of Brooklyn and Frank O'Doul of Philadelphia for the National batting championship has tightened to the point where four figures are necessary to reveal any difference between them.

The Brooklyn Swatsmith shades his Philadelphia rival by 296 to 395 in this week's averages, issued today and including games of last Wednesday. Bill Terry of New York has slowed up a bit, and owns a mark of 379.

Other leading regulars are: Traylor, Pittsburgh, .371; Hornsby, Chicago, .366; L. Waner, Pittsburgh, .357; Stephenson, Chicago, .355; Klein, Philadelphia, .353; Hendrick, Brooklyn, .351; and Frish, St. Louis, .348.

Hornsby leads in runs scored with 130 and Ott of New York in runs batted in with 133. O'Doul has 210 hits, the largest total, and Frederick sets the pace with 48 doubles.

L. Waner leads with 16 triples and Klein with 37 home runs. Cuyler has 34 stolen bases, the high mark in that act. Guy Bush, the Chicago ace is finding his nineteenth victory difficult, but he still leads the league with 10 games won and only four lost for a percentage of .818.

Burleigh Grimes, the Pittsburgh spitter, is only half a game away with seventeen and four for .180. The Phillies, the Cubs and the Pirates are in the 300-class in team batting, the Phils leading with 309. The other two are tied at 304. The Cubs top the list in the field with .075 one point more than the Giants and the Reds who win a tie for second place.

Rocky Mount Leads Race for Pennant

(By The Associated Press)
Rocky Mount jumped ahead of Wilmington in the post-season series for the Eastern Carolina league pennant, defeating the latter 3 to 2, yesterday in the third game of the series. The Broncos now lead their rivals, two games to one.

Wilmington went to the rescue of Salisbury, and saved the day for the Rocky Mount boys when Shortens weakened in the seventh chapter, and had the bases loaded, with only one man on base. The relief box, which was called on to finish the rescue, was Durham.

Durham increased its lead in the Piedmont, by defeating Greensboro, 5 to 1. Winston-Salem licked Henderson, 11 to 0, and High Point grabbed a pair from the Salisbury Colonials, 17 to 2 and 9 to 3.

HIGH SCHOOL GRIDDERS TO BEGIN ACTION

Huskies of the Greenville High school will begin work on the gridiron next Monday in preparation for one of the greatest grid seasons they have had in years. "Soup" Porter, high school athletic coach, stated this morning.

Candidates for this year's team have been requested to meet Mr. Porter at the high school building next Monday morning at 10 o'clock where they will be issued instructions preparatory to the annual pilgrimage to the fair grounds where the youngsters will be gotten in form for the initial clash.

Speaking of the material for the coming year's team, Coach Porter said the outlook was similar to that of last year. Six or eight last year's men are expected to report for service, and one 25 player will return to the rank in the person of Jimmy Wilson. Last season's men expected back are: Hodges, Williams, Captain Briley, Johnson, Dixon, Reeves and several others.

The coach was reticent concerning the outlook, other than he intended to attempt to round out one of the strongest clubs that has represented the school in years. He hopes to have the club in fine fettle by the opening of the conference season and with this end in view will put the boys through grueling practice each day until the whistle rolls back the curtain on the 1929 season.

AUBURN MAKES STRONG BID ON THE GRIDIRON

Auburn, Ala., Sept. 7.—(AP)—A Junior-Sophomore combination will make Auburn's bid for a place in the Southern Conference football sun this fall and if there is strength in numbers, then the Plainsmen's lean years on the gridiron have ended.

With a hundred candidates going through their paces on Drake Field under the watchful eye of head coach George Bohler, and 250 freshmen hopes expected to turn out, the Auburn mentor is hopeful of erasing some of the twenty odd reverses the Tigers suffered the past three years.

Asserting the Orange and Blue would not feature an aerial attack, Coach Bohler said hard, straight, football would be in order with efforts concentrated on developing a smooth running attack.

Two seasons without a conference triumph has had a depressing effect at Auburn and Bohler has marked psychology down as another foe his Plainsmen must surmount this year.

Auburn's line, averaging 199 pounds, leading to the impression that Bohler will depend on speed and plenty of it to get somewhere this season.

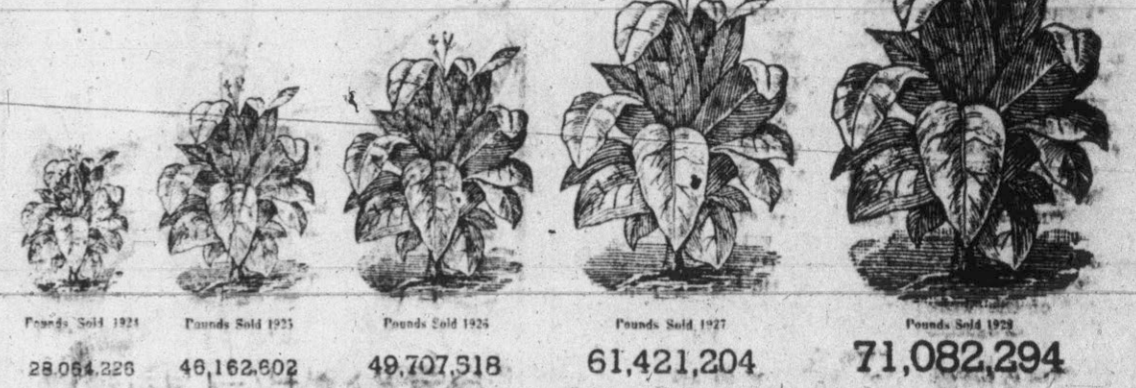

Second year men will be depended on to plug the gaping holes in the line with the tackle berths furnishing the stiffest competition. A dozen candidates are out for these posts. Among them are Big Ben Newton and Earl Taylor, veterans from last season, and F. N. Farrington and R. W. Butler a quartet of 200 pounders.

Captain Howell Long and his brother, Grady, probably will start at Guard, although Bohler has good reserves in Carl Schlich, Joe Burt, Sheehan and Bush all 190 pounders. Little Red Harkins, whose brother captained the 1926 team and Bill Hill are battling it out for center while a half dozen youngsters from last year's freshmen team are fighting for the flank positions, left vacant by graduations.

The Sophomore threat will be chiefly within the confines of the backfield. Three veterans—Porter, Callahan, Alternate Captain: "Slob" Chappelle and Jim Crawford, all good punters and line busters, will be on hand to steady the Colts from the 1928 Frosh. One of the brightest prospects is Bob Primm, the triple threat ace of the Frosh last year.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Sept. 7.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 1 to 4 points on trade buying and covering promoted by uncertainty as to the showing of next Monday's government report and fairly steady Liverpool cables.

Offerings were light and prices worked up to 18 1/2 for December and 18 1/2 for March by the end of the first half hour or about 6 to 7 points higher. Business was stimulated largely by further evening up and trading was quiet.

Liverpool cables reported that hedging and liquidation had been taken by trade officials. The amount of cotton on hand awaiting clearance at the end of the week was estimated at 67,000 bales against 47,000 last year.

ROBINS SPLIT FIFTY-FIFTY WITH PIRATES

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN (Associated Press Sports Writer)

Rain and open dates limited major league activity yesterday

two games in Pittsburgh, but even this curtailment failed to prevent the Cubs from drawing closer to their pennant. The Bruins themselves, had two games washed permanently from their schedule in St. Louis as the Robins held the Pirates to an even break. This turn of events left the Cubs in need of only eleven victories in their remaining twenty-three games—the same number the Athletics require. With two games permanently removed from the card, the Cubs by winning eleven more would finish with 93 victories and 54 defeats. A clean sweep from this point to the finish would give the Pirates a final record of 99 games won and 55 lost, just a percentage shade worse than a 98-54 cub record.

Burling Grimes sought his eighteenth victory in the opener at Pittsburgh. Babe Herman hit a homer with one on in the third, and other Robins bunched blows for four more runs in the fifth, giving the flock just enough leadway to ease out ahead by 6 to 5 at the finish. Watson Clark won his fourteenth victory, but had to have the help of Johnny Morrison in the ninth when, after several earlier rallies had failed, the Pirates threatened to tie.

Jess Petty was right in the second clash, and Moss, McWeeny and Moore were not, and the Pittsburgh crew staged the decision 8 to 1. The Pirates collected twelve hits.

Babe Herman defended his thin lead in the batting race by adding two singles off Petty to the home run he made in the first clash. These three hits in seven times at bat added a fraction of a point to Herman's average as Frank O'Doul sa idle, but it remained necessary to extend the figures into four columns to detect a difference between the two leaders. Herman is out from with .392 to O'Doul's .3825.

Games were scheduled only at Pittsburgh and St. Louis in the National league. The Indian-Athletic encounter, rained out at Shibe Park was the only American league fixture on the card.
