Rivers of This Section On Rampage as Result Of Recent Heavy Rains

Tar River to Reach Near High Water Mark Here; Much Damage to Highway System; Norfolk Southern Resumes Train Service After Being Halted By Floods

Heavy rains in this county the early part of this week forced small streams out of bounds doing considerable damage to roads while rains from upstate have caused rivers to leave their banks and in many instances reaching new high waters. Reports from the state meteorologist received today by B. T. Clark, local observer, Tar river at this place will reach twenty feet above by Monday which is about four feet below the high water mark of 1919. The rainfall here Monday and Tuesday registered 4.41 inches Mr. Clark said. While local highway officials yesterday urged travelers to exercise caution in passing over bridges on the dirt roads until a definite check of the damage could be made no reports as to the extent of the damage has yet been made known. In issuing his report on the river this morning, B. T. Clark warned persons who have livestock in the lowlands along the river to get it out as early as possible.

Raleigh, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Raleigh and surrounding territory today started taking stock of the damage done by rains and floods this week. The sun was shining brightly today but streams continued to carry the heavy burdens toward the ocean. The Norfolk and Southern railroad was able to start operations of trains again today, after being forced to cancel all service to and from Raleigh when water overflowed to the highest mark ever recorded for it and steel flood waters over the railroad tracks five feet deep.

The Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph company reported that it had again established communications with Chapel Hill, after that town was cut off from communication all day yesterday.

In Raleigh today telephone repairmen were busy restoring about 700 telephones which were put out of commission here during the big rains of Monday and Tuesday.

The State Highway commission reported that a score of highways still closed with others going out every hour as streams are rising rapidly in Eastern Carolina. With water flowing over the highway bridge on route 21 at Smithfield to a depth of 16 inches this morning that road was closed. Route 40 between Goldsboro and Wilmington will be closed sometime during the day, the commission predicted.

Leo A. Denison, meteorologist of the United States weather bureau here, said the Cape Fear river at Fayetteville had risen 55 feet in 48 hours and would reach about 65 feet by night tonight. The Cape crest at Monroeville, however, and was reported flooding.

The Neuse at Neuse station was 2 1/2 feet today and still rising with upper Tar at Rocky Mount and Roanoke at Weldon going up steadily.

The Cape Fear was forcing families to desert their homes at Lillington and Erving. Mr. Denison said.

HEAVY DAMAGE FROM STORMS

Four Deaths Reported As Result of Storm Along North Atlantic Coast

New York, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The North Atlantic Coast was recovering today from the effects of a northeast wind and rain storm which battered it from Maine to the Delaware Capes.

Three deaths in New Jersey and one in Pennsylvania were attributed to the storm. Mrs. Hortense F. Moyer, state president will entertain at her residence 611 Evans street, Thursday evening. The executive board and the committees, with a buffet dinner.

The wind, rain and high tides combined to disrupt coastwise and harbor traffic, hampered urban transportation and damaged property. Ferry service was interrupted when the wind and tide piled up the water in New York harbor so that boats could not be made fast in ferry slips. Thousands of commuters were delayed and transportation facilities through the under-river tubes was heavily overtaxed.

River water backing into sewers prevented the carrying off of torrents of rainwater and flooded streets in lower Manhattan. The wind reached a maximum of 56 miles an hour along the New Jersey coast where high tides and heavy seas inundated beaches, washed away a section of boardwalk and undermined six cottages at Point Pleasant. Damage was also done at Barnegat City, where the sea broke through the jetty endangering the famous Barnegat Lighthouse. A fisherman was found drowned near Palm Beach and ten fishermen were killed at a crossing near Hawthorn.

Vessels were held in port along the Maine coast which was pounded by heavy seas lashed into fury by an all day blow.

With offerings totaling nearly two million pounds the Greenville tobacco market today witnessed the heaviest break in its history. The heavy rains of the past few days have made sales unusually light and with the cessation of the showers yesterday trucks and wagons began to stream into town for today's sales. According to information given out today by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales, the price situation remains about the same with the average around fifteen cents. With favorable weather, warehousemen are predicting heavier sales from now on.

HEAVY LOSSES FROM FLOODS IN CAROLINAS

Cessation of Rains Gives Promise of Some Relief to the Stricken Areas

Charlotte, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Flood waters which for two days have been crippling communication and transportation in western and central North Carolina and northern South Carolina are now pouring into coastal plain sections of the two states with resultant damage still problematical.

All the streams in the two states swollen by torrential rains for two days, are out of their banks, running crops, tearing away bridges and places paralyzing rail and telegraph communications. It is expected that the crest of the flood has passed in western North Carolina and northern South Carolina but reports from plain sections said that all rivers gradually were rising.

No loss of life has been reported but damage to crops and to highways bridges and railroad tracks runs into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. Highway officials in North Carolina alone reported that over 35 routes were blocked and in several sections flood records of many years standing were broken.

The Cape Fear river which drains a large area of central and eastern North Carolina, had reached a stage of 60.9 feet at 10 o'clock this morning, a rise of one foot since 8 o'clock. The Cape Fear reached a peak of 64.8 feet last September when considerable damage was done along its banks.

The Broad river at Fish Dam bridge, near Union South Carolina began to fall early today. The bridge is open there and all danger from the flood is believed to have passed.

Further to the south and east, however, ominous reports were received from the Savannah river. At Ridgeland, S. C., the stream was rising gradually and was expected to cover the approaches of the Hardeeville-Savannah bridge before night. J. D. O. Easterling, chief of the highway forces in that section of South Carolina said that the highway, the main artery to Florida, would be closed for an indefinite period in case the waters rose above the bridge approaches. With the exception of highway number 33 from Tillman to Savannah other roads in the section were reported as passable.

FOUNDERS DAY OBSERVED BY STATE COLLEGE

Governor Gardner Delivers Principal Address at Exercises Today

Raleigh, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Governor O. Max Gardner, delivering the principal address at Founder's Day exercises at North Carolina State college here, declared that the chief purpose of the college is to interpret and to adapt its services to the needs of each generation of the sons of North Carolina as times and conditions require.

Governor Gardner was the chief speaker for the annual at the celebration of the 40th anniversary of the founding of the Alma Mater, State College. He said, has already a proud record of service, and its graduates are a dominating force in reconstructing and recreating the material North Carolina. Addressing particularly the student body of the college, the Governor pictured for them even bigger opportunities in building a greater commonwealth that those enjoyed by their elders, and urged them to be progressive, to dare to try.

"Birthdays are happy days for men and makers of men," Governor Gardner said, "but this, the fortieth birthday of State College, has a deeper significance that merely one more birthday of Alma Mater. It has a broader meaning than merely the gathering together of the alumni to pay tribute to the wisdom of the generation which conceived the idea and laid the cornerstone of a great educational institution, whose main service to the State was practical."

"Rather it offers us," he said, "the opportunity to regenerate ourselves, individually and as a body, the task of seeing that State College marches ever in the forefront of service to the youth of this state and is ever faithful to its obligations of interpreting and adapting its service to the needs of each generation."

Speaking of the influence of this day on the life of the State, Governor Gardner said "there is nothing impossible for its thousands of graduates—their tens of thousands of graduates—to be to achieve."

Speaking more particularly to the under-graduates, the governor set them up as the real hope of the State in the long pull. "You are the big opportunity," he said, "we alumni have our part in the building of a greater North Carolina, but you have the opportunity to participate in the building of a still greater state on whatever foundation we may succeed in laying for you."

"At the risk of paying the penalty which one has to pay for giving good advice," Governor Gardner continued, "I wish to say to you that to prepare yourselves for your great opportunity as being not in the future, but in the present—in the here and now. Don't think of education as being preparation for living something in the far off future. Education, young gentlemen, is life. Getting and education means living right now. Play the game today, this month, this year."

"And in facing your problems here on the campus and at home during vacation, whenever they come, be progressive, strike out dare to try. There is nothing impossible to achieve if you want to, and if you want to 'snatch,' he said in closing.

HEADS LEGION

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 3.—(AP)—O. L. Bodenhamer, of El Dorado, Ark., was elected national commander of the American Legion here today.

TEN JURORS SELECTED IN MURDER CASE

Charlotte, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Ten jurors accepted by both sides were in the jury box when the trial of the alleged murderer in connection with the death of O. P. Adkins, chief of police of Gastonia, recessed for lunch today.

The jurors chosen Tuesday were: J. W. Elliott, Paw Creek farmer; R. N. Keziah, Matthews farmer; J. T. Raines, Paw Creek farmer; M. V. Jones, Huntersville farmer; L. B. Lovings, Long Creek farmer. With the exception of all members from Charlotte, townships in which the city of Charlotte is located, the great majority of those examined are farmers.

This was done because, according to Judge M. V. Barnhill, residing in the town of Charlotte, the veniremen from Charlotte had read more about the trial and consequently had formed more definite opinions.

Jurors were accepted this morning more readily since both sides were drawing near the limit of pre-emptory challenges giving them. The prosecution has four more and the defense seven.

The jurors chosen Tuesday were John L. Todd, Paw Creek mail carrier; E. L. Moore, automobile assembly plant employee; J. A. Helms, farmer; C. L. Hill, farmer; and Zeke Johnson, retired wealthy merchant.

State Investigation Of Marion Strike Riot Got Under Way Today

NOTED GERMAN PASSES AWAY

Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German Statesman, Succumbs Heart Attack

Berlin, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Dr. Gustav Stresemann, German Foreign Minister and the Reich's greatest post-war statesman, died at 5:25 a. m. today of a heart attack which followed a paralytic stroke at 10 o'clock last night.

He was only 51 years old but had been in ill health for many months. Although the paralytic stroke made useless his entire right side, his physicians hoped he would rally. The heart attack came suddenly before dawn, however, and caused his death. Frau Stresemann and his two sons were at his bedside.

For several days recently Dr. Stresemann was confined to his bed with his old catarrhal trouble but he got up yesterday to participate in the Reichstag debate on insurance of industrial insurance, a political issue which threatened collapse of the coalition government which he personally held together.

His physicians believed the strain of bitter debate in the Reichstag during the day so weakened his system as to bring on the paralytic stroke and fatal heart attack. It was remarked that during the past few months his most vigorous fights in the legislature nearly always had ended in a recurrence of his illness.

Although Dr. Stresemann was not chancellor, he personally was regarded as the backbone of the German cabinet, headed by Dr. Mueller, and many did not see how it could survive his death. A special meeting of the cabinet was expected some time today to consider what steps should be taken and whether it would be possible to hold the coalition together without him.

Two men of large crew swept away by storm. Tampa, Fla., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Two men are missing from the Seaboard Oil company barge Tolemie, which with the barge Lubwell, were found early today 10 miles southwest of Cedar Key, by the coast guard cutter's Pontchartrain and Naugatuck, according to wireless messages received by George M. Restall, superintendent of the company docks at Port Tampa, shortly before noon. The names of the missing men were not available here. The remainder of the crew, five men on the Tolemie and seven on the Lubwell, are in good condition.

Number of Dead As Result of Yesterday's Clash Reaches Four; Twenty-One Reported Wounded; Former Greenville Man Heads Investigation

Marsion, N. C., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Sheriff O. P. Adkins, of McDowell county and twelve others today were arrested on a warrant charging murder and conspiracy to murder sworn out by attorneys for the strikers involved in yesterday's riot in which four men lost their lives.

Those named with Sheriff Adkins were: Forest Smith, mill mechanic; Broad Robins, Bill Riggerstaff, Chas. Tate, Alley Stepp, Taylor Green, and Ed Cannon, all Deputy Sheriffs and assistant Adam Hunt of the Marble Manufacturing company where the strike took place; John Smiddy, Dave Jarrell, Jim Owens and Webb Fener, mill employes acting as special deputies.

The arrested men were taken into custody by the coroner and will be given a hearing before Judge W. F. Harding, superior court, just who has been instructed by Governor Gardner to sit as a committing magistrate to investigate the circumstances surrounding the rioting.

The arrest of the sheriff following on the heels of his own and in having right of the strikers and their sympathizers covered with riotous charging, assisting in the rioting. The strikers and strike sympathizers named were: Lonnie Brown, Jim Bryson, Bush Mills, Ed Johnson, Kirk Lunford, West Fowler, Roy Minish and Will Webb. Judge Harding is expected to begin hearings at once. The strike will probably be a "warmer" inquiry concluded for today.

Newly Carolina moved rapidly today in its investigation of the circumstances surrounding a riot at the Marble Manufacturing Company which broke out yesterday morning and in which four men were killed and twenty-one wounded.

Judge W. F. Harding, who was Sheriff of Marion county in the heavy town of Marion, has been ordered to Marsion to sit as a committing magistrate. In the meantime two troops of national guard patrol the streets in the vicinity of the mill which reopened this morning without a picket line of its strikers. Labor leaders in charge of the strike declared that a township executive committee for Governor Gardner, had refused to allow strikers to picket the mill.

D. P. Giles, attorney for the strikers, has requested Solicitor J. W. Pless, Jr., to issue warrants for the arrest of the members of the sheriff's party involved in the riot, as soon as the hearing before Judge Harding is called. Sheriff O. P. Adkins, who was slightly wounded in yesterday's riot, said he could have from 30 to 40 warrants for strikers on various charges. The warrants for the sheriff and his deputies, Giles said, will charge murder and conspiracy to murder.

The death list reached four today when Luther Bryson, 22, a striker, died of wounds. Sam Vickers and Randolph Hall, strikers, were killed outright when the fire started and John Jones, whose back on Sheriff Adkins was said to have started the trouble, died of wounds soon after being taken to a hospital yesterday.

Department Justice Agents Taking Part Mystery Death Probe

Washington, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Special department of justice agents today were assigned to investigation of the mysterious death of Mrs. Virginia McPherson, pretty young nurse, who was found strangled with a pajama cord in her apartment on Pennsylvania avenue, two weeks ago.

The announcement was made by Attorney General Mitchell and is one of the few times recently that the vast resources of the federal government has been requested by the District of Columbia officers in solving a crime.

The case, once closed by a coroner's jury as suicide, was reopened by demand of Senator Overman of North Carolina, and since has attracted wide attention. It has been discussed by members of congress, some of whom have conferred on the matter with Walter Newton, President Hoover's administrative secretary. Mitchell also announced he had assigned a special assistant attorney general of the department to work on the case.

Death of Dr. Stresemann Is Distinct Loss to Europe

Paris, Oct. 3.—(AP)—As early as Christmas, 1926, Dr. Gustave Stresemann, German Foreign Minister who died today, foresaw the project of a United States of Europe which since has been launched by Aristide Briand, French Premier and foreign minister.

It is a terrible loss," said an official of the League of Nations. "It is hard to see how any one can take his place. It was Dr. Stresemann who was chiefly responsible for bringing Germany into the league. He was his country's leader at the important agreement at Locarno. He has been Germany's member on the League council. Always has been a mighty worker for peace. His death is a terrible loss to the league and to Europe."

"I don't know whether the textiles are in it. I don't know whether Clayton-Anderson are in it. But I am going to have it investigated."

President Looks Toward Enforcement of Dry Laws

By RICHARD L. TURNER (Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Oct. 3.—(AP)—President Hoover has fortified his position as a "dry" president and without waiting for the projected reorganization, is proceeding slowly and carefully in the selection of Mrs. Willebrandt's successor.

It is a matter of the ability of a man or woman of the ability to enforce the law. He has frequently demonstrated ability to argue the interests of high salaried civilians in less remunerative government jobs. As he close to the president put it, the practice would be extremely reluctant to drop it for a $9,000 job which would make him the storm center of such a furiously raging controversy as prohibition and a target for abuse from both wets and dries.

He is to determine how the Treasury's prohibition bureau, devoted to the detection and apprehension of dry law violators, can best be lifted from that department of Justice being the unit there which prosecutes the offenders in the court. He is to work out the form which the new organization in the Justice department will take. In addition, he is to delve into Federal court procedure and see what Congress can do to expedite judicial action.

COLLETT SEEKS FOURTH CROWN ON THE LINKS

By PAUL R. MICHELSON
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
Detroit, Oct. 3.—(AP)—Glenna Collett, golfing marvel from Pebble Beach, Cal., today stood out as a prohibitive favorite against the field to succeed herself as National Women's Golf champion.

With most of her outstanding threats missing from the championship picture, the titleholder entered the quarter final round with the cheerful prospect of a straight romp to her fourth crown since 1927.

Miss Collett signaled her threat in convincing fashion yesterday when she toured the championship Oakland Hills course with par shots, trying golf to swamp the challenge of one of her eastern rivals, Maureen Curcut, who had stopped the march of Helen Hicks, 18-year-old New York star, the day previous, willowed under the champion's rapid fire and was able to win but one hole. That was the ninth, a 200-yard expanse, and she needed a birdie to do it.

Quarter final pairings for today:

Upper Bracket:
Glenna Collett, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Harley Higbie, Detroit.
Mrs. O. S. Mill, Kansas City, and Mrs. Stewart Hanley, Detroit.

Lower Bracket:
Mrs. Leo Federman, New York, and Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, Wis.
Mrs. Dorothy Campbell Hurd, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Leona Presler, Los Angeles.

A chance to hear the world's finest RADIOS

HERE THEY ARE, the finest radios in the world, the Balanced-Unit Philcos, the radios that have revolutionized radio tone, doubled the sharpness of radio selectivity, and widened by thousands of miles the circle of stations from which the radio owner may choose.

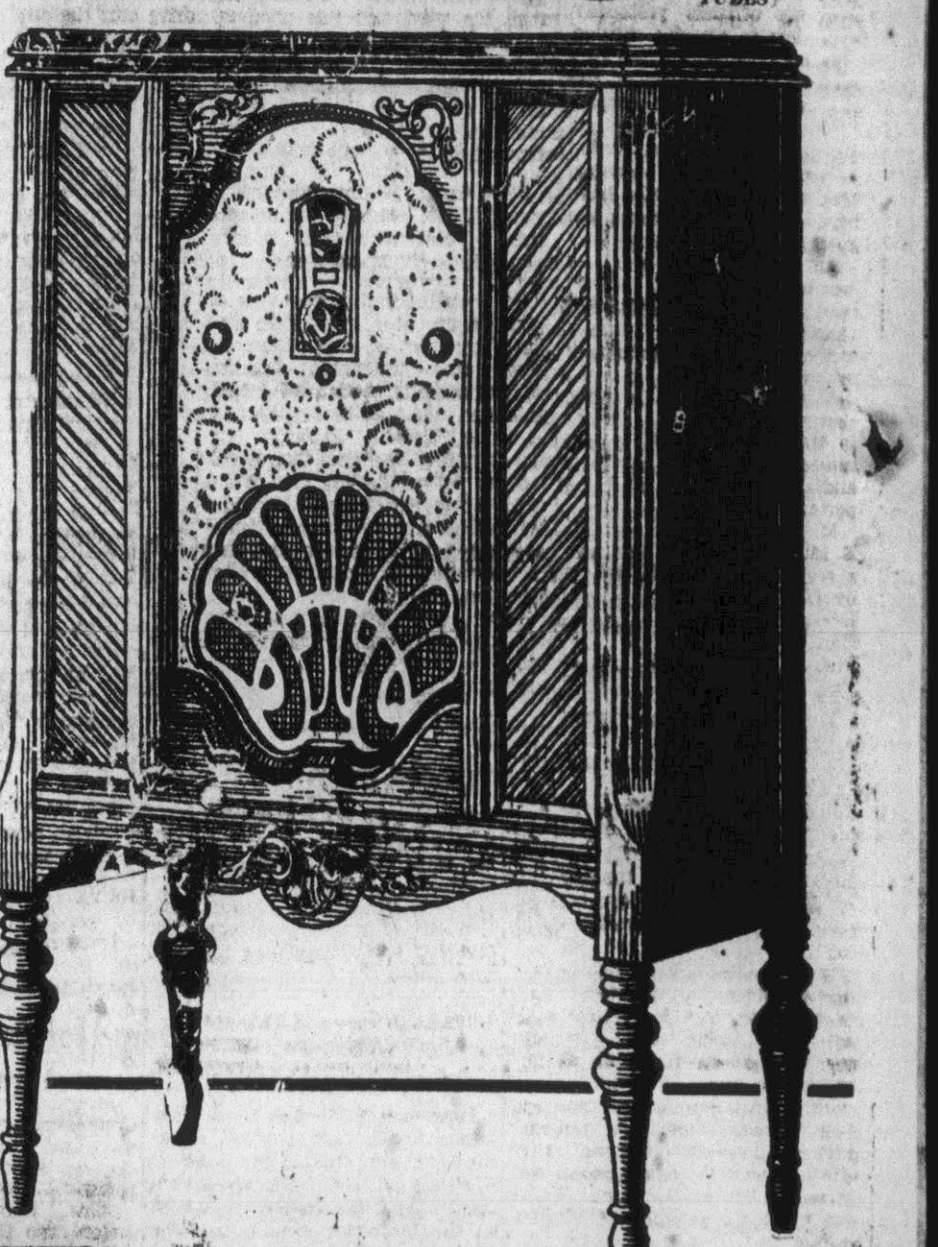

Seven handsome Philco models await your selection. When you hear the startling clearness with which they reproduce every program, no matter how intricate, no matter whether instrumental or vocal—when you tune interfering programs into stillness by just a hairbreadth turn of the Philco dial—when you bring in station after station from far out across the continent—then you will understand why Philco sales this year have shown a percentage increase nine times as great as the average for the whole industry.

Not only will Philco's extraordinary performance greatly increase your radio enjoyment, but Philco's cabinets are tinged with beauty that recalls the work of the fine old cabinet-makers of England.

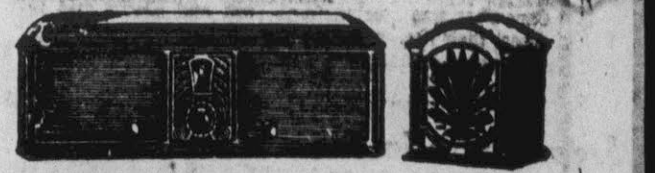

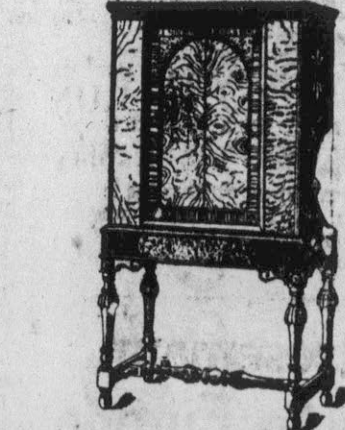

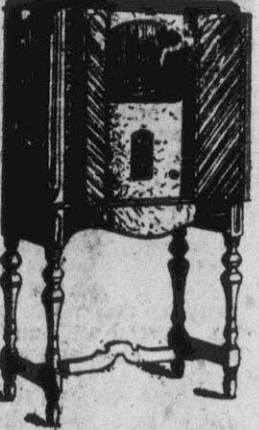

And yet, in spite of these many valuable features, Philco prices are remarkably low—the result of exceptional manufacturing facilities. Do you know any sounder radio investment? Nobody does!

NEXT SUNDAY AT 5:30 P. M., Leopold Stokowski and the Philadelphia Orchestra go on the air for the first time. Don't miss this, the most important and most enjoyable radio event of the year. But—if you want to hear the music of this great orchestra exactly mirrored in sound, be sure to tune in with a Balanced-Unit Philco.

Tar Heels Laying for Byrd Strategy

Chapel Hill, N. C. Oct. 3.—With rain and cloudy skies frowning steadily and threatenin to contiguate the Tar Heel coaches are concentrating their attention on drilling and lecturing their proteges on fine points of defense against the strategic attack they know Coach Curley Byrd will have waiting for them at Maryland Saturday.

After a certain North Carolina-Maryland game in 1926 the Tar Heels may well expect a flashy, wily attack when they face the Old Liners this week-end.

Gus McPherson, the Tar Heels' 130-pound mile of dynamite, took the kick-off in the 1926 game and traveled 83 yards in about 10 seconds for a touchdown on the opening play. Carolina missed the point.

The Old Liners elected to kick again. The Tar Heels were just a bit confident after their initial success. Their confidence was increased perhaps, when they drove the ball straight to the Old Liners' 20-yard marker.

But Maryland held, and with six plays gone, Carolina had a 6-0 lead and was deep in enemy territory. Maryland lined up, the center snapped the ball, and a bedazzled Tar Heel team looked on as the Maryland backs executed a triple pass that made 80 yards and a touch-down and stwed the game up.

ATE VERY LITTLE, SO EASILY UPSET

Lady Says Indigestion Troubles Were Relieved by Theford's Black-Draught.

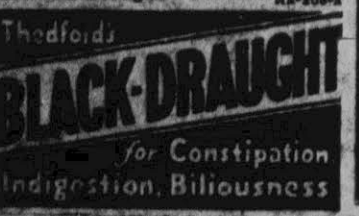

Piedmont, S. C.—"For a long time, I had a severe case of indigestion," says Mrs. Bell Buckheister, of 7 River Street, this city.

"So many things that I ate hurt me. I almost quit eating until I was so weak and run-down, I could not do my work, or go about to see my friends. I would burp in my chest. I had severe headache, and such a tight, smothering feeling. I would be obliged to eat a little, then it would hurt me.

"A friend said to me: 'What causes your smothering spells?' and I told her 'indigestion and constipation.' She said: 'Why don't you take Black-Draught more often?'

"I was just too weak then to do my work. I began taking small doses after meals, and in just a few weeks I could eat anything I wanted to, then take my small dose of Black-Draught and feel fine.

"I soon regained my health and strength, and could eat most anything. I haven't taken any other medicine for five or six years. I am rid of the stomach trouble, don't get constipated, and give the praise to Black-Draught."

MRS. L. C. ARTHUR HOSTESS TO END OF THE CENTURY CLUB

The End of the Century club held their first meeting of the year Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. C. Arthur, the newly-elected president. The club was delighted to welcome Mrs. L. R. Meadows, Mrs. C. W. Hsarnie as new members, and Mrs. O. G. Guiley as guest for the year.

An invitation to attend district meeting at Aurora October 19 was read. The club voted to join other clubs of the town in giving a tea to the Kings Daughters during their convention.

At the close of the business session the program was turned over to Mrs. Robert H. Wright, whose subject was the Latest in Literature and review of recent novels of importance.

Mrs. Wright introduced Mrs. W. B. Murphy, of Snow Hill, who gave a review of "Giants in the Earth," by O. E. Rolvaag. In a most interesting and entertaining manner she spoke of the book as dealing with American life, and with one of the most characteristically American episodes in our history.

Its material is altogether American as it opens on the western plain, yet it was written in Norwegian, and gained its first recognition in Norway.

She impressed on the club the real spirit of the pioneer, pointing out the chief character of the novel, Beret as being a failure in the terms of pioneer life as she could not take root in new soil.

The members were urged to read this magnificent and powerful novel of the great Northwest that deals with man's terrible struggle to conquer the wilderness. When we finish we will have gained a new insight into the founding of America.

Mrs. Murphy closed the program with a humorous reading after which a delicious salad course was served by Mrs. L. C. Arthur, Washington, D. C., and Miss Virginia Arthur.

PARENT-TEACHERS ASS'N. HELD MEETING YESTERDAY

The Parent-Teachers Association of the Training School met Wednesday afternoon in regular session with the new president, Mrs. L. R. Meadows, presiding.

The program was opened with a talk by Superintendent Rose. Mr. Rose explained the organization of the schools. Spoke of the building program and expressed his belief that, owing to both housing and teaching conditions, the schools were better prepared, than ever before, to meet the needs of the community.

Mrs. Meadows introduced the new officers of the P. T. A. and the teachers of the training school, and explained the standards towards which the associations work—attendance, study groups and subscription to the official organ of the P. T. A., "Child Welfare."

The need of a rest-room in the school building was emphasized, and donations for supplying such a room were asked.

Mrs. Judson Blount, secretary, outlined the tentative program for the year and asked for suggestions as to matters that members desired discussed at the regular meetings.

After a discussion of certain routine matters, and a report from the treasurer, the association adjourned.

Duncan Dancers To Open Fall Program At College Here

The Isadora Duncan Dancers who on Tuesday evening, October 15, will open the fall program of entertainments at East Carolina Teachers college are the real Russian dancers, from Moscow, and have appeared in very few places in this country.

Irma Duncan is the adopted daughter of the great Isadora Duncan and the one to whom she passed on her great work. These are the dancers that had long engagements at the Manhattan Opera House in New York City and appeared last season for one week runs in Montreal, Detroit, Philadelphia, and a few of the larger cities. They gave one performance in Richmond, the only southern city in their tour.

The United States Army Band is the second feature of the fall program, and will give two performances on the Monday before Thanksgiving Day, November 25, a matinee for children especially, and an evening performance.

Padewski's concert on December 16, is a fitting climax to the fall series. The season ticket will entitle the holder to the best seat available at the time he calls at the box office for his seat reservation, whenever there are two prices and the reserved seat check is needed, thus it means that he will have a desirable seat for the concert by the great pianist. The three above attractions are included in the fall season ticket.

All of these are included in the all season ticket. The members of the Woman's Club will sell season tickets. The box sheet for the Duncan Dancers will be open one week before the performance.

that something should be done to relieve the situation.
Just what kind of relief will be given has not been determined, but the matter has been placed before those able to remedy conditions, and prospect of their doing something is very bright.

"You may tell the boys that we are going to have three races on Thursday and Friday instead of the usual two," Haywood Daily, fair secretary, stated this morning.

The rain prevented the program on Tuesday and Wednesday, but we hope to be able to get in all scheduled track events by the end of the week. We have some of the fastest horses of the country scheduled to run both days, and lovers of this sport will be given one of the greatest treats of the season.

The heavy rainfall of the last two days is going to damage tobacco to no little extent unless the farmer gets busy and prevents it, said a well-known grower today.

"I have no doubt but numbers of farmers in different parts of the county are affected in this way, and the best thing they can do to protect their interests is to see that the tobacco is dried before marketing."

"Pay Up Period is now in progress," said a member of the Greenville Merchants Association today, and numbers of people have settled accounts which had been running for sometime.

CARELESSNESS, THE GREAT DESTROYER
Today, if this is an average 24 hours, several score people will be killed and thousands injured in automobile accidents.

"Now that the weather has cleared up you are urged to go out to the Pitt county fair and see what Pitt county people have produced in the way of exhibits this season," said a well-known Pitt county man today.

"I have never seen such fine chickens and hogs in my life, and the man who has been thinking of trying out the industry in the future should go out to the fair and get inspiration."

Women Are Free! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Legally, politically and socially woman has been emancipated from those chains which bound her. AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE has exploded the ridiculous theory that forced the stigma of inferiority upon a sex.

"toasting did it" —

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful, corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted" No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Saturday night, over a coast-to-coast network of the N. B. C.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

ABOUT TOWN

Owing to the fact that the children of county schools didn't get an opportunity of attending the fair Tuesday we have decided to set aside Friday afternoon for their entertainment. Haywood Daily, the secretary of the fair said today.

We had everything all ready for giving the children the biggest time of their young lives Tuesday, but the torrential downpour of rain prevented them from attending. However, this opportunity will be given to them Friday and they will be admitted at the gates free of charge.

Children's day is always a big day at the fair and we are expecting Friday to surpass all of them.

The conference of tobacco interests held recently at Washington resulted in some hope for the relief of farmers in this territory," said a member of the Pitt county committee who returned to his home here yesterday. "Much interest was manifested in the meeting and it seemed to be the general opinion of the majority

PEGGY'S CAMEL RIDE

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

"So you would like to ride in a circus parade, eh?" the little black clock said.

"Well, I think we'd better turn the time back a few days so you could go through the streets of another town. That would be more of an adventure."

"Then I may ride in the parade?" Peggy asked.

"Certainly," agreed the little black clock.

"Do you suppose I could do something, too?" asked John.

"Want to lead one of the ponies?" the little black clock asked.

"That would be fine," John said. So the little black clock turned the time back several days, and now they were at some other circus grounds, but with the same circus people.

The most beautiful of all the circus ladies gave Peggy a lovely dress to wear. It was of a bright yellow and simply covered with spangles. On her head she wore a most lovely crown of golden material.

John did not have to be dressed up, as walking beside a pony was not a dressed-up job.

But John liked that all the better, for he was not fond of dressing up. Now they were starting.

Through the most important streets of the town went the circus parade. Peggy, sitting on a camel, bowed to people along the streets.

John led the dearest little pony right behind the drum major. He felt very important.

And for the parade at the beginning of the circus that afternoon Peggy again rode the camel, and John again led the pony. The camel had the queerest way of walking. But Peggy loved it.

Sometimes she kissed her hands to the people in the audience as she went by them.

The circus people told her she couldn't have been any better if she had ridden in parades all her life.

That was the biggest compliment she had ever received.

Minister to Tell Story of Courtship of Mrs. Kennedy

Seattle, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Details of an alleged "whirlwind" courtship involving the Rev. H. H. Clark, former Seattle minister, and Mrs. Minnie E. Kennedy were due for an airing in court here today in Clark's $50,000 breach of promise suit against the mother of Almeda Semple, evangelist.

Clark was called to the stand yesterday but his story remained unfinished when court recessed for the day. A judicial order excluded from the courtroom girls under 18 years during the taking of testimony.

Former Seattle minister testified that his first meet Mrs. Kennedy in a Seattle motion picture theatre and described some of their subsequent meetings in hotels and restaurants here. Clark charges that Mrs. Kennedy, under the alias of "Mrs. Klark," wooed him persistently, promised to marry him and agreed to build him a tabernacle here and equip a "gospel ship" for evangelistic work along the Pacific coast. He alleged she later refused to keep her promises.

Clark broke down and sobbed when he described the mental reaction which he said he experienced when he found Mrs. Kennedy had "deceived" him.

"I'd rather have a red letter on my breast than sward into my soul," he faltered. "I felt I must tell all. I felt as if a moral hit-and-run driver had struck me and sped away in the darkness."

Complete Inquest In Death of Noted Arctic Explorer

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 2.—(AP)—A party of Royal Canadian mounted police was back today after holding an inquest and funeral services in the bleak Arctic wastes where John Henry, British explorer, and two companions who died of starvation.

Inspector Charles Trundle, commanding the Great Slave Lake division at Fort Smith, and three companions, found the bodies of Hornby, H. E. C. Adlard and Edgar V. Christian in their cabin on the banks of the Thelon river, northwest of Hudson Bay. Their death had been reported last August by a prospector.

After an inquest the officers buried the bodies, marked the graves with crosses and brought back notes and papers left by the three.

The papers included the first two chapters of a book by Hornby entitled "In the Land of Frost or Famine," and a diary by Christian, who apparently was the last to succumb. The officers found the documents when they followed directions scrawled on the wall to "look in the stove."

Failure of the explorers to locate herds of caribou upon which they had counted for food, caused their starvation.

BISHOP JOHN MURRAY DEAD

Head of Episcopal Church Dies Suddenly in Church at Atlantic City Today

Atlantic City, N. J., Oct. 3.—(AP)—Bishop John Gardner Murray, head of the Protestant Episcopal church in the United States, died at 1:35 p. m. today from a stroke of apoplexy during a meeting of the House of Bishops.

The Bishop died close by the Altar of St. James church, where he presided this morning at the business session of the House of Bishops. Death was sudden and unexpected, came as he was about to announce adjournment for lunch.

The Bishop had been here since Monday. And had at no time complained of illness. This morning, however, he expressed a desire to bring the sessions to an early close this afternoon so that he might return to his home.

He was standing before the Altar and had arisen to read a point of order when he collapsed. He fell to the floor before anyone could reach him.

He did not regain consciousness from the time of the collapse to the time of his death, after his death, the Bishops who a few moments before prayed for his recovery, turned their prayers to supplications for the repose of his soul.

Mrs. Murray immediately brought to the church from her hotel, a few blocks distant, in an automobile. After a prayer, the Bishops adjourned until 3 p. m. when they will complete the program outlined before their prime minister's death.

Dr. John Gardner, Jr., son of the Bishop, was not informed at his home in Baltimore by telephone.

Accepts Call To Farmville Church

Mr. Burns is a native of Bernice, La., his parents, however, being North Carolinians. He received his seminary training at Southwestern Seminary, Fort Worth, Tex., graduating with the class of '23, and coming to North Carolina in 1924.

THE LUXURY HUSBAND

SYNOPSIS: Ray Lowthe, Yale rowing star, was engaged to marry Barbara Landon, a beautiful heiress, when he discovered his own fortune lost. Regarding Barbara's millions an insurmountable barrier to their marriage, he fled, tried vainly to market his jazz compositions and played in an orchestra to make a living. Three years later he unexpectedly met Barbara on shipboard and reluctantly revealed the reason for his disappearance. Barbara, wearied of her mad round of pleasures, in which she tried vainly to forget her lover, pleaded with Ray that his changed fortunes are no obstacle—and begs him to marry her. Ray still loves her but refuses. Driven to desperation by what she regards as Ray's stubbornness, she vows she will still change his mind—and marry him!

Chaperon A SLEEPLESS NIGHT

Ray was in bad humor when he got back to his cabin that night. He strode in, without a word to his cabin mate, Len Hickson, a fat, merry fellow who combined the dual role of banjoist and entertainer.

"Sort of chatty tonight, aren't you?" Len observed jocularly. "Had a row with your best girl? Who is it? Not the cute thing in red who made such a flying dash towards you this evening? She's some Ritz baby. Hear she has money, too. Boy, you're lucky."

And picking up his banjo, he commenced singing. "Yes sir, that's my baby. No, sir, don't mean maybe. Yes, sir, that's my baby now!" "Oh, for heaven's sake, don't you get enough yelling to do all day?" growled Ray.

But Len merely grinned and went on singing. "Oh, I loved her in the morning, I loved her at night. I loved her in the evening when the stars were shining bright. I loved her in the springtime and I lived her in the fall. But tonight on the top deck I loved her best of all!"

But this, to Ray, was the last straw. It was the very tune to which he and Barbara had specially liked to fox-trot in the old days.

He stood over the little fellow menacingly. "If you don't shut up, I'll brain you," he said in a voice that carried conviction. With that he turned off the lights and threw himself down onto his bunk.

But, of course, he did not sleep. He had no hope of sleeping with that scene with Barbara still vivid in his mind. He wished that he had never taken this particular job, wished Barbara had never been aboard, wished . . . But what was the use of wishing?

Of course, it was out of the question, his marrying her! Barbara Landon and a penniless saxophonist—a situation good enough for the comic strip. Besides, it was not as though he were necessary to her.

In no time she would be married to some rich fellow who would look after her, perhaps the Englishman. He was a dumb-bell, that Englishman, not good enough for Barbara. Then he tried, seriously, to think who was good enough for Barbara, without succeeding. She was so sweet or had been in the old days. Now he could not see that she was changed, although she had told him that she was, and even if she were, what of it? Had he not changed too? He had been a queer fellow when Barbara had first met him: shy in a crowd, preferring to spend long hours at the piano with a saxophone than going to pieces with the rest of the gang.

But Barbara, during the short time they had been together, had changed all that, and his life since had completed what she had begun. When he had recovered from the first shock of his father's suicide he had gone directly to the Canadian woods, where he had worked for a season as a lumberjack. He had liked the rough open-air life, but gradually, as his spirits revived, he came to yearn for the life to which he had been accustomed.

This longing was intensified by the fact that out there in the wilds there was no place in his life for his music. At college, the boys had considered him a genius because of the spontaneous manner with which he could improvise jazz. Jazz was in Ray's blood, he adored it, almost putting it on a pedestal and worshipping it, and from boyhood he had dreamt secretly and continually of the day when he could put his own compositions before an appreciative public.

A year later he went to Chicago where, in order to provide himself with the essentials of life, he washed dishes at night in a cafeteria and devoted his spare moments in the day time to composing.

One afternoon, when playing his saxophone, Bill Foster, a pianist who roomed opposite in the lodging house, had put his head around the door and asked Ray if he would care to join a jazz band which he, Bill, was organizing. Ray had enthusiastically accepted.

Since his first engagement he had wandered to many cities. Finally, a few weeks previously, he signed up for this tour. He accepted his job of professional saxophone player philosophically, even with a touch of humor, and never for a moment did he allow himself to regard it in a derogatory light.

Of course, during the past years of vagabondage, there had been girls in his life. But not one had usurped the place that had been Barbara's. At first his desire for her had lessened until he had found himself loving her in a remote way, as one loves an unattainable dream rather than an actual living woman.

That she should come into his life again had seemed inconceivable. And now not only had he met her again, but she had actually asked him, even begged him, to marry her!

How could such a marriage achieve any possible happiness? How could he ever marry her and maintain his pride, his self-respect? No. It was out of the question. He was glad he had given her definitely to understand that it was—glad.

But, lying there sleeplessly in the uncomfortable, narrow bunk, he found himself going over the entire conversation, and certain words she had used came back with a distinct sense of uneasiness.

"If you won't have me then I shall take care that no other man shall want me." Of course she could not have intended that seriously, still—there had been a queerly determined glint in her eyes and he remembered uncomfortably that in the old days Barbara had not been given to vain boasting. Great heavens, if for a moment he seriously thought that she actually needed him . . .

But at that, the perspiration starting from his forehead, he sat up straight in his bunk and, with a vague idea that the pillow was unnecessarily hard, he thumped it fiercely while he cursed himself for a conceited fool!

Barbara begins to make good her rash threat in tomorrow's chapter.

Receipts from boxing bouts in Missouri during July were more than double those of the same month last year.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Oct. 3. (AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 5 points to a decline of two points. There was buying on relatively steady cables and talk of probable low private condition and crop figures, but it appeared to be offset by southern hedging.

The active months sold about 1/2 to 10 points higher on the early buying with December advancing to 18.95 and March to 19.25 but the demand tapered off at these figures and there were reactions of a few points later in the morning under further southern selling and realizations.

At midday December was selling at 18.95 with active months generally showing net gains of about 1/2 to 1 point.

Futures closed steady 1/4 to 1/2 points lower. Spot, Middling 18.95.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 3. (AP)—Wheat went sharply downward in price today, effected a good deal by the unsettled consequences of stock market weakness. As a rule, speculators took to the selling side, and trade sentiment on the whole appeared less optimistic than yesterday as to upturn in wheat values.

The bulk of today's purchases of North American wheat for shipment to Europe was from Canada, although toward the last 50,000 bushels of No. 1 United States hard winter wheat was reported taken.

Wheat closed heavy, 1-1/2 to 2-1/4 a bushel under yesterday's finish. Corn closed 5-8 to 1-1/4 off, oats 1-4 to 3-4-7-8 down and provisions unchanged to a setback of 3/8.

N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Oct. 3. (AP)—Stock prices broke precipitously in the last hour of trading today after steady selling pressure earlier in the session and undetermined speculative confidence. Scores of high priced issues broke 45 to 40 a share, with the public utilities showing conspicuous weakness.

New York, Oct. 3. (AP)—Reversal of selling pressure in today's stock market, inspired by the tremendous increase in stock exchange member loans last month, carried U. S. Steel common and many other industrial, public utility and railroad issues to new low levels on the current decline. Losses in most of the active issues ranged from 2 to nearly 10 points, with commercial solvents breaking 19 1-2.

As in most recent sessions, the volume of trading was only moderately heavy, indicating the absence of any extensive forced liquidation. Several efforts were made to rally the general list but offerings invariably increased as prices rose and the attempts were abandoned.

Except for the huge gain in uneasiness in view of the recent criticism of officials of the American Bankers association and others against the volume of security borrowings. There was nothing in the day's news to explain the further liquidation. Call money renewed at 7 1-2, dropped to 7 and thence to 6, the lowest rate in about a month.

but the time money market continued firm at 9 to 9 1-4 per cent. Sears Roebuck reported September sales were nearly $7,000,000 above the same month last year. Baid, with locomotive stockholders approved the recapitalization plan, and the corporation's audited orders were great at $16,000,000.

U. S. Steel common, which sold as high as 226 yesterday and closed at 223, broke to 218 1-2. General Motors sank nearly 2 points to another new low level for the year at 64 3-4. General Electric dropped 6 3-4 points and Radio sold down more than 3 points to 83 3-4.

A. M. Byers, Burroughs Adding Machine, American and Foreign Power, American Water Works, Johns Manville, Montgomery Ward, New York Central, Allied Chemical and Air Reduction crumbled 5 to 7 points, while Atchison, Canadian Pacific, American Telephone, Westinghouse, Sears Roebuck, DuPont and American Can sold down 3 to 4 points.

High priced shares led the downward turn in the last hour. Auburn Auto was off 2 1-2, Commercial Solvents 20, Allied Chemical 12 and American and Foreign Power 10 1-4. Columbian Carbon, which had advanced 15 1-2 to the new peak of 311, slumped to 280. Midland Steel Products preferred, lost a 14-3/4 point gain. United States Steel got as low as 217 3-4 and General Motors sagged to 63 3-4. The closing was weak. Sales approximated 4,200,000 shares.
