COUNTY CLUB WOMEN MEET IN THIS CITY

Interesting Session of Demonstration Club Members Held at the Woman's Club

The demonstration club women throughout the county assembled yesterday in the Greenville Woman's Club Building for their first annual meeting. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. O. H. Jackson from Winterville. Mrs. Bruce Elks conducted the community singing and prayer was offered by Mrs. B. T. Cox.

All clubs except one responded to the roll call. Each club secretary gave an annual report of the work that had been done in her local club since December 1, 1928. There reports revealed more extensive achievement than the club women themselves realized they had accomplished and created quite a bit of interest among the women. The Arthur Club had the largest percentage of attendance and each club member was presented with a prize.

Next year's program was announced by Miss Ethel Nee, Home Demonstration Agent. The program for 1930 will be composed of clothing as the major project with home lawn improvement, home reading and arts and crafts as minors. Early in the year there will be a county-wide "Live at Home Campaign" among the women in an effort to increase home production of food supplies and to increase the family income. Fair booths for 1930 will be prepared by clubs and will include any type of work that comes within the scope of the Home Demonstration program during the year. A county short course will be held in June; the program to consist of work in clothing, foods, home furnishing and home management, arts and crafts, and recreation.

A check for $70 was presented to the secretary to be applied to the fund of the County Council. This check represented the prize won for the county exhibit shown at the Tarboro fair and is to be used for permanent equipment in the county. The various clubs presented club stunts and competed in a contest. Winterville club won the prize and each member was presented with a lollipop. The stunt given by the Cannon's X Roads club revealed much originality and humor on the part of the club members. Their stunt was called "Upst and Downs in Club Work."

The assembly was addressed by Reverend J. L. Hillman of the Methodist church in Greenville. Mr. Hillman applied his remarks directly to the "Live at Home Project" of the women and rounded out his talk by impressing the fact that the "Live at Home Program" is necessary for three reasons: As a means of economic living; to promote the health of the family; and to bring maximum happiness to the family unit.

The report of the nominating committee for 1930 was as follows: Mrs. O. H. Jackson, of Winterville, President; Mrs. H. D. Gurganus of Stokes, Vice-President; Mrs. B. T. Cox of Winterville, Secretary and Treasurer; and Mrs. E. Boyd of Red Banks, reporter. The club members pledged themselves to the support of these officers.

The program was concluded with a brief resume from the meeting and for the men at the court house. This resume was presented by Mr. B. Troy Ferguson from the Agricultural Extension Station at Raleigh.

After adjournment lunch was served in the club room and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon the meeting was called to order for a tour of the county. Forty ladies went in motor cars to the lawn of Mrs. O. H. Jackson at Winterville, and Mrs. R. L. McLawhorn at Winterville to see the lawns that had been improved during the year.

Plymouth Man Hurt At Lumber Plant

Rocky Mount, Nov. 14.—(AP)—His arm broken in two places and his collar bone shattered, Milton Bowen, lumber company employe, of Plymouth, is in a local hospital today, following a narrow escape in an accident at the Plymouth plant yesterday.

Bowen was injured when caught in the shafting and hurled against the machinery at the plant. Attending physicians reported that he was suffering from shock in addition to the broken bones.

Sixteen indicted on liquor charge Los Angeles, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Sixteen persons were under indictment today on a liquor conspiracy charge accusing them of having promoted a "wide open town" during the recent American Legion State Convention at San Diego.

Leading Stocks Rally From $2 to $20 Share On New York Exchange

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Wall Street cast aside its mantle of gloom today as prices of leading securities rallied $2 to $20 a share and closed practically at the top. It was the first sustained rally after a week of destructive liquidation which had wiped out billions of dollars in quoted values, and sent scores of stocks to prices which represented only a small fraction of their year's high levels.

Closing prices of several leading shares were: U. S. Steel common $1.60, up $8.50; American Can $102.50, up $16.50; New York Central $109, up $10; General Motors $38, up $1.87; Radio $7, up $4.25; Montgomery

Ward $56.87, up $7; Columbia Gas $62.75, up $9.25; American Telephone $217.25, up $20.25; Union Pacific, $213.87, up $13.87; Standard Oil of N. J., $58.50, up $7.75; Sears Roebuck $86.62, up $5.25.

One block of 40,000 shares of Reynolds Tobacco B changed hands at $40, off $10 and a new low record. Liggett and Myers A and B and Porto Rican Tobacco B sank $4 to $7 to new low prices for the year.

Total sales on the New York Stock Exchange for the abbreviated session were 5,569,360 shares, compared with 7,761,450 shares yesterday.

Total sales on the New York Curb Exchange were 2,287,500 shares, as against 2,770,650 yesterday.

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Secretary Mellon said today his announcement that the treasury intended to ask a cut of $160,000,000 in income taxes coming at the time of a disturbance situation in the stock market was a coincidence and had been decided upon more than a week ago.

Mellon coupled this statement with an expression that he had the utmost confidence in the continued prosperity in the country and that before the tax reduction was decided upon all elements entering into government income had been considered thoroughly.

At the capital leaders of both Houses prepared to move swiftly to draft legislation to carry out the proposed reduction and today it was their intention to offer the necessary resolution early in the December session.

The measure must be introduced first in the House where under the constitution all revenue legislation must originate. The treasury proposal would provide for a one per cent cut in the normal individual and corporation tax rate.

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Tax reduction—a material slash in the governments annual assessment upon the incomes of millions of individuals and business institutions—today was definitely and imminently in prospect.

A general cut of one per cent in the normal rate of taxation applicable to incomes of the present calendar year and effective all along the line, from the mammoth corporation to the lowly wage-earner whose earnings just exceed his personal exemption, is planned by the Treasury Department.

A detailed program has been drawn up, after a careful examination of the many factors which control government revenues and expenditures and, with the approval of President Hoover, will be recommended to Congress for immediate action when the national Legislature meets next month in regular session.

The Treasury plan even includes the form which the necessary legislation should take in order that delay, particularly that incident to a general revision of the federal reserve laws, may be avoided.

All this was revealed by Secretary Mellon in a statement published today and issued after a series of conferences with his ranking lieutenants in the department and with President Hoover.

SUGAR HEAD TESTIFIES AT LOBBY PROBE

J. A. Arnold Reiterates That Florida Contributed to His Organization

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—J. A. Arnold, manager of the American Taxpayers Association, who has answered more questions from the Senate lobby committee than any other witness, was kept on the stand only a brief period today, being followed by Royal D. Mead, treasurer of the Domestic Sugar Producers Association and vice-president of Hawaiian Sugar Planters Association.

Before Arnold was excused, however, he reiterated that the State of Florida had contributed $2,050 to his organization and introduced the copy of a check signed by Ernest Amos, Florida comptrollerman.

Chairman Caraway of the committee had said at a previous hearing that the Governor of Florida had denied the state had contributed money to the Taxpayers Association.

Arnold also showed the committee the copy of a Journal of the Florida Senate dated May 21, 1929, which said the Governor had appointed a committee to appear before the House Ways and Means to advocate repeal of the federal inheritance tax.

The Journal said the National Council of State Legislators had advanced money for expenses of the delegation on condition that it be reimbursed.

Joint offices are maintained in Washington for the Legislators Council, the Taxpayers League and the Southern Tariff Association of which Arnold is also general manager.

E. L. BROWN IS VICTIM OF FLU ATTACK

Station Agent at Ayden Died Last Night After Illness of One Week

E. L. Brown, one of the best known men of the Ayden community, died at his home in Ayden last night at 11 o'clock, according to information reaching this city today.

Mr. Brown suffered an attack of flu about a week ago, and his condition became so serious the few days that no hope was entertained for his recovery.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon by Rev. W. H. Brunson, pastor of the Ayden Christian church and interment will be made in the town cemetery.

Mr. Brown had been employed by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad as station agent at Ayden for over a quarter of a century, and he served in this capacity until illness brought about his confinement.

Mr. Brown is survived by his wife, three daughters and two sons.

TEXTILE HEAD REFUSES HELP IN THE SOUTH

President of Southern Textile Association Declines Offer of Aid From North

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Thomas F. McMahon, International President of the United Textile Workers Union of America, in a letter to L. L. Brown, president of the Southern Textile Association at Spartanburg, S. C., today said that "your rejection of our offer of assistance caused us considerable regret."

The letter was in reply to a telegram from Brown declining McMahon's offer to assist the Southern Textile Association in "readjusting" wage schedules and hours to stabilize labor conditions and establish union standards.

Brown had replied that his organization was "purely educational and we never discuss wages or labor" and expressed lack of confidence in the United Textile Workers of America.

"In the first place," McMahon in his letter today said, "we feel very earnestly that the object of an 'educational organization' such as you describe yours to be, is fundamentally concerned with the needs for labor stability and a discussion of wage schedules and hours of work is essential to such stability. The future progress and development of the textile industry is a primary concern of every worker in that industry and it is consequently our desire to rehabilitate and develop, not to undermine or interrupt the progress of this industry."

The United Textile Workers of America do not want to undermine the southern textile industry," McMahon said, "but we want to put in a sound business basis, so that the workers engaged therein may be assured of continuity of employment and a wage level that is consistent with an American standard of living."

"We sincerely regret the statement you made in reference to a lack of confidence in us. We feel that there is only one interpretation to put upon it, and that is that it reflects a lack of confidence in yourselves and the status of an educational association which at a critical time like this feels its objective is not concerned with the dynamic problem of labor."

"We earnestly trust that the time is not far off when we can assist you and your members with what we consider the most fundamental and far-reaching educational problem you are now to face."

GOOD STILL IN CRITICAL SHAPE TODAY

Secretary of War Getting Along As Good As Could Be Expected, However

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Secretary Good, dangerously ill at the Walter Reed hospital, was thought today by his physicians to have entered the critical period and the next 48 hours were expected to determine whether he would survive from the acute attack of appendicitis for which he underwent an operation.

Army surgeons attending the war secretary noted with some apprehension that his temperature had risen slightly this morning.

This, however, was not considered particularly alarming as it was said the patient's temperature might rise as a natural defensive measure on the part of the body as a reaction from the operation.

Mr. Good had a "fair" night and his condition was stated at ten o'clock this morning to be as satisfactory as could be expected under the circumstances.

The critical nature of the secretary's condition was not minimized by his surgeons and constant contact was kept by the White House with his bedroom so that President Hoover could be kept informed.

No one was permitted in Mr. Good's room. Mr. Good spent the night at the hospital in an adjoining apartment.

NEW YORK—Miss Cynthia Carol Corlett, great-granddaughter of the late Joseph Jefferson, famous actor, is to be married to Edwin Ogden Child, whose mother, Mrs. Alberta Gallatin Child, once was Jefferson's leading woman. The ceremony will be in front of the Joseph Jefferson Memorial Window in the Little Church around the corner.

McDowell Grand Jury Returns True Bills Against 54 Strikers

Marion, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The McDowell county grand jury this morning returned true bills charging 54 strikers and others with rioting and resisting an officer.

Including in the 54 are Alfred Hoffman, organizer for the United Textile Workers of America, and four others on trial here now on charges of insurrection and rebellion. The four are J. Hugh Hall, Dell Lewis, W. L. Hogan and Wesley Fowler.

The charges grew out of a disturbance at the Clinchfield mill village on August 30 when the sheriff and his deputies allege they were prevented from returning to a textile mill house furniture of a worker that had been moved out.

In the trial of Hoffman and the others this morning, the venire of 100 from Rutherford, an adjoining county, had been exhausted shortly after noon and examination of the new venire of 75 was begun in an effort to select the jury.

The selection had exhausted nine of its ten peremptory challenges and the defense had used thirteen of its twenty. Others had been excused by the court because they had formed and expressed an opinion and for other reasons.

Five of the tentative twelve jurors accepted by the defense yesterday were removed by the prosecution up to noon today.

Some troubles in this section followed strikes called in Clinchfield and Marion Manufacturing Company mills by the United Textile Workers of America.

More than 120 cases of docket at this special term of court grew out of labor disturbance. True bills were returned by the grand jury here yesterday charging eight deputy sheriffs with murder, 37 strikers with rioting, resisting arrest and preventing workers from entering mill property. The cases grew out of a gun fight at the Marion Manufacturing company mill gates on October 2 in which six men were fatally injured and more than 20 seriously wounded.

Statutes Describe Purposes Of New International Bank

Baden-Baden, Germany, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Purposes of the new Bank of International Settlements were described in the statutes of the bank published today by the committee which has just drawn them up.

"To promote cooperation of the central banks, provide additional facilities for international financial operations, and to act as trustee or agent in regard to the international financial settlements entrusted to it."

So long as the Young Reperations plan is operative the bank shall not only "observe provisions of the plan in administration of operations of the bank" but also will "conduct its affairs with a view to facilitating execution of the plan."

During the Young Plan's operation the bank is vested with the functions of receiving and distributing the German reparations and supervising and assisting in commercialization of the annuities.

These statements of the purposes and functions of the new bank are contained in the first chapter of the bank statutes, which as published contain sixty articles and seven chapters, the first chapter in addition fixing Basel as seat of the institution.

The statutes, charter, and trust agreement of the Embryo Institution were signed at 6:25 p. m. yesterday by national delegates who have been here for the last six weeks for the purpose of initiating the bank in accordance with provisions of the Young Plan.

A traveler of Chicago, chairman of the conference and regarded as probably first choice for its first president, refused after the meeting had adjourned to make public the copy of the statutes. American Press representatives finally had made available to them by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, the copy of the statutes he was referring to the German press at 9 a. m. today.

The seven chapters of the statutes list, first, objects of the bank and name of its seat; second, its capital, three; its powers; fourth, its management; five, general meeting; six, accounts and profits; and seven, general provisions.

DR. TURNER AGAIN HEADS N. C. BAPTISTS

Greensboro Minister Re-elected President at Closing of Shelby Convention

Shelby, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Dr. J. C. Turner, of Greensboro, will head North Carolina Baptist for another year. He was re-elected here today at the closing session of the 99th annual convention. J. M. Suttle, Shelby; Dr. Zeno Wall, Shelby; and Dr. J. R. Jester, Winston-Salem, were elected vice-presidents.

Featuring the final day's session was a suggestion for Dr. William L. Poter that an investigation be made of conditions among women and children in industrial situations in the State and passage of a resolution calling for a non-military Armistice Day celebration in 1930, and from then on.

E. M. Poter Jr., presented the Armistice Day celebration resolution, and intimated that the true spirit of the Armistice is found not in military display, but in suggestions of peace.

Dr. Poter's proposed investigation was made in his address before the final session of the convention, his subject being "public morals."

New Members of the general board also were named as follows: John W. Suttle, Shelby; Trella D. Collins, Durham; Mrs. J. Wilbur Bunn, Raleigh; Hugh Lattimer, Asheville; W. C. Barry, Bakersville; T. L. Johnson, Lumberton; S. H. Templeton, Winston-Salem; Ira A. Johnson, Jefferson; W. O. Riddick, Asaia; Bruce Benton, Rockingham; A. P. Stephens, Morehead City; R. Pittman, Burnsville; J. R. Morgan, Waynesville; J. H. Highsmith, Raleigh; J. E. Kirk, Rosemary; W. D. Poe, Oxford; Joe Howard, Hickory; J. T. J. Battle, Greensboro; and R. E. Hardaway of Lenoir.

Committee appointments follow: Steering—R. N. Simms, Raleigh; Mrs. W. N. Jones, Raleigh; Mrs. H. T. Stevens, High Point; J. Clyde Turner, Greensboro; J. R. Jester, Winston-Salem; A. J. Smith, Goldsboro; C. H. Durham, Lumberton.

Dying Words of Huffman Figure in Newton Trial

Newton, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The dying words of Eugene Huffman, evidence in the trial of Knox Huff-45, today figured largely in the man, 58, charged with murder. Mrs. Eugene Huffman, testifying, asserted that the dying words of her husband were "Knox Huffman cut me and cut to kill."

Stipulated testimony was given by Dr. H. E. Rowe of Newton and Dr. Glenn R. Frye of Hickory who treated Eugene Huffman during his last hours. The fatal cutting occurred August 15.

The defense on cross examination sought to establish that Eugene Huffman was not rational when he made the accusatory statements. Dr. Frye said he was not entirely normal while Dr. Rowe said he had given the man a hypodermic to raise the pain and shock of the wounds.

Mrs. Huffman told of the last words of her husband and denied on cross-examination that her husband and his brother had cursed and threatened Knox Huffman with knives during the afternoon before the fight.

Most of the witnesses in the case were close relatives of the Huffmans.

To Create Ministry of Aviation in Greece Athens, Greece, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Premier Venizelos today decided to create a ministry of aviation which he himself will direct, with a secretary for the details.

He also informed athletic societies he was greatly interested in physical education and would encourage it by granting an annual government subsidy of $132,000 to be used for sending gymnastic instructors abroad for their education.

HEAVY SALES ON LEAF MART HERE TODAY

Approximately a million and a half pounds of tobacco was on floors of the nine warehouses here today, according to the report of K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales, given out this morning shortly after sales got under way.

Despite heavy sales yesterday, bright leaf continued to roll into the market last night and floors of virtually all warehouses were flooded today.

The report of the supervisor of sales also showed that the market disposed of a total of 987,512 pounds of tobacco Tuesday, following suspension of sales Monday in observance of Armistice Day. Official figures for Wednesday's sales were given at 892,012 pounds.

MEDICOES TO GATHER HERE THIS EVENING

Tri County Medical Society to Be Guest of Pitt County Doctors

Dr. H. H. Bass, of Durham, State chairman of the American Society for the Control of Cancer, will be the principal speaker at a meeting of the Tri-County Medical Society at the Country Club in this city tonight at 7 o'clock. Dr. Bass will confine his address to a discussion of cancer treatment and is expected to bring out many interesting facts in this connection.

The Tri-County Society will be the guest of the Pitt County Medical Society, and members of the latter organization have prepared an elaborate program for the evening. The program will be in charge of Drs. Pace, Crisp, and Barrett. A turkey supper will be served.

Dr. J. E. Smithwick, of Jamesville, president of the Tri-County Society, will preside over the session tonight, and one of the largest attendances in months is expected.

Other speakers of the evening will be Dr. C. C. Joyner, of Farmville, and Dr. DeWitt Klutz, of Washington. Dr. Joyner will talk on the subject, "Thirty Years of Practice in Obstetrics," and Dr. Joyner will discuss, "Biliary Tract Complications of Abdominal Infection."

The Tri-County Society is composed of the counties of Martin, Beaufort and Pitt, and meetings are held in various towns of the three counties during the year. This is the first time in several months the society has met here, and county physicians were looking forward to the occasion today with no little interest.

Asheville Man Held on Assault Charge in N. Y.

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The man he ultimately will inherit more than $4,000,000, Robert Stuart, son of William C. Stewart, of Asheville, and Atlantic Beach, Fla., is in jail on a charge of felonious assault, unable to raise $2,500 bail. He is accused of striking his wife, Edna Marsh Stuart, so severely with a hammer that she required hospital treatment. They were married in 1923 when he was 18 years old and she was 28. He said the fortune he will inherit was amassed chiefly by his great grandfather who was associated in the fur business with John Jacob Astor.

The testator, John J. Albrecht, once county engineer, left $1,000,000.

Engagement Broken—An announcement by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Iselin, says the engagement of their daughter Louise to Count Leonardo Mercati has been broken by mutual consent. The engagement was announced in September. The Count, a Greek nobleman, is employed in the Paris office of American Bankers. Miss Iselin is a member of the Junior League.

Tax Counsellor Plans to Appeal From Jail Term

Los Angeles, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Granted a thirty day stay of execution and liberty under $5,000 bond Miss Marjorie Berger, Hollywood tax counsellor, today began preparation for an appeal from her conviction and sentence on two counts of falsifying the 1926 income tax returns of Dorothy Mackall, screen actress.

Miss Berger yesterday was found guilty and sentenced to serve two and one half years in the Federal prison for women at Alderson, West Virginia, and pay a fine of $2,500 on each of the two counts. Defense counsel announced a plea for probation would be filed.

Many prominent persons appeared to testify as character witnesses for Miss Berger, and affidavits from two physicians were filed stating in the tax adviser was suffering from a heart disease.

Judge Edward J. Henning, however, pointed out that the prison maintains a special ward for persons in need of medical treatment. Six other fraud indictments remain against Miss Berger, and U. S. Attorney S. W. McNabb announced that "at least several" of these will be tried as soon as possible. It was intimated that in case she pleads guilty to falsification of returns for Tom Mix, King Vidor and Eganor Beardman, all film personalities, the three remaining indictments will be dismissed.

Miss Berger was convicted of fraudulently deducting approximately $200,000 from the gross income of Miss Mackall.

Killer Sent to Prison for Life

Spartanburg, S. C., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Earle Robertson, who on August 1st ran amuck with a hand axe and killed four men today was found guilty of the murder of J. L. Bussey, J. W. Bell. The verdict carried a recommendation of mercy, and the trial lasted less than an hour. Judge D. S. Murphy sentenced Robertson to life imprisonment, but did not state whether he should be confined in the state prison or in the trial hospital. State hospital authorities have declared Robertson insane.

Legion Auxiliary Meets

The Auxiliary of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion met Wednesday afternoon in Robersonville at the home of Mrs. V. A. Ward with Mrs. Everett assisting the hostess.

There were nineteen members present. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. R. C. Stokes, Jr., and the chaplain, Mrs. R. L. Humber, led in prayer.

The preamble was then repeated in concert. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Wiley Brown read the minutes.

The treasurer, Mrs. Bendall, made a very gratifying report. It was reported that about $180.00 was realized from the sale of for-get-me-nots last Saturday.

Two new members were unanimously accepted.

Letters of thanks were read from Oteen from the workers there and the recipients of the two boxes of clothing recently sent by the Auxiliary.

Eight cretonne bedside bags were turned in to be sent to the boys at Oteen.

Other business was discussed after which the auxiliary adjourned.

At the conclusion of the meeting the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Higdon, served tea and wafers.

Undergoes Operation

Janet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Evans, was reported as getting along nicely today following an operation for appendicitis at Pitt Community Hospital last night.

The returns from Rocky Mount were reported as having returned from Rocky Mount, where she took part in the Owens-Braswell wedding, which took place Tuesday evening.

Stewards at Home

The Board of Stewards will be at home to the members of Jarvis Memorial Methodist Church in the Church Auditorium from 2 to 4 o'clock

Sunday Afternoon, November 17. To receive voluntary pledges to the Church Budget.

CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK WILL BE CELEBRATED

The Literary Department of the Woman's Club is cooperating with the staff of the Greenville Public Library in arranging for an observance of Children's Book Week, November 18-23. Leaflets, posters, and many new books will be on display in the library rooms, showing the very attractive reading matter offered to adults and juniors for the fall and winter.

At 3:30 on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 19, at the library, certificates will be presented to the forty-seven children who completed the vacation reading club work during the past summer.

The parents and teachers of these children will receive special invitations to attend these exercises also.

On Thursday all who are interested in children's reading are invited to come to the library, look over the display of children's books and secure carefully selected lists of worth-while books which children love to read.

These books may be ordered from publishers or bought from local book stores.

All friends of the library throughout the county, and particularly the patrons and teachers of the rural schools are invited to come into the library at any time during the week. The regular library hours are from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m., but during Book Week the building will be open every day from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

NEW-PROCESS "STANDARD" GASOLINE NOW ON MARKET

Some of the most carefully guarded areas throughout the past year has been the 2950 acres comprising the great refineries of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

Guards patrolled the gates between high barbed wire fences. Every visitor to the plants was carefully questioned. Photographers and newspaper reporters could get no further than the main office.

But just before the Standard Oil officials were ready to divulge their plans, one reporter did manage to elude the guards at the Bayway, N. J. plant.

He found that three giant sized double units of cracking coils had been erected there and that already a new-processed "Standard" Gasoline was being refined and released to selected localities for practical experimental purposes.

This gasoline is manufactured by forcing heavy oil through a fire box with high pressure pumps. The oil, heated to a volcanic temperature, passes from the coils to a "soaking drum" in which the "cracking" reaction takes place and then into other drums where the heavier oils, kerosenes and tars are entirely separated from the gasoline.

The result is an entirely pure, higher-test gasoline, which may be sold at no advance in price because this new process extracts a greater amount of gasoline from the crude oil. The new coils give a higher yield of gasoline stocks than the old, have a much greater capacity, and make possible the manufacture of many intermediate by-products.

From a laboratory standpoint it had already been proved that this new-processed gasoline gave six distinct advantages to motor cars. Testing grounds had been running on this gasoline for months. But it was decided not to sell this new-processed gasoline to the public until performance reports came in from actual users.

The first letters were so encouraging, however, that distribution plans were quickly carried through.

"The best gasoline I ever tried," came the quick reply from a truck fleet owner in Huntington, W. Va.

"I couldn't hear my motor running," wrote a North Carolina motorist, "but it carried me up the hills without a shift of gear."

According to Dr. R. T. Haslam, Manager of the Development Department of the Standard Development Company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, this new processed gasoline gives quicker starting, faster pick-up, smoother power, all the advantages of high test gasoline, with its attendant less shifting of gears and less knocking on hills. All in all it is a modern power fuel, made by the most up to date methods yet possible.

Now all "Standard" dealers in town have been supplied with this new-processed "Standard" Gasoline. "And though all refineries," say officials of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, "are running capacity day and night, they are taxed to their limits in turning out enough 'Standard' Gasoline to supply the huge demand."

FALKLAND NEWS

Several of our people attended the Armistice Day celebration in Greenville Monday.

The Woman's Club will have their regular monthly meeting at the school building Monday, the 18th at 2:30.

Mr. Jenness Morrill, Jr., shipped out 100 young pullets to Hester today. We are bringing "Live at Home" products to the front.

Our offering next Sunday will be for the orphans. We hope that a good number will come out to Sunday School and bring what they can.

This is the week for Red Cross work. If any are interested or can lend a helping hand, please turn contributions to Mrs. G. H. Pittman.

The following pupils are on attendance honor roll in the second grade at Falkland school for the first and second months:

Louise Bell Adams, Christine Baker, Ruth Clarke, Marie Case, David Deans, Gerald Briley, Mavis Flake, Joseph Dunn, Glenwood Harris, Eva Harris, Myrtle Harris, Libbie Harris, Inez Hathaway, Dennis Jackson, Johnnie James, Bill Newton, Mae Ellen Norville, Earline Smith, Nannie Blanche Stokes.

The Parent-Teacher Association of Falkland met Friday night with a good attendance. After the business meeting a program was enjoyed. Mr. Arthur Corey, of Greenville gave us a very interesting talk on Americanism.

BONEY ATTENDS MEETING OF INSURANCE MEN

Raleigh, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Dan C. Boney, State Insurance Commissioner, left Raleigh today for Pinehurst to attend the meeting there of the Insurance Federation of North Carolina. Mr. Boney will address the Federation tomorrow. A number of men prominent nationally in the insurance world are on the program for addresses.

Look!

Good old fashioned square dance Thursday night, November 14th, at eight o'clock, two miles west of Greenville, at Lone Pine Gas Station. Everybody invited. Wed-Thurs.

MR. HOOVER AND PARTY LEADERSHIP.

Senator Thomas J. Walsh makes a pertinent observation when he says that the supposed Republican majority in Washington has been turned into a minority, and that if this happened under a parliamentary system the Ministry would resign. In France and England the power of a government to remain in office depends on its power to legislate. But instead of resigning, our Administration continues as before. The country simply puts up with the partial legislative paralysis and the political disorganization, and waits for the responsible party leadership to regain control or for the situation otherwise to straighten itself out.

The paramount question is whether President Hoover can assert his leadership, restore general order and make effective legislation possible. He still has a nominally large majority in both Houses; he is not yet in the helpless position of Grover Cleveland after 1894 or of Mr. Taft after the 1910 landslide. The question is whether the party schism that has appeared will proceed to the fatal point which the split between gold Democrats and silver Democrats reached in 1894, or the rupture between the Progressive Republicans and standpat Republicans reached in 1910. It is a question which has plainly begun to worry those party lieutenants who have a sense of responsibility. They realize that a Congressional election is coming next fall and a Presidential election in three years and that prompt action in behalf of party harmony is important.

The development of the factional antagonism in the last few weeks has made it increasingly plain that Mr. Hoover has played his cards badly; that in fact he has failed to play the right cards when they were squarely before him. It was primarily a combination of the West and South which gave Mr. Hoover his tremendous vote, not the East. The great North-western farming States voted for him because they were assured by Senator Borah and others that Mr. Hoover would champion their interests. And on the crucial tariff question there can be little doubt that at heart Mr. Hoover has agreed with the West. Like the West, he wished a "limited" revision and a revision primarily for agriculture. Yet he lost repeated opportunities to identify himself with the moderate and liberal groups nearest his own views. He could have had their support and a clear Senate majority if he had declared vigorously against the egregious Hawley schedules. He could doubtless have had their support on even the flexible-tariff clause so near his heart if he had but given them assurances that he would use this power reasonably, to cut down excessive rates as freely as to raise inadequate rates. Instead, he seemed to acquiesce in the drafting of an utterly bad bill. He seemed to be willing to accept it if only he were granted automatic powers to change it later. This was a risk which the progressive Republicans quite properly refused to take. The result has been a growing split, and Mr. Hoover has been jockeyed into the position of seeming to stand with the reactionaries and to accept Mr. Reed and Mr. Smoot as his champions.

The ability to display the power of party leadership and Congressional leadership is the severest test of a President. Mr. Coolidge seldom even tried to show it. Mr. Taft tried and failed. The Presidents of really impressive achievements, like Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Wilson, possessed this power in eminent degree. The country, without respect to party, has hoped that Mr. Hoover would show much of the faculty which these two men so usefully exercised. It still hopes so. A President of Mr. Hoover's non-political training needs some time to learn the game. But already the situation has drifted to a point where Mr. Hoover will find it far harder to interfere than it would have been some weeks ago.—New York World.

ABOUT TOWN

Bear in mind the fact that the annual Red Cross call will open next Monday. The Red Cross stands for the people. In its disaster work it aids sufferers on a basis of actual need. Its only aim is the good of humanity. It lives by membership, so take advantage of the opportunity to be offered you next Monday, November 18, and renew your membership. Pitt County has always rallied splendidly to the roll call of this organization, and there is every indication she will do likewise this time. In case you are not a member, why not join while the campaign is in progress and show the world that you are behind this disaster sufferers in all sections of the county? You won't miss the dollar, but just think of the great good it would accomplish in regions where death, stark and grim and cold, has claimed innumerable lives. Don't let this opportunity pass you by; if you are already a member renew your membership, and if you are not get on the roll for the coming year.

"Charity Bundle Day" set for November 23 will be one of the only occasions of the kind ever before conducted in this community, although we have had many drives for the poor in recent years. This campaign is being launched under the auspices of the Boy Scouts of Greenville and will afford everybody an opportunity of giving liberally to the relief of that class of people who will suffer severely during the winter months without aid from the public. The Scouts will visit the homes in every section of the city, and collect bundles prepared by those desiring to assist in this great movement in behalf of humanity. Clothing, cash, or food will be gladly accepted and as soon as a complete canvass of the city has been made it will be turned over to those in need.

The Scouts are to be congratulated upon this effort to render a distinct service in behalf of humanity. If they did nothing else during the year, they could rest assured of having done something really outstanding—something that should count largely in the life of the citizenship in the years to come. Who knows but the unfortunate, destitute boy or girl ministered to today may not be a colossal figure in the life of the nation in future years? The possibilities of the American boy or girl are unlimited, and even those reared in poverty and misery may rise until their names bear all the luster of a star. So in ministering to the poor, the Boy Scouts are rendering a service that may bear unexpected fruit—a service that will not only carry happiness and cheer into the homes of the unfortunate, but which may have far-reaching results in the life of the nation tomorrow.

The loan to North Carolina cotton farmers, made possible through the Federal Farm Board, should play an important part in the life of the growers the next several months.

It matters not what turn the market may take, the farmers are assured of receiving loans up to six cents on their crop, an amount that should enable them to weather the storm until the market situation becomes more favorable.

This one stroke on the part of the national organization will do more good to bring about a readjustment of the cotton market than any other thing we can imagine. In other words, it shows the world that the grower is protected and that no set of gamblers can rob them through low prices.

The loans are made possible through the North Carolina Cotton Growers Association, indicating a desire of the Farm Board to bring about a more complete organization of the growers in order that more results may be accomplished through combined effort.

It is impossible to estimate the value of the action of the national farm body, but it is safe to say it will have a salutary effect upon the market in the next several months, and enable the farmer to receive more for his cotton than he would have received had he not been given this kind of aid.

Does it pay to engage in the illicit whiskey traffic? Glance over the sentences meted out by Superior and County courts the last several weeks and answer the question for your self.

While it is impossible to say how many bootleggers and distillers have been sentenced to the roads or who paid heavy fines for their violations, it is an established fact that the number will go into the hundreds.

Only several weeks ago county and federal officers staged a raid that resulted in thirty or more defendants going to the penitentiary or county roads.

These men were found guilty of a crime against humanity in the sale of whiskey and were meted out periods of confinement to pay for their crime.

Does it pay to break the law? Ask those serving the road and prison terms and let them answer the question for you if you are not convinced. They are paying the price all criminals must pay, and if they are not satisfied when their terms are finished, then the prisons still stand and the roads need working, and the law is just as inescapable as ever.

Morrison Will Not Vote for Sen. Simmons

Charlotte, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Former Governor Cameron Morrison doesn't intend to vote for Senator F. M. Simmons for nomination to succeed himself in the Senate if a worthy candidate offers against him in the Democratic primary, but he isn't seeking a man to run against the Senator.

Mr. Morrison made that clear in a statement issued here setting forth his position on the forthcoming senatorial race. At the same time he said he would not be "shouldered with the burden, financial or other wise, of anybody's candidacy" against Senator Simmons.

His statement follows in full:—

"The recent statement made in Raleigh about Senator Simmons expressed my real feeling and judgment, as far as it went, but I must ask the press for space for this addendum in order that the people who care for my position may clearly understand it.

"It is this:—

"Notwithstanding my judgment is clear and decided that Senator Simmons' renomination by the Democratic primary to succeed himself in the Senate will be most unwise and make for discord and disruption as no other nomination could, nevertheless, I am not going to be shouldered with the burden, financial or otherwise, of anybody's candidacy against him.

"I am not trying to get anybody to run against Senator Simmons and do not expect to, although I am not going to vote for him in the primary if any good candidate runs against him; but if he is nominated, I shall support him in the general election."

Suspended Cop Testifies At Murder Inquiry

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Robert J. Allen, suspended policeman, appeared before the grand jury today to testify again about the McPherson murder mystery, which has had more ramifications and developments than the average detective story.

Allen's investigation into the death of Mrs. Virginia McPherson, pretty young nurse, led to the indictment of her husband, Robert A. McPherson, a furor in the police department, turned the eyes of the Senate upon the District government and finally caused the suspension of Allen himself. He was convicted of insubordination by a police trial board but has appealed.

Meanwhile the attention of the case aroused the appointment of John E. Caskey as special assistant to the Attorney General to prosecute McPherson, and Department of Justice agents began a searching inquiry into the death of Mrs. McPherson who was found strangled by a pajama cord in her apartment.

Before the investigation was completed, however, a fault was found in the indictment of McPherson and a grand jury was called and hearings in the case have begun over again.

Allen said his testimony was substantially a repetition of what he told the first grand jury.

Consumption of Cotton in October Shows Increase

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Cotton consumption for October was announced by the census bureau today as having been 640,783 bales of lint and 62,747 bales of linters, compared with 545,049 of lint and 22,022 of linters in September this year and 616,228 of lint and 78,827 of linters in October last year.

Cotton on hand Oct. 31 was held as follows:

In consuming establishments 1,369,557 bales of lint and 145,478 of linters, compared with 792,028 and 138,546 on Sept. 30th this year and 1,195,779 and 28,106 on October 31st last year.

In public storage and at compresses 5,311,920 bales of lint and 54,397 of linters, compared with 3,224,859 and 43,144 on Sept. 30th this year and 4,632,109 and 45,933 on October 31st last year.

Imports of foreign cotton during October totaled 29,215 bales, compared with 23,974 in September this year and 28,340 in October last year.

Exports of domestic cotton during October totaled 1,251,500 running bales of lint and 11,002 of linters compared with 725,876 and 5,737 in September this year and 1,249,702 and 11,264 in October last year.

Suit Against Neal Dropped

John Randolph Neal of Knoxville, sued by Tom P. Jimison and H. Abernathy by the American Fund for Public Service, for $15,000, today gave J. F. Flowers, attorney, a certified check for $1,500 for the fund. Flowers announced that the suit against Neal would be dropped.

Jimison and Abernathy claim the International Labor Defense gave them the money and that it belongs to that organization. The American Fund for Public Service then filed suit for the money.

The money was posted as bond for three women originally defendants in the Adair murder case. The attorneys claim they are holding it to meet expenses of the trial.

Girl Dies After Taking Poison

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 14.—(AP)—Poison swallowed after her parents were said to have scolded and beaten her for kissing the young man who brought her home from an automobile ride early in the morning, ended the life of 19-year-old Esther Hartung, Buffalo State Teachers College sophomore today.

The girl, admitted to Emergency hospital November 4 after telling police she had taken poison, had been lingering between life and death for 10 days.

She said her mother, Mrs. Max Hartung, had dragged her from the car in which she sat with Howard Dalton, her brother for kissing her escort and snatched her.

Mistrial Ordered in $50,000 Slander Suit at Kinston

Kinston, Nov. 14.—(AP)—On request of counsel for Thomas G. Hartsfield, who is suing Harvey C. Hines for $50,000 alleged slander, the trial which started in court here Tuesday stood as a mistrial today.

Counsel for the plaintiff in the suit late yesterday requested a bill of particulars from defense counsel, and through counsel agreed to furnish it immediately. Mr. Hartsfield's attorneys requested a mistrial so that they could have time to study the bill.

Hartsfield was discharged from the employ of Hines, a wholesale grocer, in 1926 following finding of "bad business" in his accounts. He had been in the employ of Hines for a number of years, working up from a $33 a month job to inside manager.

Hartsfield took the stand Tuesday and denied he had misappropriated funds. He charged that Hines had accused him of crime but had said he would not prosecute him.

PROMISES TAX CUT BEFORE CHRISTMAS

AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE assures the freedom of the press—Public opinion has been freed from the tyranny which denied it the right to pass judgment on public questions.

"toasting did it" —

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation - No Cough.

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Saturday night, over a coast-to-coast network of the N. B. C.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Market Report

Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 7 points to a decline of 1 point today. Most months being higher on trade buying and covering. Failure of Liverpool to fully meet yesterday's late advance in the local market may have brought in a little selling of the later months, but offerings were comparatively light, and the advance extended to 17 1/2 for January and 17.83 for May or about 13 to 15 points net higher during the first few minutes.

Covering was evidently stimulated by the firmer opening of the stock market and rather heavier domestic consumption figures for October than expected, but the advance met realizing or liquidation and prices were 4 to 5 points off from the best by the end of the first half hour.

The census report showed domestic consumption of 640,798 bales exclusive of linters compared with 545,649 in September and 161,238 in October, 1928.

GRAIN MARKET

Chicago, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Buck returns in wheat values today resulted largely from stock exchange advances and from increasing attention given to reports from Argentina about black rust menace. Cables sent by a leading Chicago crop expert at Buenos Aires said 1929 Argentine wheat acreage soon to be harvested promised to prove 20 per cent less than last year. Another feature today was buying of Chicago wheat future deliveries against simultaneous corresponding sales at Liverpool exchanges prices here and easing down the British market at the last.

Wheat closed unsettled 118c to 11-2c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish.

Corn closed 3-8 to 3-4c up. Oats 3-8 to 1-2 to 5-8c advanced, and provisions ranging from 12c decline to a rise of 2c.

STOCK MARKET

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—A sharp and sustained rally in stock prices took place in today's stock market.

The sudden reversal in sentiment, after nearly a week of destructive liquidation, was attributed to the announcement of a proposed cut in Federal income taxes, the appearance of large bids for leading stocks and the stock exchange questionnaire to determine the source of recent short selling.

The market bounded upward from the start, as blocks of 5,000 to 40,000 shares changed hands, and the initial gains were generally extended as the session progressed. A few weak spots cropped out here and there, as belated distress liquidation made its appearance.

Trading started at a terrific pace but quieted later, although the ticker was running about an hour behind the market at the close.

Placing a bid of 1,000,000 shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey just before the close yesterday, coupled with reports of other large bids for U. S. Steel and Anaconda Copper at yesterday's low levels, apparently started a retreat of the short interest, and discouraged further "bear" operations, at least for the time being.

Except for a few favorable earnings reports, and an increase in the annual dividends on Underwood Elliott Fisher from $4 to $5, there was little in the day's business news to influence the price movement.

Wall street heard that two disturbing situations which had been overhanging the market, had been satisfactorily adjusted, but their nature was not revealed.

Call money remained unchanged at 6 per cent and held steady at that level, but an easier undertone was apparent in other monetary accommodations. Wall street was looking forward to another huge decrease in Federal Reserve brokers' loans after the close.

Husband of Dead Princess Arrested at Bonn, Germany

Berlin, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Alexander Subkoff, husband of the Princess Victoria of Schaumburg-Lipp, who died yesterday, was arrested today at Bonn for entering Germany without a permit.

It was believed he went to Bonn with the intention of attending the funeral of Princess Victoria Subkoff, a Russian Emigre adventurer, who married the princess in October, 1927, despite his being 34 years her junior, was supposed here until announcement of his arrest was made to have returned to Luxembourg, where he has spent most of his time since being expelled from Germany, Belgium, France, and elsewhere.

He left Luxembourg last week to visit near Bonn, where, when representatives of the princess found him they served him with divorce papers in her behalf. It was immediately after this that the princess, who is a sister of the former Kaiser and a grandchild of the British Queen Victoria contracted her fatal illness.

Subkoff is 29 years old, and while he has persisted he is the son of a certain impoverished Russian nobility there have been other stories he was born a cobbler's son, and has worked since at such jobs as waiter and "gigolo" in a Paris dance hall.

THE LUXURY HUSBAND

SYNOPSIS: Although Rita accepts Ray's proposal to marry as soon as Barbara divorces him, she is torn between her love for Ray and the intuitive knowledge that Ray still cares most for his wife. Finally Rita decides she will see Barbara, and goes to her apartment. There she makes an unnerving discovery—Barbara is the lonely, unhappy girl whom Rita has frequently noticed with pity in the Golden Dollar. From Barbara, Rita learns of the mistaken conclusion that Ray has been unfaithful, and Barbara is convinced of her error by Rita's scornful denial. Rita, touched by Barbara's unhappiness and obvious longing for Ray, forces herself to speak—to reveal that Ray still loves his wife.

Chapter 40 THE KNAVE OF JAZZ

Barbara went pale—this girl was trying to tell her that Ray still loved his wife. She laughed shakily. "That's absurd."

"I wish it were. I'm as much in love with Ray as you are. It doesn't weigh an ounce with me that you're his wife. It's that—she took a long breath, "I guess he'd rather have you in the long run. That is, if you've stopped being such a damned little snob."

"How do you mean?" Barbara was past taking offense at anything but.

"I mean about his music. He's told me how you objected to his playing in an orchestra. How you regarded it as beneath your social status. He's told me, too, that you even laughed at his composing! Why, girl, you're mad. You ought to be proud of him! Proud that he's got something to give the world that will make folks glad. I guess if he were writing this high-brow sob stuff you'd be pleased? Happiness is the only thing in this world that counts, and if the jazz Ray writes will make folks happy you ought to put him up on a pedestal and bow down at his feet...." she broke off.

A long silence. Finally Barbara spoke slowly.

"I believe you're right. Lately my ideas have changed about his music. I suppose it was hearing him play at the club."

Rita looked at her for a long moment. Then, impulsively, she stretched out her hand, gripping Barbara by the arm.

"I believe you and I are in for a long session. I'll tell you all about Ray and myself from the first moment I spoke to him at the Golden Dollar."

Barbara sat abruptly on the couch. Rita lowered her long slim body gracefully into an armchair. Then it was that the strange unreality of the situation came over Barbara. Both of them admittedly in love with Ray—both of them bound up in his life—yet they had, at that moment, the appearance of two good friends on the point of an informal chat.

"It happened like this...." Rita began.

Forthwith she told Barbara the entire story. When she had finished she looked expectantly at Barbara—but Barbara had her face averted, looking down to where her hands were clasped around one knee.

Promptly when the pause had become embarrassing, she said in a shamefaced manner:

"I'm sorry I thought what I did—that I said what I did. You've done an awful lot for Ray—more than I ever have. I gave him myself—I gave him my money—I thought that should be sufficient. But you, you gave him his dream. I guess that counts more than anything with a man. You have more right to him than I...."

Rita nodded emphatically.

"Sure, I have more right, but love isn't a question of that. If it were, this world would be a simpler place to live in.... But if you want Ray back you've got to convince him that your ideas have changed. Believe me, from what I know, it'll take a lot of convincing!"

Barbara bit white, dry lips. She nodded slowly.

"I wonder why I was ever such a fool?"

"I guess it wasn't altogether your fault," Rita conceded, rising. "It was the way you were brought up in a money made, money-worshipping set. I had the good fortune to be born poor."

Not long before Barbara would have contested that statement. She had refused to believe that this might be true. The mere thought was rank treason in the set to which she belonged. But now she thought there had been a deal of sense in what Rita had said.

"You—you haven't any idea how I should see about it?" Barbara asked.

Rita looked up at her quickly. Suddenly she laughed.

"Meaning you want me to help bring the two of you together? Say, what do you take me for? Some one's having a mighty good laugh at my expense. I'm the goat of this situation—but when there are three of you, some one must be the goat, so I guess it might as well be me." She frowned while she undid the little vanity case on her finger. "I guess since I started this party, it's up to me to see it through. If anything bright occurs, I'll phone some time this evening."

Rita was as good as her word. Promptly at eight the telephone rang.

"I've a splendid scheme," Rita's husky voice came over the wire. "Maybe it's a bit theatrical, but then I guess theatrical stunts are all in my line. Are you any use at dancing in public?"

"I can do stage dancing—if that's what you mean."

"Sure. I'll tell you what—I'm going to teach you the New Yorker. It's an invention of my own. Doing anything tonight?"

"No. And if I were I'd call it off."

"I'll be round in half an hour to begin rehearsing you!"

With that she abruptly hung up the receiver, leaving Barbara wondering how some dance called the New Yorker could possibly have anything to do with her becoming reconciled to Ray!

"The Knave of Jazz." Spelt in twinkling electric lights that winked against the velvety background of a sultry September night, was officially opening its doors to the public. Limousines and taxis, rolling up in a never ending stream, were discharging their occupants. A uniformed attendant hastened to escort them across the sidewalk that swarmed with a jostling, good-natured crowd, to the theater lobby. Here the air was tense with that sense of expectancy that a first night invariably arouses.

Some had heard Ray at the Golden Dollar and had danced to his tunes. They felt in every way superior to their less fortunate friends.

"Sure. I know him. He's the fellow who used to play the sax at the Golden Dollar."

"That so? I see by the program he's to appear in person for one number. Novel idea, eh?"

"Yep. It's for a dance number. I see. The New Yorker. Seems to me the name of the girl is familiar. Rita Gilmore."

Then some one murmured "Shus" for the lights had been lowered and the curtain quivered preliminary to rising. There followed the inevitable few minutes of confusion.

Finally the curtain rose. Immediately there followed a spontaneous outburst of applause. The scene, representing the Kingdom of Jazz was gorgeous in the extreme. Jazz Jazz was symbolized in the costumes of the cho us, in the bizarre and extravagant settings and in the scenery itself, designed by the famous Gourtez, a brilliant color scheme of black, cerise and gold.

Small wonder the jaded eyes of the audience widened! Small wonder they sat spellbound throughout the first number. Each sensed that that night jazz was to reach a high plane than ever yet attained. Tense they sat, their intelligence and their fancy captured within those first few minutes.

Rita's sporting plot is revealed in tomorrow's chapter.

SUNDOWN STORIES

THE OWNER'S NAME (By Mary Graham Bonner)

The owner of the house now came along.

"Guests," he shouted in a hearty fashion.

John and Peggy thought he was just announcing to himself the fact that they had arrived, but the Little Black Clock said he was so fond of speed and doing everything in a hurry and saving time everywhere that he said "Guests" just as any one else would have said "Hello, Guests," or addressed them by their names.

"Glad you've been looking around" he said. He was a fine looking man, but he looked as though he couldn't keep still very long.

"Had enough to eat?" he added. They nodded quickly. They felt they shouldn't spend too much time in speaking.

"Glad you got here before tomorrow. I'm going around the world tomorrow—maybe a week or so. Just back from a little hop to the Pacific Ocean. I live near the Atlantic and I thought I'd have a change of air....

"A good bit of travel around the cities or I'd have made it and back more quickly than I did. However, I didn't make bad time."

The children could hardly keep from laughing aloud. Peggy tried to think of the time she had been ill in bed with measles and John tried to think of the time he had had mumps so their minds would turn to sadder things.

But they didn't have much luck. However, the owner didn't seem to notice. He was rushing off.

"What is his name?" John asked.

"He calls himself 'Keeping-up-with-the-Times.'" the Little Black Clock answered.

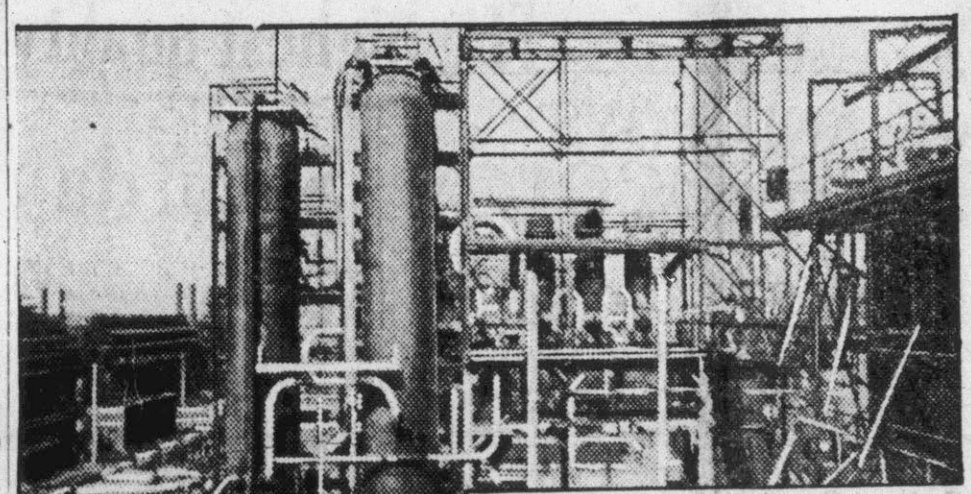

Tomorrow—November Wind."

ARKANSASANS IN N. Y. TO GET POSSUM DINNER Pinebluff, Ark., Nov. 14.—(AP)—

A group of approximately 200 former residents of Arkansas now living in New York City, will be served a possum dinner a la Arkansas at a New York hotel, the evening of November 26. The dinner will be prepared under the direction of Dr. C. C. Neal, president of the Arkansas Haygood Industrial College, a prominent negro educator. Neal said today he would have soon for New York, taking with him a sufficient supply of possums, turkeys and chickens, raised in Arkansas. Meyer Solson, New York stock broker and a former resident of Pine Bluff, is in charge of arrangements for the dinner.

NO ADVANCE IN PRICE BUT PERFORMANCE-PLUS IN EVERY SINGLE DROP

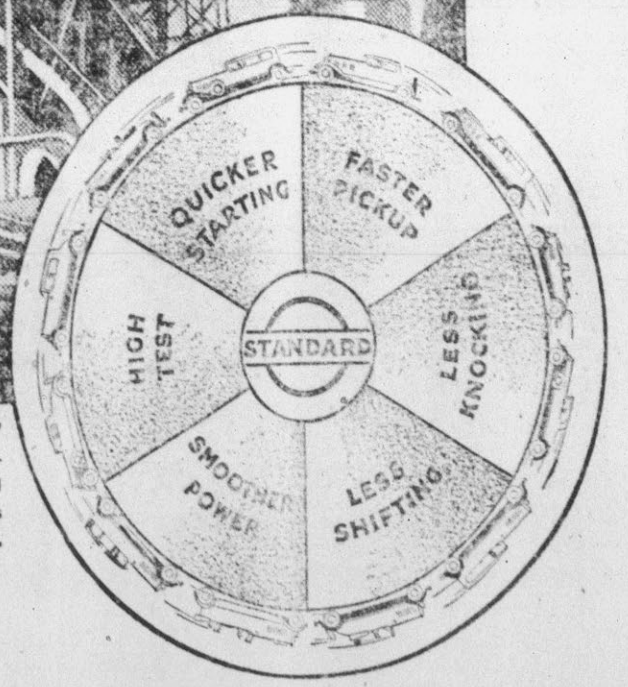

TOWERING HIGH are the giant separators shown above. They literally "crack out" the pure, crystal new-processed "Standard" Gasoline from the especially selected heavy oils—and assure a uniform measure of smoother power.

NOT YET OBSOLETE but the huge stills on the right were quickly removed to make room for the new process cracking coils shown above.

Night and day these "cracking coils" turn out endless tank cars of new-processed "Standard" Gasoline to fill the ever-growing demand. Here is where the heavier oils are removed.

Today every motorist who drives up to a "Standard" pump gets a new-processed motor fuel... quicker starting and pickup... many other extra-refinements... at NO ADVANCE IN PRICE

It is truly a superbly-balanced fuel! Conceived by the foremost experts in the petroleum industry. Made possible by a special new cracking process, AND SOLD EVERYWHERE TODAY AT NO ADVANCE IN PRICE.

We believe it to be the best popular-priced gasoline on the market. Here are its six major specifications: quicker starting; quicker pickup; less knocking; less shifting; smoother power; high-test.

This is a really all 'round fuel that warrants everything we have said about it—and everything that thousands of delighted motorists have found in it.

We urge you to test its performance as compared to any other popular priced or "non-premium" gasoline now on the market—in any car—in any way you wish.

Drive up to the nearest "Standard" pump. Fill your tank full, being careful that there is little or no admixture of ordinary or inferior gasolines—to "cut" your new power.

Then make your own road test. Anywhere. Any roads. Any hills. Cold weather or not. City or country driving. It makes no difference. Your car performance will immediately reveal the superiority of the new-processed high-test "Standard" Gasoline.

On sale everywhere. At no advance in price. Performance-plus in every single drop.

FORMER GIANT PITCHER DIES AT NEW YORK

Joe McGinnity Passes Away at Home of His Daughter After Long Illness

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Joe McGinnity, one time "iron man" of the pitching staff of the New York Giants, died at the home of his daughter in Brooklyn today. He was 58 years old.

He had been critically ill since last August when he failed to rally after an operation for the removal of a tumor.

His baseball career extended over 32 years, beginning in Montgomery, Ala., in 1893, and ending only four years ago in Dubuque, Iowa, where as player-manager he pitched 20 games at the age of 53.

He was first called the "iron man" when as a member of the Brooklyn team he pitched six winning games against Pittsburgh in seven days winning the pennant for the team.

He joined the big leagues in Baltimore in 1899 and continued as one of the foremost pitchers of his day for almost ten years. He came to Brooklyn in 1900 when a reduction of the National League circuit from twelve to eight clubs brought about a merger of the two teams.

At the start of the 1901 season he jumped to the Baltimore Americans, then under the guidance of John J. McGraw, and when McGraw a year later came to New York to lead the New York Giants he came with him. He remained with McGraw during the remainder of his major league days.

McGinnity figured prominently in the giant pennant victories of 1904 and 1905 and divided two games in the 1905 world series against the Athletics. In June of 1904 he strengthened his claim to fame by winning three double-headers, the triumphs of 1905, however, marked the peak of his success, although he remained with the Giants until 1908. He went with Newark the following year and thereafter played on numerous minor league teams until his retirement.

Six Wounded in Political Rioting Mexico City, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Six persons were wounded and others mauled in political rioting last night a short distance from the national palace.

A group of demonstrators for one of the presidential candidates jumped from trucks and attacked a parade which had formed in support of the other of the principal candidates. A free for all fight ensued. Clubs and stones were used. The presidential elections will be held Sunday.

HEADACHE AND BAD BREATH

These Symptoms Often Go Away Following the Use of Theford's Black-Draught.

Winston-Salem, N. C.—"I have been using Theford's Black-Draught for twenty-five years," says Mrs. Lydia E. Kerley, of 519 West Seventh Street, this city. "I try never to be without it in my home, because I find that a pinch will ease the headache."

"I take Black-Draught when I am bilious or have indigestion. I have found that much of the trouble of this kind comes from constipation. Black-Draught is the best medicine I have ever found to prevent it."

"It is the only medicine I can take and keep on with my work."

"One of my children was troubled with bad breath, and I gave her Black-Draught. She got over it right away."

"I favor Black-Draught, because it seems to drive the poison out of the system in a natural way."

When you take Theford's Black-Draught, the digestive organs are helped in a healthful, easy way, and normal elimination is restored without the sickening effects that characterize the use of powerful mineral drugs.

Duke Announces Two Games With S. C. University

Durham, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Duke University Athletic officials announced today that contracts had been signed for two football games with the University of South Carolina, the first to be played here September 27 next year and the second in Columbia in 1931.

The announcement followed word last night that Duke officials had signed a contract to play the University of Kentucky here November 8 next year. Arrangements had previously been made with Washington and Lee for a game here Thanksgiving Day 1930.

The usual games with North Carolina State and North Carolina university will give Duke five conference games for next year.

TAR HEELS TO TAKE ON CATS ON SATURDAY

Chapel Hill, Nov. 14.—Since Davidson proved so adept at converting N. C. State passes into Davidson touchdowns, it is an interesting matter of speculation just what sort of offense the Tar Heels will feature against the Cats Saturday.

Both of Davidson's touchdowns in the 13-0 U. C. State victory came as the almost immediate result of intercepted State passes and long runs—one by Joe McCall, the stellar Cat half back, the other by DeCamp, a hard-hitting guard.

The Tar Heels have been featuring a fast aerial attack all season, interspersing running in proportion as the other team showed ability at pass defense.

South Carolina, after making both its scores on Clemson on intercepted Clemson passes, was doped to give the Tar Heels trouble on their aerial efforts.

But the Tar Heels turned the dope, didn't have a single pass intercepted, meanwhile playing havoc with the Gamecocks' aerial efforts. Open football or aerial football—much may depend on which attack the Tar Heels will feature, and that question, although the Davidson battle is just two days off, is still an open one.

After a two-day lay-off due to rain, and work for the shock troops yesterday, Coach Collins was to give his vets their first hard work this afternoon in preparation for the Davidson game.

The squad is in fine shape, and barring last-minute injuries, will show well-high full strength against the Cats.

Jim Manager, star halfback, and Red Glibreath, reserve center, were injured in the South Carolina game, but both are in shape again, and prospects seem that Pete Wyrick, veteran quarterback, out for two weeks with an injured back, may be able to play again.

SOUTH LOSES MUCH GROUND ON GRIDIRON

Atlanta, Nov. 14.—(AP)—About the only spoils realized by Southern crusaders to the inter-sectional grid wars so far have been a series of luster waltzes on the chin.

In 25 starts against eleven from the East and West, Dixie teams have taken the count 13 times. They have won five games and tied two and rejoice in a batting average of .217.

The harrowing figures show the South was outscored more than two to one, or 230 points against 590 for the East and West.

Southern teams have met the East 15 times, winning three, losing 11 and tying one. Against the West, two games were won, seven lost and one tied.

Usually the little fellows, who slip out, take a pot shot at some big team and then scurry home again are responsible for most of the games charged off in red ink. But not this year.

Conference machines are the worst offenders. They lost a majority of the reverses while the unattached outsiders won most of the victories.

Far flung inter-sectional battle arenas are strewn with such celebrated casualties as Georgia, Vanderbilt, Florida and Georgia Tech.

Conference teams came through twice. Georgia beat Yale and Virginia beat Swarthmore. They have dropped 12 decisions, of which Duke contributed four in a row to Eastern elevens. Maryland tied Yale.

Outsiders won three games, lost six and tied one. Oglethorpe was the most consistent winner with decisions over Dayton University and Manhattan College. Loyola of New Orleans beat the Haskell Indians and then tied Loyola of Chicago.

The McEver boys believe in even, ing things up. They live at Bristol, which is on the line between Virginia and Tennessee. So when Gene cast his lot with Tennessee, McCauley, his kid brother, packed his grip and matriculated at Virginia Poly where he is starring in the Backfield.

The Southern woods are full of scintillating sophomores. But only a few are given a chance to make the all-star teams. They must wait until the bankers, McEvers, the Thomasons, the Crabtrees and the Holms have bowed themselves out.

North Carolina is in fourth place on the Southern scoring list, but the Tar Heels have kicked up more dust than any other team against conference foes. They have scored a total of 182 points inside the conference. Tulane is next with 127 and Tennessee third with 124.

The Tar Heels have a back named Magner who is making a bid for recognition. He has averaged eight yards every time he has lugged the cowhide.

INDUSTRY NOT AFFECTED BY STOCK CRASH

Labor Department Report Shows Industry of Nation is Fundamentally Sound

Washington, Nov. 14.—(AP)—The Department of Labor in its monthly employment bulletin issued today said October reports indicated "Recent financial upheaval" had not disturbed industry, or caused any reduction in employment.

The report said this was held to be "self-evident proof" that industry is fundamentally sound and that the future may reveal that more money will be available for the further development of industry and the establishment of new industry.

Seasonal decreases in production of automobiles caused a drop in employment in this industry and a similar decreased employment in the iron and steel mills was attributed to the automobile depression. Conditions in the cotton textile industry improved somewhat but were said to be "spotty" still while large forces were employed in silk goods manufacturing plants.

Increased employment in the shipyards, in the jewelry manufacturing business, in radio and electrical equipment plants and in the boot and shoe factories was noted. Greater employment also was reported in the anthracite and bituminous coal mining districts.

To Investigate Doctrinal Faith of Dr. H. S. Smith

Little Rock, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Rumors concerning "soundness of the doctrinal faith" of Dr. Hay Watson Smith, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church here, will be investigated by a commission of seven from the Arkansas Presbytery.

The commission to investigate the rumors was appointed yesterday at the fall session of the Presbytery after the day had been devoted to debate on the subject. Some action by the Presbytery was ordered by the general assembly of the church at Montreat, N. C., last summer after charges had been made that Dr. Smith, in a pamphlet discussing evolution, had asserted beliefs contrary to the tenets of the Presbyterian faith.

The Rev. M. A. Boggs, of Blytheville, will be chairman of the investigation commission which will report its findings to the meeting of the Presbytery at Osceola six months hence.

Defending the pastor, charges T. Coleman, Little Rock attorney, closed the meeting with a dramatic speech in which he charged opponents of Dr. Smith's views were attempting to try him in the Presbytery instead of carrying out the injunction of the general assembly to investigate "rumors as to the soundness of the faith."

"Dr. Smith came to this Presbytery in 1912, and gave the same views then as he now holds upon the question of evolution," Mr. Coleman said. "The Presbytery accepted him then, and assigned him to a church which was almost dying. After these years, when he has built up the church into the largest numerically and the wealthiest of any denomination in the State, you seek to try him and thus discredit a man who is well beyond sixty years of age."

"I tell you it is not right. Questions are to be propounded to him, then we will insist that we be permitted to propound questions on doctrinal faith to his inquirers."

No method of procedure was mentioned in the resolution, but the Rev. Boggs said the commission would meet soon and begin its work.

Dr. Smith figured in the defeat of an antievolution bill in the Arkansas Legislature in 1927.

PERSHING'S OWN, BOTH A BAND AND A SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

The United States Army Band in their concert at East Carolina Teachers College on November 23, will present programs that cover a wide range of selections and of types. Among the numbers are some symphonic orchestra selections, for the band is literally a symphony organization, and many of the fifty-two musicians play "double," as they are masters of both the symphonic instruments and band instruments.

"Pershing's Own" would not deserve this title if it were merely the commonplace brass band that makes a lot of noise, bearing away on wind instruments at the head of a parade between columns of shouting marchers trying to drown the noise. These musicians have the power of playing outdoors at the head of the greatest parades that Washington ever has had, inspiring their followers by their spirited playing, and also of playing to indoor audiences in such subdued, lovely tones that people are entranced by the beauty of their playing. There is no danger of ear-splitting noise when the band plays within walls. During this tour, the reports have come to the ears of people here that it is interesting to note that everybody says he has the best seat in the house, for both the people who are near the front and those that are in the remotest corners of the halls, in which the concerts are given enjoy the music.

LAND SALE

By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Pitt County, made in Special Proceedings No. 2946, captioned Jesse H. Buck and Husband, H. V. Buck, vs. Mrs. Bettie N. Cox et al., the following commissioners will sell, for cash, at public auction, before the court house in Greenville, at noon on Monday, November 25th, 1929, the following described parcel or tract of land, to-wit:

That tract of land lying and being in Chicod township, Pitt County beginning at a certain ditch, W. B. Dixon's line; thence running with his line to P. W. Arnold's line; thence with the canal, his line, to John Paramore's line; thence with his line to the Harris line; thence with said Harris line to John Paramore's line; thence with his line to an old corner, known as the Hosea Buck corner; thence northwardly to the beginning. Containing 70 acres, more or less, and known as the Harper land.

The purchaser will be required to make at the time of sale, a deposit of 10 per cent to insure his good faith.

This the 8th day of November, 1929.

WOMAN HELD IN EXTORTION CASE IN N. Y.

Attractive Brunette Charged With Extorting $170,000 From Financier

New York, Nov. 14.—(AP)—Accused by the police of extorting more than $170,000 from Nathan L. Amster, prominent financier, an attractive brunette of 34, who charges Amster is the father of her 6-year-old boy is under $5,000 bail today pending hearing tomorrow.

The woman, Olga N. Edwards, was arrested after Amster's secretary through arrangements with the police paid her $500 in marked bills. Mr. Amster, who is 60 years old, married, an dthe father of two sons, denied the paternity of the child but admitted paying the woman huge sums over the last six years.

"All this," he said, "is due to my natural big-heartedness, nothing else. I met Miss Edwards at a party in New York. She told me a very sad story and I felt sorry for her."

"She wanted to go home to California and she had no money. So I gave her $500 and sent her home. She came back and went west again several times after that, and to Europe also.

"Now it is just too ridiculous to say that I am the papa of her child. All her threats against me were based altogether on my natural big-heartedness. I have given lots of money to lots of people in need—but this is the first one that ever turned sour on me."

Mr. Amster at one time was chairman of the board of directors of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad and at present is head of the protective committee representing a minority of the Manhattan Railway company. He also is a director of several large corporations.

His wife was the former Estelle Dreyfus of Boston and he resides in Boston and Brooklyn, Mass. He maintains offices in New York and Chicago and is a member of many prominent clubs.

Max D. Steuer, attorney for Mr. Amster, said an agreement had been made with the woman three years ago whereby she was to receive $5,000 a year for life with the proviso that she would not annoy or communicate in any way with Mr. Amster. He said she violated this agreement and that recently her demands had become excessive.

He said she obtained $2,000 from Amster on Monday and when she demanded a like sum on Tuesday the matter was reported to District Attorney Bañon and plans made for her arrest.

D. A. R. Meets.

Farmville, Nov. 13.—Autumn flowers and American flags formed the decoration for the November meeting of the Major Benjamin May chapter of the D. A. R., when Mrs. J. Loyd Horton and Miss Elizabeth Fields were joint hosts at the home of the former.

The year books, outlining a program on "The Colonial South," and compiled by a committee headed by Mrs. B. Streeter Sheppard of Raleigh, were distributed. The chapter voted to offer a medal this year for the best paper written by a local high school pupil on "The Duties of a Good Citizen."

Mrs. U. H. Cozart, Mrs. J. E. Barrett and Mrs. H. S. Cheppard of Wilson, Mrs. M. V. Jones, Mrs. T. C. Turnage and Mrs. B. S. Smith were appointed as a Treasure Chest committee. Miss Elizabeth Fields was elected as page to the National Congress with Miss Louise Smith as alternate, and Miss Evelyn Horton's application for membership was filed.

Shrubs and evergreens given by Mrs. C. E. Moore and Mrs. J. E. Barrett of Wilson, for the Tyson and May boulder plots, were reported by Miss Tabitha De Visconti, Makers" was read by Mrs. C. E. Moore and an interesting selection, "Enemies of the Constitution" was read by Mrs. W. M. Willis. The chapter sextette rendered two charming numbers with accompaniment by Mrs. Haywood Smith. The hostesses were assisted in serving by Mrs. R. A. Fields, Mrs. R. O. Lang, Misses Pennie Keel Lang, Mary Louise Rumley and Jean Horton. In addition to the thirty-seven members present, the hostesses had as guests, Mrs. Fields, Mrs. R. A. Parker, Mrs. J. K. Cobb, Mrs. J. W. Parker and Mrs. Haywood Smith.

Woman's Club Meets.

Farmville, Nov. 13.—The Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting this week in Perkins Hall with Mrs. J. B. Joyner presiding. Among the matters brought up for discussion in the business period was the Foundation Fund, to which the club agreed to contribute $25.

Miss Evelyn Horton appeared before the club and presented the Girl Scout movement, requesting that the club sponsor the organization of a local troop. A committee appointed at this time will report on this matter at the next meeting.

A very interesting program arranged by the Literary and Art department was developed by Mrs. Leroy Rollins with a paper on "Woman's Place"; by Miss Vivian Case who sang "The Sunshine Song" accompanied by Mrs. Haywood Smith, and by Mrs. Plato Monk, whose subject was "Woman's responsibility Towards Religion."

EASTERN STAR HAS ENTHUSIASTIC MEETING

Farmville, Nov. 13.—Three papers dealing with subject of vital interest to Eastern Star members were presented at the meeting of the chapters this week by Mrs. Haywood Smith on "No Scarcity in California"; by Mrs. R. A. Joyner on "The Jewish Members Form a New Organization"; and by Mrs. J. W. Parker on "A Beautiful Garden."

The orphange committee was instructed to send a Thanksgiving offering to the Oxford Orphanage. The district meeting at Monroe and the directors' board meeting at Greensboro were reported by Mrs. J. W. Parker, who was paid a tribute of praise for her zeal and the cheerful service which she renders in behalf of this organization throughout the state, by the Associate Matron, Mrs. A. C. Hodges, who presided in the absence of the Worthy Matron.

When you're late use the new giant burner

HERE IS THE STOVE you should have in your kitchen when you are in a hurry... with clean, intense, close-up flame... three regular Puritan burners which give plenty of heat for ordinary use... And in addition, a Giant Puritan burner which gives even more... 55% more!

Shining Smooth Finish

This new oil stove is not only swift-cooking but beautiful... a graceful design, finished in shining porcelain enamel and Perfectolac... snow-white, silver gray and dove gray.

It has a strong steel frame... closed-in back to keep kitchen walls clean... extra large grates... a warming shelf... another shelf for kitchen vessels... reversible reservoir... large lower reservoir... and an enamel tray below the burners, which slides out for cleaning.

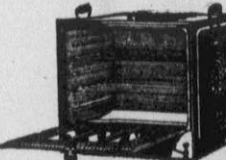

Giant burner drum easily moved from one burner to another.

This model and other new Puritans are at your dealer's. Prices range from $18 to $145. These are the best oil stove values on the market. Now is the time to buy. And your dealer will doubtless offer you the convenience of time payments.

Puritan Stoves are made and guaranteed by the Perfection Stove Company, the world's oldest and largest manufacturers of oil-burning devices.

Use a "Live Heat" Oven

For perfect baking use a Perfection or Puritan "Live Heat" oven, in which heat rushes in at the bottom, circulates quickly around the foods, and down between the double walls. This gives a third wall of "live heat," speedier baking and better flavored foods.

Use "live heat" ovens for quick baking and better flavored foods.
