President and Prime Minister Off To The Hills For Week-End

Affairs of Two Nations to Be Discussed Before Huge Open Fire-Place in Hoover's Hunting Lodge

Washington, Oct. 5.—(AP)—President Hoover and Prime Minister MacDonald will spend the week-end at the Presidential Lodge on the waters of the Rapidan river in the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia.

The party will include Mrs. Hoover, Miss Ishbel MacDonald, and the Secretary of State and Mrs. Stimson.

They will leave in mid-afternoon for the White House to be the guests of the President and Mrs. Hoover until Tuesday morning.

The return to Washington will be made early Monday in time for the Premier to visit Congress at noon and make a brief address to the Senate.

Washington, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Meeting as friend with a common ideal, two plain men of humble origin, sit down today for discussions which have far-reaching effect upon the future course of history.

Unhappily by the formalities that guard-rail attend exchanges between the head of governments, President Hoover and Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald purpose to open their minds to each other with the hope that misunderstandings between the American and British nations may be made impossible.

Whether in the quiet of the White House study or the friendly comfort of a huge open fire in the Presidential Lodge high up in the Blue Ridge mountains of Virginia, the conversations will encompass the wider aspects of relations between the two countries. Details and non-essentials will be eliminated.

With a frankness which may have surprised American officials, the British statesman began his good will mission with clear cut statements of his purpose, his aspirations and his hopes.

He emphasized that he spoke for a British people united in the "very great and very profound" desire for "cordial friendship with the American people."

Along with this assurance to the American people, he gave notice to the other nations that there was in his mission no idea of an alliance between Great Britain and the United States. To this he added that what he and the President were doing was in no shape or form hostile to the other nations of the world.

"Any contribution to the end that the United States and ourselves should think more in harmony is not meant to be, and must not be taken to be, an attempt to leave out other nations," he said. "It is quite the opposite."

"Nothing, I am sure, would please both of us more than that any successful removing of misunderstanding between American and Great Britain should be at once followed by removal of other misunderstandings with or between other nations."

"We have no exclusive ideas in mind at all."

The award will be conferred formally later in the day. Early now is in Washington.

It was made upon recommendation of the army decoration board which has reconsidered the part played by survivors of the American detachment which was commanded by Early. He was wounded and York succeeded him in command.

The letter is understood to have appeared before the board and recommended Early the Award.

Mrs. Gann Came Near Missing Ishbell's Call

Washington, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Mrs. Dolly Curtis Gann, sister and official hostess to Vice-President Curtis, nearly missed a call today from Miss Ishbel MacDonald as a result of a morning trip to the market.

At the Gann home it was said the visit of the British premier's daughter was unexpected and for a time there was uncertainty whether Mrs. Gann could be located and return home in time. Miss MacDonald, however, had not arrived before Mrs. Gann returned.

Upon reaching the Mayflower Hotel, Mrs. Gann immediately went to her suite, leaving instructions at the desk to be notified the moment the distinguished young lady, accompanied by Lady Isabella Howard, wife of the British ambassador, entered.

about 80 members on the night shift. Claiming that the mill management had not lived up to an agreement settling a previous strike, the strikers gathered about the mill gate to try and persuade members of the day shift not to go to work. As day workers came on, Sheriff Adkins said, a fight started. It was after he imperiled to stop the fight, he said, that the shooting began. He claimed that he had not fired a single shot but testimony from strikers yesterday said that he had held Sam Vickers, one of those killed, with one hand while he used his gun to kill him with the other hand.

John Hollar, another striker, was called to testify and stated that two shots had hit his car parked near the scene of the shooting.

"How many officers," asked D. F. Giles attorney for the strikers, "did you see shooting?"

SAYS SENATE IS NOW IN GRIP OF TARIFF LEAGUE

Bill Would Give Manufacturers Strangle-Hold on Market, Declares Senator King

Washington, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Assertion that the administrative provisions of the tariff bill were written to give "domestic manufacturers what some have denominated as a strangle hold on the domestic market" was made in the Senate today by Senator King, democrat, Utah.

A careful examination of the bill, he said, would convince anyone that from beginning to end it was "aimed against imports whether made by brokers, foreigners or American citizens." Both imports and exports would diminish under the measure, he said, adding that all efforts to build up a merchant marine also would prove abortive.

King argued that the Senate was "in the grip" of the American tariff league in the preparation on the measure. This organization of which Joseph R. Grundy is vice-president, he added "threw itself into the breach" against the Borah resolution which would have limited tariff revision to agriculture, in the hope of swelling the profits of American manufacturers through increased industrial rates.

Buffalo Newspaper Man Dies Suddenly
Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Buffalo Courier-Express and head William J. Conners, publisher of the of the Great Lakes Transit Company, dropped dead at his home here this morning.

Although Mr. Conners' health had become impaired during the past year, he had maintained his usual routine since his return from Florida last spring. Daily he visited the offices of the Courier-Express and the Great Lakes Transportation office.

Thursday afternoon he spent at the former office studying plans with architects for the new home of his newspaper building, ground for which was broken Monday and which was the realization of a long cherished desire.

Friday morning there developed symptoms of a recurrence of heart trouble from which Mr. Conners has been a sufferer, but these wore away later in the day.

This morning he complained of renewed trouble with his heart and asked that his attending physician, Dr. J. Carroll Roberts, be summoned. Dr. Roberts, upon reaching his bedside recognized that the end was near and members of the family were summoned. Death occurred just before five o'clock.

Cole Blease Scores Washington Police
Washington, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Senator Blease, Democrat, South Carolina, thinks Washington police are too much concerned over liquor and "petting."

Urging a Senate investigation of the police department, brought under severe criticism in the mystery over the death of young Mrs. Virginia McPherson, he said:

"If there is one type of policeman I hate, it's the type that, armed with a flashlight, will sneak up on some boy and girl making love in the park."

RIVERS STILL ON RAMPAGE

Seven State Highways Closed as Result Rising Streams in This Section
Raleigh, Oct. 5.—(AP)—North Carolina's four eastern rivers that have been in flood following almost unprecedented rains the first part of this week, today continued to overflow their banks in their lower reaches but had started falling in their upper tributaries, Lee A. Denison, in charge of the local United States Weather Bureau, reported.

Seven state highways were still closed today due to high waters in the rivers and Captain Charles D. Farmer of the State Highway Patrol, predicted that Route No. 10 between Kinston and New Bern would probably be closed sometime tomorrow due to flooding by the Neuse river.

The Cape Fear river at Fayetteville reached its crest late yesterday at between 64 and 65 feet and had fallen to 63.4 feet today.

The Roanoke river was still going up at Weldon and stood at 42.2 feet today with the crest to be reached tomorrow.

The Tar river started falling along its middle reaches today but was still in high flood farther down.

Buyer Guilty as the Seller
Bishop Says Buyers and Sellers Are Both Necessary to Whisker Traffic
Richmond, Va., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., chairman of the Board of Temperance and Social Service of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, today said the time had come to amend the Volstead act so as to place the buyer and seller of intoxicants on the same footing before the law.

He made this statement in commenting on the decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Philadelphia, holding the purchase of liquor not an offense under the 18th amendment and the Volstead act.

"The purpose of the 18th amendment is to prohibit traffic in intoxicating liquors," Bishop Cannon said. "Buyers and sellers are both necessary to the traffic and both are therefore equally responsible for its continuance. The openly declared purpose of certain citizens, many of them of wealth and high social position, to flaunt the beneficent aim of the law and to continue to purchase intoxicants, even at exorbitant prices and with the knowledge that the bootleggers from whom they purchase are all criminals, frequently guilty of highway robbery and murder, compels the conclusion that the time has come to amend the Volstead act that the purchase of intoxicants shall be made an offense equal with the sale and transportation."

King Creek Man Is Beaten and Robbed At Marion Today

Marion, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Harrie Buchanan, of King Creek, N. C., was badly beaten and robbed by three men in the Clinchfield mill village sometime early today, he told sheriff's deputies.

Buchanan said he was passing through town, on his way to the Clinchfield village to spend the night with relatives when he was accosted by three men. One of the men asked him if he was going to work in the mill here, he stated, and demanded a suitcase he had in his hand. When he refused to turn it over, he added, he was hit with a piece of coal, and two of his assailants jumped on him and robbed him of $3 and the suitcase.

After remaining on the ground for some time, Buchanan said he went to the sheriff's house and was brought to the jail, until he could be treated at a hospital.

Sheriff Adkins said he did not attribute the attack to unsettled labor conditions here.

"You can't make fish of some and fowl of others," observed Senator Norris as he gave notice that he would insist upon thorough investigation by the committee of the financial activities of all organizations.

Senator Norris will name the committee of inquiry at the meeting of the Judiciary committee on Monday and it seemed likely tonight that

Urges Farmers to Give Attention to Their Cotton Seed
Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 5.—"It is not time to plant cotton now but it is time to prepare our seed for next season's planting," says U. B. Blacklock, general manager of the North Carolina Cotton Growers Cooperative association, in an article that will be published in the October issue of the Cotton Grower.

"There is probably no better authority on cotton seed for planting purposes than Mr. David R. Coker of Hartsville, S. C. We quote from a letter just received from him as follows:

"Seed from the damp cotton that is now being picked contains an excess amount of moisture and can not be used from planting purposes next spring unless they are very carefully handled. If the seed cotton has been ginned, of course the seed are ruined; but if there is some excess moisture in the seed and heating has not taken place, they can be saved by yacking in small bags and setting on end one bag in a place. The bags should be shifted every day or two until the seed are thoroughly dry. All seed intended for planting purposes should be carefully examined immediately after ginning and should not be stored in bulk unless they are perfectly dry and will rattle when shaken. Planting seed should be carefully examined before planting and if there is any doubt of their soundness, germination tests should be made. The losses from planting seed of low germination have been very great during the past year and this is a loss which is easily avoided by proper attention to the handling of the seed cotton, the storage of the seed, and re-examination before planting."

"Cotton growing in the Eastern Belt has gotten to be an industry which yields no profit to any except those who carry out every scientific precaution to insure success. Sound, well bred seed adapted to the section, proper methods of preparation, fertilization and culture, narrow rows and thick stands in the row, proper handling of the seed cotton, good ginning and baling and, but not least, scientific marketing of the product, are essential to the most profitable production."

"We were the distributors last spring of several thousand bushels of high priced pedigreed seed to our members and to other cotton producers in this state" said Mr. Blacklock, "and we are urging them to give due consideration to the above warning and asking them to take the necessary precaution to insure the soundness of their next year's supply of planting seed. There should be several thousand bushels of extra seed for distribution to other cotton growers, but a producer of seed for sale has no right to dispose of his seed for planting purposes unless he has taken the proper precautions to insure soundness and germination."

Nearing Of Evidence Continued Today In Trial Of Seven Strikers

Road to Tarboro Closed Late Today

Traffic over highway number 90 this side of Tarboro was cut off late this afternoon according to information furnished here by W. H. Rogers, Pitt county highway engineer. Mr. Rogers stated that this morning the water from Tar river had crossed the highway this side of Tarboro and that for night it would be too deep on the highway to permit further traffic. Mr. Rogers also stated that all county highways in this county were passable but he urged travelers to be careful of washouts and in crossing bridges.

PAY-UP PERIOD GETS RESULTS

Merchants Association Reports Gratifying Response On the Part of Public
Greenville's "Pay-up Period," sponsored by the Merchants and participated in by its membership is proving one of the most successful of these annual events, since such was inaugurated a few years ago, according to advice of the secretary of the Association.

The general public, according to the secretary, are giving more thought and consideration of their outstanding debts than they have ever before. And where it is not possible to settle their past due accounts the people are in many cases making satisfactory arrangements with their merchants or dealers whereby they are protected in carrying in such accounts for a longer period.

In former years immediately following the pay-up periods the Merchants Association has revised their credit rating files, and those who were negligent in giving proper attention to their past due obligations have found it difficult to secure credit from members of the Association. According to the organization's secretary their files will undergo the same revision this year. And because of the recent resolutions adopted by the Association governing the extension of credit, those who fail to comply with the terms of credit, as outlined in these resolutions will not doubt experience embarrassment as well as inconvenience when applying for credit.

Witnesses Residing in Vicinity of Gastonia Tent Colony Describe Scenes of the Shooting of Chief of Police Aderholt

Charlotte, Oct. 5.—(AP)—A prosecution witness testified this morning that K. Y. Hendricks, one of the seven defendants on trial for murder of O. F. Aderholt, Gastonia chief of police, had run into her house after the shooting on the night of June 7 and told her that "we have killed Chief Aderholt and Tom Gilbert and I think we have killed Roach and one of our men."

The witness, Mrs. Onnie Neal, testified further that Hendricks, who was "white as a sheet and scared to death," said he had fired his gun and run away.

Tom Gilbert and A. J. Roach were witnesses when the shooting occurred in the tent colony grounds in Gastonia, occupied by Lora textile mill organizers and strikers. Mrs. Neal said she lived near the tent colony and after the volley of shots, Hendricks came rushing into her daughter's room, grabbing the daughter, when the girl screamed. He apologized, saying he was in the wrong house and went out, returning almost immediately by another door. When his demand that he be carried to another part of Gastonia was refused, Mrs. Neal said Hendricks threatened them. Fred Erwin Neal, southern organizer for the National Workers Textile union, another of the defendants, was quoted by another witness, Mrs. Tom Jenkins, as having told picketers to go to the Lora mill "and drag them out." This was just prior to the shooting.

Mrs. Walter Grigg, who was lying near the tent colony, testified the first shot was fired by a guard after some girls in the street had shouted guards go your duty.

Louis McLaughlin, a defendant, was said by Mrs. Grace Daily, the last witness on the stand this morning, to have searched the woods behind the tent colony after the shooting and having finally emerged with a shotgun.

Thomas L. Jenkins, a Gastonia machinist, quoted Bead as having made a speech in which he said he had been to Washington and that he could get no assistance from the government.

"We will call another strike," Beal was quoted as saying, "and show them that we are a fighting unit."

Beal was further quoted as having said that "we are a fighting unit and do not fear the police, we have guards and can take care of ourselves."

Favor Shorter Season.
Kansas City, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Conflict of the little world series with the major league championship series has caused American Association magnates to decide on a shorter schedule for next year. T. J. Hickey, president of the association, will adopt a 154-game schedule in place of the 168-game plan of recent years. The season will end about September 17, Hickey said.

ALABAMA AND MISS. WILL CLASH TODAY
Tuscaloosa, Ala., Oct. 5.—(AP)—With hundreds of alumnae in town for today's homecoming game, the Crimson Tide of the University of Alabama today prepared to meet its first conference foe, the University of Mississippi.

Ole Miss presents Wallace Wade's crew with its first test of the season, but it cannot be called a really crucial contest, as dope favors the tide to win by at least two or three touchdowns. However, today's tussle will determine how good or how bad the 1929 "Bama eleven" really is.

AL SIMMONS LOSES LEAD IN BATTING

Chicago, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Merely holding his own in the American league batting struggle last week was not sufficient to keep Al Simmons in the lead and Lew Fonseca, Cleveland first baseman, ascended to the peak with an average of .373, according to unofficial figures which include Wednesday's games.

Combie Mack's slugger outfielder played in three games, and he was accredited with 10 times at bat. He hit safely twice to maintain his .367 average which lifted him to the top a week ago. Fonseca got into two games and added six points to his mark. The Athletics had but two more games to play, and Fonseca, appeared to have the individual title within his grasp. Other regulars following Simmons and Fonseca were: Fox, Philadelphia, .356; Manush, St. Louis, .354; Lazzari, New York, .353; Fothergill, Detroit, .347; Ruth, New York, .346; Combs, New York, .344; Heimann, Detroit, .344; Alexander, Detroit, .342.

Simmons and Babe Ruth each batted four runs during the week and remained in a tie for the leadership at 150. The Babe failed to produce any home runs, but his total of 46 was 13 ahead of that of Jimmy Fox, his nearest rival. Charlie Gehring, Detroit infielder, topped the field in three departments. He had scored 129 runs, had stolen 27 bases, and led with 17 three base hits. Heinie Manush of St. Louis, and Roy Johnson of Detroit, were tied for double honors, each having collected 44.

Detroit improved its collective batting average by one point to .298, and remained in front of the pack. The Yankees added two points and went into second position with .296, displacing the Athletics who dropped to fourth, one point behind Cleveland which had an average of .285.

George Earshaw, Philadelphia's right handed pitching ace, boosted his victory collection to 23, by taking down one decision, and lost eight games.

Bob Grove was charged with another defeat and his record was 20 victories and six defeats. Eddie Rummel had the highest percentage among pitchers working in a representative number of games, having won 11 while losing two. Tom Zachary's record still was unmarred, the Yankee veteran having triumphed 12 straight times. Grove's strike-out record of 164 gave the Athletics another leadership.

Philadelphia's fledgling average of .976, was good enough to top the St. Louis Browns by two points. The battle for double play honors continued at a brisk clip, with the Boston Red Sox on top with 159, one more than Cleveland had completed.

MAJOR LEAGUE NEARING END OF THE SEASON

By WILLIAM J. CHAPMAN
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

After five days in hiding for most of the big league clubs, the entire enrollment of both circuits will return to action today to begin the brings the 1929 campaigns to their respective conclusions, logical or otherwise. The Cubs snatched another from the Reds, this one by 14 to 6 in the only two contests decided yesterday.

Three other games were scheduled yesterday. The Giant-Phillie fray at Baker bowl was washed permanently from the schedule as the teams already were down for two games this afternoon, and the Brown-Indian tilt in St. Louis was put over because of rain. It will be part of a double-header tomorrow.

The Cardinal-Pirate argument at Forbes field was delayed until this afternoon to make a bargain counter-attraction for clients of the Dreyfus Dragons.

John McGraw retained his chance to finish second, even though his game with the Phillies went into the discard. As a matter of fact this slender possibility was strengthened a bit by the cancellation. Before the game was called off, the Giants were confronted with the task of winning four while the Pirates were losing three.

A sweep for the Giants and three reverses for the Pirates would leave the clubs in one of those "virtual ties" with the Bugs in games, but McGraw would gain an edge in percentage through having won one fewer and lost one fewer than his Pittsburgh rivals. The Giants will play only 151 games, but the Pirates will go through 153.

Rogers Hornsby got two hits in two official times at bat, lifting his average two points to .381. He still could nose out Babe Herman for second place, but neither he nor Herman could seriously threaten Frank O'Doul and his mark of .396.

Dutch Henry, the Giant refugee saved from the minors by Charles Comiskey, officiated against the Tigers for the White Hoes. He eased up after he gained a good lead.

Greenville Boy To Have Part In Today's Big Game

Durham, N. C., Oct. 4.—Glenn Robeson, sophomore halfback and pass catcher extraordinary, is to have his big opportunity Saturday.

The first day of practice this fall, and every following afternoon until it began to rain, Glenn Robeson was prominent in the public eye. Every news item carried Robeson's name. He was hailed as the greatest pass handler Duke ever had. He was the day's star, day after day. And then it rained and Robeson's name was simply sandwiched in with the others. He couldn't stand out on damp afternoons for Sam Bule was not throwing passes in the rain.

And all the time the Duke coaches were praying for fair weather for Pitt. They need a dry day to show their best.

If the sun is shining Saturday, and the predictions are for that kind of weather, then Duke will uncoil a passing attack against Pitt and the familiar line of early September—Bule passed to Robeson—will flare again.

Duke coaches believe that with Bule throwing them and Robeson catching passes, there is no college with a better passing pair. And Duke has a good protection for the passer, as was shown in the game with Mercer.

GRID SEASON GETS IN FULL SWING TODAY

Football overtures of Friday, contests which didn't rank in importance to today's battles, saw Washington and Lee University defeat the Wolfpack of North Carolina, 27 to 6, in the only battle of the day between Southern Conference gridiron machines.

It was a contest played in Raleigh yesterday in order to avoid a conflict with the Duke-Pitt struggle at Durham this afternoon. The Virginia Generals overpowered the inexperienced Wolfpack in the third quarter, when they scored all of their 27 points, after having been checked in the first two periods.

Coach Walter Johnson's Presbyterian College team slipped up on the Mercer Bears and defeated the Georgians 6 to 0, in a contest at Clinton, S. C. The only score of the game came in the second quarter when Dumlap raced 67 yards off tackle for a touchdown.

Erlone College routed the High Point Purple Panthers in Due West, 26 to 0, showing marked superiority over the invading team in every department of the game. McKee, for Erlone, featured with a romp of 56 yards for a touchdown, after grabbing a High Point kickoff in the second period.

Elon had no trouble beating the Atlantic Christian College eleven, 40 to 0, at Elon. Pete Williams, brilliant fullback of the Elon team, had to leave the game because of injuries. Newberry, S. C., battled to a scoreless tie, and Guilford had a playful afternoon with Rutherford, the Quakers defeating the Ramblers, 24 to 0.

What's His Name?
Louisville—There's a big guessing contest as to what the "O" means in the name of O. L. Bodenhamer, new commander of the American legion. Buddies who have known him at El Dorado, Ark., and as private and Major in the A. E. F. have been unable in years to find out.

SUNDOWN STORIES

WHAT THEY DECIDED
By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

The leader cricket now got up and spoke again. He had received all the votes from the other crickets.

"Every single cricket," he said, "has used a piece of grass in voting. So we have all decided the same way."

"We have just formed the great Cricket Club, and we have had to make rules. The first of our rules which we have just been voting on is that we should not have a lot of useless words to use when we talk."

"We wondered whether it would be a good idea to have a lot of different things to say, or if we should say the same thing over and over again."

"We have decided that, having nice, cheery voices, we might just as well say the same thing over and over again. It saves bother. It keeps up from having to study too much."

"It gives us time to sing and chatter without learning a lot of words."

"These who used the piece of grass in voting decided this way. No one used a piece of weed in voting, which would have meant votes for more words to use."

"From now on, fellow crickets, we will always make the same speeches the same sounds, the same little songs. We are small. It is not to be expected of us that we should have a great many words."

"Large creatures like people can use a lot of words, but little creatures such as we are, need not."

All the crickets waved their feel-

ers, which was their way of clapping. "You have been present," the little black cricket explained, "at the opening meeting when the crickets decided they would not change their song or chatter."

"So when you hear them say the same thing over and over again, you'll know that it was according to the vote of every cricket."

"But we've got big plans ahead! We must make haste."

Louisiana Lady Says She Felt "So Much Better" After Taking Cardui.

Baton Rouge, La.—Mrs. F. S. Hebert, of 1428 North Street, this city, says that before she took Cardui she was "sick, tired and weak and very discouraged."

"I had so much pain that I would lie down and get not rest. I just dragged around."

"My mother told me to take Cardui. I knew I must take something, and so I took three bottles of Cardui. I seemed stronger after the first one, and when I had taken three bottles I was a whole lot better."

"I know that it was the Cardui which helped me, for I felt so miserable before I took it, and so much better afterwards."

"The fact that so many women have been helped, in their efforts to build up their health, by taking Cardui, should encourage you to try this well-known medicine."

Cardui is an extract of herbs possessing valuable medicinal properties. It contains nothing harmful or injurious; safely taken by women of all ages.

ECONOMY DEMANDS

That every automobile owner should have the oiling, greasing, washing and polishing of his car done at the place of business of the dealer who is best qualified to render efficient service. Especially so when you know the dealer to have an efficient shop, modern equipment, and a true knowledge of the car. In our shop we have all of this combined with neatness and courtesy. It is to the especial interest of the Ford owner to bring his or her car to our shop for service for more than one reason.

FIRST: Our mechanics know the Ford car so well that in greasing it we do overlook any of the numerous and often vital points of the car to be greased. The average greaser only greases these parts that are immediately visible.

SECOND: We know paint and what is best for it. We know how to prolong life and luster by properly washing and polishing. Our knowledge of paints and varnishes is such as is not found outside of first class body plants.

THIRD: The oils and greases that we use are of the very best. We challenge anyone to prove the contrary.

FOURTH: A visit to our garage will readily show that for neatness and modern mechanical equipment we are unexcelled. There is nothing that could happen to any automobile that we cannot repair.

FIFTH: Our charges are reasonable. We will wash your car for $1.00, oil and grease with genuine Alemite for $1.00. All other work is priced accordingly.

RED MEN ENJOY ENTERTAINMENT

Community Players From Goldsboro Stage Show for Local Members

A most enjoyable entertainment was given here last night in the high school auditorium by a Goldsboro troupe, arranged for by a local committee of Red Men as a surprise party to Red Men and Pochonafes of Pitt and adjoining counties. The entertainment was one of the best seen in this section and was thoroughly enjoyed by about a thousand of the brothers and sisters of the two orders. There being visitors from Greene, Craven, Beaufort and Edgecombe counties, as well as from all sections of Pitt county.

The committee on arrangements was composed of D. A. Windham, chairman; L. S. Spence, B. G. Albritton and W. E. Tucker. Address of welcome by L. S. Spence.

Program, Opening Specials, by entire chorus and all performers on the stage.

Selections—By Excelsior Quartet: of the Free Will Baptist church composed of E. D. Griffin, S. M. Waters, Willie F. Owens and D. A. Windham.

"How Do You Do?"—Composed and sung by Dr. Spence of Goldsboro, supported by a chorus of eight girls and two black face comedians.

Stunt—By black face comedians, Carter and Orr. Acrobatic wire walking—By Edward Evans of Goldsboro.

Solo dance—By Miss Wilma Spence of Goldsboro. Will Rogers Lasso Stunt—By Edward Evans.

Whistling in imitation of various musical instruments—By the real boy whistling marvel, Buster Starr, of Goldsboro.

"The Bum."—Composition, acting and song by Dr. Spence, of Goldsboro, supported by chorus, all of Goldsboro.

"Pump Song"—Scenic arrangement, composition and song by Dr. Spence, supported by chorus.

Child's Acrobatic Stunt—By little Miss Clara Spence, daughter of Dr. E. P. Spence, of Greenville.

"Fare Ye Well"—"Home, Sweet Home" and "Good Night Ladies"—Sung by chorus and entire troupe. The music was beautifully rendered by Miss Wilma Spence and Miss Cathleen Mitchell, of Goldsboro.

No special mention can be made of any individual performer as they were all par excellent and performed with the ease and grace of life-long stage professionals. However, the eight beautiful young ladies of the chorus, with song and dance, the comedians with stunts and jokes; Dr. Spence, Mr. Evans, Buster Starr, Miss Wilma Spence and little Miss Spence, with their various stunts in acrobatics, song and dance, thrilled the audience and brought forth round after round of applause. In fact, there was not a dull moment during the entire performance and one almost felt that he was witnessing some high-priced musical comedy in new times instead of a free Goldsboro local talent performance.

Anyway everybody was highly delighted and feel under many obligations to these Goldsboro friends for last night's entertainment.

French Airmen Reported Safe

Paris, Oct. 5.—(AP)—A Reuter dispatch from Osaka, Japan, today said it was announced at Harbin, Manchuria, that Captain Dieu-donne Coste, French aviator who has been missing for more than a week, and his mechanic, Jacques Bellonte, landed at three p. m., yesterday at the village of Kowchinza, near Tsitsihar.

WOULD KILL THE GOOSE

This paper has a feeling that the buying companies are going to extend their limits for the balance of the season. This view is entertained because the buyers are given credit for being good business people with sense enough to know that the present intolerable situation cannot in the end be conducive to their advantage any more than it is accruing to the benefit of the farmers at the present time. As before said in these columns, it is poor and short-sighted policy to kill the goose that lays the golden egg. To persist in denying the producers of any raw product a price that will cover their production costs is nothing short of such a policy.—Kinston Free Press.

DIVORCEE ASKS FOR ALIMONY REDUCTION

THE LUXURY HUSBAND

SYNOPSIS: Barbara Landon is wealthy and beautiful and also desperately in love with Ray Lowther, a penniless musician in the orchestra of the ship on which she is a passenger. Three years before they were engaged, and Ray, suddenly learned of the loss of his own fortune, disappeared, believing their marriage impossible under the circumstances. When they unexpectedly meet on the boat, Barbara begs Ray to marry her.

Chapter 6
A PROPOSAL ACCEPTED
Henderson was elated at Barbara's agreement to attend his house-party and ordered another bottle of champagne on the strength of it. In his growing exhilaration he failed to notice the mysterious manner in which Barbara was emptying her champagne glass—without drinking its contents.

Midnight found them still in the smoking room surrounded by a hilarious group of girls and men. Barbara was talking loudly, slurring one word into another. "Tired of sitting here. Want to dance. C'mon and dance, Hendy."

"Don't be silly, Barbara, we can't dance here. There's no music." "Want to dance anyway," she retorted. "Be a sport, Hendy, dance with Barbara!"

But, drunk as he was, Henderson was too typically British to relish making himself a laughing stock in public. However, she appeared obdurate, and presently with the cry of, "If you won't dance with me, then I'll dance by myself," she sprang up onto one of the neighboring tables.

Immediately all eyes were focussed upon her and someone shouted, "Give us a dance." Just for one moment she appeared to hesitate. Then, her chin stuck out and her eyes hard with determination, she commenced a furious stage dance. Her lithe body moved gracefully, her feet hardly seemed to hit the table and when she paused for breath the whole room broke into spontaneous applause.

Ten minutes later, Len Hickson rushed into the cabin where Ray was sitting on his bunk getting ready for bed. "Say, Ray!" he shouted excitedly. "What do you think that Landon girl is doing now? She's up in the smoke room doing a dance on one of the tables! She's sent down to offer us 100 bucks each if we'll go up and give her a tune."

Ray stared at him for a moment incredulously, then, as he sprang to his feet, his hand shot out and he grasped the banjoist's shoulder. "What are you saying?" he demanded hoarsely. "Do you mean to tell me that Barbara—Miss Landon is up there dancing before those drunken sots? You must be mad."

"I'm not. Pick up your sax, boy. The fellow who gave me the dope said for us to hurry." "But Ray did not need to be told to do that! Already he had pushed Len aside and had bounded out of the cabin. In no time he was in the smoke room, and as he elbowed his way roughly through the crowd that surrounded the table on which Barbara was standing, there was a look in his eyes that spoke murder to anyone who dared interfere with him.

Seeing him coming Barbara exclaimed laughingly, although there was a note of nervous hysteria in her laughter. "Bravo, here's the music," but the words were scarcely out of her mouth when she felt herself seized off the table and forcibly carried out of the room.

Henderson, without losing any time, followed them out into the corridor, where momentarily Ray had put Barbara to her feet. "I say, what do you mean?" he began, but Ray broke in upon him, his face ugly as he brought his down close to that of the Britisher. "Clear out of this unless you want me to take you outside and pitch you overboard!"

Once again he caught Barbara in his arms and did not drop her again until they were outside her stateroom door. "Go into your cabin at once," he told her, his face white with fury, "and don't leave it again until tomorrow morning!" She threw up her head and said thickly: "I shall do as I like. I'm going back into the smoke room."

"Not until you're sober. And that won't be for a good many hours to come." He opened the door and tried to force her through it—then, as she continued to struggle, he picked her up and unceremoniously carried her inside.

"I'll see that you stay here if I have to stand guard all night outside that door," he told her with a cold, helpless rage. "What do you care?" she demanded. "You told me the other night that I wasn't any concern of yours!"

He was looking down at her, his face working ominously. "I know—but then I paid you the compliment of thinking you were capable of taking care of yourself. I see now that you're not. If you still want to marry me, I'm willing—as soon as you like." He glanced at her interrogatively. His hands flashed as he shoved them into his pockets. There was a moment of tense silence and in the pause she swept him a mocking, if unstable, courtesy.

"Behold your future wife, my lord," then, her eyes twinkling behind her lashes, "Let's have a bottle of champagne on the strength of it?" "But that, to him, was the last straw. "No," he almost shouted. "You've had more than enough already. I'm going now, and he made towards the door.

"But, we've got to talk things over," she protested. "Not tonight. You're hardly in a condition to talk anything over tonight. We can do that tomorrow. And I warn you it's no use trying to get out of here, because for the next hour, at least, I'm going to stand outside your door."

At that he left, which was just as well, for Barbara's lips were twitching with suppressed laughter, and directly his back was turned, deliberately and impudently she winked at her reflection in the mirror. "You poor darling," she whispered, as later she blew him kisses through the keyhole. "I thought I'd find a way to overcome that rotten old pride of yours!"

It was about this time that the smoke room steward was wondering who had been insane enough to pour a pint of champagne into one of the cuspidors. And Barbara proves that she is clever besides being rich. Continue the story tomorrow.

NOT HOW MUCH but HOW MUCH SATISFACTION

Two thoroughly practical considerations will surely draw you toward Oldsmobile—price and value. For high quality at low price is the fundamental reason for Oldsmobile's constantly growing success. But even price and value are overshadowed by the complete and lasting satisfaction that comes with Oldsmobile ownership. Consider the price—only $875 for the two-door sedan. Compare what Oldsmobile offers you with what other cars offer. You will discover that it is doubtful economy to pay less than Oldsmobile's price . . . and unnecessary to pay more. For a car of lesser price will never bring you all that Oldsmobile offers . . . and you'll have to pay a good deal more than Oldsmobile's price to obtain the same fine qualities in another car. Oldsmobile's big 62-horsepower high-compression engine provides ample power for every emergency—acceleration to take you out front when the signal light changes—speed to keep you there. Exceptional provisions for durability and dependability are evident in every detail of chassis construction. A low center of gravity combined with balanced weight gives uncanny roadability. Four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers assure restful riding ease. Examine features of Oldsmobile's Fisher bodies. Test the wide, deep-cushioned seats. Note the glove-like fit of the soft upholstery fabrics—the luxurious quality of the materials used. Try the new comfort of the Fisher adjustable front seat. Come and inspect this car. Drive it yourself. Compare it, feature for feature, with other cars. And when you have compared its price, and considered its value—keeping in mind that Oldsmobile stands high by a dollar-for-dollar measure . . . remember that it stands even higher in the test of owner satisfaction. TWO DOOR SEDAN $875 CONSIDER THE DELIVERED PRICE Consider the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values. Oldsmobile delivered prices include only reasonable charges for delivery and financing.

The VIKING —the new 90-degree V-type Eight at medium price—is built in the Olds factories, by Oldsmobile craftsmen, and sold through Oldsmobile dealers. At $1995 for all models, f.o.b. factory, Lansing, Michigan, it is as outstanding in value in its field as the popular Oldsmobile Six, the fine car of low price. Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 6 to 12 points. The active months 8 to 13 points net higher during the first few minutes on covering combined with some trade and commission house buying. It was evidently inspired by relatively steady cables and reports of rains in the central and eastern belts, but the advance met considerable southern selling and liquidation. Although prices eased off a few points in consequence. The market was fairly steady at the end of the first half hour with the active months showing net advances of about 4 to 6 points.

Liverpool cables reported covering Continental and Bombay buying on the further rains in the south but said there was a smaller business in cotton cloths and yarns. Futures closed steady, 2 to 5 points higher; spot quiet, middling 18.90.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Broader export demand for wheat from North America went hand in hand today with higher prices for wheat future deliveries. Sharp upturns in foreign wheat markets, especially in Great Britain and Argentina, counted further as a bullish influence, and so likewise did recoveries shown by stock exchange values. North American wheat export business today was estimated at 800,000 bushels, including domestic hard winter wheat and drums.

Wheat closed firm, 11-4/8 to 15-8 cents a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed unchanged to 3/8 up. Oats unchanged to 1-8 advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 25 cents.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Strong buying support developed in today's stock market and prices staged a brisk recovery, active issues rising 2 to 10 points while a few high priced specialties soared 12 to nearly 40 points, trading was in heavy volume, with the ticker showing an average delay of about 18 points behind the market.

The sharp rally indicated the completion, at least temporarily, of forced liquidation, which had undermined the market earlier in the week. Weekly mercantile reviews indicated that general business had not been affected by the decline in stock values, and that operations of the basic industries were proceeding in fair value.

Heavy liquidation during the past week also is believed to have released a large volume of funds, assuring easier credit conditions, unless there was a sudden revival of speculation for the advance. Call money dropped from 10 to 6 per cent this week and loans in the "outside market" were available Friday as low as 5 1/2.

Anticipated tobacco issues were the spectacular features, the B stock starting nearly 40 points and the 26 on the announcement of an increase in cigarette prices. Liggett & Myers issues jumped about 18 points each, and Lorillard Tobacco 7. Columbian Carbon jumped 20 points. Motor products 10 and General Electric extended its gain to 9. A. M. Buyers, American Water Works, Westinghouse Electric,

American Machine, American Telephone, Air Reduction, Western Union and Simmons extended their gains to 6 points or more. Scores of others sold 2 to 5 points above yesterday's final quotations. Auburn Auto was one of the few outstanding weak spots, breaking 15 points. The closing was strong. Total sales approximated 2,200,000 shares.

NEGRO HELD FOR ATTACK ON WOMAN
Columbus, Ga., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Columbus police today were holding a man whose name was given as Will Moseley for authorities at Gastonia, N. C., where a charge of attacking a woman was said to have been preferred against him. His arrest followed communication between police chiefs of the two cities. The Gastonia police said an officer would be sent here to take the prisoner to North Carolina. It had not been learned here today if Moseley would oppose extradition.

HIGH WATER STOPS BUS SERVICE TODAY
Wilmington, N. C., Oct. 5.—(AP)—Bus line operation between Wilmington and Raleigh was suspended today because water from the Neuse river near Goldsboro has flooded the road. The Cape Fear river, which reached its crest of 65 feet at Fayetteville yesterday, is pouring into the coastal country. Swamps and lowlands are absorbing most of the water without it having done any material damage. The flood has carried all manner of vegetation and drowned livestock to the sea.

TULANE MEETS TEXAS AGGIES AT NEW ORLEANS
New Orleans, Oct. 5.—(AP)—Resuming their intermittent hostilities, Tulane University's Green Wave and the Texas Aggies today were waiting the opening whistle sending them into conflict at Tulane Stadium.
Coach Matty Bell of Texas A. & M. brought 31 huskies over from Clellie Station last night, with a cheering contingent of eighty students and followers. The game today is the Green Wave's first real test of the season and a tough struggle is looked for with little hope to help pick the winner.
