CHAIN STORES OPEN FIGHT ON 1929 TAX LAW

Test Case of A. & P. vs. Commissioner of Revenue Begins at Capital City

Rich. Oct. 21.—(AP)—Chain store operators in North Carolina today launched their fight on the 1929 chain store tax law passed by the last General Assembly when Judge R. A. Nunn, in Wake county Superior court, started hearing the suit.

The case is docketed as "Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, et al., vs. A. J. Maxwell, commissioner of Revenue," but more than 20 chain store organizations are in the full list of plaintiffs.

Plaintiff lawyers from various parts of the State representing the chain store operators number more than a dozen and D. G. Brummitt, attorney general, Frank Nash, assistant attorney general, and Walter Siler, will represent the State.

The real question in the suit, plaintiffs attorneys said today, is not the $65,000 involved but the principle of whether chain stores are subject to a greater tax than a single unit store.

The chain stores claim in their fight on the 1929 law that it is unconstitutional, just as the Act of 1927 was found to be when it was tested and carried to the Supreme court and ruled invalid.

The 1927 law drew a line between chain store organizations with five or less stores and those with six or more. A tax of $50 on each store was imposed on the latter making the chain tax for six stores $300 and the chain tax for one to five stores $150.

The 1929 law which the chain stores now seek to have declared invalid draw the line between firms that have only one store and those with two or more. The Act classifies all organizations with more than one store as a chain store organization and provides for a tax of $50 for each store in addition to the first store.

Murder Case Nears End at Bryson City

Bryson City, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A Swain county jury was expected to get the case of Phil Davis, 18-year-old boy charged with the second degree murder of his father, Charlie Davis, this afternoon.

Evidence in the case was placed yesterday, and today when court convened attorneys began their arguments. Schneck was scheduled to be charged the jury.

The case, one of the most sensational in Swain county history is drawing record crowds daily.

The girl herself took the stand today to tell of shooting her father and then, with the aid of two sisters, placing the body weighted with stones in the power dam lake at Bryson's ferry. She pleaded self-defense, asserting that her father had threatened to kill her and all other members of the family. He was drunk, she testified, and struck her with a knife just before she shot him.

Miss Davis, widow of the slain boy, who has 13 children besides her, took the stand for the defense and corroborated the story told by the girl. Two sisters, Dixie and Hattie, also corroborated the account of the killing given by Effie Davis.

Davis was slain on May 31 last. The body was found floating in the lake 12 days later.

France Seeks Man to Replace Briand

Paris, Oct. 21.—(AP)—France today sought a cabinet maker to replace Aristide Briand as head of the French government.

The political situation precipitated Monday evening by the resignation of M. Briand and his associates after defeat in the Chamber of Deputies on a matter of procedure remained today more obscure than ever. There was little indication as to who would be chosen premier or what would be his political complexion.

Political observers predicted the crisis probably would last for as long as a week or ten days, or at least until the radical congress at Lyons is concluded. Conferences of the President Doumergue with party leaders were understood to have been without success.

Seek Man in Death of Wife and Four Children in Ohio

Hamilton, Ohio, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Charles King, Sr., a 36-year-old barber, was hunted today to explain the death of his wife, Sarah Ethel, 31, and four of their children and the probable fatal illness of another child.

Neighbors, breaking open the door of the unpretentious King home, yesterday found Robert, 14, Leon, 12, and Keith, 5, dead from inhaling gas. Of the other members of the family stricken, Paul, 10, died in a hospital last night. Mrs. King died today, and it was feared that Charles, Jr., would not live.

King disappeared, leaving an enigmatic note which said that three Coldwater, Ohio, men "caused me to do this." There was no other explanation, and the only inkling of a motive was the information that the barber owed money to one of the trio. A note was due Monday and Tuesday, according to Coldwater investigators. King and his family moved here six months ago from that village.

The case is docketed as "Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company, et al., vs. A. J. Maxwell, commissioner of Revenue," but more than 20 chain store organizations are in the full list of plaintiffs.

KIDNAPPED BOY SENT TO HIS PARENTS

Jackie Thompson Sent Home After His Father Pays Captors $25,000

Cincinnati, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Jackie Thompson, 5, who was kidnapped from in front of his home September 29, was returned unharmed to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Thompson, last night. Police said the ransom was $25,000 for his son's release.

Two men and two women were being held in connection with the kidnapping. They are James Fernando, 29, his wife, Anna, 23, Emil Reuse, 21, and Mary Dugan, 19. The two men are charged with kidnapping and the women are held for investigation.

Inspector Robert A. McPherson, a member of the squad which returned Jackie to his home, said Thompson paid $17,000 in $20, $50 and $100 bills to the kidnapers and they gave them four $2,000 notes for the balance.

Jackie was found at the Fernand's home, according to police, who said he returned home with $5,000 of the marked money.

Police said Thompson has been in communication with the kidnapers for the last three weeks, ever since his son was kidnapped. The police said they took no steps until last night for fear some harm might befall the boy.

Thompson received seven notes while in communication with his son's captors, Inspector McPherson said. The first demand was for $35,000, backed up by the threat that the boy's head would be cut off if the amount asked was not paid.

The ransom finally was reduced to $25,000 which was handed over by Thompson last night.

The ransom was paid the kidnapers between 6 and 6:30 yesterday. Thompson had driven to the intersection of Grand Boulevard and Woodward avenue. Two men approached from opposite directions, received the money and left. Jackie Thompson to return later in the evening and get the boy. Twenty minutes later the police raided the Fernando home. Jackie was found playing alone in the kitchen.

Thwart Plot Which Would Have Wrecked President's Train Near New Albany

New Albany, Ind., Oct. 21.—(AP)—An alleged plot which would have wrecked President Hoover's special train in a wreck with a heavy sedan five miles north of here was thwarted by three men who removed the obstruction from the Baltimore and Ohio tracks a few minutes before the train arrived.

The train was halted for eighteen minutes while secret service men and railroad detectives started an investigation which resulted several hours later in the arrest of two persons who, according to several officers, had placed the automobile in the tracks in a plot to collect damages for its destruction. The sedan was placed on the tracks on a steep grade, and was discovered by Enoch Keller, a negro, who had come to the crossing in the hope of seeing the president as his train passed.

Keller called Edward Hopson, a farmer, and the two, with the assistance of a motorist, George Weir, of Jeffersonville, Ind., removed the machine while the headlights of the train, approaching at 60 miles an hour, played on them.

Through the tracks the automobile was traced to Charles W. Burdick, 19, and Young E. Wright, 43, negroes. Officers said they admitted that Burdick had placed the car on the tracks and that Wright, who bought it recently for $500 had paid him $25 for doing so.

CROWN PRINCE OF ITALY SHOT AT IN BRUSSELS

Attempt Made to Assassinate Humbert as He Places Wreath On Soldiers' Grave

Brussels, Oct. 21.—(AP)—A shot was fired at Crown Prince Humbert of Italy at 9:45 a. m. today as he was about to lay a wreath upon the tomb of Belgium's unknown soldier. The prince arrived here yesterday to celebrate his betrothal to Princess Marie José of Belgium.

The prince's assailant told the police he is an Italian, Enrico Dirusa, born in Milan in 1904. He said he had intended to fire into the air as a mark of protest. He arrived from France last night and was in possession of identification papers from that country.

The driver of the motorcycle which had preceded the prince's automobile to the tomb, threw himself at his assailant and knocked his hand down, causing the shot to strike the ground. The prince was not injured.

Police and gendarmes arrested the man immediately. As soon as the crowd realized what had happened, they attempted to lynch him. The officers were hard put to keep him from the mob.

The crown prince and the nobles who had just welcomed him to the tomb pretended not to notice the disturbance and continued with their ceremony.

King Albert, upon being told at the palace what had happened, immediately proceeded personally to the Italian embassy and expressed his regrets.

Make Effort to Close Testimony in Pantages Case
To Arrive, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Efforts to bring to a close the taking of testimony in the case of Alexander Pantages, theatre magnate, charged with attacking Eunice Prince, 17-year-old dancer, were made here today as the jury began to show signs of trial.

Attorneys for both the prosecution and the defense indicated this morning that only after hours would be needed to complete the rebuttal testimony, which was begun yesterday by the reappearance upon the stand of the young dancer.

Adding to the maze of contradiction already produced, Miss Prince yesterday, directly contradicted Pantages' testimony from the stand that she had received from him alone and then had started to wear his clothes from him as soon as they were closed behind the doors of a private office in the Pantages Theatre building.

During the session yesterday, which brought both principals of the case to the witness stand, the strain upon the jury of the long trial took its toll. A jail physician pronounced Harvey N. Gonnert, juror No. 7, unfit to continue in the box and his place was taken by Mrs. William Ingles, an alternate. The jury, which probably will take the case tomorrow now is composed of five men and seven women.

Pantages remained on the stand for a few minutes yesterday and then the defense rested. Miss Prince followed and denied his story of the attack. She also denied the truth of evidence given by defense witnesses.

Blast and Fire Wreck Hollywood Film Studio; Several Millions Loss

Hollywood, Calif., Oct. 21.—(AP)—One man was killed and a motion picture film, the value of which probably will run into millions of dollars, were lost in an explosion and fire which destroyed the Hollywood studio of the Consolidated Film Industries here early today.

Fifty persons working in the building at the time of the blast, ran to safety after the first explosion. Five minutes later there was a second detonation which shot flames through windows and doors, the laboratory workers escaping by the narrowest of margins.

In the confusion that arose while firemen battled the flames, several persons were reported missing, but a check of those known to have been in the building accounted for all but one. Firemen later removed Albert Lund from the wreckage. He died on the way to the hospital.

Due to the fact that the master films of several new motion picture productions were in the building, it was impossible to get an accurate estimate of the damage pending a survey by producers. Early estimates of the loss ran as high as $500,000, but fire department and film company officials said initial estimates probably would be greatly reduced, due to the fact that some of the celluloids apparently had not been damaged. $400,000.

Two women workers, who ran as the first flash of flame spread through the building, said they saw the first explosion occur in a pile of electrical gear in one of the polishing machines in an assembly room. Lund was believed to have been knocked unconscious by the blast, and to have lain helpless as the fire swept over him.

The interior of the building was wrecked, partitions were blown down and some sections of the outer portion of the structure fell away, but the four main walls remained standing. Fire fighters succeeded in keeping the flames away from the Famous-Players-Lasky Studio on the east side and the studio of Radio-Keith-Orpheum Productions on the west.

Speaking to an audience in the Kentucky city's new memorial auditorium and thousands of radio devotees, Mr. Hoover said this program, embracing the entire Mississippi and its tributaries, would cost only about $21,000,000 additional annually or the equivalent of 10¢ per bushelship.

President Hoover Speeding Toward Washington City

By JAMES L. WEST

President Hoover was speeding back to Washington today aboard this luxury special after three days of exposure and hardship such as few chief executives of recent times have experienced.

But he was in good physical shape and happy that he had participated in two memorable celebrations and had been afforded the opportunity to put forward at Louisville last week an ambitious program of his administration for the completion of a vast system of inland waterways, extension of the intra-coastal canals, improvement of the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence and the deepening of harbors to commerce.

Probe Death of Charlotte Man at Atlanta, Georgia

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 24.—(AP)—The death of Raymond McOwen, 21, of Charlotte, a freshman at Oglethorpe university, supposedly in a fall from the rear of a street car today was under investigation of authorities and officials of the company operating the street railway.

The student was found on the tracks near the university last night, his body mangled and both legs severed just above the ankles. G. G. Singleton, motorman of the one-man car, reported that McOwen had been hanging to the rear of the car and he believed McOwen had lost his footing and fallen.

Officials of the railway said the car apparently has passed over the student on its return trip.

The accident occurred about 400 yards from the end of the car line, and McOwen's companions started a search immediately after they missed him. Finding his mutilated body, they summoned an ambulance which reached the hospital.

McOwen's parents are dead, it is understood. The body was being held here pending instructions from relatives in Charlotte.

MOB MEMBERS RELEASED BY CASTON COURT

All Men Connected With Disorders At Bessemer Set Free At Gastonia

Gastonia, Oct. 21.—(AP)—All men accused in connection with the killing of Mrs. Ella May Higgins, and the kidnaping of three National Textile Workers Union organizers as a result of mob violence here during September, today were freed by the Gaston county grand jury. The jury refused to vote "true bills" in connection with sixteen bills of indictment presented to them yesterday by Solicitor John G. Carpenter.

Mrs. Higgins was slain Sept. 17 when a mob turned back a truck load of Bessemer City cotton mill strikers enroute to a meeting in Gastonia and pursued them. She was struck by one bullet from a fusillade fired at the strikers after the truck in which they were riding collided with a passenger car.

The coroner's jury had held nine men to the grand jury as a result of testimony given at the inquest, although the jurors were unable to see who had fired the fatal shot.

The fugitive cases in which seven men were held resulted from the kidnaping of Ben Wells, C. D. Sayers and C. M. Lell from a boarding house here Sept. 9. They were taken to Cabarrus county and Wells was strangled. Four of the seven men were tried in Cabarrus county last week on charges of assault but were acquitted.

BETROTHAL OF ITALIAN PRINCE MADE PUBLIC

Prince Humbert To Wed Princess Marie Jose of Belgium Within 40 Days

Brussels, Oct. 21.—(AP)—Italy's heir, Humbert, Prince of Piedmont, and Princess Marie Jose, the daughter of Albert, King of the Belgians, were betrothed formally today with publication of their engagement in the official Gazette, Le Moniteur.

Their marriage, in accordance with the Custom of the House of Savoie, is expected to take place within 40 days in Rome, with the Vatican participating. Cardinal Gaetano, Archbishop of Turin, probably will officiate.

Humbert's request of King Albert for his daughter's hand was granted yesterday, but in accordance with wishes of King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Elena, who wished to celebrate the anniversary of their own wedding in 1856, the betrothal will date from today.

Rome dispatches said first publication of the betrothal there was made shortly after midnight. Although the European press had been filled with stories of the impending nuptials, the Italian papers today published their first word regarding the engagement. Italian custom forbids any notice of royal matrimonial affairs prior to the official announcement.

The betrothal ceremony between the 25 year old prince and the 23 year old princess was held last evening at a dinner in the Castle of Stoken. The Italian ambassador, intimate friends of the affianced, and members of the Belgian royal family were present.

As a reception at the palace the engaged couple today received congratulations of diplomats, members of the government, and others. The populace demonstrated their welcome at a reception at city hall. King Albert and Queen Elizabeth accompanied by the betrothed, will drive in open automobiles through the main streets.

Prince Humbert and his suite will leave Brussels Friday evening for Rome. While there he resides at the Italian embassy.

This sum was used to purchase the Columbia (S. C.) Record, the Augusta, (Ga.) Chronicle, the Spartanburg, (S. C.) Herald and the Spartanburg Journal.

THE LUXURY HUSBAND

SYNOPSIS: Ralph Henderson's arrival in American services to widen the gap between Barbara and Ray. She is continually in company of the Englishman, while Ray, embittered by his futile efforts at the office of Barbara's uncle, becomes moody and refuses to accompany them on any of their numerous parties. He finally relents one night, however, and is hopelessly bored by the affair. He finally relents one night, however, and is hopelessly bored by the affair. He acdentally overhears a conversation, in which a girl, chiding Henderson for his attachment to Barbara, declares she cannot understand why Ray allows it. Henderson calmly explains that Ray has no other choice for "Why pays the piper may call the tune."

Chapter 22
A "LUXURY" REVOLTS
Henderson's words rang in Ray's ears for hours afterwards.
"Who pays the piper is at liberty to call the tune."

Nothing original—a trite phrase and yet it seemed to sum up the whole situation.
At first he had felt impelled to get up and hit Henderson. He determined to wait until he saw the man alone, but it was being forced home to him that there was a certain grim justice in what the Englishman had said.
Barbara did pay the piper and if the tune she wanted to call was a flirtation with Henderson what right had he, Ray, to interfere with her?
How he wished that he had stuck to his original intention and refused to touch a penny of her money! His love for her had made him weak and his weakness now tied his hands, making him powerless to protest. Since the day of their honeymoon he had allowed himself to drift into the habit of accepting money from his wife. Now he saw only too clearly just where that had led him.

A grim smile hovered about his mouth. To what had that woman on the ship likened him to a luxury? Barbara was able to afford. At the time he had thought it a joke. Since then it had become the ironic truth.
He loved Barbara as intensely as ever, yet that night he felt that the situation had become intolerable and that to stay with her longer would mean the sacrifice of every vestige of his self-respect.
Pacing up and down the little room, which from outside came a strident laughter, he determined that something should be done. He chewed it over all night and into the following morning. At noon, in a down-town cafeteria, he chanced upon Bill Foster, returned the day previously from his London orchestral successes.
Towards the end of the week Henderson departed to visit friends in Boston.
He had been with the Lowthers six weeks and during that time he had seen sufficient to realize that relations between Barbara and Ray were far from satisfactory. Therefore he deemed it advisable to leave them alone for a while, in the hope that a climax might be reached while he was away.
And in this Ray played deliberately into his hands.
The second evening after Henderson had gone Barbara and Ray found themselves, as though by some miracle, alone. Dinner over, Barbara drew up a chair before the fire and motioned Ray to do the same.
"Miserable night," she murmured as she rubbed her hands over the hot blaze of logs. "But it's nice to have an evening alone together—once in a while, isn't it?"
"Yes, once in a while." Although she noticed a shade of sarcasm in his tones, she laughed and let it pass. She remembered he had been unusually silent during dinner, she wondered if he might be conscious of the flirtation she had carried on with Henderson. She smiled at him affectionately. Henry was all very well in his way, good fun for a limited period, of course, he was not a patch on her Ray.
Looking up at him where he stood nervously fingering a brass ornament on the mantelshelf, her eyes softened with a mixture of admiration and love. Few thought him exactly good looking but Barbara was one of those few. His darkness, his leanness appealed to her.
Married eight months, and his love-making still thrilled her as it had on the first night of their honeymoon. In this age of rapid changes, eight months seemed to Barbara a pretty good test. She patted the arm of her chair and smiled invitingly.
"Come on, Ray, be chummy." When he did not avail himself of her invitation, but continued to stand frowning she began to feel that Ray and she had not been hitting it off so well lately. She wondered, guiltily, if this might not be in some measure, her fault.
When minutes passed and he remained motionless, she uncoupled herself from the chair and crossing to him she clasped her hands at the back of his head.
"Ray, you old goose, don't stand there looking as though you had the toothache. Snap out of it. There's nothing wrong with business at the office?"
"No, and if there were I'd be the last person to hear of it."
She insisted, looked down at her for a long minute and then away from her quickly.
"Barbara—his voice was slightly hoarse, as though his throat had gone suddenly dry. "Barbara, you're not to know some time to it may as well be now."
"I'm going to leave you, dear." She stared at him amazed— incredulous.
"Whatever are you talking about?" He repeated it, only this time there was a definite rasp in his voice.
"I said I was going to leave you, Barbara."
Her eyes, large amber eyes, lit

by a lightning flash of fear, were searching his face. Suddenly she gripped his shoulders, and shook him violently.
"What are you saying, Ray? Are you crazy?"
He took her hands from his shoulders and held them in his own, stroking them gently.
"I wish I didn't have to hurt you, honey. It's true I've decided to leave you, although, maybe, only for a while. I told your Uncle Henry today that I wasn't coming back to the office," he laughed shortly. "I can't say that he seemed distraught over the news."
Barbara was still staring at him and now the fear was very real in her eyes. Something in the calm, unemotional way he was talking told her that he had thought it out carefully—that it was not a sudden outburst brought on by jealousy or some similar emotion.
Still she fought against accepting it.
"You mean you're going away for a little while—on a trip?"
She forced a smile.
He nodded.
"Yes. A sort of trip. A journey to the lands of 'Fortune' and 'Recognition'."

"Ray, I don't understand... I'm going to make my own way independent of you in the future."
Does the romance of Ray and Barbara end here? Continue the story with tomorrow's installment.

The stove that gives you little daily holidays

This swift-cooking new Puritan shortens your kitchen hours

YOU CAN HAVE a few minutes longer to sleep in the morning... a few more minutes in the flower garden before you cook lunch... a few more minutes down town before time to start dinner... little holidays every day, with this new, swift-cooking oil stove in your kitchen.

It has three regular-sized Puritan burners and one Giant which gives 55% more cooking heat. All burners have clean, close-up flames controlled by automatic wick steps.

Beautiful Enamel Finish
One of the most beautiful features of this stove is its finish: shining porcelain enamel and Perfectolac... snow-white, silver gray, dove gray. This finish cannot rust or wear out. A damp cloth keeps it clean.

There are many modern features which will help to make your work easier: a warming shelf, another shelf for kitchen vessels... extra large grates... closed-in back.

The enamel tray below the burners is easily removed for cleaning. The reversible reservoir is easily filled. It is of glass, so that the fuel supply is always visible. And there is a large lower reservoir, so that cooking goes on while you fill the top one.

Other New Models
Your dealer will be glad to show you this stove and other new Puritan models, and will doubtless offer you convenient buying terms. Prices range from $18 to $145.

Puritan stoves are made and guaranteed by the Perfection Stove Company, the world's oldest and largest manufacturers of oil-burning devices.

ABOUT TOWN

"Old Tar River is on a rampage again," but the rise this time will be four feet under the record set several years ago," observed a well-known Greenville man today, commenting on the report of the local weather observer made public in the columns of this paper yesterday.

The rise this time is the result of the torrential rainfall reported in this part of the state last Monday. The river is scheduled to reach its crest by Sunday, and if predictions come true, it will be four feet under the highest water mark.

"Please do not miss the mail again," requested a citizen from Ayrden, who was in the Reflector office yesterday afternoon telling of the keen disappointment occasioned by missing the paper one night. "It is not often the Reflector fails to reach us, but when it does you can bet your last cent we miss it. We like the paper and are so accustomed to getting it at night that we do not like the idea of going to bed without first pursuing its columns."

"Another aviator has been claimed by the stormy Atlantic," mentioned a reader of the Reflector, commenting on the failure of the Montana flier to reach London as he expected.

"Each year the ocean claims additional members of the aviation world, and it will continue to claim them as long as flying continues. This lone flier set out from New Foundland confident of reaching the other side of the broad expanse of water. But his plane was too small, entirely unsuited to the terrible ordeal before it, and consequently was lost, buried beneath the salty waters of the Atlantic.

"How many more lives will be claimed by aviation cannot be estimated. Men will continue gambling their lives against the elements as long as planes continue soaring through the skies, and in a few years a man's disappearance on ocean flights will be as ordinary as an automobile wreck now is. It seems a pity that human life must be staked for the advancement of science, but it has always been the case and it will continue so as long as civilization stands. We simply cannot stand still—it is an age of progress and life must pay the price."

A. & P. Celebrates 70th Anniversary

This week marks the seventieth anniversary of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company. Seventy years ago this system of stores, the oldest and largest of all chain systems, had its inception in New York city in a single small shop that specialized in teas and coffee—today more than 15,000 A&P stores serve cities, towns and villages in 34 states as well as in Canada.

In celebration of this anniversary, Greenville A&P stores are holding this week their 70th anniversary sale.

Mr. R. C. Hugh's, the superintendent in charge of the local A&P food stores, tells a fascinating story about his company. "Most people think of A&P as just a vast number of stores all over the country," he said, "without further thought of the complex and intricate organization necessary to run those stores, and buy foods for them, to bake bread, to ship and truck all those foods to thousands of stores, and to do all this on so large a scale that A&P stores can serve 5,000,000 customers each day.

"Every child knows what 'mass production' is, knows that a great factory can produce automobiles or tires or steel in huge quantities at a far lower cost than a small shop. But few realize that 'mass distribution' which is exactly the same mass principle applied to the costly work of bringing merchandise to every community so that people can see it and buy it, results in even greater saving to the public."

MISSED.

(Dedicated to L. W. U., who departed this life July 23rd, 1929.) By Mrs. W. C. Harris

I miss you much, my dear. And more, it seems, each day. But once, I felt you near. And then I knew no fear. You did not need to say "I want you to be gay." And not shed a tear— No word did you say!

Yet I know why you came— You love me just the same. (You have not forgotten.) You are gone for just a while, And tho' for many a mile, You'll come to me again some day—

When it's my time to go away. You will not leave me all alone. You'll be my guide to show the way That leads to Home.

Miss Vivian Case, teacher, and members of the Dramatic Club presented an act from "The Beau of Bath."

After the business meeting, a social hour was enjoyed. A number of games were played and prizes, Halloween novelties, were awarded Miss Elizabeth Toland and Miss Mary Ellen Powell.

A tempting ice course carrying out the Halloween idea, was served by the hostess, who was assisted by her daughter, Miss Annie Lee Hooker.

BISHOP DARST PREACHERS IN EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Farmville, Oct. 23.—Rev. Thomas C. Darst, Bishop of the Diocese of East Carolina, preached in the local Episcopal church Sunday evening. A meeting with members of the vestry was held after the service to discuss the calling of a minister to this field which has been vacant for several months.

MRS. WHITE HOSTESS TO ROUND TABLE CLUB

Mrs. Milton White entertained the Round Table Club Tuesday afternoon. Fifteen members were present. The guests were Mesdames Marvin Blount, Gregson, Palmer and Hillman, and the Misses Fullilove. The living room was a profusion of gorgeous dahlias in many shades, pink predominating. Decorations of black cats, goblets, etc., with their coloring proved that Halloween is near.

The president, Mrs. Winslow, sounded a drum in miniature attire in Halloween tints with handle and the merry voices ceased to hear the voice of the presiding officer who reminded all of the opening hour.

After the regular business the club was assured that a report from the Round Table was furnished for the district meeting at Aurora. A letter of appreciation from the King's Daughters was read expressing gratitude for the co-operation of our club.

An every day word, commonly mispronounced, was given by the referee with its correct pronunciation.

Mrs. J. H. Rose, of the program committee, then announced the subject of the day, "George Bernard Shaw," "Candida" and "Arms of the Man," by Mrs. J. E. Winslow. After giving a glimpse into the life of Shaw, Mrs. Winslow entertained royally with synopses of both subjects.

Current events were called for. Mrs. White asked that she be allowed to give the first one, as it was of a musical nature. The author, a sailor, had been inspired to write this after having walked down the causeway on the Ferquimars river in Hertford, where for a stretch of twelve miles, there are trees of beauty. Above these at night a lovely moon is seen, hence the song, "Carolina Moon." The Misses Fullilove rendered this with instrument and song. It afforded such pleasure that it was encored and also gave other selections. The remaining current events were entertaining. When Edison's Golden Jubilee was given it called forth many responses.

The refreshments were characteristic of Mrs. White. They also took on the Halloween, for after a most delicious salad course with hot tea and black cat baskets as souvenirs, little brown cakes, kisses of popcorn, all prepared by the hostess, were handed. In this she was assisted by Mesdames Gregson, Blount and Palmer.

Each one expressed a desire to return at an early date to be entertained by an ideal hostess who was so thoughtful that the husbands of those present were even permitted to partake of refreshments folded in Halloween napkins. —Reported.

Honors Member with Shower.

Farmville, Oct. 23.—Honoring Mrs. A. S. Bynum, who is leaving shortly to live in Charlotte, the Progressive Bridge Club entertained at a very enjoyable handkerchief shower with Miss Add Bynum as charming hostess. The Bynum home was most inviting with its decorations of fall flowers.

Following six spirited progressions of bridge a congealed chicken salad course was served by the hostess, who afterwards presented a large package to Mrs. Bynum, containing handkerchiefs of the finest linen and sheerest silk, gifts from the club members. Mrs. W. C. Askew made a short talk in behalf of the club, expressing regret at the loss of Mrs. Bynum.

STUDIES BRIEUX AS THESIS DRAMATIST

Farmville, Oct. 23.—An outline of the various social problems, subjects of Brieux's plays, was given by Mrs. P. E. Jones, who also discussed his method of driving home his lessons, and the evil of the struggle for advancement among lawyers, and the pettiness of the machinery of justice assailed by this dramatist in "The Red Robe," were shown by Mrs. G. A. Jones in the study of "Modern Drama" at the last meeting of the Farmville Literary Club.

The resignation of Mrs. A. S. Bynum, who leaves soon to make her home in Charlotte, was read, and a tribute of praise for her zeal and loyalty was paid Mrs. Bynum by the president, Mrs. J. W. Parker, in expressing regret at losing such a valuable member.

Mrs. J. Y. Monk was hostess at this time at her home on Contentnea street, and served a pineapple salad course at the close of the program. Mrs. R. S. Tandy was a special guest.

Leave Party.

Farmville, Oct. 23.—A devotional meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal church was held at the home of Mrs. Heber Cobb on Monday afternoon. After a program on "The Individual Member and Her Responsibility," Mrs. E. C. Beaman invited the group to her home across the street where a Leave Party was held by the Auxiliary in honor of Mrs. A. S. Bynum, who leaves November 1st to make her home at the Thompson Orphanage, Charlotte, where her husband goes to assume his duties as assistant superintendent.

The home was beautifully decorated with autumn leaves and a booklet of hand-painted leaves, on which were written the wishes of her friends, was presented to Mrs. Bynum. Prizes of useful articles for the kitchen, won by Mesdames W. R. Hooper, Chester Beaman and W. C. Askew, in a human trunk contest and a tea towel hemming race, together with the towels were given to the honor guest, who had her palm read and her fortune told by a real (?) Gypsy. Music and refreshments were among the other pleasures enjoyed.

Bringing the party to a close was the presentation by the Auxiliary president, Mrs. G. A. Jones, of a tilt top table as a parting gift to Mrs. Bynum from this group, in a speech of frank regret at losing such a beloved and faithful member.

RED OAK NEWS

Our school began Monday morning at Red Oak Level with an enrollment of 39 children. This is about twenty more than were enrolled last year at the end of school. We gave the school-house a good scrubbing and cleaning, and we have everything about ready to begin work in earnest. The children have their books and we are expecting to do a good year's work in spite of the fact that we only have one teacher with six grades to teach. There are six boys and girls who are in the seventh grade and who would like to finish this grade this year so that they may go to high school next year. We are having a diphtheria clinic at the school every Monday morning at 9:30 for the next three or four weeks, and we especially urge all mothers who have children between the ages of 6 months and 6 years, to have them vaccinated.

We are planning for an enjoyable day at Red Oak church next fourth Sunday, October 27. The first thing will be Sunday school at ten o'clock, after which there will be a program rendered by the primary class. After Sunday school there will be church services with Mr. Toppins preaching, after which dinner will be spread on the grounds. After dinner we will have a community sing and we are planning to have special songs and quartets besides congregational singing. That night we will have a sermon by Rev. Scarborough of A. C. C. of Wilson. The members of the church, the community and friends and everyone are invited to come and bring a

Madison, Ind.—"When I was a young girl, I was run-down and in bad health," writes Mrs. W. H. Guinn, of 817 West Third Street, this city. "I was delicate, thin and pale. I was nervous, at times. My mother knew of Cardui and thought it would be a good tonic for me to take. I took three bottles and my health improved a great deal."

"The nervous spells stopped and I gained in strength and weight. My mother was pleased with my improvement. I kept on taking Cardui for awhile. I have been in good health ever since."

Cardui has been in use so long that its real worth is known by several generations of women. Many women report that they began taking Cardui on their mothers' advice.

The medicinal value of the herbs from which Cardui is extracted has been well-known in the history of medicine for over 600 years. Try Cardui in your case.

Friends of Mrs. Bet Crawford will be sorry to know that she is very sick at the home of her son, Mr. John Crawford.

The Workers' Council of Red Oak church will meet at the church next Friday night, Oct. 25, at 7:30. You are expected to make a report of your work for the past three weeks.

Messrs. John Timberlake, Pereane Tyson, Hubert, Thurman, Bernice, Travis, John, and Clifton Crawford, Will Vandiford, Amos Evans and J. J. Jenkins; Mesdames Louise Tyson, Bernice Allen and Misses Charlotte Tyson and Odell Sermons attended the state fair last week.

Mr. Hicks Pollard who has been confined to his home the past week on account of illness, has improved to the extent that he will be able to return to his school this week.

Miss Em Joyner of Greenville, is spending the week-end with her niece, Mrs. J. H. Tucker.

A mad-dog went through the May neighborhood one day last week, biting every dog he came across. He was finally killed on Mr. Jeph Tripp's farm.

New Talking Picture Equipment Being Put in White's Theatre

Engineers arrived this week and began the installation of new talking picture equipment in White's Theatre which when completed assures the theater going public of this section the latest and best in talking picture reproduction on the screen. The new equipment is the De Forest Photofilm and Phonodisc and whenever it has been placed in theatres it has been acclaimed the best sound outfit in town. It is the latest device perfected by Dr. Lee DeForest, the father of talking pictures.

Mr. R. E. Cobbett, Jr., manager of White's theatre stated this morning that the equipment would be ready for use here beginning next Monday and a special bill of feature pictures for the opening week had been bought. During the remainder of this week while the new equipment is being installed only silent pictures will be shown at the theatre. We have had talking pictures at our theatre for some time.

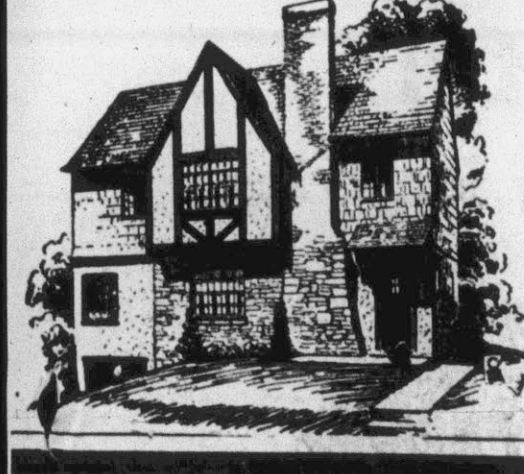

Mr. Corbett said, but now that this new equipment is available we have determined that the best is what our patrons must have, therefore we have made another investment in talking picture equipment in order to carry out our determination.

Goitre Not a Disease

Milwaukee Doctor Makes Remarkable Discovery

Milwaukee, Wis.—It has been brought to light by scientific research that goitre is not a disease and is not to be treated as such, Dr. A. A. Rock, Dept. B-26, Box 737, Milwaukee, Wis., a prominent goitre specialist for over 24 years, has perfected a different method of treatment for his patients that has proved remarkably successful. This same method is now being used for a home treatment of goitre cases all over the country with astonishing results. The Doctor states that goitre is a condition which grows worse with neglect and redounds immediate attention no matter how small the growth may appear. He strongly opposes needless operations. Dr. Rock is the author of a book that tells in a simple way about treating goitre at home. He has published this book at his own expense and will send a copy free to anyone interested. CAMPAIGN ENDS 9 P. M. SATURDAY NIGHT

DETAILS OF FINAL COUNT

In order to maintain the utmost secrecy as to the number of subscriptions turned in by each candidate this, the last week of the Reflector's Big Automobile Campaign, the race will be brought to a close under a Sealed Ballot Box.

No subscription whatever will be accepted through the campaign department this week, but instead, candidates themselves will deposit their final collections in the SEALED BALLOT BOX which will be placed in the business office of the Reflector Saturday. And by so doing, no one, not even the campaign manager, or the publishers, can possibly know the voting strength of the respective candidates, which precludes any possibility of favoritism and insures fairness to the minutest degree.

Locked and sealed,—the Ballot Box will be placed in the business office of the Reflector Saturday, where it will remain until the closing hour of the campaign, 9 o'clock Saturday night, October 26th. When the final hour arrives the campaign will be declared closed. Then the judges will break the seals, unlock the box and immediately thereafter, or as soon as votes can be issued on subscriptions contained therein, the last count will begin.

All business turned in by the candidates for the first three periods of the campaign will be checked and rechecked by the campaign manager and the candidates themselves, each candidate must attest to the correctness by signing a judges' statement. The winners will be determined merely by adding the votes that are found in the ballot box to this signed statement.

There will be no waiting; no complicated count, but simply a matter of adding the vote totals and announcing the winners.

It is calculated that it will take some time, however, to canvass the findings in the box and to determine the winners. The official results will be published Monday afternoon, in the Reflector.

Out-of-Town Candidates Attention:

Heretofore out-of-town candidates have had the privilege of mailing their letters containing subscriptions from their home town as late as the closing hour of various "periods." This will not be permitted the last night of the campaign. ALL VOTES AND SUBSCRIPTIONS MUST BE IN THE SEALED BOX WHEN THE RACE IS CLOSED AT 9 O'CLOCK SHARP!

Out-of-town candidates should, where it is possible to do so, arrange to deposit envelopes in person at the business office, but where this can not be done, letters containing final remittance should be addressed to CAMPAIGN DEPARTMENT, THE REFLECTOR, GREENVILLE, N. C., and plainly marked FOR THE SEALED BALLOT BOX—NOT TO BE OPENED. Particular care should be taken to post such letters in good time to reach this office before the final hour, and it is advisable that they should be under a special delivery stamp.

CAREFULLY

IMPORTANT NOTICE

All subscriptions deposited in the Sealed Box must be accompanied by cash, money order or certified check for the full amount to cover. This is made in all fairness to all candidates and will be strictly adhered to.

LAST PERIOD

Embracing the last week, terminating October 26, the following number of votes will be issued on subscriptions:

Six Months	1,000
1 Year	4,000
2 Years	17,000
3 Years	40,000
4 Years	95,000
5 Years	190,000

A special ballot good for 100,000 votes will be issued on every "club" of $25 turned in. This is in addition to regular number of votes allowed on every subscription secured up until 9 o'clock Saturday night, October 26, the last hour of the campaign. 12 points are allowed for each $25.00 turned in this week.

CANCER CLINIC TO BE HELD IN CITY OCT. 30TH

Examinations to Be Given Free of Charge at the Pitt Community Hospital

A free cancer clinic will be conducted at Pitt Community hospital in this city Wednesday, October 30, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., according to announcement made today by Dr. Clem Ham, director of public health work in Pitt county.

The clinic will be held under the auspices of the Pitt County Health Department in co-operation with the State Department of Health and the American Society for Control of Cancer.

The clinic will be in charge of Dr. H. H. Bass, of Durham, state chairman of the American Society for Control of Cancer, and he will be assisted by workers of the Board of Health and local physicians. Examinations will be free of charge and will be accompanied by such advice as deemed necessary in each individual case.

The Board of Health began a publicity campaign today to inform the public of the clinic, and to interest those suffering from cancer to take advantage of the free examination.

Dr. Ham today mailed out the following letter regarding the clinic: "The North Carolina State Board of Health in co-operation with the American Society for Control of Cancer is endeavoring to hold free cancer clinics in every county seat in North Carolina.

"Cancer may be classified as external or internal. External cancer often begins as a wart, mole, lump or scab on the skin which can be seen or felt. Lumps in the breast are especially suspicious of cancer. It may develop from an unhealed wound or sore and often from an old scar. Internal cancer, or cancer on the inside of the body may be known by signs before any lump is seen or felt. Increased or irregular discharge or a return of flow after the change of life in women and blood in the urine of men are suspicious symptoms of internal cancer. Cancer of the bowels and stomach is often more difficult to discover.

"In connection with Cancer Clinics the Pitt County Health Department has arranged a free clinic for the residents of Pitt county on Wednesday, October 30th, from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m., at the Pitt Community hospital in Greenville. If you or any member of your family are suffering from any of the above named symptoms you are requested to report at the hospital on the above date for a free examination to determine whether or not the condition is cancerous. The local physicians will assist us in making examinations and will give such advice as deemed necessary in each individual case. This examination and advice is free to all who desire it. If you know any one in your community who might be interested please tell them about the clinic and advise them to take advantage of it. Cancer can be and has been cured.

SUNDOWN STORIES

THE STRANGE SOUND

(By Mary Graham Barber)

They stepped along a country road. It was on the outskirts of the place where John and Peggy lived. The pilot-policeman who had been showing them how he attended to traffic up in the air had been passing along, and now they had wanted to find out what were the strange sounds they had heard.

The Little Black Clock had seen to it that they were still spending time 200 years ahead of the rest of the world.

"What could it have been?" the pilot-policeman asked.

"Well, of all things!" laughed John.

"What is it?" asked the pilot-policeman.

"Oh, what a dear, dear, dear horse," said Peggy.

"It's my turn to explain, I guess," John said. "The queer sound you heard was a horse having a drink of water. It's a lovely swishy beautiful sound that makes you know how much the horse is enjoying his drink."

"I suppose some one must still have a horse and this place with the water in the trough. Oh, isn't he enjoying his drink!"

The pilot-policeman was certainly interested in seeing the horse and in watching and listening to him as he had the drink of water from the trough. With airplanes and automobiles used so much, a horse was quite a curiosity.

Peggy was petting the horse. "I've given you a little of the old together with the very new and far ahead," the Little Black Clock said.

"Oh, Little Black Clock, you're a wonder!" John exclaimed.

"I think you're adorable," Peggy told him.

And the Little Black Clock was very, very happy.

LOCAL HIGH TO PLAY IN E. C. FRIDAY

Tomorrow Greenville High school up-and-coming football team will travel to Elizabeth City to try conclusions with the Elizabeth citizens. It is to be remembered that games between these two rivals have always been closely contested, and this one should be no exception. The wily Citizens may also desire to have revenge for the overwhelming defeat the Greenville boys handed them last winter in basketball.

Coach Porter will carry as many of his now augmented squad as possible, and try to give a large number of the boys an opportunity to display their wares on the field. Though he calls the work of this first string "rough", it is certainly increasing in speed, and seems to an outsider to work with much of the smoothness of a first class machine.

While the big team is invading Elizabeth City, the Freshman aggregation will play hosts to the Winterville High school boys in the first real encounter for the Yearlings. To hazard a guess as to the winner or score would be more rash than even the present contributor desires to be classed for Winterville has in late years had no team at all, and the amount of offensive power they bring may vary from zero to a large amount. If the latter, the small Freshmen will of course have to be content with the small end of a large score. All are invited to see the gang, which will be at 3:30, at the new Third-Street-School grounds, and no admission fee will be charged.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Oct. 24.—(AP)—The cotton market opened steady at a decline of 2 points to an advance of 1 point, but soon worked higher on reports of killing frost in west Texas and relatively steady Liverpool cables. Many selling orders were placed at the start, both from the south and from commission houses, but these were absorbed by trade buying and covering and after selling off to 18.11 for December, the price rallied to 18.24 or 12 points net higher. December and later deliveries ruled about 9 to 12 points net higher at the end of the first half hour, while October in which the interest has evidently been reduced sold up to 18.20, or 33 points net higher. Trading in the current October contracts ends at noon tomorrow.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Wild tumbles in price paralleling demoralization of stock exchange values carried the wheat market down 12 1/2c a bushel today, but rallies of 7 1/8c followed. The wheat market rallies were based not only on recoveries shown by securities but also on indications of immense purchasing of wheat future deliveries here for European account. In rapidity of price changes today as well as in extraordinary big volume of transactions the wheat market action has rarely had an equal.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Prices crashed again today on the New York stock exchange, eliminating billions of dollars in quoted values as "blue chip" shares and issues less prominent were dumped overboard for what they would bring. The tumble was almost perpendicular and one o'clock found leading shares as U. S. Steel, American Telephone, General Motors, American Can, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Johns-Manville, New York Central, General Electric, Westinghouse Electric and Consolidated Gas down 12 to 40 points.

STOCK MARKET

So severe did the situation appear that leading bankers, including Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City Bank, and A. H. Wiggin, chairman of the Chase National, two of the city's largest financial institutions, met at J. P. Morgan & Company for a conference. Prior to the meeting there had been a report that the stock exchange would close at 1 p. m., but this was promptly denied by exchange officials.

The early support given the market carried a few seasoned stocks several points higher. Kennecott copper climbed 11 on the opening sale of 20,000 shares, but by early afternoon this advance, as well as others, had been converted into liberal losses and a sizeable list of new lows developed.
