MISSING AIR LINER REACHES NEW MEXICO

Passenger Tells of Battle of Western Air Express Plane in Snowstorm

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 30.—(AP)—A bi-motored Western Air Express plane piloted by James E. Doles today stood victor over elements and the rugged southwest after the two had battled to create strong fear for the safety of the plane and its five occupants.

As a fine snow sifted down upon the airport here and men conferred about plans to locate the plane, then 30 hours overdue, the ship roared into the field here Monday morning and headed east.

After a refueling stop in Arizona the plane ran into a snowstorm which had not been reported. Thereafter, for more than 30 hours, there was no word. Officials of the company announced the plane "missing."

The plane descended southeast of Trachada, N. M., near the region where recently a Transcontinental Air Transport liner crashed and burned, with a loss of eight lives.

Members of the crew and the passengers, telling of their experiences, related how the thoughtfulness of Pilot Doles saved two of the party from being ground victims of the storm. Once the plane had landed the two went in search of shelter and when they did not return, Doles started the planes motors as an auditory beacon to the wandering pair.

Concerning what food they had in the plane, the party later found a cabin nearby that had been noted in circling for a landing, he night was spent there before a roaring fire.

Mrs. Bessie Mason, a woman living about five miles from where the plane landed, discovered this party and cooked them a meal of eggs, ham and biscuits.

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 30.—(AP)—A chilling description of the snowstorm which forced down the Western Air Express passenger transport No. 113 in the mountainous section of Southeastern Arizona and of cold and hunger suffered by the plane's crew of three and two passengers was related here today by James E. Doles, chief pilot of the plane.

Doles brought the tri-motored ship to land here yesterday afternoon, nearly 30 hours after it dropped from sight.

"We were forced down by a snow storm Monday morning at 10:15," Doles said, "and it was not until yesterday afternoon that we could get back to civilization."

"I had left Holbrook, flying east, and was about one hour out when I had to dodge a storm, and turned towards St. Johns, Arizona. Suddenly the storm seemed to break over us all at once, and landing became a necessity."

"I could see a roll, not a very large place, but it looked safe. And I got down there, and got down quick."

"I found an old vacant house not far from where we were, and we all moved over there. By this time the snow was more than a foot deep on the ground. I built up a big fire in the house and we tried to be comfortable. But we liked to freeze to death. And there was nothing to eat or drink. The light lunches we had been put in the plane had been consumed and the water bottles had been emptied."

"We stuck there until 1:30 yesterday afternoon, when the weather cleared and saw a chance to take off with the ship. We got off nicely and landed at Albuquerque at 2:30."

"Every member of my party behaved splendidly and we had no more trouble at all."

5,000 Farewell Addresses

New York—Hermann Goerlich, wealthy and socially prominent Manhattanite, has 5,000 farewell addresses written to be delivered on the scaffold as the last statement of a scoundrel. He has been receiving them constantly since last May when he wrote a letter to the New York World offering $200 for the best one. And now he wants everybody to know that the offer is of. It was just a joke that died at birth; he thought everybody understood that.

Pactolus House Wrecked by Fire

The L. M. Manning home near Pactolus was completely destroyed by fire yesterday between 11 and 12 o'clock, according to information reaching this city today. The fire originated from the kitchen stove. There was no one home at the time but Mrs. Manning, but she made a frantic effort to prevent the flames from spreading to other part of the building. Virtually all furnishings were destroyed. The building was partially covered by insurance.

THREE HELD ON CHARGES KIDNAPPING

Burlington People to Be Given Hearing in Richmond Court On Friday

Richmond, Va., Oct. 30.—(AP)—Mrs. Hilda Faircloth, Ornie C. Fair, cloth and Julius C. Thompson all giving Burlington, N. C., as their home address are to be heard Friday morning in police court here on charges of kidnaping and attempting to kidnap. Later in the day they were to face contempt of court charges in Hastings court.

Arrested here late yesterday they were being held in jail this morning following preliminary hearing. Bond was expected to be given during the day.

The three were charged with taking a 28-month-old girl from her home here yesterday and attempting to take another child four years old, from a home here.

The police said that the children, Margaret O'Neil and Ethel Jean, are children of Mrs. Hilda Faircloth who left about two years ago when she left Richmond for Carolina. Foster parents of the children say they have filed a petition in Hastings court asking for their adoption by the two families in which they have been since they say Mrs. Faircloth left the city.

Under the statute of Virginia it is pointed out that a petition cannot be signed until it has been on file one year. The year expires next month. The children are said to be wards of the court and it is within the courts power either to return them to their foster parents now or to give them to their natural parents or to turn them over to the State Board of Welfare.

Mrs. Faircloth said that she did not consider that she had broken the peace of the State of Virginia.

Body Discovered on River

Lapeer, Mich., Oct. 30.—(AP)—A body believed to be that of David Case, son of a Detroit real estate operator, who was kidnaped last July, was discovered near here yesterday on the banks of the Flint river.

The man had been dead at least three months.

Stock Market Rally Under The Influence Of Investment Demand

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The wave of hysterical selling which has clipped more than 25 billion dollars from the quoted values of listed securities in New York markets during the past week, subsided today, advice rallied briskly in response to what appeared to be a strong investment demand. Scores of active issues were marked up $5 to nearly $30 a share in the first hour of selling, while trading failed to maintain the terrific pace set in yesterday's early trading, nearly 2,000,000 shares changed hands in the first half hour, with the ticker steadily falling behind the market until it was 22 minutes late at 11 a. m.

Reassuring statements from leading bankers overnight, coupled with the declaration of extra dividends of $1 each on U. S. Steel common and American Can, and an advance of $1 in the annual dividend on the latter, helped to revive confidence.

Strong buying support also was provided by powerful financial institutions, and wealthy capitalists.

American Telephone was a rally leader, soaring $27 a share to $231. Eastman Kodak rallied $2 a share, Electric Auto Lite $16. U. S. Industrial Alcohol $14 and New Haven Railroad, Republic Steel, Ingersoll Rand, Auburn Auto, Westinghouse Electric, St. Joseph Lead and North American Co., were selling $9 to $12 a share higher before the end of the first half hour. Scores of other high grade industrial, and public utilities, including U. S. Steel common, Pohns Manville, General Electric, Union Carbide, R. H. Macy and International Telephone, were marked up $5 a share, or more.

Some profit taking developed but support was quickly forthcoming, and the market showed evidence of having turned definitely upward. A few soft spots cropped out presumably in reflection of the belated liquidation of weakened marginal accounts. American Bank Note, which did not sell yesterday, Safeway Stores and American Machine and Foundry dropped $14 to $15 a share.

All trades in yesterday's record-breaking 16,410,000 share session were cleared through the stock clearing corporation at an early hour this morning after hundreds of clerks had worked at high speed through the night.

Dozen Cases Actually Disposed of in Criminal Court Here Yesterday

Convicted of a charge of larceny, Albert Bell, colored, of the Greenville community, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary by Judge Garland Midyette, of Jackson, presiding over the criminal term of Pitt county Superior court in this city yesterday. The defendant was found guilty of the theft of an automobile from the Pitt-Hudson company.

Ten other cases were disposed of during the session and several of the defendants found their way to the country roads. The total number of cases disposed of during the week was estimated at approximately thirty.

The grand jury returned one true bill, that being in the case of M. R. Duncan, charged with larceny. After disposing of the Duncan case, the grand jury began its work of looking into the affairs of the county officers, and indications were that a report would be made to Judge Midyette sometime tomorrow or Friday.

Funeral Rites Held For Mrs. J. P. Bynum

Farmville, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Florence Sue Bynum, aged 64, widow of the late J. P. Bynum, died here at the home of her son, J. T. Bynum, on Monday evening at 9 o'clock, shortly after an attack of apoplexy, which had caused a state of unconsciousness since 8 o'clock in the morning.

She had been living with her children since the death of her husband several months ago and had returned the afternoon before from a visit to her daughter, Mrs. R. B. Havens of Tarboro. She had been under the care of physicians for two weeks but was apparently better and very cheerful.

In early life she joined the Methodist church and was a faithful, loyal churchwoman as well as a loving wife and devoted mother. A woman of culture and great refinement, she was held in high esteem and greatly beloved by the entire community.

Funeral services were conducted from the home on Belcher street at 4 o'clock today, by Dr. J. W. Harrell, pastor of the Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Ford A. Burns, Baptist minister, and interment was in Forest Hill cemetery.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. R. B. Havens of Tarboro, two sons, J. T. Bynum of Farmville, and Henry R. Bynum of Tarboro; two sisters, Mrs. Joe E. Exum and Mrs. J. F. Harper, of Snow Hill, and a number of grandchildren.

Clementel is a member of the radical group in the senate. He is regarded as one of the most moderate of that group and the most likely radical to be able to form a new union government more to the left

Stock Market To Close Friday and Saturday To Give Employees A Rest

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Governors of the New York Stock Exchange voted today to delay the opening tomorrow until noon and to close the exchange on Friday and Saturday. The exchange will be open Monday and the day preceding election day.

The governors, in an official statement said: "The volume of trading in the last week has been so enormous that the organization of the stock exchange houses have gotten to a point of complete physical exhaustion. Most of these employees and those of the stock clearing corporation have been on almost continuous duty for days and nights past and many of them have been without sleep for 48 to 72 hours. The governors believed that the shorter hours and the two days holiday, as arranged, will put the working organizations again in good condition and contribute materially to a more orderly and effective handling of all the trading centering on the exchange.

"This line of procedure has been adopted after consultation with and approval by the so-called banking group."

The announcement was made from the stock exchange rostrum by Richard Whitney, vice-president of the exchange and was greeted with prolonged cheers.

Not One Winner Can Be Found On N. Y. Stock Market

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The New York World today said that while losses to big stock market operators have been reported as high as $50,000,000 not one winner could be found.

Losses of fifty million were attributed to Arthur W. Cutten, of Chicago, who a few years ago switched his interest from the Chicago grain market to Wall Street where he is reported to have amassed a fortune of $100,000,000.

The seven Fisher brothers of Detroit are reported to have suffered losses of "several hundred millions."

In the Bear camp no one could be found from Jesse Livermore down who would admit having made money.

For a while, said the world, it was thought William H. Saufher, of Boston, had made $25,000,000 but subsequently it was found he had switched to the spot side last Thursday and lost heavily. Until then he had been $5,000,000 ahead.

FIVE PAROLED BY GOVERNOR

Raleigh, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Five persons, two of them women, have been paroled by Gov. O. Max Gardner in the first paroles issued in several weeks. At the same time six petitions for clemency were denied.

Edith Castles Turner and Mary Adams, white women, were paroled for 18-month sentences in the Mecklenburg county industrial home for statutory offenses.

Dewey Sorrells, white, Rutherford county, sentenced in November, 1928, to serve 18 months for larceny, paroled on recommendation of trial judge and solicitor.

Peter Ridley, negro, sentenced in 1920 from Warren county to 12 to 15 years for attempted attack on a negro girl, paroled on recommendation of George Ross Pou, State prison superintendent. The negro had a perfect record and would have been free through expiration of his sentence in January, 1930.

Dave Burney, New Hanover, sentenced in 1920 to serve 12 to 15 years for burglary, paroled after a personal investigation by Judge N. A. Townsend, executive counsel, who found him to be a deserving prisoner with a perfect record.

Petitions denied were for: Jay Hyder, Madison; Ed Byers, Union; Talmadge Lewis, Avery; P. O. Moyle, Richmond; Mack Evans, Robeson; and Will Broadway, Stanley.

Hertford Banker Sentenced to Jail

Hertford, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Joseph L. Tucker, who pleaded guilty to embezzlement of about $27,000 over a period of eight years while he was cashier of the local branch of the defunct Carolina Banking and Trust company, was sentenced in Superior court here yesterday to serve three to five years in State's prison. He was given until January 1, 1930 to start serving his term, being free under $5,000 bond.

Say Finance and Industry Will Emerge Undisturbed From Stock Market Crash

Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—After assessing all the effects of the shocks administered by the stock market during the last few days, experienced business men associated with the administration of the National government are a unit in the declaration that fundamental commerce, industry, and finance will emerge substantially undisturbed.

The latest public word, as it was given late last night over radio by Julius Klein, assistant secretary of commerce, has been echoed and reinforced by officials of cabinet rank since President Hoover briefly outlined it.

"The growth of the income of the nation, the advance in the well being of its business men, its wage earners and its farmers during recent years has not been due to temporary and fleeting causes, but to normal purchasing power has not been impaired. Regardless of regrettable speculative uncertainties of the industrial and commercial structure of the nation is sound."

An impressive array of considerations backing up that judgment, all pointing out that commodity prices have been kept clear from inflation in securities, was presented by Dr. Klem. As to the stock market performance of the last two years, he said that "profits of business justified an advance in stock prices, but they did not justify going up to the sky."

Second Failure Results From Crash of Stocks

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—The second failure of the recent bear market took place today when the New York Curb Exchange firm of Lynch & Co., was suspended for failure to meet its obligations.

The firm consists of three members: Allen K. Shaw, the floor member, who was admitted to the exchange on April 28, 1928; Philip Lynch and S. S. Fisher.

LEAF MARKET TO CLEAR UP BLOCK TODAY

Market Disposed of Nearly Million Pounds Yesterday; Million Here Today

After a block continuing, since last Monday, indications were this morning that the Greenville tobacco market would clear up late this afternoon and start out with a clean slate tomorrow morning. It was estimated that there was approximately a million pounds of leaf on the floors of the various warehouses today and that the rate of selling established during the morning hours would enable the warehouses to completely relieve the congestion by the late afternoon.

The market sold 972,292 pounds of leaf yesterday, according to the official report compiled this morning by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales. Bidding was described as lively during the day with many visitors from several sections of the tobacco growing belt in attendance.

The market established an entirely new record from the standpoint of volume last Monday when over two million pounds of bright leaf was offered for sale. This brought about one of the greatest blocks in history of the market, and both warehousemen and factory representatives worked feverishly both night and day in order to take care of the tremendous offerings.

With a million pounds of leaf on the floors of the nine warehouses this morning, tobaccoists for the first time this week began to get their heads above the sea of golden leaf and prepared to clear up their floors in preparation for the receipt of offerings during the remainder of the week.

The nine mammoth warehouse packed to capacity revealed the magnitude of the industry in this section of the state, and indicated that the market was drawing a considerable volume of leaf from a radius of many miles. People who had never visited the market before marveled at the rapidity with which the tobacco was handled. The sales were a revelation of the stupendous proportions which the bright leaf industry has assumed in this city.

Southern California was inhabited at least 10,000 years before Columbus discovered America, says Malcome J. Rogers, archaeologist at operating a college farm.

METHODIST CONFERENCE OPENS TODAY

Sacrament of Lord's Supper Administered at Kinston This Morning

Kinston, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Rev. T. M. Grant, of Wilson, was elected secretary of the North Carolina Methodist conference at the opening session here today, succeeding himself.

Eight candidates for the ministry were advanced to the class of the third year, and elected to the Deacons' Order. These were: S. E. Mercer, P. H. Fields, H. B. Baum, E. D. Weathers, S. S. Ellington, R. G. Dawson, F. B. Brandenburg and P. D. Edens.

C. Felix Harvey, business man, welcomed the delegates to the city and Queen church, and Bishop Mouzon responded. He admonished the representatives to remember that they are "representatives of Christ."

A telegram of sympathy was sent Charles S. Wallace, of Morehead City, who was prevented by illness from attending the conference for the first time in more than 20 years.

The conference represents more than one million members, and the value of the property owned by the churches in the jurisdiction exceeds $8,000,000.

The sacrament of the Lord's supper was administered to the gathering by Bishop Edwin Mouzon of Charlotte, presiding, and nine presiding elders. The conference was called to order immediately after this organization for the five day session being proceeded with.

Bishop Mouzon and his cabinet of presiding elders held a pre-conference meeting yesterday afternoon. Last evening the North Carolina Conference Historical Society held its annual session. The Rev. W. A. Cade, presiding elder of the Fayetteville district delivered the address. He spoke on William Meredith and events of Methodism's early years at Wilmington. Many townspeople were in the audience with early arrivals for the conference.

Historical Society officers elected were B. C. Thompson, Jackson, president; Josephus Daniels, Raleigh, first vice-president; the Rev. H. C. Smith, Rockingham, second vice president; Thomas Grant, Wilson, secretary; T. A. Sikes, Roxboro, treasurer.

Later in the week the conference will hear pastoral appointments read. Much interest centers on these. An unusually large number of ministers have held present charges four years and will be assigned to new posts. Included are some of the most prominent preachers in the conference.

Also delegates are being chosen to the Dallas general conference. The quadrennial meeting will be held in May. Six ministers and six lay delegates will represent the North Carolina conference.

When all of the delegates have arrived more than four hundred will be registered. It was predicted today. Every church and country circuit in the conference will be represented.

Features of the daily programs will be forenoon addresses by Bishop Mouzon and sermons at the evening sessions by the Rev. Frank S. Hickman, of Duke University.

THE LUXURY HUSBAND

SYNOPSIS: "The Grivin' Blues" a success! While Rita and Ray bow to thunderous applause for Rita's dance and Ray's song, Barbara and Ralph Henderson walk into the Golden Dollar club. Ray is masked, of course, and Barbara does not recognize him but the wailing notes of his saxophone, as an encore is started, haunt her memory and she leaves. Henderson returns with her to her apartment, where he urges her to find forgetfulness in a return to her former life of gorgeous parties for which she is noted—and then to divorce Ray. Barbara refuses to do the latter immediately, but detests him to reopen her country home with a stupendous house-warming.

PETER ANHEIM

While Barbara, oppressed by a miserable feeling of loneliness, was slowly retreating to her bed-chamber a noisy celebration filled Bill Foster's apartment.

Bill Foster was saying for this hundredth time, his arm lovingly around Ray's neck:

"I'm proud of you. That song of yours is a wow. My, didn't it get a hand—thanks a lot, of course, to this little lady here..."

"Thanks everything to her," interrupted Ray.

"Boh," cried Rita across the table. "Even you don't believe that." Then, springing up from the table and seizing Ray by the hand, "Let's give them some of those new tunes of yours—I want Pete to hear them. Wake up, Pete, and show some enthusiasm."

Pete Anheim had arrived in New York that afternoon from Ohio. Tall, thin, he had iron-gray hair and humorous, understanding eyes. Now they were smiling across at Rita.

He had known her from her childhood. Then, an inquiring, raven-headed kid. Ten years later he had first asked her to marry him. But she had laughed at the idea—afire with a dream of the inevitable handsome young prince.

He had laughed, too, but he had never lost track of her, running up to New York whenever he could be spared from the huge factory he controlled.

Earlier that evening at the club, upon introducing Ray, Rita had said laughingly:

"This is Pete Anheim, my butter and egg man."

The two men laughed as they shook hands. Ray had been conscious of the other's close scrutiny. Now, his eyes on Ray at the piano, Pete wondered if this tall dark fellow might not be the fairy prince for whom Rita had waited.

For the past five years he had been schooling himself for the moment when her dream man should appear. Now, if this were he, there remained only for him to do his utmost in helping them both. Lately an opportunity had come his way by which Rita might benefit. He wondered if Ray might not be brought into the scheme as well.

Undoubtedly his stuff was good. He chuckled softly to himself. Strange to have the role of would-be lover; transformed over night into that of Fairy Godfather!

The music ceased abruptly, repeated bangings on the ceiling having become too violent to be longer, with safety, ignored. Pete caught Rita's hand and held it, drawing her head towards his knees. Pulling her head towards his he whispered:

"Lunch with me tomorrow, Rita dear, I've something important to discuss with you..."

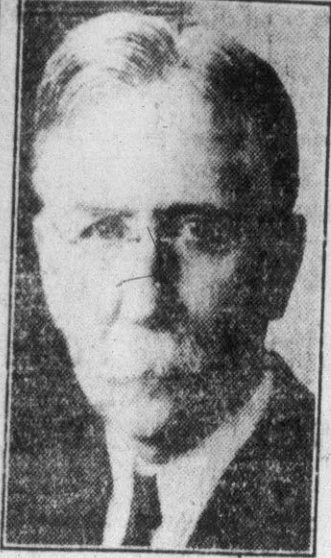

Rita litely pranced into the Golden Dollar club the following evening, much as though she had been blown in on a cyclone. She threw a kiss to the doorman, whistled as she put on her make-up, then, just before the commencement of the show, she stuck her head through the trap door and whispered to Ray:

"I want to see you after the show tonight. I'm just busting to tell you something and it needs a lot of will power to keep it choked down..."

The evening dragged, seemed interminable to Rita, although the "Grivin' Blues" went over better than ever. She could hardly wait for the moment when she would be facing Ray across a table, it didn't matter where, telling him the news. In her mind she had the scene pictured clearly.

His face would change from dumb bewilderment to incredulous joy, his hands would shoot out, grasping hers. Then they would pluck the details. At the thought of that Rita executed a little pirouette in the dressing room and chuckled

SUNDOWN STORIES

THE SAD WITCHES

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

The Little Black Clock took Peggy and John to the strangest place they had ever seen.

It looked like a large field surrounded by woods out of which popped little goblins every once in awhile.

In the field there was a great bonfire and around it sat some creatures who looked exactly like witches. Now and again one of the witches got up, put on a tall black hat and took a ride up in the air on a broomstick.

But for the most part they just sat around the bonfire as though they were quite tired.

"Do talk to them," said the Little Black Clock. "They're feeling very sad."

"Sad?" asked Peggy.

"What makes them sad?" inquired John.

"As't them," said the Little Black Clock.

Both Peggy and John had always been very brave. They had never been afraid of the dark. They knew that was foolish. They had never been afraid of giants coming and catching them. They knew that was foolish, too.

They liked giants in stories but knew they would never come to their house to pay a call, or take them away.

So they loved seeing the witches and the goblins and they weren't in the least bit afraid of them.

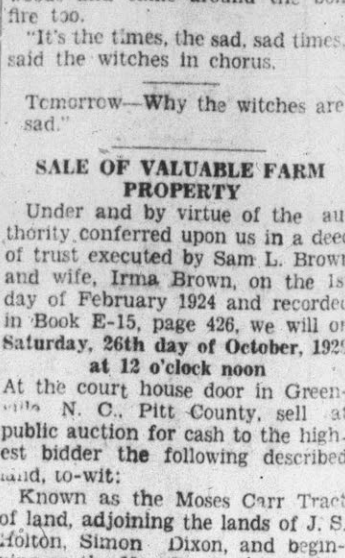

They both went up to one of the witches who had just come back from a short broom-stick ride.

"Tell us," Peggy began, "why you are sad?"

"Tell us," said John, "the Little Black Clock says you are. What's the trouble?"

"Trouble enough," said the witch.

To Prosecute Doheny

Owen J. Roberts, special government counsel, announced he would move to bring Edward L. Doheny to trial on charge of giving bribe to Albert B. Fall for lease of Elk Hills naval oil reserve.

"Trouble enough," called the goblins as they darted out from the woods and came around the bonfire too.

"It's the times, the sad, sad times," said the witches in chorus.

Tomorrow—Why the witches are sad.

MISS NEWELL HOSTESS TO LITERARY DEPARTMENT OF THE WOMAN'S CLUB. Tuesday afternoon Miss Newell was the charming hostess to the Literary Department of the Woman's Club.

Enrik Isben, the great Norwegian dramatist, was the study for afternoon. The home life and personality of Isben was delightful.

A play told by Mrs. Frank. She read storm. William Archer's humorous drama describing Isben as an old No. 1.

The most outstanding of Isben and social plays: "The Doll House" which became the magna charter of the feminist movement, and "The Ghosts" were reviewed by Miss Bob-Dobble Burns. She described vividly to the doll child, Nora, who became the unthinking doll wife of a very egotistical man. As Nora's ideas of life were traditional, she was not allowed to think her own thoughts. Her husband was the supreme lord of the house. How Nora developed into a thinking individual with self-expression was told in an interesting manner by Miss Burns.

At the conclusion of the program a delicious plate was served by the hostess.

REAL WORK OF ART DISPLAYED IN W. L. BEST'S WINDOW

An exact replica of a "Traub Genuine Orange Blossom Wedding Ring" reproduced in genuine walnut and hand carved by Wilhelm Lechner, Oberammergau Passion Player, is being viewed with a great deal of interest. It has been judged one of the finest pieces of hand carving in existence. Every detail of the genuine ring is carried out in detail even to the trade-mark. Along with this display are two others, exact duplicates of the largest and smallest ever manufactured for actual wear. The large one being made for a woman in Texas, and the smallest one being for a dwarf in Barnum and Bailey's circus. You will find that W. L. Best carries a complete line of "Traub Genuine Orange Blossom" Wedding Rings, Diamond Engagement Rings and ring mountings. All the newest designs in platinum and white gold, plain and jeweled.—Adv.

NORTHEAST DISTRICT PARENTS-TEACHERS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the third district of North Carolina congress of parents and teachers was held in the administration building of the Teachers College at 10:30 a. m. Mrs. J. O. Baxter, of New Bern, president of the district, was in the chair. After calling the meeting to order, "Victory," a song, was sung to the tune of "Carolina." Following the invocation by Rev. E. L. Hillman, J. P. Ross, superintendent of city schools made an address of welcome. Mrs. H. A. Patten, of New Bern, very graciously responded on behalf of the visitors.

The minutes of the last meeting held at Morehead City, were read by Mrs. I. S. Fleming, recording secretary. Mrs. J. H. Waldrop sang two lovely selections which were enjoyed by all. At this time Mrs. R. C. Lincoln, of Morehead, was made chairman of a committee to decide the time and place of the next meeting.

Mrs. Raymond Binford, president of the state association, made an inspiring talk stressing co-operation most of all others being given specific work to do, importance of affiliating with the state organization and use of its literature.

Mr. Livers, of North Carolina College for Women, made a very interesting address urging a careful study of the boys and girls and co-operation between home and school, more enlightened members, and getting father to be a member.

Mrs. J. O. Baxter followed with a report from the district. Lunch was served buffet style, boxes having been brought by the delegates. The Greenville ladies supplemented the lunch with hot coffee.

The afternoon session was very informal. Mr. Livers answered questions and outlined a program of work to be followed for a successful year's work.

Sixty-six registered, including members from West Greenville and the Training School P. T. A. Five dollars was won by the Riverside School, New Bern, for the largest attendance. New Bern asked for the meeting next year and Greenville also. Putting it to a vote, Greenville won over New Bern and the meeting will be the last Thursday in October, 1930.

A rising vote of thanks for the hospitality received, and "Carolina" was sung. The meeting adjourned until next year.—Reported.

PADEREWSKI CANNOT FILL ENGAGEMENT

College Notified That Noted Pianist Has Cancelled Fall Concert Tour

Paderewski's manager has notified the entertainment committee of East Carolina Teachers College that the tour for the fall and early winter of the great pianist, has been cancelled, and that if he returns to America at all this season it will be for a very short season. This means that Paderewski cannot fill his engagement at East Carolina Teachers College this season.

If he recovers, and the prospects are that he will, the places cancelled this season are receiving first consideration in the arrangement of his dates for next season, so the management says. This means that the people of Greenville may yet hear him at the college, but a year later.

Paderewski is 68 years old, but nearing his 69th birthday. He is not so old as most people thought he was, because they think of his age in connection with his long career, forgetting that he achieved fame at an early age. The chances are that he will be able to make another tour in America. He is punctilious about keeping engagements, and is very anxious to fill all of his 75 engagements in America, sooner or later.

The entertainment committee realized that there was an element of risk when they were notified of the postponement of the date and told that readjustments had to be made, therefore were not willing to allow season tickets which included him as the star attraction to be sold. Furthermore, they knew it would be impossible to arrange for a substitute attraction on a par with this, as the great artists have to be arranged for far in advance.

They had hoped to be able to place one of the attractions scheduled for the winter terms in the fall, but have been unable to do this. The attractions for later dates remain as first announced. They will, however, soon be able to announce whether or not there will be a December attraction.

The next attraction will be the United States Army Band "Pershing's Own," which will give two concerts on November 25, the Monday before Thanksgiving. This will be a red letter day in the history of entertainments at the college. The matinee is at a low price so that school children will have an opportunity to attend. A representative of the band will arrive in Greenville next week and final arrangements made for every detail connected with the coming of these musicians.

Rotarians Entertain.

Farmville, Oct. 30.—With Rotarians attending 100 per cent, Rotary Anns and teachers of the Farmville schools, altogether numbering 85, the annual Halloween entertainment staged last night by the local club surpassed any of previous years.

The turkey dinner was served in three courses banquet style, by the Methodist Missionary Society in its basement dining room, and table decorations were in keeping with the season. President George Davis welcomed the guests and Miss Annie Perkins responded. A short speech by Maynard Fletcher of Washington, a visitor, was very witty, and selections rendered by Miss Frances White, soloist, with Miss Bessie Cuthrell, accompanist, both of Scotland Neck, won favor and much applause, as did the male quartet composed of E. F. Huffines, C. W. Bacon, John and Elbert Homes. The Farmville orchestra of negro musicians, also had a prominent place on the program. Stunts provoked much merriment particularly the silhouette contest, when certain Apollo-like Rotarians would strut out and make their way across the stage. Joe Rasberry, who had stubbornly insisted on a barbecue dinner, was served a plate of cue, and everybody was happy.

Grimesland P. T. A. News.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Grimesland High School met Monday night, October 28 at 7:30 o'clock. A special drive had been put on to enroll as many of the parents to enroll as many of the per cent of the total number present. This affair coming near Halloween, many were dressed as spoons, witches, foreign visitors, ancestors, m-ladies, farmer gents and several others.

A short business meeting was held before the supernatural elements began to work. After parliamentary procedure, the teachers made their report with their grade instructor. One outstanding thing in these reports was the visits to the homes of the different parents in the communities. Every home had been visited by at least one of the teachers. The attendance was a result of this. Another thing was beautifying of the class rooms. Our grade mothers have proved a great help to the teachers in working out these plans.

After the reports of the problem of feeding the under-nourished child and serving hot lunches to the children to whom this is not accessible, was brought up. This was discussed thoroughly and was decided to endeavor to put across. Every parent, especially those from the country, evidenced the greatest interest in providing the proper food when it is impossible for them to send hot lunches to school.

Mr. L. J. Worthington then read a letter from Mr. R. G. Fitzgerald, county superintendent, urging a "Black to School Campaign." This is to go to be one of the aims of our P. T. A. this year.

The P. T. A. decided to send delegates to the state convention November 12, 13 and 14.

The business meeting adjourned and the hospitality committee took charge. Partners were drawn with names of our presidents. We then were taken into our social room, where several interesting games were participated in. Pecan races, vegetable duels, band practice. In the parade of costumes, Misses Jaunita Worthington and Alma Marks won the prize. They were attractively dressed as Hiawatha and Minnehaha.

The guests were taken to the witches' den, where they partook of the brew from the cauldron and food prepared by our supernatural visitors.

Everyone went home expressing their enjoyment of the night of entertainment.—Reported.

Merry Matrons.

Farmville, Oct. 30.—A very interesting meeting of the Merry Matrons was held at the home of Mrs. B. S. Smith with an excellent program of two papers on "Walls and Ceiling." The first, "The Wall as a Background," was written by Mrs. R. O. Lang and read by Mrs. M. V. Jones; the second, "How to Choose Wall Covering," by Mrs. R. H. Knott, was read by Mrs. J. I. Morgan, with a third, "How to Finance a Home," by Mrs. J. W. Parker.

Pleasant decorations of gay autumn flowers were used in the home by the hostess, who served a chicken salad course at the end of the program.

Hostess To Card Club.

Farmville, Oct. 30.—Mrs. H. W. Turnage was hostess to her Bridge club on Tuesday afternoon at 3:00. Tables were placed in the living room, where a variety of fall flowers were arranged. Mrs. M. V. Horton scored high and received a Coty package. The refreshments were most attractive and delectable.

Pledges Fortune to Save Employees From Loss on Stock Market

Chicago, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Herald and Examiner said today in a copyrighted story that Julius Rosenwald, philanthropist and chairman of the board of Sears Roebuck and Company, had pledged without limit his personal fortune to guarantee the stock market accounts of the 49,000 employees of his company.

Mr. Rosenwald decided to take this action, the paper said, following the market drop last Thursday. That same evening he conferred with his son, Lessing, who is vice-president of the company; General Robert E. Wood, president; W. O. Lewis, treasurer, and John Higgins, another vice-president. To Higgins was delegated the duty of seeing that the employees' accounts were protected.

Higgins immediately looked up the accounts of all employees, not only in Chicago, but everywhere the company has branches. When he found an employee carrying an account on which, in the present bear market, his margin had grown too narrow for safety, Higgins communicated with the broker handling the account.

The broker then was asked if additional collateral was needed to safeguard the account, the Herald and Examiner said.

"We simply put up the collateral so that our employees shall be able to weather the storm," Higgins explained.

"One of the first things I found out was that a great many employees will have no need for the assistance offered. Some of them, thanks to their thrift and good judgment, are wealthy. The help Mr. Rosenwald is offering is for those who need it."

Through Higgins it was learned for the first time that Mr. Rosenwald adopted a similar plan during the period of financial depression in 1921.

"At that time what we did in Mr. Rosenwald's name was to gather up all the employee stock accounts that needed support and place them in the hands of two big brokerage concerns, depositing collateral as required. The sum Mr. Rosenwald then pledged was about $1,000,000."

Also in 1921, it was recalled, Mr. Rosenwald made a gift of $5,000,000 worth of his own stock to the company and pledged $20,000,000 more of his personal fortune to see the company through.

The present action, it was explained, applies to all employee stock accounts, no matter what stocks they hold.

NOTHING TO FEAR FROM WALL STREET CRASH.

While gambling on Wall Street is like gambling in most any other form and those who persist in taking the chances have a fall coming to them, we see no real danger to business in general throughout our nation as a result of what has happened on the stock exchange the past week.

Of late practically all the stocks listed were far above their normal value because of a speculative buying spree and as might have been expected, what goes up in this case must come down. The person who has stock in legitimate enterprises, bought for investment at prices in keeping with the book value of the stock has nothing to fear from the present crash for his stock as an investment is still worth what he paid for it and will continue to yield expected dividends.

The fellow who is hurt as a result of the present selling jamboree in Wall Street is not the investor but those traders, both large and small, who have been speculating on margin or just plain gambling. These people had the present disaster coming to them sooner or later, and in our opinion the country and business as a whole will be better off that the impending crash has come to pass.

It is most interesting to note how calmly the country as a whole, except the speculators, have taken the present crisis as is set forth in the various editorial comments assembled by the Associated Press:

Greenville (S. C.) Piedmont:—The slump in the big securities markets turns eyes again to the golden opportunities right here at home, in real estate, in cotton mill stocks, in various and sundry sound and promising enterprises, the returns from which exceed and the soundness of which equals the best of the stock exchanges have to offer.

Every man who is buying and selling on margin is gambling. And the snowball they have been rolling up-hill got too big and heavy and rolled back over them.

The Chicago Daily News:—There is nothing in the latest antics of the exchanges that requires modification of the views expressed last week by President Hoover and the Treasury Department—namely that business conditions in the United States are basically sound and that the trend of industry and trade is likely to continue upward.

Birmingham, (Ala.) Age-Herald:—No thoughtful person can regard what has taken place as less than good and hopeful. The country had gone speculation mad. It is worthwhile for the sake of the larger good that as drastic a liquidation as has been witnessed should have taken place.

Nashville Tennessean:—There is neither financial weakness nor adverse business conditions. Labor will earn more this year than ever before. Fall trade is brisk and there is not only no room for pessimism, but every reason for confidence and for faith. The speculators who have lost in their stock buying debauch represent but a fraction of the people.

Knoxville (Tenn.) Journal:—It is absurd to think that stock could be worth one day from one-half to one-fourth what they are worth the day before or a week before, if the price of them is based on true values.

Nothing extraordinary has occurred in this stock market stampede. It has followed precisely the course of every Wall Street price in the past. Now that the inflated values of stocks have been squeezed out, American business can go ahead normally.

Little Rock (Ark.) Democrat:—There might have been a time when a crash in the stock market meant a national money panic, but those days have passed when the United States became the richest nation in the world.

Charleston, (S. C.) Evening Post:—The public has been tutored for the past two or three years in the new doctrines of finance and economy and engaged to 'invest' in common stocks regardless of their earnings relying on profits from increasing prices which they were led to believe had no limit, many of the banks have condoned, if they have not actually fostered this delusion and they have made it easy instead of hard for everybody to take a hand in the big game when the tide turned.

Rocky Mount (N. C.) Evening Telegram:—While losses have been unusually heavy on the stock market during the past few days, the view of leading financiers seems to be that the reverses despite the enormous paper loss, which they represent, indicate no period of business depression but will in reality serve a wholesome purpose in deflating stock values which have been far above their real worth.

Wilmington (N. C.) News:—It must be born in mind that a violent upset on Wall Street almost invariably foreshadows a change in business conditions having at the moment broken all precedent in the matter of selling, the degree of uncertainty is naturally accentuated although it is fairly safe to assume that the investor in contrast to the speculators suffered little if any damage which will serve to stabilize general conditions and minimize adverse reaction to business in general.

Hickory (N. C.) Daily Record:—Wall Street's "Florida Boom" at last seems to have come to its bitter end in a crash fully as spectacular as the real estate collapse of the "Sunshine State" a few years ago. Whether the market is yet fully purged of the riotous speculation that for the past two years has sent stock values sky-rocketing to levels all out of proportion it remains to be seen.

Greensboro (N. C.) Record:—The Wall Street magnet will not be so much of a magnet in the future. Money will be available in widely scattered communities and when money is available for local enterprises business conditions improve. The Wall Street boom has been a calamity for most communities; its ending should be hailed with joy.

Durham (N. C.) Sun:—The shaking down of the stock market was but the natural result of the working of sound economic law. Many stocks under the speculative stimulus had built up excessive values and it was inevitable that the time would come when circumstances would force a readjustment on a sound basis.

tion has not been seriously damaged. Fundamentally business is as sound as it has been for some time.

ABOUT TOWN

"People who have been playing the stock market will be rather careful in the future after the unprecedented breaks the last several days," declared a well-known Greenville business man today.

"With the billions of dollars lost in the downward trend of stock prices, it is probable the little man has been the heaviest loser. He speculated in the hope of seeing his few hundred dollars converted into thousands only to have the table turned on him.

"There is nothing quite so uncertain as stock prices, and the man with a little surplus money should find it in some sound securities instead of risking it on the stock exchange.

"We have been favored with some mighty fine weather this fall, but from now on we may expect to see the icy fingers of winter. It is the season of cold weather and we might as well get accustomed to it.

"Lots of out-of-town people have attended sales on the Greenville tobacco market this week," observed a Greenville man who spends considerable time on the local market.

"Some of them come out of curiosity, but the majority are dominated by a genuine desire to see what the market is doing and to gain an idea of the extent of the industry in this city.

"Those who never came here before expressed amazement at the magnitude of the market and were surprised at the rapidity with which business is dispatched. They had seen tobacco markets before, but never anything like that here."

"Invest your money in home-town industries," is the advice of leading business men of the community, following the loss of billions of dollars by speculators on the stock market.

"If you have any surplus money, invest it at home and in that way help improve the community in which you live. There are always a number of sound ways to invest your money in your home town if you will only look around and find them.

"That game with Farmville Friday will be one of the outstanding games of the season," members of the high school football squad asserted today.

"With the Greenville grid team suffering from over-confidence, and Farmville exerting every effort to win, the contest undoubtedly will provide a fight that will outshine anything this season."

"If you haven't seen the Greenville club in action this season why not go out and watch the clash Friday? It will make the boys feel good, and give you the consolation of knowing that you have at least given your financial support to the club.

Women Big Losers On Stock Market

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Thousands of women, erstwhile speculators, returned to their bridge tables today, poorer but wiser in the ways of Wall Street.

made during the past year, women of all classes have been in the market. The slump which began a week ago and culminated in yesterday's record-breaking crash gave the majority of them their first baptism of fire and wiped many of them out.

During grueling days that have tried veteran operators they have crowded about the tickers and sat before the boards in the offices of their brokers watching the drop of prices that meant to many the loss of years of savings.

Brokers said their experiences with women customers during the slump has been varied. The suddenness of the onslaught last Thursday when margins vanished in minutes and many women found themselves sold out, caused hysteria. Some even fainted.

Most of those who survived the two previous blows, however, appeared yesterday to have become accustomed to the ordeal. Some even smile as they watched their fortunes fade.

Many declared they were through playing the market. Four richly dressed women toured uptown brokerage offices in a party. One of them announced she had lost $15,000 and led her companions out, remarking, "This place is depressing."

Rockne Ordered to Rest for Two Weeks

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 30.—(AP)—Knut Rockne, Notre Dame's ailing football coach, has accepted his physician's order and will take a complete rest for two weeks at least.

"I have been advised complete rest is necessary and I think now is the best time to take it," Rockne said. "I am not underestimating Georgia Tech when I say we ought to come through the contest undefeated. Then comes Drake. We should get by that game, too."

Begin Investigation Into the Sinking of Steamer Wisconsin

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 30.—(AP)—The Federal government, the county and the Goodrich Steamship company joined today in an investigation into the sinking of the steamship Wisconsin four miles off this port yesterday with the loss of at least nine lives.

Fred J. Meno, supervising inspector of the Federal Steamship Inspection office of Detroit, had charge of the inquiry for the government.

As near as officials were able to state, the Wisconsin carried a crew of 70 men and four passengers. Nine lives were lost, including Capt. Douglas Morrison and Chief engineer Julius Buschmann.

Increase Amount Of Suit Against Winston Citizen

Winston-Salem, Oct. 30.—(AP)—efforts will be made this week by city attorneys to sue L. B. Womble, former head of the printing department of the city schools for $5,000 instead of 3,500, it became known today.

Sometimes ago an audit of Womble's accounts revealed a shortage of $3,500, a suit was instituted for that amount against the defendant. Subsequent investigation, however, indicated that the sum involved is in excess of $5,000, and the attorneys will make a motion before Judge Oscar O. Efrid in an attempt to amend the complaint, and sue for a larger amount.

Woman to Be Set Free in Kraft Case

New Orleans, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Ione Orde, or Florid Ouzer, as investigators believe her to be in reality, pretty material witness in the Jack Kraft murder case, will be set free after she tells in open court tomorrow she knows about incidents preceding the death of the man with whom she traveled on the steamship Creole as a companion.

Judge J. Claude Meraux of the judicial district, comprising St. Bernard and Plaquemines parishes, today arranged for Miss Orde to tell her story in order that she might be released without bond. She has been incarcerated several weeks as a material witness since the body of Kraft was found floating in the Mississippi river below New Orleans with a shot through the heart.

A transcript of the testimony will be kept and presented to the jury at McGouldrick's trial.

Kahn Declines Political Post

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Because of the "divided reception" that greeted his selection as treasurer of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, Otto H. Kahn has declined the post.

Announcement of his selection had been made by Senator George H. Moses, of New Hampshire at a dinner last Thursday given by Jeremiah Milbank for Claudius H. Huston, Republican national chairman. Addresses made at the dinner, a private affair, were interpreted by newspapers as indicating a declaration of war by the senatorial campaign committee against Republican Senators who oppose President Hoover on the tariff and other policies.

Mr. Kahn, in a letter to Senator Moses, declared that while a Wall Street man, he was a liberal in politics. He said that the "divided reception" with which his designation was received, "however erroneous some of the interpretations placed thereon," justified his earlier belief that he was not the right man for the position. He asked that his name not be presented to the committee.

OPEN SEASON ON CAROLINA GRIDS TODAY

By Associated Press
Football coaches of the Carolinas today decreed an "open season" on the scrub and freshman cutouts, as they passed down the word that the day would be turned over to "scrubbing" the freshmen willing. Naturally shrewd grid-men will bring about a curtailment in the work, for with impromptu games ahead, football stars are groomed with care comparable to that accorded thoroughbred race horses.

Diversified practice sessions took place in all camps yesterday afternoon, as University of North Carolina, Duke University, Clemson College, the University of South Carolina, the Citadel, Davidson and others went about the task of "getting ready."

"Munk" Younger, Davidson coach, moved to be the "big-hearted Ben" of the day, giving his men another day off, the second consecutive lay-off, for the boys. The Wildcats' chief stated his men had been going at a lively clip, and he deemed another day's rest advisable, after only a light session Monday.

University of North Carolina and Duke each put in a busy session, but the coaches turned the practice time over to experimenting, in an effort to get a line on the first string team to face secondary elevens in scrimmage today. Coaches at Duke are not satisfied with the way the backs have been performing, and another new "behind the line" combination took the field. Sam Bule, passer de luxe, and "Kid" Brewer held down the half back berths, with John Jankoski, at full, and Marcus Rocky at quarter. Duke plays Boston College, in Boston Saturday, and Duke mentors gave the Blue Devils lots of practice yesterday in handling a wet ball, as the day was one that likely is to turn up at any time in Boston during early November.

"Chuck" Collins, University of North Carolina mentor, may not believe that lightning strikes twice in the same place, but considered that a passer passes twice in crucial moments, he had Jimmy Maus in the varsity backfield, as the Tar Heels practiced for the game with North Carolina State. It was Maus who threw the pass that tied State last season, and it was Maus who flipped the coin to Fenner, giving the Tar Heels a victory over Duke. Working with Maus was Wyatt Nash, and Spaulding, and this combination looks like the one that will start the game against the Wolfpack.

State College worked freshmen and varsity squads together, as the "big team" prepared for Carolina, while the young Wolves are to play the Davidson Wild Kittens. The freshmen contest is to be played Friday at Davidson.

Reports from trainers indicate the physical condition of the men is all that could be desired, only the usual minor casualties of any football game bothering the players.

GOVERNING BODY URGED FOR COLLEGE ATHLETES

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(AP)—A general governing body, designed to regulate the conduct of college athletes off the athletic field, was proposed today by Major John L. Griffith, athletic commissioner of the western conference. Major Griffith said such a board if given preparatory should be able to decide how much assistance should be given the athlete in return for the time he spends in athletics.

PLANT TO MATCH SCOTT AGAINST JACK SHARKEY

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—With the heavyweight situation at a standstill apparently so far as this country is concerned, a group of English sportsmen have stepped forward with a solution to the problem of finding a successor to Gene Tunney, retired. Wilfred Ward and a London syndicate is willing to offer Jack Sharkey, generally considered the outstanding American heavyweight, $250,000 to meet Phil Scott, the English fireman, and Ward, in addition, offered to bet $25,000 on the side that his opponent Scott could whip the garulous gub from Britain. Legat, Londale, has asked the New York Athletic Commission to recognize the match as being for the world's heavyweight championship. Although the New York board declined to take any definite stand until the match is arranged, it was understood that the request was directed toward the request.

Although Scott was knocked out by Knute Hansen in his first American appearance, Scott later knocked out More Mims and defeated, among others, Pierre Charles of Belgium, Ted Sandwina, the German American, Robert Roberto of Italy and Victor Campolo of the Argentine. He is a good boxer and a fair hitter. If the match goes through it probably will be held in London early next year. Sharkey is under contract to Madison Square Garden until after his fight at Miami, Fla. this winter against an opponent as yet unselected.

What Congress Is Doing

Joseph R. Grundy, president of Pennsylvania Manufacturers Association continues testimony before Senate Lobby committee.

Tuesday, Senate adjourned out of respect to memory of Senator Burton of Ohio after adopting resolution of regret.

Joseph E. Grundy told Senate Lobby committee he thought small western states had too much voice in tariff legislation.

Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, was ordered to rest by his physicians.

Chairman Hawley of House Ways and Means committee predicted a tariff bill would be enacted.

Representative Garner of Texas, Force Democratic leader, said tariff bill would fail unless President Hoover yielded on flexible provision.

Provision that many banks would go out of business if stock market fell in October, was made by Senator Brookhart, Republican, Ia.

STAGE IS ALL SET FOR BIG GRID FIGHTS

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 30.—Plans for inter-sectional gridiron honors this week got under way today as the Florida Alligators came to Gainesville for Gainesville where on Saturday they will meet with Harvard.

Although Coach Charlie Buchanan had high hopes of giving John Howard a severe drubbing, the Alligators may be handicapped by the absence of several regulars.

Word from the Saurian training camp revealed that once Goodbread, the 190-pound ball carrier, who runs with the speed of a half-back and yet carries a line-like full-back, was suffering from injuries received when he plunged into a celtic fence at Jacksonville last week during the Florida-Georgia game. Whether he will play Saturday remains problematical.

Mills Smith, another hard driving halfback, is being groomed to take Goodbread's place if the latter fails to answer the gong. James, a guard and Hall, an end, also are on the injured list.

The Gators will work out enroute to Washington on the Georgetown University field.

With the return of Doug Graydon, out for several weeks with a pair of bad ankles, and Ed Herron, also incapacitated by injuries in recent weeks, Coach W. A. Alexander announced that Georgia Tech's Golden Tornado would be ready for the Rocksmist Notre Dame eleven in Atlanta Saturday.

The Tech regulars got a taste of the Poughkeepsie poison yesterday in an hour's scrimmage with the Frosh squad, which was using rambler Coach Alexander wasn't so well pleased with the results.

At Athens, Coach Harry Mehre allows this Georgia Bulldogs a holiday from scrimmage, but sent them through a lengthy pass defense session in preparation for the Tulane battle Friday.

The Auburn Plainsmen, battered from one goal post to the other in recent years, were preparing for Tennessee under the supervision of a new coach, George Bohler resigned yesterday, and line Coach John Floyd was temporarily appointed in his stead.

Misfortune again visited the Kentucky Wildcats' camp at Lexington yesterday. "Shipwreck" Kelly, sensational Sophomore halfback, suffered a pulled tendon in his leg and it was reported his chance of participating in the Clemson game Saturday were slim.

Three other regulars, including Captain Ed Covington, halfback, were injured in the Centre tussle last week and may be out.

Coach Billy Laval, the wily South Carolina mentor, instituted a campaign against fumble yesterday by issuing orders that all halfbacks were to sleep with footballs carry one to their classes and take one to their meals. The Gamecocks play the Citadel at Orangeburg, S. C. Saturday.

MICKY WALKER BEATS HUDKINS

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND, Associated Press Sports Writer
Wigley Field, Los Angeles, Oct. 30.—Fighting with all the old time fury that won him the title in 1926, Mickey Walker demonstrated his fitness to wear the robes of middleweight champion when he pounded his way to an easy ten round decision here last night over his most persistent challenger, Ace Hudkins, Nebraska wildcat.

With hefty punches to the jaw and a terrific body attack, the titleholder not only met the rushes of the tough Nebraskan but slowed him down to a walk before the bout was half over.

A throng of 25,000, accounting for $14,469, the largest gate in the history of boxing in California, saw a furious encounter in which Ace Hudkins took one of the worst beatings of his career.

Unable to weave in under the barrage of jolting lefts and rights, Hudkins, however, rallied to win the eighth round. In that session, the only one he won, battered Walker with a devastating attack to the body.

Hudkins' rally was over with the round, and for the next two sessions he ran into powerful clips to the chin that had him dazed and bleeding when the bout was over.

La Varre Surrenders Paper Stock to Court

Macon, Ga., Oct. 30.—(AP)—Another legal complication resulting from the disagreement between William La Varre and Harold Hall over control of four South Carolina and Georgia newspapers has been removed by La Varre's surrender of stock in three of the papers to J. T. Webb, special court commissioner.

The surrender, which ended a two day court hearing on the petition of Webb for direction on how to proceed as commissioner for the Columbia (S. C.) Record, the Spartanburg (S. C.) Herald and Spartanburg (S. C.) Journal, came yesterday within an hour after the court had threatened La Varre with commitment to jail if he further refused to deliver the stock.

Simultaneous with the action on a side issue, Judge Deaver granted an appeal in the main case of the Hall-La Varre litigation, which was closed here September 30 after a hearing which lasted 20 days.

La Varre's attorneys listed 19 assignments of error in the appeal, which goes to the United States district court of appeals.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET N. Y. STOCK LIST

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 13 to 18 points today with the active months selling 14 to 21 points net higher during the first few minutes on trade buying, covering and some commission house demand promoted by steady cables, rains in the eastern and central belts and talk of a strengthened technical position in both cotton and stocks.

December sold up to 18.08 and March to 18.50 on this initial demand, but the advance met a little southern selling and realizing which caused reactions of a few points. At the end of the first half hour the market was quiet and steady at net advances of 12 to 14 points.

Liverpool cables reported trade trade covering and continental buying in the market there and said there was a moderate cloth business with the continent and near East.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Evidence of large accumulation of wheat ownership by strong speculative interests went hand in hand today with brisk upturns in wheat prices. Big export purchases of North American wheat today tended also to hoist the future delivery market.

Wheat closed strong 3 1/2 to 4 1/4 higher than yesterday's finish; corn closed 1-4 to 1 1/4 up; oats 1-4 to 1 1/4 up; oats 1-4 to 3-4 up, and provisions varying from 10 decline to a rise of 7.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Panic selling of stocks, which has been sweeping the markets of this country for the last week, subsided today, and prices rallied briskly as strong investment support made its appearance. A few new soft spots were ferreted out but stocks generally sold much higher, gains in many of the active issues ranging from 5 to 30 points. Bankers, meeting in informal conference at the offices of J. P. Morgan & Co. this noon, privately expressed the view that the situation had materially improved.

Declaration of extra dividends by the United States Steel and American Can companies yesterday, followed by special disbursements today by the Dictaphone and Bon Air companies and an increase in the regular dividend on A. C. Smith company, coupled with publication of excellent nine-months earnings by the Westinghouse electric and Studebaker corporations, helped to revive confidence.

New York bankers clearings set a new high record at $3,500,000,000 today as a result of yesterday's record-breaking stock market session.

Call money renewed at 6 per cent, as against 5 yesterday, with time money quoted at 6 per cent for all maturities. The stiffening of the rate today was due to heavy month-end demands for funds, and possibly some withdrawals from the call market for investment in high grade securities.

Total sales crossed the 5,500,000 shares mark before mid-day with the ticker then about an hour late. The Iron Age reporter stated that stock market liquidation has not materially disturbed sentiment in the iron and steel trade.

Investment trusts and trading corporations were reported to be heavy buyers of stocks, estimates of the aggregate purchases by these institutions running as high as $500,000,000 in the last two days.

Completion of forced liquidation in many issues was apparent from the scarcity of offerings in some of the high priced stocks, soon after the market opened. Nearly all of the leading commission houses and several investment service had advised their customers overnight that high grade stocks were a purchase at current levels.

American Telephone was one of the leaders on the rally, soaring 27 3/4 points. Eastman Kodak ran up 25, New Haven 21, Delaware & Hudson 20 1/4, General Electric 20, and Standard Gas & Electric, Johns Manville, Allied Chemical, United Carbide, North American and Norfolk & Western advanced 15 points.

Textile Heads Meet at Boston

Boston, Oct. 30.—(AP)—Cotton manufacturers of the country met here today to study problems of the industry.

Representatives of all branches and allied interests of the great textile trade, from the mills of the south to those of New England, and from such widely separated types of work as fashion bureaus and employe relations counsel, came together as speakers and listeners at the annual convention of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers.

General business conditions, manufacturing problems, style trends and questions of distribution were on the program for speeches and discussion.

"Some aspects of employe relations" was the topic for the opening session, led by President Lincoln Bayles of Boston, and Congressman Scott Leavitt of Great Falls, Mont., was to be the principal speaker in the evening at the annual dinner.

Junior League girls were to appear as models in a fashion promenade tonight sponsored by the association and the cotton-textile institute.

Tomorrow Frederick M. Felker, chairman of President Hoover's committee appointed to study distribution of manufactured products, will lead in a session on "Distribution." A style conference will follow and the two-day convention will close with the election of officers.

Jury of Fathers Hears Evidence in Murder Case

Weatherford, Tex., Oct. 30.—(AP)—A jury of twelve fathers—eleven of them farmers, the twelfth a bank cashier—was ready today to hear another day's evidence in the trial of R. H. Hamilton, charged with the murder of his son-in-law, Tom Walton, Jr.

Walton was shot to death in Hamilton's Amarillo office when the young University of Texas student had gone to tell Hamilton of his secret marriage to Theresa Hamilton, 17, last May 4.

Plunging into the evidence at the first session defense counsel immediately indicated that Hamilton's plea would be self-defense in protection of his family. They drew from witnesses the statement that as young Walton lay dead on the floor of his father-in-law's office one hand was near a hip pocket. Emphasis was laid on the finding of a single bullet on a side of the room opposite to the other bullet. Hamilton's first statement after the shooting—"I would rather have killed myself than to kill another man, except to protect my family," was repeated many times before the jury.

While this evidence was brought out Hamilton, former member of the Texas Supreme Court Commission of Appeals, sat close to his counsel, frequently conferring with them. Mrs. Hamilton sat very still, apparently taking in every word of testimony.

Mrs. Grace Walton, the slain youth's mother, and Theresa, his widow, were barred from the courtroom, as they will testify later.

Grundy Is Not Concerned Over What Classification Is Given His Activities

Washington, Oct. 30.—(AP)—A wide range of activities of Joseph R. Grundy, Pennsylvania, were inquired into by the Senate Lobby committee, today, covering the 1929 Republican National convention at Chicago and a Pennsylvania Patronage conference in Washington this year.

Grundy readily told of his participation in a conference of Republican leaders at Chicago which determined to press the nomination of Warren Harding after the deadlock between Leonard Wood and Frank O. Lowden.

The president of the Pennsylvania quickly accepted any credit due him for rate increases in the pending tariff bill.

He said he was host at a luncheon here in April of Pennsylvania political leaders at which the nomination of Albert L. Watson, of Scranton, to be Federal Judge of the middle district of Pennsylvania, was discussed. Watson's nomination is now under fire in the Senate.

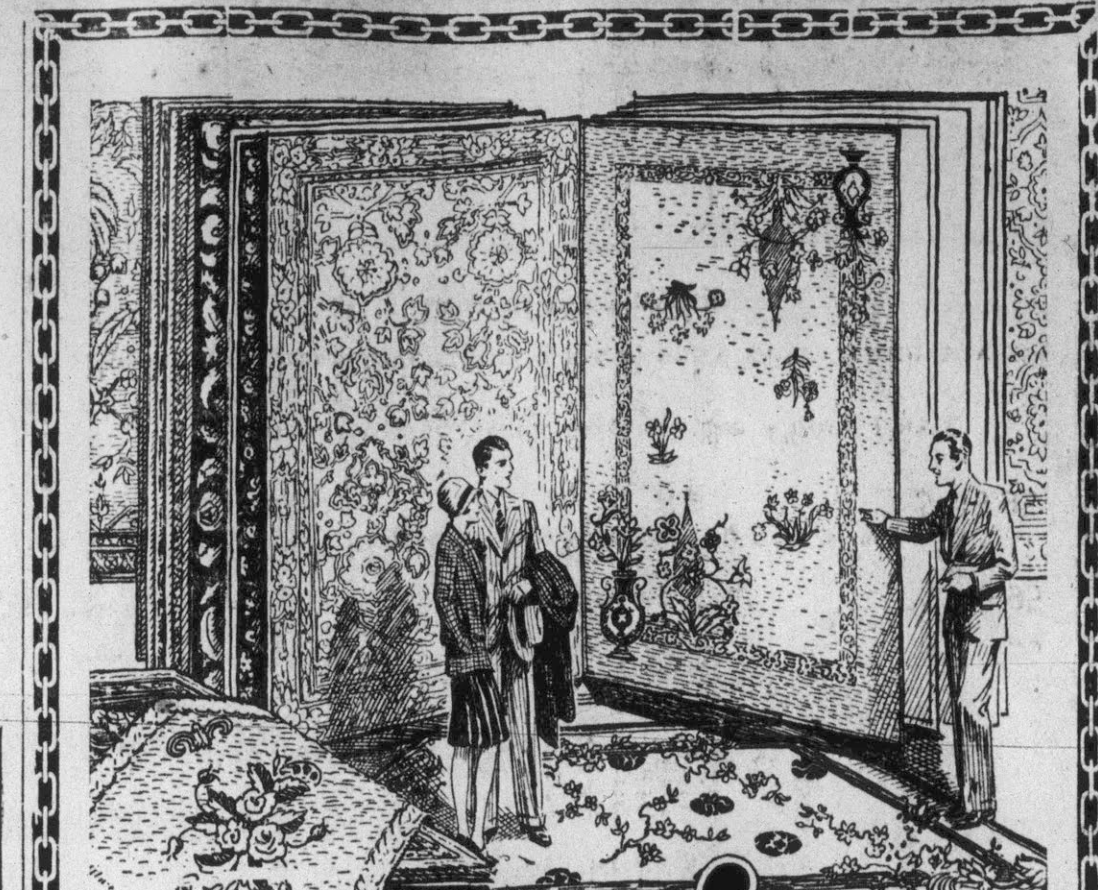

Grundy denied that he had urged Watson's nomination although he said he endorses it. He added it was agreed to leave the nomination up to Senator Reed of Pennsylvania.

Tellin of the Chicago Republican Convention conference, Grundy explained he was invited to it as a representative of the Pennsylvania delegation.

He said the late Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the chairman of the convention, presided at the conference on Friday night of the convention week. He reported Lodge as saying the nomination either of Wood or Lowden had become impracticable and that Warren Harding was the most available man.

Grundy denied that he had urged Watson's nomination although he said he endorses it. He added it was agreed to leave the nomination up to Senator Reed of Pennsylvania.
