FORTY-THREE NABBED IN WHISKEY RAIDS

Federal Officers Stage Wholesale Clean-Up of Rum Dealers in County

Numbers of the Defendants given preliminary Hearing before Commissioner Beaman Here and Placed Under Bonds of From $500 to 1,000 for the Federal Court Action; Three Cars and Much Liquor Confiscated

In the most extensive prohibition enforcement drives probably ever made in this community before, federal prohibition agents, assisted by city and county officers, today completed the rounding up of 43 members of the illicit whiskey traffic in this county. Aside from the arrests, the officers confiscated sixty gallons of whiskey, and three automobiles.

A majority of the defendants were given preliminary hearings before United States Commissioner T. E. Beaman yesterday and today, and the remainder will face trial within the next few days. All of those appearing before the Commissioner so far were bound over to Federal court under bonds ranging all the way from $500 to $1,000.

The raid was staged under the direction of P. M. Caudle, Deputy Prohibition Commissioner of this district, assisted by six federal agents, two marshals, two special officers and city and county officers. Commissioner Caudle was heartily in his praise today of the splendid co-operation which he received at the hands of city and county officers, and said it was this fact that enabled them to make such a complete roundup.

The raids covered virtually every section of the county, and numbers of those arrested were operators of filling stations and small stores along the various public highways. None of the defendants were over the age of thirteen and sixteen years. The fourteen-year-old, Denzil Oakley, son of Henry Oakley, who was also arrested, was nabbed yesterday with two cases of whiskey in his possession.

The officers did not quit with filling stations and stores, however, but the dragnet was extended to the very heart of the business and financial district of Greenville where a clerk and two bill hops in the Proctor hotel were nabbed and required to give bond. A small amount of liquor and home brew was found at the hotel, it was stated.

All of the strategy of the prohibition department was brought into play in effecting captures. While every means of snaring the violators may not be known, it was stated that numbers of captures were made by officers, disguised as tobacco growers, driving over the various highways and stopping wherever they believed the law was being violated. The plan had such good results that the drive was completed in much less time than expected and only a few days have been required in completing the roundup.

Only about thirty names were given out for publication by the officers today, owing to the fact that nine of the defendants were sent to Williamston to face preliminary hearing before the United States Commissioner at that place. There were two others of the Kinston community who gave bond. The following are being held under bond: Harvey Dixon, Pactolus community $1,000. H. I. Leggett, residing between Pactolus and Washington, $1,000. Stu Leggett, Pactolus, $1,000. Joseph Edwards, $1,000. Joseph Grice, colored, $1,000. Oscar Stokes, Greenville township, $1,000. Jesse Hudson, Washington road, $1,000. Johnnie Hardy, Washington road, $1,000. Jim Evans, Cox Mill road, Greenville township, $1,000. George Holloman, Greenville, $1,000. Clyde Dudley, 46 years of age, Cox Mill road, $500. Norwood Bradsher, Cox Mill road, $1,000. Ashley Griffin, Arden township, $1,000.

COMPROMISE IS REACHED IN CIVIL CASES

Slander and Insurance Policy Cases Settled in Civil Court Yesterday

Two cases of outstanding importance to various communities of the county were compromised in the civil term of Pitt county Superior court in this city yesterday. They were Martha Garris vs. Lafayette Insurance Co. and F. A. Elks vs. R. L. ... The first suit involved distribution of an amount of money involved in the policy of the late J. R. Garris, the insurance company having the money placed for the policy in the hands of the court for settlement. The case of F. A. Elks and R. D. Edwards involved charges of slander, and was settled following a statement of retraction. Court began work on a number of other cases today, and was indicated that the calendar would be pretty well exhausted when the session is completed Friday afternoon. The compromise action taken in the two cases yesterday saved the court at least four days of work, as it was indicated that at least two days would have been required in the hearing of each case. There were about sixty witnesses scheduled to appear in the slander suit, and a considerable number in the policy case.

TARIFF BILL HOLDS RIGHT OF WAY TODAY

Senate Clears Decks With Postponement of Vane Case Until December

Washington, Sept. 12.—(AP)—With consideration of the three-year-old question of seating William S. Vane as senator from Pennsylvania postponed until December, the tariff bill today held undisputed right of way in the senate. By a vote of 41 to 24, the Vane case late yesterday was deferred until congress meets in regular session, so that no time will be lost in the thick of the tariff battle. The administrative provisions of the bill drawn up by finance committee majority, under an agreement which placed the bill ahead of the tariff bill, dealing specifically with rate schedules, they were made the initial order of business under a motion of Senator Simmons, ranking minority member of the finance committee which was approved yesterday. This several highly controversial clauses of the tariff bill were up for consideration at the very start, including the flexible provisions, the tariff commission and the proposed substitution of domestic for foreign values in assessing ad valorem duties. To speed up debate, it was agreed that initial reading would be dispensed with. The opening assault of the opposition to the republican measure was embodied in a lengthy address prepared for delivery today by Senator Simmons. The vote on deferment of the Vane case was not regarded as a test of strength on that issue or on the tariff. It was urged by republican leaders solely as a means of expediting tariff legislation. When the Vane issue is brought before the senate on December 3, it is to be kept before the body until a vote is reached. Dallas—Tom Mix has a fractured shoulder blade, his horse fell. BEGIN PLANS FOR PROBE OF SHEARER CASE

Senate Naval Committee to Sift the Charges Against Shipbuilders to the Bottom

Washington, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Ready to carry out the expressed desire of President Hoover that charges of interference by large American shipbuilding corporations at the unsuccessful Geneva disarmament conference of 1927 be sifted "to the very bottom," the Senate naval committee today devoted itself to formulating plans for its forthcoming investigation. To determine what witnesses shall be heard and what procedure followed, an executive session of the committee was ordered by its chairman, Senator Hale of Maine. Meanwhile, another inquiry, broader in its scope, was being conducted by the department of justice at the specific direction of President Hoover, who, in ordering it, made known his determination that the present disarmament negotiation with Great Britain shall not be frustrated by American shipbuilders monetarily interested in a limitation or reduction of naval construction.

It was expected that the first witness to be called by the Senate committee would be William B. Shearer, self-styled naval expert, who attended the Geneva conference as the agent of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation, the New York Shipbuilding company (a subsidiary of the American Brown Boveri Electric corporation) and the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company. Claiming unpaid compensation of more than $250,000 for his services at Geneva and in opposing disarmament elsewhere, both before and after that conference, Shearer recently filed suit against the three corporations in the New York Supreme court. He asserted that the concerns had already paid him more than $50,000. These disclosures led Chairman Borah of the Senate foreign relations committee to demand an investigation and two days later, President Hoover revealed that he had ordered the justice department inquiry and at the same time called upon the shipbuilding company for an explanation of their positions with respect to the Shearer allegations. In public statements, the corporations, all three of which are executing naval construction contracts substantially denied Shearer's charges, but said that he had been in their employ and had acted as an "observer" at Geneva. Senator Borah wants the directors of the three concerns called for questioning by the committee and it was indicated that the members were in agreement as to the advisability of such a course. Prominent naval officers are to be called also, should it develop that they are involved.

John B. Galloway Buried Yesterday Funeral services for John B. Galloway, one of the oldest and best known men of the Grimesland community, were conducted from his late home yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. J. F. Starna, pastor of the Grimesland Methodist church, assisted by Rev. E. L. Hillman, pastor of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church, and Rev. L. R. O'Brian, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, of Greenville. Burial was made in the family ground. He was buried with honors of the Masonic lodge. Mr. Galloway was 76 years of age and had spent his entire life in the Grimesland community where he owned considerable property. The funeral was attended by a large crowd of sorrowing friends, and the funeral tribute was exceptionally extensive.

Greenville Market Yesterday Made Better Average Than Day Before With the price situation showing decidedly more strength than on the preceding day, the Greenville tobacco market yesterday disposed of 493,857 pounds of tobacco for $99,258.73 at a general average of $12.40 per hundred pounds, according to information given out today by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales. The report indicated that there was approximately 600,000 pounds of leaf on the floors of the nine warehouses today and it was expected that sales would be completed during the afternoon. With the appearance of a better grade of tobacco yesterday, coupled with more spirited bidding, prices bounded upward effecting an improvement in its general average. Warehousemen continued to urge the farmers to keep their leaf in the best condition possible and to see that it is in a dry, well prepared condition when it reaches market.

Paper Warns Communists To Stay Out of Gastonia; Limit Has Been Reached

Gastonia, N. C., Sept. 12.—Communists will meet with "determined opposition" if they persist in holding their scheduled South Gastonia meeting Saturday afternoon and they do so "at their own risk" says the Gastonia Gazette in an editorial carried yesterday afternoon, under the caption, "The Limit Reached." "If the communists are determined to come back to South Gastonia Saturday afternoon to hold a speaking, let them know now that they come in the face of the most determined opposition of the citizens of the community. They are not wanted; they have been run away two or three times without suffering physical violence. They have been warned to stay away. If they persist in coming they do so at their own risk. That is the word from the good people of that community who have been law-abiding about as long as they can stand it." The cause of the warning was a statement by Bill Dunne, secretary of the communist party in America, who stated Tuesday night that a scheduled meeting would be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in South Gastonia. It was in South Gastonia that the troubles of Monday night started in which a mob swept through union and communist headquarters in Gastonia, Bessemer City and Charlotte and flogged one man after kidnaping him and two others.

Craven County Man Dies In Electric Chair For Assaulting Little Girl

Releigh, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Willis Buckner, 32, white man, was electrocuted at the state prison here today for attacking a young girl in Craven county several months ago. He was the second white man in the history of the electric chair in North Carolina to be executed for this crime. Buckner was pronounced dead at 10:40 o'clock. He was given two shocks, one of over two minutes and the other less than a minute. He had entered the death chamber at 10:30 composed and calm, only a slight ashen gray pallor on his cheeks showing any fear of the chair. The condemned man had maintained his innocence throughout the trial and up to this morning. Just before he was taken to the death chamber, Warden H. H. Honeycutt announced that Buckner had made a full confession of the crime. In the death chamber, when asked if he had anything further to say, Buckner answered in a low, steady voice, "No, sir. I don't believe I do. I have confessed all and am ready to meet my Saviour." Buckner was baptized this morning by Rev. J. B. Turner, a local minister, and two other preachers were with him before the execution. The electrocution of Buckner was the first of a white man in the electric chair in this state since the execution of a white man in 1925 for killing a prohibition officer. Buckner's confession, as given out by Warden Honeycutt, follows in full: "I am sorry if the little girl is hurt. When she left my car to get home, she did not show any signs of being hurt. If she had I would have taken her to the hospital. My being drinking I reckon was the reason I did not notice her being hurt. I am sorry it all happened. I have asked God to forgive me and I believe He has and I believe my soul will go to rest. Good-bye to everybody. God bless you all. (Signed) WILLIS BUCKNER."

PRICES SHOW TEN GAMBLERS MORE LIFE ON CAPTURED ON LEAF MARKET A HOUSE BOAT

Greenville Market Yesterday Made Better Average Than Day Before

White Men Fined $15-00 Each Following Capture by City and County Officers A gambling den located on a house boat on Tar river, about two miles below Greenville, was raided by county and city officers yesterday afternoon and ten gamblers, all white, fell into the toils of the law. They were given preliminary hearing in a magistrate's court last night and released upon payment of fines of $15.00 each. The gamblers were S. F. Strickland, E. Joyner, W. R. Farmer, Willie Moore, J. W. Allen, D. Fountain, Grady Sugg, M. C. Whelton, Ed Hassel, Ed Moya. The officers received information sometime ago concerning the existence of gambling on the boat but yesterday was the first time they had an opportunity of effecting a roundup. The gamblers were taken completely by surprise and were returned to Greenville to face trial. The officers were headed by Sheriff Sam Whitehurst and Chief of Police Preston Pierce.

THREE INJURED IN ACCIDENT ON HIGHWAY NO. 11

Highway Patrolman, Woman and Child hurt When Car Hits Officer's Motorcycle

George Fontaine, State Highway patrolman, and Mrs. C. J. Moya and child of Greenville, were reported as getting along as nicely as could be expected at the Pitt Community hospital today following an accident about a mile from this city on Highway 11 yesterday afternoon in which an automobile driven by Mrs. Moya struck the motorcycle on which the officer was riding. The patrolman received injuries to the hip, which were not described as serious, and Mrs. Moya and the child were painfully but not seriously cut about the face. How the officer and the occupants of the car escaped without being killed is considered short of a miracle. The officer was attempting to turn around on the highway preparatory to giving chase to a truck that had just passed without license when the car driven by Mrs. Moya hit the motorcycle. Mrs. Moya made a desperate effort to avoid the collision by driving her car into a ditch, wrecking it. The accident was declared to have been purely unavoidable. Patrolman Fontaine was transferred to this district last week. His home is in Winston-Salem.

"My last statement. I want to tell the truth in my case. I am guilty. And I do not hold any hard feeling against any one for my conviction. I was drinking heavily at the time the crime was committed. I did not hold the girl in the car. She went to ride with me on her own accord. I did not force her to ride and she left the car at the place where the crime was committed without me feeling her. I do not want anyone to blame her for this, she was young and did not know what she was doing. I am responsible for it all. I am sorry I committed this crime and would not if I had not been drinking. I want to thank all my friends for their kindness to me and wish them a long and happy life. I do not want the people to think hard of Governor Gardner. He has a duty to perform and he is only doing his duty. This ought to be a warning to other men and boys to let whiskey alone. I am sorry if the little girl is hurt. When she left my car to get home, she did not show any signs of being hurt. If she had I would have taken her to the hospital. My being drinking I reckon was the reason I did not notice her being hurt. I am sorry it all happened. I have asked God to forgive me and I believe He has and I believe my soul will go to rest. Good-bye to everybody. God bless you all. (Signed) WILLIS BUCKNER."

FLAYS POLICE FOR THROWING TEAR BOMBS

New Orleans Mayor Deplores use of Gas Bombs in Dispersing Crowd at Dynamiting

New Orleans, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Use of tear gas bombs by police and a United States deputy marshal in dispersing a crowd at the scene of a street car dynamited last night three hours after the local car men's union rejected the tentative strike settlement, today brought sharp criticism from acting Mayor T. Simmons Walmsey, unexpected victim of the gas. "The bombing was outrageous and under no condition will we tolerate such affairs," he declared, "but I consider the conduct of the United States marshal and the police just as reprehensible in throwing tear gas bombs into the crowd. One landed within two or three feet of me. I saw one thrown at the feet of a woman with a baby in her arms. She dropped her baby and some one grabbed it up and saved it from being trampled on." The crowd, including the mayor, was attracted to the scene of the dynamiting as the members left a neighborhood political meeting seeking city drainage relief from rains. The dynamite cracked a car wheel but the crew and passengers, a white woman and two negroes, were uninjured. Police threw gas bombs when bricks hurled from the crowd smashed in the car windows. Four sticks of dynamite were discovered on the Dunham belt tracks three hours later by workman U. S. Langston, who stopped his car in time to avert an explosion. With the board of directors of public service last night declaring it would complete its organization by filling 400 positions previously held open pending settlement of the strike, the city today was faced with an indefinite traction strike called July 2. Durign balloting lasting from a A. M. to 7 P. M. yesterday the carmen stood 1,069 to 7 against accepting the agreement, reached by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and A. B. Paterson, vice-president of the New Orleans public service and approved by W. D. Mahon, president of the International Carmen's Union.

London, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Great Britain today took new steps toward resuming commercial and diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia. Declares Tariff Bill Would Add Billions To Annual Public Burden

He-Men Fond of Lilac Perfumery, Barbers Declare

Chicago, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The National Barber and Beauty Supply Men's association boldly announced today that the American he-man is secretly very fond of perfumery. Like it the scent that sends man on his way rejoicing. He likes it on his face and his hair. Its popularity, the association agreed, is based on its reputation as being "mannish." The gentle scent of violet is in bad odor with males, the barber said, classifying it as "too dainty"; but rose in hair tonic goes over big. Men-b-u-s-men have a leaning toward jasmine and ordinary fellows, unfettered in the art of personal perfume, prefer the popourai or scents provided by bouquet.

MOB DISORDER PROBE BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

Judge Shaw's Inquiry into Anti-Communist Demonstrated Conducted Secretly

Charlotte, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Judge Thomas J. Shaw's inquiry into the disorders in three counties Monday night attributed to an "anti-communist" mob in which three men were kidnaped and one of them severely beaten was turned into a secret investigation today behind closed doors after it had announced yesterday that the inquiry would be held in open court.

The reason given for conducting the hearing in the judge's private chamber was that some of the persons sought for questioning might not appear after they had been implicated in public testimony. The judge is sitting as a committing magistrate because of the inability to convene a grand jury for at least three weeks and has said that he will issue bench warrants for persons involved in the disorders if the testimony presented to him is sufficient. The disturbances in which Ben Wells, 26-year-old British textile worker, was killed and C. W. Sawyer and C. M. Lee abducted followed the termination of the trial of Police Chief O. F. Aderholt of Gastonia Monday because of the insanity of one of the jurors. Solicitor John G. Carpenter of Gastonia is assisting the judge in conducting the investigation.

He said the Democratic platform declared the equalizing differences in production costs and nothing more, and added he could not understand why the Republicans were so "anxious to scrap" this rule unless tariff commission investigations had shown that in many cases existing rates exceeded these differences and that there was need for downward revision of duties. The new provision proposed in the bill to determine levies to equalize differences in competition, including transportation costs to ports, "perpetuate the uncertain and elastic principles and practices" that have hitherto and still prevail in the framing of Republican tariff legislation. In determining the spread between foreign and domestic production costs, he continued, the impact on should be made with industries in the country that are not and economically managed. The flexible provisions enlarging the tariff powers to change import duties up or down within a limit of 50 per cent were declared by the senator to be unconstitutional. He declared he said industries would no longer come to congress to tariff relief but would carry all their burdens to the executive and the tariff commission. Under the head of "the uselessness of some of the rates on agricultural commodities," Shrimms listed corn, mutton, lamb, pork, ham, bacon, reindeer meat, barley, oats, buckwheat, rye, cereal breakfast foods, spices and apple seeds, chocolate and cocoa. Whiting, yachets, pocket knives.

Sen. Simmons Flays Pending Republican Measure in Speech Before Senate Today; Nine Outstanding Reasons Why He Does Not Favor the Measure

Washington, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Nine "outstanding objections" to the pending tariff bill were enumerated in a speech in the Senate today by Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, who opened fire on the Republican measure for the Democrats by declaring it would add billions of dollars to the annual tax burden imposed upon the consuming masses. Aiming his castigation not only at the administrative and special features of the bill but at proposed increased rates as well, the veteran minority tariff leader gave the following reasons why he could not support it: "It contains many rates and increases upon agricultural products that are useless and ineffective. It is replete with exorbitant rates on articles which farmers buy. It contains numerous instances of higher rates on articles used by the masses than on articles of identical use, but purchased principally by persons of wealth, and more than average means. It does not conform to President Hoover's request for increases on industrial products only when there has been a slackening of employment due to imports. In many cases increases have been granted to industries which have been very prosperous under the present tariff act. It is full of inconsistencies and unfair discriminations. It increases rates on many articles even though the imports under the present tariff act have been negligible. It encourages inefficiency by many of its increases in rates. Its excessive increases on many articles imperil our trade with European countries. By its liberalization of the flexible provisions, enlarging the powers and discretion of the president, the latitude allowed the president in the imposition of additional duties is dangerously expanded. Declaring the amendments to the present law made by the House and those proposed by the finance committee majority were not fixed upon a basis of the difference in cost of production here and abroad, but were determined largely in response to the appeals and demands of the beneficiaries of the high and excessive rates" proposed, the North Carolina Senator challenged the contention of the majority that the cost of production measuring rod was no longer practicable of application. He said the Democratic platform declared the equalizing differences in production costs and nothing more, and added he could not understand why the Republicans were so "anxious to scrap" this rule unless tariff commission investigations had shown that in many cases existing rates exceeded these differences and that there was need for downward revision of duties. The new provision proposed in the bill to determine levies to equalize differences in competition, including transportation costs to ports, "perpetuate the uncertain and elastic principles and practices" that have hitherto and still prevail in the framing of Republican tariff legislation. In determining the spread between foreign and domestic production costs, he continued, the impact on should be made with industries in the country that are not and economically managed. The flexible provisions enlarging the tariff powers to change import duties up or down within a limit of 50 per cent were declared by the senator to be unconstitutional. Death Treasure

By A. J. WALLING

SYNOPSIS: Parson Marling pays an unexpected visit to Woodcot. Tom is in danger of immediate arrest. Marling tells him of an accessory in the escape of a convict. The parson also furtively mentions the abbey history stolen from the Fotherbury library on the day of Pell's death, and voices a suggestion that Tom should flee Woodcot. Marling departs, apparently without revealing the reason for his visit but Tom is relieved when he learns his mother has burned Cousin John's clothing, marked with the tell-tale prison insignia. Somerfield, however, is alarmed by Tom's account of Marling's visit and urges him to destroy the evidence in the safe. Tom assents and together they remove the dilapidated black bag, weighted with its valuable contents and ominous secrets.

Chapter 28 THE BAG'S SECRETS

Somerfield and I stared at the mysterious black bag. I hated to touch the thing.

"Better take it upstairs," said he, pointing significantly through the window to the lawn beyond it.

I carried the burden upstairs and dumped it on my bed. Somerfield looked at it curiously and pointed to some worn indentation letters engraved on the side of the bag.

"Original owner's initials," said Somerfield.

The black bag was not even locked or strapped. It had a spring latch that burst open when I depressed it.

Somerfield looked over my shoulder. We saw at first nothing but what happened to be a mass of dingy rags. But on one part of them there was a mark which turned me cold with apprehension. Somerfield did not realize the significance of the broad arrow.

"What's that mean?" he asked.

"The evidence that Laxton wanted—the broad arrow that marks a convict's dress."

I pulled at the tough gray material, but it would not come. Impatient, Somerfield laid hold of the bag itself, turned it upside down and lifted it away, leaving on the bed a rude parcel made up in a prison coat. He gave it a roll and it came apart.

Then we both stared back, the two most astonished young men in England that day. Wrapped in the prison coat was what seemed to us to be priceless and unheard of things, golden trinkets with masses of jewels, rings, bracelets, brooches, and above all a golden goblet set so thickly with diamonds and rubies that its bowl was well-nigh hidden.

We stared at the display for a full minute. Somerfield spoke first.

"Pretty little haul, I guess. I don't know much about jewelry, but I'd say there was a considerable fortune there. Grenofen. Noticed whether there have been any big robberies lately?"

But the contents of the bag fulfilled my old fears and produced new ones.

"What can we do?" I said.

"That's easy," Somerfield picked up the bag and stuffed the coat into it. "Burn this right away."

It seemed good advice. I thought of my mother's incinerator in the garden. Somerfield volunteered to stand guard over what he called the jewelry store while I cremated the incriminating bag. I found some old papers, put them around the don't we begin to see that Laxton knew about Cousin John even before Cousin John gave them the ship in Devonshire?—but look here, Grenofen, we can't leave this stuff lying about."

But it was easier to say get quite of it than to do so. We hurriedly discarded many projects only to drop them.

Of a sudden, Somerfield seemed to be electrified. He leaped back from the window, cried, "Look out!" and dived into the corner of the room where I had an old full-plate camera in a yellow case.

"Watch 'em and tell me if they come in," said Somerfield tearing at the buckles of the camera-case.

My view commanded the lane from a point near our gate to the place where it disappeared under the trees. What had excited Somerfield was the two men walking up the road. I had them in sight for two or three seconds.

One was young Fotherbury. The other I did not know. I kept an eye on the gate, while Somerfield in breathless haste rotated the camera out of the case, dropped it on the floor and piled the stuff into it.

"What will you do with it?" I asked.

"Never mind. Watch! The fellow with the cub is one of Laxton's men."

As he spoke, Fotherbury's head appeared above the shrubs that lined the little drive, and the next instant he had stopped by the gate, pointing. His companion pushed the gate back.

"He's coming in," I said to Somerfield.

"Here's a bluff, then, Grenofen. It's about an even change. But I'll take it for Veronica's sake and yours. See me off the premises just as the door opens to him. Ready? Everything depends on bluffing them out. Down you go! When he comes in, stand in the hall shaking hands with me."

Somerfield grabbed the camera stand, tucked it under his arm and took the case in his left hand.

The maid was coming through to answer a ring at the door when we reached the hall. As she opened the door, Somerfield seized my hand and said:

"Well, goodbye, Grenofen. I know what you want—just the detail of the tower. I'm going down to Oxford from London this evening. Hope to be back on Thursday. Friday morning at latest." "Fare!" I replied. "Booby, Somerfield. Just the tower. Best time to take it is the morning before there's much traffic about. And thanks!"

I turned to speak to the man in the doorway.

"Yes," I said. "Did you want to see me?"

My heart was beating hard when the visitor said:

"Are you Mr. Grenofen? I'm a police officer."

Tobacco Curing Barn of Concrete Tile

ENDORSED BY GROWER

After using a concrete tile curing barn for two seasons, D. J. Grantham of Wilson, N. C., found he could save money by building all his curing barns of concrete tile. He says:

"A concrete tile barn is fireproof as well as permanent. It permits the use of less fuel—about half that required in other barns. It also permits absolute heat distribution which makes better cures.

"I would not have any other type of barn."

You too will find that the economy of concrete tile barns will increase your profits season after season.

Following the business discussion an interesting program was enjoyed by the group. Papers on the conditions in foreign countries were read. Miss Ruth Hillhouse gave a short talk on her work before she came to Greenville and also offered suggestions which were very much appreciated by the circle.

After the program a contest followed, which was quite puzzling to the girls until Miss Vincent came to the rescue with the correct solution.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and after a short time the girls left, assuring Mrs. Harden that they had all had a good time.

This meeting was better than usual, because every member except one, was present. Hope was expressed that the circle would grow and continue to show so much interest in the work planned for this year.

Mussolini Gives Up Seven Cabinet Posts

Rome, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Benito Mussolini, Italian dictator, today relinquished seven of the eight cabinet posts he holds in the Italian Fascist government. He remains premier and minister of interior.

A royal decree announcing the action also contained notice of replacement of two other ministers, those of public instruction and of national economy.

The under-secretary for the interior also was changed in the move, which comprised probably the most sweeping reorganization of the Fascist government since its inception.

Waggoner Awaits Next Action by the Federal Officers

New Castle, Wyo., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Seemingly unconcerned as to his future, C. D. Waggoner, president of the small bank of Telluride, Colo., awaited quietly in his cell here today the next action of federal authorities who charged him with a half million dollar fraudulent financial coup.

Unconcerned by the furor caused by his manipulations which placed to his credit $500,000 belonging to six large New York banks, through the receipt of faked telegraphic orders, Waggoner told of his financial puzzle to a reporter.

Local authorities who arrested him Tuesday night at a tourist camp near here, still held him on a technical charge of investigation, awaiting a federal warrant from New York to turn him over to federal authorities who will take him to Cheyenne and then to New York. The warrant, enroute from New York by air mail, was expected here today.

Meanwhile, Preston L. McAvoy, county attorney, was enroute to Denver with information which he expected to aid authorities there who are investigating the Denver angle of the case.

Poor Opinion of Americans

New York—Charles F. Rideal, 72-year-old Englishman on trial in Federal court for using the mails to defraud in stock deals, has a poor opinion of Americans. A letter from him to London associates introduced by the prosecution says of Americans: "They are not to be relied upon either by word of contract. The only thing they are good for is to make money out of them."

JAIL IS THE PLACE FOR THEM

It was some haul that the prohibition officers made in this section yesterday and last night, arresting more than forty persons, and it is to be hoped that such work will continue until the liquor traffic in this county has been wiped out. Now if the court will hand out some long sentences for all of those found guilty, we believe it will go a long way toward putting a stop to the liquor business.

In most liquor cases, fines are nothing more than granting licenses to sell liquor, and we venture that if those offenders now in the toils of the law are let off with fines it will be only a short time before many of them are at their old game again.

ABOUT TOWN

"A window trimming contest is to take the place of the Fall Fashion show conducted in this city from year to year," said a member of the Merchants association today.

"We hope to create more interest in the dressing of display windows through this plan, realizing that attractive windows are one of the merchants' best assets for drawing business."

"Two prizes will be offered the winners of the contest. While the prizes are small, everybody should compete for them owing to the high honor which they carry with them. Judges will be picked from business men residing in some other city in this section of the state, and the winners will be determined upon their merit and nothing else."

"If you are a member of the Merchants association, let me urge you to get busy and take a part in the contest. Put your window decorators to work and see what kind of creation they can provide for the occasion. The date set for the event is Tuesday, Sept. 17th."

"Tenant farmers down our way will have a tough pull during the winter months, but those who raised the things they consumed at home should get by all right in spite of low tobacco prices," said a farmer from the lower part of the county today.

"The men on my farm raised more of the stuff they use at home this year, and I expect we shall be able to get through until another harvest season without too much hardship. The man who did however, is going to find snaling mighty rough."

"Farmers should let this season's low prices be a lesson to them, and from now on everybody should use his influence in seeing enough staff to give his family a comfortable living despite the way the price situation goes."

"If federal and county officers continue raiding liquor dealers in Pitt county whiskey is going to be as scarce as a hen's tooth," declared a citizen today, speaking of the wholesale clean-up just completed.

"This is the only way in the world the situation can be improved, and it is to be hoped the officers continue their work until the last member of the illicit traffic has been brought in a court and made to pay for his crime against humanity."

"Whiskey is bad enough in its II, but when one considers the various crimes which result from whiskey, it may be easily seen that it is one of the greatest menaces of civilization."

"The officers unquestionably have the hearty support of the community, and the captures they make, the better people will like it."

"Now is the time to begin preparing for 'Pay Up Period' to be held by members of the Merchants association during the month of October," said a member of that organization today.

"The event is similar to Pay Up Week conducted here last season and should result in the settlement of many accounts that have been long past due. If you owe anything, make it a point to arrange for settlement at the earliest date possible and in that way assure future credit."

"Keep Pay Up Period in mind and when October comes, see how much you owe and settle as much of it as you can."

"The shipment of poultry from Pitt county brought the farmers a neat sum of money in past months and there is no reason to believe that it should not do likewise in the future."

"The time has come when farmers should pay more attention to the raising of chickens. It should mean extra money for them during that season of the year when the ordinary run of growers suffer for lack of money. Think the matter over, Mr. Grower, and when you have laid by your crops, experiment in the raising of chickens."

"I had no idea what quick results could be obtained from advertising until I tried the columns of the Reflector," said an advertiser of this paper today.

"I ran a special ad the other day, and no sooner had the paper appeared than I began to get results. Sales were not only satisfactory, but surpassed fondest expectations."

"I always believed in advertising, but I believe in it more now than ever and shall use more space in the future than usual."

DECLARES TARIFF BILL WOULD ADD BILLIONS TO ANNUAL PUBLIC BURDEN

schools, blurs, small arms, mishing tackle, saws, handkerchiefs, lace, wool wearing apparel, women's felt hats, leather gloves, brushes, pencils and pipes were enumerated as articles the farmer buys and on which the bill places "exorbitant rates."

"Under an exhibit entitled, 'higher rates on articles used by the masses than on articles used by persons of wealth,' were listed wool rags, on which would be raised from 7-12 cents to 24 cents a pound under the bill, and wool blankets and oriental rugs."

"The higher duty on wool rags, Simmons contended, 'must materially exchange the price of the cheaper woolen fabrics.'"

Highway Officers Doing Big Business

Raleigh, N. C. Sept. 12. (AP)—State highway patrolmen in North Carolina stopped 15,031 automobiles for traffic violations, traveled 111,561 miles and arrested 418 persons in August according to the monthly report given out today by captain Charles D. JOYNER'S

On Tobacco Market Conditions

The Eastern North Carolina tobacco markets have all opened, and while prices were disappointing to all the people of this great and best bright tobacco growing region in the world, we would say to the growers, do not be discouraged. Tobacco is going to sell higher, we believe, on the average, than in many years, and while the opening prices were lower than most of us expected, in the end, we believe, this will turn out to be a blessing to all. We are no prophets, but we assert our belief that this crop will prove to be the lightest yield per acre that has been produced in 20 years. It will not require very long for the tobacco trade to find this out and then farmers will realize satisfactory prices.

Market Average on Opening—$11.85.

WHICH is another way of saying that the Bureau of Standards in Washington—with its rigorous and complete laboratory tests—is one of the two plants in the United States which are completely equipped to put motor fuels through a college examination.

The only other laboratory comparable to that of the Bureau of Standards is maintained by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. Hundreds of thousands of dollars invested here have provided every known scientific and engineering device. They are used to one end:—to make "Standard" Improved Gasoline the best you can buy. It is no wonder that there is an overwhelming preference for "Standard."

Hundreds of thousands of motorists know that "Standard" is superior on every count—power; starting; maximum mileage. More miles of motoring satisfaction in every gallon.

When you buy "Standard" Improved Gasoline, you buy a tested, science-perfected, power-giving fuel. You can be sure that it's "Standard" it's right.

LEADERS PUSH FURTHER UP IN BIG LEAGUES

By WILLIAM J. CHIPMAN (Associated Press Sport Writer). Another day of campaigning along the fast-crumbing Major League fronts resulted all to the favor of the pennant-bound leaders yesterday, leaving each of the front runners in need of only four victories to clinch its championship. In the American league, the Athletics clipped the White Sox by 7 to 4 as the Browns whitewashed the Yankees by 5 to 0. The National league batting saw the Cubs come home in front of the Phillies by 5 to 2, with the Gaults defeating the Pirates by 2 to 1 and 10 to 5.

Of even more interest than the progress of the leaders was the opening of John McGraw's hand-to-hand fight with the Dreyfus Dragons for possession of second place, which McGraw usually has occupied when he has failed to win the pennant. The charge had gone up in the west that this giant team was lifeless, indifferent to whether it finished second or third in spite of the difference in the case awarded for place and for show.

The answer of the Giants was written upon the Forbes Field scoreboard yesterday in figures which could not be mistaken. The double triumph reduced the Buccaneer second-place margin to four and one-half games with two more to go against the Giants.

The contest at Wrigley Field was enlivened by home runs, which were the only successful scoring means the Phils were able to operate against the veteran Arthur Nehf. Klein and Hurst reached L. I. Arthur for the circuit in the fourth, beginning and ending the Philadelphia scoring. Klein's drive was his thirty-eighth, but Hack Wilson matched it in an inning later to continue his tie with the Philadelphia. Stephenson and Tolson rounded out the home-run club.

Red Lucas registered his eighteenth victory as the Reds shaded the Robins by 4 to 2 at Cincinnati. Buck Newsome, a Brooklyn Rookie, pitched the first seven innings in a creditable if losing Major League debut. The Cardinals whaled the Braves twice by 11 to 4 and 7 to 1. Mose Grove attempted his twenty-first victory as the White Sox opened their final series in Philadelphia, and drew Ted Lyons for an opponent. A pitchers' battle was in prospect, and one developed, but not until the Messrs. Grove and Lyons had been led away mumbering incoherently to themselves.

The White Sox showed little enough respect for Grove to score four runs on five hits in the first round, and the Macks returned the compliment to Mr. Lyons and Mr. McKain in the home half of the same session in the form of seven hits and seven runs. With that accomplished, Bill Shores and McKain went through the next eight rounds without allowing a run.

Having learned at last the trick of beating the Yanks, the ambitions of the Browns know no limits. St. Louisans made it five straight over the Hugenmen yesterday, and Alvin Crowder hurled his second successive shut-out against them. The ex-champions, after yesterday's outing, owned a record of five runs against the Browns in the last forty-five innings.

Boston rallied to shade Detroit by 8 to 7 in ten innings, scoring six of its runs in the last three rounds, and Washington stopped the Indians by 5 to 2.

GEORGIA TECH MERE SHADOW OF OLD SELF

(Associated Press Sport Writer). Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 12.—(AP)—There is much scurrying around in football camps all over the south. The reason is out at Tech Flats.

With the golden tornado of Georgia Tech reduced to the level of the rest of the field by graduation and one thing and another, the coming campaign in the Southern Conference looks more like a free for all than it has in years with at least four teams given an equal chance for the gravy.

The Tech team which last season defeated Notre Dame and California, to say nothing of administering the usual spanking to the South, is just a shadow of its former self.

The right side of the line is a wreck. The backfield is navigating on one leg and the reserve strength is far below the standard of last year.

Pier Pund, all-American center; Frank Speer, all-American tackle; Bob Durant, quarterback; Frank Wadley, end, and Raleigh Drennon, guard, graduated and went out in the normal course of things.

Loss of these head-liners was bad enough, but the real blow came a few weeks ago when Roy (Father) Lumpkin, Tech's outstanding full-back, left the campus, presumably to join a pro team at Portsmouth, Ohio.

Alexander had built his 1929 offensive and defensive system around the big Texan and the latter's bolting has left Alexander reeling. He must work out a different system from the ground up.

Tech had a fine corps of reserves last year and Alexander can patch up his line without much difficulty. But finding another lumpkin among the backfield subs is something else again. Also he may have trouble finding a quarter. All four of the 1928 field generals graduated.

Right now Bob Dunlap, who has done a little signal calling, is slated to succeed Durant. Mizell and Thomason again are available for half back duty and Alexander will pick his fullback from among Weatherford, Strickland, Luna and Fitzgerald, all 1928 reserves.

Williams, from the 1928 Freshman team, is working rather nicely at right end and Dickie, another sophomore, probably will try to fill big Drennon's shoes at right guard.

Tech will be able to send eleven good men out on the field, but Alexander is going to be up against it for reserve strength unless he gets more help from the Sophomores than he seems to think he will.

The Jacks play the usual hard schedule. Notre Dame come back to Atlanta for an inter-sectional tilt and Florida has been added for an early season classic. Alabama, Georgia, Vanderbilt, Tulane, North Carolina and Auburn are listed.

Duke Starts Getting Ready for Pitt With First Week of Drills

Durham, Sept. 11.—"Every man on the squad must know every play and every signal by Saturday night," was the word today from the Duke football coaches to the squad in training.

Practice this year started a little differently from that of other opening weeks at Duke. It was not as strenuous from a physical angle but more so mentally.

During the summer while Head Coach Jimmy DeHart remained in Durham to watch the progress on the new stadium he spent his spare minutes cooking up a dish of dazzling plays for the Pitt game on October 5.

It is his idea to show a versatile attack when the stadium is filled with football fans for the opening against Pitt.

These plays were given to the men the first three days of work, half a dozen or so a day from the first session.

Blackboard drills in the evening reviewed the progress of the work on the field and each man had to answer questions.

The first week's program, therefore, is to master the plan of attack.

And all stress was laid in that direction. The players reported in good condition and the usual soreness did not bob up so quickly this fall.

The coaches have seen no reason to be less hopeful in these first few days of practice. They believe they have the material for a great team.

Kid Brewer at quarterback, Glenn Robeson receiving passes, Flop Beaver at punting, and Buz Rosky at quarterback, have all shown well. The first three are sophomors and the last named a varsity end of last year.

CAMP SMITH, Peekskill, N. Y.

Aug. 17th.—I have shared the soldier's cigarette in pretty nearly every corner of the world, and I know how set in his ways an army man can get when it comes to knowing what smoke he likes. So frankly the idea that a two year old cigarette—even if it did have the name OLD GOLD—could win this test over three old time brands seemed unbelievable.

But the thing worked out. At Camp Smith, where I witnessed the test, OLD GOLD put the bee on 506 Yanks of the Old Seventh New York regiment.

The Old Seventh went OLD GOLD with 195 bull's-eyes as against 144 for the next brand, with the two other old timers rating scores of 81 and 86.

What's more, this concealed name test is as square as a regimental parade ground.

Biggest Votes In Force During Opportunity Days

During the progress of "Opportunity Days" the real golden days of the Reflector gift distribution has arrived. Up to Saturday night, September 14th the biggest votes of the entire campaign are in force. It is the accepted time for candidates, both present and prospective, to win. It means that during these opportunity days that real effort will accomplish what all candidates are striving for, the winning of one of the prizes to be given away.

Those who are wise will get busy and gather in the harvest of votes during "Opportunity Week," that will be the means of winning thousands upon thousands of dollars in prizes.

Biggest Vote Offer

This week represents absolutely the very biggest vote of the campaign and also the period of time during which a candidate can forge into commanding position or fall by the wayside, according to his or her own desire's dictate.

All business reported to campaign headquarters by 9 o'clock Saturday night, or mailed from any postoffice with postmark dated before that closing time, will count on "Opportunity Days" vote schedule. In the case of mailed business the time of the postmark is what determines what votes it will receive no matter if it arrives at campaign headquarters on the following few days. This is done to provide the opportunity for out-of-town candidates to take full advantage of the time of the big week regardless of their distance from the office.

Now Time for Action

For the people who are still harboring a desire to win in this campaign and have so far put off sending in their names, and for those who are entered and have not yet become active now is the time for action. A careful study of "Opportunity Days" is urged for prospective as well as actual candidates. A full explanation appears in the full page today.

Our Silk Hose Reaches Two-Thirds of the Way to the Pole

Last year we sold over 7,000,000 pairs of Women's Full Fashioned Silk Hose, which would measure more than 32,000,000 feet. The distance that Commander Byrd traveled before he reached the Pole was—roughly—over 47,000,000 feet—so our Silk Hose is about two-thirds of the way there.

We didn't count Men's Hose either, or Children's, or perhaps we would have been over half the way back by now!

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 2 to 8 points with active month showing net gains of 4 to 12 points during the early trading on covering, combined with some local buying promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables. December sold up to 1.02 and March to 1.21, but the demand was supplied as these figures, apparently, and prices later reacted under southern hedging and the end of renewal of liquidation. By the end of the first half hour, December contracts were off to 18.86 and March 15.98, or a 4 to 6 points net lower.

Liverpool cables reported that the hedge selling there had been absorbed by trading calling and continental covering and said there was a fair inquiry for cotton cloth, although many offers were unworkable.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Sept. 12.—(AP)—With reports current suggesting that drought has cut the Argentine wheat crop down half, wheat prices today advanced to about 50c per bushel above figures prevailing 48 hours ago. On advance, however, heavy profit-taking sales here caused a reaction that wiped out much of today's gains.

Wheat closed unsettled 1-4 to 7-8 above yesterday's finish; corn closed 5-8 to 1 down; oats unchanged, to 1-4 off and provisions unchanged to an rise of 12c.

STOCK MARKET

Sharp reversal of form today, rallying briskly at the opening and then plunging downward. Easy rains of 1 to 6 points in the active issues and 7 to 21 points in a new high priced specialties were out.

Some recovery took place in the early afternoon. There was nothing in the day's news to explain the sudden change in sentiment. Call money was in comfortably supply at 8 per cent with indications that the rate would be maintained for the rest of the week due to the heavy accumulation of funds here in anticipation of mid-month payments. Other monetary rates were unchanged. The bank of England made no change in its discount rate, but it is possible that Wall street feared some adverse developments at the New York Federal Reserve bank meeting after the close of the market.

Freight car loadings in the last week of August, made public today, set a new high record for the period and electrical output for July, figures for which have just been compiled, also reached a new peak. Business and trade news generally was favorable although some uneasiness is apparent as a result of the recent falling off in steel output and the shrinkage of unfilled orders. Reports that copper metal is still selling on an 18 cents a pound basis also proved disappointing to holders of those stocks.

American machine and foundry ran up 21 1/2 joints to another new high record at 279 1/2 in the early trading. J. I. Case jumped 7 1/2 points to a new top at 45 1/2. Radio ran up more than 5 points to a new high record for the present stock at 114 3/4, but lost all its gain in the mid-day reaction.

High priced industrials and the specialties were hard hit in the selling movement. United Cigar stores preferred dropped 8 points to a new low at 75. Westinghouse electric dropped 8 points below last night's close. National lead 63-4, Johns Manville 61-2, Atlas Powder 53-4, U. S. Steel common 41-2 and Simmons Co. commercial solvents, American telephone, American water works, Dupont and General Electric 3 to 4 1/2 points. Collins and Alkman sank 2 to a new low at 32.

COULDN'T SLEEP, SO MUCH PAIN

Lady Says She "Hurt Nearly All Over" and "Nerves Were All on Edge."

New Albany, Ind.—"About ten years ago, I was just about run-down," writes Mrs. David Brock, of 1102 West Main St., this city. "My back and limbs ached; in fact, I hurt nearly all over. I had bad, sick headache spells, and my nerves were all to pieces."

"I could not sleep at night; could hardly have any rest at all. I was barely able to get around to do my work. I kept up just because I was a mother with five little children to care for."

"I read about Cardui. I thought it might help me, so I bought a bottle and began to take it."

"It was such a benefit to my health. By the time I had taken the first bottle, I felt so much better. My husband insisted on me giving Cardui a fair trial, so I kept on until I had taken several bottles, and at last found myself a well woman."

Thousands of other women, who had been in a run-down, suffering condition, have reported that after taking Cardui they recovered good health.

Plane Lands in Tree

Maspequa, N. Y.—Eighty feet up the top of a 300-year-old oak tree, in the yard of Mrs. Mary Johnson, is an airplane Engel Werner, mechanic, landed there perfectly without damage to the plane. He shinned down. Now the problem is to get the plane. Mrs. Johnson won't stand for the tree being cut down unless she is paid $500.
