HEAD OF RAYON PLANTS TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Dr. W. C. Kummer Found Dead in Bed Elizabethton With Christ Slashed

Elizabethton, Tenn., Oct. 1.—(AP)—The body of Dr. W. C. Kummer, acting president of the American Benzoin and Glandstoff Corporations, the big mills, was found dead in bed Monday morning shortly after 8 o'clock.

His wrists slashed by a razor blade. The body was discovered by a family and summoned officers. The razor blade was found on the floor by the side of the bed. Spots of blood led into the bath room from Kummer's room, and his bed was covered with bloodstains.

Ben Allen, county attorney general, immediately summoned detectives from Washington and Atlanta, and held up the inquest until after the detective have arrived and made an investigation.

No motive for suicide could be advanced by members of the family or officers. Officers would not discuss the probability of murder. A front window of the house was open, and a flower box on the edge had been smashed.

The house was immediately placed under guard, Sheriff J. M. Moreland and John Nade, chief of police, taking charge. No one was admitted. A. B. Williams, a deputy sheriff, who, with Sheriff Moreland, were the first officers to reach the house, said it looked like suicide.

Dr. Kummer had suffered an attack of gall stones last night, and was attended by Dr. J. B. Shoun. He appeared restless, complaining to be retired. Members of the family said no sound of a struggle had been heard throughout the night.

Dr. Kummer became acting president of the textile plants shortly after the lengthy strike last spring. He relieved Dr. Arthur Motzwing, who went to Germany for a visit.

During the recent unrest of operatives in the big mills here, Kummer adopted a direct plan of action in determining the attitude of the nearly 6000 employees in the plants.

While officials of the local of the United Textile Workers of America prepared for a vote on a strike because of alleged discrimination he directed taking a ballot within the mill under the supervision of workers' committees.

The vote was overwhelmingly against a walkout. Kummer was a native of Barmen, Germany.

A note, written in German, addressed to "Bluetzen," who plant officials here was Fritz Bluetzen, a high official of the Bemberg interests in Germany, was found in Kummer's room, Sheriff Moreland said.

A portion of the note, according to Sheriff Moreland read: "I can't wait farther from my people." There were several other sentences but these were withheld.

Ropes have been thrown around the house and no one has been allowed to enter. Kummer's body still remained in the bed where it was found, pending arrival of detectives from Atlanta by airplane.

Dr. Kummer had been acting as head of the two plants for about two months, coming directly from his home in Barmen, Germany, to Elizabethton. He was about 54 years old. Officials here said he was married and had two daughters and a son, all of whom are at Barmen.

Dr. Kummer was considered one of the leading textile officials of the Bemberg interests. He was formerly German consul to Portugal.

Coast Guard Boats Aiding Shipping in Waters of Florida

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Ten additional coast guard boats were due in Florida waters today to give assistance to distressed shipping.

The Italian steamer Salina, which began sending out SOS calls Saturday night from a position off Manzanillo Reef, still was believed to be in trouble.

The coast guard base at St. Petersburg had been asked by the Dixie Fruit Company of Tampa, to search for their motorship Truck, which left Baracoa, Cuba, last Wednesday and failed to reach Tampa on schedule Sunday, it carries no wireless.

Some concern also was felt for the tug Bafsa towing the oil barge "Florence from Smith's Bluff" Texas to Tampa with a crew of 22. It was last reported Saturday morning 66 miles off Eggmont Key, but failed to arrive at Tampa that night as expected. It was thought possible the tug had taken a westward course to avoid the storm and had been delayed.

The Yamacraw and the Modoc, first-class cutters, each carrying 80 men, were to arrive off the Florida coast early today to join eight coast guard patrol boats.

Over Million Pounds of Bright Leaf Sold In the City Monday

The Greenville tobacco market yesterday sold 1,633,116 pounds of tobacco, according to the official report of sales made public this morning by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales. The general market average was given at $14.98. The farmers were paid a total sum of 154,833.49.

The report indicated that the general average would have been much stronger had it not been for the large offering of inferior grades of tobacco. A considerable quantity of black, damaged leaf was in evidence and this played an important part in the price situation.

TOTAL YIELD OF U. S. CROPS RUNS SHORT

Department of Agriculture Shows Crops Six Percent Below Ten Year Average

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The Department of Agriculture in its October 1 report on the agricultural situation today said the total yield of crops this year probably will run about six per cent below the ten year average because of severe drought during most of the summer.

Although September rains finally broke the long dry spell the situation in the Pacific northwest, the department said, is still serious and ranches have had difficulty preparing their land for winter wheat.

Effects of the dry season, the report added, are evident among the vegetable crops also. The potato crop is estimated at about 350,000,000 bushels, which is one of the smallest crops in ten years. Total car lot shipments of this season's fruits and vegetables during August and September ranged around 15 per cent smaller than last year.

The commercial apple crop was forecast by the department last month at 29,500,000 barrels which is about 6,000,000 barrels less than a year ago. Apple prices, the department said, this year have been running about 50 per cent higher than last year.

Maxwell, State Commissioner of Revenue, announced today. Highway fund collections during September totalled $1,315,641.49 compared to $950,209.63 during September 1928.

The total general fund collections for the first three months of the fiscal year 1929-30, were $3,162,972.72, compared to $2,635,703.26 for the same period of 1928, or an increase this year of $527,269.46. The highway fund collections the three months totalled $3,825,571.47, compared to $2,920,998.76 for the same period last fiscal year, an increase this year of $905,472.71.

Tobacco Situation Aired At Capital City Today

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—A conference of growers and buyers of North Carolina tobacco was held today by Senator Simmons, Democrat, of North Carolina, that legislation to give the Farm Board control of the crop might be necessary unless a plan for relieving the depressed market was devised.

Simmons, who called the conference after discussing the situation with James C. Stone, who represented tobacco on the Board, said the board could not act in the absence of co-operative associations. He contended that "something was radically wrong" in the industry if it was true the farmers could not prosper at present prices.

In other years the tobacco has brought 37 cents a pound but this year it opened at 12 cents and is selling now for 13 to 14 cents. This year's crop, Simmons said, was "short" and of a very fair quality. He added he had received a "great many" letters of protest from the growers.

Among those at the conference were Gov. Gardner, Secretary of Agriculture Graham, of North Carolina; Joseph Daniels, and Dr. W. W. Dawson, who acted as the chairman of the growers' delegation. Secretary of Agriculture Hyde and Stone also attended.

HEAVY WINDS FORECAST FOR SOUTH TODAY

Heavy Gales Predicted From Virginia Capes to Florida During Today

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The weather bureau in a report this morning said northeast storm warnings had been ordered from the Virginia Capes to Charleston and "southwest storm warnings from Charleston to Daytona."

The West Indian disturbance that has been threatening the coast of Alabama, Mississippi and Florida for several days was reported to be central over extreme southwestern Georgia and moving northeastward with diminishing intensity.

The warning declared there was no danger of hurricane winds. The warning follows:

"Advisory northeast storm warnings ordered 9 a. m., Virginia Capes to Charleston and southwest storm warnings Charleston to Daytona, tropical disturbance central over extreme southwestern Georgia, moving northeastward with diminishing intensity, will cause strong east and northeast winds and gales late this afternoon and tonight from Charleston northward to Virginia Capes and strong southwest winds reaching Charleston to Daytona. The disturbance is decreasing in intensity. There is no danger of hurricane winds."

FALL RETURNS TO CAPITAL TO GO ON TRIAL

Former Secretary of Interior Faces Bribery Hearing in Oil Deal

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Albret B. Fall, now 68 years old, has returned to the city which he said nearly two years ago he might never leave again alive, to stand trial on a charge of bribery in connection with the leasing of the Elk Hills, California, naval oil reserve.

In November, 1927, former secretary of the interior sat in a Washington hotel room where he had battled grimly for more than a week against illness. Stopped of shoulder and chrouded in a heavy bathrobe, the paleness of his face showed how illness had sapped his vitality. His trial with Harry F. Sinclair, wealthy oil man for conspiracy in the leasing of the Teapot Dome reserves had just ended in a mistrial with the government charging the jury had been tampered with.

"I would like to feel," he said, commenting on the fact that a new trial had been set for the following January, "that there is more than an even chance for my ever returning home after that but I think there is only a 50-50 chance.

Since then Fall has not returned to the capital until this week. He will go to trial Monday on the bribery charge growing out of the Elk Hills lease, which the United States Supreme court has held was arranged without legal authority and was tainted with fraud and corruption because of the $100,000 sent to Fall in "a little black satchel" by Edward L. Doheny, the lessee.

An elevator operator in Enid, Okla., has discovered a new use for an airplane propeller. He hooked it to a tractor to dry wheat.

Hurricane Curves Over Southern Georgia And Heads Toward Atlantic

By Associated Press
Described a huge arc, the tropical storm that swept the Bahamas Islands last week, lashed the southern tip of Florida and then moved northwestward up the Gulf of Mexico to strike the mainland between Pensacola and Apalachicola, today was curving northeastward across southern Georgia, apparently heading back toward the Atlantic Seaboard.

The West Indian storm that threatened but did not seriously damage the coast of Alabama, Mississippi and Florida evidently has diminished in intensity as weather bureau reports said these now was no danger of hurricane winds, stiff winds still prevailing along its path, however.

Northeast storm warnings were ordered from the Virginia Capes to Charleston and southwest storm warnings from Charleston to Daytona Beach.

The disturbance was central over extreme southwestern Georgia this morning, moving northeastward with diminishing intensity after lashing the Florida mainland from Tallahassee west to Pensacola.

No serious property damage or casualties have been reported either in western Florida or southern Georgia.

Railroad, telephone and telegraph communication was crippled, however, and highways were flooded by torrential rains that accompanied the storm.

Thomasville, Ga., experienced strong winds this morning, after a night of heavy rains. The barometer there stood at 29.12.

Farther eastward, at Valdosta, however, only a light breeze was blowing at 11 a. m. But overcast skies drenched that section with heavy rains.

Should the storm continue on its present course, it probably will reach the eastern Georgia coast, late today, meteorologists said.

Mobile, La., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Prediction that the West Indian hurricane which crossed northwestern Florida and South Alabama counties, approximately 60 miles east of here yesterday as it came out of the Gulf of Mexico would blow itself out during today and tonight as it travels a north by east course was made here today by Albert Ashenberger of the Mobile weather bureau.

Ashenberger forecast the return of sunny weather to coast counties with an eight degree drop in temperature by tomorrow morning. The expected 62 degree by tomorrow morning is not unusual, Ashenberger said. Little additional damage to be reported was anticipated here.

Mobile experienced 30 miles an hour wind last night from squalls coming as the backwash of the hurricane as it traveled north. No damage was reported. The highest wind of the storm here was 43 miles an hour at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Efforts to check damage in south and southeastern Alabama and northwestern Florida counties from the hurricane, was hampered by lack of communication facilities today.

The telephone company here reported all its lines down north and east with little prospect of early recovery. Commercial telegraph companies had their lines open to the state's principal cities.

Tells Senate Committee Cotton Should Be Selling Higher Than It Is Today

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Resuming the examination of Carl Williams of Oklahoma, the Senate Agricultural committee was told today by the Federal Farm board member that on the basis of present conditions of supply and demand, cotton should be bringing from one to one and a quarter cents per pound more than it is a present.

This was challenged as being too small by Senator Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, who quoted statistics from the agricultural department which fixed the average price since 1920 at 22 1/2 cents.

"And yet you say," Smith said, "that under present conditions of supply and demand, cotton should be bringing only about 18 1/2 cents."

Williams questioned the sources of figures Smith gave on world consumption, asserting the data was not gathered by the best equipped agencies. Smith replied they were the best any one had.

"But what I want to point out," Smith said, "is that here these distressing conditions have come to the cotton grower at a time when the world consumed about a million bales more than we produced."

"And yet you sit here and tell Senator Caraway that after five years we might be able to pump a little life into the farmer. The whole thing is absurd on its face."

"Senator," Williams replied, "We will need ten to twenty billions rather than $500,000,000 if you want us to fix a price for cotton far above that which conditions of supply and demand will permit. We couldn't do that except by buying the entire crop."

Senator Smith said that in "less than two weeks" the board could raise the price of cotton "somewhere near its intrinsic value to the farmer" if the board announces that it intended to buy in the market.

"And you would not have had to spend a dollar," Smith added. "The statistics I have presented show that the law of supply and demand has had little to do with the price. That is what we thought this board would do something about. But now we hear the same old thing is going to be told the farmers."

"I can't agree with you," Williams said. "If we had made such an announcement as you suggested, it would have meant that this board would have to come back to Congress each year for more money without having reached a permanent solution."

Williams was also questioned by Senator Hefflin, Democrat, Alabama, who said he thought cotton ought to be bringing around 20 cents a pound.

RAIN DISRUPTS TRAIN TRAFFIC FROM RALEIGH

Neuse River in Flood Stage With Other Streams Spreading Over Highways

Raleigh, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Raleigh has had 6.75 inches of rain within the past 23 hours, Lee A. Denson, meteorologist here, announced at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The precipitation set a new high mark for 24 hours rainfall for all time in Raleigh, he said, with the previous high mark having been made August 24-25, 1928, when 5.72 inches of rain fell.

This afternoon Mr. Denson reported the Neuse river already in the flood stage, with the Cape Fear river likely to go into flood. Smaller bridges were reported washed out today on Crabtree Creek and one railroad bridge at Barnes Crossing was reported washed away, causing a delay to Norfolk Southern trains entering and leaving Raleigh. Water was reported running over the highway roadbeds along Crabtree.

John D. Waldrop, state highway engineer, reported that reports were being made to him hourly by all district highway engineers over the state and that bridges and roads were in fairly good condition.

R. L. Watkins, superintendent of roads in Wake county, early this afternoon issued a warning to the traveling public to make sure that all bridges they have occasion to cross are in good condition.

Though the Neuse and Cape Fear rivers are the two now at the highest stage, other rivers of the state are rising steadily.

Mrs. Martha Mills Dies at Black Jack

She is survived by six children, Mrs. Ada Mills, Mrs. Marcellus Mills, Mrs. Jesse Haddock, and Messrs. Monk Edward and Tom Mills.

Mrs. Mills was a member of the Black Jack Free Will Baptist church.

N. Y. Detective Shot to Death

Have De Grace, Md., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Authorities, with nothing more tangible than a discarded pistol to work from, are searching for the assassin who late last night shot and killed A. A. Morrison, of New York, Pinkerton detective assigned to the Have De Grace race track, while he was on his way home through a darkened street.

Morrison, according to several persons who were standing on the corner about 50 yards from the scene of the fatal shooting, had made a purchase at the corner drug store and started for his home. He was accosted by the man, who said "now I've got you," fired six shots into his body and fled. Morrison died five minutes after being admitted to a hospital without regaining consciousness.

Bystanders told police they did not get a clear look at the killer, later, however, two negroes said they had seen a man running from the scene of the shooting, and that he had thrown a pistol into a clump of bushes. The pistol, with all cartridges discharged, was found.

MRS. DEANS PASSES AWAY

Former Member of the Faculty of Local Schools Died at Greensboro Monday

Mrs. Kenneth Deans died at her home in Greensboro yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Although she had been ill about a week her death came as a distinct shock to friends and relatives in this community where she was a member of the city schools faculty for several years. The body was sent to Danville, Va., where funeral services were conducted this afternoon at four o'clock.

Mrs. Deans, who before her marriage was Miss Kathleen Cousins, a native of Danville, Va. While in Greenville she made her home with her sister, Mrs. B. S. Warren. Mr. and Mrs. Warren and other relatives were in Greensboro when Mrs. Deans died.

Mrs. Deans is survived by her husband, an infant daughter, two sisters, Mrs. B. S. Warren, of Greenville, Miss. Mary Cousins, of Norfolk, and a brother, Waverly Cousins, of Danville, Va.

Raleigh, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Governor first paragraph here was not his. He then continued: "I was not asked my opinion as to the present hour of labor or sociological effect of mill tenements."

"My own views on the question of hours, wages, and tenements, which at the proper time I shall recommend to the next general assembly are as follows:

"First, I am in favor of the 55 hour law in industry in North Carolina.

"Second, I am in favor of a rigid enforcement of this law with spirit penalty for its violation.

"Third, I favor the discontinuance of night work for women under 18 years of age.

Army Balloon Pilot W. B. SHEARER AGAIN BEFORE SENATE BODY

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Calm and smiling, William B. Shearer today made a second appearance before a senate committee inquiring into his activities at Geneva as the "observer" for American shipbuilders at the time the United States, Great Britain and Japan were seeking a limiting agreement on cruisers and other types of war craft.

The big navy advocate began his testimony by punctuating his answers with staccato "yes sirs" and "no sirs." This was in contrast to his replies yesterday when committee members frequently urged that he confine himself to the subject at hand.

It was "no sir" when Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, asked if the principle of naval parity was conceded in the Geneva conference.

"What was the understanding with your employers about reporting to them?" inquired Robinson.

"I was sent there to bring out facts and figures," he said. "I was sent to Geneva as an attorney would be sent out by a client."

Shearer added he occasionally sent "communications" or reports to Henry C. Hunter, counsel of the National Council of American shipbuilders.

"Sometimes I had to get out my statements hurriedly," he continued, "and one time I used the bedroom of Allen Dulles. Those statements were valuable to the press. I would give them, say, to Williams of the Times, and Henry Wales of the Chicago Tribune."

Dulles was counsel of the American delegation at Geneva.

Shearer said Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, was on his mailing list for the Geneva reports along with the other shipbuilders.

Robinson read from one of Shearer's letters to Hunter stating "this show may end abruptly." The letter also spoke of a "hot shot" prepared for the press.

Shearer explained the "hot shot" as a report showing that Great Britain had more ship tonnage than was permitted under the treaty.

The witness reiterated testimony of yesterday that he kept secret at Geneva that he was representing the shipbuilders because an instance of W. W. Wakeman, vice-president of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding corporation.

"Did they give any reason for secrecy?" asked Robinson.

"Yes, they considered that the pacifist movement was getting so strong and that John D. Rockefeller who was interested in this movement was associated in a way in it with Schwab. Both Rockefeller and the shipping industry had employed the same publicity agency, Ivy Lee, and I guess they didn't want to puncture Lee's vanity. They had paid him $150,000."

Robinson inquired into the "break" with the shipbuilders in December of 1927. Shearer said, he was sent to Washington by Wakeman and Frederick Halen, vice-president of the New Port News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock corporation "to set up my permanent residence."

"I was to be the big fellow." In December, Shearer added, he was called to New York by Hunter saying:

"I was filled with hope, for you never can tell but that you will be made one of Charlie's boys."

Shearer told of meeting Paken and the others in New York. "They said the reporter had been to Bethlehem and Secretary Kellogg had called Bethlehem on the mat and told them to get 'rider get out. So they said I had better get out myself."

"I got Paken alone and asked what was behind this."

"He said Schwab doesn't want to be connected with this big navy business."

TEN FIRE ALARMS IN ONE NIGHT AT LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Ten fire alarms last night in Louisville's downtown business district in the area restricted for use of frolicking legionnaires here for the national convention, caused fire department and police officials to express the opinion today that pyromaniacs were at work.

Five firemen were injured in the worst of the blazes, which caused damage estimated at more than $15,000 to a women's apparel store. The origin was undetermined here, but several of the other fires started in piles of waste paper.

Four of the alarms that caused runs downtown were false.

MRS. E. B. FICKLEN HOSTESS TO U. D. C.

The George B. Singletary chapter United Daughters of the Confederacy held their regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. B. Ficklen.

A report of the year's work was read, a copy of which will be sent to all members. The following delegates were chosen to attend the convention in Statesville October 9: Mrs. J. L. Fleming, Mrs. T. A. Perren, Mrs. W. P. Moore, and Mrs. Robt. H. Wright.

As next month is the date for re-election of officers, Mrs. J. L. Hassell, Mrs. J. L. Little and Mrs. J. B. Blount were made the nominating committee. At the close of the business session Rev. E. L. Hillman gave a talk on "The North Carolina Monument at Gettysburg." This monument was dedicated July 8, 1929, sixty-six years after her sons had helped to make history on the bloody field of Gettysburg. This memorial is a fitting tribute to the patriotic devotion of North Carolina soldiers of the Confederacy.

It is a worthy memorial to their valor. In a golden mist of American valor lies Gettysburg. Sectional lines no longer mar its peaceful slopes. No longer do we recognize in its clouds of imperishable glory the devices of its flags. The dying sun reflects from this field one flag and one alone, the glorious emblem of our common country—and when in years to come it shall catch the morning's first gleam and reflect the last rays of the setting sun, may it inspire all who behold it to emulate the valor and patriotic devotion to duty which characterized those who fought and died upon this field.

RED MEN TO HAVE SURPRISE MEETING

Withacochee Tribe No. 35 is to have a surprise meeting Friday night, October 4th. Tribes at Winterville, Farmville, Ayden, Walstonburg, Grimesland and Washington have been invited to be present with their wives and daughters.

Witha Council No. 42 degree of Poochontas, together with the widows of deceased Red men, are also invited. The meeting has aroused much curiosity but in spite of this the committee has guarded their secret well.

The Tribe together with all visiting Red Men, will meet in the lodge rooms strictly at 7:30 p. m. for a short meeting, while the ladies will assemble in the court room. At 8 o'clock the men are to go direct to the court house where they will join the ladies and the surprise will then begin.

One of the committee stated today that the local Tribe has never put over a treat of this kind and magnitude before, and it was greatly to the advantage of all to be strictly on time as everything is so tightly timed.

After all assemble at the court house, what will then follow the committee refuses to divulge, but assures all that they will not regret any reasonable sacrifice made to be present.

Members of the Red Men and also the Poochontas are permitted to bring a friend who could be considered a prospect, though their application will not at all be solicited at that time.

ISADORA DUNCAN DANCERS TO BE FIRST ATTRACTION AT THE COLLEGE

Two weeks from this evening the Isadora Duncan Dancers will appear at East Carolina Teachers College, presenting the same dance program they have just been giving in New York City. The New York Times in the rotogravure section last Sunday had a picture of them in one of their dances.

Irma Duncan, one of the adopted daughters of the great Isadora Duncan, who is carrying on the great artist's work, is the leader of the group of twelve who will appear here. "Tomara," the pet of the dance world, the child marvel, will also be among the number.

This attraction will open the season of entertainments for the fall and winter of 1929 and 1930. There will be one big feature attraction each month through March, with matinees twice and one extra attraction, a glee club from one of the North Carolina colleges or universities, making nine entertainments in all.

The United States Army Band will appear twice as the November attraction, on the first afternoon and night of Thanksgiving week, November 25.

The greatest pianist in the world today, and one of the greatest of all times, as well as one of the world's greatest statesmen, Paderewski, will give a concert here on the evening of December 16, just before the festivities of the Christmas holidays.

Tony Sarg's Marionettes will appear twice on a date in January.

"The Barber of Seville," by the Festival Opera Company, will give the Greenville public a chance to have one evening of Grand Opera in February. The glee club is also scheduled for February.

Count von Luckner, the "Sea Devil," will be a fitting final attraction, closing the season in March.

Wife Shoots Hubby for "Going Set" In Close Bridge Game

Kansas City, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The bridge game which caused the fatal shooting here yesterday of John G. Bennett by his wife was for but one-tenth of a cent a point and the particular hand which evoked the fatal quarrel made the Bennets losers by 20 cents over a period of three hours of play.

Bennet was shot after an argument which began when his wife angrily termed his "a bum bridge player." Retaliatory words were followed by mounting anger and finally Bennet, western sales manager for a New York perfume company, struck his wife. Sobbing, she rushed to her mother's bedroom and obtained a gun with which she shot her husband twice.

Attempting to reconstruct the circumstances which led to the tragedy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hofman, with whom the Bennets were playing, said they did not remember all the cards of the hand which caused the quarrel but agreed that the hand on which Bennet was set, after his wife had raised his one-spade bid to four spades with an intervening bid of two diamonds, was "wonderful."

Mrs. Hofman refused to name the cards in an affidavit but informally said she believed Bennet held six trumps, including two honors, and that the dummy hand on which his wife raised his bid contained the other three honors.

Heavy Rainfall Around Monroe

Monroe, N. C., Oct. 1.—(AP)—Ten days of rain, topped by a torrential downpour which began at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was continuing today, is swelling the streams in this vicinity rapidly.

One to two feet of water is standing in several sections of Monroe. Many streams are over their banks, with bridges reported covered. Near Wingate, inhabitants report one of the biggest rains in history, with several streams near there four or five feet over bridges, some of them never known to be covered before.

The Union county fair, which was to have opened here today, has been postponed until better weather.

Precedence Issue Settled at Capital

Washington, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The extremely complicated questions of the precedence involved in the ceremonial functions which will attend the visit here of Prime Minister MacDonald seemed today to have been answered to the satisfaction of everybody directly concerned.

As a result, Washington society was assured today that any embarrassing revival, during the distinguished visitor's stay, of the controversy over the rank of Mrs. Edward Everett Gann, sister and official hostess of the vice-president, had been made extremely unlikely.

The big question, who would sit next to whom at the White House dinner, having been settled.

The end of the State Department's worries and the eager speculations of others interested came about through a series of court's withdrawal of precedence rights. Vice-President Curtis waived his right to sit next to Mrs. Hoover at the White House dinner, and Mrs. Gann relinquished hers to occupy a similar position with the President. Mr. MacDonald will be Mrs. Hoover's escort, and Lady Isabella Howard, wife of the British Ambassador, will dine at the right of the chief executive.

Previous waivers of precedence had come from Sir Eme Howard, who outranks his Prime Minister because, as Ambassador, he is the personal representative of his King, and from the Prime Minister on behalf of his daughter, Isabel, with the request that she be given no official rank.

Escaped Prisoners Surrounded by posse Near Lumberton

Raleigh, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Four state's prisoners who escaped from a convict camp in Bladen county late yesterday were reported this morning to be surrounded by a posse with bloodhounds near Lumberton, according to officials at the central prison here.

At least one of the four, Jack Borden, was believed to have been shot while escaping, camp officials reported to prison officials here.

The men are: Borden, sentenced in Richmond county in April 1923 to serve nine years, nine months to ten years for bank robbery; Frank Odum, Richmond county, sentenced January 1928 to serve two to three years for larceny; William Barber, Durham county, storebreaking and larceny, sentenced in February 1929 to serve five to seven years; and Wade Rollins, Buncombe county, larceny, sentenced in June 1928 to serve five to six years.

At the same time the escape of the four men was given out it was announced that two escaped prisoners had been recaptured.

John Byrd, negro, convicted in Duplin county in August 1921 of murder and sentenced to 15 years in prison; who escaped May 26 of this year, was recaptured in Rock Hill, S. C., and Jim Knott, white man, convicted in Mecklenburg county in April 1926 of highway robbery and sentenced to seven and a half to ten years, who escaped June 17 of this year, was caught in Charlotte.

DAY OR NIGHT AMBULANCE SERVICE WILLIAMS

FAIR OPENING PREVENTED BY BIG RAINFALL

The scheduled early opening of the Pitt county fair failed to take place last night at 6 o'clock when rain of torrential proportions descended upon this community and continued virtually all night. The deluge not only prevented any attendance at the fair, but dissuaded showmen from opening up their attractions until the weather man showed an inclination to close the sluice gates.

With threatening weather continuing today, and forecasts predicting still more rain during the afternoon and evening, it looked as if the fair would do good to be able to stage its official opening today. However, there will be hundreds to brave the inclement offerings of the weather man to see what the fair has to offer, and it is probable some of the amusement features will get in swing this afternoon and night between showers.

With schools scheduled for a half holiday today, fair officials were expecting the biggest attendance of the week, but since leaden skies still gave forth promise of rain this afternoon, they hardly knew what to expect. But one thing is sure, as soon as the rain stops things will begin humming around the fair and there will be no letup until Saturday night.

Everything was in splendid shape for the opening last night. Midway was ablaze with more amusement devices than has ever before been assembled on the local fair grounds, and exhibit building literally groined under the weight of the products of this thriving community. It was a splendid spectacle, one that brought gladness to the hearts of amusement seekers, and while fair officials and the public too were disappointed, all are hopeful of seeing the fair actually get under way within the next several hours.

I took it for some time, and my improvement was wonderful. I was able to get up and do all my work."

Minister Robs Bank and Then Suicides

Le Mars, Iowa, Oct. 1.—(AP)—For three hours yesterday the Rev. Rex Froelke forgot he was an ordained minister of the Evangelical church, forgot his position as a respected citizen and landowner. He fastened a black mask across his face, showed a pistol in his pocket and robbed the Sioux Center, Iowa, Bank. Then, with arrest near, he killed himself.

The robber was the more inexplicable to authorities because Froelke's wife is reputed to be one of the wealthiest women in this section of Iowa.

Just before Froelke shot himself in a barn on the farm of his wife, he gave $360 to P. Dickman, the farm tenant, with the explanation it was money he had obtained in the bank robbery.

License plates on his automobile turned suspicion to Froelke. Persons who saw the robber drive from Sioux Center after the holdup of the bank, caught the numbers of the car and traced them to Folke. Members of a posse went to Froelke's place and questioned him. His declarations of innocence, coupled with his high standing in the community, influenced them not to arrest him.

Froelke then went to Dickman, gave him the money, confessed the theft and went to the barn where he shot himself with the same gun he had used earlier in the day in holding up the bank cashier.

The minister was 38 years old. In his college days at Western Union College here, he starred at football.

Persons who undertake a career of fooling others
usually end up by fooling themselves.

If today's weather is a sample of the hurricane that has been sweeping the south we are glad that we live as far north as we do.

From now until the fifteenth of this month is pay-up period with the Greenville Merchants Association and everyone is urged to settle his bills during this time,
or to make some definite arrangements for settlement in the near future.

Just what the series of tobacco conferences in Washington City will amount to no one can tell, but at any rate it can do no harm for the heads of the buying companies to sit down and talk things over with representatives of the producers.
After all, though, if the farmer was not depending entirely upon his tobacco crop for his living, but was raising his living on the farm, he would not now find it necessary to be pleading with the buying companies.
While the present situation looks bad for the great majority there is one good that can come from it all. If it pinches enough to convince the farmers that it is more profitable to give their first consideration to their home supplies instead of tobacco crops, then it will have proven a blessing to our section.

FOOTBALL

Critics of modern college football picture it as an organized and commercialized spectacle. They even complain that the cheering sections are organized and lack that desired amateurish spontaneity. Few will deny that college football today is a "big business," with some teams collecting as much as $300,000 in gate receipts in one short season and with corps of high salaried coaches and trainers and large squads of subsidized players, but after all the commercialism found in football is something different from that associated with professional baseball.
It may be traditions, it may be the players and it may be a difference in those who fill the gridiron stands and those who fill the baseball bleachers, but compared with baseball the sport of football is decidedly unprofessional and uncommercialized.

The football player who excels under its present stage of development must have physical endurance and strength and mental alertness. Both are splendid qualities for the business of making a living out of sportdom.

No better evidence that football is played to the king's taste today could be found than the fact that never was the sport as popular as now, never was it better played and never did it so strongly compete with baseball for the coveted title of the Great American Game.

ABOUT
TOWN

"If you want to see what growers of this section are doing in the hog raising industry, go out to the Pitt County Fair and look over some of the big hogs on exhibit," advised a prominent agriculturalist today.

"I have seen lots of hogs in my day," but those assembled at the fair surpass anything I ever saw before. They are regular porkers like we have read about from time to time in many of the hog-raising books, but which we see only on very rare occasions.

"The man who has the slightest idea of engaging in the poultry raising business should go out to the fair and look over the porkers and get all the information he can about the industry. He should be able to obtain much valuable information from men who have been in the business for quite awhile—
men who have increased their bank accounts from year to year through careful attention to this new source of revenue."

"Three of the larger towns of the county failed to send any school exhibits, but I want you to go out and see what the remainder of the towns and communities have sent in," mentioned an educator who had part in arranging the splendid display of school work.

"One should be able to get a good impression of the type work being turned out by the consolidated districts, which, compared with past years, indicates exactly what progress the schools have been able to make through improved facilities.
"Pitt county schools have gone forward rapidly since the consolidated plan came into being, and we should see more results in the next few years than ever before, despite the economy program brought about through the passage of the new school bill."

"Today is the first of October, reminded a member of the Greenville Merchants Association, the day set aside for the beginning of annual Pay Up Period.

"We want the public to keep in mind the fact that this occasion is set aside exclusively for the settlement of accounts, and earnestly hope that everybody will co-operate with us. The credit account of all shoppers is at stake during this campaign and it is very necessary for every shopper to do his part by those who accommodated him during the year.
"At the end of Pay Up Period
all credit customers will be given a new rating and from then on you will be known by the way you paid up your accounts during the past year.

"Think of the importance of protecting your credit, and close as many of those old accounts as possible during Pay Up Period."

"Tobacco farmers may reduce their crops as much as they want to," said a leading business man today, "but unless they diversify they can never expect to be much better off than they are today.

"Of course they may have seasons of prosperity like they have had from time to time in past year,
but they will also have the depressed periods and lose everything they made during the prosperity times.

"By producing more of the things he uses at home, the average farmer ought to be able to get by the lean periods without the usual hard times plea we have heard many times in past years. It is the only emergency measure that holds forth
a guarantee of permanent relief, and it is to be hoped everybody will give it the attention of which it is so deserving during the next planting season.

"Think over the situation, Mr.
Grower, and the next time you start planting see to it that you include some of the things you use on the farm. It will save the outlay of considerable amount of cash while the man crop is awaiting marketing."

"I believe in the philosophy of Mayor J. C. Lanier, expressed at the meeting of Greenville merchants at the Rotary building the other night," said a well-known citizen today.

"The mayor said so much hard times talk was to be deplored, and declared he thought the section would be so much better off if we would stop complaining and take a peep at the bright side.

"He said we had always come out of holes of this kind and expressed the opinion that the tobacco situation would come out better than the majority of people seem to think.

"The philosophy may appear of the bitter-cold variety, but it isn't.
It is the kind of advice American people have followed since the day
the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock, and we must continue to be guided by it if the future is to be as great and glorious as the past.
"Think the matter over, Mr.
Citizen, and stop complaining. Complaint does not get you anywhere
but a little more cheer and buoyancy would help those around you."

THE LUXURY HUSBAND

Barbara will gain by becoming your wife?

SYNOPSIS: Barbara Landon
young, beautiful and wealthy, suddenly stopped dancing, her eyes riveted on the saxophonist of the ship's orchestra. Her partner, Ralph Henderson, an Englishman with the prospect of a title in the future but at present chiefly concerned with his deceptively finances, gazed hopelessly after her as Barbara rushed toward the amazed saxophone player. Ray Lowther managed to hide his surprise, however, and his casual greeting was a deep sting for Barbara.
But she was not deterred and insisted on meeting Ray on the top deck after the dance—to clear up the mystery of the last three years—memories of a bitter past which Ray obviously did
clear up the mystery of the last
not wish to revive.

Chapter 2
EXPLANATIONS

As Barbara made her way quickly towards the staircase that led below Ralph Henderson intercepted
her.
"Our dance, I think?" His voice was purposely cold.
"Is it?" she said, smiling in a vague way. Then quickly, "But I'm afraid you'll have to excuse me.
I'm not going to dance again tonight."
Immediately he was all sympathy.
"Feeling a little under the weather?"
She laughed at that.
The young Englishman, in an aggrieved silence, escorted her to the door and, having watched her disappear down the stairway, walked back to join Mrs. Trenton Jones.
"Barbara doesn't seem herself tonight," he remarked caustically.
"She says she doesn't care to continue dancing. I doubt if she can be well."
"Humph! That's unusual. I didn't think even a sprained ankle could keep Barbara from dancing."
They sat for some time in silence, the man staring moodily at the dancers as he smoked one cigaret after another. The passengers were a merry, informal crowd, and reveral of the girls called out to him gaily as they danced by. But their evident good spirits only served to increase his ill humor.
"Look here, Mrs. Trenton-Jones," he said presently, folding his arms and looking down at his shiny patent leather shoes, "I may as well frank with you, I'm in love with Barbara. Do you think there's any hope for me?"
The older woman considered him for a long minute. He was good looking, blond, square-cut type of Britisher. Well-molded features, blue eyes, a reddish complexion and a small mustache, a shade lighter than his hair. There was a certain air of birth and breeding about him.
"So many men have been in love with Barbara," she told him, "or have thought that they were. That's the penalty she pays for being an heiress."
A dull red spread over the man's face.
"I say, you're not suggesting that I—"
"I didn't mean to insinuate anything. But had she been penniless I wonder if you would have allowed yourself to fall in love with her?"
"That's a fair question, and I'll be candid with you," he answered. "I should have been just as keen, but I couldn't have afforded to marry
her."
"What advantages do you think came up beside her. Her sharpened perceptions noticed a strained note in his voice.

"You've been a long time—I was wondering whether you were coming."
"I told you I would come."
"I know. I remember your telling me that once before, and I waited—how long? Anybody, you never came," and she ended with a laugh that had a bitter tang to it.
"What good is it going to do to rsk up all this? It's only going to hurt—"
She swung round to face him,
her lips set in a hard little line.
"Whom will it hurt? You or me?
Because if it's me you're thinking of, isn't it rather late in the day to begin worrying about that?"
Almost resentfully he answered.
"I know you've been thinking mean things of me. In fact, I hoped that you would. I thought that you'd hate me at first, then despise me, until finally you became indifferent."

His words seemed momentarily
to rob her of his pose.
"But why, why should you want me to do that?"
His features, lit wanly by the moon, were set in a brooding, bitter cast.
"I'll tell you—although I should prefer not to. You remember that night at the dance?"
He paused, and at that her bitterness overcoming the softer mood of a moment ago.
"Yes, I remember that. I remember a man telling a girl that he loved her and asking her to marry him. He was called away to the telephone. He asked her to wait for him and she did, hours and hours, like a little fool, for he never came back to her."

He said a moment later, his voice slightly hoarse.
"I learned over the wire that my father had committed suicide down in Mexico, Barbara. He had bankrupted himself and embezzled the company's funds."
She looked up at him quickly, incredulity in her eyes.
"But—I— never heard anything about it—"
"That's not unlikely. They managed to hush it up."
She stood very still, biting her upper lip, but finally she spoke:
"Still, I can't see why you didn't come back and tell me."
"Can't you? When I asked you to marry me? I imagined I should have a fortune equal to your own.
Had I come back I should have been penniless, with nothing to offer you but a disgraced name."
"And you think that would have made any difference?"
"I knew that it wouldn't. That was the reason I left as I did."

Horses Do Not Climb Trees!
AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Anger and fear greeted the faltering efforts of the first automobile. But the hands of AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE guided the steering wheel and controlled the throttle—the automobile drove on to glorious success.

"toasting did it"—

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat, at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300° Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

BIG PUNCH OF CUB ATTACKS IN OUTFIELD

New York, Oct. 1.—(AP)—It does not take more than a quick glance at the figures to realize that the "big punch" of the Cub attack is possessed by the outfield trio of Riggs, Stephenson, Kiki Cuyler and Hack Wilson.

No one member of the Chicago cast has a thing on the very useful Mr. Aloysius Harry Simmons of the Athletics, who happens to be just about the best all-round outfielder in baseball but collectively the Cubs have a distinct edge on their rivals on attack. On defense there is little, if anything to choose, with Simmons and Cuyler ranking as the best of the Ballhaws.

Not since the palmy days of Cobb, Crawford and Veach, the great Detroit trio, has there been any hardy outfield group than this Cuyler, Wilson, Stephenson combination.

Their batting figure, collectively on the basis of the latest unofficial average, is .354, a margin of 18 points over the aggregate mark of .306 for Simmons, Mule Haas and Bing Miller of the A's. The big three of the Cubs has accounted for 678 of the 952 runs scored by the team, either by crossing the plate personally or driving mates over. Their rivals have figured in 621 of the 882 runs tallied by the A's. Individually Wilson has the best run-producing record. In fact the big Chicago dash to the top dated from the time the return Hack was shifted to the clean-up role where his faculty for hitting in a pinch could best be capitalized.

Among a number of vital factors in the Cub rise, few are more conspicuous than the work of the fleet Cuyler, the league's leading base stealer, who has enjoyed his greatest all-around year since he helped the Pirates win the pennant in 1925. Stephenson is less spectacular but the ex-Alabama collegian also has surpassed anything previous in his major league career, with a batting mark that is the highest he ever has had in fast company and second only to Hornsby's in the Cuo lineup. When injuries kept either Cuyler or Stephenson out of the game, the Cubs had an able substitute at hand in the speedy Cliff Heathcote.

The development of Haas and the steady work of the veteran Miller contributed much to the triumph of the A's. The former's batting fell off toward the close of the season, but when the Mackmen were building up their decisive lead the young centerfielder hit at a sensational clip. Haas hasn't the punch of his rival, Wilson, but he is faster and rangier. Miller, 35 years old and five years older than Stephenson, nevertheless has retained unusual speed as well as a keen batting eye.

Van Orman Declared Balloon Race Winner

St. Louis, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Traveling the shortest distance yet recorded in the Gordon Bennett International balloon races, Ward T. Van Orman, civilian pilot of the Goodyear VIII, was the apparent winner of the eighteenth renewal which started here Saturday. The Airboard of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce computed his mileage to a point three miles north of Troy, Ohio, as 355 miles.

The other two American entrants also reached Ohio while the six foreign balloons landed in Indiana or Illinois. The last to report was Captain Ernest Denuyter of the Belgian "Belgica" last night when a telegram to the chamber of commerce revealed he had descended near Coryden, Ind., twenty miles west of Louisville, Ky., at 8 p. m. Sunday. His distance was about 230 miles and placed him fourth.

Official calculations will be necessary to eliminate Captain William E. Kepner, last year's winner, who piloted the U. S. army bag to a point northeast of Celina, Ohio, a distance from St. Louis of 345 miles as estimated by the Airboard. The U. S. navy balloon of Lieut. T. W. G. Settle landed ten miles northeast of Eaton, Ohio, 328 miles distant.

BACKFIELD TO FEATURE PLAY VA. UNIVERSITY

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 1.—(AP)—The versatility of the attack developed by Coach Earl Abell as well as the strength of the driving backfield may be an important factor in the success of the University of Virginia football team this season.

With both speed and power represented in the varsity backs, the new Virginia coach will be able to work almost every type of play from the old-fashioned line plunging attack to a bewildering aerial game.

A heavy and aggressive line which has played havoc with reserve material rounds out what appears to be one of the best Virginia teams in years.

Headed by Johnny Sloan, captain and quarterback, the Virginia backfield is formed of veterans who can kick, pass, run and receive passes. Sloan probably will do most of the kicking, but anybody is likely to toss passes. There is something like clockwork in the way the backs are hurling passes through the targets erected on Lambeth Field to develop accuracy.

But Virginia's threat on offense will not be through the air except as varied with other methods. Working with Sloan are Kaminer and Faulconer, heavy, fast and powerful halfbacks, who skirt the ends and smash through tackle with a drive and power that gladdens the heart of the new coach. Already Levv and Bryant, a sophomore, are two linemen who may be alternated for line bucking assignments.

The big line, weighing 200 pounds from tackle to tackle and flanked by two fast 175-pound ends, should fit in well with the backfield program. There appears to be a fine co-ordination between line and backs.

The Virginia coach has devoted little time to defense during the past three weeks unless a powerful and varied offense should be placed in the defensive category. Sloan will play safety man on defense and Johnny catches his punts on the run rather than let them fall dead.

While neither Coach Abell nor James G. Driver, director of athletics, make any pre-season claims, they admit a hope that the Cavaliers will go through the season undefeated.

DETROIT FLORIST RETIRES FROM RING

New York, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Phil McGraw, the Detroit florist, has retired from the ring.

The veteran lightweight announced he was through with the cauliflower industry last night after he had taken a terrific beating from Jack (Kid) Berg of England, in a ten round bout at the St. Nicholas arena.

McGraw said he had amassed a fortune of more than $100,000 in the ring and felt that the time had come for him to hang up his gloves forever.

In a career that started in 1921 McGraw faced practically every one of the leading lightweights of recent years including Jimmy McLarin, Sid Terris, Sammy Mandell, Stanislaus Lozwa, Tod Morgan, Luis Vicentini and Ace Hudkins. He was beaten frequently but was scopped only by McLarin here last year.

ONLY SLIGHT INTEREST IN MAJORS PLAY

By Associated Press

Except for a couple of dog fights for positions down the line in the two major league standings, very little of interest is left for the closing week of the baseball campaign.

In the National league, there is the possibility that New York's Giants can take second place away from Pittsburgh with a strong finish and a real battle is going on for the top of the second division between Brooklyn and Philadelphia. The only other question left for the elder circuit is whether the champion Cubs can run their total of victories up to 100 games before the end.

The American league has only one real chance among the possibilities. Washington in fifth place and Detroit in sixth may reverse their positions before Sunday night. A mathematical possibility remains that St. Louis may gain a tie for third with Cleveland, but is a slim one.

The Giant-Pirate squabble also is nearer the realm of pure mathematics than of probability so far as a change in the standing is concerned. Pittsburgh has a three game edge with as many to go. The Giants have five to play. To capture second, New York would have to defeat the Phillies three times and Brooklyn and Boston each once while the Pirates dropped a pair to St. Louis and one to the Cubs. The Giants could lose one game and finish in a tie.

As for Joe McCarthy's Chicago boys, they have 95 victories on the Brooks so far and six more possibly in sight. The Cub schedule calls for a five-game series at Cincinnati before they close at home against Pittsburgh.

Only two teams in each league are due for action this afternoon. Washington meets the Athletics at Philadelphia and the Giants wind up their home campaign against Brooklyn.

Broker Leaps to Death From Hotel Window in N. Y.

New York, Oct. 1.—(AP)—A broker leaped to his death from a window on the 11th floor of the Hotel Shelton early today after writing a note telling of stock market losses of $124,000 since last April.

The man was identified from papers in his pockets as W. J. Keys, vice-president of the Charles Freshman Company, Inc. A note addressed to "Dearest Mother" said "Last April 1st I was worth $100,000. Today I am $24,000 in the red." Another addressed to "Dearest," said, "This is the only way out," and asked that his body be taken to his "beloved Warwick," and that Helen Keyes, Warwick, N. Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Oct. 1.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady today at an advance of 14 to 20 points on covering and rather active demand from which was evidently stimulated by the tropical storm situation.

Less of open cotton was feared in the eastern belt storm area and the buying here was stimulated by firmness in Liverpool while there was also bullish comment on private crop advice claiming that indications pointed to a reduction in total crop prospects as compared with previous estimates.

The advance met a good deal of realizing and considerable equities selling but it was absorbed on slight setbacks and active months since about 19 to 24 points net higher at the ending of the first half hour with December selling at 18.83 and March at 19.23.

Liverpool cables reported continued and Bombay buying and covering in that market on the rains in the south.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Pulled down largely by the effect of violent tumbling in stock market prices, wheat quotations today underlain a material setback. A steady influence as to wheat, nevertheless, was some improvement noted in North American export business, total purchases today for the Atlantic shipment from Canada and the United States being estimated at 750,000 bushels. On the other hand, the world's available supply of wheat increased 21,525,000 bushels for the week, and is now 414,998,000 bushels.

Wheat closed heavy 1 3/8 to 1 7/8 a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1-4 to 5-8 off; oats 1-8 to 3-8 down, and provisions ranging from 5 decline to an equal advance.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Sharp breaks in the public utilities and high priced industrial specialties featured the resumption of the foundation movement in today's stock market. Stock after stock cracked to new lows on the current decline which has been under way with few interruptions, for about three weeks. Losses of three points or more being quite common, with at least a score issues down 10 to nearly 40 points.

Hopes that the small volume of trading yesterday indicated the drying up of the selling movement were shattered when large blocks of the popular speculative favorites were pressed for sale, some of them "at the market" by distressed margin traders. Trading showed a marked expansion in volume today, averaging about a million shares an hour with the ticker on the average 15 minutes behind the market.

Call money renewed at 9 but advanced to 10 again because of the heavy withdrawals of funds in connection with month-end settlements. Time money and commercial paper rates held firm. One encouraging development was the announcement of a drop of $34,000,000 in loans in security borrowing of members of the entire Federal Reserve system for the week ended September 25, but that late loan statement shows 37 percent of the total is for the account of non-banking institutions over which the Federal Reserve has no direct control.

Absence of support for many of the high priced issues caused considerable uneasiness on the part of small traders, as did the weakness of the so-called "Morgan stocks," such as U. S. Steel common, Johns Manville, New York Central and Atchafalaya, all down 3 to 7 points. U. S. Steel common, which sold as high as 260 3/4 early last month broke below 220. Most of the other so-called "blue chip" issues were down 25 to 100 points below the year's highs.

J. I. Case broke 39 points to 360, Auburn Auto 25 to 460, Standard Gas and Electric 19 3/4 to 217, Power & Light, Jersey Central, Atlas Powder, A. M. Byers, United Carbon and American Machine & Foundry fell 8 to 11 points.

BUSH ANXIOUS TO GET TO WORK WITH SOX

Chicago, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Donie Bush who has been signed to manage the Chicago White Sox, is in a hurry to get to work on his new task of attempting to boost the club back to its former eminence in the American League.

Although Bush, who recently resigned as manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, will not officially take the helm of the club until December, he said he would leave his home in Indianapolis Sunday to become acquainted with the details of the job. He already is planning and says the Sox will have new material next year.

Lena Blackburne, who became manager of the Sox in the middle of last season, will finish the current campaign.

MAIL OUT RESERVATIONS FOR SERIES TICKETS

Philadelphia, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Official notification of their reservations for world series tickets to the games in Philadelphia were in the mails today for 5,000 applicants. The second batch of 5,000 is to be mailed tonight and the final batch on Wednesday.

Approximately 27,000 of the 36,000 seats in Shibe park will be taken care of by letters. Robert G. Schroeder, secretary of the Athletics, said the letters notified the applicants to call at Shibe park, starting at 9 a. m. Friday, and present cash for tickets. Checks will not be accepted.

"We have done everything in our power to keep the tickets from falling into the hands of speculators," Schroeder declared. "In cases where one man has written a number of letters for tickets, we have been able to check them and cross off his name if it was evident he was to clean up on a big order."

HOLD OUT BODY OF DEAD MAN AT MOOREVILLE

Mooreville, Oct. 1.—(AP)—Although funeral services for R. L. Bostian, 60-year-old Iredell farmer whose death under mysterious circumstances caused the arrest of his son-in-law, were held today at 11 a. m., at Prospect Presbyterian church, no burial followed.

No orders that interment should be held up had come from Iredell county officers, but relatives requested the delay. The body is in a local undertaking establishment.

Hearing before Recorder George A. Morrow is set for tomorrow. Geo. C. Karriker, 28, Bostian's son-in-law, is held in jail without bond as a result of a fight he had with the aged man Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Bostian, his head badly bruised, died about midnight, and Karriker's arrest followed. Liquor is reported to have played a part in the affray.
