MOB MURDERS SANTA CLAUS BANK ROBBER

Thousand Men Spirit M. L. Ratliff From Jail in Texas and Hang Him

Eastland, Tex., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Impatient at the law's delay and enraged by the latest violent crime of Marshall L. Ratliff, condemned "Santa Claus" bank robber, a mob of approximately 1,000 persons last night hanged the condemned man from a telephone cable 200 yards from the jail from which he was escaped.

For several hours the man's naked body dangled from the end of a grass rope in a bitter wind, while a crowd which included many women and children stood gazing upward in comparative silence until a justice of the peace ordered the body cut down.

Two years ago Ratliff, dressed as a Santa Claus, participated in a bank holdup in which two officers and one of his companions were killed. Monday, after feigning paralysis and winning the sympathy of his keepers, he attempted a jail break, shooting and seriously wounding Deputy Tom Jones, veteran peace officer. Last night 200 men overpowered his jailer, entered Ratliff's cell, dragged him naked to a well lighted business street and lynched him.

Ratliff was held in the Eastland jail pending a sanity hearing, asked for by his aged mother, who asserted her son had lost his mind while awaiting his execution in the death cell at Huntsville State prison.

Discovery by the townspeople of Eastland, who still remembered the deaths of Chief of Police Q. E. Bedford and officer George Carmichael in the battle with the bandit at the nearby town of Cisco two years ago, that Ratliff was pretending and biding his time for a break, brought their anger to a climax.

All yesterday afternoon they gathered in little groups about the town and muttered about Jones' shooting, which physicians said probably would prove fatal. Last night a crowd in front of the jail swelled to nearly a thousand at 8:30 o'clock.

At about 9 o'clock, some 200 men slipped into a side door of the jail and asked for the man. Jailer Gilbert refused to give him up. They overpowered Gilbert, took his keys, and got Ratliff.

The bandit was stripped of his clothes and brought him downstairs. He was dressed in the direction of the public square, but the crowd would not wait to go these few blocks. At 200 yards from the jail a strong telephone cable was pointed out, a rope hung across it. A noose was put around Ratliff's neck, a dozen men on the other end of the rope bent their weight, and Ratliff was jerked from the ground.

The rope, grasped somewhere on the spur of the moment, broke messengers were sent for another and again the mob set to its task. Then someone remembered that men about to die are usually given a chance to say a last word. For another moment he was lowered to the ground, but, displeased at his muzzling the crowd yelled "string him up."

Last night District Judge G. L. Yaw reported indicated that a grand jury would be called to investigate the mob action, and County Attorney Joe H. Jones, nephew of the seriously wounded deputy, said his office would prosecute in the event indictments were returned.

Jones, at the hospital, was told of Ratliff's death, "that's fine," he said. "I'm glad of it."

Physicians last night held out hope for the wounded deputy's recovery, although his condition was still said to be grave.

Montana and Wyoming Experience Lowest Temperatures of the Year

Denver, Colo., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Snow, freezing and even zero temperatures, and a whistling north wind held sway over a large part of the west today from the Missouri river to the Rockies. Montana and Wyoming experienced the lowest central temperatures of the year, while from the Canadian border to northern New Mexico the region glistered under an inch or more of snow.

Sub-zero temperatures were reported in the Judith Basin, Montana, early today, and at Livingston, it was three degrees above zero with no let up in the cold spell indicated. At Cheyenne three inches of snow lay on the ground, and Denver experienced a similar fall. The weather bureau reported the precipitation at Denver for the first half of November was about one half inch above normal and the first half of the month was described as the stormiest first half of the Thanksgiving month since 1922, when precipitation was an inch and a half above normal.

Throughout the region telegraph and telephone service was only slightly hampered, but air mail and air passenger service was halted. Trains and buses were running on schedule.

Expect Prompt Reaction From President's Plan To Stabilize Prosperity

Autographed Mosaic
New York—An autographed mosaic of triangles, circles, parallelograms and spiders' webs purporting to be by President Hoover is on sale at dealers. The president has a habit of scribbling such designs on waste paper when listening to callers. As explained by the dealer, one visitor was so fascinated that he obtained the paper with the Presidential signature. Then he sold it. The price asked is described as a fair portion of the presidential salary.

Washington, Nov. 20.—(AP)—A more optimistic psychology, induced by the prospect of easier credit conditions and extensive railroad, shipyard and governmental construction, was foreseen today as the first product of President Hoover's program for increasing and stabilizing American prosperity.

Those close to the administration looked forward to a prompt and beneficial reaction from the chief executive's conferences with the presidents of the great eastern railroads and bankers from all sections of the nation and from assurances of large orders from railway and marine equipment that have grown out of Mr. Hoover's campaign in the few days that have elapsed since the original announcement of his plans, laid aside that the President might pay his last respects to the late Secretary James W. Good of the War Department, the chief executive's schedule of conferences with the leaders of American economic endeavor will be resumed tomorrow with a discussion of what the manufacturing and industrial field can do to advance his plans, attended by a group of men prominent in that phase of the nation's business.

Through the operation of mail contracts awards and loans from the $250,000,000 fund established by the Jones-White law to assist in the expansion of the merchant marine, the administration expects the shipyards to be humming with activity within the space of six months.

WILL DISCUSS CHARITY WORK IN THIS CITY

Public Meeting Called for High School Library Tomorrow At 7:30 p. m.

A meeting of representatives of all civic, religious and business bodies and citizens generally interested in the public welfare of this community has been called for 7:30 tomorrow evening in the library of the high school building. The purpose of the meeting is explained by its sponsors will be to work out a plan for a more co-operative and co-ordinated effort in carrying on charity and welfare work in this community during the coming winter months. Under the old system of each church and civic organization doing its work independently, there has been much overlapping, it was explained, as well as many deserving cases being overlooked.

Under the plan of united action it is hoped that the job of caring for those people in our community who are in real need as well as helping to provide employment for those who desire work, can be accomplished more efficiently and at less cost than in former years under the old plan.

The official call for the meeting issued today by its sponsors is as follows: "Present conditions in Eastern Carolina are a challenge to the interest and co-operation of every public-spirited person in this section of the state. If you, as a citizen of Greenville, are interested in the problems that confront this town and community, come to the High School building Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock. Come and help work out plans, not only for intelligently taking care of those who are deserving of aid, but also of helping provide employment for the increasingly large number of men and women who want work."

Representatives of all business interests and of all organizations interested in social service work are urged to be present. All interested citizens are cordially invited also. This is the time to co-ordinate the work of all organizations and to centralize them into an effective working unit. Co-operation will bring better social conditions and more stable business conditions. Come and get behind, and push for community well-being."

RESCUE EIGHTEEN MINERS BURIED ALIVE IN BELGIUM

Brussels, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Eighteen miners who were buried alive yesterday in a cavern at the Houssa Colliery near Mons were rescued during the night unharmed.

There was some doubt whether a slight earthquake or an explosion caused the cavern which proved to be less serious than was first supposed.

Rhode Island expects to retain the distinction of being the most heavily populated state in the union, after the next census. Its population exceeds 573 persons to the square mile.

SENATE TO ADJOURN NEXT FRIDAY NIGHT FOR WEEK'S RECESS

Washington, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Riding roughshod over the "young guard" of Republican regulars, a weary Senate today voted to adjourn the special session on Friday night and take a week's recess before the regular meeting in December.

Plans to bring this about were announced last yesterday by Postmaster General Brown, speaking for the inter-departmental committee on ocean mail contracts, which for three months has been making a study to determine the best method of awarding postal shipping contracts.

Contracts will go to the lowest bidder, Mr. Brown said, and the construction of a total of 40 new vessels, large and fast enough to compete with any on the seas, is planned by companies which have indicated an intention of submitting bids.

"In all probability," the Postmaster General asserted, "another six months will see the shipyard capacity of the country completely filled."

Witness Says Hoffman Told Strikers Not To Be Scared of Officers

Marion, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Testimony that Alfred Hoffman, southern organizer for the united textile workers of American, told strikers not to be afraid of "the little tin soldiers" was given by Harvey James furniture factory worker, today in the insurrection and rebellion trial of Hoffman and four others.

"The East Marion gang is dirty," the witness quoted Hoffman as saying. "The witness quoted Hoffman as saying, 'The Clinchfield gang is ten times dirtier. Old man Hart (B. M. Hart, president of the Clinchfield Manufacturing company) wants war. Here's hoping they will start it and damn them we will finish it.'"

"The little tin soldiers up on the court house lawn are not much more than Boy Scouts. As to the sheriff's department you know what grad they are. Don't let them scare you or bluff you. Just sit pretty."

James admitted on cross examination that he got "on a little drinking spree about once or twice a year."

Jim Arrowood, mill worker, corroborated evidence given by previous witnesses that Hoffman told strikers to "rise hell over at Clinchfield. If they can't sleep they can't work."

On cross examination Arrowood said he was under a $1000 peace bond sworn out by a woman member of the union. He denied he had made any threats against her.

"Have you ever asked for trial of the case?" A. Hall Johnson, of Asheville asked.

BOY SCOUTS ALL SET FOR BUNDLE DAY

Final Plans for Charity Drive Completed by Various Patrols of City

Plans have been completed for the "Bundle Day" campaign to be held in this city Saturday by the local Boy Scout organization, it was announced by officials today.

The various Scout patrols have been assigned to different sections of the city and it is hoped to complete the canvass during the one day. The public has been asked to co-operate in the movement to provide comfortable clothing for hundreds of thinly clad, ragged citizens of the county who will suffer from the sting of winter without public help.

The Scouts are not asking for money or food—all they want is clothing by the bundles, and it is hoped the public will give as liberally as possible to make the campaign the success the Scouts hope it will be.

After the drive is over, the bundles will be turned over to K. T. Futrell, director of the Pitt County Welfare department, for distribution among the countless numbers of poor families coming under his supervision. Mr. Futrell has stated that deplorable conditions exist among destitute families in some sections of the county, and the only way he has of relieving the condition is through such aid as the public sees fit to render.

Mr. Futrell has had several years' experience in dealing with the poor people of the county, and he is more fully acquainted with their needs than any other individual of the community. It was for this reason the Scouts decided to turn over their bundles for distribution by the Welfare department.

The bundles will be placed on the court house square as they are collected and when the canvass has been completed, a picture will be made of the giant collection. The picture will show what Greenville people did in behalf of the poor in this great drive, and it is the hope of the Scouts to make their collection of bundles as great as possible.

Similar drives have been conducted by other cities of the state, and in two or three instances from three to four tons of clothing were collected. The Scouts believe Greenville people are able to do as good by the poor as any other city, and they are going to start their canvass Saturday morning with this belief firmly fixed in mind.

STAL ELECTRIC FANS FROM SOLDIERS' HOME
Atlanta, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Somebody with a perverted sense of the fitness of things broke into the Old Soldiers' Home here last night, and stole three electric fans.

PLANE OF LOST FLIER SIGHTED IN NORTHLAND

Hope Revived for the Safety of Ben Eielson, Arctic Flier Missing in Siberia

Nome, Alaska, Nov. 20.—(AP)—A radio report saying that the plane of Carl Ben Eielson, noted arctic aviator, had been seen flying in the vicinity of North Cape, Siberia, revived hope here today that he would be heard from soon.

The report, although meager, was believed to be later than that received here Monday saying the wreckage of Eielson's plane had been sighted by natives in the vicinity of the ice-bound ships Nanuk and Stavropol ten days ago.

Eielson and Frank Dorbandt, a fellow pilot, have been moving passengers and furs from the Nanuk, a vessel belonging to the Swenson Fur Company, to the Alaska mainland. Each has made one trip to the Nanuk and return and Eielson was making his second journey to the Nanuk when the report that the wreckage of his plane had been sighted was received from the ship's radio.

The two fliers planned to rescue the crew of the Stavropol a Russian ice breaker, as soon as they completed the Nanuk job. In the initial trip to the Nanuk they brought back six of her passengers and valuable furs.

On their second trip toward the Nanuk, Eielson and Dorbandt were forced down at Teller, Alaska, but resumed the trip from there Nov. 9. Dorbandt encountered a storm and returned to Teller, but Eielson continued his flight.

Eielson was well supplied with food and had a sleeping bag and a small stove. Dorbandt expressed the belief that his companion was safe somewhere near North Cape and that he would be in little danger for some time.

HALF OF JURY SELECTED IN M'PHERSON CASE

Slow Progress Made in Case of Alleged Slayer of Rothstein

Detroit, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Recalling the courageous and successful flight he made against the arctic elements in 1927 when he was forced down while flying out from Point Barrow, Alaska, Carl B. Eielson's friends here are not alarmed for his safety.

When Eielson accompanied Captain Sir George Huber, Wilkins two years ago on an attempt to fly over the "top of the world," he and his chief were forced down by engine trouble 500 miles out. Eielson, despite a temperature 40 degrees below zero, and four frozen fingers, repaired the motor and got the plane into the air again. Two more forced landings on the ice were made and finally when still 80 miles from shore the fuel supply gave out.

Wilkins and Eielson made their way afoot and after much hardship and in the face of heavy storms reached their flying base nearly a fortnight later.

"Only much luck and skill saved us when Eielson dropped the plane down blindly in the storm," Captain Wilkins said later. "If we had but one hour's more fuel supply at the time we would have reached the coast. Instead we walked for days. At one time Wilkins broke through the ice and was soaked to the skin."

Each dragging an improvised sled they pushed ahead, discarding the sleds as the provisions dwindled.

Criminal Courts Building, New York, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The third day of the trial of George A. McManus, charged with the murder of Arnold Rothstein opened today with further delay in jury selection in prospect.

William E. Belknap, an elderly insurance man, who was picked as a juror yesterday, was excused, leaving half the jury yet to be selected instead of five, as when court adjourned yesterday.

Judge Charles C. Nott, Jr., said that with no exception on Mr. Belknap, he was releasing him because of his acquaintanceship with several assistant district attorneys.

Belknap had testified to that fact yesterday but had been accepted after sleeping on it. However, James D. C. Murray, defense counsel, apparently had changed his mind regarding the fitness of Mr. Belknap to serve as a juror.

Light Sales On Tobacco Market; to Clear Today

Sales were light on the Greenville tobacco market today and indications at the noon hour indicated that the floors of the nine warehouses would be cleared about the middle of the afternoon, according to information given out by K. W. Cobb, supervisor of sales.

The market sold yesterday 943,700 pounds of tobacco for $197,754.83 the general average of $20.95.

It was stated that a considerable amount of scrap tobacco was being marketed at this time and that this had a tendency of holding down the general market price. Good grades of tobacco continued to bring satisfactory prices.

HUSBAND OF DEAD WOMAN GIVES ALIBI

Robert McPherson Attempts to Account for Whereabouts at Time of Murder

Washington, Nov. 20.—(AP)—While the second grand jury to investigate the mysterious death last September of Virginia McPherson, pretty young nurse, neared the end of its deliberations today, the husband of the dead girl, Robert A. McPherson Jr., indicted by the first grand jury on murder charges, made public through counsel an alibi accounting for his whereabouts from the time of his wife's death until her body was found.

"Every minute of McPherson's time can be accounted for," his counsel said. "Not only throughout the evening and night of the tragedy but also throughout the subsequent days and nights until Virginia McPherson's body was found on Saturday afternoon, September 14."

Among the witnesses remaining to be heard by the grand jury, however is Joseph H. Lewark, street car conductor, who it is understood will testify he saw Mr. McPherson on a downtown street car on the night his estranged wife is believed to have been strangled in her apartment with a pajama cord. This would conflict with the alibi advanced by McPherson, who insists he was dining with his aunt, Mrs. Donald McPherson, on the night in question.

After leaving his aunt's home shortly after midnight, according to his alibi, he walked the short distance to his parents' residence and talked for a time with his father before retiring at 1 A. M.

The grand jury may conclude its work today. McPherson's indictment by the first grand jury, was found to be faulty because a member of the jury was ineligible to such.

NOMINATION OF EDGE GOES TO SENATE TOMORROW

Washington, Nov. 20.—(AP)—At the White House today it was said that the nomination of Senator Walter E. Edge, of New Jersey, to be ambassador to France, probably would be sent to the Senate tomorrow or Friday. Senator Edge has made arrangements to sail for Paris shortly after his confirmation.

Congressman Indicted In Liquor Case, Vigorously Denies Charge at Marion

Washington, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The indictment of a member of the House—one who voted for the Eighteenth Amendment, the Volstead Act and the Jones law—on charge of possession of intoxicating liquor heightened and intensified today the current furor over prohibition enforcement conditions in the nation's capital.

The accused legislator, Edward E. Denison of Illinois, vigorously denied the charges from his home at Marion and said they were based upon the delivery, by mistake, of a trunk containing intoxicants to his office here last January.

The indictment was returned yesterday by the grand jury which heard Senator Brookhart describe the celebrated "Wall Street booze party" for members of the Senate in the course of a general inquiry into liquor conditions here.

It followed a report by prohibition agents, submitted November 8, that they had found a trunk containing whiskey and gin in Denison's office at the House office building last January 19, after the Representative had returned from a Christmas visit to Panama.

Shipping tags on the trunk bore the name of John Lyne, a former secretary to Mr. Denison, who also denied any condition with the case.

R. WILLIAMS DIES AT HOME IN THIS CITY

Prominent Mason to Be Buried in Episco- pal Churchyard Here Tomorrow

Richard Williams, familiarly known as "Captain Dick" among hundreds of friends in the section of the State, died at his home, at the corner of Fourth and Green streets, last night at 12:02 o'clock following an attack of heart trouble.

He was 71 years of age and one of the most prominent Masons in this section of the State.

Funeral services will be conducted from St. Paul's Episcopal church tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. W. A. Lillycrop, rector of the church, assisted by Rev. Isaac Hughes, rector of the Episcopal church at Henderson, and Rt. Rev. T. C. Darst, Bishop of the Diocese of East Carolina. Burial will be made in the Episcopal churchyard. Members of the local Masonic lodge, who will have charge of the funeral, will act as pall bearers.

Death followed a sudden attack of heart trouble which Mr. Williams suffered yesterday morning at 10 o'clock while performing his duties in the office at Joyner's warehouse. His condition became gradually worse during the day, and attending physicians entertained little hope for his recovery.

He is survived by his wife and one son, Richard Williams of Baltimore, Md. He is also survived by three sisters and one brother, Mrs. W. M. Busch, of Rocky Mount; Mrs. W. H. Long, Miss Adelaide Williams, and Mr. John Williams, all of Greenville.

Captain Williams was a native of Pitt county, having been born at Falkland, the son of the late Richard and Henrietta Williams. All of his life was spent in Pitt county, and for many years he was connected with the tobacco industry in this city. He was a former register of deeds of Pitt county, captain of a local military unit several years ago, and at the time of his death he was adjutant of the Bryan Grimes Camp of the Confederacy.

Not a member of the Confederacy himself, Captain Williams for years exhibited an active interest in the welfare of former veterans of the Civil war, and a few days prior to Memorial days found him busy preparing for the celebration of the thinning ranks of gray in this city. He was present at every roll call of the organization for years, and in his death the depleted ranks of the Confederacy lost one of its staunchest friends and supporters.

Captain Williams was recognized as one of the most prominent members of the Masonic organization in this section of the State. He was greatly admired for his wide knowledge of subjects dear to the hearts of Masons, and his wise counsel was sought on many an occasion by legions of friends in this territory.

In addition to being secretary of the Greenville Masonic lodge at the time of his death, he was in past years prominent in many branches of the fraternity. He was Past Master of Greenville Lodge, A. F. & A. M., Past High Priest of Greenville Chapter, R. A. M., Past Commander of Bethlehem Commandery Knights Templar.

He was active in the life of the fraternity over a period of fifty years and death rolled down the curtain on a life that played a conspicuous part in the rapid growth of the State in past years. In recognition of this splendid type of service, members of the Masonic order were today making arrangements to bury him with all honors of the organization.

BEGINS PLAN REORGANIZE GOVERNMENT

President Hoover Approves Plan to Consolidate Veterans Bureau Agencies

By JAMES L. WEST, Associated Press Staff Writer
Washington, Nov. 20.—(AP)—President Hoover is ready to translate into action ten years' talk about reorganizing the federal government.

As a first step he has approved a plan to consolidate all of the agencies dealing with war veterans and their dependants and will ask the sanction of Congress for it at the opening of the regular session two weeks hence.

Chief among these agencies are the Veterans Bureau, now functioning as an independent establishment by the Interior Department, the National Home for Disabled Veterans, another separate establishment, and the hospitalization division of the Public Health Service.

The consolidation is expected to bring about a saving of several millions of dollars in administration and hospitalization costs alone and to simplify the work of dealing with the veterans and their dependants.

There would be created a new single agency under a director reporting directly to the President through his administrative assistant. It would handle more than three-quarters of a billion dollars annually, embracing the $300,000,000 spent by the Veterans Bureau, some $250,000,000 by the Pension office and around $20,000,000 by the other divisions.

Under the direction of the President a comprehensive survey now is being made for consolidation within the Justice Department most of the agencies dealing with prohibition enforcement and a recommendation along that line also will be made to Congress in the President's message.

This would bring about a transfer of the prohibition from the Treasury to the Justice Department and the concentration in the Department of other enforcement work, to simplify and lower the cost of administration and to save time for those who have business with the government.

The first move looking to reorganization of the government was made by President Harding with the appointment of a commission of Congress with Walter F. Brown, now Postmaster General, as chairman and the personal spokesman for the President. An exhaustive study was made and a tentative plan covering the whole government was formulated.

The first move looking to reorganization of the government was made by President Harding with the appointment of a commission of Congress with Walter F. Brown, now Postmaster General, as chairman and the personal spokesman for the President. An exhaustive study was made and a tentative plan covering the whole government was formulated.

Under the direction of the President a comprehensive survey now is being made for consolidation within the Justice Department most of the agencies dealing with prohibition enforcement and a recommendation along that line also will be made to Congress in the President's message.

This would bring about a transfer of the prohibition from the Treasury to the Justice Department and the concentration in the Department of other enforcement work, to simplify and lower the cost of administration and to save time for those who have business with the government.

SUNDOWN STORIES

Long Distance Telephoning
By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
John had felt very sorry that day to say good-bye to a friend of his who was going way off to Australia. He told the Little Black Clock about it when he and Peggy joined the Clock for their evening's fun.

"Well, well, well," said the Little Black Clock. "How long before you'll hear from him?"
"I don't know," said John. "He didn't seem to know exactly. He said he would send me a post-card and then I'd have the stamp too. But it will be ages before I hear."

"The Little Black Clock said nothing for a few moments."
"Now we're ready," he said.
The scene had changed and the Little Black Clock had brought the children to a large telephone building.

"What in the world are we going to do?" John asked.
"It seems different from anything I've ever seen, somehow said Peggy. Once their father had taken them to see a large telephone exchange but this one was different."
"I've turned the time ahead forty years," the Little Black Clock said, "and I thought you'd like to do some telephoning. Maybe you'd like to telephone to Australia?"

"But wouldn't it be terribly expensive even if we could be connected?" John asked.
"My father called up London last week but it cost dollars and dollars," Peggy said.
"Oh no, not now," said the Little Black Clock.

And John and Peggy called up far, far away places and talked to many people. Nor did any one think it in the least unusual when John said:
"I'd like to get Egypt, please," and soon came back word.
"Egypt's busy now, but I'll get it for you in a second."

And in two seconds he did get it!
Tomorrow—"Watching the Sun."

The Rainbow.

The rainbow saw me;
The rainbow shines over the tree-tops,
And it shines over me.

267 BOOKS BORROWED FROM LIBRARY TUESDAY

On yesterday 267 books were borrowed from the Greenville Public Library. This is the largest daily circulation report that has been made.

Those who visit the library during the next few days may see a special library display of work done by pupils at the T. Raphael School of Fashion. This school, located in the fashion center of New York, is the only one in America specializing in fashion drawing and design.

They furnish designs for fabrics, ready-to-wear and accessories for many manufacturers in his country and Europe. The display shows the designs made in colors and black-and-white, each one the work of a student.

On Thursday afternoon, for the benefit of teachers and parents who are interested in children's reading, there will be a display of selected children's books and lists of children's books may be had for the asking. These may be purchased from the publishers or from the local book stores. There is not better gift for a child than a good book, particularly at Christmas time.

ARMY BAND TO SERENADE PRESIDENT THANKSGIVING

The pictures of the United States Army Band appearing in the News and Observer from time to time recently have a peculiar meaning for the people of this section as this is the band that will appear here twice before it appears in Raleigh. The matinee on next Monday afternoon at 3:30 and the evening concert at 8:30, both in the campus building at the East Carolina Teachers College.

The band will go from here to Raleigh, but will play there only in the afternoon, it is understood, giving two concerts in the Hugh Morison high school. This will close the educational tour and the band will go direct from North Carolina back to Washington City in time to give the annual serenade to the President and his family.

One of the numbers on the program here, "Danzai Yaqui," a Latin American selection, is a favorite of Mrs. Hoover's.

LEGION HOLDS FINE MEETING IN THIS CITY

Large Attendance At Regular Session of American Legion Last Night

Displaying active interest in the work of providing relief for the disabled veterans at Oteen hospital, members of the Pitt County Post of the American Legion assembled in regular monthly session at the Rotary club last night decided to make a free will offering in behalf of the disabled veterans each month. Members of the Post subscribed $25 for this purpose during the meeting.

The meeting last night was possibly one of the most enthusiastic conducted by the Post in months. Several members who had not attended in quite awhile were present and were extended a cordial welcome by Commander Dave Moore, who presided over the session.

Miss Mamie E. Jenkins, in charge of the entertainment program at the East Carolina Teachers college, was a guest of the Post and requested members to support the entertainments which the college is sponsoring from time to time. She called attention to the next number, the United States Army Band, to appear next Monday evening. The Post appointed a committee to meet members of the band at the station and to give them a cordial welcome to the city.

L. U. Abbott, district passenger agent of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, told of the education tours which the railroad would conduct to Washington City in the near future. He stressed the educational value of these tours to school children, and said they were making an effort to carry as many people as possible from this section of the State.

A committee was appointed to encourage more interest in observance of Armistice Day in this city in future years. It was the sense of the meeting that the observance here should be made as wide-spread as possible and the committee will outline plans with a view of furthering this idea.

The committee in charge of the Armistice Day program here last week reported that the observance was a great success. The Post came out all right from a financial standpoint, benefit performances and donations being more than sufficient to defray expenses incurred in the celebration.

Aside from the general order of business, members of the Post enjoyed a delightful turkey supper given by the new officers.

Yum Yum Barbecue Praised by Citizen of Missouri City

That the Yum Yum Barbecue Palace, across the river from Greenville, is receiving nation-wide attention, is evidenced by a letter which Mr. Weeks, the manager, received from a patron in St. Louis, Missouri. The letter in part follows:

"The barbecue which you sent to me from your Palace was delicious. Everything about it was splendid. In fact, I think any pig would be highly honored by being bar-b-queed in your Palace. I am in hopes that Dad will have you send me more just like the other.

"I am looking forward to my visit to 'The Yum Yum' when I return to North Carolina.

"Sincerely,
"MISS ELIZABETH FORBES."

After six and one-half months of confinement, the millionaire oil operator, is expected to go on once to his luxurious Long Island home.

Sinclair entered the jail on May 6 to serve terms of three months for refusing to answer questions of the Senate committee investigating the oil scandals and of six months for contempt of the District of Columbia Supreme Court in connection with the shadowing of the jury when he was on trial with Albert B. Fall for conspiracy to defraud the government through the celebrated lease on the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve.

Portions of the two sentences ran concurrently and with allowances for five days off each month for good behavior, his stay in the jail was reduced to six months and 14 days.

IN UNION THERE IS STRENGTH.

The meeting to be held in the high school library tomorrow night is one in which every citizen should be interested. In former years practically every civic and religious organization in our city has been doing some charity work, but in many instances it has been found that in some of the needy cases the work of the different organizations has been overlapping while a great many other needy cases have been overlooked altogether.

NO TARIFF BILL.

No tariff bill this session of Congress—at least, according to present indications. The industrial wing of the Republicans, who control the Senate organization, refused to allow the agriculturists, who control the votes, to write a tariff bill favorable to agriculture. So we will get along with the one we have until next session, at which time there will be a new deal in the Senate.

ABOUT TOWN

Have you visited the different stores to see what Greenville merchants have to offer for "Sales and Show Jubilee Week?"

This is destined to be one of the most outstanding sales events in the history of the city and merchants are striving to give values that will prove satisfactory to everybody.

This occasion is staged under the auspices of the Merchants Association and this is a guarantee that values will be as good as any other trade day held by local merchants in years.

The theatres are co-operating with the merchants by offering a varied program from day to day, and the tired shopper may find recreation during the matinees in the afternoon.

If you haven't visited the business district this week, do so now and take advantage of some of the many things the merchants have provided for your inspection.

President Hoover is holding a conference with railroad executives and bankers in the hope of bringing about an improvement in the business conditions of the country caused principally by the crash of the New York Stock exchange.

The railroad magnates have assured the president that they are behind him in promoting employment through building programs that will surpass anything of the past year.

This news will be received with gratification as continued employment for the workman will do more to offset bad business conditions than anything else.

That the bankers will use similar influence to encourage and stimulate business cannot be doubted in the least. These men are in position to bring about an improvement in their special fields of endeavor and certain sections should feel the result of their action.

The thing the president should see about is that his plan is felt in all sections of the country, and that the working people of all localities feel the effect of the employment program.

Committees of the American Red Cross are still busy attempting to raise the quota for this county, and those who haven't renewed their memberships are urged to do so once so that the committee may be able to make a complete report of its work by the end of the week.

Pitt county has always rallied behind this wonderful cause and it is assured she will do the same this time, even though she is troubled by the old plea of hard times.

The Red Cross has done a splendid piece of work in behalf of humanity the last several years, and if this work is to continue in the future as in the past, it is very necessary for the public to support the roll calls occurring each year.

If you happen to be one of those falling to enroll get busy and do so at once and rest assured of having done something in behalf of suffering humankind.

Instead of holding up until conditions seem brighter, now is the time to begin any building program you have been contemplating, Mr. Citizen.

You will not only be able to fill a long-felt need for yourself, but you will be able to furnish employment for numbers of men who walk the street day after day in quest of a job.

This situation prevails in all sections of the country, and it is this that is causing the hard times which one hears on almost every hand. Put these men to work and you will see a pronounced change in many branches of business.

Saturday is only two days away, so why not begin casting about to see what you are going to bundle up for the Boy Scout Charity Bunde campaign.

The Scouts will canvass the city, every home in all sections, and you will not be missed. So begin planning your bundle now and help the Scouts in their drive in behalf of the poor element.

There is going to be lots of suffering in this community this winter in spite of the best that can be done by liberal contributions, but we can greatly improve the situation by liberal giving during campaigns such as the Boy Scouts are planning.

Encourage the youngsters in their effort to do something worth while by giving until you feel like you have actually satisfied yourself you have done your best for suffering humanity.

Farmers Sell Your TOBACCO IN GREENVILLE

Sales continue heavy with prices holding up well. Last week nearly four million pounds were sold for an average price of $21.23 per hundred.

We are selling tobacco daily from practically every county in Eastern Carolina and the farmers say it is paying them to sell in Greenville, even though some of them travel at least 125 miles.

Those in position to absolutely know, say we are highest market and have keener buying competition than any market in the East.

Since Last Season—

Three of the warehouses have made large additions, which gives the market increased floor space of about two acres. Some of the factories have made enlargements to their buildings, installing additional redrying facilities and other equipment. The Greenville tobacco market is decidedly in better position to handle, daily, larger quantities of tobacco than ever before.

Tobacco Warehouses—

Greenville tobacco market has nine (9) large and modern brick warehouses with close to 14 acres floor space, sufficient to accommodate 2,225,000 lbs. of tobacco daily. These warehouses are managed by men of years of experience.

Buyers and Factories—

Greenville tobacco market has four (4) sets of buyers, representing all the important companies in the world, using bright tobacco. Nine (9) larger and modern tobacco factories are located here, additions having been made to several of them since last season, while one new plant has been built.

Roads and Locations—

Greenville tobacco market is located in the heart of Eastern North Carolina. Seven fine hard surfaced roads lead into Greenville. Tobacco growers living 125 miles from Greenville tobacco market sell their tobacco in Greenville and return home same day.

THANKSGIVING DAY BATTLES MAY MIX DOPE

Atlanta, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Although the annual battle for blood between Vanderbilt and Sewanee on Thanksgiving Day holds perhaps the most traditional interest in southern grid-iron circles, three other games that day have more bearing on the conference title.

The results of those games, Tennessee-Kentucky, Tulane-Louisiana State, and North Carolina-Virginia, might scramble all the dope and give a corner on the championship to Chuck Collins' Tar Heels.

To accomplish that result, North Carolina would have to win while the highly favored Tennessee and Tulane elude, so far undefeated were taking an unexpected licking.

Should Tulane and Tennessee be defeated, North Carolina, by winning from Virginia and then dropping Duke the following week, would wind up the season with seven conference victories and one defeat for an 87.5 percentage, placing them ahead of the other contenders. Tennessee has a December game with South Carolina.

With the exception of a last quarter let up against Georgia which brought about their defeat, the Tar Heels have been running riot through their conference opponents.

The Tigers of Little Sewanee have always saved something back throughout the season to hurl at their larger adversary from Nashville. It is always a game in which anything can happen.

The Tigers have a great back in Worrell, who can punt, pass and run with the best of them, and they are depending on him to lead them in their attack upon the Commodores, until their defeat last Saturday, regarded as possible conference champions.

Throughout the south interest will be centered upon the renewal of old rivalries. Upsets are frequent in these and the supposedly weaker team often comes through to victory in the yearly meetings of Tulane and Louisiana State, North Carolina and Virginia Military Institute and Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

The Florida Alligators take on the South Carolina Gamecocks Saturday in the only conference game arranged for that day. North Carolina State goes to Philadelphia for a tussle with Villia Nova, which already has repulsed inter-sectional assaults by Duke and Oglethorpe. In addition Duke and Wake Forest come together at Durham and Clemson battles Citadel at Charleston.

Texas University Football Team Hit by 'Flu' Epidemic

Fort Worth, Tex., Nov. 20.—(AP)—With eight victories behind them, no defeats and no ties, the Texas Christian University football players were badly under the weather today, an epidemic of influenza having struck them at the most crucial point of the season.

Two members of the squad suffered so severely they had to go to bed and the others were barely able to show up for practice last night. Baylor, one of the strongest teams in the southwest, must be faced Saturday and the following week. Southern Methodist University, the only other undefeated team in the southwest, is scheduled.

The malady was supposed to have resulted from the late cold ride which the team took from Austin last week after defeating Texas.

To Avoid Congestion at Caro.-Va. Game

Chapel Hill, Nov. 20.—Despite the big crowd expected, there will be no congestion at the Carolina-Virginia football game here Thanksgiving, if plans now being perfected are carried out.

Two years ago, when the game was played here as the dedication of Kenan Stadium and drew an attendance of 26,000 the town was cleared of all traffic in less than an hour, so well were automobiles routed and directed. And this year the town ought to be emptied much faster.

For those in charge of arrangements have profited by the experiences of two years ago, and what is more important, two brand new arteries for traffic have been opened up since the last Carolina-Virginia game.

Fans coming from the east now pass through Durham instead they can turn out at Nelson, take the new macadamized road that intersects the Raleigh-Durham highway at that point, and make the journey from Raleigh to Chapel Hill in a little of no time.

Over the new road Chapel Hill is 28 miles from Raleigh, whereas by way of Durham, the former route, the distance is 39. The trip is made in from 40 to 45 minutes without breaking any speed limits. Then, too, there is now a short cut from Greensboro to Chapel Hill, which reduces the distance between the two towns from 60 to 45 miles. The new highway is by way of Burlington and Graham, the short-cut intersecting Route No. 10 at Graham. This new road—from Graham to Chapel Hill—is in excellent shape, 10 miles being concrete and 13 being of sand and clay surface. This road places Chapel Hill within 150 miles of Charlotte by the northern route, as well as the southern route, and reduces the distance proportionately from other points west.

GIANT MEETS GIANTS IN GRID CONTEST

Chicago, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Four hundred and sixty pounds of football players will be opposed at center when the University of Washington eleven meet Chicago on Saug Field Saturday.

Paul Jessup, Washington Captain, whose six feet, seven inches and 285 pounds make the biggest man in college football, will represent the huskies, and Charles "Buck" Waver, six feet, four inches and 225 pounds will start at center for the Maroons.

Harmon Quits As Director of Chicago Stadium

Chicago, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Paddy Harmon has seen his dream of a huge indoor sports arena become reality—in the erection of the Chicago stadium—but will watch someone else guide its affairs henceforth.

Harmon relinquished the presidency of the Chicago Stadium corporation last night at the demand of the board of directors, having served since the $7,000,000 building was opened last March. He controls, he says, 42-1/2 per cent of the stock in the corporation, and will continue as a member of the board of directors and the executive committee.

Harmon's successor was not named. The resignation of the planner and promoter of the stadium project, was presented and accepted after a long conference with the board of directors. Sidney N. Stortz, secretary and treasurer of the stadium corporation, had been requested. Harmon had announced that he would fight to retain office.

After the meeting Harmon issued a statement in which he said he previously had asked to be permitted to resign, and that it finally had become possible for him to give up the office. He said that only the "most kindly feelings" existed between himself and the other members of the board, and that he would stand by as a member of the board to give his successor the benefit of his experience and advice. He failed to make any attempt to reconcile the "fight for his rights" statement with the "kindly feelings" one given out after his resignation had been accepted.

Stortz said the directors wished Harmon's resignation, to place a more experienced business man in the presidency, although he denied the board was not satisfied with Harmon's work which has included the promotion of the world championship fights and numerous other big gate attractions.

Among the financial success presented by Harmon were the Lough-ran-Welker, and Cannoneri-Mandell championship bout, and the recent Mandell-McLarned fight. A report that Tully brothers had invested heavily in the Stadium corporation stock, and would engage Frank Dempsey to replace Harmon, was promised, but has not been substantiated.

Market Report Cotton--Stocks--Grain

COTTON MARKET

New York, Nov. 20.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 3 to 7 points with the active months soon showing net advances of 10 points on a continuation of yesterday's buying movement promoted by fairly steady Liverpool cables, reports of a steady tone in the stock market and bullish features in the weekly review of the weather bureau.

This advance carried January up to 17.78 and May to 18.34, or about 100 to 105 points above the low levels of last week which was evidently sufficiently to attract some profit taking. Reactions of 4 or 5 points followed, but the market was comparatively steady at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported covering Continental and Bombay buying in that market and said there was a scarcity of contracts.

Offerings here were light at the start with very little southern selling in evidence.

GRAIN MARKET

By JOHN F. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago, Nov. 20.—Warned back by wide-spread notice that the market had risen 15 cents a bushel from recent low levels, wheat prices today showed a pronounced reactionary trend. At no time were wheat values as high as yesterday although black rust news from Argentina persisted. So-called spread trading became an outstanding feature here at various stages today, Chicago wheat future deliveries being sold against simultaneous purchases of corn.

Wheat closed spotless 23-8 to 31-8c per bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Corn closed unchanged to one cent off, oats 7-8c to 1c down and provisions varying from 2c to a rise of 12c.

STOCK MARKET

By STANLEY W. PRENOSIL
Associated Press Financial Editor
New York, Nov. 20.—A broad upward movement of stock prices, in which many of the leaders rallied 2 to 15 points, was halted in Wall Street today as a return of confidence in the market prices bounded upward from the start and recorded their highest prices in the last hour of trading, although profit-taking brought about moderate recessions from the high levels in some of the volatile issues.

Trading showed a marked expansion in volume, with short covering an important factor. Odd lot buying also was reported on a larger scale than heretofore.

President Hoover's efforts to stimulate business, coupled with favorable dividends and earnings developments and easing money rates, helped revive bullish enthusiasm. Wall Street apparently was not disturbed by the further slight easing in steel reductive reports by the Weekly Trade Review. Iron Age stated that "while the output of furnaces and mills has undergone a further decline, consumption has shown no general curtailment and in a number of leading lines has held its own or has gained."

Call money dropped from 5 to 4 1-2 per cent, the lowest rate since August 18, 1928. There was plenty of funds available, and the rate was again shaded in the "outside market" where loans as low as 3 per cent were reported yesterday.

Evidence of the more cheerful feeling apparent in Wall Street was shown by the number of "bull" tips in circulation commission houses were again crowded with speculators eager to buy or sell stocks, although many of them were operating on a much smaller scale than a month ago.

High priced industrial specialties were the leaders of the day's advance. General Electric jumped 15 points and National Biscuit, Western Union, and J. I. Case sold 10 to 12 points higher. American Tobacco issues, Eastman Kodak, Allied Chemical, Standard Gas & Electric, Air Reduction, Motor Products, R. H. Macy, International Business Machines and American Tye Founders were among the stocks

Predicts Failure Plan to Organize Textile Workers

Brevard, Nov. 20.—(AP)—A prediction that the proposed immediate campaign for organization of southern textile workers "is most certain to be an absolute failure and will hurt the cause of organized labor in the North Carolina Federation of Labor, in an open letter addressed to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and made public here.

Barrett now is editor of the Brevard News, a weekly newspaper published here.

"This, of all times," Barrett said, "is the most opportune period that the American Federation of Labor could have selected at any time since its organization in 1869 to attempt an organization campaign."

Many southern textile mills at present have curtailed production because of depressed markets. Barrett was a member of the speakers bureau of the United States Department of Labor during the World War and also was engaged as a conciliator and inspector.

PUSH PLANS TO DECORATE CITY ON CHRISTMAS

Merchants Association Makes Effort to Increase Lighting Effects for Holidays

Decorating and lighting of streets and business houses at Christmas time, which was originated by the Merchants Association a few years ago, will be staged on a larger scale this year, according to announcement made from the office of the secretary of the association this morning.

Heretofore the lighting has been confined to a very small portion of the business section and a comparatively few homes have used either exterior or interior decorations or lighting. But this year it appears that the people of practically every business section as well as those in the homes will join in making the season the most generally observed in this respect.

The business district attracted no little attention last year with hundreds of multi-colored lights beaming their messages of cheer and good will from streets, store fronts and display windows, and it is the purpose of the association to greatly

NATION PAYS FINE TRIBUTE TO SEC. GOOD

All Offices of Executive Branch of Government Closed in Honor of Dead

Washington, Nov. 20.—(AP)—The highest honors of an appreciative government were bestowed today upon the late James W. Good, the first member of the Hoover cabinet to be claimed by death.

The historic east room of the White House, scene of many an epochal event, was garbed for impressive funeral services signifying the deep esteem in which the dead secretary was held by his colleagues in the high places of the government.

In deference to the wishes of Mrs. Good that the services be conducted with the utmost dignity and the least degree of ostentation, the list of those attending was restricted to high public officials, members of the diplomatic corps and close personal friends.

At the head of those paying last tribute to Secretary Good stood President Hoover, who late yesterday made public acknowledgment of his affectionate regard for the deceased cabinet officer, praising him as a capable public servant and a close and devoted friend.

Refused Citizenship

Medford, Wis.—Unwilling to fight for Uncle Sam if need be, the Rev. Irodion Marshakkevich, Russian Orthodox pastor, has been refused citizenship. Judge Risjord decided that the pastor's offer to serve in the Red Cross was insufficient.

deceased cabinet officer, praising him as a capable public servant and a close and devoted friend.

"For most of his mature life he served the nation," the President said, "earning the highest esteem for his abilities, his fine integrity and his courageous spirit. But the first thoughts of those who knew and loved him are not of his public service. It is for his loyal and self-effacing friendship that thousands remember him; and that affectionate association is now broken."

A flag-draped caisson and a military guard of honor stood ready to convey the body of the cabinet officer to the White House for today's funeral services. A floral bower at the south end of the east room awaited the casket with chairs for members of the family. President and Mrs. Hoover and ranking government officials just behind it.

The Rev. Joseph Richard Sizoo, pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian church, was selected to conduct the funeral services of his denomination. After the ceremonies, those who had assembled for the services were permitted to file past the casket. One hour, from noon to one o'clock, was set aside for employees of the War Department to pay their last respects to their dead leader.

Meanwhile, all offices of the executive branch of the government were closed at the direction of the President, flags at half-mast and buildings stood at half-mast and special marks of respect were ordered for the military and naval establishments.

Accompanied by a distinguished escort, the body tonight will be enroute to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, for interment not far from the place of the cabinet officer's birth. Burial services will be conducted on Friday.

Taxicab Driver Shot to Death In New York City

New York, Nov. 20.—(AP)—A taxicab driver was found shot to death in his cab early today, apparently by gangsters who took him for a ride in his own machine.

He was identified by the police as Geraldo Hoamano, 29 years old, a Cuban. The parked machine, with Hoamano slumped over the wheel, was found in St. Nicholas avenue near 122nd street. He had a bullet wound under the right eye and a discharged shell was found a few feet from the cab.

The police expressed the belief that the man was slain in revenge as no effort had been made to rob him. The taxi meter registered $1.75, indicating the slayer had ridden a considerable distance in the car.
