Atheists Declare War on Religion

Moscow, Oct. 28.—(AP)—A further campaign against religion was pronounced by 700 delegates attending the first Moscow Provincial Congress of Atheists which opened here today.
Among those elected honorary members were Madam Lenin, Stalin, Voroshilov, Kallinin, Motoloff and Kulishev.
Declaring that religionists are becoming more active and that 42 per cent of the workers in Moscow trade unions are religious, M. Yarspavsky, head of the militant Atheist society of the Soviet union, urged the delegates to redouble their efforts to kill religion. He declared that the institute of Red professors was not being sufficiently active in the struggle against the church.

LIQUOR MAKER AND BIG STILL TAKEN IN PITT

Twenty-Five Gallons of Liquor Also Captured in Raid in Belvoir Section

A negro distiller, a still, 25 gallons of whiskey, two vats and 15 barrels of beer were captured by officers of the sheriff's department in a raid in Belvoir township, according to information given out this morning. The negro is Dorsey Sauer. He was being held today awaiting preliminary hearing on a charge of manufacturing whiskey.

There were two other distillers at the plant but they succeeded in escaping after being pursued quite a distance by the officers. The still was operating at full blast, and the 25 gallons of whiskey taken by the officers had just been run prior to the raid.
The capture was one of the most important since the raid made by the county officers in this section over a month ago. The still was a copper one, with a capacity of 60 gallons, and was believed to have been in operation over a period of several weeks or more.
Only two deputies took part in the raid. The equipment was brought back to Greenville and put in the confiscated whiskey cell at the county jail.

Bingham Strikes Back At His Accusers in Senate; Says Lobby Probe Unfair

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Striking back at his accusers, Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, contended in the Senate today the Lobby Investigating committee was "unfair" and had used "poison court methods" in examining him regarding his employment of an officer of the Connecticut Manufacturers association to assist him in tariff matters.
The Connecticut Senator asserted the committee was "framed against a friend of the administration."
He said one member of the committee had used a member of the capitol police force as a chauffeur to drive him home while the policeman was still drawing government pay.
Senator Blaine, Republican, Wis., a member of the committee leaped to his feet and insisted that Bingham name the Senator.
"It was the Senator from Wisconsin," Bingham replied.
"I'll reply in my turn," Blaine shouted as Bingham continued his speech.
Referring to the Senate speech Saturday by Chairman Caraway of the Lobby committee, Bingham said Caraway had attacked him and the Connecticut association "by innuendo, by torturing and twisting of evidence and occasionally by misstatements which were corrected later only by expressions of doubt as to their veracity."
Caraway had argued employment by Bingham of a paid representative of the association was beneath the dignity of the Senate.
"I was so amazed by the speech that I was in doubt whether to reply," Bingham said. "I feel now that a reply is due me, due my constituents and due to the Manufacturers' association."
"I had not supposed there was so much unfairness in a group of Senators."
"I had not supposed that for political purposes, in order to damage a New England Senator and a friend of the administration that they would go as far as they did. I was asked one question several

STOCK PRICES BREAK AGAIN AT NEW YORK

Many Leading Issues Selling Below Last Thursday's Record-Breaking Prices

New York, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Wall Street was thrown into turmoil again today by another disastrous break in stock prices, which carried scores of issues down $5 to $45 a share, many of them below the low levels reached in last Thursday's record-breaking session. Prices slid off steadily from the opening with the ticker falling steadily behind until it was nearly an hour late around the end of the third hour. Total sales crossed the 3,000,000 share mark before mid-day, with indications that the day's total would run over 8,000,000 shares.

General Electric broke $29.50 a share and American Telephone, Westinghouse Electric, Pacific Gas, Eastman Kodak, International Business Machines, Allied Chemical, and National Biscuit sold down $10 to $20 a share.

United States Steel common, which broke to $193.50 and rallied to $206 on Thursday, sold down more than $5 a share below last week's final quotation to around $198 a share. Union Carbide, Sears Roebuck, Simmons Co., New York Central, Erie, Johns Manville, American Water Works, International Telephone and American Tobacco B were among the many issues to sell down $5 to $10 a share. On the New York Curb market, Citicorp, which recently established a new high record at $68.12, broke $16.50 a share to $30, which contrasts with the $22.12 and a recent offering price of new stock at $60 a share. Electric Investors fell $16.87 a share and Electric bond & share $9.12.

Today's break coming on the heels of a report that a powerful banking pool had been organized last week to support the market, caused consternation among thousands of speculators who had held on in the belief that the worst was over.

Over Two Million Pounds Of Tobacco in City Today; Price Situation Is Firm

The Greenville tobacco market was figuratively "snowed under" today with what was generally termed as the largest sale in history.

An official report of K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales, issued this morning shortly after sales got under way, indicated that there was between 2,250,000 and 2,500,000 pounds of bright leaf on the floors of the nine war-houses. This will result in one of the most pronounced blocks in history of the market, and employees of both warehouses and factories were working feverishly in an effort to clear away the tremendous offerings as fast as the auctioneers completed selling.

The sale today was in striking contrast to the opening days of the market when offerings hovered around the 500,000 and 600,000 pounds mark each day. There have been a few million

WILL COMBAT TARIFF WITH LOBBY REPORT

Opponents of Pending Measure to Introduce Caraway's Findings in Senate

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—In-termittent reports from the Caraway lobby investigating committee on the efforts of organizations and individuals to influence tariff legislation are expected to be used by opponents of the pending measure in combatting it on the floor of the Senate.

Resuming hearings tomorrow, Chairman Caraway plans to go thoroughly into the extra-official controversy that has surrounded the tariff issue before making up any other division of his general inquiry. From time to time, he intends to submit reports to the Senate as each phase of the investigation is completed, just as he did in the case of Senator Bingham of Connecticut, and his employment of an official of the Connecticut Manufacturers' Association to advise him on tariff questions.

Already there are indications that the Bingham report, which aroused several Senators to a severe denunciation of the incident, will be used as a major argument in a general attack on the industrial rate schedules of the tariff measure.
In the face of criticism already on the record and more expected in the near future, Bingham has maintained a consistent silence on the episode since he appeared before the committee to give his version of the case.

SEVEN KILLED WHEN ENGLISH PLANE WRECKS

Indian Airliner, City of Rome, is Lost in Heavy Gale Off Genoa, Italy

Croydon, Eng., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Disaster has overtaken planes of the Imperial Airways for the second time in a little more than four months, this time, as before, claiming seven lives as its toll.

An airways announcement today said the company's Indian Airliner, City of Rome, was lost in a gale Saturday off Genoa, and its crew of three and four passengers, one of whom was a woman, drowned.

The announcement said the plane met tempestuous weather near Leghorn after leaving Naples, with wind 70 miles an hour, it sent out and S. O. S. and landed near Spezia.
The Italian steamer Famiglia from Genoa responded to the distress call and got three ropes aboard for towing. After about an hour the high seas snapped the hawsers. The steamer put into Spezia for further assistance upon returning was unable to find the airplane.

Since then destroyers and aircraft searched the spot but found nothing and it was concluded all were drowned. On June 17 seven lives were lost when the company's City of Ottawa plunged into the water while flying over the English channel.

The plane was a big three-motored craft capable of carrying 15 passengers. The airmail service to last month.

Genoa, Italy, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Two bodies, those of the pilot and a passenger, of the City of Rome, Imperial Airways plane which was lost near Spezia Saturday have been recovered.
The wreck of the plane is believed to have taken place Saturday night resulting in the deaths of seven aboard including a woman.
The steamer Famiglia sighted the plane which had landed because of fog and took it in tow in a point ten miles southwest of Tino Island. As night fell the weather grew worse and the Famiglia's towline broke. Finally the Famiglia lost touch with the plane and decided to make for Spezia where the authorities arranged rescue measures sending three destroyers, torpedoboats, and auxiliary and hydro-airplanes.

Communists Clash With London Police In Effort To Protest Gastonia Trial

London, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Communists and London police fought for more than a half-hour outside the American embassy last night when several hundred paraders attempted to present a resolution of protest at the Gastonia, N. C., textile workers' trials.

The parade of Communists, formed at Trafalgar Square, and moved toward the American embassy until their way was barred by a cordon of police who informed the leaders they could not be received at the embassy.
Free-for-all fighting ensued in the course of which the paraders smashed windows of passing vehicles and involved innocent passers-by. The clash was halted only after mounted police had administered severe clubbings and arrested a number of the participants.

Criminal Court Begins Sitting In Greenville

A one week's term of Pitt County Superior court for the trial of criminal cases convened in this city this morning with Judge Garland Midyette, of Jackson presiding.

PANTAGES IS CONVICTED AT LOS ANEGLES

Theatrical Magnate Found Guilty of Attacking 17-Year-Old Dancer

Los Angeles, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Alexander Pantages, theatrical magnate whose fortune of millions grew from a stake in the Klondike gold rush, today faced a prison sentence of from one to fifty years following his conviction on a statutory charge by a superior court jury here last night. The verdict will be appealed, defense attorneys announced.

Pantages, who is 54 years old, was found guilty of attacking Eunice Prince, 17-year-old dancer, when the girl went to his offices to book for a vaudeville skit on the theatrical circuit.
The jury of seven women and five men deliberated 21 hours, but from the first ballot agreed that Pantages was guilty. The delay in returning the verdict was occasioned by the jury's inability to agree whether Pantages should be sentenced to one year in the county jail or from one to fifty years in the penitentiary.

The twelve finally agreed on the longer sentence at 9:29 o'clock last night.
Pantages at once became prisoner number 119,251 in Los Angeles county jail, pending formal pronouncement of sentence Friday morning by Superior Judge Charles Fricks, who presided at his trial.
The vaudeville impresario, who recently sold several of his western theatres for $150,000, took his conviction socially, and declared: "I'm going to fight it out."

Eureka, Utah, Oct. 28.—(AP)—After ten years of life as a respected citizen of this community, Gastave Kahl was dead today, branded by suicide and the inexorable machinery of the law as a fugitive murderer. Kahl shot himself because of impending discovery of the fact that he escaped in 1916 from San Quentin prison where he was serving a term for second degree murder.

Kahl's body was found yesterday in a deserted cabin 17 miles from here after a two-day search. A pistol frozen in his hand and a bullet hole through his head told the story. He had been dead several hours. Kahl was known here as August Braum.

All Italy Works After Observing March on Rome

Rome, Oct. 28.—(AP)—All Italy worked today, the seventh anniversary of the Fascist march on Rome. Actual celebration took place yesterday, after an order by Premier Mussolini who disliked an extra holiday.

The day was celebrated with parades and bell-rings over all Italy, with speeches an inauguration of many new works and improvements, many centering around the personality of "Il Duce" himself.

The premier in a speech at Venezia palace told thousands of Blackshirts "massed in front of the building: "After seven years we are younger, stronger and more impenetrable than ever before."
The speech was interrupted several times by shouts of "Death to political exiles," a reference to the attempt against the life of Crown Prince Humbert at Brussels last Thursday by an Italian who has been living in Paris.

The premier told the 50,000 or more of his audience he did not promise easy times ahead, and that the situation was difficult not only for Italy but for all Europe and the world.

He said he rejoiced however, that Italy today is really as he wished it, an army of citizens and soldiers ready for works of peace."

THE LUXURY HUSBAND

SYNOPSIS: Barbara and Ray have separated, forced apart by the barrier of fortune and social position—and Henderson returns from Boston. Ray joins the Golden Symphony Eight, masked mystery band of Broadway's latest and most successful night club, The Golden Dollar. Hopelessly unhappy and lonely for Barbara, Ray finds some solace in the applause for his jazz compositions, which are being tried out at the night club. One night Ray receives a pleasant surprise. Rita Gilmore, dancer and most attractive of the club's entertainers, asks him to have supper with her.

RITA GILMORE

Miss Gilmore and Ray were sitting at a white-topped table in a restaurant near the club. As Ray gave the order he wondered what this girl could want with him. What was her purpose in bringing him here?

"I guess you thought it was nifty of me to speak to you the way I did," she remarked presently.

"Fact is, I was asking Mr. Foster the name of that tune you boys were playing tonight, the one with a sob in it. He said it was 'The Grievin' Blues,' and that you had written it. I want you to let me try it out as a special when we change our bill next week."

Ray's heart leapt. So she thought it good enough to use as a special!

"Why, I'd—I'd be delighted..." She smiled at him; her teeth were very white and dazzling.

"Dandy of you, Mr. Lowther. Might I ask if it's been published?"

"No, worse luck. Can't say that publishers have swamped me with offers exactly."

"Oh, but they will," she promised. "I know sure-fire stuff when I hear it. I sang 'She's My Broadway Cutie' when all the smarties were turning up their noses at it. Now look at it, the mainstay of more than one show that would flop without it. If your 'Grievin' Blues' catches on next week I guess I can get it published. I know several fellows in the business—been mixed up with their crowd most ever since I've been here."

"You're not a New Yorker, then?"

"She laughed with naive pleasure. 'Didn't you know that original New Yorkers are a species of individuals fast becoming extinct? I'm a hick, like most everybody else in this town. But I got away with it—the Broadway stuff—don't you think so?'"

"I'll say you do. I thought you were enough of a New Yorker to have been born in the Bronx. Might I ask how long you've been here?"

"Certainly—but it's foolishness to expect the truth. But I'll tell you. Five years—just I got away with twenty. I came from a small middle-western town, crazy with the notion of making a quick jump to fame through the movies. All I got in that line was a test. The scene they gave me was that sappy you could have wrung it out. They shot me making love grimaces at a blank piece of cardboard. You should have been that test! That decided me to go into the song and dance business."

She laughed with a touch of derision.

"Come on, we'd best be going. I can't afford to lose the couple hours' sleep I do get."

As she spoke she opened a jeweled bag that hung on her finger and, raising her powdered nose, she rose to her feet.

Reaching the street, she was just in time to catch Ray signalling a taxi.

"What's all this about? Didn't know I was stepping out with a millionaire. I only live a few blocks from here."

Broadway, at four that morning, seemed to Ray like a sleepy kitten stretching its claws after a short but refreshing nap. As they walked Rita chattered on gaily, about herself mostly, a subject which frankly intrigued her. At the door of her apartment Ray bid her goodnight by taking her hand.

"It's settled then that I'm to sing the 'Grievin' Blues'? If you come round early to the club tomorrow night we'll try it out."

Ray grinned—his old boyish grin that somehow he had forgotten of late, and as he walked homewards he found himself whistling for the first time in months.

A friendship begun in such an unconventional manner is bound to do one of two things—either to progress rapidly or stop dead after the preliminary try-out. Theirs went ahead like a smoldering haystack.

Ray discovered he had been lonely for feminine companionship. This loneliness had demonstrated itself in a growing lack of enthusiasm for his composing. But now he found a new pep infusing itself into his work and he would look forward eagerly to the moment when he could play over to Rita some melody that he had been working on during the day.

"Dandy of you to give me so much of your time," Ray once remarked. "There must be crowds of fellows who would gladly treat you to the Plaza if you gave them half a chance."

"Sure there are," retorted Rita—she never had suffered from a lack of conceit—but I never knew but one rich man I could take to and he isn't in town now. Pete Anheims's name. He originated in my home town and has made a fortune out of floor lamps. Now he's interested in the theatrical business. I tell him he might as well lose his money in that way as in any other. Next time he's in town I'll see that Ray thanked her and they continued their meal. The more he saw of Rita the better he liked her. Later, when they were alone, her cultivated Broadway manner had been falling from her. He found that beneath her apparently sophisticated lurked a refreshing naivete.

On the night she was to try out the "Grievin' Blues" in public Rita was more nervous than she had ever been before. Waiting for the call in the narrow stuffy dressing room, she pranced about in a high state of tension, behaving in a manner totally foreign to her.

But once in the center of the dance floor, she regained her composure—even so far as to turn towards the orchestra and deliberately catch Ray's eye. A smile of mutual encouragement passed between them.

Then she started singing:

"I could not believe
That I could ever grieve
Until I got those grievin' grievin'
Cause Ben leaving blues."
"Rita's sure hitting them tonight. Better than I've ever seen her," remarked Ben, the floor manager, as you meet him."

And he was right. Rita threw all her art into making that song a success and if any one knew how to get at the heart of a New York audience she did—combining pep with sob stuff in a way that never failed to put her number across.

She came to those lines:
"Wind—wind—blow my grievin' blues away.
Wind—wind—blow my sweetie back to stay."

You could almost hear the wind whistling through the tables. Afterwards she danced. She was like a packet of fire crackers to which some one had suddenly lighted a fuse! The floor might have been red hot beneath her feet, for her silver sandals seemed scarcely to touch it.

The audience stopped talking to watch her. Even the clatter of dishes seemed miraculously to have died.

The applause at the conclusion was gratifying to say the least of it. She found herself bowing and bowing again; tears in her eyes, laughter on her lips. Suddenly, on a happy impulse, she sprang onto the platform and seizing Ray by the hand she pulled him right to the front of the stage.

That got them just the right touch of sentiment and the applause intensified. Finally, to pacify them, she had to sing it again, and it was during this that Barbara, accompanied by Henderson, started to descend the steps that led to the supper room.

Barbara makes a drastic resolve in tomorrow's chapter.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

An Institution That Builds Prosperity

All the active funds of our Association are lent out on real estate first mortgages for home building.

Undoubtedly one of the most constructive ways to put money into circulation and to keep it working right here in our community.

A great help to the individual who aspires to home ownership.

A powerful feeder to the prosperity and welfare of this community since home building means activity in the building trade, work for the worker and business for the host of industries that sell and produce materials going into the home.

All conducted under a plan that insures maximum safety to those who invest their savings here.

This Association during the last three years has financed the building and remodeling of 223 homes in Greenville.

We Have Been Asked Numbers of Times, Why We Changed From the Serial Building and Loan Plan, to the Running Stock. We could Not Enumerate All the Advantages That Prompted Our Change. We Will Endeavor to State a Few:

- 1—You can purchase stock any time during the year. Our stock is on sale every day.
- 2—We charge no withdrawal fees on stock withdrawn.
- 3—We charge no fines.
- 4—You pay once a month instead of every four weeks.
- 5—We pay 5 per cent interest compounded semi-annually and credit same to your account.
- 6—You can withdraw all installments paid in by you plus your interest.
- 7—You may withdraw any part of your savings without paying interest on it.
- 8—Thirty shares or $3000.00 in stock will cost you $30.00 per month, you may pay $30.00, $50.00, $100.00 or as much as you like, we will pay interest on the total amount.
- 9—We will allow you 11 1-2 years to pay a mortgage loan, you may retire it however, as early as you like. A $5000.00 loan will cost you only $50.00 a month, including interest.
- 10—The payment paid in by you on a mortgage will be credited to your note every 6 months, thereby reducing your mortgage.
- 11—A schedule worked out by the Insurance Department of North Carolina shows interest on a mortgage loan from us costs only .033 per cent.
- 12—We know we can render a greater service to the people of this community, by offering the most practical, modern and flexible form of Building & Loan Stock ever sold in Eastern Carolina.

Space will not permit us to enumerate more of the advantages of the Running Stock. We will predict that 80 per cent of all associations in Eastern Carolina will be using the Running Stocks plan in two years.

this year. That is the policy elsewhere. It is the right policy. Those Texans who favor proscription are pursuing a course not calculated to insure Democratic victories in the future. There were Democrats in 1896 who did not vote for Bryan. There were Democrats who did not vote for Wilson in 1916. Nobody tried to keep them out of the primaries two years afterward provided they were ready to give allegiance to the ticket nominated. That is good politics. Texas Democrats should open the door of primaries wide to all Democrats, not asking questions as to the past, looking only to the support of nominees in the future.—News and Observer.

ACHED ACROSS BACK AND SIDES Painful Effects of Constipation Relieved by Thedford's Black-Draught.

Louisville, Ky.—In telling how she was benefited by taking Thedford's Black-Draught, Mrs. J. O. Dickerson, of 528 North Seventeenth Street, this city, says that until about seven years ago she had been a sufferer from constipation.

"This usually brought on a dull, stupid headache," explains Mrs. Dickerson. "I ached all across my back and sides. I felt tired, even when I hadn't done any work."

"A friend of mine came to see me one day when I had the headache so badly, and told me to take some Black-Draught, which I did. It relieved me so much. I have never found anything that gave me so much relief."

"Now I take Black-Draught whenever I feel the least bad, and notice that I do not have the headache."

Thousands of others have written to tell how many disagreeable symptoms, due to constipation, have disappeared after they had taken Thedford's Black-Draught. In successful use nearly 100 years. Only 1 cent a dose. RA-201

ABOUT TOWN

"A million dollars is a tremendous pile of money, but that's what the Greenville tobacco market paid out to the farmers of this section last week," said a well known tobacco grower today, speaking of developments on the market here.

"The market has paid out some huge sums during the season, but this should have a tendency of putting right much money in circulation in this community, and offset some of the hard times we have heard on every side the last several weeks."

"The Greenville market has picked up sharply on both prices and volume during the past two weeks, and it may be we shall be able to reach the million dollar goal again during some of the big weeks between now and the Thanksgiving season."

"Those leased wire football reports which the Reflector receives every Saturday afternoon go to show how the news gathering industry has been speeded up," commended a reader of this paper, speaking of the rapidly with which the gridiron reports were handled in this office.

"The reports are only a fraction of a minute behind the radio. This has been proved by actual test, and indicates the speed with which the reports are handled from the gridiron sidelines. It is a revelation of speed, endurance and accuracy and indicates the power of the human brain over even the most unfavorable conditions."

"Greenville got walloped at the hands of the strong Elizabeth City aggregation, but that doesn't mean that we are out of the running by any means," declared a member of the High School football team today.

"The defeat has only tended to inspire the boys to greater effort and the next games will see more driving power in evidence in all departments of play. The boys are determined to come out at the end of the season with a good showing to their credit and are working hard with this end in view."

"If you haven't attended any games here this season, why not get busy and go out to see what the lads are doing? You will see a game well worth the money and have the consolation of knowing you are supporting the High School athletic body."

"I like to see criminal court open in Greenville," said a prominent business man this morning.

"Criminal terms always bring big crowds of people to the city and the court house square is a scene of the most intense activity when court is in session. Much interest is centered about the hearing of criminal cases, and especially those involving charges of murder. It is for this reason that people flock to Greenville from all parts of the county to listen to the evidence."

"The ten trials this week is an exceptionally interesting one because of the two hundred or more cases involved, and it may confidently be expected that the crowds this week will be larger than ever."

"Winners of the four automobiles in the Reflector subscription contest reflected their happiness in no uncertain terms when the names were announced last Saturday night," observed a merchant this morning.

"They had something to be happy over, too. The winning of an automobile after six weeks of labor is no small consideration and ought to bring happiness to almost anybody. Each of the cars represented the outlay of several hundreds of dollars, and are a splendid reward for the most diligent effort."

"The campaign was the most ambitious ever conducted by a newspaper in this immediate section of the state, and shows to what extent the Reflector is reaching out in its effort to keep pace with the rapid development of the thriving community."

"I am glad to note that diphtheria is on a decrease in North Carolina," a visitor told the writer of this column today.

"It goes to show that the public is taking more interest in protecting themselves against the disease by resorting to inoculations of Toxin-Antitoxin. This is the only sure way of safe-guarding against the disease and is recommended by the

HOME MARKET PROVIDED.

The current number of Southern Field, industrial publication by the Southern Railway Company, carries an illustration of the Farmers Federation Cannery, at Hendersonville, which specializes in a high grade brand of tomatoes and string beans. Incidentally, The Times News, of Hendersonville, makes record of the year's output of this cannery three times larger than it was last year, and this in spite of a blight that overtook the tomato and bean crop because of excessive wet weather. The success that has attended operation of this cannery has been of such a marked character as to encourage the Federation to a doubling of its capacity for next season. The important thing about operation of the cannery, however, is the development of a profitable market for the trucking farmers, for they make more money feeding the cannery than cotton farmers make in feeding the gin. Establishment of the cannery at Hendersonville is making the farmers of Henderson prosperous at a fast pace. The roads at Hendersonville ought to encourage the establishment of canneries in every county.—Charlotte Observer.

OPEN THE DOOR WIDE.

Texas Democracy is engaged in a discussion that surprises Democrats of all other Commonwealths. In the other 47 States Democratic leaders are seeking to induce all who will support the Democratic nominees to enter the primary, even Republicans, with right to run for office if they desire, submitting their claims to the arbitration of the majority voters in the party. In Texas the Democratic State chairman and some members of the State committee are reported to be determined to secure the adoption of a rule that no Democrat who did not vote for the Smith electors in 1928 can present his name as a candidate for office, and some are reported to wish all others to take no part in the primary. This would be to say that one failure to vote for one candidate in one year would proscribe a voter from future party affiliation.

There are, according to Governor Moody, 375,000 normally Democratic citizens who voted against Smith in the election. If the doors of the Democratic party are to be slammed in their faces, how can the Democratic party be straightened out? In Virginia the State Democratic committee invited all Democrats to enter the primary

Farmers Sell Your TOBACCO IN GREENVILLE

Prices took another dollar advance the first of this week, reaching a new high average Monday of $26.78 for the 961,390 pounds sold.

We are selling tobacco daily from practically every county in Eastern Carolina and the farmers say it is paying them to sell in Greenville, even though some of them travel at least 125 miles.

Those in position to absolutely know, say we are highest market and have keener buying competition than any market in the East.

Since Last Season—

Three of the warehouses have made large additions, which gives the market increased floor space of about two acres. Some of the factories have made enlargements to their buildings, installing additional redrying facilities and other equipment. The Greenville tobacco market is decidedly in better position to handle, daily, larger quantities of tobacco than ever before.

Tobacco Warehouses—

Greenville tobacco market has nine (9) large and modern brick warehouses with close to 14 acres floor space, sufficient to accommodate 2,225,000 lbs. of tobacco daily. These warehouses are managed by men of years of experience.

Buyers and Factories—

Greenville tobacco market has four (4) sets of buyers, representing all the important companies in the world, using bright tobacco. Nine (9) larger and modern tobacco factories are located here, additions having been made to several of them since last season, while one new plant has been built.

Roads and Locations—

Greenville tobacco market is located in the heart of Eastern North Carolina. Seven fine hard surfaced roads lead into Greenville. Tobacco growers living 125 miles from Greenville tobacco market sell their tobacco in Greenville and return home same day.

CONFERENCE GAMES HOLD LIMELIGHT

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Three important conference games and a pair of big inter-sectional clashes are marked with red ink on the Southern football schedule this week.

Tulane, which hopped into the championship race with both feet by beating Georgia Tech Saturday, goes up against Georgia which must be overcome if the Greenies are to continue performing in the first flight.

Clemson, with five straight victories, three of them in the conference and the most impressive scoring record in the south, is pitted against Kentucky, another unbeaten eleven with a powerful punch.

Vanderbilt, a rank outsider at the start but now very much of a threat to stand or fall on the result of its meeting with Alabama, knocked out of the running by Tennessee, Alabama is out for revenge at the expense of another Tennessee team.

The inter-sectional engagements send Florida to Cambridge to play Harvard, and Notre Dame to Atlanta to even the score for Georgia Tech's defeat at the hands of Georgia Tech's Golden Tornado.

Back on its stride again, Florida is hopeful of a much better showing against the easterners than it Tech is with Rockne's improved South Bend machine.

Duke goes back east to play Boston College. Hampden-Sidney is booked against Colgate and Celesthorpe meets Villa Nova at Philadelphia.

Several Southern Conference games will not figure greatly in the final reckoning. North Carolina will be a favorite against North Carolina State, Tennessee against Auburn, Virginia against Maryland and Mississippi against Sewanee. Washington and Lee and Virginia Poly are expected to provide the game of the lot.

University and State to Furnish Fireworks

University of North Carolina and North Carolina State college will furnish the gridiron fans of the state with the biggest attraction of the week, when they meet in the annual game next Saturday afternoon at Chapel Hill.

The game brings together two teams that are traditional rivals, having fought many hard battles over a long period of years. Past performances are forgotten when the teams meet, and although the "Heels" are favored to win they will meet a determined Wolfpack.

Sharing honors with the Chapel Hill game will be the annual tussle between Davidson college and V. M. I. the Virginia Cadets coming to Richlands, Field to meet the wildcats.

Duke university, third southern conference team of North Carolina, will make another journey into foreign territory; meeting Boston college in Boston. It will be the third trip Duke has made to Boston, and the game will be the "rubber contest", the Devils having won in 1927 and the Boston boys in 1928.

Other games for North Carolina teams Saturday include: Catawba and Bridgewater, at Bridgewater, Va.; Atlantic Christian and Lynchburg, at Wilson; Wake Forest and Furman, at Greenville, S. C.; and Elon and Guilford, at Greensboro.

Invaders from North Carolina last week found the going rather rough. Duke losing to Villa Nova in Philadelphia, 58 to 12; and State dropping a game to the Michigan Aggies, 40 to 6. Other results of Saturday were: Wake Forest, 6; Davidson, 0; North Carolina, 38; V. P. I., 13; and Lenoir-Rhyne, 6 High Point, 0.

WALKER WILL FIGHT HUDKINS AT NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Mickey Walker, holder of the middleweight title, risks his crown at Los Angeles tomorrow night in a battle with Ace Hudkins, his most dangerous challenger.

This bout at Los Angeles overshadows the rest of the week's national program, but fans are expecting to get their money's worth out of Jack Dempsey's second show at the Chicago Coliseum Friday. Tony Canzone, former featherweight champion, who now is gunning for the lightweight crown, will

GENE McEVER LEADS SCORE ON GRIDIRON

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Shedding tacklers as though coated with grease, Gene McEver, Tennessee's demon halfback, raced across Washington and Lee's goal line three times Saturday to bring his season's touchdown total to 13 and increased his lead over rival conference scorers.

This whirling, twisting ball carrier, who has scored in every game the volunteers have played this year, also holds the conference record for the most touchdowns in a single contest, negotiating four against Ole Miss. His 73 points placed him far ahead of the field.

A pair of Russ Cohen's Louisiana State halfbacks were tied for second place, while two more figured in a four cornered deadlock for fourth honors.

Smith ran rampant against Louisiana Poly Friday to account for two touchdowns and then added a point after touchdown to bring his total to 43. Butler scored twice to reach the same figure.

Bowman and Reeves, together with McMillan, Clemson's threat, and Kelly, Kentucky's bounding sophomore, followed close behind with 42 each.

Boineau, South Carolina's ace, snagged a Clemson pass, and raced some sixty yards to a touchdown, boosting his count to 3. Alabama's sophomore poison, Hugh Miller, had 32 points after scoring once against Sewanee, and Magner, Chuck Collins' Tarheel cleat mover, followed with 31.

Justus and Woodruff, a pair of Clemson luminaries; Spear, Virginia Poly's raging back; Little Ike Armstrong, Banker's running mate at Tulane; and Ward of North Carolina had 30 each.

head the program in a ten round bout against Stanislaus Loyza.

The Philadelphia Arena opens the week's fighting tonight with its usual program of ten rounders. Charley Belanger, Canadian light heavyweight, meets Bill Jones of Philadelphia, in the final bout. New York's attractions are headed by a pair of local favorites, Billy Wallace a Cleveland lightweight, meets Patry Ruffalo, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., in the ten round final at the St. Nicholas Arena tonight; and Jack (Kid) Berg, busy English junior welter, meets Mickey Genaro of New York at the Olympia A. C. on Saturday.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of two points to a decline of one point today and sold about 5 to 8 points net higher during the early trading on buying influenced by steady Liverpool cables and reports of rain in the central belt.

December contracts sold up to 18.20 and mTch to 18.68 and while trading was quiet, prices were holding steady at the end of the first half hour. Some nervousness was reported over the early decline in the stock market, but offerings remained relatively light, and there was some trade demand as well as covering in cotton.

Liverpool cables said that moderate hedge selling had been absorbed by Bombay buying and trade call in the market there.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Deprived of the banking support which many traders understood had been arranged for last week, the stock market plunged downward in spectacular fashion again today as the "bears" renewed their assaults of the market and thousands of weakened speculative accounts were thrown overboard. Prices of scores of issues broke 5 to 45 points, with most of the leaders selling below the low levels reached in last Thursday's record-breaking session.

Trading was again in enormous volume with the ticket falling an hour behind the market by early afternoon. Total sales crossed the 3,000,000 share mark before midday, with indications that the day's total would run well over 8,000,000 shares.

Indications that bankers might again be called upon to stem the tide of selling were seen in the visit early this afternoon of Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City Bank, the country's largest banking institution, to the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. Unless the

With the market undergoing another session creating the process little attention was paid to the day's news. Nothing happened over the week-end to alter the views of President Hoover and leading bankers that fundamental business conditions were sound, and that there was no sign of a general recession in industrial activity.

Directors of the General Refractories Company today declared an extra dividend of 25 cents and raised the annual rate from $3 to $4. Wall Street is feverishly hoping that good news will be forthcoming from the quarterly meeting of the United States Steel Corporation after the close of the market tomorrow. Several weeks ago, there were rumors of a possible stock split-up or extra dividend on steel, but these gradually disappeared as the date of the meeting approached.

General Electric was the hardest hit in today's selling, breaking 43 1/2 points to 25.4, as contrasted with a low of 283 last Thursday. Westinghouse Electric broke 29 1/4 points to 150, Western Union fell 27 1/2 points, Johns Manville 26 1/4, and Case Threshing 25. American Can, Standard Gas & Electric, Underwood Elliott Fisher, Eastman Kodak, Allied Chemical, People's Gas, and American Telephone, International Business Machines, Air Reduction, A. M. Byers were among the many issues to sell 15 to 20 points lower.

U. S. Steel common broke 10 1/2 points to 193, carrying it fractionally below the low level established last Thursday.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Wheat rose buoyantly today responsive to what was described as notice to the world that American wheat is not for sale at pawn-brokers' prices.

Non-Shatterable Glass Predicted
New York—The people of the next generation will have little opportunity to throw stones if Professor Philip Jordan, of Long Island university, is right. He predicts houses of non-shatterable glass, frosted and colored to admit health-giving rays of the sun and to exclude harmful rays.

Athlete Quarrels With Sweetheart and Then Suicides

Richmond, Va., Oct. 28.—(AP)—John M. Garrett, 22, late yesterday afternoon quarrelled with a young woman friend, and last night bade his mother goodbye, saying "what I am going to do, doesn't matter." Then he ran to his room and shot himself.

On his way home, young Garrett, popular athlete, told a friend "the morning papers will carry a story about me." Mean-while his mother had been warned by an unidentified person that her son was despondent, and might "try to do something desperate."
Garrett brushed by his sister and a friend in the door of the Garrett home, rushed to his mother, kissed her, and said "goodbye." She asked him what he intended to do. He replied "it doesn't matter." When the shot was fired, the young man visiting Garrett's sister rushed to the room to find him wrapped in a dressing gown, dying. The coroner pronounced the cause of death suicide.
