

STOCK MARKET TURNS NORMAL AGAIN AT N. Y.

Distressed Selling Resulting From Thursday's Crash Entirely Disposed of

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The stock market returned to normal today, opening rather quietly with most price changes narrow. Commission houses stated that the distress selling resulting from Thursday's crash had almost entirely been disposed of, and President Hoover's reassuring statement as to the fundamental strength of business had soothed the frayed nerves of both investors and speculators.

United States steel common held around last night's closing levels, indicating decisive efforts at stabilization. A wide assortment of stocks rose from $1 to $4 a share in the first half an hour of trading, and a few slipped back, as strong buying during the two previous sessions for support purposes was liquidated. Among the few declines, General Electric lost $1, and Radio and American Can sagged from $1 to $2.

Cure threshing, which dropped $15.50 yesterday, rallied $14.50, and Standard Gas, National Power and Light, National Cash Register, and Stone and Webster, $2 to $3, while such issues as Montgomery Ward, Atlantic Refining, Baltimore and Ohio, American Tobacco, American Water Works, and U. S. Rubber rose $1 and more.

Freighter Crew Is Marooned On Superior Shores

St. Ignace, Mich., Oct. 25.—(AP)—The cold, northern dawn spread over the white-capped waves of Lake Superior today found Captain P. C. Farrell of the packer freighter Chicago and 30 members of his crew huddled about their camp fires on the rocky shore at the western end of Michipicoten Island where they have been marooned without food or shelter since Tuesday.

Michipicoten is a wooded and mountainous island 100 miles northwest of Sault Ste. Marie. Its highest rocks rise a thousand feet above lake level. The only inhabitants are a few Indian fishermen living at Quebec Harbor in the southeastern part of the island. On a member of the crew of the Chicago succeeded in making his way across the nine miles of desolate coast to Quebec Harbor last night and reported that other members of the crew might attempt to get across today. He said the second engineer, James Black, who is a cripple, probably would be unable to walk over the rough country and others would remain with him until the coast guard boats of the tug Whelan, which have sought to aid the castaways, were able to take them off.

Wind and waves have prevented rescue ships from approaching the western shore of the island this far although they have been close enough to see the camp fires.

Plan to Organize Tobacco Growers at Raleigh Meet

Raleigh, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Representations general and special for the organization of tobacco growers co-operative associations were worked out here yesterday at a meeting of representatives of a number of colleges and tobacco growers of Virginia, North and South Carolina and Georgia.

The suggested plan for work on the tobacco situation included: A tobacco advisory committee of the Federal Farm Board; an interstate steering committee composed of five representatives from each state with a strong marketing specialist as executive secretary; state committees of 15 members with the state extension representative as chairman; and four sub-committees in each state. The sub-committees would work on advanced market information and acreage stabilization, credit stabilization, substitute and supplementary crops and enterprises and better marketing practices.

At the meeting, each was accompanied by several extension workers and tobacco growers from his state, were: Dean I. O. Schaub of North Carolina State College, director of extension work; J. R. Hiteherson, Virginia director of extension; J. H. Meek of the Virginia division of markets; W. W. Long, director of extension work in South Carolina; and E. C. Westbrook, assistant director of extension work in Georgia.

National Bank at New Bern Closes Its Doors Today

New Bern, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The First National Bank of New Bern was closed today on an order of the directors and was turned over to the Treasury Department. The bank was recently organized to take over the affairs of the old National Bank of New Bern.

No official of the institution would make any statement this morning. This notice was posted on the door:

"Owing to the fact that rumors derogatory to the soundness of the First National Bank of New Bern have been spread in the community, resulting in the usual withdrawals of deposits, the board of directors, believing that the interests of the creditors and depositors will be best protected by the closing, temporarily, of this bank. They have, therefore, ordered the bank closed and turned over to the Treasury Department."

This notice was signed by W. J. Caroon, cashier, J. V. Blades is president of the institution.

W. H. RENFREW LAID TO REST IN CITY TODAY

Former Civil War Veteran Died at Old Soldiers Home Yesterday Afternoon

William Hardy Renfrew, a member of the Nash County Junior Reserves in the Civil war, died at the Old Soldiers Home at Raleigh Friday afternoon at five o'clock. He was 83 years old.

The body was brought to Greenville this morning and funeral services were conducted from the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. B. Whichard, on Summit street, this afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. L. R. O'Brien, former pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, and Rev. W. S. Harden, pastor of the Presbyterian church. Burial was made in Cherry Hill cemetery.

Mr. Renfrew was a native of Nash county and joined the Nash county Junior Reserves during the Civil war at the age of 17. He spent a considerable portion of his life in this county. He was taken to the Old Soldiers home last August. He is survived by one son and six daughters, H. W. Renfrew, of Greenville, Mrs. C. B. Whichard, of Greenville, and Mrs. S. R. Ross, of Bethel.

Funeral services were held at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. B. Whichard, 1015 S. W. Street, with Rev. L. R. O'Brien, pastor of Immanuel Baptist church, officiating.

Man Admits Theft of Girl's Savings

Chicago, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Betty Brody is a checkbook girl at a night club. Her savings from tips were a mere $3,000, but then she is only 12 years old.

She kept the money in a safety deposit vault—quarters, halves, and greenbacks and even pretty $100 bills handed her by Bu-ohie gentlemen, mentally sane.

Mrs. Brody's $3,000 would have been nobody's business if it had not vanished from her deposit box. She and Alvin Karpis were arrested. She said she took the money, using a duplicate key.

Abrams told police he took the money all right, but that it was just borrowed in behalf of his mother who saw a chance to do some good on the stock market.

It is one of those things the courts will go into.

New York—The first of the yellow-back thrilling dime novels is to be republished after 69 years. "Malvina," a hair-raising story of Indians and frontier life, is to have its original colors in its new dress.

Greenville Man Elected Member of Bank Board

James S. Ficklen, of Greenville, has been elected a member of the board of directors of the Wilmington branch of the North Carolina Bank and Trust company, a newly merged organization.

His election took place Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the board of the local branch.

Mr. Ficklen is president of the E. B. Ficklen Tobacco company, and is prominent in business circles.

ASK GARDNER TO LET TROOPS STAY AT MILLS

Would Hold Troops At Marion Until Un- desirables Have Been Removed

Raleigh, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Governor O. Max Gardner today had under consideration a request made of him last night by R. W. Baldwin, president of the Marion Manufacturing company, and a party of Marion citizens, that troops which have been on duty at Marion since October 2 not be removed until the remaining "undesirables" in the two mill villages there have been removed.

The Winston-Salem national guard company has been on duty at Marion since the riot October 2 at the gates of Mr. Baldwin's mill when six men were fatally wounded. The Salisbury national guard company also was called out the day of the riot but was sent home a week ago.

Both mills at Marion at one time had 90 families of "undesirables," members of which will never again be employed by either mill. Mr. Baldwin told the governor, and about half of the "undesirables" have been moved in two weeks, the amounting them jobs and the mill providing trucks to move them and giving them a few dollars for food.

With the other half of the unwanted families still to move, Mr. Baldwin expressed belief that they would prove to be the stubborn half who will protest against being moved, and he asked that the troops be continued on duty until all of the "undesirables" have been moved to other jobs.

DIPHTHERIA IS REPORTED ON DECREASE

Report of Health De- partment Shows Fewer Cases Than Reported Last Week

Raleigh, Oct. 25.—(AP)—There were only 278 cases of diphtheria and 138 of scarlet fever in the State during the week ending today, the bureau of epidemiology of the State Board of Health announced.

Last week there were 299 cases of diphtheria and the first three days of this week there were 163. The decrease of 21 cases for the whole week was considered a good indication on the wane in the State.

Scarlet fever showed a decrease of only two cases under the 140 of last week and the officials expressed concern.

Schools in Perquimans county are closed on account of the prevalence of the two diseases in the county. It was reported.

There were also 137 cases of whooping cough, two of smallpox, and two of measles reported. Sixty-two cases of pellagra, most of the cases from Wayne county where the negro insane asylum is located, 17 of typhoid fever, four of influenza and four of pneumonia were also listed.

Harry Thaw Must Pay Club Hostess $75,000 Damages

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A jury has decided that Harry K. Thaw must pay a night club hostess $75,000 for spanking her with a hair brush.

An award of that amount was given in Supreme court yesterday in favor of Marcia Estardus, who brought suit for $100,000 for personal injuries inflicted upon her at a New Year's party in his apartment, January 1, 1926.

The verdict was the outcome of the second trial of the case, a previous trial having ended in disagreement.

Thaw expressed amazement at the amount of the award and his counsel served notice of a motion to set aside the verdict as excessive.

Miss Estardus testified that Thaw tore her clothes, bit her and spanked her with a hairbrush. She claimed that she had suffered permanent scars as well as great pain and humiliation.

When the verdict was announced she said:

"It's goodbye for me; I'm going to the country."

Over Million Dollars Paid Out to Tobacco Growers on Local Leaf Mart This Week

Over a million dollars was paid out on the Greenville tobacco market during the week just ended, according to an official report on sales made public this morning by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales.

The million dollars not only exceeded any previous amount paid out for a corresponding period during the present season, but also enabled the market to set another general price average. The average for the week was estimated at $23.60. The average last week was $23.30.

Sales for the week just closed, the supervisor's report showed amounted to 4,285,930 pounds for a total sum of $1,020,413.69 at an average of $23.80 per hundred pounds.

Sales for the season showed a general advance in the price average also. Total sales were estimated at 28,516,764 pounds for $4,970,988.64 at an average of $17.08.

Sales were completed yesterday and the floors of the nine warehouse were being cleared up today for next week's activities. Farmers from many parts of the country continued to sell their offerings here this week, and indications were that the pilgrimage would continue as usual next week.

Western Methodists Take Steps To Prevent Strikes Among Textile Operatives

High Point, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Creation of a non-partisan, non-political Federal Commission to study the entire textile industry and recommend ways and means of providing a living wage for workers and to prevent strikes, was recommended today in a report of the committee of industrial relations adopted by the western North Carolina conference of the Methodist Episcopal church south in annual session here.

The conference, voting in favor of the report read by the Reverend W. A. Newell, presiding elder of the Gastonia district, adopted the following findings:

First: The textile industry is a sick industry. This is revealed in current price quotations on standard mill stocks. These quotations show a per cent decline of more than 50 per cent in average price within the last nine years. This decline cannot be explained by the fact that the industry does not exist and are useful for propaganda only. Very few mills have made more than a reasonable return upon the investment. While it is probable that more than half of them have made nothing in this period of deadjustment.

Second: A detimation of the minimum standard of living has been stated as follows: The minimum normal standard living must furnish everything necessary for a manner of living that will make possible a high standard of physical and mental health and efficiency for adults, the full physical and mental growth and development of children and provision for their moral welfare.

At present cotton mills cannot pay a wage scale sufficiently large to secure this standard. The wage scale in North Carolina is decidedly higher than in the states south of us, as such are engaged in this industry. The industry is highly competitive and is now suffering from over expansion. But this living wage should be paid the workers and the cost added to the price of the product. This can be worked out in such a way as to secure this living wage for workers a just return for capital and a fair price for the consumer.

Third: No hope of relief is to be found in wage cuts, stretchout systems, extension of hours of labor, shutouts or other forms of economy which lay additional burdens on the workers. On the other hand, sabotage, restriction of production and similar action by the workers can only add to the general distress; these expedients being to economic warfare but loss and costly experience has taught us that conference, understanding and cooperation of Christian brotherhood should prevail in industrial as well as in all other human relations.

Fourth: We beg both employers in the spirit of Christ to join hands, minds and hearts in seeking a better industrial order, whereby all shall prosper. We pledge to them our hearty good will and brotherly cooperation in every effort for improvement and assure them of our sympathy in this time of stress and trial.

Fifth: We urge our Senators and Representatives in Congress of the United States to secure the creation of a permanent, non-partisan, non-political commission for the proper study of all related problems and that the report of such commission be made as a whole covering the entire textile industry so that wise changes may be made in our laws relating to industry. It is a national industry and is worth of national study.

Sixth: We rejoice in the reduction of hours of labor in the industry and pray for the further reduction of night work for women and children. The gradual elimination of night work for all is an ideal toward which we strive.

Seventh: Our church should seek to render a larger service in this

ASKS FACTS ON IMPRESSMENT OF AMERICANS

Senator Hefflin Re- quests Information Regarding Activities of Facists

Washington, Oct. 25.—(AP)—A resolution requesting the secretary of state to transmit to the senate all information the state department has regarding the reported impressment of American citizens of Italian descent by the Italian government was introduced today by Senator Hefflin, Democrat, Alabama.

The resolution which was referred to the foreign relations committee also requested information concerning the reported political activities of the Facist league of North America or any other Facist organization in the United States.

Quoting from a recent magazine article, the resolution said "persistent efforts are being made by the Facist league of North America, a new York corporation, and its local branches throughout the United States to prevent the Americanization of Italians in this country; to stifle all any—cost all criticism of Mussolini and to silence the opponents of Facism."

It was alleged in the magazine article, the resolution said, that the American citizens of Italian descent who have recently visited Italy have been imprisoned and have had their American passports taken from them because of opposition to Facist activities in the United States.

MISTRIAL IS ORDERED IN STATON CASE

Jury Failed to Agree After Deliberating Over Twenty-Four Hours

After deliberations extending over a period of twenty-four hours or more, a jury in the civil term of Pitt County Superior court failed to reach a decision in the suit of H. V. Staton vs. H. H. Simons and others, and Judge Garland "Midvette" ordered a mistrial late yesterday afternoon.

The case was begun Wednesday and went to the jury Thursday afternoon. It was one of the most stubbornly contested battles staged in the local court room during the present term, and drew much interest from citizens of the Bethel community where the plaintiff and defendants reside.

Mr. Staton, fertilizer dealer and merchant, was suing for approximately $1,500, which he claimed the defendants owed him for goods which he supplied them during preparation of their crops. He was given a mortgage for the amount, but in the meantime the defendants alleged to have given a mortgage to another fertilizer dealer of the same community.

Mr. Staton contended that his mortgage was registered at that given to the other fertilizer dealer, but the defendants contended that it was not.

Both sides introduced considerable testimony to bear out their contentions, and county officers were called in as witnesses in an effort to determine the difference in the time of filing of the two mortgages.

Court continued its sitting today in an effort to dispose of as many calendar cases as possible. While only three cases have actually been given hearing during the term, it was stated that numbers of compromises had been effected, involving several cases that had been hanging fire for a long time.

HENDERSONVILLE LUMBER DEALER KILLED IN WRECK

Gastonia, Oct. 25.—(AP)—C. J. Valley, a prominent lumber dealer of Hendersonville, was almost instantly killed early this morning when his automobile collided with the cement base of a street intersection stop light on the outskirts of the city.

An ambulance was called immediately after the accident but he died when it reached the hospital. Officers investigating the wreck were undecided as to the cause of the accident. It was thought probable that Valley went to sleep as he was driving crashing into the light. Another theory advanced is that he believed the stop light suspended instead of being built into the road. The body will be taken to Hendersonville for burial.

Disappearance of Lieutenant Still Baffles Police

Richmond, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Disappearance of Lieutenant H. W. Northcutt, Jr., of New London, Mo., construction corps, U. S. N., Norfolk Navy yard, last Tuesday from Perthmouth continued today to baffle police and navy yard officials.

With the exception of an abandoned automobile identified as one used by him when he left Perthmouth Tuesday night for Norfolk police say they have no tangible clues as to his whereabouts. The car was found here on a business street Thursday afternoon, showing no evidence of rough usage.

Police say they suspect foul play.

LOCAL WOMAN PASSED AWAY FRIDAY NIGHT

Funeral for Mrs. Laura White Will Be Held at Methodist Church Sunday

Mrs. Laura M. White died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. D. Overton, on Fourth street, last night at 11 o'clock after illness extending over a period of a few days. She was 77 years of age.

Funeral services will be conducted from Jarvis Memorial Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by Rev. E. L. Hillman, pastor. Interment will be made in Cherry Hill cemetery.

Mrs. White was a native of Perquimans county, a daughter of the late Milton Hudkins and Mrs. Grizzelle Bagby Hudkins. She was the wife of the late Jonathan White, and was educated at Murfreesboro College. She came to Greenville 48 years ago, and since that time had been making her home here.

She was a loyal and devoted member of Jarvis Memorial Methodist church and maintained an active interest in the work of the denomination until illness necessitated her confinement.

She is survived by three sons and three daughters. Mrs. D. D. Overton and Mrs. E. H. Foley, Greenville; Mrs. N. R. Urquhart, of Portsmouth, Va.; M. H. White, Greenville; J. W. White, State College, Pennsylvania; J. Harry White, of Winston-Salem. She is also survived by twenty-two grandchildren and ten great grandchildren.

Burial will be at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. D. D. Overton, 408 S. W. Street.

Predicts Increase of Russian Industry

Moscow, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Addressing a large group of American engineers, business men and journalists today, E. J. Kivring, vice chairman of the state planning commission, which is working out plans for the economic reconstruction of the Soviet union, declared that Soviet Russia would soon surpass the United States industrial production. He added that it would lead the entire world in that respect in comparison with pre-war production.

"During the last year our total industrial investment in industry was 1,650,000,000 rubles while during the coming year it will be 3,500,000,000 rubles. Of this sum 2,500,000,000 rubles will be invested in so-called heavy industries such as coal, iron and steel, metal plants and 600,000,000 rubles in light industries," he said.

The Times said that selection of a banker of Mr. Kains standing was accepted as an indication that Senator Moses intended to be prepared for a hard fight for retention of Republican control of the Senate when one-third of the members come up for election or re-election next year.

The selection, said the Times, was seen as somewhat of a war measure, aimed against the members of the so-called Republican Progressive group as against the Democrats with a possibility that the Republican Senatorial campaign committee might fail to support some of the progressive Senators who have opposed and are opposing President Hoover and the administration of the tariff bill.

GOV. OFFERS REWARD FOR MOB MEMBERS

Gardner Begins Ac- tion to Determine Killers of Woman at Bessemer City

Raleigh, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Governor O. Max Gardner has offered rewards of $400 each, the maximum allowed by law, for information leading to convictions of the guilty parties in the slaying of Ella May Wiggin by Anti-Communist mob at Gastonia September 14.

The Gaston county grand jury this week refused to indict persons accused of the slaying, which Governor Gardner termed "an indefensible killing" in the statement he issued last night announcing the rewards. The citizenship and legal authorities were called upon by the governor to aid in the discovery of the guilty parties.

Mrs. Wiggin was killed while in a truck with 22 other unionists en route from Bessemer City to an advertised union meeting at South Gastonia. The truck was turned back before it reached several miles by men-in-autonomous, one of which passed the truck and forced it into a collision, at which time shooting began and Mrs. Wiggin was killed.

The rewards offered by Governor Gardner for the State are in addition to those previously offered by the American Civil Liberties Union of $1,000 for the conviction of the persons who fired the fatal shot and $250 each for all others involved.

Will Recommend Commutation of Death Sentence

Raleigh, Oct. 25.—(AP)—Redmond Wilson, Pender county negro, has been found "mentally sick" and Judge N. A. Townsend, executive counsel, said today he would recommend to Governor O. Max Gardner that the sentence of electrocution imposed on the man be commuted to life imprisonment.

Wilson is scheduled for execution November 1, the third Friday after his appeal to the Supreme court was dismissed when no error was found. The opinion was handed down October 16 by Justice Stacy and found that evidence of the circumstances surrounding the homicide were "indicative of a mind fatally bent on mischief and a heart devoid of social duties."

Judge Townsend said that a sanitarium, composed of Dr. C. O. H. Laughlinhouse, State health officer, and Dr. Albert Anderson, head of the Insane Asylum at Raleigh, had found Wilson to be suffering from delusions and that he was "mentally sick" and not responsible for his actions.

Governor Gardner said he would study the full record in the case after receiving the written recommendation for commutation and then make his decision.

Declare War On Republicans Who Oppose President

New York, Oct. 25.—(AP)—War by the Republican Senatorial campaign committee against Republican Senators who oppose President Hoover on the tariff was forecast by New York newspapers today.

The forecast was predicted on the selection of Otto H. Kahn as treasurer of the Republican Senatorial campaign, which was announced Thursday night at a dinner given by Jeremiah Milbank for Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican National committee.

Mr. Kahn accepted the trusteeship at the request of Senator George H. Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the committee. In recent years the committee has had no treasure, obtaining most of its funds from the National committee.

The Times said that selection of a banker of Mr. Kains standing was accepted as an indication that Senator Moses intended to be prepared for a hard fight for retention of Republican control of the Senate when one-third of the members come up for election or re-election next year.

The selection, said the Times, was seen as somewhat of a war measure, aimed against the members of the so-called Republican Progressive group as against the Democrats with a possibility that the Republican Senatorial campaign committee might fail to support some of the progressive Senators who have opposed and are opposing President Hoover and the administration of the tariff bill.

THE LUXURY HUSBAND

SYNOPSIS: The "luxury husband" revolts! Ray, convinced he and Barbara can never be happy while he is dependent on her money, makes a decisive move. Henderson leaves her home for a visit in Boston hoping the strained relations between Barbara and Ray will reach a crisis in his absence. That night Ray announces his decision to Barbara. He has left his job in her uncle's office, is determined to win his independence as a composer of jazz, and until he has made good, will leave his wife. Barbara's despair turned to rage a few moments later, when from Ray's den came the wailing notes of his saxophone, playing a poignant tune of his own composition, "Those Grieving Leavin' Blues."

Chapter 24 THE LAND OF JAZZ

The wailing of Ray's saxophone echoed in Barbara's ears as she picked up the telephone receiver. "Mrs. Ray Lowther there? Boston Boston calling."

Henderson, of course. Could she be bothered speaking to him? As she hesitated, faintly clearly she heard again the notes of the saxophone.

Her eyes were thunder dark, lit by a sudden flash of fury.

"Mrs. Ray Lowther is speaking" A moment's silence and then Henderson's voice.

"Barbara, dear, I'm rottenly miserable away from you. What do you say to my coming back to New York?"

"Yes, come, Honey. I want you." She dropped the receiver. Straightened herself she listened mechanically. It seemed the sound of jazz completely filled the room.

Suddenly she felt that she must get away from it. She ran breathlessly out of the apartment and a moment later she found herself in the wide entrance hall demanding a taxi. The porter whistled for one and when it arrived she gave the driver, Cora Trenton-Jones' address.

The cab rattled on down the avenue while outside the wind howled. She had passed almost into a state of coma when suddenly she leaned forward, fear in her eyes. For she had fancied she had heard faintly the wall of a saxophone.

Ray took off his mask and wiped his forehead. It was a golden mask, designed especially for the Golden Symphony Eight, the jazz band of the Golden Dollar club, latest and smartest of New York's night clubs.

"These things are hot," he grumbled. "If we didn't come out here every now and then for a breathing space, I'd suffocate."

"You're right there," said Bill Foster, looking unusually plump in an evening suit of metal chain with purple satin facings, "but you've got to admit this crazy stunt has been a success, rigging us up in these golden tuxedos with masks to hide our facial beauty from the public gaze. Every one's crazy to learn who we are, whereas, if there were no mystery about us, not a soul would care."

"Boy, you've said it," the saxophonist, a large, portly man, broke in, "there are the craziest stories circulating I heard, the other night, that we were all sons of prominent society folks millionsaires mostly, and that we wore masks to save old family names from eternal disgrace!"

"They laughed at that, as they sat in a little anteroom during an interval."

"How long do you think we'll be able to keep it up?" asked the violinist.

"Can't say," said Drums. "Personally, I don't care how long they keep us. Suits me fine."

"Same here," muttered Ray under his breath.

As a matter of fact one of the chief inducements to his taking this particular job had lain in the fact that they were to be masked. A fashionable club was bound to be frequented by Barbara's set; it was likely that Barbara herself might drop in occasionally and he preferred to remain incognito.

Three months now since the night he had told Barbara of his determination to leave her—three months since he had last set eyes upon her. A hundred times had he been on the point of phoning her; a hundred times had he passed by her home—fearful, yet eager, that she might suddenly appear.

Those were days when he felt de-erately lonely for her—when he doubted whether any recognition was worth the risk he was taking in sacrificing her love. But there were compensations.

Standing with the boys on the platform, Bill Foster would lean across and whisper, "Come on, Ray, lead us in one of your own, we'll follow you."

And when at the end the dancers would applaud, often up-ecariously—for Ray's tunes were sure-fire jazz—he would be repaid by that thrill which comes from acclaimed recognition of something you have created.

Ray had been sharing Bill Foster's apartment since the break with Barbara.

Bill came from the lounge, threw his cigaret on the floor. "Come on, fellows, we'd best be getting back."

Bill led the way and as they tramped back onto the stage they made a truly extraordinary and imposing sight. Their metal evening suits glittered like beaten gold under the brilliant electric lights; their golden masks were comic and bizarre, and their music was guaranteed to make a paralyzed man get up and wiggle! Small wonder the Golden Dollar was packed from theatre closing time till dawn.

As for the club itself, it was one gasp of wonderment. Vivid golden trimmings were set against a background of rich royal purple; thousands of golden dollars were plastered everywhere, on the ceiling, on the walls, on the backs of chairs.

Of course there was a cabaret performance, twice nightly, the artist being the foremost stars of the day.

Ray did not usually pay much attention to the performers but he noticed one particular girl, who for the past week had brought down the biggest hand, was curiously striking. Tall and willowy, her features were set in a lovely oval face; her hair was magnificent, like that of a thoroughbred, falling in dark clouds on either side of her face and caught up in a huge knot behind. Her suppleness, length of limb and rounded slimmness would have fascinated the heart of a sculptor. Ray found her an undeniable pleasure. That is from afar. It had never occurred to him to cultivate her acquaintance, although the other fellows were toying over each other to meet her before she had been on the bill a day. But he remained strangely aloof.

Therefore, he was not a little surprised when, early one morning, she approached him.

"Mr. Lowther," she smiled with engaging charm, "would you think me forward if I asked you to have supper with me?"

"Not at all, I'd be delighted," Ray replied.

"I want to talk with you and thought we might have a bite together somewhere. That is, if you haven't a date or a wife waiting for you."

Ray finds a happy surprise. Continue the story Monday.

coming to boys and girls."

The other pumpkins all agreed with this, and before the meeting was over the pumpkins all sang together under the light of the moon. This was the chorus of their song:

Pumpkins are we,
All full of glee,
We live in a field,
We may end in a pie,
It's just all the same,
In the good bye-and-bye.

And then the Little Black Clock said, "We'd better leave now. The pumpkins are falling asleep."

And now, not a sound was heard in the field.

SALE OF VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY

Under and by virtue of the authority conferred upon us in a deed of trust executed by J. E. Dail and wife, Martha Dail, and Sarah Dail, on the 23rd day of January, 1923, and recorded in book of mortgages U-14 page 159, we will on Saturday, 9th day of November, 1929, 12 o'clock, noon, at the courthouse door in Greenville, N. C., Pitt County, sell at public auction for cash to the highest bidder the following land to-wit:

All that certain tract or parcel of land, lying and being in Winterville Township, County of Pitt and State of North Carolina and being bounded on the North by the R. L. Smith and Willoughby lands, on the East by Haywood Dail and the Savag's lands and also the lands of M. L. Stocks and C. A. White; on the South by Alexander Harris and W. H. Dail; on the West by Alonzo Dail, and being specifically described by metes and bounds as follows: Beginning at a stake M. L. Stocks' corner, on the East side of Park Swamp and thence with said Stocks' line, S. 3 45 E. 12.55 chains to the aforesaid White Road; thence with said Road as follows: S. 70 10 W. 26.2 chains; S. 82 W. 5.6 chains to Alonzo Dail's corner; thence with said Dail's line N. 9 50 W. 27.80 chains to an iron stake in R. L. Smith's line; thence with said Smith's line S. 81 40 E. 10.50 chains to a stake, said Smith's corner; thence with another of said Smith's line N. 5 30 E. 16.20 chains to a stake with pointers in White Oak branch, said Smith's corner; thence down said branch, Smith's line N. 76 E. 15.16 chains to the run of Fork Swamp, said Smith's and Haywood Dail's corner; thence with said Haywood Dail's line S. 38 W. 27 chains to the beginning, containing 90.5 acres.

This sale is made by reason of the failure of J. E. Dail and wife, Martha Dail, and Sarah Dail to pay off and discharge the indebtedness secured by said deed of trust to the North Carolina Joint Stock Land Bank of Durham.

A deposit of 10 per cent will be required of the purchaser at the sale.

coming to boys and girls."

The other pumpkins all agreed with this, and before the meeting was over the pumpkins all sang together under the light of the moon. This was the chorus of their song:

Pumpkins are we,
All full of glee,
We live in a field,
We may end in a pie,
It's just all the same,
In the good bye-and-bye.

And then the Little Black Clock said, "We'd better leave now. The pumpkins are falling asleep."

And now, not a sound was heard in the field.

SUNDOWN STORIES

THE PUMPKIN'S POETRY

(By Mary Graham Bonner)

Again the Little Black Clock took John and Peggy back to the evening when the meeting took place in the big field. Those at the meeting were the many pumpkins.

They were all talking about their plans and their hopes. Many of them hoped to be Jack O' Lanterns.

"I'll tell you what," said one of the pumpkins, "let's make wishes on the moon."

The others thought that was a splendid idea and you would have laughed, if you could have seen the pumpkins, one after the other, wishing on the moon.

One push his wish in a rhyme.
I wish that I may carry a light
To show my yellow face so bright.
I wish to go on Halloween
To some place where I will be seen.
To some party may I be bidden.
So my pumpkin glow will not be hidden.

The others told the pumpkin who had just recited this wish that his line were quite uneven and that his poetry was not very good.

"No matter," said he. "I made my meaning clear and if my lines weren't even—well, it's not stylish for a pumpkin to be like others.

A large mouth is a splendid thing to have if one is a pumpkin. Lots of people do not care for huge mouths.

"A fat round shape is magnificent for a pumpkin, but isn't so be-

Prince Humbert Closely Guarded On Way to Italy

Brussels, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Bared bayonets and drawn revolvers guarded Italy's Crown Prince Humbert, as he left here last evening for Rome after a visit to arrange formal betrothal with Princess Marie Jose, daughter of King Albert.

Streets thronged which he had had to pass were lined with wooden barriers and guards. The better to prevent a recurrence of Thursday's attempt to assassinate the Prince, turned their backs on the Royal procession and faced the thousands who lined the streets.

At the gaily decorated railway station the Prince kissed his fiancée on both cheeks, and then kissed her hand. He then kissed the hand of his future mother-in-law, Queen Elizabeth, and clasped the hands of King Albert, the Belgian Prince, and minister of state.

The band struck up the national airs of Belgium and Italy, and while the crowds—removed, for safety sake from the station square—cheered, the young Prince kissed the Princess again.

She returned the caress.

Wins $22,500 Suit

New York.—"What price shall be put on a lover's arm?" argued a lawyer in behalf of Frank J. Powers, freight conductor, whose right arm was crushed in a railroad accident. "He is 29 and unmarried. He can never fittingly caress a beloved sweetheart." A jury's verdict was upheld on appeal.

Eleven Others Perished in Storm of Lake Michigan

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 26.—(AP)—The tumultuous waters of Lake Michigan which eliminated the Milwaukee from the shipping lists of the Great Lakes yielded up the story of another tragedy this week.

Out of the lake have come bits of wreckage of The House of David schooner Rosabelle, unreported since it set out for a cruise eight years ago. The Rosabelle carried a crew of 11 men and was on its way from High Island with a cargo of potatoes raised there when it disappeared in a storm. Wreckage of the vessel was found on the beach near Racine, Wis., by searchers for a trace of the Milwaukee.

The Rosabelle's crew consisted of Captain Erhart Gilse, First Mate Charles Anderson, second mate, William Frederickson and Alvin Widner, Edgar Marshall, Jake Voninonen, Robert Dudley, C. Daley, L. Nye, Cecil Claudel and Edwin Wilson, seamen.

High Island, in the northern part of Lake Michigan is the property of the House of David, which is located on Benton Harbor.

Woman Convicted Of Intent to Rob

Chicago, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Miss Joan La Coste was found guilty late yesterday of assault with intent to rob; but hope was expressed today that she might win probation.

The Memphis, Tenn., woman automobile race driver, who once set a record for women drivers, is subject to a one to 14 year prison sentence. She was convicted of having entered the hotel apartment of Mrs. Rebecca Robbe and, armed with a toy pistol and a handkerchief saturated with chloroform attempting to overpower Mrs. Robbe and then rob her.

Judge Joseph B. David asked each juror if he thought Miss La Coste, in view of her previous clear record, should not receive leniency. All answered affirmatively. Judge David indicated a motion for probation would be considered November 8 when the woman automobile race driver petitions for a new trial.

THE SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE.

By The Rev. Jason N. Pierce, D. D.
(Pastor of the First Congregational Church, Washington, D. C.)

The spirit of adventure must be diverted from evil and turned to good.

We should forget our dignity and look for the Lord about us. Take the story of Zachaeus, who ran on ahead and climbed a sycamore tree to see Jesus over the heads of the crowd.

Imagine John D. Rockefeller climbing a tree in Central Park in order to welcome Christ, and you will understand how mighty a force the spirit of adventure can become.

Never in the world's history were so many glorious opportunities spread out before those with this spirit in them. Men like Walter Reed, who gave his life to abolish yellow fever; Sigmund Freud, who revealed the abysses of the mind, and Julius Rosenwald, who gave millions for the colored race, are inspiring examples of what men can do with the spirit of adventure in them.

THE GREAT SHEARING

There was calm in the offices of the Morgans. Wall Street was in an uproar. Stocks were tumbling in a frenzied panic. Billions of dollars in profits were being wiped out. But the House of Morgans wasn't disturbed. Above the din and away from the frenzy of the street, typewriters clicked casually and employes spoke in gentle tones.

"There seems to be some disturbed selling," said Thomas W. Lamont of the Morgan firm, as he talked softly to tense reporters.

The worst panic on the Stock Exchange in fifteen years was raging. A wave of selling was bringing a deluge of 12,000,000 shares to the floor. Small traders were being wiped out. Men who staked their all on the market, with no reserve, and lost, were tottering to ruin. There were failures and rumors of failures, suicides and rumors of suicides.

Only in the offices of the House of Morgan was there the peace of men who knew what it was all about.

"We consider the situation on the floor of the Stock Exchange this morning a technical one rather than a fundamental one, and that it will result in betterment," said Mr. Lamont.

This technical situation referred to by Mr. Lamont is known by a number of names. Commonly, it is referred to as fleecing the sheep. The little fellows having been relieved of their wool, and maybe some hide, in a field day of shearing, the shearers can now measure their profit in peace.

An amazing amount of stock has passed from weak to strong hands, as Mr. Lamont said. Now that it is in the hands of men who know what they are doing, the situation looks brighter. Mr. Lamont wasn't excited about it. He was merely stating one of the fundamental laws of the exchange.

A few days the little fellows strut on the street. Some of them wisely make a killing and get out. Most of them get a taste of amazing profits and are powerless to let go. Eventually comes a day, maybe not so hectic as the terrible days this week, when pandemonium sweeps through the exchange. When it has gone far enough and the troublesome little fellows who have been getting in the way are cleaned out to their eye teeth, Mr. Morgan or Mr. Lamont, or somebody or other with authority to speak for organized finance, says: "Peace be still."

Then the little fellows can speculate on how much they might have made if they could have stuck it out. But the big men in quiet offices say nothing at all.

Another day is coming. There will be need for more sheep for the shearing. News and Observer.

ABOUT TOWN

"Somebody in this immediate section is going to be made mighty happy tonight when the Reflector announces the winners in the automobile contest," said a reader of the paper today.

"This is one of the most extensive campaigns ever conducted in this section and has held the interest of numbers of people interested in the success of the various contestants.

"The giving away of four automobiles and a number of cash prizes is no small thing, and I am not surprised that the contestants have put in some hard work during the last several weeks attempting to gain a definite lead. They had something to encourage them and the winners will be well repaid for their labors."

The conviction of Albert Fall is a distinct victory for the government, declared a prominent Greenville lawyer yesterday afternoon after news of the ending of the celebrated case at Washington had been flashed over the leased wires in the Reflector office.

"It goes to show what the men and women comprising the great government are not in sympathy with crookedness, and believe that honesty should govern the action of men who hold high government offices.

"There will be those to sympathize with Fall because of his illness and age, but no one can doubt but that justice was represented in the verdict of the jury and that the defendant will be required to pay for his crime against the public."

"With diphtheria reported in different parts of the country, it is the duty of the public to do everything possible to protect themselves against the disease," remarked a public health worker this morning, referring to the campaign in progress in this county to immunize the people against diphtheria.

"It has been shown conclusively that the largest percentage of diphtheria is among children under six years of age. This leaves the parents directly responsible for the welfare of the children. If they suffer from the disease, then it is the fault of the parents and not the public health workers.

"Everything is being done to keep diphtheria cases down to a minimum, but this cannot be done without the co-operation of the fathers and mothers who realize their responsibility and help in every way to prevent a spread of diphtheria."

Governor Gardner is still preaching the doctrine of diversification among the farmers of the state," observed a prominent grower today, "and it is the duty of the people to help him out in every way possible.

"Think what conditions would be in this state at this time had our farmers given a little more thought to the production of things they consume at home. Instead of being hard-pressed for money, with bills hanging over their heads, they would be on easy street with plenty of spending money jingling in their pockets."

"The time to diversify has come and the sooner the farmer realizes the fact gets away from the one and two-crop idea the sooner this great section is going to recover from the period of depression of which its people have been complaining for so long."

SALE OF VALUABLE FARM PROPERTY

Under and by virtue of the authority conferred upon us in a deed of trust, executed by William Stallings, unmarried, on the 13th day of February, 1924, and recorded in Book G-15, page 390, we will on Saturday, the 26th day of October, 1929, at 12 o'clock, noon, at the court house door in Greenville, N. C., Pitt County, sell at public auction for cash to the highest bidder the following land, to-wit:

All that certain piece, parcel or tract of land containing 202 acres, more or less, situate, lying and being on the Tarboro-Penny Hill Road about one mile from the town of Conetoe in Belvoir Township, County of Pitt, and State of North Carolina, the description of said lands by metes and bounds, being as follows: Adjoining the lands of Clark and Stancill's Knight farm and Penny Hill and others, and beginning at an iron stake on the west side of the Tarboro-Penny Hill public road at the northeast corner of the Clark and Stancill farm, and runs with said road north nineteen degrees and fifteen minutes west four thousand and twenty-nine feet, thence north twenty-six degrees west six hundred and eighty-five feet, thence south sixty-six degrees and forty-five minutes west four hundred and twenty feet to a pine on the bank of Tar River, thence down the windings of Tar River as follows: south ten degrees east five hundred feet; south seven degrees west, seven hundred and nineteen feet; south twenty-three degrees west, two hundred and eighty-nine feet; 300 W. 352 feet south forty-five degrees west, one thousand and fifty-eight feet; south fifty-eight degrees west, two hundred feet; south forty-eight west one hundred and forty feet; south thirty-nine degrees west, one hundred and sixty-six feet; south thirty-six degrees west, three hundred and eighty feet; south thirty-five degrees west, eight hundred forty-six feet; south eighteen degrees west, three hundred and sixty-four feet; to a stake on the bank of Tar River, the north-west corner of the said Clark and Stancill land; thence south eighty-eight degrees and fifteen minutes east forty-two hundred and twenty-six feet to the beginning. The same being bounded on the north by Tar River and Penny Hill, on the east by the Tarboro-Penny Hill public road; on the south by the Clark and Stancill farm and on the west by Tar River.

The timber on the following tract of land included in the above tract of land is excepted from the operation of this deed of trust. Beginning at the mouth of lead ditch where it empties into Tar river, and running in a southerly direction along the west side of Tar river about 500 yards to a corner of a field on the south side of woods, and running thence along the north side of field about 400 yards in an easterly direction to another corner on lead ditch on the west side of a field, running thence down the lead ditch about 500 yards to Tar river.

The timber on the above tract of land was released under Timber Release by the First National Company of Durham, Inc., Trustee, Formerly First National Trust Company, to William J. Stallings, unmarried on the 1st day of May, 1929.

This sale is made by reason of the failure of William Stallings, unmarried, to pay off and discharge the indebtedness secured by said deed of trust to the North Carolina Joint Stock Land Bank of Durham. A deposit of 10 per cent will be required from the purchaser at the sale.

This the 19th day of Sept., 1929. First National Company of Durham, Inc., Trustee; Formerly First National Trust Co. Durham, N. C. Oct. 3-11w-4wk.

Millions of Miles of Constant Testing to maintain the outstanding quality and dependability of The Chevrolet Six

In spite of the fact that a million Chevrolet Sixes have already been placed in the hands of owners, and have proved their performance and stamina by billions of miles of service over every type of highway the nation affords—the Chevrolet Motor Company continues to take new Chevrolet Sixes from the assembly line at the factory and subject them to pitiless testing on the roads of the General Motors Proving Ground! This passion for proof—this consistent refusal to accept any tests as final—is one of the fundamental reasons for the overwhelming popularity of Chevrolet cars. For in no other way is it possible to make the Chevrolet Six so sound in design and materials—so dependable in performance—and so economical to operate! If you are considering the purchase of an automobile, come in and see the new Chevrolet. You will find that it is more than a Six in the price range of the four. In every way it is a finer car than you ever thought possible in the low-price field!

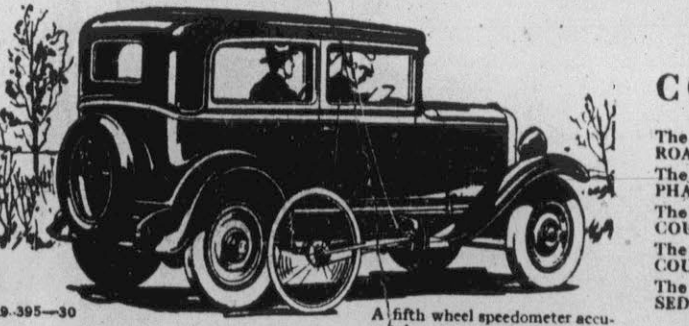

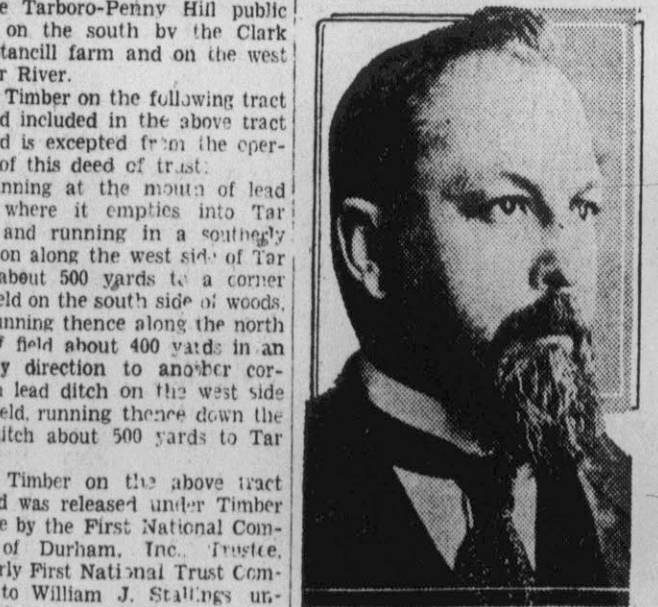

Table listing Chevrolet Six models and prices: The Roadster $525, The Phaeton $525, The Coupe $595, The Sport Coupe $645, The Sedan $675, The Imperial Sedan $695, The Sedan Delivery $595, The Light Delivery Chassis $400, The 1 1/2 Ton Chassis $545, The 1 1/2 Ton Chassis with Cab $650.

LOCAL GRID TEAMS SPLIT PLAY FRIDAY

The Greenville High school football team traveled Elizabeth City yesterday afternoon to bow before a larger and faster aggregation of Citizens, emerging on the wrong side of the ledger of a 44-0 account.

Elizabeth City made most of her long gains with the aid of particularly fleet back, counting some on off-tackle plays, and puzzling the Greenville backfield with several short passes, just over the line of scrimmage, for short, but almost certain gains. The defensive work of Wilson was outstanding for the Greenville club.

While their big brothers were in Elizabeth City, the Freshmen contested Winterville, 6-0. This was the first game of the season for both teams, and there occurred frequent fumbles. However, the game was hard fought, and interesting to spectators throughout. Greenville scored in the first quarter, when a fumble by a Winterville back gave the Freshmen the ball on the five yard line. Winterville held for two line back, and then Brewer slipped around life end on a fake line plunge. All thru the game, both sides threatened to score, when they were thrown back for comparatively large losses, or occasional fumbles. The Freshmen gained more than their heavier opponents by this kind of "break."

The most thrilling part of the game came in the final quarter, when Winterville held the ball on the Freshman five yard line. Here the Yellow Jacket defense stiffened, and the Freshmen took the ball on the 12 yard line, and punted to safety.

On the Greenville offensive, Jess Brewer made decidedly the largest gains, totalling 55 yards, on passes alone, and skirting the Winterville end for more, aided by good interference of all the rest of the Freshman backfield. On defense, Capt. Allen, Turnage, and Carrill featured, breaking up many plays. The game will be returned in Winterville at an early date, and both teams have enough hard work to look forward to, to clinch the victory.

Football Eye of East Fixed on the Big Three Today

By William J. Chapman, Associated Press Sports Writer. New York, Oct. 26.—The football eye of the East was fixed upon three ancient Gladiators today as Yale, Harvard and Princeton went forth to battle three somewhat better football teams. Yale faced the Army, Princeton deployed against the Navy and Harvard set itself to meet a charge by Dartmouth. Only Harvard, last remaining hope of the big three for an undefeated representative in the 1929 play, was believed to upset the dope.

Harvard's main task was to check Al Marsters, who swept like a whirlwind through the arms of Columbia tacklers last week. Yale has the double task of halting Cagle's sweeps and passes, and Murrell's line smashes, itself depending upon an undeveloped offence not yet mastered.

The only hope of Princeton apparently is Roper inspiration, which has been known to work a change for the better in previous Princeton eleven.

Carnegie Tech deployed against Notre Dame on the Pittsburgh front with the Irish favored to chip the string of the plaid at Two Straight Holy Cross was no such favorite over Marquette, which went to the battle of Worcester about as well equipped as the Purple. Penn State had an edge over Lafayette in a game which rated as a come-back effort for both.

Red Tornadoes Win for Ayden

The Ayden High School F. I. Tornadoes defeated the Vanceboro High's yesterday afternoon by the tune of 27 to 0. Ayden started the scoring early in the game, making 21 points in the first half, and making their last tally in the third period. The Vanceboro team put a game fight, but they were unable to reach the goal line. The Tornadoes started their subs in after the first period and at the end of the game, they had almost had their record string in action.

Ayden had made a splendid showing this year, losing one game, tying one, and winning seven. This is the last game until the class "B" championship starts. This will get underway some time soon.

Woman Jumper Sets New Record

Seoul, Korea, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Miss Kinuye Hitomi, Japanese Olympic athlete, beat her own world's record for the running broad jump for women today, clearing twenty feet, two and a quarter inches.

Miss Hitomi's latest performance exceeds by three and three-quarter inches her record breaking leap of five days ago. It is the latest in a remarkable series of recent feats which have enabled to the Japanese marvel to lower the world's record for her six in the 100 meter and sixty meter sprints as well as the running broad jump.

TULANE WILL TAKE TO AIR AGAINST TECH

By DILLON L. GRAHAM, Associated Press Staff Writer. Atlanta, Oct. 24.—(AP)—It's no secret down at Tulane that Coach Bernie Bierman plans to take to the air Saturday in an attempt to stop the Georgia Tech Tornado threat and keep his Greenies in the conference championship chase.

Tech conquered the Florida Alligators last week with some well directed forward passes and Bierman is determined that of the contest is to be a battle of the sky his gridders will not be caught napping. Realizing the potency of the Tornado heaves, the wily Tulane mentor also has been drilling his Green Wave in a defense which he hopes will stop Coach Alexander's machine.

With Billy Banker, Ike Armstrong and company in first class condition, Tulane is being accorded a fine chance of hurdling the crippled Atlanta eleven. Vance Marce strapping fullback, "Stumpy" Thompson, Werner Mizell's running mate at halfback, and Dour Graydon another half back, are numbered among the Techsters who probably will win the contest from the side lines.

Ward from Athens is that Coach Harry Mehre expects his Georgia Bulldogs to reach their peak in Jacksonville Saturday against Florida. Although a few minor injuries have been reported, the team that whipped Yale and made a last quarter rally to drub North Carolina, probably will put its strongest eleven onto the field against the Bachman outfit.

Meanwhile, down at Gainesville, substitutes were being groomed to fill gaps in the line caused by injuries to first string players. More than a half dozen gridders, hurt in the Tech clash, will be unable to play against Georgia.

Tennessee, hailed as probable champions as a result of their great victory over Alabama last week, was pointing for the Washington and Lee clash at Roanoke. Both the Volunteers and the Generals will enter the battle shy the services of several stars.

Winners in five games and leading the south in scoring, Clemson was a favorite to beat South Carolina in their annual state fair battle at Columbia this afternoon.

Deny Charges of Professionalism At the University

Chapel Hill, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Although lacking an official copy of the report of the Carnegie Foundation's survey into college athletics, alumni, student body and friends of the University of North Carolina today had before them a statement from athletic officials and university officials.

The statements were made after a survey of Associated Press reports of the Foundation's findings and been carefully studied. Professor A. W. Hobbs, chairman of the University Athletic Council said: "Professor Hobbs stated that the investigators had visited the University on several occasions, and he received co-operation from officials of the school. The head of the athletic council said, 'If there is any professionalism in athletics at the University of North Carolina, I don't know of it.'"

President Harry W. Chase, Robert Fetzer, director of athletics, and Charles T. Woolen, graduate manager of athletics, all voiced similar expressions.

UNDEFEATED TEAMS SWING INTO ACTION

By DILLON L. GRAHAM, Associated Press Staff Writer. Atlanta, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Three football machines, undefeated within the conference, swing into action on widespread battle fronts through out the south today in crucial struggles which are expected to have a distinct bearing on the conference leadership.

In addition there are five inter-sectional games and a score of minor engagements. But the spotlights will be turned toward New Orleans, Jacksonville and Roanoke. In the Louisiana city, the mighty Green Wave of Tulane, with Billy Banker and Ike Armstrong running at top speed, is a slight favorite to turn back the Tornado threat offered by the crippled Georgia Tech team.

Down at Jacksonville the Florida Alligators will endeavor to atone for their defeat at the hands of Georgia Tech last week by walloping the Georgia Bulldogs and in Roanoke, Washington and Lee was set to blast Tennessee's championship aspirations. However, the Bulldogs and Volunteers were pre-game choices.

Virginia Poly makes its conference bow against North Carolina. Alabama plays Sewanee and Virginia Military tackles Maryland in games that have no bearing on the title chase.

Three conference elevens charge into foreign fields. North Carolina State invades East Lansing to play Michigan State, Duke travels to Philadelphia for a game with Villanova and Ole Miss goes west to meet Southern Methodist at Dallas. Oglethorpe entertains Dayton College in Atlanta and Loyola of New Orleans meets Detroit University in the Michigan capital city.

Other teams have breathers on the schedule. Virginia plays St. John's of Annapolis, Vanderbilt meets Maryville, Kentucky attacks Centre and Auburn encounters Howard.

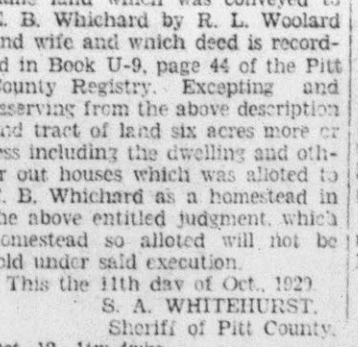

In yesterday's games Louisiana State continued its victorious march by trampling Louisiana Poly 53 to 7, while Georgetown of Kentucky came out a 12 to 6 win over Transylvania.

NOTICE OF EXECUTIVE SALE

North Carolina, Pitt County. In Superior Court. Greenville Banking and Trust Company, Receiver of the Planters Bank vs. E. B. Whichard. By virtue of an execution directed to the undersigned from the Superior Court of Pitt County in the above entitled action, I will on Monday the eleventh day of November, 1929, at 1 o'clock p. m., at the Court House door in Greenville, N. C., sell to the highest bidder for cash to satisfy said execution, all of the right title and interest which E. B. Whichard, defendant, has in the following described land, to-wit: Lying and being in Carolina Township, Pitt County, N. C., and beginning at a stake in the Langley line, R. L. Woolard and J. H. Robinson's corner, more or less, with J. H. Robinson's line North 41 degrees East to the run of Barry Swamp; thence up the run of said Swamp to H. S. Congleton's corner, a gum; thence with the said Congleton line South 39 degrees West 256 poles to a bay stump; thence South 38 degrees East 32 poles to the beginning, containing 12 acres more or less. It being the same land which was conveyed to E. B. Whichard by R. L. Woolard and wife and which deed is recorded in Book U-9, page 44 of the Pitt County Registry. Excepting and reserving from the above description and tract of land six acres more or less including the dwelling and other our houses which was allotted to E. B. Whichard as a homestead in the above entitled judgment, which homestead so allotted will not be sold under said execution.

This 11th day of Oct. 1929. S. A. WHITEHURST, Sheriff of Pitt County. Oct. 12-11w-4wks.

THREE CHAMP GAMES SET FOR CAROLINAS

By Associated Press. With four teams on the "inactive list," and four others having played earlier in the week, the football decks today were cleared for three state championship battles in North and South Carolina, and one game which brings elevens from Virginia and North Carolina against each other.

Davidson and Wake Forest will play their state title contest in Greensboro; with Furman and Wofford fighting for state rights in South Carolina, and the Citadel and Presbyterian doing likewise on the Charleston gridiron. Furman and Wofford played in Spartanburg.

University of North Carolina and Virginia are down for a southern conference tussle at Chapel Hill, a game that means a lot to each team in its fight for recognition in the southern conference. High Point and Lehigh-Rhyne are to play a game of lesser importance in Lexington, but a clash that promises to be a hard-fought one.

While North and South Carolina fans will be entertained by teams in their respective states, two other North Carolina elevens will be entertaining gridiron enthusiasts in widely separated sections of the country. Duke University will play Wake Forest at Philadelphia, and North Carolina State tackles the Michigan Aggies at East Lansing, Mich.

Erskine College's Seceders had a romp with the Guilford Quakers in their west yesterday, Erskine winning by a 45 to 6 score. Clemson College and University of South Carolina are out of the picture today, having staged their annual struggle in Columbia last Thursday, the Tigers winning 21 to 14 in a manual battle.

Leon Newberry, Catawba, and Atlantic Christian are other teams that have an "open date" today.

Outstanding Merit . . . And That Alone Could Earn Such Growing Preference

Demand for Oldsmobile motor cars shows a 32 per cent increase over 1928. And that on top of an equally substantial gain in sales the previous year. So reads the story of Oldsmobile popularity. And the interesting thing about that story is not alone that Oldsmobile's success has been so spectacular—but also that this growth has been so consistent, month after month.

Such growing preference points directly to the outstanding merit of this fine automobile. Outstanding merit is the verdict of a motor-wise public. Outstanding merit is the reason for the enthusiasm of an ever-increasing body of thoroughly satisfied owners. Outstanding merit is self-evident upon examination of the car and comparison with its field.

This definite goodness has its roots deep in Oldsmobile's famous "policy pledged to progress." That policy is founded on the bed-rock of sound, progressive engineering. It embraces a quality of manufacture so painstaking and precise that the watchword of every worker is, "Anything short of my best is not acceptable." It comprises strict observance of the truth in advertising and selling. It extends to the sincere, interested service of Oldsmobile cars in the hands of owners.

Oldsmobile is a fine car because Olds Motor Works is determined to build fine cars. Oldsmobile continues to win ever-growing preference throughout America because overwhelming public preference is the inevitable reward of such outstanding merit.

COTTON MARKET

New York, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at a decline of 2 to 4 points with active markets showing net losses of 4 to 7 points during the early trading under some southern and local selling promoted by relatively easy cables from Liverpool and a favorable view of the weather news.

December sold off to 18.16 and March 18.56 under the initial pressure, but the offerings were not large and were well enough taken by further trade buying or covering to give the market a steady undertone. Prices at the end of the first half hour were two or three points up from the lowest.

Private cables reported Bombay buying and trade calling supplied by liquidation in the Liverpool market.

Cotton on shipboard awaiting clearance was estimated at 265,000 bales against 168,000 last year.

GRAIN MARKET

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN, Associated Press Market Editor, Chicago, Oct. 26.—Huge buying of North American wheat for shipment to Europe, about 5,000,000 bushels in the last 48 hours, sent wheat values soaring today. Special attention on the part of wheat traders was also given to President Hoover's statement that the over-riding fact in the wheat market situation is that this year's world wheat harvest is estimated to be 500,000,000 bushels less than that of last year, and will result in a very low carry-over this season. Relatively little notice by wheat traders today was taken of stock market fluctuations.

Wheat closed firm, 1.5-8c to 23-8c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed 1-4 to 11-4c down and oats unchanged. Provisions unchanged to a setback of 2c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 26.—(AP)—A moderate, orderly decline in prices characterized trading on the New York stock exchange today. Calmness had returned to the market at the end of the wildest week ever experienced, but there was no disposition toward any resumption of competitive bidding for shares, and a steady stream of selling carried leading issues off to 1 to 10. The ticker fell only about 20 minutes behind the market, in contrast to the delay of hours on Thursday, and considerably more than an hour yesterday.

The great accumulation of reassuring statements by leaders of business and finance as to the fundamental soundness of conditions, capped last night by a statement by President Hoover, had tended to quiet the market considerably but many traders who had suffered a severe strain while hanging on to their stocks during the week had lost their appetite for speculation and decided to unload themselves of their holdings and have a peaceful week-end.

Furthermore, definite indications that banking support which came into the market late Thursday and yesterday has no other interest than stabilizing prices made the prospect of any immediate discouraging also, the fact that much stock bought for support purpose will be unloaded on advances, and tend to hold stocks stationary, caused many traders to lose interest in the market for the time being.

Business news was fairly encouraging. The week-end trade review stated that there had been some falling off in retail trade, but attributed it largely to unsatisfactory weather conditions. While fears have been expressed that the break in the market may have impaired public purchasing power, the head of the largest mail order house said his firm was preparing for record-breaking holiday trade. Further railway earnings statements for September were fairly satisfactory. Widely accredited reports that large banking interests are pushing plans for another large food merger were also encouraging as indicating that these interests are definitely acting on the expressed conviction that financial conditions have been stabilized.

At the opening of the market, there was a wide assortment of gains of 1 to 5 points. The threshold jumped 14 1/2 and Hershey almost 10. The latter being reported

Proliferate Writer

New York.—The first hundred books are the hardest for an author. After that it is easy. This on the authority of Edgar Wallace, British writer of mystery stories, who is visiting us. His output now totals about 140; and he did not begin until past 40, the age when James Branch Cabell says an author is played out.

SAMPSON COMPILED FOR FACE TRIAL IN FEBRUARY

Raleigh, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Facing trial at the February term of Sampson Superior court, seven men, including two members of the Sampson Highway Commission, are expected to post bonds until their cases are called. Solicitor J. A. Powers announced last night.

The men were indicted yesterday by the grand jury as a result of the fatal burning on August 22 of two prisoners on a truck, which also carried dynamite, according to information received here by Mrs. Kate Burr Johnson, commissioner of public welfare.

HIT 'EM AGAIN WOMAN DRIVER FINED BY COURT

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 25.—(AP)—Miss Pauline Stasiak probably could be described as a hit-'em-again driver; a hit-and-run-and-hit-'em-again driver, to be real hyperbatic.

Judge Porter, in finding her $75 yesterday, said worse than that. He said that as a driver she was a "menace to the community," and told her to stop driving until she learned how.

Peter Pennacchia was the complaining witness. He said Miss Stasiak smashed into his machine at a street intersection, backed away, turned around, and disappeared.

"So," said Peter Pennacchia, "I went to the garage and got my other car. A fellow's got to have two or three cars nowadays with so many careless drivers at large. I started out again. I stopped for a light. Crash, bang. She hit me again. Same girl, same car."

Humbert Engagement Regular Love-Match

Brussels, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The engagement of Humbert, Prince of Piedmont, the Italian heir, and Princess Marie Jose of Belgium today was described as a love-match by Belgian journalists in close touch with the situation. He wrote the following:

"The present ruler of Belgium decided to allow his children to be happy just like children of more modest descent.

"In complete agreement with Queen Elizabeth he put no obstacle in the way of Prince Leopold's love for the Princess Astrid of Sweden, and gave his daughter full liberty to choose for her husband the only man she had considered for years would be able to make her happy.

"For, far from being ambitious and looking out for a throne, Princess Marie Jose is seeking just plain happiness. Those who know her noble sentiments and genuine candor know that had she to choose between the throne and happiness she would not have hesitated to choose the latter."

Woman Suicides As Result Failure of Cop to Return Love

Chicago, Oct. 26.—(AP)—Since October 18 lights had burned night and day in the apartment of Mrs. Eva Waddington Greeley—she who called herself a countess. For a week mail had accumulated in the hallway mail box.

Neighbors investigated yesterday and found Mrs. Greeley dead. Beside her was a pistol that belonged to Policeman John Maier, 29—and there was a farewell note to him.

Mrs. Greeley killed herself, she wrote Maier, "because you cast me so brutally out of your life."

"Since you could not love me living," she wrote, "think of me kindly when I am gone."

Maier, who is known as "The Handsome Cop," of the Rogers Park station, said he had known the "countess" a month. Maier is married but has been living apart from his wife. He said he called on Mrs. Greeley several times, the last time being October 11. When they went to a picture show he left the pistol. He never returned for it.

Mrs. Greeley was the widow of a British army officer who was killed during the world war. She claimed her husband inherited the title of count from his father.

The British pedigree shows no such title as Mrs. Greeley claimed.

GOLDSBORO DOCTOR TO BE BURIED AT WINONA

Goldsboro, Oct. 26.—(AP)—After funeral services here this afternoon the body of Dr. W. G. Byrd, 55, member of the staff of the state hospital for the colored insane here, will be taken to Winona, Miss. Dr. Byrd died suddenly yesterday after a heart attack.

The physician served overseas in the world war as a captain in the medical corps and was severely gassed in the last advance of the American army. He had never fully recovered.

Dr. Byrd came to North Carolina from Mississippi two years ago.

HIGH POINT MAN HEADS DISTRICT EDUCATION ASSO.

Greensboro, Oct. 26.—(AP)—L. R. Johnson, of High Point, has been elected chairman of the Northwest District, North Carolina Education Association, and High Point will be the next meeting place, 1400 teachers having honored Mr. Johnson and his town at the closing sessions of their one-day conference last night.

W. T. Lonz, of Yadkinville, was named vice-chairman and Miss Bess Meredith, of Mount Airy, was named secretary. Three general programs were held, with Miss Nellie Fleming, district chairman, presiding and 18 departmental meetings supplemented the general sessions.

Gets Rink on Drawings

New York.—Once upon a time Miss Georgia O'Keefe was a teacher of drawing in the public schools of Amarillo, Texas. She sent charcoal drawings of flowers to a gallery, who took them to an art gallery. Now her output is such a rage that she was paid $25,000 for five drawings of lilies. And she is now Mrs. Alfred Stieglitz, the wife of her discoverer.

Two Years For Killing Hubby

San Francisco.—Having killed her husband with a flatiron, Mrs. Grace Carroll, 50, must spend two years in the county jail.

Sen. Caraway Condemns Bingham's Relations With Manufacturers Association

Washington, Oct. 26.—(AP)—The relations between Senator Bingham, republican, Connecticut, and the Connecticut Manufacturers Association were condemned before the Senate today by Chairman Caraway of the lobby committee as "tending to shake the confidence of the American public in the integrity of legislation."

Caraway made his statement after presenting a report to the Senate from the committee detailing circumstances of the "loan" by the Connecticut Manufacturers Association of Charles L. Eyanston to Senator Bingham in his work on the finance committee in framing the tariff bill.

"In view of the extraordinary circumstances attending this transaction," the Arkansas senator said "it was felt by the committee that it was its duty to call to the attention of the Senate immediately the information obtained.

"It seemed to the committee that the transaction was beneath the dignity of the Senate and that it would tend to shake the confidence of the American public in the integrity of the legislation."

Caraway also disclosed for the first time that the committee had reason to believe Bingham was first approached by the association regarding the records show Bingham had asked for a "loan" of a man.

A resolution proposed by Caraway calling on the Department of Commerce to report all dollar-a-year men on its payroll was accepted without discussion.

Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, said one of the employees of the Connecticut Manufacturers Association, Joseph E. Wulchert, testified he was a dollar-a-year man.

Motion to Dismiss Lavarre Suit Will Be Heard Nov. 5

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 26.—(AP)—Federal Judge J. Lyles Glenn has set November 5 as the date on which he will hand down a decision on the motion to dismiss the $2,500,000 suit involving William LaVarre, the International Paper and Power company, the jurat announcing the postponement of the decision yesterday.

LaVarre is suing for $2,500,000 which he claims was promised to him in loans. The hearing which was begun Wednesday and resumed yesterday, grew out of attachment proceedings by LaVarre against the South Carolina Timber company, which the latter contends is controlled by the International Paper and Power company.

Judge Glenn limited argument to three hours, and the paper company's counsel argued improper service of papers on D. H. Hanley, vice-president of the timber company. The jurat indicated that South Carolina attachment laws likely would decide the issue eventually. He said he would consider no more verbal arguments, but would review written arguments that might be presented by LaVarre's attorneys Lavarre and Harold Hall operate several South Carolina papers.

Snappy Comeback

New York.—There has been a snappy comeback from Mayor Walker to campaign criticism of his nifty togethery. "I just don't believe in the policy of walking up one flight and saving $10," he said. "When I look my adversaries over I think some of them would walk to the top of the Woolworth building."
